nep o tism (nep'ə tiz əm), the showing of too much favor by one in power to his relatives, especially by giving them desirable appointments. n.

Nep tune (nep'tūn or nep'tūn), 1. the Roman god of the sea, identified with the Greek god Poseidon. 2. a large planet so far from the earth and the sun that it cannot be seen with the naked eye. n.

nep tu ni um (nep tū'nē əm or nep tū'nē əm), a radioactive element obtained by bombardment of uranium with neutrons, used in the atomic bomb. Symbol: Np. n.

Ne re id or ne re id (nir'ē id), in Greek mythology, any of the fifty daughters of Nereus. The Nereids were sea nymphs who attended Poseidon. n.

Ne reus (nir'ūs), a Greek sea god who was the father of the Nereids. n.

Ne ro (nir'ō), 37-68 A.D., Roman emperor from 54 to 68 A.D. He was noted for his vices, cruelty, and tyranny. n.

ner va tion (nēr vā'shən), arrangement of veins or ribs in a leaf or an insect's wing. n.

nerve (nerv), 1. fiber or bundle of fibers connecting the brain or spinal cord with the eyes, ears, muscles, glands, etc. 2. mental strength; courage: It takes nerve to pilot an airplane. 3. strength; vigor; energy. 4. arouse strength or courage in: The soldiers nerved themselves for the battle. 5. Slang. rude boldness; impudence. 6. vein of a leaf. 7. one of the thicker lines in an insect's wing. 1-3, 5-7 n., 4 v., nerved, nerv-ing.

nerves, 1. nervousness. 2. attack of nervousness.

get on one's nerves, annoy or irritate one. strain every nerve, exert oneself to the utmost.

nerve cell, 1. neurone; cell that conducts impulses. 2. the cell body of a neurone, excluding its fibers.

nerve center, group of nerve cells closely connected with one another and acting together in the performance of some function.

nerve fiber, any of the threadlike fibers that constitute the chief part of nerves. The long processes of certain neurones become a nerve fiber.

nerve less (nerv'lis), 1. without strength or vigor; feeble; weak: The gun dropped from his nerveless hand.

2. without courage or firmness. 3. without nerves. adj. —nerveless ly, adv.

nerv ous (nēr'vəs), 1. of the nerves: The brain is a part of the nervous system of the body. 2. having delicate or easily excited nerves. 3. having or proceeding from nerves that are out of order: a nervous patient, a nervous tapping of the fingers. 4. restless; uneasy; timid: Worry and lack of sleep made mother nervous. Alice is nervous about staying alone at night. 5. having nerves. 6. strong; vigorous: Tony painted with quick nervous strokes. adj. —nervous ly, adv. —nervous ness, n.

nervous system, system of nerves and nerve cells in a person or animal. Man's central nervous system includes the brain and spinal cord.

ner vure (nēr'vyūr), 1. vein of a leaf. 2. rib of an insect's wing. n.

ner vy (nēr'vē), 1. U.S. Slang. rude and bold. 2. requiring courage or firmness. 3. strong; vigorous. 4. Brit. nervous. adj., nerv i er, nerv i est.

nes cience (nesh'əns), ignorance. n.

-ness, suffix meaning:

1. quality, state, or condition of being —: Preparedness = the state of being prepared.
2. —action; —behavior: Carefulness (in some uses) = careful action; careful behavior.

Nes sus (nes'əs), in Greek legend, a centaur shot by Hercules with a poisoned arrow. Hercules was himself fatally poisoned by a shirt steeped in the blood of Nessus. n.

nest (nest), 1. a structure or place used by birds for laying eggs and rearing young. 2. place used by insects, fishes, turtles, rabbits, or the like, for depositing eggs or young. 3. a snug abode, retreat, or resting place: The little girl cuddled down in a nest among the sofa cushions. 4. place that swarms (usually with something bad): a nest of thieves. 5. the birds, animals, etc., living in a nest. 6. build or have a nest. 7. settle or place in, or as if in, a nest. 8. set or series (often from large to small) such that each fits within another: a nest of drinking cups. 1-5, 8 n., 6, 7 v.

nest egg, 1. a natural or artificial egg left in a nest to induce a hen to continue laying eggs there. 2. something laid up as the beginning of a fund or as a reserve.

nes tle (nes'tl), 1. settle oneself comfortably or cozily: She nestled down into the big chair. 2. be settled comfortably or cozily; be sheltered: The little house nestled among the trees. 3. press close in affection or for comfort: nestle up to one's mother, nestle a baby in one's arms. 4. make or have a nest; settle in a nest. v., nes tled, nes tling. —nes'tler, n.

nest ling (nest'ling), 1. bird too young to leave the nest. 2. a young child. n.

Leaf
nerves

Nes tor (nes'tər), 1. in Greek legend, the oldest and wisest of the Greeks at the siege of Troy. 2. a wise old man. n.

net¹ (net), 1. an open fabric made of string, cord, thread, or hair, knotted together in such a way as to leave holes regularly arranged. A fish net is used for catching fish. A mosquito net keeps off mosquitoes. A hair net holds the hair in place. 2. anything like a net; set of things that cross each other. 3. a lacelike cloth. 4. a trap or snare: The guilty boy was caught in the net of his own lies. 5. catch in a net: net a fish. 6. cover, confine, or protect with a net. 7. make into net: net cord. 8. make with net: net a hammock. 9. ball that hits the net in tennis, etc. 10. hit (a ball) into the net. 1-4, 9 n., 5-8, 10 v., net ted, net ting.

net² (net), 1. remaining after deductions; free from deductions. A net gain or profit is the actual gain after all working expenses have been paid. The net weight of a glass jar of candy is the weight of the candy itself. The net price of a book is the real price, from which no discount can be made. 2. the net weight, profit, price, etc. 3. gain: The sale netted me a good profit. 1 adj., 2 n., 3 v., net ted, net ting.

neth er (nef'ər), lower. adj.

Neth er land er (nef'ər lan'dər), native or inhabitant of the Netherlands. n.

Neth er lands (nef'ər ləndz), a small country in Europe, west of Germany and north of Belgium; Holland. 11,417,000 pop.; 12,868 sq. mi. Capitals: The Hague and Amsterdam. See Rhine for map. n.

Netherlands Antilles, a territory of the Netherlands consisting of six islands in the S Caribbean. 196,000 pop.; 400 sq. mi.

neth er most (nef'ər mōst), lowest. adj.

net ting (net'ing), a netted or meshed material: mosquito netting, wire netting for window screens. n.

net tle (net'l), 1. kind of plant having sharp leaf hairs that sting the skin when touched. 2. sting the mind of; irritate; provoke; vex. 1 n., 2 v., net tled, net tling.

net work (net'wərk'), 1. a netting; net. 2. any netlike combination of things: a network of vines, a network of railroads. 3. group of radio stations connected together. n.

neu ral (nūr'əl or nyūr'əl), of or having to do with a nerve, neurone, or nervous system. adj.

neu ral gia (nū ral'jə or nyū ral'jə), pain, usually sharp, along the course of a nerve. n.

neu ral gic (nū ral'jik or nyū ral'jik), of or having to do with neuralgia. adj.

neu ras the ni a (nūr'əs thē'nē ə or nyūr'əs thē'nē ə), nervous exhaustion or weakness. n.

neu ras then ic (nūr'əs then'ik or nyūr'əs then'ik), 1. having to do with or suffering from neurasthenia. 2. person suffering from neurasthenia. 1 adj., 2 n.

neu ri tis (nū rī'tis or nyū rī'tis), inflammation of a nerve or nerves. n.

neu rol o gist (nū rol'ə jist or nyū rol'ə jist), person trained in neurology. n.

neu rol o gy (nū rol'ə jē or nyū rol'ə jē), study of the nervous system and its diseases. n.

neu ron (nūr'on or nyūr'on), neurone. n.

neu rone (nūr'on or nyūr'on), one of the conducting cells of the brain, spinal cord, and nerves are composed. A neurone consists of a cell body containing the nucleus, and processes or fibers which may be very long. n.

neu ro sis (nū rō'sis or nyū rō'sis), a nervous disorder or disease, especially one without apparent organic change. n., pl. neu ro ses (-sēz).

neu rot ic (nū rot'ik or nyū rot'ik), 1. suffering from a nervous disease. 2. too nervous. 3. person suffering from neurosis. 1, 2 adj., 3 n.

neut., neuter.

neu ter (nū'tər or nū'tər), 1. of a word, neither masculine nor feminine. It is a neuter pronoun. 2. a neuter word or form. 3. the neuter gender. 4. having sex organs that are not fully developed. Worker bees are neuter. 5. an animal, plant, or insect that is neuter. 6. being on neither side; neutral. 1, 4, 6 adj., 2, 3, 5 n.

neu tral (nū'trəl or nū'trəl), 1. on neither side in a quarrel or war. 2. a neutral person or country; one not taking part in a war. 3. of or belonging to a neutral country or neutral zone: a neutral port. 4. neither one thing nor the other; indefinite. 5. having little or no color; grayish. 6. neither acid nor alkaline. 7. of electricity, neither positive nor negative. 8. in biology, not developed in sex. 9. position of gears when they do not transmit motion from the engine to the wheels or other working parts. 1, 3-8 adj., 2, 9 n.

neu tral ism (nū'trəl iz əm or nū'trəl iz əm), quality or condition of being a neutralist. n.

neu tral ist (nū'trəl ist or nū'trəl ist), 1. person who practices or advocates neutrality, especially in international affairs. 2. practicing or advocating neutrality: India is a neutralist country. 1 n., 2 adj.

neu tral i ty (nū tral'ə tē or nū tral'ə tē), a being neutral; the attitude or policy of a nation that does not take part directly or indirectly in a war between other nations; neutral character or status. n.

neu tral ize (nū'trəl iz or nū'trəl iz), 1. make neutral. 2. keep war out of: There was talk of neutralizing Belgium. 3. make of no effect by some opposite force; counterbalance: One poison sometimes neutralizes another. Alkalies neutralize acids. Jane neutralized the bright colors in her room by using a tan rug. v., neu tral ized, neu tral izing. —neu'tral iz'a'tion, n. —neu'tral iz'er, n.

neutral vowel, schwa.

neu tron (nū'tron or nū'tron), particle that is neutral electrically and has about the same mass as a proton. n.

Nev., Nevada.

Ne vad a (nə vad'ə or nə vā'də), a Western State of the United States. 285,000 pop.; 110,540 sq. mi. Capital: Carson City. Abbrev.: Nev. —Ne vad'an, adj., n.

nev er (nev'ər), 1. not ever; at no time: He never had to work for a living. 2. in no case; not at all; to no extent or degree: never the wiser. adv.

nev er more (nev'ər mōr'), never again. adv.

nev er the less (nev'ər t̄hə les'), however; none the less; for all that; in spite of it: She was very tired; nevertheless she kept on working. adv.

new (nū or nū), 1. never having existed before; now first made, thought out, known or heard of, felt, or discovered: a new invention. They own a new house. 2. lately grown, come, or made; not old: a new bud. 3. now first used; not worn or used up: a new path. 4. beginning again. The new moon is the moon when seen as a thin crescent. 5. different; changed: He is a new man now. 6. not familiar: a new country to me. 7. not yet accustomed: new to the work. 8. later; modern; recent: new dances. 9. just come; having just reached the position: a new arrival, a new president. 10. being the later or latest of two or more things of the same kind: New England, New Testament. 11. further; additional; more: He sought new information on the subject. 12. newly; recently or lately; freshly: new-fallen snow, a new-found friend. 13. again; anew. 1-11 adj., 12, 13 adv. —new'ness, n.

New Amsterdam, former name of New York City, when it was a Dutch colonial town.

New ark (nū'ərk or nū'ərk), 1. city in N Delaware. 7000. 2. city in NE New Jersey, near New York City. 405,000. n.

New Bed ford (bed'fərd), seaport in SE Massachusetts, formerly an important whaling port. 102,000.

new born (nū'bōrn or nū'bōrn'), 1. recently or only just born: a newborn baby. 2. ready to start a new life; born again. adj.

New Britain, 1. city in central Connecticut. 82,000. 2. island in the East Indies. 90,000 pop.; 15,000 sq. mi.

New Brunswick (brunz/wik), province in SE Canada. 596,000 pop.; 27,985 sq. mi. Capital: Fredericton. Abbrev.: N.B. See Fundy, Bay of for map.

New Caledonia (kal'ə dō'nē ə), a French island in the S Pacific, east of Australia. 62,000 pop.; 8548 sq. mi. See Melanesia for map.

Newcastle (nū'kas'l or nū'kas'l), city in NE England. Newcastle is noted for its coal and shipbuilding industries. 275,000. n.

carry coals to Newcastle, waste one's time, effort, etc.

Newcastle-upon-Tyne (tɪn), Newcastle. n.

new comer (nū'kum'ər or nū'kum'ər), person who has just come or who came not long ago. n.

New Deal, the policies and measures advocated by President Franklin D. Roosevelt as a means of improving the economic and social welfare of the United States.

New Delhi (del'ē), the capital of the Republic of India, just south of old Delhi. 276,000.

new el (nū'əl or nū'əl), 1. the post at the top or bottom of a stairway that supports the railing. 2. the central post of a winding stairway. n.

New England, the NE part of the United States. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut are the New England States.

New Englander (ing'glən dər), native or inhabitant of New England.

new fan gled (nū'fang'gld or nū'fang'gld), 1. lately come into fashion; of a new kind. 2. fond of novelty. adj.

new-fashion ed (nū'fash'ənd or nū'fash'ənd), of a new fashion; lately come into style. adj.

New found land (nū'fənd-land' or nū'fənd land' for 1 and 2; nū'found'lənd or nū'found'lənd for 3), 1. a large island in the Atlantic just off the E coast of Canada. 450,000 pop.; 42,734 sq. mi. 2. a province in NE Canada that includes Newfoundland and Labrador. 462,000 pop.; 156,185 sq. mi. Capital: St. John's. Abbrev.: Nfld. 3. a shaggy, intelligent dog like a spaniel, but much larger. n.

New France, name of the territory in North America belonging to France from 1609 to 1763.

New gate (nū'gāt or nū'gāt), a former prison in London, torn down in 1902. n.

New Granada, 1. former name of Colombia and Panama. 2. former name of Spanish possessions in the northwestern part of South America and in Central America, including Colombia, Panama, Venezuela, and Ecuador.

New Guinea (gin'ē), 1. a large island north of Australia. The west part of New Guinea belongs to Indonesia, the east part to Australia. 2,550,000 pop.; 343,000 sq. mi. Also, Papua. 2. Territory of, an Australian trust territory including NE New Guinea and nearby islands. 1,375,000 pop.; 93,000 sq. mi.

New Hampshire (hamp'shər), a New England State of the United States. 607,000 pop.; 9304 sq. mi. Capital: Concord. Abbrev.: N.H.

New Ha ven (hā'vən), city in S Connecticut. 152,000.

New Hebrides (heb'rə dēz), group of islands east of Australia, under joint rule of Great Britain and France. 56,000 pop.; 5700 sq. mi. See Melanesia for map.

New Jer sey (jēr'zē), an Eastern State of the United States. 6,067,000 pop.; 7836 sq. mi. Capital: Trenton. Abbrev.: N.J.

New Jerusalem, heaven.

new ly (nū'lē or nū'lē), 1. lately; recently; newly wedded. 2. again; freshly; a newly revived scandal. adv.

New man (nū'mən or nū'mən), John Henry, 1801-1890, English theologian and author who became a Roman Catholic and was made a cardinal. n.

Newcl

Newfoundland (about 27 in. high
at the shoulder)

New mar ket (nū'mär'kit or nū'mär'kit), town in SE England where many horse races are run. 20,000. n.

New Mexico, a Southwestern State of the United States. 951,000 pop.; 121,666 sq. mi. Capital: Santa Fe. Abbrev.: N.M. —New Mexican.

new moon, moon when seen as a thin crescent with the hollow side on the left.

New Netherland, a former Dutch colony in America, from 1614 to 1664. England took possession of it in 1664 and divided it into the colonies of New York and New Jersey.

New Or le ans (ôr'lē ənz or ôr'lēnz'), city in SE Louisiana, near the mouth of the Mississippi River. 628,000.

New Ro chelle (rō shel'), city in SE New York State, near New York City. 77,000.

news (nūz or nūz), something told as having just happened; information about something that has just happened or will soon happen: The news that our teacher was leaving made us sad. n.

break the news, make something known; tell something.

news boy (nūz'boi' or nūz'boi'), boy who sells or delivers newspapers. n.

news cast (nūz'kast' or nūz'kast'), a radio or television program devoted to current events, news bulletins, etc. n.

news dealer (nūz'dēl'ər or nūz'dēl'ər), seller of newspapers and magazines. n.

news man (nūz'man' or nūz'man'), 1. man who sells or delivers newspapers. 2. newspaperman. n., pl. news-men.

news mong er (nūz'mung'gər or nūz'mung'gər), person who gathers and spreads news. n.

New South Wales, a state in SE Australia. 3,800,000 pop.; 309,433 sq. mi. Capital: Sydney. Abbrev.: N.S.W.

news pa per (nūz'pā'pər or nūz'pā'pər), sheets of paper printed every day or week, telling the news, carrying advertisements, etc. n.

news pa per man (nūz'pā'pər man' or nūz'pā'pər man'), a newspaper reporter, editor, etc. n., pl. news pa per men.

news print (nūz'print' or nūz'print'), kind of paper on which newspapers are usually printed. n.

news reel (nūz'rēl' or nūz'rēl'), a motion picture showing current events. n.

news stand (nūz'stand' or nūz'stand'), U.S. place where newspapers and magazines are sold. n.

New Style, method of reckoning time according to the Gregorian calendar.

news y (nūz'ē or nūz'ē), Informal. 1. full of news. 2. newsboy. 1 adj., newsier, newsiest; 2 n., pl. news ies.

newt (nūt or nūt), any of various small salamanders that live in water part of the time. n.

New Testament, the part of the Bible which contains the life and teachings of Christ recorded by His followers, together with their own experiences and teachings.

New ton (nūt'n or nūt'n), 1. Isaac, 1642-1727, English scientist and mathematician who discovered the law of gravitation. 2. city in E Massachusetts. 92,000. n.

New to ni an (nū tō'nē ən or nū tō'nē ən), of or by Isaac Newton. adj.

New World, the Western Hemisphere; North America and South America.

new-world (nū'wêrld' or nū'wêrld'), of or having to do with the Western Hemisphere. adj.

New Year or New Year's, January 1; the first day or days of the year.

New Year's Day, January 1, usually observed as a legal holiday.

New York, 1. an Eastern State of the United States. 16,782,000 pop.; 49,204 sq. mi. Capital: Albany. Abbrev.:

Newt (3 to 6 in. long)

N.Y. 2. seaport in SE New York State, at the mouth of the Hudson River. It is the largest city in the United States. 7,782,000.

New York Bay, bay south of New York City, at the mouth of the Hudson River.

New Yorker (yôr'kər), native or inhabitant of New York City or New York State.

New York State Barge Canal, 1. system of canals in New York State. 575 mi. long. 2. canal that connects Lake Erie and the Hudson River and replaces the former Erie Canal. 340 mi. long.

New Zealand (zē'lənd), a country in the S Pacific, consisting of two main islands and various small ones. It is a member of the British Commonwealth. 2,370,000 pop.; 103,723 sq. mi. Capital: Wellington. Abbrev.: N.Z. See Australasia for map.

next (nekst), 1. following at once; nearest: the next train, the next room. 2. the first time after this: When you next come, bring it. 3. in the place or time or position that is nearest: His name comes next. 4. nearest to: the house next the church. 1 adj., 2,3 adv., 4 prep.

next door to, 1. in or at the house next to. 2. almost; nearly: Cheating is an act next door to a crime.

next to, 1. nearest to. 2. almost; nearly.

next-door (nekst'dôr'), in or at the next house. adj.

next of kin, the nearest blood relative.

nexus (nek'səs), 1. connection; link. 2. a connected series. n., pl. nex us.

Nez Percé (nez'pərs'), member of an American Indian tribe that formerly lived in Idaho, Oregon, and Washington. pl. Nez Percés (nez'pərs'iz).

Nfld., Newfoundland.

N.G., National Guard.

N.H., New Hampshire.

Ni, nickel.

ni a cin (nī'ə sin), nicotinic acid. n.

Niagara (nī'ag'ə rə), 1. a short river flowing from Lake Erie into Lake Ontario over Niagara Falls. 34 mi. 2. Niagara Falls. n.

Niagara Falls, 1. a great waterfall of the Niagara River, on the boundary between the United States and Canada. 167 ft. high on American side, 158 ft. on Canadian side. 2. city on the American side, in W New York. 102,000. 3. city on the Canadian side, in S Ontario. 24,000.

Nia mey (nyä'mä), capital of the republic of Niger. 30,000. n.

nib (nib), 1. point of a pen; either of its parts. 2. tip; point. 3. a bird's bill. n.

nib ble (nib'bl), 1. eat away with quick, small bites, as a rabbit or a mouse does. 2. bite gently or lightly: A fish nibbles at the bait. 3. a nibbling; small bite. 1,2 v., nib bled, nib bling; 3 n. —nib'bler, n.

Ni be lung (nē'bl ũng), in German legend, any of a race of northern dwarfs. Siegfried and his followers captured their treasure. n.

Ni be lung en lied (nē'bə lūng'ən lēt'), a German epic given its present form by an unknown author in S Germany during the first half of the 13th century. n.

nib lick (nib'lik), a golf club with a short, flat, iron head having a slanting face. n.

Nic a ra gua (nik'ə rā'gwə), 1. country in Central America. 1,450,000 pop.; 57,143 sq. mi. Capital: Managua. See Central America for map. 2. Lake, lake in S Nicaragua. 100 mi. long; 45 mi. wide; 2970 sq. mi. n. —Nic'a ra'guan, adj., n.

nice (nis), 1. pleasing; agreeable; satisfactory: a nice face. 2. thoughtful; kind: He was nice to us. 3. exact; precise; discriminating: a nice ear for music. 4. minute; fine; subtle: a nice distinction. 5. delicately skillful; requiring care, skill, or tact: a nice problem. 6. exacting; particular; hard to please; fastidious; dainty: nice in his eating. 7. proper; suitable. 8. scrupulous: too nice for a politician. 9. Archaic. modest; reserved. 10. refined; cultured: a nice accent. adj., nic er, nic est. —nice'ly, adv. —nice'ness, n.

Nice (nēs), a seaside resort in SE France. 244,000. n. ni ce ty (nī'sə tē), 1. exactness; accuracy; delicacy: Television sets require nicety of adjustment. 2. a fine point; small distinction; detail: I play tennis but have not mastered its niceties. 3. quality of being particular; daintiness; refinement. 4. something dainty or re-refined. n., pl. ni ce ties.

to a nicety, just right: cakes browned to a nicety.

niche (nich), 1. a recess or hollow in a wall for a statue, vase, etc. 2. a suitable place or position; place for which a person is suited. n.

Nich o las (nik'l əs), Saint, 1. the patron saint of young people, sailors, travelers, and Russians. He was a bishop in Asia Minor in the fourth century A.D. 2. Santa Claus, saint of Christmas giving. n.

Nicholas II, 1868-1918, czar of Russia from 1894 to 1917, executed during the Russian Revolution.

nick (nik), 1. place where a small bit has been cut or broken out; notch; groove: He cut nicks in a stick to keep score. 2. make a nick or nicks in. 3. cut into or through. 4. hit, guess, catch, etc., exactly. 1 n., 2-4 v. in the nick of time, just at the right moment.

nick el (nik'el), 1. a metallic element that looks like silver and is somewhat like iron, much used as an alloy. Symbol: Ni 2. cover or coat with nickel. 3. U.S. a coin containing a mixture of nickel and copper; a United States five-cent piece. 1,3 n., 2 v., nick eled, nick el ing or esp. Brit. nick elled, nick el ing.

nick el o de on (nik'ə lō'dē ən), U.S. 1. place of amusement with motion-picture exhibitions, etc., to which the price of admission was only five cents. 2. juke box. n.

nickel plate, a thin coating of nickel deposited on a metal object to prevent rust, improve the appearance, etc.

nickel silver, an alloy of copper, zinc, and nickel; German silver.

nick nack (nik'nak'), knickknack. n.

nick name (nik'nām'), 1. name added to a person's real name or used instead of it: "Ed" is a nickname for "Edward." 2. give a nickname to: They nicknamed the short boy "Shorty." 1 n., 2 v., nick named, nick-nam ing.

Nic o si a (nik'ō sē'ə), capital of Cyprus. 50,000. n.

nic o tine (nik'ə tēn), poison contained in the leaves of tobacco. n.

nic o tin ic acid (nik'ə tin'ik), one of a group of vitamins that is found in lean meat, live wheat germ, milk, eggs, etc. Persons who lack this vitamin suffer from pellagra.

niece (nēs), daughter of one's brother or sister; daughter of one's brother-in-law or sister-in-law. n.

nif ty (nif'tē), U.S. Slang. attractive; stylish. adj., nif ti er, nif ti est.

Niger (nī'jər), 1. republic in W Africa north of Dahomey. 2,556,000 pop.; 458,875 sq. mi. Capital: Niamey. 2. river flowing from W Africa into the S Atlantic. 2600 mi. n.

Nige ri a (nī jir'ē ə), country in W Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth. 23,500,000 pop.; 327,186 sq. mi. Capital: Lagos. n. —Ni ge'ri an, adj., n.

nig gard (nig'ərd), 1. a stingy person. 2. stingy. 1 n., 2 adj.

nig gard ly (nig'ərd lē), 1. stingy. 2. stingily. 3. meanly small or scanty: a niggardly gift. 1,3 adj., 2 adv. —nig'gard li ness, n.

nigh (nī), 1. near. 2. nearly. 1,2 adv., 1 adj., nigh-er, nigh est or next; 1 prep.

Vase in a niche night (nīt), 1. the darkness between evening and morning; the time between sunset and sunrise. 2. the darkness of night; the dark. 3. the darkness of ignorance, sin, sorrow, old age, death, etc. 4. evening; nightfall. n.

make a night of it, celebrate until very late at night.

night blindness, a condition of the eyes in which the sight is normal in the day or in a strong light, but is abnormally poor or wholly gone at night or in a dim light.

night cap (nīt'kap'), 1. cap to be worn in bed. 2. Informal. drink taken just before going to bed. n.

night club, place for dancing, eating, and entertainment, open only at night.

night fall (nīt'fōl'), the coming of night. n.

night gown (nīt'goun'), a long, loose garment worn by a woman or child in bed. n.

night hawk (nīt'hōk'), 1. kind of bird that flies and feeds mostly by night. 2. Informal. person who stays up late at night. n.

Nighthawk
(9 to 10 in. long)

night in gale (nīt'n gāl), a small, reddish-brown bird of Europe. The male sings sweetly at night as well as in the daytime. n.

Night in gale (nīt'n gāl), Florence, 1820-1910, Englishwoman who brought about great improvements in nursing. n.

night latch, latch unfastened by a key from the outside or by a knob from the inside.

night long (nīt'lōng'), 1. lasting all night. 2. through the whole night. 1 adj., 2 adv.

Nightingale
(6 to 7 in. long)

night ly (nīt'lē), 1. done, happening, or appearing every night. 2. every night: Performances are given nightly except on Sunday. 3. done, happening, or appearing at night. 4. at night; by night. 1, 3 adj., 2, 4 adv.

night mare (nīt'mār'), 1. a very distressing dream. 2. a very distressing experience. 3. a horrible fear or dread. n.

night owl, Informal. person who often stays up late.

night school, school held in the evening for persons who work during the day.

night shade (nīt'shād'), any of various plants somewhat like the potato and the tomato. The black nightshade has white flowers and black, poisonous berries.

The deadly nightshade, or belladonna, has red berries. n.

night shirt (nīt'shērt'), a long, loose shirt worn by a man or boy in bed. n.

night time (nīt'tim'), time between evening and morning. n.

night walk er (nīt'wōk'ər), a large earthworm that crawls around at night. n.

night watch, 1. watch or guard kept during the night. 2. person or persons keeping such a watch. 3. period or division of the night.

ni hil (nī'hil), Latin. nothing. n.

ni hil ism (nī'ə liz əm), 1. entire rejection of the usual beliefs in religion, morals, government, laws, etc. 2. in philosophy, the denial of all existence. 3. the beliefs of a revolutionary party in Russia that found nothing good in the old order of things and wished to clear it away to make place for a better state of society. 4. use of violent methods against a ruler. n.

ni hil ist (nī'ə list), 1. person who believes in some form of nihilism. 2. terrorist. n.

ni hil is tic (nī'ə lis'tik), of nihilists or nihilism. adj.

Nike (nī'kē or nē'kā for 1; nī'kē esp. for 2), 1. the Greek goddess of victory, usually represented with wings. 2. an anti-aircraft rocket-propelled missile launched from the ground and guided by electronic signals from the ground. n.

nil (nil), nothing. n.

Nile (nil), a great river in Africa flowing north through Egypt into the Mediterranean. 4000 mi. n.

nim ble (nim'bl), 1. active and sure-footed; light and quick; quick-moving: Goats are nimble in climbing among the rocks. 2. quick to understand and to reply; clever: a nimble mind. adj., nim bler, nim blest. —nim'ble-ness, n.

nim bly (nim'blē), quickly and lightly. adv.

nim bus (nim'bās), 1. a light disk or other radiance about the head of a divine or sacred person in a picture.

2. a bright cloud surrounding a god, person, or thing.

3. a rain cloud. n., pl. nim-buses, nim bi (-bī).

Nimbus (def. 3)

Nim rod (nim'rod), 1. a great hunter. Genesis 10:8 and 9. 2. hunter. n.

nin com poop (nin'kəm pūp), fool; simpleton. n.

nine (nin), 1. one more than eight; 9. 2. set of nine persons or things. 1, 2 n., 1 adj.

the Nine, the Muses.

nine fold (nin'fōld'), 1. nine times as much or as great. 2. having nine parts. 1, 2 adj., 1 adv.

nine pins (nin'pinz'), game in which nine large wooden pins are set up to be bowled down with a ball. n.

Ninepins

nine teen (nin'tēn'), nine more than ten; 19. n., adj.

nine tenth (nin'tēnth'), 1. next after the 18th; last in a series of 19. 2. one of 19 equal parts. 1 adj., 1, 2 n.

nine ti eth (nin'tē ith), 1. next after the 89th; last in a series of 90. 2. one of 90 equal parts. 1 adj., 1, 2 n.

nine ty (nin'tē), nine times ten; 90. n., pl. nine ties; adj.

Nin e veh (nin'ə və), an ancient city of Assyria. Its ruins are on the Tigris River, opposite Mosul in N Iraq. See the map of Assyria. n.

nin ny (nin'ē), fool. n., pl. nin nies.

ninth (ninth), 1. next after the eighth; last in a series of nine. 2. one of nine equal parts. 1 adj., 1, 2 n.

Ni o be (nī'ō bē), in Greek mythology, a mother whose fourteen beautiful children were slain because she boasted about them. Turned by Zeus into a stone fountain, she weeps forever for her children. n.

ni o bi um (nī'ō'bē əm), a steel-gray, rare metallic element that resembles tantalum in chemical properties. Symbol: Nb n. Formerly, columbium.

nip¹ (nip), 1. squeeze tight and suddenly; pinch; bite: The crab nipped my toe. 2. a tight squeeze; pinch; sudden bite. 3. take off by biting, pinching, or snipping.

4. hurt at the tips; spoil; injure: plants nipped by frost. 5. injury caused by frost. 6. have a sharp, biting effect on: Cold winds nip your ears and nose. 7. sharp cold; chill: There is a nip in the air on a frosty morning. 8. a small bit. 1, 3, 4, 6 v., nipped, nip ping; 2, 5, 7, 8 n.

nip and tuck, U.S. Informal. even in a race or contest.

nip in the bud, stop at the very beginning.

nip² (nip), a small drink. n.

nip per (nip'ər), 1. one that nips. 2. a big claw of a lobster or crab. 3. Informal. a small boy. n.

nip pers (nip'ərz), pincers, forceps, pliers, or any tool that nips. n.pl.

nipple (nip'l), 1. the small projection through which the baby animal gets its mother's milk: the nipples of a mother dog or cat. 2. the rubber cap or mouthpiece of a baby's bottle, through which the baby gets its milk. 3. anything shaped or used like a nipple. n.

Nip pon (ni pon'), Japan. n.

Nip pon ese (nip'ə nēz'), Japanese. adj., n., pl. Nip pon ese.

nip py (nip'ē), biting; sharp. adj., nip pi er, nip pi est.

nir va na or Nir va na (nir vā'nə), 1. the Buddhist idea of heaven. 2. blessed oblivion. n.

Ni sei (nē'sā'), a native-born United States or Canadian citizen whose parents were Japanese immigrants. n., pl. Ni sei.

nit (nit), a very young louse or similar insect. n.
ni ter (nī'tər), 1. a salt (potassium nitrate) obtained from potash, used in making gunpowder; saltpeter. 2. sodium nitrate, or Chile saltpeter, used as a fertilizer. n.
ni trate (nī'trāī), 1. salt or ester of nitric acid. 2. potassium nitrate, or sodium nitrate, used as a fertilizer. 3. treat with nitric acid or a nitrate. 1,2 n., 3 v., ni trated, ni trating. —ni tra'tion, n.
ni tre (nī'tər), Esp. Brit. niter. n.
ni tric (nī'trik/), of or containing nitrogen. adj.
nitric acid, a clear, colorless liquid that eats into flesh, clothing, metal, and other substances.
ni tride (nī'trid or nī'trid), compound of nitrogen with a more electropositive element or radical, such as phosphorus, boron, or a metal. n.
ni trite (nī'trit), salt or ester of nitrous acid. n.
ni tro gen (nī'trəjən), one of the elements, a gas without color, taste, or odor that forms about four fifths of the air by volume. Nitrogen is essential to the growth of all plants. Symbol: N n.
ni trog e nous (nī'troj'ə nəs), of or containing nitrogen or a compound of nitrogen. adj.
ni tro glyc er in or ni tro glyc er ine (nī'trə glis'ər in), an oily, explosive liquid made by treating glycerin with nitric and sulfuric acids. It is nitroglycerin that provides the explosive power of dynamite. n.
ni trous (nī'trəs), 1. of nitrogen; containing nitrogen. 2. of niter. adj.
nitrous oxide, a colorless gas that causes laughing and inability to feel pain; laughing gas. It is sometimes used as an anesthetic by dentists.
nit wit (nit'wit/), Slang. a very stupid person. n.
nix¹ (niks), Slang. nothing; no. n., interj.
nix² (niks), in German legend, a water fairy. n., pl. nix es.
nix ie (nik'sē), in German legend, a female water fairy. n.
Nix on (nik'sən), Richard Milhous, born 1913, vice-president of the United States 1953-1961. n.
N.J., New Jersey.
N kru mah (en krū'mə or nə krū'mə), Kwame, born 1909, president of Ghana, from 1957 to 1966. n.
NKVD or N.K.V.D., the secret police of the Soviet Union.
NLRB, National Labor Relations Board.
N.M. or N. Mex., New Mexico.
NNE or N.N.E., direction halfway between north and northeast.
NNW or N.N.W., direction halfway between north and northwest. no (nō), 1. word used to deny, refuse, or disagree. No means the same as shaking your head: Will you come? No. Can a cow fly? No. 2. not in any degree; not at all: He is no better. 3. not, chiefly in phrases like whether or no. 4. not any; not a: He has no friends. Dogs have no wings. 5. denial; refusal. 6. a negative vote or voter: The noes won. 1,5,6 n., pl. noes; 1-3 adv., 4 adj.
No, nobelium.
No., 1. north. 2. northern. 3. number.
No ah (nō'ə), man in the Bible whom God told to make an ark to save himself, his family, and a pair of each kind of animal from the Flood. Genesis 5-9. n.
nob (nob), Slang. 1. head. 2. person of wealth or social importance. n.
nob by (nob'ē), Slang. 1. smart; fashionable; elegant. 2. first-rate. adj., nob bi er, nob bi est.
No bel (nō bel/), Alfred Bernhard, 1833-1896, Swedish inventor of dynamite and manufacturer of explosives, founder of the Nobel prizes. n.
no be li um (nō bē'lē əm), a rare, radioactive, artificial element. Symbol: No n.
Nobel prizes, five money prizes, averaging $40,000 each, established by Alfred B. Nobel to be given annually to those persons who have done most in physics, chemistry, medicine, literature, and the promotion of peace.

no bil i ty (nō bil'ə tē), 1. people of noble rank. Earls and counts belong to the nobility. 2. noble birth; noble rank. 3. noble character. n., pl. no bil i ties.
no ble (nō'bl), 1. high and great by birth, rank, or title. 2. person high and great by birth, rank, or title. 3. high and great in character; showing greatness of mind; good: a noble knight, a noble deed. 4. excellent; fine; splendid; magnificent: Niagara Falls is a noble sight. 5. an old English coin. 1,3,4 adj., no bler, no blest; 2,5 n. —no'ble ness, n.
no ble man (nō'bl mən), man of noble rank, title, or birth. n., pl. no ble men.
no blesse o blige (nō bles' ō blēzh/), French. persons of noble rank should behave nobly.
no ble wom an (nō'bl wūm'ən), woman of noble birth or rank. n., pl. no ble wom en.
no bly (nō'blē), in a noble manner; splendidly; as a noble person would do. adv.
no bod y (nō'bod ē), 1. no one; no person. 2. person of no importance. 1 pron., 2 n., pl. no bod ies.
noc tur nal (nok tər'nəl), 1. of the night. 2. in the night: Stars are a nocturnal sight. 3. active in the night: The owl is a nocturnal bird. 4. closed by day, open by night: a nocturnal flower. adj.
noc tur nal ly (nok tər'nəl ē), 1. at night. 2. every night. adv.
noc turne (nok'tər'n), 1. a dreamy or pensive musical piece. 2. painting of a night scene. n.
nod (nod), 1. bow (the head) slightly and raise it again quickly. 2. say yes by nodding. 3. express by bowing the head: nod consent. 4. a nodding of the head: He gave us a nod as he passed. 5. let the head fall forward and bob about when sleepy or falling asleep. 6. be sleepy; become careless and dull. 7. droop, bend, or sway back and forth: Trees nod in the wind. 1-3. 5-7 n., nod ded, nod ding; 4 n.
nod al (nōd'l), having to do with nodes; like a node. adj.
nod dle (nod'l), Informal. the head. n.
node (nōd), 1. knot; knob; swelling. 2. joint in a stem; part of a stem that normally bears a leaf or leaves. n.
nod u lar (noj'ə lər), having nodules. adj.
nod ule (noj'ül), 1. a small knot, knob, or swelling. 2. a small, rounded mass or lump: nodules of pure gold. n.
No ël (nō el/), Christmas. n.
No ël (nō el/), 1. a Christmas song; carol. 2. expression of joy used in Christmas songs. n.
nog gin (nog'ən), 1. a small mug. 2. a small drink; ¼ pint. 3. Informal. a person's head. n.
no how (nō'həu/), Informal. in no way; not at all. adv.
noise (noiz), 1. a sound that is not musical or pleasant: The noise kept me awake. 2. a sound: the noise of rain on the roof. 3. din of voices and movements; loud shouting; outcry; clamor. 4. spread the news of; tell: It was noised abroad that the king was dying. 1-3 n., 4 v., noised, nois ing.
noise less (noiz'lis), making no noise; making little noise: adj. —noise/less ly, adv. —noise/less ness, n.
noise mak er (noiz'māk'ər), 1. person who makes too much noise. 2. thing that makes noise; especially, a horn, rattle, etc., used to make noise at a party. n.
nois i ly (noiz'li ē), in a noisy manner. adv.
nois i ness (noiz'fē nis), being noisy; making a noise. n.
nois ome (noiz'səm), 1. offensive; disgusting; smelling bad: a noisome slum, a noisome sewer. 2. harmful; injurious: a noisome pestilence. adj. —noi'some ly, adv.
nois y (noiz'ē), 1. making much noise: a noisy boy, a noisy crowd, a noisy little clock. 2. full of noise: a noisy street, the noisy city. 3. having much noise with it: a noisy quarrel, a noisy game. adj., nois i er, nois i est.

non pros (nol'pros/), discontinue (all or part of a lawsuit) and have a note of the fact put on the court record. v., non prosed, non pros sing.

nom., nominative.

no mad (nō'mad), 1. member of a tribe that moves from place to place to have food or pasture for its cattle. 2. wandering from place to place to find pasture. 3. wanderer. 4. wandering. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

no mad ic (nō'mad'ik), of nomads or their life; wandering; roving: Most of the Indians of the American plains were nomadic. adj. —no mad'i cal ly, adv.

no mad ism (nō'mad iz əm), the way that nomads live. n.

nom de guerre (nōn də gār/), French. an assumed name under which to pursue a profession, undertaking, or the like.

nom de plume (nom' də plüm/), a pen name; name used by a writer instead of his real name.

Name (nōm), 1. seaport and mining town in W Alaska, on Bering Sea. 2300. 2. Cape, cape just southeast of this town. n.

no men cla ture (nō'mən klā'chər), set or system of names or terms: the nomenclature of music. n.

nom i nal (nom'ə nl), 1. existing in name only; not real: The president is the nominal head of the club, but the secretary is the one who really runs its affairs. 2. so small that it is not worth considering; unimportant compared with the real value: We paid our friend a merely nominal rent for the cottage each summer—$5 a month. 3. giving the name or names: a nominal list of the pupils in our room. 4. of, as, or like a name or a noun. Day is the nominal root of daily, daybreak, and Sunday. adj.

nom i nal ly (nom'ə nl ē), 1. in name; as a matter of form; in a nominal way only. 2. by name. adv.

nom i nate (nom'ə nāt), 1. name as candidate for an office; designate: Three times Bryan was nominated for President, but he was never elected. 2. appoint for an office or duty: The President nominated him as Secretary of State. v., nom i nated, nom i nating. —nom'i na'tor, n.

nom i na tion (nom'ə nā'shən), 1. a naming as a candidate for office: The nominations for president of the club were written on the blackboard. 2. selection for office or duty; appointment to office or duty. 3. a being nominated: Mary's friends were pleased by her nomination. n.

nom i na tive (nom'ə nə tiv), 1. showing the subject of a verb and words agreeing with the subject. I, he, she, we, and they are in the nominative case. 2. the nominative case. 3. a word in that case. Who and I are nominatives. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

nom i nee (nom'ə nē/), person nominated for an office or to be a candidate for election to an office. n.

non-, prefix meaning: not; not a; opposite of; lack of; failure of, as in nonbreakable, nonconformity, nonpayment.

non ac cept ance (non'ak sep'təns), failure or refusal to accept. n.

non age (non'ij), 1. a being under the legal age of responsibility; minority. 2. an early stage; period before maturity. n.

non a ge nar i an (non'ə jə nār'ē ən), 1. person who is 90 years old or between 90 and 100 years old. 2. 90 years old or between 90 and 100 years old. 1 n., 2 adj.

non ag gres sion (non'ə gresh'ən), lack of aggression. n.

non a gon (non'ə gon), a plane figure having nine angles and nine sides. n.

non al co hol ic (non'al kə hōl'ik), containing no alcohol. adj.

non at tend ance (non'ə ten'dəns), failure to be present. n.

non bel lig er ent (non'bə lij'ər ənt), not belligerent; not warlike or at war. adj.

nonce (nons), the one or particular occasion or purpose. n.

for the nonce, for the present time or occasion.

nonce word, word formed and used for a single occasion.

non cha lance (non'shə ləns or non'shə ləns/), cool unconcern; indifference: Eleanor received the prize with pretended nonchalance. n.

non cha lant (non'shə lənt or non'shə lənt/), without enthusiasm; coolly unconcerned; indifferent. adj. —non'cha lant ly, adv.

non com (non'kom/), Informal. a noncommissioned officer. n.

non com bat ant (non'kəm bat'nt), 1. person who is not a fighter in the army or navy in time of war; civilian. Surgeons, nurses, chaplains, etc., are noncombatants even though with the army. 2. not fighting; having civilian status in wartime. 1 n., 2 adj.

non com mis sioned (non'kə mish'ənd), without a commission; not commissioned. Corporals and sergeants are noncommissioned officers. adj.

non com mit tal (non'kə mit'l), not committing oneself; not saying yes or no: "I will think it over" is a noncommittal answer. adj. —non'com mit'tal ly, adv.

non com pli ance (non'kəm pli'əns), fact of not complying; failure to comply. n.

non com pos men tis (non' kom'pəs men'tis), Latin. mentally unable to manage one's affairs; insane.

non con duct ing (non'kən duk'ting), not conducting; that is a nonconductor. Asbestos is a nonconducting material used in heat insulation. adj.

non con duc tor (non'kən duk'tər), substance that does not readily transmit heat, electricity, etc. Rubber is a nonconductor of electricity. n.

non con form ist (non'kən fōr'mist), person who refuses to conform to an established church. n.

Non con form ist (non'kən fōr'mist), Protestant who is not a member of the Church of England. n.

non con form i ty (non'kən fōr'mə tē), lack of conformity; failure or refusal to conform. n.

non de liv er y (non'di liv'ər ē), failure to deliver. n.

non de script (non'də skript), 1. not easily classified; not of any one particular kind: eyes of nondescript shade, neither brown, blue, nor gray. 2. a nondescript person or thing. 1 adj., 2 n.

none (nun), 1. not any: We have none of that paper left. 2. no one; not one: None of these is a typical case. 3. no persons or things: None have arrived. 4. no part; nothing: She has none of her mother's beauty. 5. to no extent; in no way; not at all: Our supply is none too great. 1-4 pron., 5 adv.

none the less, nevertheless.

non en ti ty (non en'tə tē), 1. person or thing of little or no importance. 2. something that does not exist. n., pl. non en ti ties.

non es sen tial (non'ə sen'shəl), 1. not essential; not necessary. 2. person or thing not essential. 1 adj., 2 n.

non ex ist ence (non'eg zis'təns), 1. condition of not existing. 2. thing that has no existence. n.

non ex ist ent (non'eg zis'tənt), having no existence. adj.

non fic tion (non fik'shən), prose literature that is not a novel, short story, or other form of writing based on imaginary people and events. Biographies and histories are nonfiction. n.

non ful fill ment (non'fūl fil'mənt), failure to fulfill; failure to be fulfilled. n.

non in ter ven tion (non'in tər ven'shən), 1. failure or refusal to intervene. 2. systematic avoidance of any interference by a nation in the affairs of other nations or of its own states, etc. n.

non in tox i cat ing (non'in tok'sə kāt'ing), not producing intoxication; not alcoholic. adj.

non met al (non'met'l), a chemical element not having the character of a metal. Carbon and nitrogen are nonmetals. n.

non me tal lic (non'mə tal'ik), not like a metal. Carbon, oxygen, sulfur, and nitrogen are nonmetallic chemical elements. adj.

non pa reil (non'pə rel'/), 1. having no equal. 2. person or thing having no equal. 3. a beautifully colored finch of the S United States. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Nonagon

non par ti san or non par ti zan (non pār'tə zn), 1. not partisan. 2. not supporting, or controlled by, any of the regular political parties. adj.

non pay ment (non pā'mənt), failure to pay; condition of not being paid. n.

non per form ance (non'pər fôr'məns), fact of not performing; failure to perform. n.

non plus (non plus' or non'plus), 1. puzzle completely; make unable to say or do anything: We were nonplused to see two roads leading off to the left where we had expected only one. 2. a state of being nonplused. 1 v., nonplused, non plus ing or esp. Brit. nonplussed, nonplus sing; 2 n.

non poi son ous (non poi'zn əs), containing no poison. adj.

non po lit i cal (non'pə lit'ə kl), not concerned with politics. adj.

non pro duct ive (non'prə duk'tiv), 1. not productive. 2. not directly connected with production. adj.

non prof it (non prof'it), not for profit; without profit. adj.

non res i dent (non rez'ə dənt), 1. living elsewhere; not living in a particular place. 2. not in residence where one's work, studies, official duties, etc., are carried on. 3. a nonresident person. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

non re sist ance (non'ri zis'təns), fact or condition of not resisting; lack of resistance. n.

non re sist ant (non'ri zis'tənt), 1. not resisting; passively obedient. 2. one who does not resist authority or force; one who maintains that violence should never be resisted by force. 1 adj., 2 n.

non re stric tive (non'ri strik'tiv), adding descriptive detail. Modifiers which do not limit the meaning of a noun but add a descriptive detail are nonrestrictive modifiers. adj.

non sec tar i an (non'sek tār'ē ən), not connected with any religious denomination. adj.

non sense (non'sens), words, ideas, or acts without meaning; foolish talk or doings; a plan or suggestion that is foolish. n.

non sen si cal (non sen'sə kl), foolish; absurd. adj.

non se qui tur (non sek'wə tər), inference or conclusion that does not follow from the premises.

non stop (non'stop' for adj.; non'stop' for adv.), without stopping: a nonstop train trip. adj., adv.

non suit (non'süt'), 1. a judgment given against a person beginning a lawsuit who neglects to prosecute, or who fails to show a legal case, or who fails to bring sufficient evidence. 2. stop by a nonsuit. 1 n., 2 v.

non sup port (non'sə pōrt'), 1. lack of support. 2. failure to provide for someone for whom one is legally responsible. n.

non un ion (non ūn'yən), 1. not belonging to a trade union. 2. not following trade-union rules. 3. not recognizing or favoring trade unions. adj.

non vot er (non vōt'ər), person who does not vote. n.

noo dle (nū'dl), a mixture of flour and water, or flour and eggs, like macaroni, but made in flat strips. n.

nook (nūk), 1. a cozy little corner. 2. a hidden spot; sheltered place: My sister and I have found a wonderful nook in the woods behind our house. n.

noon (nūn), 1. twelve o'clock in the daytime; middle of the day. 2. of noon. 1 n., 2 adj.

noon day (nūn'dā'), noon. n., adj.

no one or no-one (nō'wun'), no person; no-body.

noon tide (nūn'tid'), noon. n.

noon time (nūn'tīm'), noon. n.

noose (nūs), 1. loop with a slip knot that tightens as the string or rope is pulled. Nooses are used especially in lassos and snares. 2. make a noose with; tie a noose in. 3. catch with a noose. 4. snare. 1,4 n., 2-4 v., noosed, noosing.

Noose

nor (nôr), and not; or not; neither; and not either: I have not gone there, nor will I ever go. Nor is used: 1. with a preceding neither or negative: Not a boy nor a girl stirred. There was neither river nor stream in that desert. 2. Poetic. with preceding neither or not left out: "Great brother, thou nor I have made the world." 3. Poetic. instead of neither as correlative to following nor: "Drake nor Devil nor Spaniard feared." conj.

Nor dic (nôr'dik), 1. designating, belonging to, or having to do with a race or type characterized by tall stature, blond hair, blue eyes, and long heads. 2. member of the Nordic race. Scandinavians are Nordics. 1 adj., 2 n.

Nor folk (nôr'fək), seaport in SE Virginia, near Hampton Roads. 306,000. n.

Norfolk jacket, a loose coat with a belt, worn by men and boys.

norm (nôrm), standard for a certain group; type; model; pattern: In arithmetic this class is above the norm for the eighth grade. n.

nor mal (nôr'ml), 1. of the usual standard; regular; usual: The normal temperature of the human body is 98.6 degrees. 2. not diseased, defective, or insane. 3. the usual state or level: two p unds above normal. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

nor mal cy (nôr'ml sē), normal condition. n.

nor mal i ty (nôr'mal'ē tē), normal condition. n.

nor mal ize (nôr'ml iz), make normal. v., nor mal ized, nor mal iz ing. —nor'mal i za'tion, n. —nor'mal iz'er, n.

nor mal ly (nôr'ml ē), in the normal way; regularly; if things are normal: A child normally begins to lose his first teeth at six years. adv.

normal school, school where people are trained to be teachers.

Nor man (nôr'mən), 1. native or inhabitant of Normandy in France. 2. member of the mixed race descended from the Scandinavians who settled in Normandy and the French. 3. one of the Scandinavian ancestors of these people; Northman. 4. of the Normans or Normandy. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

Norman Conquest, conquest of England by the Normans in 1066, under the leadership of William the Conqueror.

Nor man dy (nôr'mən dē), district in NW France, named for the Northmen who conquered the land and settled there in the tenth century A.D. At one time Normandy was a duchy; later it was a province. n.

Nor ris (nôr'is), George William, 1861-1944, American lawyer and United States senator. n.

Norse (nôrs), 1. of or having to do with ancient Scandinavia, its people, or their language. 2. people of ancient Scandinavia; Norsemen; Northmen. 3. of or having to do with Norway or its people. 4. Norwegians. 5. language of Norway. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n. pl., 5 n. sing.

Norse man (nôrs'mən), member of a tall, blond race that lived in ancient Scandinavia; Northman. The Vikings were Norsemen. n., pl. Norse men.

north (nôrth), 1. direction to which a compass needle points; direction to the right as one faces the setting sun. 2. part of any country toward the north. 3. lying toward or situated in the north. 4. toward the north; farther toward the north: Drive north for the next mile. 5. coming from the north: a north wind. 6. in the north. 1,2 n., 3,5 adj., 4,6 adv.

north of, farther north than: Canada is north of the United States.

North (nôth), 1. the N part of the United States; the States north of Maryland, the Ohio River, and Missouri, making up most of the states that formed the Union side in the Civil War. 2. in the northern part; northern: North China. 3. Frederick, 1732-1792, English statesman. Lord North was prime minister of England from 1770 to 1782. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

North Africa, a region in the northern part of the continent of Africa. The term has no exact geographical limits, but is usually taken to include those countries bordering on or north of the Sahara.

North America, the northern continent of the Western Hemisphere. The United States, Mexico, and Canada are some of the countries in North America. 8,303,816 sq. mi. —North American.

North amp ton (nôr thamp'tən), city in central England. 102,000. n.

North Cape, 1. point of land in the Arctic Ocean at the N tip of Norway. 2. the northern end of New Zealand.

North Carolina (kar'ə lī'nə), a Southern State of the United States. 4,556,000 pop.; 52,426 sq. mi. Capital: Raleigh. Abbrev.: N.C.

North Country, 1. northern England. 2. Alaska and the Yukon.

North Dakota (də kō'tə), a Middle Western State of the United States. 632,000 pop.; 70,665 sq. mi. Capital: Bismarck. Abbrev.: N. Dak., N.D. —North Dakota.

north east (nôth'ēs't), 1. halfway between north and east. 2. a northeast direction. 3. lying toward or situated in the northeast. 4. toward the northeast. 5. coming from the northeast: a northeast wind. 6. from the northeast. 7. directed toward the northeast. 8. in the northeast. 9. place that is in the northeast part or direction. 1,3,5,7,8 adj., 2,9 n., 4,6,8 adv.

north east er (nôth'ēs'tər), wind or storm from the northeast. n.

north east er ly (nôth'ēs'tər lē), 1. toward the northeast. 2. from the northeast. adj., adv.

north east ern (nôth'ēs'tərn), 1. toward the northeast. 2. from the northeast. 3. of the northeast; having to do with the northeast. adj.

northeast ward (nôth'ēs't'wərd), 1. toward the northeast. 2. northeast. 1,2 adv., adj., 2 n.

north east ward ly (nôth'ēs't'wərd lē), 1. toward the northeast. 2. from the northeast. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

north east wards (nôth'ēs't'wərdz), northeastward. adv.

north er (nôr'ṭhər), wind or storm from the north. n.

north er ly (nôr'ṭhər lē), 1. toward the north: The windows face northerly. 2. from the north: a northerly wind. 3. of the north. 1-3 adj., 1,2 adv.

north ern (nôr'ṭhərn), 1. toward the north: the northern side of a building. 2. from the north: a northern breeze. 3. of the north: He has traveled in northern countries. adj.

North ern (nôr'ṭhərn), of or in the North of the United States: Boston is a Northern city. adj.

North ern er (nôr'ṭhər nər), native or inhabitant of the North of the United States. n.

north ern er (nôr'ṭhər nər), native or inhabitant of the north. n.

Northern Hemisphere, the half of the earth that is north of the equator.

Northern Ireland, a self-governing district in NE Ireland that refused to join the Irish Republic and is a part of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. 1,408,000 pop.; 5238 sq. mi. Capital: Belfast. Abbrev.: N.I. See Ireland for map.

northern lights, the aurora borealis; streamers and bands of light appearing in the sky in northern regions.

north ern most (nôr'ṭhərn mōst), farthest north. adj.

Northern Rhodesia, a former British protectorate in SE Africa, now the country of Zambia.

North Island, the northernmost of the two main islands of New Zealand. 1,500,000 pop.; 44,281 sq. mi.

North Korea, country in the northern part of the Korean peninsula. It is under Communist control. Officially, Democratic People's Republic of Korea. 8,000,000 pop.; 46,814 sq. mi. Capital: Pyongyang.

north land (nôth'lənd), land in the north; the northern part of a country. n.

North land (nôth'lənd), 1. the northern regions of the world. 2. peninsula containing Norway and Sweden. n.

north land er (nôth'lən dər), inhabitant of the northland. n.

North man (nôth'mən), 1. Norseman; one of the ancient Scandinavians. 2. native or inhabitant of northern Europe. n., pl. North men.

North Pole, the northern end of the earth's axis.

North Sea, sea that is a part of the Atlantic, east of Great Britain, west of Denmark, and south of Norway. 600 mi. long; 400 mi. wide.

North Star, the bright star almost directly above the North Pole.

North um bri a (nôr thum'brē ə), an ancient kingdom in N England. n.

north ward (nôth'wərd), 1. toward the north: Rocks lay northward of the ship's course (adv.). The orchard is on the northward slope of the hill (adj.). 2. north. 1 adv., adj., 2 n.

north ward ly (nôth'wərd lē), 1. toward the north. 2. of winds, from the north. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

north wards (nôth'wərdz), northward. adv.

north west (nôth'west'), 1. halfway between north and west. 2. a northwest direction. 3. lying toward or situated in the northwest. 4. toward the northwest: The road from Chicago to Minneapolis runs northwest. 5. coming from the northwest: a northwest wind. 6. from the northwest. 7. directed toward the northwest. 8. in the northwest: The northwest climate is good for wheat. 9. place that is in the northwest part or direction. 1,3,5,7,8 adj., 2,9 n., 4,6,8 adv.

North west (nôth'west'), Washington and Oregon. n.

north west er (nôth'wes'tər), wind or storm from the northwest. n.

north west er ly (nôth'wes'tər lē), 1. toward the northwest. 2. from the northwest. adj., adv.

north west ern (nôth'wes'tərn), 1. toward the northwest. 2. from the northwest. 3. of the northwest; having to do with the northwest. adj.

North west ern (nôth'wes'tərn), of, having to do with, or in Washington or Oregon. adj.

Northwest Passage, passage for ships from the Atlantic to the Pacific along the N coast of North America.

Northwest Territories, division of N Canada, between the Yukon Territory and Hudson Bay. 21,000 pop.; 1,304,903 sq. mi.

Northwest Territory, the former name for lands now forming Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, and part of Minnesota.

north west ward (nôth'west'wərd), 1. toward the northwest. 2. northwest. 1,2 adj., adv., 2 n.

north west ward ly (nôth'west'wərd lē), 1. toward the northwest. 2. of winds, from the northwest. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

north west wards (nôth'west'wərdz), northwestward. adv.

Nor way (nôr'wā), a mountainous country in N Europe, west and north of Sweden. 3,565,000 pop.; 124,555 sq. mi. Capital: Oslo. See Lapland for map. n.

Nor we gian (nôr wē'jən), 1. of Norway, its people, or their language: Norwegian villages, a Norwegian costume. 2. native or inhabitant of Norway. 3. language of Norway. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

nor'west er (nôr wes'tər), a heavy, waterproof, oil-skin coat worn by seamen. n.

Nor wich (nôr'ij or nôr'ich), city in E England. A famous cathedral is located there. 120,000. n.

nose (nôz), 1. part of the face or head just above the mouth, serving as the opening for breathing and as the organ of smell. 2. sense of smell: A mouse has a good nose for cheese. 3. discover by smell; smell out. 4. smell; sniff (at). 5. faculty for perceiving or detecting: A reporter must have a nose for news. 6. rub with the nose: The cat nosed her kittens. 7. part that stands out. The bow of a ship or airplane is often called the nose. 8. push with the nose or forward end: The bulldozer nosed the great rock off the road. 9. push (one's way): The little boat nosed carefully between the rocks. 10. search (for); pry (into). 1,2,5,7 n., 3,4,6,8-10 v., nosed, nos ing. count noses, find out how many people are present. follow one's nose, go straight ahead. lead by the nose, have complete control over. look down one's nose at, Informal. feel contempt for. nose out, find out by looking around quietly or secretly.

pay through the nose, pay a great deal too much.

poke one's nose into, pry into; meddle in.

put one's nose out of joint, take one's place in another's favor.

turn up one's nose at, treat with contempt or scorn. under one's nose, in plain sight; very easy to notice.

nose bleed (nôz'blēd'), flow of blood from the nose. n.

nose cone, the front section of a missile designed to carry a bomb to a target or instruments or a man into space. The nose cone usually separates from the rest of the missile after the fuel runs out.

nose dive, 1. a swift plunge straight downward by an airplane, etc. 2. a sudden, sharp drop: The thermometer took a nose dive the day before Christmas.

nose-dive (nôz'div'), take a nose dive. v., nosedived, nose-diving.

nose gay (nôz'gā'), bunch of flowers; bouquet. n.

nose guard (nôz'gārd'), part of a football helmet that protects the nose. n.

nos tal gia (nos tal'jā), homesickness. n.

nos tal gic (nos tal'jik), homesick. adj.

nos tril (nos'trəl), either of the two openings in the nose. Air is breathed into the lungs, and smells come into the sensitive parts of the nose, through the nostrils. n.

nos trum (nos'trəm), 1. medicine made by the person who is selling it; quack remedy; patent medicine. 2. a pet scheme for producing wonderful results; cure-all. n.

nos y or nos ey (nôz'ē), Informal. prying; inquisitive. adj., nos ier, nos iest.

not (nôt), word that says no; a negative: Cold is not hot. Six and two do not make ten. adv.

no ta be ne (nô'tā bē'nē), Latin. note well; observe what follows; take notice. Abbrev.: N.B. or n.b.

no ta bil ity (nô'tā bil'ə tē), 1. quality of being notable; distinction. 2. a prominent person. n., pl. no ta bil i ties.

no ta ble (nô'tā bl), 1. worthy of notice; striking; remarkable: a notable event, a notable man, a notable book, a notable painter. 2. person who is notable: Many notables came to the President's reception. 1 adj., 2 n. —no'ta ble ness, n.

no ta bly (nô'tā blē), in a notable manner; to a notable degree. adv.

no ta rize (nô'tā rīz), certify (a contract, deed, will, etc.). v., no ta rized, no ta riz ing.

no ta ry (nô'tā rē), notary public. n., pl. no ta ries.

notary public, a public officer authorized to certify deeds and contracts, to record the fact that a certain person swears that something is true, and to attend to other legal matters.

no ta tion (nô tā'shən), 1. set of signs or symbols used to represent numbers, quantities, or other values: In arithmetic we use the Arabic notation (1, 2, 3, 4, etc.). 2. the representing of numbers, quantities, or other values by symbols or signs: Music has a special system of notation, and so has chemistry. 3. note to assist memory; record; jotting: He made a notation on the margin of the paper. 4. act of noting. n.

notch (noch), 1. a V-shaped nick or cut made in an edge or on a curving surface: The Indians cut notches on a stick to keep count of numbers.

2. make a notch or notches in. 3. record by notches; score; tally. 4. U.S. a deep, narrow pass or gap between mountains. 5. Informal. grade; step; degree: In this hot weather many people set their air conditioners several notches higher. 1,4,5 n., 2,3 v.

note (nôt), 1. a short sentence, phrase, or single word written down to remind one of what was in a book, a speech, an agreement, etc.: Her notes helped her remember what the speaker said. 2. write down as a thing to be remembered. 3. observe carefully; give attention to; take notice of: Now note what I do next. 4. notice; heed; observation. 5. mention specially. 6. a comment, remark, or piece of information added concerning a word or a passage in a book, often to help pupils in studying the book: Her copy of "Evangeline" has many helpful notes at the back. 7. a very short letter: a note of thanks. 8. letter from one government to another; diplomatic or official communication in writing. 9. a single sound of definite pitch made by a musical instrument or voice: Let me hear that note again. 10. a written sign to show the pitch and length of a musical sound. 11. a black or white key of a piano or other instrument. 12. a bird's song or call. 13. song; melody; tune. 14. a significant sound or way of expression: There was a note of anxiety in her voice. 15. sign, token, or proof of genuineness; characteristic or distinguishing feature. 16. distinction, importance, or consequence. 17. a written promise to pay a certain sum of money at a certain time. 18. certificate of a government or bank passing current as money. 1,4,6-18 n., 2,3,5 v., noted, noting. —note'less, adj. —not'er, n.

compare notes, exchange ideas or opinions.

make a note of, write down as something to be remembered.

of note, 1. that is important, great, or notable:

Washington is a person of note. 2. of being noticed.

strike the right note, say or do something suitable.

take note of, take notice of; give attention to; observe.

take notes, write down things to be remembered.

note book (nôt'bûk'), book in which to write notes of things to be learned or remembered. n.

not ed (nôt'id), especially noticed; conspicuous; well-known; celebrated; famous: Samson was noted for his strength. Shakespeare is a noted English author. adj.

note paper, paper used for writing letters.

note wor thy (nôt'wēr'thē), worthy of notice; remarkable: The first flight across the Atlantic was a noteworthy achievement. adj. —note'wor'thi ness, n.

noth ing (nuth'ing), 1. not anything; no thing: Nothing arrived by mail. 2. thing that does not exist: create a world out of nothing. 3. thing of no importance or value; person of no importance: People regard him as a nothing. 4. zero; naught. 5. not at all: be nothing wiser than before. 1-4 n., 5 adv.

make nothing of, 1. be unable to understand. 2. fail

Notches on a stick

Notes in music:
A, whole note;
B, half note;
C, quarter note;
D, eighth note.

to use or do. 3. treat as unimportant or worthless.

nothing less than, just the same as.

think nothing of, 1. consider as easy to do. 2. treat as unimportant or worthless.

noth ing ness (nuth'ing nis), 1. a being nothing; nonexistence. 2. a being of no value; worthlessness. 3. an unimportant or worthless thing. n.

no tice (nō'tis), 1. observation; heed; attention: escape one's notice. A sudden movement caught his notice. 2. take notice of; see; give attention to; perceive: I noticed a big difference at once. 3. information; warning: The whistle blew to give notice that the boat was about to leave. 4. a written or printed sign; paper posted in a public place: We saw a notice of today's motion picture outside the theater. 5. a warning that one is leaving a rented house or leaving a person's employ, or that one must leave the house one is living in or the position one is filling, at a certain time: The servant gave notice. 6. paragraph or article about something: The new book got a favorable notice. 7. mention; refer to; speak of. 1,3-6 n., 2,7 v., no ticed, no tic ing.

serve notice, give warning; inform; announce.

take notice, give attention; observe; see.

no tice a ble (nō'tis ə bl), 1. easily seen or noticed; discernible: The class has made noticeable improvement. 2. worth noticing. adj.

no tice a bly (nō'tis ə blē), to a noticeable degree: It is noticeably cooler in the shade. adv.

no ti fi ca tion (nō'tə fə kă'shən), 1. a notifying. 2. notice: He received a notification of the meeting. n.

no ti fy (nō'tə fī), give notice to; let know; inform; announce to: Our teacher notified us that there would be a test on Monday. v., no ti fied, no ti fy ing.

no tion (nō'shən), 1. idea; understanding: He has no notion of what I mean. 2. opinion; view; belief: One common notion is that red hair means a quick temper. 3. intention: He has no notion of risking his money. 4. a foolish idea or opinion: That silly girl has too many notions. n.

notions, U.S. small useful articles; pins, needles, thread, tape, etc.

no tion al (nō'shən l), 1. having to do with ideas or opinions. 2. in one's imagination or thought only; not real. 3. U.S. full of notions; having strange notions. adj.

no to chord (nō'tə kōrd), 1. a rodlike structure that is the primitive cartilaginous backbone of the lowest vertebrates. 2. a similar structure in the embryos of higher vertebrates. n.

no to ri et y (nō'tə rī ə tē), 1. a being famous for something bad; ill fame: A crime or scandal brings much notoriety to those involved in it. 2. being widely known. 3. a well-known person. n., pl. no to ri e ties.

no to ri ous (nō'tō rē əs), 1. well-known because of something bad; having a bad reputation: The notorious thief was sent to prison for his many crimes. 2. well-known: Philip is a notorious crybaby. adj. —no to ri ous ly, adv. —no to ri ous ness, n.

No tre Dame (nō'trə dām'), 1. Our Lady, the Virgin Mary. 2. cathedral in Paris.

no-trump (nō'trump'), 1. without any trumps. 2. declaration in bridge to play with no suit as trumps. 1 adj., 2 n.

Not ting ham (not'ing əm), city in central England. 313,000. n.

not with stand ing (not'wīth stan'ding or not'with-stan'ding), 1. in spite of: He bought it notwithstanding the high price. 2. in spite of the fact that: Notwithstanding there was need for haste, he still delayed. 3. in spite of it; nevertheless: It is raining; but I shall go, notwithstanding. 1 prep., 2 conj., 3 adv.

Nouak chott (nwāk shōt'), capital of the republic of Mauritania. n.

nou gat (nü'gət), a kind of soft candy containing nuts. n.

nought (nôt), 1. naught; nothing: All my work came to nought. 2. zero; 0: Two noughts after a six make six hundred. 3. Archaic. in no way; not at all. 1,2 n., 3 adv.

noun (noun), 1. word used as the name of a person, place, thing, quality, event, etc. Words like John, table, school, kindness, skill, and party are nouns. 2. used as a noun. 1 n., 2 adj.

nour ish (nēr'ish), 1. make grow, or keep alive and well, with food; feed; nurture: Milk nourishes a baby. 2. maintain; foster; support; encourage: nourish a hope. v.

nour ish ment (nēr'ish mēnt), 1. food. 2. a nourishing or being nourished. n.

Nov., November.

no va (nō'və), a star that suddenly becomes brighter and then gradually fades away. n., pl. no vae (nō'vē), no vas.

No va Sco tia (nō'və skō'shə), province in SE Canada consisting chiefly of a peninsula that extends into the Atlantic. 723,000 pop.; 21,425 sq. mi. Capital: Halifax. Abbrev.: N.S. See Fundy, Bay of for map.

nov el (nov'l), 1. of a new kind or nature; strange; new; unfamiliar: Red snow is a novel idea to us. 2. story with characters and a plot, long enough to fill one or more volumes. Novels are usually about people, scenes, and happenings such as might be met in real life. 1 adj., 2 n.

nov el ette (nov'l et'), a short novel. n.

nov el ist (nov'l ist), writer of novels. n.

nov el is tic (nov'l is'tik), of or like novels. adj.

nov el ty (nov'l tē), 1. newness; novel character: After the novelty of washing dishes wore off, Mary did not want to do it any more. 2. a new or unusual thing: Staying up late was a novelty to the children, and they enjoyed it. n., pl. nov el ties.

novelties, small, unusual articles; toys, cheap jewelry, etc.

No vem ber (nō vem'bər), the 11th month of the year. It has 30 days. n.

no ve na (nō vē'nə), in the Roman Catholic Church, a religious exercise consisting of prayers or services on nine days, or sometimes nine corresponding days in consecutive months: a novena of nine first Fridays. n., pl. no ve nas, no ve nae (-nē).

nov ice (nov'is), 1. one who is new to what he is doing; beginner: Novices are likely to make some mistakes. 2. person who is received into a religious group on trial before taking vows. Before becoming a monk or a nun, a person is a novice. n.

no vi ti ate or no vi ci ate (nō vish'ē it), 1. period of trial and preparation in a religious order. 2. novice. 3. house or rooms occupied by religious novices. 4. state or period of being a beginner in anything. n.

No vo caine or No vo cain (nō'və kăn), Trademark. an alkaloid compound, used as a local anesthetic. n.

now (nou), 1. at the present time: He is here now. 2. by this time: She must have reached the city now. 3. the present; this time: by now, until now, from now on. 4. at once: Do it now! 5. then; next: If passed, the bill now goes to the President. 6. at the time referred to: The clock now struck three. 7. a little while ago: I just now saw him. 8. under the present circumstances; as things are; as it is: I would believe almost anything now. 9. since; inasmuch as: Now I am older, I have changed my mind. 10. Now is also used to introduce or emphasize: Now what do you mean? Oh, come now! Now you knew that was wrong. 11. be careful! please! 1,2,4-8,10 adv., 3 n., 9 conj., 11 interj.

just now, only a few moments ago.

now and again, from time to time; once in a while.

now and then, from time to time; once in a while.

now a days (nou'ə dāz'), 1. at the present day; in these times: Nowadays people travel in automobiles rather than carriages. 2. the present day; these times. 1 adv., 2 n.

no way (nō'wā), nowise. adv.

no ways (nō'wāz), noway. adv.

no where (nō'hwär), in no place; at no place; to no place. adv.

no wise (nō'wīz), in no way; not at all. adv.
nox ious (nok/'shəs), very harmful; poisonous: Fumes from the exhaust of an automobile are noxious. adj. —nox/i ous ly, adv.
 —nox/i ous ness, n.
Noyes (noiz), Alfred, 1880-1958, English poet. n.
noz zle (noz'/l), tip put on a hose, pipe, etc., forming an outlet. n.
Np, neptunium.
N.S., Nova Scotia.
nth (enth), last in the series 1, 2, 3, 4 . . . n; being of the indefinitely large or small amount denoted by n. adj.
to the nth degree or power, 1. to any degree or power. 2. to the utmost: He was dressed to the nth degree for the occasion.
nt. wt., net weight.
nuance (nū'āns' or nū'āns', nū'āns or nū'āns), 1. shade of expression, meaning, feeling, etc. 2. shade of color or tone. n.
nub (nub), 1. knob; protuberance. 2. lump or small piece. 3. U.S. Informal. point or gist of anything. n.
nub bin (nub'ən), 1. a small lump or piece. 2. U.S. a small or imperfect ear of corn. 3. an undeveloped fruit. n.
Nu bi a (nū'bē ə or nū'bē ə), region in NE Africa south of Egypt and bordering on the Red Sea. n.
 —Nu'bi an, adj., n.
Nu bi an Desert (nū'bē ən or nū'bē ən), a large desert south of Egypt, between the Nile River and the Red Sea.
nu ble (nū'bl or nū'bl), old enough to be married; marriageable. adj.
nu cle ar (nū'klē ə or nū'klē ə), forming a nucleus; having to do with nuclei: nuclear physics. adj.
nuclear energy, the energy contained in the nucleus of an atom; atomic energy.
nuclear fission, fission (def. 2). nuclear fuel, a fissile substance which will sustain a chain reaction.
nuclear fusion, fusion (def. 4). nuclear physics, branch of physics that is concerned with atoms and their nuclear structure.
nuclear reactor, reactor.
nu cle i (nū'klē ī or nū'klē ī), pl. of nucleus. n.
nu cle o lus (nū'klē ə ləs or nū'klē ə ləs), a small structure, usually round, found within the nucleus in most cells. n., pl. nu cle o li (-li).
nu cle on ics (nū'klē on'iks or nū'klē on'iks), study and science of the characteristics of nucleons. n.
nu cle ons (nū'klē onz or nū'klē onz), protons and neutrons of an atomic nucleus. n.pl.
nu cle us (nū'klē əs or nū'klē əs), 1. a beginning to which additions are to be made: John's five-dollar bill became the nucleus of a flourishing bank account. 2. a central part or thing around which other parts or things are collected. 3. a proton, or group of protons and electrons, forming the central part of an atom and carrying a positive charge. 4. the basic arrangement of atoms in a particular compound. 5. an active body lying within the protoplasm of a cell of an animal or a plant, without which the cell cannot grow and divide. 6. the dense central part of a comet's head. n., pl. nu cle i or nu cle us es.
nude (nūd or nūd), 1. naked; unclothed; bare. 2. a naked figure in painting, sculpture, or photography. 1 adj., 2 n. —nude/ness, n.
the nude, 1. the naked figure. 2. a naked condition.
nudge (nuj), 1. push slightly; jog with the elbow to attract attention, etc. 2. a slight push or jog. 1 v., nudged, nudging; 2 n.
nud ism (nūd'iz əm or nūd'iz əm), practice of going naked for health or as a fad. n.

nud ist (nūd'ist or nūd'ist), 1. person who goes naked for health or as a fad. 2. of nudism or nudists. 1 n., 2 adj.
nu di ty (nū'də tē or nū'də tē), 1. nakedness. 2. something naked. n., pl. nu di ties.
nu ga to ry (nū'gə tō'rē or nū'gə tō'rē), 1. trifling; worthless. 2. ineffective; useless. adj.
nug get (nug'it), 1. lump. 2. lump of native gold. 3. anything valuable: nuggets of wisdom. n.
nui sance (nū'sns or nū'sns), thing or person that annoys, troubles, offends, or is disagreeable; annoyance: Flies are a nuisance. n.
nuisance tax, tax that is annoying because it is collected in very small amounts from the consumer.
Nu ku a lo fa (nū'kū ə lō'fā), capital of the Tonga Islands. 9000. n.
null (nul), 1. not binding; of no effect; as if not existing: A promise obtained by force is legally null. 2. unimportant; useless; meaningless; valueless. 3. not any; zero. adj.
null and void, without force or effect; worthless.
nul li fi ca tion (nul'ə fə kā'shən), 1. nullifying. 2. being nullified: the nullification of a treaty. n.
nul li fy (nul'ə fi), 1. make not binding or not the law; render void: nullify a law. 2. make unimportant, useless, or meaningless; destroy; cancel; wipe out: The difficulties of the plan nullify its advantages. v., nul li fied, nul li fy ing.
nul li ty (nul'ə tē), 1. futility; nothingness. 2. a mere nothing: The king's power in Denmark is practically a nullity. 3. something that is null, such as a nullified law or agreement. n., pl. nul li ties.
Num., Numbers.
numb (num), 1. having lost the power of feeling or moving: My fingers are numb with cold. 2. make numb. 3. dull the feelings of: numbed with grief. 1 adj., 2, 3 v. —numb/ly, adv. —numb/ness, n.
num ber (num'bər), 1. word or symbol used in counting; numeral. Two, fourteen, twenty-six, second, fourteen, twenty-sixth, 2, 14, and 26 are all numbers. 2. mark with a number; assign a number to; distinguish with a number: The pages of this book are numbered. 3. amount of units; sum; total: The number of your fingers is ten. 4. be able to show; have: This city numbers a million inhabitants. 5. amount to: a crew numbering 20 men. 6. a large or small quantity: We saw a number of birds. 7. collection or company: the number of saints. 8. reckon as one of a class or collection: I number you among my best friends. 9. one of a numbered series; single part of a program, etc.: The program consisted of four musical numbers. 10. a single issue of a magazine. 11. fix the number of; limit: His days are numbered. 12. count. 13. property or feature of words that indicates whether they refer to one, or more than one, person or thing. Boy, ox, and this are in the singular number; boys, oxen, and these are in the plural number. 14. form or group of forms indicating this. 1, 3, 6, 7, 9, 10, 13, 14 n., 2, 4, 5, 8, 11, 12 v. —num/-ber er, n.
numbers, 1. arithmetic. 2. many: Numbers were turned away. 3. numerical preponderance; being more: to win a battle by force of numbers. 4. poetry. 5. group of musical notes or measures.
a number of, several; many.
beyond number, too many to count.
number one, oneself.
without number, too many to be counted: stars without number.
num ber less (num'bər lis), 1. very numerous; too many to count: There are numberless fish in the sea. 2. without a number. adj.
Num bers (num'barz), the fourth book of the Old Testament. It tells about the counting of the Israelites after they left Egypt. n.

nu mer al (nū'mər əl or nū'mər əl), 1. figure, letter, or word standing for a number; group of figures, letters, or words standing for a number. 1, 5, 10, 50, 100, and 1000 are Arabic numerals. I, V, X, L, C, and M are Roman numerals. 2. of numbers; standing for a number. 1 n., 2 adj.

numerals, big cloth numbers given by a school for excellence in some sport. They state the year in which the person who wins them will graduate.

nu mer ate (nū'mər āt or nū'mər āt), 1. number; count; enumerate. 2. read (an expression in numbers). v., nu mer at ed, nu mer at ing.

nu mer a tion (nū'mər ā'shən or nū'mər ā'shən), 1. a numbering; a counting; a calculating. 2. reading of numbers expressed in figures. n.

nu mer a tor (nū'mər ā'tər or nū'mər ā'tər), 1. number above the line in a fraction which shows how many parts are taken: In $\frac{3}{8}$, 3 is the numerator. 2. person or thing that makes a count. n.

nu mer i cal (nū'mər'əkl or nū'mər'əkl), 1. of a number; having to do with numbers; in numbers; by numbers. 2. shown by numbers, not by letters: 10 is a numerical quantity; bx is a literal or algebraic quantity. adj.

nu mer i cal ly (nū'mər'ik lē or nū'mər'ik lē), by numbers; in a numerical manner; in numerical respects; so far as numbers are concerned: New York is numerically larger than Texas. adv.

nu mer ous (nū'mər əs or nū'mər əs), 1. very many; several: The child asked numerous questions. 2. in great numbers: He has a numerous acquaintance among politicians. adj. —nu'mer ous ly, adv. —nu'mer ous ness, n.

Nu mid i a (nū'mid'ēə or nū'mid'ēə), an ancient country in N Africa, corresponding generally to modern Algeria. n. —Nu mid'ian, adj., n.

nu mis mat ic (nū'miz mat'ik or nū'miz mat'ik), 1. of numismatics or numismatists. 2. of coins and medals. adj.

nu mis mat ics (nū'miz mat'iks or nū'miz mat'iks), study of coins and medals. n.

nu mis ma tist (nū'miz/mə tist or nū'miz/mə tist), one who knows much about numismatics. n.

num skull (num'skul'), Informal. a stupid person; blockhead. n.

nun (nun), woman who devotes her life to religion and lives under religious vows with a group of women like her. Some nuns teach; others take care of sick people. n.

Nunc Di mit tis (nungk' di mit'is), canticle of Simeon, beginning "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace." Luke 2:29-32.

nun ci o (nun'shē ō), ambassador from the Pope to a government. n., pl. nun ci os.

nun ner y (nun'ər ē), building or buildings where nuns live; convent. n., pl. nun ner ies.

nup tial (nup'shəl), of marriage or weddings. adj.

nuptials, a wedding; the wedding ceremony.

Nu rem berg (nūr'əm bərg or nyūr'əm bərg), city in West Germany. 449,000. n.

nurse (nərs), 1. person who takes care of the sick, the injured, or the old, or is trained to do this. 2. be a nurse; act as a nurse; work as a nurse. 3. act as a nurse for; wait on or try to cure (the sick); take care of (sick, injured, or old people). 4. cure or try to cure by care: She nursed a bad cold by going to bed. 5. woman who cares for and brings up the young children or babies of another person. 6. take care of and bring up (another's baby or young child). 7. one who feeds and protects. 8. nourish; protect; make grow: nurse a plant, nurse a fire. 9. use or treat with special care: He nursed his sore arm by using it very little. 10. hold closely; clasp fondly. 11. give milk to (a baby). 12. suck milk from a mother or nurse. 1,5,7 n., 2-4,6,8-12 v., nursed, nurs ing.

nurse ling (nərs'ling), nursling. n.

nurse maid (nərs'mād'), maid employed to care for children. n.

nurs er y (nərs'ər ē), 1. room set apart for the use of children and babies. 2. piece of ground or place where young trees and plants are raised for transplanting or sale. 3. place or condition that helps something to grow and develop: Slums are often nurseries of disease. n., pl. nurs er ies.

nurs er y maid (nərs'ər ē mād'), nursemaid. n.

nurs er y man (nərs'ər ē mən), man who grows or sells young trees and plants. n., pl. nurs er y men.

nursery rhyme, a little poem for children.

nursery school, school for children not old enough to go to kindergarten.

nurs ling (nərs'ling), 1. baby that is being nursed. 2. any person or thing that is having tender care. n.

nur ture (nərs'chər), 1. rear; bring up; care for; foster; train: She nurtured the child as if he had been her own. 2. rearing; bringing up; training; education: The two sisters had received very different nurture, one at home and the other at a convent. 3. nourish. 4. nourishment. 1,3 v., nur tured, nur turing; 2,4 n. —nur'tur er, n.

nut (nut), 1. a dry fruit or seed with a hard, woody or leathery shell and a kernel inside which is good to eat. 2. kernel of a nut. 3. gather nuts.

4. a small block, usually of metal, that screws on to a bolt to hold the bolt in place. 5. piece at the upper end of a violin, cello, etc., over which the strings pass. 6. Slang. head. 7. Slang. a queer or crazy person. 1,2,4-7 n., 3 v., nut ted, nut ting.

hard nut to crack, Informal. a difficult question, problem, or undertaking.

nuts, U.S. Slang. queer; crazy.

nut crack er (nut'krak'ər), 1. instrument for cracking the shells of nuts. 2. any of several birds of the same family as the crow, that feed on nuts. n.

nut gall (nut'gōl'), lump or ball that swells up on an oak tree where it has been injured by an insect; gall. n.

nut hatch (nut'hach'), a small, sharp-beaked bird that feeds on small nuts, seeds, and insects. n.

nut meat (nut'mēt'), kernel of a nut. n.

nut meg (nut'meg), 1. a hard, spicy seed about as big as a marble, obtained from the fruit of an East Indian tree. The seed is grated and used for flavoring food. 2. the tree. n.

nu tri a (nū'trē ə or nū'trē ə), 1. the coypu, a water rodent of South America. 2. its valuable beaverlike fur. n.

nu tri ent (nū'trē ənt or nū'trē ənt), 1. nourishing. 2. a nourishing substance; food. 1 adj., 2 n.

nu tri ment (nū'trə mənt or nū'trə mənt), nourishment; food. n.

nu tri tion (nū'trish'ən or nū'trish'ən), 1. food; nourishment. 2. series of processes by which food is changed to living animal or plant tissues. n.

nu tri tion al (nū'trish'ən əl or nū'trish'ən əl), having to do with nutrition. adj. —nu tri'tion al ly, adv.

nu tri tious (nū'trish'əs or nū'trish'əs), valuable as food; nourishing: Oranges and bread are nutritious. adj. —nu tri'tious ly, adv. —nu tri'tious ness, n.

nu tri tive (nū'trə tiv or nū'trə tiv), 1. having to do with foods and the use of foods. Digestion is part of the nutritive process. 2. nutritious. adj. —nu'tri tive-ness, n.

nut shell (nut'shel'), shell of a nut. n.

in a nutshell, in very brief form; in a few words.

nut ting (nut'ing), looking for nuts; gathering nuts. n.

nut ty (nut'ē), 1. containing many nuts: nutty cake. 2. like nuts; tasting like nuts. 3. Slang. queer; crazy. 4. Slang. very interested or enthusiastic. adj., nut ti est. —nut'ti ness, n.

Bolt with nut (def. 4) screwed on Nutcracker (def. 1)

Nutcracker (def. 2) (about 12 in. long) nux vomica (nuks vom'ə kə), 1. medicine containing strychnine, made from the seed of a tree growing in the East Indies. 2. the seed. 3. the tree.

nuz zle (nuz'l), 1. poke or rub with the nose; press the nose against: The calf nuzzles his mother. 2. nestle; snuggle; cuddle. v. nuz zled, nuz zling.
NW or N.W. or n.w., 1. northwest. 2. northwestern.
N.Y., New York State.
Ny as a or Ny as sa (nī as'ə), Lake, a large lake in SE Africa. 360 mi. long; 11,000 sq. mi. n.
Ny as a land (nī as'ə land'), former British protectorate in SE Africa, now Malawi. n.
N.Y.C., New York City.

ny lon (nī'lon), 1. an extremely strong, elastic, and durable substance, used to make clothing, stockings, bristles, etc. 2. made of nylon: Many toothbrushes have nylon bristles, and nylon rollers are often used to make drawers run smoothly. 1 n., 2 adj.
nylons, stockings made of nylon.
nymph (nimf), 1. one of the lesser Greek and Roman goddesses of nature, who lived in seas, rivers, springs, hills, woods, or trees. 2. Poetic. a beautiful or graceful young woman. 3. insect in the stage of development between larva and adult insect. It has no wings. n.
—nymph/like', adj.
N.Z., New Zealand.

O

O or o (ō), 1. the 15th letter of the alphabet. 2. something like the letter O in shape. 3. zero. n., pl. O's or o's.
O! (ō), oh! interj.
o' (ə or ō), 1. of: man-o'-war. 2. on. prep.
O, oxygen.
O., Ohio.
oaf (ōf), 1. a very stupid child or man. 2. a deformed child. 3. a clumsy person. n., pl. oafs.
oafish (ōf'ish), very stupid; clumsy. adj.
O a hu (ō ā'hū), the third largest island of Hawaii. Honolulu, the capital of Hawaii, is on Oahu. 500,000 pop.; 604 sq. mi. See Hawaiian Islands for map. n.
oak (ōk), 1. a large tree with hard, durable wood and nuts called acorns. 2. its wood. 3. tree or shrub resembling or suggesting an oak. 4. of an oak: oak leaves. 5. made of oak wood; oaken. 1-3 n., 4,5 adj. —oak/-like', adj.
oak apple, lump or ball on an oak leaf or stem due to injury by an insect.
oak en (ōk'ən), made of oak wood: the old oaken bucket. adj.
Oak land (ōk'land), city in W California, just east of San Francisco, on San Francisco Bay. 368,000. n.
Oak Park, city in NE Illinois, near Chicago. 61,000.
Oak Ridge, city located on a United States government reservation in E Tennessee. Oak Ridge is an atomic-energy research center. 27,000.
oa kum (ō'kəm), a loose fiber obtained by untwisting and picking apart old ropes, used for stopping up the seams or cracks in ships. n. oar (ōr), 1. a long pole with a flat end, used in rowing. Sometimes an oar is used to steer a boat. 2. person who rows: He is the best oar in our crew. 3. row. 1,2 n., 3 v. put one's oar in, meddle; interfere.
rest on one's oars, stop working or trying and take a rest.
oar lock (ōr'lok'), a notch or U-shaped support in which the oar rests in rowing; rowlock. n.
oars man (ōrz'mən), 1. man who rows. 2. man who rows well. n., pl. oars men.
O.A.S., Organization of American States.
o a ses (ō ā'sēz), pl. of oasis. n. o a sis (ō ā'sis), a fertile spot in the desert where there is water. n., pl. o a ses.
oat (ōt), a tall cereal grass whose grain is used in making oatmeal and as a food for horses. n.

Oasis

oats, grain of the oat plant.
feel one's oats, U.S. Slang. 1. be lively or frisky. 2. feel pleased or important and show it.
sow one's wild oats, do the things that wild young people do before settling down.
oat cake (ōt'kāk'), a thin cake made of oatmeal. n.
oat en (ōt'ən), 1. made of oats or oatmeal. 2. made of oat straw. adj.
oath (ōth), 1. a solemn promise or statement that something is true, which God or some holy person or thing is called on to witness: Mr. Jones made an oath that he would tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth. 2. name of God or some holy person or thing used as an exclamation to add force or to express anger. 3. a curse; swearword. n., pl. oaths (ōthz or ōths).
take oath, make an oath; promise or state solemnly.
oat meal (ōt'mēl'), 1. oats made into meal; ground oats; rolled oats. 2. porridge made from oatmeal. n.
O ba di ah (ō'bə dī'ə), 1. a Hebrew prophet. 2. book of the Old Testament containing his prophecies. n.
ob bli ga to (ob'lə gā'tō), 1. in music, accompanying a solo, but having a distinct character and independent importance. 2. an obligato part or accompaniment. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. ob bli ga tos. Also, obligato.
ob du ra cy (ob'də rə sē or ob'dyə rə sē), hardness of heart; stubbornness. n.
ob du rate (ob'də rit or ob'dyə rit), 1. stubborn; unyielding: an obdurate refusal. 2. hardened in feelings or heart; not repentant: an obdurate criminal. adj.
—ob/du rate ly, adv. —ob/du rate ness, n. o be di ence (ō bē'dē əns), doing what one is told; submission to authority or law: Soldiers act in obedience to the orders of their officers. n. o be di ent (ō bē'dē ənt), doing what one is told; willing to obey: The obedient dog came at his master's whistle. adj.
—o bē/di ent ly, adv.
o bei sance (ō bā'sns or ō bē'sns), 1. movement of the body expressing deep respect; deep bow: The men made obeisance to the king. 2. deference; homage: acts of obeisance. n.
ob e lisk (ob'lisk), a tapering, four-sided shaft of stone with a top shaped like a pyramid. n.
O ber am mer gau (ō'bər əm'ər gou), village in S West Germany where the Passion Play is given every ten years. 5000. n.
O ber hau sen (ō'bər hou'zn), city in West Germany. 256,000. n.
O ber on (ō'bər on), in Shakespeare's *A Midsummer Night's Dream, the king of the fairies. He was the husband of Titania. n. o bese (ō bēs'), extremely fat. adj. —o bese/ness, n. o bes i ty (ō bēs'ə tē), extreme fatness. *n.

Obelisk

o bey (ō bā'), 1. do what one is told: The dog obeyed and went home. 2. follow the orders of: Obey your father. 3. yield to (authority or law or control). 4. yield to the control of: A car obeys the driver. v.
ob fus cate (ob fu's/kāt), darken; obscure; confuse; stupefy: A man's mind may be obfuscated by liquor. v., ob fus cat ed, ob fus cat ing. —ob'fus ca'tion, n. —ob fus'ca tor, n.

o bi (ō'bē), a long, broad sash worn by Japanese women and children. n.

ob i ter dic tum (ob'ə tər dik'təm), 1. an incidental statement. 2. an incidental opinion given by a judge. pl., ob i ter dic ta (dik'tə).

o bit u ary (ō bich'ü er'ē), 1. a notice of death, often with a brief account of the person's life. 2. of a death; recording a death: the obituary notices in the newspaper. 1 n., pl. o bit u aries; 2 adj.

obj., 1. object. 2. objective. 3. objection.

ob ject (ob'jekt for 1-5; əb jekt' for 6, 7), 1. something that can be seen or touched; thing; article: What is that object by the fence? A dark object moved between me and the door. 2. person or thing toward which feeling, thought, or action is directed: an object of charity, an object of study. 3. person or thing that is absurd, funny, or foolish: What an absurd object you are with your hair pulled down over your face that way. 4. thing aimed at; end; purpose; goal: My object in coming here was to get Mary's address. 5. word or group of words toward which the action of the verb is directed or to which a preposition expresses some relation. In "He threw the ball to his brother," ball is the object of threw, and brother is the object of to. 6. make objections; be opposed; feel dislike: Many people object to loud noise. 7. give as a reason against something; bring forward in opposition; oppose: Mother objected that the weather was too wet to play outdoors. 1-5 n., 6, 7 v. —ob ject'ing ly, adv. —ob jec'tor, n.

object glass, lens or combination of lenses (in a telescope, microscope, etc.) that first receives light rays from the object and forms the image viewed through the eyepiece.

ob jec ti fy (əb jek'tə fī), make objective; externalize: Experiments in chemistry objectify the teaching. Kind acts objectify kindness. v., ob jec ti fied, ob jec ti fy ing.

ob jec tion (əb jek'shən), 1. something said in objecting; reason or argument against something: One of his objections to the plan was that it would cost too much. 2. feeling of disapproval or dislike: A lazy person has an objection to working. n.

ob jec tion a ble (əb jek'shən ə bl), 1. likely to be objected to. 2. unpleasant; disagreeable. adj. —ob jec'tion a bly, adv.

ob jec tive (əb jek'tiv), 1. something aimed at: My objective this summer will be learning to play tennis better. 2. being the object of endeavor. 3. existing outside the mind as an actual object and not merely in the mind as an idea; real: Actions are objective; ideas are subjective. 4. about outward things, not about the thoughts and feelings of the speaker, writer, painter, etc.; giving facts as they are without a bias toward either side; impersonal: A scientist must be objective in his experiments. 5. something real and observable. 6. showing the object of a verb or the object of a preposition. In "John hit me," me is in the objective case. 7. the objective case. 8. word in that case. Whom and me are objectives. 9. lens or lenses nearest to the thing seen through a telescope, microscope, etc. 1,5,7-9 n., 2-4,6 adj. —ob jec'tive ly, adv.

ob jec tiv i ty (ob'jek tiv'ə tē), state or quality of being objective; intentness on objects external to the mind; external reality. n.

object lesson, 1. instruction conveyed by means of material objects. 2. a practical illustration of a principle: Many street accidents are object lessons in the dangers of carelessness.

Japanese girl wearing an obi ob ject d'art (ōb zhā dār'), French. a small picture, vase, etc., of some artistic value. pl. ob jets d'art (ōb-zhā dār').

ob jur gate (ob'jər gāt), reproach vehemently; upbraid violently; berate. v., ob jur gat ed, ob jur gat ing.

ob jur ga tion (ob'jər gā'shən), vehement upbraiding. n.

ob jur ga to ry (əb jər'gə tō'rē), vehemently reproachful; upbraiding; berating. adj.

ob late (ob'lāt), flattened at the poles. The earth is an oblate spheroid. adj. —ob'late ness, n.

ob la tion (ob lā'shən), 1. an offering to God or a god.

2. the offering of bread and wine in the Communion service. n.

ob li gate (ob'lə gāt), bind morally or legally; pledge: A witness in court is obligated to tell the truth. v., ob li gat ed, ob li gat ing.

ob li ga tion (ob'lə gā'shən), 1. duty under the law; duty due to a promise or contract; duty on account of social relationship or kindness received: A wife's first obligation is to her husband and children. Taxes are an obligation which may fall on everybody. 2. binding power (of a law, promise, sense of duty, etc.): The one who did the damage is under obligation to pay for it. 3. a binding legal agreement; bond; contract: The firm was not able to meet its obligations. 4. a being in debt for a favor, service, or the like: It was George's obligation to return Mary's favor by asking her to his birthday party. 5. service; favor; benefit: An independent person likes to repay all obligations. n.

ob li ga to (ob'lə gā'tō), obligato. adj., n., pl. ob li ga tos.

ob lig a to ry (əb lig'ə tō'rē or ob'lə gə tō'rē), binding morally or legally; required: Attendance at primary school is obligatory. adj.

o blige (ə blīj'), 1. bind by a promise, contract, duty, etc.; compel; force: The law obliges parents to send their children to school. 2. put under a debt of thanks for some favor; do a favor: She obliged us with a song. v., o blig ed, o blig ing. —o blig'er, n.

o blig ing (ə blīj'ing), willing to do favors; helpful: Anne's obliging good nature wins her friends everywhere she goes. adj. —o blig'ing ly, adv. —o blig'ing ness, n.

ob lique (əb lēk' or əb līk'), 1. not straight up and down; not straight across; slanting. In the diagram, AB, CD, EF, and GH are oblique lines. 2. not straightforward; indirect: She made an oblique reference to her illness, but did not mention it directly. 3. advance in an oblique manner; slant. 1,2 adj., 3 v., ob liqued, ob liqu ing.

oblique angle, any angle that is not a right angle. ob liq ui ty (əb lik'wə tē), 1. indirectness or crookedness of thought or behavior; especially, conduct that is not upright and moral. 2. being oblique. n., pl. ob liq ui ties.

ob lit er ate (əb lit'er āt), remove all traces of; blot out; destroy: The heavy rain obliterated the footprints. v., ob lit er at ed, ob lit er at ing.

ob lit er a tion (əb lit'er ā'shən), an obliterating or being obliterated; effacement. n.

ob liv i on (əb liv'ē ən), 1. condition of being entirely forgotten: Many ancient cities have long since passed into oblivion. 2. forgetfulness: The magic drink caused oblivion of all sorrows. n.

ob liv i ous (əb liv'ē əs), 1. forgetful; not mindful: The book was so interesting that I was oblivious of my surroundings. 2. bringing or causing forgetfulness: an oblivious slumber. adj. —ob liv'i ous ly, adv. —ob liv'i ous ness, n.

ob long (ob'lōng), 1. longer than broad: an oblong loaf of bread. 2. rectangle that is not a square. 1 adj., 2 n.

ob lo quy (ob'lə kwē), 1. public reproach; abuse; blame. 2. disgrace; shame. n., pl. ob lo quies.

Oblong

ob nox ious (əb nok/'shəs), very disagreeable; offensive; hateful: His disgusting table manners made him obnoxious to us. adj. —ob nox ious ly, adv. —ob nox ious ness, n. o boe (ō'bō), a wooden wind instrument in which a thin, poignant tone is produced by a double reed. n.
obs., obsolete; used formerly but not now.

ob scene (əb sēn'), offending modesty or decency; impure; filthy; vile. adj. —ob scene ly, adv.

ob scen i ty (əb sēn'ə tē or əb sēn'ə tē), 1. obscene quality. 2. obscene language or behavior; an obscene word or act. n., pl. ob scen i ties.
ob scour ant ism (əb skūr'ən tiz əm), opposition to progress and the spread of knowledge. n.
ob scour ant ist (əb skūr'ən tist), 1. person who is opposed to progress and the spread of knowledge. 2. of obscurantists or obscurantism. 1 n., 2 adj.

ob scu ra tion (əb'skūrə rā'shən), 1. an obscuring. 2. a being obscured. n.
ob scure (əb skūr'), 1. not clearly expressed: an obscure passage in a book. 2. not expressing meaning clearly: an obscure style of writing. 3. not well known; attracting no notice: an obscure little village, an obscure poet, an obscure position in the government. 4. not easily discovered; hidden: an obscure path, an obscure meaning. 5. not distinct; not clear: an obscure form, obscure sounds, an obscure view. 6. dark; dim: an obscure corner. 7. hide from view; make obscure; dim; darken: Clouds obscure the sun. 1-6 adj., ob scour er, ob scour est; 7 v., obscured, ob scour ing. —ob scure ly, adv. —ob scure ness, *n. —ob scour er, *n.

ob scu ri ty (əb skūr'ə tē), 1. lack of clearness; difficulty in being understood: The obscurity of the passage makes several interpretations possible. 2. something obscure; thing hard to understand; point or passage not clearly expressed; doubtful or vague meaning. 3. being unknown: Lincoln rose from obscurity to fame. 4. a little-known person or place. 5. lack of light; dimness: The dog hid in the obscurity of the thick bushes. n., pl. ob scu ri ties.
ob se quies (əb'sə kwēz), funeral rites or ceremonies; stately funeral. n. pl.
ob se qui ous (əb sē'kwē əs), polite or obedient from hope of gain or from fear; servile; fawning: Obsequious courtiers greeted the king. adj. —ob se qui ous ly, adv. —ob se qui ous ness, n.

ob serv a ble (əb zēr'və bl), 1. that can be or is noticed; noticeable; easily seen. 2. that can be or is observed: Lent is observable by some churches. adj.
ob serv a bly (əb zēr'və blē), so as to be observed; to an observable degree. adv.
ob serv ance (əb zēr'vəns), 1. act of observing or keeping laws or customs: the observance of the Sabbath. 2. act performed as a sign of worship or respect; religious ceremony. 3. rule or custom to be observed. 4. Archaic. respectful attention or service. 5. observation. n.
ob serv ant (əb zēr'vənt), 1. quick to notice; watchful; observing: If you are observant in the fields and woods, you will find many flowers that others fail to notice. 2. careful in observing (a law, rule, custom, etc.): observant of the traffic rules. adj. —ob serv ant ly, adv.

ob ser va tion (əb'zar vā'shən), 1. act, habit, or power of seeing and noting: By his trained observation the doctor knew that the unconscious man was not dead. 2. fact of being seen; being seen; notice: The tramp avoided observation. 3. something seen and noted: The student of bird life kept a record of his observations. 4. act of watching for some special purpose; study: The observation of nature is important in science. 5. remark: "Haste makes waste," was Father's observation when Bill spilled the ice cream. n.

ob sta cle (əb'stə kl), something that stands in the way or stops progress; hindrance: A tree fallen across the road was an obstacle to our car. Blindness is an obstacle in most occupations. n.
ob stet ric (əb'stē'rik), having to do with the care of women in childbirth. adj.
ob ste tri cian (əb'stē trish'ən), physician whose specialty is obstetrics. n.
ob stet rics (əb'stē'riks), branch of medicine and surgery concerned with caring for and treating women in, before, and after childbirth. n.
ob sti na cy (əb'stə nə sē), 1. stubbornness; being obstinate: Obstinacy drove the boy to repeat his statement even after he knew it was wrong. 2. an obstinate act. n., pl. ob sti na cies.

ob sti nate (əb'stə nit), 1. not giving in; stubborn: The obstinate girl would go her own way, in spite of all warnings. 2. hard to control or treat: an obstinate cough. adj. —ob sti nate ly, adv.
ob strep er ous (əb strep'ər əs), 1. noisy; boisterous: Most boys are naturally obstreperous. 2. unruly; disorderly. adj. —ob strep er ous ly, adv. —ob strep er ous ness, n.

ob struct (əb'strukt'), 1. make hard to pass through; block up: Fallen trees obstruct the road. 2. be in the way of; hinder: Trees obstruct our view of the ocean. A strike obstructed the work of the factory. v.
ob struc tion (əb'struk'shən), 1. thing that obstructs; something in the way; obstacle: The soldiers had to get over such obstructions as ditches and barbed wire. Ignorance is an obstruction to progress. 2. a blocking; a hindering: the obstruction of progress by prejudices. n.
ob struc tion ism (əb'struk'shən iz əm), hindering of the progress of business in a meeting, legislature, etc. n.

ob struc tion ist (əb'struk'shən ist), one who hinders (progress, legislation, reform, etc.). n.
ob struc tive (əb'struk'tiv), tending or serving to obstruct; blocking; hindering. adj.

ob ser va tion al (əb'zar vā'shən l), of, having to do with, or founded on observation, especially as contrasted with experiment. adj.

ob serv a to ry (əb zēr'və tō'rē), 1. place or building with a telescope for observing the stars and other heavenly bodies. 2. place or building for observing facts or happenings of nature. 3. a high place or building giving a wide view. n., pl. ob serv a to ries.

ob serve (əb zēr'), 1. see and note; notice: I observed nothing queer in his behavior. 2. examine for some special purpose; study: An astronomer observes the stars. 3. remark: "Bad weather," the captain observed. 4. keep; follow in practice: observe silence, observe a rule. 5. show regard for; celebrate: observe the Sabbath. v., ob served, ob serv ing. —ob serv er, n.

ob serv ing (əb zēr'ving), observant; quick to notice. adj.

ob sess (əb ses'), fill the mind of; keep the attention of; haunt: Fear that someone might steal his money obsessed the old miser. v.

ob ses sion (əb'sesh'ən), 1. an obsessing or being obsessed; influence of a feeling, idea, or impulse that a person cannot escape. 2. the feeling, idea, or impulse itself. n.

ob sid i an (əb'sid ē ən), a hard, dark, glassy rock that is formed when lava cools. n.

ob so les cence (əb'sə les'ns), passing out of use; getting out of date; becoming obsolete. n.

ob so les cent (əb'sə les'nt), passing out of use; tending to become out of date: Horse carriages are obsolescent. adj.

ob so lete (əb'sə lēt), 1. no longer in use: "Eft" (meaning again) is an obsolete word. Wooden warships are obsolete. 2. out-of-date: We still use this machine though it is obsolete. adj.

ob sta cle (əb'stə kl), something that stands in the way or stops progress; hindrance: A tree fallen across the road was an obstacle to our car. Blindness is an obstacle in most occupations. n.

ob stet ric (əb'stē'rik), having to do with the care of women in childbirth. adj.

ob ste tri cian (əb'stē trish'ən), physician whose specialty is obstetrics. n.

ob stet rics (əb'stē'riks), branch of medicine and surgery concerned with caring for and treating women in, before, and after childbirth. n.

ob sti na cy (əb'stə nə sē), 1. stubbornness; being obstinate: Obstinacy drove the boy to repeat his statement even after he knew it was wrong. 2. an obstinate act. n., pl. ob sti na cies.

ob sti nate (əb'stə nit), 1. not giving in; stubborn: The obstinate girl would go her own way, in spite of all warnings. 2. hard to control or treat: an obstinate cough. adj. —ob sti nate ly, adv.

ob strep er ous (əb strep'ər əs), 1. noisy; boisterous: Most boys are naturally obstreperous. 2. unruly; disorderly. adj. —ob strep er ous ly, adv. —ob strep er ous ness, n.

ob struct (əb'strukt'), 1. make hard to pass through; block up: Fallen trees obstruct the road. 2. be in the way of; hinder: Trees obstruct our view of the ocean. A strike obstructed the work of the factory. v.

ob struc tion (əb'struk'shən), 1. thing that obstructs; something in the way; obstacle: The soldiers had to get over such obstructions as ditches and barbed wire. Ignorance is an obstruction to progress. 2. a blocking; a hindering: the obstruction of progress by prejudices. n.

ob struc tion ism (əb'struk'shən iz əm), hindering of the progress of business in a meeting, legislature, etc. n.

ob struc tion ist (əb'struk'shən ist), one who hinders (progress, legislation, reform, etc.). n.

ob struc tive (əb'struk'tiv), tending or serving to obstruct; blocking; hindering. adj.

obtain (əb tain'), 1. get or procure through diligence or effort; come to have: obtain a prize, obtain possession of a house one has rented, obtain knowledge through study. 2. be in use; be customary; prevail: Different rules obtain in different schools. v. —obtain/a ble, adj.

obtrude (əb trūd'), 1. put forward unasked and unwanted; force: Don't obtrude your opinions on others. 2. come unasked and unwanted; force oneself; intrude. 3. push out; thrust forward: A turtle obtrudes its head from its shell. v., obtruded, obtruding. —obtruder, n.

obtrusion (əb trū'zən), 1. an obtruding. 2. something obtruded. n.

obtrusive (əb trū'siv), inclined to obtrude; putting oneself forward; intrusive. adj. —obtrusively, adv. —obtrusiveness, n.

obtuse (əb tūs' or əb tūs'), 1. not sharp or acute; blunt. 2. having more than 90° of angle but less than 180°. 3. slow in understanding; stupid: He was too obtuse to take the hint. 4. not sensitive; dull: One's hearing often becomes obtuse in old age. adj. —obtusely, adv.

obtuse angle, angle larger than a right angle.

obverse (ob'vərs for 1,2,4; ob'vərs' or ob'vərs for 3,5), 1. side of a coin, medal, etc., that has the principal design. 2. that face of anything that is meant to be turned toward the observer; front. 3. turned toward the observer. 4. counterpart. 5. being a counterpart to something else. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 adj. —obversely, adv.

obviate (ob'vī āt), meet and dispose of; clear out of the way; remove: obviate a difficulty, obviate danger, obviate objections. v., obviated, obviating. —obviation, n.

obvious (ob'vī əs), easily seen or understood; clear to the eye or mind; not to be doubted; plain: It is obvious that two and two make four. adj. —obviously, adv. —obviousness, n.

Ocarina. The mouthpiece is at the bottom of the picture.

ocarina (ok'ə rē'nə), a musical instrument shaped like a sweet potato, with finger holes and a whistle-like mouthpiece. n.

occasion (ə kă'zhən), 1. a particular time: We have met Mr. Smith on several occasions. 2. a special event: The jewels were worn only on great occasions. 3. a good chance; opportunity: The trip gave us an occasion to get better acquainted. 4. cause; reason: The dog that was the occasion of the quarrel had run away. 5. cause; bring about: His queer behavior occasioned talk. 1-4 n., 5 v.

improve the occasion, take advantage of an opportunity.

on occasion, now and then; once in a while.

occasional (ə kă'zhən l), 1. happening or coming now and then, or once in a while: an occasional thunderstorm. 2. caused by or used for some special time or event: occasional poetry. adj.

occasionally (ə kă'zhən l ē), at times; now and then. adv.

Occident (ok'sə dənt), countries in Europe and America; the West (opposed to Orient). n.

occident (ok'sə dənt), the west. n.

Occidental (ok'sə den'tl), 1. Western; of the Occident. 2. native of the West. Europeans are Occidentals. 1 adj., 2 n.

occidental (ok'sə den'tl), western. adj.

occipital (ok sip'ə tl), 1. of or having to do with the back part of the head or skull. 2. occipital bone. 1 adj., 2 n.

occipital bone, the compound bone forming the lower back part of the skull.

occlude (o klūd'), 1. stop up (a passage, pores, etc.); close. 2. shut in, out, or off. 3. absorb and retain (gases). Platinum occludes hydrogen. 4. meet closely. The teeth in the upper jaw and those in the lower jaw should occlude. v., occluded, occluding.

occlusion (o klū'zhən), an occluding or being occluded. n.

occult (o kult' or ok'ult), 1. beyond the bounds of ordinary knowledge; mysterious. 2. outside the laws of the natural world; magical: Astrology and alchemy are occult sciences. adj.

occultation (ok'ul tā'shən), 1. a hiding of one heavenly body by another passing between it and the observer: the occultation of a star by the moon. 2. disappearance from view or notice. n.

occultism (o kul'tiz əm or ok'ul tiz əm), 1. belief in occult powers. 2. study or use of occult sciences. n.

occupancy (ok'yə pən sē), act or fact of occupying; holding (land, houses, a pew, etc.) by being in possession: The occupancy of the land by cattlemen was disputed by the farmers. n.

occupant (ok'yə pənt), 1. person who occupies: The occupant of the shack stepped out as I approached. 2. person in actual possession of a house, office, etc. n.

occupation (ok'yə pā'shən), 1. business; employment; trade: Teaching is a teacher's occupation. 2. being occupied; possession; occupying: the occupation of a town by the enemy. n.

occupational (ok'yə pā'shən l), of or having to do with occupation; especially, of or having to do with trades, callings, etc. adj.

occupational therapy, the treatment of persons having physical disabilities through specific types of exercises, work, etc., to promote rehabilitation.

occupy (ok'yə pī), 1. take up; fill: The building occupies an entire block. 2. keep busy; engage; employ: Sports often occupy a boy's attention. 3. take possession of: The enemy occupied our fort. 4. keep possession of; hold: A judge occupies an important position. 5. live in: The owner and his family occupy the house. v., occupied, occupying. —occupier, n.

occur (ə kēr'), 1. take place; happen: Storms often occur in winter. 2. be found; exist: "E" occurs in print more than any other letter. 3. come to mind; suggest itself: Did it occur to you to close the window? v., occurred, occurring.

occurrence (ə kēr'əns), 1. an occurring: The occurrence of storms delayed our trip. 2. event; happening: an unexpected occurrence. n.

ocean (ō'shən), 1. the great body of salt water that covers almost three fourths of the earth's surface; the sea; the main; the deep. 2. any of its four main divisions; the Atlantic, Pacific, Indian, and Arctic oceans. 3. a vast expanse or quantity: oceans of trouble. n.

ocean bed, bottom of the ocean.

Oceania (ō'shē an'ē ə), 1. islands of the central and south Pacific, north, northeast, and east of Australia. 2. these islands, together with Australia, New Zealand, and the Malay Archipelago. n.

oceanic (ō'shē an'ik), 1. of the ocean: oceanic islands. 2. living in the ocean: oceanic fish. 3. like the ocean; wide; vast. adj.

Oceania (ō'shē an'ə kə), Oceania. n.

Oceanid (ō sē'ə nid), in Greek mythology, a sea nymph; daughter of Oceanus, the ocean god. n.

oceanography (ō'shən og'rə fē), branch of physical geography dealing with the ocean. n.

Oceanus (ō sē'ə nəs), the Greek god of the great stream that was supposed to surround all the land. n.

Ocelot (ō'sə lot or os'ə lot), a spotted wildcat somewhat like a leopard, found from Texas through South America. n.

Ocelot (about 4 ft. long, including the tail) ocher or ochre (ō'kər), 1. any of various earths ranging in coloring from pale yellow to orange, brown, and red, used as pigments. 2. a brownish yellow. n.

o'clock (ə klok'), of the clock; by the clock: What o'clock is it? It is one o'clock.

Oct., October.

oc ta gon (ok'tə gon), a plane figure having eight angles and eight sides. n.

oc ta go nal (ok tag'ə nəl), having eight angles and eight sides. adj.

oc ta he dral (ok'tə hē'drəl), having eight plane faces. adj.

oc ta he dron (ok'tə hē'drən), a solid figure having eight plane faces or sides. n., pl. oc ta he drons, oc ta he dra (-drə).

oc tane (ok'tān), a colorless, liquid hydrocarbon that occurs in petroleum. Good gasoline contains much octane. n.

octane number, number indicating the quality of a motor fuel, based on its antiknock properties.

Two octaves on the piano (def. 3) oc tave (ok'tiv or ok'tāv), 1. interval between a musical note and another note having twice or half as many vibrations. From middle C to the C above it is an octave. 2. the eighth note above or below a given tone, having twice or half as many vibrations per second. 3. series of notes or of keys of an instrument, filling the interval between a note and its octave. 4. the sounding together of a note and its octave. 5. a group of eight. n.

oc ta vo (ok tā'vō), 1. the page size of a book in which each leaf is one eighth of a whole sheet of paper. 2. book having this size, usually about 6 by 9½ inches. n., pl. oc ta vos.

oc tet or oc tette (ok tet'), 1. a musical composition for eight voices or instruments. 2. eight singers or players. 3. group of eight lines of verse. 4. any group of eight. n.

oc til lion (ok til'yən), 1. in the United States and France, 1 followed by 27 zeros. 2. in Great Britain and Germany, 1 followed by 48 zeros. n.

Oc to ber (ok tō'bər), the tenth month of the year. It has 31 days. n.

oc to ge nar i an (ok'tə jə nār'ē ən), 1. person who is 80 years old or between 80 and 90 years old. 2. 80 years old or between 80 and 90 years old. 1 n., 2 adj.

oc to pus (ok'tə pəs), 1. a sea mollusk having a soft body and eight arms with suckers on them. 2. anything like an octopus; powerful, grasping organization with far-reaching influence. n.

oc to roon (ok'tə rōn'), person having one eighth Negro blood or ancestry. n.

oc u lar (ok'yə lər), 1. of or having to do with the eye: an ocular muscle. 2. like an eye. 3. received by actual sight; seen: ocular proof. 4. eyepiece of a telescope, microscope, etc. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

oc u list (ok'yə list), doctor skilled in the examination and treatment of the eye. n.

O.D., Officer of the Day.

odd (od), 1. left over: Pay the bill with this money and keep the odd change. 2. being one of a pair or set of which the rest is missing: an odd stocking. 3. extra; occasional; casual: We speak of odd jobs, odd moments, and odd numbers or volumes of a magazine. 4. with some extra: six hundred odd children in school. 5. leaving a remainder of 1 when divided by 2: Seven is an odd number. 6. strange; peculiar; queer: It is odd that I cannot remember his name. adj. —odd'ness, n.

odd i ty (od'ə tē), 1. strangeness; queerness; peculiarity: the oddity of wearing a fur coat over a bathing suit. 2. a strange, queer, or peculiar person or thing. n., pl. odd i ties.

odd ly (od'lē), queerly; strangely. adv.

Octagon

odd ment (od'mənt), thing left over; extra bit. n.
odds (odz), 1. difference in favor of one and against another; advantage: The odds are in our favor and we should win. In betting, odds of 3 to 1 mean that 3 will be paid if the bet is lost for every 1 that is received if the bet is won. 2. in games, an extra allowance given to the weaker side. 3. things that are odd, uneven, or unequal. 4. difference: It makes no odds when he goes. n.pl. or sing.

at odds, quarreling; disagreeing.

odds and ends, things left over; extra bits; odd pieces; scraps; remnants.

The odds are, The chances are. The probability is.

ode (ōd), a lyric poem full of noble feeling expressed with dignity. n.

O der (ō'dər), river flowing through W Poland into the Baltic Sea. In its lower course it is now the boundary between Poland and East Germany. 560 mi. n.

O des sa (ō des'ə), seaport in SW Soviet Union, on the Black Sea. 667,000. n.

O din (ō'dən), the chief Norse god. Odin was the god of wisdom, culture, war, and the dead. The Germans and Anglo-Saxons identified him with Woden. n.

o di ous (ō'dē əs), very displeasing; hateful; offensive; detestable; repulsive. adj. —o'di ous ly, adv.

—o'di ous ness, n.

o di um (ō'dē əm), 1. hatred; dislike. 2. reproach; blame. n.

o don tol o gy (ō'don tol'ə jē), branch of anatomy that treats of the teeth. n.

o dor (ō'dər), 1. smell: the odor of roses, the odor of garbage. 2. reputation. 3. fragrance; perfume. n.

—o'dor less, adj.

be in bad odor, have a bad reputation or inferior standing: Those hoodlums were in bad odor because they were suspected of stealing.

o dor if er ous (ō'dər if'ər əs), giving forth an odor; fragrant. adj.

o dor ous (ō'dər əs), giving forth an odor; having an odor; sweet-smelling; fragrant: Spices are odororous. adj.

—o'dor ous ly, adv. —o'dor ous ness, n.

o dour (ō'dər), Esp. Brit. odor. n.

O dys se us (ō dis'ē əs or ō dis'ūs), Ulysses. n.

Od ys sey (od'ə sē), 1. a long Greek epic poem by Homer, describing the ten years of wandering of Odysseus after the Trojan War and his final return home. 2. any long series of wanderings and adventures. n., pl. Od ys seys.

Oed i pus (ed'ə pəs or ē'də pəs), in Greek mythology, a Greek king who unknowingly killed his father and married his mother. When he learned this, he blinded himself and passed the rest of his life wandering miserably. n.

o'er (ōr), Poetic. over. prep., adv.

of (ov or uv; unstressed əv), 1. belonging to: the children of a family, a friend of his boyhood, the news of the day, the captain of the ship, the cause of the quarrel. 2. made from: a house of bricks, castles of sand. 3. that has; containing; with: a house of six rooms. 4. that (who) has as a quality: a look of pity, a word of encouragement, a woman of good judgment. 5. that is the same as; that is; named: the city of Chicago. 6. away from; from: north of Boston, shoot wide of the mark, take leave of a friend. 7. having to do with; in regard to; concerning; about: think well of someone, be fond of, be hard of heart, be fifteen years of age. 8. that has a purpose: the hour of prayer. 9. by: the writings of Shakespeare. 10. as a result of having or using; through: die of grief. 11. out of; owing to: expect much of a new medicine. She came of a noble family. 12. among: a mind of the finest, a friend of mine. 13. during: of late years. 14. in telling time, before: ten minutes of six. 15. Of connects nouns and adjectives having the meaning of a verb with what would be the object of the verb: the eating of fruit, his drinking of milk, the love of truth, in search of a ball, a hall smelling of onions. prep.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; th, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

off (ôf), 1. not in the usual or correct position on; not in the usual or correct condition of; not on: A button is off his coat. 2. from the usual or correct position, condition, etc.: He took off his hat. 3. from; away from: miles off the main road. 4. away; go off on a journey. 5. distant in time: Christmas is only five weeks off. 6. so as to stop or lessen: Turn the water off. The game was called off. 7. not connected; stopped: The electricity is off. 8. without work: He pursues his hobby during off hours (adj.). an afternoon off (adv.). 9. in full; wholly: Clear off the table. 10. in a specified condition in regard to money, property, etc.: How well off are the Smiths? 11. not very good; not up to average: Bad weather made last summer an off season for fruit. 12. possible but not likely: I came on the off chance that I would find you. 13. on one's way: The train started and we were off on our trip. 14. go away! stay away! 15. more distant; farther: the off side of a wall. 16. on the right-hand side: The high horse and the off horse make a team. 17. seaward from: The ship anchored off Maine. 18. seaward. 19. side in cricket opposite to the batsman. 1,3,17 prep., 2,4-6,8,9,13 adv., 7,8,10-13,15,16,18 adj., 14 interj., 19 n.

be off, go away; leave quickly.

off and on, at some times and not at others; now and then.

off with, 1. take off. 2. away with!

well off, badly off, or comfortably off, so situated, especially in regard to money or worldly goods.

of fal (ôf'fəl), 1. the waste parts of an animal killed for food. 2. garbage; refuse. n.

off-col or (ôf'kul'ər), 1. defective in color. 2. somewhat improper. adj.

Of fen bach (ôf'an bāh), Jacques, 1819-1880, French musician and composer of light operas. n.

of fence (ə fens'), Esp. Brit. offense. n.

of fend (ə fend'), 1. hurt the feelings of; make angry; displease; pain: My friend was offended. 2. sin; do wrong: In what way have I offended? v.

of fend er (ə fend'ər), 1. person who offends. 2. person who does wrong or breaks a law. n.

of fense (ə fens'), 1. a breaking of the law; sin. Offenses against the law are punished by fines or imprisonment. 2. cause of wrongdoing. 3. condition of being offended; hurt feelings; anger: He tried not to cause offense. 4. act of offending; hurting someone's feelings: No offense was meant. 5. act of attacking: A gun is a weapon of offense. n.

give offense, offend.

take offense, be offended.

of fen sive (ə fen'siv), 1. giving offense; irritating; annoying: "Shut up" is an offensive remark. 2. unpleasant; disagreeable; disgusting: Bad eggs have an offensive odor. 3. ready to attack; attacking: an offensive army. 4. used for attack; having to do with attack: offensive weapons, an offensive war for conquest. 5. position or attitude of attack: The army took the offensive. 6. attack: Our planes bombed the enemy lines on the night before the offensive. 1-4 adj., 5,6 n. —of fen'sive ly, adv. —of fen'sive ness, n.

offer (ôf'ər), 1. hold out to be taken or refused; present; proffer: offer one's hand, offer a gift. He offered us his help. 2. be willing if another approves: He offered to help us. 3. propose; advance; suggest: She offered a few ideas to improve the plan. 4. present in worship: offer prayers. 5. give; show: The enemy offered resistance to our soldiers' attack. 6. present itself; occur: I will come if the opportunity offers. 7. show intention; attempt; try: The dog did not offer to hurt Jack, but stopped him if he offered to move. 8. bid as a price: He offered twenty dollars for our old stove. 9. act of offering: an offer of money, an offer to sing, an offer of marriage, an offer of $10,000 for a house. 1-8 v., 9 n.

of fer ing (ôf'ər'ing), 1. the giving of something as an act of worship. 2. contribution. 3. act of one that offers. n.

of fer to ry (ôf'ər tō'rē), 1. collection at a religious service. 2. verses said or the music sung or played while the offering is received. 3. in the Roman Catholic Church, part of the Mass at which bread and wine are offered to God. 4. prayers said or sung at this time. n., pl. of fer to ries.

off hand (ôf'hand' for 1; ôf'hand' for 2, 3), 1. without previous thought or preparation; at once: The carpenter could not tell offhand how much the work would cost. 2. done or made offhand: His offhand remarks were sometimes very wise. 3. casual; informal. 1 adv., 2,3 adj.

off hand ed (ôf'han'did), offhand. adj. —off-hand'ed ly, adv. —off'hand'ed ness, n.

of fice (ôf'is), 1. place in which the work of a position is done; room or rooms for clerical work: His office is on the second floor. The post office is on Main Street. 2. position, especially in the public service: The President holds the highest public office in the United States. 3. duty of one's position; task; job; work: A teacher's office is teaching. 4. staff of persons carrying on work in an office. 5. an administrative department of a governmental organization. 6. act of kindness or unkindness; attention; service; injury: Through the good offices of a friend, he was able to get a job. 7. a religious ceremony or prayer: the communion office, last offices. n.

office boy, boy whose work is doing odd jobs in an office.

of fice hold er (ôf'is hōl'dər), person who holds a public office; government official. n.

of fi cer (ôf'ə sər), 1. person who commands others in the army or navy, such as a major, a general, a captain, or an admiral. 2. captain of a ship or any of his chief assistants. 3. person who holds a public, church, or government office: a health officer, a police officer. 4. the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, etc., of a club, society, etc. 5. provide with officers. 6. direct; conduct; manage: The army was officered by brave men. 7. member above the lowest rank in some societies. 1-4,7 n., 5,6 v. —of fi cer less, adj.

officer of the day, an army or navy officer who has charge, for the time being, of the guards, prisoners, barracks, etc.

of fi cial (ə fish'əl), 1. person who holds a public position or who is in charge of some public work or duty: Postmasters are government officials. 2. person holding office; officer: bank officials. 3. of or having to do with an office: Policemen wear an official uniform. 4. having authority: An official record is kept of the proceedings of Congress. 5. being an official: Each State has its own official representatives in Congress. 6. suitable for a person in office: the official dignity of a judge. 7. holding office. 1,2 n., 3-7 adj.

of fi cial dom (ə fish'əl dəm), 1. position or domain of officials. 2. officials collectively. n.

of fi cial ism (ə fish'əl iz əm), 1. official methods or system. 2. excessive attention to official routine. n.

of fi cial ly (ə fish'əl ē), in an official manner; as an official. adv.

of fi ci ate (ə fish'ē āt), 1. perform the duties of any office or position: The president officiates as chairman at all club meetings. 2. perform the duties of a priest or minister: The bishop officiated at the cathedral. v., of fi ci at ed, of fi ci at ing.

of fi cial (ə fis'əl nī), 1. kept in stock by druggists. 2. drug that is kept in stock. 3. recognized by the pharmacopoeia. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

of fi cious (ə fish'əs), too ready to offer services or advice; minding other people's business; fond of meddling. adj. —of fi cious ly, adv. —of fi cious ness, n.

off ing (ôf'ing), 1. the more distant part of the sea as seen from the shore. 2. position at a distance from the shore. n.

in the offing, 1. just visible from the shore. 2. within sight. 3. not far off.

off ish (ôf'ish), Informal. inclined to keep aloof; distant and reserved in manner. adj. —off'ish ness, n.

off set (ôf'set' for 1-3, 8; ôf'set' for 4-7), 1. make up for; counterbalance; compensate for: The better roads offset the greater distance. 2. balance (one thing) by another as an equivalent: We offset the greater distance by the better roads. 3. set off or balance: offset the better roads against the greater distance. 4. something which makes up for something else; compensation: The better roads on this route are an offset for the greater distance. 5. a short side shoot from a main stem or root that starts a new plant. 6. any offshoot. 7. process of printing in which the inked impression is first made on a rubber roller and then on the paper, instead of directly on the paper. 8. form an offset. 1-3, 8 v., off set, off set ting; 4-7 n.

off shoot (ôf'shüt'), 1. shoot or branch growing out from the main stem of a plant, tree, etc. 2. anything coming, or thought of as coming, from a main part, stock, race, etc.: an offshoot of a mountain range. n.

off shore (ôf'shôr'), off or away from the shore: a wind blowing offshore (adv.), offshore fisheries (adj.). adv., adj.

off side or off-side (ôf'sid'), away from one's own or the proper side; being on the wrong side. adj.

off spring (ôf'spring'), 1. what is born from or grows out of something; child or children; descendant: Every one of Mr. Kelly's offspring had red hair. 2. result; effect. n.

off-stage (ôf'stāj'), away from the part of the stage that the audience can see. adj.

oft (ôft), Archaic. often. adv.

of ten (ôf'ən), in many cases; many times; frequently: Blame is often misdirected. He comes here often. adv., of ten er, of ten est.

of ten times (ôf'ən tīmz'), often. adv.

oft times (ôft'tīmz'), Poetic. often. adv.

Og den (og'dən), city in N Utah. 70,000. n.

ogle (ô'gl), 1. look at with desire; make eyes at. 2. look with desire; make eyes. 3. an ogling look. 1, 2 v., ogled, ogling; 3 n. —o'gler, n.

Ogle thorpe (ô'gl thôrپ), James Edward, 1696-1785, English general who founded the colony of Georgia. n.

Og pu (og'pü), the official organization of secret police and detectives in Soviet Russia from 1922 to 1935. n.

ogre (ô'gar), giant or monster that supposedly eats people. n.

oh or Oh (ô), 1. word used before names in addressing persons: Oh Mary, look! 2. expression of surprise, joy, grief, pain, and other feelings: Oh, dear me! interj.

O hi o (ô'hî'ô), 1. a Middle Western State of the United States. 9,706,000 pop.; 41,222 sq. mi. Capital: Columbus. Abbrev.: O. 2. river in the United States, flowing SW from Pittsburgh into the Mississippi River. 981 mi. n. —O hi'o an, adj., n.

ohm (ôm), unit of electrical resistance. A wire in which one volt produces a current of one ampere has a resistance of one ohm. n.

Ohm (ôm), Georg Simon, 1787-1854, German physicist. n.

o ho (ô hō'), exclamation expressing surprise, taunting, or exultation. interj.

oil (oil), 1. any of several kinds of thick, fatty or greasy liquids that are lighter than water, that burn easily, and that dissolve in alcohol, but not in water. Mineral oils are used for fuel; animal and vegetable oils are used in cooking, medicine, and in many other ways. Essential or volatile oils, such as oil of peppermint, are distilled from plants, leaves, flowers, etc., and are thin and evaporate very quickly. 2. mineral oil; petroleum. 3. olive oil. 4. substance that resembles oil in some respect. Sulfuric acid is called oil of vitriol. 5. become oil: Butter oils when heated. 6. paint made by grinding coloring matter in oil. 7. an oil painting. 8. put oil on or in. 9. bribe. 1-4, 6, 7 n., 5, 8, 9 v.

pour oil on troubled waters, make things calm and peaceful.

strike oil, 1. find oil by boring a hole in the earth. 2. find something very profitable.

oil burner, furnace, ship, etc., that uses oil for fuel.

oil cloth (oil'klôth'), 1. cloth made waterproof by coating it with paint or oil. 2. cloth made waterproof by treating it with oil; oilskin. n.

oil color, 1. paint made by mixing pigment with oil. 2. painting done in such colors.

oil er (oil'ər), 1. person or thing that oils. 2. can with a long spout used in oiling machinery. n.

oil field, area where petroleum has been found.

oil painting, 1. picture painted with oil colors. 2. art of painting with oil colors.

oil pa per (oil'pā'pər), paper treated with oil to make it transparent and waterproof. n.

oil skin (oil'skin'), cloth treated with oil to make it waterproof. n.

oilskins, coat and trousers made of this cloth.

oil stone (oil'stôn'), a fine-grained stone which is oiled and used for sharpening tools. n.

oil well, well drilled in the earth to get oil.

oil y (oil'ē), 1. of oil. 2. containing oil. 3. covered or soaked with oil: oily rags. 4. like oil; smooth; slippery. 5. too smooth; suspiciously or disagreeably smooth: an oily smile. adj., oil i er, oil i est. —oil'i ness, n.

oint ment (oint'mənt), substance made from oil or fat, often containing medicine, used on the skin to heal or to make it soft. Cold cream and salve are ointments. n.

Oise (wāz), river flowing from S Belgium into the Seine River near Paris. 186 mi. n.

O jib wa (ô jib'wā), member of a large tribe of American Indians formerly living near the Great Lakes; Chippewa. n., pl. O jib wa or O jib was.

O jib way (ô jib'wā), Ojibwa. n., pl. O jib way or O jib ways.

OK or O.K. (ô'kā'), Orig. U.S. Informal. 1. all right; correct; approved. 2. endorse; approve. 3. approval. 4. all right. 1 adj., adv., 2 v., OK'd, OK'ing or O.K.'d, O.K'ing; 3 n., pl. OK's or O.K.'s; 4 interj.

o ka pi (ô kă'pē), an African mammal like the giraffe, but smaller and with a much shorter neck. n., pl. o ka pis or o ka pi.

o kay (ô'kā'), Orig. U.S. Informal. OK. adj., adv., v., n., interj.

O khotsk (ô kotsk'), Sea of, sea east of Siberia and north of Japan; part of the Pacific Ocean. 582,000 sq. mi. n.

O kie (ô'kē), Informal. a migratory farm worker; originally, one from Oklahoma. n.

O ki na wa (ô'kă nă'wā), a large island in the Ryukyu group in the N Pacific. It was captured by United States forces in 1945. 700,000 pop.; about 454 sq. mi. n.

O kla., Oklahoma.

O kla ho ma (ô'klă hō'mā), a Southern State of the United States. 2,328,000 pop.; 69,919 sq. mi. Capital: Oklahoma City. Abbrev.: Okla. n. —O'kla ho'man, adj., n.

Oklahoma City, capital of Oklahoma, in the central part. 324,000.

o kra (ô'kră), 1. plant cultivated for its sticky pods, which are used in soups and as a vegetable. 2. the pods. n.

O lav V (ô'lăf), born 1903, king of Norway since 1957.

old (ôld), 1. not young; having existed long; aged: an old wall. We are old friends. 2. of age; in age: a year old

Okapi (about 5 ft. high at the shoulder)

Okra pods

3. not new; not recent; made long ago; ancient: an old excuse, an old tomb, an old debt, an old family. 4. much worn by age or use: old clothes. 5. looking or seeming old; like an old person in wisdom, feebleness, etc.; mature: old for her years. 6. having much experience: be old in wrongdoing. 7. former: An old student came back to visit his teacher. 8. earlier or earliest: Old English. 9. time long ago: the heroes of old. 10. familiar; dear: good old fellow. 11. Informal. good; fine: We had a high old time at the party. 1-8, 10, 11 adj., old er or eld er, old est or eld est; 9 n. —old/ness, n. the old, old people: a home for the old.

old age, years of life from about 65 on.

Old Bailey (bā'lē), the chief court in London for trying criminal cases.

old country, country an emigrant comes from, often Great Britain or Ireland.

old en (ōld'n), Poetic. of old; old; ancient. adj.

Old English, 1. period in the history of the English language before 1100. 2. language of this period; Anglo-Saxon.

old-fashion ed (ōld'fash'ənd), 1. of an old fashion: an old-fashioned dress. 2. keeping to old ways, ideas, etc.: an old-fashioned housekeeper. adj.

old-fo gy or old-fo gey (ōld'fō'gē), out-of-date; behind the times. adj.

Old Glory, flag of the United States; Stars and Stripes.

Old Guard, 1. the imperial guard of Napoleon I. It made the last French charge at Waterloo. 2. a very conservative section of the Republican Party of the United States. 3. the conservative members of a country, community, organization, etc.

Old ham (ōld'əm), city in W England. 120,000. n.

old hand, expert; very skilled or experienced person.

old ish (ōld'ish), somewhat old. adj.

old-line (ōld'lin'), 1. keeping to old ideas and ways; conservative. 2. having a long history; established. adj.

old maid, 1. woman who has not married and seems unlikely to. 2. a prim, fussy person. 3. a very simple card game.

old-maid ish (ōld'mād'ish), like, suggesting, or befitting an old maid; prim; fussy. adj.

Old Man of the Sea, 1. in The Arabian Nights, a horrible old man who clung to the back of Sinbad. 2. person or thing that is hard to get rid of.

old master, 1. any great painter who lived before 1700. 2. a painting by such a painter.

old moon, moon when seen as a thin crescent with the hollow side on the right.

Old Nick, the Devil.

old school, group of people who have old-fashioned or conservative ideas.

old ster (ōld'stər), Informal. an old or older person. n.

Old Style, method of reckoning time according to the calendar used until 1582, when the date was moved ahead 10 days. In Great Britain the Old Style calendar was used until 1752, when all dates were moved ahead 11 days.

Old Testament, the earlier part of the Bible, which contains the religious and social laws of the Hebrews, a record of their history, their important literature, and writings of their prophets.

old-time (ōld'tīm'), of former times; like old times. adj.

old-tim er (ōld'tīm'ər), Informal. 1. person who has long been a resident, member, worker, etc. 2. person who favors old ideas and ways. n.

old wives' tale, a foolish story; silly belief.

old-wom an ish (ōld'wūm'ən ish), like, suggesting, or befitting an old woman; fussy. adj.

old-world (ōld'wēld'), 1. of or having to do with the ancient world: The mammoth was an old-world elephant. 2. belonging to or characteristic of a former period: old-world courtesy. 3. of or having to do with the Eastern Hemisphere; not American: old-world folk songs. adj.

Old World, 1. Europe, Asia, and Africa. 2. of the Old World.

o le ag i nous (ō'lē aj'ə nəs), oily. adj.

o le an der (ō'lē an'dər), a poisonous evergreen shrub with fragrant red, pink, or white flowers. n.

o le ate (ō'lē āt), salt of oleic acid. n.

o le ic acid (ō'lē'ik), an oily liquid obtained by hydrolyzing various animal and vegetable oils and fats.

o le in (ō'lē in), ester of oleic acid and glycerin. Lard, olive oil, and cottonseed oil are mostly olein. n.

o le o (ō'lē ō), oleomargarine. n.

o le o mar ga rin (ō'lē ō mār'jə rin), oleomargarine. n.

o le o mar ga rine (ō'lē ō mār'jə rin or ō'lē ō mār'jə rēn), a substitute for butter made from animal fats and vegetable oils; margarine. n.

o le o res in (ō'lē ō rez'n), a natural or prepared solution of resin in oil. n.

ol fac tion (ol fak'shən), 1. act of smelling. 2. sense of smell. n.

ol fac to ry (ol fak'tə rē), 1. having to do with smelling; of smell. The nose is an olfactory organ. 2. an olfactory organ. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. ol fac to ries.

ol i garch (ol'ə gark), one of a small number of persons holding the ruling power in a state. n.

ol i gar chic (ol'ə gār'kik), of an oligarchy or oligarchs; having to do with rule by a few. adj.

ol i gar chi cal (ol'ə gār'kə kl), oligarchic. adj.

ol i gar chy (ol'ə gār'kē), 1. form of government in which a few people have the power. 2. country or state having such a government. Ancient Sparta was really an oligarchy, though it had two kings. 3. the ruling few. n., pl. ol i gar chies.

olive (ol'iv), 1. kind of evergreen tree with gray-green leaves that grows in S Europe and other warm regions. 2. fruit of this tree, with a hard stone and bitter pulp. Olives are eaten green or ripe. Olive oil is pressed from olives. 3. wood of the olive tree. 4. wreath of olive leaves; olive branch. 5. yellowish green. 6. yellowish brown. 1-6 n., 5, 6 adj.

olive branch, 1. branch of the olive tree as an emblem of peace. 2. anything offered as a sign of peace. 3. child.

olive drab, 1. a dark greenish-yellow color. 2. a dark greenish-yellow woolen cloth, formerly used by the United States Army for uniforms.

olive oil, oil pressed from olives, used as food and in medicine.

Ol i ver (ol'ə vər), one of Charlemagne's heroic followers and a friend of Roland. n.

Ol i ves (ol'ivz), Mount of, a small ridge of hills, just east of Jerusalem, where Jesus talked with his disciples. 2680 ft. n.

Ol i vet (ol'ə vet), Mount, the Mount of Olives. n.

O lym pia (ō lim'pē ə), 1. plain in ancient Greece where games were held every four years in honor of Zeus. 2. capital of Washington, in the W part. 18,000. n.

O lym pi ad or o lym pi ad (ō lim'pē ad), 1. period of four years reckoned from one celebration of the Olympic games to the next, by which Greeks computed time from 776 B.C. 2. celebration of the modern Olympic games. n.

O lym pi an (ō lim'pē ən), 1. having to do with Olympia in Greece or with Mount Olympus. 2. like a god; heavenly. 3. rather too gracious; magnificent; superior: Olympian calm, Olympian manners. 4. one of the major Greek gods. 5. contender in the Olympic games. 1-3 adj., 4, 5 n.

Olympian games, Olympic games.

O lym pic (ō lim'pik), 1. of or having to do with Olympia in ancient Greece: the Olympic games. 2. of or having to do with Mount Olympus. adj.

Olympic games, 1. contests in athletics, poetry, and music, held every four years by the ancient Greeks in honor of Zeus. 2. modern athletic contests imitating the athletic contests of these games. They are held once every four years in a different country, and athletes from many nations compete in them.

Olympic Mountains, part of the Coast Ranges in NW Washington. The highest mountain is 8150 feet.

Olympics (ō lim'piks), Olympic games. n. pl.
Olympus (ō lim'pəs), 1. Mount, mountain in NE Greece, where the greater Greek gods were supposed to live. 9730 ft. See Ossa, Mount. 2. heaven. n.
Omaha (ō mā'hō or ō mā'hä), 1. city in E Nebraska. 302,000. 2. member of an American Indian tribe, now living in Nebraska. n.
Oman (ō män'), 1. a former country in SE Arabia, now part of Muscat and Oman. 2. Gulf of, gulf of the Arabian Sea, between Muscat and Oman and S Iran. n.
Omar Khayyām (ō mār kī yām'), died 1123?, Persian poet. Edward FitzGerald, an English poet, made a famous translation of some of his poems, called The Rubāiyāt. omasum (ō mā'səm), the third stomach of a cow or other ruminant. It receives the food when it is swallowed the second time. n., pl. omasa (-sə).
ombudsman (om budz'mən), a government official appointed to receive and investigate grievances of citizens against the government. n., pl. ombudsmen.
omegā (ō meg'ə or ō mē'gə), last of any series; end. n.
omelet or omelette (om'lit), eggs beaten up with milk or water, fried or baked, and then folded over. n.
omen (ō'mən), 1. sign of what is to happen; object or event that is believed to mean good or bad fortune: Spilling salt is said to be an omen of misfortune. 2. prophetic meaning: Some people consider a black cat a creature of ill omen. 3. be a sign of; presage. 1,2 n., 3 v.
ominous (om'ə-nəs), of bad omen; unfavorable; threatening: Those clouds look ominous for our picnic. adj. —ominously, adv. —ominousness, n.
omission (ō mish'ən), 1. an omitting or being omitted: the omission of a paragraph in copying a story. 2. thing omitted. n.
omit (ō mit'), 1. leave out: omit a letter in a word. 2. fail to do; neglect: Mary omitted making her bed. v., omitter, o mitting.
omnibus (om'nə bus), 1. a large vehicle with seats inside and sometimes also on the roof; bus. An omnibus is used for carrying passengers between fixed stations along a route. 2. covering many things at once: an omnibus law. 1 n., pl. omnibuses; 2 adj.
omnipotence (om nip'ə tən-s), complete power; unlimited power: the omnipotence of God. n.
omnipotent (om nip'ə tən-t), having all power; almighty. adj. —omnipotently, adv.
the Omnipotent, God.
omnipresence (om'nə prez'ns), presence everywhere at the same time: God's omnipresence. n.
omnipresent (om'nə prez'nt), present everywhere at the same time. adj.
omniscience (om nish'əns), knowledge of everything; complete or infinite knowledge. n.
omniscient (om nish'ənt), knowing everything; having complete or infinite knowledge. adj. —omnisciently, adv.
omnivorous (om niv'ə rəs), 1. eating every kind of food. 2. eating both animal and vegetable food: Man is an omnivorous animal. 3. taking in everything; fond of all kinds: An omnivorous reader reads all kinds of books. adj. —omnivorously, adv. —omnivorousness, n.
Omsk (omsk), city in central Soviet Union. 579,000. n. on (on), 1. above and supported by: The book is on the table. 2. touching so as to cover, be around, etc.: Put the ring on her finger. 3. close to: a house on the shore. 4. in the direction of; toward: The soldiers marched on the Capitol. 5. against; upon: The picture is on the wall. 6. on something: The walls are up, and the roof is on. 7. to something: Hold on, or you may fall. 8. toward something: Some played; the others looked on. 9. farther: March on. 10. by means of; by the use of: This news is on good authority. 11. in the condition of; in the process of; in the way of: on half pay, on purpose, on duty. 12. in or into a condition, process, manner, action, etc.: Turn the gas on. 13. taking place: The race is on. 14. at the time of; during: They greeted us on our arrival. 15. from a time; forward: later on, from that day on. 16. concerning; in relation to; in connection with: a book on animals. 17. for the purpose of: He went on an errand. 18. in addition to: Defeat on defeat discouraged them. 19. among: Who are on the committee? 1-5,10,11, 14,16-19 prep., 6-9,12,15 adv., 13 adj.

and so on, and more of the same.
on and on, without stopping.
once (wuns), 1. one time: He comes once a day. 2. a single occasion: Once is enough. 3. at some one time in the past; formerly: a once powerful nation. 4. even a single time; ever: if the facts once become known. 5. if ever; whenever: Once you cross the river you are safe. 6. former: a once friend. 1,3,4 adv., 2 n., 5 conj., 6 adj.
all at once, suddenly.
at once, 1. immediately: Come at once. 2. at one and the same time: Everyone started shouting at once.
for once, for one time at least.
once and again, repeatedly.
once for all, finally or decisively.
once in a while, now and then.
once or twice, a few times.
once over, a single time over.
once upon a time, long ago; once.
once-over (wuns'ō'vər), Slang, a short, quick look. n.
oncoming (on'kum'ing), 1. approaching: oncoming winter. 2. approach: the oncoming of the storm. 1 adj., 2 n. one (wun), 1. the first and lowest whole number; 1. 2. being a single unit or individual: one apple. 3. a single person or thing: I gave him the one he wanted. 4. some: One day he will be sorry. 5. some person or thing: One of Longfellow's poems was selected for the new reader. 6. any person or thing: One must work hard to achieve success. 7. the same: They held one opinion. 8. the same person or thing: Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde were one and the same. 9. joined together; united: They replied in one voice. 10. a certain: One John Smith was elected. 1,3 n., 2,4,7,9,10 adj., 5,6,8 pron.
all one, all the same.
at one, in agreement or harmony. make one, 1. form or be one of a number, assembly, or party. 2. join together; unite in marriage.
one and all, everyone.
one by one, one after another. one another, one the other: They struck at one another. They were in one another's way.
one-celled (wun'seld'), having only one cell. adj.
one-horse (wun'hōrs'), 1. drawn or worked by a single horse: a one-horse sleigh. 2. using or having only a single horse: a one-horse farmer. 3. U.S. Informal, of little scope, capacity, or importance; minor: a one-horse town. adj.
Onei da (ō nī'də), 1. member of an American Indian tribe formerly living in central New York State. 2. Lake, lake in central New York State, near Syracuse. 20 mi. long; 6 mi. wide. n.
O'Neill (ō nēl'), Eugene (Gladstone), 1888-1953, American dramatist. n. one ness (wun'nis), 1. quality of being one in number or the only one of its kind; singleness. 2. quality of being the same in kind; sameness. 3. fact of forming one whole; unity. 4. agreement in mind, feeling, or purpose; harmony. n.
onerous (on'er əs), burdensome; oppressive: Over-time work is well paid, but it is often onerous. adj. —onerously, adv. —onerousness, n. one self (wun self'), one's own self: One should not praise oneself. pron.

be oneself, 1. have full control of one's mind or body. 2. act naturally.

one-sided (wun'sid'id), 1. seeing only one side of a question; partial; unfair; prejudiced: The umpire seemed one-sided in his decisions. 2. uneven; unequal: If one team is much better than the other, a game is one-sided. 3. having but one side. 4. on only one side. 5. having one side larger or more developed than the other. adj.

one's self, oneself.

one-step (wun'step'), 1. dance much like a quick walk. 2. music for it. 3. dance the one-step. 1,2 n., 3 v., one-stepped, one-step ping.

one-time (wun'tim'), of the past; former. adj.

one-track (wun'trak'), having only one track. adj.

one-way (wun'wā'), moving or allowing movement in only one direction. adj.

one-world er (wun'wērl'dər), one who favors internationalism. n.

on ion (un'yən), 1. a bulblike root, eaten raw and used in cooking. Onions have a sharp, strong smell and taste. 2. the plant it grows on. n. —on'ion like', adj.

on ion skin (un'yən skin'), a thin, glossy, translucent paper. n.

on look er (on'lūk'ər), person who watches without taking part; spectator. n.

on look ing (on'lūk'ing), watching; seeing; noticing. adj., n.

on ly (ōn'lē), 1. by itself or themselves; one and no more; these and no more; sole, single, or few of the kind or class: an only son. Water is his only drink. This is the only road along the shore. 2. merely; just: He sold only two. 3. and no one else; and nothing more; and that is all: Only he remained. I did it only through friendship. 4. except that; but: I would have gone, only you objected. 5. in a class by itself; best; finest: He is the only writer for my taste. 6. but then; it must be added that: We had camped right beside a stream, only the water was not fit to drink. 1,5 adj., 2,3 adv., 4,6 conj. if only, I wish: If only wars would cease!

only too, very: She was only too glad to help us.

On on da ga (on'ən dō'gə or on'ən dā'gə), member of a tribe of American Indians formerly living in central New York State. n.

on rush (on'rush'), a violent forward rush. n.

on set (on'set'), 1. attack: The onset of the enemy took us by surprise. 2. beginning: the onset of a disease. n.

on shore (on'shōr'), 1. toward the land. 2. on the land. adv., adj.

on side (on'sid'), in a position allowed by the rules of a game. adj., adv.

on slaught (on'slōt'), a vigorous attack: The Indians made an onslaught on the settlers' fort. n.

On tar i o (on tār'ē ō), 1. Lake, the smallest and easternmost of the five Great Lakes, between the United States and Canada. 193 mi. long; 7540 sq. mi. See Great Lakes for map. 2. province in Canada, north of the Great Lakes. 6,089,000 pop.; 412,582 sq. mi. Capital: Toronto. Abbrev.: Ont. n. —On tar'i an, adj., n.

on to (on'tū), on to; to a position on: throw a ball onto the roof, get onto a horse. prep.

on tog e ny (on toj'ə nē), the development of an individual organism. n.

o nus (ō'nās), burden; responsibility: The onus of housekeeping fell upon the daughters. n.

on ward (on'wārd), toward the front; further on; on; forward: The crowd around the store window began to move onward (adv.). An onward movement began (adj.). adv., adj.

on wards (on'wārdz), onward. adv.

on yx (on'yiks), a semiprecious stone, a variety of quartz, with layers of different colors and shades, but usually mostly black. n.

o ò lite (ō'ə līt), rock, usually limestone, composed of rounded concretions resembling the roe of fish. n.

oo long (ū'lōng), a black tea consisting of leaves that were partially fermented before they were dried. n.

ooze (ūz), 1. pass out slowly through small openings; leak out slowly and quietly: Blood still oozed from the cut. His courage oozed away as he waited. 2. give out slowly: The cut oozed blood. 3. a slow flow. 4. something that oozes. 5. a soft mud or slime, especially at the bottom of a pond or river or on the ocean bottom. 1,2 v., oozed, oozing; 3-5 n.

oo zy (ū'zē), 1. containing ooze; muddy and soft; slimy 2. leaking out; oozing. adj. —oo'zi ly, adv.

o pac ity (ō pas'ə tē), 1. a being opaque; darkness; being impervious to light. 2. being impervious to sound. 3. obscurity of meaning. 4. something opaque. n., pl. o pac i ties.

o pal (ō'pl), a mineral found in many varieties and colors, certain of which have a peculiar rainbow play of colors and are valued as gems. It is an amorphous form of silica. Black opals are green and blue with brilliant colored lights; some are so dark as to seem almost black. Milk opals are milky white with rather pale lights. Fire opals are similar with more red and yellow lights. n.

o pal esce (ō'ples'), exhibit a play of colors like that of the opal. v., o pal esced, o pal esc ing.

o pal es cence (ō'ples'əns), exhibition of play of colors like an opal's. n.

o pal es cent (ō'ples'ənt), having a play of colors like an opal's. adj.

o pal ine (ō'pl in), of or like opal. adj.

o paque (ō pāk'), 1. not letting light through; not transparent. 2. not shining; dark; dull. 3. obscure; hard to understand. 4. stupid. 5. something opaque. 1-4 adj., 5 n. —o paque/ness, n.

op. cit., in the book, etc., referred to.

ope (ōp), Poetic. open. v., oped, op ing; adj.

o pen (ō'pən), 1. not shut; not closed; letting (anything or anything) in or out: Open windows let in the fresh air. 2. not having its door, gate, lid, etc., closed: an open box, an open house. 3. not closed in: an open field. 4. an open or clear space; opening. 5. unfilled; not taken: a position still open, have an hour open. 6. that may be entered, used, shared, competed for, etc., by all: an open meeting, an open market. 7. accessible or available: the only course still open. 8. without prohibition or restriction: open season for hunting. 9. U.S. Informal. allowing saloons, gambling, etc.: an open town. 10. undecided; not settled: an open question. 11. afford access (into, to, etc.); have an opening. 12. become open or more open; become accessible: open a path through the woods. 13. cause to be open or more open; make accessible. 14. having no cover, roof, etc.; letting in air freely: an open car. 15. not covered or protected; exposed: open to temptation. 16. not obstructed: an open view. 17. clear of obstructions; make (a passage, etc.) clear. 18. exposed to general view, knowledge, etc.; not secret: open disregard of rules. 19. make or become accessible to knowledge, sympathy, etc.; enlighten or become enlightened. 20. uncover; lay bare; expose to view; disclose; reveal; divulge. 21. come to view. 22. having spaces or holes: open ranks, cloth of open texture. 23. expand, extend, or spread out; make or become less compact: The ranks opened. 24. of an organ pipe, not closed at the upper end. 25. of a string, not stopped by the finger. 26. of a note, produced by such a pipe or string, or without aid of slide, key, etc. 27. uttered with relatively wide opening over the tongue. 28. unreserved, candid, or frank: an open face. 29. that is spread out; expanded: open flower, open newspaper. 30. generous; liberal: give with an open hand. 31. establish or set going: He opened a new store. 32. begin; start: School opens today. 33. cut into. 34. free from frost: an open winter. 35. free from ice: open water on the lake. 36. of a city, town, etc., unfortified; protected from enemy attack under international law. 1-3,5-10,14-16,18,22,24-30,34-36 adj., 4 n., 11-13, 17,19-21,23,31-33 v. —o'pen er, n. —o'pen ly, adv.

Onyx

open to, 1. ready to take; willing to consider. 2. liable to. 3. to be had or used by.

open up, 1. make or become open. 2. unfold; spread out. 3. begin; start.

the open, 1. the open country, air, sea, etc. 2. public view or knowledge.

open air, out-of-doors.

open-air (ō'pən ār'), outdoor. adj.

open door, free and equal chance for all countries to do business in another country.

open-eyed (ō'pən id'), 1. having eyes wide open as in wonder. 2. having the eyes open; watchful or vigilant; observant. 3. done or experienced with the eyes open. adj.

open-handed (ō'pən han'did), generous; liberal. adj. —open-handed ly, adv. —open-handed ness, n.

open-heart ed (ō'pən hār'tid), 1. candid; frank; unreserved. 2. kindly; generous. adj. —open-heart-ed ly, adv. —open-heart-ed ness, n.

open-hearth (ō'pən hārth'), having an open hearth; using a furnace with an open hearth. adj.

open-hearth process, process of making steel in a furnace that reflects the flame from the roof onto the raw material.

open house, house that is open to all friends who wish to visit.

keep open house, offer food, or food and lodging, to all visitors.

open ing (ō'pən ing), 1. an open or clear space; gap; hole: an opening in a wall, an opening in the forest. 2. the first part; beginning: the opening of a lecture. 3. first; beginning: the opening words of his speech. 4. a formal beginning: The opening will be at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon. 5. place or position that is open or vacant: an opening in a bank. 6. a favorable chance or opportunity: In talking with your mother, I made an opening to ask her about sending you to camp. 1,2,4-6 n., 3 adj.

open letter, letter addressed to a person but published in a newspaper, magazine, etc.

open-mind ed (ō'pən min'did), having or showing a mind open to new arguments or ideas. adj. —open-mind-ed ly, adv. —open-mind-ed ness, n.

open-mouthed (ō'pən mouθhd' or ō'pən mouθt'), 1. having the mouth open. 2. gaping with surprise or astonishment. 3. greedy, ravenous, or rapacious. 4. vociferous or clamorous: open-mouthed hounds. 5. having a wide mouth: an open-mouthed pitcher. adj.

open ness (ō'pən nis), 1. a being open. 2. lack of secrecy. 3. frankness. 4. willingness to consider new ideas or arguments. n.

open question, something undecided or uncertain.

open secret, secret that everyone knows about.

open ses a me (ses'ə mē), password at which doors or barriers fly open.

open shop, factory, shop, or other establishment that will employ both union and nonunion workers.

open work (ō'pən wĕrk'), ornamental work that shows openings. n.

op er a (op'ər ə), 1. play that is mostly sung, with costumes, scenery, acting, and music to go with the singing. Faust and Lohengrin are well-known operas. 2. branch of art represented by such plays: the history of opera, sing in opera. 3. performance of an opera. 4. theater where operas are performed. n.

op er a (op'ər ə), pl. of opus. n.

opera glasses, a small binocular telescope for use at the opera and in theaters. Opera glasses are like field glasses, but smaller.

opera hat, a tall collapsible hat worn by a man with formal clothes.

opera house, 1. theater where operas are presented. 2. any theater.

Opera glasses

op er ate (op'ər āt), 1. be at work; run: The machinery operates night and day. 2. manage; keep at work: Who operates this elevator? 3. produce an effect; work; act: Several causes operated to bring on the war. 4. produce a desired effect: The medicine operated quickly. 5. do something to the body, usually with instruments, to improve health: The doctor operated on the injured man. 6. carry on military movements. v., op er at ed, op er at ing.

op er at ic (op'ər at'ik), of or like the opera: operatic music. adj. —op'er at'i cal ly, adv.

op er a tion (op'ər ā'shən), 1. working: The operation of a railroad requires many men. 2. the way a thing works: the operation of a machine. 3. action; activity: the operation of brushing one's teeth. 4. something done to the body, usually with instruments, to improve health: Taking out the tonsils is a common operation. 5. movements of soldiers, ships, supplies, etc.: naval operations. 6. something done to a number or quantity in mathematics. Addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division are the four commonest operations in arithmetic. n.

in operation, 1. running; working; in action. 2. in use or effect.

op er a tive (op'ər ā'tiv), 1. operating; effective: the laws operative in a community. 2. worker; laborer. 3. having to do with work or productiveness: operative departments of a manufacturing establishment. 4. of or concerned with surgical operations: The disease requires operative measures. 5. detective. 1,3,4 adj., 2,5 n.

op er a tor (op'ər ā'tər), 1. person who operates. 2. a skilled worker who runs a machine, telephone, telegraph, etc. 3. person who runs a factory, mine, etc. n.

op er et ta (op'ər et'ə), a short, amusing opera. n., pl. op er et tas.

O ph el ia (ə fēl'yə), in Shakespeare's Hamlet, the daughter of Polonius who was driven to madness and suicide by Hamlet's capricious treatment of her. n.

o phid i an (ō fid'ē ən), 1. snake. 2. like a snake. 1 n., 2 adj.

oph thal mi a (of thal'mē ə), an acute infection of the membrane around the eye that may affect the eye, causing blindness. n.

oph thal mic (of thal'mik), 1. of or having to do with the eye. 2. having to do with or affected with ophthalmia. adj.

o pi ate (ō'pē it or ō'pē āt), 1. drug that contains opium and so dulls pain or brings sleep. 2. containing opium. 3. anything that quiets. 4. bringing sleep or ease. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

o pine (ō'pīn'), In humorous use. hold or express an opinion; think: Mr. Jones opined that the weather would get better by night. v., o pined, o pin ing.

o pin ion (ə pin'yən), 1. what one thinks; belief not so strong as knowledge; judgment: I try to learn the facts and form my own opinions. 2. impression; estimate: Everyone has a poor opinion of a coward. 3. a formal judgment by an expert; professional advice: He wanted the doctor's opinion about his headache. n.

o pin ion at ed (ə pin'yən at'id), obstinate or conceited with regard to one's opinions; dogmatic: Lulu is too opinionated to listen to anybody else. adj.

o pi um (ō'pē əm), a powerful drug that causes sleep and eases pain. It is also used to stimulate and intoxicate. Opium is made from a kind of poppy. n.

O por to (ō'pōr'tō), seaport in NW Portugal, noted for port wine. 284,000. n.

o pos sum (ə pos'əm), a small mammal that lives mostly in trees, common in the S United States; possum. When caught, it pretends to be dead. n.

Opossum
(total length 33 in.)

op po nent (ə pō'nənt), 1. person who is on the other side in a fight, game, or discussion; person fighting, struggling, or speaking against one: He defeated his opponent in the election. 2. opposing. 1 n., 2 adj.

op por tune (op'ər tūn' or op'ər tūn'), fortunate; well-chosen; suitable; favorable: You have come at a most opportune moment, for I need your advice. adj. —op'por tune'ly, adv. —op'por tune'ness, n.

op por tun ism (op'ər tūn'iz əm or op'ər tūn'iz əm), policy or practice of adapting thought and action to particular circumstances rather than to general principles. n.

op por tun ist (op'ər tūn'ist or op'ər tūn'ist), person influenced more by particular circumstances than by general principles. n.

op por tu ni ty (op'ər tū'nə tē or op'ər tū'nə tē), a good chance; favorable time; convenient occasion: I had an opportunity to earn some money picking blueberries. I have had no opportunity to give John your message, because I have not seen him. n., pl. op por tu ni ties.

op pos a ble (ə pōz'ə bl), 1. capable of being opposed. 2. capable of being placed opposite something else. The human thumb is opposable to the fingers. adj.

op pose (ə pōz'), 1. be against; be in the way of; act, fight, or struggle against; try to hinder; resist: A swamp opposed the advance of the army. 2. set up against; place in the way of: Let us oppose good nature to anger. 3. put in contrast: Love is opposed to hate. 4. put in front of; cause to face: oppose one's finger to one's thumb. v., op posed, op pos ing. —op pos'er, n.

op po site (op'ə zit), 1. placed against; as different in direction as can be; face to face; back to back: The house straight across the street is opposite to ours. 2. as different as can be; just contrary: North and south are opposite directions. Sour is opposite to sweet. 3. thing or person that is opposite: Black is the opposite of white. 4. opposite to: opposite the church. 1,2 adj., 3 n., 4 prep. —op'po site ly, adv. —op'po site ness, n.

op po si tion (op'ə zish'ən), 1. action against; resistance: The mob offered opposition to the police. 2. contrast. 3. a political party opposed to the party that is in power. 4. a placing opposite. 5. opposite direction or position. 6. position of two heavenly bodies when their longitude differs by 180 degrees. n.

op press (ə pres'), 1. govern harshly; keep down unjustly or by cruelty: A good ruler will not oppress the poor. 2. weigh down; lie heavily on; burden: A sense of trouble ahead oppressed my spirits. v.

op pres sion (ə presh'ən), 1. an oppressing; a burdening: The oppression of the people by the nobles caused the war. 2. a being oppressed or burdened: They fought against oppression. 3. cruel or unjust treatment; tyranny; persecution; despotism. 4. a heavy, weary feeling. n.

op pres sive (ə pres'iv), 1. harsh; severe; unjust: Oppressive measures were taken to crush the rebellion. 2. hard to bear; burdensome: The great heat was oppressive. adj. —op pres'sive ly, adv. —op pres'sive-ness, n.

op pres sor (ə pres'ər), person who is cruel or unjust to people under him. n.

op pro bri ous (ə prō'brē əs), expressing scorn, reproach, or abuse: Coward, liar, and thief are opprobrious names. adj. —op pro'brī ous ly, adv.

op pro bri um (ə prō'brē əm), disgrace or reproach caused by shameful conduct; infamy; scorn; abuse. n.

op so nin (op'sə nin), substance in the blood serum that weakens microbes so that the white blood corpuscles can destroy them more easily. n.

op tic (op'tik), of the eye; of the sense of sight. adj.

op ti cal (op'tə kl), 1. of the eye; visual: Being nearsighted is an optical defect. 2. made to assist sight: A telescope is an optical instrument. 3. of vision and light in relation to each other. adj. —op'ti cal ly, adv.

optical maser, laser.

op ti cian (op tish'ən), maker or seller of eyeglasses and other optical instruments. n.

optic nerve, nerve that goes from the eye to the brain. See eye for diagram.

op tics (op'tiks), science that deals with light and vision. n.

op ti mal (op'tə ml), most favorable. adj.

op ti mism (op'tə miz əm), 1. tendency to look on the bright side of things. 2. belief that everything will turn out for the best. 3. doctrine that the existing world is the best of all possible worlds. n.

op ti mist (op'tə mist), 1. person who looks on the bright side of things. 2. person who believes that everything in life will turn out for the best. n.

op ti mis tic (op'tə mis'tik), 1. inclined to look on the bright side of things. 2. hoping for the best: I am optimistic about the chance of good weather this weekend. 3. having to do with optimism. adj. —op'ti mis'ti-cally, adv.

op ti mum (op'tə məm), the best or most favorable point, degree, amount, etc., for the purpose. n., pl. op ti mums, op ti ma (-mə).

op tion (op'shən), 1. right or freedom of choice: Each State has local option about daylight-saving time. 2. a choosing; choice: Pupils in our school have the option of taking Spanish, French, or German. 3. right to buy something at a certain price within a certain time: The man paid $500 for an option on the land. n.

op tion al (op'shən l), left to one's choice; not required. adj. —op'tion al ly, adv.

op tom e trist (op tom'ə trist), person skilled in examining the eyes and prescribing the kind of glasses needed, and legally authorized to do such work, but not an M.D. n.

op tom e try (op tom'ə trē), measurement of powers of sight; practice or art of testing eyes in order to fit them with glasses. n.

op u lence (op'yə ləns), 1. wealth; riches. 2. abundance; plenty. n.

op u lent (op'yə lənt), 1. wealthy; rich. 2. abundant; plentiful. adj.

opus (ŏ'pəs), a work; composition: The violinist played his own opus, No. 16. n., pl. op er a or opus es.

or (ŏr), 1. word used to express a choice, difference, etc.: You can go or stay. Is it sweet or sour? 2. and if not; otherwise: Either eat this or go hungry. Hurry, or you will be late. 3. that is; being the same as: This is the end or last part. conj.

-or, suffix meaning:

1. person or thing that —s, as in actor, accelerator, orator, survivor.
2. act, state, condition, quality, characteristic, etc., especially in words from Latin, as in error, horror, labor, terror.

or a cle (ŏr'ə kl), 1. in ancient times, an answer given by a god through a priest or priestesses to some question. It often had a hidden meaning that was hard to understand. 2. place where the god gives answers. A famous oracle was at Delphi. 3. priest, priestess, or other means by which the god's answer was given. 4. a very wise person. 5. something regarded as a reliable and sure guide. n.

o rac u lar (ŏ rak'yə lər), 1. of or like an oracle. 2. with a hidden meaning that is difficult to make out. 3. very wise. adj. —o rac'u lar ly, adv.

o ral (ŏ'rəl), 1. spoken; using speech: An oral agreement is not enough; we must have a written promise. 2. of the mouth: The oral opening in an earthworm is small. adj.

o rally (ŏ'rəl ē), 1. by spoken words. 2. by the mouth. adv.

or ange (ŏr'inj), 1. a round, reddish-yellow, juicy, edible fruit that grows in warm climates. 2. the tree it grows on. The orange has fragrant white blossoms. 3. fruit or tree that suggests an orange. 4. of or like an orange. 5. reddish-yellow. 1-3,5 n., 4,5 adj. —or'-ange like', adj.

or ange ade (ŏr'inj ād'), drink made of orange juice, sugar, and water. n.

Orange Free State, the central province of the Republic of South Africa. From 1854 to 1900 it was an independent republic; from 1900 to 1907 it was a British colony. 1,374,000 pop.; 49,866 sq. mi.

Orange man (ôr'inj mən), member of a secret society formed in the north of Ireland in 1795, to uphold the Protestant religion and Protestant control in Ireland. n., pl.

Orange men.

orange pekoe, a black tea that comes from Ceylon or India.

orang-ou tang (ô rang'ü tang'), orang-utan. n.

orang-u tan (ô rang'ü tan'), a large ape of the forests of Borneo and Sumatra, that has very long arms and long, reddish-brown hair. It lives mostly in trees and eats fruits and leaves. n.

orate (ô rât'), Informal. make an oration; talk in a grand manner. v., orated, orating.

oration (ô râ'shan), a formal public speech delivered on a special occasion. n.

or a tor (ôr'ə tər), 1. person who makes an oration. 2. person who can speak very well in public. n.

or a tor i cal (ôr'ə tōr'ə kl), 1. of oratory; having to do with orators or oratory: an oratorical contest. 2. characteristic of orators or oratory: an oratorical manner. adj. —or a tor'i cally, adv.

or a to ri o (ôr'ə tō'rē ô), a musical composition, usually based on a religious theme, for solo voices, chorus, and orchestra, dramatic in character but performed without action, costumes, or scenery. n., pl.

or a to ry (ôr'ə tō'rē), 1. skill in public speaking; fine speaking. 2. art of public speaking. n.

or a to ry (ôr'ə tō'rē), a small chapel; room set apart for prayer. n., pl. or a to ries.

orb (ôrb), 1. sphere; globe. 2. sun, moon, planet, or star. 3. Esp. Poetic. eyeball or eye. 4. form into a circle or sphere. 5. Poetic. encircle; enclose. 1-3 n., 4, 5 v.

or bic u lar (ôr bik'yə lər), like a circle or sphere; rounded. adj.

or bit (ôr'bit), 1. path of the earth or any one of the planets about the sun. 2. path of any heavenly body about another heavenly body. 3. the regular course of life or experience. 4. the bony cavity or socket in which the eyeball is set. n. —or'bit er, n.

or bit al (ôr'bə tl), of an orbit. adj.

or chard (ôr'chərd), 1. piece of ground on which fruit trees are grown. 2. trees in an orchard: The orchard is bearing well this year. n.

or ches tra (ôr'kis trə), 1. musicians playing at a concert, an opera, or a play. 2. violins, cellos, clarinets, and other instruments played together by the musicians in an orchestra. 3. part of a theater just in front of the stage, where the musicians sit to play. 4. the main floor of a theater, especially the part near the front. n.

or ches tral (ôr kes'trəl), of an orchestra; composed for or performed by an orchestra. adj.

or ches trate (ôr'kis trāt), compose or arrange (music) for performance by an orchestra. v., or ches-trat ed, or ches trat ing.

or ches tra tion (ôr'kis trā'shan), arrangement of music for an orchestra. n.

or chid (ôr'kid), 1. plant with beautiful, queerly shaped flowers that are formed of three petallike sepals and three petals, one petal being very different from the other two. 2. its flower. 3. light purple. 1-3 n., 3 adj.

Orang-utan
(4 to 4½ ft. tall)

Orbicular
leaf

Orbit of the earth (E) around the sun. Arrows show direction.

or dain (ôr dān'), 1. order; fix; decide; appoint; establish as a law: The law ordains that the murderers shall be hanged. 2. officially appoint or consecrate as a minister in a Christian church. v.

or deal (ôr dēl'), 1. a severe test or experience. 2. in early times, an effort to decide the guilt or innocence of an accused person by making him do something dangerous like holding fire or taking poison. It was supposed that an innocent person would not be harmed by such danger. n.

order (ôr'dər), 1. way one thing follows another: in order of size, in alphabetical order. 2. condition in which every part or piece is in its right place: put a room in order. 3. put in order; arrange: order one's affairs. 4. condition; state: My affairs are in good order. 5. way the world works; way things happen: the order of nature. 6. state or condition of things in which the law is obeyed and there is no trouble: keep order. 7. principles and rules by which a meeting is run. 8. a command; a telling what to do: The orders of the captain must be obeyed. 9. tell what to do; command; bid; give an order: The policeman ordered that the prisoners be handcuffed. 10. give orders, directions, etc.: Please order for me. 11. direction of a court or judge made in writing and not included in a judgment. 12. paper saying that money is to be given or paid, or something handed over: a postal money order. 13. things that you wish sent by a store or tradesman: Mother asked when they would deliver our order. 14. give (a store, etc.) an order for: She ordered a lettuce from her grocer. 15. decide; will: The gods ordered it otherwise. 16. kind or sort: have ability of a high order. 17. in biology, a group in the classifying of plants and animals that is below or smaller than a class, but larger than a family. The rose family, the bean family, and several others belong to one order. 18. a social rank, grade, or class: all orders of society. 19. rank or position in the church: the order of bishops. 20. ordination. 21. invest with clerical rank or authority. 22. brotherhood of monks, friars, or knights: the Franciscan order. 23. society to which one is admitted as an honor: the Order of the Golden Fleece. 24. a modern fraternal organization: the Order of Masons. 25. badge worn by those belonging to an honorary order. 26. any one of the typical styles of columns and architecture: the Doric, Ionic, and Corinthian orders. 27. the regular form of worship for a given occasion. 28. portion or serving of food served in a restaurant, etc. 1,2,4-8,11-13,16-20,22-28 n., 3,9,10,14,15,21 v.

by order, according to an order given by the proper person: by order of the governor.

call to order, ask to be quiet and start work.

in order, 1. in the right arrangement or condition. 2. working right. 3. allowed by the rules of a meeting, etc.

in orders, being a clergyman.

in order that, so that; with the purpose that.

in order to, as a means to; with a view to; for the purpose of: She worked hard in order to win the prize.

in short order, quickly.

made to order, made to fit a certain person or place.

on the order of, somewhat like; similar to.

order about or around, send here and there; tell to do this and that.

out of order, 1. in the wrong arrangement or condition. 2. not working right. 3. against the rules of a meeting, etc.

take orders, become a clergyman.

to order, according to the buyer's wishes.

Doric

Ionic

Corinthian

Greek
orders of architecture
(def. 26)

or der ly (ôr/dər lē), 1. in order; with regular arrangement, method, or system: an orderly arrangement of dishes on shelves, an orderly mind. 2. keeping order; well-behaved or regulated: an orderly class. 3. a non-commissioned officer or private soldier who attends a superior officer to carry orders, etc.: The general's orderly delivered the message. 4. concerned with carrying out orders; being on duty. 5. a hospital attendant who keeps things clean and in order. 1,2,4 adj., 3,5, n., pl. or der lies. —or'der li ness, n.

or di nal (ôr/d'n əl), 1. showing order or position in a series. 2. an ordinal number. 3. having to do with an order of animals or plants. 4. book of special forms for certain church ceremonies. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

ordinal number, number that shows order or position in a series. First, second, third, etc., are ordinal numbers; one, two, three, etc., are cardinal numbers.

or di nance (ôr/d'n əns), 1. rule of law made by authority; decree: Some cities have ordinances forbidding the use of soft coal. 2. an established religious ceremony. n.

or di nar i ly (ôr/d'n er'ə lē), 1. usually; regularly; commonly; normally: We ordinarily go to the movies on Saturday. 2. to the usual extent. adv.

or di nar y (ôr/d'n er'ē), 1. usual; regular; customary; common; normal: Jack's ordinary supper consists of bread and milk. 2. somewhat below the average: The speaker was ordinary and tiresome. 3. meal served at a fixed price. 4. inn; dining room of an inn. 5. person who has authority in his own right, especially a bishop or a judge. 6. form for saying Mass. 1,2 adj., 3-6 n., pl. or di nar ies.

in ordinary, in regular service: physician in ordinary to the king.

out of the ordinary, unusual; not regular or customary.

or di nate (ôr/d'n it or ôrd'n āt), an up-and-down line drawn on a graph to define a point in a system of coordinates. n.

or di na tion (ôr/d'n ā'shən), 1. act or ceremony of admitting a person to the Christian ministry. 2. being admitted as a minister to the Christian church. Ordination gives a person the right to baptize or marry people. n.

ord nance (ôr/d'nəns), 1. cannon; artillery. 2. military weapons of all kinds. n.

ore (ôr), rock, sand, or dirt containing some metal: Gold ore was discovered in California in 1848. n.

Ore., Oregon.

Oreg., Oregon.

Oregon (ôr'ə gon or ôr'ə gən), a Northwestern State of the United States, on the Pacific coast. 1,769,000 pop.; 96,981 sq. mi. Capital: Salem. Abbrev.: Oreg. or Ore. n.

Oregonian (ôr'ə gō'nē ən), 1. of or having to do with Oregon, or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Oregon. 1 adj., 2 n.

Oregon Trail, trail from Missouri northwest into Oregon, much used by early pioneers and settlers from 1804 to 1849.

Ores tes (ô res/tēz), in Greek mythology, the son of Agamemnon and Clytemnestra, who killed his mother because she had murdered his father. He was pursued by the Furies for this crime. n.

Ordinate: P, any point; PM and NO, ordinate of P; YY, axis of ordinate.

or gan (ôr/gən), 1. a musical instrument made of pipes of different lengths, which are sounded by air blown by a bellows and played by keys. Organs are used especially in church. 2. any of various other musical instruments, such as a street organ or hand organ, a parlor organ or reed organ, a mouth organ or harmonica. 3. any part of an animal or plant that is composed of various tissues organized to perform some particular function. An eye, lung, stomach, root, stamen, or pistil is an organ. 4. means of action; instrument: A court is an organ of government. 5. means of giving information or expressing opinions; newspaper or magazine that speaks for and gives the views of a political party or some other organization. n.

or gan dy or or gan die (ôr/gən dē), a fine, thin, stiff muslin, used for dresses. n., pl. or gan dies.

organ grinder, person who plays a hand organ by turning a crank.

or gan ic (ôr gan'ik), 1. of the bodily organs; vital; affecting the structure of an organ: an organic disease. 2. produced by animal or plant activities: Starch is an organic compound. 3. having organs, or an organized physical structure, as plants and animals have; not of the mineral kingdom. 4. made up of related parts, but being a unit; coordinated: The United States is an organic whole made up of 50 States. 5. that is part of the structure or constitution of a person or thing; fundamental: The Constitution is the organic law of the United States. 6. of carbon; containing carbon: organic compounds. adj.

or gan i cal ly (ôr gan'ik lē), 1. in an organic manner. 2. in organization. 3. as part of an organization. adv.

organic chemistry, branch of chemistry that deals with compounds of carbon. Organic chemistry teaches us about foods and fuels.

or gan ism (ôr/gən iz əm), 1. a living body having organs or an organized structure; individual animal or plant. 2. a very tiny animal or plant. 3. a whole made up of related parts that work together. Human society, or any community, may be spoken of as a social organism. n.

or gan ist (ôr/gən ist), person who plays an organ. n.

or gan i za tion (ôr/gən ə zā'shən), 1. group of persons united for some purpose: Churches, clubs, and political parties are organizations. 2. organizing; grouping and arranging parts to form a whole: The organization of a big picnic takes time and thought. 3. way in which a thing's parts are arranged to work together: The organization of the human body is very complicated. 4. thing made up of related parts, each having a special duty: A tree is an organization of roots, trunk, branches, leaves, and fruit. n.

or gan ize (ôr/gən īz), 1. put into working order; get together and arrange: The explorer organized an expedition. 2. combine in a company, party, labor union, etc. 3. furnish with organs: A rose is a highly organized plant. v., or gan ized, or gan iz ing. —or'gan iz'er, n.

organized labor, workers who belong to labor unions.

or gy (ôr'jē), 1. a wild, drunken revel. 2. period of uncontrolled indulgence. n., pl. or gies.

orgies, secret rites or ceremonies in the worship of certain Greek and Roman gods, especially the god of wine, celebrated with drinking, wild dancing, and singing.

ori el (ô'rē əl), a bay window projecting from the outer face of a wall. n.

ori ent (ô'rē ənt for 1,2,7,8; ô'rē ənt for 3-6), 1. Poetic, the east. 2. Poetic, eastern. 3. put facing east. 4. place so that it faces in any indicated direction: The building is oriented north and south. 5. find the direction of. 6. place in the right position.

7. bright; shining. 8. rising. 1 n., 2,7,8 adj., 3-6 v. orient oneself, get in the right relations to the things or persons about one.

Oriel

Orient (ô'rē ant), the East; countries in Asia. China and Japan are important nations of the Orient. n.

Oriental (ô'rē en'tl), 1. Eastern; of the Orient. 2. native of the East. Turks, Arabs, Iranians, Hindus, and Chinese are Orientals. 1 adj., 2 n.

oriental (ô'rē en'tl), eastern. adj.

Orientalism or orientalism (ô'rē en'tl iz əm), 1. Oriental character or characteristics; an Oriental peculiarity. 2. knowledge of Oriental languages, literature, etc. n.

Orientalist or orientalist (ô'rē en'tl ist), person skilled in Oriental languages, literature, history, etc. n.

Oriental (ô'rē en tāt), orient. v., Orientaled, Orientaling.

Orientalism (ô'rē en tā'shən), 1. an orienting. 2. being oriented. 3. a finding out of the actual facts or conditions and putting oneself in the right relation to them. n.

orifice (ô'rə fis), mouth; opening; hole: the orifice of a tube or pipe. n.

oriflamme (ô'rə flam), 1. the red banner carried as a military ensign by the early kings of France. 2. any banner used as an ensign or standard. 3. anything that is bright, colorful, or showy. n.

origin (ô'rə jin), 1. thing from which anything comes; source; beginning: the origin of a quarrel, the origin of a disease. 2. parentage; ancestry; birth. n.

original (ə rij'ə nl), 1. belonging to the beginning; first; earliest: the original settlers, a hat marked down from its original price. 2. new; fresh; novel: plan an original game for the party. 3. able to do, make, or think something new; inventive: Edison had an original mind. 4. not copied, imitated, or translated from something else: Jean wrote an original poem. 5. thing from which another is copied, imitated, or translated: The original of this picture is in Rome. 6. language in which a book was first written: Our minister can read the Bible in the original. 7. an unusual person; queer person. 8. origin; source. 1-4 adj. 5-8 n.

originality (ə rij'ə nal'ə tē), 1. ability to do, make, or think up something new. 2. freshness; novelty. 3. a being original. n.

originally (ə rij'ə nl ē), 1. by origin: a plant originally African. 2. at first; in the first place: a house originally small. 3. in an original manner: We want this room decorated originally. adv.

originate (ə rij'ə nāt), 1. cause to be; invent: originate a new style of painting. 2. come into being; begin; arise: Where did that story originate? v., originateed, originating. — originate'tor, n.

origination (ə rij'ə nā'shən), an originating; origin. n.

Oriño (ô'rə nō'kō), a large river in South America, flowing from S Venezuela, between Venezuela and Colombia, into the Atlantic. 1500 mi. n.

Oriole (ô'rē ōl), 1. any of several American songbirds related to the blackbird, having yellow- and orange-and-black feathers. 2. any of several European birds related to the crow, having yellow-and-black feathers. n.

Orión (ô'ri'ən), group of stars near the equator of the heavens.

To the ancients they suggested a man with a belt around his waist and a sword by his side. n.

Orión (ô'rə ōn), Archaic or Poetic. prayer. n.

Ori zā (ô'rə zā'bo), volcano in SE Mexico. 18,314 ft. high. n.

Orkney Islands (ôrk'nē), group of islands northeast of, and belonging to, Scotland. 21,000 pop.; 376 sq. mi.

Orlando (ôr lan'dō), city in E Florida. 88,000. n.

Baltimore oriole
(about 7 in. long)

Orléans (ôr'lē ənz; French ôr lā'ān'), Duc d', 1747-1793, Louis Philippe Joseph, French political leader. n.

Orlon (ôr'lon), Trademark. a light-weight synthetic fiber that resists sun and rain, used for clothing, sails, awnings, etc. n.

Orly (ôr'lē'), a small town near Paris, site of a major international airport. n.

ornament (ôr'nə mənt for 1-3,5; ôr'nə mēnt for 4), 1. something pretty; something to add beauty: Jewelry and vases are ornaments. 2. use of ornaments. 3. person or act that adds beauty, grace, or honor: Charming Miss Fair would be an ornament to any society. 4. add beauty to; make more pleasing or attractive; decorate. 5. things used in church services, such as the organ, bells, silver plate, etc. 1-3,5 n., 4 v.

ornamental (ôr'nə men'tl), 1. of or having to do with ornament. 2. for ornament; used as an ornament. 3. decorative. adj. — ornamentally, adv.

ornamentation (ôr'nə men tā'shən), 1. an ornamenting or being ornamented. 2. decorations; ornaments: She was dressed simply, with no ornamentation. n.

ornate (ôr nāt'), much adorned; much ornamented. adj. — ornately, adv. — ornateness, n.

orner (ôr'nər ē), Chiefly U.S. Informal or Dialect. 1. inferior. 2. homely. 3. mean in disposition. adj. — ornerness, n.

ornithological (ôr'nə thə loj'ə kl), dealing with birds. adj.

ornithologist (ôr'nə thol'ə jist), person who studies birds or who knows much about birds. n.

ornithology (ôr'nə thol'ə jē), 1. study of birds. 2. book on this subject. n.

orotund (ô'rə tund), 1. strong, full, rich, and clear in voice or speech. 2. pompous; bombastic. adj.

orphan (ôr'fan), 1. child whose parents are dead; child whose father or mother is dead. 2. of or for such children: an orphan asylum. 3. without a father or mother or both. 4. make an orphan of: The war orphaned me at an early age. 1 n., 2,3 adj., 4 v.

orphanage (ôr'fan ij), 1. home for orphans. 2. being an orphan. n.

Orpheus (ôr'fē əs or ôr'fūs), in Greek mythology, a musician who played his lyre so sweetly that animals and even trees and rocks followed him. n.

Orphic (ôr'fik), 1. of or having to do with Orpheus. 2. having to do with religious or philosophical cults ascribed to Orpheus as founder. 3. mystic; oracular. 4. melodious; entrancing. adj.

orphic (ôr'fik), mystic; oracular. adj.

orrey (ôr'ər ē), device with balls representing various planets, that are moved by clockwork to illustrate motions of the solar system. n., pl. orrees.

orris (ôr'is), 1. orrisroot. 2. plant that it grows on; kind of iris. n.

orrisroot (ôr'is rüt'), a fragrant rootstock of a variety of iris, used in making perfume, toothpaste, etc. n.

orthodontia (ôr'thə don'shə), branch of dentistry that deals with straightening and adjusting teeth. n.

orthodontist (ôr'thə don'tist), dentist who specializes in orthodontia. n.

orthodox (ôr'thə doks), 1. generally accepted, especially in religion. 2. having generally accepted views or opinions, especially in religion: an orthodox Methodist. 3. approved by convention; usual; customary: the orthodox Christmas dinner of turkey and plum pudding. adj.

Orthodox Church, group of Christian churches in E Europe and W Asia that do not recognize the Pope as the supreme head of the Church.

orthodoxy (ôr'thə dok'sē), holding of correct or generally accepted beliefs; orthodox practice, especially in religion; being orthodox. n., pl. orthodoxies.

orthoëpist (ôr thō'ə pist), person who knows much about the pronunciation of words. n.

or tho ë py (ôr thô'ə pē), 1. correct pronunciation. 2. part of grammar that deals with pronunciation; phonology. n.

or thog ra pher (ôr thog'rə fər), 1. person who knows much about spelling. 2. person who spells correctly. n.

or tho graph ic (ôr'thə graf'ik), 1. having to do with orthography. 2. correct in spelling. adj. —or'thograph'i cal ly, adv.

or tho graph i cal (ôr'thə graf'ə kl), orthographic. adj.

or thog ra phy (ôr thog'rə fē), 1. correct spelling; spelling considered as right or wrong. 2. art of spelling; study of spelling. n., pl. or thog ra phies.

or tho pe dic (ôr'thə pē'dik), of or having to do with orthopedics. adj.

or tho pe dics (ôr'thə pē'diks), branch of surgery that deals with the deformities and diseases of bones and joints, especially in children. n.

or tho pe dist (ôr'thə pē'dist), surgeon who specializes in orthopedics. n.

Or thop ter a (ôr thop'tər ə), order of insects (including crickets, grasshoppers, cockroaches, etc.) characterized by longitudinally folded, membranous hind wings, covered by hard, narrow outer wings. n., pl.

or thop ter ous (ôr thop'tər əs), belonging to the Orthoptera. adj.

or to lan (ôr'tə lən), 1. a small European bird, a bunting whose meat is regarded as a specially delicate food. 2. in the United States, any of various small edible birds, such as the bobolink. n.

-ory, suffix meaning:

1. —ing, as in compensatory, contradictory.
2. of or having to do with —; of or having to do with —ion, as in advisory, auditory.
3. characterized by —ion, as in adulatory.
4. serving to —, as in expiatory.
5. tending to —; inclined to —, as in conciliatory.
6. place for —ing; establishment for —ing, as in depository.
7. other meanings, as in conservatory, desultory.

o ryx (ô'riks), an African antelope with long, nearly straight horns. n., pl. o ryx es or (esp. collectively) o ryx.

Os, osmium.

O sage (ô'sāj), member of a tribe of American Indians, originally inhabiting the region of the Arkansas River. n.

Osage orange, 1. tree with glossy leaves and fruit somewhat resembling an orange. 2. the inedible fruit.

O sa ka (ô sâ'kə), seaport in S Japan. 3,012,000.

os cil late (os'lat), 1. swing to and fro like a pendulum; move to and fro between two points. 2. cause to swing to and fro. 3. vary between opinions, purposes, etc. 4. cause an electric current to alternate at a high frequency. v., os cil lat ed, os cil lat ing.

os cil la tion (os'lat'ən), 1. fact or process of oscillating. 2. a single swing of a vibrating body. n.

os cil la tor (os'lat'ər), 1. person or thing that oscillates. 2. device producing the oscillations that give rise to electric waves. The vacuum tube of a radio transmitting apparatus is an oscillator. n.

os cil la tory (os'lat'ərē), oscillating. adj.

os cine (os'in), any of a large group of perching birds that have well-developed vocal organs and usually sing. n.

os cu late (os'kyə lāt), 1. kiss. 2. come into close contact. v., os cu lat ed, os cu lat ing.

os cu la tion (os'kyə lā'shən), 1. act of kissing. 2. a kiss. 3. contact: the osculation between two curves in geometry. n.

os cu la to ry (os'kyə lə tō'rē), 1. kissing. 2. coming into close contact. adj.

o sier (ô'zhər), 1. Esp. Brit. kind of willow tree. 2. Esp. Brit. a tough, flexible branch or twig of this tree. Osiers are woven into baskets. 3. made of osiers. 4. kind of American dogwood. 1,2,4 n., 3 adj.

O si ris (ô sî'ris), the chief god of ancient Egypt, ruler of the lower world and judge of the dead. He represented good and productivity and is identified with the Nile. n.

Os ler (ôs'lər), Sir William, 1849-1919, Canadian physician, writer, and teacher of medicine in Canada, the United States, and England. n.

Os lo (oz'lô), capital of Norway, in the SE part. From 1624 to 1925 it was called Christiania. 462,000. n.

os mi um (oz'mē əm), a hard, heavy, grayish metallic element, used for electric-light filaments, etc. Symbol: Os n.

os mo sis (oz mō'sis), 1. tendency of two fluids that are separated by something porous to go through it and become mixed. 2. diffusion or spreading of fluids through a membrane or partition till they are mixed. n.

os mot ic (oz mot'ik), of or having to do with osmosis. adj.

os prey (os'prē), a large hawk that feeds on fish. n., pl. os preys.

O.S.S. or OSS, Office of Strategic Services (an agency of the United States government during World War II).

Os sa (os'ə), Mount, mountain in NE Greece. The Greek story says that when the giants made war on the gods, they piled Mount Ossa on Mount Olympus and Mount Pelion upon Mount Ossa in an attempt to reach heaven. 6400 ft. n.

os se ous (os'ē əs), 1. bony. 2. containing bones. adj.

os si fi ca tion (os'ə fə kâ'shən), 1. process of changing into bone. 2. a being changed into bone. 3. part that is ossified. n.

os si fy (os'ə fi), 1. change into bone; become bone: The soft parts of a baby's skull ossify as he grows older. 2. harden like bone; make or become fixed, hard-hearted, or very conservative. v., os si fied, os si fy ing.

os ten si ble (os ten'sə bl), apparent; pretended; professed: Her ostensible purpose was borrowing sugar, but she really wanted to see the new furniture. adj.

os ten si bly (os ten'sə blē), apparently; on the face of it; as openly stated or shown: Though ostensibly studying his history, Tom was really drawing pictures behind the big book. adv.

os ten ta tion (os'ten tā'shən), a showing off; display intended to impress others: the ostentation of a rich, vain man. n.

os ten ta tious (os'ten tā'shəs), 1. done for display; intended to attract notice: Tom rode his new bicycle up and down in front of Dick's house in an ostentatious way. 2. showing off; liking to attract notice. adj. —os'ten-ta'tious ly, adv.

os te o path (os'tē ə path), person who treats disease by manipulating the bones and muscles. n.

os te o path ic (os'tē ə path'ik), of osteopathy or osteopaths. adj.

os te op a thist (os'tē op'ə thist), osteopath. n.

os te op a thy (os'tē op'ə thē), treatment of diseases by manipulating the bones and muscles. n.

Os ti a (os'tē ə), the ancient seaport for Rome, located at the mouth of the Tiber. n.

ost ler (ôs'lər), hostler. n.

os tra cism (os'trə siz əm), 1. banishment from one's native country. 2. being shut out from society, from favor, from privileges, or from association with one's fellows. n.

os tra cize (os'trə siz), 1. banish. The ancient Greeks ostracized a dangerous or unpopular citizen by public vote. 2. shut out from society, from favor, from privileges, etc.: A boy who boasts too much or tries to show off in a new school is sometimes ostracized until he learns how to get along with his new schoolmates. v., os tra cized, os tra ciz ing.

os trich (ôs'trich), a large African and Arabian bird that can run swiftly but cannot fly. Ostriches have two toes and are the largest of existing birds. They have large feathers or plumes which were much used as ornaments. n.

Osprey (about 2 ft. long)

Os tro goth (os'trə goth), member of the eastern division of Goths that overran the Roman Empire and controlled Italy from 493 to 555 A.D. n.

O thel lo (ə thel'ō), a brave but jealous Moor, hero of Shakespeare's play Othello. He is made to believe his wife Desdemona is not true to him and kills her. Later he kills himself when he discovers her innocence. n.

oth er (uθ'ər), 1. remaining: John is here, but the other boys are at school. 2. additional or further: I have no other place to go. 3. not the same as one or more already mentioned: Come some other day. 4. different: I would not have him other than he is. 5. the other one; not the same ones: Each praises the other. 6. another person or thing: There are others to be considered. 7. otherwise; differently: I can't do other than to go. 1-4 adj., 5, 6 pron., 7 adv.

every other, every second; alternate: She buys cream every other day.

of all others, more than all others.

the other day (night, etc.), recently.

oth er wise (uθ'ər wīz'), 1. in a different way; differently: I could not do otherwise. 2. different: It might have been otherwise. 3. in other ways: He is noisy, but otherwise a very nice boy. 4. under other circumstances; in a different condition: He reminded me of what I should otherwise have forgotten. 5. or else; if not: Come at once; otherwise you will be too late. 1, 3, 4 adv., 2 adj., 5 conj.

other world, world to come; life after death.

oth er world ly (uθ'ər wərl'dlē), of or devoted to another world, such as the world of mind or imagination; or the world to come. adj. —oth'er world'li-ness, n.

o ti ose (ō'shē ōs or ō'tē ōs), 1. lazy; idle. 2. ineffective; futile. 3. superfluous; useless. adj.

O tran (ō tran'tō), Strait of, strait between Italy and the Balkan Peninsula. It connects the Adriatic Sea with the Mediterranean Sea. 44 mi. wide. n.

Ot ta wa (ot'ə wə), 1. capital of Canada, in SE Ontario. 258,000. 2. river in SE Canada, flowing SE into the St. Lawrence River at Montreal. 685 mi. 3. member of a tribe of Algonquian Indians who lived near Lake Superior. n.

ot ter (ot'ər), 1. any of several mammals related to the minks and weasels, that are good swimmers and have webbed toes with claws. 2. fur of any otter. Otter is short, thick, and glossy, somewhat like seal or beaver. n., pl. ot ters or (esp. collectively) ot ter.

Ot to man (ot'ə mən), 1. Turk. 2. Turkish. 1 n., pl. Ot to mans; 2 adj.

ot to man (ot'ə mən), 1. a low, cushioned seat without back or arms. 2. a cushioned footstool. n., pl. ot to mans.

Ottoman Empire, a former empire of the Turks in SE Europe, SW Asia, and N Africa; Turkish Empire. In addition to present-day Turkey, it at one time included most of the Balkan Peninsula, part of Hungary, Arabia, Egypt, etc. Capital: Constantinople.

Oua ga dou gou (wā gā dü'gū), capital of the republic of Upper Volta. 65,000. n.

ou bli ette (ū'blē'tē), 1. a secret dungeon with an opening only at the top. 2. a deep pit in the floor of a dungeon. n.

ouch (ouch), exclamation expressing sudden pain. interj.

ought (ōt), 1. have a duty; be obliged: You ought to obey your parents. 2. be right or suitable: It ought to be allowed. 3. be wise: I ought to go before it rains. 4. be expected: At your age you ought to know better. 5. be very likely: The fastest one ought to win the race. auxiliary verb.

ought (ōt), ought; anything. n., adv.

ought (ōt), Informal. nought; zero; 0. n.

Oui ja (wē'jə), Trademark. device that consists of a small board on legs that rests on a larger board marked with words, letters of the alphabet, or other characters. The person wishing an answer to questions rests his fingers lightly on the small board which may then move and touch letters or words. Ouijas are used at spiritualistic meetings and as games. n.

ounce (ouns), 1. unit of weight, $\frac{1}{16}$ of a pound in avoirdupois, and $\frac{1}{2}$ of a pound in troy weight. 2. measure for liquids; fluid ounce. 16 ounces=1 pint. 3. a little bit; very small amount. n.

ounce (ouns), a grayish wild cat with black spots somewhat like a leopard. It is found in the mountains of central Asia. n.

Ounce (length without the tail about 4 ft.)

our (our), of us; belonging to us: We need our coats now. pron.

Our Lady, the Virgin Mary.

ours (ourz), 1. of us; belonging to us: This garden is ours. 2. the one or ones belonging to us: Ours is a large house; I like ours better than yours. pron.

our self (our self'), myself. Ourself is used by an author, king, judge, etc.: "We will ourself reward the victor," said the queen. pron.

our selves (our selvz'), 1. the emphatic form of we or us: We did it ourselves. 2. the reflexive form of us: We hurt ourselves. We cook for ourselves. We cannot see ourselves as others see us. pron.pl.

-ous, suffix meaning:

1. having; having much; full of, as in joyous, perilous.
2. characterized by, as in blasphemous, parsimonious, zealous.
3. having the nature of, as in murderous, idolatrous.
4. of or having to do with, as in monogamous.
5. like, as in thunderous.
6. committing or practicing, as in bigamous.
7. inclined to, as in amorous.
8. in chemical terms, implying a larger proportion of the element indicated by the word than -ic implies. Stannous means containing tin in larger proportions than a corresponding stannic compound.

ou sel (ū'zl), ouzel. n.

oust (oust), force out; drive out: The sparrows have ousted the bluebirds from our birdhouse. v.

oust er (ous'tər), an ousting, especially an illegal forcing of a person out of his property. n.

out (out), 1. away; forth: rush out. Spread the rug out. 2. not in or at a place, position, state, etc.: That dress is out of fashion. The miners are going out on strike. 3. into the open air: He went out at noon. 4. not in possession or control: The Democrats are in, the Republicans out. 5. one who is out. 6. to or at an end: Fight it out! 7. from the usual place, condition, position, etc.: Put the light out. The boy turned his pockets out. 8. completely; effectively: fit out. 9. so as to project or extend: stand out. 10. into or in existence, activity, or outward manifestation. Fever broke out. Flowers are out. 11. not in use, action, fashion, etc.: The fire is out. Full skirts are out this season. 12. aloud; loudly: Speak out. 13. to others: Give out the books. 14. from a number, stock, store, source, cause, material, etc.: She picked out a new coat. 15. in the wrong: be out in one's calculations. 16. something wrong. 17. from a state of composure, satisfaction, or harmony: feel put out. 18. at a money loss: be out ten dollars. 19. from out; forth from: He went out the door. 20. Informal. out along: Drive out Main Street. 21. go or come out: Murder will out. 22. put out: Please out the fire. 23. that which is omitted. 24. Archaic. exclamation of indignation, reproach, etc.: Out upon you! 25. not in play, no longer at bat or on base in baseball, etc. 26. a being out or putting out in baseball. 27. not having its inning: the out side. 28. external; exterior; outer; outlying; an out island. 29. not usual: an out size. 1-3,6-10,12-15,17,18,25 adv., 4,11, 27-29 adj., 5,16,23,26 n., 19,20 prep., 21,22 v., 24 interj.

at outs or on the outs, quarreling; disagreeing.

out and away, by far.

out and out, thoroughly.

out for, looking for; trying to get.

out of, 1. from within: He came out of the house. 2. not within; away from; outside of; beyond: The boat has gone out of sight. 3. without; not having: We are out of coffee. 4. so as to take away: She was cheated out of her money. 5. from: My dress is made out of silk. 6. from among: We picked our puppy out of that litter. 7. because of: I only went out of curiosity.

out to, eagerly trying to.

out-, prefix meaning:

1. outward; forth; away, as in outburst, outgoing.

2. outside; at a distance, as in outbuilding, outfield, outlying.

3. more than; longer than, as in outbid, outlive, outnumber.

4. better than, as in outdo, outrun.

out-and-out (out'ænd out'), thorough; complete: an out-and-out defeat. adj.

out bid (out bid'), bid higher than (someone else). v., out bid, out bid or out bid den, out bid ding.

out board (out'bôrd'), 1. outside the hull of a ship or boat. 2. away from the middle of a ship or boat. adj., adv.

outboard motor, a portable gasoline motor attached to the stern of a boat or canoe.

out bound (out'bound'), outward bound: an outbound ship. adj.

out brave (out brāv'), 1. face bravely. 2. be braver than. v., out braved, out braving.

out break (out'brāk'), 1. a breaking out: outbreaks of anger. 2. riot; public disturbance. n.

out build (out bîld'), build more or better than. v., out built, out build ing.

out build ing (out'bîl'ding), shed or building built near a main building: Barns are outbuildings on a farm. n.

out burst (out'bêrst'), a bursting forth: an outburst of laughter, anger, smoke, etc. n.

out cast (out'kast'), 1. person or animal cast out from home and friends: Criminals are outcasts of society. 2. being an outcast; homeless; friendless. 1 n., 2 adj.

out class (out klas'), be of higher class than; be much better than. v.

out come (out'kum'), result; consequence: the outcome of a race. n.

out crop (out'krop' for 1,2; out krop' for 3), 1. a coming to the surface of the earth: the outcrop of a vein of coal. 2. part that comes to the surface: The outcrop that we found proved to be very rich in gold. 3. come to the surface; appear. 1,2 n., 3 v., out cropped, out cropping.

out cry (out'kri'), 1. a crying out; sudden cry or scream. 2. a great noise or clamor. 3. auction. n., pl. out cries.

out dat ed (out dāt'id), out-of-date; old-fashioned. adj.

out did (out did'), pt. of outdo. The girls outdid the boys in neatness. v.

out dis tance (out dis'tæns), leave behind; outstrip. v., out dis tanced, out dis tanc ing.

out do (out dū'), do more or better than; surpass: Men will outdo boys in most things. v., out did, out done, out do ing.

out done (out dun'), pp. of outdo. The girls were outdone by the boys in baseball. v.

out door (out'dôrc'), 1. done, used, or living outdoors: outdoor games. 2. outside of a hospital, poorhouse, etc. adj.

out doors (out'dôrz'), 1. out in the open air; not indoors or in the house: Mother won't let us go outdoors until it stops raining. 2. the world outside of houses; the open air. 1 adv., 2 n.

out er (out'ər), farther out; outside. adj.

Outer Mongolia, the Mongolian People's Republic.

out er most (out'ər mōst), farthest out. adj.

Outer Seven, the seven members of the European Free Trade Association (Great Britain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, Portugal, and Austria).

outer space, 1. space beyond the pull of the earth's gravity. 2. space beyond the solar system. —out'er-space', adj.

out face (out fās'), 1. face boldly; defy. 2. stare at (a person) until he stops staring back; browbeat; abash. v., out faced, out fac ing.

out field (out'fēld'), 1. the part of the baseball field beyond the diamond or infield. 2. the three players in the outfield. n.

out field er (out'fēl'dər), a baseball player stationed in the outfield. n.

out fit (out'fit), 1. all the articles necessary for any undertaking or purpose: sailor's outfit, outfit for a camping trip, bride's outfit. 2. furnish with everything necessary for any purpose; equip: John outfitted himself for camp. 3. U.S. group working together. 1,3 n., 2 v., out fit ted, out fit ting. —out'fit'ter, n.

out flank (out flangk'), 1. go or extend beyond the flank of (an opposing army, etc.); turn the flank of. 2. get the better of; circumvent. v.

out flow (out'flō'), 1. a flowing out: the outflow from a waterpipe, an outflow of sympathy. 2. that which flows out. n.

out gen er al (out jen'ər əl), be a better general than; get the better of by superior strategy. v., out gen er aled, out gen er al ing.

out go (out'gō'), what goes out; what is paid out; amount that is spent. n., pl. out goes.

out go ing (out'gō'ing), 1. a going out. 2. that which goes out. 3. departing; outward bound: outgoing steamships. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

out grow (out grō'), 1. grow too large for: outgrow one's clothes. 2. grow beyond or away from; get rid of by growing older: outgrow early friends, outgrow a babyish habit. 3. grow faster or taller than: This variety of pole bean will outgrow the dwarf kind. 4. grow out; project. v., out grew, out grown, out grow ing.

out growth (out'grōth'), 1. a natural development, product, or result: This big store is an outgrowth of the little shop James started ten years ago. 2. offshoot; something that has grown out: A corn is an outgrowth on a toe. 3. a growing out or forth: the outgrowth of new leaves in the spring. n.

out guess (out ges'), be too clever for; get the better of. v.

out house (out'hous'), 1. a separate building used in connection with a main building: Near the farmhouse were sheds and other outhouses. 2. an outdoor toilet. n.

out ing (out'ing), a short pleasure trip; walk or airing; holiday spent outdoors away from home. n.

out land ish (out lan'dish'), 1. not familiar; queer; strange or ridiculous: an outlandish hat. 2. looking or sounding as if it belonged to a foreign country. adj.

out last (out last'), last longer than. v.

out law (out'lō'), 1. person outside the protection of the law; exile; outcast. 2. a lawless person; criminal. 3. make or declare (a person) an outlaw. 4. make or declare illegal: A group of nations agreed to outlaw war. 5. deprive of legal force. An outlawed debt is one that cannot be collected because it has been due too long. 1,2 n., 3-5 v.

out law ry (out'lō'rē), 1. a being condemned as an outlaw; a being outlawed. Outlawry was formerly used as a punishment in England. 2. condition of being an outlaw. n., pl. out law ries.

out lay (out'lā' for 1,2; out lā' for 3), 1. a spending; expense; a laying out money: a large outlay for clothing. 2. amount spent. 3. expend: outlay money in improvements. 1,2 n., 3 v., out laid, out lay ing.

out let (out/let), 1. means or place of letting out or getting out; way out; vent; opening; exit: outlet of a lake, outlet for one's energies. 2. market for a product. 3. place in a wall, etc., for inserting an electric plug. n.

out line (out/lin'), 1. line that shows the shape of an object; line that bounds a figure: We saw the outlines of the mountains against the evening sky. 2. a drawing or style of drawing that gives only outer lines: an outline of America. 3. draw the outer line of: Outline a map of America. 4. a general plan; rough draft: Make an outline before trying to write a composition. 5. give a plan of; sketch: She outlined their trip abroad. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v., out lined, out lin ing.

in outline, 1. with only the outline shown. 2. with only the main features.

out live (out liv'), live or last longer than; survive; outlast: She outlived her older sister. The idea was good once, but it has outlived its usefulness. v., out lived, out liv ing.

out look (out/lük'), 1. what one sees on looking out; view: The room has a pleasant outlook. 2. what seems likely to happen; prospect: The outlook for our picnic is not very good; it looks as if it would rain. 3. way of thinking about things; attitude of mind; point of view: a gloomy outlook on life. 4. lookout; tower to watch from. n.

out ly ing (out/li'ing), lying outside the boundary; far from the center; remote. adj.

out ma neu ver (out'ma nü/vär), outdo in maneuvering; get the better of by maneuvering. v., out ma neu vered, out ma neu ver ing.

out ma noeuv re (out'mä nü/vär), outmaneuver. v., out ma noeuv red, out ma noeuv ring.

out mod ed (out möd'id), out-of-date. adj.

out most (out/möst), farthest out. adj.

out num ber (out num'bär), be more than; exceed in number: They outnumbered us three to one. v.

out-of-date (out'äv dät'), old-fashioned; not in present use: A horse and buggy is an out-of-date method of transportation. adj.

out-of-door (out'äv dör'), outdoor. adj.

out-of-doors (out'äv dörz'), 1. outdoor. 2. outdoors. 1 adj., 2 n., adv.

out-of-the-way (out'äv fhä wä'), 1. remote; unfrequented; secluded: an out-of-the-way cottage. 2. seldom met with; unusual: out-of-the-way bits of information. adj.

out pa tient (out/pä'shənt), patient receiving treatment at a hospital but not staying there. n.

out play (out plä'), play better than. v.

out point (out point'), 1. score more points than. 2. sail closer to the wind than. v.

out post (out/pöst'), 1. guard, or small number of soldiers, placed at some distance from an army or camp to prevent surprise. 2. place where they are stationed. 3. anything thought of as an outpost or advance guard: Missionaries and traders have been outposts of civilization. n.

out pour (out/pör' for 1,2; out pör' for 3), 1. a pouring out. 2. that which is poured out. 3. pour out. 1,2 n., 3 v.

out pour ing (out/pör'ing), 1. anything that is poured out. 2. an uncontrolled expression of thoughts or feelings. n.

out put (out/püt'), 1. amount produced; product or yield: the daily output of automobiles. 2. a putting forth: With a sudden output of effort John moved the rock. 3. information produced from the storage unit of a computer. n.

out rage (out/rāj), 1. act showing no regard for the rights or feelings of others; an overturning of the rights of others by force; act of violence; offense; insult: He was guilty of many outrages. 2. offend greatly; do violence to; insult. 3. break (the law, a rule of morality, etc.) openly; treat as nothing at all: Little Lulu outraged all rules of politeness by throwing tomatoes at her mother's guests. 1 n., 2,3 v., out raged, out rag ing.

Outline of a house (def. 2)

Outtrigger (def. 1)

out ra geous (out rä'jəs), shocking; very bad or insulting: outrageous language. adj. —out ra'geous ly, adv. —out ra'geous ness, n.

out ran (out ran'), pt. of outrun. He outran me. v.

out rank (out rangk'), rank higher than: A captain outranks a lieutenant. v.

out reach (out rēch'), 1. reach beyond. 2. reach out; extend; stretch out. v.

out ride (out rīd'), 1. ride faster or better than. 2. of ships, last through (a storm). v., out rode, out rid den, out rid ing.

out rid er (out/rīd'ər), servant or attendant riding on a horse before or beside a carriage. n.

out rig ger (out/rīg'ər), 1. framework ending in a float, extending outward from the side of a canoe to prevent upsetting. 2. bracket extending outward from either side of a boat to hold a rowlock. 3. boat equipped with such brackets. 4. a projecting spar, framework, or part: an outtrigger from a ship's mast to extend a sail, an outtrigger from an airplane to support the rudder. n.

out right (out/rit'), 1. altogether; entirely; not gradually: We paid for our car outright. 2. openly; without restraint: I laughed outright. 3. complete; thorough: an outright loss. 4. downright; straightforward; direct: an outright refusal. 5. entire; total. 6. at once. 1,2,6 adv., 3-5 adj.

out run (out run'), 1. run faster than. 2. leave behind; run beyond; pass the limits of: Your story outruns the facts. v., out ran, out run, out run ning.

out sell (out sel'), 1. outdo in selling; sell more than. 2. sell for more than. v., out sold, out sell ing.

out set (out/set'), a setting out; start; a beginning: At the outset, it looked like a nice day. n.

out shine (out shin'), 1. shine more brightly than. 2. be more brilliant or excellent than; surpass. v., out-shone, out shin ing.

out shoot (out shūt' for 1,2; out/shūt' for 3,4), 1. shoot better or farther than. 2. shoot forth. 3. projection. 4. offshoot. 1,2 v., out shot, out shoot ing; 3,4 n.

out side (out/sīd'; for 6,7 also out/sīd'), 1. side or surface that is out; outer part: ride on the outside of a bus. 2. external appearance. 3. on the outside; of or nearer the outside: the outside leaves. 4. on or to the outside; outdoors: Run outside and play. 5. space or position without. 6. U.S. Informal. with the exception (of): Outside of John, none of us liked the play. 7. out of; beyond the limits of: Stay outside the house. 8. not belonging to a certain group, set, district, etc.: Outside people tried to get control of the business. 9. being, acting, done, or originating without or beyond a wall, boundary, etc.: Outside noises disturbed the class. 10. Informal. highest; largest; reaching the utmost limit: an outside estimate of the cost. 1,2,5 n., 3,8-10 adj., 4 adv., 6,7 prep.

at the outside, Informal. at the utmost limit: I can do it in a week, at the outside.

outside in, so that what should be outside is inside; with the outside not showing.

out sid er (out/sīd'ər), 1. person who is outside. 2. person not belonging to a particular group, set, company, party, district, etc. 3. person unconnected or unacquainted with the matter in question. n.

out size (out'sīz'), 1. larger than the usual size. 2. article of clothing, etc., larger than the usual size. 1 adj., 2 n.

out skirts (out'skērts'), the outer parts or edges of a town, district, etc.; outlying parts. n.pl.

out smart (out smārt'), U.S. Informal. outdo in cleverness. v.

out spo ken (out'spō'ken), frank; not reserved: an outspoken person, outspoken criticism. Your own family is likely to be outspoken in its remarks about you. adj. —out'spō'ken ly, adv. —out'spō'ken ness, n.

out spread (out'spred' for adj.; out'spred' for v.), spread out: an eagle with outspread wings. adj., v., out spread, out spread ing.

out stand ing (out stan'ding), 1. standing out from others; well known; important: Ed is an outstanding baseball pitcher because of his muscular control. 2. unpaid: outstanding debts. 3. projecting. adj. —out-stand'ing ly, adv.

out stay (out stā'), stay longer than. v.

out stretched (out'strecht'), stretched out; extended: He welcomed his old friend with outstretched arms. adj.

out strip (out strip'), 1. go faster than; leave behind in a race: A horse can outstrip a man. 2. do better than; excel: Tom can outstrip most boys both in sports and studies. v., out stripped, out strip ping.

out talk (out tōk'), talk better, faster, longer, or louder than; get the better of by talking. v.

out vote (out vōt'), defeat in voting; cast more votes than. v., out vot ed, out vot ing.

out ward (out'wārd), 1. going toward the outside; turned toward the outside: an outward motion, an outward glance. 2. toward the outside; away: Porches extend outward from the house. 3. outer: to all outward appearances. 4. on the outside. 5. that can be seen; plain to see: when that outward reformation took place. 6. seeming; on the surface: the outward man. 1,3,5,6 adj., 2,4 adv.

out ward ly (out'wārd lē), 1. on the outside or outer surface. 2. toward the outside. 3. as regards appearance or outward manifestation: Though frightened, the boy remained outwardly calm. adv.

out wards (out'wārdz), outward. adv.

out wear (out wār'), 1. wear longer than. 2. wear out: outwear someone's patience. 3. outgrow. v., out-wore, out worn, out wear ing.

out weigh (out wā'), 1. weigh more than. 2. exceed in value, importance, influence, etc.: The advantages of the plan outweigh its disadvantages. v.

out wit (out wit'), get the better of by being more intelligent; be too clever for: The prisoner outwitted his guards and escaped. v., out wit ted, out wit ting.

out work (out'wērk' for 1; out wērk' for 2), 1. part of the fortifications of a place lying outside the main ones; a less important defense: the outworks of a castle. 2. surpass in working; work harder or faster than. 1 n., 2 v.

out worn (out'wōrn' for 1,2; out-wōrn' for 3), 1. worn out: outworn clothes. 2. out-of-date; outgrown: outworn opinions, outworn habits. 3. pp. of outwear. 1,2 adj., 3 v.

ou zel (ū'zəl), 1. a European thrush that has a white ring or bar on the chest, and is usually called the ring ouzel. 2. thrush of Europe and Asia that is often called the blackbird. 3. any of several songbirds, related to the thrushes and wrens, that often wade into deep water. n. Also, ousel.

ova (ō'vā), pl. of ovum. n.

oval (ō'vāl), 1. egg-shaped. 2. shaped like an ellipse. 3. something having an oval shape. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

oval ly (ō'vāl ē), in an oval form. adv.

ova ri an (ō vār'ē ən), of or having to do with an ovary. adj.

Water ouzel (def. 3)
(about 7 in. long)

Oval

ova ry (ō'vā rē), 1. organ of a female in which eggs are produced. 2. part of a plant enclosing the young seeds (ovules). n., pl. ova ries.

ov ate (ō'vāt), egg-shaped: an ovate leaf. adj.

ova tion (ō vā'shən), an enthusiastic public welcome; burst of loud clapping or cheering: The President received a great ovation. n.

ov en (uv'ən), 1. space in a stove or near a fireplace, for baking food. 2. a small furnace for heating or drying. n. ov en bird (uv'ən bērd'), any of various birds that build nests with dome-shaped roofs. The ovenbird of North America is a warbler that has an olive-green back and black-spotted white breast. n.

over (ō'vər), 1. above in place or position: the roof over one's head (prep.); hung over (adv.). 2. above in authority, power, etc.: We have a captain over us. 3. upper; higher up: the over crust of a pie. 4. higher in authority, station, etc. (used chiefly in compounds), as in overlord. 5. on; upon: a blanket lying over a bed. 6. so as to cover the surface, or affect the whole surface: Cover the tar over with sand until it has hardened. 7. at all or various places on: A blush came over her face. 8. Farms were scattered over the valley. 8. above and to the other side of; across: leap over a wall. 9. on the other side of; lands over the sea. 10. from side to side; to the other side; across any intervening space: Go over to the store for me. 11. from one to another: Hand the money over. 12. on the other side; at some distance: over in Europe, over by the hill. 13. out and down from: He fell over the edge of the cliff. 14. down; out and down: She went too near the edge and fell over. 15. so as to bring the upper side or end down or under: turn over a page. 16. again; in repetition: ten times over. 17. more than; beyond: It costs over ten dollars. 18. surplus; extra (used chiefly in compounds), as in pay for overtime. 19. amount in excess. 20. too (used chiefly in compounds), as in overnice. 21. too much; too great (used chiefly in compounds), as in overuse of drugs. 22. here and there on or in; roundabout; all through: We shall travel over Europe. 23. through a region, area, etc.: travel all over. 24. from end to end of: We drove over the new thruway. 25. from beginning to end: read a newspaper over. 26. during: over many years. 27. throughout or beyond a period of time: Please stay over till Monday. 28. in excess or addition: receive the full sum and something over. 29. at an end: The play is over. 30. in reference to; concerning; about: He is troubled over his health. 31. while engaged on or concerned with: fall asleep over one's work. 32. in cricket, the number of balls (usually six) delivered between successive changes of bowlers. 33. part of a cricket game between such changes. 1,2,5,7-9,13,17,22,24,26,30,31 prep., 1,6,10-12,14-16,20,23,25,27,28 adv., 3,4,18,21,29 adj., 19,32, 33 n.

over again, once more.

over against, 1. opposite to; in front of. 2. so as to bring out a difference.

over and above, besides; in addition to.

over and over, again and again.

over, prefix meaning:

1. too; too much; too long, etc., as in overcrowded, overfull, overburden, overpay, oversleep.

2. extra, as in oversize, overtime.

3. over, as in overflow, overlord, overseas, overthrow.

over act (ō'vər akt'), act to excess; overdo in acting; act (a part) in an exaggerated manner. v.

over ac tive (ō'vər ak'tiv), too active; active to excess. adj. —o'vər ak'tive ly, adv.

over all (ō'vər ōl'), 1. from one end to the other. 2. including everything: an overall estimate. adj.

over alls (ō'vər ōlz'), loose trousers worn over clothes to keep them clean. Overalls usually have a part that covers the chest. n.pl.

over anx ious (ō'vər ank'shəs or ō'vər ang'shəs), too anxious. adj.

Ovate leaf

o ver arch (ō'vər ərč'), arch over; curve like an arch: The street was overarched by elm trees. v.

o ver ate (ō'vər āt'), pt. of overeat. v.

o ver awe (ō'vər ō'), overcome or restrain with awe: Seeing an airplane overawed the savages. v., o ver awed, o ver aw ing.

o ver bal ance (ō'vər bal'əns), 1. be greater than in weight, importance, value, etc.: The gains overbalanced the losses. 2. cause to lose balance: Tom's weight as he leaned over the side overbalanced the canoe and it upset. v., o ver bal anced, o ver bal anc ing.

o ver bear (ō'vər bār'), 1. overcome by weight or force; oppress; master: My father overbore all my objections. 2. bear down by weight or force; overthrow; upset. v., o ver bore, o ver borne, o ver bear ing.

o ver bear ing (ō'vər bār'ing), inclined to dictate; forcing others to one's own will; masterful; domineering. adj. —o ver bear'ing ly, adv.

o ver bid (ō'vər bīd'), 1. bid more than the value of (a thing). 2. bid higher than (a person). v., o ver bid, o ver bid or o ver bid den, o ver bid ding.

o ver board (ō'vər bōrd'), from a ship into the water. adv.

throw overboard, 1. throw into the water. 2. Informal. get rid of; give up; abandon; discard.

o ver bold (ō'vər bōld'), too bold. adj.

o ver bore (ō'vər bōr'), pt. of overbear. v.

o ver borne (ō'vər bōrn'), pp. of overbear. v.

o ver bur den (ō'vər bērd'n), load with too great a burden. v.

o ver came (ō'vər kām'), pt. of overcome. v.

o ver cap i tal ize (ō'vər kap'ə tī z), fix or estimate the capital of (a company, enterprise, etc.) at too high an amount. v., o ver cap i tal ized, o ver cap i tal iz ing.

o ver cast (ō'vər kast'), 1. cloudy; dark; gloomy: The sky was overcast before the storm. 2. cover or be covered with clouds or darkness. 3. sew over and through (the edges of a seam) with long stitches to prevent raveling. 4. sewed with overcast stitches. 1,4 adj., 2,3 v., o ver cast, o ver cast ing.

o ver charge (ō'vər chārij' for 1,3; ō'vər chārij' for 2,4), 1. charge too high a price: The grocer overcharged you for the eggs. 2. charge that is too great. 3. load too heavily; fill too full: The overcharged old musket burst. 4. too heavy or too full a load. 1,3 v., o ver charged, o ver charg ing; 2,4 n.

o ver cloud (ō'vər kloud'), 1. cloud over; become clouded over; darken. 2. make or become gloomy. v.

o ver coat (ō'vər kōt'), a heavy coat worn over the regular clothing. n.

o ver come (ō'vər kum'), 1. get the better of; win the victory over; conquer; defeat: overcome an enemy, one's faults, all difficulties. 2. make weak or helpless: Weariness overcame her and she fell asleep. v., o ver came, o ver come, o ver com ing.

o ver con fi dent (ō'vər kon'fə dənt), too confident. adj.

o ver crowd (ō'vər kroud'), crowd too much; put in too much or too many. v.

o ver de vel op (ō'vər di vel'əp), develop too much or too long. If a photograph is overdeveloped, it is too dark. v.

o ver do (ō'vər dū'), 1. do too much: She overdoes exercise. She overdid and became tired. 2. exaggerate: The funny scenes in the play were overdone. 3. cook too much: overdone vegetables. 4. exhaust; tire. v., o ver did, o ver done, o ver do ing.

o ver dose (ō'vər dōs' for 1; ō'vər dōs' for 2), 1. too big a dose. 2. give too large a dose to. 1 n., 2 v., o ver dosed, o ver dos ing.

o ver draft (ō'vər draft'), 1. an overdrawing of an account, especially, a bank account. 2. amount of the excess. n.

o ver draw (ō'vər drō'), 1. draw from (a bank account, allowance, etc.) more than one has a right to. 2. exaggerate: The characters in the book were greatly overdrawn. v., o ver drew, o ver drawn, o ver draw ing.

o ver dress (ō'vər dres' for 1; ō'vər dres' for 2), 1. dress too elaborately. 2. dress worn over the main dress. 1 v., 2 n.

o ver drive (ō'vər drīv'), an arrangement of gears whereby even more speed and less power are produced than in high. n.

o ver due (ō'vər dū' or ō'vər dū'), more than due; due some time ago but not yet arrived, paid, etc.: The train is overdue. This bill is overdue. adj.

o ver eat (ō'vər ēt'), eat too much. v., o ver ate, o ver eat en, o ver eat ing.

o ver es ti mate (ō'vər es'tə māt for 1; ō'vər es'tə mīt for 2), 1. estimate at too high a value, amount, rate, etc. 2. estimate that is too high. 1 v., o ver es ti mated, o ver es ti mat ing; 2 n. —o ver es'ti ma'tion, n.

o ver ex po sure (ō'vər eks pō'zhər), too much or too long an exposure. n.

o ver feed (ō'vər fēd'), feed too much. v., o ver fed, o ver feed ing.

o ver fill (ō'vər fil'), fill too full; fill so as to cause overflowing. v.

o ver flow (ō'vər flō' for 1-6; ō'vər flō' for 7,8), 1. flow over the bounds: Rivers often overflow in the spring. 2. cover; flood: The river overflowed my garden. 3. have the contents flowing over: My cup is overflowing. 4. flow over the top of: The milk is overflowing the cup. 5. extend out beyond; be too many for: The crowd overflowed the little parlor and filled the hall. 6. be very abundant: an overflowing harvest, overflowing kindness. 7. an overflowing; excess. 8. outlet or container for overflowing liquid. 1-6 v., o ver flowed, o ver flown, o ver flow ing; 7,8 n.

o ver grow (ō'vər grō'), 1. grow over: The wall is overgrown with vines. 2. grow too fast; become too big. 3. outgrow. v., o ver grew, o ver grown, o ver grow ing.

o ver grown (ō'vər grōn'), 1. grown too big: an overgrown boy. 2. pp. of overgrow. 1 adj., 2 v.

o ver growth (ō'vər grōth'), 1. too great or too rapid growth. 2. growth overspreading or covering something. n.

o ver hand (ō'vər hand'), 1. with the hand raised above the shoulder: an overhand throw (adj.), pitch overhand (adv.). 2. with the knuckles upward. 3. over and over; with stitches passing successively over an edge. adj., adv.

o ver hang (ō'vər hang' for 1,4; ō'vər hang' for 2,3), 1. hang over; project over: Trees overhang the street to form an arch of branches. 2. something that projects: The overhang of the roof shaded the flower bed beneath. 3. amount of projecting. 4. hang over so as to darken, sadden, or threaten. 1,4 v., o ver hung, o ver hang ing; 2,3 n.

o ver haul (ō'vər hōl'), 1. examine thoroughly so as to make any repairs or changes that are needed: Once a year we overhaul our boat. 2. gain upon; overtake: The pirate's ship was overhauling ours. v.

o ver haul ing (ō'vər hōl'ing), a thorough examination to find and make any needed repairs or changes. n.

o ver head (ō'vər hed' for 1; ō'vər hed' for 2-4), 1. in the sky; on the floor above; on high; above: the stars overhead, the family overhead, the flag overhead. 2. being, working, or passing overhead: overhead wires. 3. general expenses or charges, such as rent, lighting, heating, taxes, repairs. 4. applying to one and all; general. 1 adv., 2,4 adj., 3 n.

o ver hear (ō'vər hīr'), hear when one is not meant to hear: They spoke so loud that I could not help overhearing what they said. v., o ver heard, o ver hear ing.

o ver heat (ō'vər hēt'), heat too much. v.

o ver hung (ō'vər hung' for 1; ō'vər hung' for 2), 1. hung from above: an overhung door. 2. pt. and pp. of overhang. A big awning overhung the sidewalk. 1 adj., 2 v.

o ver in dulse (ō'vər in dulg'), indulge too much. v., o ver in dulse, o ver in dulse.

o ver joy (ō'vər joi'), make extremely joyful. v.

o ver lad en (ō'vər lād'n), overloaded. adj.

o ver laid (ō'vər lād'), pt. and pp. of overlay¹. The workmen overlaid the dome with gold. The iron had become overlaid with rust. v.

o ver lain (ō'vər lān'), pp. of overlie. v.

o ver land (ō'vər land' or ō'vər lənd), on land; by land: travel overland from New York to Florida. adv., adj.

o ver lap (ō'vər lap' for 1; ō'vər lap' for 2-4), 1. lap over; cover and extend beyond: Shingles are laid to overlap each other. 2. a lapping over. 3. amount by which one thing laps over another. 4. part that overlaps. 1 v., o ver lapped, o ver lapping; 2-4 n.

o ver lay¹ (ō'vər lā' for 1-3; ō'vər lā' for 4), 1. lay or place (one thing) over or upon another. 2. cover, overspread, or surmount with something; especially, finish with a layer or applied decoration of something: wood overlaid with gold. 3. weigh down. 4. something laid over something else; layer or decoration; covering. 1-3 v., o ver laid, o ver laying; 4 n.

o ver lay² (ō'vər lā'), pt. of overlie. v.

o ver leap (ō'vər lēp'), leap over; pass beyond: Her joy overleaped all bounds. v.

o ver lie (ō'vər lī'), 1. lie over; lie upon. 2. smother by lying on. v., o ver lay, o ver lain, o ver lying.

o ver load (ō'vər lōd' for 1; ō'vər lōd' for 2), 1. load too heavily: overload a boat. 2. too great a load. 1 v., 2 n.

o ver look (ō'vər lūk'), 1. fail to see: Here are the letters you overlooked. 2. pay no attention to; excuse: I will overlook your bad behavior this time. 3. have a view of from above; be higher than: This high window overlooks half the city. 4. manage; look after and direct. 5. look over; watch: She did not know that she was being overlooked by the woman next door. v.

o ver lord (ō'vər lōrd'), person who is lord over another lord or other lords: The duke was the overlord of barons and knights who held land from him. n.

o ver ly (ō'vər lē), overmuch; excessively; too. adv.

o ver mas ter (ō'vər mas'tər), overcome; overpower. v.

o ver match (ō'vər mach'), be more than a match for; surpass. v.

o ver much (ō'vər much'), too much. adj., adv., n.

o ver nice (ō'vər nis'), too fastidious. adj.

o ver night (ō'vər nit' for 1, 4; ō'vər nit' for 2, 3, 5, 6), 1. during the night: stay overnight. 2. done, occurring, etc., during the night: an overnight stop. 3. for the night: An overnight bag contains articles needed for one night's stay. 4. on the night before: Preparations were made overnight for an early start. 5. of or having to do with the night before. 6. the previous evening. 1, 4 adv., 2, 3, 5 adj., 6 n.

o ver pass (ō'vər pas' for 1-3; ō'vər pas' for 4), 1. pass over (a region, bounds, etc.). 2. go beyond; exceed; surpass. 3. pass without notice; overlook; disregard. 4. bridge over a road, railroad, canal, etc. 1-3 v., o ver passed or o ver past, o ver passing; 4 n.

o ver play (ō'vər plā'), 1. play (a part, etc.) in an exaggerated manner. 2. play better than; surpass; defeat. v.

o ver pow er (ō'vər pou'ər), 1. overcome; master; overwhelm: overpower one's enemies. I was overpowered by the heat. 2. be so much greater than, that nothing else is felt: Sudden anger overpowered every other feeling. v. —o ver pow'er ing ly, adv.

o ver pro duc tion (ō'vər prōd'uk'shən), production of more than is needed or more than can be sold. n.

o ver rate (ō'vər rāt'), rate or estimate too highly. v., o ver rat ed, o ver rat ing.

o ver reach (ō'vər rēch'), 1. reach over or beyond. 2. reach too far. 3. get the better of by cunning: overreach a man in a bargain. 4. cheat. v.

overreach oneself, 1. fail or miss by trying for too much. 2. fail by being too crafty or tricky.

o ver ride (ō'vər rīd'), 1. act in spite of: override advice or objections. 2. prevail over: The new rule overrides all previous ones. 3. ride over; trample on. 4. ride over (a region, place, etc.). 5. tire out by riding; ride too much: override a horse. v., o ver rode, o ver rid den, o ver rid ing.

o ver rule (ō'vər rül'), 1. rule or decide against (a plea, argument, objection, etc.); set aside: The president overruled my plan. 2. prevail over; be stronger than: I was overruled by the majority. v., o ver ruled, o ver ruling.

o ver run (ō'vər run'), 1. spread over and spoil or harm in some way: Weeds had overrun the old garden. 2. spread over: Vines overran the wall. 3. run or go beyond; exceed: The speaker overran the time set for him. v., o ver ran, o ver run, o ver run ning.

o ver saw (ō'vər sō'), pt. of oversee. v.

o ver sea (ō'vər sē' for adv.; ō'vər sē' for adj.), overseas. adv., adj.

o ver seas (ō'vər sēz' for 1; ō'vər sēz' for 2, 3), 1. across the sea; beyond the sea; abroad. 2. done, used, or serving overseas. 3. of countries across the sea; foreign. 1 adv., 2, 3 adj.

o ver see (ō'vər sē'), look after and direct (work or workers); superintend; manage: oversee a factory. v., o ver saw, o ver seen, o ver see ing.

o ver se er (ō'vər sē'ər), one who oversees, superintends, or looks after the work of others. n.

o ver sell (ō'vər sel'), sell to excess; sell more of than can be delivered. v., o ver sold, o ver sell ing.

o ver set (ō'vər set' for verb; ō'vər set' for noun), 1. upset; overturn. 2. overthrow. 1, 2 v., o ver set, o ver set ting; 2 n.

o ver shad ow (ō'vər shad'ō), 1. be more important than. 2. cast a shadow over. v.

o ver shoe (ō'vər shū'), a rubber shoe or a felt shoe with a rubber sole worn over another shoe to keep the foot dry and warm. n.

o ver shoot (ō'vər shūt'), 1. shoot over, higher than, or beyond. 2. go over, higher than, or beyond. 3. go too far. v., o ver shot, o ver shoot ing.

o ver shot (ō'vər shot' for 1, 2; ō'vər shot' for 3), 1. having the upper jaw projecting beyond the lower. 2. driven by water flowing over from above. 3. pt. and pp. of overshoot. 1, 2 adj., 3 v.

o ver sight (ō'vər sīt'), 1. failure to notice or think of something: Through an oversight, the kitten got no supper last night. 2. watchful care: While children are at school they are under their teacher's oversight and direction. n.

o ver size (ō'vər siz'), 1. too big. 2. size larger than the proper or usual size. 3. something larger than is necessary. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

o ver sleep (ō'vər slēp'), sleep beyond (a certain hour); sleep too long. v., o ver slept, o ver sleep ing.

o ver spread (ō'vər sprēd'), spread over: A smile overspread his face. v., o ver spread, o ver spread ing.

o ver state (ō'vər stāt'), state too strongly; exaggerate. v., o ver stat ed, o ver stat ing. —o ver state ment, n.

o ver stay (ō'vər stā'), stay beyond the time of. v.

o ver step (ō'vər stēp'), go beyond; exceed. v., o ver stepped, o ver step ping.

o ver stock (ō'vər stok' for 1; ō'vər stok' for 2), 1. supply with more than is needed. 2. too great a stock or supply. 1 v., 2 n.

Overshot water wheel (cross section). The force of the falling water and the weight of the water-filled buckets make the wheel turn. Its axle is connected to machinery.

o ver strung (ō'vər strung'), too nervous or sensitive. adj.

o ver sub scribe (ō'vər səb skrib'), subscribe or subscribe for in excess of what is available or required. v., o ver sub scrib ed, o ver sub scrib ing.

o ver sup ply (ō'vər sə pli' for 1; ō'vər sə pli' for 2), 1. supply with more than is needed. 2. too great a supply. 1 v., o ver sup plied, o ver sup pling; 2 n.

o vert (ō'vērt or ō vērt'), open; evident; not hidden; public: Hitting someone is an overt act. adj. —o'vert-ly, adv.

o ver take (ō'vər tāk'), 1. come up with: The blue car overtook ours. 2. come upon suddenly: A storm overtook the children. v., o ver took, o ver tak en, o ver tak ing.

o ver task (ō'vər task'), give too long or too hard tasks to. v.

o ver tax (ō'vər taks'), 1. tax too heavily. 2. put too heavy a burden on. v. —o'ver tax a'tion, n.

o ver threw (ō'vər thrū'), pp. of overthrow. v.

o ver throw (ō'vər thrō' for 1-3; ō'vər thrō' for 4), 1. take away the power of; defeat: overthrow a king. 2. put an end to; destroy: overthrow slavery. 3. overturn; upset; knock down. 4. a defeat; upset: The overthrow of his plans left him much discouraged. 1-3 v., o ver threw, o ver thrown, o ver throw ing; 4 n.

o ver thrown (ō'vər thrōn'), pp. of overthrow. v.

o ver time (ō'vər tīm' for 1,2; ō'vər tīm' for 3), 1. extra time; time beyond the regular hours. 2. beyond the regular hours. 3. give too much time to: overtime a camera exposure. 1 n., 2 adv., adj., 3 v., o ver timed, o ver tim ing.

o ver tone (ō'vər tōn'), a fainter and higher tone heard along with the main or fundamental tone; harmonic. n.

o ver took (ō'vər tūk'), pt. of overtake. v.

o ver top (ō'vər top'), 1. rise above; be higher than: The new building will overtop all the others. 2. surpass; excel. v., o ver topped, o ver top ping.

o ver train (ō'vər trān'), subject to or undergo so much athletic training that the condition is injured rather than improved; train to excess. v.

o ver ture (ō'vər chūr or ō'vər chər), 1. proposal; offer: The enemy is making overtures for peace. 2. a musical composition played by the orchestra as an introduction to an opera, oratorio, etc. n.

o ver turn (ō'vər tēr'n' for 1-3; ō'vər tēr'n' for 4), 1. turn upside down. 2. upset; fall down; fall over: The boat overturned. 3. make fall down; overthrow; defeat; destroy the power of: The rebels overturned the government. 4. an overturning. 1-3 v., 4 n.

o ver watch (ō'vər woch'), 1. watch over. 2. make weary by watching. v.

o ver ween ing (ō'vər wēn'ing), thinking too much of oneself; conceited; self-confident; presumptuous. adj.

o ver weight (ō'vər wāt' for 1-3; ō'vər wāt' for 4), 1. having too much weight: a boy overweight for his age. 2. too much weight. 3. extra weight: The butcher gave us overweight on this roast. 4. overburden: a small child overweighted with heavy schoolbooks. 1 adj., 2,3 n., 4 v.

o ver whelm (ō'vər hwelm'), 1. overcome completely; crush: overwhelm with grief. 2. cover completely as a flood would: A great wave overwhelmed the boat. v.

o ver whelm ing (ō'vər hwel'ming), too many, too great, or too much to be resisted; overpowering: an overwhelming majority of votes. adj.

o ver work (ō'vər wēr'k' for 1,3; ō'vər wēr'k' for 2), 1. too much or too hard work. 2. work too hard or too long. 3. extra work. 1,3 n., 2 v., o ver worked or o ver wrought, o ver work ing.

o ver wrought (ō'vər rōt'), 1. wearied or exhausted by too much work or excitement; greatly excited: overwrought nerves. 2. decorated all over: an overwrought platter. 3. too elaborate. 4. a pt. and a pp. of overwork. 1-3 adj., 4 v.

Ov id (ov'id), 43 B.C.-17? A.D., Roman poet. n.

o vi duct (ō'və dukt), tube through which the ovum or egg passes from the ovary. n.

O vie do (ō vyā'fēō), city in NW Spain. 115,000. n.

o vi form (ō'və fōrm), egg-shaped. adj.

o vip a rous (ō vip'ə rəs), producing eggs that are hatched after leaving the body. Birds are oviparous. adj.

o vi pos i tor (ō'və poz'ə tər), in certain insects, an organ at the end of the abdomen, by which eggs are deposited. n.

o void (ō'void), 1. egg-shaped. 2. an egg-shaped object. 1 adj., 2 n.

o vu lar (ō'vyə lər), of an ovule; being an ovule. adj.

o vule (ō'vūl), 1. a little ovum. 2. part of a plant that develops into a seed. n.

o vum (ō'vəm), a female germ cell; egg. n., pl. o va.

owe (ō), 1. have to pay; be in debt for: I owe the grocer $10. 2. be in debt: He is always owing for something. 3. be obliged or indebted for: We owe a great deal to our parents. v., owed, owing.

ow ing (ō'ing), 1. that owes: a man owing money. 2. due; owed: pay what is owing. adj.

ow ing to, on account of; because of; due to; as a result of: The game was called off owing to rain.

owl (oul), bird with a big head, big eyes, and a short, hooked beak. Owls hunt mice and small birds at night. Some kinds have tufts of feathers on their heads, called "horns" or "ears." See screech owl for another picture. n.

ow let (oul'it), 1. a young owl. 2. a small owl. n.

owl ish (oul'ish), 1. like an owl; like an owl's. 2. trying to look wise. adj.

own (ōn), 1. of oneself or itself; belonging to oneself or itself: We have our own troubles. The house is her own. 2. in closest relationship: Own brothers have the same parents. 3. the one or ones belonging to oneself or itself. 4. have; possess: He owns much land. 5. acknowledge; admit; confess: He owned his guilt. She owns to many faults. The prisoner owned up to the crime. 6. acknowledge as one's own: His father will not own him. 1,2 adj., 3 n., 4-6 v.

come into one's own, 1. get what belongs to one. 2. get the success or credit that one deserves.

hold one's own, keep one's position; not be forced back.

of one's own, belonging to oneself.

on one's own, Informal. on one's own account, responsibility, resources, etc.

own er (ōn'ər), one who owns: The owner of the dog bought him a collar. n. —own'er less, adj.

own er ship (ōn'ər ship), state of being an owner; the possessing (of something); right of possession. n.

ox (oks), 1. the full-grown male of cattle, that has been castrated and is used as a draft animal or for beef. 2. any of a group of mammals with horns and cloven hoofs, including domestic cattle, buffaloes, bison, etc. n., pl. ox en. —ox'like', adj.

ox al ic acid (oks al'ik), a poisonous organic acid that occurs in many plants. It is used for bleaching, removing stains, making dyes, etc.

ox a lis (ok'sə lis), any of several plants with acid juice, usually having leaves composed of three heart-shaped leaflets, and white, yellow, or pink flowers; wood sorrel. n.

ox bow (oks'bō'), 1. U.S. a U-shaped piece of wood placed under and around the neck of an ox, with the upper ends inserted in the bar of the yoke. 2. a U-shaped bend in a river. 3. land contained within it. n.

American great horned owl (about 2 ft. long, from top of head to tip of tail) ox cart (oks/kärt'), cart drawn by oxen. n.

ox en (ok/sn), pl. of ox. n.
ox eye (oks/i'), 1. the common American daisy. 2. any of several plants like it. n.
ox-eyed (oks/id'), having large, full eyes like those of an ox. adj.
ox ford (oks/fərd), 1. kind of low shoe. 2. a very dark gray. n.
Ox ford (oks/fərd), 1. city in S England. 105,000. 2. the very old and famous English university located there. 3. oxford. n.
Oxford gray, a very dark gray.
ox id (ok/sid), oxide. n.
ox i da tion (ok/sə dā'shən), 1. an oxidizing; the combining of oxygen with another element to form one or more new substances. Burning is one kind of oxidation. 2. being oxidized. n.
ox ide (ok/sid), compound of oxygen with another element or radical. n.
ox i dize (ok/sə diz), 1. combine with oxygen. When a substance burns or rusts, it is oxidized. 2. rust. 3. lose or cause to lose hydrogen. 4. change to a higher positive valence. v., ox i dized, ox i diz ing. —ox'i diz'er, n.
ox lip (oks/lip'), primrose that has clusters of pale-yellow flowers. n.
Ox o ni an (oks ō'nē ən), 1. of or having to do with Oxford University or Oxford. 2. member or graduate of Oxford University. 3. native or inhabitant of Oxford. 1 adj., 2,3 n.
Ox us (ok/səs), river in W Asia, flowing into the Aral Sea. 1500 mi. n.
ox y a cet y lene (ok'sē ə set'ə lēn), of, having to do with, or using a mixture of oxygen and acetylene. adj.
oxyacetylene torch, tool with a very hot flame for welding or cutting metals. It uses a mixture of oxygen and acetylene.

ox y gen (ok/sə jən), gas without color or odor that forms about one fifth of the air. Animals and plants cannot live, and fire will not burn, without oxygen. Oxygen is a chemical element present in a combined form in water and many other substances. Symbol: O n.
ox y gen ate (ok/sə jən āt), 1. treat or combine with oxygen. 2. oxidize. v., ox y gen at ed, ox y gen at ing. —ox'y gen a'tion, n.
ox y gen ize (ok/sə jən īz), treat with oxygen; combine with oxygen. v., ox y gen ized, ox y gen iz ing. —ox'y gen iz'a ble, adj.
oxygen mask, device worn over the nose and mouth by aviators at very high altitudes, through which supplementary oxygen is supplied from an attached container.
oxygen tent, a small tent that can be filled with oxygen, used in treating some diseases.
o yez or o yes (ō'yes), hear! attend! a cry uttered, usually three times, by a public or court crier to command silence and attention before a proclamation, etc., is made. interj., n. o y ster (ois'tər), 1. kind of mollusk much used as food, having a rough, irregular shell in two halves. Oysters are found in shallow water along seacoasts. Some kinds yield pearls. 2. an oyster-shaped bit of dark meat in the back of a fowl. n.
oz., ounce. pl. ozs.
Ozark Mountains (ō'zärk), a low mountain range in S Missouri, N Arkansas, and E Oklahoma. 1500-2300 ft.
O zarks (ō'zärks), the Ozark Mountains. n.pl.
o zone (ō'zōn), 1. form of oxygen with a peculiar odor, produced by electricity and present in the air, especially after a thunderstorm. Formula: O₃. 2. Informal. pure air that is refreshing. n. o zo nif er ous (ō zə nif'ər əs), containing ozone. adj.

P

P or p (pē), the 16th letter of the alphabet. n., pl. P's or p's.
mind your P's and Q's, be careful.
P, phosphorus.
p., 1. page. 2. participle.
pa (pā), Informal. papa; father. n.
Pa, protactinium.
Pa., Pennsylvania.
pace (pās), 1. rate; speed: John sets a fast pace in walking. 2. set the pace for: A motorboat will pace the boys training for the rowing match. 3. a step. 4. walk over with regular steps: pace the floor. 5. walk with regular steps: The tiger paced up and down his cage. 6. length of a step in walking; about 2½ feet. 7. measure by paces: We paced off the distance and found it to be 69 paces. 8. way of stepping. The walk, trot, and canter are some of the paces of the horse. 9. particular pace of some horses in which the feet on the same side are lifted and put down together. 10. (of a horse) move at a pace. 1,3,6,8,9 n., 2,4,5,7,10 v., paced, pac ing.
keep pace with, keep up with; go as fast as.
put one through his paces, try one out; find out what one can do.
set the pace, 1. set an example of speed for others to follow. 2. be an example or model for others to follow.
pace mak er (pās/māk'ər), person, animal, or thing that sets the pace. n.
pac er (pās'ər), 1. one that paces. 2. horse that lifts and puts down the feet on the same side together. n.
pach y derm (pak'ə dērm), a thick-skinned mammal with hoofs. The elephant, hippopotamus, and rhinoceros are pachyderms. n.
Pa cif ic (pə sif'ik), 1. the great ocean west of North and South America, extending to Asia and Australia. 70,000,000 sq. mi. 2. of the Pacific Ocean. 3. on or near the Pacific Ocean. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

pa cif ic (pə sif'ik), 1. tending to make peace; making peace. 2. loving peace; not warlike. 3. peaceful; calm; quiet. adj. —pa cif'i cal ly, adv.
pac i fi ca tion (pas'ə fə kā'shən), pacifying; making peaceful; being in a state of peace. n.
pac i fi er (pas'ə fī'ər), 1. person or thing that pacifies. 2. a rubber nipple or ring given to a baby to suck. n.
pac i fism (pas'ə fīz əm), principle or policy of establishing and maintaining universal peace; settlement of all differences between nations by peaceful means; opposition to war. n.
pac i fist (pas'ə fīst), person who is opposed to war and favors settling all disputes between nations by peaceful means. n.
pac i fy (pas'ə fī), 1. make calm; quiet down: Can't you pacify that screaming baby? 2. bring peace to: Soldiers were sent to pacify the country. v., pac i fied, pac i fy ing.
pack (pak), 1. bundle of things wrapped up or tied together for carrying: The soldier carried a pack on his back. 2. put together in a bundle, box, bale, etc.: Pack your clothes in this bag. 3. put things together in a bundle, box, bale, etc.: Are you ready to pack? 4. fill with things; put one's things into: Pack your trunk. 5. fit together closely; admit of storing and shipping: These goods pack well. 6. press or crowd closely together: A hundred men were packed into one small room. 7. become packed; crowd together. 8. put into a container to be sold or stored: Meat, fish, fruit, and vegetables are often packed in cans. 9. amount packed: This year's pack of fish is larger than last year's. 10. set; lot; a number together: a pack of thieves, a pack of nonsense, a pack of lies. 11. a number of animals hunting together; a number of dogs kept together for hunting: Wolves hunt in packs; lions hunt alone. 12. a complete set of playing cards, usually 52. 13. a large area of floating pieces of ice pushed together: A ship forced its way through the pack. 14. something put on the body or skin as a treatment: A cloth soaked in hot or cold water is often used as a pack. 15. make tight with something that water, steam, air, etc., cannot leak through: The plumber packed the joint in the two sections of pipe with string and a special compound. 16. load (an animal) with a pack; burden. 17. Informal. carry: pack a gun. 1,9-14 n., 2-8,15-17 v.

pack off, send away.

send packing, send away in a hurry.

pack² (pak), arrange unfairly. To pack a jury or a convention is to fill it unfairly with those who will favor one side. v.

pack age (pak'ij), 1. bundle of things packed or wrapped together; box with things packed in it; parcel. 2. put in a package. 1 n., 2 v., pack aged, pack ag ing.

pack animal, animal used for carrying loads or packs.

pack er (pak'or), person or thing that packs; especially, one who packs meat, fruit, vegetables, etc., to be sold. n.

pack et (pak'it), 1. a small package; parcel: a packet of letters. 2. packet boat. n.

packet boat, boat that carries mail, passengers, and goods regularly on a fixed route.

pack horse, horse used to carry packs of goods.

pack ing (pak'ing), 1. material used to pack or to make watertight, steamtight, etc.: the packing around the valves of a radiator. 2. business of preparing and packing meat, fish, fruit, vegetables, etc., to be sold. n.

packing house, place where meat, fruit, vegetables, etc., are prepared and packed to be sold.

pack rat, a large North American rat with a bushy tail, that carries away and hides food, clothing, tools, etc., often bringing something else in exchange.

pack sad dle (pak'sad'l), saddle specially adapted for supporting the load on a pack animal. n.

pack train, line or group of animals carrying loads.

packt (pakt), agreement; compact. n.

pad¹ (pad), 1. a soft mass used for comfort, protection, or stuffing; cushion: The baby's carriage has a pad made to fit it. 2. fill with something soft; stuff: pad a chair. 3. a soft, stuffed saddle. 4. one of the cushionlike parts on the bottom side of the feet of dogs, foxes, and some other animals. 5. foot of a dog, fox, etc. 6. the large floating leaf of the water lily. 7. number of sheets of paper fastened along an edge or edges; tablet. 8. cloth soaked with ink to use with a rubber stamp. 9. make (a written paper or speech) longer by using unnecessary words just to fill space. 10. launching pad. 1,3-8,10 n., 2,9 v., pad ded, pad ding.

pad² (pad), 1. walk; tramp; trudge. 2. walk or trot softly. 3. a dull sound, as of footsteps on the ground. 4. a slow horse for riding on a road. 1,2 v., pad ded, pad ding; 3,4 n.

pad ding (pad'ing), 1. material used to pad with, such as hair, cotton, or straw. 2. unnecessary words used just to fill space in making a speech or a written paper longer. n.

pad dle¹ (pad'l), 1. a short oar with a broad blade at one end or both ends, used without resting it against the boat. 2. move (a boat or canoe) with a paddle or paddles. 3. use a paddle to move a canoe. 4. row gently. 5. act of paddling; a turn at the paddle. 6. one of the broad boards fixed around a water wheel or a paddle wheel to push, or be pushed by, the water. 7. a paddle-shaped piece of wood used for stirring, for mixing, for beating clothes, etc. 8. U.S. Informal. beat with a paddle; spank. 1,5-7 n., 2-4,8 v., pad dled, pad ding. —pad'dler, n.

Pack animal

Man using a paddle (def. 1)

pad dle² (pad'l), move the hands or feet about in water. v., pad dled, pad ding. —pad'dler, n.

pad dle fish (pad'l fish'), a large fish whose long, flat snout looks somewhat like a canoe paddle. n., pl.

pad dle fish es or (esp. collectively) pad dle fish.

paddle wheel, wheel with paddles fixed around it for propelling a ship over the water.

pad dock (pad'ək), 1. a small field near a stable or house, used as a pasture. 2. pen for horses at a race track. n.

pad dy (pad'ē), 1. rice. 2. rice in the husk, uncut or gathered. 3. field of rice. n., pl. pad dies.

Pad dy (pad'ē), nickname for an Irishman. n., pl. Pad dies.

Pad e rew ski (pad'ə ref'skē), Ignace Jan, 1860-1941, Polish pianist, composer, and statesman. n.

pad i (pad'ē), paddy. n., pl. pad is.

pad lock (pad'lok'), 1. lock that can be put on and removed. It hangs by a curved bar, hinged at one end and snapped shut at the other. 2. fasten with a padlock. 1 n., 2 v.

Padlock

pa dre (pā'drā), 1. father. It is used as a name for a priest. 2. Informal. chaplain in the army or navy. n.

pa dro ne (pā drō'nā), Italian. master; boss. n.

Pad u a (paj'ū ə), city in northeast Italy. 177,000. n.

Pa du cah (pā dū'kə or pā dū'kə), city in W Kentucky, on the Ohio River. 34,000. n.

pae an (pē'an), song of praise, joy, or triumph. n. Also, pean.

pa gan (pā'gən), 1. person who is not a Christian, Jew, or Moslem; one who worships false gods; heathen. The ancient Greeks and Romans were pagans. 2. having to do with pagans; not Christian, Jewish, or Moslem. 3. person who has no religion. 4. not religious. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

pa gan dom (pā'gən dəm), the pagan world; pagans collectively; all pagans. n.

Pag a ni ni (pag'ə nē'nē), Nicolò, 1784-1840, Italian violinist. n.

pa gan ism (pā'gən iz əm), 1. pagan attitude toward religion or morality. 2. beliefs and practices of pagans. 3. being a pagan. n.

page¹ (pāj), 1. one side of a leaf or sheet of paper: a page in this book. 2. print or writing on one side of a leaf. 3. a record; the pages of history. 4. happening or time considered as part of history: The settling of the West is a glorious page in the history of the United States. 5. number the pages of. 1-4 n., 5 v., paged, pag ing.

page² (pāj), 1. a boy servant; errand boy. 2. U.S. try to find (a person) at a hotel, club, etc., by having his name called out. 3. U.S. boy who carries messages, books, etc., for members of Congress or of a State legislature. 4. youth who attends a person of rank. 5. youth who was preparing to be a knight. 1,3-5 n., 2 v., paged, pag ing.

page ant (paj'ənt), 1. an elaborate spectacle; procession in costume; pomp; display: The coronation of the new king was a splendid pageant. 2. a public entertainment that represents scenes from history, legend, or the like: Our school gave a pageant of the coming of the Pilgrims to America. 3. empty show, not reality. n.

pag eant ry (paj'ənt rē), 1. a splendid show; gorgeous display; pomp. 2. mere show; empty display. n., pl. pag eant ries.

pag i na tion (paj'ə nā'shən), 1. act of numbering the pages of books, etc. 2. the figures with which pages are numbered. n.

pa go da (pe gō'dā), temple with many stories forming a tower. Pagodas are built in India, China, and Japan. n.

Pa go Pa go or Pa go pa go (pāng'ō-pāng'ō), capital of American Samoa, in the SW Pacific. A United States naval and coaling station is located there. 1600. n.

paid (pād), 1. receiving money; hired. 2. no longer owed; settled. 3. cashed. 4. pt. and pp. of pay. I have paid my bills. These bills are all paid. 1-3 adj., 4 v.

pail (pāl), 1. a round container for carrying liquids, etc.; bucket: a milk pail. 2. amount a pail holds. n.

pail ful (pāl'fūl), amount that fills a pail. n., pl. pail fuls.

pain (pān), 1. a feeling of being hurt; suffering: A cut gives pain. The death of one we love causes pain. 2. cause to suffer; give pain: Does your tooth pain you? 1 n., 2 v.

on pain of, with the punishment or penalty of unless a certain thing is done.

pains, 1. care; effort; trouble to do something. 2. sufferings of childbirth.

Paine (pān), Thomas, 1737-1809, American writer on politics and religion, born in England. n.

pain ful (pān'fəl), 1. causing pain; unpleasant; hurting: a painful illness, a painful duty. 2. difficult. adj. —pain'ful ly, adv. —pain'ful ness, n.

pain less (pān'lis), without pain; causing no pain. adj.

pains tak ing (pānz'tāk'ing), very careful; particular; scrupulous: a painstaking painter. adj. —pains-tak'ing ly, adv.

paint (pānt), 1. solid coloring matter mixed with a liquid, that can be put on a surface to make a layer or film of white, black, or colored material. 2. cover or decorate with paint: paint a house. 3. use paint. 4. represent (an object, etc.) in colors: The artist painted fairies and angels. 5. make pictures. 6. picture vividly in words. 7. coloring matter put on the face or body. 8. put on like paint: The doctor painted iodine on the cut. 1,7 n., 2-6,8 v.

paint brush (pānt'brush'), brush for putting on paint. n.

paint er: (pān'tər), 1. person who paints pictures; artist. 2. person who paints houses, woodwork, etc. n.

paint er: (pān'tər), a rope, usually fastened to the bow of a boat, for tying it to a ship, pier, etc. n.

paint er: (pān'tər), the American panther or mountain lion. n.

paint ing (pān'ting), 1. something painted; picture. 2. act of one that paints. 3. art of representation, decoration, and creating beauty with paints. n.

pair (pār), 1. a set of two; two that go together: a pair of shoes, a pair of horses. 2. arrange or be arranged in pairs: pair stockings. 3. a single thing consisting of two parts that cannot be used separately: a pair of scissors, a pair of trousers. 4. two people who are married or are engaged to be married. 5. join in love and marriage. 6. two animals that are mated. 7. mate. 8. two members on opposite sides who arrange not to vote on a certain question. 9. the arrangement thus made. 1,3,4,6,8,9 n., pl. pairs or (sometimes after a numeral) pair; 2,5,7, v.

pair off, arrange in pairs; form into pairs.

pais ley (pāz'lē), 1. a soft woolen cloth with a very elaborate and colorful pattern. 2. made of paisley; having a pattern like paisley. 3. something made of paisley. 1,3 n., pl. pais leys; 2 adj.

pa ja mas (pə jə'mæz), 1. garments to sleep in, etc., consisting of a coat and loose trousers fastened at the waist. 2. loose trousers worn by Moslem men and women. n.pl. Also, esp. Brit. pyjamas.

Pak i stan (pak'ə stan), independent republic within the British Commonwealth, in S. Asia. It is divided into two parts, one west, the other east of the Republic of India. 93,812,000 pop.; 364,737 sq. mi. Capital: Rawalpindi. See India for map. n.

Pagoda

pal (pal), 1. comrade; mate; partner; chum; accomplice. 2. associate as pals. 1 n., 2 v., palled, pal ling.

pal ace (pal'is), 1. a grand house for a king, queen, bishop, or some other exalted personage to live in. 2. a very fine house or building. n.

pal an quin or pal an keen (pal'an kēn'), a covered couch carried by poles resting on men's shoulders. n.

Palanquin

pal at a ble (pal'ə tə bl), agreeable to the taste; pleasing: That was a most palatable lunch. I find your suggestion extremely palatable. adj. —pal'at a bly, adv.

pal a tal (pal'ə tl), 1. of or having to do with the palate. 2. made with the tongue near or touching the hard palate. The y in yet is a palatal sound. 3. a palatal sound. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

pal a tal ize (pal'ə tl iz), change into a palatal sound. v., pal a tal ized, pal a-tal iz ing.

pal ate (pal'it), 1. roof of the mouth. The bony part in front is the hard palate, and the fleshy part in back is the soft palate. 2. sense of taste: The new flavor pleased his palate. 3. liking. n.

pa la tial (pə lā'shəl), like a palace; fit for a palace; magnificent. adj. —pa la'tial ly, adv.

pal a tine (pal'ə tīn), 1. having royal rights in his own territory. A count palatine was subject only to the emperor or king. 2. lord having royal rights in his own territory. 3. of a lord who has royal rights in his own territory. 4. palatial. 1,3,4 adj., 2 n.

Palatine Hill, one of the seven hills on which the city of Rome was built.

Pa lau (pū lou'), about 100 islands in the W Pacific, a part of the Caroline group. 9000 pop.; 185 sq. mi. n.

pa lav er (pə lav'ər), 1. parley or conference, especially between travelers and uncivilized natives. 2. talk. 3. smooth, persuading talk; fluent talk; flattery. 4. talk fluently or flatteringly. 1-3 n., 2,4 v.

pale (pāl), 1. without much color; whitish: When you have been ill, your face is sometimes pale. 2. not bright; dim: pale blue. 3. turn pale: Helen's face paled at the bad news. 1,2 adj., paler, pal est; 3 v., paled, pal ing. —pale'ly, adv.

Fence made of pales pale: (pāl), 1. a long, narrow board, pointed at the top, used for fences. 2. boundary: outside the pale of civilized society. 3. enclose with pales. 1,2 n., 3 v., paled, pal ing.

pale face (pāl'fās'), a white person. The North American Indians are said to have called white people pale-faces. n.

pale ness (pāl'nis), condition of being pale. n.

pa le o lith ic (pāl'ē ə lith'ik), of or having to do with the earlier part of the Stone Age. Paleolithic tools were crudely chipped out of stone. adj.

pa le on tol o gist (pāl'ē on tol'ə jist), person skilled in paleontology. n.

pa le on tol o gy (pāl'ē on tol'ə-jē), science of the forms of life existing long ago, as represented by fossil animals and plants. n.

Pa le o zo ic (pāl'ē ə zō'ik), 1. an old geological era whose fossils represent early forms of life; age of fishes. 2. rocks formed in this era. 3. of this era or these rocks. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Pa ler mo (pə lār'mō), seaport and capital of Sicily, in the NW part. 570,000. n.

Pal es tine (pal'is tīn), 1. the region in SW Asia between the Mediterranean Sea and the Jordan River, sometimes including various other land.

The name has been applied since ancient times to the land of the Jews. Palestine is often called the Holy Land and in the Bible is called Canaan. 2. a former country, 1916-1948, in that region, which included Israel and other territory now Arab-controlled. n.

pal ette (pal'it), 1. a thin board, usually oval or oblong, with a thumb hole at one end, used by painters to lay and mix colors on. 2. set of colors on this board. n.

pal frey (pôl'frē), a gentle riding horse, especially one used by ladies. n., pl. pal freys.

pal imp sest (pal'imp sest), parchment or other writing material from which one writing has been erased to make room for another; manuscript with one text written over another. n.

pal ing (pāl'ing), 1. fence of pales. 2. pale in a fence. n.

pal isade (pal'ə sād'), 1. a long, strong wooden stake pointed at the top end. 2. fence of stakes set firmly in the ground to enclose or defend. 3. furnish or surround with a palisade. 4. line of high, steep cliffs. 1,2,4 n., 3 v. pal isad ed, pal isad ing.

Pal isades (pal'ə sād'z), line of high, steep cliffs along the western bank of the Hudson River opposite New York City and Yonkers. n.pl.

pal l (pôl), 1. a heavy cloth of black, purple, or white velvet spread over a coffin, a hearse, or a tomb. 2. a dark, gloomy covering: A pall of smoke shut out the sun from the city. n.

pal l (pôl), 1. become distasteful or very tiresome because there has been too much of it: Even the most tasty food palls if it is served day after day without variety. 2. cloy. v.

pal la di um (pə lā'dē əm), a rare silver-white metallic element. It is harder than platinum. Symbol; Pd n.

Pal las (pal'əs), a name of Athena. n.

pall bear er (pôl'bār'ər), one of the men who walk with the coffin at a funeral. n.

pal let (pal'it), bed of straw; poor bed. n.

pal li ate (pal'ē āt), 1. lessen without curing; mitigate: palliate a disease. 2. make appear less serious; excuse: palliate a fault. v., pal li at ed, pal li at ing.

pal li a tive (pal'ē ā'tiv), 1. useful to lessen or soften; mitigating; excusing. 2. something that lessens, softens, mitigates, or excuses. 1 adj., 2 n.

pal lid (pal'id), lacking color; pale: a pallid face. adj.

pal lor (pal'ər), lack of color from fear, illness, death, etc.; paleness. n.

palm (pām), 1. inside of the hand between the wrist and the fingers. 2. width of a hand; 3 to 4 inches. 3. conceal in the hand: palm a nickel. 4. pass or get accepted (something not good). 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

grease the palm of, bribe.

have an itching palm, be greedy for money.

palm off, pass off or get accepted by tricks, fraud, or false representation.

palm (pām), 1. any of many kinds of trees growing in warm climates. Most palms are tall and have a bunch of large leaves at the top. 2. branch or leaf of a palm tree as a symbol of victory or triumph. 3. victory; triumph. n.

bear or carry off the palm, be the victor; win: He bore off the palm both in tennis and swimming.

yield the palm to, admit defeat by.

Pal ma (pāl'mā), seaport in W Majorca, capital of the Balearic Islands. 150,000. n.

pal mate (pal'māt), 1. shaped like Artist's palette

Palisades

Sentinel palm

Palmate leaf

a hand with the fingers spread out: a palmate leaf. 2. web-footed; having the front toes joined by a web; webbed. adj.

palm er (pām'ər), 1. pilgrim returning from the Holy Land bringing a palm branch as a token. 2. pilgrim. n.

pal met to (pal met'ō), any of several kinds of palm trees with fan-shaped leaves, abundant on the SE coast of the United States. n., pl. pal met tos or pal met toes palm ist (pām'ist), person who tells fortunes by examining the palm of the hand. n.

palm is try (pām'is trē), art of telling a person's fortune from lines and marks in the palm of his hand. n.

palm leaf, leaf of a palm tree, used for making hats, baskets, fans, etc.

palm oil, a yellow fat from the fruit of a palm tree, used to make soap and candles.

Palm Sunday, the Sunday before Easter Sunday.

palm y (pām'ē), 1. abounding in palms. 2. flourishing; prosperous; glorious: palm y days of peace. adj., palm i er, palm i est.

pal o mi no (pal'ə mē'nō), a cream-colored horse of Arabian stock. Its mane and tail are usually lighter colored. n., pl. pal o mi nos.

pal pa bil i ty (pal'pə bil'ē tē), being palpable. n.

pal pa ble (pal'pə bl), 1. readily seen or heard and recognized; obvious: a palpable error. 2. that can be touched or felt. adj.

pal pa bly (pal'pə blē), 1. plainly; obviously. 2. to the touch. adv.

pal pi (pal'pī), pl. of palpus. n.

pal pi tate (pal'pə tāt), 1. beat very rapidly: Your heart palpitates when you are excited. 2. quiver; tremble: His body palpitated with terror. v., pal pi tat ed, pal pi tat ing.

pal pi ta tion (pal'pə tā'shən), PALPI

1. very rapid beating of the heart.

2. a quivering; trembling. n.

pal pus (pal'pəs), the jointed feeler attached to the mouth of insects, spiders, lobsters, etc. Palpi are organs of touch or taste. n., pl. pal pi.

pal sied (pôl'zēd), 1. having the palsy; paralyzed.

2. shaking; trembling. adj.

pal sy (pôl'zē), 1. paralysis; loss of power to feel, to move, or to control motion in any part of the body. 2. paralyze. 1 n., pl. pal sies; 2 v., pal sied, pal sy ing.

pal ter (pôl'tər), 1. talk or act insincerely; trifle deceitfully: Do not palter with the truth. 2. act carelessly; trifle: Do not palter with a decision involving life and death.

3. deal crookedly; use tricks and dodges in bargaining. v.

pal try (pôl'trē), almost worthless; trifling; petty; mean: Pay no attention to paltry gossip. adj., pal tri er, pal tri est. —pal'tri ly, adv. —pal'tri ness, n.

Pa mirs (pə mir'z), The, a high plateau and mountain range in central Asia, north of India. The highest peak is 24,590 feet. n.

Pam li co Sound (pām'lə kō), a narrow stretch of water between the coast of North Carolina and a long chain of narrow islands. 80 mi. long.

pam pas (pām'pez), the vast, treeless plains of South America, especially in Argentina. n.pl.

Pam pas (pām'pəz), a highly productive region of Argentina. n.pl.

pam per (pām'pər), indulge too much; allow too many privileges to: pamper a child, pamper one's appetite. v. —pam'per er, n.

pam phlet (pām'flit), booklet in paper covers. It often deals with a question of current interest. n.

pam phlet eer (pām'flit ir'), 1. writer of pamphlets. 2. write and issue pamphlets. 1 n., 2 v.

pan (pan), 1. dish for cooking and other household uses, usually broad, shallow, and with no cover. 2. anything like this. Gold and other metals are sometimes obtained by washing ore in pans. The dishes on a pair of scales are called pans. 3. cook in a pan. 4. wash in a pan: pan gold. 5. wash (gravel, sand, etc.) in a pan to get gold. 6. yield gold. 7. in old-fashioned guns, the hollow part of the lock that held a little gunpowder to set the gun off. 8. hard subsoil. 9. Informal. criticize severely: The drama critic panned the new play. 1,2,7,8 n., 3-6,9 v., panned, pan ning.

pan out, Informal. turn out: His scheme panned out well.

Pan (pan), the Greek god of forests, pastures, flocks, and shepherds. Pan is described as a man with legs like a goat and as playing on musical pipes. n.

pan a ce a (pan'ə sē'ə), remedy for all diseases or ills; cure-all. n.

Pan a ma (pan'ə mä), 1. Isthmus of, a narrow neck of land connecting North America with South America. 420 mi. long; 31 mi. wide at the narrowest part. 2. country on the Isthmus of Panama, on either side of the Canal Zone. 1,066,000 pop.; 28,575 sq. mi. See Canal Zone for map. 3. its capital, a seaport on the Bay of Panama. 222,000. 4. Bay of, bay of the Pacific on the S coast of the Isthmus of Panama. n.

pan a ma (pan'ə mä), a fine hat woven from the young leaves of a palmlike plant of Central and South America. n.

Panama Canal, canal cut across the Isthmus of Panama to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, built and controlled by the United States. 40 mi. long; 100-300 ft. wide. See Central America for map.

Panama Canal Zone. See Canal Zone.

Pan a ma ni an (pan'ə mā'nē an), 1. of or having to do with Panama. 2. native or inhabitant of Panama. 1 adj., 2 n.

Pan-A mer i can (pan'ə mer'ə kən), 1. of all Americans. 2. including all the countries of North, Central, and South America. adj.

Pan-A mer i can ism (pan'ə mer'ə kən iz'əm), principle or policy that all the countries in South America, Central America, and North America should cooperate for the improvement of their welfare. n.

Pan American Union, organization having representatives from each of the 21 American republics, formed to promote mutual cooperation and further the interests of peace.

Pa nay (pā nī'), one of the central islands in the Philippines. 1,310,000 pop.; 4446 sq. mi. See Philippines for map. n.

pan cake (pan'kāk'), 1. a thin, flat cake of batter, fried in a pan or on a griddle. 2. a quick, almost flat landing by an airplane. 3. make such a landing: The pilot pancaked his damaged plane onto an open field. 1,2 n., 3 v., pan caked, pan cak ing.

pan chro mat ic (pan'krō mat'ik), sensitive to light of all colors: a panchromatic photographic film. adj.

pan cre as (pan'krē əs), gland near the stomach that discharges into the intestine a secretion that helps digestion. The pancreas of animals when used for food is called sweetbread. n.

pan cre at ic (pan'krē at'ik), of the pancreas. The pancreatic juice aids digestion. adj.

pan da (pan'də), 1. the giant panda, a bearlike mammal of Tibet, mostly white with black legs. 2. a reddish-brown mammal somewhat like a raccoon, that lives in the Himalayas. n.

pan de mo ni um (pan'də mō'nē əm), 1. place of wild disorder or lawless confusion. 2. wild uproar or lawlessness. n.

pan der (pan'dər), 1. person who helps other people indulge low desires, passions, or vices. 2. act as a pander; supply material or opportunity for vices: The newspaper pandered to people's liking for sensational stories. 1 n., 2 v.

Pan dit (pun'dit), Madame Vijaya Lakshmi, born 1900, Indian stateswoman, sister of Jawaharlal Nehru. n.

Pan do ra (pan dō'rə), in Greek mythology, the first woman, created by the gods to punish mankind for having learned the use of fire. Curiosity led her to open a box (Pandora's box) and thus let out all sorts of ills into the world. Only Hope remained at the bottom. n.

pane (pān), a single sheet of glass in a window, a door, or a sash: Hailstones broke several panes of glass. n.

pan e gyr ic (pan'ə jir'ik), 1. speech or writing in praise of a person or thing. 2. enthusiastic or extravagant praise. n.

pan e gyr ist (pan'ə jir'ist), person who praises enthusiastically or extravagantly. n.

pan el (pan'el), 1. strip or surface that is different in some way from what is around it. A panel is often sunk below or raised above the rest, and used for a decoration. Panels may be in a door or other woodwork, on large pieces of furniture, or made as parts of a dress. 2. arrange in panels; furnish or decorate with panels: The room was paneled with oak. 3. picture, photograph, or design much longer than wide. 4. list of persons called as jurors; the members of a jury. 5. a group formed for discussion. 1,3-5 n., 2 v., pan eled, pan el ing or esp. Brit. pan elled, pan el ling.

panel discussion, the discussion of a particular issue by a selected group of people.

pan el ing (pan'el ing), panels collectively. n.

pan el ist (pan'el ist), person who takes part in a panel discussion. n.

pan el ling (pan'el ing), Esp. Brit. paneling. n.

pang (pang), a sudden, short, sharp pain or feeling: the pangs of a toothache, a pang of pity. n.

pan go lin (pang gō'len), a scaly, toothless mammal of tropical Asia and Africa that rolls itself into a ball when in danger; scaly anteater. n.

pan han dle (pan'han'dl), 1. handle of a pan.

2. U.S. a narrow strip of land projecting like a handle. n.

pan han dle (pan'han'dl), Informal. beg, especially in the streets. v., pan han dled, pan han dling. —pan'han'dler, n.

Pan hel len ic or pan hel len ic (pan'hə len'ik), 1. of all members of the Greek race. 2. of all college fraternities and sororities. adj.

pan ic (pan'ik), 1. fear spreading through a multitude of people so that they lose control of themselves; unreasoning fear: When the theater caught fire, there was a panic. When four banks failed in one day, there was a panic among businessmen. 2. caused by panic; showing panic; unreasonable: panic terror, panic haste. 3. Slang. make (an audience, etc.) laugh. 4. go into a state of panic: The audience panicked when the fire broke out. 1 n., 2 adj., 3,4 v., pan icked, pan ick ing.

pan ick y (pan'ik ē), 1. caused by panic.

2. showing panic. 3. like panic. 4. liable to lose self-control and have a panic. adj.

pan i cle (pan'ə kl), a compound raceme; a loose, diversely branching flower cluster: a panicle of oats. n.

pan ic-strick en (pan'ik strik'ən), frightened out of one's wits; demoralized by fear. adj.

pan ni er (pan'ē ər), basket, especially one of a pair of considerable size to be slung across the shoulders or across the back of a beast of burden. n.

pan ni kin (pan'ə kin), 1. a small pan. 2. a metal cup or mug. n.

pan o plied (pan'ə plēd), completely armed, equipped, covered, or arrayed. adj.

pan o ply (pan'ə plē), 1. a complete suit of armor. 2. complete equipment or covering: an Indian in panoply of paint and feathers. n., pl. pan o plies.

pan o ram a (pan'ə ram'ə), 1. a wide, unbroken view of a surrounding region: a panorama of beach and sea. 2. a complete survey of some subject: a panorama of

Panels in a wall (def. 1)

Giant panda (about 6 ft. long)

Panicle

Panniers

history. 3. picture of a landscape or other scene, often shown as if seen from a central point; picture unrolled a part at a time and made to pass continuously before the spectators. 4. a continuously passing or changing scene: the panoramic of city life. n.

pan o ram ic (pan'ə ram'ik), of or like a panorama: a panoramic view. adj. —pan'o ram'i cal ly, adv.

pan sy (pan'zē), 1. variety of violet that has large flowers with flat, velvety petals usually of several colors. 2. the flower. n., pl. pan sies.

pant (pant), 1. breathe hard and quickly: pant from playing tennis. 2. a short quick breath. 3. speak with short, quick breaths: "Come quick. Come quick," panted Joe. 4. long eagerly: I am just panting for my turn. 5. puff of an engine. 6. throb violently. 7. a throb. 1,3,4,6,v., 2,5,7,n.

pan ta lets or pan ta lettes (pan'tə lets'), 1. long drawers extending to the ankles, formerly worn by women and girls. 2. pair of trimmed pieces for attaching to the legs of drawers. n.pl.

pan ta loon (pan'te lūn'), clown. n.

Pan ta loon (pan'tə lūn'), a lean, foolish old man wearing pantaloons and slippers who is a comic character in old Italian comedies. n.

pan ta loons (pan'tə lūnz'), trousers. n.pl.

pan the ism (pan'thē iz əm), 1. belief that the universe is God. 2. worship of all the gods. n.

pan the ist (pan'thē ist), believer in pantheism. n.

pan the is tic (pan'thē is'tik), of or having to do with pantheism or pantheists. adj.

pan the is ti cal ly (pan'thē is'tik lē), according to pantheism; from a pantheist's point of view. adv.

Pan the on (pan'thē on), 1. temple for all the gods, built at Rome about 27 B.C. and later used as a Christian church. 2. a public building in Paris containing tombs or memorials of famous French people. n.

pan the on (pan'thē on), 1. temple dedicated to all the gods. 2. a public building containing tombs or memorials of the illustrious dead of a nation. 3. all the deities of a people. n.

pan ther (pan'thər), 1. puma; mountain lion. 2. leopard. 3. jaguar. n., pl. pan thers or (esp. collectively) pan ther.

pan to mime (pan'tə mīm), 1. a play without words, in which the actors express themselves by gestures. 2. gestures without words. 3. express by gestures. 1,2 n., 3 v., pan to mimed, pan to mim ing.

pan to mim ic (pan'tə mim'ik), of, in, or like pantomime. adj.

pan to mim ist (pan'tə mīm'ist), actor in a pantomime. n.

pan try (pan'trē), a small room in which food, dishes, silverware, table linen, etc., are kept. n., pl. pan tries.

pants (pants), Informal. 1. Esp. U.S. trousers. 2. drawers, especially women's. n.pl.

Pan za (pan'zə), Sancho, Don Quixote's squire, a practical, shrewd peasant in a story by Cervantes. n.

pan zer (pan'zər), armored or mechanized and armored. A panzer division consists largely of tanks. adj.

pap (pap), soft food for infants or invalids. n.

pa pa (pā'pə), father; daddy. n.

pa pa cy (pā'pə sē), 1. position, rank, or authority of the Pope. 2. time during which a pope rules. 3. all the popes. 4. government by the Pope. n., pl. pa pa cies.

pa pal (pā'pl), 1. of the Pope: a papal letter. 2. of the papacy. 3. of the Roman Catholic Church: papal ritual. adj.

Papal States, a large district in central Italy that was ruled by the Pope from 755 A.D. to 1870. Most of it was annexed by Italy in 1860, the rest in 1870.

pa paw (pō'pō), 1. a small North American tree bearing oblong, yellowish, edible fruit with many beanlike seeds. 2. this fruit. 3. papaya. n. Also, pawpaw.

pa pa ya (pə'pā'yə), 1. a tropical American tree having a straight, palmlike trunk with a tuft of large leaves at the top and edible, melonlike fruit with yellowish pulp. 2. the fruit. n.

Pa pe e te (pā'pē ā'tā), seaport and the capital of French Polynesia, on the island of Tahiti. 17,288. n.

pa per (pā'pər), 1. a material in thin sheets used for writing, printing, drawing, wrapping packages, covering walls, etc. Paper is made from wood pulp, rags, etc. 2. piece or sheet of paper. 3. piece or sheet of paper with writing or printing on it; document: Important papers were stolen. 4. wrapper, container, or sheet of paper containing something. 5. newspaper. 6. article; essay: Professor Smith read a paper on the teaching of English. 7. a written examination. 8. a written promise to pay money; note. 9. paper money. 10. made of paper: paper dolls. 11. like paper; thin: almonds with paper shells. 12. existing only on paper: When he tried to sell, his paper profits disappeared. 13. wallpaper. 14. cover with paper: paper a room. 1-9,13 n., 10-12 adj., 14 v. —pa/per er, n.

on paper, 1. in writing or print. 2. in theory.

papers, documents telling who or what one is.

paper hanger, person whose business is to cover walls with wallpaper.

paper knife, knife with a blade of metal, wood, etc., used to cut open letters and the pages of books.

paper money, money made of paper, not metal. A dollar bill is paper money.

paper nautilus, a sea mollusk with eight arms, somewhat like an octopus. The female has a very thin, delicate shell in which the young develop.

paper profits, profits existing on paper, but not yet realized.

pa per weight (pā'pər wāt'), a small, heavy object put on papers to keep them from being scattered. n.

pa pier-mâ ché (pā'pər mē shā'), 1. a paper pulp mixed with some stiffener and molded when moist. It becomes hard and strong when dry. 2. made of papier-mâché. 1 n., 2 adj.

pa pil la (pə'pil'ə), 1. a small, nipple-like projection. 2. one of certain small protuberances concerned with the senses of touch, taste, or smell: the papillae on the tongue. n., pl. pa pil lae.

pa pil lae (pə'pil'ē), pl. of papilla. n.

pap il lar y (pap'ə lər'ē), 1. of or like a papilla. 2. having papillae. adj.

pa pist (pā'pist), Unfriendly use. Roman Catholic. n., adj.

pa poose or pap poose (pa'püs'), a North American Indian baby. n.

pap pus (pap'əs), an appendage to a seed, often made of down or bristles. Dandelion and thistle seeds have pappi. n., pl. pap pi (pap'ī).

pap ri ka (pap'rē'kə or pap'rə'kə), a kind of red pepper not so strong as the ordinary kind. n.

Pap u a (pap'yü ə), 1. New Guinea. 2. Territory of, the SE part of New Guinea, with nearby islands. It is a territory of Australia. 480,000 pop.; 90,540 sq. mi. Capital: Port Moresby. n.

Pap u an (pap'yü ən), 1. of or having to do with Papua or with the native Negroid race living in Papua. 2. native or inhabitant of Papua. 3. any of the Papuan languages or dialects. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

pa py rus (pə'pī'rəs), 1. a tall water plant from which the ancient Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans made a kind of paper to write on. 2. a writing material made from the pith of the papyrus plant. 3. an ancient record written on papyrus. n., pl. pa py ri (-rī).

par (pär), 1. equality; an equal level: The gains and losses are about on a par. He is quite on a par with his brother in intelligence. 2. average or normal amount, degree, or condition: A sick person feels below par. 3. average; normal. 4. the value of a bond, a note, a share of stock, etc., that is printed on it; face value:

That stock is selling above par. 5. the established normal value of the money of one country in terms of the money of another country. 6. of or at par. 7. score in golf made by perfect playing. On many golf courses 72 is par. 1,2,4,5,7 n., 3,6 adj.

par., 1. paragraph. 2. parallel. 3. parenthesis. 4. parish. Pa rá (pá rā'), the southern mouth of the Amazon River. 200 mi. long; 40 mi. wide. n.

par a ble (par'ə bl), a short story used to teach some truth or moral lesson: Jesus taught in parables. n.

pa rab o la (pə rab'ə lə), a plane curve formed by the intersection of a cone with a plane parallel to a side of the cone. n., pl. pa rab o las.

Parabola

par a bol ic¹ (par'ə bol'ik), having to do with or resembling a parabola. adj.

par a bol ic² (par'ə bol'ik), of, having to do with, or expressed in a parabola. adj.

par a chute (par'ə shüt), 1. an umbrellalike apparatus made of nylon, silk, etc., used in descending safely through the air from a great height.

2. come down by, or as if by, a parachute: The men in the burning plane parachuted safely to the ground. 3. convey by a parachute. 1 n., 2,3 v., par a chut ed, par a chut ing.

par a chut ist (par'ə shüt'ist), person who uses a parachute; person skilled in making descents with a parachute. n.

Man descending with parachute. It is fastened on by means of a harness and can be folded into a pack that is worn on the back or chest.

pa rade (pə rād'), 1. march for display; procession: The circus had a parade. 2. march through with display: The performers and animals paraded the streets. 3. march in procession; walk proudly as if in a parade. 4. group of people walking for display or pleasure. 5. place where people walk for display or pleasure. 6. a great show or display: A modest man will not make a parade of his wealth. 7. make a great show of. 8. a military display or review of troops. 9. come together in military order for review or inspection. 10. assemble (troops) for review. 11. place used for the regular parade of troops. 1,4-6,8,11 n., 2,3,7, 9,10 v., pa rad ed, pa rad ing. —pa rad'er, n.

par a digm (par'ə dim or par'ə dim), 1. pattern; example. 2. example of a noun, verb, pronoun, etc., in all its inflections. n.

par a dise (par'ə dis), 1. heaven. 2. place or condition of great happiness. 3. place of great beauty. 4. garden of Eden. n.

par a dox (par'ə doks), 1. statement that may be true but seems to say two opposite things: "More haste, less speed" and "The child is father to the man" are paradoxes. 2. statement that is false because it says two opposite things. 3. person or thing that seems to be full of contradictions. n.

par a dox i cal (par'ə dok'sə kl), 1. of paradoxes; involving a paradox. 2. having the habit of using paradoxes. adj. —par'a dox'i cal ly, adv.

par aff in (par'ə fin), 1. a white, tasteless substance like wax, used for making candles, for sealing jars, etc. It is obtained chiefly from crude petroleum. 2. treat with paraffin. 1 n., 2 v.

par a gon (par'ə gon), model of excellence or perfection. n.

par a graph (par'ə graf), 1. group of sentences that belong together; distinct part of a chapter, letter, or composition. It is customary to begin a paragraph on a new line and to indent this line. 2. divide into paragraphs. 3. a separate note or item of news in a newspaper. 4. write paragraphs about. 5. sign (¶) used to show where a paragraph begins or should begin. It is used mostly in correcting written work. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 v. —par'a graph'er, n.

Par a guay (par'ə gwā or par'ə gwī), 1. country in central South America, between Bolivia, Brazil, and Argentina. 1,718,000 pop.; 157,047 sq. mi. Capital: Asunción. See South America for map. 2. river flowing south from W Brazil into the Paraná River. 1500 mi. n. —Par'a guay'an, adj., n.

par a keet (par'ə kēt), any of various small parrots, most of which have slender bodies and long tails. n. Also, parakeet, paroquet.

par al lax (par'ə laks), the change or amount of change in the direction in which an object is seen or photographed, caused by a change in the position of the observer or camera. Seen from A, star S is in direction AS. Seen from B, it is in direction BS. The parallax is the difference between these two directions, or the angle ASB. n.

Parallax

par al lel (par'ə lel), 1. at or being the same distance apart everywhere, like the two rails of a railroad track. 2. a parallel line or surface. 3. any of the imaginary circles around the earth parallel to the equator, marking degrees of latitude. 4. the markings on a map that represent these circles. 5. be at the same distance from throughout the length: The street parallels the railroad. 6. cause to be or run parallel to. 7. similar; corresponding: parallel points in the characters of different men. 8. thing like or similar to another: Her experience was an interesting parallel to ours. 9. be like; be similar to: Your story closely parallels what he told me. 10. find a case which is similar or parallel to: Can you parallel that for friendliness? 11. comparison to show likeness: draw a parallel between this winter and last winter. 12. compare in order to show likeness.

Parallel lines

13. arrangement of the wiring of batteries, lights, etc., in which all the positive poles or terminals are joined to one conductor, and all the negative to the other. 1,7 adj., 2-4,8,11,13 n., 5,6,9,10,12 v., par al leled, par al lel ing or esp. Brit. par al leled, par al lel ing.

par al lel ism (par'ə lel iz'm), 1. a being parallel. 2. likeness; similarity; correspondence; agreement. n.

par al lel o gram (par'ə lel'ə gram), a four-sided figure whose opposite sides are parallel and equal. n.

Parallelograms

par a lyse (par'ə līz), paralyze. v., par a lysed, par a lys ing.

pa ral y sis (pə ral'ə sis), 1. a lessening or loss of the power of motion or sensation in any part of the body: The accident left him with paralysis of the legs. 2. condition of powerlessness or helpless inactivity; crippling: The war caused a paralysis of trade. n., pl. pa ral y ses (-sēz).

par a lyt ic (par'ə lit'ik), 1. of paralysis; having paralysis. 2. person who has paralysis. 1 adj., 2 n.

par a lyze (par'ə līz), 1. affect with a lessening or loss of the power of motion or feeling: His left arm was paralyzed. 2. make powerless or helplessly inactive; cripple; stun; deaden: Fear paralyzed my mind. v., par a lyzed, par a lyz ing.

Par a mar i bo (par'ə mar'ə bō), seaport and capital of Surinam (Dutch Guiana). 105,000. n.

par a me ci um (par'ə mē'shē əm), a one-celled animal shaped like a slender slipper, that is covered with cilia and has a groove along one side leading into an open mouth. Paramecia are free-swimming ciliates that usually live in stagnant water. n., pl. par a me ci a (-shē ə).

par a mount (par'ə mount), chief in importance; above others; supreme: Truth is of paramount importance. adj.

par a mour (par'ə mūr), 1. person who takes the place of a husband or wife illegally. 2. Archaic. lover. n.

Pa ra ná (pā'rə nā'), river flowing south from central Brazil into the Plata River. 2450 mi. n.

par a noi a (par'ə noi'ə), mental derangement; especially, a chronic form of insanity characterized by elaborate delusions. n.

par a noi ac (par'ə noi'ak),
1. person afflicted with paranoia.
2. of or like paranoia. 1 n.,
2 adj.

par a pet (par'ə pet), 1. a low wall or mound of stone, earth, etc., to protect soldiers. 2. a low wall at the edge of a balcony, roof, bridge, etc. n.

par a pher nal ia (par'ə fər-nāl'yə), 1. personal belongings: My paraphernalia are ready to be shipped. 2. equipment; outfit: Military paraphernalia include guns, rifles, ammunition, etc. n.pl.

par a phrase (par'ə frāz), 1. state the meaning of (a passage) in other words. 2. expression of the meaning of a passage in other words. 1 v., par a phrased, par a phras ing; 2 n.

par a ple gi a (par'ə plē'jē ə), paralysis of the legs and the lower part of the trunk. n.

par a ple gic (par'ə plē'jik or par'ə plej'ik), 1. person afflicted with paraplegia. 2. having to do with, or afflicted with, paraplegia. 1 n., 2 adj.

par a sang (par'ə sang), an ancient Persian measure of length, about $3\frac{1}{4}$ miles. n.

par a site (par'ə sit), 1. animal or plant that lives on, with, or in another, from which it gets its food. Lice and tapeworms are parasites. Mistletoe is a parasite on oak trees. 2. person who lives on others without making any useful and fitting return; hanger-on: Beggars are parasites. n.

par a sit ic (par'ə sit'ik), of or like a parasite; living on others. adj. —par'a sit'i cal ly, adv.

par a sol (par'ə sōl), a light umbrella used as a protection from the sun. n.

par a thy roid glands (par'ə thī'roid), small glands near the thyroid glands. Their secretion, which enables the body to use calcium, is necessary for life.

par a troop er (par'ə trūp'ər), soldier trained to use a parachute for descent from an aircraft into a battle area. n.

par a troops (par'ə trūps'), troops moved by air and landed by parachutes in a battle area. n.pl.

par boil (pär'boil'), 1. boil till partly cooked: Mother always parboils the beans before baking them. 2. overheat. v.

Par cae (pär'sē), in Roman mythology, the Fates. n.pl.

par cel (pär'sl), 1. bundle of things wrapped or packed together; package: The lady had her arms filled with parcels of gifts. 2. container with things packed in it: Put your shirts in this parcel. 3. piece: a parcel of land. 4. lot; pack: a parcel of liars. 5. Parcel out means divide into, or distribute in, portions. 1-4 n., 5 v., par celed, par cel ing or esp. Brit. par celled, par cel ling.

par cel post, branch of the postal service which carries parcels.

parch (pärch), 1. dry by heating; roast slightly: Corn is sometimes parched. 2. make hot and dry or thirsty. 3. become dry, hot, or thirsty. v.

par chee si or par che si (pär chē'zē), game somewhat like backgammon, played by moving pieces according to throws of dice. n.

parch ment (pärch'mənt), 1. the skin of sheep, goats, etc., prepared for use as a writing material. 2. manuscript or document written on parchment. 3. paper that looks like parchment. n.

pard: (pärđ), Archaic. leopard; panther. n.

pard: (pärđ), U.S. Slang. partner; friend; companion. n.

Parapet of a fort par don (pärđ'n), 1. forgiveness. 2. forgive: Grandmother pardons us when we make mischief. 3. excuse. 4. set free from punishment: The governor pardoned the criminal. 5. a setting free from punishment. 6. a legal document setting a person free from punishment. 1,3,5,6 n., 2-4 v.

par don a ble (pärđ'n ə bl), that can be pardoned; excusable. adj. —par'don a bly, adv.

par don er (pärđ'n ər), 1. person who pardons. 2. an ecclesiastical official charged with the granting of indulgences in the Middle Ages. n.

pare (pär), 1. cut, trim, or shave off the outer part of; peel: pare an apple. 2. cut away (an outer layer, part, etc.): pare a layer from a corn. 3. cut away little by little: pare down expenses. v., pared, par ing.

par e gor ic (par'ə gōr'ik), 1. a soothing medicine containing camphor and a very little opium. 2. soothing. 1 n., 2 adj.

pa ren chy ma (pə reng'kə mə), 1. the fundamental tissue in plants, composed of living, unspecialized cells from which all other cells are formed. Most of the tissue in the softer parts of leaves, the pulp of fruits, the pith of stems, etc., is parenchyma. 2. the essential tissue of an animal organ, as distinguished from its connective or supporting tissue. n.

par ent (pär'ənt), 1. father or mother. 2. any animal or plant that produces offspring. 3. source; cause. n.

par ent age (pär'ən tīj), descent from parents; family line; ancestry. n.

pa ren tal (pə ren'tl), of or having to do with a parent; like a parent's. adj. —pa ren'tal ly, adv.

parent element, element that yields an isotope or daughter element through radioactive decay or nuclear bombardment.

pa ren the ses (pə ren'thə sēz), pl. of parenthesis. n.

pa ren the sis (pə ren'thə sis), 1. word, phrase, sentence, etc., inserted within a sentence to explain or qualify something. 2. either or both of two curved lines () used to set off such an expression. n., pl. pa ren-the ses.

par en thet ic (par'ən thet'ik), 1. qualifying; explanatory. 2. put in parentheses. 3. using parentheses. adj. —par'en thet'i cal ly, adv.

par en thet i cal (par'ən thet'ə kl), parenthetical. adj.

pa rent hood (pär'ənt hūd), being a parent. n.

pa re sis (pə rē'sis), 1. an incomplete paralysis that affects the ability to move, but does not affect ability to feel. 2. disease of the brain that gradually causes general paralysis. n.

pa re tic (pə rē'ik or pə rē'tik), 1. of or having to do with paresis; caused by paresis. 2. person having paresis. 1 adj., 2 n.

par ex cel lence (pär ek'sə lāns), French. beyond comparison; above all others of the same sort.

par fait (pär fā'), a rich ice cream containing eggs and whipped cream, frozen unstirred. n.

par he li on (pär hē'lē ən), a bright circular spot on a solar halo. n., pl. par he li a (-hē'lē ə).

pa ri ah (pə rī'ə), outcast. n.

Pa ri ah (pə rī'ə), member of a low caste in S India and Burma. n.

Pa ri cu tīn (pär'kū tēn'), an active volcano in central Mexico. 8200 ft. n.

pa ri e tal (pə rī'ə tl), 1. of the wall of the body or of one of its cavities. 2. either of two bones that form part of the sides and top of the skull. 1 adj., 2 n.

par i-mu tu el (par'i mū'chū əl), 1. system of betting on horse races in which those who have bet on the winning horses divide the money lost by the losers. 2. machine for recording such bets. n.

par ing (pär'ing), part pared off; skin; rind: apple parings. n.

Par is: (par'is), the capital and largest city of France, situated in N France, on the Seine River. 2,850,000. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ƞh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

Par is² (par'is), in Greek legend, a son of Priam, king of Troy. He caused the Trojan War by carrying off Helen, the wife of King Menelaus of Sparta. n.

Paris green, a poisonous, emerald-green powder used as a pigment and in making sprays for killing insects. It is a compound of copper, arsenic, and acetic acid.

par ish (par'ish), 1. district that has its own church and clergyman. 2. people of a parish. 3. members of the congregation of a particular church. 4. in Louisiana, a county. 5. a civil district in Great Britain. n.

pa rish ion er (pə rish'ən ə), member of a parish. n.

Pa ri sian (pə rizh'ən), 1. of or having to do with Paris or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Paris. 1 adj., 2 n.

par i ty (par'ə tē), 1. equality; similarity or close correspondence with regard to state, position, condition, value, quality, degree, etc. 2. balance between the market prices for a farmer's commodities and his own gross expenditures. n.

park (pārk), 1. land set apart for the pleasure of the public: Many cities have beautiful parks. 2. land set apart for wild animals. 3. grounds around a fine house. 4. leave (an automobile, etc.) for a time in a certain place. 5. place to leave an automobile, etc., for a time. 6. space where army vehicles and mules, supplies, and artillery are put when an army camps. 7. arrange (army vehicles, artillery, etc.) in a park. 8. Informal. place, put, or leave. 1-3, 5, 6 n., 4, 7, 8 v.

par ka (pār'kə or pār'kē), 1. a fur jacket with a hood, worn in Alaska and in NE Asia. 2. a long woolen shirt or jacket with a hood. n.

parking meter, U.S. device containing a clock mechanism which is operated by the insertion of coins. It allows an automobile a specific amount of time in a parking area for each coin.

Park man (pārk'mən), Francis, 1823-1893, American historian. n.

park way (pārk'wā'), a broad road with spaces planted with grass, trees, etc. n.

par lance (pār'ləns), way of speaking; talk; language. n.

par lay (pār'lā), U.S. risk (an original bet and its winnings) on another bet. v.

par ley (pār'lē), 1. conference to discuss terms or matters in dispute; informal talk. 2. an informal discussion with an enemy about terms of surrender, exchange of prisoners, etc. 3. discuss terms, especially with an enemy. 1, 2 n., pl. par leys; 3 v., par leyed, par ley ing.

par lia ment (pār'lə mēnt), council or congress that is the highest lawmaking body of a country. n.

Par lia ment (pār'lə mēnt), 1. the national lawmaking body of Great Britain. It consists of the House of Lords and the House of Commons. 2. the lawmaking body of a British dominion, colony, etc. n.

par lia men tar i an (pār'lə mēn tār'ē ən), one skilled in parliamentary procedure or debate. n.

par lia men ta ry (pār'lə mēn tər'ē), 1. of a parliament. 2. done by a parliament. 3. according to the rules and customs of a parliament or other lawmaking body: The United States Congress functions in accordance with the rules of parliamentary procedure. 4. having a parliament. adj.

par lor (pār'lər), 1. room for receiving or entertaining guests; sitting room. 2. U.S. a decorated room used as a shop; shop: a beauty parlor. n.

parlor car, a railroad passenger car for day travel, more luxurious than ordinary cars.

par lour (pār'lər), Esp. Brit. parlor. n.

par lous (pār'ləs), Archaic or Dialect. 1. perilous. 2. very clever; shrewd. 3. extremely. 1, 2 adj., 3 adv.

Par ma (pār'mə), city in N Italy. 65,000. n.

Par me san (pār'mə zan), a hard, dry Italian cheese made from skim milk. n.

Par nas sus (pār nas'əs), 1. Mount, mountain in S Greece. In ancient Greek times it was sacred to Apollo and the Muses. 8070 ft. 2. the fabled mountain of poets, whose summit is their goal. n.

try to climb Parnassus, try to write poetry.

pa ro chi al (pə rō'kē əl), 1. of or in a parish: a parochial school. 2. narrow; limited: a parochial viewpoint. adj.

pa ro chi al ism (pə rō'kē əl iz'əm), parochial character, spirit, or tendency; narrowness of interests or views. n.

parochial school, school maintained by a church.

par o dist (par'ə dist), writer of parodies. n.

par o dy (par'ə dē), 1. a humorous imitation of a serious writing. A parody follows the form of the original, but changes its sense to nonsense, thus making fun of the writer's characteristics. 2. make fun of by imitating; make a parody on. 3. a poor imitation. 4. imitate poorly. 1, 3 n., pl. par o dies; 2, 4 v., par o died, par o dy ing.

pa role (pə rōl'), 1. conditional release from prison or jail before the full term is served. 2. conditional freedom allowed in place of imprisonment. 3. word of honor: The prisoner of war gave his parole not to try to escape. 4. put on parole; release on parole: The judge paroled the boys on condition that they report to him every three months. 1-3 n., 4 v., pa roled, pa rol ing.

par o quet (par'ə ket), parakeet. n.

pa ro tid (pə rōt'id), 1. near the ear. The parotid glands, one in front of each ear, supply saliva to the mouth through the parotid ducts. 2. parotid gland. 1 adj., 2 n.

par ox ysm (par'ək siz əm), 1. a severe, sudden attack: a paroxysm of coughing. 2. fit; convulsion: a paroxysm of rage. n.

par ox ys mal (par'ək siz'ml), of, like, or having paroxysms. adj.

par quet (pār kā' or pār ket'), 1. an inlaid wooden flooring. 2. make or put down such a floor. 3. the main floor of a theater. 4. part of the main floor of a theater from the orchestra to the part under the balcony. 1, 3, 4 n., 2 v., par queted, par quet ing or esp. Brit. par quet ted, par quet ting.

par quet ry (pār'kit rē), mosaic of wood used for floors, wainscoting, etc. n., pl. par quet ries.

parr (pār), a young salmon before it is old enough to go to sea. n., pl. parrs or (esp. collectively) parr.

par ra keet (pār'ə kēt), parakeet. n.

par ri cid al (pār'ə sīd'əl), of or having to do with parricide. adj.

par ri cide (pār'ə sīd), 1. crime of killing one's parent or parents. 2. person who kills his parent. n.

par rot (pār'ət), 1. bird with a stout, hooked bill and often with bright-colored feathers. Some parrots can imitate sounds and repeat words and sentences. 2. person who repeats words or acts without understanding them. 3. repeat without understanding. 1, 2 n., 3 v. —par'rot like', adj.

par ry (pār'ē), 1. ward off; turn aside; evade (a thrust, stroke, weapon, question, etc.): He parried the sword with his dagger. She parried our question by asking us one. 2. act of parrying; avoiding. 1 v., par ried, par ry ing; 2 n., pl. par ries.

parse (pārs), 1. analyze (a sentence) grammatically, telling its parts of speech and their uses in the sentence. 2. describe (a word) grammatically, telling what part of speech it is, its form, and its use in a sentence. v., parsed, pars ing.

Par see or Par si (pār'sē), member of a Zoroastrian sect in India, descended from the Persians who first settled there in the early part of the eighth century A.D. n.

Parquetry

Gray parrot
(about 1 ft. tall)

Par si fal (pär'sə fl), 1. a musical drama by Wagner.

2. its hero. 3. Percival. n.

par si mo ni ous (pär'sə mō'nē əs), too economical; stingy. adj. —par'si mo'ni ous ly, adv.

par si mo ny (pär'sə mō'nē), extreme economy; stinginess. n.

pars ley (pär's/lē), a garden plant with finely divided, fragrant leaves, used to flavor food and to trim platters of meat, etc. n., pl. pars leys.

pars nip (pär's/nip), 1. vegetable that is the long, tapering, whitish root of a plant belonging to the same family as the carrot. 2. the plant. n.

par son (pär'sən), 1. minister in charge of a parish. 2. any clergyman; minister. n.

par son age (pär'sə nij), house provided for a minister by a church. n.

part (pärt), 1. something less than the whole: What part of the chicken do you like best? 2. each of several equal quantities into which a whole may be divided; fraction: A dime is a tenth part of a dollar. 3. thing that helps to make up a whole: A radio has many parts. 4. share: Everyone must do his part. 5. side in a dispute or contest: John always takes his brother's part. 6. character in a play; the words spoken by a character: Jane spoke the part of the heroine in our play. 7. divide into two or more pieces. 8. force apart; divide: The policeman on horseback parted the crowd. 9. go apart; separate: The friends parted in anger. 10. a dividing line left in combing one's hair. 11. comb (the hair) away from a dividing line. 12. one of the voices or instruments in music. The four parts in singing are soprano, alto, tenor, and bass. 13. the music for it. 14. less than the whole: part time. 15. partly; in some measure or degree. 16. ability; talent: a man of parts. 17. region; district; place: He has traveled much in foreign parts. 1-6, 10, 12, 13, 16, 17 n., 7-9, 11 v., 14 adj., 15 adv.

for one's part, as far as one is concerned.

in good part, in a friendly or gracious way.

in part, in some measure or degree; to some extent; partly.

on the part of one or on one's part, 1. as far as one is concerned. 2. by one.

part and parcel, a necessary part.

part from, go away from; leave.

part with, give up; let go.

take part, take or have a share.

part., 1. participle. 2. particular.

par take (pär'tāk'), 1. eat or drink some; take some: We are eating lunch. Will you partake? 2. take or have a share. v., par took, par tak en, par tak ing. —par-tak'er, n.

partake of, 1. have a share in. 2. have to some extent the nature or character of: Her graciousness partakes of condescension.

par tak en (pär'tāk'ən), pp. of partake. v.

Par the non (pär'thə non), temple of Athena on the Acropolis in Athens, regarded as the finest example of Doric architecture. n.

Par thi a (pär'thē ə), an ancient country in Asia southeast of the Caspian Sea, now a part of NE Iran. See Media for map. n. —Par'thi an, n., adj.

Par thi an shot (pär'thē ən), a sharp parting remark or the like.

par tial (pär'shəl), 1. not complete; not total: Father has made a partial payment on our new car. 2. inclined to favor one side more than another; favoring unfairly: A parent should not be partial to any one of his children. 3. having a liking for; favorably inclined: He is partial to sports. adj.

par ti al i ty (pär'shē ə'l ə tē), 1. a favoring of one more than another or others; favorable prejudice; being partial. 2. a particular liking; fondness; preference; bent: Children often have a partiality for candy. n., pl. par ti al i ties.

par tial ly (pär'shəl ē), 1. in part; not generally or totally; partly. 2. in a partial manner; with undue bias. adv.

par tic i pant (pär'tis'ə pənt), 1. one who shares or participates. 2. participating. 1 n., 2 adj.

par tic i pate (pär'tis'ə pāt), have a share; take part: The teacher participated in the children's games. v., par tic i pat ed, par tic i pat ing. —par tic'i pa'tor, n.

par tic i pa tion (pär'tis'ə pā'shən), a participating; a taking part. n.

par ti cip i al (pär'tə sip'ē əl), of or having to do with a participle; as, a participial adjective (a masked man, a becoming dress), a participial noun (in cutting ice, the fatigue of marching). adj.

par ti cip i al ly (pär'tə sip'ē əl ē), as a participle. In "the girl singing sweetly," singing is used participially. adv.

par ti ci ple (pär'tə sip'l), a form of a verb used as an adjective. A participle retains all the attributes of a verb, such as tense, voice, power to take an object, and modification by adverbs. Examples: the girl writing sentences at the blackboard, the man waiting for a train, the silver stolen recently, John having missed the boat. In these phrases, writing and waiting are present participles; stolen and having missed are past participles. n.

par ti cle (pär'tə kl), 1. a very little bit: I got a particle of dust in my eye. 2. prefix or suffix. Un- and -ment are particles. 3. preposition, conjunction, article, or interjection. In, if, an, and ah are particles. n.

par ti-col ored (pär'ti kul'ərd), 1. colored differently in different parts. 2. diversified: a parti-colored story. adj.

par tic u lar (pär tik'yə lər), 1. apart from others; considered separately; single: That particular chair is already sold. 2. belonging to some one person, thing, group, occasion, etc.: A particular characteristic of a skunk is his smell. 3. different from others; unusual; special: a particular friend. 4. hard to please; wanting everything to be just right; very careful: She is very particular; nothing but the best will do. 5. giving details; full of details: a particular account of the game. 6. an individual part; item; point: The work is complete in every particular. 1-5 adj., 6 n.

in particular, especially: We played around, going nowhere in particular.

par tic u lar i ty (pär tik'yə lar'ə tē), 1. detailed quality; minuteness. 2. special carefulness. 3. attentiveness to details. 4. a particular feature or trait. 5. quality of being hard to please. 6. quality or fact of being particular. n., pl. par tic u lar i ties.

par tic u lar ize (pär tik'yə lər iz), 1. mention particularly or individually; treat in detail. 2. mention individuals; give details. v., par tic u lar ized, par tic u lar iz ing. —par tic'u lar i za'tion, n.

par tic u lar ly (pär tik'yə lər ē), 1. in a high degree; especially: The teacher praised Ruth particularly. 2. in a particular manner; in detail; minutely: The inspector examined the machine particularly. adv.

part ing (pär'ting), 1. departure; going away; taking leave. 2. given, taken, done, etc., at parting: a parting request, a parting shot. 3. departing. 4. dividing; separating. 5. division; separation. 6. place of division or separation: Her hair is arranged with a side parting. 1, 5, 6 n., 2-4 adj.

par ti san (pär'tə zn), 1. a strong supporter of a person, party, or cause; one whose support is based on feeling rather than on reasoning. 2. member of light, irregular troops; guerrilla. 3. of or like a partisan. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

par ti san ship (pär'tə zn ship'), 1. strong loyalty to a party or cause. 2. taking sides. n.

par ti tion (pär'tish'ən), 1. division into parts: the partition of a man's wealth when he dies. 2. divide into parts: partition an empire among three brothers, partition a house into rooms. 3. portion; part. 4. wall between rooms, etc. 5. separate by a partition. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v.

par ti tive (pär'tə tiv), 1. word or phrase meaning a part of a collective whole. Some, few, and any are participatives. 2. expressing a part of a collective whole: a partitive adjective. 1 n., 2 adj. —par'ti tive ly, adv.

par ti zan (pär'tə zn), partisan. n., adj.

part ly (pär'tlē), in part; in some measure or degree: He is partly to blame. adv.

part ner (pär'tnər), 1. one who shares: My sister was the partner of my walks. 2. member of a company or firm who shares the risk and profits of the business. 3. wife or husband. 4. companion in a dance. 5. player on the same team or side in a game. n.

part ner ship (pär'tnər ship), 1. being a partner; joint interest; association: a business partnership, the partnership of marriage. 2. company or firm with two or more members who share in the risk and profits of the business. n.

part of speech, one of the following groups into which words are divided: noun, pronoun, adjective, verb, adverb, preposition, conjunction, and interjection. One of the fundamental facts of English grammar is that a word may function as more than one part of speech: You may spell a word (noun), write a word picture (adjective), or word a message (verb). This shows that the part of speech to which a word belongs cannot be definitely decided by looking at the word by itself; we need to know how it is used.

par took (pär tük'), pt. of partake. He partook of food and drink. v.

par tridge (pär'trij), 1. any of several kinds of game birds belonging to the same group as the quail, pheasant, and grouse. 2. in the United States, the ruffed grouse or the quail. n., pl. par tridge es or (esp. collectively) par tridge.

par tridge ber ry (pär'trij ber'ē), 1. an American trailing plant with evergreen leaves, fragrant white flowers, and scarlet berries. 2. the berry. n., pl. par tridge ber ries.

part song, song with parts in simple harmony for two or more voices, especially one meant to be sung without an accompaniment.

part-time (pär'tim'), for part of the usual time. adj.

part time, part of the time.

par tu ri ent (pär tür'ē ənt or pärt'yūr'ē ənt), 1. bringing forth young; about to give birth to young. 2. having to do with childbirth. adj.

par tu ri tion (pär'tū rish'ən or pärt'yū rish'ən), childbirth. n.

par ty (pär'tē), 1. group of people doing something together: a sewing party, a dinner party, a scouting party of three soldiers. 2. a gathering for pleasure: On her birthday she had a party and invited her friends. 3. group of people wanting the same kind of government or action: the Democratic Party. 4. of or having to do with a party. 5. one who takes part in, aids, or knows about: He was a party to our plot. 6. each of the persons or sides in a contract, lawsuit, etc. 7. Informal. person: Old Billy Mudd was a queer party. 1-3,5-7 n., pl. par ties; 4 adj.

party line, 1. a telephone line by which two or more subscribers are connected with the exchange by one circuit. 2. a boundary line between adjoining premises. 3. the officially adopted policies of a political party. 4. policy advocated and followed by the Communist Party.

party liner, 1. one who follows the party line of a political party. 2. one who follows the policies of the Communist Party.

par value, value of a stock, bond, note, etc., printed on it; face value.

par ve nu (pär'və nü or pärt'və nü), 1. person who Hungarian partridge

(about 1 ft. long)

has risen above his class. 2. one who has risen to a higher place than he is fit for; upstart. n.

Pas a de na (pas'ə də'nə), city in SW California, near Los Angeles. 116,000. n.

Pas cal (pas kal'), 1623-1662, French philosopher, mathematician, and physicist. n.

pas chal (pas'kl), 1. of or having to do with the Jewish Passover. 2. of or having to do with Easter; used in Easter celebrations. adj.

pa sha (pə shä'), a former Turkish title of rank. It was put after the name of civil or military officials of high rank in Turkey. n.

pasque flow er (pask'flou'ər), any of several anemones with purple or white flowers that bloom early in the spring. n.

pass (pas), 1. go by; move past: The parade passed. We passed the big truck. 2. move on; go: The salesman passed from house to house. 3. go from one to another: His estate passed to his children. 4. cause to go from one to another; hand around: The old coin was passed around for everyone to see. 5. get through or by: We passed the dangerous section of the road successfully. 6. go across or over: The horse passed the stream. 7. put or direct (a rope, string, etc.): He passed a rope around his waist for support. 8. go away; depart: The time for action had already passed. 9. cause to go, move onward, or proceed: pass troops in review. 10. discharge from the body. 11. be successful in (an examination, a course, etc.): Jim passed Latin. 12. success in an examination, etc.; passing an examination but without honors. 13. act of passing; passage. 14. cause or allow to go through something; sanction or approve: pass accounts as correct. 15. ratify or enact: pass a bill or law. 16. be approved by (a lawmaking body, etc.): The new law passed the City Council. 17. come to an end; die: King Arthur passed in peace. 18. go beyond; exceed; surpass: His strange story passes belief. 19. use; spend: We passed the days pleasantly. 20. change: Water passes from a liquid to a solid state when it freezes. 21. take place; happen: Tell me all that passed. 22. go about; circulate: Money passes from person to person. 23. be accepted (for or as): Use silk or a material that will pass for silk. 24. cause to be accepted: The inspector passed the item after examining it. 25. express; pronounce: A judge passes sentence on guilty persons. 26. give a judgment or opinion: The judges passed on each contestant. 27. go without notice: He was rude, but let that pass. 28. let go without action. 29. leave out; omit. 30. permission or license to pass; free ticket: No one can get in the fort without a pass. 31. state; condition: Things have come to a strange pass when children give orders to their parents. 32. motion of the hands. 33. sleight-of-hand motion; manipulation; trick. 34. narrow road, path, way, channel, etc.; narrow passage through mountains. 35. transfer (the ball, etc.) in football, hockey, and other games. 36. transference of a ball, etc., as in football. 37. in card playing, to give up a chance or to refuse to play a hand. 38. to thrust. 39. in fencing, to make a thrust. 40. a causing to pass; a thrust in fencing. 41. promise: to pass one's word. 1-11,14-29,35,37-39,41 v., —passed, passed or past, pass ing; 12,13,30-34,36,40 n. —pass'er, n.

bring to pass, accomplish; to cause to be.

come to pass, take place; happen.

pass away, come to an end; die.

pass by, fail to notice; overlook; disregard.

pass off, 1. go away. 2. take place; be done. 3. get accepted; pretend to be.

pass out, Slang. faint; lose consciousness.

pass over, fail to notice; overlook; disregard.

pass., 1. passive. 2. passenger.

pass a ble (pas'ə bl), 1. fairly good; moderate; tolerable; mediocre: a passable knowledge of geography. 2. that can be passed: a passable river. 3. current; valid: passable coin. 4. that may be enacted: a passable bill. adj.

pass a bly (pas'ə blē), fairly; moderately. adv.

pas sage (pas'ij), 1. hall or way through a building; passageway. 2. means of passing; way through: ask for passage through a crowd. 3. right, liberty, or leave to pass: The guard refused us passage. 4. a passing: the passage of time. 5. piece from a speech or writing: a passage from the Bible. 6. a going across; voyage: We had a stormy passage across the Atlantic. 7. a making into law by a favoring vote of a legislature: the passage of a bill. 8. what passes between persons. 9. exchange of blows: a passage of arms. 10. phrase or other division of a piece of music. n.

passage of arms, exchange of blows; quarrel.

pas sage way (pas'ij wā'), way along which one can pass; passage. Halls and alleys are passageways. n.

Pas sa ic (pā sā'ik), city in NE New Jersey. 54,000. n.

Pas sa ma quod dy Bay (pas'ə mə kwod'ē), inlet of the Bay of Fundy, between Maine and New Brunswick, Canada.

pas sé (pā sā'), 1. past. 2. past its usefulness; out of date. adj.

pas sen ger (pas'n jər), traveler in a train, bus, boat, etc., usually one that pays a fare. n.

passenger pigeon, kind of wild pigeon of North America, now extinct, that flew in very large flocks.

pass er-by (pas'ər bī'), one that passes by. n., pl. pass ers-by.

pas ser ine (pas'ər in), 1. belonging to or having to do with the very large group of perching birds, including more than half of all birds. 2. a bird that perches. 1 adj., 2 n.

pas sim (pas'im), Latin. here and there; in various places. adv.

pass ing (pas'ing), 1. that passes. 2. act of one that passes; a going by; a departure. 3. transient; fleeting: a passing smile. 4. cursory; incidental: a passing fancy. 5. that is now happening. 6. means or place of passing. 7. Archaic. surpassingly; very. 8. allowing one to pass an examination or test: 75 will be a passing mark. 1,3-5,8 adj., 2,6 n., 7 adv.

in passing, as one proceeds or passes.

pas sion (pash'ən), 1. very strong feeling: Hate and fear are passions. 2. violent anger; rage: He flew into a passion. 3. love between a man and a woman. 4. very strong liking: Anne has a passion for music. 5. object of a passion: Music is her passion. 6. Archaic. suffering. n.

Pas sion (pash'ən), 1. the sufferings of Jesus on the cross or after the Last Supper. 2. story of these sufferings in the Bible. n.

pas sion ate (pash'ən it), 1. having or showing strong feelings: The fathers of our country were passionate believers in freedom. 2. easily moved to anger. 3. resulting from strong feeling: He made a passionate speech. adj. —pas'sion ate ly, adv. —pas'sion ate ness, n.

pas sion flow er (pash'ən flou'ər), 1. plant with showy flowers supposed to suggest the crown of thorns, the wounds, the nails, etc., of Christ's crucifixion. 2. the flower. n.

Passion Play or passion play, play representing the sufferings and death of Christ. One is given every ten years at Oberammergau, West Germany.

Passion Sunday, the second Sunday before Easter Sunday. It is the fifth Sunday in Lent.

Passion Week, the second week before Easter; fifth week in Lent, between Passion Sunday and Palm Sunday.

pas sive (pas'iv), 1. not acting in return; being acted on without itself acting: a passive mind or disposition. 2. not resisting; yielding or submitting to the will of another: The slaves gave passive obedience to their master. 3. in grammar, showing the subject as acted on. In "The window was broken by John," was broken is in the passive voice. 4. a verb form that shows the subject as acted on. 5. the passive voice. 1-3 adj., 4,5 n.

pas sive ly (pas'iv lē), 1. in a passive manner. 2. as a passive verb. 3. in the passive voice. adv.

pas siv i ty (pa siv'ə tē), being passive; lack of action; nonresistance. n.

pass key (pas'kē'), 1. key for opening several locks. 2. a private key. n., pl. pass keys.

Pass o ver (pas'ō'vər), an annual feast of the Jews in memory of the sparing of the Hebrews in Egypt, when God killed the first-born children of the Egyptians. Exodus 12. n.

pass port (pas'pōrt), 1. a paper or book giving official permission to travel in a certain country, under the protection of one's own government. 2. anything that gives one admission or acceptance: An interest in gardening was a passport to my aunt's favor. n.

pass word (pas'wōrd'), a secret word that allows a person speaking it to pass a guard. n.

past (past), 1. gone by; ended: Summer is past. Our troubles are past. 2. just gone by: The past year was full of trouble. 3. time gone by; time before; what has happened: Life began far back in the past. 4. a past life or history: Our country has a glorious past. 5. one's past life, especially if hidden or unknown: He was a man with a past; no one knew that he had been in prison. 6. beyond; farther on than: It went past the mark. 7. after; later than: It is past noon. 8. so as to pass by or beyond: The cars go past once an hour. 9. beyond in number, amount, or degree. 10. beyond the ability, range, scope, etc., of: absurd fancies that are past belief. 11. having served a term in office: a past president. 12. indicating time gone by, or former action or state: the past tense, a past participle. 13. the past tense or a verb form in it. 14. a pp. of pass. 1,2,11,12 adj., 3-5,13 n., 6,7,9,10 prep., 8 adv., 14 v.

past absolute, the past tense; preterit.

paste (pāst), 1. mixture, such as flour and water boiled together, that will stick paper together. 2. stick with paste. 3. cover by pasting. 4. dough for pastry. 5. a soft doughlike mixture. Fish paste is pounded fish, highly seasoned. Pottery is made from a paste of clay and water. 6. a hard glassy material used in making imitations of precious stones. 7. a soft jellylike candy. 8. Slang. hit with a hard, sharp blow. 1,4-7 n., 2,3,8 v.

paste ed, past ing.

paste board (pāst'bōrd'), 1. a stiff material made of sheets of paper pasted together or of paper pulp pressed and dried. 2. Slang. a playing card. n.

pas tel (pas tē'), 1. kind of crayon used in drawing. 2. a drawing made with such crayons. 3. a soft, pale shade of some color. 4. soft and pale: pastel pink, pastel shades. 5. a short and slight prose sketch. 1-3,5 n., 4 adj.

past er (pās'tər), 1. slip to paste on or over something. 2. person or thing that pastes. n.

pas tern (pas'tərn), the part of a horse's foot between the fetlock and the hoof. n.

Pas teur (pas tēr'), Louis, 1822-1895, French chemist who invented a way of preventing hydrophobia and of keeping milk from spoiling. n.

pas teur i za tion (pas'chər ə zā'shən), 1. process of pasteurizing. 2. fact or state of being pasteurized. n.

pas teur ize (pas'char iz), heat (milk, etc.) hot enough and long enough (144° F. for 30 minutes) to destroy harmful bacteria. v., pas teur ized, pas teur iz ing.

pas tille (pas tēl'), 1. a flavored or medicated lozenge. 2. a small roll or cone of aromatic paste, burnt as a disinfectant, incense, etc. 3. pastel for crayons. 4. a crayon made from pastel. n.

pas time (pas'tim'), a pleasant way of passing time; amusement; recreation. Games and sports are pastimes: Baseball is often described as the American national pastime. n.

past master, 1. one who has filled the office of master in a society, lodge, etc. 2. person who has much experience in any profession, art, etc.

pas tor (pas'tər), minister in charge of a church; spiritual guide. n.

pas tor al (pas'tər əl), 1. of shepherds or country life. 2. a pastoral play, poem, or picture. 3. simple or naturally beautiful like the country. 4. of a pastor or his duties. 5. letter from a bishop to his clergy or to the people of his church district. 1,3,4 adj., 2,5 n.

pas tor ate (pas'tər it), 1. position or duties of a pastor. 2. term of service of a pastor. 3. pastors as a group. n.

past participle, participle that indicates time gone by, or a former action or state. Played and thrown are past participles in "She has played all day," "The ball should have been thrown to me."

past perfect, 1. a verb form showing that an event was completed before a given past time. In "He had learned to read before he went to school," had learned is the past perfect of learn. Past perfect and pluperfect mean the same. 2. the past perfect tense or a verb form in it.

pas tra mi (pas trā'mē), a smoked and well-seasoned cut of beef, especially a shoulder cut. n.

pas try (pās'trē), 1. food made of baked flour paste, made rich with lard, butter, or a vegetable shortening. 2. pies, tarts, and other foods wholly or partly made of rich flour paste. n., pl. pas tries.

past tense, 1. tense expressing time gone by, or a former action or state. 2. verb form in the past tense.

pas tur age (pas'char ij), 1. the growing grass and other plants for cattle, sheep, or horses to feed on. 2. pasture land. 3. a pasturing. n.

pas ture (pas'chər), 1. a grassy field or hillside; grasslands on which cattle, sheep, or horses can feed. 2. the grass and other growing plants: These lands afford good pasture. 3. put (cattle, sheep, etc.) out to pasture. 4. feed on (growing grass, etc.). 1,2 n., 3,4 v., pas tured, pas tur ing.

past y (pās'tē), 1. like paste. 2. pale. 3. flabby. adj., past i er, past i est. —past'i ness, n.

pas ty (pas'tē), Esp. Brit. pie filled with game, fish, etc.: a venison pasty. n., pl. pas ties.

pat (pat), 1. strike or tap lightly with something flat: She patted the dough into a flat cake. 2. tap with the hand as a sign of sympathy, approval or affection: pat a dog. 3. a light stroke or tap with the hand or with something flat. 4. sound made by patting. 5. walk or run with a patting sound. 6. a small mass, especially of butter. 7. apt; suitable; to the point: a pat reply. 8. aptly; exactly; suitably. 1,2,5 v., pat ted, pat ting; 3,4,6 n., 7 adj., 8 adv.

have pat or know pat, Informal. have perfectly; know thoroughly.

pat on the back, praise; compliment.

stand pat, Informal. hold to things as they are and refuse to change.

Pat a go ni a (pat'ə gō'nē ə), region in the extreme south of South America. The larger part of Patagonia is in Argentina; the rest is in Chile. n.

Pat a go ni an (pat'ə gō'nē ən), 1. of or having to do with Patagonia or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Patagonia. 3. member of a very tall Indian race living in Patagonia. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

patch (pach), 1. piece put on to mend a hole or a tear. 2. put patches on; mend; protect or adorn with a patch or patches. 3. piece of cloth, etc., put over a wound or a sore. 4. pad over a hurt eye to protect it. 5. a small bit of black cloth that ladies used to wear on their faces to show off their fair skin. 6. a small, uneven spot: a patch of brown on the skin. 7. piece of ground: a garden patch. 8. scrap or bit of cloth left over. 9. mend clothes with patches. 10. piece together; make hastily. 1,3-8 n., 2,9,10 v. —patch'er, n.

patch up, 1. put an end to; settle. 2. make right hastily or for a time: patch up a quarrel. 3. put together hastily or poorly: patch up a costume for a play.

patch work (pach'wərk'), 1. pieces of cloth of various colors or shapes sewed together. 2. anything like this: From the airplane, we saw a patchwork of fields and woods. n.

patch y (pach'ē), 1. abounding in or characterized by patches. 2. occurring in, forming, or resembling patches. adj., patch i er, patch i est. —patch'i ness, n.

pate (pāt), top of the head; head: a bald pate. n.

pā té (pā tā'), French. 1. a pastry case filled with chicken, sweetbreads, oysters, etc.; patty. 2. a meat paste, usually highly seasoned. n.

pā té de foie gras (pā tā' də fwā grā'), French. patty or paste made with livers of specially fattened geese.

pa tel la (pə tel'ə), 1. kneecap. 2. a small pan or shallow vessel. 3. a panlike or cuplike formation. n., pl. pa tel las, pa tel lae (-tel'ē).

pa tel lar (pə tel'ər), having to do with the kneecap. adj.

pat en (pat'n), 1. plate on which the bread is placed at the celebration of the Eucharist or Mass. 2. plate or flat piece of metal. n.

pat ent (pat'nt for 1-5; pāt'nt or pat'nt for 6,7), 1. a government grant to a person by which he is the only one allowed to make or sell a new invention for a certain number of years. 2. given or protected by a patent. 3. get a patent for: Edison patented many inventions. 4. invention that is patented. 5. an official document from a government giving a right or privilege. 6. evident; plain: It is patent that cats dislike dogs. 7. open. 1,4,5 n., 2,6,7 adj., 3 v. —pat'ent a ble, adj.

pat ent ee (pat'n tē'), person to whom a patent is granted. n.

pat ent leather (pat'nt), leather with a very glossy, smooth surface, usually black.

pa tent ly (pāt'nt lē or pat'nt lē), 1. plainly; clearly; obviously. 2. openly. adv.

patent medicine, 1. medicine that is patented. 2. medicine that some company owns and sells.

Patent Office, government office that issues patents.

pa ter (pā'tər), Brit. Informal. father. n.

pa ter fa mil i as (pā'tər fə mil'ē əs), father or head of a family. n.

pa ter nal (pə tēr'nəl), 1. of or like a father; fatherly. 2. related on the father's side of the family: Everyone has two paternal grandparents and two maternal grandparents. 3. received or inherited from one's father: Mary's blue eyes were a paternal inheritance. adj. —pa ter'nal ly, adv.

pa ter nal ism (pə tēr'nəl iz əm), principle or practice of managing the affairs of a country or group of people as a father manages the affairs of children. n.

pa ter nal is tic (pə tēr'nəl is'tik), having to do with or characterized by paternalism. adj.

pa ter ni ty (pə tēr'nə tē), 1. being a father; fatherhood. 2. paternal origin: King Arthur's paternity was unknown. n.

pat er nos ter (pat'ər nos'tər or pā'tər nos'tər), 1. the Lord's Prayer, especially in Latin. 2. one of the beads of a rosary on which the Lord's Prayer is said. n.

Pat er son (pat'ər sən), city in NE New Jersey. 144,000. n.

path (path), 1. way made by people or animals walking. It is usually too narrow for automobiles or wagons. 2. walk through a garden or park. 3. line along which a person or thing moves; route; track: The moon has a regular path through the sky. 4. way of acting or behaving: Some choose paths of glory; some choose paths of ease. n., pl. paths (pa'thiz). —path'less, adj.

pa thet ic (pə thet'ik), 1. pitiful; arousing pity: A lost child is pathetic. 2. of the emotions. adj. —pa thet'i cal ly, adv.

pa thet i cal (pə thet'ə kl), pathetic. adj.

path find er (path/'fɪn'dər), one who finds a path or way, as through a wilderness. n.

path o gen ic (path/'ə jən/'ik), having to do with pathogeny; producing disease. adj.

pa tho g e ny (pa thoj/'ə nē), production of disease. n.

path o log ic (path/'ə loj/'ik), pathological. adj.

path o log i cal (path/'ə loj/'ə kl), 1. of pathology; dealing with diseases or concerned with diseases: pathological studies. 2. due to disease or accompanying disease: a pathological condition of the blood cells. adj.

pa thol o gist (pa thol/'ə jist), person skilled in pathology. n.

pa thol o gy (pa thol/'ə jē), 1. study of the causes and cures of diseases. 2. unhealthy conditions and processes caused by a disease. n., pl. pa thol o gies.

pa thos (pā/'thos), quality in speech, writing, music, events, or a scene that arouses a feeling of pity or sadness. n.

path way (path/'wā'), path. n.

-pathy, suffix meaning:

1. feeling, as in antipathy.

2. disease, as in neuropathy.

3. treatment of disease, as in osteopathy.

pa ti ence (pā/'shəns), 1. willingness to put up with waiting, pain, trouble, etc.; calm endurance without complaining or losing self-control: The boy needed patience when he was having his teeth filled. The cat showed patience in watching the mousehole. 2. long, hard work; steady effort. 3. card game played by one person; solitaire. n.

pa tient (pā/'shənt), 1. willing to put up with waiting, pain, trouble, etc.; enduring calmly without complaining or losing self-control. 2. with steady effort or long, hard work. 3. person who is being treated by a doctor. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —pa'tient ly, adv.

pa ti o (pat/'ē ō), 1. an inner court or yard open to the sky. Houses in Spanish countries are often built around patios. 2. U.S. a terrace for outdoor eating, lounging, etc. n., pl. pat ios.

pat ois (pat/'wā), dialect spoken by the common people of a district: the patois of the French Canadians. n., pl. pat ois (pat/'wāz).

pa tri arch (pā/'trē ārk), 1. father and ruler of a family or tribe. In the Bible, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob were patriarchs. 2. person thought of as the father or founder of something. 3. a venerable old man. 4. bishop of the highest rank in the early Christian church or in the Greek Church. n.

pa tri ar chal (pā/'trē ār'kl), 1. suitable to a patriarch; having to do with a patriarch. 2. under the rule of a patriarch: patriarchal life, a patriarchal church. adj.

pa tri ar chate (pā/'trē ār'kit), 1. position, dignity, or authority of a church patriarch. 2. church district under a patriarch's authority. 3. patriarchy. n.

pa tri ar chy (pā/'trē ār'kē), 1. form of social organization in which the father is head of the family and in which descent is reckoned in the male line, the children belonging to the father's clan. 2. family, community, or tribe governed by a patriarch or the eldest male. n., pl. pa tri ar chies.

pa tri cian (pā/'trish'ən), 1. member of the nobility of ancient Rome. 2. of the patricians. 3. noble; aristocrat. 4. of high social rank; aristocratic. 5. suitable for an aristocrat. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 adj.

pat ri cide (pat/'rə sīd), crime of killing one's father. n.

Pat rick (pat/'rik), Saint, 389?-461? A.D., British missionary and bishop who converted Ireland to Christianity. He is the patron saint of Ireland. n.

pat ri mo ni al (pat/'rə mō'nē əl), having to do with a patrimony; inherited from one's father or ancestors. adj.

pat ri mo ny (pat/'rə mō'nē), 1. property inherited from one's father or ancestors. 2. property belonging to a church, monastery, or convent. 3. any heritage. n., pl. pat ri mo nies.

pa tri ot (pā/'trē ət), person who loves and loyally supports his country. n.

pa tri ot ic (pā/'trē ət'ik), 1. loving one's country. 2. showing love and loyal support of one's own country. adj. —pa'tri ot'ic ally, adv.

pa tri ot ism (pā/'trē ət'iz'əm), love and loyal support of one's country. n.

Pa tro clus (pā/'trō'kləs), in Greek legend, a friend of Achilles, slain by Hector. n.

pa trol (pā/'trōl'), 1. go the rounds as a watchman or a policeman does. 2. go around (a town, camp, etc.) to watch or guard. 3. men who patrol: The patrol was changed at midnight. 4. a going of the rounds to watch or guard. 5. group of soldiers, ships, or airplanes, sent out to find out all they can about the enemy. 6. unit of eight boy scouts. 1,2 v., pa trolled, pa trol ling; 3-6 n.

pa trol man (pā/'trōl'mən), 1. man who patrols. 2. policeman who patrols a certain district. n., pl. pa trol men.

patrol wagon, a closed wagon or truck used by the police for carrying prisoners.

pa tron (pā/'trən), 1. one who buys regularly at a given store or goes regularly to a given restaurant, hotel, etc. 2. person who stands back of the work of another, perhaps helps it with money, and gives it the advantage of his approval and his name; person who gives his approval and support to some person, art, cause, or undertaking: a patron of artists. 3. a guardian saint or god; protector. 4. in ancient Rome, an influential man who took certain persons under his protection. 5. guarding; protecting: a patron saint. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

pa tron age (pā/'trən ij or pat/'rən ij), 1. regular business given to a store, hotel, etc., by customers. 2. favor, encouragement, or support given by a patron. 3. condescending favor: an air of patronage. 4. power to give jobs or favors: the patronage of a governor, mayor, or congressman. 5. political jobs or favors. n.

pa tron ess (pā/'trən is or pat/'rən is), 1. a woman patron. 2. woman who helps some entertainment with her name, money, or presence. n.

pa tron ize (pā/'trən iz or pat/'rən iz), 1. be a regular customer of; give regular business to: We patronize our neighborhood stores. 2. act as a patron toward; support or protect: patronize the ballet. 3. treat in a condescending way: We dislike to have anyone patronize us. v., pa tron ized, pa tron iz ing. —pa'tron iz'ing ly, adv.

patron saint, saint regarded as the special guardian of a person, church, city, etc.

pat ro nym ic (pat/'rə nim'ik), name derived from the name of a father or ancestor: Williamson meaning "son of William" is a patronymic. n.

pa troon (pā/'trūn'), landowner who had certain privileges under the old Dutch governments of New York and New Jersey. A patroon usually owned a large amount of land. n.

pat ter¹ (pat/'ər), 1. make rapid taps: The rain patters on a windowpane. Bare feet patter along a floor. 2. series of quick taps or the sound they make. 1 v., 2 n.

pat ter² (pat/'ər), 1. rapid and easy talk: a magician's patter. 2. talk or say rapidly and easily, without much thought: patter a prayer. 3. talk of a class or group: the patter of beggars and thieves. 1,3 n., 2 v.

pat tern (pat/'ərn), 1. arrangement of forms and colors; design: the patterns of wallpaper, rugs, cloth, and jewelry. 2. model or guide for something to be made: Mother used a paper pattern in cutting out her new dress. 3. a fine example; model to be followed: Washington was a pattern of manliness. 4. make according to a pattern: Pattern yourself after your mother. 1-3 n., 4 v.

Patio (def. 1)

pat ty (pat'ē), 1. a hollow form of pastry filled with chicken, oysters, etc. 2. a small, round, flat piece of food or candy. n., pl. pat ties.

pau ci ty (pō'sə tē), 1. small number; fewness. 2. a small amount; scarcity; lack. n.

Paul (pōl), Saint, died 67? A.D., Apostle who started Christian groups in many countries and wrote many of the books in the New Testament. n.

Paul VI, born 1897, pope since 1963.

paunch (pōnch), 1. belly; stomach. 2. a large, protruding belly. 3. the first stomach of a cud-chewing animal. n.

paunch y (pōn'chē), having a big paunch. adj. —paunch'i ness, n.

pau per (pō'pər), a very poor person; person supported by charity. n.

pau per ism (pō'pər iz əm), being very poor; poverty. n.

pau per ize (pō'pər iz), make a pauper of. v., pau per ized, pau per iz ing. —pau'per i za'tion, n.

pause (pōz), 1. stop for a time; wait: The dog paused when he heard me. 2. moment of silence; stop; rest. 3. dwell; linger: pause upon a word. 4. a brief stop in speaking or reading: He made a short pause and then went on reading. 5. a punctuation mark indicating such a stop. 6. a sign (∪ or ∩) above or below a musical note or rest, meaning that it is to be held for a longer time. 1,3 v., paused, paus ing; 2,4-6 n.

pave (pāv), 1. cover (a street, sidewalk, etc.) with a pavement. 2. make smooth or easy; prepare: He paved the way for me by doing careful work. v., paved, pav ing.

pave ment (pāv'mənt), 1. a covering or surface for streets, sidewalks, etc., made of stones, bricks, wood, asphalt, etc. 2. a paved road, etc. n.

pa vil ion (pə vil'yən), 1. a light building, usually one somewhat open, used for shelter, pleasure, etc.: a bathing pavilion. 2. a large tent raised on posts; tent. 3. part of a building higher and more decorated than the rest. 4. one of a group of buildings forming a hospital. 5. furnish with a pavilion; enclose or shelter in a pavilion. 1-4 n., 5 v.

Pavilion for dancing

pav ing (pāv'ing), 1. material for pavement. 2. pavement. n.

Pav lov (pāv'lōf), Ivan, 1849-1936, Russian physiologist famous for his studies of the digestive glands and of the modifiable capacity of the reflexes. n.

Pav lo va or Pav lo wa (pāv'lō və or pāv'lō'və), Anna, 1885-1931, Russian dancer. n.

paw (pō), 1. foot of an animal having claws. Cats and dogs have paws. 2. strike or scrape with the paws or feet: The cat pawed the mouse. The horse pawed the ground, eager to be going again. 3. Informal. hand. 4. Informal. handle awkwardly, roughly, or in too familiar a manner. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

pawl (pōl), a pivoted bar arranged to catch in the teeth of a ratchet wheel or the like so as to prevent movement backward or to impart motion. n.

A, pawls; B, ratchet wheel. When the handle is raised, one pawl pushes the wheel forward; the other keeps it from slipping back.

pawn¹ (pōn), 1. leave (something) with another person as security that borrowed money will be repaid: He pawned his watch to buy food until he could get work. 2. something left as security. 3. a pledge. 1 v., 2,3 n.

in pawn, in another's possession as security: His watch is in pawn.

pawn² (pōn), 1. in chess, one of the 16 pieces of lowest value. 2. an unimportant person or thing used by someone for his own purposes. n.

pawn bro ker (pōn'brō'kər), man who lends money at interest on articles that are left with him as security for the loan. n.

Paw nee (pō nē'), member of an American Indian tribe that lived near the forks of the Platte River. n.

pawn shop (pōn'shɒp'), a pawnbroker's shop. n.

paw paw (pō'pō), papaw. n.

Paw tuck et (pō tuk'it), city in NE Rhode Island. 81,000. n.

pax vo bis cum (paks' vō bis'kəm), Latin. peace be with you.

pay¹ (pā), 1. give (a person) what is due for things, work, etc.: He paid the doctor. 2. money or equivalent given for things or work: Jim gets his pay every Saturday. 3. give money for: Pay your way. 4. hand over (money owed); hand over the amount of: pay a debt. 5. give what is due: He owes it and must pay. 6. give; offer: pay attention, pay compliments. 7. be profitable to; be worth while to: It pays me to keep that stock. It wouldn't pay me to take that job. 8. yield as a return: That stock pays me four per cent. 9. be profitable: It pays to be polite. 10. source of payment. 11. return for favors or hurts: Dislike is the pay for being mean (n.). He paid them for their insults by causing them trouble (v.). 12. suffer; undergo: The one who does wrong must pay the penalty. 13. let out (a rope, etc.). 14. fall off to leeward. 1,3-9, 11-14 v., paid or (Obs. except for def. 13) payed, pay ing; 2,10,11 n.

in the pay of, paid by and working for.

pay as you go, U.S. pay or discharge obligations as they are incurred.

pay back, 1. return borrowed money. 2. give the same treatment as received.

pay off, 1. give all the money that is owed; pay in full. 2. get even with; get revenge on.

pay up, pay; pay in full.

pay² (pā), cover (a ship's bottom, seams, rope, etc.) with tar, pitch, or another waterproof substance. v., payed, pay ing.

pay a ble (pā'ə bl), 1. required to be paid; due: He must spend $100 soon on bills payable. 2. that may be paid. adj.

pay day (pā'dā'), day on which wages are paid. n.

pay dirt, U.S. earth, ore, etc., containing enough metal to be worth mining.

pay ee (pā ē'), person to whom money is paid or is to be paid. n.

pay er (pā'ər), one who pays; one who is to pay. n.

pay mas ter (pā'mas'tər), person whose job is to pay wages. n.

pay ment (pā'mənt), 1. a paying; compensation. 2. amount paid: a monthly payment of $10. 3. pay: Baby's good health is payment enough for me. 4. reward or punishment. n.

pay-off (pā'ɒf'), 1. a paying of wages. 2. time of such payment. 3. returns from an enterprise, specific action, etc. 4. Slang. climax (of a story, situation, etc.). n.

pay roll, 1. list of persons to be paid and the amounts that each one is to receive. 2. the total amount to be paid to them.

Pb, lead.

pc., piece.

p.c., 1. per cent. 2. post card.

Pd, palladium.

pd., paid.

P.D., Police Department.

pea (pē), 1. the round seed in the pod of a leguminous plant, used as a vegetable. 2. the plant itself. 3. seed or plant like a pea. 4. of the size of a pea: pea coal. 1-3 n., pl. peas, Archaic or Brit. Dialect. pease; 4 adj. as like as two peas, exactly alike.

peace (pēs), 1. freedom from war or strife of any kind: work for world peace. 2. public quiet, order, and security. 3. agreement between contending parties to end war: the Peace of Paris. 4. quiet; calm; stillness: peace of mind. 5. keep still! stay quiet! be silent! 1-4 n., 5 interj. hold or keep one's peace, be silent.

Peace (pēs), river in W Canada flowing NE through Alberta. 1050 mi. n.

peace a ble (pēs'ə bl), 1. liking peace; keeping peace: Peaceable people keep out of quarrels. 2. peaceful. adj. —peace/a ble ness, n. —peace/a bly, adv.

peace ful (pēs'fəl), 1. full of peace; quiet; calm: It was peaceful in the mountains. 2. liking peace; keeping peace: peaceful neighbors. 3. of or having to do with peace: settle a dispute by peaceful means. adj. —peace/-ful ly, adv. —peace/'ful ness, n.

peace mak er (pēs'māk'ər), person who makes peace. n.

peace offering, 1. an offering made to obtain peace. 2. in old Jewish custom, an offering of thanksgiving to God.

peace officer, policeman, sheriff, or constable.

peace pipe, pipe smoked by American Indians as a token or pledge of peace.

peace time (pēs'tim'), 1. a time of peace. 2. of or having to do with a time of peace. 1 n., 2 adj.

peach¹ (pēch), 1. a juicy, nearly round fruit having a rough stone or pit. Peaches are grown in temperate climates. 2. tree that it grows on. 3. fruit or tree like a peach. 4. yellowish pink. 1-4 n., 4 adj.

peach² (pēch), Slang. give secret information; turn informer. v.

peach y (pēch'ē), 1. like a peach; like that of a peach. 2. Slang. fine; wonderful. adj., peach i er, peach i est. —peach/i ness, n.

pea cock (pē'kok'), 1. bird with beautiful green, blue, and gold feathers. The tail feathers have spots like eyes on them and can be spread out and held upright like a fan. 2. person who is vain and fond of showing off. 3. strut like a peacock. 1,2 n., pl. pea cocks or (esp. collectively) pea cock; 3 v.

pea fowl (pē'foul'), peacock or peahen. n.

pea hen (pē'hen'), female of the peacock. n.

pea jacket, a short coat of thick woolen cloth worn by sailors.

peak (pēk), 1. the pointed top of a mountain or hill: snowy peaks. 2. mountain that stands alone: Pike's Peak. 3. the highest point: reach the peak of one's profession. 4. any pointed end or top: the peak of a beard, the peak of a roof. 5. the front part or the brim of a cap, which stands out. 6. the narrow part of a ship's hold at the bow or the stern. 7. the upper rear corner of a sail. 8. raise straight up; tilt up. 1-7 n., 8 v.

peaked¹ (pēkt or pēk'id), having a peak; pointed: a peaked hat. adj.

peak ed² (pēk'id), sickly in appearance; wan; thin. adj.

peal (pēl), 1. a loud, long sound: a peal of thunder, peals of laughter. 2. the loud ringing of bells. 3. set of bells; chimes. 4. sound out in a peal; ring: The bells pealed forth their message of Christmas joy. 1-3 n., 4 v.

pe an (pē'an), peaan. n.

pea nut (pē'nūt'), 1. plant of the same family as the pea, whose pods ripen underground and contain large seeds which are used as nuts when roasted. 2. one of these pods containing seeds. 3. one of these seeds. n.

peanut butter, food made of peanuts ground until soft and smooth. It is spread on bread, crackers, etc.

pear (pār), 1. a sweet, juicy, edible fruit rounded at one end and smaller toward the stem end. 2. tree that it grows on. 3. fruit or plant like a pear. n.

pearl (pērl), 1. a white or nearly white gem that has a soft shine like satin. Pearls are formed inside the shell of a kind of oyster, or in other similar shellfish. 2. thing that looks like a pearl, such as a dewdrop or a tear. 3. a very fine one of its kind: She is a pearl among women.

Indian smoking a peace pipe

Peacock (body about 20 in. long)

4. very pale, clear, bluish gray. 5. hunt or dive for pearls. 6. formed into small, round pieces: pearl tapioca. 7. mother-of-pearl: pearl buttons. 1-4,7 n., 4,6 adj., 5 v.

cast pearls before swine, give something very fine to a person who cannot appreciate it.

pearl gray, a soft, pale, bluish gray.

Pearl Harbor, United States naval base near Honolulu, on the S coast of Oahu island in the Hawaiian Islands. A treacherous attack on it by Japanese bombers, Dec. 7, 1941, began the war with Japan.

pearl y (pēr'lē), 1. like a pearl; having the color or luster of pearls: pearly teeth. 2. like mother-of-pearl. adj., pearl i er, pearl i est. —pearl/i ness, n.

pearly nautilus, any of several sea mollusks that are somewhat like squids, but have a shell that has a pearly lining and is coiled in a flat spiral composed of a series of chambers. See nautilus for picture.

Pea ry (pir'ē), Robert Edwin, 1856-1920, American naval officer and arctic explorer, discoverer of the North Pole in 1909. n.

peas ant (pez'nt), 1. farmer of the working class in Europe. 2. of peasants: peasant labor. 1 n., 2 adj.

peas ant ry (pez'n trē), peasants collectively. n.

pease (pēz), Archaic or Brit. Dialect. a pl. of pea. n.

pease cod (pēz'kod'), pod of a pea. n.

peat (pēt), kind of turf, used as fuel after being dried. Peat is made of partly rotted moss and plants. n.

pea vey (pē'vē), a strong stick that is tipped with an iron or steel point and has a hinged hook near the end. Lumbermen use peaveys in managing logs. n., pl. pea-veys.

Man using a peavey to move a log peb ble (peb'l), 1. a small stone, usually worn and rounded by being rolled about by water. 2. a rough, uneven surface on leather, paper, etc. 3. prepare (leather) so that it has a grained surface. 1,2 n., 3 v., peb bled, peb bling. —peb/ble like', adj.

peb bly (peb'lē), having many pebbles; covered with pebbles. adj.

pe can (pi kăn' or pi kan'), 1. an olive-shaped edible nut with a smooth, thin shell, that grows on a kind of hickory tree common in the S United States. 2. tree that it grows on. n.

pec ca dil lo (pek'ə dil'ō), a slight sin or fault. n., pl. pec ca dil loes or pec ca dil los.

pec ca ry (pek'ə rē), kind of wild pig found in South America and as far north as Texas. n., pl. pec ca ries or (esp. collectively) pec ca ry.

Collared peccary (about 3 ft. long) peck¹ (pek), 1. unit of dry measure, eight quarts or one fourth of a bushel. 2. container holding just a peck, to measure with. 3. a great deal: a peck of trouble. n.

peck² (pek), 1. strike and pick with the beak or with something like a beak. 2. stroke made with the beak: The hen gave me a peck. 3. make by striking with the beak: Woodpeckers peck holes in trees. 4. hole or mark made by pecking. 5. aim with a beak; make a pecking motion. 6. strike at and pick up with the beak: A hen pecks corn. 7. Informal. eat only a little, bit by bit: Maud just pecked at her food. 8. Informal. a stiff, unwilling kiss. 9. find fault. 1,3,5-7,9 v., 2,4,8 n.

peck at, 1. try to peck. 2. Informal. eat only a little, bit by bit. 3. keep criticizing.

peck er (pek'ər), 1. person or thing that pecks. 2. woodpecker. n.

pec ten (pek'tən), a comblike part; especially, a membrane in the eyes of birds and reptiles which has parallel folds suggesting the teeth of a comb. n.

pec tin (pek'tən), substance that occurs in ripe fruits and makes fruit jelly stiff. n.

pec to ral (pek'tə rəl), 1. of, in, or on the breast or chest. 2. good for diseases of the lungs. 3. medicine for the lungs. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

pec u late (pek'yə lāt), steal (money or goods entrusted to one); embezzle. v., pec u lat ed, pec u lat ing. —pec'u la'tion, n. —pec'u la'tor, n.

pe cul iar (pi kŭl'yər), 1. strange; odd; unusual: It was peculiar that the fish market had no fish last Friday. A woman's hat on a man's head looks peculiar. 2. belonging to one person or thing and not to another; special: This old Bible has a peculiar value. adj. —pe cul'iar ly, adv.

pe cu li ar i ty (pi kŭl'ē ar'ə tē), 1. a being peculiar; strangeness; oddness; unusualness: We noticed the peculiarity of his manner at once. 2. some little thing that is strange or odd: One of his peculiarities is that his two eyes are not the same color. 3. a peculiar or characteristic quality. n., pl. pe cu li ar i ties.

pe cu ni ar y (pi kŭ'nē er'ē), of or having to do with money; in the form of money. adj.

ped a gog ic (ped'ə goj'ik), of teachers or teaching; of pedagogy. adj. —ped'a gog'i cal ly, adv.

ped a gog i cal (ped'ə goj'ə kəl), pedagogic. adj.

ped a gogue or ped a gog (ped'ə gog), 1. teacher of children. 2. a narrow-minded teacher. n.

ped a go gy (ped'ə gō'jē or ped'ə goj'ē), 1. teaching. 2. science or art of teaching. n.

ped al (ped'l), 1. lever worked by the foot; the part on which the foot is placed to move any kind of machinery. Organs and pianos have pedals for changing the tone. The two pedals of a bicycle, pushed down one after the other, make it go. 2. work or use the pedals of; move by pedals: He pedaled his bicycle slowly up the hill. 3. work pedals. 4. of or having to do with the foot or feet. 1 n., 2,3 v., ped aled, ped al ing or esp. Brit. ped aled, ped al ling; 4 adj.

ped ant (ped'nt), 1. person who displays his knowledge in an unnecessary or tiresome way. A pedant may make a show of knowledge without knowing how to use it well. 2. a dull, narrow-minded teacher or scholar. n.

pe dan tic (pi dan'tik), 1. displaying one's knowledge more than is necessary. 2. tediously learned; scholarly in a dull and narrow way. adj. —pe dan'ti cal ly, adv.

ped ant ry (ped'n trē), 1. an unnecessary or tiresome display of knowledge. 2. overemphasis on book learning. n., pl. ped ant ries.

ped dle (ped'l), 1. carry from place to place and sell. 2. sell or deal out in small quantities: peddle candy, peddle gossip. 3. travel about with things to sell. v., ped dled, ped dling.

ped dler (ped'lər), man who travels about selling things that he carries in a pack or in a cart. n. Also, pedlar.

ped es tal (ped'is tl), 1. base on which a column or a statue stands. 2. base of a tall vase, lamp, etc. 3. base; support; foundation. n.

pe des tri an (pə des'trē ən), 1. person who goes on foot; walker. 2. going on foot; walking. 3. without imagination; dull; slow: a pedestrian style in writing. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

pe di a tri cian (pē'dē ə trish'ən), doctor who specializes in pediatrics. n.

pe di at rics (pē'dē ət'riks), branch of medicine dealing with children's diseases and the care of babies and children. n.

ped i cel (ped'ə sl), a small stalk or stalklike part. n.

ped i gree (ped'ə grē), 1. list of ancestors of a person or animal; family tree. 2. ancestry; line of descent. n.

ped i gree d (ped'ə grēd), having a known pedigree: Molly's dog is pedigreed. Horses, cows, dogs, and other animals of known and recorded ancestry are called pedigreed stock. adj.

ped i ment (ped'ə mēt), 1. the low triangular part on the front of buildings in the Greek style. A pediment is like a gable. 2. a similar decorative part in any building. n.

Pediment

ped lar (ped'lər), peddler. n.

pe dom eter (pi dom'ə tər), instrument for recording the number of steps taken and thus measuring the distance traveled. n.

pe dun cle (pi dung'kl), stalk; stem; stalklike part. See pedicel for picture. n.

peek (pēk), 1. look quickly and slyly; peep: You must not peek while you are counting in such games as hide-and-seek. 2. a quick, sly look. 1 v., 2 n.

peel (pēl), 1. the rind or outer covering of fruit, etc. 2. strip the skin, rind, or bark from: to peel an orange, to peel a potato. 3. strip: The Indians peeled the bark from trees to make canoes. 4. come off: When I was sunburnt, my skin peeled. 1 n., 2-4 v.

peel ing (pēl'ing), part peeled off or pared off. n.

peep¹ (pēp), 1. look through a small or narrow hole or crack. 2. a look through a hole or crack; little look. 3. a small hole or crack to look through. 4. look when no one knows it. 5. a secret look: to take a peep into the pantry. 6. look out, as if peeping; come partly out: Violets peeped among the leaves. 7. cause to stick out a little; show slightly. 8. the first looking or coming out: at the peep of day. 1,4,6,7 v., 2,3,5,8 n.

peep² (pēp), 1. a short, sharp sound made by a young bird or chicken. 2. make such a sound. 3. speak in a thin, weak voice. 1 n., 2,3 v.

peep er (pēp'ər), 1. one that peeps. 2. any of certain frogs that make peeping noises. 3. Informal. eye. n.

peep hole (pēp'hōl'), hole through which one may peep. n.

peer¹ (pir), 1. person of the same rank, ability, etc., as another; equal: He is so fine a man that it would be hard to find his peer. 2. man who has a title; man who is high and great by birth or rank. A duke, marquis, earl, count, viscount, or baron is a peer. n.

peer² (pir), 1. look closely to see clearly, as a near-sighted person does: She peered at the tag to read the price. 2. come out slightly; peep out: The sun was peering from behind a cloud. v.

peer age (pir'ij), 1. rank or dignity of a peer. 2. peers of a country. 3. book giving a list of the peers of a country. n.

peer ess (pir'is), 1. wife or widow of a peer. 2. woman having the rank of peer in her own right. n.

peer less (pir'lis), without an equal; matchless: Washington was a peerless leader of our country. adj.

peeve (pēv), Informal. 1. make peevish. 2. an annoyance. 1 v., peev ed, peev ing; 2 n.

pee vish (pē'vish), cross; fretful; complaining: A peevish child is unhappy and makes others unhappy. adj. —pee'vish ly, adv. —pee'vish ness, n.

peg (peg), 1. pin or small bolt of wood, metal, etc., used to fasten parts together, to hang things on, to stop a hole, to make fast a rope or string, to mark the score in a game, etc. 2. fasten or hold with pegs: peg down a tent. 3. mark with pegs. 4. work hard: He pegged away at his studies so that he would get high marks. 5. step; degree. 1,5 n., 2-4 v., pegged, peg ging.

take down a peg, lower the pride of; humble.

Peg a sus (peg'ə səs), 1. in Greek mythology, a horse with wings, the steed of the Muses. 2. poetic genius; the means by which poets soar in the realms of poetry. 3. group of stars in the northern sky. n.

Pegasus (def. 1) peg leg, 1. a wooden leg. 2. Informal. person who has a wooden leg.

P.E.I., Prince Edward Island.

Pei ping (pā'ping' or bā'ping'), Peking. n.

Pedestal supporting a bust

Pe kin (pē'kin/), Peking. n.

Pe king (pē'king/), capital of China, in the NE part. 4,140,000. See China for map. n. Formerly, Peiping.

Pe king ese (pē'king ēz/), 1. a small dog with long hair and a pug nose. 2. native or inhabitant of Peking. 3. of or having to do with Peking or its people. 1,2 n., pl. Pe king ese; 3 adj.

Pekingese

pe koe (pē'kō), kind of black tea. n.

pe lag ic (pə laj'ik), of the ocean or the open sea. adj.

Pe léé (pə lē'), Mount, volcano on the island of Martinique in the West Indies. 4428 ft. high. n.

pelf (pelf), money or riches, thought of as bad or degrading. n.

pel i can (pel'ə kən), a large fish-eating water bird with a huge bill and a pouch on the underside of the bill for storing food. n.

Pe li on (pē'lē ən), Mount, mountain in NE Greece. 5340 ft. See Ossa, Mount. n.

pe lisse (pə lēs/), 1. coat lined or trimmed with fur. 2. woman's long cloak. n.

pel lag ra (pə lag'rə), disease marked by eruption on the skin, a nervous condition, and sometimes insanity. It is caused by lack of vitamin B in the diet. n.

White pelican (about 5 ft. long from bill to tip of tail) pel let (pel'it), 1. a little ball of mud, paper, food, medicine, etc.; pill. 2. bullet. n.

pell-mell or pell mell (pel'mel/), 1. in a rushing, tumbling mass or crowd: The children dashed pell-mell down the beach and into the waves. 2. in headlong haste. 3. headlong; tumultuous. 4. violent disorder or confusion. 1,2 adv., 3 adj., 4 n.

pel lu cid (pə lū'sid), 1. transparent; clear: a pellucid stream. 2. clearly expressed; easy to understand: pellucid language. adj.

Pel o pon ne sian (pel'ə pə nē'shən), 1. of or having to do with the Peloponnesus or its people. 2. a native or inhabitant of the Peloponnesus. 1 adj., 2 n.

Pel o pon ne sus (pel'ə pə nē'səs), peninsula that constitutes the S part of Greece. n.

pe lo ta (pə lō'tə), game of Basque or Spanish origin played on a walled court with a hard ball. The ball is struck with a kind of curved wicker racket fastened to a glove on the hand. n.

pel t (pelt), 1. throw things at; attack; assail: The boys were pelting the dog with stones. 2. beat heavily: The rain came pelting down. 3. throw: The clouds pelted rain upon us. 4. a pelting. 5. hurry. 6. speed: The horse is coming at full pelt. 1-3,5 v., 4,6 n.

pel t (pelt), 1. skin of a sheep, goat, or small fur-bearing animal, before it is tanned. 2. skin. n.

pel vic (pel'vik), of or having to do with the pelvis. adj.

pel vis (pel'vis), 1. the basin-shaped cavity formed by the hipbones and the end of the backbone. 2. a corresponding cavity of any vertebrate. 3. bones forming this cavity. n., pl. pel ves (-vēz).

Pelvis of a human being Pem ba (pem'bə), island off E Africa. It is part of Tanzania. 134,000 pop.; 380 sq. mi. n.

pem mi can (pem'ə kən), dried meat pounded into a paste with melted fat. n.

pen (pen), 1. a small metal instrument with a split point used with a holder, for writing in ink. 2. tool to use in writing with ink; pen and holder together. 3. style of writing; writing. 4. write: I penned a brief note. 1-3 n., 4 v., penned, pen ning. —pen/like', adj.

pen (pen), 1. a small, closed yard for cows, sheep, pigs, chickens, etc. 2. shut in a pen. 3. shut in; confine closely: John had me penned in a corner where I could not escape. 1 n., 2,3 v., penned or pent, pen ning. —pen/like', adj.

pen., peninsula.

pe nal (pē'nəl), 1. of, having to do with, or given as punishment: penal laws, penal labor. 2. liable to be punished: Robbery is a penal offense. adj.

pe nal ize (pē'nəl īz), 1. declare punishable by law or by rule; set a penalty for: Speeding on city streets is penalized. Fouls are penalized in many games. 2. inflict a penalty on; punish: Our team was penalized five yards. v., pe nal ized, pe nal iz ing.

pen al ty (pen'əl tē), 1. punishment: The penalty for speeding is a fine of ten dollars. 2. disadvantage imposed on a side or player for breaking rules. 3. disadvantage attached to some act or condition: the penalties of old age. 4. handicap. n., pl. pen al ties.

pen ance (pen'əns), 1. punishment borne to show sorrow for sin, to make up for a wrong done, and to obtain pardon from the church for sin. 2. any act done to show that one is sorry or repents. 3. sacrament of the Roman Catholic Church that includes contrition, confession, satisfaction, and absolution. n.

Pe nang (pi nang/), island just off the W coast of the Malay Peninsula. 220,000 pop.; 110 sq. mi. n.

pe na tes or Pe na tes (pə nā'tēz), gods of the household, worshipped in ancient Rome. n.pl.

pence (pens), Brit. a pl. of pen ny. n.

pen chant (pen'chənt), a strong taste or liking; inclination: a penchant for taking long walks. n.

pen cil (pen'sl), 1. a pointed tool to write or draw with. 2. object of like shape. 3. mark or write with a pencil. 4. stick of coloring matter. 5. an artist's paintbrush. 6. set of lines, light rays, or the like, coming to a point or extending in different directions from a point. 7. skill or style of an artist. 1,2,4-7 n., 3 v., pen ciled, pen cil ing or esp. Brit. pen cilled, pen cil ling.

pend (pend), remain undecided or unsettled. v.

pend ant (pen'dənt), 1. a hanging ornament, such as a locket. 2. ornament hanging down from ceiling or roof. 3. pendent. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

pend ent (pen'dənt), 1. hanging: the pendent branches of a willow. 2. overhanging. 3. pending. 4. pendant. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

pend ing (pen'ding), 1. waiting to be decided or settled: while the agreement was pending. 2. while waiting for; until: Pending his return, let us get everything ready. 3. during: pending the investigation. 1 adj., 2,3 prep.

pen du lous (pen'jə ləs), 1. hanging loosely: The oriole builds a pendulous nest. 2. swinging. adj. —pen/du lous ly, adv. —pen/du lousness, n.

Pendulum. Dotted lines show motion.

pen du lum (pen'jə ləm), weight so hung from a fixed point that it is free to swing to and fro. The movement of the works of a tall clock is often timed by a pendulum. n.

Pe nel o pe (pə nel'ə pē), in Greek legend, the faithful wife of Odysseus. She waited twenty years for his return in spite of the entreaties of her many suitors. n.

pen e tra bil i ty (pen'ə trə bil'ə tē), capability of being penetrated. n.

pen e tra ble (pen'ə trə bl), that can be penetrated. adj.

pen e trate (pen'ə trāt), 1. get into or through: A bullet can penetrate a wall, or two inches into a wall.

2. pierce through: Our eyes could not penetrate the darkness. 3. make a way: Even where the trees were thickest, the sunshine penetrated. 4. soak through; spread through: The odor penetrated the whole house. 5. see into; understand: I could not penetrate the mystery. v., pen e-trat ed, pen e trating.

pen e trating (pen'ə trāt'ing), 1. sharp; piercing. 2. having an acute mind; understanding thoroughly. adj. —pen e trating ly, adv.

pen e tra tion (pen'ə trā'shən), 1. act or power of penetrating. 2. act of entering a country and gaining influence there. 3. sharpness of intellect; insight. n.

pen e tra tive (pen'ə trā'tiv), penetrating; piercing; acute; keen. adj.

pen guin (pen'gwin), a sea bird of cold areas of the S hemisphere, with flippers for diving and swimming in place of wings for flying. n.

pen hold er (pen'hōl'dər), 1. handle by which a pen is held in writing. 2. rack for pens. n.

pen i cil lin (pen'ə sil'ən), a very powerful drug for destroying bacteria. It is made from a penicillium mold. n.

pen i cil li um (pen'ə sil'ē əm), any of a certain kind of fungi. The mold on cheese is a penicillium. n., pl.

pen i cil li ums, pen i cil li a (-sil'ē ə).

pen in su la (pən in'sə lə), piece of land almost surrounded by water, or extending far out into the water. Florida is a peninsula. n.

pen in su lar (pən in'sə lər), 1. like a peninsula. 2. in or of a peninsula. adj.

pe nis (pē'nis), the male organ of copulation. n., pl.

pe nis es (-nis iz), pe nes (-nēz).

pen i tence (pen'ə təns), sorrow for sinning or doing wrong; repentance. n.

pen i tent (pen'ə tənt), 1. sorry for sinning or doing wrong; repenting: The penitent boy promised never to cheat again. 2. person who is sorry for sin or wrongdoing. 3. person who confesses and does penance for his sins under the direction of the church. 1 adj., 2, 3 n. —pen'i tent ly, adv.

pen i ten tial (pen'ə ten'shəl), 1. of, showing, or having to do with penitence: The penitential psalms express remorse for sin. 2. of or having to do with penance. adj.

pen i ten tia ry (pen'ə ten'shə rē), 1. prison for criminals. 2. a State or Federal prison. 3. making one liable to punishment in a prison: a penitentiary offense. 4. used for punishment, discipline, and reformation: penitentiary measures. 5. of penance; penitential. 1, 2 n., pl. pen i ten tia ries; 3-5 adj.

pen knife (pen'nif'), a small pocketknife. n., pl. pen knives.

pen man (pen'mən), 1. writer. 2. person whose handwriting is good. n., pl. pen men.

pen man ship (pen'mən ship), writing with pen, pencil, etc.; handwriting. n.

Penn (pen), William, 1644-1718, English Quaker who founded the first settlement in Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia. n.

Penn. or Penna., Pennsylvania.

pen name, name used by a writer instead of his real name.

pen nant (pen'ənt), flag, usually long and narrow, used on ships in signaling, as a school banner, etc. n.

pen ni less (pen'ē lis), without a cent of money; very poor. adj.

pen non (pen'ən), 1. a long, triangular flag, originally carried on the lance of a knight. 2. any flag or banner. n.

Penn syl va ni a (pen'sl vā'nē ə), an Eastern State of the United States. 11,319,000 pop.; 45,333 sq. mi. Capital: Harrisburg. Abbrev.: Pa., Penn., or Penna. n. —Penn'syl va'ni an, adj., n.

King penguin (about 3 ft. tall)

Pennsylvania Dutch, 1. the descendants of 17th and 18th century immigrants to SE Pennsylvania from S Germany and Switzerland. 2. dialect of German with English intermixed, spoken by them.

pen ny (pen'ē), 1. cent; copper coin of the United States and Canada. 100 pennies = 1 dollar. 2. an English bronze coin equal to one twelfth of a shilling, or about one cent. 3. sum of money. n., pl. pen nies or esp. Brit. (collectively for 2) pence.

a pretty penny, Informal. a large sum of money.

turn an honest penny, earn money honestly.

pen ny roy al (pen'ē roi'əl), 1. a plant of the same family as the mint. 2. a fragrant oil made from it. n.

pen ny weight (pen'ē wāt'), 24 grains or 1/20 of an ounce in troy weight. n.

pen ny-wise (pen'ē wiz'), saving in regard to small sums. adj.

penny-wise and pound-foolish, saving in small expenses and wasteful in big ones.

pen ny worth (pen'ē wérth'), 1. as much as can be bought for a penny. 2. a small amount: Give me a pennyworth of advice. n.

Pe nob scot (pə nob'skot), 1. river flowing from NW Maine into the Atlantic. 350 mi. 2. member of an American Indian tribe formerly living near this river. n.

pe nol o gy (pē nol'ə jē), science of punishment of crime and management of prisons. n.

pen sion¹ (pen'shən), 1. a regular payment to a person which is not wages. Pensions are often paid because of long service, special merit, injuries received, etc. 2. give a pension to. 1 n., 2 v.

pension off, retire from service with a pension.

pen sion² (pän syōn'), French. boarding house. n.

pen sion er (pen'shən ər), 1. person who receives a pension. 2. a hireling; dependent. n.

pen sive (pen'siv), 1. thoughtful in a serious or sad way: She was in a pensive mood, and sat staring out the window. 2. melancholy. adj. —pen'sive ly, adv. —pen'sive ness, n.

pent (pent), 1. closely confined; penned; shut: pent in the house all winter. 2. a pt. and a pp. of pen². 1 adj., 2 v.

pen ta gon (pen'tə gon), figure having five sides and five angles. n.

the Pentagon, building that is the headquarters of the defense department of the United States. It is in Arlington, Virginia.

pen tag o nal (pen tag'ə nl), having five sides and five angles. adj.

pen ta he dron (pen'tə hē'drən), a solid figure having five faces. n., pl. pen ta he drons, pen ta he dra (-dra).

Pen ta teuch (pen'tə tük or pen'tə tük), the first five books of the Old Testament. Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy are the Penta-teuch. n.

pen tath lon (pen tath'lən), an athletic contest consisting of five different events. The person having the highest total score wins. n.

Pen te cost (pen'tə kōst), 1. the seventh Sunday after Easter. Pentecost is a Christian festival in memory of the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the Apostles. Acts 2. Also called Whitsunday. 2. a Jewish harvest festival, observed about seven weeks after the Passover. n.

pent house (pent'hous'), 1. apartment or house built on the top of a building. 2. a sloping roof projecting from a building. 3. shed with a sloping roof attached to a building. n.

pent-up (pent'up'), shut up; closely confined: Her pent-up feelings could no longer be restrained, and she burst into tears. adj.

pe nult (pē'nult), the next to the last syllable in a word. n.

pe nul ti mate (pi nul'tə mit), 1. next to the last. 2. of or having to do with the penult. 3. penult. 1, 2 adj., 3 n.

pe num bra (pi num'brə), 1. the partial shadow outside of the complete shadow formed by the sun, moon, etc., during an eclipse. See eclipse for diagram. 2. the grayish outer part of a sunspot. n., pl. pe num brae (-brē) or pe num bras.

Pentagon

Pennant

pe nu ri ous (pi nūr'ē əs or pi nyūr'ē əs), mean about spending or giving money; stingy. adj. —pe nu'ri-ous ly, adv. —pe nu'ri ous ness, n.

pen u ry (pen'yə rē), very great poverty. n.

pe on (pē'on), 1. in Spanish America, a person doing work that requires little skill. 2. in the SW United States and Mexico, a worker held for service to work off a debt. n.

pe on age (pē'an ij), 1. condition or service of a peon. 2. practice of holding persons to work off debts. n.

pe o ny (pē'ə nē), 1. a perennial garden plant with large, showy red, pink, or white flowers. 2. its flower. n., pl. pe o nies.

peo ple (pē'pl), 1. men, women, and children; persons: There were ten people present. 2. race; nation: the peoples of Asia, the American people. 3. body of citizens of a state; the public. 4. persons of a place, class, or group: city people, Southern people. 5. the common people; lower classes: The French nobles oppressed the people. 6. persons in relation to a superior: A king rules over his people. 7. Informal. family; relatives: John has many friends, but he likes his own people best. 8. fill with people; populate; stock with animals, etc.: Europe very largely peopled America. 1-7 n., pl. peo ple or (for def. 2) peo ples; 8 v., peo pled, peo pling.

Pe o ri a (pē'ō rē ə), city in central Illinois. 103,000. n.

pep (pep), U.S. Slang. 1. spirit; energy; vim. 2. Pe p up means fill or inspire with energy, etc.; put new life into. 1 n., 2 v., pepped, pep ping.

pep lum (pep'ləm), 1. a short skirt attached about the waist; overskirt. 2. a full garment worn by women in ancient Greece. n., pl. pep lum s, pep la (-lə).

Peplum (def. 1)

pep per (pep'ər), 1. a seasoning with a hot taste, used for soups, meats, vegetables, etc. See black pepper, cayenne, and white pepper. 2. plant bearing berries from which pepper is made. 3. any of several hollow, green or red vegetables with many seeds. They are eaten raw or cooked or pickled. 4. plant bearing any such vegetable. 5. season or sprinkle with pepper. 6. sprinkle thickly: His face is peppered with freckles. 7. hit with small objects sent thick and fast: We peppered the enemy's lines with our shot. 8. a small container for pepper: silver salts and peppers. 1-4, 8 n., 5-7 v.

pep per corn (pep'ər kōrn'), one of the dried berries that are ground up to make black pepper. n.

pep per grass (pep'ər gras'), a common weed with a peppery taste. n.

pep per mint (pep'ər mint), 1. herb grown for its oil, used in medicine and in candy. 2. this oil. 3. candy flavored with peppermint oil. n.

pep per y (pep'ər ē), 1. full of pepper; like pepper. 2. hot; sharp. 3. having a hot temper; easily made angry. adj. —pep'per i ness, n.

peppy (pep'ē), U.S. Slang. full of pep; energetic; lively: Scotch terriers are peppy dogs. adj., pep pi er, pep pi est. —pep'pi ness, n.

pep sin (pep'sən), 1. enzyme or substance in the gastric juice of the stomach that helps to digest meat, eggs, cheese, and other proteins. 2. medicine to help digestion, containing this enzyme. n.

pep tic (pep'tik), 1. promoting digestion; digestive. 2. able to digest. 3. substance promoting digestion. 4. of or having to do with pepsin. 1, 2, 4 adj., 3 n.

pep tone (pep'tōn), any of a class of diffusible and soluble substances into which meat, eggs, cheese, and other proteins are changed by pepsin or trypsin. n.

Pe quot (pē'kwot), member of a tribe of American Indians in S New England. n.

per (pər; stressed pər), 1. for each: a pound of candy per child, ten cents per pound. 2. through; by means of: I send this per my son. prep.

per ad ven ture (pər'əd ven'chər), 1. Archaic. perhaps: Peradventure he will come today. 2. chance; doubt: Beyond peradventure he will come. 1 adv., 2 n.

per am bu late (pər am'byə lāt), 1. walk through. 2. walk about. 3. walk through and examine. v., per am bu lat ed, per am bu lat ing. —per am'bu la'tion, n.

per am bu la tor (pər am'byə lā'tər), 1. a small carriage in which a baby is pushed about. 2. person who perambulates. n.

per an num (pər an'əm), per year; yearly; for each year: Her salary was $2500 per annum.

per cale (pər kāl'), a closely woven cotton cloth with a smooth finish. n.

per ca pi ta (pər kap'ə tə), for each person: $40 for eight men is $5 per capita.

per ceive (pər sēv'), 1. be aware of through the senses; see, hear, taste, smell, or feel: Did you perceive the colors of that bird? 2. take in with the mind; observe: I perceived that I could not make him change his mind. v., per ceived, per ceiv ing.

per cent or per cent (pər sent'), 1. hundredths; parts in each hundred. Five per cent (5%) of 40 is the same as $\frac{5}{100} \times 40$. 2. for each hundred; in each hundred: Seven per cent of all the children failed. n.

per cent age (pər sen'tij), 1. rate or proportion of each hundred; part of each hundred: What percentage of children were absent? 2. part; proportion: A large percentage of schoolbooks now have pictures. 3. allowance, commission, discount, rate of interest, etc., figured by per cent. n.

per cen tile (pər sen'til), any value in a series of points on a scale arrived at by dividing a group into a hundred equal parts in order of magnitude. n.

per centum, 1. by the hundred. 2. for or in every hundred.

per cept (pər'sept), 1. that which is perceived. 2. understanding that is the result of perceiving. n.

per cep ti bil i ty (pər sep'tə bil'ə tē), fact, quality, or state of being perceptible. n.

per cep ti ble (pər sep'tə bl), that can be perceived: The other ship was barely perceptible in the fog. adj.

per cep ti bly (pər sep'tə blē), in a perceptible way or amount; to a perceptible degree. adv.

per cep tion (pər sep'shən), 1. act of perceiving: His perception of the change came in a flash. 2. power of perceiving: a keen perception. 3. the understanding that is the result of perceiving: Fred had a clear perception of what was wrong, and soon fixed it. n.

per cep tive (pər sep'tiv), 1. having to do with perception. 2. having the power of perceiving. adj.

perch (pərch), 1. bar, branch, or anything else on which a bird can come to rest. 2. alight and rest; sit: A robin perched on her perch railing. 3. a rather high place or position. 4. sit rather high: He perched on a stool. 5. place high up: a village perched on a high hill. 6. measure of length; rod; 5½ yards. 7. measure of area; square rod; 30¼ square yards. 1, 3, 6, 7 n., 2, 4, 5 v. —perch'er, n.

perch (pərch), 1. kind of small fresh-water fish, used for food. 2. a similar salt-water fish. n., pl. perch es or (esp. collectively) perch.

per chance (pər chans'), Archaic or Poetic. perhaps. adv.

Per che ron (pər'chə ron), one of a breed of large and strong horses. n.

per cip i ent (pər sip'ē ənt), 1. perceiving. 2. having perception. 3. one that perceives. 1, 2 adj., 3 n.

Per ci val or Per ci vale (pər'sə vl), one of King Arthur's knights who sought the Holy Grail. n.

per co late (pər'kə lāt), 1. drip or drain through small holes or spaces: Let the coffee percolate for seven minutes.

2. filter through; permeate: Water percolates sand. v., per co lat ed, per co lat ing.

per co la tor (pər'kə lā'tər), kind of coffee pot in which boiling water drains through ground coffee. n.

per cus sion (pər kush'ən), 1. the striking of one body against another with force; stroke; blow. 2. shock made by the striking of one body against another with force. 3. tapping of a part of the body by a doctor. n.

percussion cap, a small cap containing powder. It explodes when struck by the hammer of the gun and sets off the charge.

percussion instrument, a musical instrument played by striking it, such as a drum or cymbal.

per di em (pər dī'ēm), 1. per day; for each day. 2. allowance of so much every day.

per di tion (pər dīsh'ən), 1. loss of one's soul and the joys of heaven.

2. hell. 3. utter loss. n.

per e gri nate (pər'ə grā nāt), travel; journey. v., per e gri nat ed, per e gri nat ing.

per e gri na tion (pər'ə grā nā'shən), journey; travel. n.

per e grine (pər'ə grin), 1. a large falcon, formerly much used in Europe for hawking. 2. foreign; strange. 1 n., 2 adj.

Peregrine
(18 in. long)

per emp to ry (pər emp'tə rē), 1. imperious; positive: a peremptory teacher. 2. allowing no denial or refusal: a peremptory command. 3. leaving no choice; decisive; final; absolute: a peremptory decree. adj. —per emp'to ri ly, adv. —per emp'to ri ness, n.

per en ni al (pər en'ē əl), 1. lasting through the whole year: a perennial stream. 2. lasting for a very long time; enduring: the perennial beauty of the hills. 3. having underground parts that live more than two years: perennial garden plants. 4. a perennial plant: Roses are perennials. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —per en'ni al ly, adv.

per fect (pər'fekt for 1,3,4,7-10; pər fekt' for 2,5,6), 1. without defect; not spoiled at any point; faultless: a perfect spelling paper. Perfect work shows great care. 2. remove all faults from; make perfect; improve; add the finishing touches to: The artist was perfecting his picture. 3. completely skilled; expert: a perfect golfer. 4. having all its parts; complete: The set was perfect; nothing was missing or broken. 5. carry through; complete: perfect a plan, perfect an invention. 6. raise to the highest point: perfect one's skill. 7. entire; utter: a perfect stranger to us. 8. in grammar, showing action or state completed at a time indicated by another verb in the utterance or by the context. There are three perfect tenses: perfect, past perfect, and future perfect. 9. the perfect tense. 10. a verb form in such tense. Have eaten is the perfect of eat. 1,3,4,7,8 adj., 2,5,6 v., 9,10 n. —per fect'er, n. —per'fect ness, n.

per fect i bil i ty (pər fekt'ə bil'ə tē), capability of becoming, or being made, perfect. n.

per fect i ble (pər fekt'ə bl), capable of becoming, or being made, perfect. adj.

per fec tion (pər fek'shən), 1. perfect condition; faultlessness; highest excellence. 2. a perfect person or thing: His work is always perfection. 3. a making complete or perfect: Perfection of our plans will take another week. n.

to perfection, perfectly.

per fec tion ist (pər fek'shən ist), 1. person who is not content with anything that is not perfect or nearly perfect. 2. person who believes it possible to lead a sinless life. n.

per fect ly (pər'fikt lē), in a perfect manner or degree; completely or thoroughly; fully; faultlessly; with utmost exactness; entirely. adv.

perfect participle, participle expressing action completed before the time of speaking or acting. In "Having written the letter, she mailed it," having written is a perfect participle.

per fer vid (pər fēr'vid), very fervid. adj.

per fid i ous (pər fid'ē əs), deliberately faithless; treacherous. adj. —per fid'ous ly, adv.

per fi dy (pər'fā dē), a breaking faith; base treachery; being false to a trust. n., pl. per fi dies.

per fo rate (pər'fā rāt), 1. make a hole or holes through: perforate a target by bullets. 2. make a row or rows of holes through: Sheets of postage stamps are perforated. v., per fo rat ed, per fo rat ing.

per fo ra tion (pər'fā rā'shən), 1. hole bored or punched through something: the perforations in a salt-cellar. 2. a perforating. 3. being perforated. n.

per force (pər fōrs'), by necessity; necessarily. adv.

per form (pər fōrm'), 1. do: Perform your duties well. 2. put into effect; carry out: Perform your promise. The surgeon performed an operation. 3. go through; render: perform a piece of music. 4. act, play, sing, or do tricks in public. v.

per form ance (pər fōr'məns), 1. carrying out; doing: in the performance of one's regular duties. 2. thing performed; act; deed: The child's kicks and screams made a disgraceful performance. 3. the giving of a play, circus, or other show: The evening performance is at 8 o'clock. n.

per form er (pər fōr'mər), person who performs; especially, one who performs for the entertainment of others; player. n.

per fume (pər'fūm or pər fūm' for 1,3; pər fūm' for 2,4), 1. liquid having the sweet smell of flowers. 2. fill with sweet odor: Flowers perfumed the air. 3. a sweet smell: the perfume of flowers. 4. put a sweet-smelling liquid on. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., per fumed, per fuming.

per fume er (pər fūm'ər), maker or seller of perfumes. n.

per fum er y (pər fūm'ər ē), 1. a perfume. 2. perfumes collectively. 3. business of making or selling perfumes. n., pl. per fum er ies.

per func to ry (pər fungk'tə rē), 1. done merely for the sake of getting rid of the duty; done from force of habit; mechanical; indifferent: The little boy gave his face a perfunctory washing. 2. acting in a perfunctory way: The new nurse was perfunctory; she did not really care about her work. adj. —per-func'to ri ly, adv. —per-func'to ri ness, n.

per go la (pər'gə lə), arbor made of a trellis supported by posts. n.

Pergola

per haps (pər haps'), maybe; possibly: Perhaps a letter will come to you today. adv.

per i anth (pər'ē anth), envelope of a flower, including the calyx and the corolla. n.

per i car di al (pər'ə kār'dē əl), 1. around the heart. 2. of or having to do with the pericardium. adj.

per i car di um (pər'ə kār'dē əm), the membranous sac enclosing the heart. n., pl. per i car di a (-dē ə).

per i carp (pər'ə kārp), walls of a ripened ovary or fruit, sometimes consisting of three layers; seed vessel. n.

Per i cles (pər'ə klēz), 490?-429 B.C., Athenian statesman, orator, and military commander. n.

per i cra ni um (pər'ə krā'nē əm), membrane covering the bones of the skull. n., pl. per i cra ni a (-nē ə).

per i gee (pər'ə jē), point closest to the earth in the orbit of the moon or an earth satellite. See apogee for diagram. n.

per i he li on (pər'ə hē'lē ən), point closest to the sun in the orbit of a planet or comet. n., pl. per i he li a (-hē'lē ə).

per il (pər'əl), 1. chance of harm; danger: This bridge is not safe; cross it at your peril. 2. put in danger. 1 n., 2 v., per iled, per il ing or esp. Brit. per illed, per il ling.

Orbit of planet: S, sun; P, perihelion; A, aphelion.

per il ous (per'ə ləs), dangerous. adj. —per'il-ous ly, adv.

pe rim e ter (pə rim'ə tər), 1. the outer boundary of a surface or figure. 2. distance around such a boundary. The perimeter of a square equals four times the length of one side. n.

pe ri od (pir'ē əd), 1. portion of time, having certain features or conditions: the period of the Civil War. He visited us for a short period. 2. portion of time marked off by events that happen again and again; time after which the same things begin to happen again: A month, from new moon to new moon, is a period. 3. subdivision of a geological era. 4. portion of a game during which there is actual play. 5. one of the portions of time into which a school day is divided. 6. time needed for a disease to run its course. 7. dot (.) marking the end of most sentences or showing an abbreviation. Examples: Mr., Dec. 8. the pause at the end of a sentence. 9. a complete sentence: The orator spoke in stately periods. 10. characteristic of a certain period of time: period furniture. 1-9 n., 10 adj.

pe ri od ic (pir'ē əd'ik), 1. occurring, appearing, or done again and again at regular intervals: periodic attacks of malaria. 2. happening every now and then: a periodic fit of clearing up one's desk. 3. having to do with a period: The coming of the new moon is a periodic occurrence. 4. expressed in formal sentences whose meanings are not complete without the final words. adj.

pe ri od i cal (pir'ē əd'ə kl), 1. magazine that appears regularly. 2. of or having to do with periodicals. 3. published at regular intervals, less often than daily. 4. periodic. 1 n., 2-4 adj.

pe ri od i cal ly (pir'ē əd'ik lē), 1. at regular intervals. 2. every now and then. adv.

pe ri o dic i ty (pir'ē ə dis'ə tē), periodic character; tendency to happen at regular intervals. n., pl. pe ri o dic i ties.

periodic law, law that the properties of chemical elements change at regular intervals when the elements are arranged in the order of their atomic numbers.

periodic table, table in which the chemical elements, arranged in the order of their atomic weights, are shown in related groups.

per i os te um (per'ē əs'tē əm), the dense fibrous membrane covering the surface of bones except at the joints. n., pl. per i os te a (-tē ə).

per i pa tet ic (per'ə pə tet'ik), walking about; traveling from place to place. adj.

pe riph er al (pə rif'ər əl), having to do with, situated in, or forming an outside boundary. adj. —pe riph'er al ly, adv.

pe riph er y (pə rif'ər ē), an outside boundary. The periphery of a circle is called the circumference. n., pl. pe riph er ies.

per i phrase (per'ə frāz), 1. a roundabout way of speaking or writing; circumlocution: "The wife of your father's brother" is a periphrase for "your aunt." 2. express in a roundabout way. 1 n., 2 v., per i phrased, per i phras ing.

per i scope (per'ə skōp), instrument that allows those in a submarine or trench to obtain a view of the surface. It is a tube with an arrangement of prisms or mirrors that reflect light rays down the tube. n.

per i scop ic (per'ə skop'ik), giving distinct vision obliquely as well as in a direct line. adj.

per ish (per'ish), be destroyed; die: Buildings perish in flames. Soldiers perish in battle. v.

Periscope on a submarine. It can be turned in any direction, and also raised and lowered.

per ish a ble (per'ish ə bl), 1. liable to spoil or decay: Fruit is perishable. 2. something perishable. 1 adj., 2 n. —per'ish a ble ness, n.

per i stal sis (per'ə stal'sis), movement in the wall of a hollow organ by which it propels its contents onward; especially, the wavelike circular contractions of the alimentary canal. n., pl. per i stal ses (-sēz).

per i stal tic (per'ə stal'tik), of or having to do with peristalsis. adj.

per i style (per'ə stīl), 1. row of columns surrounding a building, court, or the like. 2. space or court so enclosed. n.

per i to ne al (per'ə tə nə'əl), of the peritoneum. adj.
per i to ne um (per'ə tə nə'əm), membrane that lines the walls of the abdomen and covers the organs in it. n., pl. per i to ne a (-nē'ə).

per i to ni tis (per'ə tə nī'tis), inflammation of the peritoneum. n.

per i wig (per'ə wig), wig. n.

per i win kle¹ (per'ē wing'kl), a low, trailing evergreen plant with blue flowers. The American periwinkle is called myrtle. n.

per i win kle² (per'ē wing'kl), a sea snail with a thick, cone-shaped, spiral shell, used for food in Europe. n.

per jure (pər'jər), make (oneself) guilty of perjury. v., per jured, per jur ing.

per jure oneself, swear falsely; lie when on oath; swear that something is true which one knows to be false: The witness perjured himself by lying about what he saw on the night of the murder.

per jured (pər'jərd), guilty of perjury. adj.

per jur er (pər'jər ər), person who commits perjury. n.

per ju ry (pər'jər ē), act of swearing that something is true which one knows to be false. n., pl. per ju ries.

perk (pərk), 1. move, lift the head, or act briskly or saucily. 2. raise smartly or briskly: The sparrow perked up his tail. 3. make trim or smart: She is all perked out in her Sunday clothes. 4. put oneself forward briskly or assertively. v.

perk up, brighten up; become lively and vigorous.

perk y (pər'kē), smart; brisk; saucy; pert. adj., perk i er, perk i est. —perk'i ly, adv. —perk'i ness, n.

per ma nence (pər'mə nəns), being permanent; lasting quality or condition. n.

per ma nen cy (pər'mə nən sē), 1. permanence. 2. a permanent person, thing, or position. n., pl. per ma nen cies.

per ma nent (pər'mə nənt), 1. lasting; intended to last; not for a short time only: a permanent filling in a tooth. After doing odd jobs for a week, he got a permanent position as office boy. 2. Informal. permanent wave. 1 adj., 2 n. —per'ma nent ly, adv.

permanent wave, wave lasting several months, put in the hair by a special process.

per me a bil i ty (pər'mē ə bil'ə tē), being permeable. n.
per me a ble (pər'mē ə bl), that can be permeated: A sponge is permeable by water. adj.

per me ate (pər'mē āt), 1. spread through the whole of; pass through; soak through: Smoke permeated the house. 2. penetrate: Water will easily permeate a cotton dress. v., per me at ed, per me at ing.

per me a tion (pər'mē ā'shən), a permeating; penetration; diffusion through; saturation. n.

per mis si ble (pər mis'ə bl), that may be permitted; allowable. adj. —per mis'si bly, adv.

per mis sion (pər mish'ən), consent; leave; permitting: Dan asked the teacher's permission to go early. Father gave me his permission to use his car. n.

per mis sive (pər mis'iv), 1. permitting; allowing. 2. permitted; allowed. adj.

per mit (pər mit' for 1,2; pər'mit or pər mit' for 3,4), 1. allow (a person, etc.) to do something: His parents permitted him to enlist when he was seventeen. 2. let per mu ta tion (pér'mū tā'shən), 1. alteration. 2. in mathematics, a changing of the order of a set of things; arranging in different orders. 3. such an arrangement or group. The permutations of a, b, and c are abc, acb, bac, bca, cab, cba. n.

(something) be done or occur: The law permits smoking in this store. 3. a formal written order giving permission to do something: a permit to fish or hunt. 4. permission. 1,2 v., per mit ted, per mit ting; 3,4 n.

per mute (pér mūt'), 1. change; alter. 2. in mathematics, change the order of (numbers, letters, etc.); subject to permutation. v., per mut ed, per mut ing.

per ni cious (pér nish'əs), 1. that will destroy or ruin; causing great harm or damage; injurious: Gambling is a pernicious habit. 2. fatal. adj. —per ni cious ly, adv.

per nicious anemia, a very severe disease in which the number of red corpuscles in the blood decreases.

Pe rón (pə rōn'), Juan Domingo, born 1902, president of Argentina from 1946 to 1955. n.

per o rate (pér'ə rāt), 1. make a formal conclusion to a speech. 2. speak at length; make a speech. v., per o rat ed, per o rat ing.

per o ra tion (pér'ə rā'shən), the last part of an oration or discussion. It sums up what has been said. n.

per ox id (pər ok'sid), peroxide. n.

per ox ide (pər ok'sid), 1. oxide of a given element or radical that contains the greatest, or an unusual, amount of oxygen. 2. hydrogen peroxide. 3. bleach (hair) by applying hydrogen peroxide. 1,2 n., 3 v., per ox id ed, per ox id ing.

per pen dic u lar (pér'pən dik'yə lər), 1. upright; standing straight up: a perpendicular cliff. 2. at right angles. One line is perpendicular to another when it makes a square corner with another. See the diagrams. The floor of a room is perpendicular to the side walls and parallel to the ceiling. 3. a perpendicular line or plane. 4. a perpendicular position. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

per pe trate (pér'pə trāt), do or commit (crime, fraud, trick, or anything bad or foolish): The king's brother perpetrated the cruel murder of the prince. v., per pe trat ed, per pe trat ing.

per pe tra tion (pér'pə trā'shən), 1. act of perpetrating. 2. thing perpetrated. n.

per pe tra tor (pér'pə trā'tər), doer; person who does something bad or foolish. n.

per pet u al (pər pech'ū əl), 1. lasting forever; eternal: the perpetual hills. 2. lasting throughout life: a perpetual income. 3. continuous; never ceasing: a perpetual stream of visitors. adj.

per pet u al ly (pər pech'ū əl ē), forever. adv.

per pet u ate (pər pech'ū āt), make perpetual; keep from being forgotten: The Washington Monument was built to perpetuate the memory of a great man. v., per pet u at ed, per pet u at ing. —per pet u a'tion, n. —per pet u a'tor, n.

per pe tu i ty (pér'pə tü'ə tē or pér'pə tü'ā tē), being perpetual; existence forever. n., pl. per pe tu i ties. in perpetuity, forever.

per plex (pər pleks'), 1. trouble with doubt; puzzle; bewilder: This problem is hard enough to perplex even the teacher. 2. make difficult to understand or settle; confuse. v. —per plex'ing ly, adv.

per plex i ty (pər plek'sə tē), 1. perplexed condition; confusion; being puzzled; a not knowing what to do or how to act. 2. something that perplexes. n., pl. per plex i ties.

per qui site (pér'kwə zit), anything received for work besides the regular pay: The maid had the old dresses of her mistress as a perquisite. n.

Per ry (pér'ē), 1. Oliver Hazard, 1785-1819, American naval commander. 2. his brother, Matthew C., 1794-1858, American naval officer. He arranged a treaty between the United States and Japan which opened Japan to American trade. n.

per se (pér sē'), Latin. in itself; intrinsically.

per se cute (pér'sə kūt), 1. treat badly; do harm to again and again; oppress: The cruel boy persecuted the kitten by throwing stones at it whenever it came near. 2. punish for religious reasons. 3. annoy: persecuted by silly questions. v., per se cut ed, per se cut ing. —per'se cu'tor, n.

per se cu tion (pér'sə kū'shən), 1. a persecuting: the boy's persecution of the kitten. 2. being persecuted: the kitten's persecution by the boy. n.

Per seph o ne (pər sef'ə nē), Proserpina. n.

Per se us (pér'sē əs), in Greek mythology, a Greek hero who slew Medusa and rescued Andromeda from a sea monster. n.

per se ver ance (pér'sə vir'əns), a sticking to a purpose or an aim; never giving up what one has set out to do: By perseverance the lame boy learned to swim. n.

per se vere (pér'sə vir'), continue steadily in doing something hard; persist. v., per se ver ed, per se ver ing. —per'se ver'ing ly, adv.

Per shing (pér'shing),

John Joseph, 1860-1948, general in command of the United States Army in World War I. n.

Per sia (pér'zhə),

1. former country in SW Asia south of the Caspian Sea. Its name was officially changed to Iran in 1935. 2. an ancient empire in western and southwestern Asia. Alexander the Great conquered the Persian Empire, 334-331 B.C. n.

Shaded area indicates the Persian Empire at its greatest extent.

Per sian (pér'zhən), 1. of or having to do with Persia, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Persia. 3. language of Persia. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Persian Gulf, gulf of the Arabian Sea, between Iran and Arabia. 600 mi. long; 97,000 sq. mi.

Persian lamb, a very curly fur from lambs of Iran and some parts of central Asia.

per si flage (pér'sə flāzh), light, joking talk. n.

per sim mon (pər sim'ən), 1. a North American tree with a plumlike fruit containing one to ten seeds. 2. fruit of this tree, very bitter when green but sweet and good to eat when very ripe. n.

per sist (pər sist'), 1. continue firmly; refuse to stop or be changed: Jane persists in reading in bed. 2. last; stay; endure: On the tops of very high mountains snow persists throughout the year. 3. say again and again; maintain: He persisted that he was innocent of the crime. v.

per sist ence (pər sis'təns), 1. being persistent: the persistence of a fly buzzing around one's head. 2. continuing existence: the persistence of a cough. n.

per sist ent (pər sis'tənt), 1. persisting; having lasting qualities, especially in the face of dislike, disapproval, or difficulties: a persistent worker, a persistent beggar. 2. lasting; going on; continuing: a persistent headache that lasted for three days. adj. —per sist'ent ly, adv.

per son (pér'sn), 1. man, woman, or child; human being. 2. a human body; bodily appearance: He has a fine person. 3. in grammar, a change in a pronoun or verb to show the person speaking (first person), the person spoken to (second person), or the person or thing spoken of (third person). I and we are used for the first person; thou and you, for the second person; he, she, it, and they, for the third person. 4. a form of a pronoun or verb giving such indication. Comes is third person singular of come. n.

in person, 1. with one's own body: Come in person; do not write or phone. 2. really present, not merely thought of.

per son a ble (pər'sn ə bl), having a pleasing appearance; good-looking; attractive. adj.

per son age (pər'sn ij), 1. person of importance. 2. person. 3. character in a book, play, etc. n.

per son al (pər'sn l), 1. individual; private: a personal letter. 2. done in person; directly by oneself, not through others or by letter: a personal visit. 3. of the body or bodily appearance: personal beauty. 4. about or against a person or persons: personal abuse. 5. inclined to make remarks to or ask questions of others: Don't be too personal. 6. U.S. a short paragraph in a newspaper about a particular person or persons. 7. in grammar, showing person. I, we, thou, you, he, she, it, and they are personal pronouns. 8. of or having to do with possessions that can be moved, not land or buildings. 1-5, 7, 8 adj., 6 n.

per son al i ty (pər'sn ə l'ə tē), 1. the personal or individual quality that makes one person be different or act differently from another: A baby two weeks old does not have much personality. 2. qualities of a person: Dan is developing a fine personality. 3. remark made about or against one particular person: Personalities are not in good taste in general conversation. 4. person; personage. n., pl. per son al i ties.

per son al ly (pər'sn l ē), 1. in person; not by the aid of others: The hostess saw to the comforts of her guests personally. 2. as far as oneself is concerned: Personally, I like apples better than oranges. 3. as a person: We like him personally, but dislike his way of living. adv.

personal property, property that is not land, buildings, mines, or forests; movable possessions.

per so na non gra ta (pər sō'nə non grā'tə), Latin. person who is not acceptable.

per son ate (pər'sn āt), 1. act the part of (a character in a play, etc.). 2. act; play a part. 3. pretend to be. v., per son at ed, per son at ing.

per son i fi ca tion (pər son'ə fə kā'shən), 1. a striking example; type: A miser is the personification of greed. 2. a representing as a person, such as speaking of the sun as he and the moon as she. 3. person or creature imagined as representing a thing or idea: Satan is the personification of evil. 4. figure of speech in which a lifeless thing or quality is spoken of as if alive. Examples: The music sobbed. Duty calls us. n.

per son i fy (pər son'ə fi), 1. be a type of; embody: Satan personifies evil. 2. regard or represent as a person. We often personify the sun and moon, referring to the sun as he and the moon as she. v., per son i fied, per son i fy ing.

per son nel (pər'sn el'), persons employed in any work, business, or service. n.

per spec tive (pər spek'tiv), 1. art of picturing objects on a flat surface so as to give the appearance of distance. 2. drawn so as to show the proper perspective. 3. effect of distance on the appearance of objects. 4. effect of the distance of events upon the mind: Many happenings of last year seem less important when viewed in perspective. 5. view of things or facts in which they are in the right relations. 6. view in front; distant view. 1, 3-6 n., 2 adj.

per spi ca cious (pər'spə kā'shəs), keen in observing and understanding; discerning. adj. —per'spi ca'cious ly, adv.

per spi cac i ty (pər'spə kas'ə tē), keen perception; discernment; wisdom and understanding in dealing with people or with facts. n.

per spi cu i ty (pər'spə kū'ə tē), clearness in expression; ease in being understood. n.

per spic u ous (pər spik'yū əs), clear; easily understood. adj.

per spi ra tion (pər'spə rā'shən), 1. sweat. 2. sweating. n.

per spire (pər spīr'), sweat. v., per spired, per spir ing.

per suade (pər swād'), win over to do or believe; make willing or sure by urging, arguing, etc.: I knew I should study, but he persuaded me to go to the movies. v., per suad ed, per suad ing.

per sua sion (pər swā'zhən), 1. a persuading: All our persuasion was of no use; she would not come. 2. power of persuading. 3. firm belief. 4. religious belief; creed: All Christians are not of the same persuasion. n.

per sua sive (pər swā'siv), able, intended, or fitted to persuade: The salesman had a very persuasive way of talking. adj. —per sua'sive ly, adv. —per sua'sive ness, n.

pert (pért), too forward or free in speech or action; saucy; bold. adj. —pert'ly, adv. —pert'ness, n.

per tain (pər tān'), 1. belong or be connected as a part, possession, etc.: We own the house and the land pertaining to it. 2. refer; be related: "Pertaining to school" means "having to do with school." 3. be appropriate: We had turkey and everything else that pertains to Thanksgiving Day. v.

Perth (pérth), city in SW Australia. 395,000. n.

per ti na cious (pért'n ā'shəs), holding firmly to a purpose, action, or opinion; very persistent: A bulldog is a pertinacious fighter. adj. —per'ti na'cious ly, adv.

per ti nac i ty (pért'n as'ə tē), great persistence; holding firmly to a purpose, action, or opinion. n.

per ti nence (pért'n əns), fitness; being to the point; relevance: The pertinence of the boy's replies showed that he was not stupid. n.

per ti nent (pért'n ənt), having to do with what is being considered; relating to the matter in hand; to the point: If your question is pertinent, I will answer it. adj. —per'ti nent ly, adv.

per turb (pər tərb'), disturb greatly; make uneasy or troubled: Mother was much perturbed by my illness. v.

per tur ba tion (pər'tər bā'shən), 1. a perturbing. 2. perturbed condition. 3. thing, act, or event that causes it. n.

Pe ru (pə rū'), a mountainous country on the W coast of South America. 10,857,000 pop.; 514,059 sq. mi. Capital: Lima. See South America for map. n.

pe ruke (pə rük'), wig. Men in the 17th and 18th centuries wore perukes. n.

pe rus al (pə rüz'l), a perusing; reading: the perusal of a letter. n.

pe ruse (pə rüz'), 1. read thoroughly and carefully. 2. read. v., pe rused, pe rus ing.

Pe ru vi an (pə rū'vē ən), 1. of or having to do with Peru or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Peru. 1 adj., 2 n.

Peruvian bark, bark from which quinine is obtained; cinchona.

per vade (pər vād'), go or spread throughout; be throughout: The odor of pines pervades the air. v., per vad ed, per vad ing. —per vad'er, n.

per va sion (pər vā'zhən), a pervading or being pervaded; permeation. n.

per va sive (pər vā'siv), 1. tending to pervade. 2. having power to pervade. adj. —per va'sive ness, n.

per verse (pər vɜrs'), 1. contrary and willful; stubborn: The perverse child did just what we told him not to do. 2. persistent in wrong. 3. wicked. 4. not correct; wrong: perverse reasoning. adj. —per verse'ly, adv. —per verse'ness, n.

per ver sion (pər vɜr'zhən), a turning or being turned to what is wrong; change to what is unnatural, abnormal, or wrong: A tendency to eat sand is a perversion of appetite. n.

per ver si ty (pər vɜr'sə tē), 1. quality of being perverse. 2. perverse character or conduct. n., pl. per ver si ties.

Peruke

pervert (pər vèrt/ for 1-4; pèr/vèrt for 5), 1. lead or turn from the right way or from the truth: Reading silly stories perverts our taste for good books. 2. give a wrong meaning to: His enemies perverted his friendly remark and made it into an insult. 3. use for wrong purposes or in a wrong way: A clever criminal perverts his talents. 4. change from what is natural or normal. 5. a perverted person. 1-4 v., 5 n. —pervert'er, n.

pervious (pər/vē əs), 1. giving passage or entrance: Sand is easily pervious to water. 2. open to influence, argument, etc. adj.

pe se ta (pə sā'tə), 1. unit of money of Spain, worth about 2 cents (1964). 2. a silver coin equal to one peseta. n.

pes ky (pes/kē), U.S. Informal. troublesome; annoying. adj., pes ki er, pes ki est.

pe so (pə'sō), 1. unit of money in Mexico, Cuba, Colombia, Argentina, Uruguay, and the Philippines. Its value varies from one cent in Argentina to a dollar in Cuba. 2. coin or piece of paper money used in any of these countries. n., pl. pe sos.

pes si mism (pes'ə miz əm), 1. tendency to look on the dark side of things or to see difficulties and disadvantages. 2. belief that things naturally tend to evil, or that life is not worth while. n.

pes si mist (pes'ə mist), 1. person inclined to see all the difficulties and disadvantages or to look on the dark side of things. 2. person who thinks that life holds more evil than good, and so is not worth living. n.

pes si mis tic (pes'ə mis'tik), 1. disposed to take a gloomy view of things and to see the dark side of life. 2. believing that life holds more evil than good, and so is not worth while. adj. —pes'si mis'ti cal ly, adv.

pest (pest), 1. thing or person that causes trouble, injuries, or destruction; nuisance: Flies and mosquitoes are pests. 2. pestilence. n.

pes ter (pes'tər), annoy; trouble; vex: Flies pester us. v.

pest house (pest/hous'), hospital for persons ill with highly infectious and dangerous diseases. n.

pes tif er ous (pes tif'ər əs), 1. bringing disease or infection: Rats are pestiferous. 2. bringing moral evil: the pestiferous influence of a bad example. 3. Informal. troublesome; annoying. adj.

pes ti lence (pes'tə ləns), disease that spreads rapidly, causing many deaths. Smallpox, yellow fever, and the plague are pestilences. n.

pes ti lent (pes'tə lənt), 1. often causing death: Smallpox is a pestilent disease. 2. harmful to morals; destroying peace: a pestilent den of vice, the pestilent effects of war. 3. troublesome; annoying. adj.

pes ti len tial (pes'tə len'shəl), 1. like a pestilence; having to do with pestilences. 2. carrying infection. 3. harmful; dangerous. adj.

pes tle (pes'tl), 1. tool for pounding or crushing substances into a powder in a mortar. See mortar for picture. 2. pound or crush with a pestle. 1 n., 2 v., pes tled, pes tling.

pet¹ (pet), 1. animal kept as a favorite and treated with affection. 2. darling; favorite: teacher's pet. 3. treated as a pet: a pet rabbit. 4. showing affection: a pet name. 5. treat as a pet; yield to the wishes of; stroke; pat; touch lovingly and gently: Helen is petting the kitten. 1,2 n., 2-4 adj., 5 v., pet ted, pet ting.

pet² (pet), fit of peevishness; fretful discontent. n.

pet al (pet'əl), one of the parts of a flower that are usually colored; one of the leaves of a corolla. A daisy has many petals. See sepal for picture. n.

pet aled or pet alled (pet'əld), having petals: six-petaled. adj.

pe tard (pi tär'd'), an explosive device formerly used in warfare to break doors or gates. n.

Man firing a petard

pet cock (pet'kok'), a small faucet. See the picture below. n.

pe ter (pē'tər), U.S. Informal. Peter out means gradually come to an end; fail; give out. v.

Pe ter (pē'tər), 1. Saint, died 67? A.D., one of the twelve disciples chosen by Jesus as His Apostles. He was also called Simon or Simon Peter.

2. either of two books in the New Testament that bear his name. n.

Peter I, 1672-1725, czar of Russia from 1682 to 1725. He was called Peter the Great.

pet i ole (pet'ē ōl), the slender stalk by which a leaf is attached to the stem. n.

pet it (pet'ē), Used now only in legal phrases. small; petty; minor: petit larceny. adj.

pe tite (pə tēt'), little; of small size; tiny, especially with reference to a woman or girl. adj.

pe ti tion (pə tish'ən), 1. a formal request to a superior or to one in authority for some privilege, right, benefit, etc.: The people signed a petition asking the city council for a new sidewalk. 2. ask earnestly; make a petition to: They petitioned the mayor to use his influence with the city council. 3. prayer. 4. pray. 5. that which is requested or prayed for. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 v. —pe ti'tion er, n.

pet it jury (pet'ē), group of 12 persons chosen to decide a case in court.

Pe trarch (pē'trärk), 1304-1374, Italian poet, famous for his sonnets. n.

pet rel (pet'rəl), any of various sea birds, especially a small black-and-white bird with long, pointed wings. n.

pet ri fac tion (pet'rə fak'shən), 1. a petrifying or being petrified. 2. something petrified. n.

Petrified Forest, an ancient forest whose trees have turned to stone, in E Arizona. 40 sq. mi.

pet ri fy (pet'rə fī), 1. turn into stone; become stone: There is a petrified forest in Arizona. 2. paralyze with fear, horror, or surprise: The bird was petrified as the snake came near. v., pet ri fied, pet ri fy ing.

Pet ro grad (pet'rə grad), former name (from 1914 to 1924) of Leningrad. n.

pe tro gra phy (pi trogr'ə fē), branch of geology that deals with the description and classification of rocks. n.

pet rol (pet'rəl), Brit. gasoline. n.

pe tro le um (pə trō'lē əm), an oily, dark-colored liquid that is found in the earth. Gasoline, kerosene, and paraffin are made from petroleum. Petroleum consists mainly of a mixture of various hydrocarbons. n.

pe trol o gy (pi trōl'ə jē), science of rocks, including their origin, structure, changes, etc. n.

Pet ro za vodsk (pet'rō zə vòtsk'), capital of Karelia. 135,000. n.

pet ti coat (pet'ē kōt), 1. skirt that hangs from the waist or from the shoulders, worn beneath the dress by women, girls, and babies. 2. skirt. 3. Slang. woman; girl. 4. female; feminine: petticoat government. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

pet ti fog ger (pet'ē fog'ər), 1. an inferior lawyer who uses petty, mean, cheating methods. 2. any inferior person who uses petty, mean, cheating methods. n.

pet ti fog ging (pet'ē fog'ing), 1. tricky. 2. trickery. 1 adj., 2 n.

pet ti ness (pet'ē nis), smallness; meanness; petty nature or behavior. n.

pet tish (pet'ish), peevish; cross: a pettish reply, a pettish child. adj. —pet'tish ly, adv.

pet ty (pet'ē), 1. having little importance or value; small: She insisted on telling me all her petty troubles. 2. mean; narrow-minded. 3. lower; subordinate. adj.

pet ti er, pet ti est.

petty jury, petit jury.

Petcock

PETIOLE

STEM

Stormy petrel
(about 5½ in. long)

petty larceny, theft in which the value of the property taken is less than a certain amount.

petty officer, a noncommissioned officer in the navy.
petulance (pech'ə ləns), peevishness; bad humor; being irritated by trifles. n.

petulant (pech'ə lənt), peevish; subject to little fits of bad temper; irritable over trifles. adj. —petulantly, adv.

petunia (pə tūn'yə or pə tūn'yə), 1. plant with funnel-shaped flowers of white, pink, and various shades of purple. 2. the flower. n.

pew (pū), bench in a church for people to sit on, fastened to the floor and provided with a back. In some churches the pews are separated by partitions. n.

peewee (pē'wē), a small American bird with an olive-colored or gray back. n.

pewter (pū'tər), 1. alloy of tin with lead, copper, or other metals. 2. dishes or other utensils made of this alloy. 3. made of pewter: a pewter mug. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Pfc., private first class.

pfennig (pfen'ig), a West German coin worth about a quarter of a cent (1964). 100 pfennigs make a mark. n., pl. pfennigs, pfen nigs (pfen'i gə).

Phaëthon (fā'ə thon), in Greek mythology, the son of Helios who tried for one day to drive the sun, his father's chariot. He so nearly set the earth on fire that Zeus had to strike him dead with a thunderbolt. n.

phaeton (fā'ə tən), 1. a light, four-wheeled carriage with or without a top. 2. an open automobile of the touring car type. n.

Phaeton

phagocyte (fag'ə sīt), a white blood corpuscle, or leucocyte, capable of absorbing and destroying waste or harmful material, such as disease microbes. n.

phalanx (fā'langks), 1. in ancient Greece, a special battle formation of infantry fighting in close ranks with their shields joined and long spears overlapping each other. 2. a compact or closely massed body of persons, animals, or things. 3. number of persons united for a common purpose. 4. any bone in the fingers or toes. n., pl. phalanxes, phalanges (fə lan'jēz).

phantasm (fan'taz əm), 1. thing seen only in one's imagination; unreal fancy: the phantasms of a dream. 2. a supposed appearance of an absent person, living or dead. 3. a deceiving likeness (of something). n.

phantasmagoria (fan taz'mə gō'rē ə), 1. a shifting scene of real things, illusions, imaginary fancies, deceptions, and the like: the phantasmagoria of a dream. 2. show of optical illusions in which figures increase or decrease in size, fade away, and pass into each other. n.

phantasmal (fan taz'ml), of a phantasm; unreal; imaginary. adj.

phantasy (fan'tə sē), fantasy. n., pl. phantasies.

phantom (fan'təm), 1. image in the mind which seems to be real: phantoms of a dream. 2. a vague, dim, or shadowy appearance; ghost. 3. like a ghost; unreal: a phantom ship. 4. mere show; appearance with no substance. 1,2,4 n., 3 adj.

Pharaoh (fār'ō), title given to the kings of ancient Egypt. n.

pharisaic (fār'ə sā'ik), 1. making an outward show of religion or morals without the real spirit. 2. thinking oneself more moral than others; hypocritical. adj. —pharisaically, adv.

Pharisee (fār'ə sē), member of an ancient Jewish sect that was very strict in keeping to tradition and the laws of its religion. n.

pharisee (fār'ə sē), 1. person who makes a show of religion rather than following its spirit. 2. person who considers himself much better than other men. n.

pharmaceutic (fār'mə sū'tik), having to do with pharmacy. adj.

pharmacist (fār'mə sist), druggist; chemist who prepares medicines. n.

pharmacologist (fār'mə kol'ə jist), one skilled in the science of drugs. n.

pharmacology (fār'mə kol'ə jē), science of drugs, their preparation, uses, and effects. n.

pharmacopoeia (fār'mə kə pē'ə), 1. book containing an official list and description of drugs and medicines. 2. stock or collection of drugs. n.

pharmacy (fār'mə sē), 1. preparation and dispensing of drugs and medicines; occupation of a druggist. 2. drugstore. n., pl. pharmacies.

Pharos (fār'os), small peninsula in N Egypt. In ancient times, it was an island with a famous lighthouse on it. n.

pharyngeal (fə rin'jē əl), having to do with or connected with the pharynx. adj.

pharyngitis (far'in jī'tis), inflammation of the mucous membrane of the pharynx. n.

pharynx (far'ingks), tube or cavity at the back of the mouth where the passages to the nose, lungs, and stomach begin. n., pl. pharynxes, pharynges (fə rin'jēz).

phase (fāz), 1. one of the changing states or stages of development of a person or thing: At present Dick's voice is changing; that is a phase all boys go through. 2. one side, part, or view (of a subject): What phase of arithmetic are you studying now? 3. the apparent shape of the moon or of a planet at a given time: The new moon, first quarter, full moon, and last quarter are four phases of the moon. n.

Ph.D., Doctor of Philosophy.

pheasant (fez'nt), 1. a game bird with a long tail and brilliant feathers. Wild pheasants live in many parts of Europe and America. 2. Southern United States, the ruffed grouse. n., pl. pheasants or (esp. collectively) pheasants.

English pheasant (about 2½ ft long including the tail) phoenix (fē'niks), phoenix. n.

phenobarbital (fē'nō bār'bē tōl), a white powder, used as a hypnotic or sedative. n.

phenol (fē'nol), carbolic acid. n.

phenolphthalein (fē'nōl thal'ēn), a white powder used in testing acidity, making dyes, medicines, etc. Its solution is red when basic, colorless when acid. n.

phenomena (fə nom'ə nə), a pl. of phenomenon.

phenomenal (fə nom'ə nl), 1. of or having to do with a phenomenon or phenomena. 2. having the nature of a phenomenon. 3. extraordinary: a phenomenal memory. adj. —phenomenally, adv.

phenomenon (fə nom'ə non), 1. fact, event, or circumstance that can be observed: Lightning is an electrical phenomenon. Fever and inflammation are phenomena of disease. 2. something or someone extraordinary or remarkable: An eclipse is an interesting phenomenon. n., pl. phenomena or (esp. for def. 2) phenomenons.

phew (fū), exclamation of disgust, impatience, etc. interj.

phial (fī'əl), a small bottle; vial. n.

Phidias (fid'ē əs), 500?-432? B.C., famous Greek sculptor. n.

Phila., Philadelphia.

Philadelphia (fīl'ə del'fē ə), city in SE Pennsylvania, on the Delaware River. 2,002,000. n.

philander (fə lan'dər), make love without serious intentions; flirt. v. —philanderer, n.

phil an throp ic (fil'an throp'ik), 1. having to do with or characterized by philanthropy. 2. charitable; benevolent; kindly. adj. —phil'an throp'i cal ly, adv.

phil an throp i cal (fil'an throp'ə kl), philanthropic. adj.

phi lan thro pist (fə lan'thrə pist), person who shows his love for mankind by practical kindness and helpfulness to humanity. n.

phi lan thro py (fə lan'thrə pē), 1. love of mankind shown by practical kindness and helpfulness to humanity: The Red Cross appeals to philanthropy. 2. thing that benefits humanity: A hospital is a useful philanthropy. n., pl. phi lan thro pies.

phil a tel ic (fil'ə tel'ik), of or having to do with philately. adj.

phi lat e list (fə lat'list), collector of postage stamps, postmarks, etc. n.

phi lat e ly (fə lat'li ē), the collecting, arranging, and study of postage stamps, stamped envelopes, post cards, etc. n.

Phi le mon (fə lē'mən), book of the New Testament written by Paul. n.

phil har mon ic (fil'här mon'ik), 1. devoted to music; loving music: A musical club is often called a philharmonic society. 2. given by a philharmonic society: a philharmonic concert. 3. a philharmonic society or concert. 1, 2 adj., 3 n.

Philip (fil'əp), 1. one of the twelve disciples chosen by Jesus as His Apostles. 2. died 1676, Indian chief in New England who led the Indians in a war against the colonists from 1675 to 1676. n.

Philip II, 1. 336-336 B.C., king of Macedonia from 359 to 336 B.C. and father of Alexander the Great. 2. 1527-1598, king of Spain from 1556 to 1598. He married Mary Tudor of England, and later sent the Armada against England.

Phi lip pic (fə lip'ik), 1. any of several orations by Demosthenes denouncing King Philip of Macedonia and arousing the Athenians to resist Philip's growing power. 2. any of several orations by Cicero denouncing Mark Antony. n.

phi lip pic (fə lip'ik), a bitter attack in words. n.

Phil ip pine (fil'ə pēn), of or having to do with the Philippine Islands or their inhabitants. adj. Also, Filipine, Filipino.

Philippine Islands, Philippines.

Phil ip pines (fil'ə pēnz), group of 7083 islands in the W Pacific, southeast of Asia and north of Australia. The Philippines were formerly under the guardianship of the United States. They received their independence in 1946. 24,718,000 pop.; 115,707 sq. mi. Capital: Quezon. n. pl.

Phi lis tia (fə lis'tē ə), 1. land of the ancient Philistines. 2. place where uncultured, commonplace people live. n.

Phi lis tine (fə lis'tən or fil'əs-tən), 1. in the Bible, one of the warlike people in SW Palestine who attacked the Israelites many times. 2. of the Philistines. 3. person who is commonplace in ideas and tastes. 4. lacking culture; commonplace. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 adj.

Phi lis tin ism (fə lis'tən iz əm), character or views of uncultured, commonplace persons. n.

Phil lips (fil'əps), Wendell, 1811-1884, American orator and reformer. n.

phil o log i cal (fil'ə loj'ə kl), having to do with philology. adj.

phi lol o gist (fə lol'ə jist), person skilled in philology. n.

phi lol o gy (fə lol'ə jē), 1. an older name for linguistics; the science of language. 2. the study of literary and other records. n.

phil o mel or Phil o mel (fil'ə mel), Poetic. nightingale. n.

Phil o me la (fil'ə mē'lə), 1. a princess who was turned into a nightingale and as a bird continued to lament the tragedy of her life. 2. Poetic. nightingale. n.

phil o pe na (fil'ə pē'nə), 1. the sharing of a nut with two kernels between two people, with the agreement that the one failing to keep some stated condition shall pay a forfeit. 2. the nut. 3. the forfeit. n.

phi los o pher (fə los'ə fər), 1. person who studies philosophy much. 2. person who has a system of philosophy. 3. person who shows the calmness of philosophy under hard conditions, accepting life and making the best of it. n.

philosophers' stone, substance believed to have the power to change baser metals into gold or silver.

phil o soph ic (fil'ə sof'ik), 1. of philosophy. 2. knowing much about philosophy. 3. devoted to philosophy. 4. wise; calm; reasonable. adj. —phil'o soph'i cal ly, adv.

phil o soph i cal (fil'ə sof'ə kl), philosophic; like a philosopher. adj.

phi los o phize (fə los'ə fiz), think or reason as a philosopher does; try to understand and explain things: The old man philosophized about life, death, mind, matter, God, etc. v. phi los o phized, phi los o phiz ing. —phi los'o phiz'er, n.

phi los o phy (fə los'ə fē), 1. study of the truth or principles underlying all knowledge; study of the most general causes and principles of the universe. 2. explanation or theory of the universe. 3. system for guiding life. 4. the broad general principles of a particular subject: the philosophy of history. 5. a reasonable attitude; calmness; accepting things as they are and making the best of them. n., pl. phi los o phies.

phil ter or phil tre (fil'tər), 1. drug or potion used to make a person fall in love. 2. a magic drink. n.

phle bi tis (fi bi'tis), inflammation of a vein. n.

phlegm (flem), 1. the thick discharge from the nose or throat that accompanies a cold. 2. sluggish disposition or temperament; indifference. 3. coolness; calmness. n.

phleg mat ic (fleg mat'ik), 1. sluggish; indifferent. 2. cool; calm: John is phlegmatic; he never seems to get excited about anything. adj. —phleg mat'i cal ly, adv.

phleg mat i cal (fleg mat'ə kl), phlegmatic. adj.

phlo em or phlo ãm (flō'em), tissue in a plant or tree through which the sap containing food materials passes from one part to another; bast. n.

phlox (flocks), 1. a garden plant with clusters of showy flowers in various colors. 2. the flower. n.

pho bi a (fō'bē ə), a morbid or insane fear. n.

Pho cian (fō'shən), 1. of or having to do with Phocis. 2. native or inhabitant of Phocis. 1 adj., 2 n.

Pho cis (fō'sis), an ancient country in central Greece in which the Delphic oracle was located. n.

Phoe be (fē'bē), 1. goddess of the moon. Phoebe was also called Artemis by the Greeks and Diana by the Romans. 2. Poetic. the moon. n.

phoe be (fē'bē), a small American bird with a grayish-olive back, a yellowish breast, and a low crest on the head. n.

Phoe bus (fē'bəs), 1. Apollo, the Greek god of the sun. 2. Poetic. the sun. n.

Phoebe (about 7 in. long)

Phoe ni cia (fə nish'ə), an ancient country in W Syria, on the Mediterranean Sea. It was famous for its traders. n.

Phoe ni cian (fə nish'ən), 1. of or having to do with Phoenicia, its people, or their language. 2. one of the people of Phoenicia. 3. language of Phoenicia. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

phoe nix (fē'niks), a mythical bird, the only one of its kind, said to live 500 or 600 years, to burn itself on a funeral pile, and to rise again from the ashes, fresh and beautiful, for another long life. n.

Also, phenix.

Phoe nix (fē'niks), capital of Arizona, in the central part. 439,000. n.

phone (fōn), Informal. telephone. n., v., phoned, phoning.

pho net ic (fə net'ik), 1. of or having to do with sounds made with the voice: phonetic laws. 2. representing sounds made with the voice. Phonetic symbols are marks used to show pronunciation. We use th as the phonetic symbol for the sound of th in the or then. adj.

pho net i cal ly (fə net'ik lē), in a phonetic manner; as regards the sound and not the spelling of words. adv.

pho ne ti cian (fō'nə tish'ən), person skilled in phonetics. n.

pho net ics (fə net'iks), science dealing with sounds made in speech and the art of pronunciation. n.

phon ic (fō'nik or fō'nik), 1. of sound. 2. of sounds made in speech; phonetic. adj.

phon ics (fō'niks or fō'niks), simplified phonetics for teaching reading. n.

pho no gram (fō'nə gram), character or symbol representing a single speech sound, syllable, or word. n.

pho no graph (fō'nə graf), instrument that reproduces sounds from records. n.

pho no graph ic (fō'nə graf'ik), 1. of a phonograph. 2. of phonography. adj. —pho'no graph'i cal ly, adv.

pho nog ra phy (fō nog'rə fē), art of writing according to sound; phonetic spelling. n.

pho nol o gy (fō nol'ə jē), 1. system of sounds used in a language. 2. study of the sounds of a language, their history and changes. n.

pho ny (fō'ne), U.S. Slang. 1. not genuine; counterfeit; fake. 2. fake; pretender. 1 adj., pho ni er, pho ni est; 2 n., pl. pho nies.

phos gene (fos'jēn), a dangerous poisonous gas used in war. n.

phos phate (fos'fāt), 1. salt or ester of an acid containing phosphorus. Bread contains phosphates. 2. fertilizer containing such salts. 3. drink of carbonated water flavored with fruit syrup, and containing a little phosphoric acid. n.

phos phide (fos'fid), compound of phosphorus with a basic element or radical. n.

phos phite (fos'fit), salt of phosphorous acid. n.

phos pho res cence (fos'fə res'ns), 1. act or process of giving out light without burning or by very slow burning that seems not to give out heat: the phosphorescence of fireflies. 2. such light. n.

phos pho res cent (fos'fə res'nt), showing phosphorescence. adj.

phos phor ic (fos'fôr'ik), having to do with or containing phosphorus, especially in its higher valence. adj.

phosphoric acid, a colorless, odorless acid containing phosphorus.

phos pho rous (fos'fə rəs), having to do with or containing phosphorus, especially in its lower valence. adj.

phosphorous acid, a colorless, unstable acid.

phos pho rus (fos'fə rəs), a solid nonmetallic element existing in two forms: one yellow, poisonous, inflammable, and luminous in the dark; the other red, nonpoisonous, and less inflammable. Symbol: P n.

pho to (fō'tō), Informal. photograph. n., pl. pho tos.

pho to chem i cal (fō'tō kem'ə kl), of or having to do with the chemical action of light. adj.

pho to e lec tric (fō'tō i lek'trik), 1. having to do with the electricity or electrical effects produced by light. 2. noting or having to do with an apparatus for taking photographs by electric light. adj.

photoelectric cell, cell or vacuum tube which produces variations in an electric current in accordance with variations in the light falling upon it.

photo finish, in racing, a finish so close that a photograph is required to decide the winner.

pho to gen ic (fō'tō jen'ik), 1. photographing very well, especially in motion pictures: a photogenic face. 2. phosphorescent; luminescent. Certain bacteria are photogenic. adj.

pho to graph (fō'tə graf), 1. picture made with a camera. A photograph is made by the action of the light rays from the thing pictured coming through the lens of the camera onto a film spread over the surface of glass, paper, celluloid, or metal. 2. take a photograph of. 3. take photographs. 4. look (clear, unnatural, etc.) in a photograph: She does not photograph well. 1 n., 2-4 v.

pho tog ra pher (fə tog'rə fər), 1. person who takes photographs. 2. person whose business is taking photographs. n.

pho to graph ic (fō'tə graf'ik), 1. of or like photography: photographic accuracy. 2. used in or produced by photography: photographic plates, a photographic record of a trip. adj. —pho'to graph'i cal ly, adv.

pho tog ra phy (fə tog'rə fē), the taking of photographs. n.

pho to gra vure (fō'tə grə vyūr'), picture printed from a metal plate on which a photograph has been engraved. n.

pho tom e ter (fō tom'ə tər), instrument for measuring the intensity of light or the relative illuminating power of different lights. n.

pho to met ric (fō'tə met'rik), having to do with photometry or a photometer. adj.

pho tom e try (fō tom'ə trē), branch of physics dealing with measurements of the intensity of light. n.

pho to play (fō'tə plā'), a motion-picture play. n.

Pho to stat (fō'tə stat), Trademark. a special camera for making copies of maps, drawings, pages of books, etc., directly on specially prepared paper. n.

pho to stat (fō'tə stat), 1. photograph made with a Photostat. 2. make a photostat of. 1 n., 2 v.

pho to syn the sis (fō'tō sin'thə sis), process by which plant cells make sugar from carbon dioxide and water in the presence of chlorophyll and light. n.

pho tot ro pism (fō tot'rə piz əm), a tendency of plants to turn in response to light. n.

phrase (frāz), 1. combination of words: He spoke in simple phrases so that the children understood him. 2. expression often used: "Call up" is the common phrase for "get a telephone connection with." 3. a short, striking expression. Examples: A Fair Deal. A war to end wars. Liberty or death. 4. express in a particular way: She phrased her excuse politely. 5. a group of words not containing a subject and predicate and used as a single word. Examples: in the house; coming by the church; to eat too fast. 6. a short part of a piece of music, usually containing four measures. 7. mark off or bring out the phrases of (a piece of music). 1-3, 5, 6 n., 4, 7 v., phrased, phras ing.

phra se ol o gy (frā'zē ol'ə jē), selection and arrangement of words; particular way in which a person expresses himself in language: scientific phraseology, the phraseology of the Bible. n., pl. phra se ol o gies.

phre net ic (fri net'ik), 1. frenzied; fanatic. 2. insane. adj.

phren o log i cal (fren'ə loj'ə kl), of or having to do with phrenology. adj.

phre nol o gist (fri nol'ə jist), person who professes to tell a person's character from the shape of his skull. n.

phre nol o gy (fri nol'ə jē), theory that the shape of the skull shows what sort of mind and character a person has; practice of reading character from the shape of the skull. n.

Phry gi a (frij'ē ə), an ancient country in the central and NW part of Asia Minor. n. —Phryg'i an, adj., n.

phthis i cal (tiz'ə kl), having to do with, having the nature of, or affected by phthisis. adj.

phthi sis (thī'sis), tuberculosis of the lungs; consumption. n.

phy lac ter y (fə lak'tər ē), 1. either of two small leather cases containing texts from the Jewish law, worn by orthodox Jews during prayer to remind them to keep the law. 2. reminder. 3. a charm worn as a protection. n., pl. phy lac ter ies.

phy lo ge net ic (fīlō jə net'ik), of or having to do with phylogeny. adj.

phy lo gen ic (fīlō jen'ik), of or having to do with phylogeny. adj.

phy log e ny (fī loj'ə nē), racial history; the origin and development (of a kind of animal or plant). n., pl. phy log e nies.

phy lum (fī'ləm), a primary division of the animal or vegetable kingdom, usually equivalent to a subkingdom. n., pl. phy la (-lə).

phys ic (fiz'ik), 1. medicine, especially one that moves the bowels. 2. move the bowels of. 3. give medicine to. 4. act like a medicine on; cure. 5. art of healing; science and practice of medicine. 1,5 n., 2-4 v., phys icked, phys ick ing.

phys i cal (fiz'ə kl), 1. of the body: physical exercise. 2. of matter; material: The tide is a physical force. 3. according to the laws of nature: It is a physical impossibility for the sun to rise in the west. 4. of the science of physics. adj.

physical education, instruction in how to exercise and take care of the body.

physical geography, study of land forms, climate, winds, and all other physical features of the earth.

phys i cal ly (fiz'ik lē), in a physical manner; in physical respects; as regards the body: After his vacation he was in fine condition both mentally and physically. adv.

physical science, 1. physics. 2. physics, chemistry, geology, astronomy, and other sciences of physical facts.

phy si cian (fə zish'an), doctor of medicine. n.

phys i cist (fiz'ə sist), person who knows much about physics. n.

phys ics (fiz'iks), science that deals with matter and energy that do not involve change in composition, or with the action of different forms of energy on matter. Physics studies mechanics, heat, light, sound, and electricity. n.

phys i og no my (fiz'ē og'nə mē), 1. kind of features or type of face one has; one's face: a kindly physiognomy. 2. art of estimating character from the features of the face or the form of the body. 3. the general aspect or looks of a countryside, a situation, etc. n., pl. phys i og no mies.

phys i og ra pher (fiz'ē og'rə fər), person skilled in physiography. n.

phys i o graph ic (fiz'ē ə graf'ik), having to do with physiography. adj.

phys i og ra phy (fiz'ē og'rə fē), physical geography. n.

phys i o log i cal (fiz'ē ə loj'ə kl), having to do with physiology: Digestion is a physiological process. adj. —phys i o log'i cal ly, adv.

phys i o log ist (fiz'ē ol'ə jist), expert in physiology. n.

phys i o log y (fiz'ē ol'ə jē), 1. science dealing with the normal functions of living things or their organs; animal physiology, plant physiology. 2. all the functions and activities of a living thing or of one of its organs. n.

phys i o ther a py (fiz'ē ō ther'ə pē), treatment of diseases and defects by physical remedies, such as massage or electricity (rather than by drugs). n.

phys i que (fə zēk'), body; bodily structure, organization, or development: Samson was a man of strong physique. n.

pi (pī), ratio of the circumference of any circle to its diameter, usually written as π . ($\pi = 3.141592+$). n., pl. pis.

pi (pī), 1. printing types all mixed up. 2. mix up (type). 3. any confused mixture. 1,3 n., 2 v., pi ed, pi ing.

P.I., Philippine Islands.

pi a ma ter (pī'ə mā'tər), the innermost of three membranes enveloping the brain and spinal cord.

pi a nis si mo (pē'ə nis'ə mō), in music: 1. very soft. 2. very softly. 1 adj., 2 adv.

pi an ist (pē an'ist or pē'ə nist), person who plays the piano. n.

pi an o (pē an'ō), a large musical instrument whose tones come from many wires. The wires are sounded by hammers that are worked by striking keys on a keyboard. n., pl. pi an os.

pi an o for te (pē an'ə fôr'tē), piano. n.

pi as ter or pi as tre (pē as'tər), 1. coin worth from about ½ cent to about 3 cents (1964), used in Turkey, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, etc. 2. a former Spanish silver coin worth about a dollar. n.

pi az za (pē az'ə), 1. U.S. a large porch along one or more sides of a house. 2. an open public square in Italian towns. n.

pi broch (pē'brok), kind of musical piece performed on the bagpipe. It is usually warlike or sad. n.

pi ca (pī'kə), 1. size of type, 12 point.

This sentence is in pica.

2. this size used as a measure; about ⅙ inch. n.

pic a dor (pik'ə dōr), one of the horsemen who open a bullfight by irritating the bull with pricks of their lances. n.

Pic ar dy (pik'ər dē), region in N France. n.

pic a res que (pik'ə resk'), dealing with rogues and their questionable adventures: a picaresque novel. adj.

pic a yune (pik'ə ūn'), U.S. 1. any coin of small value. 2. an insignificant person or thing; trifle.

3. small; petty; mean. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Pic a dil ly (pik'ə dil'ē), one of the main business streets of London. n.

pic ca lil li (pik'ə lil'ē), relish made of chopped pickles, onions, tomatoes, etc., with hot spices. n.

pic co lo (pik'ə lō), a small, shrill flute, sounding an octave higher than the ordinary flute. n., pl. pic co los.

pick (pik), 1. choose; select: I picked a winning horse at the races. 2. choice; selection: This red rose is my pick.

3. the best or most desirable part: We got a high price for the pick of our peaches. 4. pull away with the fingers; gather: We pick fruit and flowers. 5. amount of a crop gathered at one time. 6. pierce, dig into, or break up with something pointed: pick ground, rocks, etc. 7. use something pointed to remove things from: pick one's teeth, pick a bone. 8. prepare for use by removing

Piazza or porch

Piazza or public square feathers, waste parts, etc.: pick a chicken. 9. pull apart: The hair in the pillow needs to be picked, as it has matted. 10. use the fingers on with a plucking motion: play a banjo by picking its strings. 11. thing held in the fingers and used to pull on the strings of a musical instrument. 12. seek and find occasion for; seek and find: pick a quarrel, pick flaws. 1,4,6-10,12 v., 2,3,5,11 n. pick a lock, open it with a pointed instrument, etc. pick a pocket, steal from a person's pocket. pick at, 1. pull on with the fingers, etc. 2. eat only a little at a time. 3. Informal. find fault with; nag. pick off, shoot one at a time. pick on, 1. Informal. find fault with. 2. Informal. annoy; tease. 3. select. pick out, 1. choose; select. 2. distinguish (a thing) from surroundings. 3. make out (the sense or meaning). pick over, 1. look over carefully. 2. prepare for use. pick up, 1. take up: The boy picked up a stone. 2. summon (courage, etc.). 3. get by chance: pick up a bargain. 4. learn without being taught: He picks up games easily. 5. take up into a vehicle or ship. 6. Informal. improve. 7. regain; find again. 8. go faster; increase in speed. 9. become acquainted with without being introduced. 10. U.S. tidy up; put in order.

pick¹ (pik), 1. a heavy, sharp-pointed tool for breaking earth, rock, etc.; pickax. 2. a sharp-pointed tool. Ice is broken into pieces with a pick. n.

pick a back (pik'ə bak'), on the back or shoulders. adv.

pick a niny (pik'ə nin'ē), U.S. 1. a small Negro child. 2. any small child. n., pl. pick a nines.

pick ax or pick axe (pik'aks'), a heavy tool with a sharp point for breaking up dirt, rocks, etc.; pick. n.

picked (pikt), 1. with waste parts removed and ready for use. 2. specially chosen or selected for merit. adj.

pick er (pik'ər), 1. person who gathers, picks, or collects. 2. tool for picking anything. n.

pick er el (pik'ər əl), kind of large fresh-water food fish with a long, narrow pointed head. It is a kind of pike. n., pl. pick er els or (esp. collectively) pick er el.

pick et (pik'it), 1. a pointed stake or peg driven into the ground to make a fence, to tie a horse to, etc. 2. enclose with pickets; fence. 3. tie to a picket: Picket your horse here. 4. a small body of troops, or a single man, posted at some place to watch for the enemy and guard against surprise. 5. person stationed by a labor union near a factory, store, etc., where there is a strike. Pickets try to prevent employees from working or customers from buying. 6. station as pickets. 7. station pickets at or near: picket a factory. 8. act as a picket. 1,4,5 n., 2,3,6-8 v.

picket fence, fence made of pickets. Pick ett (pik'it), George Edward, 1825-1875, Confederate general in the Civil War. n.

pick ings (pik'ingz), 1. amount picked. 2. things left over; scraps. 3. things stolen or received dishonestly. n.pl.

pick le (pik'l), 1. salt water, vinegar, or other liquid in which meat and vegetables can be preserved. 2. cucumber preserved in pickle. 3. any other vegetable preserved in pickle. 4. preserve in pickle: pickle beets. 5. Informal. trouble; difficulty: I got in a bad pickle today. 6. an acid bath for cleaning metal castings, etc. 7. clean with acid. 1-3,5,6 n., 4,7 v., pick led, pick-ling.

pick pock et (pik'pok'it), person who steals from people's pockets. n.

pick up (pik'up'), 1. a picking up. 2. Slang. a getting better; improvement. 3. acceleration; going faster; increase in speed. 4. Informal. acquaintance made without an introduction. 5. a catching or hitting of a ball very soon after it has bounced on the ground. 6. reception of sounds for radio broadcasting. 7. apparatus for such reception. 8. place where it occurs. 9. reception of television images and their conversion into electric waves. 10. apparatus that does this. 11. a small, light truck for light hauling. n.

Pick wick (pik'wik), Samuel, kindly genial hero of Dickens's Pickwick Papers. n.

Pick wick i an (pik'wik'ē ən), 1. of, having to do with, or characteristic of Mr. Pickwick or his club. 2. given a special meaning for the occasion: words used in a Pickwickian sense. adj.

pic nic (pik'nik), 1. a pleasure trip with a meal, in the open air. 2. go on a picnic. 3. eat in picnic style. 4. Slang. a pleasant time or experience; very easy job. 1,4 n., 2,3 v., pic nicker, pic nicker ing.

pic nicker (pik'nik ə), one who picnics. n.

pi cot (pē'kō), 1. one of a number of fancy loops in embroidery, tatting, etc., or along the edge of lace, ribbon, etc. 2. trim with picots. 1 n., 2 v.

pic ric acid (pik'rik), an intensely bitter acid used as a dye and in explosives.

Pict (pikt), member of a nationality formerly living in Scotland, especially N Scotland. n.

pic to graph (pik'tə graf), picture used as a sign or symbol. n.

pic to graph ic (pik'tə graf'ik), of pictographs. adj.

pic to ri al (pik tō'rē əl), 1. having to do with pictures; expressed in pictures. 2. making a picture for the mind; vivid. 3. illustrated by pictures: a pictorial history. 4. magazine in which pictures are an important feature. 5. having to do with painters or painting: pictorial skill. 1-3,5 adj., 4 n. —pic to'ri al ly, adv.

picture (pik'chər), 1. a drawing, painting, portrait, or photograph; a print of any of these: The book contains a good picture of Lee. 2. scene: The trees and brook make a lovely picture. 3. something beautiful. 4. draw, paint, etc.; make into a picture: The artist pictured the saints. 5. image; likeness: He is the picture of his father. 6. form a picture of in the mind; imagine: It is hard to picture life a hundred years ago. 7. example; embodiment: She was the picture of despair. 8. a vivid description. 9. show by words; describe vividly: The speaker pictured the suffering of the poor. 10. a motion picture. 11. image on a television set. 1-3,5,7,8,10,11 n., 4,6,9 v., pic tured, pic tur ing.

pic tur esque (pik'chər esk'), 1. quaint or interesting enough to be used as the subject of a picture: a picturesque old mill. 2. making a picture for the mind; vivid. adj. —pic'tur esque'ly, adv. —pic'tur esque'ness, n.

picture writing, 1. the recording of events or expressing of ideas by pictures. 2. pictures used to record events or express ideas.

pid dle (pid'l), do anything in a trifling or ineffective way. v., pid dled, pid dling. —pid'dler, n.

pid ling (pid'ling), trifling; petty. adj.

pidg in English (pij'ən), one of several forms of English, with reduced grammatical structure and vocabulary, used in W Africa, Australia, Melanesia, and formerly in China, as a trade or communication jargon.

pie¹ (pi), fruit, meat, etc., enclosed in pastry and baked: apple pie, chicken pie. n.

pie² (pi), magpie. n.

pie bald (pi'bōld'), 1. spotted in two colors, especially black and white. 2. a spotted horse. 1 adj., 2 n.

piece (pēs), 1. one of the parts into which a thing is divided or broken; bit: The cup broke in pieces. 2. portion; limited part; small quantity: a piece of land containing two acres, a piece of bread. 3. a single thing

Pickax

Pictographs for "weeping" and "forest" of a set or class: This set of china has 144 pieces. 4. coin: A nickel is a five-cent piece. 5. example; instance: Sleeping with a light on in the room is a piece of nonsense. 6. a single composition in an art: a piece of music. 7. gun; cannon. 8. quantity in which goods are made: She bought the whole piece of muslin. 9. the amount of work done: paid by the piece. 10. figure, disk, block, or the like, used in playing checkers, chess, and other games. 11. make or repair by adding or joining pieces: piece a quilt. 12. join the pieces of. 1-10 n., 11, 12 v., pieced, piecing. —piec'er, n.

of a piece, of the same kind; in keeping.

piece of one's mind, Informal. 1. candid opinion. 2. scolding.

pièce de résistance (pyes də rā zēs tāns'), French. 1. the chief dish of a meal. 2. the main article in any collection.

piece meal (pēs'mēl'), 1. piece by piece; a little at a time: work done piecemeal. 2. piece from piece; to pieces; into fragments. 3. done piece by piece. 1, 2 adv., 3 adj.

piece of eight, an old Spanish dollar.

piece work (pēs'wērk'), work paid for by the amount done, not by the time it takes. n.

piece worker (pēs'wēr'kər), person who does piece-work. n.

pie crust, pastry used for the bottom or top of a pie.

pie'd (pid), 1. having patches of two or more colors; many-colored. 2. spotted. 3. wearing a costume of two or more colors. adj.

Pied mont (pēd'mont), 1. plateau in the SE United States between the Appalachian Mountains and the low land along the Atlantic coast. The Piedmont extends over parts of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Alabama. 2. district in NW Italy. n.

pie plant (pi'plant'), U.S. rhubarb. n.

pier (pir), 1. structure supported on columns extending into the water, used as a walk or a landing place. 2. breakwater. 3. one of the solid supports on which the arches of a bridge rest; pillar. 4. the solid part of a wall between windows, doors, etc. n.

pierce (pirs), 1. go into; go through: A tunnel pierces the mountain. 2. make a hole in; bore into or through: A nail pierced the tire of our car. 3. force a way; force a way through or into: A sharp cry pierced the air. 4. make a way through with the eye or mind: pierce a disguise, pierce a mystery. 5. affect sharply: Her heart was pierced with grief. v., pierced, piercing.

Pierce (pirs), Franklin, 1804-1869, the 14th president of the United States, from 1853 to 1857. n.

piercing (pir'sing), that pierces; penetrating; sharp; keen. adj. —piercingly, adv.

Pierian (pi'ri'ən), of or having to do with the Muses. adj.

Pierian spring, fountain of knowledge and poetic inspiration.

Pierre (pir), capital of South Dakota. 10,000. n.

Pierrot (pē'rō), clown who is a frequent character in French pantomimes. He has his face whitened and wears white pantaloons and usually a white jacket with big buttons. n.

pie ty (pi'ə tē), 1. being pious; reverence for God; devotion to religion; holiness; goodness. 2. dutiful regard for one's parents. 3. a pious act, remark, belief, etc. n., pl. pie ties.

piffle (pif'l), Informal. silly talk; nonsense. n.

pig (pig), 1. a swine or hog, a domestic animal raised for its meat. 2. a young hog. 3. pork. 4. Informal. person who seems or acts like a pig; one who is greedy, dirty, dull, sullen, or stubborn. 5. an oblong mass of metal that has been run into a mold while hot. n.

pi geon (pij'an), 1. kind of bird with a plump body and short legs; dove. 2. Slang. person who is easily tricked. n.

pi geon hawk, a small hawk.

pi geon hole (pij'an hōl'), 1. a small place built, usually as one of a series, for a pigeon to nest in. 2. one of a set of boxlike compartments for holding papers and other articles in a desk, a cabinet, etc. 3. put in a pigeonhole; put away. 4. classify and lay aside in memory where one can refer to it. 5. put aside with the idea of dismissing, forgetting, or neglecting: The city council pigeonholed the people's request for a new park. 1, 2 n., 3-5 v., pi geon holed, pi geon hol ing.

pi geon-toed (pij'an tōd'), having the toes or feet turned inward. adj.

pig gish (pig'ish), like a pig; greedy; filthy. adj.

pig gy (pig'ē), a little pig. n., pl. pig gies.

pig-head ed (pig'hed'id), stupidly obstinate or stubborn. adj.

pig iron, crude iron as it first comes from the blast furnace or smelter, usually cast into oblong masses called pigs.

pig ment (pig'mənt), coloring matter. Paint is made by mixing pigments with liquid. The color of a person's hair, skin, and eyes is due to pigment in the cells of the body. n.

pig men tar y (pig'mən ter'ē), of or containing pigment. adj.

pig men ta tion (pig'mən tā'shən), deposit of pigment in the tissue of a living animal or plant, causing coloration or discoloration. n.

pig my (pig'mē), pygmy. n., pl. pig mies; adj.

pig nut (pig'nūt'), 1. nut of the brown hickory of North America. 2. the tree itself. 3. the tuber of a certain European plant, a kind of earthnut. n.

pig pen (pig'pen'), 1. pen where pigs are kept. 2. a filthy place. n.

pig skin (pig'skin'), 1. the skin of a pig. 2. leather made from it. 3. Informal. football. 4. Informal. saddle. n.

pig sty (pig'stī'), pigpen. n., pl. pig sties.

pig tail (pig'tāl'), 1. braid of hair hanging from the back of the head. 2. twist of tobacco. n.

pike (pik), 1. a long wooden shaft with a sharp-pointed metal head; spear. Foot soldiers used to carry pikes. 2. a sharp point; spike. n.

pike (pik), a large fresh-water fish with a long, narrow, pointed head. n.

pike (pik), turnpike. n.

pike man (pik'mən), soldier armed with a pike. n., pl. pike men.

pik er (pik'ər), U.S. Slang. person who does things in a small or cheap way. n.

Pikes Peak (piks), mountain of the Rocky Mountains in central Colorado. 14,108 ft.

pike staff (pik'staf'), 1. staff or shaft of a pike or spear. 2. staff with a metal point or spike, used by travelers. n., pl. pike staves (-stāvz').

pi laf or pi laff (pi lāf'), pilau. n.

pi las ter (pə las'tər), a rectangular pillar, especially when it forms part of a wall from which it projects somewhat. n.

Pi late (pi'lāt), Pontius, Roman governor who ruled over Judea in Palestine from 26 to 36? A.D. During his rule Christ was crucified. n.

pi lau or pi law (pi lō'), an Oriental dish consisting of rice boiled with mutton, fowl, or the like, and flavored with spices, raisins, etc. n.

pil chard (pil'chərd), 1. sardine. 2. a small sea fish like it. n.

pile (pil), 1. many things lying one upon another in a more or less orderly way: a pile of wood. 2. mass like a hill or mound: a pile of dirt. 3. make into a pile; heap evenly; heap up: The boys piled the blankets in a corner. 4. gather or rise in piles: Snow piled against the fences. 5. heap of wood on which a dead body or sacrifice is burned. 6. a large structure or mass of buildings. 7. cover with large amounts. 8. Informal. a large amount. 9. Informal. a large amount of money; fortune. 10. go in a confused, rushing crowd. 11. in nuclear physics, former name of a reactor. 12. series of plates of different metals, arranged alternately with cloth or paper wet with acid between them, for producing an electric current. 13. any similar arrangement for producing an electric current; battery. 1,2,5,6,8,9,11-13 n., 3,4,7,10 v., piled, piling.

Pikeman

Pierrot

Pilaster

pile² (pil), 1. a heavy beam driven upright into the earth, often under water, to help support a bridge, wharf, building, etc. 2. furnish with piles; drive piles into. 1 n., 2 v., piled, piling.

pile³ (pil), 1. a soft, thick nap on velvet, plush, and many carpets. 2. a soft, fine hair or down. n.

pile driver, machine for driving down piles or stakes, usually a tall framework in which a heavy weight is raised and then allowed to fall upon the pile.

piles (pilz), swelling of blood vessels at the anus, often painful; hemorrhoids. n.pl.

pilfer (pil'fər), steal in small quantities; steal. v.

pilgrim (pil'grəm), 1. person who goes on a journey to a sacred or holy place as an act of religious devotion. In the Middle Ages, many people went as pilgrims to Jerusalem and to holy places in Europe. 2. traveler; wanderer. n.

Pilgrimage (pil'grəm), one of the Puritan settlers of Plymouth Colony in 1620. n.

pilgrimage (pil'grə mij), 1. a pilgrim's journey; journey to some sacred place as an act of religious devotion. 2. a long journey. 3. life thought of as a journey. n.

piling (pil'ing), 1. piles or heavy beams driven into the ground, etc. 2. structure made of piles. n.

pill (pil), 1. medicine made up into a tiny ball to be swallowed whole. 2. a very small ball of anything. n.

pillage (pil'ij), 1. rob with violence; plunder: Pirates pillaged the towns along the coast. 2. plunder; robbery. 1 v., pillaged, pillaging; 2 n.

—pill'ag er, n.

pillar (pil'ər), 1. a slender, upright structure; column. Pillars are usually made of stone, wood, or metal and used as supports or ornaments for a building. Sometimes a pillar stands alone as a monument. 2. anything slender and upright like a pillar. 3. an important support. A person of strong character or important position is a pillar of society. n.

from pillar to post, from one thing or place to another without any definite purpose.

pillared (pil'ərd), 1. having pillars. 2. formed into pillars. adj.

Pillars of Hercules, two high points of land at the eastern end of the Strait of Gibraltar, one on either side of the strait. The one on the European side is the Rock of Gibraltar; the one on the African side is Jebel Musa.

pill box (pil'boks'), 1. box, usually shallow and often round, for holding pills. 2. a small, low fortress with very thick walls and roof, having machine guns, anti-tank weapons, etc. n.

pillion (pil'yən), pad attached behind a saddle for a person to sit on. n.

pillory (pil'ə rē), 1. frame of wood with holes through which a person's head and hands were put. The pillory was formerly used as a punishment, being set up in a public place where the crowd could make fun of the offender. 2. put in the pillory. 3. expose to public ridicule, contempt, or abuse: The newspapers pilloried the cruel father. 1 n., pl. pil lo ries; 2,3 v., pill lo ried, pil lo ry ing.

Pillars

Man in a pillory

pil low (pil'ō), 1. bag or case filled with feathers, down, or other soft material, usually used to support the head when resting or sleeping. 2. rest on a pillow. 3. be a pillow for. 1 n., 2,3 v. —pil'low like', adj.

pil low case (pil'ō kās'), a cotton or linen cover pulled over a pillow. n.

pil low slip (pil'ō slip'), pillowcase. n.

pi lose (pi'lōs), covered with soft hair; hairy. adj.

pilot (pi'lət), 1. man who steers a ship. 2. man whose business is steering ships in or out of a harbor or through dangerous waters. A ship takes on a pilot before coming into a strange harbor. 3. person who steers an airplane, airship, or balloon. 4. act as the pilot of; steer: The aviator pilots his airplane. 5. guide; leader. 6. guide; lead: The manager piloted us through the big factory. 7. device that controls the action of one part of a machine, motor, etc. 8. U.S. cowcatcher of a locomotive, streetcar, etc. 1-3,5,7,8 n., 4,6 v.

pilot age (pi'lət ij), 1. piloting. 2. a pilot's art or duties. 3. the fee paid for a pilot's service. n.

pilot biscuit or bread, ship biscuit; large, flat cracker.

pilot fish, a small, bluish fish found in warm seas, often accompanying sharks.

pilot house, an enclosed place on the deck of a ship, sheltering the steering wheel and helmsman.

Pilt down man (pilt'doun'), supposed prehistoric man whose fossil remains were thought to be the most ancient yet discovered in England, now generally considered a hoax.

pi men to (pə men'tō), 1. kind of sweet pepper, used as a vegetable, relish, and stuffing for green olives. 2. allspice. 3. tree that allspice grows on. n., pl. pi men tos.

pi mien to (pi myen'tō), a sweet pepper. n., pl. pi mien tos.

pim per nel (pim'pər nel), 1. a small scarlet, purple, or white flower that closes in bad weather. 2. plant it grows on. n.

pim ple (pim'pl), a small, inflamed swelling of the skin. n.

pim pled (pim'pld), having pimples. adj.

pim ply (pim'plē), having pimples. adj., pim pli er, pim pli est.

pin (pin), 1. a short, slender piece of wire with a point at one end and a head at the other, for fastening things together. 2. badge with a pin or clasp to fasten it to the clothing: She wore her class pin. 3. ornament that has a pin or clasp; brooch. 4. peg made of wood or metal, used to fasten things together, hold something, hang things on, etc. 5. belaying pin. 6. peg that holds an oar in place. 7. peg in a violin, etc., to which a string is fastened. 8. fasten with a pin or pins; put a pin through. 9. fasten or attach firmly to or on; tack; fasten as if with pins. 10. hold fast in one position: When the tree fell, it pinned his shoulder to the ground. 11. bind to an undertaking or pledge. 12. anything that fastens: a hairpin. 13. a bottle-shaped piece of wood used in the game of ninepins, tenpins, etc. 14. Informal. leg. 15. stick for the flag marking a hole on a golf course. 16. something small or worthless. 1-7,12-16 n., 8-11 v., pinned, pin ning. —pin'like', adj.

on pins and needles, very anxious or uneasy.

pin a fore (pin'ə fōr'), 1. a child's apron that covers most of the dress. 2. a light dress without sleeves. n.

pin ball (pin'bōl'), game in which a ball rolls down a board studded with pins or pegs into numbered compartments. n.

pince-nez (pans'nā' or pins'nā'), eye- glasses kept in place by a spring that pinches the nose. n.

pincers (pin'sərz), 1. tool for gripping and holding tight, made like scissors but with jaws instead of blades. 2. a large claw of crabs, lobsters, etc., which can be used to pinch or nip; pair of claws. 3. a military operation in which the enemy is surrounded and crushed by the meeting of columns driven on each side of him. n. pl. or sing.

Pincers (def. 1)

pinch (pinch), 1. squeeze between two hard edges; squeeze with thumb and forefinger. 2. press so as to hurt; squeeze: He pinched his finger in the door. 3. sharp pressure that hurts; squeeze: the pinch of tight shoes. 4. as much as can be taken up with the tips of finger and thumb; a pinch of salt. 5. sharp discomfort or distress: the pinch of hunger. 6. cause sharp discomfort or distress to. 7. cause to shrink or become thin: a face pinched by hunger. 8. time of special need; emergency: I will help you in a pinch. 9. limit closely; stint: be pinched for space. 10. be stingy. 11. Slang. arrest. 12. Slang. steal. 13. Slang. stealing. 1,2,6,7,9-12 v., 1,3-5,8,11,13 n. —pinch'er, n.

pinchers (pin'charz), pincers. n. pl. or sing.

pinch-hit (pinch/'hit/), 1. bat for another baseball player when a hit is badly needed. 2. take another's place in an emergency. v., pinch-hit, pinch-hit ing.

pinch hitter, one who pinch-hits for another.

Pinckney (pink'ne), Charles Cotesworth, 1746-1825, American statesman and diplomat. n.

pin cushion (pin/'kush'ən), a small cushion to stick pins in until they are needed. n.

pin dling (pin/'dling), Informal. puny; sickly. adj.

Pinus Mountains (pin/'dəs), a mountain chain in central Greece and SE Albania. The highest peak is 7665 feet.

pine (pin), 1. any of a group of evergreen trees that have cones, and clusters of needle-shaped leaves that grow out from temporary scalelike leaves. Pines are valuable for timber, turpentine, resin, tar, etc. 2. the wood of any of these trees. n. —pine/'like, adj.

pine (pin), 1. long eagerly; yearn: The mother was pining to see her son. 2. waste away with pain, hunger, grief, or desire. v., ined, pin ing.

pineal (pin/'ē əl), 1. resembling a pine cone in shape. 2. having to do with the pineal body. adj.

pineal body or gland, a small body of unknown function, present in the brain of all vertebrates having a cranium.

pine apple (pin/'ap'l), 1. a large, edible, juicy fruit growing in hot climates, that looks somewhat like a large pine cone. 2. plant with slender, stiff leaves that it grows on. 3. Slang. a hand grenade or bomb. n.

pine family, a large group of trees and shrubs that have resinous sap, including the fir, cedar, spruce, hemlock, cypress, and sequoia.

pine needle, the very slender leaf of a pine tree.

Pines (pinz), Isle of, island in the Caribbean Sea, SW of and belonging to Cuba. 10,000 pop.; 1180 sq. mi. n.

pin feather (pin/'feθ'ər), an undeveloped feather that looks like a small stub. n.

pin fold (pin/'föld/), 1. place where stray animals are kept. 2. confine in a pinfold. 1 n., 2 v.

ping (ping), 1. sound like that of a rifle bullet whistling through the air or striking an object. 2. produce a ping. 1 n., 2 v.

Ping-pong (ping/'pong/), Trademark. game like tennis, played on a table with small wooden rackets and a light, hollow celluloid ball. n.

pin head (pin/'hed/), 1. the head of a pin. 2. something very small or worthless. n.

pin hole (pin/'hōl/), 1. hole made by a pin. 2. hole for a pin or peg to go in. n.

pinion (pin/'yən), 1. the last joint of a bird's wing. 2. wing. 3. any one of the stiff flying feathers of the wing. 4. cut off or tie the pinions of (a bird) to prevent flying. 5. bind; bind the arms of; bind (to something): The thieves pinioned the man's arms. 1-3 n., 4,5 v.

Ping-pong

pin ion (pin/'yən), a small gear with teeth that fit into those of a larger gear or rack. See differential for diagram. n.

pink (pink), 1. color obtained by mixing red with white; light or pale red. 2. pale-red. 3. person who tends toward communism. 4. moderately radical. 5. the highest degree or condition: A fighter needs to be in the pink of health. 6. plant with spicy-smelling flowers of various colors, mostly white, pink, and red. A carnation is a variety of pink. 7. this plant's flower. 1,3,5-7 n., 2,4 adj.

pink (pink), 1. prick or pierce with a sword, spear, or dagger. 2. cut the edge of (cloth) in small scallops or notches. 3. ornament with small, round holes. 4. adorn. v.

pink eye (pink/'ī/), a contagious disease characterized by inflammation and soreness of the membrane that lines the eyelids and covers the eyeball. n.

pink ie (pink/'ē), the smallest finger. n.

pink ish (pink/'ish), somewhat pink. adj.

pin money, 1. allowance of money made by a man to his wife or daughter for her own use. 2. a small amount of money used to buy extra things for one's own use.

pin na (pin/'ə), 1. feather, wing, or winglike part. 2. fin; flipper. 3. auricle of the ear; external ear. 4. one of the primary divisions of a pinnate leaf; leaflet. n., pl. pin nae (pin/'ē) or pin nas.

pin nace (pin/'is), 1. a ship's boat. 2. a very small schooner. n.

pin na cle (pin/'ə kl), 1. a high peak or point of rock. 2. the highest point: at the pinnacle of his fame. 3. a slender turret or spire. 4. put on a pinnacle. 5. furnish with pinnacles. 1-3 n., 4,5 v., pin na cled, pin na cling.

pin nate (pin/'āt), 1. like a feather. 2. of a leaf, having leaflets on each side of a stalk. adj. —pin/nate ly, adv.

pi noch le or pin oc le (pē/'nuk'l),

1. game played with 48 cards, in which points are scored according to the value of certain combinations of cards. 2. combination of the jack of diamonds and the queen of spades in this game. n.

pi ñon (pin/'yən or pēn/'yōn), 1. pine, especially of the Rocky Mountain region, producing large edible nutlike seeds. 2. its seed. n.

pin point (pin/'point/), 1. aim at accurately; determine precisely. 2. extremely accurate or precise: pin-point bombing. 1 v., 2 adj.

pint (pint), 1. unit of measure equal to half a quart. 2. container holding a pint. n.

pin tail (pin/'tāl/), any of various birds that have long feathers in the center of the tail. n.

pin tle (pin/'tl), pin or bolt, especially one upon which something turns, as in a hinge. n.

pin to (pin/'tō), 1. spotted in two colors; piebald. 2. a pinto horse. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. pin tos.

pin-up (pin/'up/), 1. picture of a very attractive girl, pinned up on a wall, usually by admirers who have not met the girl. 2. a very attractive girl. 3. very attractive. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

pin wheel (pin/'hwēl/), 1. kind of firework that revolves when lighted. 2. toy made of a wheel fastened to a stick by a pin so that it revolves in the wind. n.

pin worm (pin/'wērm/), a small, threadlike worm infesting the rectum, especially of children. n.

pin y (pin/'ē), 1. abounding in or covered with pine trees; pinny mountains. 2. having to do with or suggesting pine trees: a pinny odor. adj., pin i er, pin i est.

pi o neer (pī/'ə nīr/), 1. person who settles in a part of the country that has not been occupied before except by primitive tribes. 2. person who goes first, or does something first, and so prepares a way for others.

Pinnacle (def. 3)

Pinnate leaf

3. prepare or open up for others; take the lead in doing.
4. one of a group of soldiers who make roads, build bridges, dig trenches, etc.; engineer. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

pi'ous (pī'əs), 1. having or showing reverence for God; religious. 2. done or used from real or pretended religious motives. adj. —pi'ous ly, adv. —pi'ous ness, n.

pip¹ (pip), seed of an apple, orange, etc. n.

pip² (pip), 1. a contagious disease of birds, characterized by the secretion of thick mucus in the mouth and throat. 2. Informal. a slight illness. n.

pip³ (pip), one of the spots on playing cards, dominoes, or dice. n.

pip⁴ (pip), 1. peep; chirp. 2. of a young bird, break through (the shell). v., pipped, pip ping.

pipe (pip), 1. tube through which a liquid or gas flows.

2. carry by means of a pipe or pipes. 3. supply with pipes: Our street is being piped for gas. 4. tube with a bowl of clay, wood, etc., at one end, for smoking.

5. quantity of tobacco a pipe will hold. 6. a musical instrument with a single tube into which the player blows. 7. play on a pipe. 8. any one of the tubes in an organ. 9. make a shrill noise; sing in a shrill voice.

10. sing; utter. 11. a shrill sound, voice, or song: the pipe of the lark. 12. a boatswain's whistle. 13. give orders, signals, etc., with a boatswain's whistle. 14. summon by a pipe: All hands were piped on deck. 15. trim (a dress, etc.) with a cordlike fold. 16. thing shaped like a tube. 1,4-6,8,11,12,16 n., 2,3,7,9,10,13-15 v., piped, pip ing.

pipes, 1. set of musical tubes: the pipes of Pan. 2. bag-pipe.

pipe down, U.S. Slang. be quiet; shut up.

pipe dream, Informal. an impractical idea.

pipe ful (pīp'fŭl), quantity sufficient to fill the bowl of a pipe. n., pl. pipe fuls.

pipe line (pīp'lin), 1. line of pipes for carrying oil or other liquids. 2. source of information, usually secret.

3. carry by a pipeline. 4. provide with a pipeline. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., pipe lined, pipe lin ing.

pipe organ, organ with pipes of different lengths sounded by air blown through them. Keys control the flow of air.

pip er (pīp'ər), person who plays on a pipe or bag-pipe, especially one who goes about the country playing at different places. n.

pay the piper, pay for one's pleasure; bear the consequences.

pi pette (pīpet' or pīpet'), a slender pipe or tube for transferring or measuring liquids. n.

pip ing (pīp'ing), 1. pipes: lead piping. 2. material for pipes. 3. a shrill sound: the piping of frogs in the spring. 4. shrill. 5. music of pipes. 6. a narrow band of material, sometimes containing a cord, used for trimming along edges and seams. 7. ornamental lines of icing. 1-3,5-7 n., 4 adj.

piping hot, so as to hiss; very hot.

pip it (pīp'it), a small bird somewhat like a lark, that sings while flying. n.

pip pin (pīp'ən), any of several kinds of apple, such as Grimes' golden pippin, the Newtown pippin, the white pippin. n.

pip sis se wa (pīp sis'ə wə), a small plant whose evergreen leaves are used in medicine as a tonic, astringent, etc. n.

pi quan cy (pē'kən sē), 1. quality of exciting the mind pleasantly. 2. quality of exciting the appetite, being odd to the taste, or pleasantly sharp. n.

pi quant (pē'kənt), 1. stimulating to the mind, interest, etc.: a piquant bit of news. 2. pleasantly sharp; stimulating to the taste: a piquant sauce. adj. —pi'quant ly, adv.

pi que (pēk), 1. a feeling of anger at being slighted; wounded pride: In a pique, she left the party. 2. cause a feeling of anger in; wound the pride of: It piqued her that they should have a secret she did not share. 3. arouse; stir up: The curiosity of the boys was piqued by the locked trunk. 1 n., 2,3 v., piqued, pi quing.

pi que oneself on or upon, feel proud about.

pi qué (pī kă'), a cotton fabric with narrow ribs or raised stripes. n.

pi ra cy (pī'ră sē), 1. robbery on the sea. 2. act of publishing or using a book, play, piece of music, etc., without the author's permission. n., pl. pi ra cies.

Pi ra e us (pī rē'əs), city in SE Greece. It is the seaport for Athens. 186,000. n.

pi rate (pī'rit), 1. one who attacks and robs ships unlawfully; robber on the sea. 2. be a pirate; plunder; rob. 3. ship used by pirates. 4. publish or use without the author's permission. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., pi rat ed, pi rat ing.

pi rat i cal (pī rat'ə kl), of pirates; like pirates; like piracy. adj. —pi rat'ic ly, adv.

pi rogue (pē rŭg'), 1. canoe hollowed from the trunk of a tree; dugout. 2. any canoe. n.

pir ou ette (pir'ü et'), 1. a whirling about on one foot or on the toes, as in dancing. 2. whirl in this way. 1 n., 2 v., pir ou et ted, pir ou et ting.

Pi sa (pē'zə), city in NW Italy, famous for its leaning tower. 81,000. n.

pis ca to ri al (pis'kă tŏ'rē əl), of or having to do with fishermen or fishing. adj.

pis ca to ry (pis'kă tŏ'rē), piscatorial. adj.

Pis ces (pis'ēz), a northern constellation that was considered to have the shape of fishes. n.pl.

Pis gah (piz'gə), Mount, mountain northeast of the Dead Sea, from which Moses viewed the Promised Land of Canaan. Deuteronomy 34:1-4. n. Also, Mount Nebo.

pish (pish or psh), 1. sound made to express contempt or impatience. 2. make such a sound. 1 interj., n., 2 v.

pis ta chi o (pis tă'shē ō or pis tash'ē ō), 1. a greenish nut having a flavor that suggests almond. 2. a small tree that it grows on. 3. its flavor. 4. a light green. n., pl.

pis ta chi os.

pis til (pis'tl), part of a flower that produces seeds, consisting, when complete, of an ovary, a style, and a stigma. n.

pis tol (pis'tl), a small, short gun held and fired with one hand. n.

pis tole (pis tŏl'), 1. a former gold coin of Spain worth about $4.00. 2. any of various other old European gold coins worth about the same amount. n.

pis ton (pis'tən), a short cylinder, or a flat, round piece of wood or metal, fitting closely inside a tube or hollow cylinder in which it is moved back and forth by some force (often the pressure of steam). A piston receives or transmits motion by means of a rod (piston rod) that is attached to it. n.

piston ring, a metal ring, split so it can expand, put around a piston to ensure a tight fit.

pit¹ (pit), 1. a natural hole in the ground. 2. hole dug deep into the earth. 3. hollow on the surface of anything; hole: the armpit. 4. a little hole or scar, such as is left by smallpox. 5. mark with small pits or scars.

6. a covered hole used as a trap for wild animals. 7. an unsuspected danger. 8. Brit. the rear part of the main floor of a theater, where the seats are cheaper.

9. Brit. people who sit there. 10. U.S. part of the floor of an exchange devoted to a special business: the wheat pit. 11. place where dogs or cocks are made to fight.

12. set to fight or compete; match: The little man pit

Piston and piston rod. Upper arrows show where steam or gas enters and leaves the cylinder.

his brains against the big man's strength. 13. a large grave for many bodies. 14. hell, or part of it. 1-4,6-11, 13,14 n., 5,12 v., pit ted, pit ting.

pit¹ (pit), U.S. 1. the hard seed of a cherry, peach, plum, date, etc.; stone. 2. remove pits from (fruit). 1 n., 2 v., pit ted, pit ting.

pit a pat (pit'ə pat'), 1. with a quick succession of beats or taps. 2. the movement or sound of something going pitapat. 1 adv., 2 n.

Pit cairn (pit'kärn), a small British island in the S Pacific. 143 pop.; 2 sq. mi. n.

pitch (pich), 1. throw; fling; hurl; toss: The men were pitching horseshoes. 2. throw (a baseball, etc.) for the batter to hit. 3. fix firmly in the ground; set up: pitch a tent. 4. take up a position; settle. 5. fall or plunge forward: The man lost his balance and pitched down the cliff. 6. plunge with the bow rising and then falling: The ship pitched about in the storm. 7. point; position; degree: The poor man has reached the lowest pitch of bad fortune. 8. degree of highness or lowness of a sound. Notes in music with a low pitch have a slower rate of vibration than those with a high pitch. 9. set at a certain point, degree, or level. 10. determine the key of (a tune, etc.). 11. height: the pitch of an arch. 12. act or manner of pitching. 13. that which is pitched. 14. amount of slope. 15. slope. 16. distance between the successive teeth of a cogwheel. 17. distance between two things in a machine. 18. the distance between the centers of any two successive threads of a screw. 1-6,9,10,15 v., 1,7,8,11-14,16-18 n.

pitch in, Informal. work vigorously.

pitch into, Informal. attack.

pitch on or upon, choose; select.

pitch² (pich), 1. a black, sticky substance made from tar or turpentine, used to cover the seams of ships, to cover roofs, to make pavements, etc. 2. cover with pitch. 3. resin from certain evergreen trees. 1,3 n., 2 v.

pitch blende (pich'blend'), mineral consisting largely of uranium oxide, occurring in black, pitchlike masses. It is a source of radium, uranium, and actinium. n.

pitch-dark (pich'därk'), very dark. adj.

pitched battle, battle with troops properly arranged.

pitch er¹ (pich'är), 1. container for holding and pouring liquids, with a lip on one side and a handle on the other. 2. amount that a pitcher holds. n.

pitch er² (pich'är), the player on a baseball team who throws the ball for the batter to hit. n.

pitch er ful (pich'är fül), quantity sufficient to fill a pitcher. n., pl. pitch er fuls.

pitcher plant, plant with leaves shaped somewhat like a pitcher.

pitch fork (pich'fôrk'), 1. a large fork with a long handle, for lifting and throwing hay, etc. 2. lift and throw with a pitchfork. 1 n., 2 v.

pitch pipe, a small musical pipe having one note, used to give the pitch for singing or for tuning an instrument.

pitch y (pich'ē), 1. full of pitch.

2. like pitch; sticky. 3. black. adj., pitch i er, pitch i est.

pit e ous (pit'ē əs), to be pitied; moving the heart; deserving pity: The starving children are a piteous sight. adj. —pit'e ous ly, adv. —pit'e ous ness, n.

pit fall (pit'fôl'), 1. a hidden pit to catch animals in. 2. any trap or hidden danger. n.

pith (pith), 1. the central, spongy tissue in the stems of certain plants. 2. a similar soft tissue: the pith of an orange. 3. an important or essential part: the pith of a speech. 4. strength; energy. n.

Pith e can thro pus (pith'ə kan thrō'pəs), an extinct ape man, whose existence is assumed from remains found in Java, in 1891 and 1892. n., pl. Pith e can thro pi (-pi).

pith y (pith'ē), 1. full of substance, meaning, force, or vigor: pithy phrases, a pithy speaker. 2. of or like pith. 3. having much pith: a pithy orange. adj., pith i er, pith i est. —pith'i ly, adv. —pith'i ness, n.

pit i a ble (pit'ē ə bl), 1. to be pitied; moving the heart; deserving pity. 2. deserving contempt; mean; to be scorned. adj.

pit i a bly (pit'ē ə blē), in a pitiable manner; to a pitiable degree. adv.

pit i ful (pit'ē fəl), 1. to be pitied; moving the heart; deserving pity: The deserted children were pitiful. 2. feeling or showing pity. 3. deserving contempt; mean; to be scorned: Driving away after hitting a dog is a pitiful act. adj. —pit'i ful ly, adv.

pit i less (pit'ē lis), without pity or mercy. adj. —pit'i less ly, adv.

Pitt (pit), 1. William, 1708-1778, the first Earl of Chatham, English statesman. 2. his son, William, 1759-1806, prime minister of England from 1783 to 1801 and from 1804 to 1806. n.

pit tance (pit'ns), 1. a small allowance of money. 2. a small amount or share. n.

Pitts burgh (pits'bërg), city in SW Pennsylvania, a center of the iron industry. 604,000. n.

Pitts field (pits'fëld), city in W Massachusetts. 58,000. n.

pi tu i tar y (pə tū'ə ter'ē or pə tū'ə ter'ē), 1. having to do with the pituitary gland. 2. the pituitary gland. 3. medicine made from it. 4. of, having to do with, or secreting mucus. 1,4 adj., 2,3 n.

pituitary body, pituitary gland.

pituitary gland, a small, oval endocrine gland situated beneath the brain. It secretes hormones that promote growth, stimulate other glands, etc.

pit y (pit'ē), 1. sympathy; sorrow for another's suffering or distress; feeling for the sorrows of others. 2. feel pity for. 3. cause for pity or regret; thing to be sorry for: It is a pity to be kept in the house in good weather. 1,3 n., pl. pit ies; 2 v., pit ied, pit y ing. —pit'y ing ly, adv.

have or take pity on, show pity for.

Pi us XII (pi'əs), 1876-1958, Pope from 1939 to 1958.

piv ot (piv'ət), 1. shaft, pin, or point on which something turns. 2. mount on, attach by, or provide with a pivot. 3. turn on a pivot: pivot on one's heel. 4. that on which something turns, hinges, or depends; central point: Dick's pitching was the pivot of our hopes. 1,4 n., 2,3 v.

piv ot al (piv'ə tl), of, having to do with, or serving as a pivot; being that on which something turns, hinges, or depends; very important. adj.

pix y or pix ie (pik'sē), fairy or elf. n., pl. pix ies.

Pi zar ro (pi zär'ō), Francisco, 1471?-1541, Spanish conqueror of Peru. n.

piz zi ca to (pit'sə kätō), 1. played by plucking the strings of a musical instrument with the finger instead of using the bow. 2. a note or passage so played. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. piz zi ca ti (-tē).

pk., 1. peck. 2. peak. 3. park.

pkg., package.

pl., plural.

pla ca ble (plä'kə bl), forgiving; easily quieted; mild. adj.

plac ard (plak'ärd for 1; plä käd' or plak'ärd for 2), 1. notice to be posted in a public place; poster. 2. put placards on or in: The circus placarded the city with advertisements. 1 n., 2 v.

pla cate (plä'kät), soothe or satisfy the anger of; make peaceful: placate a person one has offended. v., pla cat ed, pla cat ing.

place (pläs), 1. part of space occupied by a person or thing. 2. city, town, village, district, etc.: What place do you come from? 3. building or spot used for a certain purpose: A church is a place of worship. A store or office

Pitcher plant (1 to 2 ft. high)

Man using a pitchfork

is a place of business. 4. house; house and grounds; dwelling: The Smiths have a beautiful place in the country. 5. part or spot in something: The dentist filled the decayed place in the tooth. 6. the proper or natural position: books in place on shelves. 7. rank; position; way of life: A master and a slave have very different places in life. 8. position in time: The performance went too slowly in several places. 9. space or seat for a person: Keep a place for me if you reach the boat first. 10. put (in a spot, position, condition, or relation): The orphan was placed in a good home. The people placed confidence in their leader. 11. give the place, position, or condition of; identify: I remember his name, but I cannot place him. 12. situation; post or office; official employment or position: get a place in a store. 13. appoint (a person) to a post or office; find a situation, etc., for. 14. duty; business: It is not my place to find fault. 15. step or point in order of proceeding: In the first place, the room is too small; in the second place, it is too dirty. 16. in arithmetic, position of a figure in a number: in the third decimal place. 17. position among the leaders at the finish of a race: John won first place. 18. be among the three leaders at the finish of a race, usually the second. 19. a short street or court. 1-9, 12, 14-17, 19 n., 10, 11, 13, 18 v., placed, plac'ing.

give place, 1. make room. 2. yield; give in. in place, 1. in the proper or usual place; in the original place. 2. fitting, appropriate, or timely. in place of, instead of. know one's place, act according to one's position in life.

out of place, 1. not in the proper or usual place. 2. inappropriate or ill-timed.

take place, happen; occur.

place in the sun, a favorable position; as favorable a position as any occupied by others.

place kick, kick given a football after it has been put on the ground.

place-kick (plās'kik'), make a place kick. v.

place ment (plās'mənt), 1. a placing or being placed; location; arrangement. 2. the finding of work or a job for a person. 3. a placing of a football on the ground for an attempt to kick a goal by a place kick. n.

pla cen ta (plə sen'tə), organ by which the fetus is attached to the wall of the womb and nourished. n., pl. pla cen tae (-tē) or pla cen tas.

pla cen tal (plə sen'tl), 1. of or having to do with the placenta. 2. having a placenta. adj.

plac er (plas'ər), place where gold or other minerals can be washed out of loose sand or gravel. n.

placer mining, the washing of loose sand or gravel for gold or other minerals.

plac id (plas'id), calm; peaceful; quiet: a placid lake. adj. —plac'id ly, adv. —plac'id ness, n.

pla cid i ty (plə sid'ə tē), calmness; peace; tranquility. n.

plac et (plak'it), an opening or slit at the top of a skirt to make it easy to put on. n.

pla gia rism (plā'jə riz əm), 1. act of plagiarizing; taking and using as one's own the idea, writing, invention, etc., of another. 2. idea, expression, plot, etc., taken from another and used as one's own. n.

pla gia rist (plā'jə rist), person who plagiarizes. n.

pla gia rize (plā'jə riz), take and use as one's own (the thoughts, writings, inventions, etc., of another); especially, to take and use (a passage, plot, etc., from the work of another writer). v., pla gia rized, pla gia rizing. —pla'gia riz'er, n.

plague (plæg), 1. a very dangerous disease that spreads rapidly and often causes death. It occurs in several forms, one of which is bubonic plague. The plague is common in Asia and has several times swept through Europe. 2. punishment thought to be sent from God. 3. cause to suffer from a plague. 4. thing or person that torments, vexes, annoys, troubles, offends, or is disagreeable. 5. vex; annoy; bother. 1, 2, 4 n., 3, 5 v., plagued, plag'uing.

pla guy (plā'gē), Informal. troublesome; annoying. adj.

plaice (plās), 1. a European flatfish that is important for food. It sometimes weighs more than ten pounds. 2. any of various American flatfishes or flounders. n., pl. plaice or (occasionally) plaic es.

plaid (plad), 1. any cloth with a pattern of checks or crisscross stripes. 2. a pattern of this kind. 3. having a pattern of checks or crisscross stripes: a plaid dress. 4. a long piece of woolen cloth, usually having a pattern of checks or stripes in many colors, worn about the shoulders by the Scottish Highlanders. 1, 2, 4 n., 3 adj.

plaid ed (plad'id), 1. made of plaid; having a plaid pattern. 2. wearing a plaid. adj.

plain (plān), 1. easy to understand; easily seen or heard; clear: The meaning is plain. 2. in a plain manner; clearly. 3. without ornament or decoration; simple: a plain dress. 4. without figured pattern, varied weave, or variegated color: a plain blue dress. 5. not rich or highly seasoned: plain food. 6. common; ordinary; simple in manner: a plain man of the people. 7. not pretty: a plain girl. 8. not very hard; easy. 9. frank; honest; sincere: plain speech. 10. a flat stretch of land. 11. flat; level; smooth. 1, 3-9, 11 adj., 2 adv., 10 n. —plain'ly, adv. —plain'ness, n.

plains, prairies: Cattle and horses wandered over the plains.

plain-clothes man, policeman or detective wearing ordinary clothes, not a uniform, when on duty.

plain sailing, 1. sailing on a smooth, easy course. 2. easy, clear action.

plains man (plānz'mən), man who lives on the plains. n., pl. plains men.

plain song, vocal music used in the Christian church from the earliest times. Plain song is sung in unison. It is rhythmical, although the beats are not regular.

plain-spo ken (plān'spō'kən), plain or frank in speech. adj.

plaint (plānt), 1. complaint. 2. Archaic. lament. n.

plain tiff (plān'tif), person who begins a lawsuit: The plaintiff accused the defendant of fraud. n.

plain tive (plān'tiv), mournful; sad: a plaintive song. adj. —plain'tive ly, adv. —plain'tive ness, n.

plait (plāt or plat for 1, 2; plāt or plēt for 3, 4), 1. a braid: She wore her hair in a plait. 2. to braid: She plaited her hair. 3. a flat, usually narrow, fold made in cloth by doubling it on itself; a pleat. 4. fold or arrange in plaits; pleat: a plaited skirt. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v.

plan (plan), 1. way of making or doing something that has been worked out beforehand; scheme of arrangement: Our summer plans were upset by mother's illness. 2. think out beforehand how (something) is to be made or done; design, scheme, or devise: plan a trip. 3. make plans. 4. a drawing or diagram to show how a garden, a floor of a house, a park, etc., is arranged. 5. make a drawing or diagram of. 1, 4 n., 2, 3, 5 v., planned, plan'ning.

Plan of a house plan chette (plan shet'), a small board supported on two casters and a vertical pencil. The pencil is supposed to write words, sentences, etc., when a person rests his fingers lightly on the planchette. Compare ouija. n.

plane (plān), 1. any flat or level surface. 2. flat; level. 3. level; grade: Try to keep your work on a high plane. 4. a thin, flat or curved supporting surface of an airplane. 5. airplane. 6. travel in an airplane. 7. glide as an airplane does. 8. rise slightly out of the water while moving. 9. surface such that if any two points on it are joined by a straight line, the line will be contained wholly in the surface. 10. being wholly in a plane: a plane figure. 11. of or having to do with such figures: plane geometry. 1,3-5,9 n., 2,10,11 adj., 6-8 v., planed, plan ing.

plane² (plān), 1. a carpenter's tool with a blade for smoothing or removing wood. 2. machine for smoothing or removing metal. 3. smooth (wood or metal) with a plane. 4. remove with a plane. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., planed, plan ing.

Carpenter's plane in use. The blade is fastened at a slant between the two handles.

plane³ (plān), plane tree. n.

plan er (plan'ər), person or thing that planes; especially, a machine for planing wood or for finishing flat surfaces on metal. n.

plan et (plan'it), 1. one of the heavenly bodies (except comets and meteors) that move around the sun. Mercury, Venus, the earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, and Pluto are planets. 2. in astrology, a heavenly body supposed to influence people's lives. n.

plan e tar i um (plan'ə tār'ē əm), 1. apparatus that shows the movements of the sun, moon, planets, and stars by projecting lights on the inside of a dome. 2. room or building with such an apparatus. n., pl. plan e tar i a (-ē ə) or plan e tar i ums.

plan e tar y (plan'ə tər'ē), 1. of a planet; having to do with planets. 2. wandering; erratic. 3. terrestrial; mundane. 4. having to do with a form of transmission for varying the speed in automobiles. adj.

plan e tes i mal (plan'ə tes'ə ml), of or having to do with minute bodies in space which, according to a certain hypothesis, move in planetary orbits and gradually unite to form the planets of a given planetary system. adj.

plan et oid (plan'ə toid), a small planet revolving around the sun; asteroid. n.

plane tree, a tall, spreading tree with broad leaves and bare patches on the trunk. The American plane tree is also called the buttonwood or sycamore.

plank (plangk), 1. a long, flat piece of sawed timber thicker than a board. 2. cover or furnish with planks. 3. cook on a board: Steak is sometimes planked. 4. article or feature of the platform of a political party, etc. 5. Informal. put or set with force: He planked down the package. 6. Informal. pay at once: She planked out her money. 1,4 n., 2,3,5,6 v.

walk the plank, walk off a plank extending from a ship's side over the water. Pirates used to make their prisoners do this.

plank ing (plangk'ing), 1. act of laying or covering with planks. 2. planks collectively. n.

plank ton (plangk'tən), the small animal and plant organisms that float or drift in water, especially at or near the surface. n.

plan ner (plan'ər), person who plans. n.

plant (plant), 1. a living thing that is not an animal. Trees, shrubs, herbs, fungi, algae, etc., are plants. 2. a living thing that has leaves, roots, and a soft stem, and is small in contrast with a tree or shrub: a tomato plant, a house plant. 3. a young growth ready to be set out in another place: The farmer set out 100 cabbage plants. 4. put or set in the ground to grow: Farmers plant seeds. 5. furnish; stock; put seed in: Mr. Smith planted his garden with beans. 6. deposit (young fish, spawn, oysters) in a river, lake, etc. 7. set firmly; put; place: The boy planted his feet far apart. 8. Slang. deliver (a blow, etc.). 9. establish or set up (a colony, city, etc.). 10. implant (principles, doctrines, etc.): Missionaries plant civilization among the savages. 11. the buildings, machinery, etc., used in manufacturing some article. 12. buildings, equipment, etc., for any purpose: a college plant. 13. Slang. scheme to trap, trick, mislead, or deceive. 14. Slang. hide (something stolen, etc.). 1-3, 11-13 n., 4-10,14 v.

Plan tag e net (plan taj'ə nit), member of the royal family that ruled England from 1154 to 1485. n.

plan tain¹ (plan'tən), 1. kind of large banana. 2. plant that it grows on. n.

plan tain² (plan'tən), a common weed with large, spreading leaves close to the ground and long, slender spikes carrying flowers and seeds. n.

plan ta tion (plan tā'shən), 1. a large farm or estate, especially in a tropical or semitropical country, on which cotton, tobacco, sugar, etc., are grown. The work on a plantation is done by laborers who live there. 2. a large group of trees or other plants that have been planted: a rubber plantation. 3. Historical. colony. n.

plant er (plan'tər), 1. man who owns or runs a plantation: a cotton planter. 2. machine for planting: a corn planter. 3. person who plants. 4. Historical. an early settler; colonist. n.

plan ti grade (plan'tə grād), walking on the whole sole of the foot. A bear is a plantigrade animal. adj.

plant louse, aphid.

plaque (plak), 1. an ornamental tablet of metal, porcelain, etc. 2. a platelike ornament or badge. n.

plash (plash), splash. v., n.

plasm (plaz'əm), plasma. n.

plas ma (plaz'mə), 1. the liquid part of blood or lymph, as distinguished from the corpuscles. 2. the watery part of milk, as distinguished from the globules of fat. n.

plas ter (plas'tər), 1. a soft mixture of lime, sand, and water that hardens in drying, used for covering walls or ceilings. 2. plaster of Paris. 3. cover with plaster. 4. spread with anything thickly: Dick's shoes were plastered with mud. 5. make smooth and flat: He plastered his hair down. 6. a medical preparation consisting of some substance spread on cloth, that will stick to the body and protect cuts, relieve pain, etc. 7. apply a plaster to. 8. apply like a plaster. 1,2,6 n., 3-5, 7,8 v.

plas ter board (plas'tər bōrd'), a thin board made of plaster and felt, used for walls and partitions. n.

plas ter er (plas'tər ər), person who plasters walls, etc. n.

plas ter ing (plas'tər ing), covering of plaster on walls, etc. n.

plaster of Paris, a mixture of powdered gypsum (a white material) and water, which hardens quickly. It is used for making molds, cheap statuary, casts, etc.

plas tic (plas'tik), 1. molding or giving shape to material. 2. concerned with molding or modeling: Sculpture is a plastic art. 3. easily molded or shaped: Clay, wax, and plaster are plastic substances. 4. any of various substances that harden and retain their shape after being molded or shaped when softened by heat, pressure, etc. Glass, celluloid, Bakelite, vulcanite, and nylon are plastics. 5. easily influenced; impressionable. 1-3,5 adj., 4 n.

plas tic i ty (plas tis'ə tē), plastic quality. n.

plastic surgery, surgery that restores, remedies, or improves the outer appearance of the body.

plat¹ (plat), 1. map; chart; plan. 2. a small piece of ground; plot. 1,2 n., 1 v., plat ted, plat ting.

plat² (plat), braid; plait. n., v., plat ted, plat ting.

Pla ta (plā'tə), a large inlet of the Atlantic in SE South America between Argentina and Uruguay. The Uruguay and Paraná rivers empty into the Plata River. 170 mi. n.

plate (plāt), 1. dish, usually round, that is almost flat: Our food is served on plates. 2. contents of such a dish. 3. something having a similar shape: A plate is passed in church to receive the collection. 4. dishes and food served to one person at a meal. 5. dishes or utensils of silver or gold: The family plate included a silver pitcher, candlesticks, and the usual knives, forks, and spoons. 6. dishes and utensils covered with a thin layer of silver or gold. 7. cover with a thin layer of silver, gold, or other metal. 8. a thin, flat sheet or piece of metal: The warship was covered with steel plates. 9. armor made of such pieces of metal. 10. a platelike part, organ, or structure. Some reptiles and fishes have a covering of horny or bony plates. 11. cover with metal plates for protection. 12. a thin, flat piece of metal on which something is engraved. Plates are used for printing pictures. 13. something printed from such a piece of metal. 14. a metal copy of a page of type. 15. make a plate from (type) for printing. 16. a thin sheet of glass coated with chemicals that are sensitive to light. Plates are sometimes used in taking photographs. 17. the place where the baseball batter stands to hit a pitched ball; home base. 18. piece of metal or other firm material with false teeth set into it. 19. a thin cut of beef from the lower end of the ribs. See beef for diagram. 20. part of a vacuum tube to which the electrons flow. 1-6,8-10,12-14,16-20 n., 7,11,15 v., plated, plating.

pla teau (plā tō'), plain in the mountains or at a height above the sea; large, high plain. n., pl. pla teaus or pla teaux (-tōz').

plate ful (plāt'fūl), as much as a plate will hold. n., pl. plate fuls.

plate glass, thick and very clear glass used for large windowpanes, mirrors, etc.

plate let (plāt'let), one of many small colorless disks which float in the blood plasma. n.

plat en (plat'n), 1. a flat metal plate in a printing press, that presses the paper against the inked type. 2. the roller against which the paper rests in a type-writer. n.

plat form (plat'fōrm), 1. a raised level surface. There usually is a platform beside the track at a railroad station. A hall usually has a platform for speakers. 2. plan of action or statement of principles of a group. A political party is said to have a platform made up of planks. n.

plat ing (plāt'ing), 1. a thin layer of silver, gold, or other metal. 2. a covering of metal plates. n.

plat i num (plat'n əm), a heavy precious metal that looks like silver or white gold and does not tarnish or melt easily. It is a chemical element. Symbol: Pt n.

plat i tude (plat'ə tūd or plat'ə tūd), 1. a dull or commonplace remark, especially one given out solemnly as if it were fresh and important: "Better late than never" is a platitude. 2. flatness; triteness; dullness. n. characterized by platitudes; using platitudes; being a platitude. adj.

Pla to (plā'tō), 427?-347? B.C., Greek philosopher who was the pupil of Socrates and the teacher of Aristotle. n.

Pla ton ic (plā tən'ik), 1. of or having to do with Plato or his philosophy. 2. friendly but not loverlike. 3. idealistic; not practical: The League of Nations seemed a Platonic scheme to many people. adj. —pla-ton'ic ally, adv.

pla toon (plā tūn'), 1. group of soldiers acting as a unit under a lieutenant. A platoon is smaller than a company and larger than a squad. 2. a small group. n.

Platte (plat), river flowing from central Nebraska into the Missouri River. 310 mi. n.

plat ter (plat'ər), a large, shallow dish for holding or serving food, especially meat and fish. n.

plat y pus (plat'ə pəs), duckbill. n., pl. plat y pus-es, plat y pi (-pi).

plau dit (plō'dit), round of applause; enthusiastic expression of approval or praise: The actress bowed in response to the plaudits of the audience. n.

plau si bil i ty (plō'zə bil'ə tē), appearance of being true or reasonable; plausible quality. n.

plau si ble (plō'zə bl), 1. appearing true, reasonable, or fair. 2. apparently worthy of confidence but often not really so: a plausible liar. adj. —plau-si bly, adv.

play (plā), 1. fun; sport; recreation; something done to amuse oneself: The children are happy at play. 2. have fun; do something in sport; take part in a game: The kitten plays with its tail. 3. do in sport: Jack played a joke on his sister. 4. do; perform: He played a mean trick. 5. take part in (a game): Children play tag and ball. 6. take part in a game against: Our team played the sixth-grade team. 7. cause to play. 8. a turn, move, or act in a game: It is your play next. 9. act of carrying on a game. 10. way of carrying on a game. 11. a story written for or presented as a dramatic performance; drama: "Peter Pan" is a charming play. 12. act on a stage, or as if on a stage; act a part. 13. act the part of (a character in a play, etc.). 14. give theatrical performances in: play the larger cities. 15. act in a specified way: play sick. 16. action: foul play. 17. make believe; pretend in fun: Let's play the hammock is a boat. 18. make music. 19. produce (music) on an instrument. 20. perform on (a musical instrument). 21. move lightly or quickly: A breeze played on the water. 22. light, quick movement: the play of sunlight on leaves, the play of color in an opal. 23. freedom for action, movement, etc.: The boy gave his fancy full play in telling what he could do with a million dollars. 24. operation; working. 25. cause to act, move, or work; direct (on, over, along): play a hose on a burning building. 26. put into action in a game: Play your ten of hearts. 27. operate with continued or repeated action: A fountain played in the garden. 28. allow (a hooked fish) to exhaust itself by pulling on the line. 29. act carelessly; do foolish things: Don't play with matches. 30. gambling. 31. gamble; bet. 32. bet on: He plays the horses. 1,8-11,16,22-24,30 n., 2-7,12-15,17-21,25-29,31,32 v.

in play, 1. in active use in a game. 2. as a joke.

played out, 1. exhausted. 2. finished; done with.

play into the hands of, act so as to give the advantage to.

play on or upon, take advantage of; make use of.

play out, play (drama) to the end; bring to end.

play a ble (plā'ə bl); 1. that can be played. 2. fit to be played on. adj.

play bill (plā'bil'), program of a play. n.

play boy (plā'boi'), Slang. man, usually wealthy, whose chief interest is in having a good time. n.

play er (plā'ər), 1. person who plays: a ballplayer, a cardplayer. 2. actor in a theater. 3. musician. 4. thing or device that plays. n.

player piano, piano played by machinery.

play fel low (plā'fel'ō), playmate. n.

play ful (plā'fəl), 1. full of fun; fond of playing. 2. joking; not serious. adj. —play'ful ly, adv. —play'-ful ness, n.

play go er (plā'gō'ər), person who goes often to the theater. n.

play ground (plā'ground'), place for outdoor play. n.

play house (plā'hous'), 1. a small house for a child to play in. 2. a toy house for a child; doll house. 3. theater. n.

playing card, card used in playing games like bridge, poker, hearts, euchre, and pinochle; one of a set of 52 cards including 4 suits (spades, hearts, diamonds, and clubs) of 13 cards each.

play mate (plā'māt'), one who plays with another. n.

play-off (plā'ōf'), an extra game or round played to settle a tie. n.

play on words, pun.

play thing (plā'thing'), thing to play with; toy. n.

play time (plā'tim'), time for playing. n.

playwright (plā'rit'), writer of plays; dramatist. n.
pla za (plā'zə or plaz'ə), a public square in a city or town. n.

plea (plē), 1. request; appeal; asking: a plea for pity.
 2. excuse; defense: The man's plea was that he did not see the signal. 3. answer made by a defendant to a charge against him in a law court. n.

plead (plēd), 1. offer reasons for or against; argue.
 2. ask earnestly; make an earnest appeal: When the rent was due, the poor man pleaded for more time. 3. offer as an excuse: The woman who stole pleaded poverty. 4. speak for or against in a law court: He had a good lawyer to plead his case. 5. conduct a case in a law court. 6. answer to a charge in a law court: The prisoner pleaded guilty. v., pled ed or pled (pled), plead ing. —plead'-ing ly, adv.

pleader (plēd'ər), person who pleads, especially in a law court. n.

pleasance (plez'ns), 1. a pleasant place, usually with trees, fountains, and flowers. 2. Archaic. pleasure. n.

pleas ant (plez'nt), 1. pleasing; agreeable; giving pleasure: a pleasant swim on a hot day. 2. easy to get along with; friendly. 3. fair; not stormy. adj. —pleas'ant ly, adv. —pleas'ant ness, n.

pleas ant ry (plez'nt rē), 1. a good-natured joke; witty remark. 2. joking. n., pl. pleas ant ries.

please (plēz), 1. be agreeable to: Toys please children.
 2. be agreeable: Such a fine meal cannot fail to please.
 3. wish; think fit: Do what you please. 4. be the will of.
 5. may it please you (now used merely as a polite addition to requests or commands): Come here, please. v., pleased, pleas ing.

be pleased, 1. be moved to pleasure. 2. be disposed; like; choose.

if you please, if you like; with your permission.

please God, if it is God's will.

pleas ing (plēz'ing), giving pleasure; pleasant. adj. —pleas'ing ly, adv.

pleas ur a ble (plezh'ər ə bl), pleasant; agreeable. adj. —pleas'ur a bly, adv.

pleasure (plezh'ər), 1. a feeling of being pleased; enjoyment; delight; joy: The boy's pleasure in the gift was good to see. 2. something that pleases; cause of joy or delight: It would be a pleasure to see you again. 3. anything that amuses; sport; play: He takes his pleasure in riding and hunting. 4. one's will, desire, or choice: What is your pleasure in this matter? n.

pleat (plēt), 1. a flat, usually narrow, fold made in cloth by doubling it on itself. 2. fold or arrange in pleats: a pleated skirt. 1 n., 2 v.

plebe (plēb), member of the lowest class at the United States Military Academy at West Point or the Naval Academy at Annapolis. n.

ple be ian (pli bē'an), 1. one of the common people of ancient Rome. 2. of the plebeians. 3. one of the common people. 4. belonging or having to do with the common people. 5. a common, vulgar person. 6. common; vulgar. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6 adj.

ple be ian ism (pli bē'an iz əm), plebeian character or ways. n.

pleb i scite (pleb'ə sīt), a direct vote by the qualified voters of a state on some important question. n.

plec trum (plek'trəm), a small piece of ivory, horn, metal, etc., used for plucking the strings of a mandolin, lyre, zither, etc. n., pl. plec trums, plec tra (-trə).

pled (pled), Informal. a pt. and a pp. of plead. The man pled for mercy. v.

pledge (plej), 1. a solemn promise: The drunkard signed a pledge never to drink again. 2. promise solemnly: We pledge loyalty to our country. 3. cause to promise solemnly; bind by a promise. 4. something that secures or makes safe; security: The knight left a jewel as pledge for the borrowed horse. 5. give as security. 6. condition of being held as security. 7. person who has promised to join an organization but is serving a probationary period before membership. 8. something given to show favor or love or as a promise of something to come; sign; token. 9. the drinking of a health or toast. 10. drink a health to; drink in honor of (someone) and wish (him) well: The knights rose from the banquet table to pledge the king. 1,4,6-9 n., 2,3,5,10 v., pledged, pledg ing. —pledg'er, n.

take the pledg'e, promise not to drink alcoholic liquor.
pledg ee (plej'ē), person with whom something is deposited as a pledge. n.

Plei ad (plē'ad), any of the Pleiades. n.

Ple ia des (plē'ə dēz), 1. group of hundreds of stars. Six can normally be seen with the naked eye. 2. in Greek mythology, seven of the daughters of Atlas, who were transformed by the gods into this group of stars. n.pl.

ple na ry (plē'nə rē or plen'ə rē), 1. full; complete; entire; absolute. 2. attended by all of its qualified members. adj. —ple'na ri ly, adv.

plen i po ten ti ar y (plen'ə pə ten'shē er'ē), 1. a diplomatic agent having full power or authority. 2. having or giving full power and authority. 1 n., pl. plen i po ten ti ar ies; 2 adj.

plen i tude (plen'ə tūd or plen'ə tūd), fullness; completeness; abundance. n.

plen te ous (plen'tē əs), plentiful. adj. —plen'te-ous ly, adv. —plen'te ous ness, n.

plen ti ful (plen'ti fəl), more than enough; ample; abundant: Ten gallons of gasoline is a plentiful supply for a seventy-mile trip. adj. —plen'ti ful ly, adv. —plen'ti ful ness, n.

plen ty (plen'tē), 1. a full supply; all that one needs; large enough number or quantity: You have plenty of time to catch the train. 2. quality or condition of being plentiful; abundance: years of peace and plenty. 3. enough; plentiful; abundant: Six potatoes will be plenty. 4. Informal. quite; fully: plenty good enough. 1,2 n., pl. plen ties; 3 adj., 4 adv.

ple o nasm (plē'ə naz əm), 1. use of more words than are necessary to express an idea. Each of both of the two twins is a pleonasm. 2. the unnecessary word, phrase, or expression. n.

ple o nas tic (plē'ə nas'tik), using more words than are needed; superfluous; redundant. adj.

ple si o saur (plē'sē ə sōr'), a large sea reptile, now extinct, that had a long neck and flippers instead of legs. n.

pleth o ra (pleth'ə rə), excessive fullness; too much; superabundance. n.

ple thor ic (plethō'ik or pleth'ə rik), too full; inflated. adj.

pleu ra (plūr'ə), a thin membrane covering the lungs and folded back to make a lining for the thorax or chest cavity. n., pl. pleu rae (plūr'ē).

pleu ral (plūr'əl), of the pleura. adj.

pleu ri sy (plūr'ə sē), inflammation of the thin membrane covering the lungs and lining the thorax. n.

pleu rit ic (plū rit'ik), 1. having pleurisy. 2. of pleurisy. 3. causing pleurisy. adj.

Plex i glas (plek'sə glas'), Trademark. a light, transparent plastic, often used in place of glass. n.

plex us (plek'ss), network of nerves, blood vessels, etc. The solar plexus is a collection of nerves behind the stomach. n., pl. plex us es or plex us.

pli a bil i ty (plī'ə bil'ə tē), being pliable. n.

pli a ble (plī'ə bl), 1. easily bent; flexible; supple: Willow twigs are pliable. 2. easily influenced; yielding: He is too pliable to be a good leader. adj.

pli an cy (plī'ən sē), being easily bent or influenced; being pliant. n.

pli ant (plī'ant), 1. bending easily; flexible; supple; pliable. 2. easily influenced; yielding. adj. —pli'ant ly, adv.

pli ers (plī'ərz), small pincers with long jaws for bending wire, holding small objects, etc. n. pl. or sing.

Pliers

plight (plīt), condition or state, usually bad: He was in a sad plight when he became ill and had no money. n.

plight² (plīt), 1. pledge; promise solemnly: plight one's loyalty. 2. a solemn promise; pledge. 1 v., 2 n.
plight one's troth, 1. promise to be faithful.
2. promise to marry.

plinth (plīnθ), 1. the lower, square part of the base of a column. 2. a square base of a pedestal. n.

Pliny (plīn'ē), 1. 23-79 A.D., Roman naturalist and writer. He was called "Pliny the Elder." 2. his nephew, 61?-113? A.D., Roman orator, statesman, and writer. He was called "Pliny the Younger." n.

plod (plɒd), 1. walk heavily; trudge: The old man plods wearily along the road. 2. walk slowly or heavily along: We plod the path of toil. 3. proceed in a slow or dull way; work patiently with effort: Dan plods away at his lessons until he learns them. v., plodded, plodding. —plodder, n.

plop (plɒp), 1. sound like that of a flat object striking water without a splash. 2. make such a sound. 3. fall with such a sound. 4. such a fall. 5. with a plop. 1,4 n., 2,3 v., plopped, plopping; 5 adv.

plot (plɒt), 1. a secret plan, especially to do something wrong: Two men formed a plot to rob the bank. 2. plan secretly with others; plan: The traitors plotted against the government. 3. plan or main story of a play, novel, poem, etc.: Boys like plots dealing with adventure. 4. a small piece of ground: a garden plot. 5. divide (land) into plots: The farm was plotted out into house lots. 6. map; diagram. 7. make a map or diagram of. 8. mark the position of (something) on a map or diagram. 1,3,4,6 n., 2,5,7,8 v., plotted, plotting. —plotless, adj. —plotter, n.

plough (plou), Brit. plow. n., v.

plover (pluv'ər or plō'vər), bird with a short tail and a bill like that of a pigeon. n.

plow (plou), 1. a big, heavy farm implement for cutting the soil and turning it over. 2. turn up (soil) with a plow. 3. use a plow. 4. move as a plow does; advance slowly and with effort. 5. machine for removing snow; snowplow. 6. remove with a plow or as if with a plow: plow up old roots. 7. furrow: plow a field, wrinkles plowed in one's face by time. 8. cut the surface of (water). 1,5 n., 2-4,6-8 v. —plower, n.

plow boy (plou'boi'), 1. boy who guides the horses drawing a plow. 2. a country boy. n.

plow man (plou'mən), 1. man who guides a plow. 2. a farm worker. n., pl. plow men.

plow share (plou'shār'), blade of a plow; the part that cuts the soil. See plow for picture. n.

pluck (plʌk), 1. pull off; pick: She plucked flowers in the garden. 2. pull at; pull; tug; jerk. 3. act of picking or pulling. 4. pull on (the strings of a musical instrument). 5. pull off the feathers or hair from: pluck a chicken. 6. Slang. rob; swindle. 7. courage. 8. heart, liver, and lungs of an animal killed for food. 9. Brit. Informal. reject (a candidate) in an examination. 1,2,4-6,9 v., 3,7,8 n.

pluck up, gather up (courage, etc.): Pluck up! you aren't hurt badly.

pluck y (plʌk'ē), having or showing courage. adj., pluck ier, pluck iest. —pluck'ily, adv. —pluck'i-ness, n.

PLINTH

Golden plover
(about 11 in. long)

Plow (def. 1). The plowshare cuts the soil; the moldboard turns it over. Some plows are drawn by tractors and can cut several furrows at once.

plug (plʌg), 1. piece of wood, etc., used to stop up a hole. 2. stop up or fill with a plug. 3. device to make an electrical connection. 4. place where a hose can be attached; hydrant. 5. cake of pressed tobacco; piece of this cut off for chewing. 6. a spark plug. 7. Slang. hit; shoot. 8. Informal. work steadily; plod: Mary plugged away at the typewriter. 9. Informal. work steadily for by advertisements or publicity: plug a new product. 10. Informal. an advertisement, especially one put in a radio or television program. 11. U.S. Informal. a worn-out or inferior horse. 1,3-6,10,11 n., 2,7-9 v., plugged, plug ging. —plug'ger, n.

plug in, make an electrical connection by inserting a plug.

plug hat, U.S. Informal. a man's high silk hat.

plug-ug ly (plʌg'ug'lē), Slang. ruffian. n., pl. plug-ug lies.

plum (plʌm), 1. a roundish, juicy fruit with a smooth skin and a stone or pit. There are purple, red, green, and yellow plums. 2. tree that it grows on. 3. raisin in a pudding, cake, etc. 4. sugarplum. 5. something very good or desirable: His new job is a fine plum. 6. dark bluish purple. 1-6 n., 6 adj.

plum age (plʌm'ij), feathers of a bird: A parrot has bright plumage. n.

plumb (plʌm), 1. a small weight used on the end of a line to find the depth of water or to see if a wall is vertical. 2. vertical. 3. vertically. 4. test or adjust by a plumb line; test; sound: Our line was not long enough to plumb the depths of the lake. 5. get to the bottom of: No one could plumb the deep mystery. 6. Informal. complete; thorough. 7. Informal. completely; thoroughly: That horse is plumb worn out. 1 n., 2,6 adj., 3,7 adv., 4,5 v.

out of plumb or off plumb, not vertical.

plum ba go (plʌm bā'gō), graphite. n.

plumb bob, the weight attached to the end of a plumb line.

plumber (plʌm'ər), man whose work is putting in and repairing water pipes and fixtures in buildings. n.

plumbing (plʌm'ing), 1. work or trade of a plumber. 2. the water pipes and fixtures in a building: bathroom plumbing. n.

plumb line, line with a plumb at the end, used to find the depth of water or to test the straightness of a wall.

plume (plʌm), 1. a large, long feather; feather. 2. a feather, bunch of feathers, or tuft of hair worn as an ornament on a hat, helmet, etc. 3. something resembling a plume. 4. furnish with plumes. 5. smooth or arrange the feathers of: The eagle plumed its wing. 6. the hollow cylinder of spray thrown up by an underwater atomic explosion. 1-3,6 n., 4,5 v., plumed, pluming.

plume oneself on, be proud of; show pride concerning: Grace plumed herself on her skill in dancing.

plum met (plʌm'it), 1. weight fastened to a line; plumb. 2. plunge; drop. 1 n., 2 v.

plu mose (plʌ'mōs), 1. having feathers or plumes; feathered. 2. feathery; like a plume. adj.

plump (plʌmp), 1. rounded out; attractively fat: A healthy baby has plump cheeks. 2. make plump; become plump: Plump the pillows on your bed. 1 adj., 2 v. —plump'ness, n.

plump² (plʌmp), 1. fall or drop heavily or suddenly: All out of breath, she plumped down on a chair. 2. Informal. a sudden plunge; heavy fall. 3. Informal. sound made by a plunge or fall. 4. heavily or suddenly: He

Testing a wall with a plumb

Plumes

ran plump into me. 5. directly; bluntly. 6. direct; downright; blunt: a plump denial. 1 v., 2,3 n., 4,5 adv., 6 adj.

plum pudding, a rich boiled or steamed pudding containing raisins, currants, spices, etc.

plumule (plū'mūl), 1. a small soft feather. 2. bud of a plant still in the seed. n.

plum y (plūm'ē), 1. having plumes or feathers. 2. adorned with a plume or plumes. 3. like a plume; feathery. adj.

Plumule (def. 2) plunder (plun'dər), 1. rob by force; rob: The pirates entered the harbor and began to plunder the town. 2. things taken in plundering; booty; loot: They carried off the plunder in their ships. 3. act of robbing by force: During the plunder soldiers came. 1 v., 2,3 n. —plun'-der er, n.

plunge (plunj), 1. throw or thrust with force into a liquid, place, or condition: Plunge your hand into the water. 2. throw oneself (into water, danger, a fight, etc.): Dick plunged into the river and saved Tom. 3. rush; dash. 4. pitch suddenly and violently: The ship plunged about in the storm. 5. act of plunging. 6. a dive into the water. 7. place for diving. 8. Slang. gamble heavily. 1-4,8 v., plunged, plunging; 5-7 n.

plunger (plun'jər), 1. person or thing that plunges. 2. part of a machine that acts with a plunging motion. See the picture under piston, which is a kind of plunger, and the picture under cam. 3. a reckless speculator. n.

plunk (plungk), 1. pluck (a banjo, guitar, etc.). 2. make a sudden twanging sound like the plucking of a stringed musical instrument; twang. 3. put, drop, etc., heavily or suddenly. 4. Informal. act or sound of plunking. 5. with a plunk. 1-3 v., 4 n., 5 adv.

pluperfect (plū'pər'fikt), past perfect. n., adj.

plural (plūr'əl), 1. more than one. 2. in grammar, indicating or implying more than one. 3. a form of a word to show that it means more than one. Books is the plural of book; men, of man; are, of is; we, of I; these, of this. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

plural i ty (plūr'al'ē tē), 1. difference between the largest number of votes and the next largest in an election. 2. the greater number; the majority. 3. a large number; multitude. 4. state or fact of being plural. n., pl. plural i ties.

plural ly (plūr'əl ē), in the plural number; so as to express or imply more than one. adv.

plus (plus), 1. added to: 3 plus 2 equals 5. 2. and also: The work of an engineer requires intelligence plus experience. 3. and more: His mark was B plus. 4. showing addition: the plus sign. 5. the plus sign (+). 6. an added quantity. 7. positive; positively electrified. 8. a positive quantity. 1,2 prep., 3,4,7 adj., 5,6,8 n. be plus, Informal. have in addition: We are plus a puppy.

plus fours, loose, baggy knickers that come down below the knee.

plush (plush), fabric like velvet but thicker and softer. n.

Plu tarch (plū'tärk), 46?-120? A.D., Greek who wrote biographies of famous Greeks and Romans. n.

Plu to (plū'tō), 1. the Greek and Roman god of the lower world. He was also called Hades by the Greeks and Dis by the Romans. 2. the planet that is farthest from the sun. n.

plu to c ra cy (plū tok'rə sē), 1. government in which the rich rule. 2. a ruling class of wealthy people. n., pl. plu to c ra cies.

plu to crat (plū'tə krat), 1. person who has power or influence because of his wealth. 2. a wealthy person. n.

plu to crat ic (plū'tə krat'ik), having power and influence because of wealth; of or having to do with plutocrats or plutocracy. adj.

Plu to ni an (plū tō'nē ən), of or having to do with Pluto or the lower world. adj.

plu to ni um (plū tō'nē əm), a radioactive element derived from neptunium, important in atomic fission. Symbol: Pu n.

plu vi al (plū'vē əl), 1. of or having to do with rain. 2. caused by rain. adj.

plu vi om e ter (plū'vē om'ə tər), instrument for measuring the amount of rainfall. n.

plu vi ous (plū'vē əs), rainy; of rain. adj.

ply¹ (pli), 1. work with; use: The dressmaker plies her needle. 2. keep up work on; work away at or on: We plied the water with our oars. 3. work busily or steadily. 4. urge again and again: The enemy plied our messenger with questions to make him tell his errand. 5. supply with in a pressing manner: ply a person with food or drink. 6. go back and forth regularly between certain places: A bus plies between the station and the hotel. 7. go back and forth regularly on: Boats ply the river. 8. travel; go; move. v., plied, plying.

ply² (pli), thickness; fold; twist: Three-ply rope is made up of three twists. n., pl. plies.

Plym outh (plim'əth), 1. seaport in SW England, on the English Channel. 216,000. 2. town in SE Massachusetts, founded by the Pilgrims in 1620. 11,000. n.

Plymouth Colony, colony founded in 1620 where Plymouth, Massachusetts, is now.

Plymouth Rock, 1. rock at Plymouth, Massachusetts, on which the Pilgrims are said to have landed in 1620. 2. one of an American breed of gray-and-black fowls.

ply wood (plī'wūd'), board or boards made of several thin layers of wood glued together. n.

Pm, promethium.

P.M., 1. after noon. 2. the time from noon to midnight. 3. Postmaster. 4. Prime Minister.

p.m., 1. after noon. 2. the time from noon to midnight. 3. post mortem.

pneu mat ic (nū mat'ik or nū mat'ik), 1. filled with air; containing air: a pneumatic tire. 2. worked by air: a pneumatic drill. 3. having to do with air and other gases. adj. —pneu mat'i cal ly, adv.

pneu mat ics (nū mat'iks or nū mat'iks), branch of physics that deals with the pressure, elasticity, weight, etc., of air and other gases. n.

pneu mo nia (nū mōn'yə or nū mōn'yə), disease in which the lungs are inflamed. n.

Pnom penh (nom'pen'), capital of Cambodia. 375,000. n.

Po (pō), river flowing from NW Italy into the Adriatic Sea. 418 mi. n.

Po, polonium.

P.O., post office.

poach¹ (pōch), 1. trespass on (another's land), especially to hunt or fish. 2. take (game or fish) without any right. v.

poach² (pōch), cook (an egg) by breaking it into boiling water. v.

poach er (pōch'ər), person who hunts or fishes on another's land without any right. n.

Po ca hon tas (pō'kə hon'təs), 1595?-1617, American Indian girl who is said to have saved the life of Captain John Smith. She married John Rolfe, an Englishman. n.

Po ca tel lo (pō'kə tel'ō), city in SE Idaho. 29,000. n.

pock (pok), pimple, mark, or pit on the skin, caused by smallpox and certain other diseases. n.

pock et (pok'it), 1. a small bag sewed into clothing for carrying a purse or other small articles. 2. put in one's pocket. 3. meant to be carried in a pocket: a pocket handkerchief. 4. small enough to go in a pocket: a pocket camera. 5. a hollow place; enclosed place. 6. a small bag or pouch. 7. bag at the corner or side of a pool or billiard table. 8. hole in the earth containing gold or other ore; single lump of ore: The miner struck a pocket of silver. 9. shut in; hem in. 10. hold back; suppress; hide: He pocketed his pride and said nothing. 11. take and endure, without doing anything about it: He pocketed the insult. 12. take secretly or dishonestly:

Tom pocketed all the profits. 13. condition in the air that causes an airplane to drop suddenly. 1,5-8,13 n., 2,9-12 v., 3,4 adj.

be out of pocket, 1. spend or lose money. 2. be a loser. in pocket, having or gaining money.

pock et book (pok'it бүк'), 1. a woman's purse. 2. case for carrying money, papers, etc., in a pocket. 3. income: This dress is too expensive for my pocketbook. n.

pock et ful (pok'it fül), as much as a pocket will hold. n., pl. pock et fuls.

pock et knife (pok'it nif'), a small knife with one or more blades that fold into the handle. n., pl. pock et knives.

pocket money, money for spending.

pocket veto, method of vetoing a bill that can be used by the President of the United States on a bill presented to him at the end of a session. If the President does not sign the bill within ten days after Congress adjourns, it does not become a law.

pock mark (pok'märk'), pock. n.

pock-marked (pok'märkt'), marked with pocks. adj.

pod (pod), 1. the shell or case in which plants like beans and peas grow their seeds. 2. produce pods. 3. fill out into a pod. 1 n., 2,3 v., pod ded, pod ding.

po di um (pō'dē əm), 1. a raised platform. 2. an animal structure that serves as a foot. n., pl. po di a (-dē ə).

Poe (pō), Edgar Allan, 1809-1849, American poet, critic, and writer of tales. n.

po em (pō'əm), 1. an arrangement of words in lines with a regularly repeated accent; composition in verse. 2. composition showing great beauty or nobility of language or thought. 3. something beautiful. n.

po e sy (pō'ə sē), Archaic. poetry. n., pl. po e sies.

po et (pō'it), 1. person who writes poetry. 2. person who has great ability to feel and express beauty. n.

po et as ter (pō'it as'tər), writer of poor poetry. n.

po et ess (pō'it is), a woman poet. n.

po et ic (pō'it'ik), 1. having to do with poems or poets. 2. suitable for poems or poets. Alas, o'er, plentifulous, and blithe are poetic words. 3. showing beautiful or noble language, imagery, or thought. adj. —po et'i cal ly, adv.

po et i cal (pō'it'ə kl), poetic. adj.

po etic justice, ideal justice of poems, plays, etc., with the proper distribution of rewards and punishments.

po etic license, variation from regular usages and facts allowed in poetry.

po et ics (pō'it'iks), the part of literary criticism that deals with the nature and laws of poetry. n.

po et laureate, 1. in Great Britain, poet appointed by the king or queen to write poems in celebration of court and national events. 2. the official poet of any country, state, etc. pl. po et s laureate.

po et ry (pō'it rē), 1. poems: a collection of poetry. 2. art of writing poems: Shakespeare and Milton were masters of English poetry. 3. poetic quality; poetic spirit or feeling. n.

po grom (pō grom'), an organized attack, especially against the Jews. n.

poi (poi), a Hawaiian food made of the root of the taro. n.

poign an cy (poin'an sē or poin'yən sē), being poignant; sharpness; piercing quality: poignancy of flavor, poignancy of delight. n.

poign ant (poin'ənt or poin'yənt), 1. very painful; piercing: poignant suffering. 2. keen; intense: a subject of poignant interest, a poignant delight. 3. sharp to the taste or smell: poignant sauces. adj. —poign'ant ly, adv.

Pod of peas

poi lu (pwä'lü), nickname for a French soldier. n.

poin set ti a (poin set'ē ə), plant having a small flower surrounded by large, scarlet leaves that look like petals. n.

point (point), 1. a sharp end; something having a sharp end: the point of a needle. 2. sharpen: point a pencil. 3. a tiny round mark; dot: A period is a point. Use a point to set off decimals. 4. mark with dots; punctuate. 5. in mathematics, something that has position but not extension. Two lines meet or cross at a point. 6. place; spot: Stop at this point. 7. any particular or definite position, condition, or time; degree; stage: boiling point. 8. item; detail: He answered my questions point by point. 9. a distinguishing mark or quality: one's good points. 10. a physical characteristic or feature of an animal. 11. the main idea or purpose; important or essential thing: I missed the point of your talk. 12. give force to (speech, action, etc.): The preacher told a story to point his advice. 13. force; effectiveness. 14. a particular aim, end, or purpose. 15. aim; tend: Don't point your gun at me. 16. indicate position or direction, or direct attention with, or as if with, the finger. 17. show with the finger; call attention to. 18. direct a finger, weapon, etc. 19. have a specified direction: The signboard points north. 20. each of the 32 positions indicating direction marked at the circumference of the card of a compass. 21. the interval between any two adjacent points of a compass; 11 degrees 15 minutes. 22. piece of land with a sharp end sticking out into the water; cape. 23. unit of scoring or measuring; unit of price quotations: stock that has gone up a point. The university accredited him with five points for the semester's work. 24. unit for measuring type; about 1/42 inch. 25. Informal. hint; suggestion. 26. of a dog, show the presence of game by standing rigid and looking toward it. 27. fill joints (of brickwork) with mortar or cement. 28. lace made with a needle. 29. Brit. railroad switch. 30. of an abscess, come to a head. 31. position of one of the players in cricket, lacrosse, etc. 32. the player in this position. 1,3,5-11,13,14,20-25,28,29,31,32*n.*, 2,4,12,15-19,26,27,30 v.

at the point of, in the act of; very near to.

in point, pertinent.

in point of, as regards.

make a point of, insist upon.

on the point of, just about; on the verge of.

point off, mark off with points or dots.

point out, show or call attention to: Please point out my mistakes.

strain or stretch a point, 1. exceed the reasonable limit. 2. make a special exception.

point-blank (point'blank' for 1, 3; point'blank' for 2, 4), 1. aimed straight at the mark. 2. straight at the mark. 3. plain and blunt; direct: a point-blank question. 4. plainly and bluntly; directly: One boy gave excuses, but the other refused point-blank. 1,3 adj., 2,4 adv.

point ed (poin'tid), 1. having a point or points: a pointed roof. 2. sharp; piercing: a pointed wit. 3. directed; aimed. 4. emphatic: He showed her pointed attention. adj. —point'ed ly, adv. —point'ed ness, n.

point er (poin'tər), 1. one that points. 2. a long, tapering stick used in pointing things out on a map, blackboard, etc. 3. hand of a clock, meter, etc. 4. a short-haired hunting dog trained to show where game is by standing still and looking at it. 5. Informal. hint; suggestion: Dick gave Tom some pointers on improving his tennis. n.

Point Four, the fourth point in a United States governmental program instituted by President Truman, which grants aid to economically undeveloped countries.

Pointer (about 26 in. high at the shoulder) point less (pɔɪnt/lis), 1. without a point. 2. without force or meaning: a pointless question. adj.

point of honor, matter that affects a person's honor, principles, sense of duty, etc.

point of order, question raised as to whether proceedings are according to the rules.

point of view, 1. position from which objects are considered. 2. attitude of mind.

points of the compass, 32 directions marked on a compass. North, south, east, and west are the four main, or cardinal, points of the compass.

poise (poiz), 1. mental balance, composure, or self-possession: She has perfect poise and never seems embarrassed. 2. balance: Poise yourself on your toes. 3. hold or carry evenly or steadily: The waiter poised the tray on his hand. 1 n., 2, 3 v., poised, poising.

poison (poi'zn), 1. drug or other substance very dangerous to life and health. Strychnine and opium are poisons. 2. kill or harm by poison. 3. put poison in or on. 4. poisonous. 5. anything dangerous or deadly. 6. have a dangerous or harmful effect on: Lies poison the mind. 1, 5 n., 2, 3, 6 v., 4 adj. —poi'son er, n.

poison ivy, plant with glossy green compound leaves of three leaflets each, that causes a painful rash on most people if they touch it.

poison oak, 1. a kind of poison ivy. 2. poison sumac.

poi'son ous (poi'zn əs), 1. containing poison; very harmful to life and health: The rattlesnake's bite is poisonous. 2. having a dangerous or harmful effect. adj. —poi'son ous ly, adv. —poi'son ous ness, n.

poison sumac, shrub growing in swamps that has leaves composed of seven to thirteen leaflets and white berrylike fruit. It causes a severe rash on most people if they touch it.

poke (pōk), 1. push against with something pointed: He poked me in the ribs with his elbow. 2. thrust; push: The old gossip was always poking her nose into other people's business. 3. a poking; thrust; push. 4. pry. 5. make by poking. 6. go lazily; loiter. 7. a slow, lazy person. 1, 2, 4-6 v., poked, poking; 3, 7 n.

poke (pōk), 1. Now Dialect. bag; sack. 2. Archaic. pocket. n.

poke (pōk), bonnet or hat with a large brim in front. n.

poke berry (pōk/ber'ē), 1. berry of the pokewood. 2. pokewood. n., pl. poke berries.

poke bonnet, bonnet with a projecting brim.

pok er (pōk'ər), 1. one that pokes. 2. a metal rod for stirring a fire. n.

pok er (pōk'ər), a card game in which the players bet on the value of the cards that they hold in their hands. n.

poker face, Informal. face that does not show one's thoughts or feelings.

poke weed (pōk/wēd'), a tall weed of North America with juicy, purple berries and poisonous roots. n.

pok y or pok ey (pōk'ē), 1. puttering; slow; dull. 2. small and dull; petty; mean. 3. shabby. adj., pok-i er, pok-i est.

Po land (pō'lənd), country in central Europe between Germany and Russia. 29,731,000 pop.; 121,131 sq. mi. Capital: Warsaw. n.

po lar (pō'lər), 1. of or near the North or South Pole: It is very cold in the polar regions. 2. having to do with a pole or poles. 3. of the poles of a magnet, electric battery, etc. 4. opposite in character, like the poles of a magnet: Love and hatred are polar feelings or attitudes. adj.

polar bear, a large, white bear of the arctic regions. Po lar is (pō'lār'is), the North Star; polestar. n.

po lar i ty (pō'lār'ə tē), 1. the possession of an axis with reference to which certain physical properties are determined. A magnet or battery has polarity. 2. a positive or negative polar condition, as in electricity. 3. possession or exhibition of two opposite or contrasted principles or tendencies. n.

po lar i za tion (pō'lār ə zā' shən), 1. production or acquisition of polarity. 2. process by which gases produced during electrolysis are deposited on electrodes of a cell, giving rise to a reverse electromotive force. n.

po lar ize (pō'lār'iz), give polarity to; cause polarization in. v., po lar ized, po lar iz ing.

pole (pōl), 1. a long, slender piece of wood, etc.: a telephone pole, a flagpole. 2. make (a boat) go with a pole. 3. measure of length; rod; 5½ yards. 4. measure of area; square rod; 30¼ square yards. 1, 3, 4 n., 2 v., poled, pol ing.

pole (pōl), 1. either end of the earth's axis. The North Pole and the South Pole are opposite each other. 2. either of two parts where opposite forces are strongest. A magnet or battery has both a positive pole and a negative pole. 3. either end of the axis of any sphere. n.

Pole (pōl), native or inhabitant of Poland. n.

pole cat (pōl'kat'), 1. a small, dark-brown carnivorous European mammal with a very disagreeable odor. 2. the North American skunk. n.

po lem ic (pə lem'ik), 1. argument; dispute; a disputing discussion; controversy. 2. of controversy or disagreement; of dispute. 1 n., 2 adj. —po lem'-i cal ly, adv.

po lem i cal (pə lem'ə kl), polemical. adj.

po lem ics (pə lem'iks), art or practice of disputation or controversy, especially in theology. n.

pole star (pōl'stār'), 1. the North Star, formerly much used as a guide by sailors. 2. a guiding principle; guide. 3. center of attraction, interest, or attention. n.

pole vault, vault over a high, horizontal bar by using a long pole.

po lice (pə lēs'), 1. persons whose duty is keeping order and arresting people who break the law. 2. department of government that keeps order and arrests persons who break the law. 3. keep order in: police the streets, police an army camp. 4. regulation and control of a community, especially with reference to matters of public order, safety, health, morals, etc.; public order. 1, 2, 4 n., 3 v., po liced, po lic ing.

police dog, a kind of large, strong dog that looks like a wolf; German shepherd.

po lice man (pə lēs'mən), member of the police. n., pl. po lice men.

police state, state strictly policed by governmental authority, thus having only a minimum of social, economic, and political liberty.

po lice wom an (pə lēs'wūm'ən), woman who is a member of the police. n., pl. po lice wom en.

pol i cy (pōl'ə sē), 1. plan of action; way of management: It is a poor policy to promise more than you can do. The candidates explained their policies. 2. practical wisdom; prudence. n., pl. pol i cies.

pol i cy (pōl'ə sē), 1. a written agreement about insurance: My fire insurance policy states that I shall receive $10,000 if my house burns down. 2. U.S. method of Polar bear (about 4 ft. high at the shoulder; about 8 ft. long)

Polecat (def. 1) (about 17 in. long; tail about 8 in. long)

Poke bonnet

Police dog (about 2 ft. high at the shoulder) gambling by betting on numbers drawn in a lottery. n., pl. policies.

poli cy hold er (pɒl'ə sē hōl'dər), one who holds an insurance policy. n.

poli o (pō'lē ō), Informal. poliomyelitis. n.

poli o my e li tis (pō'lē ō mī'ə lī'tis), 1. infantile paralysis. 2. any inflammation of the gray matter of the spinal cord. n.

pol ish (pō'līsh), 1. make smooth and shiny: polish shoes. 2. become smooth and shiny. 3. remove by smoothing. 4. put into a better condition; improve: polish one's French. 5. substance used to give smoothness or shine: silver polish. 6. polished condition; smoothness: The polish of the furniture reflected our faces like a mirror. 7. make elegant; refine. 8. culture; elegance; refinement: Travel with polite people gives polish to a girl's manners. 9. a polishing or being polished. 1-4, 7 v., 5, 6, 8, 9 n. —pol'ish er, n.

polish off, Informal. get done with; finish.

polish up, get into a better condition; improve.

Pol ish (pō'līsh), 1. of or having to do with Poland, its people, or their language. 2. language of Poland. 1 adj., 2 n.

Polish Corridor, strip of land assigned by the Treaty of Versailles to Poland to give Poland access to the Baltic Sea. 400 It separated East Prussia from the rest of Germany, and was a source of friction between Poland and Germany until the outbreak of World War II.

Po lit bu ro (pə lit'byūr'ō), the Communist Party executive committee which examines and controls policy and matters of state in the Soviet Union. n.

po lite (pə lit'), 1. having or showing good manners; behaving properly: The polite boy gave the old lady his seat on the bus. 2. refined; elegant: Helen wished to learn all the customs of polite society. adj. —po lite'ly, adv. —po lite'ness, n.

poli tic (pō'lə tik), 1. wise in looking out for one's own interests; prudent: A politic person tries not to offend people. 2. scheming; crafty. 3. political: The state is a body politic. adj. —pol'i tic ly, adv.

po lit i cal (pə lit'ə kl), 1. of or concerned with politics. 2. having to do with citizens or government: Treason is a political offense. 3. of politicians or their methods. 4. having a definite system of government. adj. —po lit'i cal ly, adv.

political economy, economics.

political science, science of the principles and conduct of government.

pol i ti ci an (pō'lə tish'ən), 1. person who gives much time to political affairs; person who is experienced in politics. 2. person active in politics chiefly for his own profit or that of his party. 3. person holding a political office. n.

pol i tics (pō'lə tiks), 1. management of political affairs: Theodore Roosevelt was engaged in politics for many years. 2. political principles or opinions: My father's politics were strongly against rule by any one man. 3. political methods or maneuvers. 4. science and art of government. n. sing. or pl.

pol i ty (pō'lə tē), 1. government. 2. a particular form or system of government. 3. community with a government; state. n., pl. poli ties.

Polk (pōk), James Knox, 1795-1849, the 11th president of the United States, from 1845 to 1849. n.

pol ka (pōl'kə or pō'kə), 1. a kind of lively dance. 2. music for it. 3. dance a polka. 1, 2 n., 3 v., pol-kaed, pol ka ing.

pol ka dot (pō'kə), 1. dot or round spot repeated to form a pattern on cloth. 2. pattern or fabric with such dots.

poll (pōl), 1. a voting; collection of votes. 2. number of votes cast. 3. the results of these votes. 4. list of persons; especially, a list of voters. 5. receive (as votes). 6. vote; cast (a vote). 7. take or register the votes of. 8. a survey of public opinion concerning a particular subject. 9. the head, especially the part of it on which the hair grows. 10. cut off or cut short the hair, wool, horns, branches, etc., of. 1-4, 8, 9 n., 5-7, 10 v.

pol lack (pōl'ək), any of several salt-water food fishes related to the haddock and the cod. n.

pol len (pōl'ən), a fine, yellowish powder formed on the anthers of flowers. Grains of pollen carried to the pistils of flowers fertilize them. n.

pol li nate (pōl'ə nāt), carry pollen from stamens to pistils of; shed pollen on. Many flowers are pollinated by bees. v., pol li nat ed, pol li nat ing. —pol'li na'-tion, n.

pol li wog (pōl'ē wog), tadpole. n.

polls (pōlz), place where votes are cast and counted. n. pl.

poll tax, a tax on every person, or on every person of a specified class, especially as a prerequisite to the right to vote in public elections.

pol lute (pə lūt'), make dirty; defile: The water at the bathing beach was polluted by refuse from the factory. v., pol lut ed, pol lut ing.

pol lu tion (pə lū'shən), polluting; defiling; uncleanness. n.

Pol lux (pōl'əks), 1. in Greek and Roman mythology, one of the twin sons of Zeus. Pollux was immortal; his brother, Castor, was mortal. 2. one of the two brightest stars in the constellation Gemini. n.

pol ly wog (pōl'ē wog), polliwog. n.

po lo (pō'lō), game like hockey, played by men on horseback with long-handled mallets and a wooden ball. n.

Po lo (pō'lō), Marco, 1254?-1324?, Italian who wrote of his travels in Asia. n.

pol o naise (pōl'ə nāz' or pō'lə nāz'), 1. a slow, stately dance in three-quarter time. 2. music for it. 3. a woman's overdress with a waist and an open skirt. n.

po lo ni um (pə lō'nē əm), a radioactive element that occurs in pitchblende. Symbol: Po n.

Po lo ni us (pə lō'nē əs), pompous old man who is the father of Ophelia in Shakespeare's Hamlet. n.

pol troon (pōl trūn'), a wretched coward. n.

pol y an drous (pōl'ē an'drəs), having more than one husband at one time. adj.

pol y an dry (pōl'ē an'drē), practice or condition of having more than one husband at the same time. n.

pol y an thus (pōl'ē an'thas), 1. oxlip. 2. kind of narcissus bearing clusters of small, yellow or white flowers. n.

pol y chrome (pōl'ē krōm), 1. having many or various colors; decorated in many colors. 2. a work of art in several colors. 3. combination of many colors. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

pol y clin ic (pōl'ē klin'ik), clinic or hospital dealing with many different diseases. n.

po ly a mist (pə lig'ə mist), person who practices or favors polygamy. n.

po ly a mous (pə lig'ə mäs), having more than one wife at the same time. adj.

Man playing polo

Woman wearing a polonaise polygamy (pə lig'ə mē), practice or condition of having more than one wife at the same time. The Moslem religion permits polygamy. n.

polyglot (pol'ē glōt), 1. knowing several languages.

2. person who knows several languages.

3. written in several languages. 4. book written in several languages. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

Polygons

polygon (pol'ē gon), a closed plane figure with straight sides. Polygons usually have more than four angles and sides. n.

polygonal (pə lig'ə nəl), having more than four angles and four sides. adj.

polyhedral (pol'ē hē'drəl), 1. of or having to do with a polyhedron. 2. having many faces. adj.

polyhedron (pol'ē hē'drən), a solid figure having many faces. n., pl. polyhedrons, polyhedra (-drə).

polymeric (pol'ē mer'ik), having the same elements combined in the same proportions by weight, but differing in molecular weight. Acetylene and benzene are polymeric compounds. adj.

polymorphic (pol'ē mōr'fik), polymorphous. adj.

polymorphism (pol'ē mōr'fiz əm), polymorphous state or condition. n.

polymorphous (pol'ē mōr'fəs), having, assuming, or passing through many or various forms, stages, etc. adj.

Polynesia (pol'ə nē'zhə), group of many small islands in the Pacific, east of Australia and the Philippines. n.

Polynesian (pol'ə nē'zhən), 1. member of any of the brown races that live in Polynesia. 2. the languages of Polynesia, including Maori, Hawaiian, etc. 3. of or having to do with Polynesia, its people, or their languages. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

polynomial (pol'ē nō'mē əl), 1. an algebraic expression consisting of two or more terms. ab, x²y, and 3npq are monomials; ab + x²y and pq - p² + q are polynomials. 2. consisting of two or more terms. Homo sapiens is a polynomial expression. 1 n., 2 adj.

polyp (pol'ip), a rather simple form of water animal, not much more than a saclike stomach with fingerlike tentacles around the edge to gather in food. Polyps often grow in colonies, with their bases connected. Corals and sea anemones are polyps. n.

Polyphemus (pol'ə fē'məs), the Cyclops who captured Odysseus and his companions and ate two of them every day. Odysseus blinded him and escaped with his remaining men. n.

polyphonic (pol'ē fon'ik), having two or more voices or parts, each with an independent melody, but all harmonizing. adj.

polyphony (pə lif'ə nē), polyphonic composition; counterpoint. n.

polypus (pol'ə pəs), polyp. n., pl. polypi (-pī).

polysyllabic (pol'ē sə lab'ik), of more than three syllables. adj.

polysyllable (pol'ē sil'ə bl), word of more than three syllables. Politician is a polysyllable, and so is possibility. n.

polytechnic (pol'ē tek'nik), 1. having to do with or dealing with many arts or sciences: a polytechnic school. 2. a technical school. 1 adj., 2 n.

polytheism (pol'ē thē'iz əm), belief in more gods than one. The religion of the ancient Greeks was polytheism. n.

polytheist (pol'ē thē'ist), person who believes in more than one god. n.

polytheistic (pol'ē thē'is'tik), having to do with or characterized by belief in many gods. adj.

pomace (pum'is), 1. apple pulp or similar fruit pulp before or after the juice has been pressed out. 2. what is left after oil has been pressed out of something. n.

pomaaceous (pə mā'shəs), belonging to the same family of plants as the apple. adj.

pomade (pə mād'), a perfumed ointment for the scalp and hair. n.

pome (pōm), apple or any fruit like it; fruit consisting of firm, juicy flesh surrounding a core that contains several seeds. Apples, pears, and quinces are pomes. n.

pomegranate (pom'gran'it), 1. a reddish-yellow fruit with a thick skin, red pulp, and many seeds. The pulp and seeds have a pleasant, slightly sour taste. 2. tree it grows on. n.

Pomerania (pom'er ā'nē ə), former German province on the Baltic Sea, now chiefly in Poland. Capital: Stettin. n.

Pomeranian (pom'er ā'nē ən), 1. of or having to do with Pomerania or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Pomerania. 3. a small dog with a sharp nose, pointed ears, and long, thick, silky hair. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Pomeranian (about 14 in. high at the shoulder) pommel (pum'l or pom'l), 1. part of a saddle that sticks up at the front. 2. a rounded knob on the hilt of a sword, dagger, etc.

3. beat with the fists; strike; beat; pummel. 1,2 n., 3 v., pommeled, pommeling or esp.

Brit. pommel, pomelling.

pomology (pə mol'ə jē), branch of science that deals with fruits and fruit growing. n.

pomp (pomp), 1. stately display; splendor; magnificence:

The king was crowned with great pomp. 2. a showy display. n.

pompadour (pom'pə dōr), 1. arrangement of a woman's hair in which it is puffed high over the forehead. 2. arrangement of a man's hair in which it is brushed straight up and back from the forehead. n.

pompano (pom'pə nō), a food fish of the West Indies and neighboring coasts of North America. n., pl.

pompasnos.

Pompeian (pom pā'ən), of or having to do with Pompeii or its people. adj.

Pompeii (pom pā'), city in ancient Italy, which was buried by an eruption of Mount Vesuvius in 79 A.D. Its ruins have been partly laid bare by excavation. n.

Pompey (pom'pē), 106-48 B.C., Roman general and statesman. n.

pompon (pom'pon), an ornamental tuft or ball of feathers, silk, or the like, worn on a hat or dress, on the shoes, etc. n.

pomposity (pom pos'ə tē), 1. pompous quality. 2. pompous show of self-importance. n., pl. pompousities.

pompous (pom'pəs), 1. trying to seem magnificent; fond of display; acting proudly; self-important: The leader of the band bowed in a pompous manner. 2. splendid; magnificent; stately. adj. —pompously, adv. —pompousness, n.

Ponce de León (pōns' də lē'ən; Spanish pōn'thā ñā lā ōn'), Juan, 1460?-1521, Spanish soldier who discovered Florida. He sought the fountain of youth.

poncho (pon'chō), a large piece of cloth, often waterproof, with a slit in the middle for the head to go through. Ponchos are worn in South America as cloaks. Waterproof ponchos are used in the army and navy and by hikers and campers. n., pl. ponchos.

pond (pond), body of still water, smaller than a lake. n.

ponder (pon'dər), consider carefully; think over:

ponder a problem. v.

ponderable (pon'dər ə bl), capable of being weighed; having perceptible weight. adj.

ponderosity (pon'dər əs'ə tē), ponderous character or quality. n.

ponderous (pon'dər əs), 1. very heavy. 2. heavy and clumsy: A hippopotamus is ponderous. 3. dull; tire-

Pommel (def. 1)

Pompadour

Pompon on a clown's hat

some: The speaker talked in a ponderous way. adj.

—pon'der ous ly, adv. —pon'der ous ness, n.

Pon di cher ry (pon'da cher'ē), city in SE India, former capital of French India. 60,000. n.

pond lily, water lily.

pond weed (pond/wēd'), any of a large group of water plants that grow in quiet water. Most pondweeds have oval leaves that grow on the surface of the water and grasslike leaves under water. n.

pone (pōn), Southern U.S. 1. bread made of corn meal.

2. loaf or cake of this bread. n.

pon gee (pon jē'), kind of soft silk, usually left in natural brownish-yellow color. n.

pon iard (pon'yārd), dagger. n.

Pon ti ac (pon'tē ak), 1. city in SE Michigan. 82,000. 2. 1720?-1769, American Indian chief. n.

pon tiff (pon'tif), 1. the Pope. 2. bishop. 3. a high priest; chief priest. n.

pon tifi cal (pon tif'ə kl), 1. of or having to do with the Pope; papal. 2. of or having to do with a bishop. adj. —pon tif'i cal ly, adv.

pontificals, vestments and marks of dignity used by cardinals and bishops at certain ecclesiastical functions or ceremonies.

pon tifi cate (pon tif'ə kit or pon tif'ə kāt for 1; pon tif'ə kāt for 2), 1. office or term of office of a pontiff. 2. speak pompously. 1 n., 2 v., pon tifi cat ed, pon tifi cat ing.

pon toon (pon tūn'), 1. a low, flat-bottomed boat. 2. such a boat, or some other floating structure, used as one of the supports of a temporary bridge. 3. a boat-shaped part of an airplane, for landing on or taking off from water. n.

pontoon bridge, a temporary bridge supported by low, flat-bottomed boats or other floating structures.

Pon tus (pon'tas), 1. an ancient name of the Black Sea. 2. an ancient country in NE Asia Minor, just south of the Black Sea. It became a Roman province. n.

po ny (pō'nē), 1. horse of a small breed; especially, one not over 14 hands high. 2. U.S. Informal. translation of a book, which a pupil uses instead of translating the book himself. n., pl. po nies.

pony express, U.S. system of carrying mail, etc., by men on fast ponies or horses.

pooch (pūch), Slang. dog. n.

pood (pūd), a Russian weight equal to about 36 pounds. n.

poo dle (pū'dl), one of a breed of intelligent pet dogs with thick hair. Some poodles have wiry, curly hair; others have long, silky hair. n. —poo'dle-like', adj.

pooch (pū), exclamation of contempt. interj., n.

pooch-pooch (pū'pū'), 1. express contempt for; make light of. 2. exclamation of contempt. 1 v., 2 interj.

pool¹ (pūl), 1. a small body of still water; small pond. 2. a still, deep place in a stream. 3. puddle: a pool of grease under a car. 4. tank of water to swim or bathe in: a swimming pool. n.

pool² (pūl), 1. game played on a special table with six pockets. The players try to drive balls into the pockets with long sticks called cues. 2. put (things or money) together for common advantage: The three boys pooled their savings for a year to buy a boat. 3. things or money put together by different persons for common advantage. 4. arrangement between several companies, groups, etc., to prevent competition by controlling prices. 5. persons who form a pool. 6. stake played for in some games. 1,3-6 n., 2 v.

Bridge supported by pontoons (def. 2)

Poodle (12 to 15 in. high at the shoulder) pool room (pūl'rūm'), 1. room or place in which the game of pool is played. 2. place where people bet on races. n.

Poo na (pū'nə), city in W India, southeast of Bombay. 481,000. n.

Poop (def. 1)

poop (pūp), 1. deck at the stern above the ordinary deck, often forming the roof of a cabin. 2. stern of a ship. 3. of a wave, break over the stern of (a ship). 1,2 n., 3 v.

poor (pūr), 1. having few things or nothing; needy. 2. not good in quality; lacking something needed: poor soil, a poor crop, a poor cook, poor health. 3. needing pity; unfortunate: This poor child has hurt himself. 4. not favorable: a poor chance for recovery. adj. —poor'-ness, n.

the poor, persons who are needy.

poor house (pūr'hous'), house in which paupers live at public expense. n.

poor law, law providing for the relief or support of the poor.

poor ly (pūr'lē), 1. in a poor manner; not enough; badly; meanly: A desert is poorly supplied with water. Tom did poorly in the test. 2. Informal. in bad health. 1 adv., 2 adj.

poor-spir it ed (pūr'spīr'ə tid), having or showing a poor, cowardly, or abject spirit. adj.

poor white, a poor white person in the S United States.

pop (pop), 1. make a short, quick, explosive sound: The firecrackers popped in bunches. 2. a short, quick, explosive sound: the pop of a cork. 3. with a pop; suddenly. 4. move, go, or come suddenly or unexpectedly: Our neighbor popped in for a short call. 5. thrust or put suddenly: She popped her head out through the window. 6. put (a question) suddenly. 7. Informal. shoot. 8. shot from a gun, etc. 9. burst open with a pop. 10. U.S. heat or roast (popcorn) until it bursts with a pop. 11. bulge: The surprise made her eyes pop out. 12. in baseball, hit a short, high ball over the infield. 13. a nonalcoholic carbonated drink: strawberry pop. 1,4-7, 9-12 v., popped, pop ping; 2,8,13 n., 3 adv.

pop., 1. population. 2. popular.

pop corn (pop'kōrn'), 1. kind of Indian corn, the kernels of which burst open and puff out when heated. 2. the white, puffed-out kernels. n.

Pope or pope (pōp), the supreme head of the Roman Catholic Church: the Pope, the last three popes. n.

pop gun (pop'gun'), a toy gun that shoots with a popping sound. n.

pop in jay (pop'in jā), 1. a vain, overtalkative person; conceited, silly person. 2. Obsolete. parrot. n.

pop lar (pop'lər), 1. any of several trees that grow very rapidly and produce light, soft wood, such as the Lombardy poplar, the cottonwood, and the aspen. 2. wood of such a tree. n.

pop lin (pop'lən), a ribbed dress fabric, made of silk and wool, cotton and wool, or cotton. n.

Po po cat e pet l (pō'pō kat'ə pet'l), a volcano in S Mexico, near Mexico City. 17,876 ft. high. n.

pop o ver (pop'ō'vər), a very light and hollow muffin. n.

pop per (pop'ər), 1. one that pops. 2. a wire basket or metal pan used for popping popcorn. n.

pop py (pop'ē), 1. kind of plant with showy red, yellow, or white flowers. Opium is made from one kind of poppy. 2. the flower. 3. a bright red. n., pl. pop pies.

pop py cock (pop'ē kok'), Informal. nonsense; bosh. n., interj.

pop u lace (pop'yə lis), the common people. n.

pop u lar (pop'yə lər), 1. liked by acquaintances or associates: Dick's ability and good nature make him the most popular boy in the class. 2. liked by most people: a popular song. 3. of the people; by the people; representing the people: The United States has a popular government. 4. widespread among many people; common: It is a popular belief that black cats bring bad luck. 5. suited to or intended for ordinary people: popular prices. adj.

popular front or Popular Front, coalition of communist, socialist, and moderate political parties against fascism, especially in France.

pop u lar i ty (pop'yə lar'ə tē), being liked by most people. n.

pop u lar ize (pop'yə lar'īz), make popular. v., pop u lar ized, pop u lar iz ing. —pop'u lar i za'tion, n. —pop'u lar iz'er, n.

pop u lar ly (pop'yə lar'lē), 1. in a popular manner. 2. by the people; in general. adv.

popular vote, the vote of the entire electorate thought of as including all the people.

pop u late (pop'yə lāt), 1. inhabit: This city is densely populated. 2. furnish with inhabitants: Europe populated much of America. v., pop u lat ed, pop u lat ing.

pop u la tion (pop'yə lā'shən), 1. people of a city or a country. 2. the number of people. 3. part of the inhabitants distinguished in any way from the rest: the Negro population. 4. act or process of furnishing with inhabitants. n.

Pop u list (pop'yə list), U.S. member of the People's Party, a political party formed in the United States in 1891. The Populists advocated government control of the railroads, limitation of private ownership of land, an increase in currency, an income tax, etc. n.

pop u lous (pop'yə ləs), full of people; having many people per square mile. adj.

por ce lain (pôr'sl in), very fine earthenware; china. n.

porch (pôrch), 1. a covered entrance to a building. 2. U.S. veranda. n.

por cine (pôr'sin), 1. of pigs or hogs. 2. like or characteristic of pigs or hogs. adj.

por cu pine (pôr'kyə pîn), rodent covered with spines or quills. n.

pore¹ (pôr), 1. gaze earnestly or steadily. 2. study long and steadily: He would rather pore over a book than play. 3. meditate or ponder intently. v., pored, por ing. —por'er, n.

pore² (pôr), a very small opening. Sweat comes through the pores in the skin. n.

por gy (pôr'gē), any of various salt-water food fishes, such as the scup of the eastern coast of the United States and the sea bream of Mediterranean and Atlantic waters. n., pl. por gies or (esp. collectively) por gy.

pork (pôr'k), meat of a pig or hog used for food. n.

pork er (pôr'kar), pig, especially one fattened to eat. n.

por no graph ic (pôr'nə graf'ik), obscene. adj.

por nog ra phy (pôr nog'rə fē), obscene writings or pictures. n.

po ros i ty (pô ros'ə tē), porous quality or condition. n.

po rous (pô'ras), full of pores or tiny holes; permeable by water, air, etc.: Cloth, blotting paper, and ordinary flowerpots are porous. adj. —po'rous ness, n.

por phy ry (pôr'fə rē), 1. a hard red or purplish rock of Egypt containing white crystals. 2. any igneous rock in which crystals are scattered through a mass of fine-grained minerals. n., pl. por-phy ries.

por poise (pôr'pəs), a sea animal from five to eight feet long, somewhat like a small whale. n., pl. por pois es or (esp. collec-tively) por poise.

por ridge (pôr'ij), food made of oatmeal or other cereal boiled in water or milk. n.

Porcupine
(about 3 ft. long,
including the tail)

Pork showing various cuts

Porpoise

por rin ger (pôr'an jər), a small dish from which soup, porridge, bread and milk, etc., can be eaten. n.

port¹ (pôrt), 1. place where ships and boats can be sheltered from storms; harbor. 2. place where ships and boats can load and unload; city or town with a harbor. n.

port² (pôrt), 1. opening in the side of a ship to let in light and air. 2. opening in a ship through which to shoot. 3. cover for such an opening. 4. opening in machinery for steam, air, water, etc., to pass through. n.

port³ (pôrt), 1. the left side of a ship, when facing the bow. See aft for picture. 2. on the left side of a ship. 3. turn or shift to the left side. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v.

port⁴ (pôrt), 1. way of holding one's head and body; bearing. 2. bring, hold, or carry (a rifle or sword) across and close to the body with the barrel or blade near the left shoulder. 3. position of a weapon when ported. 1, 3 n., 2 v.

port⁵ (pôrt), a strong, sweet wine that is dark red or tawny. n.

port a ble (pôr'tə bl), capable of being carried; easily carried. adj.

por tage (pôr'tij), 1. a carrying of boats, provisions, etc., overland from one river, lake, etc., to another. 2. place over which this is done. 3. act of carrying. 4. cost of carrying. n.

por tal (pôr'tl), door, gate, or entrance, usually an imposing one. n.

Port Arthur, city in SE Texas. 67,000.

Port-au-Prince (pôr'tô prins'), seaport and capital of Haiti. 134,000. n.

port authority, commission appointed to manage a port.

port cul lis (pôrt kul'is), a strong gate or grating of iron sliding up and down in grooves, used to close the gateway of an ancient castle or fortress. n.

Porte (pôrt), the Turkish government before 1923. n.

por tend (pôr tend'), indicate beforehand; be a portent of: Black clouds portend a storm. v.

por tent (pôr'tent), a warning of coming evil; sign; omen. n.

por ten tous (pôr ten'təs), 1. indicating evil to come; ominous; threatening. 2. amazing; extraordinary. adj. —por ten'tous ly, adv. —por ten'tous ness, n.

por ter¹ (pôr'tər), 1. man employed to carry burdens or baggage. 2. U.S. attendant in a parlor car or sleeping car. n.

por ter² (pôr'tər), 1. doorkeeper; gatekeeper. 2. janitor. n.

por ter³ (pôr'tər), a heavy, dark-brown beer. n.

por ter house (pôr'tər hous'), a choice beefsteak containing the tenderloin. n.

port fo li o (pôrt fô'le ô), 1. brief case; portable case for loose papers, drawings, etc. 2. position and duties of a cabinet member or a minister of state: The Secretary of War resigned his portfolio. 3. holdings in the form of stocks, bonds, etc. n., pl. port fo li os.

port hole (pôrt'hôl'), 1. an opening in a ship's side to let in light and air. 2. opening in a ship, wall, etc., through which to shoot. n.

Por tia (pôr'shə), heroine in Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice, who acts as a lawyer. n.

por ti co (pôr'tə kô), roof supported by columns, forming a porch or a covered walk. n., pl. por ti coes or por ti cos.

por ti ere or por ti ère (pôr-tyär'), curtain hung at a doorway. n.

por tion (pôr'shən), 1. part; share: A portion of each school day is devoted to arithmetic. 2. quantity of food served for one person: Each child ate

Portcullis

Portico

his portion. 3. divide into parts or shares. 4. the part of an estate that goes to an heir; property inherited. 5. dowry. 6. give (a thing to a person) as share; give a portion, inheritance, dowry, etc., to. 7. one's lot; fate. 1,2,4,5,7 n., 3,6 v. —por'tion less, adj.

Port land (pôrt'lând), 1. seaport in SW Maine. 73,000. 2. seaport in NW Oregon. 373,000. n.

portland cement, kind of cement made by burning limestone and clay in a kiln. It is used in making mortar and concrete.

Port Louis (lû'is or lû'ê), capital of Mauritius.

port ly (pôrt'lē), 1. stout; corpulent. 2. stately; dignified. adj., port li er, port li est. —port'li ness, n.

port man teau (pôrt man'tō), Esp. Bril. a stiff, oblong traveling bag with two compartments opening like a book. n., pl. port man teaus or port man teaux (-tōz).

Port Mores by (môrz'bē), capital of the Territory of Papua. 14,000.

Por to A le gre (pôrt'tù ä'lā'grə), seaport in S Brazil. 533,000.

Port of Spain, seaport on the island of Trinidad, capital of Trinidad and Tobago. 94,000.

Por to No vo (pôrt'tō nō'vō), capital of the republic of Dahomey, in the S part. 30,000.

Por to Ri co (pôrt'tō rē'kō), former name of Puerto Rico. —Por to Rican.

por trait (pôrt'rit or pôrt'rât), 1. picture of a person, especially of the face. 2. picture in words; description. n.

por trait ure (pôrt'rê chûr or pôrt'rê chər), 1. act of portraying. 2. portrait. n.

por tray (pôrt trā'), 1. picture in words; describe: The book "Black Beauty" portrays the life of a horse. 2. make a likeness of in a drawing or painting; make a picture of. 3. represent on the stage; impersonate; act. v. —por-tray'er, n.

por tray al (pôrt trā'əl), 1. a portraying by drawing or in words. 2. picture; description. n.

Port Said (sā'ēd'), seaport in NE Egypt, at the Mediterranean end of the Suez Canal. 227,000.

Ports mouth (pôrts'math), 1. seaport in S England, on the English Channel. 218,000. 2. seaport in SE Virginia. 115,000. n.

Por tu gal (pôrt'chə gl), country in SW Europe, just west of Spain. 9,052,000 pop.; 35,404 sq. mi. Capital: Lisbon. n.

Por tu guese (pôrt'chə gēz'), 1. native or inhabitant of Portugal. 2. language of Portugal. Portuguese is also the chief language of Brazil. 3. of or having to do with Portugal, its people, or their language. 1,2 n., pl. Por-tu guese; 3 adj.

Portuguese East Africa, Mozambique.

Portuguese Guinea, a Portuguese colony in NW Africa. 565,000 pop.; 13,948 sq. mi. Capital: Bissau.

Portuguese India, former Portuguese colony, now part of India, which consisted of several districts on the W coast of India, including Goa.

Portuguese Timor, a Portuguese colony in the East Indies. 496,000 pop.; 7330 sq. mi. Capital: Dili.

Portuguese West Africa, Angola.

por tu lac a (pôrt'chə lak'ə), a low-growing plant with thick, fleshy leaves and variously colored flowers. n.

pose¹ (pōz), 1. position of the body; way of holding the body. 2. hold a position: He posed an hour for his portrait. 3. put in a certain position: The artist posed him before painting his picture. 4. attitude assumed for effect; pretense; affectation: She takes the pose of being an invalid when really she is well and strong. 5. put on an attitude for effect; make a false pretense: He posed as a rich man though he owed more than he owned. 6. put forward for discussion; state: pose a question. 1,4 n., 2,3,5,6 v., posed, pos ing.

pose² (pōz), puzzle completely. v., posed, pos ing. Po sei don (pə'sid'n), the Greek god of the sea and of horses. The Romans identified him with Neptune. n. Po sen (pō'zn), city in W Poland. 395,000. n. Also Polish, Poznań.

pos er¹ (pōz'ər), person who poses. n.

pos er² (pōz'ər), a very puzzling problem. n.

po seur (pō zœr'), an affected person; one who poses to impress others. n.

pos it (poz'it), lay down or assume as a fact or principle; affirm. v.

po si tion (pə zish'ən), 1. place where a thing or person is: The house is in a sheltered position. Your careless remark put me in an awkward position. 2. way of being placed: Sit in a more comfortable position. 3. proper place. 4. condition with reference to place or circumstances: The army maneuvered for position before attacking. 5. job: He has a position in a bank. 6. rank; standing; especially, high standing: He was raised to the position of captain. 7. way of thinking; set of opinions: What is your position on this question? 8. place in a certain position. 1-7 n. 8 v.

pos i tive (poz'ə tiv), 1. admitting of no question; without doubt; sure: We have positive knowledge that the earth moves around the sun. 2. too sure; too confident: Her positive manner annoys people. 3. definite; emphatic: "No. I will not," was his positive refusal. 4. that can be thought of as real and present: Light is a positive thing; darkness is only the absence of light. 5. showing that a particular disease, condition, germ, etc., is present. 6. that definitely does something or adds something; practical: Don't just make criticisms; give us some positive help. 7. tending in the direction thought of as that of increase or progress: Motion in the direction that the hands of a clock move is positive. 8. counting up from zero; plus: Five above zero is a positive quantity. 9. a positive degree or quantity. 10. of the kind of electricity produced by rubbing glass with silk; lacking electrons. 11. plate in a battery from which the current flows into the wire. See electrode for diagram. 12. in photography, having the lines and shadows in the same position as in the original. 13. print made from a photographic film or plate. 14. the simple form of an adjective or adverb, as distinct from the comparative and superlative. Fast is the positive; faster is the comparative; fastest is the superlative. 15. of the simple form of an adjective or adverb. 1-8,10,12,15 adj., 9,11,13,14 n. —pos'i-tive ly, adv. —pos'i-tive ness, n.

pos i tron (poz'ə tron), particle having the same magnitude of mass and charge as an electron, but exhibiting a positive charge; positive electron. n.

poss., possessive.

pos se (pos'ē), group of men summoned by a sheriff to help him: The posse pursued the thief. n.

pos sess (pə zēs'), 1. own; have: Washington possessed great wisdom. 2. hold as property; hold; occupy. 3. control; influence strongly: Sarah was possessed by the desire to be rich. 4. control by an evil spirit: He fought like one possessed. 5. maintain; keep: Possess your soul in patience. v.

pos ses sion (pə zesh'ən), 1. a possessing; holding: Our soldiers fought hard for the possession of the hilltop. 2. ownership: At his father's death he came into possession of a million dollars. 3. thing possessed; property: Please move your possessions from my room. 4. territory under the rule of a country: Guam is a possession of the United States. 5. domination by a particular feeling, idea, etc. 6. self-control. n.

pos ses sive (pə zēs'iv), 1. of possession. 2. showing possession. My, your, his, and our are in the possessive case. 3. the possessive case. 4. word in this case. In "the boy's books," boy's is a possessive. 5. desirous of ownership: a possessive nature. 6. asserting or claiming ownership: a possessive manner. 1,2,5,6 adj., 3,4 n. —pos ses'sive ly, adv. —pos ses'sive ness, n.

possessive adjective, adjective that shows possession. It is formed from a personal pronoun.

possessive pronoun, pronoun that shows possession.

pos ses sor (pə zēs/ər), person who possesses. n.

pos set (pos'it), a hot drink made of milk, alcoholic liquor, and spices. n.

pos si bil i ty (pos'ə bil'ə tē), 1. being possible: There is a possibility that the train may be late. 2. a possible thing, person, or event: A whole week of rain is a possibility. n., pl. pos si bil i ties.

pos si ble (pos'ə bl), 1. that can be; that can be done; that can happen: Come if possible. It is possible to cure tuberculosis. 2. that can be true or a fact: It is possible that he went. 3. that can be done, chosen, etc., properly: the only possible candidate. adj.

pos si bly (pos'ə blē), 1. by any possibility; no matter what happens: I cannot possibly go. 2. perhaps: Possibly you are right. adv.

pos sum (pos'əm), U.S. opossum. n.

play possum, put on a false appearance; pretend.

post¹ (pōst), 1. piece of timber, metal, or the like, set upright, usually as a support: the posts of a door or bed, a hitching post. 2. fasten (a notice) up in a place where it can easily be seen. 3. make known by, or as if by, a posted notice; make public: post a reward. 4. put (a name) in a list that is published or posted up: Kate's train is posted as on time. 5. cover (a wall, etc.) with notices or bills. 6. put up notices warning people to keep out of: Mr. Day posts his land. 7. post, line, etc., where a race starts or ends. 1,7 n., 2-6 v.

post² (pōst), 1. place where a soldier, policeman, etc., is stationed; place where one is supposed to be when on duty. 2. place where soldiers are stationed; military station; fort. 3. soldiers occupying a military station. 4. station at a post; place troops at a particular point: We posted guards at the door. 5. U.S. a local branch of a veterans' organization. 6. in army and navy, appoint to a post of command. 7. job or position. 8. a trading station, especially in an uncivilized or unsettled country: a post of a fur company. 1-3,5,7,8 n., 4,6 v.

post³ (pōst), 1. an established system for carrying letters, papers, packages, etc.; the mail: send by post. 2. Esp. Brit. a single mail; the letters, etc., thus delivered: this morning's post. 3. send by post; mail: post a letter. 4. Archaic and Dialect. postman. 5. Archaic. person, vehicle, or ship that carries mail. 6. post office. 7. letter box. 8. one of a series of fixed stations along a route for furnishing relays of men and horses for carrying letters, etc., and supplying service to travelers by post horse, post chaise, etc. 9. travel with post horses or by post chaise. 10. travel with speed; hasten. 11. by post; speedily. 12. rise and fall in the saddle in rhythm with the horse's trot. 13. Informal. supply with information up to date; inform. 14. in bookkeeping, transfer (an entry) from journal to ledger; enter (an item) in due place and form; make all requisite entries in (a ledger, etc.). 15. a size of paper, about 16 x 20 inches. 1,2,4-8,15 n., 3,9,10,12-14 v., 11 adv.

post-, prefix meaning: after, as in postgraduate, post-mortem, postscript.

post age (pōs'tij), amount paid on anything sent by mail. n.

postage stamp, an official stamp placed on mail to show that postage has been paid.

post al (pōs'tl), 1. having to do with mail and post offices. 2. U.S. post card. 1 adj., 2 n.

postal card, post card.

post bellum (pōst bel'əm), Latin. after the war.

post boy (pōst'boi'), 1. boy or man who carries mail. 2. man who rides one of the horses drawing a carriage or coach. n.

post card, 1. a card with a government postage stamp printed on it. 2. any card, especially one with a picture on one side, for sending a message by mail.

post chaise, a hired carriage that was used for traveling before there were railroads.

post date (pōst'dāt'), 1. give a later date than the true date to (a letter, check, etc.). 2. follow in time. v., post dat ed, post dat ing.

post ed (pōs'tid), 1. having posts. 2. Informal. informed. adj.

post er (pōs'tər), 1. a large printed sheet or notice put up in some public place. 2. person who posts notices, etc. n.

post e ri or (pōs tir'ē ə), 1. situated behind; back; rear; hind. 2. later; coming after. adj.

post e ri ty (pōs ter'ə tē), 1. generations of the future: If we burn up all the coal in the world, what will posterity do? 2. anyone's children, and their children, and their children, and so on and on; all of a person's descendants. n.

post ern (pōs'tərn or pōs'tərn), 1. a back door or gate. 2. any small door or gate. 3. of or like a postern. 4. rear; lesser: The castle had a postern door. 1,2 n., 3,4 adj.

Post Exchange, store at a military post that sells cigarettes, candy, etc., to soldiers.

post grad u ate (pōst graj'ú it), 1. student who continues studying in college or at school after graduation. 2. taking a course of study after graduation. 3. of or for postgraduates. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

post haste (pōst'hāst'), very speedily; in great haste. adv.

post horse, horse hired by travelers.

post hu mous (pōs'chū mäs), 1. born after the death of the father: a posthumous son. 2. published after the death of the author: a posthumous book. 3. happening after death: posthumous fame. adj.

post hu mous ly (pōs'chū mäs lē), after death. adv.

pos til ion or pos til lion (pōs til'yən or pōs til'yən), man who rides one of the horses drawing a carriage. n.

post lude (pōst'lüd), 1. a concluding musical piece or movement. 2. music played at the end of a church service. n.

post man (pōst'mən), man who carries and delivers mail for the government. n., pl. post men.

post mark (pōst'mārk'), 1. an official mark stamped on mail to cancel the postage stamp and record the place and date of mailing. 2. stamp with a postmark. 1 n., 2 v.

post mas ter (pōst'mas'tər), person in charge of a post office. n.

postmaster general, person at the head of the postal system of a country. pl. postmasters general.

post me rid i an (pōst'mə rid'ē ən), occurring after noon; of or having to do with the afternoon. adj.

post me rid i em (pōst mə rid'ē əm), after noon. Abbrev.: p.m., P.M.

post mis tress (pōst'mis'tris), woman in charge of a post office. n.

post-mor tem (pōst'môr'təm), 1. after death: A post-mortem examination showed that the man had been poisoned. 2. examination after death; autopsy. 1 adj., 2 n.

post na tal (pōst nā'tl), after birth. adj.

post office, 1. place where mail is handled and postage stamps are sold. 2. the government department that takes charge of mail.

post paid (pōst'pād'), with the postage paid for. adj.

post pone (pōst pōn'), put off till later; put off to a later time; delay: The ball game was postponed because of rain. v., post pon ed, post pon ing.

post pone ment (pōst pōn'mənt), putting off till later; delay: The postponement of the ball game disappointed many people. n.

post pran di al (pōst pran'dē əl), after-dinner: post-prandial speeches. adj.

post rid er (pōst'rid'ər), man who carries mail on horseback. n.

post road, 1. road or route over which mail is or was carried. 2. road with stations which furnish horses.

post script (pōst'skript), 1. addition to a letter, written after the writer's name has been signed. 2. a supplementary part appended to any composition or literary work. n.

pos tu lant (pos'chə lənt), candidate, especially for admission to a religious order. n.

pos tu late (pos'chə lit for 1; pos'chə lāt for 2, 3), 1. something taken for granted or assumed as a basis for reasoning; a fundamental principle; necessary condition: One postulate of geometry is that a straight line may be drawn between any two points. 2. take for granted; assume without proof as a basis of reasoning; require as a fundamental principle or necessary condition: Geometry postulates certain things as a basis for its reasoning. 3. require; demand; claim. 1 n., 2,3 v., pos tu lat ed, pos tu lat ing.

pos tur al (pos'chər əl), of or having to do with posture. adj.

pos ture (pos'chər), 1. position of the body; way of holding the body: Good posture is important for health. 2. take a certain posture: The dancer postured before the mirror, bending and twisting her body. 3. put in a certain posture. 4. pose for effect. 5. condition; situation; state: In the present posture of public affairs it is difficult to invest money safely. 6. mental or spiritual attitude. 1,5,6 n., 2-4 v., pos tured, pos tur ing.

post war (pōst'wōr'), after the war. adj.

po sy (pō'zē), 1. flower. 2. bunch of flowers; bouquet. 3. motto or line of poetry engraved within a ring. n., pl. po sies.

pot (pɒt), 1. a round, deep container made of metal or earthenware. There are many different kinds of pots. A pot may hold food or drink or contain earth for flowers to grow in. 2. pot and what is in it; amount a pot can hold: He had a pot of beans. 3. put into a pot. 4. cook and preserve in a pot. 5. alcoholic liquor. 6. basket used to catch fish, lobsters, etc. 7. Informal. a large sum of money. 8. Informal. all the money bet at one time. 9. take a pot shot at; shoot. 1,2,5-8 n., 3,4,9 v., pot ted, pot ting.

keep the pot boiling, Informal. 1. make a living. 2. keep things going in a lively way.

po ta ble (pō'tə bl), fit for drinking. adj.

pot ash (pot'ash'), 1. any of several substances made from wood ashes and used in soap, fertilizers, etc. It is mainly impure potassium carbonate. 2. potassium. n.

po tas si um (pə tas'ē əm), a soft, silver-white metallic element, occurring in nature only in compounds. Symbol: K n.

potassium bromide, a white, crystalline substance used in medicine, photography, etc.

potassium chlorate, a colorless crystalline substance used as an oxidizing agent in explosives, matches, etc.

potassium cyanide, a very poisonous white crystalline substance used for removing gold from ore, electroplating, killing insects, etc.

potassium hydroxide, a very strong alkali; caustic potash.

potassium nitrate, a colorless crystalline substance used as an oxidizing agent, in gunpowder, explosives, etc.; niter; saltpeter.

po ta tion (pō tā'shən), 1. act of drinking. 2. a drink, especially of alcoholic liquor. n.

po ta to (pə tā'tō), 1. a starchy tuber of a cultivated plant, the vegetable most widely used in Europe and America (also called white potato and Irish potato). 2. plant producing these tubers. 3. sweet potato. n., pl. po ta toes.

potato beetle, beetle with black and yellow stripes that damages potato plants.

potato bug, potato beetle.

potato chip, a thin slice of potato fried in deep fat.

pot bel lied (pot'bel'ēd), having a potbelly. adj.

pot bel ly (pot'bel'ē), a distended or protuberant belly. n.

pot boil er (pot'boil'ər), Informal. work of literature or art produced merely to make a living. n.

po ten cy (pōt'n sē), 1. power; strength: the potency of an argument, the potency of a drug. 2. power to develop. n., pl. po ten cies.

po tent (pōt'nt), 1. powerful; having great power; strong: a potent remedy for a disease. 2. exercising great moral influence: His good deeds had a potent effect on his comrades. adj. —po'tent ly, adv.

po ten tate (pōt'n tāt), 1. person having great power. 2. ruler. Kings, queens, and emperors were potentates. n.

po ten tial (pə ten'shəl), 1. possible as opposed to actual; capable of coming into being or action. 2. something potential; possibility. 3. in grammar, expressing possibility by the use of may, might, can, could, etc.: the potential mood of a verb. 4. the potential mood. 5. amount of electrification of a point with reference to some standard. A current of high potential is used in transmitting electric power over long distances. 1,3 adj., 2,4,5 n.

potential energy, energy that is due to position or the like, not to motion. A tightly coiled spring or a raised weight has potential energy.

po ten ti al i ty (pə ten'shē əl'ə tē), 1. potential state or quality; possibility as opposed to actuality; latent power or capacity. 2. something potential; a possibility. n., pl. po ten ti al i ties.

po ten tial ly (pə ten'shəl ē), possibly, but not yet actually. adv.

poth er (pɒθ'ər), 1. confusion; disturbance; fuss. 2. bother; fuss. 3. a choking cloud of dust or smoke. 1,3 n., 2 v.

pot herb (pot'ərb' or pot'hərb'), 1. any plant whose leaves and stems are boiled as a vegetable, such as spinach. 2. plant used as seasoning in cooking. Sage and parsley are potherbs. n.

pot hole (pot'hōl'), a deep, round hole, especially one made in rock by stones and gravel being spun around in the current of a river. n.

pot hook (pot'hūk'), 1. hook for hanging a pot or kettle over an open fire. 2. rod with a hook for lifting hot pots, etc. 3. an S-shaped stroke in writing, especially one made by children in learning to write. n.

pot hunt er (pot'hun'tər), 1. person who shoots anything he comes upon regardless of rules of sport. 2. person who takes part in contests merely to win prizes. 3. person who hunts merely for food or for profit. n.

po tion (pō'shən), a drink, especially one that is used as a medicine or poison, or in magic. n.

pot luck (pot'luk'), whatever food happens to be ready or on hand for a meal: Come into the house and take potluck with me. n.

Po to mac (pə tō'mæk), river flowing from E West Virginia between Maryland and Virginia, into Chesapeake Bay. Washington, D.C., is on the Potomac River. 450 mi. n.

pot pie (pot'pī'), 1. a baked meat pie. 2. stew with dumplings. n.

pot pour ri (pō'pū rē'), 1. a musical or literary medley. 2. a fragrant mixture of dried flower petals and spices. n.

Pots dam (pɒts'dam), city in East Germany. Conferences among Truman, Churchill (succeeded by Attlee), and Stalin were held in Potsdam in 1945. 115,000. n.

pot sherd (pot'shərd'), a broken piece of earthenware. n.

pot shot, 1. shot taken at game merely to provide a meal, with little regard to the rules of sport. 2. a quick shot at something from close range without careful aim.

pot tage (pot'ij), a thick soup. n.

pot ted (pot'id), 1. put into a pot. 2. cooked and preserved in pots or cans. adj.

pot ter (pot'er), person who makes pots, dishes, vases, etc., out of clay. n.

pot ter (pot'er), Esp. Bril. putter. v. —pot/ter er, n.

potter's field, piece of ground used for burying people who have no friends or money.

potter's wheel, a rotating horizontal disk upon which clay is molded into dishes, etc.

pot ter y (pot'er ē), 1. pots, dishes, vases, etc., made from clay and hardened by heat. 2. art or business of making them. 3. place where they are made. n., pl. pot ter ies.

pot tile (pot'l), 1. a former liquid measure equal to two quarts. 2. pot or tankard holding two quarts. 3. liquid in it. 4. alcoholic liquor. n.

pouch (pouch), 1. bag; sack: a postman's pouch. 2. a baglike fold of skin: The old man often had pouches under his eyes. A kangaroo carries its young in a pouch. 3. put into a pouch. 4. form a pouch. 1,2 n., 3,4 v. —pouch/like', adj.

poul ter er (pōl'tər ə), dealer in poultry. n.

poul tice (pōl'tis), 1. a soft, moist mass of mustard, herbs, etc., applied to the body as a medicine. 2. put a poultice on. 1 n., 2 v., poul ticed, poul tic ing.

poul try (pōl'trē), chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks, etc. n.

pounce (pouns), 1. come down with a rush and seize: The cat pounced upon the mouse. 2. dash, come, or jump suddenly. 3. a sudden swoop or pouncing. 4. claw or talon of a bird of prey. 1,2 v., pounced, pounc ing; 3,4 n.

pounce (pouns), a fine powder formerly used to prevent ink from spreading in writing, or to prepare parchment for writing. n.

pound (pound), 1. unit of weight. 1 pound avoirdupois = 16 ounces. 1 pound troy = 12 ounces. 2. unit of money of Great Britain, worth about $2.80 (1964). 1 pound = 20 shillings. 3. a monetary unit of certain other countries. n., pl. pounds or (esp. collectively) pound.

pound (pound), 1. hit hard again and again; hit heavily: He pounded the door with his fist. 2. beat hard; throb: After running fast you can feel your heart pound. 3. make into a powder or pulp by pounding. 4. move with a pounding sound: John pounded down the hill to catch the bus. 5. act of pounding. 6. a heavy or forcible blow. 7. sound of a blow. 8. produce (sound) by pounding or as if by pounding: We could hear drums pounding in the distance. 1,4,8 v., 5-7 n.

pound (pound), 1. an enclosed place in which to keep stray animals: a dog or cat pound. 2. enclosure for keeping, confining, or trapping animals. 3. place of confinement. n.

pound al (poun'dl), amount of force that, acting for one second on a mass of one pound, gives it a velocity of one foot per second. 1 poundal = 13,825 dynes. n.

pound cake, 1. cake made with a pound of sugar and a pound of butter for each pound of flour, and plenty of eggs. 2. a rich, sweet cake somewhat like this.

pound er (poun'dər), one that pounds, pulverizes, or beats. n.

pound er (poun'dər), person or thing weighing, having, or associated with a specified number of pounds. n.

pound-fool ish (pound'fūl'ish), foolish or careless in regard to large sums. adj.

pound sterling, unit of money of Great Britain. 1 pound = 20 shillings. The gold in one pound sterling was worth about five dollars in 1900, and about $2.80 in 1964.

Man using a potter's wheel. This kind is operated by means of a treadle, and the momentum of the heavy wheel at the bottom helps keep the upper wheel in motion. Some kinds are operated by electricity.

pour (pôr), 1. cause to flow in a steady stream: I poured the milk from the bottle. 2. flow in a steady stream: The crowd poured out of the church. The rain poured down. 3. a pouring. 4. a heavy rain. 1,2 v., 3,4 n. —pour'er, n.

pout (pout), 1. thrust or push out the lips, as a displeased or sulky child does. 2. a pushing out of the lips when displeased or sulky. 1 v., 2 n.

pout er (pout'er), 1. person who pouts. 2. one of a breed of domestic pigeons that puff out their chests. n.

pout y (pout'ē), Informal. inclined to pout. adj.

pov er ty (pov'er tē), 1. condition of being poor: Their tattered clothing and broken furniture indicated their poverty. 2. lack of what is needed: The poverty of the soil makes the crops small. 3. a small amount; fewness: A dull person's talk shows poverty of ideas. n.

pov er ty-strick en (pov'er tē strik'ən), extremely poor. adj.

POW, prisoner of war.

pow der (pou'dər), 1. a solid reduced to dust by pounding, crushing, or grinding. 2. make into powder. 3. become powder. 4. some special kind of powder: face powder. 5. sprinkle or cover with powder. 6. apply powder to (the face, etc.): powder one's nose. 7. sprinkle: The ground was powdered with snow. 8. gunpowder. 1,4,8 n., 2,3,5-7 v.

pow der flask, flask or case of horn, metal, or leather for carrying gunpowder.

Powder horn

pow der horn, powder flask made of an animal's horn.

pow der magazine, place where gunpowder is stored.

pow der puff, a soft puff or pad for applying powder to the skin.

pow der y (pou'dər ē), 1. of powder. 2. like powder; in the form of powder. 3. easily made into powder. 4. sprinkled or covered with powder. adj.

pow er (pou'ər), 1. strength; might; force: a medicine of great power. 2. ability to do or act: I will give you all the help in my power. 3. particular ability: He has great powers of concentration. 4. control; authority; influence; right: Congress has power to declare war. 5. person, thing, body, or nation having authority or influence: Five powers held a peace conference. 6. energy or force that can do work: Running water produces power to run mills. 7. simple machine. 8. capacity for exerting mechanical force, as measured by the rate at which it is exerted or at which the work is done. Power is expressed in foot-pounds per minute, ergs per second, horsepower, watts, etc. 9. product of a number multiplied by itself: 16 is the 4th power of 2. 10. capacity of an instrument to magnify. The higher the power of a telescope or microscope, the more details you can see. 11. deity; divinity. 12. an order of angels. n.

in power, having control or authority.

the powers that be, those who have control or authority.

pow er boat (pou'ər bōt'), boat propelled by an engine on board; motorboat. n.

power drill, drill worked by a motor, not by hand.

pow er ful (pou'ər fəl), having great power or force; mighty; strong: a powerful man, a powerful medicine, a powerful sermon, a powerful nation. adj.

pow er ful ly (pou'ər fəl ē), strongly; with power. adv.

pow er house (pou'ər hous'), a building containing boilers, engines, dynamos, etc., for generating power. n.

pow er less (pou'ər lis), without power; helpless: The mouse was powerless in the cat's claws. adj.

power loom, loom worked by steam, electricity, water power, etc., not by hand.

power of attorney, a written statement giving one person legal power to act for another.

power plant, 1. building with machinery for generating power. 2. motor; engine.

power politics, diplomacy which uses the threat of superior military power.

power station, powerhouse.

Pow ha tan (pou'ə tan'), 1550?-1618, Indian chief in Virginia. n.

pow wow (pou'wou'), 1. an American Indian ceremony, usually accompanied by magic, feasting, and dancing, performed for the cure of disease, success in hunting, etc. 2. council or conference of or with American Indians. 3. U.S. Informal. any conference or meeting. 4. an American Indian priest or medicine man. 5. hold a powwow; confer. 1-4 n., 5 v.

pox (poks), 1. any disease that covers the body or parts of the body with sores, such as chicken pox or smallpox. 2. syphilis. n.

Poz nań (pōz'nān'yə), Polish name of Posen. n.

pp., 1. pages. 2. past participle.

P.P., Parcel Post.

p.p., past participle.

ppr. or p.pr., present participle.

Pr, praseodymium.

pr., 1. pair. 2. price. 3. present.

P.R., Puerto Rico.

prac ti ca bil i ty (prak'tə kə bil'ə tē), quality of being practicable; capability of being done, effected, or used. n.

prac ti ca ble (prak'tə kə bl), 1. that can be done; capable of being put into practice: a practicable idea. 2. that can be used: a practicable road. adj. —prac'ti ca bly, adv.

prac ti cal (prak'tə kl), 1. having to do with action or practice rather than thought or theory: Earning a living is a practical matter. 2. fit for actual practice: a practical plan. 3. useful: His legal knowledge was not very practical when he became a chemist. 4. having good sense. 5. engaged in actual practice or work: A practical farmer runs a farm. 6. being such in effect; virtual: So many of our soldiers were killed that our victory was a practical defeat. adj. —prac'ti cal ness, n.

prac ti cal i ty (prak'tə kal'ə tē), 1. quality of being practical; practical usefulness; practical habit of mind. 2. a practical matter. n., pl. prac ti cal i ties.

practical joke, trick played on a person to have a laugh at him.

prac ti cal ly (prak'tik lē), 1. really; in effect. 2. Informal. almost; nearly. 3. in a practical way; in a useful way. 4. by actual practice. adv.

practical nurse, woman whose occupation is to care for the sick, but who has not the hospital training or diploma of a trained nurse.

practice (prak'tis), 1. action done many times over for skill: Practice makes perfect. 2. skill gained by experience or exercise: He was out of practice at batting. 3. do (some act) again and again to learn to do it well: practice playing the piano. 4. action or process of doing or being something: His plan is good in theory, but not in actual practice. 5. do usually; make a custom of: Practice what you preach. 6. follow, observe, or use day after day: practice moderation. 7. the usual way; custom: It is the practice in our town to blow the whistles at noon. 8. work at or follow as a profession, act, or occupation: practice medicine. 9. practice a profession: That young man is just beginning to practice as a lawyer. 10. the working at or following of a profession or occupation: engaged in the practice of law. 11. business of a doctor or lawyer: Dr. Adams sold his practice. 12. give training to; drill. 13. Archaic. scheme; plot. 14. take advantage of. 15. in law, the established method of conducting legal proceedings. 1,2,4,7,10,11,13,15 n., 3,5,6,8,9,12-14 v., prac ticed, prac tic ing. —prac'tic er, n.

prac ticed (prak'tist), 1. experienced; skilled; expert; proficient: a practiced musician. 2. acquired or perfected through practice. adj.

prac tise (prak'tis), practice. v., prac tised, prac tis ing.

prac ti tion er (prak tish'an ə), person engaged in the practice of a profession: He was a medical practitioner for ten years; later he taught medicine. n.

prae tor (prē'tər or prē'tōr), magistrate or judge in ancient Rome. A praetor ranked next below a consul. n.

prae to ri an (prē tō'rē ən), 1. of or having to do with a praetor. 2. man having the rank of a praetor. 3. having to do with the bodyguard of a Roman commander or emperor. 4. soldier of this bodyguard. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

prag mat ic (prag mat'ik), 1. concerned with practical results or values; of or having to do with pragmatism: a pragmatic philosophy. 2. having to do with the affairs of a state or community. 3. busy; active. 4. meddlesome; interfering. 5. conceited; opinionated. adj. —prag-mat'i cally, adv.

prag ma tism (prag'mə tiz əm),

1. philosophy that tests the value and truth of ideas by their practical consequences. 2. a pragmatic quality or condition. 3. officiousness. 4. dogmatism. 5. a matter-of-fact way of viewing things. n.

prag ma tist (prag'mə tist), person who believes in pragmatism. n.

Prague (præg), the capital and the largest city of Czechoslovakia. 988,000. n.

Pra ia (prā'yə), capital of the Cape Verde Islands. 6000. n.

prai rie (prā'rē), a large area of level or rolling land with grass but no trees. n.

prairie chicken, any of several grouse that live on the prairies of North America. See the picture above.

prairie dog, animal like a woodchuck but smaller, found on the Great Plains and in the Rocky Mountain region. Prairie dogs bark.

prairie schooner, a large covered wagon used in crossing the plains of North America before the railroads were built. See the picture below.

prairie wolf, coyote.

praise (prāz), 1. saying that a thing or person is good; words that tell the worth or value of a thing or person. 2. express approval or admiration of. 3. worship in words or song: praise God. 4. words or song setting forth the glory and goodness of God. 1,4 n., 2,3 v., praised, prais ing. —prais'er, n. sing the praise or praises of, praise with enthusiasm.

praise wor thy (prāz-wər'thē), worthy of praise; deserving approval. adj. —praise/wor'thi ly, adv. —praise/wor'thi ness, n.

pra line (prā'lēn), a small cake of brown candy made of sugar and nuts, usually pecans or almonds. n.

pram (pram), Brit. Informal. baby carriage. n.

prance (prans), 1. spring about on the hind legs: Horses prance when they feel lively. 2. ride on a horse doing this. 3. move gaily or proudly; swagger. 4. caper; dance. 5. a prancing. 1-4 v., pranced, pranc ing; 5 n.

prank (prangk), piece of mischief; playful trick: On April Fools' Day people play pranks on each other. n.

prank ish (prangk'ish), 1. full of pranks; fond of pranks. 2. like a prank. adj. —prank'ish ness, n.

pra se o dym i um (prā'zē ō dim'ē əm), a rare metallic element of the same group as cerium. Symbol: Pr n.

prate (prāt), 1. talk a great deal in a foolish way. 2. empty or foolish talk. 1 v., prat ed, prat ing; 2 n.

Prairie chicken (about 1½ ft. from bill to end of tail)

Prairie dog
(about 15 in. long)

Prairie schooner

prat tle (prat'l), 1. talk as a child does; tell freely and carelessly. 2. simple, artless talk. 3. talk or tell in a foolish way. 4. baby talk; foolish talk. 5. sound like baby talk; babble: the prattle of a brook. 1,3,5 v., prat tled, prat tling; 2,4,5 n. —prat'tler, n.

prawn (prôn), any of several edible shellfish much like shrimp but larger. n.

Prawn (3 to 4 in. long) pray (prā), 1. speak to God in worship; enter into spiritual communion with God; offer worship. 2. make earnest request to God or to any other object of worship: pray for help, pray for one's family. 3. ask earnestly: pray God for help or to help. 4. ask earnestly for. 5. bring or get by praying. 6. please: Pray come with me. v. —pray'er, n.

prayer (prār), 1. act of praying. 2. thing prayed for: The farmers offered prayers for rain. 3. form of words to be used in praying: the Lord's Prayer. 4. form of worship; religious service consisting mainly of prayers. 5. an earnest or humble request. n.

prayer book, book of prayers.

Prayer Book, Book of Common Prayer.

prayer ful (prār'fəl), having the habit of praying often; devout. adj. —prayer'fully, adv. —prayer'fulness, n.

praying mantis, mantis.

pre-, prefix meaning: before in place, time, order, or rank, as in prepay, prevision, prewar.

preach (prēch), 1. speak publicly on a religious subject. 2. deliver (a sermon). 3. make known by preaching; proclaim: preach the Gospel. 4. urge; recommend strongly: The coach was always preaching exercise and fresh air. 5. give earnest advice. v.

preacher (prēch'ər), person who preaches; clergyman; minister. n.

preach i fy (prēch'ə fī), preach or moralize too much. v., preach i fied, preach i fy ing.

preach ing (prēch'ing), what is preached; sermon. n.

preach ment (prēch'mənt), 1. a preaching. 2. a long, tiresome sermon or speech. n.

preach y (prēch'ē), Informal. 1. inclined to preach. 2. like preaching. adj., preach i er, preach i est.

pre am ble (prē'am'bl), 1. a preliminary statement; introduction to a speech or a writing. The reasons for a law and its general purpose are often stated in a preamble. 2. a preliminary or introductory fact or circumstance. n.

pre ar range (prē'ə rānj'), arrange beforehand. v., pre ar ranged, pre ar range ing. —pre'ar range'ment, n.

pre a tom ic (prē'ə tom'ik), before Aug. 6, 1945, the first military use of the atom bomb, at Hiroshima. adj.

preb end (preb'ənd), 1. salary given to a clergyman connected with a cathedral or a collegiate church. 2. the particular property or church tax from which the money comes for this salary. n.

pre car i ous (pri kār'ē əs), 1. dependent on the will or pleasure of another. 2. not safe or secure; uncertain; dangerous; risky: A soldier leads a precarious life. adj. —pre car'i ous ly, adv. —pre car'i ous ness, n.

pre cau tion (pri kō'shən), 1. a taking care beforehand: Proper precaution is prudent. 2. care taken beforehand; thing done beforehand to ward off evil or secure good results: Locking doors is a precaution. n.

pre cau tion ar y (pri kō'shən er'ē), of or using precaution: precautionary measures against catching a cold. adj.

pre cede (prē sēd'), 1. go before; come before: Hoover preceded Roosevelt as President. 2. be higher than in rank or importance: A major precedes a captain. v., pre ced ed, pre ced ing.

prec e dence (pres'ə dəns or pri sēd'ns), 1. coming before in time or order. 2. higher position or rank; greater importance: This work takes precedence over all other work. 3. right to precede others in ceremonies or social affairs; social superiority: A Senator takes precedence over a Representative. n.

prec e den cy (pres'ə dən sē or pri sēd'n sē), precedence. n., pl. prec e den cies.

prec e dent (pres'ə dənt for 1; pri sēd'nt or pres'ə dənt for 2), 1. case that may serve as an example or reason for a later case: Roosevelt's election for a third term established a new precedent. 2. preceding. 1 n., 2 adj.

pre ced ing (prē sēd'ing), going before; coming before; previous. adj.

pre cen tor (pri sen'tər), person who leads and directs the singing of a church choir or congregation. n.

pre cept (prē'sept), rule of action or behavior; maxim: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again" is a familiar precept. n.

pre cep tor (pri sep'tər), instructor; teacher. n.

pre ces sion (prē sesh'ən), act, fact, or condition of going first; precedence. n.

pre cinct (prē'singkt), 1. district within certain boundaries, for governmental, administrative, or other purposes: an election precinct, a police precinct. 2. space within a boundary: Do not leave the school precincts during school hours. 3. boundary; limit. n.

pre ci os i ty (resh'ē əs'ə tē), too much refinement; affectation. n., pl. pre ci os i ties.

pre ci ous (resh'əs), 1. worth much; valuable. Gold, platinum, and silver are often called the precious metals. 2. much loved; dear. 3. too nice; overrefined. 4. Informal. very great. 5. Informal. very: precious little money. 1-4 adj., 5 adv. —pre'cious ness, n.

pre ci ous ly (resh'əs lē), 1. at great cost. 2. in a valuable manner or degree. 3. extremely. 4. with extreme care in matters of detail. adv.

prec ious stone, jewel; gem. Diamonds, rubies, and sapphires are precious stones.

prec i pice (pres'ə pis), a very steep cliff; almost vertical slope. n.

pre cip i tance (pri sip'ə təns), headlong haste; rashness. n.

pre cip i tan cy (pri sip'ə tən sē), precipitance. n.

pre cip i tant (pri sip'ə tənt), 1. very sudden or abrupt: Our men put the enemy to precipitant flight. 2. acting in a hasty or rash manner. 3. falling or rushing headlong. 4. substance that causes another substance in solution in a liquid to be deposited in solid form. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —pre cip'i tant ly, adv.

pre cip i tate (pri sip'ə tāt for 1,4,6-8; pri sip'ə tāt or pri sip'ə tit for 2,3,5), 1. hasten the beginning of; bring about suddenly: precipitate a war. 2. very hurried; sudden: A cool breeze caused a precipitate drop in the temperature. 3. with great haste and force; plunging or rushing; hasty; rash. 4. throw headlong; hurl: precipitate a rock down a cliff, precipitate oneself into a struggle. 5. substance, usually crystalline, separated out from a solution as a solid. 6. separate (a substance) out from a solution as a solid. 7. condense (moisture) from vapor in the form of rain, dew, etc. 8. be condensed in this way. 1,4,6-8 v., pre cip i tat ed, pre cip i tat ing; 2,3 adj., 5 n. —pre cip'i tate ly, adv.

pre cip i ta tion (pri sip'ə tā'shən), 1. act or state of precipitating; throwing down or falling headlong. 2. a hastening or hurrying. 3. a sudden bringing on: the precipitation of a war without warning. 4. unwise or rash rapidity; sudden haste. 5. the separating out of a substance from a solution as a solid. 6. substance separated out from a solution as a solid. 7. the depositing of moisture in the form of rain, dew, or snow. 8. something that is precipitated, such as rain, dew, or snow. 9. amount that is precipitated. n.

pre cip i tous (pri sip'ə təs), 1. like a precipice; very steep: precipitous cliffs. 2. hasty; rash. adj. —pre cip'i tous ness, n.

pré cis (prā'sē), summary. n., pl. pré cis.

pre cise (pri sis'), 1. exact; accurate; definite: The precise sum was 34 cents. 2. careful: Alice is precise in her manners. 3. strict; scrupulous: We had precise orders to come home by nine o'clock. adj. —pre cise'ness, n.

pre cise ly (pri sīs/lē), in a precise manner; exactly: Do precisely as the directions say. adv.

pre ci sion (pri sizh'ən), accuracy; exactness: the precision of a machine. n.

pre clude (pri klūd'), shut out; make impossible; prevent. v., pre clud ed, pre clud ing.

pre clu sion (pri klū'zhən), a precluding or being precluded. n.

pre clu sive (pri klū'siv), tending or serving to preclude. adj. —pre clu'sive ly, adv.

pre co cious (pri kō'shəs), 1. developed earlier than usual: This very precocious child could read well at the age of four. 2. developed too early: She had a precocious knowledge of diseases. adj. —pre co'cious ly, adv. —pre co'cious ness, n.

pre coc i ty (pri kōs'ə tē), precocious development; early maturity: Macaulay's precocity was extraordinary, for when he was only four years old, he began to write a history of the world. n.

pre con ceive (prē'kən sēv'), form an idea or opinion of beforehand. v., pre con ceived, pre con ceiv ing.

pre con cep tion (prē'kən sep'shən), idea or opinion formed beforehand. n.

pre con cert (prē'kən sērt'), arrange beforehand: At a preconceived signal the policemen rushed in. v.

pre cur sor (pri kēr'sər), forerunner: A severe cold may be the precursor of pneumonia. n.

pre cur so ry (pri kēr'sə rē), indicative of something to follow; introductory. adj.

pred., predicate.

pre da cious (pri dā'shəs), living by prey; predatory. adj.

pred a to ry (pred'ə tō'rē), 1. of or inclined to plundering or robbery: Predatory tramps infested the highways. 2. preying upon other animals. Hawks and owls are predatory birds. adj.

pred e ces sor (pred'ə ses'ər), 1. person holding a position or office before another: John Adams was Jefferson's predecessor as President. 2. thing that came before another. 3. ancestor; forefather. n.

pre des ti na tion (prē'des tē nā'shən), 1. an ordaining beforehand; destiny; fate. 2. action of God in deciding beforehand what shall happen. 3. doctrine that by God's decree certain souls will be saved and others lost. n.

pre des tine (prē des'tēn), determine or settle beforehand; foreordain. v., pre des tined, pre des tin ing.

pre de ter mine (prē'di tēr'mən), 1. determine or decide beforehand: The time for the meeting was predetermined. 2. direct or impel beforehand (to something). n., pre de ter mined, pre de ter min ing.

pred i ca ble (pred'ə kə bl), that can be predicated or affirmed. adj.

pre dic a ment (pri dik'ə mēnt), 1. an unpleasant, difficult, or dangerous situation: Mary was in a predicament when she missed the last train home. 2. any condition, state, or situation. 3. thing declared to be true. n.

pred i cate (pred'ə kit for 1,2; pred'ə kāt for 3-5), 1. word or words expressing what is said about the subject. Examples: Men work. The men dug wells. The men are soldiers. 2. in grammar, belonging to the predicate. In "Horses are strong," strong is a predicate adjective. 3. found or base (a statement, action, etc.) on something. 4. declare, assert, or affirm to be real or true: Most religions predicate life after death. 5. declare to be an attribute or quality (of some person or thing): We predicate goodness and mercy of God. 1 n., 2 adj., 3-5 v., pred i cat ed, pred i cat ing.

pred i ca tion (pred'ə kā'shən), a predicating; affirming; assertion. n.

pred i ca tive (pred'ə kā'tiv), 1. predicating; expressing predication. 2. acting as a predicate. adj.

pred i ca tive ly (pred'ə kā'tiv lē), as a predicate. adv.

pre dict (pri dikt'), tell beforehand; prophesy: The weather bureau predicts rain for tomorrow. v. —pre dict'a ble, adj. —pre dic'tor, n.

pre dic tion (pri dik'shən), 1. act of predicting. 2. thing predicted; prophecy: The official predictions about the weather often come true. n.

pre di gest (prē'də jest'), 1. digest beforehand. 2. treat (food) by an artificial process, similar to digestion, in order to make it more digestible. v.

pre di lec tion (prē'də lek'shən or pred'ə lek'shən), a liking; preference. n.

pre dis pose (prē'dis pōz'), give an inclination or tendency to; make liable or susceptible: A cold predisposes a person to other diseases. v., pre dis posed, pre dis pos ing.

pre dis po si tion (prē'dis pə zish'ən), previous inclination or tendency; susceptibility or liability: She has a predisposition to look on the dark side of things. n.

pre dom i nance (pri dom'ə nəns), a being predominant: the predominance of weeds in the deserted garden. n.

pre dom i nant (pri dom'ə nənt), 1. having more power, authority, or influence than others; superior: Will the Soviet Union be the predominant nation in Europe in 50 years? 2. prevailing; most noticeable: Green was the predominant color in the forest. adj. —pre dom'i nant ly, adv.

pre dom i nate (pri dom'ə nāt), be greater in power, strength, influence, or numbers. v., pre dom i nat ed, pre dom i nat ing.

pre dom i na tion (pri dom'ə nā'shən), act of predominating; superior power or influence; prevalence. n.

pre ãm i nence or pre-em i nence (pri em'ə nəns), excellence; superiority: the preëminence of Edison among the inventors of his day. n.

pre ãm i nent or pre-em i nent (pri em'ə nənt), standing out above all others; superior to others. adj. —pre ãm'i nent ly, pre-em'i nent ly, adv.

pre ãmpt or pre-empt (pri empt'), 1. secure before someone else can; acquire or take possession of beforehand: The cat had preempted the comfortable chair. 2. settle on (land) with the right to buy it before others. v.

pre ãmp tion or pre-emp tion (pri emp'shən), the act or right of purchasing before others or in preference to others. n.

preen (prēn), 1. smooth or arrange (the feathers) with the beak, as a bird does. 2. dress (oneself) carefully. v.

pre ãx ist or pre-ex ist (prē'eg zist'), exist beforehand, or before something else. v.

pre ãx ist ence or pre-ex ist ence (prē'eg zis'təns), previous existence. n.

pre ãx ist ent or pre-ex ist ent (prē'eg zis'tənt), existing previously. adj.

pref., 1. preface. 2. prefix. 3. preferred.

pre fab (prē fab'), 1. a prefabricated house. 2. prefabricate. 1 n., 2 v., pre fabbed, pre fab bing.

pre fab ri cate (prē fab'rə kāt), make all standardized parts of (a house, etc.). The erection of a prefabricated house requires merely the assembling of the various sections. v., pre fab ri cat ed, pre fab ri cat ing. —pre'fab ri ca'tion, n.

pref ace (pref'is), 1. introduction to a book, writing, or speech: This book has a preface written by the author. 2. introduce by written or spoken remarks; give a preface to. 3. be a preface to; begin. 1 n., 2,3 v., pref a ced, pref a cing.

pre fa to ry (prē'fə tō'rē), of or like a preface; given as a preface; introductory; preliminary. adj.

pre fec t (prē'fekt), 1. title of various military and civil officers in ancient Rome and elsewhere. 2. the chief administrative official of a department of France. n.

pre fec ture (prē'fek chər), office, jurisdiction, territory, or official residence of a prefect. n.

pre fer (pri fēr'), 1. like better; choose rather: I will come later, if you prefer. She prefers reading to sewing.

2. put forward; present: In a few words John preferred his claim to the office of captain. 3. promote; advance: He was preferred to be a bishop. v., pre ferred, pre fer ring.

prefer a ble (pref'ər ə bl), to be preferred; more desirable. adj.

prefer a bly (pref'ər ə blē), by choice: He wants a secretary, preferably one who is a college graduate. adv.

prefer ence (pref'ər əns), 1. act or attitude of liking better: My preference is for beef rather than lamb. A teacher should not show preference for any one of her pupils. 2. thing preferred; first choice: Her preference in reading is a novel. n.

prefer en tial (pref'ər en'shəl), of, giving, or receiving preference. adj. —pref'er en'tial ly, adv.

pre fer ment (pri fer'mənt), 1. advancement; promotion: Captain White seeks preferment in the army. 2. position or office giving social or financial advancement, especially one in the church. n.

preferred stock, stock on which dividends must be paid before any can be paid on the common stock.

pre fig ur a tion (pre'fig yər ə'shən), 1. prefiguring; representation beforehand by a figure or type. 2. that in which something is prefigured; prototype. n.

pre fig ure (pre'fig'yər), 1. represent beforehand by a figure or type: In one painting of Christ, His shadow is that of a cross, prefiguring the Crucifixion. 2. imagine to oneself beforehand. v., pre fig ured, pre fig ur ing.

pre fix (pre'fiks for 1; pre'fiks' for 2), 1. a syllable, syllables, or word put at the beginning of a word to change its meaning or to form a new word, as in pre-paid, underline, disappear, unlike. 2. put before: We prefix "Mr." to a man's name. 1 n., 2 v.

preg na ble (preg'nə bl), open to attack; assailable. adj.

preg nan cy (preg'nən sē), pregnant quality or condition. n., pl. preg nan cies.

preg nant (preg'nənt), 1. having an embryo or embryos developing in the uterus; being with child or young. 2. filled; loaded. 3. fertile; rich; abounding. 4. filled with meaning; very significant: Most proverbs are pregnant sayings. adj.

pre heat (pre'hēt'), heat before using. v.

pre hen sile (pri hen'sl), adapted for seizing, grasping, or holding on. Many monkeys have prehensile tails. adj.

pre his tor ic (pre'his tōr'ik), of or belonging to periods before recorded history: Some prehistoric people lived in caves. adj.

pre his tor i cal (pre'his tōr'ə kl), prehistoric. adj.

pre his tor i cal ly (pre'his tōr'ik lē), before recorded history. adv.

pre judge (pre'juj'), judge beforehand; judge without knowing all the facts. v., pre judged, pre judg ing.

prej u dice (prej'ə dis), 1. opinion formed without taking time and care to judge fairly: a prejudice against doctors. 2. cause a prejudice in; fill with prejudice: One unfortunate experience prejudiced him against all lawyers. 3. damage; harm; injure. 4. harm; injury: I will do nothing to the prejudice of my cousin in this matter. 1, 4 n., 2, 3 v., prej u diced, prej u dic ing.

prej u diced (prej'ə dist), having an emphatic opinion without good reasons: She is so prejudiced in favor of living in the country that she will not even try the city. adj.

prej u di cial (prej'ə dish'əl), causing prejudice or disadvantage; hurtful. adj.

prej u di cial ly (prej'ə dish'əl ē), in a prejudiced manner; with prejudice. adv.

prel a cy (prel'ə sē), 1. position or rank of a prelate. 2. prelates. 3. church government by prelates. n., pl. prel a cies.

prel ate (prel'it), clergyman of high rank, such as a bishop. n.

prelim., preliminary.

pre lim i nar y (pri lim'ə ner'ē), 1. coming before the main business; leading to something more important: After the preliminary exercises of prayer and song, the speaker of the day gave an address. 2. a preliminary step; something preparatory: A physical examination is a preliminary to joining the army. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. pre lim i nar ies.

prel ude (prel'ūd or prel'lūd), 1. anything serving as an introduction; preliminary performance: the organ prelude to a church service. 2. be a prelude or introduction to. 3. piece of music, or part of it, that introduces another piece or part. 4. introduce with a prelude. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v., prel u ded, prel u ding.

pre ma ture (pre'mə chūr', pre'mə tūr', or pre'mə tyūr'), before the proper time; too soon. adj.

pre ma ture ly (pre'mə chūr'lē, pre'mə tūr'lē, or pre'mə tyūr'lē), before the proper time. adv.

pre med i cal (pre med'ə kl), preparing for the study of medicine: a premedical student. adj.

pre med i tate (pre med'ə tāt), consider or plan beforehand: The murder was premeditated. v., pre med i tat ed, pre med i tat ing.

pre med i ta tion (pre'med ə tā'shən), previous deliberation or planning. n.

pre mier (pri mir' for 1; pre'mē ə r or prem'yər for 2, 3), 1. prime minister. 2. first in rank; chief. 3. first in time; earliest. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.

pre miere (pri mir' or pre myər'), 1. a first public performance. 2. the leading woman (in a play, etc.). n.

prem ise (prem'is for 1; pri mīz' for 2), 1. in logic, a statement assumed to be true and used to draw a conclusion. Example: Major premise: Children should go to school. Minor premise: He is a child. Conclusion: He should go to school. 2. give as an introduction or explanation; mention beforehand. 1 n., 2 v., pre mised, pre mis ing.

premises, 1. house or building with its grounds. 2. in law, things mentioned previously, such as the names of the parties concerned, a description of the property, the price, etc. 3. in law, the property forming the subject of a document.

pre mi um (pre'mē əm), 1. reward; prize: Some magazines give premiums for obtaining new subscriptions. 2. something more than the ordinary price or wages: Mr. Brown has to pay six per cent interest on his loan and also a premium of two hundred dollars. 3. amount of money paid for insurance: Father pays premiums on his life insurance four times a year. 4. excess value of one form of money over another of the same nominal value. 5. unusual or unfair value: Giving money to beggars may put a premium on idleness. n.

at a premium, 1. at more than the usual value or price. 2. very valuable; much wanted.

pre mo lar (pre'mō'lər), 1. one of the permanent teeth in front of the molars; bicuspid. 2. of the premolars. 1 n., 2 adj.

pre mo ni tion (pre'mə nish'ən), a forewarning. n.

pre mon i to ry (pri mon'ə tō'rē), giving warning beforehand. adj.

pre oc cu pa tion (pre'ok'yə pā'shən), 1. preoccupy-ing. 2. absorption; being preoccupied. n.

pre oc cu pied (pre'ok'yə pīd), absorbed; engrossed. adj.

pre oc cu py (pre'ok'yə pī), 1. take up all the attention of: The question of getting to New York preoccupied her mind. 2. occupy beforehand; take possession of before others: Our favorite seats had been preoccupied. v., pre oc cu pied, pre oc cu py ing.

pre or dain (pre'ōr dān'), decide or settle beforehand; foreordain. v.

pre or di na tion (pre'ōrd n ā'shən), preordaining or being preordained. n.

prep (prep), Informal. preparatory. adj.

prep., preposition.

pre paid (pre'pād'), pt. and pp. of prepay. Send this shipment prepaid. v.

prep a ra tion (prep'ə rā'shən), 1. a preparing; making ready. 2. being ready. 3. thing done to get ready. 4. medicine, food, or other substance made by a special process. n.

pre par a tive (pri par'ə tiv), 1. preparatory.

2. something that helps to prepare. 1 adj., 2 n.

pre par a to ry (pri par'ə tō'rē), 1. of or for preparation; preparing. Preparatory schools fit pupils for college. 2. as an introduction; preliminary. adj.

pre pare (pri pār'), 1. make ready; get ready: Dick prepares his lessons while his mother prepares supper. 2. make by a special process. v., pre pared, pre par ing. —pre par'er, n.

pre par ed ness (pri pār'id nis), 1. being prepared; readiness. 2. having adequate military forces and defenses to meet threats or outbreaks of war. n.

pre pay (prē pā'), 1. pay in advance. 2. pay for in advance. v., pre paid, pre pay ing. —pre pay'ment, n.

pre pense (pri pens'), planned beforehand. adj.

pre pon der ance (pri pon'dər əns), 1. greater number; greater weight; greater power or influence: In July the hot days have the preponderance. 2. being the chief or most important element: the preponderance of oaks in these woods. n.

pre pon der ant (pri pon'dər ənt), 1. weighing more; being stronger or more numerous; having more power or influence. 2. chief; most important: Greed is a miser's preponderant characteristic. adj. —pre pon'der ant ly, adv.

pre pon der ate (pri pon'dər āt), 1. be greater than something else in weight, power, force, influence, number, amount, etc.: Oaks and maples preponderate in our woods. 2. be chief; be most important. 3. be greater than; outweigh. v., pre pon der at ed, pre pon der at ing.

prep o si tion (prep'ə zish'ən), word that shows certain relations between other words. With, for, by, and in are prepositions in the sentence "A man with rugs for sale walked by our house in the morning." n.

prep o si tion al (prep'ə zish'ən l), 1. having to do with a preposition. 2. having the nature or function of a preposition. adj. —prep'o si'tion al ly, adv.

pre pos sess (prē'pə zēs'), 1. fill with a favorable feeling or opinion: We were prepossessed by the boy's modest behavior. 2. fill with a feeling or opinion. v.

pre pos sess ing (prē'pə zēs'ing), making a favorable first impression; attractive; pleasing: Clean clothes and good manners are prepossessing. adj.

pre pos ses sion (prē'pə zesh'ən), bias; prejudice; favorable feeling or opinion formed beforehand: A well-written letter applying for a position will create a prepossession in the writer's favor. n.

pre pos ter ous (pri pos'tər əs), contrary to nature, reason, or common sense; absurd; senseless: It would be preposterous to shovel coal with a teaspoon. adj. —pre-pos'ter ous ly, adv.

pre pu ce (prē'pūs), foreskin. n.

pre re qu i site (prē rek'wə zit), 1. something required beforehand: A high-school course is the usual prerequisite to college work. 2. required beforehand. 1 n., 2 adj.

pre rog a tive (pri rog'ə tiv), 1. right or privilege that nobody else has: The government has the prerogative of coining money. 2. having or exercising a prerogative. 1 n., 2 adj.

Pres., 1. President. 2. Presbyterian.

pres., present.

pres age (pres'ij for 1,3; pri sāj' for 2,4), 1. sign felt as a warning; omen. 2. give warning of; predict: Some people think that a circle around the moon presages a storm. 3. a feeling that something is about to happen. 4. have or give a prophetic impression (of). 1,3 n., 2,4 v., pre saged, pre sag ing.

pres by ter (prez'bə tər), 1. an elder in the early Christian church. 2. in the Presbyterian church, a minister or a lay elder. 3. in the Episcopal church, a minister or a priest. n.

Pres by te ri an (prez'bə tīr'ē ən), 1. being or naming a Protestant denomination or church governed by elected presbyters or elders all of equal rank. 2. of the Presbyterian church. 3. member of the Presbyterian church. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

Pres by te ri an ism (prez'bə tīr'ē ən iz'əm), 1. the system of church government by elders all (including ministers) of equal rank. 2. the beliefs of Presbyterian churches. n.

pres by ter y (prez'bə tər'ē), 1. in the Presbyterian church, a meeting or court of all the ministers and certain of the elders within a district. 2. district under the jurisdiction of such a meeting or court. 3. part of a church set aside for the clergy. n., pl. pres by ter ies.

pre school (prē'skūl'), before the age of going to regular school. adj.

pre sci ence (prē'shē əns), knowledge of things before they exist or happen; foreknowledge; foresight. n.

pre sci ent (prē'shē ənt), knowing beforehand; foreseeing. adj.

pre scribe (pri skrib'), 1. order; direct: Good citizens do what the laws prescribe. 2. order as a remedy or treatment: The doctor prescribed quinine. 3. give medical advice. v., pre scribed, pre scrib ing.

pre scrip tion (pri skrip'shən), 1. order; direction. 2. a written direction for preparing and using a medicine: a prescription for a cough. 3. the medicine. 4. possession or use of a thing long enough to give a right or title to it. 5. the right or title. n.

pre scrip tive (pri skrip'tiv), 1. prescribing. 2. depending on legal prescription. 3. established by long use or custom. adj.

pres ence (prez'ns), 1. fact or condition of being present in a place: I knew of his presence in the other room. 2. place where a person is: The messenger was admitted to my presence. 3. formal attendance upon a person of very high rank: The knight retired from the royal presence. 4. appearance; bearing: a man of noble presence. 5. something present, especially a ghost, spirit, or the like. n.

in the presence of, in the sight or company of.

saving your presence, with an apology for doing or saying this in your presence.

presence of mind, ability to think calmly and quickly when taken by surprise.

pres ent¹ (prez'nt), 1. being in the place or thing in question; at hand, not absent: Every member of the class was present. 2. at this time; being or occurring now: the present ruler, present prices. 3. the present time: At present people need courage. 4. denoting action now going on or a state now existing: Go is the present tense; went is the past tense. 5. the present tense or a verb form in that tense. 1,2,4 adj., 3,5 n.

by these presents, by these words; by this document.

pre sent² (pri zent' for 1,3-10; prez'nt for 2), 1. give: They presented flowers to their teacher. 2. thing given; gift: a Christmas present. 3. offer; offer formally: The servant presented the sandwiches to each guest. 4. bring before the mind; offer for consideration: He presented reasons for his action. 5. offer to view or notice: The new City Hall presents a fine appearance. 6. bring before the public: Our school presented a play. 7. set forth in words: The speaker presented arguments for his side. 8. hand in; send in: The grocer presented his bill. 9. introduce (one person to another); introduce formally: She was presented at court. Miss Smith, may I present Mr. Brown? 10. direct; point; turn: The soldier presented his face to the enemy. 1,3-10 v., 2 n.

present arms, bring a rifle, etc., to a vertical position in front of the body.

present with, furnish with (something as a gift).

pre sent a ble (pri zen'tə bl), 1. fit to be seen. 2. suitable in appearance, dress, manners, etc., for being introduced into society or company. 3. suitable to be offered or given. adj. —pre sent'a bly, adv.

pres en ta tion (prez'n tā'shən or prē'zen tā'shən),
 1. act of giving; delivering: the presentation of a gift.
 2. gift. 3. a bringing forward; offering to be considered: the presentation of a plan. 4. an offering to be seen; showing; exhibition: the presentation of a play. 5. a formal introduction: the presentation of a lady to the queen. n.

pres ent-day (prez'nt dā'), of the present time. adj.

pre sen ti ment (pri zen'tə mēt), a feeling or impression that something is about to happen; vague sense of approaching misfortune; foreboding. n.

pres ent ly (prez'nt lē), 1. before long; soon: The clock will strike presently. 2. at once. adv.

pre sent ment (pri zent'mēt), 1. bringing forward; offering to be considered. 2. showing; offering to be seen. 3. representation on the stage or by a portrait. n.

present participle, participle that expresses time that is now. In "Singing merrily, we turn our steps toward home," singing is a present participle.

present tense, tense that expresses time that is now.

pres er va tion (prez'ər vā'shən), 1. a preserving; keeping safe: Doctors work for the preservation of our health. 2. a being preserved; being kept safe. n.

pre serv a tive (pri zēr'və tiv), 1. any substance that will prevent decay or injury: Paint is a preservative for wood surfaces. Salt is a preservative for meat. 2. that preserves. 1 n., 2 adj.

pre serve (pri zerv'), 1. keep from harm or change; keep safe; protect. 2. keep up; maintain. 3. keep from spoiling: Ice helps to preserve food. 4. prepare (food) to keep it from spoiling. Boiling with sugar, salting, smoking, and pickling are different ways of preserving food. 5. place where wild animals or fish are protected. 1-4 v., pre served, pre serv ing; 5 n.

preserves, fruit cooked with sugar and sealed from the air.

pre serv er (pri zēr'vər), person or thing that saves and protects from danger: a life preserver. n.

pre side (pri zid'), 1. hold the place of authority; have charge of a meeting: Our principal will preside at our election of school officers. 2. have authority; have control: The manager presides over the business of this store. v., pre sid ed, pre sid ing.

pres i den cy (prez'ə dən sē), 1. office of president: Helen was elected to the presidency of the Junior Club. 2. time during which a president is in office. n., pl. pres i den cies.

Pres i den cy (prez'ə dən sē), office or time of office of a President: The United States entered World War I during the Presidency of Woodrow Wilson. n., pl. Pres i den cies.

pres i dent (prez'ə dēt), 1. the highest executive officer of a republic. 2. the chief officer of a company, college, society, club, etc. n.

Pres i dent (prez'ə dēt), 1. the highest executive officer of the United States. 2. the highest executive officer of a republic. n.

pres i dent-e lect (prez'ə dēt i lekt'), president elected but not yet inaugurated. n.

pres i den tial (prez'ə den'shəl), of or belonging to a president or presidency; having to do with a president or presidency: a presidential election, a presidential candidate. adj. —pres'i den'tial ly, adv.

pre sid i um (pri sid'ē əm), a governmental administrative committee in the Soviet Union. n.

press¹ (pres), 1. use force or weight steadily against; push with steady force: Press the button to ring the bell. 2. squeeze; squeeze out: Press all the juice from the oranges. 3. use force steadily. 4. clasp; hug: Mother pressed the baby to her. 5. make smooth; flatten: Press clothes with an iron. 6. a pressing; pressure; push: The press of many duties keeps mother busy. 7. pressed condition. 8. any of various machines for exerting pressure. 9. machine for printing; printing press. 10. establishment for printing books, etc. 11. process or art of printing. 12. newspapers and periodicals and those who write for them: Our school picnic was reported by the press. 13. notice given in newspapers or magazines. 14. push forward; keep pushing: The boy pressed on in spite of the wind. 15. move by pushing steadily (up, down, against, etc.). 16. urge onward; cause to hurry. 17. crowd; throng: The little boy was lost in the press. 18. a pressing forward or together; crowding. 19. urge (a person); keep asking; entreat: Because it was so stormy, we pressed our guest to stay all night. 20. lay stress upon; insist on. 21. constrain; compel; force: The government pressed people into its service. 22. urge for acceptance. 23. harass; oppress; trouble. 24. weigh heavily upon (the mind, a person, etc.). 25. demand prompt action; be urgent. 26. urgency; hurry. 27. cupboard for clothes, books, etc. 1-5, 14-17, 19-25 v., 6-13, 17, 18, 26, 27 n.

go to press, begin to be printed.

press² (pres), 1. force into service, usually naval or military. 2. impressment into service, usually naval or military. 3. order for such impressment. 4. seize and use. 1, 4 v., 2, 3 n.

press agent, agent in charge of publicity for a person, organization, etc.

press ing (pres'ing), requiring immediate action or attention; urgent. adj. —press'ing ly, adv.

press man (pres'mən), man who operates or has charge of a printing press. n., pl. press men.

pres sure (presh'ər), 1. the continued action of a weight or force: The pressure of the wind filled the sails of the boat. 2. force per unit of area: There is a pressure of 20 pounds to the inch on this tire. 3. state of trouble or strain: the pressure of poverty. 4. a compelling force or influence: Pressure was brought to bear on John to make him do better work. 5. need for prompt or decisive action; urgency: the pressure of business. 6. electromotive force. n.

pressure cooker, an airtight apparatus for cooking with steam under pressure.

pressure group, any business, professional, or labor group which attempts to further its interests in the state or national legislatures.

pres sur ize (presh'ər iz), keep the atmospheric pressure inside of the cabin of an airplane at a normal level in spite of the altitude. v., pres sur ized, pres sur iz ing.

press work (pres'wérk'), 1. the working or management of a printing press. 2. work done by a printing press. n.

pres ti dig i ta tion (pres'tə dij'ə tā'shən), sleight of hand. n.

pres ti dig i ta tor (pres'tə dij'ə tā'tər), man skilled in sleight of hand. n.

pres tige (pres tēzh'), reputation, influence, or distinction based on what is known of one's abilities, achievements, opportunities, associations, etc. n.

pres to (pres'tō), 1. quickly. 2. quick. 3. a quick part in a piece of music. 1 adv., 2 adj., 3 n., pl. pres tos.

Prest wick (prest'wik), a major international airport near Glasgow, Scotland. n.

pre sum a ble (pri züm'ə bl), that can be presumed or taken for granted; probable; likely: the presumable time of their arrival. adj.

pre sum a bly (pri züm'ə blē), as may be reasonably supposed; probably. adv.

pre sume (pri züm'), 1. take for granted without proving; suppose: The law presumes innocence until guilt is proved. 2. take upon oneself; venture; dare: May I presume to tell you you are wrong? 3. take an unfair advantage (used with on or upon): Don't presume on a person's good nature by borrowing from him every week. v., pre sum ed, pre sum ing.

pre sum ed ly (pri züm'id lē), as is or may be supposed. adv.

pre sump tion (pri zump'shən), 1. act of presuming. 2. thing taken for granted: Since he had the stolen jewels, the presumption was that he was the thief. 3. cause or reason for presuming; probability. 4. unpleasant boldness: It is presumption to go to a party when one has not been invited. n.

pre sumptive (pri zump'tiv), 1. based on likelihood; presumed. 2. giving ground for presumption or belief: The man's running away was regarded as presumptive evidence of his guilt. adj.

pre sumptive ly (pri zump'tiv lē), by presumption; presumably. adv.

pre sumptu ous (pri zump'chū əs), acting without permission or right; too bold; forward. adj. —pre sumptu ous ly, adv. —pre sumptu ous ness, n.

pre sup pose (prē'səpōz'), 1. take for granted in advance; assume beforehand: Let us presuppose that he wants more money. 2. require as a necessary condition; imply: A fight presupposes fighters. v., pre sup posed, pre sup pos ing.

pre sup po si tion (prē'sup ə zish'ən), 1. a presupposing. 2. thing presupposed: The detective acted upon the presupposition that the thief knew the value of the jewels. n.

pre tence (pri tens' or prē'tens), Esp. Brit. pretense. n.

pre tend (pri tend'), 1. make believe. 2. claim falsely: She pretends to like you, but talks about you behind your back. 3. claim falsely to have: She pretended illness. 4. claim: I don't pretend to be a musician. 5. lay claim: James Stuart pretended to the English throne. 6. venture; attempt; presume: I cannot pretend to judge between them. 7. pretended; make-believe. 1-6 v., 7 adj.

pre tend ed (pri ten'did), claimed falsely; asserted falsely. adj. —pre tend'ed ly, adv.

pre tend er (pri ten'dər), 1. person who pretends. 2. person who makes claims to a throne without just right. n.

pre tense (pri tens' or prē'tens), 1. make-believe; pretending: My anger was all pretense. 2. a false appearance: Under pretense of picking up the handkerchief, she took the money. 3. a false claim: The girls made a pretense of knowing the boys' secret. 4. claim. 5. a showing off; display: Her manner is free from pretense. 6. anything done to show off. n.

pre ten sion (pri ten'shən), 1. claim: The young prince has pretensions to the throne. 2. a putting forward of a claim. 3. doing things for show or to make a fine appearance; showy display. n.

pre ten tious (pri ten'shəs), 1. making claims to excellence or importance: a pretentious person, book, or speech. 2. doing things for show or to make a fine appearance: a pretentious style of entertaining guests. adj. —pre ten'tious ly, adv. —pre ten'tious ness, n.

pret er it or pret er ite (pret'ər it), 1. verb form that expresses occurrence in the past; past tense. Obedied is the preterit of obey; spoke, of speak; and saw, of see. 2. expressing past time. 1 n., 2 adj.

pre ter mit (prē'tər mit'), 1. leave out; omit. 2. let pass without notice. v., pre ter mit ted, pre ter mit ting.

pre ter nat u ral (prē'tər nach'ə rəl), 1. out of the ordinary course of nature; abnormal. 2. due to something above or beyond nature; supernatural. adj. —pre-ter nat'u ral ly, adv.

pre text (prē'tekst), a false reason concealing the real reason; pretense; excuse: He used his sore finger as a pretext for not going to school. n.

Pre to ri a (pri tō'rē ə), administrative capital of the Republic of South Africa, in the NE part. 343,000. n.

pret ti fy (prit'ə fi), Often used disparagingly. make pretty. v., pret ti fied, pret ti fy ing.

pret ty (prit'ē), 1. pleasing (used to describe people and things that are good-looking in a feminine or childish way, dainty, sweet, charming, etc., but not stately, grand, elegant, or very important): a pretty face, a pretty dress, a pretty tune. 2. not at all pleasing: a pretty mess.

3. too dainty or delicate. 4. Archaic. brave; bold; fine. 5. a pretty person or thing. 6. Informal. considerable in amount or extent. 7. fairly; rather: It is pretty late. 1-4, 6 adj., pret tier, pret ti est; 5 n., pl. pret ties; 7 adv. —pret'ti ly, adv. —pret'ti ness, n.

pretty penny, Informal. a large sum of money.

pret zel (pret'sl), a hard biscuit, usually in the form of a knot, salted on the outside. n.

pre vail (pri vāl'), 1. exist in many places; be in general use: That custom still prevails. 2. be the most usual or strongest: Sadness prevailed in our minds. 3. be the stronger; win the victory; succeed: The knights prevailed against their foe. 4. be effective. v.

prevail on, upon, or with, persuade: Can't I prevail upon you to stay for dinner?

pre vail ing (pri vāl'ing), 1. that prevails; having superior force or influence; victorious. 2. in general use; common. adj. —pre vail'ing ly, adv.

prev a lence (prev'ə ləns), widespread occurrence; general use: the prevalence of complaints about the weather. n.

prev a lent (prev'ə lənt), widespread; in general use; common: Colds are prevalent in the winter. adj.

pre var i cate (pri var'ə kāt), turn aside from the truth in speech or act; lie. v., pre var i cat ed, pre var i cat ing.

pre var i ca tion (pri var'ə kā'shən), prevaricating; departure from the truth. n.

pre var i ca tor (pri var'ə kā'tər), person who turns aside from the truth in speech or action. n.

pre vent (pri vent'), 1. keep (from): Illness prevented him from doing his work. 2. keep from happening: Rain prevented the game. 3. hinder: I'll meet you at six if nothing prevents. v. —pre vent'er, n.

pre vent a ble (pri ven'tə bl), that can be prevented. adj.

pre vent i ble (pri ven'tə bl), preventable. adj.

pre ven tion (pri ven'shən), 1. a preventing: the prevention of fire. 2. something that prevents. n.

pre ven tive (pri ven'tiv), 1. that prevents: preventive measures against disease. 2. something that prevents: Vaccination is a preventive against smallpox. 1 adj., 2 n.

pre view (prē'vū'), 1. a previous view, inspection, survey, etc. 2. view beforehand. 3. the advance showing of scenes from a motion picture. 1, 3 n., 2 v.

pre vi ous (prē'vū əs), 1. coming or going before; that came before; earlier: She did better in the previous lesson. 2. Informal. quick. adj.

previous to, before: Previous to her departure she gave a party.

pre vi ous ly (prē'vū əs lē), at a previous time. adv.

pre vi sion (prē vizh'ən), 1. foresight; foreknowledge. 2. prophetic vision or perception: Some prevision warned the explorer of trouble. n.

pre war (prē'wōr'), before the war. adj.

prey (prā), 1. animal hunted or seized for food, especially by another animal: Mice and birds are the prey of cats. 2. habit of hunting and killing other animals for food: Hawks are birds of prey. 3. person or thing injured; victim: be a prey to fear or disease. n.

prey on or upon, 1. hunt or kill for food: Cats prey upon mice. 2. be a strain upon; injure; irritate: Worry preys on her mind. 3. rob; plunder.

Pri am (pri'əm), in Greek mythology, the king of Troy at the time of the Trojan War. n.

price (pris), 1. amount for which a thing is sold or can be bought; the cost to the buyer: The price of this hat is $2.98. 2. put a price on; set the price of. 3. Informal. ask the price of; find out the price of: price a rug. 4. reward offered for the capture of a person alive or dead. 5. what must be given, done, undergone, etc., to obtain a thing: We paid a heavy price for the victory, for we lost ten thousand soldiers. 6. value; worth. 1-4, 6 n., 2, 3 v., priced, pric ing.

at any price, at any cost, no matter how great.
beyond or without price, so valuable that it cannot be bought.

price less (prɪs'lis), beyond price; extremely valuable. adj. —price/less ness, n.

prick (prɪk), 1. a sharp point. 2. a little hole or mark made by a sharp point. 3. make a little hole in with a sharp point: I pricked the map with a pin to show our route. 4. mark with a sharp point. 5. a pricking. 6. a sharp pain. 7. cause sharp pain to: The cat pricked me with its claws. 8. cause or feel a sharp pain. 9. Archaic. spur; urge on. 10. Archaic. ride fast. 1,2,5,6 n., 3,4, 7-10 v. —prick'er, n.

kick against the pricks, make useless resistance that only hurts oneself.

prick up, point upward.

prick up the ears, 1. point the ears upward. 2. give sudden attention. 3. listen carefully.

prick le (prɪk'l), 1. a small, sharp point; thorn; spine. 2. feel a prickly or smarting sensation: Her skin prickled when she saw the big snake. 3. such a sensation. 4. cause such a sensation in. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., prick led, prick ling.

prick ly (prɪk'lē), 1. having many sharp points like thorns: a prickly rosebush, the prickly porcupine. 2. sharp and stinging; itching: Heat sometimes causes a prickly rash on the skin. adj., prick li er, prick li est. —prick/-li ness, n.

prickly heat, a red, itching rash on the skin caused by inflammation of the sweat glands.

prickly pear, 1. a pear-shaped, edible fruit of a certain kind of cactus. 2. plant that it grows on.

pride (praɪd), 1. a high opinion of one's own worth or possessions: Pride in our city should make us help to keep it clean. 2. pleasure or satisfaction in something concerned with oneself. 3. something that one is proud of: Her youngest child is her great pride. 4. too high an opinion of oneself. 5. acting as if better than others; scorn of others. 6. the best part; most flourishing period: in the pride of manhood. 7. Pride oneself on means be proud of: We pride ourselves on our clean streets. 1-6 n., 7 v., prid ed, prid ing.

pride ful (praɪd'fʊl), proud. —pride/ful ly, adv.

priest (priɛst), 1. a special servant of a god, who performs certain public religious acts. 2. clergyman or minister of a Christian church. 3. clergyman authorized to administer the sacraments and pronounce absolution. n.

priest ess (priɛs'tis), woman who serves at an altar or in sacred rites. n.

priest hood (priɛst'hʊd), 1. position or rank of priest: He was admitted to the priesthood. 2. priests as a group: the priesthood of Spain. n.

priest ly (priɛst'lē), 1. of or having to do with a priest. 2. like a priest; suitable for a priest. adj., priest li er, priest li est.

prig (prɪg), person who is too particular about speech and manners, and prides himself on being better than others. n.

prig ger y (prɪg'ər ē), conduct or character of a prig. n., pl. prig ger ies.

prig gish (prɪg'ɪʃ), too particular about doing right in things that show outwardly; priding oneself on being better than others. adj. —prig/gish ness, n.

prim (praɪm), stiffly precise, neat, proper, or formal. adj., prim mer, prim mest. —prim/ly, adv. —prim/-ness, n.

pri ma cy (praɪ'mə sē), 1. being first in order, rank, importance, etc. 2. position or rank of a church prime. 3. in the Roman Catholic Church, the supreme power of the Pope. n., pl. pri ma cies.

pri ma don na (praɪ'mə don'ə), the principal woman singer in an opera. pl. pri ma don nas.

pri ma fa cie (praɪ'mə fā'shē), at first view; before investigation.

pri mal (praɪ'ml), 1. of early times; first; primeval. 2. chief; fundamental. adj. —pri/mal ly, adv.

pri ma ri ly (praɪ'mər'ə lē or praɪ mār'ə lē), 1. chiefly; principally: Napoleon was primarily a general. 2. at first; originally. adv.

pri ma ry (praɪ'mər'ē), 1. first in time; first in order. 2. anything that is first in order, rank, or importance. 3. from which others have come; original; fundamental. 4. a primary color. 5. first in importance; chief: Good health and character are primary. 6. U.S. a meeting or gathering of the voters of a political party in an election district to choose candidates for office. Primaries are held before the regular election. 7. noting or having to do with the inducing circuit, coil, or current in an induction coil or the like. 8. a primary coil or circuit. 1,3,5,7 adj., 2,4,6,8 n., pl. pri mar ies.

primary accent, 1. the strongest accent in the pronunciation of a word. 2. mark (ˈ) used to show this.

primary colors, pigments or colors that are, or are thought to be, fundamental. Red, yellow, and blue are the primary colors in pigments.

primary election, election to choose candidates for office from a certain political party.

primary school, the first three or four grades of the elementary school.

pri mate (praɪ'mit or praɪ'māt), 1. archbishop or bishop ranking above all other bishops in a country or church province. 2. any of the highest order of mammals, including human beings, apes, and monkeys. n.

prime¹ (praɪm), 1. first in rank; chief: His prime object was to lower the tax rate. 2. first in time or order; fundamental. 3. first in quality; first-rate; excellent: prime ribs of beef. 4. the best time; best condition: A man of forty is in the prime of life. 5. the best part. 6. the first part; beginning. 7. springtime. 8. early manhood or womanhood; youth. 9. the second of the seven canonical hours, or the service for it, originally fixed for the first hour of the day (beginning at 6 A.M.). 10. that cannot be divided without a remainder by any whole number except itself and 1: 7, 11, and 13 are prime numbers. 11. having no common divisor but 1: 2 is prime to 9. 12. a prime number. 13. one of the sixty minutes in a degree. 14. the mark (') indicating such a part. 1-3,10,11 adj., 4-9,12-14 n. —prime/ness, n.

prime² (praɪm), 1. prepare by putting something in or on. 2. supply (a gun) with powder. 3. prime a firearm. 4. cover (a surface) with a first coat of paint or oil so that paint will not soak in. 5. equip (a person) with information, words, etc. 6. pour water into (a pump) to start action. v., primed, prim ing.

prime meridian, meridian from which the longitude east and west is measured. It passes through Greenwich, England, and its longitude is 0°.

prime minister, the chief minister of a government. He is the head of the cabinet.

prime number, number that cannot be divided without a remainder by any whole number except itself and 1: 2, 3, 5, 7, 11, and 13 are prime numbers.

prim er¹ (praɪm'ər), 1. a first book in reading. 2. a first book; beginner's book. n.

prim er² (praɪm'ər), 1. person or thing that primes. 2. cap or cylinder containing a little gunpowder, used for firing a charge. n.

pri me val (praɪ mē'vl), 1. of or having to do with the first age or ages, especially of the world: In its primeval state the earth was a fiery glowing ball. 2. ancient: primeval forests untouched by the ax. adj. —pri me/-val ly, adv.

prim ing (praɪm'ing), 1. powder or other material used to set fire to an explosive. 2. a first coat of paint, sizing, etc. n.

prim i tive (praɪm'ə tiv), 1. of early times; of long ago: Primitive people often lived in caves. 2. first of the kind: primitive Christians. 3. very simple; such as people had early in human history: A primitive way of making fire is by rubbing two sticks together. 4. original; primary. 5. artist belonging to an early period, especially before the Renaissance. 6. picture by such an artist. 1-4 adj., 5,6 n. —prim/i tive ly, adv.

primogenitor (prīm'jən'ə tər), 1. ancestor; forefather. 2. the earliest ancestor. n.

primogeniture (prīm'jən'ə chūr or prīm'jən'ə chər), 1. state, condition, or fact of being the first-born of the children of the same parents. 2. right or principle of inheritance or succession by the first-born, especially the inheritance of a family estate by the eldest son. n.

primordial (prīmôr'dē əl), 1. existing at the very beginning; primitive. 2. original; elementary. adj.

primp (primp), 1. dress (oneself) for show; prink. 2. dress carefully. v.

primrose (prīm'rōz'), 1. any of a large group of plants with flowers of various colors. The common primrose of Europe is pale yellow. 2. the flower. 3. pale yellow. 4. of or like a primrose; gay; pleasant. 1-3 n., 3,4 adj.

primrose path, a pleasant way; path of pleasure.

prin., principal.

prince (prins), 1. a male member of a royal family; especially, in Great Britain, a son or grandson of a king or queen. 2. sovereign. 3. ruler of a small state subordinate to a king or emperor. 4. the English equivalent of certain titles of nobility of varying importance or rank in other countries. 5. the greatest or best of a group; chief: a merchant prince. n.

prince consort, prince who is the husband of a queen or empress ruling in her own right.

prince dom (prins'dəm), 1. the territory ruled by a prince. 2. the position, rank, or dignity of a prince. n.

Prince Edward Island, province of Canada on an island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, just north of Nova Scotia. 103,000 pop.; 2184 sq. mi. Capital: Charlottetown. Abbrev.: P.E.I.

prince ling (prins'ling), a young, little, or petty prince. n.

prince ly (prins'lē), 1. of a prince or his rank; royal. 2. like a prince; noble. 3. fit for a prince; magnificent. adj., prince li er, prince li est. —prince'li ness, n.

Prince of Darkness, the Devil; Satan.

prince of the blood, prince of a royal family.

Prince of Wales, title conferred on the eldest son, or heir apparent, of the British sovereign.

prince royal, the oldest son of a king or queen.

prin cess (prin'ses or prin'sis), 1. daughter of a king or queen; daughter of a king's or queen's son. 2. wife or widow of a prince. 3. woman having the rank of a prince. n.

princess royal, the oldest daughter of a king or queen.

prin ci pal (prin'sə pl), 1. most important; main; chief: Chicago is the principal city of Illinois. 2. a chief person; one who gives orders. 3. the head, or one of the heads, of a primary or secondary school. 4. sum of money on which interest is paid. 5. money or property from which income is received. 6. person who hires another person to act for him: Smith does the business of renting the houses for Mr. Jones, his principal. 7. person directly responsible for a crime. 8. person responsible for the payment of a debt that another person has endorsed. 1 adj., 2-8 n.

prin ci pal i ty (prin'sə pal'ə tē), 1. a small state or country ruled by a prince. 2. country from which a prince gets his title. 3. supreme power. n., pl. prin ci pal i ties.

prin ci pal ly (prin'sə pl ē), for the most part; above all; chiefly. adv.

principal parts, the main parts of a verb, from which the rest can be derived. In English the principal parts are the present infinitive, past tense or preterit, and past participle. Examples: go, went, gone; do, did, done; drive, drove, driven; push, pushed, pushed.

prin ci pal ship (prin'sə pl ship'), position or office of a principal. n.

prin ci ple (prin'sə pl), 1. truth that is a foundation for other truths: the principles of democratic government. 2. a fundamental belief: religious principles. 3. rule of action or conduct: I make it a principle to save some money each week. 4. uprightness; honor: Washington was a man of principle. 5. rule of science explaining how things act: the principle by which a machine works. 6. method of operation. 7. source; origin; first cause or force. 8. one of the elements that compose a substance, especially one that gives some special quality or effect: the bitter principle in a drug. n.

in principle, as regards the general truth or rule.

on principle, 1. according to a certain principle. 2. for reasons of right conduct.

prink (prink), 1. dress (oneself) for show. 2. fuss over one's appearance. v. —prink'er, n.

print (print), 1. use type, blocks, plates, etc., and ink or dye to stamp (words, pictures, designs, etc.) on paper or the like: Who prints this newspaper? 2. stamp letters, words, etc., on with type, etc., and ink. 3. cause to be printed; publish: to print books. 4. produce books, newspapers, etc., by printing press. 5. printed words, letters, etc.: This book has clear print. 6. printed condition. 7. printed publication; newspaper or magazine. 8. edition or impression of a book, etc., made at one time. 9. make (words or letters) the way they look in print instead of in writing. 10. make with such letters: Print your name clearly. 11. stamp with designs, patterns, pictures, etc.: Machines print wallpaper, cloth, etc. 12. picture or design printed from a block or plate. 13. cloth with a pattern printed on it: Amy has two dresses made of print. 14. a mark made by pressing or stamping: the print of a foot. 15. stamp; produce (marks or figures) by pressure; impress. 16. something that prints; stamp; die. 17. something that has been marked or shaped by pressing or stamping: a print of butter. 18. fix: The scene is printed on my memory. 19. take impression from type, etc. 20. photograph produced from a negative. 21. produce photograph by transmission of light through a negative. 1-4,9-11,15,18,19,21 v., 5-8,12-14,16,17,20 n.

in print, 1. in printed form. 2. of books, etc., still available for purchase from the publisher.

out of print, no longer sold by the publisher.

print a ble (prin'tə bl), 1. capable of being printed. 2. capable of being printed from. 3. fit to be printed. adj.

print er (prin'tər), person whose business or work is printing or setting type. n.

printer's devil, a young helper or errand boy in a printing shop.

print ing (prin'ting), 1. the producing of books, newspapers, etc., by impression from movable types, plates, etc. 2. printed words, letters, etc. 3. all the copies printed at one time. 4. letters made like those in print. n.

printing press, machine for printing from types, plates, etc.

pri or¹ (pri'ər), coming before; earlier: I can't go with you because I have a prior engagement. adj.

prior to, coming before in time, order, or importance; earlier than; before.

pri or² (pri'ər), head of a priory or monastery for men. Priors usually rank below abbots. n.

pri or ess (pri'ər is), head of a convent or priory for women. Prioresses usually rank below abbesses. n.

pri or i ty (pri'ər'ə tē), 1. being earlier in time: The priority of the visit of the Norsemen to America has been established. 2. a coming before in order or importance: Fire engines and ambulances have priority over other traffic. 3. U.S. a governmental rating giving right of way to persons or things important in national defense, essential affairs of state, etc., in order of importance. n., pl. pri or i ties.

priory (pri'ə-rē), a religious house governed by a prior or prioress. A priory is often, but not necessarily, dependent on an abbey. n., pl. priories.

Priscilla (pri sil'ə), the heroine of Longfellow's poem The Courtship of Miles Standish. n.

prism (priz'm), 1. solid whose bases or ends have the same size and shape and are parallel to one another, and each of whose sides has two pairs of parallel edges. A six-sided pencil before it is sharpened has the shape of one kind of prism. 2. a transparent prism, usually with three-sided ends, that separates white light passing through it into the colors of the rainbow. n.

prismatic (priz mat'ik), 1. of or like a prism. 2. formed by a transparent prism. 3. varied in color. adj.

prismatically (priz mat'ik lē), by, or as if by, a prism. adv.

prismatic colors, colors formed when white light is passed through a prism; red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo, and violet. These are the colors of the rainbow.

prison (priz'n), 1. a public building in which criminals are confined: Lawbreakers are confined in prison. 2. any place where a person is shut up against his will: The small apartment was a prison to the big dog and he longed to be back on the farm. 3. imprison. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

prisoner (priz'n ə-r), 1. person who is kept shut up against his will or who is not free to move. 2. person taken by the enemy in war. 3. person arrested and held for trial. n.

prissy (pris'ē), U.S. Informal. 1. too precise and fussy. 2. too easily shocked; overnice. adj., prissy, prissy est.

pristine (pris'tēn), as it was in its earliest time or state; original; primitive: The colors of the paintings inside the pyramid had kept their pristine freshness in spite of their age. adj.

prithy (priθ'ē), Archaic. I pray thee: Prithy, come hither. interj.

privacy (pri'və sē), 1. condition of being private; being away from others. 2. absence of publicity; secrecy: He told me his reasons in strict privacy. n., pl. privacies.

private (pri'vit), 1. not for the public; for just a few special people or for one: a private car, a private house, a private letter. 2. not public; individual; personal: the private life of a king, my private opinion. 3. secret; confidential: a private pocket. 4. secluded: some private corner. 5. having no public office: a private citizen. 6. soldier or marine of the lowest rank: John's brother was promoted from private to corporal last week. 1-5 adj., 6 n. —private ly, adv. —private ness, n.

in private, 1. not publicly. 2. secretly.

private enterprise. See enterprise.

privateer (pri'və tir'), 1. an armed ship owned by private persons and holding a government commission to attack and capture enemy ships. 2. commander or one of the crew of a privateer. 3. cruise as a privateer. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

privateersman (pri'və tirz'mən), officer or sailor of a privateer. n., pl. privateersmen.

privation (pri vā'shon), 1. lack of the comforts or of the necessities of life: Many children died because of privation during the war. 2. loss; absence; being deprived. n.

privet (priv'it), any of several shrubs with small leaves, much used for hedges. Some are evergreen. n.

privilege (priv'l ij), 1. a special right, advantage, or favor: Mr. Jones has given us the privilege of using his television set. 2. give a privilege to: The nobility in Europe was a privileged class. 1 n., 2 v., privileged, privileging.

privily (priv'l ē), in a private manner; secretly. adv.

privy (priv'ē), 1. private. 2. Archaic. secret; hidden. 3. a small outhouse used as a toilet. 1, 2 adj., 3 n., pl. privies.

privy to, having secret or private knowledge of.

privy council, group of personal advisers to a ruler.

privy seal, in Great Britain, the seal affixed to grants, etc., that are afterwards to receive the great seal, and to documents that do not require the great seal.

prize (priz), 1. reward won after trying against other people: Prizes will be given for the three best stories. 2. given as a prize. 3. that has won a prize. 4. worthy of a prize: prize vegetables. 5. reward worth working for. 1, 5 n., 2-4 adj.

prizee (priz), thing or person that is taken or captured, especially an enemy's ship and its cargo taken at sea. n.

prize (priz), 1. value highly: She prizes her best china. 2. estimate the value of. v., prized, prizing.

prize court, a court that makes decisions concerning ships and other property captured at sea during a war.

prize fight, fight with fists which people pay money to see.

prize fighter, man who fights or boxes for money.

prize fighting, boxing for pay.

prize money, money obtained by the sale of ships and other property captured at sea in the course of a war, sometimes divided among those who made the capture.

prize ring, 1. a square space enclosed by ropes, used for prize fights. 2. prize fighting.

pro (prō), 1. in favor of; for. 2. reason in favor of. The pros and cons of a question are the arguments for and against it. 1 adv., 2 n., pl. pros.

pro (prō), Informal. professional. n., pl. pros; adj.

pro-, prefix meaning:

1. forward, as in proceed, project.

2. forth; out, as in prolong, proclaim.

3. on the side of; in favor of; in behalf of, as in pro-British, pro-slavery.

4. in place of; acting as, as in pronoun, proconsul.

probability (prob'ə bil'ə tē), 1. quality or fact of being likely or probable; chance: There is a probability that school will close a week earlier than usual. 2. something likely to happen: A storm is one of the probabilities for tomorrow. n., pl. probabilities.

in all probability, probably.

probable (prob'ə bl), 1. likely to happen: Cooler weather is probable after this shower. 2. likely to be true: Something he ate is the probable cause of his pain. adj.

probably (prob'ə blē), more likely than not. adv.

probate (prō'bāt), 1. in law, the official proving of a will as genuine. 2. of or concerned with the probating of wills: a probate court. 3. prove by legal process the genuineness of (a will). 4. a true copy of a will with a certificate that it has been proved genuine. 1, 4 n., 2 adj., 3 v., probated, probating.

probation (prō bā'shan), 1. trial or testing of conduct, character, qualifications, etc.: Bill was admitted to the sixth grade on probation. After a period of probation a novice becomes a nun. 2. system of letting young offenders against the law, or first offenders, go free without receiving the punishment which they are sentenced to unless there is a further offense. n.

probationary (prō bā'shan er'ē), 1. of or having to do with probation. 2. on probation. adj.

probationer (prō bā'shan ə-r), person who is on probation. n.

probation officer, officer appointed to supervise offenders who have been placed on probation.

probative (prō'bə tiv), 1. giving proof or evidence. 2. for a trial or test. adj.

probe (prōb), 1. search into; examine thoroughly; investigate: probe one's thoughts or feelings to find out why one acted as one did. 2. search; penetrate: probe into the causes of crime. 3. a thorough examination; investigation. 4. U.S. investigation, usually by a legislative body, in an effort to discover evidences of law violation.

5. a slender instrument with a rounded end for exploring the depth or direction of a wound, a cavity in the body, etc. 6. examine with a probe. 1,2,6 v., probed, probing; 3-5 n.

pro bi ty (prō'bē tē), uprightness; honesty; high principle. n.

problem (prōb'ləm), 1. question; difficult question. 2. matter of doubt or difficulty. 3. something to be worked out: a problem in arithmetic. 4. that causes difficulty: a problem child. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

problem at ic (prōb'ləm at'ik), having the nature of a problem; doubtful; uncertain; questionable: What the weather will be is often problematic. adj. —prob-lem at'i cal ly, adv.

problem at i cal (prōb'ləm at'ə kl), problematic. adj.

pro bo no pub li co (prō bō'nō pub'lə kō), Latin. for the public welfare.

pro bos cis (prō bos'is), 1. an elephant's trunk. 2. a long, flexible snout. 3. the mouth parts of some insects, developed to great length for sucking: the proboscis of a fly or a mosquito. 4. Humorous, a person's nose. n., pl. pro-bos cis es.

pro ce dure (prə sē'djər), 1. way of proceeding; method of doing things: What is your procedure in making bread? 2. the customary manners or ways of conducting business: parliamentary procedure, legal procedure. n.

pro ceed (prə sēd'), 1. go on after having stopped; move forward: Please proceed with your story. 2. be carried on; take place: The trial may proceed. 3. carry on any activity: He proceeded to light his pipe. 4. come forth; issue; go out; emanate: Heat proceeds from fire. 5. begin and carry on an action at law. v. —pro-ceed'er, n.

pro ceed ing (prə sēd'ing), action; conduct; what is done. n.

pro ceed ings, 1. action in a case in a law court. 2. record of what was done at the meetings of a society, club, etc.

pro ceeds (prō'sēdz), money obtained from a sale, etc.: The proceeds from the school play will be used to buy a new curtain for the stage. n.pl.

pro cess (pros'es or prō'ses), 1. set of actions or changes in a special order: By what process or processes is cloth made from wool? 2. treat or prepare by some special method: This cloth has been processed to make it waterproof. 3. treated or prepared by some special method. 4. part that grows out or sticks out: the process of a bone. 5. a written command or summons to appear in a law court. 6. start legal action against. 1,4,5 n., 2,6 v., 3 adj.

in process, 1. in the course or condition: In process of time the house will be finished. 2. in the course or condition of being done: The author has just finished one book and has another in process.

processing tax, a federal tax placed on processes involved in handling certain commodities, especially agricultural commodities.

pro ces sion (prə sesh'an), 1. something that moves forward; persons marching or riding: A funeral procession filled the street. 2. an orderly moving forward: We formed lines to march in procession onto the platform. n.

pro ces sion al (prə sesh'an l), 1. of a procession. 2. used or sung in a procession. 3. processional music: The choir and clergy marched into the church singing the processional. 4. book containing hymns, etc., for use in religious processions. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

pro claim (prə klām'), make known publicly and officially; declare publicly: War was proclaimed. The people proclaimed him king. v.

Head of a type of monkey that has a proboscis proc la ma tion (prōklə mā'shən), an official announcement; public declaration: the President's annual Thanksgiving proclamation. n.

pro cliv i ty (prō kliv'ə tē), tendency; inclination. n., pl. pro cliv i ties.

pro con sul (prō kon'sl), governor or military commander of an ancient Roman province with duties and powers like a consul's. n.

pro cras ti nate (prō kras'tə nāt), put things off until later; delay; delay repeatedly. v., pro cras ti nated, pro cras ti nat ing. —pro cras'ti na'tor, n.

pro cras ti na tion (prō kras'tə nā'shən), act or habit of putting things off till later; delay. n.

pro cre ate (prō'krē āt), 1. become father to; beget. 2. produce offspring. 3. bring into being; produce. v., pro cre at ed, pro cre at ing.

pro cre a tion (prō'krē ā'shən), 1. a begetting; becoming a father. 2. production. n.

Pro crust es (prō krus'tēz), in Greek legend, a robber who stretched his victims or cut off their legs to make them fit the length of his bed. n.

proc tor (prōk'tər), 1. official in a university or school who keeps order. 2. person employed to manage another's case in a law court. n.

proc to ri al (prō tō'rē əl), of or having to do with a proctor. adj.

pro cum bent (prō kum'bənt), lying face down; prone; prostrate. adj.

pro cu ra tor (prōk'yə rā'tər), 1. person employed to manage the affairs of another; person authorized to act for another; agent. 2. a financial agent or administrator of an imperial Roman province. n.

pro cure (prə kyūr'), 1. obtain by care or effort; get: A friend procured a position in the bank for my big brother. 2. bring about; cause: procure a person's death. v., pro cured, pro cur ing. —pro cur'a ble, adj.

pro cure ment (prə kyūr'mənt), a procuring. n.

prod (prod), 1. poke or jab with something pointed: prod an animal with a stick. 2. stir up; urge on: prod a lazy boy to action by threats and entreaties. 3. poke; thrust: That prod in the ribs hurt. 4. a sharp-pointed stick; goad. 1,2 v., prod ded, prod ding; 3,4 n. —prod'der, n.

prod i gal (prod'ə gl), 1. spending too much; wasting money or other resources; wasteful: America has been prodigal of its forests. 2. abundant; lavish. 3. person who is wasteful or extravagant; spendthrift. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —prod'i gal ly, adv.

prod i gal i ty (prod'ə gal'ə tē), 1. wasteful or reckless extravagance. 2. rich abundance; profuseness. n., pl. prod i gal i ties.

pro di gious (prə dij'əs), 1. very great; huge; vast: The ocean contains a prodigious amount of water. 2. wonderful; marvelous. adj. —pro di'gious ly, adv. —pro di'gious ness, n.

prod i gy (prod'ə jē), 1. marvel; wonder. An infant prodigy is a child remarkably brilliant in some respect. 2. a marvelous example: The warriors performed prodigies of valor. 3. Rare, a wonderful sign or omen: An eclipse of the sun seemed a prodigy to early man. n., pl. prod i gies.

pro duce (prə dūs' or prā dūs' for 1-6; prod'ūs, prod'ūs, prō'dūs, or prō'dūs for 7), 1. make; bring into existence: This factory produces stoves. 2. bring about; cause: Hard work produces success. 3. bring forth or yield offspring, crops, products, dividends, interest, etc. 4. bring forth; supply; create: Hens produce eggs. 5. bring forward; show: Produce your proof. 6. bring (a play, etc.) before the public. 7. what is produced; yield: Vegetables are a garden's produce. 1-6 v., pro-duced, pro duc ing; 7 n.

pro duc er (prə dūs'ər or prə dūs'ər), 1. one that produces. 2. person who grows or makes things that are to be used or consumed by others. 3. one who has general charge of the production of motion pictures, plays, etc. n.

pro duc i ble (prə dūs'ə bl or prə dūs'ə bl), capable of being produced. adj.

prod uct (prɒd'əkt), 1. that which is produced; result of work or of growth: factory products, farm products. 2. number or quantity resulting from multiplying: $40 is the product of $8 by 5. n.

pro duc tion (prə duk'shən), 1. act of producing; creation; manufacture: His business is the production of automobiles. 2. something that is produced: That worthless book is the production of an ignorant author. n.

pro duc tive (prə duk'tiv), 1. producing; bringing forth: fields now productive only of weeds, hasty words that are productive of quarrels. 2. producing food or other articles of commerce: Farming is productive labor. 3. producing abundantly; fertile: a productive farm, writer, etc. adj. —pro duc'tive ly, adv. —pro duc'tive-ness, n.

pro duc tiv i ty (prɒ'duk tiv'ə tē), power to produce; productiveness. n.

pro em (prɒ'em), introduction; preface. n.

prof (prɒf), Informal. professor. n.

Prof. or prof., professor.

prof a na tion (prɒf'ə nā'shən), act of showing contempt or disregard toward something holy; mistreatment of something sacred. n.

pro fane (prə fān'), 1. not sacred; worldly: profane literature. 2. with contempt or disregard for God or holy things: profane language. 3. treat (holy things) with contempt or disregard: Soldiers profaned the church when they stabled their horses in it. 4. put to wrong or unworthy use. 1,2 adj., 3,4 v., pro faned, pro fan ing. —pro fane'ly, adv. —pro fane'ness, n.

pro fan i ty (prə fān'ə tē), 1. use of profane language; swearing. 2. being profane; lack of reverence. n., pl. pro fan i ties.

pro fess (prə fes'), 1. lay claim to; claim: He professed the greatest respect for the law. I don't profess to be an expert. 2. declare openly: He professed his loyalty to the United States. 3. declare one's belief in: Christians profess Christ and the Christian religion. 4. have as one's profession or business: profess law. v.

pro fessed (prə fest'), 1. alleged; pretended. 2. avowed or acknowledged; openly declared. 3. having taken the vows of, or been received into, a religious order. adj.

pro fessed ly (prə fes'id lē), 1. avowedly. 2. ostensibly. adv.

pro fes sion (prə fesh'ən), 1. occupation requiring an education; especially, law, medicine, teaching, or the ministry. 2. people engaged in such an occupation: The medical profession favors this law. 3. act of professing; open declaration: a profession of friendship. 4. declaration of belief in a religion. 5. religion or faith professed. 6. taking the vows and entering a religious order. n.

pro fes sion al (prə fesh'ən l), 1. of or having to do with a profession; appropriate to a profession: Dr. Smith has a professional gravity very unlike his ordinary joking manner. 2. engaged in a profession: A lawyer or a doctor is a professional man. 3. making a business or trade of something that others do for pleasure: a professional ballplayer. 4. person who does this. 5. undertaken or engaged in by professionals rather than amateurs: a professional ball game. 6. making a business of something not properly to be regarded as a business: a professional politician. 1-3,5,6 adj., 4 n.

pro fes sion al ism (prə fesh'ən l iz'əm), 1. professional character, spirit, or methods. 2. the standing, practice, or methods of a professional, as distinguished from those of an amateur. n.

pro fes sion al ly (prə fesh'ən l ē), in a professional manner; in professional matters; because of one's profession. adv.

pro fes sor (prə fes'ər), 1. teacher of the highest rank in a college or university. 2. Informal. teacher. 3. person who professes. 4. person who declares his belief in a religion. n.

pro fes so ri al (prɒf'ə sɔ'rē əl or prɒf'ə sɔ'rē əl), of, having to do with, or characteristic of a professor. adj. —pro fes so'ri al ly, adv.

pro fes sor ship (prə fes'ər ship), position or rank of a professor. n.

prof fer (prɒf'ər), 1. offer; offer for acceptance: We proffered regrets at having to leave so early. 2. an offer made: His proffer of advice was accepted. 1 v., 2 n.

pro fi cien cy (prə fish'ən sē), being proficient; knowledge; skill; expertness. n., pl. pro fi cien cies.

pro fi cient (prə fish'ənt), 1. advanced in any art, science, or subject; skilled; expert: She was very proficient in music. 2. an expert. 1 adj., 2 n. —pro-fi'cient ly, adv.

pro file (prɒ'fil), 1. a side view. 2. outline. 3. a drawing of a transverse vertical section of a building, bridge, etc. 4. draw a profile of. 5. a concise description of a person's abilities, personality, or career. 1-3,5 n., 4 v., pro filed, pro fil ing.

prof it (prɒf'it), 1. gain from a business; what is left when the cost of goods and of carrying on the business is subtracted from the amount of money taken in: The profits in this business are not large. 2. make such a gain; make a profit. 3. advantage; benefit: What profit is there in worrying? 4. get advantage; gain; benefit: A wise person profits by his mistakes. 5. be an advantage or benefit (to). 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v. —prof'it less, adj.

prof it a ble (prɒf'ə tə bl), 1. yielding a financial profit: The sale held by the Girl Scouts was very profitable.

2. giving a gain or benefit; useful: We spent a profitable afternoon in the library. adj. —prof'it a ble ness, n.

prof it a bly (prɒf'ə tə blē), with profit. adv.

prof it eer (prɒf'ə tir'), 1. person who makes an unfair profit by taking advantage of public necessity. 2. seek or make excessive profits by taking advantage of public necessity. 1 n., 2 v.

profit sharing, the sharing of profits between employer and employees.

prof li ga cy (prɒf'lə gə sē), 1. great wickedness; vice. 2. reckless extravagance. n.

prof li gate (prɒf'lə git), 1. very wicked; shamelessly bad. 2. recklessly extravagant. 3. person who is very wicked or extravagant. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —prof'li gate-ly, adv.

pro found (prə found'), 1. very deep: a profound sigh, a profound sleep. 2. deeply felt; very great: profound despair, profound sympathy. 3. going far deeper than what is easily understood; having or showing great knowledge or understanding: a profound book, a profound thinker, a profound thought. 4. low; carried far down; going far down: a profound bow. adj. —pro-found'ly, adv. —pro found'ness, n.

pro fun di ty (prə fun'də tē), 1. being profound; great depth. 2. a very deep thing or place. n., pl. pro fun-di ties.

pro fuse (prə fūs'), 1. very abundant: profuse thanks. 2. spending or giving freely; lavish; extravagant: He was so profuse with his money that he is now poor. adj. —pro fuse'ly, adv. —pro fuse'ness, n.

pro fu sion (prə fū'zhən), 1. great abundance. 2. extravagance; lavishness. n.

pro gen i tor (prɒ jen'ə tər), ancestor in the direct line; forefather. n.

prog e ny (prɒj'ə nē), children; offspring; descendants: Kittens are a cat's progeny. n., pl. prog e nies.

prog na thous (prɒg'nə θəs), (of a skull or a person) having the jaws protruding beyond the upper part of the face. adj.

prog no sis (prɒg nō'sis), 1. forecast of the probable course of a disease. 2. estimate of what will probably happen. n., pl. prog no ses (-sēz).

Profile (def. 1)
of Lincoln

prog nos tic (prog nos'tik), 1. indicating something in the future. 2. indication; sign. 3. forecast; prediction. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

prog nos ti cate (prog nos'tə kāt), predict from facts; forecast. v., prog nos ti cat ed, prog nos ti cat ing. —prog nos ti ca'tion, n. —prog nos ti ca'tor, n.

pro gram or pro gram me (prō'gram), 1. list of items or events; list of performers, etc.: a theater program. 2. items composing an entertainment: The entire program was delightful. 3. plan of what is to be done: a school program, a business program, a government program. 4. set of instructions for an electronic computer or other automatic machine in a specific operation. 5. arrange or enter in a program. 6. draw up a program or plan for. 7. prepare a set of instructions for (a computer or other automatic machine). 1-4 n., 5-7 v., pro gram med, pro gram ming.

pro gress (prog'res for 1, 3; prəgres' for 2, 4), 1. advance; growth; development; improvement: the progress of science. 2. get better; advance; develop: We progress in learning step by step. 3. a moving forward; going ahead: make rapid progress on a journey. 4. move forward; go ahead: The war has progressed some time. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v.

pro gres sion (prə gresh'ən), 1. a moving forward; going ahead: Creeping is a slow method of progression. 2. in mathematics, a succession of quantities in which there is always the same relation between each quantity and the one succeeding it. 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 are in arithmetical progression. 2, 4, 8, 16 are in geometrical progression. n.

pro gres sive (prə gres'iv), 1. making progress; advancing to something better; improving: a progressive nation. 2. favoring progress; wanting improvement or reform in government, business, etc. 3. one who favors progress. 4. moving forward; going ahead. 5. going from one to the next; involving shifts of players or guests from one table to another. 6. showing the action as going on. Is reading, was reading, and has been reading are progressive forms of read. 1, 2, 4-6 adj., 3 n. —pro gres'sive ly, adv. —pro gres'sive ness, n.

pro hib it (prō hib'it), 1. forbid by law or authority: Picking flowers in this park is prohibited. 2. prevent. v.

pro hi bi tion (prō'ə bish'ən), 1. act of prohibiting or forbidding: The prohibition of swimming in the city's reservoirs is sensible. 2. law or order that prohibits. 3. law or laws against making or selling alcoholic liquors. n.

pro hi bi tion ist (prō'ə bish'ən ist), one who favors laws against the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors. n.

pro hib i tive (prō hib'ə tiv), prohibiting; preventing: Gold would make excellent roofs, if the price were not prohibitive. adj.

pro hib i to ry (prō hib'ə tō'rē), prohibitive. adj.

pro ject (proj'ekt for 1, 3; prəjekt' for 2, 4-8), 1. a plan; scheme: Flying in a heavy machine was once thought an impossible project. 2. plan; scheme. 3. an undertaking; enterprise. 4. stick out: The rocky point projects far into the water. 5. cause to stick out or protrude. 6. throw or cast forward: A cannon projects shot. 7. cause to fall on a surface: Motion pictures are projected on the screen. The tree projects a shadow on the grass. 8. draw lines through (a point, line, figure, etc.) and reproduce it on a surface. 1, 3 n., 2, 4-8 v.

pro jec tile (prə jek'tl), 1. object that can be thrown, hurled, or shot, such as a stone or bullet. 2. capable of being thrown, hurled, or shot: Bullets and arrows are projectile weapons. 3. forcing forward; impelling: a projectile force. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.

pro jec tion (prə jek'shən), 1. part that projects or sticks out: rocky projections on the face of a cliff. 2. a sticking out. 3. a throwing or casting forward: the projection of a cannon ball from a cannon. 4. in geometry, the projecting of a figure, etc., upon a surface. 5. representation, upon a flat surface, of all or part of the surface of the earth. 6. a forming of projects or plans. n.

pro jec tor (prə jek'tər), 1. apparatus for projecting a picture on a screen. 2. person who forms projects; schemer. n.

pro late (prō'lāt), elongated in the direction of the polar diameter. A prolate spheroid is generated by the revolution of an ellipse about its longer axis. adj.

pro le tar i an (prō'lə tār'ē ən), 1. of or belonging to the proletariat. 2. person belonging to the proletariat. 1 adj., 2 n.

pro le tar i at (prō'lə tār'ē ət), 1. the lowest class in economic and social status. The proletariat includes unskilled laborers, casual laborers, and tramps. 2. in Europe, the laboring class. n.

pro lif ic (prə lif'ik), 1. producing offspring abundantly: prolific animals. 2. producing much: a prolific tree, garden, or writer. adj. —pro lif'i cal ly, adv.

pro lix (prō liks' or prō'liks), using too many words; too long; tedious. adj. —pro lix'ness, n.

pro lix i ty (prō lik'sə tē), too great length; tedious length of speech or writing. n.

pro logue or pro log (prō'lōg), 1. speech or poem addressed to the audience by one of the actors at the beginning of a play. 2. introduction to a novel, poem, or other literary work. 3. any introductory act or event. n.

pro long (prə lōng'), make longer; extend; stretch; protract: Good care may prolong a sick person's life. The dog uttered prolonged howls whenever the family left the house. v.

pro lon ga tion (prō'lōng gā'shən), 1. extension; lengthening in time or space: the prolongation of one's school days by graduate study. 2. added part. n.

prom (prom), U.S. Informal. dance or ball given by a college or high-school class. n.

prom e nade (prom'ə nād' or prom'ə nād'), 1. walk for pleasure or display: The Easter promenade is well known as a fashion show. 2. walk about or up and down for pleasure or for display: He promenaded back and forth on the ship's deck. 3. a public place for such a walk: The boardwalk at Atlantic City is a famous promenade. 4. walk through. 5. take on a promenade. 6. dance; ball. 7. march of all the guests at the opening of a formal dance. 1, 3, 6, 7 n., 2, 4, 5 v., prom e nad ed, prom e nad ing. —prom'e nad'er, n.

Pro me the an (prə mē'thē ən), of, having to do with, or suggestive of Prometheus. adj.

Pro me the us (prə mē'thē əs or prə mē'thūs), in Greek mythology, one of the Titans. He stole fire from heaven and taught men its use. Zeus punished him by chaining him to a rock. n.

pro me thi um (prə mē'thē əm), a rare metallic element. Symbol: Pm n. Formerly, illinium.

prom i nence (prom'ə nəns), 1. quality or fact of being prominent, distinguished, or conspicuous: the prominence of athletics in some schools. 2. something that juts out or projects, especially upward. A hill is a prominence. n.

prom i nent (prom'ə nənt), 1. well-known; important: a prominent citizen. 2. easy to see: A single tree in a field is prominent. 3. standing out; projecting: Some insects have prominent eyes. adj. —prom'i nent ly, adv.

prom is cu i ty (prom'is kū'ə tē), fact, state, or condition of being promiscuous. n.

pro mis cu ous (prə mis'kyū əs), 1. mixed and in disorder: a promiscuous heap of clothing on your closet floor. 2. making no distinctions; not discriminating: promiscuous friendships. adj. —pro mis'cu ous ly, adv.

prom ise (prom'is), 1. words said or written, binding

Prolate spheroid

a person to do or not to do something: A man of honor always keeps his promise. 2. make a promise of (something) to (a person, etc.): to promise help. 3. give one's word; make a promise: He promised to stay till we came. 4. indication of what may be expected: The clouds give promise of rain. 5. indication of future excellence; something that gives hope of success: a young scholar who shows promise. 6. give indication of; give hope of; give ground for expectation: The rainbow promises fair weather. 1,4,5 n., 2,3,6 v., promised, prom is ing.

Promised Land, 1. in the Bible, the country promised by God to Abraham and his descendants; Canaan. Genesis 15:18; 17:1-8. 2. heaven.

promised land, place or condition of expected happiness: America is a promised land for many people.

prom is ing (prom'is ing), likely to turn out well; hopeful. adj. —prom'is ing ly, adv.

prom is so ry (prom'ə sō'rē), containing a promise. adj.

promissory note, a written promise to pay a stated sum of money to a certain person at a certain time.

prom on to ry (prom'ən tō'rē), a high point of land extending from the coast into the water; headland. n., pl. prom on to ries.

pro mote (prə mōt'), 1. raise in rank, condition, or importance: Those who pass the test will be promoted to the next higher grade. 2. help to grow or develop; help to succeed: A kindly feeling toward other countries will promote peace. 3. help to organize; start: Several bankers promoted the new company. 4. further the sale of (an article) by advertising. v., pro mot ed, pro mot ing.

pro mot er (prə mōt'ər), 1. person or thing that promotes: Good humor is a promoter of friendship. 2. one who organizes new companies and secures capital for them. n.

pro mo tion (prə mō'shən), 1. advance in rank or importance: The clerk was given a promotion and an increase in salary. 2. helping to grow or develop; helping along to success: The doctors were busy in the promotion of a health campaign. 3. helping to organize; starting: money for the promotion of the new company. n.

prompt (prompt), 1. ready and willing; on time; quick: Be prompt to obey. 2. done at once; made without delay: I expect a prompt answer. 3. cause (someone) to do something: His curiosity prompted him to ask questions. 4. give rise to; suggest; inspire: A kind thought prompted the gift. 5. remind (a learner, speaker, actor, etc.) of the words or actions needed: Do you know your part in the play or shall I prompt you? 1,2 adj., 3-5 v. —prompt'ly, adv. —prompt'ness, n.

prompt er (prompt'ər), person who tells actors, speakers, etc., what to say when they forget. n.

prompt ti tude (prompt'ta tūd or prompt'tō tūd), promptness; readiness in acting or deciding. n.

pro mul gate (prō mul'gāt or prom'al gāt), 1. proclaim formally; announce officially: The king promulgated a decree. 2. spread far and wide: Schools try to promulgate knowledge and good habits. v., pro mul gat ed, pro mul gat ing.

pro mul ga tion (prō'mul gā'shən or prom'al gā'shən), 1. promulgating. 2. being promulgated. n.

pron., 1. pronoun. 2. pronunciation.

prone (prōn), 1. inclined; liable: We are prone to think evil of people we dislike. 2. lying face down. 3. lying flat. adj.

prone ness (prōn'nis), 1. inclination; tendency; preference. 2. prone position. n.

prong (prông), 1. one of the pointed ends of a fork, antler, etc. 2. pierce or stab with a prong. 1 n., 2 v.

pronged (prôngd), having prongs. adj.

prong horn (prông'hôn'), mammal like an antelope, found on the plains of W North America. n., pl. prong horns or (esp. collectively) prong-horn.

Pronghorn (about 3 ft. high
at the shoulder)

pro nom i nal (prō nom'ə nl), of or having to do with pronouns; having the nature of a pronoun. adj.

pro nom i nal ly (prō nom'ə nl ē), like a pronoun. adv.

pro noun (prō'noun), word used to indicate without naming; word used instead of a noun. Examples: I, we, you, he, it, they, who, whose, which, this, mine, whatever. n.

pro noun ce (prə nouns'), 1. make the sounds of; speak: Pronounce your words clearly. 2. pronounce words. 3. give an opinion or decision: Only an expert should pronounce on this case. 4. declare (a person or thing) to be: The doctor pronounced her cured. 5. declare formally or solemnly: The judge pronounced sentence on the criminal. v., pro noun ced, pro noun cing.

—pro noun'ce a ble, adj.

pro noun ced (prə nounst'), strongly marked; decided: She held pronounced opinions on gambling. adj.

pro noun ced ly (prə noun'sid lē), in a pronounced manner; to a pronounced degree. adv.

pro noun ce ment (prə nouns'ment), 1. a formal statement; declaration. 2. opinion; decision. n.

pron to (pron'tō), U.S. Informal. promptly; quickly; right away. adv.

pro nun ci a men to (prə nun'sē ə men'tō), a formal announcement; proclamation. n., pl. pro nun ci a men tos.

pro nun ci a tion (prə nun'sē ā'shən), 1. way of pronouncing. This book gives the pronunciation of each main word. 2. a pronouncing. n.

proof (prüf), 1. way or means of showing beyond doubt the truth of something: Is what you say a guess or have you proof? 2. establishment of the truth of anything. 3. act of testing; trial: That box looks big enough; but let us put it to the proof. 4. condition of having been tested and approved. 5. a trial impression from type. A book is first printed in proof so that errors can be corrected. 6. a trial print of an etching, photographic negative, etc. 7. of tested value against something: proof against being taken by surprise. 1-6 n., 7 adj.

—proof, suffix meaning: protected against; safe from, as in fireproof, waterproof, bombproof.

proof read (prüf'rēd'), read (printers' proofs, etc.) and mark errors to be corrected. v., proof read (-red'), proof read ing. —proof/read'er, n.

prop (prop), 1. hold up by placing a support under or against: Prop the clothesline with a stick. 2. support; sustain: He was propped up in bed with pillows. 3. thing or person used to support another: A son should be the prop of his father's old age. 1,2 v., propped, prop ping; 3 n.

prop a gan da (prop'ə gan'də), 1. systematic efforts to spread opinions or beliefs; any plan or method for spreading opinions or beliefs: The life insurance companies engaged in health propaganda. 2. opinions or beliefs thus spread. n.

prop a gan dist (prop'ə gan'dist), 1. person who gives time or effort to the spreading of some opinion, belief, or principle. 2. of propaganda or propagandists. 1 n., 2 adj.

prop a gan dize (prop'ə gan'dīz), 1. propagate or spread (doctrines, etc.) by propaganda. 2. carry on propaganda. v., prop a gan dized, prop a gan diz ing.

prop a gate (prop'ə gāt), 1. produce offspring. 2. reproduce. 3. increase in number: Trees propagate themselves by seeds. 4. cause to increase in number by the production of young. 5. spread (news, knowledge, etc.): Don't propagate unkind reports. 6. pass on; send further: Sound is propagated by vibrations. v., prop a gat ed, prop a gat ing.

prop a ga tion (prop'ə gā'shən), 1. breeding of plants or animals: Our propagation of poppies is by seed, and of roses by cuttings. 2. spreading; getting more widely believed; making more widely known: the propagation of the principles of science. 3. passing on; sending further; spreading or extending: the propagation of the shock of an earthquake. n.

pro pa tri a (prō pā'trē ə), Latin. for one's country or native land.

pro pel (prə pel'), drive forward; force ahead: propel a boat by oars, a person propelled by ambition. v., propelled, propelling.

pro pel lant (prə pel'ənt), something that propels, especially the fuel of a missile or rocket. n.

pro pel lent (prə pel'ənt), 1. propelling; driving forward. 2. thing or person that propels. 1 adj., 2 n.

pro pel ler (prə pel'ər), 1. device consisting of a revolving hub with blades, for propelling boats, airships, and airplanes. See airplane for picture. 2. person or thing that propels. n.

pro pen si ty (prə pen'sə tē), a natural inclination or bent; inclination: Most boys have a propensity for playing with machinery. n., pl. pro pen si ties.

prop er (prop'ər), 1. correct; right; fitting: Night is the proper time to sleep, and bed the proper place. 2. strictly so called; in the strict sense of the word: Footnotes are clearly set off from the text proper. 3. decent; respectable: proper conduct. 4. belonging to one or a few; not common to all: John Adams is a proper name. 5. Informal. complete; thorough; fine; excellent. 6. Archaic. good-looking; handsome. adj.

proper fraction, a fraction less than 1. $\frac{2}{3}$, $\frac{1}{8}$, $\frac{3}{4}$, and $\frac{199}{200}$ are proper fractions.

prop er ly (prop'ər lē), 1. in a proper, correct, or fitting manner: eat properly. 2. rightly; justly: be properly indignant at the offer of a bribe. 3. strictly: Properly speaking, a whale is not a fish. adv.

proper noun, noun naming a particular person or thing. John, Chicago, and World War are proper nouns.

prop er tied (prop'ər tēd), owning property. adj.

prop er ty (prop'ər tē), 1. thing or things owned; possession or possessions: This house is Mr. Bell's property. 2. ownership. 3. piece of land or real estate. 4. quality or power belonging specially to something: Soap has the property of removing dirt. n., pl. prop er ties.

properties, furniture, weapons, etc. (everything except scenery and clothes), used in staging a play.

prop h e cy (prof'ə sē), 1. telling what will happen; foretelling future events. 2. thing told about the future. 3. a divinely inspired utterance, revelation, writing, etc. n., pl. prop h e cies.

prop h e sy (prof'ə sī), 1. tell what will happen. 2. foretell; predict: The sailor prophesied a severe storm. 3. speak when or as if divinely inspired. 4. utter in prophecy. v., prop h e sied, prop h e sy ing.

prop h et (prof'it), 1. person who tells what will happen. 2. person who preaches what he thinks has been revealed to him. n.

prop h e tess (prof'it is), a woman prophet. n.

prop h e tic (prə fet'ik), 1. belonging to a prophet; such as a prophet has: prophetic power. 2. containing prophecy: a prophetic saying. 3. giving warning of what is to happen; foretelling: Thunder is prophetic of showers. adj. —prop h e tic al ly, adv.

prop hy lac tic (prō'fə lak'tik), 1. protecting from disease. 2. medicine or treatment that protects against disease. 1 adj., 2 n.

prop hy lax is (prō'fə lak'sis), 1. protection from disease. 2. treatment to prevent disease. n.

prop pin qui ty (prō ping'kwə tē), 1. nearness in place, especially personal nearness. 2. nearness of blood; kinship. n.

pro pi ti ate (prə pish'ē āt), prevent or reduce the anger of; win the favor of; appease or conciliate. v., pro pi ti ated, pro pi ti at ing. —pro pi ti a'tor, n.

pro pi ti a tion (prə pish'ē ā'shan), act of propitiating. n.

pro pi ti a to ry (prə pish'ē ā tō'rē), intended to propitiate; making propitiation; conciliatory: a propitiatory offering. adj.

pro pi tious (prə pish'əs), 1. favorable: propitious weather for our trip. 2. favorably inclined; gracious. adj. —pro pi'tious ly, adv. —pro pi'tious ness, n.

pro po nent (prə pō'nənt), 1. person who makes a proposal or proposition. 2. favorer; supporter. n.

pro por tion (prə pōr'shən), 1. relation in size, number, amount, or degree of one thing compared to another: Each man's pay will be in proportion to his work. 2. a proper relation between parts: His short legs were not in proportion to his long body. 3. fit (one thing to another) so that they go together: The designs in that rug are well proportioned. 4. part; share: A large proportion of Nevada is desert. 5. an equality of ratios. Example: 4 is to 2 as 10 is to 5. 6. method of finding the fourth term of such a proportion when three are known. 1, 2, 4-6 n., 3 v. —pro por'tion ment, n.

proportions, 1. size; extent. 2. dimensions.

pro por tion a ble (prə pōr'shən ə bl), being in due proportion; proportional. adj.

pro por tion al (prə pōr'shən l), 1. in the proper proportion; corresponding: The increase in price is proportional to the improvement in the car. 2. one of the terms of a proportion in mathematics. 1 adj., 2 n.

pro por tion al ly (prə pōr'shən l ē), in proportion. adv.

pro por tion ate (prə pōr'shən it), in the proper proportion; proportioned; proportional: The money obtained by the fair was really not proportionate to the effort we put into it. adj.

pro por tion ate ly (prə pōr'shən it lē), in proportion: The money the boys earned was divided proportionately to the time each worked. adv.

prop or tioned (prə pōr'shənd), adjusted in proportion. adj.

prop os al (prə pōz'əl), 1. what is proposed; plan; scheme; suggestion: The club will now hear this member's proposal. 2. offer of marriage. 3. act of proposing: Proposal is easier than performance. n.

prop ose (prə pōz'), 1. put forward for consideration, discussion, acceptance, etc.; suggest: I propose that we take turns at the swing. 2. present (the name of someone) for office, membership, etc. 3. present as a toast to be drunk. 4. intend; plan: She proposes to save half of all she earns. 5. make an offer of marriage. v., pro posed, pro pos ing.

prop o si tion (prop'ə zish'ən), 1. what is offered to be considered; proposal: The tailor made a proposition to buy out his rival's business. 2. statement. Example: "All men are created equal." 3. statement that is to be proved true. Example: Resolved: that our school should have a bank. 4. problem to be solved: a proposition in geometry. 5. U.S. Informal. a business enterprise; an undertaking. 6. U.S. Informal. person or thing to be dealt with. n.

prop ound (prə pound'), put forward; propose: propound a theory or a riddle. v. —prop ound'er, n.

prop ri e tar y (prə pri'ə ter'ē), 1. belonging to a proprietor. 2. holding property. 3. owner. 4. group of owners. 5. ownership; the holding of property. 6. owned by a private person or company; belonging to or controlled by a private person as property. A proprietary medicine is a patent medicine, that is, one which can be made and sold only by some one person or certain persons. 7. owner or group of owners of a grant from the king of England. William Penn was a proprietary. 1, 2, 6 adj., 3-5, 7 n., pl. prop ri e tar ies.

prop ri e tor (prə pri'ə tər), owner. n.

prop ri e tor ship (prə pri'ə tər ship'), ownership. n.

prop ri e tress (prə pri'ə tris), a woman owner or manager. n.

prop ri e ty (prə pri'ə tē), 1. quality of being proper; fitness. 2. proper behavior: Propriety demands that a boy tip his hat to a lady. n., pl. prop ri e ties.

proprieties, conventional standards or requirements of proper behavior.

propulsion (prə pul'shən), 1. a driving forward or onward. 2. a propelling force or impulse. n.

propulsive (prə pul'siv), propelling; driving forward or onward. adj.

pro rata (prō rā'tā), in proportion; according to the share, interest, etc., of each.

pro rate (prō rāt'), distribute or assess proportionally: We prorated the money according to the number of days each had worked. v., pro rated, pro rating.

pro rogation (prō'rə gā'shən), discontinuance of the meetings of a lawmaking body without dissolving it. n.

pro rogue (prō rōg'), discontinue the regular meetings of (a lawmaking body) for a time. v., pro rogued, pro rogu ing.

pro sa ic (prō zā'ik), like prose; matter-of-fact; ordinary; not exciting. adj. —pro sa/i cal ly, adv.

pro sce ni um (prō sē'nē əm), 1. part of the stage in front of the curtain. 2. curtain and the framework that holds it. 3. stage of an ancient theater. n., pl. pro sce ni a (-nē ə).

pro scribe (prō skrib'), 1. prohibit as wrong or dangerous; condemn: In earlier days, the church proscribed dancing and card playing. 2. put outside of the protection of the law; outlaw. 3. forbid to come into a certain place; banish. v., pro scribed, pro scrib ing.

pro scrip tion (prō skrip'shən), 1. a proscribing. 2. a being proscribed. n.

prose (prōz), 1. the ordinary form of spoken or written language; plain language not arranged in verses. 2. of prose; in prose. 3. dull, ordinary talk. 4. lacking imagination; matter-of-fact; commonplace. 5. talk or write in a dull, commonplace way. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj., 5 v., prosed, prosing.

prose e cute (prō'ə kūt), 1. bring before a court of law: Reckless drivers will be prosecuted. 2. bring a case before a law court. 3. carry out; follow up: He prosecuted an inquiry into reasons for the company's failure. 4. carry on (a business or occupation). v., prose e cut ed, prose e cut ing.

prose e cu tion (prō'ə kū'shən), 1. the carrying on of a lawsuit: The prosecution will be abandoned if the stolen money is returned. 2. side that starts action against another in a law court. The prosecution makes certain charges against the defense. 3. a carrying out; following up: In prosecution of his plan, he stored away a supply of food. n.

prose e cu tor (prō'ə kū'tər), 1. lawyer in charge of the government's side of a case against an accused person. 2. person who starts legal proceedings against another person: Who is the prosecutor in this case? n.

prose lyte (prō'ə līt), 1. person who has been converted from one opinion, religious belief, etc., to another. 2. convert from one opinion, religious belief, etc., to another. 1 n., 2 v., prose e lyt ed, prose e lyt ing.

prose e lyt ize (prō'ə līt'iz), make converts; proselyte. v., prose e lyt ized, prose e lyt iz ing.

Pro ser pi na (prō sēr'pə nā), in Roman mythology, the daughter of Jupiter and Ceres. Pluto carried her off and made her queen of the lower world. Because she was allowed to spend part of each year on the earth, she symbolized the changes in the seasons. The Greeks called her Persephone. n.

Pro ser pi ne (prō sēr'pə nē), Proserpina. n.

pro sit (prō'sit), To your health! interj.

pro slav er y (prō slāv'ər ē), favoring slavery. adj.

pros o dy (prō'ə dē), science of poetic meters and versification. n.

pros pect (prō'spekt), 1. thing expected or looked forward to: good prospects in business. 2. act of looking forward; expectation: The prospect of a vacation is pleasant. 3. outlook for the future. 4. person who may become a customer, candidate, etc.; prospective customer. 5. view; scene: The prospect from the mountain was grand. 6. search: prospect for gold, prospect a region for silver. 1-5 n., 6 v.

in prospect, expected; looked forward to.

pro spec tive (prə spek'tiv), 1. probable; expected. 2. looking forward to the future. adj.

pro spec tive ly (prə spek'tiv lē), in prospect or expectation; in the future. adv.

pros pec tor (pros'pek tər), one who explores or examines a region for gold, silver, oil, etc. n.

pro spec tus (prə spek'təs), a printed statement describing and advertising something. n.

pros per (pros'pər), 1. be successful; have good fortune; flourish. 2. make successful. v.

pros per i ty (pros per'ə tē), prosperous condition; good fortune; success. n., pl. pros per i ties.

Pros per o (pros'pər ō), exiled duke in Shakespeare's play The Tempest, who, by magic, restores himself and his daughter to their rank and wealth. n.

pros per ous (pros'pər əs), 1. successful; thriving; doing well; fortunate: A prosperous person is one who is happy, healthy, paying his way, and getting on well in his work. 2. favorable; helpful: prosperous weather for growing wheat. adj. —pros'per ous ly, adv. —pros'perous ness, n.

pros tate (pros'tāt), 1. a large gland surrounding the male urethra in front of the bladder. 2. designating or having to do with this gland. 1 n., 2 adj.

pros ti tute (pros'tə tūt or pros'tə tūt), 1. woman who gets money for immoral behavior with men. 2. person who does base things for money. 3. put to an unworthy or base use. 1,2 n., 3 v., pros ti tut ed, pros ti tut ing.

pros ti tu tion (pros'tə tūt'shən or pros'tə tū'shən), use of one's body, honor, talents, etc., in a base way. n.

prostrate (pros'trāt), 1. lay down flat; cast down: The captives prostrated themselves before the conqueror. 2. lying flat with face downward. 3. lying flat. 4. make very weak or helpless; exhaust: Sickness often prostrates people. 5. overcome; helpless: a prostrate enemy. 1,4 v., prostrat ed, prostrat ing; 2,3,5 adj.

prostra tion (pros'trā'shən), 1. act of prostrating; bowing down low or lying face down in submission, respect, or worship. 2. exhaustion; dejection; being very much worn out or used up in body or mind. n.

prosy (prōz'ē), like prose; commonplace; dull; tiresome. adj., prosi er, prosi est. —prosi ness, n.

Prot., Protestant.

prot ac tin i um (prōt'ak tin'ē əm), a very rare radioactive metallic element. Symbol: Pa n. Formerly, protoactinium.

pro tag o nist (prō tag'ə nist), 1. the main character in a play, story, or novel. 2. person who takes a leading part; active supporter. n.

pro te an (prō'tē ən), readily assuming different forms or characters; exceedingly variable. adj.

pro tect (prō'tekt'), 1. shield from harm or danger; shelter; defend; guard: Protect yourself from danger. Protect the baby's eyes from the sun. 2. guard (home industry) against foreign goods by taxing any which are brought into the country. v.

pro tect ing ly (prō'tek'ting lē), so as to protect. adv.

pro tec tion (prō'tek'shən), 1. act of protecting; condition of being kept from harm; defense: We have policemen for our protection. 2. thing or person that prevents damage: An apron is a protection when doing dirty work. 3. system of taxing foreign goods so that people are more likely to buy goods made in their own country; the opposite of free trade. 4. something which assures safe passage through a region; passport. n.

pro tec tion ism (prō'tek'shən iz əm), economic system or theory of protection. n.

pro tec tion ist (prō'tek'shən ist), 1. person who favors protectionism. 2. of protectionism or protectionists. 1 n., 2 adj.

pro tec tive (prō'tek'tiv), 1. being a defense; protecting: the hard protective covering of a turtle. 2. preventing injury to those around: a protective device on a machine. 3. guarding against foreign-made goods by putting a high tax or duty on them: a protective tariff. adj. —pro tec'tive ly, adv. —pro tec'tive ness, n.

protective coloring, a coloring some animals have that makes them hard to distinguish from the things they live among, and so hides them from their enemies.

protective mimicry, a close resemblance of an animal to its surroundings or to some different animal, which prevents its enemies from attacking it.

pro tector (prə tek'tər), 1. one that protects; defender. 2. head of a kingdom when the king or queen cannot rule. Oliver Cromwell was Lord Protector of England from 1653 to 1658. n.

pro tector ate (prə tek'tər it), 1. a weak country under the protection and partial control of a strong country. Parts of Africa are European protectorates. 2. such protection and control. 3. position or term of a protector. 4. government by a protector. n.

pro tectress (prə tek'tris), a woman protector. n.

pro té gé (prō'tə zhā), person under the protection or kindly care of another. n.

pro té gée (prō'tə zhā), a woman protégé. n.

pro te id (prō'tē id), protein. n.

pro tein (prō'tēn), a complex compound containing nitrogen that is a necessary part of the cells of animals and plants. Meat, milk, cheese, eggs, and beans contain protein. n.

pro tem., pro tempore.

pro tem po re (prō tem'pə rē), Latin. for the time being; temporarily.

pro test (prō'test for 1,4,6; prə test' for 2,3,5,7), 1. statement that denies or objects strongly: They yielded only after protest. 2. make objections; object: The boys protested against having girls in the game. 3. object to: protest a decision. 4. a solemn declaration: The accused man was judged guilty in spite of his protest of innocence. 5. declare solemnly; assert: The accused man protested his innocence. 6. a written statement by a notary public that a bill, note, check, etc., has been presented to someone who has refused to pay it or accept it. 7. state that (a check, note, bill, etc.) has not been paid. 1,4,6 n., 2,3,5,7 v.

under protest, unwillingly; though objecting.

Pro tes tant (prot'is tant), 1. a member of any of certain Christian churches which have split off from the Roman Catholic Church since the sixteenth century. Baptists, Presbyterians, Methodists, Quakers, and many others are Protestants. 2. of Protestants or their religion. 1 n., 2 adj.

pro tes tant (prot'is tant), 1. person who protests. 2. protesting. 1 n., 2 adj.

Protestant Episcopal Church, a Protestant church in the United States that has about the same principles and beliefs as the Church of England.

Pro tes tant ism (prot'is tant iz'm), 1. the religion of Protestants. 2. their principles and beliefs. 3. Protestants or Protestant churches as a group. n.

pro tes ta tion (prot'is tā'shən), 1. a solemn declaration; protesting: make a protestation of one's innocence. 2. a protest. n.

Pro te us (prō'tē əs or prō'tūs), in Greek mythology, a sea god who had the power of assuming many different forms. n.

pro to ac tin i um (prō'tō ak tin'ē əm), former name of protactinium. n.

pro to col (prō'tə kol), 1. a first draft or record from which a document, especially a treaty, is prepared. 2. rules of etiquette of the diplomatic corps. n.

pro ton (prō'ton), a tiny particle carrying one unit of positive electricity. All atoms are built up of electrons and protons. n.

pro to plasm (prō'tə plaz əm), living matter; the substance that is the physical basis of life; the colorless, jellylike, living substance of all plant and animal cells. n.

pro to plas mic (prō'tə plaz'mik), of protoplasm; having to do with protoplasm. adj.

pro to type (prō'tə tīp), the first or primary type of anything; the original or model: A modern ship has its prototype in the hollowed log used by savages. n.

Pro to zo a (prō'tə zō'ə), protozoans. n.pl.

pro to zo an (prō'tə zō'ən), 1. a microscopic animal that consists of a single cell. 2. belonging or having to do with the single-celled animals. 1 n., 2 adj.

pro tract (prō trakt'), 1. draw out; lengthen in time: protract a visit. 2. slide out; thrust out; extend. 3. draw by means of a scale and protractor. v.

pro tract ed (prō trak'tid), lengthened. adj.

pro trac tile (prō trak'tl), capable of being lengthened out, or of being thrust forth. The turtle has a protractile head. adj.

pro trac tion (prō trak'shən), 1. act of drawing out; extension. 2. drawing that has exactly the same proportions as the thing it represents. n.

pro trac tor (prō trak'tər),

1. instrument for drawing or measuring angles. 2. person or thing that protracts. n.

pro trude (prō trūd'),

1. thrust forth; stick out: The saucy child protruded her tongue. 2. be thrust forth; project: Her teeth protrude too far. v., pro trud ed, pro truding.

Protractor measuring a 120-degree angle. It may be made of metal, plastic, etc., and has the middle part cut out.

pro tru sion (prō trū'zhən),

1. a protruding or being protruded: Starvation caused the protrusion of the poor cat's bones. 2. projection; something that sticks out: A protrusion of rock gave us shelter from the storm. n.

pro tru sive (prō trū'siv), sticking out; projecting. adj.

pro tu ber ance (prō tū'bər əns or prō tū'bər əns), part that sticks out; bulge; swelling. n.

pro tu ber ant (prō tū'bər ənt or prō tū'bər ənt), bulging out; sticking out; prominent. adj. —pro tu-ber ant ly, adv.

proud (praud), 1. thinking well of oneself. 2. feeling or showing pleasure or satisfaction. 3. having a becoming sense of what is due oneself, one's position, or character. 4. thinking too well of oneself; haughty; arrogant. 5. such as to make a person proud; highly honorable, creditable, or gratifying: a proud moment. 6. proceeding from pride; due to pride: a proud smile. 7. imposing; stately; majestic; magnificent: proud cities. adj. —proud/ly, adv. —proud/ness, n.

proud of, thinking well of; being well satisfied with; proud because of.

proud flesh, formation of too many grainlike particles of flesh during the healing of a wound or sore.

Prov., 1. Proverbs. 2. Province.

prove (pruv), 1. establish as true; make certain. 2. establish the genuineness or validity of, especially of a will. 3. be found to be: This book proved interesting. 4. try out; test; subject to some testing process: prove a new gun. v., proved, proved or prov en, prov ing. —prov'a ble, adj.

prov en (pruv'ən), a pp. of prove. v.

Pro ven çal (prō'vən sāl'), 1. native or inhabitant of Provence. 2. language of Provence. 3. of or having to do with Provence, its people, or their language. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Pro vence (prō vāns'), part of SE France, ancient Rome's first province, famous during the Middle Ages for chivalry and poetry. n.

prov en der (prov'ən dər), 1. dry food for animals, such as hay or corn. 2. Informal. food. n.

prov erb (prov'ərb), 1. a short, wise saying used for a long time by many people. "Haste makes waste" is a proverb. 2. a well-known case: He is a proverb for carelessness. n.

pro ver bi al (prə vēr' bē əl), 1. of proverbs; expressed in a proverb; like a proverb: proverbial brevity, proverbial wisdom, a proverbial saying. 2. that has become a proverb: the proverbial stitch in time. 3. well-known: the proverbial loyalty of dogs. adj. —pro ver' bi al ly, adv.
Prov erbs (prov'ərbz), book of the Old Testament made up of sayings of the wise men of Israel, including Solomon. n.

pro vide (prə vīd'), 1. supply; furnish: Sheep provide us with wool. 2. supply means of support; arrange to supply means of support: A father provides for his family. 3. take care for the future: provide against accident, provide for old age. 4. state as a condition beforehand: Our club's rules provide that dues must be paid monthly. 5. get ready; prepare beforehand: Mother provides a good dinner. v., pro vid ed, pro vid ing. —pro-vid'er, n.

pro vid ed (prə vīd'id), on the condition that; if: She will go provided her friends can go also. conj.

prov i dence (prov'ə dāns), 1. God's care and help: Trusting in Providence, the Pilgrims sailed for the unknown world. 2. instance of God's care and help. 3. care for the future; good management: Greater providence on the father's part would have kept the children from poverty. n.

Prov i dence (prov'ə dāns), 1. God. 2. capital of Rhode Island, in the NE part. 207,000. n.

prov i dent (prov'ə dānt), 1. having or showing foresight; careful in providing for the future: Provident men lay aside money for their families. 2. economical; frugal. adj. —prov'i dent ly, adv.

prov i den tial (prov'ə den'shəl), 1. fortunate: Our delay seemed providential, for the train we had planned to take was wrecked. 2. of or proceeding from divine power or influence. adj.

pro vid ing (prə vīd'ing), on the condition that: I shall go providing it doesn't rain. conj.

prov ince (prov'əns), 1. one of the main divisions of a country. Canada is made up of provinces instead of states. 2. part of a country outside the capital or the largest cities. 3. proper work or activity: Teaching spelling is not within the province of a college. 4. division; department: the province of science, the province of literature. 5. an ancient Roman territory outside Italy, ruled by a Roman governor. 6. a large church district governed by an archbishop. n.

pro vin cial (prə vin'shəl), 1. of a province. 2. person born or living in a province. 3. belonging or peculiar to some particular province or provinces rather than to the whole country; local: provincial English, provincial customs. 4. having the manners, speech, dress, point of view, etc., of people living in a province. 5. lacking refinement or polish; narrow: a provincial point of view. 6. a provincial person. 1,3-5 adj., 2,6 n. —pro-vin'cial ly, adv.

pro vin cial ism (prə vin'shəl iz əm), 1. provincial manners, habit of thought, etc. 2. narrow-mindedness. 3. word, expression, or way of pronunciation peculiar to a district of a country. "Reckon" for "think" and "get to go" for "go" are provincialisms. n.

pro vin ci al i ty (prə vin'shəl ə' tē), 1. provincial quality or character. 2. a provincial characteristic or trait. n., pl. pro vin ci al i ties.

pro vi sion (prə vīzh'ən), 1. statement making a condition: A provision of the lease is that the rent must be paid promptly. 2. a taking care for the future. 3. care taken for the future; arrangement made beforehand: There is a provision for making the building larger if necessary. 4. that which is made ready; supply; stock, especially of food; food. 5. supply with provisions. 1-4 n., 5 v.

provi sions, supply of food and drinks.

make provision, take care for the future; make arrangements beforehand.

pro vi sion al (prə vīzh'ən l), for the time being; temporary: a provisional agreement, a provisional governor. adj.

pro vi sion al ly (prə vīzh'ən l ē), 1. for the time being; temporarily. 2. conditionally. adv.

pro vi so (prə vī'zō), sentence or part of a sentence in a contract, or other agreement, that states a condition; condition: Tom was admitted to the eighth grade with the proviso that he was to be put back if he failed any subject. n., pl. pro vi sos or pro vi soes.

pro vi so ry (prə vī'zə rē), 1. containing a proviso; conditional. 2. provisional. adj.

Pro vo (prō'vō), city in central Utah. 36,000. n.

prov o ca tion (prov'ə kā'shən), 1. act of provoking. 2. something that stirs one up; cause of anger: Their insulting remarks were a provocation. n.

pro voc a tive (prə vok'ə tiv), 1. irritating; vexing. 2. tending or serving to call forth action, thought, laughter, anger, etc.: a remark provocative of mirth. 3. something that rouses or irritates. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —pro voc'a tive ly, adv. —pro voc'a tive ness, n.

pro voke (prə vōk'), 1. make angry; vex: She provoked him by her teasing. 2. stir up; excite: An insult provokes a person to anger. 3. call forth; bring about; start into action; cause: The President's speech provoked much discussion. v., pro voked, pro vok ing.

pro vok ing (prə vōk'ing), that provokes; irritating. adj. —pro vok'ing ly, adv.

prov ost (prov'əst), 1. person appointed to superintend or preside, such as the head of certain colleges or churches. 2. the chief magistrate in a Scottish town. n.

pro vost marshal (prō'vō), 1. in the army, an officer acting as head of police in a camp or district, and charged with the maintenance of order, etc. 2. in the navy, an officer charged with the safekeeping of prisoners until their trial by court-martial.

Prow of a ship

prow (prou), 1. the pointed front part of a ship or boat; bow. 2. something like it: the prow of an airship. n.

prow ess (prou'is), 1. bravery; daring. 2. brave or daring acts. 3. unusual skill or ability. n.

prowl (proul), 1. go about slowly and secretly hunting for something to eat or steal: Many wild animals prowl at night. 2. wander. 3. act of prowling. 1,2 v., 3 n. —prowl'er, n.

prowl car, a police car connected with headquarters by radio telephone.

prox i mate (prɒk'sə mit), 1. next; nearest. 2. near the exact amount; approximate. adj.

prox im i ty (prɒks im'ə tē), nearness; closeness: She and her cat enjoy proximity to the fire. n.

prox y (prɒk'sē), 1. action of a deputy or substitute. In marriage by proxy, someone is substituted for the absent bridegroom at the marriage service. 2. agent; deputy; substitute. 3. a writing authorizing a proxy to act or vote for a person. 4. vote so given. n., pl. prox ies.

prude (prüd), person who is too proper or too modest; person who puts on extremely proper or modest airs. n.

pru dence (prüd'ns), 1. wise thought before acting; good judgment. 2. good management; economy. n.

pru dent (prüd'nt), planning carefully ahead of time; sensible; discreet: A prudent man saves part of his wages. adj. —pru'dent ly, adv.

pru den tial (prüd'en'shəl), of, marked by, or showing prudence. adj. —pru den'tial ly, adv.

prud er y (prüd'ər ē), 1. extreme modesty or propriety, especially when not genuine. 2. a prudish act or remark. n., pl. prud er ies.

prud ish (prüd'ish), like a prude; extremely proper or modest; too modest. adj. —prud'ish ness, n.

prune¹ (prün), kind of dried sweet plum. n.

prune² (prün), 1. cut out useless or undesirable parts from. 2. cut superfluous or undesirable twigs or branches from (a bush, tree, etc.). 3. cut off or out: Prune all the dead branches. v., pruned, prun ing.

pruning hook, implement with a hooked blade, used for pruning vines, etc.

pru ri ence (prür'ē əns), being prurient. n.

pru ri ent (prūr'ē ənt), having lustful thoughts or wishes. adj. —pru'ri ently, adv.

Prus sia (prush'ə), a former state in N Germany. Capital: Berlin. n.

Prus sian (prush'ən), 1. of or having to do with Prussia, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Prussia. 3. the dialect of German spoken in modern Prussia. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

Prussian blue, a deep-blue pigment, essentially a cyanogen compound of iron.

prus sic acid (prus'ik), a deadly poison that smells like bitter almonds; hydrocyanic acid.

pry: (pri), 1. look with curiosity; peep: She likes to pry into others' affairs. 2. an inquisitive person. 1 v., pried, prying; 2 n., pl. pries.

pry: (pri), 1. raise or move by force: Pry up that stone with your pickax. 2. lever for prying. 3. get with much effort: We finally pried the secret out of him. 1, 3 v., pried, prying; 2 n., pl. pries.

prying (pri'ing), looking or searching curiously; inquisitive. adj.

Ps., Psalm; Psalms.

P.S., 1. postscript. 2. Privy Seal. 3. Public School.

psalm (sām), a sacred song or poem. n.

Psalm (sām), any of the 150 sacred songs or hymns that together form a book of the Old Testament. n.

psalm book (sām'būk'), a collection of metrical translations of the Psalms prepared for public worship. n.

psalm ist (sām'ist), author of a psalm or psalms. n. the Psalmist, King David.

psalm o dy (sām'ə də), 1. act, practice, or art of singing psalms or hymns. 2. psalms or hymns. n., pl. psalm o dies.

Psalms (sāmz), book of the Old Testament consisting of 150 psalms. n.

Psal ter (sōl'tər), 1. the Book of Psalms. 2. version of the Psalms for liturgical or devotional use. 3. a prayer book containing such a version. n.

psal ter y (sōl'tər ē), an ancient musical instrument played by plucking the strings. n., pl. psal ter ies.

pseu do (sū'dō), 1. false; sham; pretended. 2. having only the appearance of. adj.

pseu do nym (sū'dn im), name used by an author instead of his real name. Mark Twain is a pseudonym for Samuel Langhorne Clemens. n.

pshaw (shō), exclamation expressing impatience, contempt, etc. interj., n.

psit ta co sis (sit'ə kō'sis), a contagious disease of parrots and other birds, communicable to people. n.

P.S.T., Pacific Standard Time.

Psy che (sī'kē), in Greek and Roman mythology, the human soul or spirit pictured as a beautiful young girl, usually with butterfly wings. Psyche was loved by Cupid and was made immortal. n.

psy che (sī'kē), 1. the human soul or spirit. 2. the mind. n.

psy chi at ric (sī'kē at'rik), of or having to do with the treatment of mental diseases. adj.

psy chi a trist (sī kī'ə trist), doctor who treats mental diseases. n.

psy chi a try (sī kī'ə trē), study and treatment of mental diseases. n.

psy chic (sī'kik), 1. of the soul or mind; mental: illness due to psychic causes. 2. outside the known laws of physics; supernatural. A psychic force or influence is believed by spiritualists to explain second sight, telepathy, table moving,appings, etc. 3. especially susceptible to psychic influences. 4. person supposed to be specially sensitive or responsive to psychic force or spiritual influences; medium. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

psy chi cal (sī'kə kl), psychic. adj.

psy cho a nal y sis (sī'kō ə nal'ə sis), the minute examination of a mind or minds to discover the underlying mental causes producing certain mental and nervous disorders; analysis of mind or personality. n.

psy cho an a lyst (sī'kō an'ə list), person who is skilled in or practices psychoanalysis. n.

psy cho an a lyze (sī'kō an'ə liz), examine by psychoanalysis. v., psy cho an a lyzed, psy cho an a lyz ing. —psy'cho an'a lyz'er, n.

psy cho log i cal (sī'kə loj'ə kl), 1. of the mind. 2. of psychology or psychologists. adj.

psy cho log i cal ly (sī'kə loj'ik lē), 1. in a psychological manner. 2. in psychological respects. adv.

psychological moment, 1. the very moment to get the desired effect in the mind. 2. the critical moment.

psychological warfare, systematic efforts to affect morale, loyalty, etc., especially of large national groups.

psy chol o gist (sī kol'ə jist), person skilled or trained in psychology. n.

psy chol o gy (sī kol'ə jē), 1. the science of mind. Psychology tries to explain why people act, think, and feel as they do. 2. textbook or handbook of psychology. 3. the mental states and processes of a person or persons; mental nature and behavior: Mrs. Jones knew her husband's psychology. n., pl. psy chol o gies.

psy cho neu ro sis (sī'kō nū rō'sis or sī'kō nyū rō'sis), neurosis of psychic origin; mental illness without organic lesion. n., pl. psy cho neu ro ses (-sēz).

psy cho path ic (sī'kə path'ik), 1. of or having to do with mental diseases. 2. having a mental disease. 3. likely to become insane. adj.

psy chop a thy (sī kop'ə thē), 1. mental disease. 2. mental eccentricity or instability so extreme as to border on insanity. n.

psy cho sis (sī kō'sis), any severe form of mental disturbance or disease. n., pl. psy cho ses (-sēz).

psy cho so mat ic (sī'kō sə mat'ik), of or having to do with both mind and body. adj.

psy cho ther a py (sī'kō ther'ə pē), treatment of disease by mental influences. n.

Pt, platinum.

pt., 1. pint; pints. 2. part. 3. point. 4. past tense. 5. preterit.

P.T.A., Parent-Teacher Association.

ptar mi gan (tār'mə gən), any of several kinds of grouse that have feathered feet and are found in mountainous and cold regions. n., pl. ptar mi gans or (esp. collectively) ptar mi gan.

PT boat, in the United States Navy, a small, fast motorboat which carries torpedoes, depth bombs, etc.

pter i do phyte (ter'ə dō fit'), any of the highest group of seedless plants having roots, stems, and leaves. Ferns, horsetails, and club mosses are pteridophytes. n.

pter o dact yl (ter'ə dak'tl), an extinct flying reptile that had wings somewhat like a bat's. n.

Ptol e ma ic (tol'ə mā'ik),

1. of or having to do with the astronomer Ptolemy. The Ptol-emaic system of astronomy taught that the earth was the fixed center of the universe, around which the heavenly bodies moved. 2. of or having to do with the Ptolemies, who were rulers of Egypt from 323 B.C. to 30 B.C. adj.

Ptol e my (tol'ə mē), 1. Claudius, Greek mathematician, astronomer, and geographer at Alexandria. He lived about 130 A.D. 2. any of a certain family of Egyptian rulers who ruled Egypt from 323 B.C. to 30 B.C. n.

Man playing a psaltery

Pterodactyl (wingspread about 20 ft.)

pto maine or pto main (tō'mān), a substance, often poisonous, produced in decaying matter. Improperly canned foods may contain ptomaines. n.

pts., 1. pints. 2. parts. 3. points.

pty a lin (tī'ə lin), an enzyme contained in the saliva of man and of certain other animals. It possesses the property of converting starch into dextrin and maltose, thus aiding digestion. n.

Pu, plutonium.

pub (pub), Brit. Slang. saloon; tavern. n.

pu ber ty (pū'bar tē), the physical beginning of manhood and womanhood. Puberty comes at about 14 in boys and about 12 in girls. n.

pu bic (pū'bik), having to do with the pubis. adj.

pu bis (pū'bis), part of either hipbone that, with the corresponding part of the other, forms the front of the pelvis. n., pl. pu bes (-bēz).

public (pub'lik), 1. of, belonging to, or concerning the people as a whole: public affairs, public buildings. 2. the people in general; all the people: a public park, public meetings. 3. done, made, acting, etc., for the people as a whole: public relief. 4. open to all the people; serving all the people: a public park, public meetings. 5. of or engaged in the affairs or service of the people: a public official. 6. known to many or all; not private: The fact became public. 7. a particular section of the people: A popular actor has a large public. 8. international: public law. 1,3-6,8 adj., 2, i n.

in public, not in private or secretly; publicly; openly.

pub li can (pub'lə kən), 1. Brit. keeper of a pub. 2. a tax collector of ancient Rome. n.

pub li ca tion (pub'lə kă'shən), 1. book, newspaper, or magazine; anything that is published: "Boys' Life" is a publication of the Boy Scouts. 2. the printing and selling of books, newspapers, magazines, etc. 3. act of making known; fact or state of being made known: There is prompt publication of any important news over the radio. n.

public domain, lands belonging to the State or Federal government.

in the public domain, of works, material, etc., available for unrestricted use because unprotected by copyright or patent.

public enemy, one who is a menace to the public.

public house, 1. Brit. place where alcoholic liquor is sold to be drunk; saloon. 2. inn; hotel.

pub li cist (pub'lə sist), 1. person skilled or trained in law or in public affairs. 2. writer on law, politics, or public affairs. n.

public i ty (pub lis'ə tē), 1. public notice: the publicity that actors desire. 2. measures used for getting, or the process of getting, public notice: a campaign of publicity for a new automobile. 3. being public; being seen by or known to everybody: in the publicity of the street. n.

pub li cize (pub'lə siz), give publicity to. v., pub li cized, pub li ciz ing.

pub lic ly (pub'lik lē), 1. in a public manner; openly. 2. by the public. adv.

public opinion, opinion of the people in a country, community, etc.

public relations, activities of an organization, army, etc., that are concerned with giving the general public a better understanding of its policies and purposes, by giving out news through the newspapers, magazines, radio, television, motion pictures, etc.

public school, 1. in the United States, a free school maintained by taxes. 2. in England, an endowed private boarding school.

public servant, person who works for the government.

pub lic-spir it ed (pub'lik spir'ə tid), having or showing an unselfish desire for the public good. adj.

public utility, company formed or chartered to render services to the public, such as a company furnishing electricity or gas, a railroad, a streetcar or bus line, etc.

public works, things built by the government at public expense and for public use, such as roads, docks, canals, and waterworks.

pub lish (pub'lish), 1. prepare and offer (a book, paper, map, piece of music, etc.) for sale or distribution. 2. make publicly or generally known: Don't publish the faults of your friends. v. —pub'lish a ble, adj.

pub lish er (pub'lish ə), person or company whose business is to publish books, newspapers, magazines, etc. n.

Puck (puk), a mischievous fairy in English folklore, who appears in Shakespeare's play A Midsummer Night's Dream. n.

puck (puk), 1. a mischievous spirit; goblin. 2. a rubber disk used in the game of ice hockey. n.

puck er (puk'ər), 1. draw into wrinkles or irregular folds: pucker one's brow, pucker cloth in sewing. The baby's lips puckered just before he began to cry. 2. an irregular fold; wrinkle: There are puckers at the shoulders of this ill-fitting coat. 1 v., 2 n.

puck ish (puk'ish), mischievous; impish. adj.

pud ding (pud'ing), 1. a soft cooked food, usually sweet: Rice pudding is nourishing. 2. kind of sausage. 3. anything soft like a pudding. n.

pud dle (pud'l), 1. a small pool of water, especially dirty water: a puddle of rain water. 2. make wet or muddy. 3. a small pool of any liquid: a puddle of ink. 4. wet clay and sand stirred into a paste. 5. mix up (wet clay and sand) into a thick paste. 6. use such a mixture to stop water from running through: Puddle up that hole. 7. stir (melted iron) along with an oxidizing agent to make wrought iron. 1,3,4 n., 2,5-7 v., pud dled, pud dling.

pud dling (pud'ling), act or process of converting pig iron into wrought iron by stirring the molten metal along with an oxidizing agent. n.

pud dly (pud'lē), 1. full of puddles. 2. like a puddle. adj.

pudgy (puj'ē), short and fat or thick: a child's pudgy hand, a pudgy little man. adj., pudgier, pudgiest. —pudg'i ness, n.

Pue bla (pwe'blā), city in central Mexico. 211,000. n.

pueb lo (pweb'lō), U.S. an Indian village built of adobe and stone. There were many pueblos in the SW United States. n., pl. pueb los.

Pueb lo (pweb'lō), 1. city in central Colorado. 91,000. 2. U.S. an Indian belonging to a tribe that lives in pueblos. n.

pu er ile (pū'ər əl), foolish for a grown person to say or do; childish. adj.

pu er il i ty (pū'ər il'ə tē), 1. childishness; foolishness. 2. a foolish act, idea, or statement. n., pl. pu er il i ties.

Puer to Ri co (pwer'tō rē'kō), island in the eastern part of the West Indies, belonging to the United States. 2,350,000 pop.; 3435 sq. mi. Capital: San Juan. Abbrev.: P.R. See West Indies for map. Formerly, Porto Rico. —Puerto Rican.

puff (puf), 1. blow with short, quick blasts: The engine puffed. 2. a short, quick blast: a puff of wind. 3. a small quantity of air, smoke, etc., blown out in short, quick blasts. 4. breathe quick and hard: She puffed as she climbed the stairs. 5. a quick, hard breath. 6. give out puffs; move with puffs: The engine puffed out of the station. 7. move or come in puffs: Smoke puffed out of the chimney. 8. smoke: puff a cigar. 9. swell with air or pride: He puffed out his cheeks. 10. act or process of swelling. 11. arrange in soft, round masses. 12. a soft, round mass: a puff of hair. 13. a small pad for putting powder on the skin, etc. 14. a light pastry filled with whipped cream, jam, etc.: a cream puff. 15. praise in exaggerated language: They puffed him to the skies. 16. extravagant praise. 17. portion of material gathered and held down at the edges but left full in the middle in dresses, etc. 1,4,6-9,11,15 v., 2,3,5,10,12-14, 16,17 n.

puff adder, a large and very poisonous African snake that puffs up the upper part of its body when excited.

puff ball (puf'bôl'), a ball-shaped fungus somewhat like a mushroom. A ripe puffball gives off a cloud of tiny spores when suddenly broken. n.

puff er (puf'ər), 1. one that puffs. 2. any of various fishes capable of inflating the body, such as a globe-fish. n.

puff in (puf'ən), a sea bird of the N Atlantic that has a high, narrow, furrowed, parti-colored bill. n.

puff y (puf'ē), 1. puffed out; swollen:

Her eyes are puff y from c y i n g. 2. puffed up; vain. 3. coming in puffs. adj., puff i er, puff i est. —puff i ness, n.

pug (pug), 1. a small, tan dog with a curly tail and a short, turned-up nose. 2. pug nose. n.

Pu get Sound (pū'jit), a long narrow bay of the Pacific between NW Washington and Vancouver Island. 125 mi. long.

pug i lism (pū'jə liz əm), art of fighting with the fists; boxing. n.

pug i list (pū'jə list), person who fights with the fists; boxer. n.

pug i lis tic (pū'jə lis'tik), of or having to do with pugilism or pugilists. adj.

pug na cious (pug nā'shəs), having the habit of fighting; fond of fighting; quarrelsome. adj. —pug na cious ly, adv. —pug na cious ness, n.

pug nac i ty (pug nas'ə tē), fondness for fighting; quarrelsomeness. n.

pug nose, a short, turned-up nose.

pug-nosed (pug'nôzd'), having a pug nose. adj.

pu is sance (pū'ə sns or pwis'ns), power; might; force; strength. n.

pu is sant (pū'ə snt or pwis'nt), powerful; mighty; strong. adj. —pu is sant ly, adv.

Pu las ki (pū las'kē), Count Casimir, 1748-1779, Polish nobleman who was a general in the American Revolutionary army. n.

pul chri tude (pul'krə tūd or pul'krə tūd), beauty. n.

pule (pūl), cry in a thin voice, as a sick child does; whimper; whine. v., puled, pul ing.

Pu litz er Prize (pū'lit sər or pul'it sər), U.S. any one of various prizes given each year for the best American drama, novel, biography, history, book of verse, editorial, and cartoon, first awarded in 1917.

pull (pūl), 1. move with the fingers, claws, teeth, etc., in such a way that the thing moved follows the fingers, etc.: pull a tooth, pull a tri g ger, pull a sled up a hill. 2. tug with the fingers, etc.: He pulled at his tie. 3. move, usually with effort or force: The train pulled out of the station. 4. act or effort of pulling: The boy gave a pull at the rope. 5. pick; pluck: pull flowers. 6. tear; rip: The baby pulled the toy to pieces. 7. stretch too far; strain: The football player pulled a ligament in his leg. 8. row: Pull for the shore. 9. be provided or rowed with: The boat pulls eight oars. 10. a difficult climb, journey, or other effort: It was a hard pull to get up the hill. 11. handle, rope, ring, or other thing to pull by. 12. drink. 13. suck: pull at a cigar (v.); a pull at a cigar (n.). 14. hold back, especially to keep from winning: pull one's punches in a fight. 15. Slang. perform; carry through: Don't pull any tricks. 16. hit (a golf ball) so that it curves to the left. 17. such a hit. 18. in printing, take (an impression or proof). 19. Slang. influence; advantage. 20. Slang. arrest (a person). 1-3,5-9,12-16, 18,20 v., 4,10-13,17,19 n. —pull'er, n.

pull for, Slang. give help to.

pull in, stop; check.

Puffin (about 13 in. from bill to tip of tail)

Pug (about 12 in. high at the shoulder) pull oneself together, gather one's faculties, energy, etc.

pull through, get through a difficult or dangerous situation.

pull together, work in harmony; get on together.

pull up, 1. tear up; uproot. 2. remove utterly. 3. bring or come to a halt.

pul let (pūl'it), a young hen, usually less than a year old. n.

pul ley (pūl'ē), 1. wheel with a grooved rim in which a rope can run, and so change the direction of the pull. 2. set of such wheels used to increase the power applied. 3. wheel used to transfer power by driving a belt or being driven by a belt that moves some other part of the machine. n., pl. pul leys.

Pull man (pūl'mən), Pullman car. n.

Pullman car, 1. a railroad car with berths or small rooms for passengers to sleep in. 2. a railroad car with specially comfortable seats.

pull-o ver (pūl'ō'vər), sweater put on by pulling it over the head. n.

pul mo nar y (pūl'mə ner'ē), 1. of or having to do with the lungs. Tuberculosis and pneumonia are pulmonary diseases. 2. having lungs. adj.

Pul mo tor (pūl'mō'tər or pul'mō'tər), device for producing artificial breathing, for use on persons who have almost drowned or smothered. n. Trademark.

pulp (pulp), 1. the soft part of any fruit or vegetable. 2. the soft inner part of a tooth, containing blood vessels and nerves. 3. any soft wet mass. Paper is made from wood pulp. 4. reduce to pulp. 1-3 n., 4 v.

pul pit (pūl'pit), 1. platform or raised structure in a church from which the minister preaches. 2. preachers or preachings: the influence of the pulpit. n.

pulp wood (pulp'wūd'), 1. wood reduced to pulp for making paper. 2. wood suitable for making paper. n.

pulp y (pul'pē), of pulp; like pulp; soft. adj., pulp i er, pulp i est.

pul que (pūl'kă), an alcoholic drink made from the fermented juice of the agave, much used in Mexico and Central America. n.

pul sate (pul'săt), 1. beat; throb. 2. vibrate; quiver. v., pul sat ed, pul sat ing.

pul sa tion (pul sâ'shən), 1. beating; throbbing. 2. a beat; throb. 3. vibration; quiver. n.

pulse (puls), 1. the beating of the heart; changing flow of blood in the arteries caused by the beating of the heart. 2. any regular, measured beat: the pulse in music, the pulse of an engine. 3. beat; throb; vibrate: His heart pulsed with excitement. 4. feeling; sentiment: the pulse of the nation. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., puls ed, puls ing.

pulse (puls), peas, beans, and lentils, used as food. n.

pulse jet (puls'jet'), a type of jet engine into which the air necessary for the burning of the fuel is admitted by valves in spurts. n.

pul ver ize (pul'vər īz), 1. grind to powder or dust. 2. become dust. 3. break to pieces; demolish. v., pul ver ized, pul ver iz ing.

pu ma (pū'mə), a large American wildcat; mountain lion. n.

pum ice (pum'is), 1. a light, spongy stone thrown up from volcanoes, used for cleaning, smoothing, and polishing: Rub your hands with pumice to remove the ink. 2. clean, smooth, or polish with pumice. 1 n., 2 v., pum iced, pum ic ing.

Man using a pulley (def. 1). The wheel revolves inside the frame by which it is hung. Because the rope passes over this wheel, the man can lift the box by pulling downward.

Pulpit

Puma (about 4 or 5 ft. long, not including the tail) pum mel (pum'l), beat; beat with the fists; pom-mel. v., pum mel ing, pum mel ing or esp. Brit. pum-melled, pum mel ling.

pump¹ (pump), 1. apparatus or machine for forcing liquids, air, or gas into or out of things: a water pump, an oil pump. 2. move (liquids, air, etc.) by a pump: Pump water from the well into a pail. 3. blow air into: Pump up the car's tires. 4. remove water, etc., from by a pump: Pump the well dry. 5. work a pump. 6. work as a pump does. 7. move up and down like a pump handle. 8. move by, or as if by, a pump handle: He pumped my hand. 9. draw, force, etc., as if from a pump. 10. get information out of; try to get information out of: Don't let him pump you. 1 n., 2-10 v.

pump² (pump), a low shoe with no fasteners. n.

pum per nick el (pum'pər nīk'l), a coarse, slightly sour bread made of unbolted rye. n.

pump kin (pum'kin or pung'kin), 1. a large, roundish, orange-yellow fruit of a trailing vine, used for making pies, as a vegetable, and as food for stock. 2. vine that it grows on. n.

pun (pun), 1. a humorous use of a word where it can have different meanings; play on words: "We must all hang together, or we shall all hang separately" is a pun by Benjamin Franklin. 2. make puns. 1 n., 2 v., punned, pun ning.

pu na (pū'nā), a high, arid plateau in the Peruvian Andes. n.

punch¹ (punch), 1. hit with the fist: Boys punch; girls often slap. 2. a quick thrust or blow. 3. Informal. vigorous force or effectiveness. 4. U.S. herd or drive (cattle). 1,4 v., 2,3 n. —punch'er, n.

punch² (punch), 1. pierce, cut, stamp, force, or drive with a punch: The train conductor punched our tickets. 2. a tool or apparatus for piercing, perforating, or stamping materials, impressing a design, forcing nails beneath a surface, driving bolts out of holes, and the like. 3. tool for making holes. 4. make (a hole) with a punch or any pointed instrument. 1,4 v., 2,3 n. —punch'er, n.

punch³ (punch), drink made of different liquids mixed together. n.

Punch (punch), a hook-nosed, hump-backed doll who quarrels violently with his wife Judy in the puppet show Punch and Judy. n.

punch as Punch, very much pleased.

punch card, card on which information is recorded by means of holes punched according to a code, for use in processing data by machine, electronic computer, etc.

pun cheon (pun'chēn), 1. a large cask for liquor. 2. slab of timber with a roughly smoothed face. n.

pun chi nel lo (pun'chē nel'ō), clown. n., pl. pun-chi nel los or pun chi nel loes.

punching bag, a leather bag filled with air or stuffed, to be hung up and punched with the fists for exercise.

punc til i o (pungk til'ē ō), 1. detail of honor, conduct, ceremony, etc.: The knight observed every punctilio. 2. care in attending to such details. n., pl. punc til i os.

punc til i ous (pungk til'ē əs), 1. very careful and exact: A nurse should be punctilious in obeying the doctor's orders. 2. paying strict attention to details of conduct and ceremony. adj. —punc til'i ous ly, adv.

punc tu al (pungk'chū əl), prompt; on time: He is punctual to the minute. adj.

punc tu al i ty (pungk'chū əl'ə tē), promptness; being on time. n.

punc tu al ly (pungk'chū əl ē), promptly; on time. adv.

punc tu ate (pungk'chū āt), 1. use periods, commas, and other marks to help make the meaning clear. 2. put punctuation marks in. 3. interrupt now and then: a Hand pump for drawing water from a well. When the handle is pushed down, the piston is raised; this forces air out at the top, and water rises from the shaft to replace the air. When the handle is lifted, the piston is lowered, forcing the water out through the spout.

speech punctuated with cheers. 4. give point or emphasis to: He punctuated his remarks with gestures. v., punc tu at ed, punc tu at ing.

punc tu a tion (pungk'chū ā'shən), use of periods, commas, and other marks to help make the meaning clear. Punctuation does for writing and printing what pauses and changes of voice do for speech. n.

punctuation marks, marks used in writing or printing to help make the meaning clear. Periods, commas, colons, etc., are punctuation marks.

punc ture (pungk'chər), 1. hole made by something pointed. 2. make such a hole in. 3. have or get a puncture. 4. act or process of puncturing. 5. reduce, spoil, or destroy as if by a puncture. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v., punc-tured, punc tur ing.

pun dit (pun'dit), a very learned person; expert; authority. n.

pun gen cy (pun'jən sē), pungent quality: the pungency of pepper, the pungency of wit. n.

pun gent (pun'jənt), 1. sharply affecting the organs of taste and smell: a pungent pickle, the pungent smell of burning leaves. 2. sharp; biting: pungent criticism. 3. stimulating to the mind; keen; lively: a pungent wit. adj. —pun'gent ly, adv.

Pu nic (pū'nik), 1. of or having to do with ancient Carthage or its inhabitants. 2. treacherous; faithless. adj.

pun ish (pun'ish), 1. cause pain, loss, or discomfort to for some fault or offense: The government punishes criminals. 2. cause pain, loss, or discomfort for: The law punishes crimes. 3. Informal. deal with severely, roughly, or greedily. v. —pun'ish er, n.

pun ish a ble (pun'ish ə bl), 1. liable to punishment. 2. deserving punishment. adj.

pun ish ment (pun'ish mēnt), 1. a punishing; being punished. 2. pain, suffering, or loss. n.

pu ni tive (pū'nə tiv), 1. concerned with punishment. 2. inflicting punishment. adj.

Pun jab (pun jāb' or pun'jāb), a former province in N India, now divided between the Republic of India and Pakistan. n.

punk (pungk), 1. a preparation that burns very slowly. A stick of punk is used to light fireworks. 2. decayed wood used as tinder. 3. U.S. Slang. poor or bad in quality. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

pun ster (pun'stər), person fond of making puns. n.

punt (punt), 1. a shallow, flat-bottomed boat with square ends, usually moved by pushing with a pole against the bottom of a river, etc. 2. propel (a boat) by pushing with a pole against the bottom of a river, pond, etc. 3. kick (a football) before it touches the ground after dropping it from the hands. 4. kick given to a football before it touches the ground after dropping it from the hands. 1,4 n., 2,3 v.

punt er (pun'tər), one who punts a boat or football. n.

pu ny (pū'nē), 1. of less than usual size and strength, weak. 2. petty; not important. adj., pu ni er, pu ni-est. —pu'ni ness, n.

pup (pup), 1. a young dog; puppy. 2. a young fox, wolf, seal, etc. 3. a silly, conceited young man. n.

pu pa (pū'pə), 1. stage between the larva and the adult in the development of many insects. 2. form of an insect in this stage. Most pupae are inactive and some, such as those of many moths, are enclosed in a tough case or cocoon. n., pl. pu pae (-pē) or pu pas.

pu pal (pū'pl), of, having to do with, or in the form of the pupa. adj.

pu pil (pū'pl), person who is learning in school or being taught by someone. n.

Man pushing a punt

Four stages in the life of a beetle pu pil (pū/pl), the black spot in the center of the iris of the eye. The pupil, which is the only place where light can enter the eye, is an opening that expands and contracts, thus controlling the amount of light that strikes the retina. n.

pup pet (pup/it), 1. a small doll. 2. figure made to look like a person and moved by wires, strings, or the hands. 3. anybody who is not independent, waits to be told how to act, and does what somebody else says. n. —pup/-pet like', adj.

pup py (pup/ē), 1. a young dog. 2. a silly, conceited young man. n., pl. pup pies.

pur (pēr), purr. n., v., purred, pur ring.

pur blind (pēr/blind'), 1. nearly blind. 2. slow to discern or understand. adj. —pur/blind/ness, n.

pur chas a ble (pēr/chas ə bl), that can be bought. adj.

pur chase (pēr/chəs), 1. get by paying a price; buy. 2. act of buying. 3. thing bought: That hat was a good purchase. 4. get in return for something: purchase safety at the cost of happiness. 5. a firm hold to help move something or to keep from slipping: Wind the rope twice around the tree to get a better purchase. 6. device for obtaining such a hold. 1,4 v., pur chased, pur chasing; 2,3,5,6 n. —pur/chas er, n.

pur dah (pēr/də), in India, a curtain serving to screen women from the sight of men or strangers. n.

pure (pyūr), 1. not mixed with anything else; unadulterated; genuine: pure gold. 2. perfectly clean; spotless: pure hands. 3. perfect; correct; without defects: speak pure French. 4. nothing else than; mere; sheer: a pure accident. 5. with no evil; without sin; chaste: a pure mind. 6. abstract or theoretical (opposed to applied): pure mathematics. 7. keeping the same qualities, characteristics, etc., from generation to generation; of unmixed descent: a pure Indian family. 8. that which is pure. 1-7 adj., pur er, pur est; 8 n. —pure/ness, n.

pure bred (pyūr/bred'), 1. denoting an animal or plant whose ancestors are known to have all belonged to one breed, and which will itself breed true to type. 2. an animal or plant of this kind. 1 adj., 2 n.

pu rée (pyū rā' or pyūr/ā), 1. food boiled to a pulp and pushed through a sieve. 2. a thick soup. 3. make into a purée. 1,2 n., 3 v., pu réed, pu ré ing.

pure ly (pyūr/lē), 1. in a pure manner. 2. exclusively; entirely. 3. merely. 4. innocently; chastely. adv.

pur ga tion (pēr/gā/shən), a purging; cleansing. n.

pur ga tive (pēr/gə tiv), 1. medicine that empties the bowels. Castor oil is a purgative. 2. purging. 1 n., 2 adj.

pur ga to rial (pēr/gə tō/rē əl), of, like, or having to do with purgatory. adj.

pur ga to ry (pēr/gə tō/rē), 1. in the belief of the Roman Catholics, a temporary condition or place in which the souls of those who have died penitent are purified from venial sin or the effects of sin by punishment. 2. any condition or place of temporary suffering or punishment. n., pl. pur ga to ries.

pur ge (pērj), 1. wash away all that is not clean from; make clean. 2. become clean. 3. act of purging. 4. clear of any undesired thing or person, such as air in a water pipe or opponents in a nation. 5. elimination of undesired persons from a nation or party. 6. empty (the bowels). 7. medicine that purges. 1,2,4,6 v., purged, pur ging; 3,5,7 n.

pu ri fi ca tion (pyūr/ə fə kā/shən), a purifying; being purified. n.

Puppet show. These figures are hollow and fit over the hands of a person who is out of sight below the stage; he makes them move and speaks their lines.

pu ri fy (pyūr/ə fi), 1. make pure: Fillers are used to purify water. Gold is purified by fire. 2. become pure. v., pu ri fied, pu ri fy ing. —pu/ri fi'er, n.

pur ism (pyūr/iz əm), 1. avoidance of all words and expressions that are judged unacceptable. 2. insistence that others do this. n.

pur ist (pyūr/ist), person who is very careful or too careful about purity in language. A purist dislikes slang and all expressions that are not formally correct. n.

pu ris tic (pyūr/ris/tik), very careful or too careful about purity in language. adj.

Pu ri tan (pyūr/ət n), 1. member of a group in the Church of England during the 16th and 17th centuries who wanted simpler forms of worship and stricter morals. Many Puritans settled in New England. 2. of the Puritans. 1 n., 2 adj.

pu ri tan (pyūr/ət n), 1. person who is very strict in morals and religion. 2. very strict in morals and religion. 1 n., 2 adj.

pu ri tan ic (pyūr/ə tan/ik), puritanical. adj.

pu ri tan i cal (pyūr/ə tan/ə kl), of or like a puritan; very strict or too strict in morals or religion. adj.

Pu ri tan ism (pyūr/ə tn iz/əm), the principles and practices of the Puritans. n.

pu ri ty (pyūr/ə tē), 1. freedom from dirt or mixture; clearness; cleanness. 2. freedom from evil; innocence: No one doubts the purity of Joan of Arc's motives. 3. freedom from foreign or inappropriate elements; correctness: purity of style. n.

purl (pērl), 1. flow with rippling motions and a murmuring sound: A shallow brook purls. 2. a purling motion or sound. 1 v., 2 n.

purl (pērl), 1. knit with inverted stitches. 2. inversion of stitches in knitting, producing a ribbed appearance. 3. border (material) with small loops. 4. loop or chain of small loops along the edge of lace, braid, ribbon, etc. 5. Archaic. embroider with gold or silver thread. 6. thread of twisted gold or silver wire. 1,3,5 v., 2,4,6 n.

pur lieu (pēr/liū), 1. piece of land on the border of a forest. 2. one's haunt or resort; one's bounds. 3. any bordering, neighboring, or outlying region or district. n.

pur loin (pēr loin'), steal. v.

pur ple (pēr/pl), 1. a dark color made by mixing red and blue. 2. of this color. 3. crimson. This was the ancient meaning of purple. 4. make or become purple. 5. purple cloth or clothing, especially as worn by emperors, kings, etc., to indicate high rank. 6. imperial, royal, or high rank. A prince is born to the purple. 7. imperial; royal. 8. rank or position of a cardinal. 9. brilliant; gorgeous. 1,3,5,6,8 n., 2,3,7,9 adj., 4 v., pur pled, pur pling.

purple martin, a large, blue-black swallow of the United States.

pur plish (pēr/plish), somewhat purple. adj.

pur port (pər pōrt' for 1,2; pēr/pōrt for 3), 1. claim; profess: The document purported to be official. 2. have as its main idea; mean. 3. meaning; main idea: The purport of her letter was that she could not come. 1,2 v., 3 n.

pur pose (pēr/pəs), 1. something one has in mind to get or do; plan; aim; intention. 2. object or end for which a thing is made, done, used, etc. 3. plan; aim; intend. 1,2 n., 3 v., pur posed, pur pos ing.

on purpose, with a purpose; not by accident.

to good purpose, with good results.

to little or no purpose, with few or no results.

pur pose ful (pēr/pəs fəl), having a purpose. adj. —pur/pose ful ly, adv. —pur/pose ful ness, n.

pur pose less (pēr/pəs lis), lacking a purpose. adj. —pur/pose less ly, adv. —pur/pose less ness, n.

pur pose ly (pēr/pəs lē), on purpose; intentionally. adv.

purr (pēr), 1. a low, murmuring sound such as a cat makes when pleased. 2. make this sound. 1 n., 2 v. Also, pur.

purse (pɜrs), 1. a little bag or case for carrying money around with one. 2. money; resources; treasury. 3. sum of money: A purse was made up for the victims of the fire. 4. draw together; press into folds or wrinkles: Grace pursed her lips and frowned. 1-3 n., 4 v., pursed, pur sing.

purse-proud (pɜrs/'prəʊd/), proud of being rich. adj.
purs er (pɜr'sər), officer who keeps the accounts of a ship or airplane, pays wages, and attends to other matters of business. n.

purse strings, control of the money.

purs lane (pɜrs/'læn), 1. a common plant that has small, yellow flowers and small, thick leaves. It is sometimes used for salad or for flavoring, or as a potherb. 2. any of several plants like it. n.

pur su ance (pɜr sū'əns), a following; carrying out; pursuit: In pursuance of his duty, the policeman risked his life. n.

pur su ant (pɜr sū'ənt), following; carrying out; according. adj.

pursuant to, following; acting according to; in accordance with.

pur sue (pɜr sū/), 1. follow to catch or kill; chase. 2. proceed along; follow in action; follow: He pursued a wise course by taking no chances. 3. strive for; try to get; seek: pursue pleasure. 4. carry on; keep on with: She pursued the study of French for four years. 5. continue to annoy or trouble: pursue a teacher with questions. v., pur sued, pur su ing. —pur su'a ble, adj. —pur su'er, n.

pur suit (pɜr sūt/), 1. act of pursuing: The dog is in pursuit of the cat. 2. occupation: Fishing is his favorite pursuit; reading is mine. n.

pursuit plane, a fighter aircraft that has high speed, a high rate of climb, and can be maneuvered with ease.

pur sui vant (pɜr'swə vənt/), 1. assistant to a herald; officer below a herald in rank. 2. follower; attendant. n.

pur sy (pɜr'sē), 1. short-winded or puffy. 2. fat. adj., pur si er, pur si est. —pur'si ness, n.

pu ru lence (pyur'ə ləns), formation or discharge of pus; suppurating. n.

pu ru len cy (pyur'ə lən sē), purulence. n.

pu ru lent (pyur'ə lənt/), full of pus; discharging pus; like pus: a purulent sore. adj.

pur vey (pɜr vā/), supply (food or provisions); provide; furnish: purvey meat for an army, purvey for a royal household. v.

pur vey ance (pɜr vā'əns), 1. a purveying. 2. provisions; supplies. n.

pur vey or (pɜr vā'ər/), 1. person who supplies provisions. 2. person who supplies anything. n.

pur view (pɜr'vū/), range of operation, activity, concern, etc.; scope; extent. n.

pus (pus), liquid formed by inflammation of infected tissue in the body, that consists of white blood cells, bacteria, serum, etc. n.

push (pʊʃ/), 1. move (something) away by pressing against it: Push the door; don't pull. 2. move up, down, back, forward, etc., by pressing: Push him outdoors. 3. move from shore: We pushed off in the boat. 4. thrust: Trees push their roots down into the ground. 5. press hard: push with all one's might. 6. go forward by force: push on at a rapid pace. 7. force (one's way): We had to push our way through the crowd. 8. make go forward; urge: He pushed his plans cleverly. 9. continue with; follow up: push a claim. 10. extend: Alexander pushed his conquests still farther east. 11. urge the use, sale, etc., of. 12. Informal. force; energy; power to succeed: She has plenty of push. 13. act of pushing. 14. hard effort; determined advance. 1-11 v., 12-14 n.

push ball (pʊʃ'bɔl/), 1. game played with a large, heavy ball, usually about six feet in diameter. Two sides of players try to push it toward opposite goals. 2. the ball used. n.

push button, a small button or knob pushed to turn an electric current on or off.

push cart (pʊʃ/'kɑrt/), a light cart pushed by hand. n.

push er (pʊʃ'ər/), 1. person or thing that pushes. 2. airplane with propeller behind instead of in front. n.
Push kin (pʊʃ/'kin/), Alexander, 1799-1837, Russian poet and writer of short stories and novels. n.

push-o ver (pʊʃ'ə vər/), Slang. 1. something very easy to do. 2. person very easy to beat in a contest. n.

pu sil la nim i ty (pū'sl ə nim'ə tē/), cowardliness; timidity. n.

pu sil lan i mous (pū'sl ən'ə mäs/), cowardly; mean-spirited; faint-hearted: The pusillanimous man avoided the fight. adj. —pu'sil lan'i mous ly, adv.

puss (pʊs/), 1. cat. 2. hare. 3. girl. n.

puss y (pʊs'ē/), 1. cat. 2. catkin. n., pl. puss ies.

puss y foot (pʊs'ē fʊt/), Slang. 1. U.S. move softly and cautiously to avoid being seen. 2. U.S. be cautious and timid about revealing one's opinions or committing oneself. 3. person who pussyfoots. 1,2 v., 3 n., pl. puss y foots.
pussy willow, a small American willow with silky catkins.

pus tu lar (pus'chə lər/), of, like, or having to do with pustules; characterized by pustules. adj.

pus tu la tion (pus'chə lā'shən/), formation of pustules. n.

pus tle (pus'chul/), 1. pimple containing pus. 2. any swelling like a pimple or blister, such as the pustules of chicken pox. n.

put (pʊt/), 1. cause to be in some place or position; place; lay: I put sugar in my tea. Put away your toys. 2. cause to be in some state, condition, position, relation, etc.: The murderer was put to death. Put your room in order. 3. express: The teacher puts things clearly. 4. propose or submit for answer, consideration, deliberation, etc.: He put several questions before me. 5. take one's course; go; turn; proceed: The ship put out to sea. 6. throw or cast (a 16-lb. ball, etc.) from the hand placed close to the shoulder. 7. a throw or cast. 8. set at a particular place, point, amount, etc., in a scale of estimation; appraise: He puts the distance at five miles. 9. apply: A doctor puts his skill to good use. 10. impose: put a tax on gasoline. 1-6,8-10 v., put, put ting; 7 n.

put across, Slang. 1. carry out successfully. 2. get accepted.

put aside, away, or by, save for future use.

put down, 1. put an end to; suppress. 2. write down. 3. pay as a down payment.

put forth, grow; sprout; issue.

put in, 1. Informal. spend (time) as specified. 2. enter port. 3. enter a place for safety, supplies, etc.: The ship put in at Singapore.

put off, 1. lay aside; postpone. 2. bid or cause to wait. 3. get rid of.

put on, 1. take on oneself. 2. pretend.

put out, 1. extinguish (a fire). 2. confuse; embarrass. 3. distract, disturb, or interrupt. 4. destroy (an eye, etc.). 5. cause to be out in a game. 6. publish. 7. offend; provoke.

put over, Slang. carry out successfully.

put through, carry out successfully.

put to it, force to a course; put in difficulty.

put up, 1. offer; give; show. 2. make. 3. build. 4. lay aside. 5. put in its usual place. 6. preserve (fruit, etc.). 7. give lodging or food to. 8. Informal. incite. 9. Slang. plan beforehand craftily.

put upon, impose upon; take advantage of; victimize.

put up with, bear with patience; tolerate.

pu ta tive (pū'tə tiv/), supposed; reputed: the putative author of a book. adj.

pu tre fac tion (pū'trə fak'shən/), decay; rotting. n.
pu tre fac tive (pū'trə fak'tiv/), 1. causing putrefaction. 2. characterized by or having to do with putrefaction. adj.

Pussy willow pu tre fy (pū'trə fī), rot; decay: The putrefying meat has a bad smell. v., pu tre fied, pu tre fy ing.

pu tres cence (pū tres'ns), putrescent condition. n.

pu tres cent (pū tres'nt), 1. becoming putrid; rotting. 2. having to do with putrefaction. adj.

pu trid (pū'trid), 1. rotten; foul. 2. thoroughly corrupt or depraved; extremely bad. adj. —pu'trid ly, adv. —pu'trid ness, n.

pu trid i ty (pū'trid'ə tē), 1. putrid condition. 2. putrid matter. n.

putsch (pūch), uprising; insurrection. n.

putt (put), 1. strike (a golf ball) gently and carefully in an effort to make it roll into the hole. 2. the stroke itself. 1 v., 2 n.

put tee (put'ē or pu tē'), 1. a long, narrow strip of cloth wound round the leg from ankle to knee, worn by sportsmen, soldiers, etc. 2. gaiter of cloth or leather reaching from ankle to knee, worn by soldiers, riders, etc. n.

put ter (put'er), keep busy in a rather useless way: Mary likes to spend the afternoon puttering in the garden. v. Also, esp. Brit. potter. —put'ter er, n.

putt er (put'er), 1. person who putts. 2. a golf club used in putting. n.

putt ing green (put'ing), the smooth turf around a golf hole.

put ty (put'ē), 1. a soft mixture of whiting and linseed oil, used for fastening panes of glass, etc. 2. stop up or cover with putty: He puttied up the holes in the woodwork before painting it. 1 n., pl. put ties; 2 v., put tied, put ty ing.

put-up (put'up'), Informal. planned beforehand, or deliberately, in a secret or crafty manner. adj.

puz zle (puz'z), 1. a hard problem: How to get all my things into one trunk is a puzzle. 2. problem or task to be done for fun: A famous Chinese puzzle has seven pieces of wood to fit together. 3. make unable to answer, solve, or understand something; perplex: How the cat got out puzzled us. 4. be perplexed. 5. exercise one's mind on something hard. 6. puzzled condition. 1,2,6 n., 3-5 v., puz zled, puz zling. —puz'zler, n.

puzzle out, find out by thinking or trying hard.

puzzle over, think hard about; try hard to do or work out: They puzzled over their arithmetic.

puz zle ment (puz'z ləmənt), puzzled condition. n.

Pvt., Private.

pwt., pennyweight.

PX or P.X., Post Exchange.

py e mi a or py ae mi a (pī'ē'mē ə), form of blood poisoning caused by bacteria that produce pus. n.

Pyg ma li on (pig mǎ'lē ən), in Greek mythology, a sculptor who fell in love with a statue he had made. Aphrodite gave it life, and it became Galatea. n.

pyg my (pig'mē), 1. a very small person; dwarf. The pygmies living in Africa and Asia are less than five feet high. 2. very small. 1 n., pl. pyg mies; 2 adj. Also, pigmy.

py ja mas (pə jǎ'məz), Esp. Brit. pajamas. n.pl.

py lon (pī'lon), 1. post or tower for guiding aviators. 2. a tall steel framework used to carry high-tension wires across country. 3. gateway, particularly of an Egyptian temple. n.

py lor ic (pī lōr'ik), of or having to do with the pylorus. adj.

py lo rus (pī lō'rəs), the opening that leads from the stomach into the intestine. n., pl. py lo ri (-rī).

A Puttees: A, cloth; B, leather.

Pylon (def. 3)

Pyong yang (pyung'yāng'), capital of North Korea. 286,000. n.

py or rhe a or py or rhoe a (pī'ə rē'ə), disease of the gums in which pockets of pus form about the teeth, the gums shrink, and the teeth become loose. n.

pyr a mid (pī'rə mid), 1. a solid having triangular sides meeting in a point. 2. thing or things having the form of a pyramid. 3. be or put in the form of a pyramid. 4. raise or increase (costs, wages, etc.) gradually. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

py ram i dal (pə ram'ə dl), shaped like a pyramid. adj.

Pyr a mids (pī'rə midz), the huge, massive stone pyramids, serving as royal tombs, built by the ancient Egyptians. n.pl.

pyre (pīr), pile of wood for burning a dead body. n.

Pyr e nees (pī'rə nēz), a mountain range between France and Spain. Its highest peak is 11,168 feet. n.pl.

py ret ic (pī ret'ik), 1. of or having to do with fever. 2. producing fever. 3. feverish. adj.

Py rex (pī'reks), Trademark. kind of glassware that will not break when heated. n.

pyr i dox ine (pī'rə dok'sēn), vitamin B₆, essential to human nutrition, found in wheat germ, fish, liver, etc. n.

py ri tes (pī rī'tēz or pī'rīts), 1. iron pyrites, a mineral which has a yellow color and glitters so that it suggests gold; fool's gold. 2. any of various compounds of sulfur and a metal. n.

py ro ma ni a (pī'rə mǎ'nē ə), an insane desire to set things on fire. n.

py ro tech nic (pī'rə tek'nik), 1. of or having to do with fireworks: a pyrotechnic display. 2. resembling fireworks; brilliant; sensational: pyrotechnic eloquence. adj.

py ro tech ni cal (pī'rə tek'nə kl), pyrotechnic. adj.

py ro tech nics (pī'rə tek'niks), 1. the making of fireworks. 2. use of fireworks. 3. display of fireworks. 4. a brilliant or sensational display. n.

py rox y lin or py rox y line (pī rok'sl in), any of various substances made by nitrating certain forms of cellulose. Guncotton and the soluble cellulose nitrates used in making celluloid, collodion, etc., are pyroxylins. n.

Pyr rhic (pīr'ik), of or having to do with Pyrrhus. adj.

Pyrrhic victory, victory won at too great cost, so named after Pyrrhus, who won a battle with an enormous loss of life.

Pyr rhus (pīr'əs), 318?-272 B.C., king of Epirus in Greece from 300 to 272 B.C. He invaded Italy. n.

Py thag o ras (pə thag'ə rəs), 582?-500? B.C., Greek philosopher, religious teacher, and mathematician. n.

Py thag o re an (pə thag'ə rē'ən), 1. of or having to do with Pythagoras, his teachings, or his followers. 2. a follower of Pythagoras. 1 adj., 2 n.

Pyth i as (pith'ē əs), in Roman legend, a man famous for his devoted friendship with Damon. n.

py thon (pī'thon), 1. any of several large snakes of the Old World that are related to the boas and kill their prey by crushing. Pythons usually live in trees near water. 2. any large boa. n.

pyx (piks), 1. box in which the consecrated Host is kept or carried. 2. box at the British mint in which specimen coins are kept to be tested for weight and purity. n.

pyx id i um (piks id'ē əm), a seed vessel that bursts open transversely into a top and bottom part, the top part acting as a lid. n., pl. pyx id i a (-ē ə).

Pyramids (def. 1)

Egyptian Pyramid

Pyxidium

Q

Q or q (kū), the 17th letter of the alphabet. n., pl. Q's or q's.

Qa tar (kā'tər), country in E Arabia, on the Persian Gulf, under British influence. 40,000 pop.; 8000 sq. mi. Capital: Doha. n.

Q.E.D., which was to be proved.

Q.M., quartermaster.

qr., 1. quarter; one fourth of a hundredweight. 2. quire.

qt., 1. quart; quarts. 2. quantity.

qts., quarts.

quack¹ (kwak), 1. sound a duck makes. 2. make the sound of a duck. 1 n., 2 v.

quack² (kwak), 1. a dishonest person who pretends to be a doctor. 2. an ignorant pretender to knowledge or skill of any sort. 3. used by quacks. 4. not genuine. 1,2 n., 3,4 adj.

quack ery (kwak'ər ē), practices or methods of a quack. n., pl. quack er ies.

quad¹ (kwod), Informal. quadrangle of a college. n.

quad² (kwod), Informal. quadruplet. n.

quad ran gle (kwod'rang'gl), 1. a four-sided space or court wholly or nearly surrounded by buildings. 2. the buildings around a quadrangle. 3. quadrilateral. n.

quad ran gu lar (kwod rang'gyə-lər), like a quadrangle; having four corners or angles. adj.

quad rant (kwod'rənt), 1. quarter of a circle or of its circumference. 2. instrument used in astronomy, navigation, etc., for measuring altitudes. n.

quad rat ic (kwod rat'ik), 1. involving a square or squares, but no higher powers. 2. a quadratic equation. 1 adj., 2 n.

quadratic equation, equation involving a square or squares, but no higher powers, of the unknown quantity or quantities. $x^2 + 3x + 2 = 12$ is a quadratic equation.

quad rat ics (kwod rat'iks), branch of algebra that deals with quadratic equations. n.

quad ren ni al (kwod ren'ē əl), 1. occurring every four years: a quadrennial presidential election. 2. of or for four years. adj.

quad ren ni al ly (kwod ren'ē əl ē), once in four years. adv.

quad ri lat er al (kwod'rə lat'ər əl),

1. having four sides and four angles. 2. a plane figure having four sides and four angles. 1 adj., 2 n.

qua drille (kwə dril'), 1. a square dance for four couples that has five parts or movements. 2. music for it. n.

quad ril lion (kwod ril'yən), 1. in the United States and France, 1 followed by 15 zeros. 2. in Great Britain, 1 followed by 24 zeros. n., adj.

quad ri no mi al (kwod'rə nō'mē əl), 1. consisting of four terms. 2. an algebraic expression having four terms, such as $a^2 - ab + 4a - b^2$. 1 adj., 2 n.

quad roon (kwod rūn'), person having one fourth Negro blood; child of a mulatto and a white person. n.

quad ru ped (kwod'rū ped), 1. animal that has four feet. 2. having four feet. 1 n., 2 adj.

quad ru ple (kwod'rū pl or kwod rū'pl), 1. four-fold; consisting of four parts; including four parts or parties. 2. four times; four times as great. 3. number, amount, etc., four times as great as another: 80 is the quadruple of 20. 4. make or become four times as great. 5. having four musical beats to each measure, with the first and third beats accented. 1,2,5 adj., 2 adv., 3 n., 4 v., quad ru pled, quad ru pling.

quad ru plet (kwod'rə plit or kwod rū'plit), 1. one of four children born at the same time from the same mother. 2. group of four. n.

quaes tor (kwes'tər), 1. an ancient Roman official in charge of the public funds; treasurer. 2. a public prosecutor in certain criminal cases in ancient Rome. n.

quaff (kwāf or kwaf), 1. drink in large draughts; drink freely. 2. a quaffing. 1 v., 2 n.

quag ga (kwag'ə), an extinct South African mammal resembling the donkey and the zebra. n.

quag mire (kwag'mir'), 1. soft, muddy ground; boggy or miry place. 2. a difficult situation. n.

qua hog (kwō'hog or kwə'hog'), a roundish, edible American clam; hard clam. n.

quail¹ (kwāl), any of various game birds belonging to the same group as fowls and partridges, especially the bobwhite. n., pl. quails or (esp. collectively) quail.

quail² (kwāl), be afraid; lose courage; shrink back in fear: The slave quailed at his master's look. v.

quaint (kwānt), strange or odd in an interesting, pleasing, or amusing way: Old photographs seem quaint to us today. adj. —quaint'ly, adv. —quaint'ness, n.

quake (kwāk), 1. shake; tremble: She quaked with fear. 2. a shaking; trembling. 3. earthquake. 1 v., quaked, quaking; 2,3 n.

Quak er (kwāk'ər), member of a Christian group called the Society of Friends. Quakers refuse to go to war or to take oaths; their clothes, manners, and religious services are very plain and simple. n.

quak er-la dy (kwāk'ər lā'dē), a small, delicate plant with bluish flowers; bluet. n., pl. quak er-la dies.

qual i fi ca tion (kwol'ə fə kā'shən), 1. that which makes a person fit for a job, task, office, etc.: To know the way is one qualification for a guide. 2. that which limits, changes, or makes less free and full: His pleasure had one qualification; his friends could not enjoy it, too. 3. modification; limitation; restriction: The statement was made without any qualification. n.

qual i fied (kwol'ə fid), 1. having the desirable or required qualifications; fitted; adapted. 2. modified; limited; restricted. adj.

qual i fier (kwol'ə fi'ər), 1. person or thing that qualifies. 2. word that qualifies another word. Adjectives and adverbs are qualifiers. n.

qual i fy (kwol'ə fi), 1. make fit or competent: qualify oneself for a job. 2. furnish with legal power; make legally capable. 3. become fit; show oneself fit: Can you qualify for the Boy Scouts? 4. make less strong; change somewhat; limit; modify: Qualify your statement that dogs are loyal by adding "usually." v., qual i fied, qual i fy ing.

qual i ta tive (kwol'ə tā'tiv), concerned with quality or qualities. adj. —qual'i ta'tive ly, adv.

qualitative analysis, a testing of something to find out what chemical substances are in it.

qual i ty (kwol'ə tē), 1. something special about an object that makes it what it is: One quality of iron is hardness; one quality of sugar is sweetness. 2. characteristic; attribute: She has many fine qualities. 3. the kind that anything is: That is a poor quality of cloth. 4. nature; disposition; temper: Trials often test a man's quality. 5. character; position; relation: Dr. Smith was present, but in quality of friend, not as physician. 6. fineness; merit; excellence: Look for quality rather than quantity. 7. high rank; good or high social position. 8. people of high rank. 9. the character of sounds aside from pitch and volume or intensity. n., pl. qual i ties.

qualm (kwām), 1. a sudden disturbing feeling in the mind; uneasiness; misgiving; doubt: I tried the test with some qualms. 2. disturbance or scruple of conscience:

Quail or bobwhite (about 10 in. long)

Quadrants (def. 1)

Quadrilaterals

She felt some qualms at staying away from church. 3. a feeling of faintness or sickness, especially of nausea, that lasts for just a moment. n.

qualmish (kwām'ish), 1. inclined to have qualms. 2. having qualms. adj.

quan da ry (kwon'dā'rē), state of perplexity or uncertainty; dilemma. n., pl. quan da ries.

quan ti ta tive (kwon'tā'tiv), 1. concerned with quantity. 2. that can be measured. adj. —quan'ti-ta'tive ly, adv.

quantitative analysis, testing of something to find out not only what chemical substances are in it, but also how much there is of each substance.

quan ti ty (kwon'tā'tē), 1. amount: Use equal quantities of nuts and raisins in the cake. 2. a large amount; large number: The baker buys flour in quantity. She owns quantities of books. 3. something that is measurable. 4. length of a note in music. 5. length of a vowel sound or syllable in speech. n., pl. quan ti ties.

quan tum (kwon'təm), in physics: 1. the smallest amount of energy capable of existing independently. 2. this amount of energy regarded as a unit. n., pl. quan ta (-tə).

quantum theory, theory that whenever energy is transferred, the transfer occurs in pulsations or stages rather than continuously, and that the amount transferred during each stage is a definite quantity.

quar an tine (kwōr'ən tēn), 1. keep away from others for a time to prevent the spread of an infectious disease: People with smallpox are quarantined. 2. state of being quarantined: The house was in quarantine for three weeks when the child had scarlet fever. 3. detention, isolation, and other measures taken to prevent the spread of an infectious disease. 4. place where people, animals, plants, ships, etc., are held until it is sure that they have no infectious diseases, insect pests, etc. 1 v., quar antined, quar an tin ing; 2-4 n.

quar rel (kwōr'əl), 1. an angry dispute or disagreement; breaking off of friendly relations: The children had a quarrel over the division of the candy. 2. dispute or disagree angrily; break off friendly relations. 3. cause for a dispute or disagreement; reason for breaking off friendly relations: A bully likes to pick quarrels. 4. find fault: It is useless for a girl to quarrel with fate because she is not a boy. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., quar reled, quar rel ing or esp. Brit. quar relled, quar rel ling.

quar rel (kwōr'əl), 1. bolt or arrow used with a crossbow. 2. small, square or diamond-shaped pane of glass, used in latticed windows. 3. a stonemason's chisel. n.

quar rel er or quar rel ler (kwōr'əl ər), one who quarrels. n.

quar rel some (kwōr'əl səm), too ready to quarrel; fond of fighting and disputing. adj. —quar-rel-some ness, n.

quar ry (kwōr'ē), 1. place where stone is dug, cut, or blasted out for use in building. 2. obtain from a quarry: We watched the workmen quarry out a huge block of stone. 1 n., pl. quar ries; 2 v., quar ried, quar ry ing. —quar-ri er, n.

quar ry (kwōr'ē), 1. animal chased in a hunt; game; prey. 2. anything hunted or eagerly pursued. n., pl. quar ries.

quart (kwōrt), 1. measure for liquids, equal to one fourth of a gallon. 2. measure for dry things, equal to one eighth of a peck. 3. container holding a quart. n.

quarter (kwōr'tər), 1. one fourth; half of a half; one of four equal or corresponding parts: a quarter of an apple, a quarter of lamb. 2. divide into quarters: She quartered the apple. 3. one fourth of a dollar; 25 cents. 4. a copper and nickel coin of the United States, worth 25 cents. 5. a silver coin of Canada, worth 25 cents. 6. one fourth of an hour; 15 minutes; moment marking this period. 7. one fourth of a year; 3 months. 8. one of the four periods of the moon, lasting about 7 days each.

9. one fourth of a yard; 9 inches. 10. one fourth of a hundredweight; 25 pounds (sometimes 28 pounds). 11. being one of four equal parts; being equal to only about one fourth of full measure. 12. region; place. 13. section; district: The Mexican quarter is on the south side of the town. 14. certain part of a community, group, etc.: The bankers' theory was not accepted in other quarters. 15. point of the compass; direction: In what quarter is the wind? 16. give a place to live in: Soldiers were quartered in all the houses of the town. 17. live or stay in a place. 18. mercy shown a defeated enemy in sparing his life: The Indians gave no quarter. 19. one of four parts into which an animal's carcass is divided. 20. leg and its adjoining parts. 21. cut the body of (a person) into quarters, especially as a punishment. 22. part of a ship's side near the stern. 23. of the wind, blow on a ship's quarter. 24. in heraldry, one of four (or more) parts into which a shield is divided by lines at right angles. 25. emblem occupying the upper right fourth of a shield. 26. place or bear (coats of arms) in quarters of a shield. 27. part of a boot or shoe above the heel and below the top of either side of the foot from the middle of back to vamp. 1,3-10,12-15,18-20, 22,24,25,27 n., 2,16,17,21,23,26 v., 11 adj.

quarters, 1. place to live or stay: The circus has winter quarters in the South. 2. proper position or station.

at close quarters, very close together; almost touching.

quar ter back (kwōr'tər bak'), one of four football players behind the line. See halfback for diagram. n.

quar ter deck (kwōr'tər dek'), part of the upper deck between the mainmast and the stern, used especially by the officers of a ship. n.

quar tered (kwōr'tərd), 1. divided into quarters. 2. furnished with rooms or lodging. 3. in heraldry, divided or arranged in quarters. 4. quarter-sawed. adj.

quar ter-hour (kwōr'tər ər'), 1. fifteen minutes. 2. point one fourth or three fourths of the way in an hour. n.

quar ter ing (kwōr'tər ing), 1. act of dividing into fourths. 2. act of assigning quarters, as for soldiers. 3. of a wind, blowing on a ship's side near the stern. 4. in heraldry, the division of a shield into quarters or parts. 5. one of such parts. 6. coat of arms on it. 1,2,4-6 n., 3 adj.

quar ter ly (kwōr'tər lē), 1. happening, done, etc., four times a year: to make quarterly payments on one's insurance. 2. once each quarter of a year: to pay one's insurance premiums quarterly. 3. magazine published every three months. 1 adj., 2 adv., 3 n., pl. quar-ter lies.

quar ter mas ter (kwōr'tər mas'tər), 1. an army officer who has charge of providing quarters, clothing, fuel, transportation, etc., for troops. 2. a navy officer who has charge of the steering, the compasses, signals, etc., on a ship. n.

quar ter note, a musical note equal to one fourth of a whole note.

quar ter saw (kwōr'tər sō'), saw (a log) lengthwise into quarters and then into boards. v., quar ter sawed, quar ter sawed or quar ter-sawn, quar ter saw ing.

quarter section, piece of land, usually square, containing 160 acres.

quarter sessions, 1. an English court, held quarterly, that has limited criminal jurisdiction and certain other powers. 2. any of various other courts held quarterly.

quar ter staff (kwōr'tər staf'), an old English weapon consisting of a stout pole 6 to 8 feet long, tipped with iron. n., pl. quar ter staves.

quar ter staves (kwōr'tər stāvz'), pl. of quarter-staff. n.

Quartered arms

quar tet or quar tette (kwôr tet'), 1. group of four musicians (singers or players). 2. piece of music for four voices or instruments. 3. any group of four. n.
quar to (kwôr'tô), 1. the page size (usually about 9 by 12 inches) of a book in which each leaf is one fourth of a whole sheet of paper. 2. having this size. 3. book having this size. 1,3 n., pl. quar tos; 2 adj.

quartz (kwôr'ts), a very hard mineral composed of silica. Common quartz crystals are colorless and transparent, but amethyst, jasper, and many other colored stones are quartz. n.

quartz ite (kwôr'ts'it), a granular rock consisting mostly of quartz. n.

qua sar (kwâ'sâr), a heavenly body that is known by the powerful electromagnetic waves it emits. It is thought to be larger than a star but smaller than a nebula. n.

quash¹ (kwosh), put down completely; crush: quash a revolt. v.

quash² (kwosh), make void; annul: The judge quashed the charges against the prisoner. v.

qua si (kwâ'si or kwâ'sê), 1. seeming; not real; half-way: quasi humor. 2. seemingly; not really; partly; almost. 1 adj., 2 adv.

quasi-, prefix meaning the same as quasi, used in combination, as in quasi-official.

quas sia (kwosh'ə), 1. a bitter drug obtained from the wood of a tropical American tree, used as a tonic and as a substitute for hops. 2. the wood. 3. the tree. n.

Qua ter na ry (kwâ tēr'nâ rē), 1. the geological period that includes the Recent. 2. deposits of rock made in this period. 3. of this period or these deposits. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

quat rain (kwot'rân), stanza or poem of four lines. n.

quat re foil (kat'ər-foil'), an architectural ornament having four lobes. n.

qua ver (kwâ'vər), 1. shake tremulously; tremble: The old man's voice quavered. 2. a shaking or trembling, especially of the voice. 3. trill in singing or in playing on a musical instrument. 4. an eighth note in music. 1,3 v., 2,4 n. —qua'ver ing ly, adv.

qua ver y (kwâ'vər ē), quaver-ing. adj.

quay (kē), a solid landing place where ships load and unload, often built of stone. n.

Que., Quebec.

quea sy (kwē'zē), 1. inclined to nausea; easily upset: a queasy stomach. 2. tending to unsettle the stomach. 3. uneasy; uncomfortable. 4. squeamish; fastidious. adj., quea-si er, quea si est, —quea'si ly, adv. —quea'si ness, n.

Que bec (kwi bek'), 1. province in eastern Canada. 5,115,000 pop.; 594,860 sq. mi. Abbrev.: Que. 2. its capital, on the St. Lawrence River. 168,000. n.

queen (kwēn), 1. wife of a king. 2. a woman ruler. 3. woman who is very important, stately, or beautiful: the queen of society, the queen of the May. 4. act like a queen. 5. a fully developed female in a colony of bees, ants, etc., that lays eggs. There is usually only one queen in a hive of bees. 6. a playing card bearing a picture of a queen. 7. piece in chess that can move in any straight or diagonal row. 8. the chief, best, finest, etc.: the rose, queen of flowers. 1-3,5-8 n., 4 v. —queen'like, adj.

queen consort, the wife of a reigning king.

queen dowager, widow of a king.

queen ly (kwēn'lē), 1. of a queen; fit for a queen. 2. like a queen; like a queen's. 3. in a queenly manner; as a queen does. 1,2 adj., queen li er, queen li est; 3 adv. —queen'li ness, n.

queen mother, widow of a former king and mother of a reigning king or queen.

Architectural quatrefoils

Quay

Queen regent, 1. queen ruling in place of an absent or unfit king. 2. queen ruling in her own right.

Queens (kwēnz), borough of New York City, on Long Island east of Brooklyn. 1,810,000. n.

Queens land (kwēnz'lənd), a state in E Australia. 1,450,000 pop.; 670,500 sq. mi. Capital: Brisbane. n.

queer (kwir), 1. strange; odd; peculiar: That was a queer remark for her to make. 2. Informal. probably bad; causing doubt or suspicion: There is something queer about her. 3. not well; faint; giddy. 4. Slang. bad; counterfeit. 5. Slang. spoil; ruin. 1-4 adj., 5 v. —queer'ly, adv.

queer ness (kwir'nīs), 1. queer nature or behavior. 2. something strange or odd; peculiarity. n.

quell (kwel), 1. put down (disorder, rebellion, etc.): quell a riot. 2. put an end to; overcome: quell one's fears. v.

quench (kwench), 1. put an end to; stop: quench a thirst. 2. drown out; put out: Water quenched the fire. 3. cool suddenly by plunging into water or other liquid. Hot steel is quenched to harden it. v.

quench less (kwench'lis), that cannot be quenched; inextinguishable. adj.

quer u lous (kwer'ə ləs), 1. complaining; faultfinding. 2. fretful; peevish. adv. —quer'u lous ly, adv.

que ry (kwir'ē), 1. question; inquiry. 2. ask; ask about; inquire into. 3. ask questions. 4. doubt. 5. express doubt about. 6. the sign (?) put after a question or used to express doubt about something written or printed. 1,4,6 n., pl. que ries; 2,3,5 v., que ried, que-ry ing.

quest (kwest), 1. search; hunt: Mary went to the library in quest of something to read. 2. search or seek for; hunt. 3. expedition of knights: There are many stories about the quest of the Holy Grail. 4. knights in such an expedition. 5. object sought for. 1,3-5 n., 2 v.

ques tion (kwes'chən), 1. thing asked; sentence in interrogative form, addressed to someone to get information; inquiry. 2. ask in order to find out; seek information from. 3. ask; inquire. 4. a judicial examination or trial; interrogation. 5. matter of doubt or dispute; controversy: A question arose about the ownership of the property. 6. doubt; dispute: I question the truth of his story. 7. matter to be talked over, investigated, considered, etc.; problem: the question of prohibition. 8. proposal to be voted on. 9. the taking of a vote on a proposal: The president asked if the club members were ready for the question. 1,4,5,7-9 n., 2,3,5 v. —ques-tion er, n. —ques'tion ing ly, adv.

beside the question, off the subject.

beyond question, without doubt; not to be disputed.

call in question, dispute; challenge.

in question, 1. under consideration or discussion. 2. in dispute.

out of the question, impossible.

without question, without a doubt; not to be disputed.

ques tion a ble (kwes'chən ə bl), 1. open to question or dispute; doubtful; uncertain: a questionable statement. 2. of doubtful propriety, honesty, morality, respectability, or the like: questionable behavior. adj.

question mark, mark (?) put after a question in writing or printing.

ques tion naire (kwes'chən ār'), list of questions, usually a written or printed list. n.

quet zal (ket sāl'), 1. a Central American bird having brilliant golden-green and scarlet plumage. The male has long, flowing tail feathers. 2. unit of money of Guatemala worth about one dollar in ordinary times. n.

queue (kū), 1. braid of hair hanging down from the back of the head. 2. Esp. Brit. a long line of people, automobiles, etc. 3. Esp. Brit. form or stand in a long line. 1,2 n., 3 v., queue'd, queu ing.

Que zon (kā'sōn), a new city contiguous with Manila to the northeast. It replaced Manila as the capital of the Philippines. 108,000. n.

Chinese queue

Que zon y Mo li na (kā'sôn ē mō lē'nā), Manuel Luis, 1878-1944, Philippine statesman and patriot.

quib ble (kwib'l), 1. an unfair and petty evasion of the point or truth by using words with a double meaning: a legal quibble. 2. evade the point or the truth by twisting the meaning of words. 1 n., 2 v., quib bled, quib bling.

quick (kwik), 1. fast and sudden; swift: a quick turn. 2. begun and ended in a very short time: a quick visit. 3. coming soon; prompt: a quick reply. 4. not patient; hasty: a quick temper. 5. brisk: a quick fire. 6. acting quickly; ready; lively: a quick wit. 7. understanding or learning quickly: a child who is quick in school. 8. the tender, sensitive flesh under a fingernail or toenail: The child bit his nails down to the quick. 9. the tender, sensitive part of one's feelings: Their insults cut him to the quick. 10. living persons: the quick and the dead. 11. quickly. 12. readily convertible into cash. 1-7, 12 adj., 8-10 n., 11 adv. —quick'ness, n.

quick en (kwik'ən), 1. move more quickly; hasten; hurry; expedite; accelerate: Quicken your pace. 2. stir up; make alive; rouse; stimulate; animate: He quickened the hot ashes into flames. Reading adventure stories quickened his imagination. 3. become more active or alive: His pulse quickened. v.

quick-freeze (kwik'frēz'), subject (food) to rapid freezing to prepare it for storing, without serious loss of flavor, at freezing temperatures. v., quick-froze, quick-fro zen, quick-freez ing.

quick ie (kwik'ē), Slang. a motion picture, novel, or the like, produced cheaply and in haste. n.

quick lime (kwik'lim'), a white, alkaline substance in the form of a powder or hard lumps, obtained by burning limestone and used for making mortar; unslaked lime. n.

quick ly (kwik'lē), rapidly; with haste; very soon. adv.

quick sand (kwik'sand'), soft, wet sand, very deep, that will not support one's weight. A quicksand may swallow up men, animals, etc. n.

quick sil ver (kwik'sil'vər), the metal mercury. n.

quick step (kwik'step'), 1. step used in marching in quick time. 2. a lively dance step. 3. music in a brisk march rhythm. n.

quick-tem per ed (kwik'tem'pərd), easily angered. adj.

quick time, a fast speed of marching. In quick time, soldiers march four miles an hour.

quick-witt ed (kwik'wit'id), having a quick mind; mentally alert. adj.

quid¹ (kwid), 1. piece to be chewed. 2. bite of chewing tobacco. n.

quid² (kwid), Brit. Slang. one pound, or 20 shillings. n., pl. quid.

quid pro quo (kwid' prō kwō'), Latin. compensation; one thing in return for another.

¿quién sa be? (kyen sä'vā), Spanish. who knows?

qui es cence (kwī es'ns), absence of activity; quietness; stillness; motionlessness. n.

qui es cent (kwī es'nt), inactive; quiet; still; motionless. adj. —qui es'cent ly, adv.

qui et (kwī'ət), 1. moving very little; still: a quiet river. 2. with no or little noise: quiet footsteps, a quiet room. 3. peaceful; gentle; unobtrusive: a quiet mind, quiet manners. 4. at rest; not busy: a quiet evening at home. 5. state of rest; stillness; absence of motion or noise. 6. freedom from disturbance; peace: to read in quiet. 7. make quiet; become quiet: The mother quieted her frightened child. The wind quieted down. 8. not showy or bright: Gray is a quiet color. 9. in a quiet manner. 1-4, 8 adj., 5, 6 n., 7 v., 9 adv. —qui'et er, n. —qui'et ly, adv. —qui'et ness, n.

qui e tude (kwī'ə tūd or kwī'ə tūd), quietness; stillness; calmness. n.

qui e tus (kwī'ē'təs), a final getting rid of anything; finishing stroke; anything that ends or settles: The arrival of the militia gave the riot its quietus. n.

quill (kwil), 1. a large, stiff feather. 2. the hollow stem of a feather, such as a pen, toothpick, or an instrument for plucking strings of a mandolin, etc. 4. a stiff, sharp hair or spine like the end of a feather. A porcupine has quills on its back. n.

Quill for writing
(def. 3)

quilt (kwilt), 1. bed cover made of two pieces of cloth with a soft pad between, held in place by lines of stitching. 2. bed cover. 3. anything resembling a quilt. 4. make quilts. 5. stitch together with a soft lining: quilt a bathrobe. 6. sew in lines or patterns: The bed cover was quilted in a flower design. 1-3 n., 4-6 v.

quilt ing (kwil'ting), 1. quilted work. 2. material for making quilts; a stout fabric so woven as to appear quilted. n.

quilting bee, U.S. a friendly gathering of women to make a quilt.

quince (kwins), 1. a hard, yellowish acid fruit, used for preserves. 2. tree it grows on. 3. a similar shrub or tree grown for its blossoms. n.

Quin cy (kwīn'zē), city in E Massachusetts. 87,000. n.

quin in (kwīn'ən), quinine. n.

qui nine (kwī'nīn), 1. a bitter, colorless, crystalline drug made from the bark of a cinchona tree, used for colds, malaria, and fevers. 2. any of various compounds of quinine that are used as medicine. n.

Quin qua ges i ma (kwīng'kwə jes'ə mə), the Sunday before the beginning of Lent. n.

quin quen ni al (kwīng kwen'ē əl), 1. occurring every five years. 2. of or for five years. adj.

quin que reme (kwīng'kwə rēm), a galley with five tiers of oars. n.

quin sy (kwīn'zē), tonsillitis with pus; very sore throat with an abscess in the tonsils. n.

quint (kwint), Informal. quintuplet. n.

quin tal (kwīn'tl), a hundredweight. In the United States, a quintal equals 100 pounds; in Great Britain, 112 pounds. n.

quin tes sence (kwīn tes'ns), 1. pure essence; purest form. 2. the most perfect example of something: Her costume was the quintessence of good taste and style. n.

quin tes sen tial (kwīn'tə sen'shəl), having the nature of a quintessence; of the purest or most perfect kind. adj.

quin tet or quin tette (kwīn tet'), 1. group of five musicians (singers or players). 2. piece of music for five voices or instruments. 3. any group of five. n.

quin til lion (kwīn til'yən), 1. in the United States and France, 1 followed by 18 zeros. 2. in Great Britain, 1 followed by 30 zeros. n.

quin tu ple (kwīn'tū pl, kwīn'tyū pl, kwīn tū'pl, or kwīn tū'pl), 1. fivefold; consisting of five parts. 2. five times as great. 3. make five times as great. 4. become five times as great. 5. number, amount, etc., five times as great as another. 1, 2 adj., 3, 4 v., quin tu pled, quin tu pling; 5 n.

quin tu plet (kwīn'tū plit, kwīn'tyū plit, kwīn tū'plit, or kwīn tū'plit), 1. one of five children born at the same time from the same mother: Many people have heard of the Dionne quintuplets in Canada. 2. any group or combination of five. n.

quip (kwip), 1. a clever or witty saying. 2. a sharp, cutting remark. 3. make quips. 4. quibble. 5. something odd or strange. 1, 2, 4, 5 n., 3 v., quipped, quip ping.

quire (kwīr), 24 or 25 sheets of paper of the same size and quality. n.

Quir i nal (kwir'ə nl). 1. one of the seven hills upon which Rome was built. 2. a palace built on this hill. 3. formerly, the Italian royal court. n.

quirk (kwërk). 1. a peculiar way of acting. 2. a clever or witty saying. 3. quibble. 4. a sudden twist or turn. 5. flourish in writing. n.

quirt (kwërt), a riding whip with a short, stout handle and a lash of braided leather. n.

quis ling (kwiz'ling), any person who treacherously helps to prepare the way for enemy occupation of his own country. n.

quit (kwit). 1. stop: The men quit work when the whistle blew. 2. stop working. 3. leave: He quit his room in anger. If he doesn't pay his rent, he will receive notice to quit. 4. give up; let go. 5. pay back; pay off (a debt). 6. free; clear; rid: I gave him money to be quit of him. 7. Archaic. behave or conduct (oneself). 1-7 v., quit or quitted, quit ting; 6 adj.

quit claim (kwit'klām'), 1. the giving up of a claim. 2. document stating that somebody gives up a claim. 3. give up claim to (a possession, etc.). 1,2 n., 3 v.

quite (kwit), 1. completely; wholly; entirely: a hat quite out of fashion. 2. actually; really; positively: quite the thing. 3. Informal. to a considerable extent or degree: quite pretty. adv.

Qui to (ke'tō), capital of Ecuador. 270,000. n.

quit rent (kwit'rent'), rent paid in money, instead of services rendered under a feudal system. n.

quits (kwits), on even terms by repayment or retaliation. adj.

be quits with, get even with; have revenge on: "I'll be quits with you yet for breaking my bicycle," called Fred to Joe.

cry quits, admit that things are now even.

quit tance (kwit'ns), 1. release from debt or obligation. 2. the paper certifying this; a receipt. 3. repayment. n.

quitter (kwit'er), Informal. one who gives up easily. n.

quiver (kwiv'er), shake; shiver; tremble: The dog quivered with excitement. n., v.

quiver (kwiv'er), case to hold arrows. n.

qui vive? (kē vēv'), who goes there?

on the qui vive, watchful; alert.

Qui xo te (ki hō'tē or kwik'set), Don. See Don Quixote. n.

quix ot ic (kwiks ot'ik), 1. resembling Don Quixote; extravagantly chivalrous or romantic. 2. visionary; not practical. adj. —quix ot i cal ly, adv.

quiz (kwiz), 1. examine informally by questions; test the knowledge of. 2. an informal written or oral examination; test. 3. make fun of. 4. person who makes fun of others. 5. a practical joke. 1,3 v., quizzed, quiz zing; 2,4,5 n., pl. quiz zes.

quiz zi cal (kwiz'ə kl), 1. odd; queer; comical. 2. that suggests making fun of others; teasing: a quizzical smile. adj. —quizz'zi cal ly, adv.

quoit (kwōit), a heavy, flattish iron or rope ring thrown to encircle a peg stuck in the ground or to come as close to it as possible. n.

quoits, game so played. Quoits is often played with horseshoes.

quon dam (kwon'dām), that once was; former: The quondam servant is now master. adj.

Quon set hut (kwon'sit), a prefabricated metal building shaped like a half-cylinder.

quo rum (kwō'rəm), number of members of any society or assembly that must be present if the business done is to be legal or binding. n.

quot., quotation.

quo ta (kwō'ta), share of a total due from or to a particular district, state, person, etc.: Each member of the club was given his quota of tickets to sell for the party. n.

quot a ble (kwōt'ə bl), 1. that can be quoted. 2. suitable for quoting. adj.

quo ta tion (kwō tā'shən), 1. somebody's words repeated exactly by another person; passage quoted from a book, speech, etc.: From what author does this quotation come? 2. quoting: Quotation is a habit of some preachers. 3. the stating of the current price of a stock, commodity, etc. 4. the price so stated: today's quotation on wheat. n.

quotation mark, one of a pair of marks used to indicate the beginning and end of a quotation. For an ordinary quotation use these marks (" "). For a quotation within another quotation use these (' ').

quote (kwōt), 1. repeat the exact words of; give words or passages from: She often quotes her husband. 2. repeat exactly the words of another or a passage from a book. 3. bring forward as an example or authority: The judge quoted various cases in support of his opinion. 4. give (a price): quote a price on a home. 5. quotation. 6. a quotation mark. 1-4 v., quoted, quoting; 5,6 n. —quot'er, n.

quoth (kwōth), Archaic. said: "Come hither," quoth the prince. v.

quoth a (kwōth'ə), Archaic. quoth he! indeed! (used ironically or contemptuously in repeating the words of another). interj.

quo tient (kwō'shənt), number obtained by dividing one number by another: In 26 ÷ 2 = 13, 13 is the quotient. n.

quo war ran to (kwō wə ran'tō), 1. writ commanding a person to show by what authority he holds a public office, privilege, franchise, etc. 2. legal proceedings taken against such a person.

q.v., which see.

Quoit

Quiver, holding arrows

R

R or r (är), the 18th letter of the alphabet. n., pl. R's or r's.

the three R's, reading, writing, and arithmetic.

R., 1. River. 2. Republican. 3. railroad. 4. railway. 5. Royal.

r., 1. rod. 2. ruble.

Ra (rä), the Egyptian sun god and supreme deity, typically represented as a hawk-headed man bearing the sun on his head. n.

Ra, radium.

Rabat (rə bät'), capital of Morocco. 225,000. n.

rab bet (rab'it), 1. cut, groove, or slot made on the edge or surface of a board or the like, to receive the end or edge of another piece of wood shaped to fit it. 2. joint so made. 3. cut or form a rabbet in. 4. join with a rabbet. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., rab bet-ed, rab bet ing.

RABBETS

rab bi (rab'i), teacher of the Jewish religion; leader of a Jewish congregation. n., pl.

rab bis or rab bies.

Rab bin ic (rə bin'ik), the Hebrew language or dialect as used by the rabbis in writings; the later Hebrew language. n.

rab bin ic (rə bin'ik), rabbinical. adj.

rab bin i cal (rə bin'ə kl), of or having to do with rabbis, their learning, writings, etc. adj.

rab bit (rab'it), 1. a burrowing animal about as big as a cat, with soft fur and long ears. 2. its fur. n. —rab'bit like', adj.

rab ble (rab'li), a disorderly crowd; mob. n.

the rabble, in contemptuous use, the lower classes: The nobles scorned the rabble.

Rabbit

rabid (rab'id), 1. unreasonably extreme; fanatical; violent. 2. furious; raging. 3. having rabies; mad: a rabid dog. 4. of rabies. adj. —rab'id ly, adv. —rab'-id ness, n.

ra bies (rā'bēz), disease, often fatal, that makes dogs choke, writhe, and foam at the mouth; hydrophobia. If bitten by a mad dog a person may get the disease. n.

rac coon (ra kün'), 1. a small, grayish flesh-eating mammal with a bushy, ringed tail, that lives mostly in trees and is active at night. 2. its fur. n. Also, racoon.

Raccoon (about 22 in. long without the tail) race¹ (rās), 1. contest of speed, as in running, driving, riding, sailing, etc. 2. engage in a contest of speed. 3. try to beat in a contest of speed; run a race with. 4. cause to run in a race. 5. a series of horse races run at a set time over a regular course. 6. any contest that suggests a race: a political race. 7. run, move, or go swiftly. 8. cause to run, move, or go swiftly. 9. of a motor, wheel, etc., run too fast when load or resistance is lessened without corresponding lessening of power. 10. onward movement: the race of life. 11. a strong or fast current of water. 12. channel of a stream. 13. channel leading water to or from a place where its energy is utilized. 14. track, groove, etc., for a sliding or rolling part of a machine. 1,5,6, 10-14 n., 2-4,7-9 v., raced, rac ing.

race² (rās), 1. group of persons connected by common descent or origin. 2. a great division of mankind having certain physical peculiarities in common: the white race, the yellow race. 3. group of animals or plants having the same ancestry: the race of fishes. 4. group, class, or kind (especially of people): the brave race of seamen. 5. condition of belonging to a particular stock, or the qualities, etc., due to this: Race was of importance to Hiller. 6. stock of high quality. n.

Race (rās), Cape, cape at the SE end of Newfoundland. n.

race course, race track.

race horse, horse for racing.

ra ceme (rā sēm' or rā sēm'), a simple flower cluster having its flowers on nearly equal stalks along a stem, the lower flowers blooming first. The lily of the valley, currant, and chokecherry have racemes. n.

Raceme

rac er (rās'ər), 1. person, animal, boat, automobile, airplane, or bicycle that takes part in races. 2. kind of American blacksnake. n.

race suicide, extinction of a people that tends to result when, by deliberate limitation of the number of children, the birth rate falls below the death rate.

race track, ground laid out for racing.

Ra chel (rā'chəl), in the Bible, the favorite wife of Jacob, and the mother of Joseph and Benjamin. Genesis 29-35. n.

ra chis (rā'kis), 1. stalk; shaft. 2. shaft of a feather. 3. spinal column. n., pl. ra chis es, rach i des (rak'ə-dēz or rā'kə-dēz).

ra chit ic (rə kit'ik), having to do with or affected with rachitis. adj.

ra chi tis (rə ki'tis), rickets. n.

Rach ma ni noff (rāk mā'ni nōf), Sergei, 1873-1943. Russian pianist and composer of music. n.

ra cial (rā'shəl), having to do with a race; characteristic of a race: racial traits, racial dislikes. adj.

ra cial ly (rā'shəl ē), in respect to race. adv.

Ra cine (rə sēn'), city in SE Wisconsin, on Lake Michigan. 89,000. n.

rac i ness (rās'ē nis), vigor; liveliness. n.

rac ism (rās'iz əm), 1. exaggeration of inherent racial differences. 2. prejudice in favor of certain races. n.

rack¹ (rak), 1. frame with bars, shelves, or pegs to hold, arrange, or keep things on, such as a hat rack, tool rack, or baggage rack. 2. frame of bars to hold hay and other food for cattle. 3. framework set on a wagon for carrying hay, straw, etc. 4. instrument once used for torturing people by stretching them. 5. torture on the rack. 6. hurt very much: racked with grief. 7. cause or condition of great suffering in body or mind. 8. stretch; strain. 9. bar with pegs or teeth on one edge, into which teeth on the rim of a wheel can fit. 1-4,7-9 n., 5,6,8 v.

RACK
Rack (def. 9). When the wheel turns, the rack moves horizontally.

on the rack, in great pain; suffering very much. rack one's brains, think as hard as one can. rack² (rak), wreck; destruction. n.

rack³ (rak), 1. a horse's gait in which the forefeet move as in a slow gallop, while the hind feet move as in a trot or pace; single-foot. 2. go thus. 3. pace. 1,3 n., 2,3 v.

rack et¹ (rak'it), 1. loud noise; loud talk; din. 2. time of gay parties and social excitement. 3. U.S. Informal. a dishonest scheme for getting money from people by threatening violence or damage. 4. U.S. Informal. any dishonest scheme. 5. U.S. Slang. occupation. n.

rack et² (rak'it), a light, wide bat made of network stretched on a frame, used for games like tennis. n.

rackets, a game played in a walled court with ball and rackets.

rack et eer (rak'ə tir'), U.S. Slang. 1. person who extorts money by threatening violence or damage. 2. extort money by threatening violence or damage. 1 n., 2 v.

rack et eer ing (rak'ə tir'ing), U.S. Slang. business of a racketeer. n.

rac on teur (rak'on tēr'), person clever in telling stories, anecdotes, etc. n.

ra coon (ra kün'), raccoon. n.

rac quet (rak'it), racket. n.

racquets, rackets.

rac y (rās'ē), 1. vigorous; lively. 2. having an agreeably peculiar taste or flavor. 3. risqué. adj., rac i er, rac i est.

ra dar (rā'dār), 1. instrument for determining the distance and direction of unseen objects by the reflection of radio waves. 2. this and other instruments and techniques which have developed from it. 3. process by which the reflection of radio waves is measured. n.

radar fence or screen, a protective chain of radar posts so placed around an area that their field is continuous.

ra di al (rā'dē əl), 1. arranged like or in radii or rays. 2. of or near the radius bone. adj.

Radial arrangement ra di al ly (rā'dē əl ē), like the spokes of a wheel; in rays; like radii or rays. adv.

ra di ance (rā'dē əns), 1. vivid brightness: the radiance of the sun, the radiance of a smile. 2. radiation. n.

ra di an cy (rā'dē ən sē), radiance. n.

ra di ant (rā'dē ənt), 1. shining; bright; beaming: a radiant smile. 2. sending out rays of light or heat: The sun is a radiant body. 3. sent off in rays from some source; radiated: We get radiant energy from the sun. adj. —ra'di ant ly, adv.

radiant energy, a form of energy, consisting of sound, heat, light, or electricity, that is sent out through space.

ra di ate (rā'dē āt), 1. give out rays of: The sun radiates light and heat. 2. give out rays; shine. 3. issue in rays: Heat radiates from those hot steam pipes. 4. give out; send forth: Her face radiates joy. 5. spread out from a center: Roads radiate from the city in every direction. 6. having rays: A daisy is a radiate flower. 7. radiating from a center. 1-5 v., ra di at ed, ra di at ing; 6,7 adj.

ra di a tion (rā'dē ā'shən), 1. act or process of giving out light, heat, or other radiant energy. 2. energy radiated. 3. ray or rays. n.

ra di a tor (rā'dē ā'tər), 1. a heating device consisting of a set of pipes through which steam or hot water passes. 2. device for cooling circulating water. The radiator of an automobile gives off heat very fast and so cools the water inside it. 3. person or thing that radiates. n.

rad i cal (rad'ə kl), 1. going to the root; fundamental: If she wants to reduce, she must make a radical change in her diet. 2. favoring extreme changes or reforms; extreme. 3. person who favors extreme changes or reforms; person with extreme opinions. 4. an atom or group of atoms acting as a unit in chemical reactions. Ammonium (NH₄) is a radical in NH₄OH and NH₄Cl. 5. the mathematical sign ($\sqrt{\quad}$) put before an expression to show that some root of it is to be extracted. 6. in grammar, a root. 7. of or from the root or roots. 8. anything fundamental or basic. 1,2,7 adj., 3-6,8 n. —rad'i cal ly, adv. —rad'i cal ness, n.

rad i cal ism (rad'ə kl iz'əm), principles or practices of radicals; extreme views. n.

rad i cle (rad'ə kl), 1. part of a seed that develops into the main root. 2. a little root. n.

ra di i (rā'dē ī), a pl. of radius. n.

ra di o (rā'dē ō), 1. way of sending and receiving words, music, etc., by electric waves, without connecting wires. 2. apparatus for receiving and making audible the sounds so sent. 3. of, having to do with, used in, or sent by radio: a radio set, radio speeches. 4. transmit or send out by radio: The ship radioed a call for help. 5. Informal. message sent by radio. 6. of or having to do with electric frequencies higher than 15,000 per second. 1,2,5 n., pl. ra di os; 3,6 adj., 4 v., ra di oed, ra di o ing.

radio-, word element meaning:

1. radio, as in radiotelegraphy.
2. radial, as in radiosymmetrical (radially symmetrical).
3. radiant energy, as in radiograph.
4. radioactive, as in radioisotope (a radioactive isotope).
ra di o ac tive (rā'dē ō ak'tiv), giving off radiant energy in the form of alpha, beta, or gamma rays by the breaking up of atoms. Radium, uranium, and thorium are radioactive elements. adj.

ra di o ac tiv i ty (rā'dē ō ak'tiv'ə tē), the property of being radioactive. n.

radio beacon, a radio station for sending special signals so that ships, airplanes, etc., can determine their position.

ra di o car bon (rā'dē ō kār'bən), of or having to do with a method of determining the age of a substance, such as a fossil, by measuring the amount of radioactive carbon it contains. adj.

radio frequency, frequency of electrical vibrations above 15,000 per second.

ra di o gram (rā'dē ō gram'), 1. message transmitted by radio. 2. radiograph. n.

ra di o graph (rā'dē ō graf'), picture produced by X rays or other rays on a photographic plate, commonly called an X-ray picture. n.

ra di o i so to pe (rā'dē ō ī'sə tōp), a radioactive isotope derived artificially from an element not normally radioactive, often as a by-product of atomic research, the operation of an atomic furnace, etc. n.

ra di o phone (rā'dē ō fōn'), radiotelephone. n.

radio strontium, strontium 90.

ra di o tel e phone (rā'dē ō tel'ə fōn), 1. a radio transmitter using voice communication. 2. telephone by radio. 1 n., 2 v., ra di o tel e phoned, ra di o tel e phon ing.

ra di o tel e scope (rā'dē ō tel'ə skōp), large network of wires, on a frame, forming an antenna that can receive radio signals from outer space, used to find new stars, track satellites, etc. n.

ra di o ther a py (rā'dē ō ther'ə pē), treatment of disease by means of X rays or radioactive agencies. n.

radio tube, vacuum tube used in a radio set.

rad ish (rad'ish), 1. a small, crisp root with a red or white skin, used as a relish and in salads. 2. the plant. n.

ra di um (rā'dē ōm), a radioactive metallic element found in very small amounts in uranium ores such as pitchblende. Radium is used in treating cancer and in making luminous paint. Radium atoms are constantly breaking up and in this process give off alpha, beta, and gamma rays. Symbol: Ra n.

ra di us (rā'dē əs), 1. any line going straight from the center to the outside of a circle or a sphere. 2. a circular area measured by the length of its radius: The explosion could be heard within a radius of ten miles. 3. that one of the two bones of the forearm which is on the thumb side. 4. a corresponding bone in the forelimb of other vertebrates. n., pl. ra di i or ra di us es.

ra dix (rā'diks), 1. root; radical; source or origin. 2. in mathematics, a number taken as the base of a system of numbers, logarithms, or the like. The radix of the decimal system is ten. n., pl. ra di ces (rad'ə sēz or rā'də sēz) or ra dix es.

ra don (rā'don), a heavy, radioactive gas. It is a rare element given off by radium. Symbol: Rn n.

R.A.F., Royal Air Force (of Great Britain).

raffi a (raf'ē ə), 1. fiber from the leafstalks of a kind of palm tree growing in Madagascar, used in making baskets, mats, etc. 2. tree from which this fiber is obtained. n.

raffle (raf'l), 1. sale in which many people each pay a small sum for a chance of getting an article. 2. sell (an article) by a raffle. 3. hold a raffle. 1 n., 2,3 v., raf fled, raf fling.

raft¹ (raft), 1. logs or boards fastened together to make a floating platform. 2. send by raft; carry on a raft. 3. make into a raft. 1 n., 2,3 v.

raft² (raft), Informal. a large number; abundance. n.

raft er (raf'tər), a slanting beam of a roof. n.

rag¹ (rag), 1. a torn or waste piece of cloth: Use clean rags to rub this mirror bright. 2. a small piece of cloth. 3. a small piece of anything of no value: The meat was boiled to rags. 4. made from rags: a rag doll, a rag rug. 1-3 n., 4 adj. —rag'like¹, adj.

rag² (rag), Slang. 1. scold. 2. tease. 3. play jokes on. v., ragged, rag ging.

rag a muff in (rag'ə muf'ən), 1. a ragged, disreputable fellow. 2. a ragged child. n.

rage (rāj), 1. violent anger: a voice quivering with rage. 2. a fit of violent anger: be in a rage. 3. be furious with anger. 4. speak or move with furious anger: Keep your temper; don't rage. 5. violence: the rage of a savage tiger. 6. act violently; move, proceed, or continue with great violence: A storm is raging. 7. what everybody wants for a short time; the fashion: Red ties are all the rage this season. 8. great enthusiasm. 1,2,5,7,8 n., 3,4,6 v., ragged, rag ing.

ragged (rag'id), 1. worn or torn into rags. 2. wearing torn or badly worn-out clothing. 3. not straight and tidy; rough: an Airedale's ragged coat, a ragged garden. 4. having loose shreds or bits: a ragged wound. 5. having rough or sharp points; uneven; jagged: ragged rocks. 6. harsh: a ragged voice. adj. —rag'ged ly, adv. —rag'ged ness, n.

rag lan (rag'lən), a loose topcoat or overcoat with sleeves cut so as to continue up to the collar. n.

rag man (rag'man'), man who gathers, buys, or sells rags. n., pl. rag men.

ra gout (ra gū'), a highly seasoned stew of meat and vegetables. n.

rag time (rag'tim'), Informal. 1. musical rhythm with accents falling at unusual places. 2. music with accents falling at unusual places; jazz. n.

rag weed (rag'wēd'), any of several coarse weeds of the same family as the aster, whose pollen is one of the most common causes of hay fever. n.

rag wort (rag'wört'), any of various plants with irregularly lobed leaves and yellow flowers. n.

rah (rā), hurrah. interj., n.

raid (rād), 1. attack; sudden attack. 2. a sudden attack, usually by a small force having no intention of holding the territory invaded. 3. an entering and seizing what is inside: The hungry boys made a raid on the pantry. 4. attack suddenly. 5. force a way into; enter and seize what is in: The police raided the gambling house. 6. engage in a raid. 1-3 n., 4-6 v. —raid'er, n.

rail (rāl), 1. bar of wood or of metal. There are stair rails, fence rails, rails protecting monuments, etc. Bars laid along the ground for a car or railroad track are called rails. 2. railroad: ship by rail. 3. furnish with rails. 4. enclose with bars. 5. the upper part of the bulwarks of a ship. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v.

rail¹ (rāl), complain bitterly; use violent and reproachful language: He railed at his hard luck. v. —rail'er, n.

rail² (rāl), any of numerous small birds with short wings, narrow bodies, strong legs, long toes, and a harsh cry, that live in marshes and swamps. n., pl. rails or (esp. collectively) rail.

rail ing¹ (rāl'ing), 1. fence made of rails. 2. material for rails. 3. rails collectively. n.

rail ing² (rāl'ing), violent complaints or reproaches; jeers. n.

rail ler y (rāl'ər ē), 1. good-humored ridicule; joking; teasing. 2. a bantering remark. n., pl. rail ler ies.

rail road (rāl'rōd'), Esp. U.S. 1. road or track with parallel steel rails on which the wheels of the cars go. 2. tracks, stations, trains, and other property of a system of transportation that uses rails, together with the people who manage them. 3. send by railroad; carry on a railroad. 4. work on a railroad. 5. Informal. send along quickly or too quickly to be fair: His enemies tried to railroad him to prison without a fair trial. 1,2 n., 3-5 v.

rail road ing (rāl'rōd'ing), 1. construction or operation of railroads. 2. act or process of hurrying (a thing or person) along. n.

rail way (rāl'wā'), 1. Esp. Brit. railroad. 2. track made of rails. n.

rail ment (rāl'mənt), clothing; garments. n.

rain (rān), 1. water falling in drops from the clouds. 2. the fall of such drops. 3. fall in drops of water: It rained all day. 4. a thick, fast fall of anything: a rain of bullets. 5. fall like rain: Sparks rained down from the burning roof. 6. send like rain: The children rained flowers on their queen. 1,2,4 n., 3,5,6 v.

the rains, the rainy season; the seasonal rainfalls.

rain bow (rān'bō'), bow or arch of seven colors seen sometimes in the sky, or in mist or spray, when the sun shines on it from behind one. The colors are violet, indigo, blue, green, yellow, orange, and red. n.

rain coat (rān'kōt'), a waterproof coat worn for protection from rain. n.

rain drop (rān'drōp'), drop of rain. n.

rain fall (rān'fōl'), 1. shower of rain. 2. amount of water in the form of rain, snow, etc., falling within a given time and area. n.

Rain ier (rə nīr'), Mount, mountain in W Washington. 14,408 ft. n. Also, Mount Tacoma.

rain mak er (rān'māk'ər), one who tries to produce rain; especially, one who tries to produce rain by supernatural or artificial means. n.

rain storm (rān'stōrm'), storm with much rain. n.

Fence built of wooden rails

Rail (10 in. long)

rain water, water that has fallen as rain.

rain y (rān'ē), 1. having rain; having much rain. 2. bringing rain. 3. wet with rain. adj., rain i er, rain-i est.

rainy day, a possible time of greater need in the future.

raise (rāz), 1. lift up: raise one's hand. 2. set upright: Raise the overturned lamp. 3. cause to rise: raise a cloud of dust. 4. put or take into a higher position; make higher or nobler: raise a salesman to manager. 5. a raised place. 6. increase in degree, amount, price, pay, etc.: raise the rent. 7. an increase in amount, price, pay, etc. 8. amount of such an increase. 9. make louder or of higher pitch: I cannot hear you; please raise your voice. 10. in games, bid or bet more than. 11. gather together; collect; manage to get: The leader raised an army. 12. breed; grow: The farmer raises crops and cattle. 13. cause; bring about: A funny remark raises a laugh. 14. utter: raise a shout. 15. build; create; produce; start; set up: raise a monument. 16. rouse; stir up: The dog raised a rabbit from the underbrush. 17. bring up; rear: Parents raise their children. 18. cause to become light: Yeast raises bread. 19. bring back to life: raise the dead. 20. put an end to: Our soldiers raised the siege of the fort by driving away the enemy. 21. come in sight of: After a long voyage the ship raised land. 1-4,6,9-21 v., raised, rais ing; 5,7,8 n.

rais er (rāz'ər), person who grows or raises things: a cattle raiser. n.

rais in (rā'zn), a sweet dried grape. n.

raison d'être (rā zōn' dā'trə), French. reason for being; justification.

raj (rāj), in India, rule; dominion: the British raj. n.

ra jah or ra ja (rāj'jə), ruler or chief in India, Java, Borneo, etc. n.

Raj put (rāj'pūt), member of a Hindu military, land-owning, and ruling caste. n.

rake¹ (rāk), 1. a long-handled tool having a bar at one end with teeth in it. A rake is used for smoothing the soil or gathering together loose leaves, hay, straw, etc. 2. move with a rake: Rake the leaves off the grass. 3. make clear, clean, smooth, etc., with a rake, or as if with a rake: Rake the yard. 4. use a rake. 5. gather; gather together. 6. search carefully: He raked the newspapers for descriptions of the accident. 7. fire guns along the length of (a ship, line of soldiers, etc.). 1 n., 2-7 v., raked, rak ing.

rake² (rāk), a profligate or dissolute person: That young rake gambles and gets drunk all the time. n.

rake³ (rāk), slant; slope. A ship's smokestacks have a slight backward rake. *n., v., raked, rak ing.

rake-off (rāk'ōf'), Slang. share or portion, often an amount taken or received illicitly. n.

rak ish¹ (rāk'ish), 1. smart; jaunty; dashing: a hat set at a rakish angle. 2. suggesting dash and speed: He owns a rakish boat. adj.

rak ish² (rāk'ish), like a rake; immoral; dissolute; licentious. adj.

Ra leigh (rō'lē), 1. Sir Walter, 1552?-1618, English soldier, explorer, statesman, and author. 2. capital of North Carolina, in the central part. 94,000. n.

ral ly¹ (ral'ē), 1. bring together; bring together again; get in order again: The commander was able to rally the fleeing troops. 2. pull together; revive: He rallied all his energy for one last effort. 3. come together in a body for a common purpose or action: The girls at the camp rallied to do the housework when the servants were sick. 4. come to help a person, party, or cause: He rallied to the side of his injured friend. 5. recover health and strength: The sick man may rally now. 6. act of rallying; recovery. 7. a coming together; mass meeting: a political rally. 8. hitting the ball back and forth several times in tennis and similar games. 9. take part in such a rally. 1-5,9 v., ral lied, ral ly ing; 6-8 n., pl. ral lies.

rally (ral'ē), make fun of; tease. v., rallied, rallying.

ram (ram), 1. a male sheep. 2. butt against; strike head on; strike violently: One ship rammed the other ship. 3. push hard; drive down or in by heavy blows. 4. machine or part of a machine that strikes heavy blows. 5. beak at the bow of a warship, used to break the sides of enemy ships. 6. ship with such a beak. 7. plunger of a force pump. 8. pump in which the force of a descending column of water raises some of the water above its original level. 1,4-8 n., 2,3 v., rammed, ramming.

ramble (ram'bl), 1. wander about: We rambled here and there through the woods. 2. a walk for pleasure, not to go to any special place. 3. talk or write about first one thing and then another with no useful connections. 4. spread irregularly in various directions: Vines rambled over the wall. 1,3,4 v., rambled, rambling; 2 n.

rambler (ram'blər), 1. person or thing that rambles. 2. any of various climbing roses. n.

rambling (ram'bling), 1. wandering about. 2. going from one thing to another with no useful connections: a rambling speech. 3. climbing: rambling roses. 4. extending irregularly in various directions; not planned in an orderly way: a rambling old farmhouse. adj.

rambunctious (ram bungk'ʃəs), U.S. Slang. 1. wild and uncontrollable; unruly. 2. noisy and violent; boisterous. adj.

ramification (ram'ə fə kā'shən), 1. dividing or spreading out into branches or parts. 2. branch; part. n.

ramify (ram'ə fi), divide or spread out into branch-like parts. v., ramified, ramifying.

ramjet (ram'jet'), a type of jet engine in which the fuel is fed into air compressed by the speed of the airplane, guided missile, etc., in which it is contained. n.

rammer (ram'ər), person or thing that rams; device for driving or compacting something. n.

ramose (rā'mōs), having many branches; branching. adj.

ramous (rā'məs), 1. ramose. 2. of or like a branch. adj.

ramp (ramp), a sloping way connecting two different levels of a building, road, etc.; slope. n.

ramp (ramp), 1. rush wildly about; behave violently. 2. jump or rush with fury. 3. stand on the hind legs (said especially of lions in heraldry). v.

rampage (ram'pāj for 1; ram pāj' or ram'pāj for 2), 1. fit of rushing wildly about; spell of violent behavior; wild outbreak: The mad elephant went on a rampage and killed its keeper. 2. rush wildly about; behave violently; rage. 1 n., 2 v., ram paged, ram pag ing.

rampant (ram'pənt), 1. growing without any check: The vines ran rampant over the fence. 2. passing beyond restraint or usual limits; unchecked: Anarchy was rampant after the dictator died. 3. angry; excited; violent. 4. in heraldry, standing up on the hind legs. adj.

—rampant ly, adv.

ram part (ram'pärt), 1. a wide bank of earth, often with a wall on top, built around a fort to help defend it. 2. anything that defends; defense; protection. n.

ram rod (ram'rod'), 1. rod for ramming down the charge in a gun that is loaded from the muzzle. 2. rod for cleaning the barrel of a gun. n.

ram shackle (ram'shak'l), loose and shaky; likely to come apart. adj.

ran (ran), pt. of run. The dog ran after the cat. v.

Lion rampant (def. 4)

Ran (rän), the Norse sea goddess who caught drowning men in her net. n.

ranch (ranch), 1. a very large farm and its buildings. Many ranches are for raising cattle. 2. farm: a chicken ranch, a fruit ranch. 3. persons working or living on a ranch: The entire ranch was at the party. 4. work on a ranch; manage a ranch. 1-3 n., 4 v.

rancher (ran'chər), person who owns, manages, or works on a ranch. n.

ranch man (ran'ch'mən), rancher. n., pl. ranch men.

rancho (ran'chō), Spanish American. ranch. n., pl. ran chos.

rancid (ran'sid), 1. stale; spoiled: rancid fat. 2. tasting or smelling like stale fat or butter. adj.

rancidity (ran sid'ə tē), rancid quality or condition. n.

rancor (rang'kər), bitter resentment or ill will; extreme hatred or spite. n.

rancorous (rang'kər əs), spiteful; bitterly malicious. adj. —ran'cor ous ly, adv.

rancor (rang'kər), Esp. Brit. rancor. n.

random (ran'dəm), by chance; with no plan: John was not listening and made a random answer to the teacher's question. adj.

at random, by chance; with no plan or purpose.

ra nee (rā'nē), wife of a rajah. n. Also, rani.

rang (rang), a pt. of ring. The telephone rang. v.

range (rānj), 1. distance between certain limits; extent: a range of prices from 5 cents to 25 dollars. 2. vary within certain limits: prices ranging from $5 to $10. 3. distance a gun can shoot. 4. distance from a gun, etc., of an object aimed at. 5. a place to practice shooting. 6. land for grazing. 7. of or on land for grazing. 8. wander; rove; roam. 9. wander over: Buffalo once ranged these plains. Our talk ranged over all that had happened on vacation. 10. act of wandering or moving about. 11. row or line of mountains. 12. row; line. 13. line of direction: The two barns are in direct range with the house. 14. put in a row or rows: Range the books by size. 15. put in groups or classes. 16. put in line on someone's side: Loyal citizens ranged themselves with the king. 17. rank, class, or order. 18. district in which certain plants or animals live. 19. run in a line; extend: a boundary ranging east and west. 20. be found; occur: a plant ranging from Canada to Mexico. 21. a stove for cooking. 1,3-6,10-13,17,18,21 n., 2,8,9,14-16,19,20 v., ranged, ranging; 7 adj.

range finder, instrument for estimating the range or distance of an object.

ranger (rān'jər), 1. person employed to guard a tract of forest. 2. one of a body of armed men employed in ranging over a region to police it. 3. a soldier in the United States Army in World War II trained for raids and surprise attacks; commando. 4. person or thing that ranges; rover. n.

Rangoon (rang gūn'), capital and chief port of Burma, in the S part. 737,000. n.

rangy (rān'jē), 1. fitted for ranging or moving about. 2. slender and long-limbed: a rangy horse. adj., rangier, rangiest.

rani (rā'nē), rane. n.

rank (rangk), 1. row or line, especially of soldiers, placed side by side. 2. arrange in a row or line. 3. position; grade; class: the rank of colonel. Los Angeles is a city of high rank. 4. high position: A duke is a man of rank. 5. have a certain rank: New York State ranks first in wealth. 6. orderly arrangement or array. 7. put in some special order in a list: Rank the States in the order of size. 8. be more important than; outrank: A major ranks a captain. 1,3,4,6 n., 2,5,7,8 v. —rank'er, n.

ranks, 1. army; soldiers. 2. rank and file.

rank (rangk), 1. large and coarse: rank grass. 2. growing richly. 3. producing a dense but coarse growth: rank swampland. 4. having a strong, bad smell or taste: rank meat, rank tobacco. 5. strongly marked; extreme: rank ingratitude, rank nonsense. 6. coarse; not decent. adj. —rank'ly, adv. —rank'ness, n.

rank and file, 1. common soldiers, not officers. 2. common people.

rankle (rang'kl), v. be sore; cause soreness; continue to give pain: The memory of the insult rankled in his mind. v., rankled, rankling.

ransack (ran'sak), v. 1. search thoroughly through: A thief ransacked the house for jewelry. 2. rob; plunder. v.

ransom (ran'səm), 1. price paid or demanded before a captive is set free: The robber chief held the travelers prisoners for ransom. 2. obtain the release of (a captive) by paying a price. 3. redeem. 4. release upon payment. 1 n., 2-4 v.

rant (rant), 1. speak wildly, extravagantly, violently, or noisily. 2. extravagant, violent, or noisy speech. 1 v., 2 n. —rant'er, n.

rap¹ (rap), 1. a quick, light blow; a light, sharp knock: a rap at the door. 2. knock sharply; tap: The chairman rapped on the table for order. 3. say sharply: rap out an answer. 1 n., 2,3 v., rapped, rap ping. take the rap, Slang. pay the penalty.

rap² (rap), Informal. the least bit: I don't care a rap. n. rapacious (rə pā'shəs), 1. seizing by force; plundering: rapacious pirates. 2. grasping; greedy; avaricious: a rapacious miser. 3. of animals, living by the capture of prey; predatory. adj. —rapacious ly, adv. —rapaciousness, n.

rapacity (rə pās'ə tē), rapacious spirit, action, or practice; greed. n.

rape¹ (rāp), 1. a seizing and carrying off by force. 2. seize and carry off by force. 3. the crime of having sexual intercourse with a woman or girl forcibly and against her will. 4. force (a woman or girl) to have sexual intercourse against her will. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., raped, rap ing.

rape² (rāp), a small plant whose leaves are used as food for sheep and hogs. Rape seeds yield an oil (rape oil) that is used as a lubricant, etc. n.

Raphael (raf'ē əl), 1. 1483-1520, famous Italian painter. 2. one of the chief angels. n.

rapid (rap'id), 1. quick; swift; moving, acting, or doing with speed: a rapid worker. 2. going on or forward at a fast rate: rapid growth. adj. —rapid ly, adv. —rapidness, n.

rapids, part of a river's course where the water rushes quickly.

Rapid City, city in SW South Dakota. 42,000.

rap id-fire (rap'id fir'), 1. firing shots in quick succession. 2. ready and quick; occurring in quick succession. adj.

rapid ity (rap'id ə tē), quickness; swiftness; speed. n. rapier (rā'pē ə), a light sword used for thrusting. n. —ra'pi er like', adj.

rapine (rap'an), robbing by force and carrying off; plundering. n.

rap port (rə pōrt'; French rā pōr'), 1. relation; connection. 2. agreement; harmony. n.

en rapport, French. in close relation or harmony.

rap proche ment (rā prōsh män'), establishment or renewal of friendly relations. n.

rap scal lion (rap skal'yən), rascal; rogue; scamp. n.

rapt (rapt), 1. lost in delight. 2. so busy thinking of or enjoying one thing that one does not know what else is happening: The girls listened to the story with rapt attention. 3. carried away in body or spirit from earth, life, or ordinary affairs. 4. showing a rapt condition; caused by a rapt condition: a rapt smile. adj. —rapt ly, adv.

raptorial (rap tō'rē əl), 1. adapted for seizing prey; having a hooked beak and sharp claws suited for seizing prey. 2. belonging to or having to do with an order of birds of prey, such as the eagles, hawks, etc. adj.

rapture (rap'chər), 1. a strong feeling that absorbs the mind; very great joy: The mother gazed with rapture at her long-lost son. 2. expression of great joy. n.

rap tur ous (rap'chər əs), full of rapture; expressing or feeling rapture. adj. —rap'tur ous ly, adv.

rare¹ (rār), 1. seldom seen or found: a rare bird. 2. not happening often; unusual: a rare event. 3. unusually good or great: Edison had rare powers as an inventor. 4. thin; not dense: The higher you go, the rarer the air is. adj., rar er, rar est.

rare² (rār), not cooked much: a rare steak. adj., rar er, rar est.

rare bit (rār'bit), Welsh rabbit. n.

rare-earth element (rār'ērth'), any of a group of rare metallic elements having similar properties. The group includes all the elements from lanthanum to lutetium.

rare fac tion (rār'ə fak'shən), 1. rarefying. 2. being rarefied. n.

rare fy (rār'ə fi), 1. make less dense: The air on high mountains is rarefied. 2. become less dense. 3. refine; purify. v., rare fied, rare fy ing.

rare ly (rār'ē), 1. seldom; not often. 2. unusually; unusually well: a rarely carved panel. adv.

rarity (rār'ə tē), 1. something rare: A man over a hundred years old is a rarity. 2. fewness; scarcity. 3. lack of density: The rarity of the air in the mountains is bad for people with weak hearts. n., pl. rari ties.

rascal (ras'kl), 1. a bad, dishonest person. Sometimes rascal is used jokingly, as when one calls a child a little rascal. 2. low; mean; dishonest. 1 n., 2 adj.

rascal ity (ras kal'ə tē), rascally character, conduct, or act. n., pl. ras cali ties.

rascal ly (ras'kl ē), mean; dishonest; bad: To steal the poor boy's lunch was a rascally trick. adj.

rase (rāz), v., rased, ras ing.

rash¹ (rash), too hasty; careless; reckless; taking too much risk: It is rash to cross the street without looking both ways. adj. —rash ly, adv.

rash² (rash), a breaking out with many small red spots on the skin. Scarlet fever causes a rash. n.

rasher (rash'ər), a thin slice of bacon or ham for frying or broiling. n.

rash ness (rash'nis), unwise boldness; recklessness. n.

rasp (rasp), 1. make a harsh, grating sound: The file rasped as he worked. 2. a harsh, grating sound: the rasp of crickets, a rasp in a person's voice. 3. utter with a grating sound: rasp out a command. 4. have a harsh or irritating effect (on); grate. 5. scrape with a rough instrument.

6. a coarse file with pointlike teeth.

1,3-5 v., 2,6 n.

rasp berry (raz'ber'ē), 1. a small fruit that grows on bushes. It is usually red or black, but some kinds are white or yellow. 2. bush that it grows on. 3. Slang. sound of disapproval or derision made with the tongue and lips. n., pl. rasp ber ries.

rat (rat), 1. a long-tailed rodent like a mouse but larger. Rats are gray, black, brown, or white. 2. hunt for rats; catch rats. 3. a low, mean, disloyal person. 4. behave in a low, mean, disloyal way. 5. U.S. pad worn to puff out a woman's hair. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 v., rat ted, rat ting.

smell a rat, suspect a trick or scheme.

ra tan (ra tan'), rattan. n.

ratch et (rach'it), 1. wheel or bar with teeth that come against a catch so that motion is permitted in one direction but not in the other. 2. the catch. 3. the entire device, wheel and catch or bar and catch. n.

ratchet wheel, wheel with teeth and a catch that permits motion in only one direction.

rate¹ (rāt), 1. quantity, amount, or degree measured in proportion to something else: The rate of interest is 6 cents on the dollar. The car

Rasp (def. 6)

Ratchet (def. 1). The catch is shaped so that the teeth can go past it in only one direction.

was going at the rate of 40 miles an hour. 2. price: We pay the regular rate. 3. put a value on: We rated the house as worth $10,000. 4. consider; regard: He was rated as one of the richest men in town. 5. class; grade; rating: first rate, second rate. 6. put in a certain class or grade. 7. be regarded; be classed; rank: Anne rates high as a musician. 8. case. 1,2,5,8 n., 3,4,6,7 v., rat ed, rating. —rat'er, n.

at any rate, in any case; under any circumstances.

at that or this rate, in that or this case; under such circumstances.

rate (rāt), scold. v., rat ed, rating.

rate payer (rāt/pā'ər), Brit. taxpayer. n.

rathe (rāth), Archaic or Poetic. early; growing or blooming early. adj., adv.

rath er (rāth'ər), 1. more readily; more willingly: I would rather go today than tomorrow. 2. more properly or justly; with better reason: This is rather for your father to decide than for you. 3. more truly: I was late Monday night or, rather, early Tuesday morning. 4. (with verbs) in some degree: He rather felt that this was unwise. 5. to some extent; somewhat; more than a little: rather good. 6. on the contrary: The sick man is no better today; rather he is worse. 7. Informal. yes, indeed! certainly! very much so! 1-6 adv., 7 interj.

had rather, would more willingly; prefer to.

raths kel ler (rāts/kel'ər), restaurant selling alcoholic drinks. It is usually below street level. n.

rat i fi ca tion (rat'ə fə kā'shən), confirmation; approval: the ratification of a treaty by the Senate. n.

rat i fy (rat'ə fī), confirm; approve; sanction; authorize: The two countries will ratify the agreement made by their representatives. v., rat i fied, rat i fying. —rat'i-fi'er, n.

rat ing (rāt'ing), 1. class; grade. 2. position in a class or grade: the rating of a seaman, the rating of a ship according to tonnage. 3. an amount fixed as a rate: a rating of 80% in English. n.

ra ti o (rā'shē ō or rā'shō), 1. relative magnitude. "He has sheep and cows in the ratio of 10 to 3" means that he has ten sheep for every three cows, or $3\frac{1}{3}$ times as many sheep as cows. 2. quotient. The ratio between two quantities is the number of times one contains the other. The ratio of 6 to 10 is $\frac{3}{5}$. The ratio of 10 to 6 is $\frac{5}{3}$. n., pl. ra ti os.

ra ti oc i nate (rash'ē ōs'ə nāt), carry on a process of reasoning; reason. v., ra ti oc i nat ed, ra ti oc i nat ing. —ra'ti oc'i na'tion, n.

ra tion (rash'an or rā'shən), 1. a fixed allowance of food; daily allowance of food for a person or animal. 2. supply with rations: ration an army. 3. portion of anything dealt out; share; allotment: rations of sugar, of coal, etc. 4. allow only certain amounts to: ration citizens when supplies are scarce. 5. distribute in limited amounts: ration food to the public in wartime. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v.

ra tion al (rash'an l), 1. sensible; reasonable; reasoned out: When very angry, people seldom act in a rational way. 2. able to think and reason clearly: As children grow older, they become more rational. 3. of reason; based on reasoning. 4. in mathematics, expressible in finite terms; involving no root that cannot be extracted. adj. —ra'tion al ly, adv.

ra tion ale (rash'an al'), the whys and wherefores; the fundamental reason. n.

ra tion al ism (rash'an liz'əm), principle or habit of accepting reason as the supreme authority in matters of opinion, belief, or conduct. n.

ra tion al ist (rash'an liz't), person who accepts reason as the supreme authority in matters of opinion, belief, or conduct. n.

ra tion al is tic (rash'an liz'tik), of rationalism or rationalists. adj.

ra tion al ity (rash'an al'ə tē), the possession of reason; reasonableness: Mr. Smith is queer, but no one doubts his rationality. n.

ra tion al ize (rash'an līz), 1. make rational or conformable to reason. 2. treat or explain in a rational manner. 3. find (often unconsciously) an explanation or excuse for: She rationalizes her gluttony by thinking "I must eat enough to keep up my strength." 4. find excuses for one's desires. v., ra tion al ized, ra tion al izing. —ra'tion al i za'tion, n.

rat line or rat lin (rat'lən), one of the small ropes that cross the shrouds of a ship, used as steps for going aloft. n.

rats bane (rats/bān'), any poison for rats. n.

rat tan (ra tan'), 1. kind of palm with a very long stem. 2. stems of such palm trees, used for wickerwork, canes, etc. 3. cane or switch made from a piece of such a stem. n. Also, rat an.

rat ter (rat'ər), 1. one that catches rats: Our terrier is a good rat ter. 2. one who deserts his associates. n.

rat tle (rat'l), 1. make a number of short, sharp sounds: The window rattled in the wind. 2. cause to rattle: She rattled the dishes. 3. a number of short, sharp sounds: the rattle of empty bottles. 4. sound in the throat, occurring in some diseases of the lungs and also often just before death. 5. racket; uproar. 6. move with short, sharp sounds: The cart rattled down the street. 7. toy, instrument, etc., that makes a noise when it is shaken: The baby shakes his rattle. 8. series of horny pieces at the end of a rattlesnake's tail. 9. talk quickly, on and on. 10. say quickly. 11. Informal. confuse; upset. 1,2,6,9-11 v., rat tled, rat tling; 3-5,7,8 n.

rat tle brain (rat'l brān'), a giddy, thoughtless person. n.

rat tler (rat'lər), Informal. rattlesnake. n.

rat tle snake (rat'l snāk'), a poisonous snake with a thick body and a broad triangular head, that makes a rattling noise with its tail. n.

rat tle trap (rat'l trap'), 1. a rattling, rickety wagon or other vehicle. 2. any shaky, rattling object. n.

rat ty (rat'ē), 1. of rats; like rats. 2. full of rats. 3. Slang. poor; shabby. adj., rat ti er, rat ti est.

rau cous (rō'kəs), hoarse; harsh-sounding: the raucous caw of a crow. adj. —rau'cous ly, adv.

rav age (rav'ij), 1. lay waste; damage greatly; destroy: The forest fire ravaged many miles of country. 2. violence; destruction; great damage: War causes ravage. 1 v., rav aged, rav ag ing; 2 n. —rav'ag er, n.

rave (rāv), 1. talk wildly. An excited, angry person raves; so does a madman. 2. talk with too much enthusiasm: She raved about her food. 3. howl; roar; rage: The wind raved about the lighthouse. v., raved, rav ing.

rav el (rav'l), 1. separate the threads of; fray. 2. fray out; separate into threads: The sweater has raveled at the elbow. 3. an unraveled thread or fiber. 4. make plain or clear; unravel. 5. become tangled, involved, or confused. 6. tangle; involve; confuse. 1,2,4-6 v., rav eled, rav el ing or esp. Brit. rav elled, rav el ling; 3 n.

rav el ing or rav el ling (rav'-ling), something raveled out; a thread drawn from a woven or knitted fabric. n.

ra ven (rā'vən), 1. a large black bird like a crow but larger. 2. deep, glossy black. 1 n., 2 adj.

rav en ing (rav'en ing), greedy and hungry. adj. rav en ous (rav'en əs), 1. very hungry. 2. greedy. 3. rapacious. adj. —rav'en ous ly, adv.

R, ratlines.

Rattlesnake (from 2 to 8 ft. long, according to the species)

Raven (about 2 ft. long) ra vine (rə vēn'), a long, deep, narrow gorge worn by running water. n.

rav ing (rāv'ing), 1. that raves; delirious; frenzied; raging. 2. delirious, incoherent talk. 3. Informal. remarkable; extraordinary. 1,3 adj., 2 n. —rav'ing-ly, adv.

rav i o li (rav'ē ō'lē), small, thin pieces of dough filled with chopped meat, cheese, etc., cooked in boiling water, and served with a highly seasoned tomato sauce. n.pl.

rav ish (rav'ish), 1. fill with delight. 2. carry off by force. 3. rape. v.

rav ish ing (rav'ish ing), very delightful; enchanting; jewels of ravishing beauty. adj.

rav ish ment (rav'ish mēt), 1. rapture; ecstasy. 2. act of carrying off by force. 3. rape. n. —rav'ish-ingly, adv.

raw (rō), 1. not cooked; raw oysters. 2. in the natural state; not manufactured, treated, or prepared: raw materials, raw hides. 3. not experienced; not trained: a raw recruit. 4. damp and cold: raw weather. 5. with the skin off; sore: a raw spot. 6. the raw flesh. 7. Slang. harsh; unfair: a raw deal. 1-5,7 adj. 6 n. —raw'ly, adv. —raw'ness, n.

Ra wal pin di (rā wəl pin'dē), capital of Pakistan, in the NW part. 237,000. n.

raw-boned (rō'bōnd'), having little flesh on the bones; gaunt. adj.

raw hide (rō'hid'), 1. the untanned skin of cattle. 2. rope or whip made of this. 3. whip with a rawhide. 1,2 n., 3 v., raw hid ed, raw hid ing.

raw material, substance in its natural state; anything that can be manufactured, treated, or prepared to make it more useful or increase its value.

ray¹ (rā), 1. line or beam of light: rays of the sun.

2. line or stream of heat, electricity, or energy: X rays. 3. a thin line like a ray, coming out from a center. 4. part like a ray. The petals of a daisy and the arms of a starfish are rays. 5. a slight trace; faint gleam: Not a ray of hope pierced our gloom. 6. send forth in rays; radiate. 7. treat with rays. 1-5 n., 6,7 v.

ray² (rā), any of several varieties of fishes, related to the sharks, that have broad, flat bodies with very broad pectoral fins. The electric ray has organs with which it shocks or kills its prey. n.

ray on (rā'on), fiber or fabric made from cellulose treated with chemicals. Rayon is used instead of silk, wool, and cotton, especially silk. n.

raze (rāz), tear down; destroy completely: The old school was razed to the ground, and a new one was built. v., razed, raz ing. Also, rase.

ra zor (rā'zər), tool with a sharp blade to shave with. n.

ra zor back (rā'zər bak'), 1. kind of thin, half-wild hog with a ridged back. Razorbacks are common in the southern United States. 2. a finback whale; orqual. n.

razz (raz), U.S. Slang. 1. laugh at; make fun of. 2. strong disapproval; derision. 1 v., 2 n.

Rb, rubidium.

R.C., 1. Roman Catholic. 2. Red Cross. 3. Reserve Corps.

rd., 1. road. 2. rod; rods.

Rd., Road.

R.D., Rural Delivery.

re¹ (rā), the second tone of the musical scale. See do for diagram. n.

re² (rē), with reference to; in the matter or case of; about; concerning. prep.

Re, rhenium.

re-, prefix meaning:

1. again; anew; once more, as in reappear, rebuild, reheat, reopen.

2. back, as in recall, repay, replace. Also, before vowels, red-.

reach (rēch), 1. get to; come to; arrive at: reach the top of a hill, the end of a book, an agreement, etc. 2. stretch; stretch out: reach toward a book. 3. extend in space, time, operation, effect, influence, etc. (to): The power of Rome reached to the ends of the known world. 4. extend to: The radio reaches millions. 5. get or come; function: farther than the eye can reach. 6. get in touch with by anything extended, cast, etc.; touch: The anchor reached bottom. 7. make a stretch of certain length with the hand, etc.: I cannot reach to the top of the wall. 8. make a stretch in a certain direction: The man reached for his gun. 9. get at; influence: Men are reached by flattery. 10. amount to; be equal to: The cost of the war reached billions. 11. take or pass with the hand: Please reach me the newspaper. 12. a stretching out; reaching: By a long reach, the drowning man grasped the rope. 13. extent or distance of reaching; out of one's reach. 14. range; power; capacity: the reach of the mind. 15. a continuous stretch or extent: a reach of woodland. 16. part of a river between bends. 17. part of a canal between locks. 18. sail on a course with the wind forward of the beam. 19. distance sailed on one tack. 1-11,18 v., 12-17,19 n.

re act (rē akt'), 1. act back; have an effect on the one that is acting: Unkindness often reacts on the unkind person. 2. act in response: Dogs react to kindness by showing affection. 3. act chemically. Acids react on metals. 4. return to a previous state, level, etc. v.

re-act (rē akt'), act over again. v.

re ac tion (rē ak'shən), 1. action in the opposite direction: Fever is a common reaction from a chill. 2. a political tendency toward a previous state of affairs. 3. action in response to some influence or force: Our reaction to a joke is to laugh. The doctor observed carefully his patient's reactions to certain tests. 4. the chemical action of two substances on each other. Putting an acid and a metal together causes a reaction. n.

re ac tion ary (rē ak'shən er'ē), 1. having to do with, marked by, or favoring reaction: The bad results of the revolution brought about a reactionary feeling. 2. person who favors reaction, especially in politics. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. re ac tion aries.

re ac tor (rē ak'tər), a special assembly for the production of a limited release of nuclear (or atomic) energy, consisting of layers of fissionable material, such as uranium, spaced with moderators, such as graphite and heavy water, which slow down the speed and number of the neutrons intended for splitting the uranium nuclei; pile; nuclear reactor; atomic reactor. n.

read¹ (rēd), 1. get the meaning of (writing or printing): read a book. The blind read with their fingers. 2. learn from writing or printing: We read of heroes of other days. 3. speak (printed or written words); say aloud the words one sees, or touches: Read this story to me. 4. show by letters, figures, signs, etc.: The thermometer reads 70 degrees. 5. give as the word or words in a particular passage: For "fail," a misprint, read "fall." 6. study: read law. 7. get the meaning of; understand: God reads men's hearts. 8. give the meaning of; interpret: A prophet reads the future. 9. introduce (something not expressed or directly indicated) by one's manner of understanding or interpreting: read a hostile intent in a friendly letter. 10. produce a certain impression when read; mean; be in effect when read: This does not read like a child's composition. 11. admit of being read or interpreted: A rule that reads two different ways. 12. bring or put by reading: He reads himself to sleep. v., read, read ing.

read between the lines, find a meaning not actually expressed in the writing or print.

read out of, expel from (a political party, etc.).

Eagle ray (about 5 ft.
long)

read¹ (red), 1. having knowledge gained by reading; informed: a well-read man. 2. pt. and pp. of read. I read that book last year. Joe has read it too. 1 adj., 2 v.

read a bil i ty (rē'ə bil'ə tē), readable quality. n.

read a ble (rēd'ə bl), 1. easy to read; interesting. 2. capable of being read. adj. —read'a ble ness, n.

re ad dress (rē'ə dres'), 1. put a new address on. 2. speak to again. 3. apply (oneself) anew. v.

read er (rēd'ər), 1. person who reads. 2. person employed to read manuscripts and estimate their fitness for publication. 3. book for learning and practicing reading. n.

read i ly (red'l ē), 1. quickly: answer readily. 2. easily. 3. willingly. adv.

read i ness (red'ē nis), 1. being ready; preparedness. 2. quickness; promptness. 3. ease; facility. 4. willingness. n.

reading (rēd'ing), 1. act or process of getting the meaning of writing or printing. 2. a speaking out loud of written or printed words; public recital. 3. the study of books, etc. 4. written or printed matter read or to be read. 5. thing shown by letters, figures, or signs: The reading of the thermometer was 96 degrees. 6. the form of a given word or passage in a particular edition of a book: No two editions have the same reading for that passage. 7. interpretation: Each actor gave the lines a different reading. 8. that reads. 9. used in or for reading: reading glasses. 10. extent to which one has read; literary knowledge. 1-7, 10 n., 8, 9 adj.

Reading (red'ing), 1. city in SE Pennsylvania. 98,000. 2. city in S England, west of London. 118,000. n.

reading room, a special room for reading in a library, club, etc.

re ad just (rē'ə just'), adjust again; arrange again. v. —re'ad just'ment, n.

read y (red'ē), 1. prepared for action or use at once; prepared: Dinner is ready. The soldiers are ready for battle. 2. willing: The knights were ready to die for their lords. 3. quick; prompt: a ready welcome. 4. quick in thought or action; dexterous: a ready wit. 5. apt; likely; liable: She is too ready to find fault. 6. immediately available: ready money. 7. make ready; prepare. 1-6 adj., read i er, read i est; 7 v., read i ed, read y ing. make ready, prepare.

read y-made (red'ē mād'), ready for immediate use; made for anybody who will buy; not made to order. adj.

re a gent (rē ā'jənt), substance used to detect the presence of other substances by the chemical reactions it causes. n.

real¹ (rēl or rē'əl), 1. existing as a fact; not imagined or made up; actual; true: a real experience, the real reason. 2. genuine: a real diamond. 3. in law, noting or having to do with immovable property. Lands and houses are called real property. 4. in mathematics, either rational or irrational, not imaginary. adj.

re al² (rē'əl; Spanish rā ā'l'), a former small Spanish silver coin, worth about 12½ cents. n., pl. re als, Spanish re a les (rā ā'lās).

real estate, land together with the buildings, fences, trees, water, and minerals that belong with it.

re al ism (rē'əl iz əm), 1. practical tendency: His realism caused him to dislike fanciful schemes. 2. in art and literature, the picturing of life as it actually is. n.

re al ist (rē'əl ist), 1. person interested in what is real and practical rather than what is imaginary or theoretical. 2. writer or artist who represents things as they are in real life. n.

re al is tic (rē'əl is'tik), 1. like the real thing; life-like. 2. representing life in literature or art as it actually is. 3. seeing things as they really are; practical. 4. having to do with realists or realism. adj. —re'al is'ti cal ly, adv.

re al i ty (rē ā'l ē tē), 1. actual existence; true state of affairs: Ghosts have no place in reality. 2. a real thing; actual fact: Slaughter and destruction are terrible realities of war. n., pl. re al i ties.

in reality, really; actually; in fact; truly: We thought he was serious, but in reality he was joking.

re al i za tion (rē'əl ə zā'shən), 1. clear understanding; full awareness; perception: The explorers had a realization of the dangers that they must face. 2. a realizing or being realized: the realization of your hopes. 3. exchange of property for its money value. 4. obtaining or acquiring (of money, a fortune, etc.). n.

re al ize (rē'əl iz), 1. understand clearly; be fully aware of: She realizes how hard you worked. 2. make real; bring into actual existence: Her uncle's present made it possible for her to realize her dream of going to college. 3. cause to seem real. 4. change (property) into money: Before going to England to live, he realized all his American property. 5. obtain as a return or profit: He realized $10,000 from his investment. 6. bring as a return or profit. v., re al ized, re al iz ing.

re al ly (rē'əl ē), 1. actually; truly; in fact: things as they really are. 2. indeed: Oh, really? adv.

realm (relm), 1. kingdom. 2. region or sphere in which something rules or prevails. 3. a particular field of something: the realm of biology. n.

Real tor or real tor (rēl'tər or rē'əl tər), U.S., Trademark. person in the real estate business who is a member or affiliated member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. n.

re al ty (rē'əl tē), real estate. n.

ream¹ (rēm), 480 or 500 sheets of paper of the same size and quality. n.

ream² (rēm), 1. enlarge or shape (a hole). 2. remove with a reamer. v.

ream er (rēm'ər), 1. tool for enlarging or shaping a hole. 2. utensil for squeezing the juice out of oranges, lemons, etc. n.

Reamer (def. 1)

re an i mate (rē an'ə māt), restore to life; give fresh spirit, vigor, activity, etc., to: reanimate discouraged troops, reanimate trade. v., re an i mated, re an i mat ing.

reap (rēp), 1. cut (grain). 2. gather (a crop). 3. cut grain or gather a crop from: reap fields. 4. get as a return or reward: Kind acts reap happy smiles. 5. get a return. v.

reap er (rēp'ər), person or machine that cuts grain or gathers a crop. n.

re ap pear (rē'ə pir'), appear again. v.

re ap pear ance (rē'ə pir'əns), a reappearing. n.

rear¹ (rir), 1. the back part; back: the rear of the house. 2. the last part of an army, fleet, etc. 3. at the back; in the back: the rear door of the car. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

at or in the rear of, behind.

rear² (rir), 1. make grow; help to grow; bring up: The mother was very careful in rearing her children. 2. set up; build: rear a temple. 3. raise; lift up: rear one's head. 4. of an animal, rise on the hind legs; rise: The horse reared as the fire engine dashed past. v.

rear admiral, a naval officer ranking next above a captain and next below a vice-admiral.

rear guard, part of an army that protects the rear.

re arm (rē ārm'), 1. arm again; arm oneself again. 2. supply with new or better weapons. v.

re ar ma ment (rē ār'mə mēnt), rearming. n.

rear most (rir'mōst), farthest in the rear; last. adj.

re ar range (rē'ə rānj'), 1. arrange in a new or different way. 2. arrange again. v., re ar ranged, re ar rang ing.

re ar range ment (rē'ə rānj'mēnt), a new or different arrangement. n.

rear ward (rir'wārd), toward or in the rear. adv., adj.

re as cend (rē'ə send'), go up again. v.

rea son (rē'zn), 1. cause; motive; ground: I have my own reasons for doing this. 2. justification; explanation: What is your reason for doing such poor work? 3. ability to think and draw conclusions. 4. think; think logically: Man can reason. 5. draw conclusions or inferences from facts or premises. 6. right thinking; good sense: The stubborn child was at last brought to reason. 7. sanity:

That poor old man has lost his reason. 8. consider; discuss; argue: Reason with Helen and try to make her change her mind. 1-3,6,7 n., 4,5,8 v. —rea'son er, n. bring to reason, cause to be reasonable. by reason of, on account of; because of. in reason, within reasonable and sensible limits. stand to reason, be reasonable and sensible.

rea son a ble (rē'zn ə bl), 1. according to reason; sensible; not foolish. 2. not asking too much; fair; just. 3. not high in price; inexpensive: a reasonable price. 4. able to reason. adj. —rea'son a ble ness, n. —rea'son a bly, adv.

rea son ing (rē'zn ɪŋ), 1. process of drawing conclusions from facts. 2. reasons; arguments. n.

re as sem ble (rē'ə sem'bl), come or bring together again. v., re as sem bled, re as sem bling.

re as sert (rē'ə sɜrt'), assert again. v.

re as sume (rē'ə sūm'), assume again or anew; resume. v., re as sumed, re as sum ing.

re as sur ance (rē'ə shūr'əns), 1. new or fresh assurance. 2. restoration of courage or confidence. n.

re as sure (rē'ə shūr'), 1. restore to confidence: The captain's confidence during the storm reassured the passengers. 2. assure again or anew. 3. insure again. v., re as sured, re as sur ing.

re a wak en (rē'ə wāk'ən), awaken again or anew. v.

re bate (rē'bāt), 1. return of part of money paid; partial refund; discount. 2. give as a rebate. 1 n., 2 v., re bat ed, re bat ing.

re bec or re beck (rē'bɛk), a musical instrument, somewhat like a violin, used in the Middle Ages. n.

reb el (reb'l for 1,2; ri bel' for 3,4), 1. person who resists or fights against authority instead of obeying: The rebels armed themselves against the government. 2. defying law or authority: a rebel army. 3. resist or fight against law or authority. 4. feel a great dislike or opposition: We rebelled at having to stay in on so fine a day. 1 n., 2 adj., 3,4 v., re bel led, re bel ling.

re bel lion (ri bel'yən), 1. armed resistance or fight against one's government. 2. resistance or fight against any power or restriction. n.

re bel lious (ri bel'yəs), 1. defying authority; acting like a rebel. 2. hard to manage; hard to treat; disobedient. adj. —re bel'lious ly, adv. —re bel'lious ness, n.

re bind (rē bind'), bind again or anew: This book with the broken back needs rebinding. v., re bound, re binding.

re birth (rē'berth' or rē bërth'), new birth; being born again. n.

re born (rē börn'), born again. adj.

re bound (ri bound' for 1; rē'bound' or ri bound' for 2), 1. spring back. 2. a springing back: You hit the ball on the rebound in handball. 1 v., 2 n.

re broad cast (rē brōd'kast'), 1. broadcast again or anew. 2. relay by broadcast (messages, speeches, etc., received from a broadcasting station). 3. program, etc., rebroadcast. 1,2 v., re broad cast or re broad cast ed, re broad cast ing; 3 n.

re buff (ri buf'), 1. a blunt or sudden check to a person who makes advances, offers help, makes a request, etc.: Ruth's offer to help Mora met with the rebuff, "Let me alone." 2. give a rebuff to: The friendly dog was rebuffed by a kick. 1 n., 2 v.

re build (rē bīld'), build again or anew. v., re built, re build ing.

re built (rē bīlt'), pt. and pp. of rebuild. v.

re buke (ri бүk'), 1. express disapproval of; reprove. 2. expression of disapproval; scolding: The child feared the teacher's rebuke. 1 v., re buked, re buke ing; 2 n.

Woman playing a rebeck

re bus (rē'bas), representation of a word or phrase by pictures suggesting the syllables or words. A picture of a cat on a log is a rebus for catalog. n.

re but (ri but'), oppose by evidence on the other side or by argument; try to disprove: rebut the argument of the other team in a debate. v., re but ted, re but ting.

re but tal (ri but'l), a rebutting. n.

re cal ci trance (ri kal'sə trəns), refusal to submit, conform, or comply. n.

re cal ci trant (ri kal'sə trənt), resisting authority or control; disobedient. adj.

re call (ri kōl' for 1,3,6,7; ri kōl' or rē'kōl' for 2,4,5,8,9),

1. call back to mind; remember. 2. a recalling to mind.

3. call back; order back: The ambassador was recalled.

4. a calling back; ordering back. 5. signal used in calling back men, ships, etc. 6. bring back: recalled to life.

7. take back; withdraw: The order has been given and cannot be recalled. 8. a taking back; revocation; annulment. 9. removal of a public official from office by vote of the people. 1,3,6,7 v., 2,4,5,8,9 n.

re cant (ri kant'), 1. take back formally or publicly; withdraw or renounce (a statement, opinion, purpose, etc.). 2. renounce an opinion or allegiance: Though he was tortured to make him change his religion, the prisoner would not recant. v.

re can ta tion (rē'kan tā'shən), recanting. n.

re cap (rē'kap' or rē kap'), 1. put a strip of rubber or similar material on (a worn surface of an automobile tire), by using heat and pressure to make a firm union. 2. tire repaired in this manner. 1 v., re capped, re cap ping; 2 n.

re ca pit u late (rē'kə pich'ə lāt), repeat or recite the main points of; tell briefly; sum up. v., re ca pit u- lat ed, re ca pit u lat ing.

re ca pit u la tion (rē'kə pich'ə lā'shən), a brief statement of the main points; summary. n.

re cap ture (rē kap'char), 1. capture again; have again. 2. a taking or being taken a second time. 1 v., re cap tured, re cap tur ing; 2 n.

re cast (rē kast' for 1,2; rē'kast' for 3), 1. cast again or anew: recast a bell. 2. make over; remodel: recast a sentence. 3. a recasting. 1,2 v., re cast, re cast ing; 3 n.

recd. or rec'd., received.

re cede (ri sɛd'), 1. go backward; move backward:

Houses and trees seem to recede as you ride past in a train.

2. slope backward: He has a chin that recedes. 3. withdraw: He receded from the agreement. v., re ced ed, re ced ing.

re ceipt (ri sɛt'), 1. a written statement that money, a package, a letter, etc., has been received. 2. write on (a bill, etc.) that something has been received or paid for:

Pay the bill and ask the grocer to receipt it. 3. a receiving; being received: On receipt of the news he went home.

4. recipe. 1,3,4 n., 2 v.

receipts, money received; amount or quantity received: Our expenses were less than our receipts.

re ceiv a ble (ri sɛv'ə bl), 1. fit for acceptance:

Gold is receivable all over the world. 2. on which payment is to be received. Bills receivable is the opposite of bills payable. 3. which is to be received. adj.

re ceive (ri sɛv'), 1. take (something offered or sent);

take into one's hands or possession: receive gifts. 2. have (something) bestowed, conferred, etc.: receive a name.

3. be given; get: receive a letter from home. 4. take, accept, admit, or get something: "Freely ye have received."

5. take; support; bear; hold: The boat received a heavy load. 6. take or let into the mind: receive new ideas.

7. accept as true or valid: a theory widely received.

8. agree to listen to: receive confession. 9. experience; suffer; endure: receive a blow. 10. let into one's house, society, etc.: The people of the neighborhood were glad to receive the new couple. 11. admit to a place; give shelter to: receive strangers. 12. admit to a state or condition:

receive a person into the church. 13. be at home to friends and visitors: She receives on Tuesdays. 14. in radio, change electrical waves into sound signals. v., re-ceived, re ceiv ing.

re ceiv er (ri sēv'ər), 1. person who receives. 2. thing that receives. 3. part of a telephone held to the ear. 4. a receiving set for radio, telephone, telegraph, etc. 5. one appointed by law to take charge of the property of others: Mr. Jones will act as receiver for the firm that has failed in business. n.

re ceiv er ship (ri sēv'ər ship), 1. position of a receiver in charge of the property of others. 2. condition of being in the control of a receiver. n.

receiving set, 1. apparatus for receiving sounds sent by radio; radio set. 2. apparatus for receiving messages sent by telegraph.

re cen cy (rē'sn sē), being recent. n.

re cent (rē'snt), 1. done or made not long ago: recent events. 2. not long past; modern: a recent period in history. adj. —re'cent ness, n.

Re cent (rē'snt), 1. the present geological period. 2. of the Recent geological period. 1 n., 2 adj.

re cent ly (rē'snt lē), lately; not long ago. adv.

re cep ta cle (ri sep'tə kl), any container or place used to put things in to keep them conveniently. Bags, baskets, and vaults are all receptacles. n.

re cep tion (ri sep'shən), 1. act of receiving: calm reception of bad news. 2. fact of being received: Helen's reception as a club member pleased her. 3. manner of receiving: a warm reception. 4. a gathering to receive and welcome people: Our school gave a reception to our new principal. n.

re cep tion ist (ri sep'shən ist), person employed to receive callers: She is a receptionist in a doctor's office. n.

re cep tive (ri sep'tiv), able, quick, or willing to receive ideas, suggestions, impressions, etc. adj. —re-cep'tive ly, adv. —re cep'tive ness, n.

re cep tiv i ty (rē'sep tiv'ə tē), ability or readiness to receive. n.

re cep tor (ri sep'tər), cell or group of cells sensitive to stimuli; sense organ. n.

re cess (rē'ses or ri ses' for 1,3,6; ri ses' for 2,4,5), 1. time during which work stops: There will be a short recess before the next meeting. 2. take a recess: The convention recessed until afternoon. 3. part in a wall set back from the rest; alcove; niche. 4. put in a recess; set back. 5. make a recess in. 6. an inner place or part; quiet, secluded place: the recesses of a cave, the recesses of one's secret thoughts. 1,3,6 n., 2,4,5 v.

re ces sion (ri sesh'ən), 1. a going backward; moving backward. 2. a sloping backward. 3. withdrawal. 4. period of temporary business reduction, shorter and less extreme than a depression. n.

re ces sion al (ri sesh'ən l), 1. sung or played while the clergy and the choir retire from the church at the end of a service. 2. a recessional hymn or piece of music. 1 adj., 2 n.

re ces sive (ri ses'iv), likely to go back; receding. adj.

re cher ché (rə shār'shā or rə shār shā'), 1. sought out or devised with care; rare; choice. 2. too studied; far-fetched. adj.

Re ci fe (rə sē'fə), seaport in E Brazil. 734,000. n.

rec i pe (res'ə pē), 1. set of directions for preparing something to eat: Give me your recipe for cookies. 2. set of directions for preparing anything. n.

re cip i ent (ri sip'ē ant), 1. person or thing that receives something: The recipients of the prizes had their names printed in the paper. 2. receiving; willing to receive. 1 n., 2 adj.

re cip ro cal (ri sip'rə kl), 1. in return: Although I gave him many presents, I had no reciprocal gifts from him. 2. mutual: reciprocal liking, reciprocal distrust. 3. expressing mutual action or relation. In "The two children like each other," each other is a reciprocal pronoun. 4. number so related to another that when multiplied together they give 1: 3 is the reciprocal of 1/3, and 1/3 is the reciprocal of 3. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

re cip ro cal ly (ri sip'rə kl ē), in a reciprocal way; each to the other; mutually. adv.

re cip ro cate (ri sip'rə kāt), 1. give, do, feel, or show in return: She likes me, and I reciprocate her liking. 2. interchange: to reciprocate favors. 3. move or cause to move with an alternating backward and forward motion. v., re cip ro cat ed, re cip ro cat ing.

reciprocating engine, engine in which the piston and piston rod move back and forth in a straight line.

re cip ro ca tion (ri sip'rə kā'shən), reciprocating; return: a reciprocation of a favor received. n.

rec i proc i ty (res'ə pros'ə tē), 1. reciprocal state; mutual action. 2. a mutual exchange; especially, an exchange of special privileges in regard to trade between two countries. n.

re cit al (ri sit'l), 1. act of reciting; telling facts in detail: Her recital of her experiences in the hospital bored her hearers. 2. story; account. 3. a musical entertainment, given usually by a single performer. n.

rec i ta tion (res'ə tā'shən), 1. a reciting. 2. a reciting of a prepared lesson by pupils before a teacher. 3. a repeating of something from memory. 4. piece repeated from memory. n.

rec i ta tive (res'ə tēv'), 1. a style of music halfway between speaking and singing. Operas often contain long passages of recitative. 2. passage, part, or piece in this style. n.

re cite (ri sit'), 1. say over; repeat: recite a lesson. 2. repeat something; say part of a lesson. 3. give an account of in detail: recite one's adventures. 4. repeat (a poem, speech, etc.) to entertain an audience. v., re cit ed, re cit ing.

reck (rek), Archaic. 1. care; heed. 2. be important or interesting; matter. v.

reck less (rek'lis), rash; heedless; careless: Reckless of consequences, the boy played truant. Reckless driving causes many automobile accidents. adj. —reck/less-ly, adv. —reck/less ness, n.

reck on (rek'ən), 1. find the number or value of; count: Reckon the cost before you decide. 2. consider; judge; account: He is reckoned the best speller in the class. 3. Informal. think; suppose. 4. depend; rely: You can reckon on our help. 5. settle; settle accounts. v. —reck/on er, n.

reckon with, take into consideration.

reck on ing (rek'ən ing), 1. method of computing; count; calculation: By my reckoning we are miles from home. 2. settlement of an account: a day of reckoning. 3. bill, especially at an inn or tavern. 4. calculation of the position of a ship. 5. position calculated. n.

re claim (ri klām'), 1. bring back to a useful, good condition: The farmer reclaimed the swamp by draining it. 2. get from discarded things: to reclaim tin from old tin cans, to reclaim rubber. 3. demand the return of: He had no right to take your book away; so reclaim it. v. —re claim'a ble, adj. —re claim'er, n.

rec la ma tion (rek'lə mā'shən), a reclaiming or being reclaimed; restoration to a useful, good condition: the reclamation of deserts by irrigation. n.

re cline (ri klin'), lean back; lie or lay down. v., re clined, re clin ing.

rec luse (rek'lūs or ri klūs' for 1; ri klūs' for 2), 1. person who lives shut up or withdrawn from the world. 2. shut up or apart from the world: a recluse life. 1 n., 2 adj.

rec og ni tion (rek'əg nish'ən), 1. a knowing again; recognizing; being recognized: By a good disguise he escaped recognition. 2. acknowledgment: We insisted on complete recognition of our rights. 3. notice. 4. favorable notice; acceptance: The actor soon won recognition from the public. 5. a formal acknowledgment conveying approval or sanction. n.

rec og niz a ble (rek'əg niz'ə bl), capable of being recognized. adj. —rec/og niz'a bly, adv.

re cog ni zance (ri kog'nə zəns), 1. a bond binding a person to do some particular act. 2. sum of money to be forfeited if the act is not performed. n.

recog nize (rek'æg nīz), 1. know again: I could scarcely recognize my old friend. 2. identify: recognize a person from a description. 3. acknowledge; accept; admit: He recognized his duty to defend his country. 4. take notice of: Anyone who wishes to speak in a public meeting should stand up and wait till the chairman recognizes him. 5. show appreciation of. 6. acknowledge and agree to deal with: For some years other nations did not recognize the new government of Russia. v., recog nized, recog nizing.

re coil (ri koi'l for 1-3; ri koi'l or rē'koi'l for 4), 1. draw back; shrink back: Most people would recoil at seeing a snake in the path. 2. spring back: The gun recoiled after I fired. 3. react: Revenge often recoils on the avenger. 4. a recoiling. 1-3 v., 4 n.

rec ol lect (rē'kə lekt'), call back to mind; remember. v.

re-col lect (rē'kə lekt'), 1. collect again. 2. recover control of (oneself). v.

rec ol lec tion (rek'ə lek'shən), 1. act or power of recalling to mind. 2. memory; remembrance: This has been the hottest summer within my recollection. 3. thing remembered. n.

re com bine (rē'kəm bīn'), combine again or anew. v., re com bined, re com bin ing.

re com mence (rē'kə mens'), begin again or anew. v., re com menced, re com menc ing.

rec om mend (rek'ə mend'), 1. speak in favor of; suggest favorably: We recommended Jim for the job. 2. advise: The doctor recommended that Maud stay in bed. 3. make pleasing or attractive: The location of the camp recommends it as a summer home. 4. hand over for safekeeping: He recommended his soul to God. v.

rec om men da tion (rē'kə men dā'shən), 1. a recommending. 2. anything that recommends a person or thing. 3. words of advice or praise. 4. thing recommended. n.

re com mit (rē'kə mit'), 1. commit again. 2. refer again to a committee. v., re com mit ted, re com mit ting.

re com mit ment (rē'kə mit'mənt), 1. a committing. 2. a being recommitted. n.

rec om pense (rek'əm pens), 1. pay (a person); pay back; reward. 2. make a fair return for (an action, anything lost, damage done, hurt received, etc.). 3. payment; reward; return; amends. 1,2 v., rec ompensed, rec ompens ing; 3 n.

rec on cile (rek'ən sil), 1. make friends again: The children had quarreled but were soon reconciled. 2. settle (a quarrel, disagreement, etc.). 3. make agree; bring into harmony: It is impossible to reconcile his story with the facts. 4. make satisfied; make no longer opposed: It is hard to reconcile oneself to being sick a long time. v., rec on ciled, rec on cil ing.

rec on cile ment (rek'ən sil'mənt), reconciliation. n.

rec on cil i a tion (rek'ən sil'ē ā'shən), 1. a reconciling; bringing together again in friendship. 2. a being reconciled; settlement or adjustment of disagreements, differences, etc. n.

rec on dite (rek'ən dīt), 1. hard to understand; profound. 2. little known; obscure. adj.

re con di tion (rē'kən dish'ən), restore to a good or satisfactory condition; put in good condition by repairing, making over, etc. v.

re con nais sance (ri kon'ə səns), examination or survey, especially for military purposes. n.

rec on noi ter (rek'ə noi'tər or rē'kə noi'tər), 1. approach and examine or observe in order to learn something; make a survey of (the enemy, the enemy's strength or position, a region, etc.) in order to gain information for military purposes. 2. approach a place and make a first survey of it: It seemed wise to reconnoiter before entering the town. v., rec on noi tered, rec on noi ter ing.

rec on noi tre (rek'ə noi'tər or rē'kə noi'tər), reconnoiter. v., rec on noi tered, rec on noi tring.

re con quer (rē kong'kər), conquer again. v.

re con sid er (rē'kən sid'ər), consider again: reconsider a bill. v. —re'con sid'er a'tion, n.

re con sti tute (rē kon'stə tūt or rē kon'stə tūt), constitute anew; reconstruct. v., re con sti tut ed, re con sti tut ing.

re con struct (rē'kən strukt'), construct again; rebuild; make over. v.

re con struc tion (rē'kən struk'shən), 1. a reconstructing. 2. thing reconstructed. n.

Re con struc tion (rē'kən struk'shən), U.S. 1. process by which the Southern States after the Civil War were reorganized and their relations with the national government were reestablished. 2. period when this was done, from 1865 to 1877. n.

re con struc tive (rē'kən struk'tiv), tending to reconstruct. adj.

re cord (ri kōrd' for 1, 2, 6; rek'ərd for 3-5, 7-11), 1. set down in writing so as to keep for future use: Listen to the speaker and record what he says. 2. put in some permanent form; keep for remembrance: We record history in books. 3. thing written or kept. 4. an official written account: The secretary kept a record of what was done at the meeting. 5. disk or cylinder used on a phonograph. 6. put on a phonograph disk, or on phonographic tape or wire. 7. the known facts about what a person, animal, ship, etc., has done: She has a fine record at school. 8. U.S. a criminal record. 9. the best yet done; best amount, rate, speed, etc., yet attained: hold the record for the high jump. 10. making or affording a record: a record wheat crop. 11. a recording or being recorded: What happened is a matter of record. 1,2,6 v., 3-5,7-9,11 n., 10 adj.

break a record, make a better record.

off the record, not to be recorded or quoted.

on record, recorded.

re cord er (ri kōr'dər), 1. person whose business is to make and keep records. 2. a machine that records. 3. title given to certain judges in some cities. 4. an old musical instrument somewhat like a flute. n.

re cord ing (ri kōr'ding), 1. a phonograph record. 2. the original transcription of any sound or combination of sounds. n.

re count¹ (ri kount'), tell in detail; give an account of: He recounted all the happenings of the day. v.

re count² (rē'kount'), a second count. n.

re-count (rē'kount'), count again. v.

re coup (ri kŭp'), 1. make up for: He recouped his losses. 2. repay: I will recoup you for any money you spend. v.

re course (rē'kōrs or ri kōrs'), 1. an appealing; turning for help or protection: Our recourse in illness is to a doctor. 2. person or thing appealed to or turned to for help or protection: A child's great recourse in trouble is its mother. n.

have recourse to, appeal to; turn to for help.

re cov er (ri kuv'ər), 1. get back (something lost, taken away, or stolen): to recover one's temper or health, to recover a purse. 2. make up for (something lost or damaged): recover lost time. 3. bring back to life, health, one's senses, or normal condition. 4. get well; get back to a normal condition. 5. get back to the proper position or condition: He started to fall but recovered himself. 6. obtain by judgment in a law court. 7. obtain judgment in one's favor in a law court. 8. rescue; deliver. 9. regain in usable form; reclaim. Many useful substances are now recovered from materials that used to be thrown away. v. —re cov'er er, n.

re-cov er (rē kuv'ər), put a new cover on. v.

re cov er y (ri kuv'ər ē), 1. a recovering. 2. a coming back to health or normal condition. 3. a getting back something that was lost, taken away, or stolen. 4. a getting back to a proper position or condition: He started to fall, but made a quick recovery. n., pl. recoveries.

rec re an cy (rek/rē ʔn sē), 1. cowardice. 2. unfaithfulness; treason. n.

rec re ant (rek/rē ʔnt), 1. cowardly. 2. coward. 3. disloyal; traitorous. 4. traitor. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

rec re ate (rek/rē ʔt), 1. refresh with games, pastimes, exercises, etc. 2. take recreation. v., rec re at ed, rec re at ing.

re cre ate (rē/krē ʔt/), create anew. v., re cre at ed, re cre at ing.

rec re a tion (rek/rē ʔshən), play; amusement. Walking, gardening, and reading are quiet forms of recreation. n.

rec re a tion al (rek/rē ʔshən l), of or having to do with recreation. adj.

rec re a tive (rek/rē ʔtīv), refreshing; restoring. adj.

re crim i nate (ri krim/ə nāt), accuse (someone) in return: Tom said Harry had lied, and Harry recriminated by saying Tom had lied too. v., re crim i nat ed, re crim i nat ing.

re crim i na tion (ri krim/ə nāʔshən), accusing in return; counter accusation: The quarreling children indulged in many recriminations. n.

re crim i na to ry (ri krim/ə nā tō/rē), of or involving recrimination. adj.

re cross (rē krōs/), cross again. v.

re cru des cence (rē/krü des/ns), a breaking out afresh; renewed activity: the recrudescence of an influenza epidemic. n.

re cruit (ri krüt/), 1. a newly enlisted soldier or sailor. 2. get (men) to join an army or navy. 3. strengthen or supply (an army, navy, etc.) with new men. 4. a new member of any group or class. 5. get (new members). 6. increase or maintain the number of. 7. renew health, strength, or spirits. 8. renew; get a sufficient number or amount of; replenish. 1,4 n., 2,3,5-8 v.

—re cruit/er, n. —re cruit/ment, n.

rec tal (rek/tl/), of or having to do with the rectum. adj.

rec tan gle (rek/tang/gl/), a four-sided figure with four right angles. n.

Rectangles

rec tan gu lar (rek tang/gya lər), shaped like a rectangle. adj. —rec tan/gu lar ly, adv.

rec ti fi ca tion (rek/tə fə kəʔshən), making right. n.

rec ti fi er (rek/tə fī/ər), 1. person or thing that makes right, corrects, adjusts, etc. 2. device for changing alternating current into direct current. n.

rec ti fy (rek/tə fī/), 1. make right; put right; adjust; remedy: The storekeeper admitted his mistake and was willing to rectify it. 2. change (an alternating current) into a direct current. 3. purify; refine: rectify a liquor by distilling it several times. v., rec ti fied, rec ti fy ing.

rec ti lin e ar (rek/tə līn/ē ər), 1. forming a straight line. 2. bounded or formed by straight lines. 3. characterized by straight lines. 4. in a straight line; moving in a straight line. adj.

rec ti tude (rek/tə tūd or rek/tə tūd), upright conduct or character; honesty; righteousness. n.

rec tor (rek/tər), 1. clergyman in the Protestant Episcopal Church or the Church of England who has charge of a parish. 2. priest in the Roman Catholic Church who has charge of a congregation or religious house. 3. head of a school, college, or university. n.

rec to ry (rek/tə rē), 1. a rector's house. 2. Brit. a rector's benefice with all its rights, tithes, and lands. n., pl. rec to ries.

rec tum (rek/təm), the lowest part of the large intestine. n.

re cum ben cy (ri kum/bən sē), recumbent position or condition. n.

re cum bent (ri kum/bənt), lying down; reclining; leaning. adj.

re cu per ate (ri kū/pər ʔt or ri kū/pər ʔt), 1. recover from sickness, exhaustion, loss, etc. 2. restore to health, strength, etc. v., re cu per at ed, re cu per at ing.

re cu per a tion (ri kū/pər ʔshən or ri kū/pər ʔshən), recovery from sickness, exhaustion, loss, etc. n.

re cu per a tive (ri kū/pər ʔtīv or ri kū/pər ʔtīv), of recuperation; aiding recuperation. adj.

re cur (ri kər/), 1. come up again; occur again; be repeated: Leap year recurs every four years. 2. return in thought or speech: Old memories constantly recurred to him. v., re curred, re cur ring.

re cur rence (ri kər/əns), occurrence again; repetition; return: More care in the future will prevent recurrence of the mistake. n.

re cur rent (ri kər/ənt), 1. recurring; occurring again; repeated. 2. turned back so as to run in the opposite direction. adj. —re cur/rent ly, adv.

rec u sant (rek/yü znt), 1. refusing to submit. 2. person who refuses to submit; especially, a Roman Catholic who refused to attend the services of the Church of England. 1 adj., 2 n.

red (red/), 1. the color of blood. 2. any shade of that color. 3. having the color of blood; being like it; suggesting it: red hair, a red cent, red fox, red clover. 4. a red pigment or dye. 5. red cloth or clothing. 6. a red or reddish person, animal, or thing. 7. sore; inflamed. 8. blushing. 1,2,4-6 n., 3,7,8 adj., red der, red dest.

in the red, Informal. in debt; losing money.

see red, Informal. become very angry.

Red (red/), 1. radical; revolutionary. Communists, extreme socialists, and anarchists are called Reds. 2. extremely radical; revolutionary. 3. an inhabitant of the Soviet Union. 4. having to do with the Soviet Union. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

re dac tion (ri dak/shən), 1. preparation of another person's writings for publication; revising; editing. 2. form or version of a work as prepared by revision or editing. n.

red bird (red/bərd/), 1. cardinal bird. 2. scarlet tanager. 3. European bullfinch. n.

red blood ed (red/blud/īd), full of life and spirit; vigorous; courageous. adj.

red breast (red/brest/), robin. n.

red bud (red/bud/), tree that has many small, pink, budlike flowers early in the spring. n.

red cap (red/kap/), U.S. porter at a railroad station, bus station, etc., usually wearing a red cap as part of his uniform. n.

red clover, a variety of clover that has ball-shaped heads of reddish-purple flowers, cultivated as food for horses, cattle, etc.

red coat (red/kōt/), in former times, a British soldier. n.

Red Cross, 1. an international organization to care for the sick and wounded in war and to relieve suffering caused by floods, fire, diseases, and other calamities. 2. a national society that is a branch of this organization.

red cross, a red Greek cross on a white ground, the emblem of the Red Cross.

red deer, 1. deer native to the forests of Europe and Asia, and formerly very abundant in England. 2. the common American deer in its summer coat.

red den (red/n/), 1. make red. 2. become red. 3. blush. v.

red dish (red/īsh), somewhat red. adj.

re deem (ri dēm/), 1. buy back: The property on which the money was lent was redeemed when the loan was paid back. 2. pay off: We redeemed the mortgage. 3. carry out; make good; fulfill: We redeem a promise by doing what we said we would. 4. set free; rescue; save; liberate; deliver; release: redeemed from sin. 5. make up for; balance: A very good feature will sometimes redeem several bad ones. v.

re deem a ble (ri dēm/ə bl/), 1. capable of being redeemed. 2. that will be redeemed or paid: bonds redeemable in 1978. adj.

re deem er (ri dēm/ər), person who redeems. n.

Re deem er (ri dēm/ər), Jesus Christ, the Saviour of the world. n.

re demp tion (ri demp/shən), 1. a redeeming. 2. being redeemed. 3. deliverance; rescue. 4. deliverance from sin; salvation. n.

re demp tive (ri demp/tiv), serving to redeem. adj.
re de ploy (rē/di ploi/), change the position of (troops) from one theater of war to another. v. —re-de ploy ment, n.

red flag, 1. symbol of rebellion, revolution, etc. 2. sign of danger. 3. thing that stirs up anger.

red fox, 1. the common reddish fox of Europe. 2. a related fox of America. 3. the reddish fur of a fox.

red-hand ed (red/han/did), 1. having hands red with blood. 2. in the very act of crime: a man caught red-handed in robbery. adj. —red'-hand'ed ly, adv.

red hat, 1. a cardinal's hat. 2. position or rank of a cardinal.

red head (red/hed/), 1. person having red hair. 2. kind of duck resembling the canvasback, that has a red head. n.

red head ed (red/hed'id), 1. having red hair. 2. having a red head. adj.

red herring, 1. the common smoked herring. 2. something used to draw attention away from the real issue.

red-hot (red/hot/), 1. red with heat; very hot: a red-hot iron. 2. very enthusiastic; excited; violent: a red-hot radical. 3. fresh from the source. adj.

red in gote (red'ing gōt), 1. a man's outer coat with long skirts that overlap in front. It is no longer worn. 2. a somewhat similar coat now worn by women, sometimes forming part of a dress. n.

red in te grate (red in'tə grāt), 1. make whole again; restore to a perfect state; renew; reestablish. 2. become whole again; be renewed. v., red in te grat ed, red in te grat ing.

re di rect (rē/də rekt' or rē/di rekt/), 1. direct again or anew. 2. noting or having to do with a second examination of a witness by the party calling him, after cross-examination. 1 v., 2 adj. —re-di rec'tion, n.

re dis count (rē dis/kount), 1. discount again. 2. rediscounting. 3. Informal. a commercial paper that has been rediscounted. 1 v., 2, 3 n.

re dis cov er (rē/dis kuv'ər), discover again or anew. v.

re dis tri bu tion (rē/dis trə bū'shən), distribution made again or anew. n.

re dis trict (rē dis/trikt), divide into districts again. v.
red lead, red oxide of lead, used in paint, in making cement for pipes, and in making glass.

red-let ter (red/let'ər), 1. marked by red letters. 2. memorable; especially happy. adj.

red man, an American Indian.

red mullet, any of a group of reddish fishes valued as food.

red ness (red/nis), quality of being red; red color. n.

red o lence (red/ləns), being redolent. n.

red o lent (red/lənt), 1. having a pleasant smell; fragrant. 2. smelling strongly; giving off an odor: a house redolent of fresh paint. 3. suggesting thoughts or feelings: "Ivanhoe is a name redolent of romance." adj.

re dou ble (rē dub/l), 1. double again. 2. increase greatly; double: When he saw land ahead, the swimmer redoubled his speed. 3. repeat; echo. 4. double back: The fox redoubled on his trail to escape the hunters. v., re dou bled, re dou bling.

re doubt (ri dout/), a small fort standing alone. n.

re doubt a ble (ri dout'ə bl), that should be feared or dreaded: a redoubtable warrior, a redoubtable debater. adj. —re doubt'a bly, adv.

re dound (ri dound/), come back as a result; contribute: The noble deeds of women redound to the glory of womanhood. v.

Redingote
(def. 1)

red pepper, 1. plant that has a podlike fruit that turns red when ripe. 2. the ground dried seeds or fruits of any of these plants, used as a seasoning; cayenne.

red poll (red/pōl/), any of several kinds of small finches. The males have crimson heads. n.

re draft (rē draft' for 1; rē'draft' for 2), 1. draft again or anew. 2. a second draft. 1 v., 2 n.

re dress (ri dres' for 1; rē'dres or ridres' for 2), 1. set right; repair; remedy: King Arthur tried to redress wrongs in his kingdom. 2. a setting right; reparation; relief: Any man deserves redress if he has been injured unfairly. 1 v., 2 n.

Red River, 1. river flowing from NW Texas into the Mississippi. 1200 mi. 2. Red River of the North.

Red River of the North, river flowing from W Minnesota, between Minnesota and North Dakota into Lake Winnipeg in Canada. 700 mi.

Red Sea, the narrow sea between the Arabian peninsula and Africa. It is part of the Indian Ocean and is connected with the Mediterranean Sea by the Suez Canal. 1450 mi. long; 178,000 sq. mi. See Saudi Arabia for map.

red skin (red/skin/), an American Indian. n.

red squirrel, the common North American squirrel having reddish fur.

red start (red/stärt/), 1. a flycatching warbler of America. 2. a small European bird with a reddish tail. n.

red tape, 1. tape having a red color, used for tying up official papers. 2. too much attention to details and forms.

re duce (ri dūs' or ri dūs/), 1. make less; make smaller; decrease: reduce expenses, reduce one's weight. 2. become less; be made less; become less in weight: His doctor advised him to reduce. 3. bring down; lower: Misfortune reduced that poor woman to begging. 4. bring to a certain state, form, or condition; change: The teacher soon reduced the noisy class to order. 5. change to another form: reduce a statement to writing. If you reduce 3 lbs. 7 oz. to ounces, you have 55 ounces. 6. conquer; subdue: The army reduced the fort by a sudden attack. 7. restore to its proper place or normal condition: A doctor can reduce a fracture or dislocation. 8. combine with hydrogen. 9. remove oxygen from. 10. change (a compound) so that the valence of the positive element is lower. v., re duced, re ducing.

re duc i ble (ri dūs'ə bl or ri dūs'ə bl), that can be reduced: $\frac{4}{8}$ is reducible to $\frac{1}{2}$. adj.

re ducing agent, any chemical substance that reduces or removes the oxygen in a compound.

re duc ti o ad ab sur dum (ri duk'shē ō ad ab-sēr'dəm), Latin. reduction to absurdity; method of proving something false by showing that conclusions to which it leads are absurd.

re duc tion (ri duk/shən), 1. a reducing or being reduced. 2. amount by which a thing is reduced: The reduction in cost was $5. 3. form of something produced by reducing; copy of something on a smaller scale. n.

re dun dance (ri dun/dəns), redundancy. n.

re dun dan cy (ri dun/dən sē), 1. more than is needed. 2. a redundant thing, part, or amount. 3. the use of too many words for the same idea. n., pl. re dun dan cies.

re dun dant (ri dun/dənt), 1. extra; not needed. 2. that says the same thing again; using too many words for the same idea; wordy: "We two both had an apple each" is a redundant sentence. adj. —re dun/dant ly, adv.

re duple cate (ri dū/plə kāt or ri dū/plə kāt for 1; ri dū/plə kit or ri dū/plə kit for 2), 1. double; repeat. 2. doubled or repeated. 1 v., 2 adj.

American redstart
(about 5½ in. long)

re du pli ca tion (ri dū'plā kā'shan or ri dū'plā kā'shan), 1. reduplicating or being reduplicated; doubling; repetition. 2. something resulting from repeating; duplicate; copy: To the prisoner each day seemed a reduplication of the preceding day. n.

re du pli ca tive (ri dū'plā kā'tiv or ri dū'plā kā'tiv), tending to reduplicate; having to do with or marked by reduplication. adj.

red wing (red'wing'), 1. an American blackbird the male of which has a scarlet patch on each wing. 2. a European thrush that has reddish color on the under side of the wings. n.

red-winged blackbird, redwing (def. 1).

red wood (red'wūd'), 1. a California evergreen tree that sometimes grows to a height of 300 feet. 2. its brownish-red wood. n.

reed (rēd), 1. a kind of tall grass with a hollow jointed stalk that grows in wet places. 2. such stalks. 3. thing made from the stalk of a reed or anything like it. 4. a thin piece of wood or metal in a musical instrument that produces sound when a current of air moves it. 5. producing tones by means of reeds: a reed organ. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

reed bird (rēd'bērd'), bobolink. n.

reed instrument, a musical instrument the tone of which is produced by the vibrations of a thin piece of wood or metal. Oboes, clarinets, and saxophones are reed instruments.

reed organ, a musical instrument producing tones by means of small metal reeds. Two common forms are the harmonium, in which the air is forced outward through the reeds, and the American organ, in which the air is sucked inward.

reed y (rēd'ē), 1. full of reeds. 2. made of a reed or reeds. 3. like a reed or reeds. 4. sounding like a reed instrument: a thin, reedy voice. adj., reed i er, reed i est.

reef (rēf), 1. a narrow ridge of rocks or sand at or near the surface of the water: The ship was wrecked on a hidden reef. 2. vein or lode in mining. n.

Reefed sail reef (rēf), 1. part of a sail that can be rolled or folded up to reduce its size. 2. reduce the size of (a sail) by rolling or folding up a part of it. 3. reduce the length of (a topmast, bowsprit, etc.) by lowering, etc. 1 n., 2,3 v.

reefer (rēf'ər), 1. person who reefs. 2. a short coat of thick cloth, worn especially by sailors and fishermen. n.

reef knot, square knot.

reek (rēk), 1. a strong, unpleasant smell; vapor: We noticed the reek of cooking cabbage as we entered the hall. 2. send out vapor or a strong, unpleasant smell: She reeked with cheap perfumery. 3. be wet with sweat or blood. 1 n., 2,3 v.

Reel for a hose reel (rēl), 1. frame turning on an axis, for winding thread, yarn, a fish line, rope, wire, etc. 2. spool; roller. 3. something wound on a reel: two reels of motion-picture film. 4. wind on a reel. 5. draw with a reel or by winding: reel in a fish. 1-3 n., 4,5 v.

off the reel, Informal. quickly and easily.

reel off, say, write, or make in a quick, easy way.

reel (rēl), 1. sway, swing, or rock under a blow, shock, etc. 2. sway in standing or walking. 3. be in a whirl; be dizzy. 4. a reeling or staggering movement. 5. go with swaying or staggering movements: The drunkard reeled down the street. 6. sway; stagger; waver: Our regiment reeled when the cavalry struck it. 1-3,5,6 v., 4 n.

reel (rēl), 1. a lively dance. Two kinds are the Highland reel and the Virginia reel. 2. music for it. n.

re ē lect or re-e lect (rē'i lekt'), elect again. v. —re'ē lec'tion, re'-e lec'tion, n.

re en force or re-en force (rē'en fōrs'), reinforce. v., re en forced, re en forc ing or re-en forced, re-en forc ing. —re'ēn force'ment, re'-en force'ment, n.

re en ter (rē'en'tər), enter again; go in again. v.

re en try or re-en try (rē'en'trē), an entering again or returning, especially of a missile or rocket into the earth's atmosphere. n., pl. re en tries or re-en tries.

re es tab lish or re-es tab lish (rē'es tab'lish), establish again; restore. v. —re'ēs tab'lish ment, re'-es tab'lish ment, n.

reeve (rēv), 1. the chief official of a town or district. 2. bailiff; steward; overseer. n.

re fec tion (ri fek'shən), 1. refreshment by food or drink. 2. meal; repast. n.

re fec to ry (ri fek'tə rē), a room for meals, especially in a monastery, convent, or school. n., pl. re fec to ries.

re fer (ri fēr'), 1. direct attention: The minister often refers to the Bible. 2. relate; apply: The rule refers only to special cases. 3. send or direct for information, help, or action: We referred him to the boss. 4. turn for information or help: Writers often refer to a dictionary. 5. hand over; submit: Let's refer the dispute to the umpire. 6. consider as belonging or due; assign: Many people refer their failures to bad luck instead of to poor work. v., re fer red, re fer ring.

ref er ee (ref'ər ē'), 1. a judge of play in games and sports. 2. person to whom something is referred for decision or settlement. 3. act as referee; act as referee in. 1,2 n., 3 v., ref er eed, ref er ee ing.

ref er ence (ref'ər əns), 1. a referring or being referred. 2. direction of the attention: This history contains many references to larger histories. 3. statement, book, etc., to which the attention is directed: You will find that reference on page 16. 4. something used for information or help: A dictionary is a book of reference. 5. used for information or help: a reference library. 6. person who can give information about another person's character or ability: Tom gave his principal as a reference. 7. statement about someone's character or ability: The boy had excellent references from men for whom he had worked. 8. relation; respect; regard: This test is to be taken by all pupils without reference to age or grade. 1-4, 6-8 n., 5 adj.

in or with reference to, about; concerning.

make reference to, mention.

ref er en dum (ref'ər ən'dəm), 1. process of submitting a law already passed by the lawmaking body to a direct vote of the citizens for approval or rejection. 2. the submitting of any matter to a direct vote. n., pl. ref er en dums, ref er en da (-də).

re fill (rē fil' for 1; rē'fil' for 2), 1. fill again. 2. something to refill a thing. 1 v., 2 n. —re fill'a ble, adj.

re fine (ri fin'), 1. free from impurities. Sugar, oil, and metals are refined before being used. 2. make or become fine, polished, or cultivated: Reading good books helped to refine her speech. 3. change or remove by polishing, purifying, etc. 4. make very fine, subtle, or exact. v., re fined, re fin ing.

refine on or upon, 1. improve. 2. excel.

re fined (ri find'), 1. freed from impurities: refined sugar. 2. freed or free from grossness, coarseness, crudeness, vulgarity, or the like: refined tastes. 3. having or showing nice feeling, taste, manners, etc.; well-bred: refined manners. 4. fine; subtle: refined distinctions. 5. minutely precise: refined measurements. adj.

re fine ment (ri fin'mənt), 1. fineness of feeling, taste, manners, or language: Good manners and correct speech are marks of refinement. 2. act or result of refining. 3. improvement. 4. a fine point; subtle distinction. 5. an improved, higher, or extreme form of something. n.

re fin er y (ri fin'ər ē), a building and machinery for purifying metal, sugar, petroleum, or other things. n., pl. re fin er ies.

re fit (rē fit'), fit, prepare, or equip for use again: refit an old ship. v., re fit ted, re fit ting.

re flect (ri flekt'), 1. turn back or throw back (light, heat, sound, etc.): The sidewalks reflect heat on a hot day. 2. give back an image; give back a likeness or image of: A mirror reflects your face and body. 3. reproduce or show like a mirror: The newspaper reflected the owner's opinions. 4. think; think carefully: Take time to reflect before doing important things. 5. cast blame, reproach, or discredit: Bad behavior reflects on home training. 6. serve to cast or bring: A brave act reflects credit on the person who does it. v.

re flection (ri flek/shən), 1. a reflecting or being reflected. 2. something reflected. 3. likeness; image: You can see your reflection in a mirror. 4. thinking; careful thinking: On reflection, the plan seemed too dangerous. 5. idea or remark resulting from careful thinking; idea; remark. 6. remark, action, etc., that casts blame or discredit. 7. blame; discredit. n.

angle of reflection, the angle between a ray of light reflected upon a surface and a line perpendicular to that surface at the point of reflection. See incidence for diagram.

re flect i ve (ri flek'tiv), 1. reflecting: the reflective surface of polished metal. 2. thoughtful; reflective look. adj.

re flec tor (ri flek'tər), any thing, surface, or device that reflects light, heat, sound, etc.; especially, a piece of glass or metal, usually concave, for reflecting light in a required direction. n.

re flex (rē'fleks for 1-3,5; ri fleks' for 4), 1. not voluntary; not controlled by the will; coming as a direct response to a stimulation of some sensory nerve cells. Sneezing is a reflex act. 2. action in direct response to a stimulation of some nerve cells. Sneezing, vomiting, and shivering are reflexes. 3. something reflected; image; reflection: A law should be a reflex of the will of the people. 4. bend back; turn back. 5. bent back; turned back. 1,5 adj., 2,3 n., 4 v.

re flex i ve (ri flek'siv), 1. in grammar, expressing an action that turns back on the subject. 2. a reflexive verb or pronoun. In "The boy hurt himself," hurt and himself are reflexives. 1 adj., 2 n. —re flex'ive ly, adv.

ref lu ent (ref'lū ənt), flowing back; ebbing. adj.

re flux (rē'fluks), a flowing back; the ebb of a tide. n.

re for est (rē fōr'ist), replant with trees. v.

re for est a tion (rē'fōr is tā'shən), replanting with trees. n.

re form (ri fōrm'), 1. make better; improve by removing faults: Prisons should try to reform criminals instead of just punishing them. 2. become better: The boy promised to reform if given another chance. 3. a changing for the better; improvement, especially one made by removing faults or abuses: The new government put through many needed reforms. 1,2 v., 3 n. —re form'a ble, adj.

re-form (rē fōrm'), 1. form again. 2. take a new shape. v.

ref or ma tion (ref'ər mā'shən), a reforming or being reformed; change for the better; improvement. n.

Ref or ma tion (ref'ər mā'shən), the great religious, social, and political movement in Europe in the 16th century that led to the establishment of Protestant churches. n.

re form a tive (ri fōr'mə tiv), tending toward or inducing reform. adj.

re form a to ry (ri fōr'mə tō'rē), 1. serving to reform; intended to reform. 2. an institution for reforming young offenders against the laws; prison for young criminals. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. re form a to ries.

re form er (ri fōr'mər), person who reforms, or tries to reform, some state of affairs, custom, etc.; supporter of reforms. n.

re fract (ri frakt'), bend (a ray) from a straight course. Water refracts light. In the diagram, the ray of light SP in passing into the water is refracted from its original direction SPL to SPR. v.

re frac tion (ri frak'shən), the turning or bending of a ray of light when it passes obliquely from one medium into another of different density. n.

re frac tive (ri frak'tiv), refracting; having power to refract; having to do with refraction; caused by refraction. adj.

re frac tor (ri frak'tər), 1. anything that refracts. 2. a refracting telescope. n.

re frac to ry (ri frak'tō rē), 1. hard to manage; stubborn; obstinate: Mules are refractory. 2. not yielding readily to treatment: She had a refractory cough. 3. hard to melt, reduce, or work. Some ores are more refractory than others. adj. —re frac'to ri ly, adv. —re frac'to ri ness, n.

re frain (ri frān'), hold oneself back: Refrain from crime. v.

re frain (ri frān'), 1. phrase or verse repeated regularly in a song or poem. In "The Star-Spangled Banner" the refrain is "O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave." 2. music for it. n.

re fran gi bil i ty (ri frānjə bil'ə tē), 1. property of being refrangible. 2. amount of refraction (of light rays, etc.) that is possible. n.

re fran gi ble (ri frānjə bl), capable of being refracted: Rays of light are refrangible. adj.

re fresh (ri fresh'), 1. make fresh again; renew: He refreshed his memory by a glance at the book. She refreshed herself with a cup of tea. 2. become fresh again. v.

re fresh er (ri fresh'ər), 1. helping to renew knowledge or abilities, or to bring a person new needed knowledge. 2. person or thing that refreshes. 1 adj., 2 n.

re fresh ing (ri fresh'ing), 1. that refreshes. 2. welcome as a pleasing change. adj. —re fresh'ing ly, adv.

re fresh ment (ri fresh'mənt), 1. a refreshing or being refreshed. 2. thing that refreshes. n.

refreshments, food or drink: serve refreshments at a party.

re frig er ant (ri frij'ər ənt), 1. refrigerating; cooling. 2. reducing bodily heat or fever. 3. something that cools, etc. Ice is a refrigerant. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

re frig er ate (ri frij'ər āt), make or keep cold or cool. v., re frig er at ed, re frig er at ing.

re frig er a tion (ri frij'ər ā'shən), act or process of cooling or keeping cold. n.

re frig er a tor (ri frij'ər ā'tər), box, room, etc., for keeping foods, etc., cool, by means of ice or some other cooling agent. An icebox is a refrigerator. n.

reft (reft), pt. and pp. of reave, deprived by force. v.

re fu el (rē fū'əl), 1. supply with fuel again. 2. take on a fresh supply of fuel. v.

re fu ge (ref'ūj), shelter or protection from danger, trouble, etc.; safety; security: The cat took refuge in a tree. n.

ref u gee (ref'ū jē or ref'ū jē), person who flees for refuge or safety, especially to a foreign country, in time of persecution, war, etc.: Many refugees came from Europe to America. n.

re ful gence (ri ful'jəns), radiance; brightness. n.

re ful gent (ri ful'jənt), shining brightly; radiant; splendid: a resplendent sunrise. adj.

re fund (ri fund' for 1; rē'fund for 2), 1. pay back: If these shoes do not wear well, the shop will refund your money. 2. return of money paid. 1 v., 2 n.

re fund (rē fund'), change (a debt, loan, etc.) into a new form. v.

re fur bish (rē fēr'bish), polish up again; do up anew; brighten; renovate. v.

re fus al (ri füz'l), 1. act of refusing: His refusal to play the game provoked the other boys. 2. right to refuse or take a thing before it is offered to others: Give me the refusal of the car till tomorrow. n.

re fuse (ri füz'), 1. decline to accept; reject: refuse an offer. 2. deny (a request, demand, invitation); decline to give or grant: refuse admittance. 3. decline (to do something): refuse to discuss the question. 4. decline to accept or consent: She is free to refuse. v., re fused, re fus ing.

ref use (ref'ūs), 1. useless stuff; waste; rubbish: The street-cleaning department took away all refuse from the streets. 2. rejected as worthless or of little value; discarded. 1 n., 2 adj.

ref u ta ble (ref'yū tə bl or ri fū'tə bl), able to be refuted. adj.

ref u ta tion (ref'yū tā'shən), disproof of a claim, opinion, or argument. n.

re fute (ri fūt'), prove (a claim, opinion, or argument) to be false or incorrect: How would you refute the statement that the cow jumped over the moon? v., re futed, re futing. —re fute'er, n.

re gain (ri gān'), 1. get again; recover: regain health. 2. get back to; reach again: regain the shore. v.

re gal (rē'gl), 1. belonging to a king; royal. 2. king-like; fit for a king; stately; splendid; magnificent: It was a regal banquet. adj.

re gale (ri gāl'), 1. entertain agreeably; delight with something pleasing: The old sailor regaled the boys with sea stories. 2. entertain with a choice repast; feast: The children regaled themselves with ice cream and candy. v., re galed, re gal ing.

re ga li a (ri gā'lē ə), 1. the emblems of royalty. Crowns, scepters, etc., are regalia. 2. the emblems or decorations of any society, order, etc. n.pl.

re gal i ty (rē gal'ə tē), 1. royalty; sovereignty; kingship. 2. a right or privilege having to do with a king. 3. kingdom. n., pl. re gal i ties.

re gard (ri gārd'), 1. consider; think of: He is regarded as the best doctor in town. 2. show thought or consideration for; care for; respect: She always regards her parents' wishes. 3. heed: None regarded her screams. 4. consideration; thought; care: Have regard for the feelings of others. 5. look at; look closely at; watch: He regarded me sternly. 6. look closely. 7. a look; steady look: The man's regard seemed fixed upon some distant object. 8. esteem; favor; good opinion: The teacher has high regard for Fred's ability. 9. point; particular matter. 10. concern; relate to: As regards money, I have enough. 1-3,5,6,10 v., 4,7-9 n.

regards, good wishes; an expression of esteem.

in regard to, about; concerning; relating to.

without regard to, not considering.

with regard to, about; concerning; relating to.

re gard ful (ri gārd'fəl), 1. heedful; observant; mindful. 2. considerate; respectful. adj.

re gard ing (ri gārd'ing), with regard to; concerning; about: a prophecy regarding the future. prep.

re gard less (ri gārd'lis), with no heed; careless: Regardless of grammar, he said, "Him and I have went." adj., adv. —re gard'less ly, adv. —re gard'less ness, n.

re gat ta (ri gat'ə), 1. a boat race. 2. a series of boat races: the annual regatta of the yacht club. n.

re gen cy (rē'jən sē), 1. position, office, or function of a regent or group of regents: The Queen Mother held the regency till the young king became of age. 2. body of regents. 3. government consisting of regents. 4. time during which there is a regency. n., pl. re gen cies.

re gen er a cy (ri jen'ər ə sē), regenerate state. n.

re gen er ate (ri jen'ər āt for 1-4; ri jen'ər it for 5, 6), 1. give a new and better spiritual life to. 2. improve the moral condition of; put new life and spirit into. 3. reform. 4. grow again; form (new tissue, a new part, etc.) to replace what is lost. If a young crab loses a claw, it can regenerate a new one. 5. born again spiritually. 6. made over in better form; formed anew morally. 1-4 v., re gen er at ed, re gen er at ing; 5,6 adj.

re gen er a tion (ri jen'ər ā'shən), a regenerating or being regenerated. n.

re gen er a tive (ri jen'ər ā'tiv), regenerating; tending to regenerate. adj.

re gent (rē'jənt), 1. person who rules when the regular ruler is absent or unfit: The Queen will be the regent till her son grows up. 2. member of a governing board. Many universities have boards of regents. 3. acting as a regent. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

re gent ship (rē'jənt ship), position of a regent. n.

re gi cide (rej'ə sid), 1. crime of killing a king. 2. person who kills a king. n.

re gime or ré gime (ri zhēm' or rā zhēm'), 1. system of government or rule; prevailing system: Under the old regime women could not vote. 2. system of living; regimen: Baby's regime includes two naps a day. n.

reg i men (rej'ə men), set of rules or habits of diet, exercise, or manner of living intended to improve health, reduce weight, etc. n.

reg i ment (rej'ə mənt for 1, 2; rej'ə mənt for 3-5), 1. unit of an army consisting of several companies of soldiers organized into one large group, usually commanded by a colonel. A regiment is larger than a battalion and smaller than a brigade. 2. a large number. 3. form into a regiment or organized group. 4. assign to a regiment or group. 5. treat in a strict or uniform manner: A totalitarian state regiments its citizens. 1,2 n., 3-5 v.

reg i men tal (rej'ə men'tl), 1. of a regiment; having to do with a regiment. 2. military uniform. 1 adj., 2 n. —reg'i men'tal ly, adv.

reg i men ta tion (rej'ə men tā'shən), 1. formation into organized or uniform groups. 2. a making uniform. 3. subjection to control: In time of war there may be regimentation of our work, play, food, and clothing. n.

Re gi na (ri ji'nə), city in S Canada, capital of the province of Saskatchewan. 110,000. n.

re gion (rē'jən), 1. any large part of the earth's surface: the region of the equator. 2. place; space; area: an unhealthy region. 3. part of the body: the region of the heart. 4. sphere; domain: the region of art, the region of imagination. n.

re gion al (rē'jən l), of or in a particular region: a regional storm. adj. —re'gion al ly, adv.

reg is ter (rej'is tər), 1. list; record: A register of attendance is kept in our school. 2. book in which a list or record is kept. 3. write in a list or record: register the names of the new members. 4. have one's name written in a list or record: A person must register before he can vote. 5. thing that records: A cash register shows the amount of money taken in. 6. indicate; record: The thermometer registers 90 degrees. 7. registration or registry. 8. registrar. 9. show (surprise, joy, anger, etc.) by the expression on one's face or by actions. 10. an opening in a wall or floor with an arrangement to regulate the amount of air or heat that passes through. 11. range of a voice or an instrument. 12. have (a letter, parcel, etc.) recorded in a post office, paying extra postage for special care in delivery. 1,2,5,7,8,10,11 n., 3,4,6,9,12 v.

reg is trar (rej'is trär), official who keeps a register; official recorder. n.

reg is tra tion (rej'is trā'shən), 1. a registering. 2. an entry in a register. 3. number of people registered. n.

reg is try (rej'is trē), 1. a registering; registration. 2. place where a register is kept; office of registration. 3. book in which a list or record is kept. n., pl. reg-is tries.

reg nant (reg'nənt), 1. ruling. 2. exercising sway or influence; predominant. 3. prevalent; widespread. adj.

re gress (ri gres' for 1; rē'gres for 2), 1. go back; move in a backward direction. 2. a going back; movement backward. 1 v., 2 n.

re gres sion (ri gresh'ən), act of going back; backward movement. n.

re gret (ri gret'), 1. the feeling of being sorry; sorrow; sense of loss. 2. feel regret about: We regretted his absence. 1 n., 2 v., re gret ted, re gret ting.

regrets, a polite reply declining an invitation: She could not come but sent regrets.

re gret ful (ri gret'fl), feeling or expressing regret. adj. —re gret'ful ly, adv. —re gret'ful ness, n.

re gret ta ble (ri gret'ə bl), that should be or is regretted. adj. —re gret'ta bly, adv.

Regt., 1. regent. 2. regiment.

reg u lar (reg'yə'lər), 1. fixed by custom or rule; usual; normal: Six o'clock was his regular hour of rising. 2. following some rule or principle; according to rule: A period is the regular ending for a sentence. 3. coming, acting, or done again and again at the same time: Saturday is a regular holiday. 4. steady; habitual: A regular customer trades often at the same store. 5. even in size, spacing, or speed; well-balanced: regular features, regular teeth. 6. symmetrical. 7. having all its angles equal and all its sides equal. 8. having all the same parts of a flower alike in shape and size. 9. orderly; methodical: lead a regular life. 10. properly fitted or trained: The maid did the cooking while the regular cook was sick. 11. in grammar, having the usual changes of form to show tense, number, person, etc.: "Ask" is a regular verb. 12. Informal. thorough; complete. 13. permanently organized. The regular army is under the direct control of the national government. 14. member of a regularly paid group of any kind: The army was made up of regulars and volunteers. 15. of or belonging to the permanent army of a country. 16. U.S. a party member who faithfully stands by his party. 17. belonging to a religious order bound by certain rules. The regular clergy live in religious communities. 18. person belonging to a religious order bound by certain rules. 1-13, 15, 17 adj., 14, 16, 18 n.

reg u lar i ty (reg'yə'lər'ə tē), order; system; steadiness; being regular. n.

reg u lar ly (reg'yə'lər lē), 1. in a regular manner. 2. at regular times. adv.

reg u late (reg'yə'lāt), 1. control by rule, principle, or system: Private schools regulate the behavior of students. 2. put in condition to work properly. 3. keep at some standard: This instrument regulates the temperature of the room. v., reg u lat ed, reg u lat ing.

reg u la tion (reg'yə'lā'shən), 1. control by rule, principle, or system. 2. rule; law: traffic regulations. 3. according to or required by a regulation; standard: Soldiers wear a regulation uniform. 4. usual; ordinary. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 adj.

reg u la tive (reg'yə'lā'tiv), regulating. adj.

reg u la tor (reg'yə'lā'tər), 1. person or thing that regulates. 2. device in a clock or watch to make it go faster or slower. 3. a very accurate clock used as a standard of time. n.

reg u la to ry (reg'yə'lə tō'rē), regulating. adj.

re gur gi tate (rē gēr'jə tāt), 1. of liquids, gases, undigested foods, etc., rush, surge, or flow back. 2. throw up: The baby regurgitated food from his stomach. v., re gur gi tat ed, re gur gi tat ing.

re gur gi ta tion (rē gēr'jə tā'shən), a regurgitating. n.

re ha bil i tate (rē'hə bil'ə tāt), 1. restore to a good condition; make over in a new form: The old house is to be rehabilitated. 2. restore to former standing, rank, rights, privileges, reputation, etc.: The former criminal completely rehabilitated himself and was trusted and respected by all. v., re ha bil i tat ed, re ha bil i tat ing. —re'ha bil'i ta'tion, n.

re hash (rē hash' for 1; rē'hash for 2, 3), 1. deal with again; work up (old material) in a new form: The question had been rehashed again and again. 2. a rehashing. 3. something old put in a different form: That composition is simply a rehash of an article in the encyclopedia. 1 v., 2, 3 n.

re hears al (ri hēr'sl), a rehearsing; a performance beforehand for practice or drill. n.

re hear se (ri hēr's), 1. practice (a play, part, etc.) for a public performance: We rehearsed our parts for the school play. 2. drill or train (a person, etc.) by repetition. 3. tell in detail; repeat: She rehearsed all the happenings of the day from beginning to end. v., re-hear sed, re hears ing.

Reich (rīh), German. Germany; the German state. n.

Reichs tag (rīhs'tāk'), the former elective legislative assembly of Germany. n.

reign (rān), 1. period of power of a ruler: Queen Victoria's reign lasted sixty-four years. 2. be a ruler: A king reigns over his kingdom. 3. royal power; rule: The reign of a wise ruler benefits his country. 4. exist everywhere; prevail: On a still night silence reigns. 5. existence everywhere; prevalence. 1, 3, 5 n., 2, 4 v.

re im burse (rē'im bərs'), pay back. You reimburse a person for expenses made for you. v., re im bur sed, re im bur sing. —re'im burse'ment, n.

Reims (rēmz; French rāns), city in N France. 121,000. n. Also, Rheims.

rein (rān), 1. a long, narrow strap or line fastened to a bridle or bit, by which to guide and control an animal. A driver or rider of a horse holds the reins in his hands. See harness for diagram. 2. check or pull with reins. 3. a means of control and direction: taking the reins of government. 4. guide and control: Rein your tongue. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v.

draw rein, 1. tighten the reins. 2. slow down; stop. give rein to, let move or act freely, without guidance or control.

re in car nate (rē'in kār'nāt), give a new body to (a soul). v., re in car nat ed, re in car nat ing.

re in car na tion (rē'in kār nā'shən), 1. rebirth of the soul in a new body. 2. a new incarnation or embodiment. n.

rein deer (rān'dir'), kind of large deer with branching horns, living in northern regions. It is used to pull sleighs and also for meat. n., pl. rein deer.

re in force (rē'in fōrs'), 1. strengthen with new force or materials: reinforce an army or a fleet, reinforce a garment with an extra thickness of cloth, reinforce a wall or a bridge. 2. strengthen: reinforce an argument, a plea, an effect, a stock, a supply, etc. v., re in forced, re in forc ing. Also, reënforce, re-enforce. reinforced concrete, concrete with metal embedded in it to make the structure stronger.

re in force ment (rē'in fōrs'mənt), 1. a reinforcing. 2. being reinforced. 3. thing that reinforces. n.

reinforcements, extra soldiers or warships.

re in state (rē'in stāt'), restore to a former position or condition; establish again. v., re in stat ed, re in stat ing. —re'in state'ment, n.

re in sure (rē'in shūr'), insure again; insure under a contract by which a first insurer relieves himself from the risk and transfers it to another insurer. v., re in sur ed, re in sur ing.

reis (rās), a former Portuguese unit of money. Nine Portuguese reis or eighteen Brazilian reis were worth one United States cent. n.pl.

re it er ate (rē it'er āt), say or do several times; repeat (an action, demand, etc.) again and again: The boy did not move though the teacher reiterated her command. v., re it er at ed, re it er at ing. —re it'er a'tion, n.

re ject (ri jekt' for 1, 2, 4; rē'jekt for 3), 1. refuse to take, use, believe, consider, grant, etc.: He rejected our help. He tried to join the army but was rejected. 2. throw away as useless or unsatisfactory: Reject all apples with soft spots. 3. a rejected person or thing. 4. vomit. 1, 2, 4 v., 3 n. —re ject'er, n.

re jec tion (ri jek'shən), 1. rejecting. 2. being rejected. 3. thing rejected. n.

re joice (ri jois'), 1. be glad; be filled with joy. 2. make glad; fill with joy. v., re joiced, re joic ing.

re joic ing (ri jois'ing), the feeling or expression of joy. n.

Reindeer (about 4½ ft. high at the shoulder) re join¹ (rē join'), 1. join again; unite again. 2. join the company of again. v.

re join² (ri join'), answer; reply. v.

re join der (ri join'dər), an answer to a reply; response. n.

re ju ve nate (ri jū've nāt), make young or vigorous again; give youthful qualities to: The long rest and new clothes have rejuvenated Mrs. Brown. v., re ju ve nat ed, re ju ve nat ing. —re ju've na'tion, n. —re ju've na'tor, n.

re kin dle (rē kin'dl), set on fire again; kindle anew. v., re kin dled, re kin dling.

re-laid (rē lād'), pt. and pp. of re-lay. v.

re lapse (ri laps'), 1. fall or slip back into a former state, way of acting, etc.: After one cry of surprise she relapsed into silence. 2. falling or slipping back into a former state, way of acting, etc.: He seemed to be getting over his illness but had a relapse. 1 v., re lapsed, re-laps ing; 2 n.

re late (ri lāt'), 1. give an account of; tell: The traveler related his adventures. 2. connect in thought or meaning: "Better" and "best" are related to "good." 3. be connected in any way: We are interested in what relates to ourselves. v., re lat ed, re lat ing.

re lat ed (ri lāt'id), 1. connected. 2. belonging to the same family; connected by a common origin. adj. —re lat'ed ness, n.

re la tion (ri lā'shən), 1. connection in thought or meaning: Your answer has no relation to the question. 2. connection between persons, groups, countries, etc.: The relation of mother and child is the closest in the world. 3. person who belongs to the same family as another, such as a father, brother, aunt, etc.; relative. 4. reference; regard: We must plan with relation to the future. 5. act of telling; account: We were amused by his relation of his adventures. n.
in or with relation to, about; concerning; having to do with.

re la tion al (ri lā'shən l), 1. that relates. 2. having to do with relations. adj.

re la tion ship (ri lā'shən ship), 1. connection: What is the relationship of clouds to rain? 2. condition of belonging to the same family. n.

rel a tive (rel'ə tiv), 1. person who belongs to the same family as another, such as father, brother, aunt, etc. 2. related or compared to each other: Before ordering our dinner, we considered the relative merits of chicken and roast beef. 3. depending for meaning on a relation to something else: East is a relative term; for example, Chicago is east of California but west of New York. 4. introducing a subordinate clause; referring to another person or thing. In "The man who wanted it is gone," who is a relative pronoun, and who wanted it is a relative clause. 5. a relative pronoun. 1,5 n., 2-4 adj.

relative to, 1. about; concerning. 2. in proportion to.
rel a tive ly (rel'ə tiv lē), 1. in a relative manner; in relation to something else; comparatively: a relatively small difference. 2. in relation or with reference (to): the value of one thing relatively to other things. 3. in proportion (to): a subject little understood relatively to its importance. adv.

rel a tiv i ty (rel'ə tiv'ə tē), 1. being relative. 2. in physics, the character of being relative rather than absolute, as ascribed to motion or velocity. 3. theory expressed in certain equations by Einstein. According to it, the only velocity we can measure is velocity relative to some body; observers on any celestial body may regard that body as motionless except for its rotation and acceleration and obtain the same observations as they would on any other celestial body, and will then obtain always the same value for the velocity of light; the mass of a moving body increases in dependence on its velocity; in a certain sense space is curved. n.

re la tor (ri lā'tər), person who relates or narrates. n.

re lax (ri laks'), 1. loosen up; make or become less stiff or firm: Relax your muscles to rest them. 2. make or become less strict or severe; lessen in force: Discipline is relaxed on the last day of school. 3. relieve or be relieved from work or effort; give or take recreation or amusement: Take a vacation and relax. 4. weaken: Don't relax your efforts because the examinations are over. v.

re lax a tion (rē'lak sā'shən), 1. a loosening: the relaxation of the muscles. 2. a lessening of strictness, severity, force, etc.: the relaxation of discipline. 3. relief from work or effort; recreation; amusement: Walking and reading are relaxations. n.

re lax ed ly (ri lak'sid lē), in a relaxed manner. adv.

re lay (rē'lā or ri lā'), 1. a fresh supply: New relays of men were sent to the battle front. 2. take and carry farther: Messengers will relay your message. 3. a relay race. 4. one part of a relay race. 5. an electromagnetic device in which a weak current controls a stronger current. A relay is used in transmitting telegraph or telephone messages over long distances. 6. transmit by an electrical relay. 1,3-5 n., 2,6 v.

re-lay (rē'lā'), lay again. v., re-laid, re-lay ing.

re lay race (rē'lā), race in which each member of a team runs, swims, etc., only a certain part of the distance.

re lease (ri lēs'), 1. let go; let loose: The prisoner was released. 2. a letting go; setting free: Lincoln proclaimed the release of the slaves. 3. set free; relieve: The nurse is released from duty at seven o'clock. 4. freedom; relief: This medicine will give you release from pain. 5. part that releases other parts of a machine. 6. the legal surrender of right, estate, etc., to another. 7. give up (legal right, claim, etc.); make over to another (property, etc.). 8. document that does this. 9. permit to be published, shown, sold, etc. 10. permission for the publication, exhibition, sale, etc. 11. article, statement, etc., distributed for publication. 1,3,7,9 v., re-leased, re leas ing; 2,4-6,8,10,11 n.

re le gate (rel'ə gāt), 1. send away, usually to a lower position or condition: to relegate a dress to the rag bag. 2. send into exile; banish. 3. hand over (a matter, task, etc.). v., rel e gat ed, rel e gat ing. —rel'e ga'tion, n.

re lent (ri lent'), become less harsh or cruel; be more tender and merciful: After hours of cruel treatment of the prisoners, the soldiers relented. v.

re lent less (ri lent'lis), without pity; unyielding; harsh: The storm raged with relentless fury. adj. —re-lent'less ly, adv.

re le vance (rel'ə vāns), relevancy. n.

re le van cy (rel'ə vān sē), being relevant. n.

re le vant (rel'ə vānt), bearing upon or connected with the matter in hand; to the point. adj.

re li a bil i ty (ri lī'ə bil'ə tē), quality of being reliable; trustworthiness; dependability: A machine has perfect reliability if it always does its work. n.

re li a ble (ri lī'ə bl), worthy of trust; that can be depended on: reliable sources of news. adj. —re li'a-bly, adv.

re li ance (ri lī'əns), 1. trust; dependence: A child has reliance on his mother. 2. confidence. 3. thing on which one depends. n.

re li ant (ri lī'ənt), 1. relying; depending. 2. confident. 3. relying on oneself. adj.

re lic (rel'ik), 1. thing, custom, etc., that remains from the past: This ruined bridge is a relic of the Civil War. 2. something belonging to a holy person, kept as a sacred memorial. 3. object having interest because of its age or its associations with the past; keepsake; souvenir. n.

relics, remains; ruins.

relict (rel'ikt), widow. n.

re lief (ri lēf'), 1. the lessening of, or freeing from, a pain, burden, difficulty, etc. 2. something that lessens or frees from pain, burden, difficulty, etc.; aid; help: Relief was quickly sent to the sufferers from the great fire. 3. help given to poor people. 4. something that makes a pleasing change or lessens strain. 5. release from a post of duty, often by the coming of a substitute: This nurse is on duty from seven in the morning until seven at night, with only two hours' relief. 6. change of persons on duty. 7. persons who relieve others from duty; person who does this. 8. projection of figures and designs from a surface in sculpture, drawing, painting, etc. 9. figure or design standing out from the surface from which it is cut, shaped, or stamped. 10. appearance of standing out given to a drawing or painting by use of shadow, shading, color, or line. 11. different heights of the earth's surface. 12. strong, clear manner; distinctness: His noble nature stood out in relief from the evil of his surroundings. n.

Relief (defs. 8, 9)

in relief, standing out from a surface.

relief map, map that shows the different heights of a surface by using shading, colors, solid materials, etc.

re lieve (ri lēv'), 1. make less; make easier; reduce the pain or trouble of: Aspirin will relieve a headache. 2. set free: Your coming relieves me of the bother of writing a long letter. 3. bring aid to; help: Soldiers were sent to relieve the fort. 4. give variety or a pleasing change to: The black dress was relieved by red trimming. 5. free (a person on duty) by taking his place. 6. make stand out more clearly. v., re lieved, re liev ing.

re li gion (ri lij'ən), 1. belief in God or gods. 2. worship of God or gods. 3. matter of conscience: She makes a religion of keeping her house neat. 4. a particular system of faith and worship: the Christian religion. n.

re li gious i ty (ri lij'ē os'ə tē), affectation of religious feeling. n.

re li gious (ri lij'əs), 1. of religion; connected with religion: religious meetings, religious books, religious differences. 2. much interested in religion; devoted to the worship of God or gods: Nora is very religious and goes to church every day. 3. belonging to an order of monks, nuns, friars, etc. 4. monk, nun, friar, etc.; member of a religious order. 5. such persons collectively. 6. of or connected with such an order. 7. strict; done with care: Mother gave religious attention to the doctor's orders. 1-3, 6, 7 adj., 4, 5 n. —re li'gious ly, adv. —re li'giousness, n.

re lin quish (ri ling'kwish), give up; let go: The small dog relinquished his bone to the big dog. She has relinquished all hope of going to Europe this year. v.*

re lin quish ment (ri ling'kwish mənt), giving up; abandonment; surrender. n.

re li quar y (rel'ə kwər'ē), a small box or other receptacle for a relic or relics. n., pl. re li quar ies.

re li que (rel'ik; French rə lēk'), relic. n.

re lish (rel'ish), 1. a pleasant taste; good flavor: Hunger gives relish to simple food. 2. something to add flavor to food. Olives and pickles are relishes. 3. slight dash (of something). 4. liking; appetite; enjoyment: The hungry boy ate with a great relish. The teacher has no relish for John's jokes. 5. like; enjoy: A cat relishes cream. He did not relish the prospect of staying after school. 1-4 n., 5 v.

re load (rē lōd'), load again. v.

re luctance (ri luk'təns), 1. a reluctant feeling or action; unwillingness. 2. slowness in action because of unwillingness: She agreed with reluctance to take part in the game. n.

re luctant (ri luk'tənt), 1. unwilling; showing unwillingness. 2. slow to act because unwilling: He was very reluctant to give his money away. adj. —re luctant ly, adv.

re ly (ri li'), depend; trust: Rely on your own efforts. v., re lied, re ly ing.

re main (ri mən'), 1. continue in a place; stay: remain at the seashore till October. 2. continue; last; keep on: The town remains the same year after year. 3. be left: A few apples remain on the trees. v.

remains, 1. what is left. 2. a dead body. 3. a writer's works not yet published at the time of his death.

re main der (ri mən'dər), the part left over; the rest: If you take 2 from 9, the remainder is 7. n.

re make (rē māk'), make anew; make over. v., re-made, re mak ing.

re mand (ri mand'), 1. send back. 2. send back (a prisoner or an accused person) to prison. 3. a remanding. 1, 2 v., 3 n.

re mark (ri mār'k'), 1. say; speak; comment: Mother remarked that Bill's hands would be better for a wash. 2. something said in a few words; short statement: The president made a few remarks. 3. notice; observe: Did you remark that queer cloud? 4. act of noticing; observation. 1, 3 v., 2, 4 n.

re mark a ble (ri mār'kə bl), worthy of notice; unusual. adj. —re mark'a bly, adv.

re mar ry (rē mar'ē), marry again. v., re mar ried, re mar ry ing.

Rem brandt (rem'brant), 1606-1669, Dutch painter and etcher. n.

re me di a ble (ri mē'dē ə bl), that can be remedied or cured. adj. —re me'di a bly, adv.

re me di al (ri mē'dē ə l), remedying; curing; helping; relieving. adj.

re me di al ly (ri mē'dē ə lē), so as to remedy. adv.

rem e di less (rem'ə dē lis), without remedy; incurable; irreparable. adj.

rem e dy (rem'ə dē), 1. a means of removing or relieving diseases or any bad condition; cure. 2. put right; make right; cure: A thorough cleaning remedied the trouble. 1 n., pl. rem e dies; 2 v., rem e died, rem e dy ing.

re mem ber (ri mem'bər), 1. have (something) come into the mind again; call to mind; recall: Then I remembered where I was. 2. recall something. 3. keep in mind; take care not to forget: Remember me when I am gone. 4. have memory: Dogs remember. 5. make a gift to; reward: Uncle remembered us in his will. 6. mention (a person) as sending friendly greetings; recall to the mind of another: Ruth asked to be remembered to Ann. v.

re mem brance (ri mem'brans), 1. power to remember; act of remembering; memory: America holds its heroes in grateful remembrance. 2. state of being remembered. 3. keepsake; any thing or action that makes one remember a person; souvenir. n.

remembrances, greetings.

re mind (ri mind'), make (one) think (of something); cause to remember. v.

re mind er (ri mīn'dər), something to help one remember. n.

rem i nisce (rem'ə nis'), talk or think about past experiences or events. v., rem i nisc ed, rem i nisc ing.

rem i nis cence (rem'ə nis'ns), 1. a remembering; recalling past happenings, etc. 2. account of something remembered; recollection: reminiscences of the war. n.

rem i nis cent (rem'ə nis'nt), 1. recalling past events, etc.: reminiscent talk. 2. awakening memories of something else; suggestive: a manner reminiscent of a statelier age. adj. —rem'i nis'cent ly, adv.

re miss (ri mis'), careless; slack; neglectful; negligent: A policeman who lets a thief escape is remiss in his duty. adj. —re miss'ness, n.

re mis sion (ri mish'ən), 1. a letting off (from debt, punishment, etc.): The bankrupt sought remission of his debts. 2. pardon; forgiveness: Remission of sins is promised to those who repent. 3. a lessening (of pain, force, labor, etc.). n.

re mit (ri mit'), 1. send money to a person or place: Enclosed is our bill; please remit. 2. send (money due). 3. refrain from carrying out; refrain from exacting; cancel: The king remitted the prisoner's punishment. 4. pardon; forgive: power to remit sins. 5. make less; decrease: After we had rowed the boat into calm water we remitted our efforts. 6. become less. 7. send back, especially to prison. v., re mit ted, re mit ting. —re mit'ter, n.

re mit tal (ri mit'/l), remission. n.
re mit tance (ri mit'/ns), 1. a sending money to someone at a distance. 2. the money that is sent. n.
rem nant (rem'nənt), a small part left: She bought a remnant of silk at a bargain. This town has only a remnant of its former population. n.
re mod el (rē mod'/l), 1. model again. 2. make over: The old barn was remodeled into a house. v., re mod eled, re mod el ing or esp. Brit. re mod elled, re mod el ling.
re mon strance (ri mon'strəns), protest; complaint. n.
re mon strant (ri mon'strənt), 1. remonstrating; protesting. 2. person who remonstrates. 1 adj., 2 n.
re mon strate (ri mon'strāt), object; protest: The teacher remonstrated with the boy about his low marks. v., re mon strat ed, re mon strat ing.
re mon stra tion (rē'mon strā'shən or rem'ən strā'shən), a remonstrating. n.
re mon stra tive (ri mon'strə tiv), remonstrating. adj.
re morse (ri mōrs'/), deep, painful regret for having done wrong: The thief felt remorse for his crime and confessed. n.
re morse ful (ri mōrs'fəl), feeling or expressing remorse. adj. —re morse'ful ly, adv.
re morse less (ri mōrs'lis), without remorse; pitiless; cruel. adj. —re morse'less ly, adv.
re mote (ri mōt'/), 1. far away; far off: a remote country. 2. out of the way; secluded: a remote village. 3. distant: a remote relative. 4. slight; faint: I haven't the remotest idea what you mean. adj., re mot er, re mot est. —re mote'ly, adv.
remote control, control from a distance, usually by electrical connection or radio signal.
re mount (rē mount' for 1, 2; rē'mount for 3), 1. mount again: The fallen rider remounts his horse. 2. furnish with fresh horses. 3. a fresh horse for use. 1, 2 v., 3 n.
re mov al (ri mūv'/l), 1. a removing; taking away: After the removal of the soup, fish was served. 2. change of place: The store announced its removal to larger quarters. 3. dismissal from an office or position. n.
re move (ri mūv'/), 1. move from a place or position; take off; take away: Remove your hat. 2. get rid of; put an end to: remove all doubt. 3. kill. 4. dismiss from an office or position: remove an official for taking bribes. 5. go away; move away. 6. a moving away. 7. step or degree of distance: His cruelty was only one remove from crime. 1-5 v., re moved, re mov ing; 6, 7 n. —re mov'a ble, adj. —re mov'er, n.
re moved (ri mūvd'/), 1. distant; remote. 2. separated by one or more steps or degrees of relationship. adj.
re mu ner ate (ri mū'nər āt), pay for work, services, trouble, etc.; reward: The boy who returned the lost jewels was remunerated. The harvest will remunerate the laborers for their toil. v., re mu ner at ed, re mu ner at ing.
re mu ner a tion (ri mū'nər ā'shən), reward; pay; payment. n.
re mu ner a tive (ri mū'nər ā'tiv), paying; profitable. adj.
Re mus (rē'məs), 1. in Roman mythology, the twin brother of Romulus. As children they were nursed by a wolf; later Romulus founded Rome and slew Remus for leaping contemptuously over the wall of his new city. 2. Uncle, a character who relates Negro folklore. n.
ren ais sance (ren'ə sāns' or ren'ə sāns), revival; new birth. n.
Ren ais sance (ren'ə sāns' or ren'ə sāns), 1. the great revival of art and learning in Europe during the 14th, 15th, and 16th centuries. 2. period of time when this revival occurred. 3. style of art, architecture, etc., of this period. n.
re nal (rē'nl), of the kidneys; having to do with the kidneys. adj.
re name (rē nām'/), give a new name to; name again. v., re named, re nam ing.

re nas cence (ri nas'/ns or ri nā'sns), 1. revival; new birth; renewal: a renascence of religion. 2. a being renaissance. n.
Re nas cence (ri nas'/ns or ri nā'sns), the Renaissance. n.
re nas cent (ri nas'nt or ri nā'snt), being born again; reviving; springing again into being or vigor. adj.
ren coun ter (ren koun'tər), 1. a hostile meeting; conflict; battle; duel. 2. a chance meeting. n.
rend (rend), 1. pull apart violently; tear: Wolves will rend a lamb. 2. split: Lightning rent the tree. 3. disturb violently: His mind was rent by doubt. 4. remove with force or violence. v., rent, rend ing.
ren der (ren'dər), 1. cause to become; make: An accident has rendered him helpless. 2. give; do: She rendered us a great service by her help. 3. offer for consideration, approval, payment, etc.; hand in; report: The treasurer rendered an account of all the money spent. 4. give in return: Render thanks for your blessings. 5. pay as due: The conquered rendered tribute to the conqueror. 6. bring out the meaning of; represent: The actor rendered the part of Hamlet well. 7. play or sing (music). 8. change from one language to another; translate: Render that Latin proverb in English. 9. give up; surrender: The knights rendered their swords to the victors. 10. melt (fat, etc.); clarify or extract by melting. Fat from hogs is rendered for lard. v.
ren dez vous (rən'də vü), 1. an appointment or engagement to meet at a fixed place or time; meeting by agreement. 2. a meeting place; gathering place: The family had two favorite rendezvous, the library and the garden. 3. place agreed on for a meeting at a certain time, especially of troops or ships. 4. meet at a rendezvous. 1-3 n., pl. ren dez vous (-vüz); 4 v., ren dez voused (-vüd), ren dez vous ing (-vü'ing).
ren di tion (ren dish'ən), 1. a rendering. 2. the rendering of a dramatic part, music, etc., so as to bring out the meaning. 3. translation. n.
ren e gade (ren'ə gād), 1. deserter from a religious faith, a political party, etc.; traitor. 2. deserting; disloyal; like a traitor. 1 n., 2 adj.
re ne ge (ri nig'/), 1. fail to play a card of the suit that is led, although you have one. It is against the rules of card games to renege. 2. in card playing, failure to follow suit when able to do so. 3. Informal. back out; fail to keep a promise. 1, 3 v., re ne ged, re ne ging; 2 n.
re new (ri nü' or ri nū'), 1. make new again; make like new; restore. 2. make spiritually new. 3. begin again; get again; say, do, or give again: renew an attack, one's youth, one's vows, one's efforts. 4. replace by new material or a new thing of the same sort; fill again: She renewed the sleeves of her dress. The well renews itself no matter how much water is taken away. 5. give or get for a new period: We renewed our lease for another year. 6. renew a lease, note, etc. v. —re new'a ble, adj.
re new al (ri nü'al or ri nū'al), a renewing or being renewed. n.
re new ed ly (ri nü'id lē or ri nū'id lē), anew. adv.
Re ni (rā'nē), Guido, 1575-1642, Italian painter. n.
ren i form (ren'ə fōrm), kidney-shaped. adj.
ren net (ren'it), substance containing rennin, used for making cheese and junket. n.
ren nin (ren'ən), enzyme in the gastric juice that coagulates or curdles milk. n.
Re no (rē'nō), city in W Nevada. 51,000. n.
re nom i nate (rē nom'ə nāt), nominate again. v., re nom i nat ed, re nom i nat ing.
re nom i na tion (rē nom'ə nā'shən), a nominating or being nominated again. n.
re nounce (ri nouns'/), 1. declare that one gives up; give up entirely; give up: He renounces his claim to the money. 2. make formal surrender. 3. cast off; refuse to recognize as one's own: He renounced his wicked son. v., re nounced, re nounc ing. —re nounce'ment, n.

Reniform leaf

ren o vate (ren'ə vāt), make new again; make like new; restore to good condition: renovate a garment or a house. v. ren o vat ed, ren o vat ing. —ren'o va'tor, n.
ren o va tion (ren'ə vā'shən), restoration to good condition; renewal. n.
re noun (ri noun'), fame. n.
re noun ed (ri noun'd'), famed. adj.
rent¹ (rent), 1. a regular payment for the use of property. 2. pay for the use of (property): We rent a house from Mr. Smith. 3. receive pay for the use of (property): He rents several other houses. 4. be leased or let for rent: This farm rents for $1500 a year. 1*n.*, 2-4 v.
for rent, to be given in return for rent paid.
rent² (rent), 1. a torn place; tear; split. 2. torn; split. 3. pt. and pp. of rend. The tree was rent by the wind. 1*n.*, 2 adj., 3 v.
rent al (ren'tl), 1. amount received or paid as rent: The yearly rental of her house is $4000. 2. of or in rent. 1*n.*, 2 adj.
rent er (ren'tər), person who pays rent for using another's property. n.
re nun ci a tion (ri nun'sē ā'shən), a giving up of a right, title, possession, etc.; renouncing. n.
re o pen (rē ō'pən), 1. open again. 2. discuss again: The matter is settled and cannot be reopened. v.
re or der (rē ōr'dər), 1. put in order again; rearrange. 2. give a second or repeated order for goods; order again. 3. a second or repeated order for goods. 1,2 v., 3 n.
re or gan i za tion (rē'ōr gən ə zā'shən), 1. a reorganizing. 2. being reorganized. n.
re or gan ize (rē ōr'gən iz), 1. organize anew; form again; arrange in a new way: Classes will be reorganized after the first four weeks. 2. form a new company to operate (a business in the hands of a receiver). v., re or gan ized, re or gan iz ing. —re'or'gan iz'er, n.
Rep., 1. Representative. 2. Republican. 3. Republic. re paid (ri pād'), pt. and pp. of repay. He repaid the money he had borrowed. All debts should be repaid. v.
re pair¹ (ri pār'), 1. put in good condition again; mend: He repairs shoes. 2. act or work of repairing: Repairs on the school building are made during the summer. 3. instance or piece of repairing. 4. condition fit to be used: The State keeps the roads in repair. 5. condition with respect to repairing: The house was in bad repair. 6. make up for: How can I repair the harm done? 1,6 v., 2-5 n. —re pair'a ble, adj. —re pair'er, n.
re pair² (ri pār'), go (to a place): After dinner we repaired to the porch. v.
re pair man (ri pār'man' or ri pār'mən), man whose work is repairing. n., pl. re pair men.
rep a ra ble (rep'ə rə bl), that can be repaired or remedied. adj.
rep a ra tion (rep'ə rā'shən), 1. a giving of satisfaction or compensation for wrong or injury done. 2. compensation for wrong or injury. 3. a repairing or being repaired; restoration to good condition. n.
repa rations, compensation for the devastation of territory during war: England and France demanded reparations from Germany.
rep ar tee (rep'ər tē'), 1. a witty reply or replies. 2. talk characterized by clever and witty replies. 3. cleverness and wit in making replies. n.
re pass (rē pas'), 1. pass back. 2. pass again. v.
re past (ri past'), meal; attractive meal; food. n.
re pa tri ate (rē pā'trē āt), send back or restore to one's own country: After peace was declared, refugees and prisoners of war were repatriated. v., re pa tri at ed, re pa tri at ing. —re pa'tri a'tion, n.
re pay (ri pā'), 1. pay back; give back: He repaid the money he had borrowed. 2. make return for: No thanks can repay such kindness. 3. make return to: The boy's success repaid the teacher for her efforts. v., re paid, re pay ing. —re pay'ment, n.
re peal (ri pēl'), 1. take back; withdraw; do away with: The 18th amendment of the U.S. Constitution was repealed by the 21st. 2. act of repealing; withdrawal; abolition: He voted for the repeal of that law. 1*v.*, 2 n.

re peat (ri pēt'), 1. do or make again: repeat an error. 2. say again: repeat a word for emphasis. 3. say over; recite: repeat a poem from memory. 4. say after another says: Repeat the oath after me. 5. tell to another or others: I promised not to repeat the secret. 6. a repeating. 7. thing repeated. 8. passage in music to be repeated. 9. sign indicating this, usually a row of dots. 10. vote more than once in an election. 1-5,10 v., 6-9 n.
repeat oneself, say what one has already said.
re peat ed (ri pēt'id), said, done, or made more than once: Her repeated efforts at last won success. adj.
re peat ed ly (ri pēt'id lē), again and again. adv.
re peat er (ri pēt'ər), 1. gun that fires several shots without reloading. 2. watch or clock that, if a spring is pressed, strikes the hour it struck last. 3. U.S. person who votes more than once in an election. 4. any person or thing that repeats. n.
re pel (ri pel'), 1. force back; drive back; drive away: They repelled the enemy. 2. force apart or away by some inherent force. Particles with similar electric charges repel each other. 3. be displeasing to; cause disgust in: Spiders and worms repel me. 4. cause dislike; displease. 5. reject. v., re pel led, re pel ling.
re pel lent (ri pel'ənt), 1. unattractive; disagreeable: Mr. Stern has a cold, repellent manner. Cheating is repellent to an honest boy. 2. repelling; driving back. 3. anything that repels: We sprayed insect repellent on our arms and legs before we went on the picnic. 1,2 adj., 3 n.
re pent (ri pent'), 1. feel sorry for sin and seek forgiveness: He had done wrong, but repented. 2. feel sorry for; regret: repent one's choice. v. —re pent'er, n.
re pent ance (ri pent'ns), 1. sorrow for doing wrong. 2. sorrow; regret. n.
re pent ant (ri pent'nt), repenting; feeling regret; sorry for wrongdoing. adj. —re pent'ant ly, adv.
re peo ple (rē pē'pl), 1. people anew. 2. restock with animals. v., re peo pled, re peo pling.
re per cus sion (rē'pər kush'ən), 1. an indirect influence or reaction from an event. 2. sound flung back; echo. 3. a springing back; rebound; recoil. n.
rep er toire (rep'ər twär), the list of plays, operas, parts, pieces, etc., that a company, an actor, a musician, or a singer is prepared to perform. n.
rep er to ry (rep'ər tō're), 1. catalogue or list of things; repertoire. 2. store or stock of things ready for use. 3. storehouse. n., pl. rep er to ries.
rep e ti tion (rep'ə tish'ən), 1. a repeating; doing again; saying again: Repetition helps learning. Any repetition of the offense will be punished. 2. thing repeated. n.
rep e ti ti ous (rep'ə tish'əs), full of repetitions; repeating in a tiresome way. adj. —rep'e ti'tious ness, n.
re pet i tive (ri pet'ə tiv), of or characterized by repetition. adj.
re phrase (rē frāz'), phrase again; phrase in a new or different way. v., re phrased, re phras ing.
re pine (ri pin'), be discontented; fret; complain: It does no good to repine. v., re pined, re pin ing.
re place (ri plās'), 1. fill or take the place of. 2. get another in place of: I will replace the cup I broke. 3. put back; put in place again: Replace the books on the shelf. v., re placed, re plac ing.
re place ment (ri plās'mənt), 1. a replacing or being replaced. 2. something or someone that replaces. n.
re plant (rē plant'), plant again. v.
re plen ish (ri plen'ish), fill again; provide a new supply for: Her wardrobe needs replenishing. You had better replenish the fire. v. —re plen'ish er, n.
re plen ish ment (ri plen'ish mənt), 1. a replenishing or being replenished. 2. a fresh supply. n.
re plete (ri plēt'), abundantly supplied; filled. adj.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, ĭce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

re ple tion (ri plē'shən), fullness; excessive fullness. n.
rep li ca (rep'lə kə), copy; reproduction: The artist made a replica of his picture. n.

re ply (ri plī'), 1. answer by words or action; answer. 2. give as an answer. 3. act of replying. 1,2 v., replied, re ply ing; 3 n., pl. re plies.

re port (ri pōrt'), 1. account of something seen, heard, read, done, or considered. 2. an account officially expressed, generally in writing. 3. make a report of; announce. 4. give a formal account of; state officially: Our treasurer reports that all dues are paid up. 5. take down in writing; write an account of. 6. make a report. 7. act as reporter. 8. repeat (what one has heard, seen, etc.); bring back an account of; describe. 9. present; present oneself: Report for duty at 9 a.m. 10. announce as a wrongdoer; denounce: report someone to the police. 11. the sound of a shot or an explosion: the report of a gun. 12. common talk; rumor: Report has it that the Smiths are leaving town. 13. reputation. 1,2,11-13 n., 3-10 v.

re port a ble (ri pōr'tə bl), capable of being reported; worthy reporting. adj.

re port er (ri pōr'tər), 1. person who reports. 2. person who gathers news for a newspaper. n.

re pose¹ (ri pōz'), 1. rest; sleep: Do not disturb her repose. 2. lie at rest: The cat reposed upon the cushion. 3. lie in a grave. 4. lay to rest: Repose yourself in the hammock. 5. rest from work or toil; take a rest. 6. quietness; ease: She has repose of manner. 7. peace; calmness. 8. be supported. 9. depend; rely (on). 1,6,7 n., 2-5,8,9 v., re posed, re pos ing.

re pose² (ri pōz'), put; place: We repose complete confidence in his honesty. v., re posed, re pos ing.

re pose ful (ri pōz'fəl), calm; quiet. adj.

re pos i to ry (ri pōz'ə tō'rē), 1. place or container where things are stored or kept: The box was the repository for old magazines. 2. person to whom something is confided or entrusted. n., pl. re pos i to ries.

re pos sess (rē'pə zēs'), possess again; get possession of again. v.

re pos ses sion (rē'pə zesh'ən), repossessing. n.

rep re hend (rep'ri hend'), reprove; rebuke; blame. v.

rep re hen si ble (rep'ri hen'sə bl), deserving reproof, rebuke, or blame: Cheating is a reprehensible act. adj. —rep're hen'si bly, adv.

rep re hen sion (rep'ri hen'shən), reproof; rebuke; blame. n.

rep re sent (rep'ri zent'), 1. stand for; be a sign or symbol of: The stars in our flag represent the States. 2. act in place of; speak and act for: People are elected to represent us in the government. 3. act the part of: Each child will represent an animal at the party. 4. show in a picture, statue, carving, etc.; give a likeness of; portray: This picture represents the end of the world. 5. be a type of; be an example of: A log represents a very simple kind of boat. 6. describe; set forth: He represented the plan as safe, but it was not. 7. bring before the mind; make one think of: His fears represented the undertaking as impossible. v.

rep re sen ta tion (rep'ri zen tā'shən), 1. act of representing. 2. condition or fact of being represented: "Taxation without representation is tyranny." 3. representatives considered as a group. 4. likeness; picture; model. 5. performance of a play; presentation: A representation of the story of Rip Van Winkle will be given in the school assembly today. 6. process of forming mental images or ideas. 7. protest; complaint. 8. account; statement. n.

rep re sent a tive (rep'ri zen'tə tiv), 1. person appointed to act or speak for others: He is the club's representative at the convention. 2. having its citizens represented by chosen persons: a representative government. 3. representing: Images representative of animals were made by the children. 4. example; type: The tiger is a representative of the cat family. 5. enough like all those of its kind to stand for all the rest: Oak, birch, and maple are representative American hardwoods. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 adj.

Rep re sent a tive (rep'ri zen'tə tiv), member of the House of Representatives. n.

re press (ri pres'), 1. prevent from acting; check: She repressed an impulse to cough. 2. keep down; put down; suppress: The dictator repressed the revolt. v. —repress'er, n.

re press i ble (ri pres'ə bl), that can be repressed. adj.

re pres sion (ri presh'ən), 1. act of repressing: The repression of a laugh made Jim choke. 2. state of being repressed: Repression made her behave worse. n.

re pres sive (ri pres'iv), tending to repress; having power to repress. adj.

re pri eve (ri prēv'), 1. delay the execution of (a person condemned to death). 2. delay in carrying out a punishment, especially of the death penalty. 3. the order giving authority for such delay. 4. temporary relief from any evil or trouble. 5. give relief from any evil or trouble. 1,5 v., re pri eved, re pri ev ing; 2-4 n.

rep ri mand (rep'rə mand), 1. a severe or formal reproof. 2. reprove severely or formally. 1 n., 2 v.

re print (rē print' for 1; rē'print' for 2), 1. print again: print a new impression of. 2. a reprinting; a new impression of printed work. 1 v., 2 n.

re pris al (ri prīz'əl), injury done in return for injury, especially by one nation to another. n.

re proach (ri prōch'), 1. blame. 2. disgrace: A coward is a reproach to an army. 3. object of blame, censure, or disapproval. 4. expression of blame, censure, or disapproval. 1-4 n., 1,2 v.

re proach ful (ri prōch'fəl), full of reproach; expressing reproach. adj. —re proach'ful ly, adv.

re proach less (ri prōch'lis), without reproach; irreproachable. adj.

rep ro bate (rep'rə bāt), 1. an unprincipled scoundrel. 2. morally abandoned; unprincipled. 3. disapprove; condemn; censure. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v., rep ro bat ed, rep ro bat ing.

rep ro ba tion (rep'rə bā'shən), disapproval; condemnation; censure. n.

re pro duce (rē'prə dūs' or rē'prə dūs'), 1. produce again: A radio reproduces sounds. 2. make a copy of: A camera will reproduce a picture. 3. produce offspring: Most plants reproduce by seeds. v., re pro duced, re pro duc ing.

re pro duc i ble (rē'prə dūs'ə bl or rē'prə dūs'ə bl), that can be reproduced. adj.

re pro duc tion (rē'prə duk'shən), 1. a reproducing or being reproduced. 2. a copy. 3. process by which animals and plants produce individuals like themselves. n.

re pro duc tive (rē'prə duk'tiv), 1. that reproduces. 2. for or concerned with reproduction. adj. —re'pro duc'tive ly, adv. —re'pro duc'tive ness, n.

re proof (ri prūf'), words of blame or disapproval; blame. n.

re prov a ble (ri prīv'ə bl), deserving reproof. adj.

re prov al (ri prīv'əl), reproving; reproof. n.

re prove (ri prīv'), find fault with; blame: Reprove the boy for teasing the cat. v., re proved, re prov ing.

rep tile (rep'til), 1. a cold-blooded animal that creeps or crawls. Snakes, lizards, turtles, alligators, and crocodiles are reptiles. 2. of or like a reptile; crawling; creeping. 3. a low, mean person. 4. low; mean. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

rep til i an (rep til'ē ən), 1. of reptiles; having to do with reptiles. 2. like a reptile; base; mean. 3. a reptile. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

re pub lic (ri pub'lik), nation or state in which the citizens elect representatives to manage the government. n.

re pub li can (ri pub'lə kən), 1. of a republic; like that of a republic. 2. favoring a republic. 3. person who favors a republic. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

Re pub li can (ri pub'lə kən), 1. of or having to do with the Republican Party. 2. member of the Republican Party. 1 adj., 2 n.

re pub li can ism (ri pub'lə kən iz'əm), 1. republican government. 2. republican principles; adherence to republican principles. n.

Re pub li can ism (ri pub'lə kən iz'əm), principles or policies of the Republican Party. n.

Republican Party, one of the two main political parties in the United States.

re pub li ca tion (rē'pub lə kā'shən), 1. publication anew. 2. book, etc., published again. n.

re pu di ate (ri pū'dē āt), 1. refuse to accept; reject: repudiate a doctrine. 2. refuse to acknowledge or pay: repudiate a debt. 3. cast off; disown: repudiate a son. v., re pu di at ed, re pu di at ing.

re pu di a tion (ri pū'dē ā'shən), act of repudiating; fact or condition of being repudiated. n.

re pug nance (ri pug'nəns), strong dislike, distaste, or aversion: Some people feel a repugnance for snakes. n.

re pug nan cy (ri pug'nən sē), repugnance. n.

re pug nant (ri pug'nənt), 1. distasteful; disagreeable; offensive: Work is repugnant to lazy people. 2. objecting; averse; opposed: We are repugnant to every sort of dishonesty. adj.

re pulse (ri puls'), 1. drive back; repel. 2. a driving back; being driven back: After the second repulse, the enemy surrendered. 3. refuse to accept; reject: She coldly repulsed him. 4. refusal; rejection. 1,3 v., re pul sed, re puls ing; 2,4 n.

re pul sion (ri pul'shən), 1. strong dislike or aversion. 2. repulse; repelling or being repelled. n.

re pul sive (ri pul'siv), 1. causing strong dislike or aversion: Snakes are repulsive to some people. 2. tending to drive back or repel. adj. —re pul'sive ness, n.

rep u ta ble (rep'yə tā bl), having a good reputation; well thought of; in good repute. adj. —rep'u tā bly, adv.

rep u ta tion (rep'yə tā'shən), 1. what people think and say the character of a person or thing is; character in the opinion of others; name; repute: He had the reputation of being very bright. 2. good name; good reputation. 3. fame. n.

re pute (ri pūt'), 1. reputation: This is a district of bad repute on account of many robberies. 2. good reputation. 3. suppose to be; consider; suppose: He is reputed the richest man in the State. 1,2 n., 3 v., re put ed, re put ing.

re put ed (ri pūt'id), accounted or supposed to be such: the reputed author of a book. adj.

re put ed ly (ri pūt'id lē), by repute; supposedly. adv.

re quest (ri kwēst'), 1. ask for; ask as a favor: He requested a loan from the bank. 2. ask: He requested her to go with him. 3. act of asking: She did it at our request. 4. what is asked for: He granted my request. 5. state of being asked for or sought after: She is such a good dancer that she is in great request. 1,2 v., 3-5 n.

by request, in response to a request.

Req ui em or req ui em (rek'wē əm or rē'kwē əm), 1. Mass for the dead; musical church service for the dead. 2. music for it. n.

re quies cat (rek'wē əs'kat), Latin. "May he (or she) rest (in peace)," a wish or prayer for the dead. n.

re quire (ri kwīr'), 1. have need for; need; want: We shall require more help. 2. command; order; demand: The rules require us all to be present. v., re quired, re quir ing.

re quire ment (ri kwīr'mənt), 1. need; thing needed: Patience is a requirement in teaching. 2. demand; thing demanded: He has filled all requirements for graduation. n.

req ui site (rek'wə zit), 1. required by circumstances; needed; necessary; essential; indispensable: the qualities requisite for a leader, the number of votes requisite for election. 2. thing needed: Food and air are requisites for life. 1 adj., 2 n. —req'ui site ly, adv. —req'ui site ness, n.

req ui si tion (rek'wə zish'ən), 1. act of requiring. 2. a demand made; especially, a formal written demand: the requisition of supplies for troops. 3. demand or take by authority: requisition supplies, horses, or labor. 4. make demands upon: The army requisitioned the village for food. 5. state of being required for use or called into service: The car was in constant requisition for errands. 6. essential condition; requirement. 1,2, 5,6 n., 3,4 v.

re quit al (ri kwit'l), repayment; payment; return: What requital can we make for all his kindness to us? n.

re quite (ri kwit'), 1. pay back; make return for: The Bible says to requite evil with good. 2. make return to: The knight requited the boy for his warning. v., re quit ed, re quit ing.

re re dos (rē'rē'dos), a screen or a decorated part of the wall behind an altar. n.

re route (rē rūt' or rē rout'), send by a new or different route. v., re routed, re routing.

re sale (rē'sāl' or rē sāl'), act of selling again. n.

re scind (ri sind'), deprive of force; repeal; cancel: rescind a law. v.

re script (rē'skript), 1. a written answer to a question or petition. 2. edict; decree; official announcement. 3. rewriting. n.

re s cue (res'kū), 1. save from danger, capture, harm, etc.; free; deliver: Searchers rescued the boy lost in the mountains. 2. a saving or freeing from danger, capture, harm, etc.: The fireman was praised for his brave rescue of the children in the burning house. A dog was chasing our cat when Mary came to the rescue. 3. take (a person) forcibly or unlawfully from a jail, policeman, etc.; take (property) from legal custody. 4. the forcible or unlawful taking of a person or thing from the care of the law. 1,3 v., res cued, res cu ing; 2,4 n. —res'cu er, n.

re search (ri sērč' or rē'sērč), 1. a careful hunting for facts or truth; inquiry; investigation: The researches of men of science have done much to lessen disease. 2. make researches. 1 n., 2 v.

re search er (ri sēr'chər or rē'sēr chər), person who makes researches; investigator. n.

re sem blance (ri zem'bləns), likeness; similar appearance: Twins often show great resemblance. n.

re sem ble (ri zem'bl), be like; be similar to; have likeness to in form, figure, or qualities. v., re sem bled, re sem bling.

re sent (ri zent'), feel injured and angry at; feel indignation at: Our cat seems to resent having anyone sit in its chair. v.

re sent ful (ri zent'fəl), feeling resentment; injured and angry; showing resentment. adj. —re sent'ful ly, adv. —re sent'ful ness, n.

re sent ment (ri zent'mənt), the feeling that one has at being injured or insulted; indignation. n.

res er va tion (rez'ər vā'shən), 1. a keeping back; hiding in part; something not expressed: She outwardly approved of the plan with the mental reservation that she would change it to suit herself. 2. a limiting condition: The United States accepted the World Court plan with reservations plainly stated. 3. U.S. land set aside for a special purpose. The government has set apart Indian reservations. 4. arrangement to keep a thing for a person; securing of accommodations, etc.: We make reservations of rooms at a hotel, seats in a parlor car, etc. 5. something reserved. n.

re serve (ri zerv'), 1. keep back; hold back: reserve criticism. 2. set apart: time reserved for recreation. 3. save for use later: Reserve enough money for your fare home. 4. the actual cash in a bank or assets that can be turned into cash quickly. Banks must keep a reserve of money. 5. body of soldiers kept ready to help the main army in battle. 6. public land set apart for a special purpose: a forest reserve. 7. anything kept back for future use. 8. act of keeping back or holding back: You may speak before her without reserve. 9. fact, state, or condition of being kept, set apart, or saved for use later. 10. set aside for the use of a particular person or persons: Reserve a table. 11. kept in reserve; forming a reserve. 12. keeping one's thoughts, feelings, and affairs to oneself; self-restraint; lack of friendliness. 13. exception or qualification to the acceptance of some idea, belief, etc. 14. a silent manner that keeps people from making friends easily. 1-3, 10 v., re served, re serv ing; 4-9, 12-14 n., 11 adj.

reserves, soldiers or sailors not in active service but ready to serve if needed.

re served (ri zər'vɪd/), 1. kept in reserve; kept by special arrangement. 2. set apart. 3. self-restrained in action or speech. 4. disposed to keep to oneself: A reserved boy does not make friends easily. adj.

re serv ed ly (ri zər'vid lē), in a reserved manner. adv.

reserve officer, officer in the reserves.

re serv ist (ri zər'vist), soldier or sailor not in active service but available if needed. n.

res er voir (rez'ər vvwər), 1. place where water is collected and stored for use: This reservoir supplies the entire city. 2. anything to hold a liquid: A fountain pen has an ink reservoir. 3. place where anything is collected and stored: His mind was a reservoir of facts. 4. a great supply. n.

re set (rē set' for 1; rē'set' for 2, 3), 1. set again: The diamonds were reset in platinum. John's broken arm had to be reset. 2. act of resetting. 3. thing reset. 1 v., re set, re set ting; 2, 3 n.

re set tle ment (rē set'lə mən), settling again. n.

re shape (rē shāp'), shape anew; form into new or different shape. v., re shaped, re shap ing.

re side (ri zīd'), 1. live (in or at) for a long time; dwell. 2. be (in); exist (in): Her charm resides in her happy smile. v., re sid ed, re sid ing. —re sid'er, n.

res i dence (rez'ə dəns), 1. house; home; abode. 2. residing; living; dwelling: Long residence in France made him very fond of the French. 3. period of residing in a place. n.

in residence, living in a place while on duty or doing active work.

res i den cy (rez'ə dən sē), 1. residence. 2. formerly, the official residence of a representative of the governor general of India at a native court. n., pl. res i den cies.

res i dent (rez'ə dənt), 1. person living in a place, not a visitor. 2. staying; dwelling in a place: A resident owner lives on his property. 3. living in a place while on duty or doing active work: Dr. Jones is a resident physician at the hospital. 4. an official sent to live in a foreign land to represent his country. 5. not migratory: English sparrows are resident birds. 1, 4 n., 2, 3, 5 adj.

res i den tial (rez'ə dən'shəl), 1. of, having to do with, or fitted for homes or residences: They live in a good residential district. 2. having to do with residence: The city government is considering a residential qualification for schoolteachers. adj.

re sid u al (ri zīz'ü əl), of or forming a residue; remaining; left over. adj.

res i due (rez'ə dü or rez'ə dū), what remains after a part is taken; remainder: Mr. Smith's will directed that after the payment of all debts and $10,000 to his brother the residue of his property should go to his son. The syrup had dried up, leaving a sticky residue. n.

re sid u um (ri zīz'ü əm), what is left at the end of any process; residue; remainder. n., pl. re sid u a (-zīz'ü ə).

re sign (ri zīn'), 1. give up a job, position, etc. 2. give up: John resigned his position on the school paper. v. re sign oneself, submit quietly; adapt oneself without complaint: Jim had to resign himself to a week in bed when he hurt his back.

res ig na tion (rez'ig nə'shən), 1. act of resigning. 2. a written statement giving notice that one resigns. 3. patient acceptance; quiet submission: She bore the pain with resignation. n.

re signed (ri zīnd'), accepting what comes without complaint. adj.

re sign ed ly (ri zīn'id lē), in a resigned manner; with resignation. adv.

re sil i ence (ri zil'ē əns), 1. power of springing back; elasticity; resilient quality or nature: Rubber has resilience. 2. buoyancy; cheerfulness. n.

re sil i en cy (ri zil'ē ən sē), resilience. n.

re sil i ent (ri zil'ē ənt), 1. springing back; returning to the original form or position after being bent, compressed, or stretched: resilient steel, resilient turf. 2. buoyant; cheerful: a resilient nature that throws off trouble. adj.

res in (rez'n), a sticky yellow or brown substance that flows from certain plants and trees, especially the pine and fir. It is also derived chemically and is used in medicine and varnish. The harder portion remaining after heating is called rosin. n.

res in ous (rez'n əs), 1. of resin. 2. like resin. 3. containing resin; full of resin. adj.

re sist (ri zist'), 1. act against; strive against; oppose: The window resisted his efforts to open it. 2. act against something; oppose something: Do not resist. 3. strive successfully against; keep from: I could not resist laughing. 4. withstand the action or effect of (an acid, storm, etc.). v. —re sist'er, n.

re sist ance (ri zis'təns), 1. act of resisting: The bank clerk made no resistance to the robbers. 2. power to resist: She has little resistance to germs and so is often ill. 3. thing or act that resists; opposing force; opposition. An airplane can overcome the resistance of the air and go in the desired direction, while a balloon simply drifts. 4. people in a country occupied or controlled by another country who organize and fight for their freedom: the French resistance in World War II. 5. property of a conductor that opposes the passage of an electric current and changes electric energy into heat. Copper has a low resistance. 6. conductor, coil, etc., that offers resistance. n.

re sist ant (ri zis'tənt), resisting. adj.

re sist i bil i ty (ri zis'tə bil'ə tē), quality of being resistible. n.

re sist i ble (ri zis'tə bl), that can be resisted. adj.

re sist less (ri zist'lis), that cannot be resisted: A resistless impulse made him wander over the earth. adj.

re sole (rē söl'), put a new sole on (a shoe, etc.). v., re soled, re sol ing.

re sol u ble (ri zol'yə bl), capable of being resolved. adj.

res o lute (rez'ə lüt), determined; firm; bold: He was resolute in his attempt to climb to the top of the mountain. A soldier must be resolute in battle. adj. —res'o lute-ly, adv.

res o lu tion (rez'ə lü'shən), 1. thing decided on; thing determined: He made a resolution to get up early. 2. act of resolving or determining. 3. power of holding firmly to a purpose; determination: Lincoln's resolution overcame obstacles of poverty. 4. a formal expression of opinion: The club passed a resolution thanking Mr. Kay for his help throughout the year. 5. a breaking into parts. 6. act or result of solving; solution. n.

re solve (ri zolv'), 1. make up one's mind; determine; decide: He resolved to do better work in the future. 2. thing determined on: He kept his resolve to do better. 3. firmness in carrying out a purpose; determination: Washington was a man of great resolve. 4. break into parts; break up: The compound can be made to resolve into its parts. 5. answer and explain; solve: His letter resolved all our doubts. 6. decide by vote: It was resolved that our school have a luncheon. 7. change: The assembly resolved itself into a committee. 1, 4-7 v., re solved, re solv ing; 2, 3 n.

re solved (ri zolv'd), determined; resolute. adj.

re solv ed ly (ri zol'vid lē), in a determined manner; with resolution. adv.

res o nance (rez'ə nəns), 1. resounding quality; being resonant: the resonance of an organ. 2. a reinforcing and prolonging of sound by reflection or by vibration of other objects. The sounding board of a piano gives it resonance. 3. condition of an electrical circuit adjusted to allow the greatest flow of current at a certain frequency. A radio set must be in resonance to receive music or speech from a radio station. n.

res o nant (rez/'n ant), 1. resounding; continuing to sound; echoing. 2. tending to increase or prolong sounds. 3. of or in resonance. adj. —res'o nant ly, adv.

res o nate (rez/'n at), resound; exhibit resonance. v., res o nat ed, res o nat ing.

res o na tor (rez/'n a'tar), something that produces resonance; appliance for increasing sound by resonance. n.

res or cin (rez ör/'sən), resorcinol. n.

res or cin ol (rez ör/'sə nol), a colorless, crystalline substance that is used in medicine as an antiseptic, and in making dyes, drugs, etc. n.

re sort (ri zört/), 1. go; go often: Many people resort to the beaches in hot weather. 2. an assembling; going to often: A park is a place of popular resort in good weather. 3. place people go to: There are many summer resorts in the mountains. 4. turn for help: resort to violence. 5. act of turning for help: The resort to force is forbidden in this school. 6. person or thing turned to for help: Books are her resort when she is lonely. Friends are the best resort in trouble. 1,4 v., 2,3,5,6 n.

re sound (ri zound/), 1. give back sound; echo: The hills resounded when we shouted. 2. give back (sound); echo (sound). 3. sound loudly: Radios resound from every house. 4. be filled with sound: The room resounded with the children's shouts. 5. repeat loudly: resound a hero's praise. 6. be much talked about: The fame of the first flight across the Atlantic resounded all over the world. v. —re sound'ing ly, adv.

re source (ri sör's/ or rā'sör's), 1. any supply that will meet a need. We have resources of money, of quick wit, of strength, etc. 2. any means of getting success or getting out of trouble: Climbing a tree is a cat's resource when chased by a dog. 3. skill in meeting difficulties, getting out of trouble, etc. n.

resources, the actual and potential wealth of a country.

re source ful (ri sör's/fəl), good at thinking of ways to do things; quick-witted. adj. —re source'ful ly, adv. —re source'ful ness, n.

re spect (ri spekt/), 1. honor; esteem: Children should show respect to those who are older and wiser. 2. feel or show honor or esteem for: We respect an honest person. 3. consideration; regard: Show respect for other people's property. 4. show consideration for: Respect the ideas and feelings of others. 5. point; matter; detail: The plan is unwise in many respects. 6. relation; reference: We must plan with respect to the future. 7. relate to; refer to; be connected with. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4,7 v. —re spect'er, n. respects, expressions of respect; regards: We must pay our respects to the governor.

in respect of, with reference or comparison to.

in respect that, because of the fact that; since.

re spect a bil i ty (ri spekt'a bil'ə tē), 1. quality or condition of being respectable. 2. respectable social standing. n., pl. re spect a bil i ties.

re spect a ble (ri spekt'a bl), 1. worthy of respect; having a good reputation: Respectable citizens obey the laws. 2. having fair social standing; honest and decent: His parents were poor but respectable people. 3. fairly good; moderate in size or quality: John's record in school was respectable but not brilliant. 4. good enough to use; fit to be seen: That dirty dress is not respectable. adj. —re spect'a bly, adv.

re spect ful (ri spekt/fəl), showing respect; polite. adj. —re spect'ful ly, adv. —re spect'ful ness, n.

re spect ing (ri spekt/ing), regarding; about; concerning: A discussion arose respecting the merits of different automobiles. prep.

re spec tive (ri spek'tiv), belonging to each; particular; individual: The classes went to their respective rooms. adj.

re spec tive ly (ri spek'tiv lē), as regards each one in his turn or in the order mentioned: Bob, Dick, and Tom are 16, 18, and 20 years old, respectively. adv.

res pi ra tion (res/pə rā'shən), 1. act of inhaling and exhaling; breathing: Her bad cold hinders respiration. 2. the processes by which an animal, plant, or living cell secures oxygen from the air or water, distributes it, combines it with substances in the tissues, and gives off carbon dioxide. n.

res pi ra tor (res/pə rā'tər), 1. a device, usually of gauze, worn over the nose and mouth to prevent inhaling harmful substances. 2. device used to help a person to breathe. Respirators are used by underwater swimmers and in giving artificial respiration. n.

res pi ra to ry (res/pə rə tō'rē or ri spīr'ə tō'rē), having to do with or used for breathing. The lungs are respiratory organs. adj.

re spire (ri spīr/), inhale and exhale; breathe. v., re spired, re spir ing.

res pite (res/pit), 1. time of relief and rest; lull: A thick cloud brought a respite from the glare of the sun. 2. a putting off; delay, especially in carrying out a sentence of death; reprieve. 3. give a respite to. 1,2 n., 3 v., res pit ed, res pit ing.

re splend ence (ri splen/dəns), splendor; great brightness; gorgeous appearance. n.

re splend en cy (ri splen/dən sē), resplendence. n.

re splend ent (ri splen/dənt), very bright; shining; splendid: The queen was resplendent with jewels. adj. —re splend'ent ly, adv.

re spond (ri spond/), 1. answer; reply. 2. act in answer; react: A dog responds to kind treatment by loving its master. v.

re spond ent (ri spon/dənt), 1. answering; responding. 2. person who responds. 3. defendant, especially in a divorce case. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

re sponse (ri spons/), 1. an answer by word or act: Her response to my letter was prompt. Lulu stuck out her tongue in response to Tom's teasing. 2. words said or sung by the congregation or choir in answer to the minister. n.

re spon si bil i ty (ri spon'sə bil'ə tē), 1. being responsible; obligation: A little child does not feel much responsibility. 2. thing for which one is responsible: A debt and little children to care for are her responsibilities. n., pl. re spon si bil i ties.

re spon si ble (ri spon'sə bl), 1. obliged or expected to account (for); accountable; answerable: Each pupil is responsible for the care of the books given him. 2. deserving credit or blame: The bad weather is responsible for the small attendance. 3. trustworthy; reliable: A responsible person should take care of the money. 4. involving obligation or duties: The presidency is a very responsible position. 5. able to tell right from wrong; able to think and act reasonably: Insane people are not responsible. adj. —re spon'si ble ness, n. —re spon'si bly, adv.

re spon sive (ri spon/siv), 1. making answer; responding: a responsive glance. 2. easily moved; responding readily: have a responsive nature, be responsive to kindness. 3. using or containing responses: responsive reading in church in which minister and congregation read in turn. adj. —re spon'sive ly, adv. —re spon'sive-ness, n.

rest (rest), 1. sleep: a good night's rest. 2. be still; sleep: Lie down and rest. 3. ease after work or effort: Allow an hour for rest. 4. freedom from anything that tires, troubles, disturbs, or pains; quiet: The medicine gave the sick man a short rest from pain. 5. be free from work, effort, care, trouble, etc.: Teachers rest in the summer. 6. absence of motion: The driver brought the car to rest. 7. stop moving; cause to stop moving: The ball rested at the bottom of the hill. 8. give rest to; refresh by rest: Stop and rest your horse.

9. lie, lay, recline, sit, lean, etc., for rest or ease: He spent the whole day resting in a chair. 10. be supported: The ladder rests against the wall. 11. be fixed: Our eyes rested on the open book. 12. be at ease: Don't let Mrs.

Rests (def. 21): W, whole; H, half; Q, quarter; E, eighth; S, sixteenth; T, thirty-second. A whole rest lasts as long as a whole note, a half rest half as long, and so on.

While rest until she promises to visit us. 13. become inactive; let remain inactive: Let the matter rest. Rest the matter there. 14. place for support; lay; lean: rest one's head in one's hands. 15. support: a rest for a billiard cue. 16. place of rest: a rest for sailors. 17. rely (on); trust (in); depend; be based: Our hope rests on you. 18. cause to rely or depend; base: We rest our hope on you. 19. be found; be present: In a democracy, government rests with the people. 20. in music, a pause. 21. mark to show a pause. 22. in reading, a pause. 23. death; the grave. 24. be dead; lie in the grave: The old man rests with his forefathers. 25. end voluntarily the introduction of evidence in (a case at law): The lawyer rested his case. 1,3,4,6,15,16,20-23 n., 2,5,7-14,17-19,24,25 v.

at rest, 1. asleep. 2. not moving. 3. free from pain, trouble, etc.: The injured man is now at rest. 4. dead. lay to rest, bury.

rest (rest), 1. what is left; those that are left. 2. continue to be: You may rest assured that I will keep my promise. 1 n., 2 v.

re state (rē stāt'), 1. state again or anew. 2. state in a new way. v., re stat ed, re stat ing.

re state ment (rē stāt'mənt), 1. statement made again. 2. a new statement. n.

res tau rant (res'tə rənt), place to buy and eat a meal. n.

rest ful (rest'fəl), 1. full of rest; giving rest: She had a restful nap. 2. quiet; peaceful. adj. —rest'fully, adv. —rest'ful ness, n.

res ti tu tion (res'tə tū'shən or res'tə tū'shən), 1. the giving back of what has been lost or taken away. 2. act of making good any loss, damage, or injury: It is only fair that those who do the damage should make restitution. n.

res tive (res'tiv), 1. restless; uneasy. 2. hard to manage. 3. refusing to go ahead; balky. adj. —res'tive ly, adv. —res'tive ness, n.

rest less (rest'lis), 1. unable to rest; uneasy: The dog seemed restless as if he sensed some danger. 2. without rest or sleep; not restful: The sick child passed a restless night. 3. rarely or never still or quiet; always moving: That nervous boy is very restless. adj. —rest'less ly, adv. —rest'less ness, n.

res to ra tion (res'tə rā'shən), 1. restoring or being restored; bringing back to a former condition: the restoration of health, the restoration of a king. 2. something restored: The house we slept in was a restoration of a Colonial mansion. n.

Res to ra tion (res'tə rā'shən), 1. the reestablishment of the monarchy in 1660 under Charles II of England. 2. period from 1660 to 1688 in England. n.

re stor a tive (ri stôr'ə tiv), 1. capable of restoring; tending to restore health or strength. 2. something that restores health and strength. 1 adj., 2 n.

re store (ri stôr'), 1. bring back; establish again: restore order. 2. bring back to a former condition or to a normal condition: The old house has been restored. 3. give back; put back: The thief was forced to restore the money to its owner. v., re stored, re stor ing. —re stor'er, n.

re strain (ri strān'), 1. hold back; keep down; keep in check; keep within limits: She could not restrain her curiosity. 2. keep in prison; confine. v. —re strain'-a ble, adj. —re strain'er, n.

re strain ed ly (ri strān'id lē), in a restrained manner; with restraint. adv.

re strain (ri strān'), 1. a restraining or being restrained. 2. means of restraining. 3. tendency to restrain natural feeling; reserve: Joe was very angry, but he spoke with restraint. n.

restraint of trade, limitation or prevention of free competition in business.

re strict (ri strikt'), keep within limits; confine: Our club membership is restricted to twelve. v.

re strict ed (ri strik'tid), 1. limited; kept within limits: She is on a very restricted diet, and can have no sweets. 2. having restrictions or limiting rules: Factories may not be built in this restricted residential section. adj.

re stric tion (ri strik'shən), 1. something that restricts; limiting condition or rule: The restrictions on the use of the playground are: No fighting; no damaging property. 2. a restricting or being restricted: This park is open to the public without restriction. n.

re stric tive (ri strik'tiv), restricting; limiting: Some laws are prohibitive; some are only restrictive. adj. —re stric'tive ly, adv.

re string (rē string'), put a new string or new strings on. v., re strung, re string ing.

re sult (ri zult'), 1. that which happens because of something; what is caused: The result of the fall was a broken leg. 2. good or useful result: We want results, not talk. 3. be a result; follow as a consequence: Sickness often results from eating too much. 4. have as a result; end: Eating too much often results in sickness. 5. quantity, value, etc., obtained by calculation. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v.

re sult ant (ri zult'nt), 1. resulting. 2. result. 3. in physics, any force that has the same effect as two or more forces acting together. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

re sume (ri züm'), 1. begin again; go on: Resume reading where we left off. 2. get or take again: Those standing may resume their seats. v., re sumed, re sum ing. —re sum'a ble, adj.

rés u mé (rez'ü mä'), summary. n.

re sumption (ri zump'shən), a resuming: the resumption of duties after absence. n.

re sur face (rē sēr'fis), provide with a new or different surface. v., re sur faced, re sur fac ing.

re surge (ri sērj'), rise again. v., re surged, re surg ing.

re sur gence (ri sēr'jəns), a rising again. n.

re sur gent (ri sēr'jənt), rising or tending to rise again. adj.

res ur rect (rez'ə rekt'), 1. raise from the dead; bring back to life. 2. bring back to sight, use, etc.: resurrect an old custom. v.

res ur rection (rez'ə rek'shən), 1. a coming to life again; rising from the dead. 2. being alive again after death. 3. restoration from decay, disuse, etc. n.

Res ur rection (rez'ə rek'shən), the rising again of Christ after His death and burial. n.

re sus ci tate (ri sus'ə tāt), bring or come back to life or consciousness; revive: The doctor resuscitated the man who was overcome by gas. v., re sus ci tat ed, re sus ci tat ing. —re sus'ci ta'tion, n.

re sus ci ta tive (ri sus'ə tā'tiv), helping to resuscitate. adj.

re tail (rē'tāl for 1-5; ri täl' for 6), 1. sale of goods in small quantities at a time: Our grocer buys at wholesale and sells at retail. 2. in small lots or quantities: The wholesale price of this coat is $20; the retail price is $30. 3. selling in small quantities: the retail trade, a retail merchant. 4. sell in small quantities. 5. be sold in small quantities. 6. tell over again: She retails everything she hears about her acquaintances. 1 n., 2,3 adj., 4-6 v.

re tail er (rē'tāl'ər), a retail merchant or dealer. n.

re tain (ri tain'), 1. continue to have or hold; keep: China dishes retain heat longer than metal pans do. 2. keep in mind; remember: She retained the tune but not the words of the song. 3. employ by payment of a fee: He retained the best lawyer in the State. v.

re tain er (ri tain'ər), person who serves a person of rank; vassal; attendant; follower. n.

re tain er³ (ri tăn'ər), fee paid to secure services: This lawyer receives a retainer before he begins work on a case. n.

re take (rē tāk' for 1, 2; rē'tāk' for 3), 1. take again. 2. take back. 3. a retaking: a relake of a scene in a motion picture. 1,2 v., re took, re tak en, re tak ing; 3 n.

re tal i ate (ri tal'ē āt), pay back wrong, injury, etc.; return like for like, usually to return evil for evil: If we insult them, they will retaliate. v., re tal i at ed, re tal i at ing.

re tal i a tion (ri tal'ē ā'shən), paying back a wrong, injury, etc.; return of evil for evil. n.

re tal i a tive (ri tal'ē ā'tiv), disposed to retaliate; retaliatory. adj.

re tal i a to ry (ri tal'ē ā tō'rē), returning like for like, especially evil for evil. adj.

re tard (ri tār'd'), make slow; delay the progress of; keep back; hinder: Bad roads retarded the car. v. —re tard'er, n.

re tar da tion (rē'tār dā'shən), 1. act of retarding. 2. that which retards; hindrance. n.

re tard ed (ri tār'did), slow in mental development; backward. adj.

retch (rech), make efforts to vomit; make movements like those of vomiting. v.

ret'd., returned.

re tell (rē tel'), tell again. v., re told, re tell ing.

re ten tion (ri ten'shən), 1. a retaining. 2. being retained. 3. power to retain. 4. ability to remember. n.

re ten tive (ri ten'tiv), 1. able to hold or keep. 2. able to remember. adj. —re ten'tive ness, n.

re ten tiv i ty (rē'ten tiv'ē tē), retentiveness. n.

ret i cence (ret'ə sns), tendency to be silent or say little; reserve in speech. n.

ret i cent (ret'ə snt), disposed to keep silent or say little; not speaking freely; reserved in speech. adj.

—ret'i cent ly, adv.

re tic u lar (ri tik'yə lər), 1. netlike. 2. intricate; entangled. adj.

re tic u late (ri tik'yə lit or ri tik'yə lāt for 1; ri tik'yə lāt for 2, 3), 1. netlike; covered with a network. Reticulate leaves have the veins arranged like the threads of a net. 2. cover or mark with a network. 3. form a network. 1 adj., 2,3 v., re tic u lat ed, re tic u lat ing.

re tic u la tion (ri tik'yə lā'shən), 1. a reticulated formation, arrangement, or appearance; network. 2. one of the meshes of a network. n.

ret i cule (ret'ə kül), a woman's small handbag. n.

ret i na (ret'n ə), layer of cells at the back of the eyeball that is sensitive to light and receives the images of things looked at. See eye for diagram. n., pl. reti nas, reti nae (-n ē).

ret i nal (ret'n əl), of or on the retina. adj.

ret i nue (ret'n ü or ret'n ū), group of attendants or retainers; following: The king's retinue accompanied him on the journey. n.

re tire (ri tīr'), 1. give up an office, occupation, etc.: Our teachers retire at 65. 2. remove from an office, occupation, etc. 3. go away, especially to be quiet: She retired to a convent. 4. withdraw; draw back; send back: The government retires worn or torn dollar bills from use. 5. go back; retreat: The enemy retired before the advance of our troops. 6. go to bed: We retire early. 7. take up and pay off (bonds, loans, etc.). 8. put out (a batter, side, etc.) in baseball and cricket. v., re tired, re tiring.

re tired (ri tīrd'), 1. withdrawn from one's occupation: a retired sea captain. 2. reserved; retiring: a shy, retired nature. 3. secluded; shut off; hidden: a retired spot. adj.

re tire ment (ri tīr'mənt), 1. a retiring or being retired; withdrawal: The teacher's retirement from service was regretted by the school. 2. a quiet way or place of living: A hermit lives in retirement, away from everyone. n. re tir ing (ri tīr'ing), shrinking from society or publicity; reserved; shy. adj.

re told (rē tōld'), pt. and pp. of retell. v.

re took (rē tūk'), pt. of retake. v.

re tort (ri tōrt'), 1. reply quickly or sharply. 2. a sharp or witty reply. 3. return in kind; turn back on: retort insult for insult or blow for blow. 1,3 v., 2 n.

re tort (ri tōrt'), container used for distilling or decomposing substances by heat. n.

re touch (rē tuch'), improve (a photographic negative, etc.) by new touches or slight changes. v.

re trace (ri trās'), go back over: We retraced our steps to where we started. v., re traced, re trac ing. —re trace'a ble, adj.

re-trace (rē trās'), trace over again: Re-trace these drawings. v., re-traced, re-trac ing.

re tract (ri trakt'), 1. draw back or in: The dog snarled and retracted his lips. 2. withdraw; take back: retract an offer or an opinion. v.

re trac tile (ri trak'tl), capable of being drawn back or in. adj.

re trac tion (ri trak'shən), 1. a drawing or being drawn back or in. 2. a taking back; withdrawal of a promise, statement, etc.: The boy who accused Fred of cheating made a retraction of the charge. 3. retractile power. n.

re trac tor (ri trak'tər), 1. person or thing that draws back something. 2. muscle that retracts an organ, protruded part, etc. n.

re train (rē trān'), train again so as to teach a new skill, drill something already learned, etc. v.

re tread (rē tred' for 1; rē'tred' for 2), 1. put a new tread on. 2. a retreaded tire. 1 v., re tread ed, re tread ing; 2 n.

re treat (ri trēt'), 1. go back; move back; withdraw: The enemy retreated before the advance of our soldiers. 2. act of going back or withdrawing: The army's retreat was orderly. 3. signal for retreat: The drums beat a retreat. 4. signal on a bugle or drum, given in the army at sunset. 5. a safe, quiet place; place of rest or refuge. 1 v., 2-5 n.

re trench (ri trench'), 1. cut down; reduce (expenses, etc.). 2. reduce expenses: In hard times, we must re-trench. v.

re trench ment (ri trench'mənt), 1. reduction of expenses. 2. cutting down; cutting off. n.

re tri al (rē trī'əl), second trial; new trial. n.

ret ri bu tion (ret'rə bū'shən), a deserved punishment; return for evil done, or sometimes for good done. n.

re trib u tive (ri trib'yə tiv), paying back; bringing or inflicting punishment in return for some evil, wrong, etc. adj.

re trieve (ri trēv'), 1. get again; recover: retrieve a lost pocketbook. 2. bring back to a former or better condition; restore: retrieve one's fortunes. 3. make good; make amends for; repair: retrieve a mistake, retrieve a loss or defeat. 4. find and bring to a person: A dog can be trained to retrieve game. 5. find and bring back killed or wounded game. v., re trieved, re triev ing.

re triev er (ri trēv'ər), dog trained to find killed or wounded game and bring it to a hunter. n.

ret ro ac tive (ret'rō ak'tiv), acting back; having an effect

Retort: B, receiver; C, flame to heat retort; D, water to keep receiver cool. If impure water is heated in the retort, the water changes to steam and the impurities are left behind. The steam flows into the receiver and condenses into pure water.

Labrador retriever (about 2 ft. high at the shoulder) on what is past. A retroactive law applies to events that occurred before the law was passed. adj.

ret ro cede (ret/rə sēd/), cede back (territory, etc.). v., ret ro ced ed, ret ro ced ing.

ret ro fire (ret/rō fir/), 1. the firing of a retrorocket. 2. fire a retrorocket. 1 n., 2 v., ret ro fired, ret ro fir ing.

ret ro flex (ret/rə fleks), bent backward. adj.

ret ro flex ion (ret/rə flek/shən), a bending backward. n.

ret ro grade (ret/rə grād), 1. moving backward; retreating. 2. move or go backward. 3. becoming worse. 4. fall back toward a worse condition; grow worse; decline. 1,3 adj., 2,4 v., ret ro grad ed, ret ro grad ing.

ret ro gress (ret/rə gres or ret/rə gres/), 1. move backward; go back. 2. become worse. v.

ret ro gres sion (ret/rə gresh/ən), 1. a backward movement. 2. a becoming worse; falling off; decline. n.

ret ro gres sive (ret/rə gres/iv), 1. moving backward. 2. becoming worse. adj. —ret/ro gres/sive ly, adv.

ret ro rock et (ret/rō rok'it), a small rocket at the front of a rocket or spacecraft. It is set off to reduce speed for landing or for reentry. n.

ret ro spect (ret/rə spekt), 1. survey of past time, events, etc.; thinking about the past. 2. think of (something past). 1 n., 2 v.

retrospect, when looking back.

ret ro spec tion (ret/rə spek/shən), act of looking back on things past; survey of past events or experiences. n.

ret ro spec tive (ret/rə spek/tiv), 1. looking back on things past; surveying past events or experiences. 2. applying to the past; retroactive. adj. —ret/ro spec/tive ly, adv.

ret rous sé (ret/rū sā/), turned up: a retroussé nose. adj.

re try (rē trī/), try again: The murder case was retried in a higher court. v., re tried, re try ing.

re turn (ri tēr/), 1. go back; come back: My brother will return this summer. 2. bring, give, send, hit, put, or pay back: Return that book to the library. 3. a going or coming back; happening again: We look forward all winter to our return to the country. We wish you many happy returns of your birthday. 4. thing returned. 5. a bringing back; giving back; sending back; hitting back; putting back: a poor return for kindness. 6. profit; amount received: The returns from the sale were more than a hundred dollars. 7. yield: The concert returned about $50 over expenses. 8. report; account: election returns. 9. report or announce officially: The jury returned a verdict of guilty. 10. reply: "No!" he returned crossly. 11. elect to a lawmaking body. 12. of or having to do with a return: a return ticket. 13. sent, given, done, etc., in return: a return game. 14. in card games, lead (the suit led by one's partner). 1,2,7,9-11,14 v., 3-6,8,10 n., 12,13 adj.

in return, as a return; to return something.

re turn a ble (ri tēr'nə bl), 1. that can be returned. 2. meant or required to be returned. adj.

re turn ee (ri tēr'nē/), person who has returned, especially one who has returned to his own country after capture in a war or service abroad. n.

re un ion (rē ūn'yən), 1. a coming together again: the reunion of parted friends. 2. a social gathering of persons who have been separated or who have interests in common: We have a family reunion every summer. n.

Ré un ion (rē ūn'yən; French ră y nyōn/), island in the Indian Ocean, east of Madagascar; an overseas department of France. 330,000 pop.; 970 sq. mi. n.

re u nite (rē ū nīt/), 1. bring together again: Mother and child were reunited after years of separation. 2. come together again. v., re u nited, re u nited ing.

rev (rev), Informal. 1. a revolution (of an engine or motor). 2. increase the speed of (an engine or motor). 1 n., 2 v., revved, rev ving.

Rev., 1. Reverend. 2. Revelation.

re val ue (rē val/ū), value again or anew. v., re val ued, re val uing.

re vamp (rē vamp/), patch up; repair. v.

re veal (ri vēl/), 1. make known: Never reveal my secret. 2. display; show: Her smile revealed her even teeth. v. —re veal'er, n.

rev eil le (rev/l ē), a signal on a bugle or drum to waken soldiers or sailors in the morning. The bugler blows reveille. n.

rev el (rev/l), 1. take great pleasure (in): The children revel in country life. 2. a noisy good time; merry-making. 3. make merry. 1,3 v., rev eled, rev el ing or esp. Brit. rev elled, rev el ling; 2 n. —rev/el'er, esp. Brit. rev/el'ler, n.

rev e la tion (rev/ə lā'shən), 1. act of making known: The revelation of the thieves' hiding place by one of their own number caused their capture. 2. the thing made known: Her true nature was a revelation to me. 3. God's disclosure of Himself and of His will to His creatures. n.

Rev e la tion (rev/ə lā'shən), the last book of the New Testament. n.

rev el ry (rev/l rē), boisterous reveling or festivity; wild merry-making. n., pl. rev el ries.

re venge (ri venj/), 1. harm done in return for a wrong; vengeance; returning evil for evil: a blow struck in revenge. 2. desire for vengeance. 3. take vengeance. 4. do harm in return for. 5. chance to win in a return game after losing a game. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., re venged, re veng ing.

be revenged or revenge oneself, get revenge.

re venge ful (ri venj/fəl), feeling or showing a strong desire for revenge. adj. —re venge/ful ly, adv.

rev e nue (rev/ə nū or rev/ə nū), money coming in; income. The government gets revenue from taxes. n.

revenue stamp, stamp to show that money has been paid to the government as a tax on something.

re ver ber ate (ri vēr/bər āt), 1. echo back: His voice reverberates from the high ceiling. 2. cast or be cast back; reflect (light or heat). v., re ver ber at ed, re ver ber at ing.

re ver ber a tion (ri vēr/bər ā'shən), 1. echoing back of sound; echo. 2. reflection of light or heat. n.

re ver ber a to ry (ri vēr/bər ā tō/rē), characterized by or produced by reverberations; deflected. adj.

re vere (ri vir/), love and respect deeply; honor greatly; show reverence for: People revered the great general. v., re vered, re ver ing.

Re vere (ri vir/), Paul, 1735-1818, American patriot. He is famous for his night ride through eastern Massachusetts to warn colonists of the approach of British troops. n.

rev er ence (rev/ər əns), 1. a feeling of deep respect, mixed with wonder, awe, and love. 2. regard with reverence; revere. 3. a deep bow. 1,3 n., 2 v., rev er enced, rev er enc ing.

Rev er ence (rev/ər əns), title used in speaking of or to a clergyman. n.

rev er end (rev/ər ənd), 1. worthy of great respect. 2. Informal. clergyman. 1 adj., 2 n.

Rev er end (rev/ər ənd), title for clergymen: the Reverend Thomas A. Johnson. n.

rev er ent (rev/ər ənt), feeling reverence; showing reverence. adj. —rev/er'ent ly, adv.

rev er en tial (rev/ər ən'shəl), reverent. adj. —rev/er'en'tial ly, adv.

rev er ie (rev/ər ē), dreamy thoughts; dreamy thinking of pleasant things: He loved to indulge in reveries about the future. n. Also, revery.

re vers (rə vir/ or rə vār/), part of a garment turned back to show the lining or facing. n., pl. re vers (rə virz/ or rə vārz/).

re ver sal (ri vēr/sl), change to the opposite; reversing or being reversed. n.

re verse (ri vēr/s/), 1. the opposite or contrary: She did the reverse of what I ordered. 2. turned backward; opposite or contrary in position or direction: the reverse side of a phonograph record. 3. acting in a manner opposite or contrary to that which is usual. 4. causing an opposite or backward movement. 5. turn the other way; turn inside out; turn upside down: Reverse that gun; don't point it at me. 6. turn in a direction opposite to the usual one while dancing. 7. gear that reverses the movement of machinery: an automobile in reverse. 8. change to the opposite; repeal: The court reversed its decree of imprisonment, and the man went free. 9. a change to bad fortune; check; defeat: He used to be rich, but he met with reverses. 10. the back: His name is on the reverse of the medal. 11, 7, 9, 10 n., 2-4 adj., 5, 6, 8 v., re versed, re vers ing.

Revers on a dress

re verse ly (ri vɜrs'le), 1. in a reverse position, direction, or order. 2. on the other hand; on the contrary. adv.

re vers i bil i ty (ri vɜrs'ə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being reversible. n.

re vers i ble (ri vɜrs'ə bl), 1. that can be reversed; that can reverse. 2. of a fabric, finished on both sides so that either can be used as the right side. adj.

re ver sion (ri vɜr'zhən), 1. return to a former condition, practice, belief, etc.; return. 2. the return of property to the grantor or his heirs. n.

re ver sion al (ri vɜr'zhən l), of, having to do with, or involving a reversion. adj.

re vert (ri vɜrt'), go back; return: If a man dies without heirs, his property reverts to the State. v.

rev er y (rev'ər ē), reverie. n., pl. reveries.

re view (ri vū'), 1. study again; look at again: He reviewed the scene of the crime. 2. a studying again: Before the examinations we have a review of the term's work. 3. look back on: Before falling asleep, Helen reviewed the day's happenings. 4. a looking back on; survey: A review of the trip was pleasant. 5. examine again; look at with care; examine. A superior court may review decisions of a lower court. 6. reexamination. 7. examination; inspection: A review of the troops will be held during the general's visit to the camp. 8. inspect formally: The President reviewed the fleet. 9. account of a book, play, etc., giving its merits and faults: That magazine contains good reviews of the new movies. 10. magazine containing articles on subjects of current interest, including accounts of books, etc.: a law review, a motion-picture review. 11. examine to give an account of: Mr. Brown reviews books for a living. 12. review books, etc. 13. revue. 1, 3, 5, 8, 11, 12 v., 2, 4, 6, 7, 9, 10, 13 n.

re view er (ri vū'ər), 1. person who reviews. 2. person who writes articles discussing books, plays, etc. n.

re vile (ri vil'), call bad names; abuse with words: The tramp reviled the man who drove him off. v., reviled, re vil ing.

re vile ment (ri vil'mənt), 1. act of reviling. 2. reviling speech. n.

re vise (ri vīz'), 1. read carefully in order to correct; look over and change; examine and improve. 2. change; alter: revise one's opinion. 3. process of revising. 4. a revised form or version. 1, 2 v., re vised, re vis ing; 3, 4 n. —re vis'er, n.

re vision (ri vizh'ən), 1. act or work of revising. 2. a revised form: a revision of a book. n.

re vis or y (ri vīz'ər ē), of or having to do with revision. adj.

re viv al (ri vīv'l), 1. a bringing or coming back to life or consciousness. 2. restoration to vigor or health. 3. a bringing or coming back to style, use, activity, etc.: the revival of a play of years ago. 4. an awakening or increase of interest in religion. 5. special services or efforts made to awaken or increase interest in religion. n.

re viv al ist (ri vīv'l ist), person who holds special services to awaken interest in religion. n.

re vive (ri vīv'), 1. bring back or come back to life or consciousness: revive a half-drowned person. 2. bring or come back to a fresh, lively condition: Flowers revive in water. 3. make or become fresh; restore: Hot coffee revived the cold, tired man. 4. bring back or come back to notice, use, fashion, memory, activity, etc.: An old play is sometimes revived on the stage. v., re vived, re viv ing.

rev o ca ble (rev'ə kə bl), that can be repealed, canceled, or withdrawn. adj.

rev o ca tion (rev'ə kə'shən), repeal; canceling; withdrawal: the revocation of a law. n.

rev o ca to ry (rev'ə kə tō'rē), revoking; recalling. adj.

re vo ke (ri vōk'), 1. take back; repeal; cancel; withdraw: The king revoked his decree. 2. in cards, a failure to follow suit when one can and should. 3. fail to follow suit in playing cards when one can and should. 1, 3 v., re voked, re vok ing; 2 n.

re volt (ri vōlt'), 1. act or state of rebelling: The town is in revolt. 2. turn away from and fight against a leader; rise against the government's authority: The people revolted against the dictator. 3. turn away with disgust: revolt at a bad smell. 4. cause to feel disgust: A dirty house revolts Mother. 1 n., 2-4 v. —re volt'er, n.

re volt ing (ri vōl'ting), disgusting; repulsive. adj.

rev o lu tion (rev'ə lū'shən), 1. a complete overthrow of an established government or political system: The era of the American Revolution, from 1763 to 1783, ended with the war which gave independence to the colonies.

2. a complete change: The automobile caused a revolution in ways of traveling. 3. movement in a circle or curve around some point: One revolution of the earth around the sun takes a year. 4. act or fact of turning round a center or axis; rotation: The wheel of the motor turns at a rate of more than one thousand revolutions a minute. 5. time or distance of one revolution. 6. a complete cycle or series of events: The revolution of the four seasons fills a year. n.

rev o lu tion ar y (rev'ə lū'shən er'ē), 1. of a revolution; connected with a revolution. 2. bringing or causing great changes. 3. revolutionist. 1, 2 adj., 3 n., pl. rev o lu tion aries.

Revolutionary War, the war from 1775 to 1783 by which the thirteen American colonies won independence from England.

rev o lu tion ist (rev'ə lū'shən ist), person who advocates, or takes part in, a revolution. n.

rev o lu tion ize (rev'ə lū'shən iz), change completely; produce a very great change in: The automobile and radio have revolutionized country life. v., rev o lu tion ized, rev o lu tion iz ing.

re vol ve (ri volv'), 1. move in a circle; move in a curve round a point: The moon revolves around the earth. 2. turn round a center or axis; rotate: The wheels of a moving car revolve. 3. cause to move round. 4. turn over in the mind; consider from many points of view: He wishes to revolve the problem before giving an answer. v., re volved, re volv ing.

re volv er (ri vol'vər), pistol with a revolving cylinder in which the cartridges are contained, that can be fired several times without reloading. n.

re vue (ri vū'), a theatrical entertainment with singing, dancing, parodies of recent plays, humorous treatments of happenings and fads of the year, etc. n.

re vul sion (ri vul'shən), a sudden, violent change or reaction: My feeling toward my new friend underwent a revulsion when I realized his cruelty and dishonesty. n.

re ward (ri wōrd'), 1. return made for something done. 2. a money payment given or offered for capture of criminals, the return of lost property, etc. 3. give a reward to. 4. give a reward for. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 v.

re wire (rē wīr'), 1. put new wires on or in. 2. telegraph again. v., re wired, re wir ing.

re word (rē wōrd'), put into other words. v.

re write (rē rit'), write again; write in a different form; revise. v., re wrote, re writ ten, re writ ing.

Rey kja vik (rā'kyə vĕk), capital of Iceland. 65,000. n.

Reyn ard (ren'ərd or rā'nārd), name for the fox in stories and poems. Reynard the Fox is the main character in a group of medieval fables about animals. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, ĭce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ꞥH, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus

Reynolds (ren/'ldz), Sir Joshua, 1723-1792, English portrait painter. n.

R.F. or r.f., radio frequency.

R.F.D., Rural Free Delivery.

Rh, rhodium.

rhap sod i cal (rap sod/'ə kl), of, having to do with, or characteristic of rhapsody; extravagantly enthusiastic; ecstatic. adj. —rhap sod/i cal ly, adv.

rhap so dize (rap/sə dīz), talk or write with extravagant enthusiasm. v., rhap so dized, rhap so diz ing.

rhap so dy (rap/sə dē), 1. utterance or writing marked by extravagant enthusiasm: She went into rhapsodies over the garden. 2. in music, an instrumental composition irregular in form: Liszt's Hungarian rhapsodies. n., pl. rhap so dies.

rhe a (rē/'ə), any of several large birds of South America that are much like the ostrich, but are smaller and have three toes instead of two. n.

Rhea (about 4½ ft. from bill to tail)

Rhee (rē), Syngman, 1875-1965, Korean statesman, president of South Korea from 1948 until 1960. n.

Rheims (rēmz; French rāns), Reims. n.

Rhein gold (rīn/'göld'), in German and Norse mythology, a magic hoard of gold owned by the Nibelungs and later by Siegfried. n.

Rhen ish (ren/'ish), of the river Rhine or the regions near it. adj.

rhe ni um (rē/'nē əm), a rare, hard, grayish metallic element that has chemical properties similar to those of manganese. Symbol: Re n.

rhe o stat (rē/'ə stat), instrument for regulating the strength of an electric current by introducing different amounts of resistance into the circuit. n.

rhe sus (rē/'səs), a small, yellowish-brown monkey with a short tail, found in India. n.

Rhe sus factor (rē/'səs), Rh factor.

rhet o ric (ret/'ə rik), 1. art of using words in speaking or writing. 2. book about this art. 3. mere display in language. n.

rhe tor i cal (ri tōr/'ə kl), 1. of or having to do with rhetoric. 2. using rhetoric. 3. intended especially for display; artificial. 4. oratorical. adj. —rhe tor/i cal ly, adv.

rhetorical question, question asked only for effect, not for information.

rhet o ri cian (ret/'ə rī'ən), 1. person skilled in rhetoric. 2. person given to display in language. n.

rheum (rüm), 1. a watery discharge, such as mucus, tears, or saliva. 2. catarrh; cold. n.

rheu mat ic (rü mat/'ik), 1. of rheumatism. 2. having rheumatism; liable to have rheumatism. 3. causing rheumatism. 4. caused by rheumatism. Rheumatic fever is a fever that accompanies inflamed and painful joints. 5. person who has rheumatism. 1-4 adj., 5 n. rheumatics, Informal. rheumatism.

rheu ma tism (rü/mə tīz əm), disease with inflammation, swelling, and stiffness of the joints. n.

rheum y (rüm/'ē), 1. full of rheum. 2. causing rheum; damp and cold. adj.

Rh factor, substance often found in the blood of human beings and the higher mammals. Blood containing this substance (Rh positive) does not combine favorably with blood lacking it (Rh negative). Also, Rhesus factor.

rhi nal (rī/'nl), of or having to do with the nose; nasal. adj.

Rhine (rīn), river flowing from central Switzerland through West Germany and the Netherlands into the North Sea. 810 mi. n.

Rhine land (rīn/'land'), 1. the region along the Rhine. 2. the part of West Germany west of the Rhine. n.

rhine stone (rīn/'stōn'), an imitation diamond, made of glass. n.

rhi ni tis (rī nī/'tis), inflammation of the nose or its mucous membrane. n.

rhi no (rī/nō), rhinoceros. n., pl. rhi nos.

rhi noc er os (rī nos/'ər əs), a large, thick-skinned mammal of Africa and Asia with one or two upright horns on the snout. n., pl. rhi noc er os es or (esp. collectively) rhi noc er os.

Rhinoceros (5 ft. high; 10 ft. long) rhi zoid (rī/'zoid), rootlike. adj.

rhi zome (rī/'zōm), a rootlike stem lying along or under the ground, which usually produces roots below and shoots from the upper surface; rootstock. n.

rhi zo pod (rī/'zə pod), any of a group of one-celled animals that form temporary projections of protoplasm for moving about and taking in food. Amoebas are rhizopods. n.

Forms of rhizome:
S, Solomon's-seal;
T, Trillium;
J, Jack-in-the-pulpit.

Rhode Island (rōd), a New England State of the United States. Rhode Island is the smallest State. 859,000 pop.; 1214 sq. mi. Capital: Providence. Abbrev.: R.I.

Rhodes (rōdz), 1. a Greek island, formerly Italian, in the Aegean Sea, just southwest of Asia Minor. 62,000 pop.; 542 sq. mi. 2. seaport and capital of this island. 24,000. 3. Cecil John, 1853-1902, British colonial statesman and government administrator in S Africa. n.

Rho de sia (rō dē/'zhə), a former self-governing British colony in SE Africa. Rhodesia proclaimed its independence from Britain on November 11, 1965. 3,849,000 pop.; 150,333 sq. mi. Capital: Salisbury. n. —Rho de'sian, adj., n.

rho di um (rō/dē əm), a grayish-white metallic element, forming salts that give rose-colored solutions. It is similar to aluminum. Symbol: Rh n.

rho do den dron (rō/də den/'drən), an evergreen shrub somewhat like an azalea. Rhododendrons have beautiful pink, purple, or white flowers. n.

rhomb (rom or romb), rhombus. n.

rhomb (rom or romb), rhombus. n.

rhom bic (rom/'bik), 1. having the form of a rhombus. 2. having a rhombus as base or cross section. 3. bounded by rhombuses. adj.

rhom boid (rom/'boid), 1. parallelogram with equal opposite sides that is not a rectangle. 2. shaped like a rhombus or rhomboid. 1 n., 2 adj.

Rhomboids

rhom boi dal (rom boi/'dl), rhomboid. adj.

rhom bus (rom/'bəz), parallelogram with equal sides, having two obtuse angles and two acute angles; diamond. n., pl. rhom bus es, rhom bi (-bī).

Rhombuses

Rhone (rōn), river flowing from S Switzerland through SE France into the Mediterranean Sea. 504 mi. n.

Rhône (rōn), French. Rhone. n.

rhu barb (rü/'bārb), 1. a garden plant with very large leaves, whose sour stalks are used for making sauce, pies, etc. 2. the stalks. 3. the sauce made of them. 4. Slang. a violent argument or protest. n.

rhyme (rīm), 1. sound alike in the last part: "Long" and "song" rhyme. "Go to bed" rhymes with "sleepy head." 2. agreement in the final sounds of words or lines. 3. put or make into rhyme: rhyme a translation. 4. word or line having the same last sound as another:

"Cal" is a rhyme for "mat." 5. verses or poetry with a regular return of similar sounds. 6. make rhymes. 7. use (a word) with another that rhymes with it: rhyme "love" and "dove." 1,3,6,7 v., rhymed, rhyming; 2,4,5 n. Also, rime. —rhym'er, n.
without rhyme or reason, having no system or sense.
rhyme ster (rīm'stər), maker of rather poor rhymes or verse. n. Also, rimester.
rhythm (rīth'm), 1. movement with a regular repetition of a beat, accent, rise and fall, or the like: the rhythm of dancing, skating, or swimming, the rhythm of the tides, the rhythm of one's heartbeats. 2. repetition of an accent; arrangement of beats in a line of poetry: The rhythms of "The Lord's Prayer," "The Night Before Christmas," and "America" are different. 3. grouping by accents or beats: triple rhythm. n.
rhyth mic (rīth'mik), rhythmical. adj.
rhyth mi cal (rīth'mə kl), having rhythm; of or having to do with rhythm. adj. —rhyth'mi cal ly, adv.
R.I., Rhode Island.
Ri al to (rē al'tō), 1. a former business district of Venice. 2. a famous bridge in Venice that crosses the Grand Canal. n.
ri al to (rē al'tō), exchange; market place. n.
rib (rib), 1. one of the curved bones extending from the backbone and enclosing the upper part of the body. 2. piece that forms a frame. An umbrella has ribs. 3. a thick vein of a leaf. 4. furnish or strengthen with ribs. 5. ridge in cloth, knitting, etc. 6. mark with riblike ridges. 7. Slang. tease. 1-3,5 n., 4,6,7 v., ribbed, ribbing.
rib ald (rib'ld), offensive in speech; coarsely mocking; irreverent; indecent; obscene. adj.
rib ald ry (rib'ld rē), ribald language. n.
ribbed (ribd), having ribs or ridges. adj.
ribbing (rib'ing), ribs collectively; group or arrangement of ribs. n.
rib bon (rib'ən), 1. strip or band of silk, satin, velvet, etc. 2. anything like such a strip: a typewriter ribbon. Her dress was torn to ribbons by the thorns and briars she had come through. n. —rib'bon like', adj.
ri bo fla vin (rī'bō flā'vən), constituent of the vitamin B complex, present in liver, eggs, milk, spinach, etc.; lactoflavin. It is sometimes called vitamin G or B₂. Persons who lack riboflavin are retarded in growth. n.
rice (ris), 1. the starchy seeds or grain of a plant grown in warm climates. Rice is an important food in India, China, and Japan. 2. the plant itself. 3. reduce to a form like rice: rice potatoes. 1,2 n., 3 v., riced, ricing.
rice bird (rīs'bērd'), a name for the bobolink in the S United States. n.
rich (rich), 1. having much money or property: a rich man. 2. well supplied; abounding: The United States is rich in oil and coal. 3. producing or yielding abundantly; fertile: rich soil, a rich mine. 4. valuable: a rich harvest. 5. costly; elegant: rich dress. 6. containing plenty of butter, eggs, flavoring, etc. 7. (of colors, sounds, smells, etc.) deep; full; vivid. 8. Informal. very amusing; ridiculous. adj. —rich'ly, adv. —rich'ness, n. the rich, rich people.
Richard I (rich'ərd), 1157-1199, king of England from 1189 to 1199. He was called "Richard the Lion-Hearted" or "Richard Cœur de Lion."
Richard Cœur de Lion (kēr' də lē'ən), Richard I of England.
Rich e lieu (rīsh'ə lü; French rē shə lyœ'), Duke of, 1585-1642, French cardinal and statesman who virtually controlled France from 1624 to 1642. n.
rich es (rich'iz), wealth; abundance of property; much money, land, goods, etc. n.pl.
Rich mond (rich'mənd), 1. capital of Virginia, a river port in the E part of the State on the James River. 220,000. 2. borough of New York City consisting of Staten Island. 222,000. 3. city in W California, near San Francisco. 72,000. n.

rick (rik), stack of hay, straw, etc., especially, one made so that the rain will run off it. n.
rick ets (rik'its), disease of childhood, caused by lack of vitamin D or calcium, that results in softening, and sometimes bending, of the bones; rickets. n.
rick et y (rik'ə tē), 1. liable to fall or break down; shaky: a rickety old chair. 2. having rickets; suffering from rickets. 3. feeble in the joints. adj. —rick'et i-ness, n.
rick shaw or rick sha (rik'shō), jinrikisha. n.
ric o chet (rik'ə shā; esp. Bril. rik'ə shet'), 1. the skipping or jumping motion of an object as it goes along a flat surface: the ricochet of a cannon ball along the ground, the ricochet of a stone thrown along the surface of water. 2. move with a skipping or jumping motion. 1 n., 2 v., ric o chet ed (-shād'), ric o chet ing (-shā'ing) or esp. Bril. ric o chet ted (-shet'id), ric o chet ting (-shet'ing).
rid (rid), make free (from): What will rid a house of rats? v., rid or rid ded, rid ding.
be rid of, be freed from.
get rid of, 1. get free from. 2. do away with.
rid (rid), Archaic. a pt. and a pp. of ride. v.
rid dance (rid'ns), a clearing away or out; removal. n.
good riddance, exclamation expressing relief that something or somebody has been removed.
rid den (rid'n), a pp. of ride. The horseman had ridden all day. v.
rid dle (rid'l), 1. a puzzling question, statement, problem, etc. Example: When is a door not a door? Answer: When it is ajar. 2. person or thing that is hard to understand, explain, etc. 3. speak in riddles. 1,2 n., 3 v., rid dled, rid dling.
rid dle (rid'l), 1. make many holes in: The door of the fort was riddled with bullets. 2. a coarse sieve. 3. sift: riddle gravel. 1,3 v., rid dled, rid dling; 2 n.
ride (rid), 1. sit on a horse and make it go. 2. sit on a camel, bicycle, etc., and make it go. 3. sit on and manage. 4. admit of being ridden: a horse that rides easily. 5. ride over, along, or through. 6. be carried along as if on horseback; be carried along by anything: ride on a train. 7. be mounted on; be carried on: The eagle rides the winds. 8. a trip on the back of a horse, in a carriage, car, train, boat, etc. 9. path, road, etc., made for riding. 10. do or perform: ride a race. 11. move on; float; float along: The ship rode the waves. 12. Informal. make fun of; tease. 13. cause to ride or be carried: ride a man on a rail as punishment. 14. control, dominate, or tyrannize over: be ridden by foolish fears. 1-7,10-14 v., rode or (Archaic) rid, rid den or (Archaic) rid, rid ing; 8,9 n. ride down, 1. knock down. 2. overcome. 3. overtake by riding. 4. exhaust by riding.
ride out, 1. withstand (a gale, etc.) without damage. 2. endure successfully.
ride up, slide up out of place: That coat rides up at the back.
rid er (rid'ər), 1. person who rides: The West is famous for its riders. 2. anything added to a record, document, legislative bill, or statement after it was supposed to be completed. n. —rid'er less, adj.
ridge (rij), 1. the long and narrow upper part of something: the ridge of an animal's back. 2. line where two sloping surfaces meet: the ridge of a roof. 3. a long, narrow chain of hills or mountains: the Blue Ridge of the Appalachian Mountains. 4. any raised narrow strip: the ridges on corduroy cloth, the ridges in plowed ground. 5. form or make into ridges. 6. cover with ridges; mark with ridges. 1-4 n., 5,6 v., ridged, rid ing.
ridge pole (rij'pōl'), the horizontal timber along the top of a roof or tent. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; th, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

rid i cule (rid'ə kŭl), 1. laugh at; make fun of: Boys ridicule their sisters' friends. 2. laughter in mockery; words or actions that make fun of somebody or something: Silly mistakes and queer clothes often arouse ridicule. 1 v., rid i culed, rid i culing; 2 n.

ri dic u lous (ri dik'yə ləs), deserving ridicule; absurd; laughable: His attempts to be the life of the party were ridiculous. adj. —ri dic'u lous ly, adv. —ri dic'u lous ness, n.

riding boot, a high boot worn by riders.

riding crop, a short whip with a loop on one end instead of a lash.

riding habit, dress or suit worn by riders.

Rif (rif), a mountainous region in N Morocco, along the Mediterranean coast. n.

rife (rif), 1. happening often; common; numerous; widespread. 2. full; abounding: The land was rife with rumors of war. adj.

Riff (rif), native or inhabitant of the Rif. n.

Riff ian (rif'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with the Rif or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of the Rif. 1 adj., 2 n.

rifle (rif'l), 1. U.S. a rapid. 2. U.S. a ripple. 3. shuffle (cards) by bending the edges slightly so that the two divisions of the deck slide into each other. 4. act of shuffling cards in this way. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., rif fled, rif fling.

riff raff (rif'raf'), 1. worthless people. 2. trash. 3. worthless. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

ri fle¹ (ri'fl), 1. gun with spiral grooves in its barrel to spin the bullet as it is fired. 2. such a gun that is fired from the shoulder. 3. cut spiral grooves in (a gun). 1,2 n., 3 v., ri fled, ri fling.

ri fle² (ri'fl), 1. search and rob; ransack and rob. 2. steal; take away. 3. strip bare: The bad boys rifled the apple tree. v., ri fled, ri fling. —ri'fler, n.

rifle man (ri'fl mən), 1. soldier armed with a rifle. 2. man who uses a rifle. n., pl. ri fle men.

ri fling (ri'fling), 1. act or process of cutting spiral grooves in a gun barrel. 2. system of spiral grooves in a rifle. n.

rift (rift), split; break; crack: a rift in the clouds. n., v.

rig (rig), 1. equip (a ship) with masts, sails, ropes, etc.: The sailor rigged a toy boat for the little boy. 2. the arrangement of masts, sails, ropes, etc., on a ship. A schooner has a fore-and-aft rig; that is, the sails are set lengthwise on the ship. 3. move (a shroud, boom, stay, etc.) to its proper place. 4. equip; fit out. 5. Informal. dress: On Halloween the children rig themselves up in queer clothes (v.). John's rig consisted of a silk hat and overalls (n.). 6. outfit; equipment. 7. get ready for use. 8. put together in a hurry or by using odds and ends. 9. arrange dishonestly for one's own advantage. 10. U.S. Informal. carriage, with its horse or horses. 1,3-5,7-9 v., rigged, rigging; 2,5,6,10 n.

Ri ga (rē'gə), 1. seaport on the Baltic Sea and capital of Latvia, a Soviet republic. 605,000. 2. Gulf of, gulf of the Baltic Sea, between two republics of the Soviet Union, Estonia and Latvia. 100 mi. long; 60 mi. wide. n.

rigged (rigd), having a certain kind of rigging. adj.

rig ger (rig'ər), 1. person who rigs. 2. person who rigs ships, or works with hoisting tackle, etc. 3. person who manipulates something fraudulently. n.

rig ging (rig'ing), 1. ropes, chains, etc., used to support and work the masts, yards, sails, etc., on a ship. 2. tackle; equipment. n.

right (rit), 1. good; just; lawful: Jack did the right thing when he told the truth. 2. in a way that is good, just, or lawful: He acted right when he told the truth. 3. that which is right: Do right, not wrong. 4. a just claim, title, or privilege: the right to vote. 5. correct; true: the right answer. 6. correctly; truly: She guessed right. 7. proper; fitting: Learn to say the right thing at the right time. 8. properly; well: It serves you right to lose if you cheat. 9. favorable: If the weather is right, we'll go. 10. favorably: turn out right. 11. healthy; normal: be in one's right senses. 12. in a good or suitable condition:

Put things right. 13. meant to be seen; most important: the right side of cloth. 14. make correct: right errors. 15. do justice to: right the oppressed. 16. fair treatment; justice. 17. get or put into proper position: The ship righted as the wave passed. 18. opposite of left; belonging or having to do with the side of anything which is turned east when the main side is turned north. The right bank of a river is the one to the right as one faces downstream. 19. to the right hand: turn right. 20. blow struck with the right hand. 21. the right side or what is on the right side. 22. part of a lawmaking body, made up of conservative or reactionary political groups, that sits on the right of the presiding officer. 23. exactly; just; precisely: Put it right here. 24. at once; immediately: Stop playing right now. 25. (used in some titles) very: right honorable. 26. Archaic or Informal. extremely: I am right glad to see you. 27. in a straight line; directly: Look me right in the eye. 28. straight: a right line. 29. completely: His hat was knocked right off. 30. formed by a line drawn to another line or surface by the shortest course: a right angle, a right cone. 31. Archaic. rightful; real: the right owner, a right whale. 32. privilege of subscribing for a stock or bond. 33. certificate granting such a privilege. 1,5,7,9,11,13,18,28,30,31 adj., 2,6,8,10,12,19,23-27,29 adv., 3,4,16,20-22,32,33 n., 14,15,17 v. —right/ness, n.

by right or by rights, justly; properly.

in the right, right.

right about! turn in the opposite direction.

right away, at once; immediately.

right off, at once; immediately.

to rights, Informal. in or into proper condition, order, etc.

right angle, angle of 90 degrees.

right-an-gled (rit'ang'gld), containing a right angle or right angles; rectangular. adj.

right eous (ri'chəs), 1. doing right; virtuous; behaving justly. 2. morally right or justifiable: righteous indignation. adj. —right/eous ly, adv.

right eous ness (ri'chəs nis), upright conduct; virtue; being right and just. n.

right ful (rit'fal), 1. according to law; by rights: the rightful owner of this dog. 2. just and right; proper. adj. —right/ful ness, n.

right ful ly (rit'fəl ē), 1. according to right, law, or justice. 2. properly; fittingly. adv.

right-hand (rit'hand'), 1. on or to the right. 2. of, for, or with the right hand. 3. most helpful or useful: one's right-hand man. adj.

right-hand ed (rit'han'did), 1. using the right hand more easily and readily than the left. 2. done with the right hand. 3. made to be used with the right hand. 4. turning from left to right: a right-handed screw. adj.

right ist (rit'ist), 1. person who has conservative or reactionary ideas in politics. 2. having conservative or reactionary ideas in politics. 1 n., 2 adj.

right ly (rit'lē), 1. justly; fairly. 2. correctly: He rightly guessed that I was safe. 3. properly; suitably. adv.

right-mind ed (rit'min'did), having right opinions or principles. adj.

right of way, 1. right to go first; precedence over all others. 2. right to pass over property belonging to someone else. 3. strip of land on which a railroad, power line, etc., is built.

right triangle, triangle with one right angle.

rig id (rij'id), 1. stiff; firm; not bending: a rigid support. 2. strict; not changing: Our club has few rigid rules. 3. severely exact; rigorous: a rigid examination. adj. —rig'id ly, adv. —rig'id ness, n.

ri gid i ty (ri jid'ə tē), 1. stiffness; firmness. 2. strictness; severity. n.

rig ma role (rig'mə rōl), foolish talk; words without meaning; nonsense. n.

Right
angle

rig or (rig'ər), 1. strictness; severity; harshness: the rigor of a long, cold winter. 2. stiffness; rigidity. 3. chill caused by illness. n.

rig or mor tis (rig'ər mōr'tis), the stiffening of the muscles after death.

rig or ous (rig'ər əs), 1. very severe; harsh; strict: the rigorous discipline in a prison. 2. thoroughly logical and scientific; exact: the rigorous methods of science. adj.
—rig'or ous ly, adv.

rig our (rig'ər), Esp. Brit. rigor. n.

rile (ril), Esp. U.S. Informal. rail. v., riled, ril ing.

Ri ley (ri'lē), James Whitcomb, 1853-1916, American poet. n.

rill (ril), a tiny stream; little brook. n.

rim (rim), 1. an edge, border, or margin on or around anything: the rim of a wheel, the rim of a cup. 2. form a rim around; put a rim around: Wild flowers and grasses rimmed the little pool. 1 n., 2 v., rimmed, rim ming.
—rim'less, adj.

rime¹ (rim), rhyme. v., rimed, rim ing; n.

rime² (rim), 1. white frost; hoarfrost. 2. cover with rime. 1 n., 2 v., rimed, rim ing.

rime ster (rim'stər), rhymester. n.

Rim ski-Kor sa kov (rim'skē kōr'sə kōf), Nikolay, 1844-1908, Russian composer of music. n.

rind (rind), the firm outer covering (of oranges, melons, cheeses, etc.). The bark of a tree or plant may be called the rind. n.

ring¹ (ring), 1. circle: You can tell the age of a tree by counting the rings in its wood; one ring grows every year. The elves danced in a ring. 2. a thin circle of metal or other material: a napkin ring, rings on her fingers. 3. the outer edge or border of a coin, plate, wheel, or anything round. 4. put a ring around; enclose; form a circle around. 5. toss a horseshoe, ring, etc., around (a certain mark or post). 6. provide with a ring. 7. put a ring in the nose of. 8. form a ring or rings. 9. an enclosed space for races, games, circus performances, etc. The ring for a prize fight is square. 10. prize fighting. 11. competition; rivalry; contest: in the ring for election to the Senate. 12. group of people combined for a selfish or bad purpose: A ring of corrupt politicians controlled the city. 13. cut away the bark in a circle around (a tree or branch). 1-3,9-12 n., 4-8,13 v., ringed, ring ing.

ring² (ring), 1. give forth a clear sound, as a bell does. 2. cause to give forth a clear ringing sound: Ring the bell. 3. cause a bell to sound: Did you ring? 4. make (a sound) by ringing: The bells rang a joyous peal. 5. call to church, prayers, etc., by ringing bells. 6. announce or proclaim by ringing; usher; conduct: Ring out the old year; ring in the new. 7. proclaim or repeat loudly everywhere: ring a person's praises. 8. resound; sound loudly: The room rang with shouts of laughter. 9. be filled with report or talk. 10. sound: His words rang true. 11. have a sensation as of sounds of bells: My ears ring. 12. act of ringing. 13. sound of a bell or like a bell: the ring of skates on ice. Did you hear a ring? 14. a characteristic sound or quality: a ring of sincerity. 15. call on the telephone. 1-11,15 v., rang or (now Dialectal) rung, rung, ring ing; 12-15 n.

ring in, summon by a bell.

ring in, Informal. bring in dishonestly or trickily.

ring off, end a telephone call.

ringed (ringd), 1. having or wearing a ring or rings. 2. marked or decorated with a ring or rings. 3. surrounded by a ring or rings. 4. formed of or with rings; ringlike. adj.

ring er¹ (ring'ər), 1. person or thing that encircles, surrounds with a ring, etc. 2. quoit, horseshoe, etc., thrown so as to fall over a peg. n.

ring er² (ring'ər), 1. person or thing that rings; device for ringing a bell. 2. player who is not a regular member of the team that he is playing on. 3. Slang. person or thing very much like another. n.

ring lead er (ring'lēd'ər), person who leads others in opposition to authority or law: the ringleaders of the mutiny. n.

ring let (ring'lit), 1. a little ring. 2. curl: She wears her hair in ringlets. n.

ring mas ter (ring'mas'tər), man in charge of the performances in the ring of a circus. n.

ring side (ring'sid'), 1. place just outside the ring at a circus, prize fight, etc. 2. place affording a close view. n.

ring worm (ring'wərm'), a contagious skin disease, caused by parasites and characterized by ring-shaped patches. n.

rink (ringk), 1. sheet of ice for skating. 2. a smooth floor for roller skating. n.

rinse (rins), 1. wash with clean water: Rinse the soap out of your hair. 2. wash lightly: Rinse your mouth with water and soda. 3. a rinsing. 1,2 v., rinsed, rins ing; 3 n.

Rio (rē'ō), Rio de Janeiro. n.

Rio de Janeiro (rē'ō dā zhā nār'ō), former capital of Brazil. It is a seaport on the SE coast. 3,030,000.

Rio Grande (rē'ō grand' or rē'ō gran'dē), river flowing from SW Colorado into the Gulf of Mexico. From Colorado it flows through New Mexico and then forms the boundary between Texas and Mexico. 1800 mi.

riot (ri'ət), 1. disturbance; confusion; disorder; a wild, violent public disturbance: The police stopped several riots on election night. 2. behave in a wild, disorderly way. 3. loose living; wild reveling. 4. revel. 5. bright display: The garden was a riot of color. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 v.
—ri'ot er, n.

read the riot act, give orders for disturbance to cease.

run riot, 1. act without restraint. 2. grow wildly or luxuriantly. 3. run wild.

riot ous (ri'ət əs), 1. taking part in a riot. 2. boisterous; disorderly: He was expelled from college for riotous conduct. Sounds of riotous glee came from the playhouse.
adj. —ri'ot ous ly, adv.

rip¹ (rip), 1. cut roughly; tear apart; tear off: Rip the cover off this box. 2. become torn apart. 3. cut or pull out (the threads in the seams of a garment). 4. a torn place; seam burst in a garment: Please sew up this rip in my sleeve. 5. saw (wood) along the grain, not across the grain. 6. Informal. move fast or violently. 7. Informal. speak or say with violence: He ripped out an angry oath. 1-3,5-7 v., ripped, rip ping; 4 n.

rip² (rip), 1. stretch of rough water made by cross currents meeting. 2. a swift current made by the tide. n.

rip³ (rip), Informal. 1. a worthless or dissolute person. 2. a worthless worn-out horse. n.

R.I.P., may he or she (they) rest in peace.

ripar i an (rə pā'rē ən or ri pā'rē ən), of or on the bank of a river, a lake, etc.: riparian rights, riparian property. adj.

rip cord, cord which, when pulled, opens a parachute.

ripe (rip), 1. full-grown and ready to be gathered and eaten: ripe fruit. 2. resembling ripe fruit in ruddiness and fullness. 3. fully developed and fit to use: ripe knowledge. 4. ready to break or be lanced: a ripe boil. 5. ready: ripe for mischief. 6. far enough along. 7. advanced in years. adj., rip er, rip est. —ripe'ness, n.

rip en (rip'ən), 1. become ripe. 2. make ripe. v.

ri poste (rə pōst'), 1. a quick thrust in fencing, given after parrying a lunge. 2. a quick, sharp reply or return. 3. make a riposte; reply; retaliate. 1,2 n., 3 v., ri-post ed, ri post ing.

rip per (rip'ər), 1. one that rips. 2. tool for ripping. n.

ripping (rip'ing), Esp. Brit. Slang. fine; splendid. adj.

ripple (rip'l), 1. a very little wave: Throw a stone into still water and watch the ripples spread in rings. 2. anything that seems like a tiny wave: ripples in hair. 3. sound that reminds one of little waves: a ripple of laughter in the crowd. 4. make a sound like rippling water. 5. form or have ripples. 6. flow with ripples on the surface. 7. make ripples on: A breeze rippled the quiet waters. 1-3 n., 4-7 v. rip pled, rip pling.

rip ply (rip'lē), characterized by ripples; rippling. adj.

rip roaring (rip'rōr'ing), Slang. hilarious; uproarious. adj.

rip saw (rip'sō'), saw for cutting wood along the grain, not across the grain. n.

Rip Van Winkle (rip' van wing'kl), 1. story by Washington Irving. 2. its hero, who sleeps and wakes 20 years later to find everything changed.

rise (riz), 1. get up from a lying, sitting, or kneeling position: rise from a chair. 2. get up from sleep or rest: rise at dawn. 3. go up; come up; move up; ascend: The kite rises in the air. 4. extend upward: The tower rises to a height of 60 feet. 5. an upward movement; ascent: the rise of a balloon. 6. the coming of a fish to the surface of the water to seize bait, etc. 7. slope upward: Hills rise in the distance. 8. an upward slope: The rise of that hill is gradual. 9. piece of rising or high ground; hill. 10. the vertical height of a step, slope, arch, etc. 11. cause to rise; cause to rise above the horizon by approaching nearer to it. 12. go higher; increase: Prices are rising. His anger rose at that remark. 13. increase. 14. advance in rank, power, etc. 15. advance to a higher level of action, thought, feeling, expression, rank, position, etc.: He rose from errand boy to president. 16. become louder or of higher pitch. 17. an increase in loudness or pitch. 18. come above the horizon: The sun rises in the morning. 19. a coming above the horizon. 20. start; begin: The river rises from a spring. Quarrels often rise from trifles. 21. come into being or action: The wind rose rapidly. 22. origin; beginning. 23. be built up, erected, or constructed: Houses are rising on the edge of town. 24. become more animated or more cheerful: His spirits rose. 25. revolt; rebel: The slaves rose against their masters. 26. grow larger and lighter: Yeast makes dough rise. 27. come to life again: Christ is risen. 28. end a meeting or session. 1-4,7,11,12,15,16,18,20,21,23-28 v., rose, ris en, ris ing; 5,6,8-10,13,14,17,19,22 n.

give rise to, start; begin; cause; bring about: The circumstances of his death gave rise to a suspicion of murder.

rise to, be equal to; be able to deal with: They rose to the occasion.

ris en (riz'n), pp. of rise. The sun had risen long before I woke up. v.

ris er (riz'ər), 1. person or thing that rises: an early riser. 2. the vertical part of a step. n.

ris i bil i ty (riz'ə bil'ə tē), ability or inclination to laugh. n., pl. ris i bil i ties.

risibilities, desire to laugh; sense of humor.

ris i ble (riz'ə bl), 1. able or inclined to laugh. 2. of laughter; used in laughter. 3. causing laughter; amusing; funny. adj.

ris ing (riz'ing), 1. act of that which rises: the rising of the sun. Seven o'clock is my hour for rising. 2. a fight against the government; revolt. 3. that rises; advancing in power, influence, etc.; growing. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

risk (risk), 1. chance of harm or loss; danger: He rescued the dog at the risk of his own life. If you drive carefully, there is no risk of being fined. 2. expose to the chance of harm or loss: A soldier risks his life. 3. take the risk of: They risked getting wet. 4. person or thing with reference to the chance of loss from insuring him or it: Very fat men and drunkards are not good risks. 1,4 n., 2,3 v.

run a risk or take a risk, expose oneself to the chance of harm or loss.

risk y (ris'kē), 1. full of risk; dangerous. 2. somewhat improper; risqué. adj., risk i er, risk i est. —risk'i ly, adv. —risk'i ness, n.

ris qué (ris kă'), suggestive of indecency; somewhat improper: a risqué situation in a play. adj.

rite (rit), 1. a solemn ceremony. The church has rites for baptism, marriage, and burial. Secret societies have their special rites. 2. a particular form or system of ceremonies. The Roman Catholic Church uses the Latin rite. n.

rit u al (rich'ü əl), 1. form or system of rites. The rites of baptism, marriage, and burial are parts of the ritual of the church. Secret societies have a ritual for initiating new members. 2. book containing rites or ceremonies. 3. of or having to do with rites; done as a rite: a ritual dance. 4. the carrying out of rites. 1,2,4 n., 3 adj.

rit u al ism (rich'ü əl iz'əm), 1. fondness for ritual; insistence upon ritual. 2. study of ritual practices or religious rites. n.

rit u al ist (rich'ü əl ist), 1. person who practices or advocates observance of ritual. 2. person who studies or knows much about ritual practices or religious rites. n.

rit u al is tic (rich'ü əl is'tik), 1. having to do with ritual or ritualism. 2. fond of ritual. adj.

rit u al ly (rich'ü əl ē), with or according to a ritual. adv.

ri val (rī'vl), 1. person who wants and tries to get the same thing as another; one who tries to equal or do better than another. 2. wanting the same thing as another; being a rival: The rival store tried to get the other's trade. 3. try to equal or outdo: The stores rival each other in beautiful window displays. 4. equal; match: The sunset rivaled the sunrise in beauty. 5. thing that will bear comparison with something else; equal; match. 1,5 n., 2 adj., 3,4 v., ri valed, ri val ing or esp. Brit. ri valled, ri val ling.

ri val ry (rī'vl rē), action, position, or relation of a rival or rivals; competition: There is rivalry among business firms for trade. n., pl. ri val ries.

rive (riv), tear apart; split; cleave. v., rived, rived or riv en, riv ing.

riven (riv'ən), 1. torn apart; split. 2. a pp. of rive. 1 adj., 2 v.

river (riv'ər), 1. a large natural stream of water. 2. any abundant stream or flow: ivers of blood. n.

river basin, land that is drained by a river and its tributaries.

river head (riv'ər hed'), source of a river. n.

river side (riv'ər sid'), 1. bank of a river. 2. on the bank of a river: The riverside path is much used. 1 n., 2 adj.

rivet (riv'it), 1. a metal bolt with each end hammered into a head. Rivets fasten heavy steel beams together. 2. fasten with a rivet or rivets. 3. flatten (the end of a bolt) so as to form a head. 4. fasten firmly; fix firmly: Their eyes were riveted on the speaker. 1 n., 2-4 v. —riv'er et, n.

Riv i er a (riv'ēr ā'rə), section of France and Italy along the Mediterranean Sea, famous as a resort. n.

ri v u let (riv'yə lit), a very small stream. n.

Ri yadh (ri yād'), city in central Arabia; one of the capitals of Saudi Arabia. 150,000. n.

rm., 1. room. 2. ream.

rms., 1. rooms. 2. reams.

Rn, radon.

R.N., 1. registered nurse. 2. Royal Navy.

roach (rōch), cockroach. n.

roach (rōch), 1. a European fresh-water fish related to the carp. 2. any of various similar fishes, such as the American sunfish. n., pl. roach es or (esp. collectively) roach.

road (rōd), 1. highway between places; way made for teams or automobiles to travel on: the road from New York to Boston. Our road went through the woods. 2. way or course; the road to ruin, a road to peace. 3. U.S. railroad. 4. place near the shore where ships can ride at anchor. n.

on the road, traveling, especially as a salesman. take to the road, Archaic. become a highwayman.

road agent, U.S. highwayman.

road bed (rōd'bed'), foundation of a road or of a railroad. n.

road block (rōd'blok'), an obstacle. n.

road runner, a long-tailed bird of the deserts of the SW United States that is related to the cuckoo. It usually runs instead of flying.

road side (rōd'sid'), 1. side of a road: Flowers grew along the roadside. 2. beside a road: a roadside inn. 1 n., 2 adj.

road stead (rōd'sted), road (def. 4). n.

road ster (rōd'star'), 1. an open automobile with one seat. 2. horse for riding or driving on the roads. n.

road way (rōd'wā'), 1. road. 2. the part of a road used by wheeled vehicles: Walk on the path, not in the roadway. n.

roam (rōm), 1. go about with no special plan or aim; wander: roam through the fields. 2. wander over. 3. a walk or trip with no special aim; wandering. 1, 2 v., 3 n. —roam'er, n.

roan (rōn), 1. yellowish- or reddish-brown sprinkled with gray or white. 2. a roan horse. 1 adj., 2 n.

Ro a noke (rō'ə nōk), city in W Virginia. 97,000. n.

Roanoke Island, island just off the NE coast of North Carolina.

roar (rōr), 1. make a loud, deep sound; make a loud noise: The lion roared. 2. a loud, deep sound; loud noise. 3. utter loudly: roar out an order. 4. make or put by roaring: The crowd roared itself hoarse. 5. laugh loudly. 6. move with a roar: The train roared past us. 1, 3-6 v., 2 n. —roar'er, n.

roast (rōst), 1. cook by dry heat; cook before a fire; bake. 2. piece of roasted meat; piece of meat to be roasted. 3. roasted: roast beef. 4. prepare by heating: roast coffee, roast a metal ore. 5. make or become very hot. 6. be baked. 7. Informal. make fun of; ridicule. 1, 4-7 v., 2 n., 3 adj.

roast er (rōs'tər), 1. pan used in roasting. 2. chicken, young pig, etc., fit to be roasted. 3. one that roasts. n.

rob (rɒb), 1. take away from by force or threats; steal from; plunder; pillage: Bandits robbed the bank. 2. steal: They said they would not rob again. v., robbed, robbing.

rob ber (rɒb'ər), person who robs. n.

rob bery (rɒb'ər ē), act of robbing; theft. n., pl. rob ber ies.

robe (rɒb), 1. a long, loose outer garment. 2. garment that shows rank, office, etc.: a judge's robe, the king's robes of state. 3. a covering or wrap: Put a robe over you when you go for a ride on a cold day. 4. put a robe on; dress. 1-3 n., 4 v., robed, rob ing.

Robert I (rɒb'ərt), 1274-1329, king of Scotland from 1306 to 1329. He freed Scotland from English control.

Robert Bruce or Robert the Bruce, Robert I of Scotland.

robin (rɒb'ən), 1. a large American thrush with a reddish breast. 2. a small European bird with a yellowish-red breast. n.

Robin Hood, in English legend, the gay and chivalrous leader of an outlaw band of Sherwood Forest who robbed the rich and helped the poor.

ro bot (rɒ'bɒt), 1. a machine-made man; mechanical device that does some of the work of human beings. 2. person who acts or works in a dull, mechanical way. n.

American robin
(about 10 in. long)

robot bomb, a jet-propelled airplane, steered by a mechanical device, without a pilot, which carries a heavy charge of explosives; buzz bomb.

Rob son (rɒb'sn), Mount, mountain in SW Canada. It is the highest peak of the Rocky Mountains in Canada. 12,972 ft. n.

ro bust (rō bust' or rō'bust), 1. strong and healthy; sturdy: a robust person, a robust mind. 2. suited to or requiring bodily strength: robust exercises. 3. rough; rude. adj. —ro bust'ly, adv. —ro bust'ness, n.

roc (rɒk), a bird having enormous size and strength, famous in Arabian tales. n.

Ro cham beau (rō shān bō'), Count de, 1725-1807, the commander of the French forces sent to help the American army in the Revolutionary War. n.

Ro chelle salt (rō shel'), a colorless, crystalline compound, potassium sodium tartrate, used as a laxative.

Rock es ter (rɒch'es'tər), city in W New York State. 319,000. n.

rock et (rɒch'it), vestment of linen or lawn resembling a surplice, worn by bishops and abbots. n.

rock! (rɒk), 1. a large mass of stone: The ship was wrecked on the rocks. 2. any piece of stone; a stone. 3. the mass of mineral matter of which the earth's crust is made up. 4. a particular layer or kind of such matter. 5. something firm like a rock; support; defense: Christ is called the Rock of Ages. 6. anything that suggests a rock: The division of the money was the rock on which the thieves split. n.

on the rocks, 1. wrecked; ruined. 2. Informal. bankrupt.

rock! (rɒk), 1. move backward or forward, or from side to side; sway: My chair rocks. The waves rocked the ship. The earthquake rocked the houses. 2. put (to sleep, rest, etc.) with swaying movements. 3. a rocking movement. 1, 2 v., 3 n.

rock bottom, the very bottom; lowest level.

rock-bot tom (rɒk'bot'əm), down to the very bottom; very lowest. adj.

rock-bound (rɒk'bound'), surrounded by rocks; rocky. adj.

rock candy, sugar in the form of large, hard crystals.

rock crystal, a colorless, transparent variety of quartz that is often used for jewelry, ornaments, etc.

Rock e fel ler (rɒk'ə fel'ər), 1. John D., 1839-1937, American capitalist and philanthropist.

2. his son, John D., 1874-1960, American capitalist and philanthropist. n.

rock er (rɒk'ər), 1. one of the curved pieces on which a cradle, rocking chair, etc., rocks. 2. a rocking chair. n.

rock et (rɒk'it), 1. a self-propelling device operating by means of gases escaping from a nozzle or jet at the rear of a combustion chamber. The rocket principle is used in fireworks, signals of distress from ships, aerial targets, some types of projectiles, and as at least part of the driving power in some aircraft. 2. go like a rocket. 1 n., 2 v.

Rock ford (rɒk'fɔrd), city in Illinois. 127,000. n.

rock garden, garden with flowers planted among rocks.

Rock ies (rɒk'ēz), the Rocky Mountains. n.pl.

rocking chair, chair mounted on rockers, or on springs, so that it can rock back and forth.

rocking horse, a toy horse on rockers for children to ride.

rock-ribbed (rɒk'ribd'), 1. having ridges of rock. 2. unyielding. adj.

rock salt, common salt got from mines; salt in large crystals.

rock wool, woollike fibers made from rock or slag and used for insulation and soundproofing.

rock y¹ (rok'ē), 1. full of rocks. 2. made of rock. 3. like rock; hard; firm. adj., rock i er, rock i est.
rock y² (rok'ē), 1. likely to rock; shaky: That table is a bit rocky; put a piece of wood under the short leg. 2. unpleasantly uncertain. 3. Slang. sickish; weak; dizzy. adj., rock i er, rock i est. —rock'i ly, adv. —rock'i ness, n.

Rocky Mountains, the chief group of mountain ranges in W North America, extending from Alaska to New Mexico. The highest peak is Elbert Peak in Colorado. 14,431 ft. See Continental Divide for map.

Rococo architecture

ro co co (rō kō'kō), style of architecture and decoration with elaborate ornamentation, combining shellwork, scrolls, foliage, etc., much used in the first half of the 18th century. n.
rod (rōd), 1. a thin, straight bar of metal or wood. 2. a thin, straight stick, either growing or cut off. 3. anything like a rod in shape. 4. a stick used to beat or punish. 5. punishment. 6. a long, light pole; fishing rod. 7. a measure of length; 5½ yards or 16½ feet. A square rod is 30¼ square yards or 272¼ square feet. 8. stick used to measure with. 9. U.S. Slang. pistol. 10. branch of a family or tribe: rod of Jesse. 11. staff or wand carried as a symbol of one's position. 12. power; authority; tyranny. n.
spare the rod, fail to punish.

rode (rōd), pt. of ride. We rode ten miles yesterday. v.
ro dent (rōd'nt), 1. any of a group of mammals having teeth especially adapted for gnawing wood and similar material. Rats, mice, and squirrels are rodents. 2. gnawing. 3. of or like a rodent. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

ro de o (rō'dēō or rō dā'ō), U.S. 1. contest or exhibition of skill in roping cattle, riding horses, etc. 2. in the western United States, the driving together of cattle. n., pl. ro de os.

roe¹ (rō), fish eggs. n.

roe² (rō), a small deer of Europe and Asia, with forked antlers. n., pl. roes or (esp. collectively) roe.

roe buck (rō'buk'), a male roe deer. n.

Roent gen (rent'gən), Wilhelm Konrad, 1845-1923, German scientist who discovered X rays. n. Also, Röntgen.

Roentgen rays, X rays.

rog er (roj'ər), U.S. Slang.

O.K.; message received and understood. interj.

rogue (rōg), 1. a tricky, dishonest, or worthless person; rascal. 2. a mischievous person: The little rogue has his grandpa's glasses on. 3. animal with a savage nature that lives apart from the herd: An elephant that is a rogue is very dangerous. n.

ro guer y (rō'gər ē), 1. conduct of rogues; dishonest trickery; rascality. 2. playful mischief. n., pl. ro guer ies.

rogues' gallery, collection of photographs of known criminals.

ro guish (rō'gish), 1. dishonest; rascally; having to do with or like rogues. 2. playfully mischievous: with a roguish twinkle in his eyes. adj. —ro'guish ly, adv. —ro'guish ness, n.

roil (roil), 1. make (water, etc.) muddy by stirring up sediment. 2. disturb; irritate; vex. v.

rois ter (rois'tər), be boisterous; revel noisily; swagger. v.

ROK (rok), 1. Republic of Korea. 2. a soldier in the South Korean army. n.

Ro land (rō'lənd), one of Charlemagne's legendary chiefs, famous for his prowess. He and another hero, Oliver, once fought for five days without either's gaining the advantage. n.

a Roland for an Oliver, one thing thought to be a full match for another.

role or rôle (rōl), 1. an actor's part in a play: the leading role. 2. part played in real life: A mother's role is to comfort and console. n.

roll (rōl), 1. move along by turning over and over: A ball rolls. 2. wrap around on itself or on some other thing: Roll the string into a ball. 3. something rolled up; cylinder formed by rolling (often forming a definite measure): rolls of paper. 4. a more or less rounded, cylindrical, or rolled-up mass. 5. move or be moved on wheels: The car rolled along. 6. move smoothly; sweep along: Waves roll in on the beach. The years roll on. 7. turn around; revolve. 8. of a heavenly body, etc., perform a periodical revolution in an orbit. 9. move from side to side: The ship rolled in the waves. 10. continued motion up and down, or from side to side. 11. turn over, or over and over: The horse rolled in the dust. 12. walk with a swaying gait. 13. rise and fall again and again: rolling country. 14. Archaic. travel; wander; roam. 15. make flat or smooth with a roller; spread out with a rolling pin, etc.: Rolling the grass makes a smooth lawn. Mother rolls the dough for cookies. 16. put ink on with a roller. 17. make deep, loud sounds: Thunder rolls. 18. beat (a drum) with rapid continuous strokes. 19. rapid continuous beating on a drum. 20. a deep, loud sound: the roll of thunder. 21. utter with full, flowing sound: The organ rolled out the stirring hymn. 22. utter with a trill: roll one's r's. 23. act of rolling. 24. motion like that of waves; undulation. 25. record; list; list of names: Call the roll. 26. kind of bread or cake: a sweet roll. 27. Informal. have more than enough: be rolling in money. 28. U.S. Slang. paper money rolled up. 1,2,5-9,11-18,21,22,27 v., 3,4,10,19,20,23-26,28 n.

roll up, increase; pile up or become piled up: Bills roll up fast.

strike off the rolls, expel from membership.

roll call, the calling of a list of names, as of soldiers, pupils, etc., to find out who are present.

roll er (rōl'ər), 1. thing that rolls; cylinder on which something is rolled along or rolled up. 2. cylinder of metal, stone, wood, etc., used for smoothing, pressing, crushing, etc. A steam roller is used in making and repairing roads. 3. a long, rolled bandage. 4. a long, swelling wave: Huge rollers broke on the sandy beach. 5. person who rolls something. 6. kind of canary that has a trilling voice. 7. kind of tumbler pigeon. n.

roller bearing, a bearing in which the shaft turns on rollers to lessen friction.

roller coaster, railway for amusement, consisting of inclined tracks along which small cars roll, bump, etc.

roller skate, a skate with small wheels instead of a runner, for use on a floor or sidewalk.

roll er-skate (rōl'ər skāt'), move on roller skates. v., roll er-skate d, roll er-skate ing.

roll lick (rōl'ik), frolic; be merry; enjoy oneself in a free, hearty way. v.

rol lick ing (rōl'ik ing), frolicking; jolly; lively. adj.

rol lick some (rōl'ik səm), rollicking. adj.

roll ing (rōl'ing), 1. action, motion, or sound of anything that rolls or is being rolled: the rolling of a ball, the rolling of thunder. 2. that rolls. Rolling land rises and falls in gentle slopes. A person with a rolling gait sways from side to side. A rolling collar turns back or folds over. 1 n., 2 adj.

rolling mill, 1. factory where metal is rolled into sheets and bars. 2. machine for doing this.

rolling pin, cylinder of wood or glass for rolling out dough.

rolling stock, locomotives and cars of a railroad.

roll-top (rōl'top'), having a top that rolls back: a roll-top desk. adj.

Roe (about 26 in. high at the shoulder) ro ly-po ly (rō'lē pō'lē), 1. short and plump: a roly-poly child. 2. a short, plump person or animal. 3. a pudding made of jam or fruit spread on a rich dough, rolled up and cooked. 1 adj., 2,3 n., pl. ro ly-po lies.

ro maine (rō măn'), variety of lettuce having long green leaves with crinkly edges, which are joined loosely at the base. n.

Ro man (rō'mən), 1. of or having to do with Rome or its people. 2. native, inhabitant, or citizen of Rome. 3. of or having to do with the Roman Catholic Church. 4. roman. 1,3,4 adj., 2,4 n.

ro man (rō'mən), 1. style of type most used in printing and typewriting. Most of this dictionary is in roman. 2. of or in roman type. 1 n., 2 adj.

Roman candle, kind of firework consisting of a tube that shoots out balls of fire, etc.

Roman Catholic, 1. of, having to do with, or belonging to the Christian church that recognizes the Pope as the supreme head. 2. member of this church.

Roman Catholicism, doctrines, faith, practices, and system of government of the Roman Catholic Church.

ro mance (rō mans' or rō'mans for 1-6; rō mans' for 7-9), 1. a love story. 2. story of adventure: "The Arabian Nights" and "Treasure Island" are romances. 3. story or poem telling of heroes: Have you read the romances about King Arthur and his knights? 4. real events or conditions that are like such stories, full of love, excitement, or noble deeds; the character or quality of such events or conditions. 5. a love affair. 6. a made-up story: Nobody believes her romances about the wonderful things that have happened to her. 7. make up romances. 8. think or talk in a romantic way: Some children romance because of their lively imaginations. 9. exaggerate; lie. 1-6 n., 7-9 v., romanced, romancing.

Roman languages, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Romanian, Provençal, and other languages that came from Latin, the language of the Romans.

ro mance (rō man'sər), 1. writer of romance. 2. person who makes up false or extravagant stories. n.

Roman Curia, group of judicial and executive departments that make up the governmental organization of the Roman Catholic Church, under the authority of the Pope.

Roman Empire, empire of ancient Rome that lasted from 27 B.C. to 395 A.D., when it was divided into the Eastern Roman Empire and the Western Roman Empire.

Ro man esque (rō'mən esk'), 1. style of architecture using round arches and vaults, popular in Europe during the early Middle Ages, between the periods of Roman and Gothic architecture. 2. of, in, or having to do with this style of architecture. 1 n., 2 adj.

Roma nia (rō mā'nē ə), country in S Europe. 18,256,000 pop.; 91,671 sq. mi. Capital: Bucharest. See Balkan States for map. Also, Rumania or Roumania. n.

Ro ma ni an (rō mā'nē ən), 1. of or having to do with Romania, its inhabitants, or language. 2. native or inhabitant of Romania. 3. language of Romania. 1 adj., 2,3 n. Also, Rumanian or Roumanian.

Roman law, laws of the ancient Romans. Roman law is the basis of civil law in many countries.

Roman nose, nose having a prominent bridge.

Roman numerals, numerals like XXIII, LVI, and MDCCCLX, in which I = 1, V = 5, X = 10, L = 50, C = 100, D = 500, and M = 1000. The values of the numerals are added together, except when one is preceded by another of smaller value. Then the smaller is subtracted from the larger. Example: XI = 11, but IX = 9.

Ro ma nov or Ro ma noff (rō'mə nōf), the royal family of Russia from 1613 to 1917. n.

Roman rite, in the Roman Catholic Church, the form or ceremony used in celebrating Mass and in administering sacraments in the diocese of Rome.

Ro mans (rō'manz), book of the New Testament, an epistle by Saint Paul to the Christians of Rome. n.

ro man tic (rō man'tik), 1. characteristic of romances or romance; appealing to fancy and the imagination: She likes romantic tales of love and war. The poet Shelley lived a romantic life and wrote romantic poetry. 2. having ideas or feelings suited to romance: The romantic school-girl's mind was full of handsome heroes, jewels, balls, and fine clothes. 3. suited to a romance: What a romantic wood! Fairies might live here! 4. fond of making up fanciful stories. 5. representing life in literature or art as one pleases; not realistic and not classical. Romantic writing usually tells about the unusual and adventurous aspects of life and uses complete freedom of form and expression. adj. —ro man'ti cal ly, adv.

ro man ti cism (rō man'tə siz əm), 1. romantic spirit or tendency. 2. the romantic tendency in literature and art (contrasted with classicism or with realism). Romanticism represents life in its more unusual and exciting aspects and allows complete freedom of form. n.

ro man ti cist (rō man'tə sist), a follower of romanticism in literature or art. Scott and Wordsworth were romanticists. n.

ro man ti cize (rō man'tə siz), 1. make romantic; give a romantic character to. 2. be romantic; act, talk, or write in a romantic manner. v., ro man ti cized, ro man ti ciz ing.

Rom a ny (rom'ə nē), 1. Gypsy. 2. language of the Gypsies. 1,2 n., pl. Rom a nies.

Rome (rōm), 1. capital of Italy, on the Tiber River. Rome was the center of ancient Roman civilization and capital of the ancient Roman Empire. The headquarters of the Pope and the Roman Catholic Church are in Rome. 1,751,000. 2. the ancient Roman republic or the ancient Roman Empire. 3. the Roman Catholic Church. n.

Ro me o (rō'mē ō), hero of Shakespeare's play Romeo and Juliet, who died for love. n.

romp (romp), 1. play in a rough, boisterous way; rush, tumble, and punch in play. 2. a rough, lively play or frolic: A pillow fight is a romp. 3. girl or boy who likes to romp. 1 v., 2,3 n. —romp'er, n.

rompers (romp'ərz), a loose outer garment, worn by young children at play. n. pl.

Rom u lus (rom'yə ləs), in Roman mythology, the founder and first king of Rome, who, together with his brother, Remus, was nourished by a wolf. n.

Rönt gen (rent'gən), Roentgen. n.

rood (rüd), 1. 40 square rods; one fourth of an acre. 2. Archaic. the cross on which Christ died. n.

roof (rūf), 1. the top covering of a building. 2. something which in form or position resembles the roof of a building: the roof of a cave, the roof of a car, the roof of the mouth. 3. cover with a roof; form a roof over. 1,2 n., 3 v.

roof er (rūf'ər), person who makes or repairs roofs. n.

roof garden, 1. garden on the flat roof of a building. 2. roof or top story of a building, ornamented with plants, etc., and used for a restaurant, theater, etc.

roof ing (rūf'ing), material used for roofs. Shingles are a common roofing for houses. n.

roof less (rūf'lis), 1. having no roof. 2. having no shelter. adj.

roof tree (rūf'trē'), the horizontal timber along the top of the roof. n.

rook (rūk), 1. a European crow that often nests in trees near buildings. 2. person who cheats at cards, dice, etc. 3. cheat. 1,2 n., 3 v.

Romanesque architecture

Rook (about 19 in. long) rook¹ (rūk), one of the pieces with which the game of chess is played, also called a castle. n.

rook er y (rūk'ər ē), 1. a breeding place of rooks; colony of rooks. 2. a breeding place or colony where other birds or animals are crowded together: a rookery of seals. 3. a crowded, dirty, and poor tenement house or group of such houses. n., pl. rook er ies.

rook ie (rūk'ē), Slang. 1. an inexperienced recruit. 2. beginner; novice. 3. U.S. beginner at baseball. n.

room (rüm), 1. a part of a house, or other building, with walls separating it from the rest of the building of which it is a part. 2. people in a room. 3. space occupied by, or available for, something: There is little room to move in a crowd. 4. opportunity: room for improvement. 5. occupy a room; lodge: Three girls from our town roomed together at college. 6. provide with a room. 1-4 n., 5,6 v.

rooms, lodgings.

room er (rüm'ər), U.S. person who lives in a rented room or rooms in another's house. n.

room ette (rüm'et'), a small private bedroom on some Pullman cars. n.

room ful (rüm'fül), 1. enough to fill a room. 2. people or things in a room. n., pl. room fuls.

rooming house, house with rooms to rent.

room mate (rüm'māt'), person who shares a room with another or others. n.

room y (rüm'ē), having plenty of room; large; spacious. adj., room i er, room i est. —room'i ness, n.

roor back (rür'bak), U.S. a false story or slander about a candidate for office, circulated for political effect. n.

Roo se velt (rō'zə velt), 1. (Anna) Eleanor, 1884-1962, American author and stateswoman, wife of Franklin D. Roosevelt. 2. Franklin Delano, 1882-1945, the 32nd president of the United States, from 1933 to 1945. 3. Theodore, 1858-1919, the 26th president of the United States, from 1901 to 1909. n.

roost (rüst), 1. bar, pole, or perch on which birds rest or sleep. 2. sit as birds do on a roost; settle for the night. 3. place for birds to roost in. 4. place to rest or stay: a robber's roost in the mountains. 1,3,4 n., 2 v.

rule the roost, Informal. be master.

roost er (rüs'tər), a male domestic fowl. n.

root¹ (rüt), 1. part of a plant that grows downward, usually into the ground, to hold the plant in place, absorb water and mineral foods from the soil, and often to store food material. 2. any underground part of a plant. 3. something like a root in shape, position, use, etc.: root of a tooth, the roots of the hair. 4. thing from which other things grow and develop; cause; source: "The love of money is the root of all evil." 5. send out roots and begin to grow; become fixed in the ground: Some plants root more quickly than others. 6. fix firmly: He was rooted to the spot by surprise. 7. become firmly fixed. 8. pull, tear, or dig (up, out, etc.) by the roots; get completely rid of. 9. the essential part; base. 10. quantity that produces another quantity when multiplied by itself a certain number of times. 2 is the square root of 4 and the cube root of 8 ($2 \times 2 = 4$, $2 \times 2 \times 2 = 8$). 11. quantity that satisfies an equation when substituted for an unknown quantity. In the equation $x^2 + 2x - 3 = 0$, 1 and -3 are the roots. 12. word from which others are derived. Room is the root of roominess, roomer, roommate, and roomy. 13. the fundamental tone of a chord. 1-4,9-13 n., 5-8 v.

take root, 1. send out roots and begin to grow. 2. become firmly fixed.

root² (rüt), 1. dig with the snout: The pigs rooted up the garden. 2. poke; pry; search. v.

root³ (rüt), U.S. Slang. cheer or support a contestant, etc., enthusiastically. v.

Root (rüt), Elihu, 1845-1937, American lawyer and statesman. n.

root beer, a soft drink made from the juice of the roots of certain plants, such as sarsaparilla, sassafras, etc.

root er¹ (rüt'ər), animal that digs with its snout. n.

root er² (rüt'ər), Slang. person who cheers or supports enthusiastically. n.

root hair, a hairlike outgrowth from a root, that absorbs water and dissolved minerals from the soil.

root let (rüt'lit), a little root; small branch of a root. n.

root stock (rüt'stok'), rhizome. n.

rope (röp), 1. a strong, thick line or cord made by twisting smaller cords together. 2. tie, bind, or fasten with a rope. 3. enclose or mark off with a rope. 4. U.S. lasso. 5. U.S. catch (a horse, calf, etc.) with a lasso. 6. number of things twisted or strung together: a rope of pearls, a rope of onions. 7. cord or noose for hanging a person. 8. death by being hanged. 9. a sticky, stringy mass: Molasses candy forms a rope. 10. form a sticky, stringy mass: Cook the syrup until it ropes when you lift it with a spoon. 1,4,6-9 n., 2,3,5,10 v., roped, rop ing. give one rope, Informal. let him act freely.

know the ropes, 1. know the various ropes of a ship. 2. Slang. know about a business or activity.

rope in, U.S. Slang. get or lead in by tricking.

the end of one's rope, the end of one's resources, activities, etc.

rope danc er (röp'dan'sər), person who dances, walks, etc., on a rope hung high above the floor or ground. n.

rope walk (röp'wök'), place where ropes are made. A ropewalk is usually a long low shed. n.

rope walk er (röp'wök'ər), 1. person who walks on a rope hung high above the floor or ground. 2. ropedancer. n.

rop y (röp'ē), 1. forming sticky threads; stringy. 2. like a rope or ropes. adj., rop i er, rop i est. —rop'i ness, n.

roque (rök), form of croquet played on a hard rolled court and modified so as to demand greater skill. n.

Roque fort (rök'fört), a strongly flavored French cheese made of goats' milk, veined with mold. n.

ror qual (rör'kwäl), any of the whalebone whales having a dorsal fin; any finback. n.

Ror schach test (rör'shāk), a psychological test which measures personality traits, general intelligence, etc., based on the subject's interpretation of ten different ink blot designs.

ro sa ceous (rō zā'shəs), 1. belonging to the same family as the rose. 2. like a rose. 3. rose-colored. adj.

Ro sa ri o (rō sā'rē ō), city in E Argentina. 573,000. n.

ro sa ry (rō'zə rē), 1. string of beads for keeping count in saying a series of prayers. 2. a series of prayers. 3. rose garden; rose bed. n., pl. ro sa ries.

rose¹ (röz), 1. flower that grows on a bush with thorny stems. Roses are red, pink, white, or yellow and usually smell very sweet. 2. the bush itself. 3. any of various related or similar plants or flowers. 4. pinkish-red. 5. make rosy. 6. perfume made from roses. 7. something shaped like a rose or suggesting a rose, such as a rosette, the compass card, the sprinkling nozzle of a water pot, or a gem cut out with faceted top and flat base. 8. woman of great beauty, loveliness, or excellence. 1-4,6-8 n., 4 adj., 5 v., rosed, ros ing. —rose/like', adj.

under the rose, in secret; privately.

rose² (röz), pt. of rise. The cat rose and stretched itself. v.

ro se ate (rō'zē it or rō'zē āt), 1. rose-colored; rosy. 2. cheerful; optimistic. adj.

Ro seau (rō zō'), capital of Dominica. 10,000. n.

rose bud (röz'bud'), bud of a rose. n.

rose bug, bug destructive to roses.

rose bush (röz'bush'), shrub or vine bearing roses. n.

rose-colored (röz'kul'ərd), 1. pinkish-red. 2. bright; cheerful; optimistic. adj.

rose family, group of many very different trees, shrubs, and plants, including apples, spiraeas, blackberries, and roses. Typical members of the rose family have alternate leaves, five-petaled flowers, and fruits with many seeds.

rose geranium, kind of geranium with fragrant, narrowly divided leaves and small pinkish flowers.

rose leaf, petal of a rose.

rose mallow, plant with large, rose-colored flowers. The hollyhock and hibiscus are rose mallows.

rose mary (rōz'mār'ē), an evergreen shrub whose leaves yield a fragrant oil used in making perfume. Rosemary is a symbol of remembrance. n., pl. rosemaries.

rose of Sharon, 1. shrub with bright flowers; althea. 2. plant mentioned in the Bible; a kind of St.-John's-wort.

Rosetta stone (rō zet'ə), slab of black basalt found in 1799 near the mouth of the Nile. A decree carved on it in two kinds of ancient Egyptian writing and in Greek provided the most important key to the understanding of Egyptian hieroglyphics.

ro sette (rō zet'), ornament, object, or arrangement shaped like a rose. Rosettes are often made of ribbon. Carved or molded rosettes are used in architecture. n.

rose water, water made fragrant with oil of roses.

rose window, an ornamental circular window, especially one with a pattern of small sections that radiate from a center.

rose wood (rōz'wūd'), 1. a beautiful reddish wood used in fine furniture. 2. the tropical tree that it comes from. n.

Rosh Ha sha na (rosh' hə shā'nə), the Jewish New Year.

ros ily (rōz'l ē), 1. with a rosy tinge or color. 2. brightly; cheerfully. adv.

ros in (roz'n), 1. a hard, yellow substance that remains when turpentine is evaporated from pine resin. Rosin is rubbed on violin bows and on the shoes of acrobats to keep them from slipping. 2. cover or rub with rosin. 1 n., 2 v.

Ross (rōs), 1. Betsy, 1752-1836, American woman who is said to have made the first American flag. 2. Sir John, 1777-1856, British naval officer and arctic explorer who tried to find the Northwest Passage. 3. his nephew, Sir James, 1800-1862, British naval officer who was an arctic and antarctic explorer. n.

Ros si ni (rō sē'nē), Gioacchino Antonio, 1792-1868, Italian composer of operas. n.

Ross Sea, an inlet of the Pacific Ocean extending into Antarctica south of New Zealand.

ros ter (ros'tər), 1. list giving each person's name and duties. 2. any list. n.

Ros tov (ros tōf'), city and port in SW Soviet Union, on the Don River. 597,000. n.

ros tral (ros'trəl), 1. of or having to do with a rostrum. 2. adorned with beaks of warships. adj.

ros trum (ros'trəm), 1. platform for public speaking. 2. beak of an ancient war galley. 3. a beaklike part. n., pl. ros trums, ros tra (-trə).

Ros well (roz'wel), city in SE New Mexico. 40,000. n.

ros y (rōz'ē), 1. like a rose; rose-red; pinkish-red. 2. made of roses. 3. bright; cheerful: a rosy future. adj., ros i er, ros i est. —ros'i ness, n.

rot (rōt), 1. decay; spoil. 2. cause to decay. 3. process of rotting; decay. 4. rotten matter. 5. moisten or soak (flax, etc.) in order to soften. 6. disease of plants and animals, especially of sheep. 7. Esp. Brit. Slang. nonsense; rubbish. 1,2,5 v., rot ted, rot ting; 3,4,6,7 n.

ro ta ry (rō'tə rē), 1. turning like a top or a wheel; rotating. 2. having parts that rotate. 3. a circle with several roads leading away from it. 4. a system of signals to direct traffic at a place where roads cross. 5. of an airplane engine, having radially arranged cylinders that revolve around a common fixed crankshaft. 1,2,5 adj., 3,4 n.

ro tate (rō'tāt), 1. move around a center or axis; turn in a circle; revolve. Wheels, tops, and the earth rotate. 2. change in a regular order; take turns or cause to take turns: The officials will rotate. Farmers rotate crops. v., ro tat ed, ro tat ing.

ro ta tion (rō tā'shən), 1. act or process of moving around a center or axis; turning in a circle; revolving. The earth's rotation causes night and day. 2. change in a regular order. n.

in rotation, in turn; in regular succession.

ro ta tion al (rō tā'shən l), of or with rotation. adj.

rotation of crops, varying the crops grown in the same field to keep the soil from losing its fertility.

ro ta tor (rō'tā tər), 1. person or thing that rotates. 2. muscle that turns a part of the body. n.

ro ta to ry (rō'tə tō'rē), 1. rotating; rotary. 2. causing rotation. 3. passing or following from one to another in a regular order: a rotatory office in a club. adj.

R.O.T.C., Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

rote (rōt), a set, mechanical way of doing things. n.

by rote, by memory without thought of the meaning.

Roth schild (roth'child or roths'child), Meyer Anselm, 1743-1812, Jewish banker who lived in Germany. He founded a famous international firm of bankers. n.

ro ti fer (rō'tə fər), any of a group of complex, microscopic water animals that have one or more rings of cilia on a disk at one end of the body. n.

ro to gra vure (rō'tə grə'vyūr'), 1. process of printing from an engraved copper cylinder on which the pictures, letters, etc., have been depressed instead of raised. 2. U.S. a print or section of a newspaper made by this process. n.

ro tor (rō'tər), 1. the rotating part of a machine or apparatus. 2. any of the various combinations of revolving blades by which a helicopter is enabled to fly. n.

rot ten (rot'n), 1. decayed; spoiled: a rotten egg. 2. foul; bad-smelling: rotten air. 3. not in good condition; unsound; weak: rotten ice. 4. corrupt; dishonest. 5. Slang. bad; nasty. adj. —rot'ten ly, adv. —rot'ten ness, n.

Rot ter dam (rot'ər dam'), seaport in SW Netherlands. 730,000. n.

ro tund (rō tund'), 1. round; plump. 2. sounding rich and full; full-toned: a rotund voice. adj. —ro tund'ly, adv.

ro tun da (rō tun'də), 1. a circular building or part of a building, especially one with a dome. 2. a large, high, circular room: The Capitol at Washington has a large rotunda. n.

ro tun di ty (rō tun'də tē), 1. roundness; plumpness. 2. something round. 3. rounded fullness of tone. n., pl. ro tun di ties.

rou ble (rū'bl), ruble. n.

rou é (rū ā' or rū'ā), a dissipated man; rake. n.

Rou en (rū ān'), city in N France, on the Seine River, famous for its cathedral. Joan of Arc was burned at the stake in Rouen in 1431. 117,000. n.

rou ge (rūzh), 1. a red powder, paste, or liquid for coloring the cheeks or lips. 2. color with rouge. 3. a red powder, chiefly ferric oxide, used for polishing metal, jewels, etc. 1,3 n., 2 v., rouged, roug ing.

rough (ruf), 1. not smooth; not level; not even: rough boards, rough bark. 2. without polish or fine finish: rough diamonds. 3. without luxury and ease: rough life in camp. 4. not completed or perfected; done as a first try; without details: a rough drawing, a rough idea. 5. coarse and tangled: a dog with a rough coat of hair. 6. likely to hurt others; harsh; rude; not gentle: rough manners. 7. disorderly; riotous: a rough crowd. 8. Informal. unpleasant; hard; severe: He was in for a rough time. 9. requiring merely strength rather than intelligence or skill: rough work. 10. stormy: rough weather. 11. violently disturbed or agitated: a rough sea. 12. a coarse, violent person. 13. make rough; roughen. 14. become rough. 15. treat roughly. 16. shape or sketch roughly. 17. roughly. 18. rough ground. 19. a rough thing or condition. 20. harsh, sharp, or dry to the taste: rough wines. 21. pronounced with an aspirate; having the sound of h. 22. ground where there is long grass, etc., on a golf course. 1-11, 20, 21 adj., 12, 18, 19, 22 n., 13-16 v., 17 adv.

in the rough, not polished or refined; coarse; crude. rough it, live without comforts and conveniences.

rough age (ruf'ij), 1. rough or coarse material. 2. the coarser parts or kinds of food. Bran, fruit skins, and straw are roughage. n.

rough-and-ready (ruf'ənd red'ē), 1. rough and crude, but good enough for the purpose; roughly effective. 2. showing rough vigor rather than refinement. adj.

rough-and-tumble (ruf'ənd tum'bl), showing confusion and violence; with little regard for rules; roughly vigorous; boisterous. adj.

rough en (ruf'ən), 1. make rough. 2. become rough. v.

rough-hew (ruf'hū'), 1. hew (timber, stone, etc.) roughly or without smoothing or finishing. 2. shape roughly; give crude form to. v., rough-hewed, rough-hewed or rough-hewn, rough-hew ing.

rough house (ruf'hous'), Slang. 1. rough play; rowdy conduct; disorderly behavior. 2. act in a rough or disorderly way. 3. disturb by such conduct. 1 n., 2, 3 v., rough housed, rough houses ing.

rough ly (ruf'lē), 1. in a rough manner. 2. approximately: From New York to Los Angeles is roughly three thousand miles. adv.

rough neck (ruf'nek'), Slang. a rough, coarse fellow. n.

rough ness (ruf'nis), 1. quality of being rough. 2. rough condition. 3. a rough part. n.

rough rid er (ruf'rid'ər), 1. man used to rough, hard riding. 2. person who breaks in and rides rough, wild horses. n.

Rough riders (ruf'rid'ərz), members of a volunteer cavalry regiment organized mainly by Theodore Roosevelt during the Spanish-American War. n.pl.

rough shod (ruf'shod'), having horseshoes with sharp calks to prevent slipping. adj.

ride roughshod over, domineer over; show no consideration for; treat roughly.

rou lette (rū let'), 1. a gambling game in which the players bet on the turn of a wheel. 2. a small wheel with sharp teeth for making lines of marks, dots, or perforations. n.

Rou ma ni a (rū mā'nē ə), Romania. n.

Rou ma ni an (rū mā'nē ən), Romanian. adj., n.

round (round), 1. shaped like a ball, a ring, a cylinder, or the like; having a circular or curved outline or surface: a round hoop. 2. anything shaped like a ball, circle, cylinder, or the like. The rungs of a ladder are sometimes called rounds. 3. plump: Her figure was short and round. 4. make or become round: round the corners of a table. 5. by, with, or involving a circular movement: The waltz is a round dance. 6. in a circle; with a whirling motion: Wheels go round. 7. on all sides; in every direction: The travelers were compassed round by dangers. 8. on all sides: Bullets fell round him, but he was not hit. 9. in circumference: The pumpkin measures 50 inches round. 10. go wholly or partly around: They rounded the island. The ship rounded Cape Horn. 11. take a circular course; make a complete or partial circuit: The car rounded the corner. 12. so as to encircle or surround: They built a fence round the yard. 13. so as to make a turn to the other side of: He walked round the corner. 14. by a longer road or way: We went round by the candy store on our way home. 15. in a circuit or course through; to all or various parts of: We took our cousins round the town. 16. turn around; wheel about: The bear rounded and faced the hunters. 17. a fixed course ending where it begins: The watchman makes his rounds of the building every hour. 18. movement in a circle or about an axis: the earth's yearly round. 19. from one to another: A report is going round that the schools will close. 20. through a round of time: Summer will soon come round again. 21. about; around: He doesn't look fit to be round (adv.); stand still and look round one (prep.). 22. here and there in: There are boxes for mail all round the city. 23. here and there: I am just looking round. 24. for all: There is just enough cake to go round. 25. a series (of duties, events, etc.); routine: a round of pleasures, a round of duties. 26. distance between any limits; range; circuit: the round of human knowledge. 27. section of a game or sport: a round in a fight, a round of cards. 28. discharge of firearms by a group of soldiers at the same time. 29. bullets, powder, etc., for such a shot: Only three rounds of ammunition were left. 30. act that a number of people do together: a round of applause, a round of cheers. 31. dance in which the dancers move in a circle. 32. a short song, sung by several persons or groups beginning one after the other: "Three Blind Mice" is a round. 33. full; complete; large: a round dozen, a good round sum of money. 34. fill (out); complete: round out a paragraph, round out a career. 35. plainly expressed; plain-spoken; frank: The boy's father scolded him in good round terms. 36. with a full tone: a mellow, round voice. 37. vigorous; brisk: a round trot. 38. spoken with the lips rounded. O is a round vowel. 39. utter (a vowel) with a small circular opening of the lips. 40. form of sculpture in which the figures are apart from any background. 41. cut of beef just above the hind leg. See beef for diagram. 1, 3, 5, 33, 35-38 adj., 2, 17, 18, 25-32, 40, 41 n., 4, 10, 11, 16, 34, 39 v., 6, 7, 9, 14, 19-21, 23, 24 adv., 8, 12, 13, 15, 21, 22 prep. —round/ness, n.

get or come round a person, 1. outwit him. 2. wheedle him.

go the round, be passed, told, shown, etc., by many people from one to another.

round in, in nautical use, haul in.

round off or out, 1. make or become round. 2. finish; complete.

round to, in nautical use, come head up to the wind.

round up, draw or drive together.

round a bout (round'ə bout'), 1. indirect: a round-about route, hear in a roundabout way. 2. an indirect way, course, or speech. 3. a short, tight jacket for men or boys. 4. Esp. Brit. merry-go-round. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

round dance, 1. a dance performed by couples and characterized by circular or revolving movements. 2. formerly, a dance with dancers in a circle.

roun del (roun'dl), a small round ornament, window, panel, tablet, etc. n.

roun de lay (roun'dl ē), 1. song in which a phrase or a line is repeated again and again. 2. dance in which the dancers move in a circle. n.

rounder (roun'dər), Slang. 1. U.S. person who makes the rounds of places of amusement, especially of disreputable places. 2. a habitual drunkard or criminal. n.

round house (round'hous'), 1. a circular building for storing or repairing locomotives, that is built about a turntable. 2. cabin on the after part of a ship's deck. n.

round ish (roun'dish), somewhat round. adj.

round ly (roun'dlē), 1. in a round manner; in a circle, curve, globe, etc. 2. plainly; bluntly; severely: scold roundly, refuse roundly. 3. fully; completely. adv.

round number, 1. a whole number without a fraction. 2. number in even tens, hundreds, thousands, etc. 3874 in round numbers would be 3900 or 4000.

round robin, petition, protest, etc., with the signatures written in a circle, so that it is impossible to tell who signed first.

round-shouldered (roun'd'shōl'dərd), having the shoulders bent forward. adj.

round steak, cut of beef just above the hind leg.

round table, group of persons assembled for an informal discussion, etc.

Round Table, 1. table around which King Arthur and his knights sat. 2. King Arthur and his knights.

round trip, U.S. trip to a place and back again.

round up (round'up'), 1. U.S. act of driving or bringing cattle together from long distances. 2. U.S. the men and horses that do this. 3. any similar gathering: a roundup of old friends. n.

round worm (round'werm'), any of a group of unsegmented worms that have long, round bodies. The hookworm and trichina are roundworms. n.

roup (rüp), 1. either of two diseases of poultry characterized by hoarseness and a discharge of catarrh from the eyes, nostrils, and throat. One form of roup is contagious and is often fatal. 2. hoarseness or huskiness. n.

rouse (rouz), arouse; wake up; stir up: I was roused by the telephone. The dogs roused a deer from the bushes. He was roused to anger by the insult. v., roused, rous ing. —rouser, n.

Rous seau (rü sō'), Jean Jacques, 1712-1778, French philosopher who wrote about government and education. n.

roust a bout (roust'ə bout'), U.S. an unskilled laborer on wharves, ships, ranches, etc. n.

route (rout), 1. flight of a defeated army in disorder. 2. put to flight: Our soldiers routed the enemy. 3. a complete defeat. 4. defeat completely. 5. Archaic. crowd; band. 6. group of followers. 7. a noisy disorderly crowd; mob; rabble. 8. riot; disturbance. 9. Archaic. a large evening party. 1,3,5-9 n., 2,4 v.

route (rout), 1. dig (out); get by searching. 2. put (out); force (out): The farmer routed his sons out of bed at five o'clock. 3. dig with the snout: The pigs were routing for nuts under the trees. 4. poke; search; rummage. v.

route (rüt or rout), 1. way to go; road: Shall you go to the coast by the northern route? 2. arrange the route for. 3. send by a certain route. 1 n., 2,3 v., rout ed, rout ing.

rou tine (rü tēn'), 1. a fixed, regular method of doing things; habitual doing of the same things in the same way: Getting up and going to bed are parts of your daily routine. 2. using routine: routine methods, routine workers. 1 n., 2 adj.

rove (röv), wander; wander about; roam; ramble; range: He loved to rove over the fields and woods. v., roved, rov ing.

rov er¹ (röv'er), wanderer. n.

rov er² (röv'er), 1. pirate. 2. a pirate ship. n.

row¹ (rō), 1. line of people or things: The children stood in a row in front of the row of chairs. 2. street with a line of buildings on either side. n.

hard row to hoe, U.S. a difficult thing to do.

row² (rō), 1. use oars to move a boat: Row to the island. 2. cause (a boat, etc.) to move by the use of oars. 3. convey in a rowboat: We were rowed to the shore. 4. perform (a race, etc.) by rowing. 5. row against in a race. 6. act of using oars. 7. trip in a rowboat. 1-5 v., 6,7 n. —row'er, n.

row³ (rou), 1. a noisy quarrel; disturbance; clamor: The three children had a row over the bicycle. 2. Informal. squabble. 3. Informal. quarrel noisily; make noise. 4. Informal. scold. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

row an (rō'an or rou'an), 1. the mountain ash. 2. its red, berrylike fruit. n.

row boat (rō'bōt'), boat moved by oars. n.

row dy (rou'dē), 1. a rough, disorderly, quarrelsome person. 2. rough; disorderly; quarrelsome. 1 n., pl. row dies; 2 adj., row dy er, row dy est. —row'di ness, n.

row dy ish (rou'dē ish), like a rowdy; rough and disorderly; quarrelsome. adj.

row dy ism (rou'dē iz əm), disorderly, quarrelsome conduct; rough, noisy behavior: rowdyism at Halloween. n.

row el (rou'əl), 1. a small wheel with sharp points, attached to the end of a spur. 2. use a rowel on. 1 n., 2 v., row eled, row el ing or esp. Brit. row elled, row el ing.

Rowel on a spur row lock (rō'lok'), notch, metal support, etc., in which the oar rests in rowing; oarlock. n.

roy al (roi'əl), 1. of kings and queens: the royal family. 2. belonging to a king or queen: royal power. 3. favored or encouraged by a king or queen; serving a king or queen: the Royal Academy. 4. from or by a king or queen: a royal command. 5. of a kingdom. 6. appropriate for a king; splendid: a royal welcome. 7. like a king; noble; majestic: The lion is a royal beast. 8. fine; excellent. 9. rich and bright: royal blue. 10. a small mast or sail set above the topgallant. 1-9 adj., 10 n. —roy'-al ly, adv.

Rowlock

roy al ism (roi'əl iz əm), adherence to a king or to a monarchy. n.

roy al ist (roi'əl ist), supporter of a king or of a royal government. The Royalists supported Charles I of England while the Puritans opposed him. n.

roy al ty (roi'əl tē), 1. a royal person; royal persons. Kings, queens, princes, and princesses are royalty. 2. rank or dignity of a king or queen; royal power: The crown is the symbol of royalty. 3. kingliness; royal quality; nobility. 4. a royal right or privilege. 5. share of the receipts or profits paid to an owner of a patent or copyright; payment for the use of any of various rights. n., pl. roy al ties.

r.p.m., revolutions per minute.

R.R., railroad.

R.S.F.S.R., Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic.

R.S.V.P., please answer.

Ru, ruthenium.

rub (rub), 1. move (one thing) back and forth (against another); move (two things) together: Rub your hands to warm them. 2. move one's hand or an object over the surface of; push and press along the surface of: The nurse rubbed my lame back. 3. press as it moves: That door rubs on the floor. 4. make or bring (to some condition) by sliding the hand or some object: rub silver bright, rub the skin off one's back. 5. clean, smooth, or polish by moving one thing firmly against another: Rub that out and do it over again. 6. admit of rubbing. 7. act of rubbing: Give the silver a rub with the polish. 8. something that rubs or hurts the feelings: He didn't like her mean rub at his slowness. 9. a rough spot due to rubbing. 10. irritate or make sore by rubbing. 11. difficulty: The rub came when both boys wanted to sit with the driver. 12. keep going with difficulty: Money is scarce, but we shall rub along. 1-6,10,12 v., rubbed, rub bing; 7-9,11 n.

rub down, rub (the body); massage.

rub it in, Slang. keep on mentioning something unpleasant.

rub off, 1. remove by rubbing. 2. be removed by rubbing.

rub the right way, please; pacify.

rub the wrong way, annoy; irritate.

rub ber¹ (rub'er), 1. an elastic substance obtained from the milky juice of various tropical plants, or by various chemical processes. Rubber will not let air or water through. 2. something made from this substance. We wear rubbers on our feet when it rains. Pencils often have rubbers for erasing pencil marks. 3. made of rubber. 4. person or thing that rubs. 5. Slang. stretch the neck or turn the head to look at something. 1,2,4 n., 3 adj., 5 v. —rub'ber like, adj.

rub ber² (rub'er), 1. series of two games out of three or three games out of five won by the same side. 2. the deciding game in such a series: If each side has won two games, the fifth game will be the rubber. n.

rubber band, a circular strip of rubber, used to hold things together.

rub ber ize (rub'er iz), cover or treat with rubber. v., rub ber ized, rub ber iz ing.

rub ber neck (rub'ər nek'), U.S. Slang. 1. person who wants to see everything and stretches his neck or turns his head to look at things. 2. stare. 1 n., 2 v.

rubber plant, 1. any plant yielding rubber. 2. an ornamental house plant with oblong, shining, leathery leaves.

rubber stamp, 1. stamp made of rubber, used with ink for printing dates, signatures, etc. 2. Informal. person or group that approves or endorses something without thought.

rub ber-stamp (rub'ər stamp'), 1. print or sign with a rubber stamp. 2. Informal. approve or endorse (a policy, bill, etc.) without thought. v.

rub ber y (rub'ər ē), like rubber; elastic; tough. adj.

rub bish (rub'ish), 1. waste stuff of no use; trash; litter; debris. 2. silly words and thoughts; nonsense. n.

rub ble (rub'l), 1. rough broken stones, bricks, etc. 2. masonry made of this: The house was built of rubble and plaster. n.

rub down (rub'daun'), a rubbing of the body; massage. n.

Ru bens (rū'bənz), Peter Paul, 1577-1640, Flemish painter. n.

Ru bi con (rū'bə kon), a small river in E Italy that was part of the boundary between the Roman republic and its provinces. By crossing the Rubicon into Italy in 49 B.C., Julius Caesar started the civil war that made him master of Rome. n.

cross the Rubicon, make an important decision from which one cannot turn back.

ru bi cund (rū'bə kund), reddish; ruddy: The jolly captain had a rubicund face. adj.

ru bi cun di ty (rū'bə kun'də tē), rubicund quality or state. n.

ru bid i um (rū bid'ē əm), a silver-white metallic element resembling potassium. Symbol: Rb n.

ru ble (rū'bl), a Russian monetary unit and silver coin or piece of paper money, worth about $1.11 (1964). n. Also, rouble.

ru bric (rū'brik), 1. title or heading of a chapter, a law, etc., written or printed in red or in special lettering. 2. direction for the conducting of religious services inserted in a prayer book, ritual, etc. n.

ru bri cal (rū'brə kl), 1. red; marked with red; printed or written in special lettering. 2. of, having to do with, or according to religious rubrics. adj.

ru bri cate (rū'brə kāt), 1. mark or color with red. 2. furnish with rubrics. 3. regulate by rubrics. v.

ru bri cat ed, ru bri cat ing.

ru by (rū'bē), 1. a clear, hard, red precious stone. 2. deep, glowing red: ruby lips, ruby wine. 1,2 n., pl. ru bies; 2 adj. —ru/by like, adj.

ruck (ruk), crowd; the great mass of common or inferior people or things. n.

ruck sack (ruk'sak'), a kind of knapsack. n.

ruc tion (ruk'shən), Informal. disturbance; quarrel; row. n.

rud der (rud'ər), 1. a hinged, flat piece of wood or metal at the rear end of a boat or ship, by which it is steered. 2. a similar piece in an airplane, dirigible, etc., hinged vertically (for right-and-left steering). See airplane for picture. n. —rud'der less, adj.

rud dy (rud'ē), 1. red. 2. healthy red: ruddy cheeks. adj., rud di er, rud di est. —rud'di ness, n.

rude (rūd), 1. impolite; not courteous: It is rude to stare at people. 2. roughly made or done; without finish or polish; coarse: rude tools, a rude cabin. 3. rough in manner or behavior; violent; harsh: Rude hands seized the child and threw him into the car. 4. harsh to the ear; unmusical. 5. not having learned much; rather wild; barbarous. 6. belonging to the poor or to uncultured people; simple; without luxury or elegance. 7. not fully or properly developed. adj., rud er, rud est. —rude/ly, adv. —rude/ness, n.

ru di ment (rū'də mənt), 1. part to be learned first; beginning: the rudiments of grammar. 2. something in an early stage; an organ or part incompletely developed in size or structure: the rudiments of wings on a baby chick. n.

ru di men ta ry (rū'də men'tə rē), 1. to be learned or studied first; elementary. 2. in an early stage of development; undeveloped. adj.

rue¹ (rū), 1. be sorry for; regret: She will rue the day she insulted your mother. 2. Archaic. feel sorrow. v., rued, ru ing.

rue² (rū), plant with yellow flowers and leaves that have a strong smell and a bitter taste. n.

rue ful (rū'fəl), 1. sorrowful; unhappy; mournful: a rueful expression. 2. causing sorrow or pity: a rueful sight. adj. —rue/ful ly, adv. —rue/fulness, n.

ruff (ruf), 1. a deep frill, stiff enough to stand out, worn around the neck by men and women in the 16th century. 2. collar of specially marked feathers or hairs on the neck of a bird or animal. n.

ruffed (ruft), having a ruff. adj.

ruffed grouse, a North American game bird with a tuft of feathers on each side of the neck. It is in some places called a partridge and in others a pheasant. See grouse for picture.

ruff i an (ruf'ē ən), 1. a rough, brutal, or cruel person; bully; rowdy; hoodlum. 2. rough; brutal; cruel. 1 n., 2 adj.

ruff i an ism (ruf'ē ən iz'əm), brutal conduct; ruffianly conduct or character. n.

ruff i an ly (ruf'ē ən lē), like a ruffian; violent; lawless. adj.

ruffle¹ (ruf'l), 1. make rough or uneven; wrinkle: A breeze ruffled the lake. The hen ruffled her feathers at the sight of the dog. 2. roughness or unevenness in some surface; wrinkling. 3. strip of cloth, ribbon, or lace gathered along one edge and used for trimming. Ruffles used to be much worn; even men had shirts with ruffles. 4. gather into a ruffle. 5. trim with ruffles. 6. disturb; annoy: Nothing can ruffle her calm temper. 7. become ruffled. 8. disturbance; annoyance. 9. disorder; confusion. 10. shuffle (playing cards). 1,4-7,10 v., ruf-fled, ruf fling; 2,3,8,9 n.

ruffle² (ruf'l), 1. a low, steady beating of a drum. 2. beat (a drum) in this way. 1 n., 2 v., ruf fled, ruf-fling.

rug (rug), 1. a heavy floor covering. 2. a thick, warm cloth used as covering: He wrapped his woolen rug around him. n.

Rug by (rug'bē), 1. town in central England, 45,000. 2. a famous school for boys there. 3. one form of the game of football. n.

rug ged (rug'id), 1. rough; wrinkled; uneven: rugged ground. 2. strong; vigorous; sturdy: Pioneers were rugged people. 3. strong and irregular: rugged features. 4. harsh; stern; severe: rugged times. 5. rude; unpolished; unrefined: rugged manners. 6. stormy: rugged weather. adj. —rug'ged ly, adv. —rug'ged ness, n.

Ruhr (rūr), 1. river in West Germany flowing into the Rhine. 144 mi. 2. a rich mining and industrial region along this river. n.

ru in (rū'ən), 1. very great damage; destruction; overthrow; decay: His enemies planned the duke's ruin. 2. condition of destruction, decay, or downfall: The house had gone to ruin and neglect. 3. cause of destruction, decay, or downfall: Drink was his ruin. 4. bring to ruin; destroy; spoil. 5. be destroyed; come to ruin. 6. bankruptcy. 7. make bankrupt. 1-3,6 n., 4,5,7 v.

ru ins, that which is left after destruction, decay, or downfall, especially a building, wall, etc., that has fallen to pieces.

ru in a tion (rū'ə nā'shən), ruin; destruction; downfall. n.

Ruff (def. 1)

ru in ous (rū'ə nəs), 1. bringing ruin; causing destruction. 2. fallen into ruins; in ruins. adj. —ru' inous ly, adv.

rule (rül), 1. statement of what to do and not to do; a law; principle governing conduct, action, arrangement, etc.: to obey the rules of the game, the rules of the road. 2. an order by a law court, based upon a principle of law. 3. set of rules; code: A religious order lives under a certain rule. 4. make a rule; decide. 5. make a formal decision: The judge ruled against them. 6. exercise highest authority; control; govern; direct: He tries to rule his family as a dictator rules a nation. 7. control; government: In a democracy the people have the rule. 8. a regular method; thing that usually happens or is done; what is usually true: Fair weather is the rule in Arizona. 9. prevail; be current: Prices of wheat and corn ruled high all the year. 10. a straight strip used to measure or as a guide to drawing. 11. mark with lines: He used a ruler to rule the paper. 12. mark off. 13. a thin, type-high strip of metal, for printing a line or lines. 1-3,7,8,10,13 n., 4-6,9,11, 12 v., ruled, rul ing. —rul'able, adj.
as a rule, usually.

rule a thing out, decide that it does not belong in.

rule of three, method of finding the fourth term in a mathematical proportion when three are given.

rule of thumb or rule o' thumb, 1. rule based on experience or practice rather than on scientific knowledge. 2. a rough practical method of procedure.

rul er (rül'ər), 1. person who rules. 2. a straight strip of wood, metal, etc., used in drawing lines or in measuring. n.

ruling (rül'ing), 1. a decision of a judge or court: a ruling on a point of law. 2. that rules; governing; controlling. 3. predominating; prevalent. 4. ruled lines. 1,4 n., 2,3 adj.

rum¹ (rum), 1. an alcoholic liquor made from sugar cane, molasses, etc. 2. alcoholic liquor. n.

rum² (rum), Esp. Brit. Slang. odd; queer. adj.

Ru ma ni a (rū mā'nē ə), Romania. n.

Ru ma ni an (rū mā'nē ən), Romanian. adj., n.

rum ba (rum'bə), 1. dance in quadruple time that originated among the Cuban Negroes. 2. music for such a dance. n.

rum ble (rum'bl), 1. make a deep, heavy, continuous sound. 2. a deep, heavy, continuous sound: We heard the far-off rumble of thunder. 3. move with such a sound. 4. utter with such a sound. 5. the rear part of an automobile or carriage containing an extra seat or a place for baggage. 6. U.S. Slang. a teen-age gang fight. 1,3,4 v., rum bled, rum bling; 2,5,6 n.

rumble seat, an extra, open seat in the back of an automobile.

ru men (rū'mən), 1. the first stomach of an animal that chews the cud. 2. cud of such an animal. n., pl. ru mi na (rū'mə nə).

ru mi nant (rū'mə nənt), 1. animal that chews the cud. Cows, sheep, and camels are ruminants. 2. belonging to the group of ruminants. 3. meditative; reflective. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

ru mi nate (rū'mə nāt), 1. chew the cud. 2. chew again: A cow ruminates its food. 3. ponder; meditate: He ruminated on the strange events of the past week. v., ru mi nat ed, ru mi nat ing.

ru mi na tion (rū'mə nā'shən), 1. chewing the cud. 2. meditation; reflection. n.

ru mi na tive (rū'mə nā'tiv), meditative; inclined to ruminate. adj.

rum mage (rum'ij), 1. search thoroughly by moving things about: I rummaged three drawers before I found my gloves. 2. search in a disorderly way: I rummaged in my drawer for a pair of gloves. 3. pull from among other things; bring to light. 4. a rummaging search. 1-3 v., rum maged, rum mag ing; 4 n.

rummage sale, sale of odds and ends, old clothing, etc., usually held to raise money for charity.

rum my (rum'ē), a kind of card game in which points are scored by melding sets of three or four cards of the same rank or sequences of three or more cards of the same suit. n.

ru mor (rū'mər), 1. a story or statement talked of as news without any proof that it is true: The rumor spread that a new school would be built here. 2. vague, general talk: Rumor has it that Italy will quarrel with France. 3. tell or spread by rumor. 1,2 n., 3 v.

rump (rump), 1. the hind part of the body of an animal, where the legs join the back. 2. cut of beef from this part. See beef for diagram. 3. an unimportant or inferior part; remnant. n.

rum ple (rum'pl), 1. crumple; crush; wrinkle: Don't play in your best dress; you'll rumple it. 2. wrinkle; crease. 1 v., rum pled, rum pling; 2 n.

rum pus (rum'pas), Informal. 1. a noisy quarrel; disturbance. 2. noise; uproar. n.

run (run), 1. move the legs quickly; go faster than walking: A horse can run faster than a man. 2. go hurriedly; hasten: Run for help. 3. flee: Run for your life. 4. cause to run; cause to move: run a horse up and down. 5. perform by, or as by, running: run errands. 6. go; move; keep going: This train runs to Buffalo. 7. go on; proceed: Prices of hats run as high as $50.00. 8. creep; trail; climb: Vines run along the sides of the road. 9. go along (a way, path, etc.): run the course until the end. 10. pursue; chase (game, etc.): run a fox. 11. pass or cause to pass quickly: Time runs on. 12. trace; draw: Run that report back to its source. 13. stretch; extend: Shelves run along the walls. 14. drive; force; thrust: He ran a splinter into his hand. 15. flow; flow with: The streets ran blood. 16. discharge fluid, mucus, or pus: My nose runs. 17. get; become: Never run into debt. The well ran dry. 18. have a specified character, quality, form, size, etc.: These potatoes run large. 19. spread: The color ran when the dress was washed. 20. continue; last: a lease to run two years. 21. have currency or be current; occur: The story runs that school will close early today. 22. have legal force. 23. take part in a race or contest. 24. be a candidate for election. 25. expose oneself to: run a risk. 26. move easily, freely, or smoothly; keep operating: A rope runs in a pulley. 27. cause to move easily, freely, or smoothly; cause to keep operating: run a machine. 28. be worded or expressed: How does the first verse run? 29. act of running: set out at a run. 30. spell or period of causing (a machine, etc.) to operate; amount of anything produced in such a period: During a run of eight hours the factory produced a run of 100 cars. 31. spell of causing something liquid to run or flow, or the amount that runs: the run of sap from maple trees. 32. trip: The ship reached port after a six weeks' run. 33. conduct; manage: run a business. 34. unit of score in baseball or cricket. 35. a continuous spell or course; continuous extent: a run of bad luck. 36. succession of performances: This play has had a two-year run. 37. onward movement; progress; course; trend: the run of events. 38. a continuous series or succession of something; succession of demands: a run on the bank to draw out money. 39. in music, a rapid succession of tones. 40. kind or class: the common run of mankind. 41. freedom to go over or through, or to use: The guests were given the run of the house. 42. go about without restraint; grow without restraint: children allowed to run about the streets. 43. flow or rush of water; small stream. 44. number of fish moving together: a run of salmon. 45. way; track; trough; pipe. 46. stretch or enclosed space for animals: a chicken run. 47. drop stitches; ravel: Nylon stockings often run. 48. place where stitches have slipped out or become undone: a run in a stocking. 49. sew by pushing a needle in and out with even stitches in a line. 50. get past or through: Enemy ships tried to run the blockade.

51. smuggle: run rum. 52. a landing of smuggled goods. 53. U.S. publish (an advertisement, story, etc.) in a newspaper: He ran an ad in the evening paper. 54. soften; become liquid; melt. 55. shape by melting: run bullets through a mold. 56. the extreme after part of a ship's bottom. 1-28,33,42,47,49-51,53-55 v., ran, run, run ning; 29-32,34-41,43-46,48,52,56 n.

a run for one's money, 1. strong competition. 2. satisfaction for one's efforts.

in the long run, on the whole; in the end.

on the run, 1. hurrying. 2. in retreat or rout.

run across, U.S. meet by chance.

run away with, do far better than others in.

run down, 1. cease to go; stop working. 2. pursue till caught or killed; hunt down. 3. knock down by running against. 4. speak evil against. 5. decline or reduce in vigor or health. 6. fall off, diminish, or decrease.

run for it, run for safety.

run in, 1. Slang. arrest and put in jail. 2. pay a short visit.

run into, 1. meet by chance. 2. crash into; collide with.

run off, 1. cause to be run or played. 2. print. 3. run away; flee.

run out, come to an end; become exhausted.

run out of, use up; have no more.

run over, 1. ride or drive over: The car ran over some glass. 2. overflow. 3. go through quickly.

run through, 1. consume or spend rapidly or recklessly. 2. pierce.

run up, Informal. make quickly.

run a bout (run'ə bout'), 1. a light automobile or carriage with a single seat. 2. a small motorboat. 3. person who runs about from place to place. n.

run a gate (run'ə gāt), Archaic. 1. runaway. 2. vagabond; wanderer. n.

run a round (run'ə round'), Slang. avoidance; evasion. n.

run a way (run'ə wā'), 1. person, horse, etc., that runs away. 2. a running away; eloping. 3. running with nobody to guide or stop it; out of control: a runaway horse, a runaway car. 4. done by runaways: a runaway marriage. 5. easily won. 1,2 n., 3-5 adj.

run cinate (run'sə nit or run'sə nāt), having coarse, teethlike notches or lobes pointing backward. Dandelion leaves are runcinate. adj.

run-down (run'down'), 1. tired; sick. 2. falling to pieces; partly ruined. 3. that has stopped going or working. adj.

rune¹ (rūn), 1. any letter of an ancient Teutonic alphabet. 2. mark that looks like a rune and has some mysterious, magic meaning. n.

rune² (rūn), an old Scandinavian poem or song. n.

rung¹ (rung), a pt. and the pp. of *ring*¹. The bell has rung. v.

rung² (rung), 1. a round rod or bar used as a step of a ladder. 2. cross-piece set between the legs of a chair or as part of the back or arm of a chair. 3. spoke of a wheel. 4. bar of wood having a similar shape and use. n.

run ic (rū'nik), consisting of runes; written in runes; marked with runes. adj.

run nel (run'l), a small stream or brook. n.

run ner (run'ər), 1. person, animal, or thing that runs; racer. 2. messenger. 3. person who runs or works a machine, etc. 4. either of the narrow pieces on which a sleigh or sled slides. 5. blade of a skate. 6. a long, narrow strip: We have a runner of carpet in our hall, and runners of linen and lace on bureaux. 7. smuggler; person or ship that tries to evade somebody: a blockade runner. 8. a slender stem that takes root along the ground, thus producing new plants. Strawberry plants spread by runners. See the picture below. 9. a raveled place. n. run ner-up (run'ər up'), player or team that takes second place in a contest. n.

run ning (run'ing), 1. act of a person or thing that runs. 2. that which runs. 3. curative: a running hand. 4. discharging matter: a running sore. 5. flowing. 6. liquid. 7. going or carried on continuously: a running comment. 8. current: the running month. 9. repeated continuously: a running pattern.

10. following in succession: for three nights running. 11. prevalent. 12. moving or proceeding easily or smoothly. 13. moving when pulled or hauled: a running rope. 14. slipping or sliding easily: a running knot or noose. 15. of plants, creeping or climbing. 16. that is measured in a straight line. 17. of the run of a train, bus, etc. 18. performed with or during a run: a running leap. 19. operating as a machine. 1,2 n., 3-19 adj.

be in the running, have a chance to win.

be out of the running, have no chance to win.

running board, a metal piece along the side of some automobiles, near the ground.

running gear, wheels and axles of an automobile, locomotive, or other vehicle.

running knot, knot so made as to slide along the rope.

running mate, candidate running on the same ticket with another, but for a less important office, such as a candidate for vice-president.

running noose, noose with a running knot.

Run ny mede (run'ē mēd), meadow near London where King John granted the Magna Charta in 1215. n.

run-off (run'ōf'), 1. something that runs off. 2. a final, deciding race or contest. n.

runt (runt), 1. a stunted animal, person, or plant. 2. ox or cow of a small breed. n.

runt y (run'tē), stunted; dwarfish. adj., runt ier, runt iest.

run way (run'wā'), 1. way, track, groove, trough, or the like, along which something moves, slides, etc. 2. the beaten track of deer or other animals. 3. an enclosed place for animals to run in. 4. strip having a hard surface on which planes land and take off. n.

ru pee (rū pē'), a unit of money of India, worth about 21 cents (1964). n.

rupt ure (rup'chər), 1. a break; breaking: the rupture of a blood vessel. 2. a breaking off of friendly relations that threatens to become actual war. 3. break; burst; break off. 4. the sticking out of some tissue or organ of the body through the wall of the cavity that should hold it in; hernia. 5. affect with or suffer hernia. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v., rupt ured, rupt ur ing.

ru ral (rūr'əl), in the country; belonging to the country; like that of the country: Rural life is quiet. adj.

rural free delivery, delivery of mail in country districts by regular carriers.

ruse (rüz or rūs), trick; stratagem. n.

rush¹ (rush), 1. move with speed or force: We rushed along. 2. attack with much speed and force: They rushed the enemy. 3. come, go, pass, act, etc., with speed or haste: He rushes into things without knowing anything about them. 4. send, push, force, etc., with speed or haste: Rush this order, please. 5. act of rushing: the rush of the flood. 6. busy haste; hurry: the rush of city life. 7. effort of many people to go somewhere or get something: the Christmas rush, the gold rush. 8. eager demand; pressure: A sudden rush of business kept everyone working hard. 9. requiring haste: A rush order must be filled at once. 10. U.S. Slang. keep company with (a girl) constantly. 11. attempt to carry the ball through the opposing line in football. 12. U.S. scrimmage held as a form of sport between bodies of students. 1-4,10 v., 5-8,11,12 n., 9 adj. —rush'er, n.

with a rush, suddenly; quickly.

Runner of a strawberry plant

Runcinate leaves of dandelion

Stone with runes

R, rungs (def. 2).

rust² (rush), 1. plant with pithy or hollow stems, that grows in wet ground. 2. stem of such a plant, used for making chair seats, baskets, etc. 3. something of little or no value. n. —rust/like', adj.

rush hour, U.S. time of day when traffic is heaviest or when trains, buses, etc., are most crowded.

rusty (rush/ē), 1. abounding with rushes; covered with rushes. 2. made of rushes. adj., rusher, rustiest.

rusk (rusk), 1. piece of bread or cake toasted in the oven. 2. a kind of light, soft, sweet biscuit. n.

Ruskin (rus/kin), John, 1819-1900, English author, art critic, and social reformer. n.

russet (rus/it), 1. yellowish brown; reddish brown. 2. a coarse, russet-colored cloth. The peasants used to make and wear russet. 3. kind of apple with a rough, brownish skin. 1 adj., 1-3 n.

Russia (rush/ə), 1. the Soviet Union. 2. the European part of the Soviet Union, including Byelorussia, the Ukraine, Georgia, etc., and part of the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic. 3. a former empire in E Europe and NW Asia ruled by a czar, with its capital at St. Petersburg. n.

rus sia (rush/ə), Russia leather. n.

Russia leather, a fine, smooth leather, often darkened, produced by careful tanning and dyeing.

Russian (rush/ən), 1. of or having to do with Russia, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Russia; especially, a member of the dominant Slavic race of Russia. 3. language of Russia. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Russian Church, the national church of Russia before 1918, a branch of the Orthodox Eastern Church.

Russian Revolution, revolution in which the government of the Czar was overthrown in 1917. The first revolution, led by Russian peasants, workers, and soldiers established the Menshevik government in March 1917. The second, led by Lenin, established the Bolshevik government in November 1917.

Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic, the largest republic in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. 117,494,000 pop.; 6,368,768 sq. mi. Capital: Moscow. Abbrev.: R.S.F.S.R.

Russian thistle, a large weed with spiny branches that develops into a troublesome tumbleweed.

Russian wolfhound, any of a breed of tall, slender, swift dogs that have silky hair.

rust (rust), 1. the reddish-brown or orange coating that forms on iron or steel when exposed to air or moisture. 2. any film or coating on any other metal due to oxidation, etc. 3. become covered with rust: Don't let your tools or machines rust. 4. coat with rust. 5. spoil by not using. 6. become spoiled by not being used: Don't let your mind rust during vacation. 7. a harmful growth, habit, influence, or agency. 8. a plant disease that spots leaves and stems. 9. have or cause to have the disease rust. 10. reddish brown or orange. 1,2,7, 8,10 n., 3-6,9 v., 10 adj.

rustic (rus/tik), 1. belonging to the country; rural; suitable for the country: a rustic lane in the quiet countryside. 2. simple; plain: His rustic speech and ways made him uncomfortable in the city school. 3. rough; awkward. 4. a country person: The rustics gathered at the country fair. 5. made of branches with the bark still on them: rustic furniture, a rustic fence. 1-3,5 adj., 4 n. —rus/ti cal ly, adv.

Russian wolfhound (2½ ft. high at the shoulder) rusticate (rus/tə kāt), 1. go to the country; stay in the country. 2. send to the country. v., rusticated, rusticating.

rustication (rus/tə kā'shən), 1. a rusticating or being rusticated. 2. residence in the country. n.

rusticity (rus/tis/ə tē), 1. rustic quality, characteristic, or peculiarity. 2. rural life. 3. awkwardness; ignorance. n., pl. rusticities.

rustily (rus/tl ē), in a rusty state; in such a manner as to suggest rustiness. adv.

rustle (rus/l), 1. sound that leaves make when moved by the wind; sound like this. 2. make a light, soft sound of things gently rubbing together: leaves rustled in the breeze. 3. move or stir (something) so that it makes such a sound: rustle the papers. 4. U.S. Slang. act, do, or get with energy. 5. U.S. Informal. steal (cattle, etc.). 1 n., 2-5 v., rustled, rustling.

rustler (rus/lər), U.S. 1. Slang. an active, energetic person. 2. Informal. a cattle thief. n.

rustless (rust/lis), free from rust; resisting rust. adj.

rustproof (rust/prūf'), resisting rust. adj.

rusty (rus/tē), 1. covered with rust; rusted: a rusty knife. 2. made by rust: a rusty spot. 3. colored like rust. 4. faded: a rusty black. 5. damaged by lack of use: Mother's arithmetic is rusty, she says. 6. out of practice. adj., rustier, rustiest. —rust/iness, n.

rut: (rut), 1. track made in the ground by wheels. 2. make ruts in. 3. a fixed or established way of acting. 1,3 n., 2 v., rutted, rutting.

rut: (rut), 1. sexual excitement of deer, goats, sheep, etc., occurring at regular intervals. 2. period during which it lasts. 3. be in rut. 1,2 n., 3 v., rutted, rutting.

ru ta ba ga (rū/tə bā'gə), kind of large yellow turnip. n.

Ruth (rūth), 1. in the Bible, the wife of Boaz. She is famous for her devotion to her mother-in-law, Naomi. 2. book of the Old Testament that tells about her. n.

ru the ni um (rū thē'nē əm), a brittle gray metal. It is an element similar to platinum. Symbol: Ru. n.

Ruth er ford (ruθ/ər fərd), Ernest, first Baron, 1871-1937, British physicist born in New Zealand. n.

ruthless (rūth/lis), having no pity; showing no mercy; cruel. adj. —ruth/less ly, adv. —ruth/less-ness, n.

Rutland (rut/lənd), city in western Vermont. 18,000. n.

rutty (rut/ē), full of ruts. adj., ruttier, ruttiest. —rut/iness, n.

Rwan da (rū ān'də), country in central Africa. 2,695,000 pop.; 10,169 sq. mi. Capital: Kigali. n.

Ry., railway.

-ry, suffix meaning:

1. occupation or work of a —, as in dentistry, chemistry.

2. act of a —, as in mimicry.

3. quality, state, or condition of a —, as in rivalry.

4. group of —s, considered collectively, as in jewelry, peasantry.

rye (rī), 1. a hardy annual plant widely grown in cold regions. 2. its seeds or grain. 3. flour made from them. Peasants in Germany and Russia eat a great deal of almost black rye bread. 4. whiskey made from rye. n.

Ryu kyu Islands (rū/kū'), chain of 55 islands extending from Japan to Taiwan. Formerly part of the Japanese Empire, they were placed under United States military governorship after World War II. 849,000 pop.; 1800 sq. mi.

S

S or s (es), 1. the 19th letter of the alphabet. 2. anything shaped like an S. n., pl. S's or s's.

S, 1. South. 2. Sulfur.

S., 1. south. 2. southern.

s., 1. shilling; shillings. 2. son. 3. south.

Sa, samarium.

S.A., 1. South America. 2. South Africa. 3. South Australia. 4. Salvation Army.

Saar (sär; German zär),

1. river flowing from NE France through West Germany, into the Moselle River. 150 mi. 2. state in West Germany, along the Saar River. From 1950 to 1959 it was an autonomous territory under partial control of France. 1,040,000 pop.; 990 sq. mi. Capital: Saarbrücken. n.

Saarbrücken (zär'bryk'ən), capital of the Saar, on the Saar River. 127,000. n.

Saarland (sär'land; German zär'länt), Saar (def. 2). n.

Sabah (sä'bä), state in N Borneo, a member of the Federation of Malaysia. 454,000 pop.; 29,388 sq. mi. Capital: Jesselton. n. Formerly, British North Borneo.

Sabbath (sab'əth), 1. day of the week used for rest and worship. Sunday is the Christian Sabbath; Saturday is the Jewish Sabbath. 2. of or belonging to the Sabbath. 1 n., 2 adj.

sabbath (sab'əth), period of rest, quiet, etc. n.

sabbatic (sə bat'ik), sabbatical. adj.

sabbatical (sə bat'ə kl), 1. of or suitable for the Sabbath. 2. of or for a rest from work. adj.

sabbatical leave, leave of absence for a year or half year given to teachers once in seven years for rest, study, or travel.

saber (sä'bər), 1. a heavy, curved sword with a sharp edge, used by calvary. 2. strike, wound, or kill with a saber. 1 n., 2 v.

saber-toothed tiger, an extinct tigerlike mammal whose upper canine teeth were very long and curved.

Sabine (sä'bin), 1. member of a tribe in central Italy which was conquered by the Romans in the third century B.C. 2. their language. 3. of or belonging to the Sabines or their language. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

sable (sä'bl), 1. a small flesh-eating mammal valued for its dark brown, glossy fur. 2. its fur. Sable is one of the most costly furs. 3. Poetic. black; dark: a widow's sable garments. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

sables, mourning garments.

sabot (sab'ō), 1. shoe hollowed out of a single piece of wood, worn by peasants in France, Belgium, etc. 2. a coarse leather shoe with a thick wooden sole. n.

sabotage (sab'ə täzh), 1. damage done to work, tools, machinery, etc., by workmen as an attack or threat against an employer. 2. such damage done by civilians of a conquered nation to injure the conquering forces. 3. damage done by enemy agents or sympathizers in an attempt to slow down a nation's war effort. 4. damage or destroy deliberately: to sabotage a de-

Saber-toothed tiger
(6 ft. long)

Sable (about 1½ ft.
long, without the tail)

Sabot (def. 1)

fense plant. 1-3 n., 4 v., sab o taged, sab o tag ing.

sab o teur (sab'ə tēr'), person who sabotages. n.

sa bra (sä'brä), person born in Israel. n.

sa bre (sä'bər), Esp. Brit. saber. n., v., sa bred, sa bring.

sac (sak), a baglike part in an animal or plant, often one containing liquids: the sac of a honeybee. n. —sac'-like', adj.

Sac (sak or sôk), member of a tribe of American Indians who formerly lived west of Lake Michigan and now live in Oklahoma, Iowa, and Kansas. n.

sac cha rin (sak'ə rin), a very sweet substance obtained from coal tar, used as a substitute for sugar in some diets, as for diabetics. n.

sac cha rine (sak'ə rin), 1. sugary; very sweet: a saccharine smile. 2. saccharin. 1 adj., 2 n. —sac'-cha rine ly, adv.

sac er do tal (sas'ər dō'tl), of priests or the priesthood; priestly. adj.

sac er do tal ism (sas'ər dō'tl iz əm), sacerdotal system; spirit or methods of the priesthood. n.

sa chem (sä'chəm), chief of an American Indian tribe. n.

sa chet (sa shā' or sash'ā), 1. a small bag or pad containing perfumed powder. 2. perfumed powder. n.

sack (sak), 1. a large bag made of coarse cloth. Sacks are used for holding grain, flour, potatoes, and coal. 2. such a bag with what is in it: He bought two sacks of corn. 3. U.S. any bag or what is in it: a sack of candy. 4. put into a sack or sacks. 5. a loose coat: a knitted sack for a baby. 6. Archaic. a woman's loose gown. 7. Esp. Brit. Slang. discharge from a job. 1-3, 5-7 n., 4, 7 v. hold the sack, Informal. be left empty-handed.

sack (sak), 1. plunder (a captured city). 2. a plundering of a captured city. 1 v., 2 n. —sack'er, n.

sack (sak), sherry or other strong, light-colored wine. n.

sack but (sak'but), 1. a musical wind instrument of the Middle Ages, somewhat like the trombone. 2. an ancient stringed instrument mentioned in the Bible. n.

sack cloth (sak'klōth'), 1. coarse cloth for making sacks. 2. coarse cloth worn as a sign of mourning or penance. n.

sack coat, a man's short coat for ordinary wear.

sack ful (sak'fūl), enough to fill a sack. n., pl. sack-fuls.

sack ing (sak'ing), coarse cloth for making sacks. n.

sacque (sak), 1. a loose jacket for a woman, girl, or baby. 2. kind of loose gown formerly worn by women, or a long back piece fastened to the gown at the shoulders and forming a train. n.

sac ra ment (sak'rə mēnt), 1. a solemn religious ceremony of the Christian church. Baptism is a sacrament. 2. the Eucharist, or Lord's Supper; the consecrated bread and wine; the bread alone. 3. something especially sacred. 4. sign; token; symbol. 5. a solemn promise; oath. n.

sac ra men tal (sak'rə mēn'tl), 1. of or having to do with a sacrament; used in a sacrament: sacramental wine. 2. especially sacred. 3. ceremony similar to, but not included among, the sacraments. The use of holy water is a sacramental. 1, 2 adj., 3 n. —sac'-ra-men'tal ly, adv.

Sac ra men to (sak'rə mēn'tō), 1. capital of California, in the central part. 192,000. 2. river flowing from N California into San Francisco Bay. 382 mi. n.

sa cred (sä'krid), 1. belonging to or dedicated to God or a god; holy: the sacred altar, a sacred building. 2. connected with religion; religious: sacred writings, sacred music. 3. worthy of reverence: the sacred memory of a dead hero. 4. dedicated to some person, object, or purpose: This monument is sacred to the memory of the Un- known Soldier. 5. that must not be violated or disregarded: sacred oaths. adj. —sa'cred ly, adv. —sa'-cred ness, n.

Sacred College, the cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church collectively. The Sacred College elects and advises the Pope.

sac ri fice (sak/rə fis), 1. act of offering to a god. 2. the thing offered. The ancient Hebrews killed animals on the altars as sacrifices to God. 3. give or offer to a god. 4. a giving up of one thing for another: Our teacher does not approve of any sacrifice of studies to sports. 5. the thing given up or devoted. 6. give up: A mother will sacrifice her life for her children. 7. permit injury or disadvantage to, for the sake of something else: sacrifice business for pleasure. 8. loss: He will sell his house at a sacrifice because he needs the money. 9. sell at a loss. 10. offer or make a sacrifice. 11. bunt or fly in baseball that helps the runner to advance although the batter is put out. 12. help (a runner) to advance by such a bunt or fly. 1,2,4,5,8,11 n., 3,6,7,9,10,12 v., sac ri ficed, sac ri fic ing.

sac ri fi cial (sak/rə fish'əl), 1. having to do with sacrifice. 2. used in a sacrifice. adj. —sac'ri fi'cial ly, adv.

sac ri lege (sak/rə lij), an intentional injury to anything sacred; disrespectful treatment of anyone or anything sacred: Robbing the church was a sacrilege. n.

sac ri le gious (sak/rə lij'əs), injurious or insulting to sacred persons or things. adj. —sac'ri le'gious ly, adv.

sac ris tan (sak/ris tən), person in charge of the sacred vessels, robes, etc., of a church. n.

sac ris ty (sak/ris tē), place where the sacred vessels, robes, etc., of a church are kept. n., pl. sac ris ties.

sac ro sanct (sak/rō sangkt), 1. very holy; very sacred. 2. set apart as sacred; consecrated. adj.

sac ro sanc ti ty (sak/rō sangk'tə tē), being sacrosanct; especial sacredness. n.

sa crum (sā'krəm), bone at the lower end of the spine, which is formed by the joining of several vertebrae and which makes the back of the pelvis. n., pl. sa cra (-krə) or sa crums.

sad (sad), 1. not happy; full of sorrow; grieving: sad looks. 2. causing sorrow; distressing: a sad disappointment. 3. dull in color; dark. 4. extremely bad: a sad mess. adj., sad der, sad dest. —sad'ly, adv.

sad den (sad'n), 1. make sad. 2. become sad. v.

sad dle (sad'l), 1. seat for a rider on a horse's back, on a bicycle, etc. 2. part of a harness that holds the shafts, or to which a checkrein is attached. See harness for picture. 3. thing shaped like a saddle. 4. ridge between two mountain peaks. 5. put a saddle on. 6. burden: He is saddled with a big house which he does not need or want. 7. put as a burden on. 8. piece of meat consisting of the upper back portion of an animal: a saddle of venison. 1-4,8 n., 5-7 v., sad dled, sad dling. in the saddle, in a position of control.

sad dle bag (sad'l bag'), one of a pair of bags laid over an animal's back behind the saddle. n.

sad dle bow (sad'l bō'), the front part of a saddle, which sticks up. n.

sad dle cloth (sad'l klōth'), cloth put between an animal's back and the saddle. n.

saddle horse, horse for riding.

sad dler (sad'lər), person who makes or sells saddles and harness. n.

sad dler y (sad'lər ē), 1. work of a saddler. 2. shop of a saddler. 3. saddles, harness, and other equipment for horses. n., pl. sad dler ies.

sad dle tree (sad'l trē), the frame of a saddle. n.

Sad du cee (saj'ú sē), one of a Jewish sect, of the time of Christ, that denied the resurrection of the dead and the existence of angels, but believed in immortality. The sect stood for hereditary priestly authority. n.

sad i ron (sad'f'īrən), a heavy flatiron for pressing clothes. n.

sa dism (sā'diz əm or sad'iz əm), 1. kind of insanity in which a person enjoys hurting someone else. 2. an unnatural love of cruelty. n.

sa dist (sā'dist or sad'ist), one affected with sadism. n.

sad ness (sad'nis), sorrow; grief. n.

sad sack, U.S. Slang. 1. a poor bewildered soldier who blunders his way through the mazes of army life. 2. any bewildered, blundering person.

sa fa ri (sə fā'rē), 1. journey or hunting expedition in E Africa. 2. a long trip. n., pl. sa fa ris.

safe (sāf), 1. free from harm or danger: Keep money in a safe place. 2. not harmed: He returned from war safe and sound. 3. out of danger; secure: We feel safe with the dog in the house. 4. put beyond power of doing harm: a criminal safe in prison. 5. careful: a safe guess, a safe move. 6. that can be depended on: a safe guide. 7. a steel or iron box for money, jewels, papers, etc. 8. place made to keep things safe: a meat safe. 1-6 adj., saf er, saf est; 7,8 n. —safe'ly, adv. —safe'ness, n.

safe-con duct (sāf'kon'dukt), 1. privilege of passing safely through a region, especially in time of war: The nurse was given safe-conduct through the enemy's camp. 2. paper granting this privilege. n.

safe-deposit box, box for storing valuables, especially in a vault of a bank.

safe guard (sāf'gärd'), 1. keep safe; guard against hurt or danger; protect: Pure food laws safeguard our health. 2. protection; defense: Keeping clean is a safeguard against disease. 3. guard; convoy. 1,3 v., 2,3 n.

safe keep ing (sāf'kēp'ing), protection; keeping safe; care. n.

safe ty (sāf'tē), 1. quality or state of being safe; freedom from harm or danger. 2. device to prevent injury. 3. giving safety; making harm unlikely: a safety lamp. 4. act of putting a football down behind one's own goal line after a player on one's own team has made it go there. It counts 2 points for the other team. 1,2,4 n., pl. safe ties; 3 adj.

safety belt, 1. belt attached to the seat of an automobile or airplane, used to hold the rider in the seat and so protect him from bumps, etc. 2. life belt.

safety lamp, a miner's lamp in which the flame is kept from setting fire to explosive gases by a piece of wire gauze.

safety pin, pin bent back on itself to form a spring and having a guard that covers the point and prevents accidental unfastening.

safety valve, 1. valve in a steam boiler or the like that opens and lets steam or fluid escape when the pressure becomes too great. 2. something that helps a person get rid of anger, nervousness, etc., in a harmless way.

saf fron (saf'rən), 1. an orange-yellow coloring matter obtained from a kind of crocus. Saffron is used to color and flavor candy, drinks, etc. 2. an autumn crocus with purple flowers having orange-yellow stigmas. 3. orange yellow. 1-3 n., 3 adj.

sag (sag), 1. sink under weight or pressure; bend down in the middle. 2. hang down unevenly: Your dress sags in the back. 3. become less firm or elastic; yield through weakness, weariness, or lack of effort; droop; sink: Our courage sagged. 4. decline in price. 5. act, state, or degree of sagging. 6. place where anything sags. 1-4 v., sagged, sag ging; 5,6 n.

sa ga (sā'gə), 1. an old Norse story of heroic deeds. 2. any story of heroic deeds. n.

sa ga cious (sə gā'shəs), 1. wise in a keen, practical way; shrewd. 2. intelligent. adj. —sa ga'cious ly, adv. —sa ga'cious ness, n.

sa gac i ty (sə gas'ə tē), keen, sound judgment; mental acuteness; shrewdness. n.

sag a more (sag'ə mōr), among some American Indian tribes, a chief or great man. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rīle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

sage¹ (sāj), 1. wise: a sage adviser. 2. showing wisdom or good judgment: a sage reply. 3. wise-looking; grave; solemn: Owls are sage birds. 4. a very wise man. 1-3 adj., sag er, sag est; 4 n. —sage/ly, adv. —sage/-ness, n.

sage² (sāj), 1. plant whose leaves are used as seasoning and in medicine. 2. its dried leaves. 3. salvia. 4. sagebrush. n.

sage brush (sāj/brush'), a grayish-green shrub, common on the dry plains of the W United States. n.

sage grouse, a very large grouse common on the plains of W North America.

sage hen, 1. sage grouse. 2. female sage grouse.

Saginaw (sag'ə nō), city in E Michigan. 98,000. n.

Sagittarius (saj'ə tār'ē əs), a southern constellation that was thought of as arranged in the shape of a centaur drawing a bow. n.

sagittate (saj'ə tāt), shaped like an arrowhead. Calla lilies have sagittate leaves. adj.

Sagittate leaf

sa go (sā'gō), 1. a starchy food used in making puddings, etc. 2. an East Indian palm tree (sago palm) from whose pith this starchy food is made. n., pl. sa gos.

sagua ro (sə gwā'rō), a very tall branching cactus of Arizona and neighboring regions. n., pl. sa gua ros.

Sahara (sə hār'ə), the great desert in N Africa. 3,500,000 sq. mi. See Sudan for map. n.

sa hib (sā'ib), sir; master. Natives in colonial India called a European "sahib" when speaking to or of him. n.

said (sed), 1. pt. and pp. of say. He said he would come. She had said "No" every time. 2. named or mentioned before: the said witness, the said sum of money. 1 v., 2 adj.

Sai gon (sī gon'), city in SE Asia, capital of South Vietnam. 1,614,000. n.

sail (sāl), 1. piece of cloth spread to the wind to make a ship move through the water. 2. sails: Our ship had all sail spread. 3. something like a sail, such as the part of an arm of a windmill that catches the wind. 4. ship; ships: a fleet of thirty sail. 5. trip on a boat with sails or on any other vessel: Let's go for a sail. 6. travel on water by the action of wind on sails. 7. travel on a steamboat, airship, etc. 8. move smoothly like a ship with sails: The eagle sailed by. Mrs. Grand sailed into the room. 9. sail upon, over, or through: sail the seas. 10. manage a ship or boat: The boys are learning to sail. 11. manage or navigate (a ship or boat). 12. begin a trip by water: We sail at 2 p.m. 1-5 n., 6-12 v.

in sail, in a ship with sails.

make sail, 1. spread out the sails of a ship. 2. begin a trip by water.

sail into, Slang. 1. attack; beat. 2. criticize; scold.

set sail, begin a trip by water.

take in sail, 1. lower or lessen the sails of a ship. 2. lessen one's hopes, ambitions, etc.

under sail, with the sails spread out.

sail boat (sāl'bōt'), boat that is moved by a sail or sails. See schooner and sloop for pictures. n.

sail cloth (sāl'klōth'), canvas or other material used for making sails. n.

sailer (sāl'ər), a ship with reference to its sailing power: the best sailer in the fleet, a fast sailer. n.

sail fish (sāl'fish'), a large salt-water fish related to the swordfish, that has a long, high fin on its back. n., pl. sail fish es or (esp. collectively) sail fish.

sailing (sāl'ing), act of a person or thing that sails. n.

sail or (sāl'ər), 1. person whose work is handling a sailboat or other vessel. In these days most sailors are on steamships. 2. member of a ship's crew, not an officer. 3. an enlisted man in a country's navy: He was a sailor for two years, but he spent the whole time on land. 4. like that of a sailor: My middy blouse has a sailor collar. 5. a flat-brimmed hat modeled after the kind of hat sailors used to wear years ago. 1-3, 5 n., 4 adj. —sail/or like', adj.

a good sailor, person who does not get seasick. sail or ly (sāl'ər lē), like a sailor; suitable for a sailor. adj.

saint (sānt), 1. a very holy person; true Christian. 2. person who has gone to heaven. 3. person declared a saint by the Roman Catholic Church. 4. person like a saint. 5. make a saint of; canonize. 6. call or consider a saint. 7. holy; sacred. 8. angel. 1-4, 8 n., 5, 6 v., 7 adj. —saint/like', adj.

Saint. For names of saints look under the Christian name, and for places beginning with "Saint" look under the St. words.

Saint Agnes's Eve, the night of January 20. A girl was supposed to see a vision of her future husband on this night if she performed certain ceremonies.

Saint Bernard (bər-nārd'), a big, tan-and-white dog with a large head. These intelligent dogs were first bred by the monks on the St. Bernard passes to rescue travelers lost in the snow.

Saint Bernard (about 2½ ft. high at the shoulder) sainted (sān'tid), 1. declared to be a saint. 2. thought of as a saint; gone to heaven. 3. sacred; very holy. 4. saintly. adj.

saint hood (sānt'hüd), character or status of a saint. n.

saint ly (sānt'lē), 1. like a saint; very holy. 2. very good. adj., saint li er, saint li est. —saint/li ness, n.

Saint Patrick's Day, March 17.

saint ship (sānt'ship), sainthood. n.

Saint Valentine's Day (val'ən tinz), February 14.

Saint Vitus's dance (vī'təs iz). See St. Vitus's dance.

Sai pan (sī pan'), one of the Mariana Islands, in the W Pacific. It was captured by American forces from the Japanese in 1944. n.

saith (seth), Archaic. says. v.

sake¹ (sāk), 1. cause; account; interest. 2. purpose; end. n.

for old sake's sake, for the sake of old times or old friendship.

for the sake of, 1. because of; on account of. 2. to help; to please.

for your own sake, on your own account; to help yourself.

sa ke² (sā'kē), a Japanese fermented alcoholic beverage made from rice. n.

Sak ha lin (sak'ə lēn), an island east of Siberia, between the Sea of Okhotsk and the Sea of Japan, a part of the Soviet Union. 450,000 pop.; 28,597 sq. mi. n.

sal (sal), salt, used especially in druggists' terms, such as sal volatile. n.

sa laam (sə lām'), 1. greeting in the Orient that means "Peace." 2. a very low bow, with the palm of the right hand placed on the forehead. 3. greet with a salaam. 4. make a salaam. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 v.

sal a bil ity (sāl'ə bil'ə tē), salable condition or quality. n.

sal a ble (sāl'ə bl), that can be sold; fit to be sold; easily sold. adj. Also, saleable.

sa la cious (sə lā'shəs), lustful; lewd; obscene; indecent. adj. —sa la'cious ly, adv. —sa la'cious ness, n.

sal ad (sal'əd), 1. raw, green vegetables, such as lettuce, cabbage, and celery, served with a dressing. Often cold meat, fish, eggs, cooked vegetables, or fruits are used along with, or instead of, the raw green vegetables. 2. any green vegetable that can be eaten raw. n.

salad days, days of youthful inexperience.

salad dressing, sauce used in or on a salad.

Sal a din (sal'ə din), 1137-1193, sultan of Egypt and Syria from about 1175 to 1193. He captured Jerusalem and defeated the crusaders led by Richard the Lion-Hearted. n.

sal a man der (sal'ə man'dər), 1. animal shaped like a lizard, but belonging to the same group as frogs and toads. Salamanders live in damp places. 2. lizard or reptile formerly supposed to live in fire. 3. person who likes or can stand a great deal of heat. 4. spirit or imaginary being that lives in fire. n.

Salamander

sa la mi (sə lă'mē), a kind of sausage, often flavored with garlic. n.

Sal a mis (sal'ə mis), 1. a Greek island off SE Greece. 18,000 pop.; 36 sq. mi. 2. a naval battle in 480 B.C. in which the Greeks defeated the Persians. n.

sa la ried (sal'ə rēd), receiving a salary. adj.

sa la ry (sal'ə rē), fixed pay for regular work. Teachers, government officials, and clerks receive salaries. n., pl. sal a ries.

sale (sāl), 1. act of selling; exchange of goods for money: no sale yet this morning. 2. amount sold: Today's sales were larger than yesterday's. 3. chance to sell; demand; market: There is almost no sale for carriages in these days. 4. a selling at lower prices than usual: This store is having a sale on suits. 5. auction. n.
for sale or on sale, to be sold: There are several houses in the neighborhood for sale, but none for rent.

sale a ble (sal'ə bl), salable. adj.

Sa lem (sə'ləm), 1. seaport in NE Massachusetts, settled in 1626. 39,000. 2. capital of Oregon, in the NW part. 49,000. n.

sale ra tus (sal'ə rā'təs), 1. sodium bicarbonate; baking soda. 2. potassium bicarbonate, a compound similar to sodium bicarbonate. n.

sales clerk (sälz'klĕrk'), person whose work is selling in a store. n.

sales girl (sälz'gĕrl'), girl whose work is selling in a store. n.

sales la dy (sälz'lā'dē), saleswoman. n., pl. sales-ladies.

sales man (sälz'mən), man whose work is selling. n., pl. sales men.

sales man ship (sälz'mən ship), 1. work of a salesman. 2. ability at selling. n.

sales tax, tax based on the amount received for articles sold.

sales wom an (sälz'wum'ən), woman whose work is selling in a store. n., pl. sales wom en.

sa li cin (sal'ə sin), a bitter, white crystalline compound of glucose, obtained from the bark of various willows and poplars. It is used in medicine as a tonic and to reduce fever. n.

sa li cyl ate (sal'ə sil'ät), any salt or ester of salicylic acid. n.

sa li cyl ic (sal'ə sil'ik), of or having to do with salicin. adj.

salicylic acid, a solid white substance used as a mild antiseptic and preservative, and as a medicine for rheumatism, gout, etc. Aspirin is a common preparation of salicylic acid.

sa li ence (sə'lē əns), 1. a being salient. 2. a salient or projecting object, part, or feature. n.

sa li en cy (sə'lē ən sē), salience. n.

sa li ent (sə'lē ənt), 1. standing out; easily seen or noticed; prominent; striking: the salient features in a landscape, the salient points in a speech. 2. pointing outward; projecting: a salient angle. 3. a salient angle or part. 4. part of a fort or line of trenches that projects toward the enemy. 1, 2 adj., 3, 4 n.

sa line (sə'lin), 1. of salt; like salt; salty. 2. containing common salt or any other salts. 3. a salt spring, well, or marsh. 4. substance containing common salt or any other salts. 1, 2 adj., 3, 4 n.

sa lin i ty (sə lin'ə tē), saltiness; saline quality. n.

Salis bur y (sölz'ber'ē), 1. city in S England. A famous cathedral is located there. 34,000. 2. capital of Rhodesia. 314,000. n.

sa li va (sə lī'və), liquid that the salivary glands secrete into the mouth to keep it moist, aid in chewing, and start digestion. n.

sa li var y (sal'ə ver'ē), of or producing saliva. adj.
salivary gland, any of various glands that empty their secretions into the mouth. The salivary glands of human beings and most other vertebrates are digestive glands that secrete saliva containing enzymes, salts, albumin, etc.

sal i vate (sal'ə vāt), 1. produce a large secretion of saliva in. 2. secrete saliva. v., sal i vat ed, sal i vat ing.

sal i va tion (sal'ə vā'shən), 1. a salivating. 2. the secretion of saliva. 3. an abnormally large flow of saliva. n.

sal let (sal'it), in medieval armor, a light, rounded helmet, with or without a visor. n.

sal low (sal'ō), 1. having a sickly, yellowish color or complexion. 2. make yellowish. 1 adj., 2 v. —sal-low ness, n.

sal low ish (sal'ō ish), somewhat sallow. adj.

sally (sal'ē), 1. a sudden attack on an enemy made from a defensive position; sortie: The men in the fort made a brave sally and returned with many prisoners. 2. go suddenly from a defensive position to attack an enemy. 3. a sudden rushing forth. 4. rush forth suddenly; go out: We sallied forth at dawn. 5. a going forth; trip; excursion. 6. set out briskly. 7. go on an excursion or trip. 8. of things, issue forth. 9. a sudden start into activity. 10. outburst. 11. a witty remark: She continued her story undisturbed by the merry sallies of her hearers. 1, 3, 5, 9-11 n., pl. sal lies; 2, 4, 6-8 v., sal lied, sal ly ing.

Sal ly Lunn (sal'ē lun'), a slightly sweetened tea cake, served hot with butter.

sal ma gun di (sal'mə gun'dē), 1. dish of chopped meat, anchovies, eggs, onions, oil, etc. 2. any mixture, medley, or miscellany. n.

sal mi (sal'mē), a highly seasoned stew, especially of game. n.

salm on (sam'ən), 1. a large marine and fresh-water fish with silvery scales and yellowish-pink flesh, common in the N Atlantic near the mouths of large rivers which it swims up in order to spawn. 2. a fish like this that lives in lakes and is called landlocked salmon. 3. any of various other fishes of the same family that are common in the N Pacific. 4. yellowish pink. 1-4 n., pl. salmons or (esp. collectively) salm on; 4 adj.

salm on trout, kind of trout resembling a salmon.

Sa lo me (sə lō'mē), in the Bible, the daughter of Herodias, whose dancing so pleased Herod that he gave her the head of John the Baptist. Matthew 14:3-11. n.

sa lon (sə lon'), 1. a large room for receiving or entertaining guests. 2. assembly of guests in such a room. 3. place used to exhibit works of art. 4. exhibition of works of art. n., pl. sa lons.

Sal o ni ka (sal'ə nē'kə), seaport in NE Greece. 217,000. n.

sa loon (sə lūn'), 1. U.S. place where alcoholic drinks are sold and drunk. 2. a large room for general or public use: Concerts were often held in the saloon of the steamship. The ship's passengers ate in the dining saloon. n.

sa loon keep er (sə lūn'kēp'ər), man who keeps a saloon where alcoholic drinks are sold and drunk. n.
sal si fy (sal'sə fī), 1. a root with an oysterlike flavor, eaten as a vegetable. 2. the purple-flowered plant having this root. n.

sal soda, washing soda; crystallized sodium carbonate.

salt (sôlt), 1. a white substance found in the earth and in sea water; sodium chloride. Salt is used to season and preserve food. 2. containing salt. 3. tasting like salt. 4. overflowed with or growing in salt water: salt marshes, salt grass. 5. mix or sprinkle with salt. 6. cure or preserve with salt. 7. cured or preserved with salt. 8. provide with salt: to salt cattle. 9. a saltcellar. 10. season; make pungent: conversation salted with wit. 11. sharp; pungent; to the point; lively: salt speech. 12. that which gives liveliness, piquancy, or pungency to anything. 13. a compound derived from an acid by replacing the hydrogen wholly or partly by a metal or an electropositive radical. Baking soda is a salt. 14. in chemical processes, treat with any salt. 15. Informal. sailor. 1,9,12,13,15 n., 2-4,7,11 adj., 5,6,8,10,14 v.

salts, 1. a medicine that causes movements of the bowels. 2. smelling salts.

eat a person's salt, be his guest.

salt a mine, put ore, gold dust, or the like into it to create a false impression of value.

salt away or down, Slang. 1. pack with salt to preserve. 2. store away.

salt of the earth, the best people.

with a grain of salt, with some reservation or allowance.

worth one's salt, worth one's support, wages, etc.

salt cellar (sôlt/sel'ər), shaker or dish for holding salt, used on the table. n.

salt ed (sôlt'id), 1. seasoned, cured, or preserved with salt. 2. experienced; hardened. adj.

salt ine (sôlt tēn'), a thin, crisp, salted cracker. n.

Salt Lake City, capital of Utah, in the N part. 189,000.

salt lick, place where natural salt is found on the surface of the ground and where animals go to lick it up.

salt pe ter or salt pe tre (sôlt/pē'tər), 1. a salty, white mineral, used in making gunpowder, in preserving meat, and in medicine; potassium nitrate; niter. 2. a kind of fertilizer; sodium nitrate. n.

Salt River, river flowing from E Arizona into the Gila River. Part of it is turned into a large lake by an irrigation dam. 200 mi.

salt-wa ter (sôlt/wô'tər), 1. consisting of or containing salt water. 2. living in the sea or in water like sea water. adj.

salt y (sôlt/tē), 1. containing salt; tasting of salt. 2. to the point; witty and a bit improper: a salty remark. adj., salt i er, salt i est.

sa lu bri ous (sə lū'brē əs), healthful. adj.

sal u tar y (sal'yə ter'ē), 1. beneficial: The teacher gave the boy salutary advice. 2. good for the health; wholesome: Walking is a salutary exercise. adj.

sal u ta tion (sal'yə tā'shən), 1. a greeting; saluting: The man raised his hat in salutation. 2. something uttered, written, or done to salute. You begin a letter with a salutation, such as "Dear Sir" or "My Dear Mrs. Jones." n.

sa lu ta to ri an (sə lū'tə tō'rē ən), in American colleges and schools, the student who delivers the address of welcome at the graduation of a class. n.

sa lu ta to ry (sə lū'tə tō'rē), 1. expressing greeting; welcoming. 2. an opening address welcoming guests at the graduation of a class. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. sa lu ta to ries.

sa lute (sə lūt'), 1. honor in a formal manner by raising the hand to the head, by firing guns, or by dipping flags: We salute the flag every day at school. The soldier saluted the officer. 2. meet with kind words, a bow, a kiss, etc.; greet: The old gentleman walked along the avenue saluting his friends. 3. make a bow, gesture, or the like to. 4. come to; meet: Shouts of welcome saluted their ears. 5. make a salute. 6. act of saluting; sign of welcome, farewell, or honor. 7. position of the hand, gun, etc., in saluting. 1-5 v., sa lute ed, sa luting; 6,7 n.

Soldier saluting

Sal va dor (sal'və dōr), 1. seaport in E Brazil. 552,000. Also, Bahia, Baía, São Salvador. 2. El Salvador. n.

Sal va do ran (sal'və dō'rən), 1. of or having to do with El Salvador or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of El Salvador. 1 adj., 2 n.

sal vage (sal'vij), 1. act of saving a ship or its cargo from wreck, capture, etc. 2. payment for saving it. 3. rescue of property from fire, etc. 4. save from fire, shipwreck, etc. 5. property salvaged: the salvage from a shipwreck or a fire. 1-3.5 n., 4 v., sal vaged, sal vag ing.

sal va tion (sal vā'shən), 1. a saving or being saved. 2. person or thing that saves. Christians believe that Christ is the salvation of the world. 3. a saving of the soul; deliverance from sin and from punishment for sin. n.

Salvation Army, organization to spread religion and help the poor, founded in England in 1865 by William Booth.

salve (sav or sāv), 1. a soft, greasy substance put on wounds and sores; healing ointment. 2. put salve on. 3. something soothing: The kind words were a salve to his hurt feelings. 4. soothe; smooth over: He salved his conscience by the thought that his lie harmed no one. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., salved, salving.

salve (salv), save from loss or destruction; salvage. v., salved, salving.

sal ve (sal'vē), hail! interj.

sal ver (sal'vər), tray. n.

sal vi a (sal'vē ə), 1. a garden plant with racemes of bright red flowers; scarlet sage. 2. any plant of the same family as scarlet sage. n.

sal vo (sal'vō), 1. the discharge of several guns at the same time as a broadside or as a salute. 2. round of cheers or applause. n., pl. sal vos or sal voes.

sal vo la tile (sal' vō lə'tīl), Latin. 1. a salt of ammonium. 2. an aromatic solution of this salt used to relieve faintness, headache, etc.

Sal ween (sal wēn'), river flowing from Tibet through China and E Burma into the Bay of Bengal. 1750 mi. n.

Salz burg (sôlz/bërg), city in W Austria. Annual music festivals are held there. 103,000. n.

Sam., Samuel, the name of two books of the Bible.

S. Am., 1. South America. 2. South American.

Sam ar (sām'är), island in the Philippine Islands. 757,000 pop.; 5050 sq. mi. See Philippines for map. n.

sam a ra (sam'ə rə), any dry fruit that has a winglike extension and does not split open when ripe. The fruit of the maple tree is a double samara with one seed in each half. n.

Sa ma ra (sə mār'ə), former name of Kuibyshev. n.

Sa mar ia (sə mār'ē ə), 1. district in the N part of ancient Palestine, now in Jordan. See Galilee for map. 2. the chief city of this district. n.

Sa mar i tan (sə mar'ə tən), 1. native or inhabitant of Samaria. 2. of or having to do with Samaria or its people. 3. person who helps another in trouble or distress. The good Samaritan rescued the Jewish traveler who had been attacked by robbers. Luke 10:30-37. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

sa mar i um (sə mār'ē əm), a rare metal, an element of the cerium group. Symbol: Sm or Sa n.

Sam ar kand (sam'ər kand'), city in Uzbek, Soviet Union in Asia, north of Afghanistan. 195,000. n.

sam ba (sam'bə), an African dance adapted and modified in Brazil. n.

Sam Browne belt (sam' broun'), a military belt having a supporting piece passing over the right shoulder, worn by officers.

same (sām), 1. not another; identical: We came back the same way we went. 2. just alike; not different: Her name and mine are the same. 3. unchanged: He is the same kind old man. 4. just spoken of; aforesaid: The boys were talking about a queer man. This same man wore his hair very long and always dressed in white. 5. the same person or thing. 1-4 adj., 5 pron.

Samara of a maple tree. These fruits are sometimes carried many yards from the tree by the wind.

all the same, notwithstanding; nevertheless.

just the same, 1. in the same manner. 2. nevertheless.

the same, in the same manner: "Sea" and "see" are pronounced the same.

same ness (sām'nis), 1. state of being the same; exact likeness. 2. lack of variety; tiresomeness. n.

Sa mi an (sā'mē ən), 1. of or having to do with the island of Samos. 2. native or inhabitant of Samos. 1 adj., 2 n.

sam i sen (sam'ə sen), a Japanese guitarlike instrument with three strings, played with a plectrum. n.

sam ite (sam'it), a heavy, rich silk fabric, sometimes interwoven with gold, worn in the Middle Ages. n.

Sa mo a (sə mō'ə), group of islands in the S Pacific. Several of these islands (American Samoa) belong to the United States and the rest make up the independent country of Western Samoa. 127,000 pop.; 1209 sq. mi. n. —Sa mo'-an, adj., n.

Sa mos (sā'mos), a Greek island off W Turkey. 60,000 pop.; 181 sq. mi. n.

Sam o thrace (sam'ə thrās), a Greek island off NE Greece in the Aegean Sea. A famous statue called the "Winged Victory" was found there. 4000 pop.; 68 sq. mi. n.

sam o var (sam'ə vār), a metal urn used for heating water for tea. n.

samp (səmp), U.S. coarsely ground corn, boiled and eaten, usually with milk and sugar. n.

sam pan (sam'pan), any of various small boats of China, etc. A sampan is sculled by one or more oars at the stern; it usually has a single sail and a cabin made of mats. n.

sam ple (sam'pl), 1. part to show what the rest is like; one thing to show what the others are like: Pushing people aside to get in a car is a sample of his bad manners. 2. serving as a sample: a sample copy. 3. take a part of; test a part of: We sampled the cake and found it very good. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v., sam pled, sam pling.

sam pler (sam'plər), 1. person who samples. 2. piece of cloth embroidered to show skill in needlework. n.

Sam son (sam'sən), 1. in the Bible, a man who had very great strength and was called one of the judges of Israel. Judges 13-16. 2. any very strong man. n.

Sam u el (sam'yū əl), 1. a Hebrew leader, judge, and prophet of ancient times. 2. either of two books in the Old Testament. n.

sam u rai (sam'ū rī), 1. the military class in feudal Japan, consisting of the retainers of the great nobles. 2. member of this class. n., pl. sam u rai.

San (sān or san), Spanish and Italian. Saint. adj.

Sa na (sā nā'), capital of Yemen. 60,000. n.

San An ge lo (san an'jə lō), city in central Texas. 59,000.

San An to ni o (san an tō'nī ō), city in S Texas. 588,000.

san a tive (san'ə tiv), healing; able to cure. adj.

Samovar

Sampan

san a to ri um (san'ə tō'rē əm), sanitarium; health resort. n., pl. san a to ri ums, san a to ri a (-rē ə).

san a to ry (san'ə tō'rē), favorable to health; healing; curing. adj.

San Ber nar di no (san bér'nər dē'nō), 1. city in SW California. 92,000. 2. a mountain pass in the Alps of SE Switzerland. 6766 ft. high.

San Bernardino Mountains, a mountain range in S California. The highest peak is 11,485 feet.

sanc ti fi ca tion (sangk'tə fə kǎ'shən), a sanctifying or being sanctified; consecration; purification from sin. n.

sanc ti fied (sangk'tə fid), 1. consecrated. 2. sanctimonious. adj.

sanc ti fy (sangk'tə fi), 1. make holy: A life of sacrifice had sanctified her. 2. set apart as sacred; observe as holy: "Lord, sanctify this our offering to Thy use." 3. make free from sin. 4. justify; make right. v., sanc ti fied, sanc ti fy ing.

sanc ti mo ni ous (sangk'tə mō'nē əs), making a show of holiness; putting on airs of sanctity. adj. —sanc'ti mo'ni ous ly, adv. —sanc'ti mo'ni ous ness, n.

sanc ti mo ny (sangk'tə mō'nē), show of holiness; airs of sanctity. n.

san c tion (sangk'shən), 1. permission with authority; support; approval: We have the sanction of the law to play ball in this park. 2. authorize; approve; allow: Her conscience does not sanction stealing. 3. solemn ratification. 4. confirm. 5. provision of a law enacting a penalty for disobedience to it or a reward for obedience. 6. the penalty or reward. 7. action by several nations toward another, such as a blockade, economic restrictions, etc., intended to force it to obey international law. 8. consideration that leads one to obey a rule of conduct. 9. binding force. 1,3,5-9 n., 2,4 v. —sanc'tion er, n.

sanc ti ty (sangk'tə tē), 1. holiness; saintliness; godliness. 2. sacredness; holy character: the sanctity of a church, the sanctity of the home. 3. a sacred thing. n., pl. sanc ti ties.

sanc tu ar y (sangk'chú er'ē), 1. a sacred place. A church is a sanctuary. 2. part of a church around the altar. 3. place of refuge or protection. 4. refuge or protection: The escaped prisoner found sanctuary in the temple. 5. the temple at Jerusalem. 6. the sacred place where the Ark of the Covenant was kept in the temple at Jerusalem. n., pl. sanc tu aries.

sanc tum (sangk'təm), 1. a sacred place. 2. a private room or office where a person can be undisturbed. n., pl. sanc tums, (Rare) sanc ta (-tə).

sanc tum sanc to rum (sangk'təm sangk'tō'rəm), 1. holy of holies. 2. an especially private place.

Sanc tus (sangk'təs), hymn beginning "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of hosts." n.

sand (sənd), 1. tiny grains of worn-down or disintegrated rocks: the sands of the desert, the sands of the seashore. 2. sand in an hourglass. 3. sprinkle with sand. 4. fill up with sand. 5. add sand to: sand sugar. 6. cover with sand; bury under sand. 7. clean, smooth, or polish with sand, sandpaper, etc. 8. U.S. Slang. courage; pluck. 1,2,8 n., 3-7 v.

sands, tract or region composed mainly of sand.

san dal (san'dl), 1. kind of shoe made of a sole fastened to the foot by straps. 2. kind of cutout slipper. 3. a light, low, rubber overshoe that has no heel. 4. furnish with sandals. 1-3 n., 4 v., san daled, san dal ing or esp. Brit. san dalled, san dal ling.

san daled or san dalled (san'dld), wearing sandals. adj.

Sandals: A (def. 1); B (def. 2).

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, ĭce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

san dal wood (san/dl wūd'), 1. a fragrant wood used for making boxes, fans, etc., and burned as incense. 2. the tree that it comes from. n.

sand bag (sand/bag'), 1. bag filled with sand. Sandbags are used to protect trenches and as ballast on balloons. 2. furnish with sandbags. 3. a small bag of sand used as a club. 4. hit or stun with a sandbag. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., sand bagged, sand bagging.

sand bank (sand/bangk'), ridge of sand. n.

sand bar, ridge of sand formed by the action of tides or currents.

sand blast (sand/blast'), 1. blast of air or steam containing sand, used to clean, grind, cut, or decorate hard surfaces, such as glass, stone, or metal. 2. apparatus used to apply such a blast. A sandblast is often used in cleaning the outside of buildings. 3. use a sandblast on. 1,2 n., 3 v.

sand box (sand/boks'), box for holding sand. n.

Sand burg (sand/bërg'), Carl, 1878-1967, American poet and biographer. n.

sand dollar, a small, flat, round sea urchin that lives on sandy bottoms off the eastern coast of the United States.

sand flea, 1. flea found in sandy places. 2. chigoe.

sand glass (sand/glas'), hourglass. n.

sand hill, hill or bank of sand.

San Di e go (san dē ā'gō), seaport in SW California. 573,000.

sand man (sand/man'), the fabled man said to make children sleepy by sprinkling sand on their eyes. n.

San Do min go (san də ming'gō), Santo Domingo.

sand pa per (sand/pā'pər), 1. a strong paper with a layer of sand glued on it, used for smoothing, cleaning, or polishing. 2. smooth, clean, or polish with sandpaper. 1 n., 2 v.

sand pip er (sand/pīp'ər), a small bird with a long bill, living on sandy shores. n.

sand stone (sand/stōn'), a kind of rock formed mostly of sand. n.

sand storm (sand/stōrm'), storm of wind that bears along clouds of sand. n.

sand wick (sand/wich'), 1. two or more slices of bread with meat, jelly, cheese, or some other filling between them. 2. something formed by similar arrangement. 3. put in (between): He was sandwiched between two fat women. 1,2 n., 3 v.

Sandwich Islands, former name of the Hawaiian Islands.

sandwich man, Informal. man carrying two advertising boards hung from his shoulders, one before him and one behind.

sand wort (sand/wört'), a low scrubby plant with very small white flowers that grows in sandy soil. n.

sand y (san/dē), 1. containing sand; consisting of sand; covered with sand: Most of the shore is rocky, but there is a sandy beach. 2. yellowish-red: sandy hair. 3. shifting like sand; not stable. adj., sand i er, sand i est. —sand/i ness, n.

Sandy Hook, cape in E New Jersey, near New York City. 6 mi. long.

sane (sān), 1. having a healthy mind; not crazy; sound; rational. 2. having or showing good sense; sensible. adj., san er, san est. —sane/ly, adv. —sane/ness, n.

San Fran cis co (san frən sis/kō), a large seaport in W California. 743,000.

San Francisco Bay, inlet of the Pacific on which San Francisco and Oakland, California, are located. 50 mi. long; 3-12 mi. wide.

sang (sang), pt. of sing. The bird sang. v.

sang-froid (sān frwā'), coolness of mind; calmness; composure. n.

Sandpiper
(about 7 in. long)

sang ui nar y (sang/gwə ner'ē), 1. with much blood or bloodshed; bloody: a sanguinary battle. 2. delighting in bloodshed; bloodthirsty. adj. —san'gui nar'i ness, n.

san guine (sang/gwin), 1. naturally cheerful and hopeful: a sanguine disposition. 2. confident; hopeful: sanguine of success. 3. having a healthy red color; ruddy: a sanguine complexion. 4. in the old physiology, having an active circulation, a ruddy color, and a cheerful and ardent disposition. 5. sanguinary. adj.

san guine ous (sang gwin'ē əs), 1. of blood; like blood; bloody. 2. red like blood. 3. full-blooded; too full-blooded for health. 4. sanguine; hopeful. adj.

San he drim (san'hi drim), Sanhedrin. n.

San he drin (san'hi drin), the supreme council and highest religious and legal authority of the ancient Jewish nation. n.

san i tar i an (san'ə tā'r'ē ən), 1. person familiar with, or engaged in, sanitary work. 2. sanitary. 1 n., 2 adj.

san i tar i um (san'ə tā'r'ē əm), 1. establishment, especially in a good climate, for treatment of the sick. Sick people who are getting better, or who are suffering from a long, slow disease like tuberculosis, often go to sanitariums. 2. health resort. n., pl. san i tar i ums, san i tar i a (-ē ə).

san i tar y (san'ə ter'ē), 1. of or having to do with health; favorable to health; preventing disease. 2. free from dirt and filth. adj. —san'i tar'i ness, n.

san i ta tion (san'ə tā'shən), the working out and practical application of sanitary measures. n.

san i ty (san'ə tē), 1. soundness of mind; mental health. 2. soundness of judgment; sensibleness. n.

San Joa quin (san wā kēn'), river in central California that meets the Sacramento River at its mouth. The two rivers flow into San Francisco Bay. 350 mi.

San Jo se (san hō zā'), city in W California. 204,000.

San Jo sé (san hō zā'), capital of Costa Rica. 134,000.

San Jose scale, a scale insect very injurious to fruit trees, shrubs, etc. It was brought into the United States from China.

San Juan (san hwān'), 1. hill in Cuba, southeast of Santiago de Cuba, captured by the United States troops July 1, 1898, during the Spanish-American War. 2. seaport in and capital of Puerto Rico, in the NE part. 433,000.

sank (sang), pt. of sink. The ship sank before help reached her. v.

San Ma ri no (sān mǎ rē'nō), 1. an independent republic in the E part of the Italian peninsula. 15,000 pop.; 38 sq. mi. 2. its capital. 2000.

sans (sanz; French sǎn), Archaic or French. without: "sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything." prep.

San Sal va dor (san sal'və dōr), 1. island of the central Bahamas, the first land seen by Columbus. 700 pop.; 60 sq. mi. 2. capital of El Salvador. 222,000.

sans-cu lotte (sanz/kyù lot'), 1. in the French Revolution, a contemptuous term for a republican of the poorer class, adopted by the revolutionists as a title of honor. 2. extreme republican or revolutionary. n.

San Se bas tián (sān sǎ'vās tyān'), seaport in N Spain. 129,000.

San skrit or San scrit (san/skrit), the ancient literary language of India. n.

sans sou ci (sān sū sē'), French. without care or worry.

Santa (san'tə for 1; san'tə or sǎn'tǎ for 2), 1. Santa Claus. 2. a Spanish or an Italian word meaning holy or saint, used in combinations, as in Santa Maria. 1 n., 2 adj.

Santa Ana (sǎn'tǎ ā'nǎ), Antonio López de, 1795-1876, Mexican general and politician.

Santa Cat a li na (san'tə kat'l ē'nǎ), Catalina.

Santa Claus (san'tə klōz'), Saint Nicholas, the saint of Christmas giving, according to modern conception, a jolly old man with a white beard, dressed in a fur-trimmed red suit.

San ta Cruz de Ten er ife (san'tə krüz' də ten'-er if'), seaport in the Canary Islands. 124,000.

Santa Fe (san'tə fā'), 1. capital of New Mexico, in the N part. It was founded about 1605. 35,000. 2. city in E Argentina. 220,000.

Santa Fe Trail, an early trade route between Independence, Missouri, and Santa Fe, New Mexico. See Oregon Trail for map.

San ta Isa bel (sän'tä ē səl vəl'), capital of Spanish Guinea. 10,000.

San ta Ma ri a (san'tə mə rē'ə), flagship of Columbus in his voyage of 1492.

San ta Mon i ca (san'tə mon'ə kə), city on the SW coast of California, near Los Angeles. 83,000.

San ti a go (san'tē ä'gō; Spanish sän tyä'gō), capital of Chile, in the central part. 1,350,000. n.

San ti a go de Cu ba (sän tyä'gō hā kü'vā), seaport in SE Cuba. 163,000.

San to Do min go (san'tō də ming'gō), capital of the Dominican Republic. It was established in 1496 and was the first town founded by Europeans in the Western Hemisphere. It was called Ciudad Trujillo from 1936 to 1961. 478,000.

San tos (sän'tōs), seaport in S Brazil. 200,000. n.

São Fran cis co (sou'n frän sēs'kü), river flowing from SE Brazil into the Atlantic. 1800 mi.

São Pau lo (sou'n pou'lū), city in S Brazil. 3,417,000.

São Sal va dor (sou'n sāl'və dōr'), Salvador (def. 1).

sap¹ (sap), 1. liquid that circulates through a plant, carrying water, food, etc., as blood does in animals. Rising sap carries water and salt from the roots; sap traveling downward carries sugar, gums, resins, etc. 2. any life-giving liquid. 3. sapwood. 4. Slang. a silly, stupid person; fool. n.

sap² (sap), 1. dig under or wear away the foundation of: The walls of the boathouse had been sapped by the waves. 2. weaken; use up: The extreme heat sapped our strength. 3. trench protected by the earth dug up. 4. dig protected trenches. 5. approach (the enemy's position) by means of such trenches. 6. making trenches to approach a besieged place or an enemy's position. 1,2,4,5 v., sapped, sap ping; 3,6 n.

sa pi ence (sā'pē əns), wisdom. n.

sa pi ent (sā'pē ənt), wise; sage. adj. —sa'pi ently, adv.

sap less (sap'lis), 1. without sap; withered. 2. without energy or vigor. adj.

sap ling (sap'ling), 1. a young tree. 2. a young person. n.

sap o dil la (sap'ə dil'ə), 1. a large evergreen tree of tropical America that yields chicle and bears large, edible berries tasting like pears. 2. its fruit. n.

sa pon i fi ca tion (sə pon'ə fī kă'shən), 1. process of saponifying. 2. state of being saponified. n.

sa pon i fy (sə pon'ə fī), 1. make (a fat or oil) into soap by treating with an alkali. 2. become soap. v., sa pon i fied, sa pon i fy ing.

sap per (sap'ər), Brit. soldier employed in the construction of trenches, fortifications, etc. n.

sap phire (saf'ir), 1. a bright-blue precious stone that is hard and clear like a diamond. 2. bright blue. 3. variety of corundum. 1-3 n., 2 adj.

sap py (sap'ē), 1. full of sap. 2. vigorous; energetic. 3. Slang. silly; foolish. adj., sap pi er, sap pi est. —sap'pi ness, n.

sap ro phyte (sap'rō fit), a vegetable organism that lives on decaying organic matter. Certain fungi are saprophytes. n.

sap ro phyt ic (sap'rō fit'ik), of or like a saprophyte; living on dead organic matter. adj.

sap suck er (sap'suk'ər), a small American woodpecker that feeds on the sap and sapwood of trees. n.

Sapsucker
(about 8 in. long)

sap wood (sap'wūd'), the soft, new, living wood between the bark and the hard, inner wood of most trees. n.

sar a band (sar'ə band), 1. a slow and stately Spanish dance. 2. music for it. n.

Sar a cen (sar'ə sn), 1. an Arab. 2. a Moslem at the time of the Crusades. 3. of or having to do with the Saracens. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Sar a cen ic (sar'ə sen'ik), of or having to do with the Saracens. adj.

Sar a gos sa (sar'ə gos'ə), city in NE Spain. 291,000. n.

Sar ah (sār'ə), in the Bible, the wife of Abraham and the mother of Isaac. n.

Sa ra je vo or Sa ra ye vo (sā'rə yā'vō), city in central Yugoslavia. The assassination of the Austrian archduke in 1914 which brought on World War I took place there. 136,000. n.

Sa ra tov (sā'rā'tōf), city in SW Soviet Union on the Volga River. 581,000. n.

Sa ra wak (sə'rā'wāk), a former British colony in NW Borneo, now a member of the Federation of Malaysia. 777,000 pop.; 48,250 sq. mi. Capital: Kuching. n.

sar casm (sār'kaz əm), 1. a sneering or cutting remark; ironical taunt. 2. act of making fun of a person to hurt his feelings; bitter irony: "How unselfish you are!" said Ellen in sarcasm as Mary took the biggest piece of cake. n.

sar cas tic (sār'kas'tik), using sarcasm; sneering; cutting: "Don't hurry!" was his sarcastic comment as I began to dress at my usual slow rate. adj. —sar cas'ti cal ly, adv.

sar co ma (sār'kō'mə), any of various harmful tumors of connective tissue. n., pl. sar co mas, sar-co ma ta (-mə tə).

sar coph a gus (sār'kof'ə gəs), a stone coffin, especially an ornamental one. n., pl. sar coph a gi (-jī) or sar coph a gus es.

sard (sārd), a brownish-red mineral, a variety of chalcedony, used in jewelry. n.

sar dine (sār dēn'), kind of small fish preserved in oil for food. n., pl. sar dines or (esp. collectively) sar dine, packed like sardines, very much crowded.

Sar din i a (sār din'ē ə), 1. a large Italian island in the Mediterranean Sea, west of Italy. 1,275,000 pop.; 9301 sq. mi. See Corsica for map. 2. a former kingdom that included this island and the districts of Savoy and Piedmont on the mainland. n. —Sar din'i an, adj., n.

sar don ic (sār don'ik), bitter; sarcastic; scornful; mocking: a fiend's sardonic laugh. adj. —sar don'i cal ly, adv.

sar do nyx (sār don'iks or sār'd'n iks), variety of onyx containing layers of sard. n.

sar gas so (sār gas'ō), any of a group of brown seaweeds that have berrylike air bladders and float in large masses. n.

Sar gas so Sea (sār gas'ō), part of the Atlantic just northeast of the West Indies.

Sar gent (sār'jənt), John Singer, 1856-1925, famous American portrait painter. n.

sa ri (sā'rē), a long piece of cotton or silk worn wound around the body with one end thrown over the head. It is the outer garment of Hindu women. n., pl. sa ris.

sa rong (sə rōng'), a rectangular piece of cloth, usually a brightly colored printed material, worn as a skirt by men and women in the Malay Archipelago, East Indies, etc. n.

sar sa pa ril la (sas'pə ril'ə or sār'sə pə ril'ə), 1. a tropical American climbing or trailing plant or its root. 2. a medicine or cooling drink made from the root. n.

Sar to (sār'tō), Andrea del, 1486-1531, Florentine painter. n.

sar to ri al (sār tō'rē əl), of tailors or their work: His clothes were a sartorial triumph. adj.

sash¹ (sash), a long, broad strip of cloth or ribbon, worn as an ornament round the waist or over one shoulder. n.

sash² (sash), 1. frame for the glass of a window or door. 2. such frames collectively. 3. furnish with sashes. 1,2 n., 3 v.

sa shay (sa shā'), U.S. Informal. glide, move, or go about. v.

Sask., Saskatchewan.

Sas katch e wan (sas kach'ə won), 1. province in S. Canada. 906,000 pop.; 251,700 sq. mi. Capital: Regina. Abbrev.: Sask. 2. river flowing from SW Canada into Lake Winnipeg. 1205 mi. n.

sas sa fras (sas'ə fras), 1. a slender American tree that has fragrant, yellow flowers and bluish-black fruit. 2. the aromatic dried bark of its root, used in medicine, and to flavor candy, soft drinks, etc. 3. the flavor. n.

sas sy (sas'ē), U.S. Dialect. saucy. adj., sas si er, sas si est.

sat (sat), a pt. and a pp. of sit. Yesterday I sat in a train all day. The cat has sat at that mouse hole for hours. v.

Sat., Saturday.

Sa tan (sāt'n), the evil spirit; the enemy of goodness; the Devil. n.

sa tan ic or Sa tan ic (sā tan'ik), of Satan; like Satan; like that of Satan; very wicked. adj.

satch el (sach'əl), a small bag for carrying clothes, books, etc.; handbag. n.

sate¹ (sāt), 1. satisfy fully (any appetite or desire): A long drink sated his thirst. 2. supply with more than enough, so as to disgust or weary. v. sat ed, sat ing.

sate² (sat or sāt), Archaic. a pt. and a pp. of sit. v.

sa teen (sa tēn'), a cotton cloth made to imitate satin, often used for lining sleeves. n.

sat el lite (sat'līt), 1. a small planet that revolves around a larger planet. 2. a sphere or other object launched into an orbit around the earth. 3. follower or attendant upon a person of importance. 4. a subservient follower. 5. country that is nominally independent but actually under the control of a more powerful country, especially a country under Russian control. n.

sa ti ate (sā'ti'āt), 1. feed fully; satisfy fully. 2. supply with too much; weary or disgust with too much. v., sa ti at ed, sa ti at ing.

sa ti e ty (sā'ti'ē tē), the feeling of having had too much; disgust or weariness caused by excess; satiated condition. n.

sat in (sat'n), 1. a silk or rayon cloth with one very smooth, glossy side. 2. of or like satin; smooth and glossy. 1 n., 2 adj.

sat in wood (sat'n wūd'), 1. the beautiful smooth wood of an East Indian tree, used to ornament furniture, etc. 2. the tree itself. n.

sat in y (sat'n ē), like satin in smoothness and gloss. adj.

sa tire (sat'ir), 1. use of sarcasm or irony to attack or ridicule a habit, idea, custom, etc. 2. poem, essay, story, etc., that attacks or ridicules in this way. n.

sa tir ic (sā'tir'ik), satirical. adj.

sa tir i cal (sā'tir'ē kl), of satire; containing satire; fond of using satire. adj. —sa tir'i cal ly, adv.

sa tir ist (sat'ə rist), writer of satires; person who uses satire. The follies and vices of their own times are the chief subjects of satirists. n.

sa ti rize (sat'ə riz), attack with satire; criticize with mockery; seek to improve by ridicule. v., sa ti rized, sa ti rizing.

sat is fac tion (sat'is fak'shən), 1. fulfillment; satisfying: The satisfaction of hunger requires food. 2. condition of being satisfied or pleased and contented: Mary felt satisfaction at winning a prize. 3. anything that makes us feel pleased or contented: It is a great satisfaction to have things turn out just the way you want. 4. payment of debt; discharge of obligation; making up for wrong or injury done. n.

give satisfaction, 1. satisfy. 2. fight a duel because of an insult.

sat is fac to ry (sat'is fak'tə rē), satisfying; good enough to satisfy; pleasing; adequate; sufficient. adj.

—sat'is fac'to ri ly, adv. —sat'is fac'to ri ness, n.

sat is fy (sat'is fi), 1. give enough to; fulfill (desires, hopes, demands, etc.); put an end to (needs, wants, etc.): He satisfied his hunger with a sandwich and milk.

2. fully meet (an objection, doubt, demand, etc.). 3. make contented; please: Are you satisfied now?

4. give satisfaction. 5. pay; make right: After the accident he satisfied all claims for the damage he had caused.

6. set free from doubt; convince: He was satisfied that it was an accident. 7. make up for a wrong or injury. v.

sat is fied, sat is fy ing. —sat'is fi'er, n. —sat'is fy-ing ly, adv.

sa trap (sā'trap), 1. ruler, often a tyrant, who is subordinate to a higher ruler. 2. governor of a province under the ancient Persian monarchy. n.

sa trap y (sā'trə pē), province or authority of a satrap. n., pl. sa trap ies.

sat u ra ble (sach'ə rə bl), that can be saturated. adj.

sat u rate (sach'ə rāt), 1. soak thoroughly; fill full: During the fog, the air was saturated with moisture. Saturate the moss with water before planting the bulbs in it.

2. cause (a substance) to unite with the greatest possible amount of another substance. A saturated solution (of sugar, salt, etc.) is one that cannot dissolve any more (sugar, salt, etc.). v., sat u rat ed, sat u rat ing.

sat u ra tion (sach'ə rā'shən), 1. act or process of saturating. 2. fact of being saturated; saturated condition. The saturation of a color increases as the amount of white in it is decreased. n.

saturation point, 1. point at which a substance will take up no more of another substance. 2. condition in which a person can endure no more.

Sat ur day (sat'ər dē or sat'ər dā), the seventh day of the week, following Friday. n.

Sat urn (sat'ər n), 1. the Roman god of agriculture. Saturn ruled during a golden age. 2. large planet that has rings around it. Saturn is the sixth planet from the sun. n.

Sat ur na li a (sat'ər nāl'ē ə), the ancient Roman festival of Saturn, celebrated in December with much feasting and merrymaking. n.pl.

sat ur na li a (sat'ər nāl'ē ə), period of unrestrained revelry and license. n. pl. or sing.

Sat ur na li an (sat'ər nāl'ē ən), of or having to do with the Roman Saturnalia. adj.

sat ur na li an (sat'ər nāl'ē ən), riotously merry; reveling without restraint. adj.

sat ur nine (sat'ər nīn), gloomy; grave; taciturn. adj. —sat'ur nine-ly, adv.

sat yr (sat'ər or sāt'ər), 1. a Greek deity of the woods, part man and part beast. The satyrs were followers of Bacchus, the god of wine. 2. man who is beastly in thought and action. n.

sauce (sôs), 1. something, usually a liquid, served with food to make it taste better. We eat cranberry sauce with turkey, mint sauce with lamb, egg sauce with fish, and many different sauces with puddings. 2. U.S. stewed fruit; apple-sauce. 3. prepare with sauce; season. 4. something that adds interest or relish. 5. give interest or flavor to. 6. Informal. sauciness: I don't like Mary's sauce. 7. Informal. be saucy to. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5,7 v., sauced, sauc ing.

sauce box (sôs'boks'), Informal. a saucy person. n.

sauce pan (sôs'pan'), a metal dish with a handle, used for stewing, boiling, etc. n.

sau cer (sō'sər), 1. a shallow dish to set a cup on. 2. a small round dish with its edge curved up. 3. something round and shallow like a saucer. n. —sau'cer-like, adj.

Satyr (def. 1)

sau cy (sô/sē), 1. showing lack of respect; rude. 2. pert; smart: a saucy hat. adj., sau cier, sau ci-est. —sau/cily, adv. —sau/ciness, n.

Saudi Arabia (sâ ū'dē), country in central Arabia. 6,036,000 pop.; 600,000 sq. mi. Capitals: Mecca and Riyadh.

sauer kraut (sour/'krout'), cabbage cut fine, salted, and allowed to ferment. n.

Saul (sôl), in the Bible: 1. the first king of Israel. 1 Samuel 9:31. 2. the original name of the Apostle Paul. Acts 9:1-31. n.

Sault Sainte Marie or Sault Ste. Marie (sü/ sânt mârē'), rapids of St. Marys River, between NE Michigan and Ontario, Canada.

Sault Ste. Marie Canals, two parallel canals on St. Marys River, between lakes Superior and Huron. 1.6 mi. long. Also, Soo Canals.

saun ter (sôn/tər), 1. walk along slowly and happily; stroll: People sauntered through the park. 2. a leisurely or careless gait. 3. a stroll. 1 v., 2, 3 n. —saun/-ter er, n.

sau ri an (sô/rē ən), 1. belonging to or having to do with the lizards, or to the lizards and certain other reptiles. 2. lizard. 3. any similar reptile, such as a crocodile or dinosaur. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

sau sage (sô/sij), chopped pork, beef, or other meats, seasoned and usually stuffed into a thin tube. n.

sau té (sô tã'), 1. cooked or browned in a little fat. 2. dish of food cooked or browned in a little fat. 3. fry quickly in a little fat. 1 adj., 2 n., 3 v., sau téed, sau té ing.

sau terne (sô tēr'n'), a French white wine. n.

sav age (sav/ij), 1. wild or rugged: He likes savage mountain scenery. 2. not civilized; barbarous: savage customs. Gaudy colors please a savage taste. 3. fierce; cruel; ready to fight; brutal: a savage dog. 4. member of a people in the lowest stage of development or civilization. 5. a fierce, brutal, or cruel person. 1-3 adj., 4, 5 n. —sav/age ly, adv. —sav/age ness, n.

sav age ry (sav/ij rē), 1. wildness. 2. an uncivilized condition. 3. fierceness; cruelty; brutality. n., pl. sav age ries.

sa van na or sa van nah (sə van'ə), a treeless plain, especially one in the S United States. n.

Sa van nah (sə van'ə), 1. seaport in E Georgia. 149,000. 2. river flowing SE between South Carolina and Georgia into the Atlantic. 314 mi. n.

sa vant (sə vânt' or sav'ənt), man of learning. n. save¹ (säv), 1. make safe from harm, danger, loss, etc.; rescue: save a drowning man. 2. keep safe from harm, danger, hurt, loss, etc.; protect: save one's honor. 3. lay aside; store up: She saves pieces of string. 4. keep from spending or wasting: Save your strength. 5. avoid expense or waste: She saves in every way she can. 6. prevent; make less: save work, save trouble, save expense. 7. treat carefully to lessen wear, weariness, etc.: Large print saves one's eyes. 8. set free from sin and its results: Christ came to save the world. v., saved, sav ing.

save² (säv), 1. except; but: He works every day save Sundays. 2. Archaic. unless. 1 prep., 2 conj.

sav er (säv'ər), person or thing that saves: A washing machine is a saver of time and strength. n.

sav ing (säv/ing), 1. that saves. 2. tending to save up money; avoiding waste; economical. 3. making a reservation: a saving clause. 4. act or way of saving money, time, etc.: It will be a saving to take this short cut. 5. that which is saved. 6. save; except: Saving a few crusts, we had eaten nothing all day. 7. with all due respect to or for. 8. with the exception of. 1-3 adj., 4, 5 n., 6, 7 prep., 8 conj.

savings, money saved.

saving grace, a redeeming feature.

savings bank, bank which pays interest even on small deposits.

sav ior (säv'yər), one who saves or rescues. n.

sav iour (säv'yər), Esp. Brit. savior. n.

Sav iour or Sav ior (säv'yər), Jesus Christ. n.

sa voir-faire (sav'wâr fär'), knowledge of just what to do; tact. n.

sa vor (säv'vər), 1. taste or smell; flavor: The soup has a savor of onion. 2. taste or smell (of): That sauce savors of lemon. 3. enjoy the savor of; perceive or appreciate by taste or smell: He savored the soup with pleasure. 4. give flavor to; season. 5. a distinctive quality; noticeable trace: There is a savor of conceit in everything he says. 6. have the quality or nature (of): a request that savors of a command. 7. show traces of the presence or influence of: Bad manners savor a bad education. 1, 5 n., 2-4, 6, 7 v. —sa/vor er, n. —sa/vor less, adj.

sa vor y¹ (säv'vər ē), 1. pleasing in taste or smell: The savory smell of roasting turkey greeted us as we entered the house. 2. giving a relish; salt or piquant and not sweet. 3. Brit. a small portion of highly seasoned food served at the beginning or end of a dinner to stimulate the appetite or digestion. 4. morally pleasing; agreeable. 1, 2, 4 adj., sa vor ier, sa vor iest; 3 n., pl. sa vor ies.

sa vor y² (säv'vər ē), any of several fragrant herbs used for seasoning food. n., pl. sa vor ies.

sa vour (säv'vər), Esp. Brit. savor. n., v.

Sa voy (sə voi'), 1. region in E France. Savoy was formerly an Italian duchy, but was ceded to France in 1860. 2. the royal house of Italy from 1861 to 1946. n.

sa voy (sə voi'), kind of cabbage with a compact head and wrinkled leaves. n.

Sa voy ard (sə voi'ərd), 1. native or inhabitant of Savoy. 2. actor, producer, or warm admirer of Gilbert and Sullivan's operas, many of which were first produced at the Savoy Theater, London. 3. of Savoy or its people. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

sav vy (sav'vë), Slang.

1. know; understand. 2. understanding; intelligence; sense. 1 v., sav vied, sav vying; 2 n.

saw¹ (sô), 1. tool for cutting, made of a thin blade with sharp teeth on the edge. 2. cut with a saw. 3. make with a saw: Boards are sawed from logs. 4. use a saw: Can you saw straight? 5. be sawed: wood that saws easily. 6. cut as if with a saw; move through as if sawing. 1 n., 2-6 v., sawed, sawed or sawn, saw ing.

saw² (sô), pt. of see¹. I saw a robin yesterday. v.

saw³ (sô), a wise saying; proverb: "A stitch in time saves nine" is a familiar saw. n.

saw buck (sô'buk'), U.S. sawhorse. n.

saw dust (sô'dust'), particles of wood made by sawing. n.

saw fish (sô'fish'), fish like a shark, with a long, flat snout like a saw. n., pl. saw fish es or (esp. collectively) saw fish.

Saws (def. 1) of three common types. The circular saw is mounted in a frame and turned by a motor; the other two are made to cut by passing the teeth back and forth across the wood. The cross-cut saw is usually worked by two people.

saw fly (sô'flī'), kind of insect. The female sawfly has a sawlike organ for cutting slits in plants to hold her eggs. n., pl. saw flies.

saw horse (sô'hôrs'), frame for holding wood that is being sawed. n.

saw mill (sô'mil'), a building where machines saw timber into planks, boards, etc. n.

sawn (sôn), a pp. of saw. v.

sawyer (sô'yôr), man whose work is sawing timber. n.

sax horn (saks'hôrn'), a brass musical instrument like a trumpet, having valves, a loud full tone, and a wide range. A tuba is a large saxhorn with a bass tone. n.

sax i frage (sak'sə frij), any of several low, spreading plants, most of which have rosettes of thick leaves with silvery, toothed edges. Saxifrages are often grown in rock gardens. n.

Sax on (sak'sn), 1. member of a Germanic tribe dwelling in NW Germany in ancient times. With the Angles and Jutes, the Saxons conquered Britain in the fifth and sixth centuries A.D. 2. language of the Saxons. 3. having to do with the early Saxons or their language. 4. Anglo-Saxon. 5. English. 6. native of Saxony in modern Germany. 7. of or having to do with Saxony. 1,2,4,6 n., 3-5,7 adj.

Sax o ny (sak'sn ē), 1. a former state in E Germany. Capital: Dresden. 2. a former province of Prussia, in N Germany. Capital: Magdeburg. n.

sax o phone (sak'sə fôn), a brass musical instrument with keys for the fingers and a reed mouthpiece. n.

sax o phon ist (sak'sə fôn'ist), saxophone player. n.

sax tu ba (saks'tū'bə or saks'tū'bə), a large saxhorn having a deep tone. n.

say (sā), 1. speak: What did you say? 2. put into words; express; declare: Say what you think. 3. recite; repeat: Say your prayers. 4. suppose; take as an estimate: You can learn in, say, ten lessons. 5. express an opinion: It is hard to say which dress is prettier. 6. what a person says or has to say: I have had my say. 7. chance to say something. 8. power; authority: Who has the say in this matter? 1-5 v., said, saying; 6-8 n. —say'er, n.

that is to say, that is; in other words.

to say nothing of, without mentioning.

say est (sā'ist), Archaic. say. "Thou sayest" means "you say." v.

saying (sā'ing), 1. something said; statement. 2. proverb: "Haste makes waste" is a saying. n.

go without saying, be too obvious to need mention.

says (sez), 3rd person sing., present indicative of say. v.

say-so (sā'sô'), Informal. 1. an unsupported statement. 2. authority; power. n.

sayst (sāst), Archaic. sayest; say. "Thou sayst" means "You say." v.

Sb, antimony.

sb., substantive.

S.B., Bachelor of Science.

'sblood (zblud), Archaic. "God's blood" used as an oath. interj.

Sc, scandium.

Sc., 1. Scotch. 2. Scottish.

sc., 1. scene. 2. science.

S.C., 1. South Carolina. 2. Supreme Court.

scab (skab), 1. crust that forms over a sore during healing: A scab formed on the spot where Joe was vaccinated. 2. a skin disease in animals, especially sheep. 3. any of several fungous diseases of plants, usually producing dark, crustlike spots. 4. become covered with a scab. 5. Slang. workman who will not join a labor union

Man playing a saxophone or who takes a striker's place. 6. act or work as a scab. 7. Slang. rascal; scoundrel. 1-3,5,7 n., 4,6 v., scabbed, scab bing.

scab bard (skab'ərd), sheath or case for the blade of a sword, dagger, etc. See hilt for picture. n.

scab by (skab'ē), 1. covered with scabs. 2. consisting of scabs. 3. having the skin disease scab. 4. Informal. low; mean. adj., scab bi er, scab bi est. —scab/bi-ness, n.

sca bies (skā'bēz), the itch; disease of the skin caused by mites that live as parasites under the skin and cause itching. n.

sca bi o sa (skā'bē ō'sə), scabious. n.

sca bi ous (skā'bē əs), plant with long tough stems and dense flower heads of various colors. n.

sca brous (skā'brəs), 1. rough with very small points or projections. 2. full of difficulties; harsh. 3. hard to treat with decency; indelicate. adj.

scads (skadz), Slang. a large quantity. n.

scaf fold (skaf'ld), 1. a temporary structure for holding workmen and materials during the erection, repair, or decoration of a building. 2. a raised platform on which criminals are put to death. 3. platform, stage, or stand for exhibiting shows, seating spectators, or the like. 4. any raised framework. 5. furnish with a scaffold; support with a scaffold. 1-4 n., 5 v.

scaf fold ing (skaf'lding), 1. scaffold. 2. materials for scaffolds. n.

scaf a wag (skal'ə wag), Informal. 1. a good-for-nothing person; scamp; rascal. 2. a white Southerner who acted with the Republican Party after the Civil War. n.

scald (skôld), 1. burn with hot liquid or steam: She scalded herself with hot grease. 2. burn caused by hot liquid or steam: The scald on her hand came from lifting a pot cover carelessly. 3. pour boiling liquid over; use boiling liquid on: Scald the dishes before drying them. 4. heat or be heated almost to boiling, but not quite: Scald the milk. 1,3,4 v., 2 n.

scale¹ (skāl), 1. one of the thin, flat, hard plates forming the outer covering of some fishes, snakes, and lizards. 2. a thin layer like a scale: Scales of skin peeled off after she had scarlet fever. 3. a thin piece of metal or other material. 4. coating on the inside of a boiler, etc. 5. remove scales from: He scaled the fish with a sharp knife. 6. come off in scales: The paint is scaling off the house. 7. remove in thin layers. 8. cover with scale. 9. become coated with scale. 10. one of the parts that unite to cover a bud in winter. 11. insect that has a shieldlike covering under which it hides and feeds. 1-4,10,11 n., 5-9 v., scaled, scaling.

scale² (skāl), 1. dish or pan of a balance. 2. a balance; instrument for weighing. 3. weigh: He scales 180 pounds. 4. weigh in scales; measure; compare. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., scaled, scal ing.

tip the scales, 1. have as one's weight. 2. overbalance one for another.

turn the scales, decide.

scale³ (skāl), 1. series of steps or degrees; scheme of graded amounts: The scale of wages in this factory ranges from three dollars to twelve dollars a day. 2. series of marks made along a line at regular distances to use in measuring: A thermometer has a scale. 3. instrument marked in this way, used for measuring, etc. 4. size of a plan, map, drawing, or model compared with what it represents: a map drawn to the scale of one inch for each 100 miles. 5. relative size or extent: entertain on a large scale. 6. system of numbering: The decimal scale counts by tens, as in cents, dimes, dollars. 7. in music, a series of tones ascending or descending in pitch. 8. climb: They scaled the wall by ladders. 9. U.S. reduce by a certain proportion: All prices were scaled down 10 per cent. 10. make according to a scale. 1-7 n., 8-10 v., scaled, scaling.

Scaffold for holding workmen. A scaffold may be suspended from above, like this one, or built up from the ground.

scale insect, any of various small plant-destroying insects, the females of which mostly have the body and eggs covered by a scale or shield formed by a secretion from the body.

sca lene (skā'lēn' or skā'lēn), 1. of a triangle, having three unequal sides. 2. of a cone, having the axis inclined to the base. adj.

scaling ladder, ladder for climbing walls.

scal lion (skal'yən), 1. kind of onion that does not form a large bulb. 2. shallot. 3. leek. n.

scallop (skal'əp or skal'əp), 1. shellfish somewhat like a clam. In some species the large muscle that opens and closes the shell is edible. 2. one of the two parts of the shell. Pilgrims returning from Palestine formerly wore scallops as the sign of their pilgrimage. 3. a small dish in which fish or other food is baked and served. 4. bake with sauce and bread crumbs in a dish; escalloped oysters. 5. one of a series of curves on an edge of a dress, etc. 6. make with a series of curves on: She scallops the edge of the paper with which she covers shelves. 1-3.5 n., 4, 6 v. Also, scollop.

scalp (skalp), 1. skin and hair on the top and back of the head. 2. part of this skin and hair cut off as a token of victory. Indians used to collect the scalps of their enemies. 3. cut or tear the scalp from. 4. buy and sell to make small quick profits. 5. trade in (tickets to theaters, games, etc.). 1, 2 n., 3-5 v.

scal pel (skal'pl), a small, straight knife used by surgeons. n.

scal per (skal'pər), one that scalps; especially, one who scalps stocks, tickets, etc. n.

scal y (skāl'ē), 1. covered with scales; having scales like a fish: This iron pipe is scaly with rust. 2. suggesting scales. 3. Slang. mean; shabby; stingy. adj., scal ier, scal iest.

scamp (skamp), 1. rascal; rogue; worthless person. 2. do (work, etc.) in a hasty, careless manner. 1 n., 2 v.

scam per (skam'pər), 1. run quickly: The mice scampered when the cat came. 2. a quick run: Let the dog out for a scamper. 1 v., 2 n.

scan (skan), 1. look at closely; examine with care: His mother scanned his face to see if he was telling the truth. 2. Informal. glance at; look over hastily. 3. mark off (lines of poetry) into feet. Example: Sing a | song' of | six' pence. 4. read or recite (poetry), marking off the lines into feet. 5. be according to the rules for marking off lines of poetry into feet. 6. in television, expose bits of a surface in rapid succession to beams of electrons in order to transmit a picture. v., scanned, scan ning.

Scand., 1. Scandinavia. 2. Scandinavian.

scan dal (skan'dl), 1. a shameful action that brings disgrace or offends public opinion: It was a scandal for the city official to take tax money for his own use. 2. damage to reputation; disgrace. 3. public talk about a person that will hurt his reputation; evil gossip; slander; defamation. n.

be the scandal of, scandalize.

scan dal ize (skan'dl īz), offend by something wrong or improper; shock: Lulu scandalized her grandmother by smoking cigarettes. v., scan dal ized, scan dal iz ing.

scan dal mon ger (skan'dl mung'gər), person who spreads scandal and evil gossip. n.

Scaling ladders. The large hook grips the top of the wall.

Scallops (def. 5) on a cuff scan dal ous (skan'dl əs), 1. disgraceful; shameful; shocking. 2. spreading scandal or slander; slandering. adj. —scan'dal ous ly, adv.

Scan di na via (skan'də nā'vē ə), 1. Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and Iceland. 2. peninsula on which Norway and Sweden are located. n.

Scan di na vi an (skan'də nā'vē ən), 1. of or having to do with Scandinavia, its people, or their languages. 2. native or inhabitant of Scandinavia. 3. languages of Scandinavia and Iceland, both modern and historical. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

scan di um (skan'dē əm), a rare metallic element. Symbol: Sc n.

scan sion (skan'shən), the marking off of lines of poetry into feet; scanning. In the oral scansion of poetry, a reader stresses the accented syllables heavily. n.

scant (skant), 1. not enough in size or quantity: Her coat was short and scant. 2. barely enough; barely full; bare: Use a scant cup of butter in the cake. You have a scant hour in which to pack. 3. make scant; cut down; limit; stint: Don't scant the butter if you want a rich cake. 4. Dialect. scarcely; barely; hardly. 1, 2 adj., 3 v., 4 adv.

scant of, having not enough: She was scant of breath.

scant ling (skant'ling), 1. a small beam or piece of timber, often used as an upright piece in the frame of a building. 2. small beams or timbers collectively. n.

scant y (skan'tē), 1. not enough: His scanty clothing did not keep out the cold. 2. barely enough; meager: a scanty harvest. adj., scant ier, scant iest. —scant'i ly, adv. —scant'i ness, n.

Scap a Flow (skap'ə flō'), a sea area among the Orkney Islands, north of Scotland. It is a British naval base. 15 mi. long; 8 mi. wide.

'scape (skāp), Archaic. escape. n., v., 'scaped, 'scap ing.

scape goat (skāp'gōt'), person or thing made to bear the blame for the mistakes or sins of others. The ancient Jewish high priests used to lay the sins of the people upon a goat (called the scapegoat) which was then driven out into the wilderness. n.

scape grace (skāp'grās'), a reckless, good-for-nothing person; scamp. n.

scap u la (skap'yə lə), shoulder blade. See humerus for diagram. n., pl. scap u lae (-lē) or scap u las.

scap u lar (skap'yə lər), 1. of the shoulder or shoulder blade. 2. in the Roman Catholic Church, a loose, sleeveless garment hanging from the shoulders, worn by certain religious orders. 3. two small pieces of woolen cloth joined by string passed over the shoulders, worn under the ordinary clothing by Roman Catholics as a mark of religious devotion. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

scar (skär), 1. mark left by a healed cut, wound, burn, or sore. 2. any mark like this. A fallen leaf leaves a scar where it joined the stem. 3. mark with a scar. 4. form a scar; heal. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 v., scarred, scar ring.

scar ab (skar'əb), 1. beetle, especially the sacred beetle of the ancient Egyptians. 2. image of this beetle. Scarabs were much used in ancient Egypt as charms or ornaments. n.

scar a mouch (skar'ə mouch' or skar'ə mūsh'), 1. braggart. 2. rascal. n.

scarce (skärs), 1. hard to get; rare: Good cooks are scarce. 2. scarcely. 1 adj., scarce er, scarce est; 2 adv.

make oneself scarce, Informal. 1. go away. 2. stay away.

scarce ly (skärs'lē), 1. not quite; barely: We could scarcely see through the thick fog. 2. decidedly not: He can scarcely have said that. 3. very probably not: I will scarcely pay that much. adv.

Scarab (def. 2): A, top; B, bottom.

scar ci ty (skār'sə tē), too small a supply; lack; rarity: There is a scarcity of nurses. n., pl. scar ci ties.

scare (skār), 1. frighten. 2. fright. 3. frightened condition. 1 v., scared, scaring; 2,3 n. scare up, Informal. get; raise.

scare crow (skār'krō'), 1. figure of a man dressed in old clothes, set in a field to frighten birds away from crops. 2. person dressed in ragged clothes. 3. anything that fools people into being frightened. n.

Scarecrow (def. 1) made of two sticks. The clothes are stuffed with straw.

scarf (skārf), 1. a long, broad strip of silk, lace, etc., worn about the neck, shoulders, head, or waist. 2. necktie with hanging ends. 3. a long strip of cloth, etc., used as a cover for a bureau, table, piano, etc. n., pl. scarfs or esp. Brit. scarves.

scarf (skārf), 1. joint in which the ends of beams are cut so that they lap over and join firmly. 2. end cut this way. 3. join by a scarf. 1,2 n., pl. scarfs; 3 v.

scarf pin (skārf'pin'), an ornamental pin worn in a scarf or necktie. n.

Scarfs (def. 1)

scarf skin (skārf'skin'), epidermis. n.

scar i fi ca tion (skār'ə fə kā'shən), 1. a scarifying. 2. a scratch or scratches. n.

scar i fy (skār'ə fī), 1. make scratches or cuts in the surface of (the skin, etc.). 2. criticize severely; hurt the feelings of. v., scar i fied, scar i fy ing. —scar i fī er, n.

scar la ti na (skār'lə tē'nə), 1. scarlet fever. 2. a mild form of scarlet fever. n.

scar let (skār'līt), 1. a very bright red, much lighter than crimson. 2. very bright red. 3. cloth or clothing having this color. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

scarlet fever, a very contagious disease characterized by scarlet rash, sore throat, and fever.

scarlet sage, salvia.

scarlet tanager, the common tanager of North America. The male has black wings and tail and a scarlet body.

sharp (skārp), 1. a steep slope. 2. the inner slope or side of a ditch surrounding a fortification. 3. make into a steep slope; slope steeply. 1,2 n., 3 v.

scarves (skārvz), Esp. Brit. a pl. of scarf. n.

scar y (skār'ē), Informal. 1. causing fright or alarm. 2. easily frightened. adj., scar i er, scar i est.

scathe (skāth), Archaic. hurt; harm. n., v., scathed, scath ing.

scathe less (skāth'lis), without harm; unhurt. adj. scath ing (skāth'ing), bitterly severe. adj. —scath ing ly, adv.

scat ter (skāt'ər), 1. throw here and there; sprinkle: Scatter ashes on the icy sidewalk. 2. separate and drive off in different directions: The police scattered the mob. 3. separate and go in different directions: The hens scattered. 4. act or fact of scattering. 1-3 v., 4 n. —scat ter er, n.

scat ter brain (skāt'ər brān'), a thoughtless, heedless person. n.

scat ter brained (skāt'ər brānd'), heedless; thoughtless; not able to think steadily. adj.

scat ter ing (skāt'ər ing), widely separated; occurring here and there. adj.

scatter rug, a small rug.

scap duck (skōp), any of several broad-billed wild ducks related to the canvasback; widgeon. The males have glossy black heads and necks.

scav en ger (skav'ən jər), 1. person who cleans streets, etc., taking away the dirt and filth. 2. animal that feeds on decaying matter. Vultures are scavengers. n.

sce nar i o (si nār'ē ō), 1. outline of a motion picture, giving the main facts about the scenes, persons, and acting. 2. outline of any play, opera, etc. n., pl. sce nar i os.

sce nar ist (si nār'ist), person who writes scenarios. n.

scene (sēn), 1. time, place, circumstances, etc., of a play or story: The scene of the novel is laid in Virginia during the Civil War. 2. the painted screens, hangings, etc., used in a theater to represent places: The scene represents a city street. 3. part of an act of a play: The king comes to the castle in Act I, Scene 2. 4. a particular incident of a play: the trial scene in "The Merchant of Venice."

5. action, incident, situation, etc., occurring in reality or represented in literature or art: He has painted a series of pictures called "Scenes of My Boyhood." 6. view; picture: The white sailboats in the blue water made a pretty scene. 7. show of strong feeling in front of others; exhibition; display: The child kicked and screamed and made such a scene that his mother was ashamed of him. n.

behind the scenes, 1. out of sight of the audience. 2. privately; secretly, not publicly.

scen ery (sēn'ər ē), 1. the painted hangings, fittings, etc., used in a theater to represent places. 2. the general appearance of a place: mountain scenery. n., pl. scen er ies.

sce nic (sē'nik or sen'ik), 1. of or having to do with natural scenery; having much fine scenery: a scenic highway. The scenic splendors of Yellowstone Park are famous. 2. belonging to the stage of a theater; of or having to do with stage effects: The production of the musical comedy was a scenic triumph. 3. representing an action, incident, situation, etc., in art. adj.

scent (sent), 1. smell: The scent of roses filled the air (n.). The dog scented a rabbit and ran off after it (v.). 2. sense of smell: Bloodhounds have a keen scent. 3. hunt by using the sense of smell: The dog scented about till he found the trail. 4. smell left in passing: The dogs followed the fox by scent. 5. perfume: She used too much scent. 6. fill with odor. 7. means by which a thing or a person can be traced: The police are on the scent of the thieves. 8. have a suspicion of; be aware of: I scented a trick in his offer. 1,2,4,5,7 n., 1,3,5,6,8 v.

scent less (sent'lis), having no smell. adj.

scep ter (sep'tər), 1. the rod or staff carried by a ruler as a symbol of royal power or authority. 2. furnish with a scepter. 3. royal or imperial power or authority. 1,3 n., 2 v.

scep tered (sep'tərd), 1. furnished with or bearing a scepter. 2. invested with regal authority; regal. adj.

scep tic (skep'tik), skeptic. n., adj.

scep ti cal (skep'tə kl), skeptical. adj.

scep ti cism (skep'tə siz əm), skepticism. n.

scep tre (sep'tər), Esp. Brit. scepter. n., v., scep tred, scep tring.

sched ule (skej'ül), 1. a written or printed statement of details; list: A timetable is a schedule of the coming and going of trains. 2. make a schedule of; enter in a schedule. 3. Informal. plan or arrange (something) for a definite future date: schedule the convention for the fall. 1 n., 2,3 v., sched uled, sched ul ing.

Scheldt (skelt), river flowing from N France through Belgium and SW Netherlands into the North Sea. 250 mi. n.

sche mat ic (skē mat'ik), having to do with or having the nature of a diagram, plan, or scheme; diagrammatic. adj. —sche mat i cal ly, adv.

scheme (skēm), 1. program of action; plan: He has a scheme for extracting gold from sea water. 2. plot: a scheme to cheat the government. 3. plan; plot: Those men were scheming to bring the jewels into the country without paying duty. 4. system of connected things, parts, thoughts, etc.: The color scheme of the room is blue and gold. 5. diagram; outline; table. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v., schemed, schem ing.

King holding a scepter schem ing (skēm'ing), making tricky schemes; crafty. adj.

Sche nec ta dy (skā nek'tə dē), city in E New York State. 82,000. n.

scher zo (sker'tsō), a light or playful part of a sonata or symphony. n., pl. scher zos, scher zi (-tsē).

Schick test (shik), test to determine susceptibility to or immunity from diphtheria, made by injecting a dilute diphtheria toxin under the skin.

Schiller (shil'ər), Johann Friedrich von, 1759-1805, famous German poet and dramatist. n.

schil ling (shil'ing), unit of money used in Austria since 1925, worth about 4 cents (1964). n.

schism (siz'əm), 1. division because of some difference of opinion about religion. 2. division into hostile groups. 3. offense of causing or trying to cause a religious schism. 4. sect or group formed by a schism within a church. n.

schis mat ic (siz mat'ik), 1. causing or likely to cause schism. 2. inclined toward, or guilty of, schism. 3. person who tries to cause a schism or takes part in a schism. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

schist (shist), a kind of crystalline rock that splits easily into layers. n.

schist ose (shis'tōs), of or like schist; having the structure of schist. adj.

schiz o carp (skiz'ō kărp), in botany, any dry fruit that divides, when ripe, into two or more one-seeded seed vessels that do not split open. n.

schiz oid (skiz'oid), having schizophrenia. adj.

schiz o phre ni a (skiz'ə frē'nē ə), mental disease characterized by dissociation from environment and deterioration of personality. n.

Schles wig-Hol stein (shles'wig hōl'stīn), a state in N West Germany, just south of Denmark. n.

schnapps or schnaps (shnăps), 1. Hollands. 2. any spirituous liquor. n.

schnor kle or schnor kel (shnôr'kl), snorkel. n.

schol ar (skol'ər), 1. a learned person; person having much knowledge: Professor Lodge was a famous Latin scholar. 2. pupil at school; learner. 3. student who is given money by some institution to help him continue his studies. n.

schol ar ly (skol'ər lē), 1. of a scholar; like that of a scholar: scholarly habits. 2. fit for a scholar. 3. having much knowledge; learned. 4. fond of learning; studious. 5. thorough and orderly in methods of study. 6. in a scholarly manner. 1-5 adj., 6 adv. —schol'ar li ness, n.

schol ar ship (skol'ər ship), 1. possession of knowledge gained by study; quality of learning and knowledge: Good scholarship is more important than athletics. 2. grant of money to help a student continue his studies. 3. fund to provide this money. n.

scho las tic (skə las'tik), 1. of schools, scholars, or education; academic: scholastic achievements or methods, scholastic life. 2. of or like scholasticism. 3. person who favors scholasticism. 4. theologian and philosopher in the Middle Ages. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

scho las ti cal ly (skə las'tik lē), in a scholastic way or manner; in scholastic respects. adv.

scho las ti cism (skə las'tə siz əm), 1. system of the theological and philosophical teaching in the Middle Ages, based chiefly on the authority of the church fathers and of Aristotle, and characterized by a formal method of discussion. 2. adherence to the teachings of the schools or to traditional doctrines and methods. n.

scho li ast (skō'lē ast), an ancient commentator upon the classics. n.

scho li um (skō'lē əm), 1. an explanatory note or comment; especially, an annotation upon a passage in the Greek or Latin classics. 2. note added by way of illustration or amplification. n., pl. scho li a (-lē ə).

school¹ (skül), 1. place for teaching and learning: Children go to school to learn. 2. a regular course of meetings of teachers and pupils for instruction. 3. session of such a course. 4. those who are taught and their teachers. 5. any place, situation, experience, etc., as a source of instruction or training: the school of adversity. 6. group of people holding the same beliefs or opinions: the Dutch school of painting, a gentleman of the old school. 7. a particular department or group in a university: a medical school, a law school. 8. room, rooms, building, or group of buildings in a university, set apart for the use of one department. 9. teach. 10. place of training or discipline. 11. train; discipline: School yourself to control your temper. 12. of or having to do with a school or schools. 1-8,10 n., 9,11 v., 12 adj.

school² (skül), 1. a large group of the same kind of fish or water animals swimming together: a school of mackerel. 2. swim together in a school. 1 n., 2 v.

school age, 1. age at which a child begins to go to school. 2. years during which going to school is compulsory or customary.

school board, a local board or committee managing the public schools.

school book (skül'būk'), book for study in schools. n.

school boy (skül'boi'), boy attending school. n.

school fel low (skül'fel'ō), companion at school. n.

school girl (skül'gêrl'), girl attending school. n.

school house (skül'hous'), building used as a school. n.

school ing (skül'ing), 1. instruction in school; education received at school. 2. cost of instruction. n.

school man (skül'mən), 1. man engaged in teaching or in managing a school. 2. teacher in a university of the Middle Ages; medieval theologian. n., pl. school-men.

school mas ter (skül'mas'tər), man who teaches in or manages a school. n.

school mate (skül'māt'), companion at school. n.

school mis tress (skül'mis'tris), woman who teaches in or manages a school. n.

school room (skül'rüm'), room in which pupils are taught. n.

school teach er (skül'tēch'ər), person who teaches in a school. n.

school yard (skül'yărd'), piece of ground around or near a school, used for play, games, etc. n.

school year, part of the year during which school is in session.

schoon er (skün'ər), 1. U.S. ship with two or more masts and fore-and-aft sails. 2. prairie schooner. n.

schoon er-rigged (skün'ər-rig'd'), having fore-and-aft sails. adj.

shot tische (shot'ish), 1. a dance somewhat like the polka. 2. music for it. n.

Schu bert (shü'bərt), Franz, 1797-1828, Austrian musical composer. n.

Schu mann (shü'män), Robert (Alexander), 1810-1856, German musical composer. n.

Schurz (shürts), Carl, 1829-1906, American general, statesman, and reformer, born in Germany. n.

Schuyl kill (skül'kil), river flowing from E Pennsylvania into the Delaware River at Philadelphia. 131 mi. n.

schwa (shwä), an unstressed vowel sound such as a in about or u in circus, represented by the symbol ə; neutral vowel. n.

sci., 1. science. 2. scientific.

sci at ic (sī at'ik), 1. of the hip. 2. affecting the sciatic nerves: sciatic neuralgia. adj.

sci at i ca (sī at'ə kə), pain in a sciatic nerve and its branches; neuralgia of the hips, thighs, and legs. n.

Schooner (def. 1)

sciatic nerve, a large nerve along the back part of the thigh and leg.

science (si'əns), 1. knowledge of facts and laws arranged in an orderly system. 2. branch of such knowledge. Biology, chemistry, physics, and astronomy are natural sciences. Economics and sociology are social sciences. Agriculture and engineering are applied sciences. 3. skill; technique: A good boxer must have science as well as strength and speed. n.

Science (si'əns), Christian Science. n.

scientific (si'ən tif'ik), 1. using the facts and laws of science: a scientific method, a scientific farmer. 2. of or having to do with science; used in science: scientific books, scientific instruments. adj.

scientifically (si'ən tif'ik lē), in a scientific manner; according to the facts and laws of science. adv.

scientist (si'ən tist), person who is trained in, or is familiar with, science. n.

Scientist (si'ən tist), Christian Scientist. n.

Scilly Isles (sil'ē), group of about 140 small British islands in the Atlantic off the SW tip of England. 2000 pop.; 6 sq. mi.

scimitar or scimitar (sim'ə-tər), a short, curved sword used by Turks, Persians, and other Oriental peoples. n. Also, simitar.

Scimitar

scintilla (sin til'ə), spark; particle; trace. n.

scintillate (sin'tl āt), sparkle; flash: The snow scintillates in the sun like diamonds. Brilliant wit scintillates. v., scintillated, scintillating.

scintillation (sin'tl ā'shən), 1. a sparkling; a flashing. 2. a spark; flash. n.

sciolism (si'ə liz əm), superficial knowledge. n.

sciolist (si'ə list), person who pretends to have more knowledge than he really has. n.

scion (si'ən), 1. bud or branch cut for grafting or planting. 2. descendant. n.

Scipio (sip'ē ō), 1. 237?-183? B.C., Roman general who defeated Hannibal in 202 B.C. He is called "Scipio the Elder." 2. 185?-129 B.C., Roman general who destroyed Carthage in 146 B.C. He is called "Scipio the Younger." n.

scission (sizh'ən), act of cutting, dividing, or splitting; division; separation. n.

scissor (siz'ər), cut with scissors. v.

scissors (siz'ərz), 1. tool or instrument for cutting that has two sharp blades so fastened that they will work toward each other. 2. a wrestling hold with the legs. 1 n.pl., 2 n.sing.

sclerosis (sklə rō'sis), a hardening of a tissue or part of the body by an increase of connective tissue or the like at the expense of more active tissue. n., pl. scleroses (-sēz).

sclerotic (sklə rot'ik), 1. the hard, white outer membrane of the eye. See eye for diagram. 2. of or having to do with the sclerotic. 3. of, with, or having sclerosis. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

scoff (skōf), 1. make fun to show one does not believe something; mock: We scoffed at the idea of drowning in three inches of water. 2. mocking words or acts. 3. something ridiculed or mocked. 1 v., 2,3 n. —scoff'er, n. —scoff'ing, adv.

scold (skōld), 1. find fault with; blame with angry words: His mother scolded him for tearing his coat in rough play. 2. find fault; talk angrily: Don't scold so much. 3. person who scolds; especially, a noisy, scolding woman. 1,2 v., 3 n. —scold'er, n.

Sconce

scollop (skol'əp), scallop. n., v.

sconce¹ (skons), bracket projecting from a wall, used to hold a candle or other light. n.

sconce² (skons), Informal. 1. the head; especially, the top of the head. 2. sense; wit. n.

scone (skōn or skon), a thick, flat cake cooked on a griddle; a similar cake baked in an oven. Some scones taste much like baking-powder biscuits; some are like buns. n.

scoop (skūp), 1. tool like a shovel. 2. part of a dredge, steam shovel, etc., that holds coal, sand, etc. 3. a large ladle. 4. a kitchen utensil to take out flour, sugar, etc. 5. amount taken up at one time by a scoop. 6. act of taking up. 7. place hollowed out. 8. take up or out with a scoop, or as a scoop does: Scoop out a quart of grain. The children scooped up the snow with their hands to make a snowman. 9. hollow out; dig out; make by scooping: The children scooped holes in the sand. 10. Slang. the publishing of a piece of news before a rival newspaper does. 11. Slang. the piece of news. 12. Slang. publish a piece of news before (a rival newspaper). 1-7,10,11 n., 8,9,12 v.

Scoop (def. 4)

scoopful (skūp'fūl), enough to fill a scoop. n., pl. scoopfuls.

scoot (skūt), Informal. 1. go quickly; dart. 2. act of scooting. 1 v., 2 n.

scooter (skūt'ər), 1. a child's vehicle consisting of two wheels, one in front of the other, and a footboard between, steered by a handlebar and propelled by pushing against the ground with one foot. 2. a similar vehicle run by a motor. 3. U.S. sailboat with runners, for use on either water or ice. 4. sail or go in or on a scooter. 1-3 n., 4 v.

scope (skōp), 1. distance the mind can reach; extent of view: Very hard words are not within the scope of a child's understanding. 2. space; opportunity: Football gives scope for courage and quick thinking. n.

scopolamine (skō pol'ə mēn), drug used to dilate pupils of eyes, as a depressant, to produce a partial stupor known as "twilight sleep," and to induce confession in criminals. n.

scorbutic (skôr bū'tik), 1. having to do with or of the nature of scurvy. 2. affected with scurvy. adj.

scorch (skôrçh), 1. burn slightly; burn on the outside: The cake tastes scorched. The maid scorched the shirt in ironing it. 2. a slight burn. 3. dry up; wither: grass scorched by the sun. 4. criticize with burning words. 5. Informal. ride very fast. 1,3-5 v., 2 n.

scorched earth, 1. destruction by government orders of all things useful to an invading army. 2. of or having to do with such destruction.

scorch'er (skôr'çər), 1. person or thing that scorches. 2. Informal. a very hot day. 3. Informal. person who rides very fast. n.

score (skôr), 1. record of points made in a game, contest, test, etc.: The score was 9 to 2 in our favor. 2. make as points in a game, contest, test, etc. 3. make points; succeed. 4. keep a record of (the number of points made in a game, contest, etc.). 5. make as an addition to the score; gain; win: He scored five runs for our team. 6. amount owed; debt; account: He paid his score at the inn. 7. keep a record of as an amount owed; mark; set down: The innkeeper scored on a slate the number of meals each person had. 8. group or set of twenty; twenty: A score or more were present at the party. 9. a written or printed piece of music arranged for different instruments or voices: the score of a musical comedy. 10. arrange (a piece of music) for different instruments or voices. 11. a cut; scratch; stroke; mark; line: The slave's back showed scores made by the whip. 12. cut; scratch; mark; line: Mistakes are scored in red ink. 13. U.S. Informal. blame or scold severely. 1,6,8,9,11 n., 2-5,7,10,12,13 v., scored, scoring. —score/less, adj.

scores, a large number: Scores died in the epidemic.

on the score of, because of; on account of.

pay off or settle a score, get even for an injury or wrong.

scoria (skô'rē ə), 1. slag or refuse left from ore after the metal has been melted out. 2. cinderlike lava. n., pl. scoriae (-rē ē).

scorn (skôrn), 1. look down upon; think of as mean or low; despise: Honest boys scorn sneaks and liars. 2. reject or refuse as low or wrong: The judge scorned to take a bribe. 3. a feeling that a person, animal, or act is mean or low; contempt: We feel scorn for a traitor. 4. person, animal, or thing that is scorned or despised: That coward is the scorn of the school. 1,2 v., 3,4 n. —scorn'er, n.

scornful (skôrn'fəl), showing contempt; mocking; full of scorn. adj. —scorn'fully, adv. —scorn'fulness, n.

Scorpio (skôr'pē ō), a southern constellation that was thought of as arranged in the shape of a scorpion. n.

scorpion (skôr'pē ən), 1. a small animal belonging to the same group as the spider and having a poisonous sting in its tail. 2. a whip or scourge. n.

Scorpio (skôr'pē ən), Scorpio. n.

Scot (skot), native or inhabitant of Scotland. n.

Scot., 1. Scotland. 2. Scottish. 3. Scotch.

Scotch (skoch), 1. of or having to do with Scotland, its people, or their language. 2. the people of Scotland collectively. 3. the dialect of English spoken by the people of Scotland. 4. whiskey made in Scotland. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

scotch (skoch), 1. stamp on; make harmless: scotch a snake without killing it. 2. cut or gash. v.

Scotch-Gaelic (skoch'gäl'ik), the Celtic language of the Scottish Highlanders; Erse. n.

Scotch-Irish (skoch'ī'rish), 1. of or having to do with a part of the population of Northern Ireland descended from Scotch settlers. 2. of both Scotch and Irish descent. 3. person of both Scotch and Irish descent. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

Scotchman (skoch'mən), native or inhabitant of Scotland. n., pl. Scotchmen.

Scotch terrier, kind of short-legged terrier with rough, wiry hair and pointed, standing ears.

scooter (skō'tər), a large sea duck, usually called a coot in the United States. n.

scot-free (skot'frē'), free from injury, punishment, etc.; unharmed. adj.

Scotia (skō'shə), Poetic. Scotland. n.

Scotland (skot'lənd), division of Great Britain north of England; the land of the Scotch. 5,200,000 pop.; 30,405 sq. mi. Capital: Edinburgh. n.

Scotland Yard, 1. headquarters of the London police. 2. the London police, especially the department that does detective work. 3. a short street in London formerly the site of the London police headquarters.

Scots (skots), 1. Scottish. 2. people of Scotland. 3. in the older Scottish currency. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

Scotsman (skots'mən), Scotchman; Scot. n., pl. Scotsmen.

Scott (skot), 1. Robert Falcon, 1868-1912, English naval officer and antarctic explorer. 2. Sir Walter, 1771-1832, Scottish novelist and poet. 3. Winfield, 1786-1866, American general. n.

Scotism (skot'ə siz əm), way of speaking peculiar to Scottish English. n.

Scottish (skot'ish), 1. of or having to do with Scotland, its people, or their language. 2. the people of Scotland. 3. dialect of English spoken by the people of Scotland. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Scorpion (1 to 8 in. long)

Scotch terrier (about 10 in. tall at the shoulder) scoundrel (skoun'drəl), person without honor or good principles; villain; rascal: The scoundrels who set fire to the barn have been caught. n.

scoundrelly (skoun'drəl ē), 1. having the character of a scoundrel. 2. having to do with or characteristic of a scoundrel. adj.

scour¹ (skour), 1. clean or polish by vigorous rubbing: The maid scours the knives with sand soap, and the floor with a brush and soapsuds. 2. remove dirt and grease from (anything) by rubbing. 3. make clear by flowing through or over: The stream had scoured a channel. 4. clean; cleanse. 5. act of scouring. 1-4 v., 5 n. —scour'er, n.

scour² (skour), 1. move quickly over: Men scoured the country round about for the lost child. 2. go swiftly in search or pursuit. v.

scourge (skêrj), 1. a whip. 2. any means of punishment. 3. whip; punish. 4. some thing or person that causes great trouble or misfortune. In olden times, an outbreak of disease was called a scourge. 5. trouble very much; afflict. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v., scourged, scourging.

scourings (skour'ingz), 1. dirt, refuse, material, etc., removed by, or as if by, scouring: That gang of criminals includes the scourings of two shams. 2. refuse removed from grain before milling. n.pl.

scout¹ (skout), 1. person sent to find out what the enemy is doing. A scout wears a uniform; a spy does not. 2. warship, airplane, etc., used to find out what the enemy is doing. 3. act as a scout; hunt around to find something: Go and scout for firewood for the picnic. 4. observe or examine to get information. 5. act of scouting. 6. person belonging to the Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts. 7. Slang. fellow; person: He's a good scout. 1,2,5-7 n., 3,4 v. —scout'er, n.

scout² (skout), 1. refuse to believe in; reject with scorn: He scouted the idea of a dog with two tails. 2. scoff. v.

scouting (skout'ing), activities of scouts. n.

scoutmaster (skout'mas'tər), man in charge of a troop or band of Boy Scouts. n.

scow (skou), a large, flat-bottomed boat used to carry freight, sand, etc. n.

scowl (skoul), 1. look angry or sullen by lowering the eyebrows; frown. 2. affect by scowling. 3. express with a scowl. 4. an angry, sullen look; frown. 1-3 v., 4 n. —scowl'er, n.

Scow

scrabble (skrab'l), 1. scratch or scrape about with hands, claws, etc.; scramble. 2. scrawl; scribble. 3. a scraping; scramble. 1,2 v., scrabbed, scrabbling; 3 n.

scrag (skrag), 1. a lean, skinny person or animal. An old bony horse is a scrag. 2. a lean, bony part. A scrag of mutton is the neck. 3. Slang. neck. 4. Slang. wring the neck of; hang. 1-3 n., 4 v., scragged, scragging.

scraggly (skrag'lē), rough; irregular; ragged. adj., scragglyer, scraggliest.

scraggy (skrag'ē), 1. lean; thin. 2. scraggly. adj., scraggiest, scraggiest.

scram (skram), U.S. Slang. go at once. v., scrammed, scramming.

scramble (skram'bl), 1. make one's way by climbing, crawling, etc.: The boys scrambled up the steep, rocky hill. 2. a climb or walk over rough ground: It was a long scramble through bushes and over rocks to the top of the hill. 3. struggle with others for something: The boys scrambled to get the football. 4. struggle to possess: the scramble for wealth. 5. any disorderly struggle or activity: The pile of boys on the football seemed a wild scramble of arms and legs. 6. collect in a hurry or without method. 7. mix together in a confused way. 8. cook (eggs) with the whites and yolks mixed together. 1,3,6-8 v., scrambled, scrambling; 2,4,5 n.

Scranton (skran'tən), city in NE Pennsylvania. 111,000. n.

scrap¹ (skrap), 1. a small piece; little bit; small part left over: The cook gave some scraps of meat to the dog. 2. bit of something written or printed: She read aloud scraps from the letter. 3. old metal fit only to be melted and made again. 4. make into scraps; break up. 5. throw aside as useless or worn out. 6. in the form of scraps. 1-3 n., 4, 5 v., scrapped, scrap ping; 6 adj.
scraps, the remains of animal fat left after the oil has been tried out: Richard had codfish and pork scraps for dinner.

scrap² (skrap), Slang. fight; quarrel; struggle. n., v., scrapped, scrap ping. —scrap'per, n.

scrap book (skrap'būk'), book in which pictures or clippings are pasted and kept. n.

scrape (skrāp), 1. rub with something sharp or rough; make smooth or clean thus: Scrape your muddy shoes with this old knife. 2. remove by rubbing with something sharp or rough: The man scraped some paint off the table when he pushed it through the doorway. 3. act of scraping. 4. a scraped place. 5. rub with a harsh sound; rub harshly: Don't scrape your feet on the floor. 6. the branch of the tree scraped against the window. 7. give a harsh sound; grate. 8. a harsh, grating sound: the scrape of the bow of a violin. 9. dig: The child scraped a hole in the sand. 10. collect by scraping or with difficulty: John has scraped together enough money for his first year at college. 11. manage with difficulty: That family can just scrape along but never asks for charity. 12. position hard to get out of; difficulty. 13. bow with a drawing back of the foot. 1, 2, 5, 6, 8-10, 12 v., scraped, scrap ing; 3, 4, 7, 11, 12 n.

scrape acquaintance, take the trouble to get acquainted.

scrap er (skrāp'ər), tool for scraping: Wipe your shoes on the scraper. n.

scrap ing (skrāp'ing), 1. act of one that scrapes; sound produced by this. 2. that which is scraped off, up, or together. n.

scrap iron, broken or waste pieces of old iron.

scrap ple (skrāp'l), scraps of pork boiled with corn meal, made into cakes, sliced, and fried. n.

scrap py¹ (skrāp'ē), made up of odds and ends; fragmentary; disconnected. adj., scrap pi er, scrap pi est.

scrap py² (skrāp'ē), Slang. fond of fighting. adj., scrap pi er, scrap pi est.

scratch (skrach), 1. break, mark, or cut slightly with something sharp or rough: Your feet have scratched the chair. 2. mark made by scratching. 3. tear or dig with the nails or claws: The cat scratched him. 4. a very slight cut. 5. rub or scrape to relieve itching: He scratched his head. 6. rub with a harsh noise; rub: He scratched a match on the wall. 7. sound of scratching: the scratch of a pen. 8. write in a hurry or carelessly. 9. scrape out; strike out; draw a line through. 10. withdraw (a horse, etc.) from a race or contest. 11. the starting place of a race or contest. 12. gather by effort; scrape. 13. collected by chance: a scratch football team. 1, 3, 5, 6, 8-10, 12 v., 2, 4, 7, 11 n., 13 adj.

from scratch, from nothing.

up to scratch, up to standard; in good condition.

scratch hit, hit in baseball that the batter is credited with because of some circumstance, although it would ordinarily have been an out; accidental hit.

scratch pad, pad of paper for hurried writing.

scratch y (skrach'ē), 1. that scratches, scrapes, or grates. 2. consisting of mere scratches: A baby's drawings are scratchy. adj., scratch i er, scratch i est. —scratch'i ly, adv. —scratch'i ness, n.

scrawl (skrōl), 1. write or draw poorly or carelessly. 2. poor, careless handwriting. 1 v., 2 n. —scrawl'er, n.

scraw ny (skrō'nē), U.S. Informal. lean; thin; skinny: Turkeys have scrawny necks. adj., scraw ni er, scraw ni est.

scream (skrēm), 1. make a loud, sharp, piercing cry. People scream in fright, in anger, and in sudden pain: She screamed when she saw the child fall. 2. a loud, sharp, piercing cry. 3. utter loudly. 4. laugh loudly. 5. something extremely funny. 1, 3, 4 v., 2, 5 n.

scream er (skrēm'ər), 1. one that screams. 2. a long-toed bird of South and Central America, sometimes larger than a turkey. n.

scream ing (skrēm'ing), 1. that screams. 2. evoking screams of laughter: a screaming farce.

3. startling: screaming headlines, screaming colors. adj.

scream ing ly (skrēm'ing lē), 1. in a screaming tone. 2. so as to call forth screams. adv.

screech (skrēch), scream; shriek. v., n. —screech'er, n.

screech owl, 1. any of various small owls having hornlike tufts of feathers. 2. owl that screeches, as distinguished from one that hoots. 3. barn owl.

screech y (skrēch'ē), screeching. adj., screech i er, screech i est.

screed (skrēd), 1. a long speech or writing. 2. strip of plaster (or wood) of the proper thickness, applied to the wall as a guide in plastering. n.

screen (skrēn), 1. a covered frame that hides, protects, or separates. 2. wire woven together with small openings in between: We have screens at our windows to keep out flies. 3. an ornamental partition. 4. anything like a screen: A screen of trees hides our house from the road. 5. shelter, protect, or hide with, or as with, a screen: She screened her face from the fire with a fan. 6. surface on which motion pictures, television images, etc., appear or are shown. 7. show (a motion picture) on a screen. 8. photograph with a motion-picture camera. 9. motion pictures; films. 10. adapt (a story, etc.) for reproduction as a motion picture. 11. be suitable for reproducing on a motion-picture screen. 12. sieve for sifting sand, gravel, coal, seed, etc. 13. sift with a screen or as with a screen: screen sand. 14. Many government agencies screen their employees for loyalty. 1-4, 6, 9, 12 n., 5, 7, 8, 10, 11, 13 v. —screen'a ble, adj. —screen'er, n. —screen'-like', adj.

screen ings (skrēn'ingz), matter separated out by sifting through a sieve or screen. n.pl.

screw (skrū), 1. kind of nail, with a ridge twisted evenly round its length: Turn the screw to the right to tighten it. 2. cylinder with a ridge winding round it. 3. part into which this cylinder fits and advances. 4. any thing that turns like a screw or looks like one. 5. a turn of a screw; screwing motion. 6. turn as one turns a screw; twist: Screw the lid on the jar. 7. turn like a screw; be fitted for being put together or taken apart by a screw or screws. 8. wind; twist. 9. fasten or tighten with a screw or screws: The carpenter screwed the hinges to the door. 10. force, press, or stretch tight by using screws. 11. force to do something; force (prices) down; force (people) to tell or to give up; force people to tell or give up something. 12. gather for an effort: He finally screwed up enough courage to try to dive. 13. a very stingy person; miser. 14. propeller that moves a boat. 1-5, 13, 14 n., 6-12 v. have a screw loose, Slang. be crazy. put the screws on, use pressure or force to get something.

screw ball (skrū'bōl'), Slang. an eccentric person. n.
screw driv er (skrū'driv'ər), tool for putting in or taking out screws by turning them. n.

Screech owl (about 9 in. from top of the head to tip of the tail)

Wood screws (def. 1). The blade of the screwdriver fits into the slots in the heads of these screws. With their sharp points and ridges, they cut their way into the wood.

Screw (def. 2). The ridge, or thread, on this screw fits the thread of a nut or other metal part. It is tightened with a wrench or pliers.

screw propeller, a revolving hub with radiating blades for propelling a steamship, airship, etc.

screw thread, the spiral ridge of a screw.

scribble (skrib'l), 1. write or draw carelessly or hastily. 2. make marks that do not mean anything. 3. something scribbled. 1,2 v., scribbled, scribbling; 3 n.

scribber (skrib'lər), 1. person who scribbles. 2. author of little or no importance. n.

scribe (skrib), 1. person whose occupation is writing. Before printing was invented, there were many scribes. 2. teacher of the Jewish law. 3. writer; author. 4. mark or cut with something sharp. 1-3 n., 4 v., scribed, scribing.

scrim (skrim), a loosely woven cotton or linen material, much used for window curtains. n.

scrim mage (skrim'ij), 1. a rough fight or struggle. 2. take part in a rough fight or struggle. 3. play in football that takes place when the two teams are lined up and the ball is snapped back. See halfback for diagram. 4. take part in such a play. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., scrim maged, scrim maging.

scrimp (skrimp), 1. be sparing of; use too little of. 2. be very economical; stint; skimp: Many parents have to scrimp to keep their children in school. 3. treat stingily or very economically. v.

scrimpy (skrimp'ē), too small; too little; scanty; meager. adj., scrimpi er, scrimpi est. —scrim'ily, adv. —scrim'iness, n.

scrip (skrip), 1. a writing. 2. receipt, certificate, or other document showing a right to something; especially, a certificate entitling the holder to a fraction of a share of stock. 3. paper money in amounts of less than a dollar, formerly issued in the United States. n.

script (skript), 1. written letters, figures, signs, etc.; handwriting: German script. 2. style of type that looks like handwriting. 3. manuscript of a play or actor's part. 4. manuscript used in broadcasting. n.

scrip to ri um (skrip tō'rē əm), a writing room; especially, a room in a monastery set apart for writing or copying manuscripts. n., pl. scrip to ri ums, scrip-to ri a (-rē ə).

scrip tur al or Scrip tur al (skrip'chər əl), of the Scriptures; according to the Scriptures; based on the Scriptures. adj. —scrip'tur al ly, adv.

Scrip ture (skrip'chər), 1. the Bible. 2. any sacred writing. n.

the Scriptures or the Holy Scriptures, the Bible.

scrip ture (skrip'chər), any sacred writing. n.

scribe ner (skriv'nər), Archaic. a public writer of letters or documents for others; clerk; notary. n.

scrod (skrod), U.S. a young cod, especially one split for cooking. n.

scrofu la (skrof'yə lə), form of tuberculosis characterized by the enlargement of the lymphatic glands, especially those in the neck. n.

scrofu lous (skrof'yə ləs), 1. of or having to do with scrofula. 2. having scrofula. adj.

scroll (skrōl), 1. roll of parchment or paper, especially one with writing on it: He slowly unrolled the scroll as he read from it. 2. ornament resembling a partly unrolled sheet of paper, or having a spiral or coiled form. n. —scroll'-like', adj.

Screw propeller

Scroll (def. 1). As it is read, it is unrolled from one handle and rolled up on the other.

scroll (def. 2)

scroll work (skrōl'wérk'), 1. decorative work in which scrolls are much used. 2. ornamental work cut out with a special saw. n.

Scrooge (skrūj), the old miser in Dickens's story A Christmas Carol. n.

scro tum (skrō'təm), pouch that contains the testicles. n., pl. scro ta (-tə).

scrounge (skrounj), Slang. pilfer. v., scrounged, scrounging.

scrub¹ (skrüb), 1. rub hard; wash or clean by rubbing: She scrubbed the floor with a brush and soapsuds. 2. a scrubbing: Give your hands a good scrub. 1 v., scrubbed, scrubbing; 2 n.

scrub² (skrüb), 1. low, stunted trees or shrubs. 2. anything small, or below the usual size: He is a little scrub of a man. 3. small; poor; inferior. A scrub ball team is made up of inferior, substitute, or untrained players. 4. player not on the regular team, etc. 5. of or for players not on the regular team. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 adj.

scrub by (skrüb'ē), 1. low; stunted; small; below the usual size: scrubby trees. 2. covered with scrub: scrubby land. 3. shabby; mean. adj., scrub bi er, scrub bi est.

scruff (skruf), back of the neck. n.

scrump tious (skrup'shəs), Slang. elegant; splendid; first-rate. adj.

scrunch (skrunch), crunch; crush; crumple. v., n.

scruple (skrū'pl), 1. a feeling of doubt about what one ought to do: No scruple ever holds him back from prompt action. 2. a feeling of uneasiness that keeps a person from doing something: She has scruples about playing cards for money. 3. hesitate or be unwilling (to do something): A dishonest man does not scruple to deceive others. 4. have scruples. 5. a weight of 20 grains. Three scruples make 1 dram. 6. a very small amount. 1,2,5,6 n., 3,4 v., scrupled, scrupling.

scrupu los i ty (skrū'pyə lōs'ə tē), 1. a being scrupulous; strict regard for what is right; scrupulous care. 2. an instance of this. n., pl. scrupu los i ties.

scrupu lous (skrū'pyə ləs), 1. having or showing a strict regard for what is right. 2. attending thoroughly to details; very careful: A soldier must pay scrupulous attention to orders. adj. —scrup'u lous ly, adv. —scrup'u lous ness, n.

scru ti nize (skrüt'n īz), examine closely; inspect carefully: The jeweler scrutinized the diamond for flaws. v., scru ti nized, scru ti nized ing. —scru'ti niz'ing ly, adv.

scru ti ny (skrüt'n ē), close examination; careful inspection: His work looks all right, but it will not bear scrutiny. n., pl. scru ti nies.

scu ba (skū'bə), underwater breathing equipment used by skin divers. n.

scud (skud), 1. run or move swiftly: Clouds scudded across the sky driven by the high wind. 2. a scudding. 3. clouds or spray driven by the wind. 1 v., scud ded, scud ding; 2,3 n.

scuff (skuf), 1. walk without lifting the feet; shuffle. 2. wear or injure the surface of by hard use: scuff one's shoes. 3. a scuffling. 1,2 v., 3 n.

scuf fle (skuf'l), 1. struggle or fight in a rough, confused manner. 2. a confused, rough struggle or fight. 3. shuffle. 1,3 v., scuf fled, scuf fling; 2,3 n.

scull (skul), 1. oar worked with a side twist over the end of a boat to make it go. 2. one of a pair of oars used, one on each side, by a single rower. 3. propel a boat by a scull or by sculls. 4. act of propelling by sculls. 5. a light racing boat for one or more rowers. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v.

scull er (skul'ər), 1. person who sculls. 2. boat propelled by sculling. n.

Man sculling scul ler y (skul'ər ē), Esp. Brit. a small room where the dirty, rough work of a kitchen is done. n., pl. scul ler ies.

scul lion (skul'yən), Archaic. 1. servant who does the dirty, rough work in a kitchen. 2. a low, contemptible person. n.

scul pin (skul'pin), kind of small, ugly, salt-water fish that is not edible. n.

scul por (skul'pər), person who carves or models figures; artist in sculpture. Sculptors make statues of marble and bronze. n.

scul press (skul'pʁis), a woman sculptor. n.
scul tur al (skul'pʁər əl), of or having to do with sculpture; like sculpture. adj. —scul'tur al ly, adv.

scul ture (skul'pʁər), 1. art of carving or modeling figures. Sculpture includes the cutting of statues from blocks of marble or wood, casting in bronze, and modeling in clay or wax. 2. carve or model. 3. sculptured work; piece of such work: There are many famous sculptures in Italy. 4. cover or ornament with sculpture. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v., scul tured, scul tur ing.

scul tured (skul'pʁəd), 1. carved or molded in sculpture. 2. covered or ornamented with sculpture. adj.
scum (skum), 1. a thin layer that rises to the top of a liquid: Green scum floated on the top of the pond. 2. form scum; become covered with scum. 3. low, worthless people: The saloon was filled with the scum of the town. 4. skim. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v., scummed, scum ming.

scum my (skum'ē), 1. consisting of or containing scum. 2. low; worthless. adj., scum mi er, scum mi est.

scup (skup), a narrow, high-backed sea fish used for food, common on the eastern coast of the United States; porgy. n.

scup per (skup'ər), an opening in the side of a ship to let water run off the deck. n.

scup per nong (skup'ər nŋŋ), a large, yellowish-green grape grown in the United States. n.

scurf (skərf), 1. small scales of dead skin; dandruff. 2. any scaly matter on a surface. n.

scur fy (skər'fē), 1. covered with scurf. 2. of or like scurf. adj., scur fi er, scur fi est.

scur ril i ty (skə ril'ə tē), 1. coarse joking. 2. indecent abuse. 3. an indecent or coarse remark. n., pl. scur ril i ties.

scur ri lous (skər'ə ləs), 1. coarsely joking. 2. abusive and indecent. adj. —scur'ri lous ly, adv. —scur'ri lous ness, n.

scur ry (skər'ē), 1. run quickly; hurry: We could hear the mice scurrying about in the walls. 2. a hasty running; hurrying: With much fuss and scurry, Aunt Martha at last got started. 1 v., scur ried, scur ry ing; 2 n., pl. scur ries.

scur vy (skər'vē), 1. disease characterized by swollen and bleeding gums, livid spots on the skin, and prostration, due to lack of vitamin C in the diet. Scurvy used to be common among sailors when they had little to eat except bread and salt meat. 2. low; mean; contemptible: a scurvy fellow, a scurvy trick. 1 n., 2 adj., scur vi er, scur vi est.

scut (skut), a short tail, especially that of a rabbit or deer. n.

scutch (skuch), 1. free (flax or cotton fiber) from woody parts by beating; make (fiber) ready for use by beating. 2. implement for scutching. 1 v., 2 n.

scutcheon (skuch'ən), escutcheon. n.

scut tle (skut'l), kind of bucket for holding or carrying coal. n.

scut tle (skut'l), scamper; scurry. v., scut tled, scut tling. —scut'tler, n.

scut tle (skut'l), 1. an opening in the deck or side of a ship, with a lid or cover. 2. opening in a wall or roof, with a lid or cover. 3. the lid or cover for any such opening. 4. cut a hole or holes through the bottom or sides of (a ship) to sink it: After the pirates captured the ship, they scuttled it. 5. cut a hole or holes in the deck of (a ship) to salvage the cargo. 1-3 n., 4, 5 v., scut tled, scut tling.

scut tle butt (skut'l but'), Slang. in the United States Navy, rumor and stories not based on fact. n.
scu tum (skū'təm), a shieldlike part of bone, shell, etc. n., pl. scu ta (-tə).

Scyl la (sil'ə), 1. a dangerous rock opposite the whirlpool Charybdis, at the extreme SW tip of Italy. 2. a mythical monster with six heads and twelve arms that lived on this rock and snatched sailors from ships. n.

between Scylla and Charybdis, between two dangers, one of which must be met.

scythe (sīth), a long, slightly curved blade on a long handle, for cutting grass, etc. n.

Farmer using a scythe

Scyth i a (sith'ē ə), an ancient region that extended over parts of Europe and Asia north of the Black and Caspian seas and eastward. n. —Scyth'i an, adj., n.
S. Dak. or S.D., South Dakota. The official abbreviation is S. Dak.

Se, selenium.
SE or S.E., southeast.

sea (sē), 1. the great body of salt water that covers almost three fourths of the earth's surface; the ocean. 2. any large body of salt water, smaller than an ocean, partly or wholly enclosed by land: the North Sea, the Mediterranean Sea. 3. a large lake of fresh water. 4. a large, heavy wave: A high sea swept away the ship's masts. 5. the swell of the ocean. 6. an overwhelming amount or number: a sea of trouble. 7. a broad expanse: a sea of faces. n.

at sea, 1. out on the sea. 2. puzzled; confused.
follow the sea, be a sailor.
go to sea, 1. become a sailor. 2. begin a voyage.
put to sea, begin a voyage.

sea anemone, a flowerlike polyp with a fleshy, cylindrical body and a mouth surrounded by many tentacles.

sea bass, 1. a common food fish of the Atlantic coast with a peculiar tail fin. 2. any of various similar fishes.

Sea bee (sē'bē'), member of the construction battalion of the United States Navy, composed of mechanics, carpenters, welders, etc., who normally take no part in combat. n.

sea bird, any bird that lives on or near the sea.

sea board (sē'bōrd'), 1. land near the sea; seacoast; seashore: the Atlantic seaboard. 2. bordering on the sea. 1 n., 2 adj.

sea bread, hardtack; ship biscuit.

sea bream, any of certain fishes belonging to the family which includes scups, porgies, etc.

sea breeze, breeze blowing from the sea toward the land.

sea calf, the common seal, often called the harbor seal.

sea coast (sē'kōst'), land along the sea. n.

sea cow, 1. manatee, dugong, or any similar mammal living in the sea. 2. walrus.

sea cucumber, any of a group of small echinoderms, most of which have flexible bodies that look somewhat like cucumbers.

sea dog, 1. a sailor, especially one with long experience. 2. the common seal. 3. the dogfish, a small shark.

sea elephant, kind of very large seal, the male of which has a trunklike snout.

sea far er (sē'fār'ər), 1. sailor. 2. traveler on the sea. n.

sea far ing (sē'fār'ing), 1. going, traveling, or working on the sea: Sailors are seafaring men. 2. business or calling of a sailor. 3. act or fact of traveling by sea. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

sea food (sē'fūd'), edible salt-water fish and shellfish. n.

Sea cucumber (length 5 in. to over 2 ft.)

sea girt (sē'gèrt'), Poetic. surrounded by the sea. adj.
sea go ing (sē'gō'ing), 1. going by sea; seafaring.

2. fit for going to sea: a seagoing merchant ship. adj.

sea green, light bluish green.

sea gull, gull, a sea bird with long wings and webbed feet. See gull for picture.

sea horse, 1. a kind of small fish (2 to 10 inches long) with a prehensile tail and a head suggesting that of a horse. 2. walrus. 3. in old stories, a sea animal with the foreparts of a horse and the hind parts of a fish.

sea king, a Scandinavian pirate chief of the Middle Ages.

seal (sēl), 1. design stamped on a piece of wax, etc., to show ownership or authenticity; a paper, circle, mark, etc., representing it. The seal of the United States is attached to important government papers. 2. stamp for marking things with such a design: a seal with one's initials on it.

3. piece of wax, paper, metal, etc., on which the design is stamped.

4. mark (a document) with a seal; make binding thus; certify thus: The treaty was signed and sealed by both governments.

5. close tightly; shut; fasten: Seal the letter before mailing it. She sealed the jars of fruit. Her promise sealed her lips.

6. close up the cracks of: They sealed the log cabin with clay.

7. thing that fastens or closes something tightly. 8. something that secures; pledge: under seal of secrecy.

9. something that settles or determines: the seal of authority.

10. settle; determine: The judge's words sealed the prisoner's fate.

11. give a sign that (a thing) is true: seal a promise with a kiss. They sealed their bargain by shaking hands.

12. mark; sign. 13. set apart; destine; decide beyond recall: The king's fate was sealed.

14. stamp: Christmas seals, Easter seals. 1-3, 7-9, 12, 14 n., 4-6, 10, 11, 13 v. —seal/-a ble, adj.

set one's seal to, 1. put one's seal on. 2. approve.

the seals, the symbols of public office.

seal (sēl), 1. a marine carnivorous mammal with large flippers, living usually in cold regions. Some kinds are hunted for their valuable fur. 2. the fur. 3. leather made from the skin of a seal. 4. hunt seals. 1-3 n., pl.

seals or (esp. collectively) seal for 1; 4 v.

sea legs, Informal. legs accustomed to walking steadily on a rolling or pitching ship.

get one's sea legs, become accustomed to the motion of a ship, especially after an initial period of seasickness.

sealer (sēl'ər), 1. person who hunts seals. 2. ship used for hunting seals. n.

sea level, surface of the sea, especially when halfway between mean high and low water. Heights of mountains are measured as so many feet above sea level.

sea lily, crinoid.

sealing wax, a hard kind of wax, soft when heated, used for sealing letters, packages, etc. It is made of resin and shellac.

sea lion, a large seal of the Pacific coast.

seal skin (sēl'skin'), 1. skin of the fur seal, prepared for use. 2. garment made of this fur. n.

Sea horse (5 in. long). It swims upright, and can hold on to seaweed, etc., with its tail.

Seal of the United States

Fur seal (6 ft. long)

Sea lion (about 7 ft. long)

Sea ly ham (sē'lē ham or sē'lē əm), a small dog with a rough shaggy coat, short legs, and a square jaw, that somewhat resembles the Scotch terrier. n.

seam (sēm), 1. line formed by sewing two pieces of cloth, canvas, leather, etc., together: the seams of a coat, the seams of a sail. 2. any line where edges join: The seams of the boat must be filled in if they leak.

3. sew the seam of; join with a seam. 4. any mark or line like a seam. 5. mark (the face, etc.) with wrinkles, scars, etc. 6. layer; stratum: a seam of coal.

7. crack open. 1, 2, 4, 6 n., 3, 5, 7 v. —seam/less, adj.

sea man (sē'mən), 1. sailor. 2. sailor who is not an officer. n., pl. sea men.

sea man like (sē'mən lik'), like a seaman; having the skill of a good seaman. adj.

sea man ship (sē'mən ship), skill in managing a ship. n.

sea mark (sē'märk'), 1. lighthouse, beacon, or other landmark that can be seen from the sea, used as a guide for a ship's course. 2. line on the shore that shows the limit of the tide. n.

sea men (sē'mən), sailors. n.pl.

sea mew, sea gull.

sea mile, about 6080 feet; nautical mile.

seam stress (sēm'stris), woman whose work is sewing. n. Also, sempstress.

seam y (sēm'ē), 1. having or showing seams. 2. worst; least pleasant: A policeman sees much of the seamy side of life. adj., seam i er, seam i est.

sé ance (sā'əns), 1. a sitting; session. 2. a meeting of people trying to communicate with spirits of the dead by the help of a medium. n.

sea plane (sē'plān'), airplane that can rise from and alight on water; hydroplane. n.

sea port (sē'pōrt'), port or harbor on the seacoast; city or town with a harbor that ships can reach from the sea. n.

sea purse, the horny case or pouch that some fishes secrete around their eggs to protect them and anchor them to rocks, weeds, etc.

sear (sir), 1. burn or char the surface of: The hot iron seared his flesh. 2. mark made by searing. 3. make hard or unfeeling: That cruel man must have a seared conscience. 4. dry up; wither. 5. dried up; withered. 6. become dry, burned, or hard. 1, 3, 4, 6 v., 2 n., 5 adj.

search (sērč), 1. try to find by looking; seek; look for (something): We searched all day for the lost cat. 2. look through; go over carefully; examine, especially for something concealed: The police searched the prisoner to see if he had a gun. 3. act of searching; examination: John found his book after a long search. 1, 2 v., 3 n.

in search of, trying to find; looking for.

search out, find by searching.

search ing (sērč'ing), 1. examining carefully; thorough: a searching gaze or look, a searching examination.

2. piercing; sharp: a searching wind. adj. —search/-ing ly, adv.

search light (sērč'lit'), 1. device that can throw a very bright beam of light in any direction desired.

2. the beam of light. n.

search warrant, a legal document authorizing the search of a house or building for stolen goods, criminals, etc.

sea robin, a sea fish with a large head, mailed cheeks, and three pectoral rays, especially certain reddish American species.

sea room, space at sea free from obstruction, in which a ship can easily sail, tack, turn around, etc.

sea rover, 1. pirate. 2. a pirate ship.

Sealyham (about 10 in. high at the shoulder) sea scape (sē/skāp), 1. picture showing scenery on the sea. 2. view of scenery on the sea. n.

sea serpent, 1. a huge snakelike animal supposed to live in the sea. 2. a poisonous sea snake with a finlike tail.

sea shell, shell of any sea mollusk, such as an oyster, conch, abalone, etc.

sea shore (sē/shōr'), land along the sea. n.

sea sick (sē/sik'), sick because of a ship's motion. adj.

sea sick ness (sē/sik'nis), sickness caused by a ship's motion. n.

sea side (sē/sīd'), 1. land along the sea; seacoast; seashore. 2. of or at the seaside: a seaside inn. 1 n., 2 adj.

sea son (sē/zn), 1. one of the four periods of the year; spring, summer, autumn, or winter. 2. any period of time marked by something special: the Christmas season, the harvest season. 3. time when something is occurring, active, at its best, or in fashion: the baseball season. 4. a period of time: a season of rest. 5. period of the year when a place is most frequented or active: the London season. 6. a suitable or fit time. 7. improve the flavor of: season soup with salt. 8. give interest or character to: season conversation with wit. 9. make fit for use by a period of keeping or treatment: Wood is seasoned for building by drying and hardening it. 10. become fit for use. 11. accustom; make used: Soldiers are seasoned to battle by experience in war. 12. make less severe; soften: Season justice with mercy. 1-6 n., 7-12 v. —sea/son er, n.

for a season, for a time.

in good season, early enough.

in season, 1. at the right or proper time. 2. in the time or condition for eating, hunting, etc. 3. early enough.

in season and out of season, at all times.

out of season, not in season.

sea son a ble (sē/zn ə bl), 1. suitable to the season: Hot weather is seasonable in July. 2. coming at the right or proper time: The second expedition brought seasonable aid to the men who had survived the first. adj. —sea/son a ble ness, n. —sea/son a bly, adv.

sea son al (sē/zn ə l), having to do with the seasons; depending on a season; happening at regular intervals. adj. —sea/son ally, adv.

sea son ing (sē/zn ɪŋ), 1. something that gives a better flavor. Salt, pepper, and spices are seasonings. 2. something that gives interest or character. n.

season ticket, ticket that gives its holder the right to attend a series of games or entertainments, to make a certain daily trip on a railroad for a stated period of time, etc.

sea squirt, a small, soft-bodied sea animal that squirts water when it contracts.

seat¹ (sēt), 1. thing to sit on. 2. place to sit. 3. place in which one has the right to sit. If a man has a seat in Congress or a seat in the stock exchange, it means that he is a member. 4. that part of a chair, bench, stool, etc., on which one sits: This bench has a broken seat. 5. that part of the body on which one sits, or the clothing covering it: The seat of his trousers was patched. 6. manner of sitting on horseback: That rider has a good seat. 7. that on which anything rests; base. 8. set or place on a seat: seat a person on a chair. 9. have seats for (a specified number): Our school assembly seats one thousand pupils. 10. provide with a seat or seats. 11. put a seat on. 1-7 n., 8-11 v.

be seated, 1. sit down. 2. be sitting. 3. be situated.

seat² (sēt), 1. an established place or center: A university is a seat of learning. The seat of our government is in Washington, D.C. 2. throne of a king, etc.; authority or dignity of a king, etc. 3. residence; home: The family seat of the Howards is in Kent. 4. fix in a particular or proper place; settle; locate. 1-3 n., 4 v.

SEATO, Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

sea trout, 1. any of various species of trout found in salt water. 2. any of several weakfishes.

Se at tle (sē at'l), seaport in W Washington, on Puget Sound. 557,000. n.

sea urchin, a small, round sea animal with a spiny shell.

sea wall, a strong wall or embankment made to prevent the waves from wearing away the shore, to act as a breakwater, etc.

sea ward (sē/wərd), 1. toward the sea: Our house faces seaward. 2. direction toward the sea: The island lies a mile to seaward. 1 adv., adj., 2 n.

sea wards (sē/wərdz), seaward. adv.

sea way (sē/wā'), 1. a way over the sea. 2. the open sea. 3. progress of a ship through the waves. 4. a rough sea. 5. an inland waterway that is deep enough to permit ocean shipping. n.

sea weed (sē/wēd'), any plant or plants growing in the sea. n.

sea wor thy (sē/wēr'thē), fit for sailing on the sea; able to stand storms at sea: a seaworthy ship. adj.

se ba ceous (si bā/shəs), having to do with fat; fatty; greasy. The sebaceous glands and ducts supply oil to the skin and hair. adj.

Se bas to pol (si bas'tə pōl), Sevastopol. n.

SEC, Securities and Exchange Commission.

sec., 1. secretary. 2. second; seconds. 3. section; sections.

se cant (sē/kant), 1. in geometry, a line that intersects a curve at two or more points. 2. ratio of the length of the hypotenuse of a right-angled triangle to the length of the side adjacent to an acute angle. 3. a straight line drawn from the center of a circle through one extremity of an arc to the tangent from the other extremity of the same arc. 4. ratio of the length of this line to the length of the radius of the circle. 5. intersecting. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

se cede (si sēd'), withdraw formally from an organization. v., se ced ed, se ced ing.

se ces sion (si sesh'ən), a formal withdrawing from an organization. n.

se ces sion ism (si sesh'ən iz əm), principles of those in favor of secession. n.

se ces sion ist (si sesh'ən ist), 1. person who favors secession. 2. person who secedes. n.

se clude (si klūd'), keep apart from company; shut off from others: He secludes himself and sees only his close friends. v., se clud ed, se clud ing.

se clud ed (si klūd'id), shut off from others; undisturbed. adj.

se clu sion (si klū'zhən), 1. a secluding or being secluded; retirement: She lives in seclusion apart from her friends. 2. a secluded place. n.

se clu sive (si klū'siv), 1. fond of seclusion. 2. tending to seclude. adj. —se clu/sive ness, n.

sec ond¹ (sek'ənd), 1. next after the first: the second seat from the front. 2. below the first; inferior: the second officer on a ship. 3. another; other: Napoleon has been called a second Caesar. 4. in the second group, division, rank, etc.; secondly. 5. person or thing that is second. 6. person who supports or aids another; backer: The prize fighter had a second. 7. support; back up; assist: second another person's idea. 8. express approval or support of: One member made a motion to adjourn the meeting, and another seconded it. 9. lower in musical pitch. 10. rendering a part lower in pitch: second soprano. 11. the second part in a concerted piece. 12. a voice or instrument rendering such a part. 13. a tone on the next degree from a given tone. 14. the interval between the two. 15. the harmonic combination of such tones. 16. the second tone in a scale. 1-3, 9, 10 adj., 4 adv., 5, 6, 11-16 n., 7, 8 v. —sec/ond er, n.

seconds, articles below first quality. Seconds have some defect.

Secant: The ratio of AB to AD is the secant of the angle A; and AB is the secant of the arc CD.

sec ond: (sek'ənd), 1. $\frac{1}{60}$ of a minute; $\frac{1}{3600}$ of an hour. 2. a very short time. 3. $\frac{1}{3600}$ of a degree of an angle. 12° 10' 30" means 12 degrees, 10 minutes, 30 seconds. n.

second advent, the second coming of Christ.

sec ond ar y (sek'ən der'ē), 1. next after the first in order, place, time, etc. 2. not main or chief; having less importance: Reading fast is secondary to reading well. 3. person or thing that is secondary, second in importance, or subordinate. 4. not original; derived. 5. coil or circuit in which a current is produced by induction. 6. noting or having to do with such a coil or circuit. 1,2,4,6 adj., 3,5 n., pl. sec ond aries. —sec'ond ar'ily, adv.

secondary accent, 1. a stress accent that is weaker than the strongest stress in a word (primary accent), but stronger than no stress. The second syllable of ab bre'vi a'tion has a secondary accent. 2. mark (') used to show this.

secondary school, school for secondary instruction; high school.

second childhood, a foolish or childish condition caused by old age.

sec ond-class (sek'ənd klas'), 1. of or belonging to the class next after the first. 2. having to do with the second grade of conveyances or accommodations for travel: a second-class car, second-class ticket. 3. on a second-class ship, train, etc.: travel second-class. 4. of inferior grade or quality. 1,2,4 adj., 3 adv.

sec ond-hand (sek'ənd hand'), 1. not original; obtained from another: second-hand information. 2. not new; used already by someone else: second-hand clothes. 3. dealing in used goods: a second-hand bookshop. adj.

second hand, hand on a clock or watch, pointing to the seconds. It moves around the dial once in a minute.

second lieutenant, in the army, a commissioned officer who ranks next below a first lieutenant.

sec ond ly (sek'ənd lē), in the second place. adv.

second nature, habit, quality, knowledge, etc., that a person has acquired and had for so long that it seems to be almost a part of his nature.

second person, form of a pronoun or verb used to indicate the person spoken to. You and your are used for the second person.

sec ond-rate (sek'ənd rāt'), 1. rated as second-class. 2. inferior. adj.

second sight, the supposed power of seeing distant objects or future events as if they were present.

se cre cy (sē'krē sē), 1. condition of being secret. 2. condition of being kept secret. 3. ability to keep things secret. 4. tendency to conceal; lack of frankness. n., pl. se cre cies.

se cret (sē'krīt), 1. kept from the knowledge of others: a secret marriage. 2. keeping to oneself what one knows: Be as secret as the grave. 3. known only to a few: a secret society. 4. kept from sight; hidden: a secret drawer. 5. retired; secluded: a secret place. 6. very hard to understand or discover. 7. something secret or hidden; mystery. 8. thing known only to a few. 9. a hidden cause or reason. 1-6 adj., 7-9 n. —se'cret-ly, adv.

in secret, in private; not openly.

secret agent, agent of the government secret service.

sec re tar i al (sek'rə tār'ē əl), of a secretary; having to do with a secretary: She learned to do stenography, typewriting, and other secretarial work. adj.

sec re tar i at (sek'rə tār'ē it), 1. office or position of secretary. 2. group of secretaries. 3. place where a secretary transacts business. n.

sec re tar y (sek'rə ter'ē), 1. person who writes letters, keeps records, etc., for a person, company, club, etc.: Our club has a secretary who keeps the minutes of the meeting. 2. person who has charge of a department of the government. The Secretary of the Treasury is the head of the Treasury Department. 3. a writing desk with a set of drawers and often with shelves for books.

n., pl. sec re tar ies.

secretary bird, a large, long-legged African bird of prey that feeds on reptiles, so-called because its crest suggests pens stuck over the ear.

se cre te (si krē'tē), 1. keep secret; hide. 2. make; prepare; produce: Glands in the mouth secrete saliva. v.

se cre ted, se cre ting.

se cre tion (si krē'shən), 1. substance that is secreted by some part of an animal or plant: Bile is the secretion of the liver. 2. a secreting or production of such a substance. n.

se cre tive (si krē'tiv), 1. having the habit of secrecy; not frank and open. 2. causing or aiding secretion. adj. —se cre'tive ly, adv. —se cre'tive ness, n.

secret service, 1. branch of a government that makes secret investigations. 2. an official service that is secret.

Secret Service, branch of the United States Treasury Department concerned with discovering and preventing counterfeiting, with protecting the President, and, in wartime, with espionage.

secs., 1. seconds. 2. sections.

sect (sekt), 1. group of people having the same principles, beliefs, or opinions: Each religious sect in the town had its own church. 2. a religious group separated from an established church. n.

sec tar i an (sek tār'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with a sect. 2. characteristic of one sect only; strongly prejudiced in favor of a certain sect. 3. a devoted member of a sect, especially a narrow-minded or strongly prejudiced member. 4. member of a religious group separated from an established church. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

sec tar i an ism (sek tār'ē ən iz'm), spirit or tendencies of sectarians; adherence or too great devotion to a particular sect. n.

sec ta ry (sek'tə rē), member of a particular sect; especially, a member of a religious group separated from an established church. n., pl. sec ta ries.

sec tion (sek'shən), 1. part cut off; part; division; slice: Divide the cake into sections. His section of the family estate was larger than his brother's. 2. division of a book: Chapter X has seven sections. 3. region; part of a country, city, etc.: The city has a business section and a residential section. 4. act of cutting. 5. cut into sections. 6. a representation of a thing as it would appear if cut straight through. 7. district one mile square. A township usually contains 36 sections. 8. part of a railroad line kept up by one group of workmen. 9. part of a sleeping car containing an upper and lower berth. 1-4,6-9 n., 5 v.

sec tion al (sek'shən əl), 1. having to do with a particular section; local. 2. made of sections: a sectional bookcase. adj. —sec'tion al ly, adv.

sec tion al ism (sek'shən əl iz'm), too great regard for sectional interests; sectional prejudice or hatred. n.

sec tion al ize (sek'shən əl iz), 1. render sectional. 2. divide into sections. v., sec tion al ized, sec tion al iz ing.

sec tor (sek'tər), 1. the part of a circle between two radii and the included arc. 2. a clearly defined military area which a given military unit protects or covers with fire; part of a front held by a unit. 3. instrument consisting of two rulers connected by a joint. A sector is used in measuring or drawing angles. n.

Secretary bird
(4 ft. long from beak to tip of the tail)

MON, sector
of a circle.

sec u lar (sek'yə lăr), 1. worldly, not religious or sacred: secular music, a secular education. 2. living in the world; not belonging to a religious order: the secular clergy, a secular priest. 3. a secular priest. 4. occurring once in an age; lasting for an age or century. 5. lasting through long ages; going on from age to age. 1,2,4,5 adj., 3 n. —sec' u lar ly, adv.

sec u lar ism (sek'yə lăr iz'm), 1. skepticism in regard to religion. 2. opposition to the introduction of religion into public schools or other public affairs. n.

sec u lar ist (sek'yə lăr ist), believer in secularism. n.

sec u lar i ty (sek'yə lăr'ə tē), secular spirit or quality; worldliness. n.

sec u lar ize (sek'yə lăr iz), 1. make secular or worldly; separate from religious connection or influence: secularize the schools. 2. transfer (property) from the possession of the church to that of the government. v., sec u lar ized, sec u lar iz ing. —sec' u lar i za'tion, n.

se cure (si kyūr'), 1. safe against loss, attack, escape, etc.: Keep the prisoner secure within the dungeon. This is a secure hiding place. Land in a growing city is a secure investment. 2. make safe; protect: Every loan was secured by bonds or mortgages. 3. make oneself safe; be safe: We must secure against the dangers of the coming storm. 4. sure; certain; that can be counted on: We know in advance that our victory is secure. 5. make (something) sure or certain. 6. free from care or fear: He hoped for a secure old age. 7. firmly fastened; not liable to give way: The boards of this bridge do not look secure. 8. make firm or fast: Secure the locks on the windows. 9. get; obtain: Secure your tickets early. 1,4,6,7 adj., 2,3,5,8,9 v., se cured, se cur ing. —se cur'a ble, adj. —se cure' ly, adv.

se cu ri ty (si kyūr'ə tē), 1. freedom from danger, care, or fear; feeling or condition of being safe: You may cross the street in security when a policeman holds up his hand. 2. certainty. 3. carelessness; overconfidence. 4. something that secures or makes safe: My watchdog is a security against burglars. 5. something given as a pledge that a person will fulfill some duty, promise, etc.: A life-insurance policy may serve as security for a loan. 6. person who agrees to be responsible for another: Father was security for Mr. Johnson. n., pl. se cu ri ties. securities, bond or stock certificates: These railroad securities can be sold for $5000.

secy. or sec'y., secretary.

se dan (si dan'), 1. a closed automobile seating four or more persons. 2. sedan chair. n.

Se dan (si dan'), town in NE France. Prussia defeated France there in 1870. 18,000. n.

sedan chair, a covered chair carried on two poles by two men.

se date (si dāt'), quiet; calm; serious: She is very sedate for a child and would rather read or sew than play. adj. —se date'ly, adv. —se date' ness, n.

sed a tive (sed'ə tiv), 1. medicine that lessens pain or excitement. 2. lessening pain or excitement. 3. anything soothing or calming. 4. soothing; calming. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

sed en tar y (sed'n ter'ē), 1. used to sitting still much of the time: Sedentary people get little physical exercise. 2. that keeps one sitting still much of the time: Bookkeeping is a sedentary occupation. 3. moving little and rarely. 4. fixed to one spot. 5. not migratory. Pigeons are sedentary birds. adj. —sed'en tar'i ness, n.

sedge (sej), a grasslike plant that grows in wet places. n.

sedg y (sej'ē), 1. abounding in or covered with sedge; bordered with sedge: a sedgy brook. 2. like sedge. adj.

sed i ment (sed'ə mēt), matter that settles to the bottom of a liquid: Each year the Nile overflows and deposits sediment on the land. n.

sed i men tal (sed'ə men'tl), sedimentary. adj.

sed i men ta ry (sed'ə men'tə rē), 1. of sediment; having to do with sediment. 2. formed from sediment: Shale is a sedimentary rock. adj.

sed i men ta tion (sed'ə men tā'shən), a depositing of sediment. n.

se di tion (si dish'ən), speech or action causing discontent or rebellion against the government; incitement to discontent or rebellion. n.

se di tion ar y (si dish'ən er'ē), 1. having to do with or involving sedition. 2. one guilty of sedition. 1 adj., 2 n.

se di tious (si dish'əs), 1. stirring up discontent or rebellion. 2. taking part in sedition; guilty of sedition. 3. having to do with sedition. adj. —se di'tious ly, adv.

se duce (si dūs' or si dūs'), 1. tempt to wrongdoing; persuade to do wrong: General Arnold, seduced by the offer of great wealth, betrayed his country to the enemy. 2. lead away from virtue; lead astray; beguile. 3. entice to a surrender of chastity. v., se duced, se duc ing. —se duc'er, n.

se duc tion (si duk'shən), 1. act of seducing; condition of being seduced. 2. something that seduces; temptation; attraction. n.

se duc tive (si duk'tiv), alluring; captivating; charming. adj. —se duc'tive ly, adv. —se duc'tive ness, n.

se du li ty (si dū'lə tē or si dū'lā tē), quality of being sedulous; sedulous application or care. n.

sed u lous (sej'ə ləs), hard-working; diligent; painstaking. adj. —sed'u lous ly, adv. —sed'u lous ness, n.

se dum (sē'dəm), any of a large group of fleshy plants, most of which have clusters of yellow, white, or pink flowers. n.

see (sē), 1. perceive with the eyes; look at: See that black cloud. 2. use the eyes to see things: see a tennis match. 3. have the power of sight: The blind do not see. 4. perceive with the mind; understand: I see what you mean. 5. find out; learn: I will see what needs to be done. 6. take care; make sure: See that you lock the back door. 7. think; consider: You may go if you see fit to do so. 8. have knowledge or experience of: That coat has seen hard wear. 9. attend; escort; go with: See a girl home. 10. meet; have a talk with: He wishes to see you alone. 11. call on: I went to see a friend. 12. receive a call from: She is too ill to see anyone. 13. visit; attend: We saw the World's Fair. 14. in poker, etc., meet (a bet) by staking an equal sum. v., saw, seen, see ing.

see into, understand the real character or hidden purpose of.

see off, go with to the starting place of a journey.

see out, go through with; finish.

see through, 1. understand the real character or hidden purpose of. 2. go through with; finish. 3. watch over or help through a difficulty.

see to, look after; take care of.

see: (sē), 1. position or authority of a bishop. 2. district under a bishop's authority; diocese; bishopric. n.

seed (sēd), 1. thing from which a flower, vegetable, or other plant grows; small grainlike fruit. Farmers often save part of a crop for the seeds. 2. bulb, sprout, or any part of a plant from which a new plant will grow. 3. of or containing seeds; used for seeds. 4. sow with seeds; scatter seeds over: The farmer seeded his field with corn. 5. sow (seeds). 6. produce seeds; shed seeds. 7. remove the seeds from: seed raisins. 8. source or beginning of anything: seeds of trouble. 9. children; descendants: The Jews are the seed of Abraham. 10. semen; sperm. 11. scatter or distribute (the names of players) so that the best players do not meet in the early part of a tournament. 12. scatter dry ice or other chemicals into (clouds) from an airplane in an effort to produce rain artificially. 1,2,8-10 n., pl. seeds or seed; 3 adj., 4-7,11,12 v. —seed/less, adj.

go to seed, 1. come to the time of yielding seeds.

2. come to the end of vigor, usefulness, prosperity, etc.

Sedan chair

seed case (sēd'kās'), any pod, capsule, or other dry, hollow fruit that contains seeds. n.

seed er (sēd'ər), 1. one that seeds. 2. machine or device for planting seeds. 3. machine or device for removing seeds. n.

seediness (sēd'ē nis), seedy condition. n.

seed ing (sēd'ing), 1. a sowing of seed; a sowing with seed. 2. production of seed. 3. distribution of players in a tournament. 4. the dropping of dry ice or other chemicals into clouds in an effort to produce rain. n.

seed leaf, the embryo leaf in the seed of a plant; cotyledon.

seed ling (sēd'ling), 1. a young plant grown from a seed. 2. a young tree less than three feet high. n.

seed pearl, a very small pearl.

seed plant, any plant that bears seeds. Most seed plants have flowers and produce seeds in fruits; some, such as the pines, form seeds on cones.

seeds man (sēdz'mən), 1. sower of seed. 2. dealer in seed. n., pl. seeds men.

seed vessel, any pod, capsule, or other hollow fruit that contains seeds; pericarp.

seed y (sēd'ē), 1. full of seed. 2. gone to seed. 3. Informal. shabby; no longer fresh or new: seedy clothes. adj., seed ier, seed iest. —seed'ily, adv.

see ing (sē'ing), in view of the fact; considering: Seeing that it is 10 o'clock, we will wait no longer. conj.

Seeing Eye, organization that breeds and trains dogs as guides for blind people. It is located in New Jersey.

seek (sēk), 1. try to find; look for: We are seeking a new home. 2. hunt; search: seek for something lost. 3. try to get: Friends sought his advice. 4. try; attempt: He seeks to make peace with his enemies. 5. go to: Being sleepy, he sought his bed. 6. Archaic. go. v., sought, seek ing.

seem (sēm), 1. appear; appear to be: He seemed a very old man. 2. appear to oneself: I still seem to hear the music. 3. appear to exist: There seems no need to wait longer. 4. appear to be true or to be the case: It seems likely to rain. This, it seems, is your idea of cleaning a room. v.

seem ing (sēm'ing), 1. apparent; that appears to be: a seeming advantage. 2. appearance: It was worse in its seeming than in reality. 1 adj., 2 n.

seem ing ly (sēm'ing lē), apparently; as far as appearances go: This hill is, seemingly, the highest around here. adv.

seem li ness (sēm'lē nis), fitness; suitability; propriety; decorum. n.

seem ly (sēm'lē), 1. suitable; proper: Some old people do not consider modern dances seemly. 2. having a pleasing appearance. 3. properly; becomingly; fittingly: Try to behave seemly. 1,2 adj., seem li er, seem li est; 3 adv.

seen (sēn), pp. of see: Have you seen William? v.

seep (sēp), ooze; trickle; leak: Water seeps through sand. v.

seep age (sēp'ij), 1. a seeping; leakage. 2. moisture or liquid that seeps. n.

seer (sir), person who foresees or foretells future events; prophet. n.

seer ess (sir'is), woman who is a seer. n.

seer suck er (sir'suk'ər), cloth with alternate stripes of plain and crinkled material. n.

see saw (sē'sō'), 1. plank resting on a support near its middle so the ends can move up and down. 2. a children's game in which the children sit at opposite ends of such a plank and move alternately up and down. 3. move up and down on such a plank. 4. move up and down or back and forth. 5. moving up and down or back and forth. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., 5 adj.

seethe (sēth), 1. be excited; be disturbed: The pirate crew was seething with discontent and ready for open rebellion. 2. bubble and foam: Water seethed under the falls. 3. soak; steep. 4. boil. v., seethed, seeth ing.

seg ment (seg'mənt), 1. part cut, marked, or broken off; division; section: An orange is easily pulled apart into its segments. 2. part of a circle, sphere, etc., cut off by a line or plane. 3. divide into segments. 1,2 n., 3 v.

seg men tal (seg men'tl), 1. composed of segments. 2. of or having to do with segments. 3. having the form of a segment of a circle. adj.

—seg men'tal ly, adv.

seg men ta tion (seg'mən tā'shən), 1. division into segments. 2. growth and division of a cell into two, four, eight cells, and so on. n.

se go (sē'gō), sego lily. n., pl. se gos.

sego lily, plant that has trumpet-shaped flowers, common in the SW part of the United States.

seg re gate (seg'rə gāt for 1, 2; seg'rə git or seg'rə gāt for 3), 1. separate from others; set apart; isolate: The doctor segregated the child sick with scarlet fever to protect the other patients. 2. separate from the rest and collect in one place. 3. segregated. 1,2 v., seg re gat ed, seg re gat ing; 3 adj.

seg re ga tion (seg'rə gā'shən), 1. separation from others; setting apart; isolation: the segregation of lepers. 2. separation of Negroes from other racial groups, especially in schools, theaters, etc. 3. thing separated or set apart; isolated part, group, etc. n.

seg re ga tion ist (seg'rə gā'shən ist), one who believes in the separation of Negroes from other racial groups. n.

seg re ga tive (seg'rə gā'tiv), 1. tending to segregate. 2. keeping apart from others; unsociable. adj.

sei gneur (sēn'yēr'), a feudal lord or landowner. A grand seigneur was a person of high rank or one who behaved as a person of high rank should. n.

seign ior (sēn'yar), 1. lord; lord of a manor; gentleman. 2. title of respect. n.

Seine (sān), river flowing from E France into the English Channel. Paris is on the Seine. 480 mi. n.

seine (sān), 1. a fishing net that hangs straight down in the water. It has floats at the upper edge and sinkers at the lower. 2. fish with a seine. 3. catch with a seine. 1 n., 2,3 v., seined, sein ing.

—sein'er, n.

seis mic (sīz'mik), 1. of earthquakes; having to do with an earthquake. 2. caused by an earthquake. adj.

seis mo gram (sīz'mə gram), record of an earthquake made by a seismograph. n.

seis mo graph (sīz'mə graf), instrument for recording the direction, intensity, and duration of earthquakes. n.

seis mo graph ic (sīz'mə graf'ik), 1. of a seismograph. 2. of seismography. adj.

seis mog ra phy (sīz mog'rə fē), art of using the seismograph in recording earthquakes. n.

seis mo log i cal (sīz'mə loj'ə kl), of or having to do with seismology. adj.

seis mol o gist (sīz mol'ə jist), person who is trained in seismology. n.

seis mol o gy (sīz mol'ə jē), study of earthquakes and other movements of the earth's crust. n.

seize (sēz), 1. take hold of suddenly; clutch; grasp: In fright she seized his arm. 2. grasp with the mind: seize an idea, the point, etc. 3. take possession of by force: The soldiers seized the city. 4. take possession of or come

The shaded part is a segment of the circle.

Men using a seine. It is lowered into the water and then pulled toward shore.

upon suddenly: A fever seized him. 5. take possession of by legal authority. 6. bind; lash; make fast: seize one rope to another. v., seized, seizing. seize on or upon, 1. take hold of suddenly. 2. take possession of.

seiz ing (sē'zīng), 1. binding, lashing, or fastening together with several turns of small rope, cord, etc. 2. fastening made in this way. 3. a small rope, cord, etc., used for this. n.

sei zure (sē'zhər), 1. act of seizing. 2. condition of being seized. 3. a sudden attack of disease. n.

se lah (sē'lə), a Hebrew word occurring frequently in the Psalms, supposed to be a musical direction. It perhaps means "Pause here." n.

sel dom (sel'dəm), rarely; not often: He is seldom ill. adv.

se lect (si lekt'), 1. choose; pick out: Select the book you want. 2. picked as best; chosen specially: A few select officials were admitted to the conference. 3. choice; superior: That store carries a very select line of merchandise. 4. careful in choosing; particular as to friends, company, etc.: She belongs to a very select club. 1 v., 2-4 adj. —se lect'ness, n.

se lect ee (si lek'tē), person drafted for military service by the United States in 1940 and later. n.

se lec tion (si lek'shən), 1. choice: Nell's selection of a hat took a long time. The shop offered a very good selection of hats. 2. person, thing, or group chosen: The plain blue hat was Jane's selection. 3. the process of selecting animals or plants to survive. By natural selection such animals and plants survive as are fitted to their environments. n.

se lec tive (si lek'tiv), 1. selecting; having the power to select. 2. having to do with selection. 3. responding to oscillations of a certain frequency only. When a selective radio is tuned to one station, those on other wave lengths are excluded. adj.

Selective Service, selection of persons from the total manpower of a country for compulsory military service.

se lec tiv i ty (si lek'tiv'ə tē), 1. quality of being selective. 2. property of a circuit, instrument, or the like, by virtue of which it responds to electric oscillations of a particular frequency; especially, the ability of a radio receiving set to receive certain frequencies or waves to the exclusion of others. n.

se lect man (si lekt'mən), one of a board of town officers in New England, chosen each year to manage certain public affairs. n., pl. se lect men.

se lec tor (si lek'tər), 1. person who selects. 2. a mechanical or electrical device that selects. n.

Se le ne (sə lē'nē), the Greek goddess of the moon. n.

sel e nite (sel'ə nīt or səlē'nīt), variety of gypsum, found in transparent crystals and foliated masses. n.

se le ni um (sə lē'nē əm), a nonmetallic element resembling sulfur in chemical properties. Because its electrical resistance varies with the amount of light, it is used in photoelectric cells. Symbol: Se n.

self (self), 1. one's own person: his very self. 2. one's own welfare, interests, etc.: A selfish person puts self first. 3. nature, character, etc., of a person or thing: She does not seem like her former self. 4. being the same throughout; all of one kind, quality, color, material, etc. 5. myself; himself; herself; yourself: a check made payable to self. 1-3 n., pl. selves; 4 adj., 5 pron., pl. selves.

self-, prefix meaning:

1. of or over oneself, etc., as in self-conscious, self-control. 2. by or in oneself, etc., as in self-inflicted, self-evident. 3. to or for oneself, etc., as in self-addressed, self-respect. 4. automatic; automatically, as in self-starter, self-winding.

Nautical seizings self-ad dressed (self'ə drest'), addressed to oneself: a self-addressed envelope. adj.

self-as ser tion (self'ə sēr'shən), insistence on one's own wishes, opinions, claims, etc. n.

self-as ser tive (self'ə sēr'tiv), putting oneself forward; insisting on one's own wishes, opinions, etc. adj.

self-as sur ance (self'ə shūr'əns), self-confidence. n.

self-as sured (self'ə shūr'd'), self-confident; sure of oneself. adj.

self-cen tered (self'sen'tərd), 1. occupied with one's own interests and affairs. 2. selfish. 3. being a fixed point around which other things move. adj.

self-com mand (self'kə mand'), control of oneself. n.

self-com pla cence (self'kəm plā'sns), self-complacency. n.

self com pla cen cy (self'kəm plā'sn sē), being self-satisfied. n.

self-com pla cent (self'kəm plā'snt), pleased with oneself; self-satisfied. adj. —self'-com pla'cent ly, adv.

self-con ceit (self'kən sēt'), conceit; too much pride in oneself or one's ability. n.

self-con fi dence (self'kon'fə dəns), belief in one's own ability, power, judgment, etc.; confidence in oneself. n.

self-con fi dent (self'kon'fə dənt), believing in one's own ability, power, judgment, etc. adj. —self'-con-fi dent ly, adv.

self-con sci ous (self'kon'shəs), made conscious of how one is appearing to others; embarrassed, especially by the presence or the thought of other people and their attitude toward one; shy. adj. —self'-con'scious ly, adv. —self'-con'scious ness, n.

self-con se quence (self'kon'sə kwəns), sense of one's own importance. n.

self-con sist ent (self'kən sis'tənt), consistent with oneself or itself; having its parts or elements in agreement. adj.

self-con tained (self'kən tānd'), 1. saying little; reserved. 2. containing in oneself or itself all that is necessary; independent of what is external. 3. having all its working parts contained in one case, cover, or framework: A watch is self-contained. adj.

self-con tra dic tion (self'kon'trə dik'shən), 1. contradiction of oneself or itself. 2. statement containing elements that are contradictory. n.

self-con tra dic to ry (self'kon'trə dik'tə rē), contradicting oneself or itself. adj.

self-con trol (self'kən trōl'), control of one's actions, feelings, etc. n.

self-de cep tive (self'di sep'tiv), deceiving oneself. adj.

self-de fense (self'di fens'), defense of one's own person, property, reputation, etc. n.

self-de ni al (self'di nī'əl), sacrifice of one's own desires and interests; going without things one wants; austerity. n.

self-de ny ing (self'di nī'ing), unselfish; sacrificing one's own wishes and interests. adj.

self-de ter mi na tion (self'di tēr'mə nā'shən), 1. direction from within only, without influence or force from without. 2. the deciding by the people of a nation what form of government they shall have, without reference to the wishes of any other nation. n.

self-de vo tion (self'di vō'shən), self-sacrifice. n.

self-dis ci pline (self'dis'ə plin), careful control and training of oneself. n.

self-ed u cat ed (self'ej'ə kāt'id), self-taught; educated by one's own efforts. adj.

self-ef face ment (self'ə fās'mənt), act or habit of modestly keeping oneself in the background. n.

self-es teem (self'es tēm'), 1. thinking well of oneself; self-respect. 2. thinking too well of oneself; conceit. n.

self-ev i dent (self'ev'ə dənt), evident by itself; needing no proof. adj.

self-ex plan a to ry (self'eks plan'ə tō'rē), explaining itself; that needs no explanation; obvious. adj.

self-expres sion (self'eks presh'ən), expression of one's personality. n.
self-fill ing (self'fīl'ing), that can fill itself. adj.
self-gov ern ing (self'gʊv'ər nɪŋ), that governs itself. adj.
self-gov ern ment (self'gʊv'ər nɪmənt), 1. government of a group by its own members: self-government through elected representatives. 2. self-control. n.
self heal (self'hēl'), weed with blue or purple flowers, formerly supposed to heal wounds. n.
self-help (self'hɛlp'), a helping oneself; getting along without assistance from others. n.
self-im por tance (self'im pɔrt'sns), a having or showing too high an opinion of one's own importance; conceit; behavior showing conceit. n.
self-im por tant (self'im pɔrt'nt), having or showing too high an opinion of one's own importance. adj.
 —self'-im por'tant ly, adv.
self-im posed (self'im pɔzd'), imposed on oneself by oneself. adj.
self-im prove ment (self'im pruv'mənt), improvement of one's character, mind, etc., by one's own efforts. n.
self-in duced (self'in dʊst' or self'in dʊst'), 1. induced by itself; induced by oneself. 2. produced by self-induction. adj.
self-in duc tion (self'in duk'shən), the inducing of an electric current in a circuit by a varying current in that circuit. n.
self-in dul gence (self'in dul'jəns), gratification of one's own desires, passions, etc., with too little regard for the welfare of others. n.
self-in dul gent (self'in dul'jənt), characterized by self-indulgence. adj. —self'-in dul'gent ly, adv.
self-in flict ed (self'in flɪk'tɪd), inflicted on oneself by oneself. adj.
self-in ter est (self'in tər'ɪst), 1. interest in one's own welfare with too little care for the welfare of others; selfishness. 2. personal advantage. n.
self ish (self'fɪʃ), 1. caring too much for oneself; caring too little for others. A selfish person puts his own interests first. 2. showing care solely or chiefly for oneself: selfish motives. adj. —self'ish ly, adv. —self'ish ness, n.
self less (self'lis), having no regard or thought for self; unselfish. adj.
self-love (self'lʊv'), 1. love of oneself; selfishness. 2. conceit. n.
self-made (self'mād'), 1. made by oneself. 2. successful through one's own efforts. adj.
self-pit y (self'pɪt'ē), pity for oneself. n.
self-pos sessed (self'pɔz'est'), having or showing control of one's feelings and acts; not excited, embarrassed, or confused; calm. adj.
self-pos ses sion (self'pɔzesh'ən), control of one's feelings and actions; composure; calmness. n.
self-praise (self'prāz'), praise of oneself. n.
self-pres er va tion (self'prez'ər vā'shən), preservation of oneself from harm or destruction. n.
self-reg is ter ing (self'rej'is tər'ɪŋ), registering automatically. adj.
self-reg u lat ing (self'reg'yə lāt'ɪŋ), regulating oneself or itself. adj.
self-re li ance (self'ri lɪ'əns), reliance on one's own acts, abilities, etc. n.
self-re li ant (self'ri lɪ'ənt), having or showing self-reliance. adj. —self'-re li'ant ly, adv.
self-re proach (self'ri prɔch'), blame by one's own conscience. n.
self-re spect (self'ri spekt'), respect for oneself; proper pride. n.
self-re spect ing (self'ri spekt'ɪŋ), having self-respect; properly proud. adj.
self-re straint (self'ri strənt'), self-control. n.

self-right eous (self'ri'chəs), thinking that one is more moral than others; thinking that one is very good and pleasing to God. adj. —self'-right'eous ly, adv. —self'-right'eous ness, n.
self-sac ri fice (self'sak'rə'fis), sacrifice of one's own interests and desires, for one's duty, another's welfare, etc. n.
self-sac ri fic ing (self'sak'rə'fis'ɪŋ), unselfish; giving up things for someone else. adj.
self same (self'sām'), very same: We study the self-same books that you do. adj.
self-sat is fac tion (self'sat'is fak'shən), satisfaction with oneself. n.
self-sat is fied (self'sat'is fɪd), pleased with oneself. adj.
self-seek er (self'sēk'ər), person who seeks his own interests too much. n.
self-seek ing (self'sēk'ɪŋ), 1. selfish. 2. selfishness. 1 adj., 2 n.
self-ser vice (self'sər'vis), act or process of serving oneself in a restaurant, store, etc. n.
self-start er (self'stār'tər), an electric motor or other device used to start an engine automatically. n.
self-styled (self'stɪld'), called by oneself: a self-styled leader whom no one follows. adj.
self-suf fi cien cy (self'sə'fɪʃ'ən sē), 1. ability to supply one's own needs. 2. conceit; self-assurance. n.
self-suf fi cient (self'sə'fɪʃ'ənt), 1. asking no help; independent. 2. having too much confidence in one's own resources, powers, etc.; conceited. adj.
self-suf fic ing (self'sə'fɪs'ɪŋ), sufficing in or for oneself or itself; self-sufficient. adj.
self-sup port (self'sə'pɔrt'), unaided support of oneself. n.
self-sup port ing (self'sə'pɔrt'ɪŋ), earning one's expenses; getting along without help. adj.
self-sus tain ing (self'səs'tān'ɪŋ), self-supporting. adj.
self-taught (self'tɔt'), taught by oneself without aid from others. adj.
self-will (self'wil'), insistence on having one's own way. n.
self-willed (self'wɪld'), insisting on having one's own way; objecting to doing what others ask or command. adj.
self-wind ing (self'wɪn'dɪŋ), that is wound automatically. adj.
Sel juk (sel'jʊk'), 1. noting or having to do with certain Turkish dynasties or tribes that ruled over large parts of Asia from the 11th to the 13th century. 2. member of one of these dynasties or tribes. 1 adj., 2 n.
Sel juk i an (sel'jʊk'ē'ən), Seljuk. n., adj.
Sel kirk Mountains (sel'kɜrk'), mountain range in SW Canada. The highest peak is 10,808 feet. sell (sel), 1. exchange for money or other payment: sell a house. 2. deal in; keep for sale: The butcher sells meat. 3. be given in exchange; be on sale; be sold: Strawberries sell at a high price in January. 4. give up; betray: The traitor sold his country for money. 5. cause to be accepted, approved, or adopted by representations and methods characteristic of salesmanship: sell an idea to the public. 6. Informal. win acceptance, approval, or adoption: an idea that will sell. 7. Slang. cheat; trick; hoax. 1-7 v., sold, sell ing; 7 n.
sell out, 1. sell all that one has or; get rid of by selling. 2. Slang. betray by a secret bargain.
sell er (sel'ər), 1. person who sells. 2. thing considered with reference to its sale: This book is a best seller. n.
sell-out (sel'out'), 1. U.S. Slang. a selling out. 2. Informal. performance of a play, sports event, etc., for which no unsold seats are left. n.
Selt zer (selt'sər), 1. a bubbling mineral water containing salt, sodium, calcium, and magnesium carbonates. 2. an artificial water of similar composition. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒH, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

selvage or selvedge (sel'vij), edge of a fabric finished off to prevent raveling; border; edge. n.

selves (selvz), pl. of self. He had two selves—a good self and a bad self. n.

seman tic (sə man'tik), having to do with meaning. adj.

seman tics (sə man'tiks), the scientific study of the meanings, and the development of meanings, of words. n.

Railroad semaphores

sem a phore (sem'ə fôr), 1. apparatus for signaling; upright post or structure with movable arms, an arrangement of lanterns, flags, etc., used in railroad signaling. 2. signal by semaphore. 1 n., 2 v., sem a phored, sem a phoring.

Se ma rang (sə mǎ'rāng), seaport in N Java, in Indonesia. 445,000. n.

sem blance (sem'blāns), 1. outward appearance: His story had the semblance of truth but was really false. 2. likeness: These clouds have the semblance of a face. n.

se men (sē'mān), fluid containing the male reproductive cells. n.

se mes ter (sə mes'tər), half of a school year. n.

semi-, prefix meaning:

1. half: Semicircle = half circle.

2. partly; incompletely: Semicivilized = partly civilized.

3. twice. Semi—ly means in each half of a —, or twice in a —: Semiannually = every half year, or twice a year.

sem i an nu al (sem'ē an'yū əl), 1. occurring every half year. 2. lasting a half year. adj.

sem i an nu al ly (sem'ē an'yū əl ē), twice a year. adv.

sem i ar id (sem'ē ar'id), having little rainfall. adj.

sem i bre ve (sem'ē brēv'), the longest note in common use in music; whole note. n.

sem i cir cle (sem'ē sēr'kl), half a circle: We sat in a semicircle around the fire. n.

sem i cir cu lar (sem'ē sēr'kyə lər), having the form of half a circle. adj.

semicircular canal, any of three curved, tubelike canals in the inner part of the ear that help us keep our balance. See ear for diagram.

sem i co lon (sem'ē kō'lən), mark of punctuation (;) that shows a separation not so complete as that shown by a period. n.

sem i con duct or (sem'ē kən duk'tər), a mineral crystal, such as germanium, that conducts electricity with an efficiency between that of metals and insulators. n.

sem i con sci ous (sem'ē kon'shəs), half conscious; not fully conscious. adj. —sem'i con'scious ly, adv. —sem'i con'scious ness, n.

sem i de vel oped (sem'ē di vel'əpt), not fully developed. adj.

sem i fi nal (sem'ē fī'nəl), 1. one of the two rounds, matches, etc., that immediately precede the final one. 2. designating or having to do with such a round, match, etc. 1 n., 2 adj.

sem i month ly (sem'ē munt'h/lē), 1. occurring or appearing twice a month. 2. twice a month. 3. something that occurs or appears twice a month; magazine or paper published twice a month. 1 adj., 2 adv., 3 n., pl. sem i month lies.

sem i nal (sem'ə nl), 1. of or having to do with semen or seed. 2. containing semen or seed. 3. having to do with reproduction. 4. like seed; having the possibility of future development. adj.

sem i nar (sem'ə nār), 1. group of college or university students doing research under direction. 2. course of study or work for such a group. n.

sem i nar y (sem'ə ner'ē), 1. school, especially one beyond high school. 2. academy or boarding school, especially for young women. 3. school or college for training students to be priests, ministers, etc. 4. place for instruction, training, or development. n., pl. sem i nar ies.

sem i na tion (sem'ə nā'shən), a sowing; propagation; dissemination. n.

sem i nif er ous (sem'ə nif'ər əs), 1. bearing or producing seed. 2. conveying or containing semen. adj.

Sem i no le (sem'ə nōl), member of a tribe of American Indians that left the Creek Confederacy and settled in Florida. Most of this tribe now lives in Oklahoma. n., pl. Sem i no le or Sem i no les.

sem i of fi cial (sem'ē ə fī'sh'əl), partly official; having some degree of authority. adj.

sem i pre cious (sem'ē presh'əs), having value but not great value. Amethysts and garnets are semiprecious stones; diamonds and rubies are precious stones. adj.

sem i qua ver (sem'ē kwā'vər), a sixteenth note. n.

sem i skilled (sem'ē skild'), partly skilled. adj.

sem i sol id (sem'ē sol'id), 1. partly solid. 2. a partly solid substance. 1 adj., 2 n.

Sem i te (sem'it or sēm'it), member of the linguistic family that includes the Hebrews, Arabs, Syrians, Phoenicians, Assyrians, etc. n.

Se mit ic (sə mit'ik), 1. of or having to do with the Semites or their languages. 2. group of languages including Hebrew, Arabic, Aramaic, Phoenician, and Assyrian. 1 adj., 2 n.

Sem i tism (sem'ə tiz əm or sēm'mə tiz əm), 1. Semitic character; especially, the ways, ideas, influence, etc., of the Jews. 2. a Semitic word or idiom. n.

sem i tone (sem'ē tōn'), one of the smaller intervals of the modern musical scale; half tone; half step. n.

sem i trop i cal (sem'ē trop'ə kl), halfway between tropical and temperate: Florida is a semitropical State. adj.

sem i vow el (sem'ē vou'əl), 1. sound that is both a vowel and a consonant. 2. letter or character representing such a sound. W and y are semivowels in win and yet. n.

sem i week ly (sem'ē wēk'lē), 1. occurring or appearing twice a week. 2. twice a week. 3. something that occurs or appears twice a week; magazine or paper published twice a week. 1 adj., 2 adv., 3 n., pl. sem i week lies.

sem o li na (sem'ə lē'nə), the coarsely ground hard parts of wheat remaining after the fine flour has been sifted through, used in making puddings, macaroni, etc. n.

sem pi ter nal (sem'pi tēr'nəl), everlasting; eternal. adj.

semp stress (sem'stris or semp'stris), seamstress. n.

sen (sen), a Japanese copper or bronze coin, equal to 1/100 of a yen. About 360 sen equal the value of a United States cent (1964). n., pl. sen.

Sen, or sen., 1. Senate. 2. Senator. 3. Senior.

sen ate (sen'it), 1. a governing or lawmaking assembly. The highest council of state in ancient Rome was called the senate. 2. the upper and smaller branch of an assembly that makes laws. n.

Sen ate (sen'it), 1. the upper house of Congress or of a State legislature. 2. the upper house of the legislature of certain other countries, such as Canada, Australia, etc. n.

sen a tor (sen'ə tər), member of a senate. n.

sen a to ri al (sen'ə tō'rē əl), 1. of or befitting a senator or senators. 2. consisting of senators. 3. entitled to elect a senator: a senatorial district. adj.

sen a tor ship (sen'ə tər ship'), position, duties, etc., of a senator. n.

send (send), 1. cause to go: The volcano sent clouds of smoke into the air. 2. cause to be carried: send a letter. 3. cause to come, occur, be, etc.: God sends rain. 4. send a message or messenger: send for a doctor. 5. drive; impel; throw: send a ball. v., sent, send ing. —send'er, n.

send-off (send'ɒf'), 1. a friendly demonstration in honor of a person setting out on a journey, course, career, etc. 2. Informal. a start (favorable or unfavorable) given to a person or thing. n.

Sen e ca¹ (sen'ə kə), Lucius Annaeus, 4? B.C.-65 A.D., Roman philosopher. He also wrote tragedies. n.

Sen e ca² (sen'ə kə), member of the largest tribe of the Iroquois Confederacy of American Indians. n.

Sen e gal (sen'ə gəl), 1. republic in W Africa on the Atlantic, a member of the French Community. 2,550,000 pop.; 76,123 sq. mi. Capital: Dakar. 2. river in W Africa flowing into the Atlantic. 1000 mi. n.

Sen e gal ese (sen'ə gəl'ez'), 1. of or having to do with Senegal or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Senegal. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. Sen e gal ese.

se nes cence (sə nes'ns), fact or condition of growing old. n.

se nes cent (sə nes'nt), growing old. adj.

sen es chal (sen'ə shəl), steward in charge of a royal palace, nobleman's estate, etc., in the Middle Ages. Seneschals often had the powers of judges or generals. n.

se nile (sē'nīl), 1. of old age. 2. showing the weakness of old age. 3. caused by old age. adj.

se nil i ty (sə nil'ə tē), 1. old age. 2. weakness of old age. n.

sen ior (sēn'yər), 1. older. 2. the older; designating a father whose son has the same given name: John Parker, Senior. 3. an older person: Paul is his brother's senior by two years. 4. higher in rank or longer in service: Mr. Jones is the senior member of the firm of Jones and Brown. 5. person of higher rank or longer service. 6. U.S. member of the graduating class of a high school or college. 7. U.S. of or having to do with the graduating class. 1,2,4,7 adj., 3,5,6 n.

senior high school, school attended after junior high school. It usually has grades 10, 11, and 12.

sen ior i ty (sēn yōr'ə tē), superiority in age or standing; state or fact of being older: Harry felt that two years' seniority gave him the right to advise his brother. n., pl. sen ior i ties.

sen na (sen'ə), 1. laxative extracted from the dried leaves of any of several cassia plants. 2. the dried leaves of any of these plants. 3. the cassia plant, or a plant similar to it. n.

Sen nach er ib (sə nak'ər ib), died 681 B.C., king of Assyria from 705 to 681 B.C. n.

sen nit (sen'it), kind of flat, braided cordage used on shipboard, formed by plaiting strands of rope yarn or other fiber. n.

se ñor (sā nyōr'), Spanish. 1. Mr.; sir. 2. gentleman. n., pl. se ñores (-nyō'rās).

se ño ra (sā nyō'rā), Spanish. 1. Mrs.; Madame. 2. lady. n.

se ño ri ta (sā nyō rē'tā), Spanish. 1. Miss. 2. a young lady. n.

sen sa tion (sen sã'shən), 1. action of the senses; power to see, hear, feel, taste, smell, etc.: A dead body is without sensation. 2. feeling: Ice gives a sensation of coldness; sugar, of sweetness. 3. strong or excited feeling: The announcement of war caused a sensation throughout the nation. 4. cause of such feeling: The sudden conquest of France was the great sensation of 1940. n.

sen sa tion al (sen sã'shən l), 1. arousing strong or excited feeling: There were sensational developments in the murder case. 2. trying to arouse strong or excited feeling. 3. of the senses; having to do with sensation. adj. —sen sa tion al ly, adv.

sen sa tion al ism (sen sã'shən l iz'əm), 1. sensational methods; sensational writing, language, etc. 2. the philosophical theory or doctrine that all ideas are derived solely through sensation. n.

sen sa tion al ist (sen sã'shən l ist), 1. sensational writer, speaker, etc.; one who tries to make a sensation. 2. believer in philosophical sensationalism. n.

sense (sens), 1. power of the mind to know what happens outside itself. Sight, hearing, touch, taste, and smell are the five senses. 2. feeling: The extra lock on the door gave him a sense of security. 3. be aware; feel:

She sensed that he was tired. 4. understanding; appreciation: Everyone thinks he has a sense of humor. 5. Informal. understand. 6. judgment; intelligence: He had the good sense to keep out of foolish quarrels. Common sense would have prevented the accident. 7. meaning: He was a gentleman in every sense of the word. 8. the general opinion: The sense of the assembly was clear even before the vote. 1,2,4,6-8 n., 3,5 v., sensed, sensing.

senses, normal, sound condition of mind: He must be out of his senses to act so.

in a sense, in some respects; to some degree.

make sense, be understandable; be reasonable: The words "Cow cat bless Monday!" do not make sense.

sense less (sens'lis), 1. unconscious: A blow on the head knocked him senseless. 2. foolish; stupid. 3. meaningless: senseless words. adj. —sense/less ly, adv. —sense/less ness, n.

sense organ, eye, ear, or other part of the body by which a person or an animal receives sensations of heat, colors, sounds, smells, etc.

sen si bil i ty (sen'sə bil'ə tē), 1. ability to feel or perceive: Some drugs lessen a person's sensibilities. 2. sensitiveness. 3. fineness of feeling: She has an unusual sensibility for colors. 4. tendency to feel hurt or offended too easily. 5. awareness; consciousness. n., pl. sen si bil i ties.

sensibilities, sensitive feelings.

sen si ble (sen'sə bl), 1. having or showing good judgment; wise: He is too sensible to do anything foolish. 2. aware; conscious: I am sensible of your kindness. 3. that can be noticed: There is a sensible difference between yellow and orange. 4. that can be perceived by the senses. 5. sensitive. adj.

sen si bly (sen'sə blē), 1. in a sensible manner; with good sense. 2. so as to be felt. adv.

sen si tive (sen'sə tiv), 1. receiving impressions readily: The eye is sensitive to light. 2. easily affected or influenced: The mercury in the thermometer is sensitive to changes in temperature. 3. easily hurt or offended. 4. of or connected with the senses or sensation. adj. —sen/si tive ly, adv. —sen/si tive ness, n.

sensitive plant, 1. a tropical American plant whose leaflets fold together when touched. 2. any of various other plants showing sensitiveness to touch.

sen si tiv i ty (sen'sə tiv'ə tē), state or quality of being sensitive. n., pl. sen si tiv i ties.

sen si tize (sen'sə tiz), make sensitive. Camera films have been sensitized to light. v., sen si tized, sen si tizing. —sen/si tiz'er, n.

sen so ri al (sen sō'rē əl), sensory. adj.

sen so ry (sen'sə rē), of or having to do with sensation. The eyes and ears are sensory organs. adj.

sen su al (sen'shū əl), 1. having to do with the bodily senses rather than with the mind or soul: Gluttons derive sensual pleasure from eating. 2. caring too much for the pleasures of the senses. 3. lustful; lewd. 4. of or having to do with the senses or sensation. adj. —sen/su al ly, adv.

sen su al ism (sen'shū əl iz'əm), sensuality. n.

sen su al ist (sen'shū ə list), person who indulges too much in the pleasures of the senses: Gluttons and drunkards are sensualists. n.

sen su al i ty (sen'shū əl'ə tē), 1. sensual nature. 2. excessive indulgence in the pleasures of the senses. 3. lewdness. n., pl. sen su al i ties.

sen su al ize (sen'shū ə liz'), make sensual. v., sen su al ized, sen su al izing.

sen su ous (sen'shū əs), 1. of or derived from the senses; having an effect on the senses; perceived by the senses: the sensuous thrill of a warm bath, a sensuous love of color. 2. enjoying the pleasures of the senses. adj. —sen/su ous ly, adv. —sen/su ous ness, n.

sent (sent), pt. and pp. of send. They sent the trunks last week. Nan was sent on an errand. v.

hat, âge, cäre, fär; let, bē, tērm; it, ïce; hot, gō, ôrder; oil, out; cup, püt, rüle, üse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ƥh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

sen tence (sen'təns), 1. group of words that expresses a complete thought: "Boys and girls" is not a sentence. "The boys are here" is a sentence. 2. decision. 3. decision by a judge on the punishment of a criminal. 4. the punishment itself. 5. pronounce punishment on: The judge sentenced the thief to five years in prison. 6. a short wise saying; proverb. 1-4,6 n., 5 v., sen tenced, sen tencing.

sen ten tial (sen ten'shəl), 1. having to do with or of the nature of a judicial sentence. 2. having to do with a grammatical sentence. adj.

sen ten tious (sen ten'shəs), 1. full of meaning; saying much in few words. 2. speaking as if one were a judge settling a question. 3. inclined to make wise sayings; abounding in proverbs. adj. —sen ten tious ly, adv. —sen ten tious ness, n.

sen ti ence (sen'shəns), capacity for feeling: Some people believe in the sentience of flowers. n.

sen tient (sen'shənt), 1. that can feel; having feeling. 2. one that feels. 1 adj., 2 n.

sen ti ment (sen'tə mənt), 1. mixture of thought and feeling. Admiration, patriotism, and loyalty are sentiments. 2. feeling, especially refined or tender feeling. 3. thought or saying that expresses feeling. 4. a mental attitude. 5. a personal opinion. n.

sen ti men tal (sen'tə men'tl), 1. having or showing much tender feeling: sentimental poetry. 2. likely to act from feelings rather than from logical thinking. 3. of sentiment; dependent on sentiment: She values her mother's gift for sentimental reasons. 4. having too much sentiment. adj. —sen'ti men'tal ly, adv.

sen ti men tal ism (sen'tə men'tl iz əm), 1. tendency to be influenced by sentiment rather than reason. 2. excessive indulgence in sentiment. 3. feeling expressed too openly or commonly or sentimentally. n.

sen ti men tal ist (sen'tə men'tl ist), a sentimental person; one who indulges in sentimentality. n.

sen ti men tal i ty (sen'tə men'tal'ə tē), 1. tendency to be influenced by sentiment rather than reason. 2. excessive indulgence in sentiment. 3. feeling expressed too openly or sentimentally. n., pl. sen ti men tal i ties.

sen ti men tal ize (sen'tə men'tl iz), 1. indulge in sentiment; affect sentiment. 2. make sentimental. 3. be sentimental about. v., sen ti men tal ized, sen ti men tal iz ing.

sen ti nel (sen'tə nl), one stationed to keep watch and guard against surprises. n.

stand sentinel, act as a sentinel; keep watch.

sen try (sen'trē), 1. sentinel. 2. watch; guard: We stood sentry over the sleepers. n., pl. sen tries.

sen try box, a small building for sheltering a sentry.

Seoul (sōl or sā'ül'), city in western Korea, capital of South Korea. 1,643,000. n.

Sep., September.

se pal (sē'pl), one of the leaflike divisions of the calyx, or outer covering, of a flower. In a carnation, the sepals make a green cup at the base of the flower. In a tulip, the sepals are bright, just like the petals. n.

sep a ra bil i ty (sep'ə rə bil'ə tē), quality of being separable. n.

sep a ra ble (sep'ə rə bl), that can be separated. adj. —sep'a ra bly, adv.

sep a rate (sep'ə rāt for 1-6; sep'ə rit for 7, 8), 1. be between; keep apart; divide: The Atlantic Ocean separates America from Europe. 2. take apart; part; disjoin: separate church and state. 3. live apart or cause to live apart. A husband and wife may be separated by agreement or by order of a court. 4. divide into parts or groups; divide or part (a mass, compound, whole) into elements, sizes, etc.: separate a tangle of string. 5. draw, come, or go apart; become disconnected or disunited; part company; withdraw (from): After school the children separated in all directions. The rope separated under the strain. 6. put apart; take away: Separate your books from mine. 7. apart from others; divided; not joined; individual; single: separate clubs. These are two separate questions. Our teeth are separate. 8. something separate. 1-6 v., sep a rat ed, sep a rat ing; 7 adj., 8 n.

sep a rate ly (sep'ə rit lē), in a separate manner; one by one; one at a time. adv.

sep a ra tion (sep'ə rā'shən), 1. act of separating; dividing; taking apart. 2. condition of being separated. 3. line or point of separating. 4. the living apart of husband and wife by agreement or by order of a court. n.

sep a ra tism (sep'ə rə tiz'əm), principle or policy of separation; opposition to ecclesiastical or political union. n.

sep a ra tist (sep'ə rā'tist or sep'ə rə tist), member of a group that separates or withdraws from a larger group. n.

sep a ra tive (sep'ə rā'tiv), tending to separate; causing separation. adj.

sep a ra tor (sep'ə rā'tər), person or thing that separates; especially, a machine for separating the cream from milk, wheat from chaff or dirt, etc. n.

se pi a (sē'pē ə), 1. brown paint or ink prepared from the inky fluid of cuttlefish. 2. dark brown. 3. done in sepia: a sepia print. 1,2 n., 2,3 adj.

se poi (sē'poi), formerly, a native of India who was a soldier in the British army. n.

sep sis (sep'sis), poisoning of the system from festering wounds, certain microorganisms, etc. n.

Sept., 1. September. 2. Septuagint.

sep tal (sep'tl), of or having to do with a septum. adj.

Sep tem ber (sep tem'bər), the ninth month. It has 30 days. n.

sep te nar y (sep'tə ner'ē), 1. of or having to do with the number seven. 2. the number seven. 3. forming a group of seven. 4. group or set of seven things. 5. septennial. 6. period of seven years. 1,3,5 adj., 2,4,6 n., pl. sep te nar ies.

sep ten ni al (sep ten'ē əl), 1. lasting seven years. 2. occurring every seven years. adj. —sep ten ni al ly, adv.

sep tet or sep tette (sep tet'), 1. a musical composition for seven voices or instruments. 2. seven singers or players. 3. any group of seven. n.

sep tic (sep'tik), 1. causing infection or putrefaction. 2. caused by infection or putrefaction. adj.

sep ti ce mi a or sep ti cae mi a (sep'tə sē'mē ə), blood poisoning, especially a form in which microorganisms as well as their toxins are absorbed by the blood. n.

septic tank, tank in which sewage is acted on by bacteria.

sep til lion (sep til'yən), 1. in the United States and France, 1 followed by 24 zeros. 2. in Great Britain, 1 followed by 42 zeros. n.

sep tu a ge nar i an (sep'chū ə jə nār'ē ən), 1. of the age of 70 years, or between 70 and 80 years old. 2. person who is 70, or between 70 and 80, years old. 1 adj., 2 n.

Sep tu a ges i ma (sep'chū ə jes'ə mə), the third Sunday before Lent. n.

Sep tu a gint (sep'chū ə jint), the Greek translation of the Old Testament that was made before the time of Christ. n.

sep tum (sep'təm), a dividing wall; partition. There is a septum of bone and cartilage between the nostrils. The inside of a green pepper is divided into chambers by septa. n., pl. sep ta (-tə).

sep tu ple (sep'tū pl, sep'tū pl, or sep'tū'pl), 1. seven times as great; sevenfold. 2. make seven times as great. 1 adj., 2 v., sep tu pled, sep tu pling.

sep ul cher (sep'l kər), 1. place of burial; tomb; grave. 2. bury (a dead body) in a sepulcher. 1 n., 2 v.

se pul chral (sə pul'krəl), 1. of sepulchers or tombs. 2. of burial: sepulchral ceremonies. 3. deep and gloomy; dismal; suggesting a tomb. adj.

sep ul chre (sep'ul kər), Brit. sepulcher. n., v., sep ul chred, sep ul chring.
sep ul ture (sep'ul chər), Archaic. 1. burial. 2. place of burial; sepulcher. n.
seq., the following.
se quel (sē'kwəl), 1. that which follows; continuation. 2. something that follows as a result of some earlier happening; result; consequence; outcome: Among the sequels of the party were many stomach aches. 3. a complete story continuing an earlier one about the same people. n.
se quence (sē'kwəns), 1. the coming of one thing after another; succession; order of succession: Arrange the names in alphabetical sequence. 2. a connected series:
a sequence of lessons on one subject. 3. something that follows; result: Crime has its sequence of misery. n.
se quent (sē'kwənt), 1. following; subsequent. 2. following in order; consecutive. 3. following as a result; consequent. 4. that which follows; result; consequence.
1-3 adj., 4 n.
se quent tial (si kwən'tshəl), 1. sequent. 2. forming a sequence or connected series; characterized by a regular sequence of parts. adj.
se ques ter (si kwes'tər), 1. remove or withdraw from public use or from public view: The shy old lady se- questered herself from all strangers. 2. take away (property) for a time from an owner until a debt is paid or some claim is satisfied. 3. seize by authority; take and keep: The soldiers sequestered food from the people they conquered. v.
se ques trate (si kwes'trāt), 1. confiscate. 2. Ar- chaic. sequester. v., se ques trat ed, se ques trat ing.
se ques tra tion (sē'kwes trā'shən), 1. the seizing and holding of property until legal claims are satisfied.
2. forcible or authorized seizure; confiscation. 3. separation or withdrawal from others; seclusion. n.
se quin (sē'kwīn), 1. a small spangle used to ornament dresses, scarfs, etc. 2. a former Italian gold coin, worth about $2.25. n.
se quoi a (si kwoi'a), either of two kinds of very tall evergreen trees of California. n.
Sequoia National Park, a national park in central California containing huge sequoia trees. 604 sq.
mi.
se rag li o (sə ral'yō), 1. the women's quarters of a Moslem house or palace; harem. 2. a Turkish palace.
n., pl. se rag li os.
se ra pe (sə rā'pē), shawl or blanket, often having bright colors, worn by Spanish American Indians. n.
ser aph (ser'əf), one of the highest order of angels.
n., pl. ser aphs or ser a phim.
se raph ic (sə raf'ik), 1. of seraphs. 2. like a seraph;
angelic. adj. —se raph'i cal ly, adv.
ser a phim (ser'ə fim), a pl. of seraph. n.
Serb (sərb), 1. native or inhabitant of Serbia. 2. language of Serbia. 3. of Serbia, its people, or their language. 1,2 n., 3 adj.
Ser bi a (sēr'bē ə), district in SE Yugoslavia, formerly a country. n. Also, Servia. —Ser'bi an, adj., n.
Ser bo-Cro a tian (sēr'bō krō ə'shən), 1. both Serbian and Croatian. 2. branch of the Slavic language spoken by the people of Yugoslavia. 3. person whose native language is Serbo-Croatian. 1 adj., 2,3 n. sere (sir), sear. adj.
ser e nade (ser'ə nād'), 1. music played or sung outdoors at night, especially by a lover under his lady's window. 2. piece of music suitable for such a performance. 3. sing or play a serenade to. 4. sing or play a serenade. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., ser e nad ed, ser e nad ing.
se re ne (sə rēn'), 1. peaceful; calm: a serene smile.
2. clear; bright; not cloudy: a serene sky. adj. —se- rene'ly, adv.
se ren i ty (sə rēn'ə tē), 1. quiet peace; calmness.
2. clearness; brightness. n., pl. se ren i ties.

serf (sərf), 1. slave who cannot be sold off the land, but passes from one owner to another with the land.
2. person treated almost like a slave; person who is mistreated, underpaid, etc. n. —serf'like', adj.
serf dom (sərf'dəm), 1. condition of a serf. 2. custom of having serfs. Serfdom existed all over Europe in the Middle Ages and lasted in Russia till the middle of the 19th century. n.
serge (sərg), kind of cloth having slanting lines or ridges on its surface. n.
ser geant cy (sär'jən sē), position, rank, or duties of a sergeant. n., pl. ser geant cies. ser geant (sär'jənt), 1. a United States Army officer ranking next above a corporal. Sergeants and corporals are noncommissioned officers. 2. a police officer ranking next above an ordinary policeman and next below a captain or lieutenant. 3. sergeant at arms. n. Also, esp.
Brit. serjeant.
sergeant at arms or ser geant-at-arms (sär'- jənt ət ərmz'), officer who keeps order in a legislature, law court, etc. n., pl. ser geants at arms or ser geants- at-arms.
sergeant major, sergeant who assists an adjutant at an army headquarters.
sergt., sergeant.
se ri al (sir'ē əl), 1. story published, broadcast, or televised one part at a time in a magazine or newspaper or on the radio or television. 2. of serials; having to do with a serial. 3. published, broadcast, or televised one part at a time. 4. of a series; arranged in a series; making a series: Place volumes 1 to 5 on the shelf in serial or- der. 1 n., 2-4 adj.
se ri ally (sir'ē əl ē), in a series; as a serial. adv.
serial number, an individual number given to a person, article, etc.
se ri ate (sir'ē it or sir'ē āt), arranged or occurring in one or more series. adj.
se ri a tim (sir'ē ā'tim), in a series; one after the other. adv.
se ries (sir'ēz), 1. number of similar things in a row:
A series of rooms opened off the long hall. 2. number of things placed one after another: Our names were listed in an alphabetical series. 3. number of things, events, etc., coming one after the other: A series of rainy days spoiled their vacation. 4. an electrical arrangement with the positive pole or terminal of one battery, etc., connected to the negative pole or terminal of the next. n., pl. se ries.
ser if (ser'if), a thin or smaller line used to finish off a main stroke of a letter, as at the top and bottom of M. n.
se ri o-com ic (sir'ē ō kom'ik), partly serious and partly comic. adj.
se ri ous (sir'ē əs), 1. thoughtful; grave: a serious face. 2. in earnest; not joking; sincere: He was serious about the subject. 3. needing thought; important: Choice of one's lifework is a serious matter. 4. important because it may do much harm; dangerous: The badly in- jured man was in serious condition. adj. —se'ri ous- ly, adv. —se'ri ous ness, n.
ser jeant (sär'jənt), Esp. Brit. sergeant. n.
ser mon (sər'mən), 1. a public talk on religion or something connected with religion. Ministers preach sermons in church. 2. a serious talk about morals, conduct, duty, etc.: After the guests left, the boy got a sermon on table manners from his father. 3. a long, tiresome speech. n.
ser mon ize (sər'mən īz), 1. give a sermon; preach.
2. preach or talk seriously to; lecture. v., ser mon ized, ser mon iz ing. —ser'mon iz'er, n.
Sermon on the Mount, Christ's sermon to His disciples, as reported in Matthew 5-7 and Luke 6:20-49. se ro l o gy (si rol'ə jē), study of the use of serums in curing or preventing disease. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, ĭce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

se rous (sir'əs), 1. of serum; having to do with serum. 2. like serum; watery: Tears are drops of a serous fluid. adj.

ser pent (sēr'pənt), 1. snake; big snake. 2. a sly, treacherous person. 3. the devil; Satan. n.

ser pen tine (sēr'pən tēn or sēr'pən tīn for 1-3; sēr'pən tēn for 4), 1. of or like a serpent. 2. winding; twisting: the serpentine course of a creek. 3. cunning; sly; treacherous: a serpentine suggestion. 4. mineral consisting chiefly of a hydrous silicate of magnesium, usually green, and sometimes spotted like a serpent's skin. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

Serrate leaf

ser rate (sēr'āt or sēr'it), notched like the edge of a saw; toothed. adj.

ser rat ed (sēr'āt id), serrate. adj.

ser ra tion (se rā'shən), 1. a serrated edge or formation. 2. one of its series of notches. n.

ser ried (sēr'ed), crowded closely together. adj.

ser ru late (sēr'yā lāt), very finely notched: a serrulate leaf. adj.

se rum (sir'əm), 1. a clear, pale-yellow, watery part of the blood that separates from the clot when blood coagulates. 2. liquid used to prevent or cure a disease, usually obtained from the blood of an animal that has been made immune to the disease. Diphtheria antitoxin is a serum. 3. any watery animal liquid. Lymph is a serum. 4. whey. n., pl. se rums, se ra (sēr'ə).

ser val (sēr'vl), an African wildcat that has a brownish-yellow coat with black spots. n.

Serval (length, including tail, 5 ft.)

serv ant (sēr'vənt), 1. person employed in a household. 2. person employed by another. Policemen and firemen are public servants. 3. person devoted to any service. Ministers are called the servants of God. n. —serv'ant less, adj.

serve (sēr'v), 1. be a servant of; give service to; work for or in: A slave serves his master. The soldier served three years in the army. 2. be a servant; give service; work; perform official duties: He served as butler. 3. wait on at table; bring food or drink to. 4. put (food or drink) on the table: The maid served the first course. 5. supply; furnish; supply with something needed: The dairy serves us with milk. The men were served with a round of ammunition. 6. supply enough for: One pie will serve six persons. 7. help; aid: Let me know if I can serve you in any way. 8. be useful; be what is needed; be of use: Boxes served as seats. 9. be useful to; fulfill: This will serve my purpose. 10. be favorable or suitable; be favorable or suitable to; satisfy: The ship will sail when the wind and tide serve. 11. treat: The punishment served him right. 12. pass; spend: The thief served a term in prison. 13. deliver (an order from a court, etc.); present (with an order from a court, etc.): He was served with a notice to appear in court. 14. put (the ball) in play by hitting it in tennis and similar games. 15. act or way of serving a tennis ball. 16. operate (a gun, etc.). 17. in nautical use, bind or wind (a rope, etc.) with small cord to strengthen or protect it. 1-14, 16, 17 v., served, serving; 15 n.

serv er (sēr'var), 1. person who serves. 2. tray for dishes. n.

Ser vi a (sēr'və ə), Serbia. n. —Ser'vi an, adj. ser vice (sēr'vis), 1. helpful act or acts; aid; conduct that is useful to others: He performed many services for his country. 2. supply; arrangements for supplying: The train service was good. 3. occupation or employment as a servant; go into service. 4. work for others; performance of duties; work: Mrs. Brown no longer needs the services of a doctor. 5. advantage; benefit; use: Would this coat be of service to you? 6. department of government or public employment; the persons engaged in it. 7. the army, navy, air force, etc.: We entered the service together. 8. duty in the army, navy, air force, etc.: be on active service. 9. a religious meeting, ritual, or ceremony: We attend church services twice a week. 10. regard; respect; devotion. 11. manner of serving food; the food served: The service in this restaurant is excellent. 12. set of dishes, etc.: a solid silver tea service. 13. in law, the serving of a process or writ upon a person. 14. in tennis, etc., act or manner of putting the ball in play; the ball as put into play. 15. a small cord wound about a rope, etc., to strengthen or protect it. 16. make fit for service; keep fit for service: The mechanic serviced our automobile. 1-15 n., 16 v., served, serv ic ing.

at one's service, ready to do what one wants.

of service, helpful; useful.

service a bil i ty (sēr'vis ə bil'ə tē), being serviceable. n.

ser vice a ble (sēr'vis ə bl), 1. capable of giving good service; useful. 2. useful for a long time; able to stand much use. 3. Archaic. willing to be useful. adj. —ser'vice a ble ness, n. —ser'vice a bly, adv.

ser vice man (sēr'vis man'), member of the armed forces. n., pl. ser vice men.

service station, 1. place for supplying automobiles with gasoline, oil, water, etc. 2. place where repairs, parts, adjustments, etc., can be obtained for mechanical or electrical devices.

ser vi ette (sēr'vē et'), napkin. n.

ser vile (sēr'vl), 1. like that of slaves; mean; base: servile flattery. 2. of slaves; having to do with slaves: a servile revolt, servile work. 3. fit for a slave. 4. yielding through fear, lack of spirit, etc.: An honest judge cannot be servile to public opinion. adj. —ser'vile ly, adv. —ser'vile ness, n.

ser vil i ty (sēr vil'ə tē), attitude or behavior fit for a slave; servile yielding. n., pl. ser vil i ties.

ser vi tor (sēr'və tər), servant; attendant. n.

ser vi tude (sēr'və tūd or sēr'və tūd), 1. slavery; bondage. 2. forced labor as punishment: The criminal was sentenced to five years' servitude. n.

ses a me (ses'ə mē), 1. an Oriental plant. 2. its seeds, used for food and in medicine. 3. See open sesame. n.

ses qui cen ten ni al (ses'kwi sen ten'ē ə l), 1. a 150th anniversary or its celebration. 2. having to do with, or marking the completion of, a period of a century and a half. 1 n., 2 adj.

ses qui pe da li an (ses'kwi pə dā'lē ə n), 1. measuring a foot and a half. 2. very long; containing many syllables. 3. a very long word. 4. using long words. 1, 2, 4 adj., 3 n.

ses sile (ses'l), attached by the base instead of by a stem. Some barnacles are sessile. adj.

Sessile leaves

ses sion (ses'hən), 1. a sitting or meeting of a court, council, legislature, etc.: Congress is now in session. 2. a series of such sittings. 3. term or period of such sittings: This year's session of Congress was unusually long. 4. period of lessons and study: Our school has two sessions, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. n. in session, meeting: The teachers were in session all Saturday morning.

ses ter ce (ses'ters), an ancient Roman coin of small value. n.

ses tet (ses tet'), 1. a musical sextet. 2. the last six lines of a sonnet. n.

set (set), 1. put in some place; put; place: Set the box on its end. 2. put in the right place, position, or condition: set a broken bone. 3. adjust according to a standard: set a clock. 4. put in some condition or relation: A spark set the woods on fire. The slaves were set free. 5. put (a price, etc.); fix the value of at a certain amount or rate: He set the value of the watch at $500. 6. put as the measure of esteem of a person or thing: set great store by a thing. 7. post, appoint, or station for the purpose of performing some duty: set a detective on a person. 8. fix; arrange; appoint: set a time limit for taking an examination. 9. fixed or appointed beforehand; established: a set time, set rules. 10. provide for others to follow: set a good example. 11. put in a fixed, rigid, or settled state: set one's teeth. 12. fixed; rigid: a set smile. 13. become fixed; make or become firm or hard: Jelly sets as it cools. 14. firm; hard. 15. put in a frame or other thing that holds: set a diamond in gold. 16. adorn; ornament: a bracelet set with diamonds. 17. go down; sink: The sun sets in the west. 18. put (a hen) to sit on eggs to hatch them; place (eggs) under a hen to be hatched. 19. of a hen, sit on eggs. 20. of a dog, indicate the position of game by standing stiffly and pointing with the nose. 21. a dog's pointing in the presence of game. 22. number of things or persons belonging together; outfit: a set of dishes. 23. scenery of a play. 24. device for receiving or sending by radio, telephone, telegraph, etc. 25. way a thing is put or placed; form; shape: His jaw had a stubborn set. 26. hang or fit in a particular manner: That coat sets well. 27. direction; tendency; course; drift: The set of opinion was toward building a new bridge. 28. have a direction; tend: The current sets to the south. 29. begin to move. 30. make an attack. 31. encourage to attack; cause to be hostile. 32. begin to apply; begin to apply oneself: Have you set to work? 33. warp; bend; displacement: a set to the right. 34. slip or shoot for planting. 35. a young fruit just formed from a blossom. 36. form fruit in the blossom. 37. in music, adapt; fit: set words to music. 38. arrange (music) for certain voices or instruments. 39. in printing, put (type) in the order required. 40. act or manner of setting. 41. resolved; determined: He is set on going today. 42. Informal. stubbornly fixed; obstinate. 43. group of six or more games in tennis. One side must win at least two more than the other side. 44. in mathematics, a specified collection of objects: the set of all right triangles, the set of even integers. 1-8, 10, 11, 13, 15-20, 26, 28, 32, 36-39 v., set, set ting; 9, 12, 13, 41, 42 adj., 21-25, 27, 33-35, 40, 43, 44. n.

set about, start work upon; begin: Set about your washing.

set against, 1. make unfriendly toward. 2. balance; compare.

set aside, 1. put to one side. 2. put by for later use. 3. discard, dismiss, or leave out; reject; annul: Sometimes a higher court sets aside the decision in a lawsuit.

set back, stop; hinder; check.

set bread, mix batter or dough and leave it to rise. set down, 1. deposit or let alight; put down. 2. put down in writing or printing. 3. consider; ascribe: Your failure in the test can be set down to too much haste.

set forth, 1. make known; express; declare. 2. start to go.

set in, 1. begin. 2. blow or flow towards the shore.

set off, 1. explode. 2. start to go. 3. increase by contrast.

set on, 1. attack. 2. urge to attack.

set out, 1. start to go. 2. spread out to show, sell, or use. 3. plant.

set to, 1. begin. 2. begin fighting.

set up, 1. build. 2. begin; start.

3. put up; raise in place, position, power, pride, etc. 4. claim; pretend.

set up for, claim or pretend to be.

se ta (sē'tā), any slender, stiff, bristlelike structure. Earthworms have two pairs of setae in each segment. n., pl. se tae (sē'tē).

set back (set'bak'), 1. a check to progress; reverse. 2. a steplike setting back of the outside wall of a building to give better light and air in the street. 3. a lessening in the thickness of a wall. 4. a flat plain projection of a wall. n.

Seth (seth), in the Bible, a son of Adam. Genesis 4:25. n.

set off (set'ôf'), 1. a setting off on a trip; start; departure. 2. thing used to set off or adorn; ornament; decoration. 3. compensation; offset; something that counterbalances or makes up for something else. n.

Se ton (sē'tn), Ernest Thompson, 1860-1946, English writer and illustrator in America. n.

set tee (se tē'), sofa or long bench with a back and, usually, arms. n.

set ter (set'ər), 1. person or thing that sets: a setter of type or of jewels. 2. a long-haired hunting dog, trained to stand motionless and point his nose toward the game that he scents. n.

English setter (about 2 ft. high at the shoulder) set ting (set'ing), 1. frame or other thing in which something is set. The mounting of a jewel is its setting. 2. scenery of a play. 3. place, time, etc., of a play or story. 4. surroundings; background. 5. music composed to go with certain words. 6. the eggs that a hen sets on for hatching. 7. act of one that sets. n.

set tle (set'l), 1. determine; decide; agree (upon): Have you settled on a time for leaving? 2. put or be put in order; arrange: I must settle all my affairs before going away for the winter. 3. pay; arrange payment: settle a bill. 4. take up residence (in a new country or place): settle in New York. 5. establish colonies (in): The English settled New England. 6. set or be set in a fairly permanent position, place, or way of life: We are settled in our new home. 7. put or come to rest in a particular place; put in or come to a definite condition: His cold settled in his lungs. 8. arrange in or come to a desired or comfortable position: The cat settled herself in the chair. 9. make or become quiet: A vacation will settle your nerves. 10. go down; sink: The end of that wall has settled four inches. 11. of liquid, make or become clear: A beaten egg or cold water will settle coffee. 12. of dregs, sink or cause to sink to the bottom. 13. make or become firm and compact: settle the contents of a barrel. v., set tled, set tling.

settle down, 1. live a more regular life. 2. direct steady effort or attention.

settle upon or on, give (property, etc.) to by law.

set tle (set'l), a long bench. n.

set tle ment (set'l mēnt), 1. act of settling or state of being settled. 2. establishment in life. 3. deciding; determining: settlement of a date. 4. putting in order; arrangement: No settlement of the dispute is possible unless each side yields some point. 5. payment: Settlement of all claims against the firm will be made shortly. 6. the settling of persons in a new country: The settlement of the English along the Atlantic coast assured that section to England. 7. colony: England had many settlements along the Atlantic coast. 8. group of buildings and the people living in them: Indians often attacked the little settlements of the colonists. 9. place in a poor, neglected neighborhood where work for its improvement is carried on: Hull House is a famous settlement on the west side of Chicago. 10. the settling of property upon someone: She received $200,000 by a marriage settlement. 11. amount so given. n.

Settle

set tler (set'lər), 1. person who settles. 2. person who settles in a new country: The early settlers in America had to fight the Indians. n.

set tlings (set'lingz), things in a liquid which settle to the bottom; sediment. n.pl.

set-to (set'tū'), Informal. a fight; dispute. n., pl. set-tos.

set up (set'up'), 1. U.S. manner of holding the head and body; carriage; bearing. 2. arrangement of apparatus, machinery, etc. 3. arrangement of an organization. n.

Building with setbacks (def. 2)

Se vas to pol (si vas'tə pōl), seaport in SW Soviet Union, on the Black Sea. It is in the S part of the Crimean peninsula. 148,000. n. Also, Sebastopol.

sev en (sev'ən), one more than six; 7. n., adj.

sev en fold (sev'ən fōld'), 1. seven times as much or as many. 2. having seven parts. 3. seven times as much or as often; in the proportion of seven to one. 1,3 adv., 1,2 adj.

Seven Hills, hills upon and about which Rome was built.

seven seas, all the oceans; the Arctic, Antarctic, North Atlantic, South Atlantic, North Pacific, South Pacific, and Indian oceans.

sev en teen (sev'ən tēn'), seven more than ten; 17. n., adj.

sev en tenth (sev'ən tēnth'), 1. next after the 16th; last in a series of 17. 2. one, or being one, of 17 equal parts. adj., n.

seventeen-year locust, cicada that requires seventeen years to develop from egg to adult. The larva burrows underground and feeds on roots, emerging after seventeen years to live a short time as an adult.

sev enth (sev'ənth), 1. next after the sixth; last in a series of 7. 2. one, or being one, of 7 equal parts. 3. interval between two musical tones that are seven degrees apart. 4. combination of two such tones. 1,2 adj., 1-4 n.

seventh heaven, 1. the highest part of heaven. 2. the highest place or condition of joy and happiness.

sev enth ly (sev'ənth lē), in the seventh place. adv.

sev en ti eth (sev'ən tē ith), 1. next after the 69th; last in a series of 70. 2. one, or being one, of 70 equal parts. adj., n.

sev en ty (sev'ən tē), seven times ten; 70. n., pl. sev enties; adj.

Seven Wonders of the World, the seven most remarkable structures of ancient times: the Egyptian Pyramids, the Mausoleum at Halicarnassus, the temple of Artemis at Ephesus, the walls and hanging gardens of Babylon, the Colossus of Rhodes, the statue of Zeus by Phidias at Olympia, and the Pharos (lighthouse) at Alexandria.

sever (sev'er), 1. cut apart; cut off: sever a rope. The ax severed his head from his body. 2. break off: The two countries severed friendly relations. 3. part; divide; separate: a church severed into two factions. The rope severed and the swing fell down. v. —sev'er a ble, adj.

sever al (sev'er əl), 1. being more than two or three but not many; some; a few: gain several pounds. 2. more than two or three but not many; some; a few: Several have given their consent. 3. individual; different: The boys went their several ways, each minding his own business. 4. considered separately; single: The several steps in the process of making paper were shown in a movie. 1,3,4 adj., 2 n.

sever al ly (sev'er əl ē), 1. separately; singly; individually: Consider these points, first severally and then collectively. 2. respectively. 3. Archaic. apart from others; independently. adv.

sever al ty (sev'er əl tē), state of being separate or distinct. n., pl. sev er al ties.

sever ance (sev'er əns), 1. a severing or being severed; separation; division. 2. a breaking off: the severance of diplomatic relations between two countries. n.

severance pay, additional pay granted to employees who are leaving a business, company, etc., based on seniority.

se vere (sə vir'), 1. very strict; stern; harsh: The judge imposed a severe sentence on the criminal. 2. serious; grave: a severe illness. 3. very plain or simple; without ornament: She has a severe haircut like a boy's. 4. sharp; violent: a severe criticism. 5. difficult: The new gun had to pass a series of severe tests. 6. rigidly exact, accurate, or methodical: severe reasoning. adj., se ver er, se ver est. —se vere ly, adv. —se vere ness, n.

se ver i ty (sə ver'ə tē), 1. strictness; sternness; harshness: The children feared their father because of his severity.

2. simplicity of style or taste; plainness: The severity of a nun's dress is often becoming. 3. violence; sharpness: the severity of storms, pain, disease, grief, etc. 4. seriousness. 5. accuracy; exactness. 6. something severe. n., pl. sever i ties.

Severn (sev'ərn), river flowing from central Wales through W England into the Bristol Channel. 210 mi. n.

Se ville (sə vil'), city in SW Spain. 450,000. n.

sew (sō), 1. work with needle and thread. 2. fasten with stitches. 3. close with stitches: The doctor sewed up the wound. v., sewed, sewed or sewn, sew ing.

sew age (sū'ij), the waste matter that passes through sewers. n.

Sew ard (sū'ərd), William Henry, 1801-1872, American statesman. He was secretary of state from 1861 to 1869. n.

sew er¹ (sū'ər), an underground pipe or channel for carrying off waste water and refuse. n.

sew er² (sū'ər), person or thing that sews. n.

sew er age (sū'ər ij), 1. removal of waste matter by sewers. 2. system of sewers. 3. the waste matter that passes through sewers; sewage. n.

sew ing (sō'ing), 1. work done with a needle and thread. 2. something to be sewed. 3. for sewing; used in sewing: a sewing room. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

sewing circle, group of women who meet regularly to sew for their church, for charity, etc.

sewing machine, machine for sewing or stitching cloth.

sewn (sōn), a pp. of sew. v.

sex (seks), 1. one of the two divisions of human beings, animals, etc. Men, bulls, and roosters are of the male sex; women, cows, and hens are of the female sex. 2. the character of being male or female: People were admitted without regard to age or sex. 3. attraction of one sex for the other. 4. of sex; having to do with sex. 1-3 n., 4 adj. —sex'less, adj.

the fair, gentle, or weaker sex, women.

the sex, women.

the sterner or stronger sex, men.

sex a ge nar i an (sek'sə jə nār'ē ən), 1. of the age of 60 years, or between 60 and 70 years old. 2. person who is 60, or between 60 and 70, years old. 1 adj., 2 n.

sex appeal, attraction for the opposite sex.

sex tan (seks'tən), 1. fever or ague characterized by paroxysms that recur every sixth day, both days of consecutive occurrence being counted. 2. of such a fever or ague. 3. recurring every sixth day. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

sex tant (seks'tənt), 1. instrument used by navigators, surveyors, etc., for measuring the angular distance between two objects. Sextants are used at sea to measure the altitude of the sun, a star, etc., in order to determine latitude and longitude. 2. one sixth of a circle. n.

sex tet or sex tette (seks-tet'), 1. piece of music for six voices or instruments. 2. six singers or players. 3. any group of six. n.

sex til lion (seks til'yən),

1. in the United States and France, 1 followed by 21 zeros. 2. in Great Britain, 1 followed by 36 zeros. n.

Sextant: A, mirror; B, mirror; C, telescope; D, handle; E, graduated arm; F, arm. The sextant is held so that the horizon is seen in mirror A. The arm F is moved until the sun (or a star at night) is reflected from B into A. The number of degrees marked off by F on E is the altitude of the sun or star, and the position of the ship is found from a chart that shows these altitudes at certain latitudes and hours.

sex ton (seks'tən), man who takes care of a church. A sexton's duties sometimes include ringing the bell, digging graves, etc. n.

sex tu ple (seks'tū pl, seks'tū pl, seks'tū'pl, or seks'tū'pl), 1. consisting of six parts; sixfold. 2. six times as great. 3. number or amount six times as great as another. 4. make or become six times as great. 5. in music, characterized by six beats to the measure. 1,2,5 adj., 3 n., 4 v., sex tu pled, sex tu pling.

sex tu plet (seks'tū plit, seks'tū plit, seks'tū'plit, or seks'tū'plit), 1. one of six children, animals, etc., born of the same mother at the same time. 2. group of six things. n.

sex u al (sek'shū əl), 1. of or having to do with sex. 2. of or between the sexes. 3. having sex; separated into two sexes. adj.

sex u al i ty (sek'shū əl'ə tē), 1. sexual character; possession of sex. 2. attention to sexual matters. n.

sex u al ly (sek'shū əl ē), 1. by means of sex. 2. in regard to sex. adv.

Sey chelles (sā shelz'), group of British islands in the Indian Ocean, off E Africa. 37,000 pop.; 156 sq. mi. Capital: Victoria. n.pl.

s.g., specific gravity.

Sgt., Sergeant.

shab by (shab'ē), 1. much worn: His old suit looks shabby. 2. wearing old or much worn clothes. 3. not generous; mean; unfair: It is shabby not to speak to an old friend because he is poor. adj., shab bi er, shab bi est. —shab'bily, adv. —shab'bi ness, n.

shack (shak), U.S. a roughly built hut or cabin; house in bad condition. n.

shack le (shak'l), 1. a metal band fastened around the ankle or wrist of a prisoner, slave, etc. Shackles are usually fastened to each other, the wall, floor, etc., by chains. 2. link fastening together the two rings for the ankles and wrists of a prisoner. 3. put shackles on. 4. anything that prevents freedom of action, thought, etc. 5. restrain; hamper. 6. thing for fastening or coupling. 7. fasten or couple with a shackle. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5,7 v., shack led, shack ling. —shack'ler, n.

shackles, fetters; chains.

Shack le ton (shak'l tən), Sir Ernest, 1874-1922, British antarctic explorer. n.

shad (shad), any of several salt-water fishes related to the herrings that ascend rivers in the spring to spawn. The shad common on the N Atlantic coast is a valuable food fish. n., pl. shad or (for different kinds) shads.

shad ber ry (shad'ber'ē), 1. fruit of the shadbush. 2. shadbush. n., pl. shad ber ries.

shad blos som (shad'blos'm), shadbush. n.

shad bush (shad'bush'), a North American shrub or small tree with white flowers and berrylike fruit, which blossoms about the time when shad appear in the rivers. n.

shad dock (shad'ək), 1. a pear-shaped fruit like a coarse, dry, inferior grapefruit. 2. tree that it grows on. n.

shade (shād), 1. a partly dark place, not in the sunshine: He sat in the shade of a big tree. 2. a slight darkness or coolness afforded by something that cuts off light: Big trees cast shade. 3. place or condition of comparative obscurity. 4. something that shuts out light: Pull down the shades of the windows. 5. screen from light; darken: A big hat shades the eyes. 6. lightness or darkness of color: silks in all shades of blue. 7. the dark part of a picture. 8. make darker than the rest. 9. a very small difference, amount, or degree: a shade too long. 10. a darkening look, feeling, etc.; shadow; cloud: A shade of doubt troubled her. 11. make dark or gloomy. 12. show small differences; change little by little: This scarf shades from deep rose to pale pink. 13. lessen slightly: Can't you shade the price for me? 14. ghost; spirit. 1-4,6,7,9,10,14 n., 5,8,11-13 v., shad ed, shad ing. —shade'less, adj.

in or into the shade, 1. out of the light. 2. in or into a condition of being unknown or unnoticed.

the shades, darkness of evening or night.

shad i ness (shād'ē nis), quality or state of being shady. n.

shad ing (shād'ing), 1. a covering from the light. 2. use of black or color to give the effect of shade in a picture. 3. a slight variation or difference of color, character, etc. n.

shad ow (shad'ō), 1. shade made by some person, animal, or thing. Sometimes a person's shadow is much longer than he is, and sometimes much shorter. 2. shade; darkness; partial shade. 3. the dark part of a place or picture. 4. protect from light; shade: The grass is shadowed by huge oaks. 5. cast a shadow on. 6. a little bit; small degree; slight suggestion: There's not a shadow of a doubt about his guilt. 7. ghost. 8. a faint image. 9. represent faintly. 10. a reflected image. 11. protection; shelter. 12. follow closely and secretly. 13. person who follows another closely and secretly. 14. a constant companion; follower. 15. sadness; gloom. 16. make sad or gloomy. 17. obscurity. 18. a gloomy or troubled look or expression. 19. represent in a prophetic way. 1-3,6-8,10,11,13-15,17,18 n., 4,5,9,12,16,19 v.

the shadows, darkness after sunset.

under or in the shadow of, very near to.

shad ow box ing (shad'ō bok'sing), boxing with an imaginary opponent for exercise or training. n.

shad ow less (shad'ō lis), having or casting no shadow. adj.

shad ow y (shad'ō ē), 1. having much shadow or shade; shady: We are glad to leave the hot sun and come into the cool shadowy room. 2. like a shadow; dim, faint, or slight: He saw a shadowy outline on the window curtain. 3. not real; ghostly. adj. —shad'ow i ness, n.

shad y (shād'ē), 1. in the shade; shaded. 2. giving shade. 3. Informal. of doubtful honesty, character, etc.: He has engaged in rather shady occupations. adj., shad i er, shad i est.

on the shady side of, older than; beyond the age of.

shaft (shaft), 1. the long, slender stem of an arrow, spear, etc. 2. arrow; spear. 3. something aimed at a person like an arrow or spear: shafts of ridicule. 4. ray or beam of light. 5. one of the two wooden poles between which a horse is harnessed to a carriage, etc. 6. column. 7. the main part of a column. See column for picture. 8. flagpole. 9. bar to support parts of a machine that turn, or to help move parts. See cam for diagram. 10. handle of a hammer, ax, golf club, etc. 11. stem; stalk. 12. rib of a feather. 13. a deep passage sunk in the earth. The entrance to a mine is called a shaft. 14. a well-like passage; long, narrow space: an elevator shaft. n. —shaft'like, adj.

shag (shag), 1. rough, matted hair, wool, etc. 2. a mass of this: the shag of a dog. 3. the long, rough nap of some kinds of cloth. 4. cloth having such a nap. 5. a coarse tobacco cut into shreds. n.

shag bark (shag'bärk'), 1. a hickory tree whose rough bark peels off in long strips. 2. nut of this tree. Shagbarks have fairly thin shells and are considered the best hickory nuts. n. Also, shellbark.

shag gy (shag'ē), 1. covered with a thick, rough mass of hair, wool, etc.: a shaggy dog. 2. long, thick, and rough: shaggy eyebrows. adj., shag gi er, shag gi est.

sha green (shā grēn'), kind of untanned leather with a granular surface, made from the skin of the horse, ass, shark, seal, and other animals. n.

Shackles

S, shaft in a mine; T, tunnel.

Shah (shā), a title of the ruler of Iran. n.

shake (shāk), 1. move quickly backwards and forwards, up and down, or from side to side: shake a rug. 2. bring, throw, force, rouse, scatter, etc., by or as if by movement: shake snow off one's clothes. 3. be shaken: Sand shakes off easily. 4. clasp (hands) in greeting, congratulating, etc., another: shake hands. 5. tremble: He is shaking with cold. 6. make tremble: The explosion shook the town. 7. totter; waver: His courage began to shake. 8. cause to totter or waver: shake the very foundations of society. 9. disturb; make less firm: His lie shook my faith in his honesty. 10. act or fact of shaking: a shake of the head. 11. Informal. earthquake. 12. drink made by shaking ingredients together: a milk shake. 13. Slang. moment: I'll be there in two shakes. 14. trill. 15. a rapid alternation of a note with a tone above or below it; trill. 16. crack in a growing tree; fissure. 17. Slang. get rid of: Can't you shake him? 1-9, 14, 17 v., shook, shak en, shak ing; 10-13, 15, 16 n.

no great shakes, Informal. not unusual, extraordinary, or important.

shake down, 1. bring or throw down by shaking. 2. cause to settle down. 3. bring into working order. 4. Slang. get money from dishonestly.

shake off, get rid of.

shake up, 1. shake hard. 2. stir up. 3. jar in body or nerves.

shake-down (shāk'doun'), Slang. an exaction of money, etc., by compulsion, especially in various forms of graft. n.

shak en (shāk'en), pp. of shake. v.

shak er (shāk'er), 1. person who shakes something. 2. machine or utensil used in shaking. 3. container for pepper, salt, etc., having a perforated top. n.

Shak er (shāk'er), member of an American religious sect, so-called from movements of the body that formed part of their worship. Shakers owned all property in common. n.

Shake speare or Shak speare (shāk'spir), William, 1564-1616, England's greatest poet and dramatist. n.

Shake spear i an or Shake sper i an or Shake-spear e an or Shak sper e an (shāk spir'ē an), 1. of, having to do with, or suggestive of Shakespeare or his works. 2. specialist in the study of the works of Shakespeare. 1 adj., 2 n.

shake-up (shāk'up'), a sudden and complete change. n.

shak i ly (shāk'ə lē), in a shaky manner. adv.

shak i ness (shāk'ē nis), shaky condition. n.

shak o (shāk'ō), a high, stiff military hat with a plume or other ornament. n., pl. shak os.

Shak spere (shāk'spir), Shakespeare. n.

Shak sper i an (shāk spir'ē an), Shakespearian. adj.

shak y (shāk'ē), 1. shaking: a shaky voice. 2. liable to break down; weak: a shaky porch. 3. not to be depended on; not reliable: a shaky bank. adj., shak i er, shak i est.

shale (shāl), a fine-grained rock, formed from clay or mud, that splits easily into thin layers. n.

shall (shal; unstressed shəl), Shall is an auxiliary expressing future time, determination, or obligation. 1. In general, shall in the first person expresses futurity, in the second and third, determination or obligation: I shall miss you. You shall hear from us. He shall not do it. 2. In questions, shall is used for all persons if shall is expected in the answer: Shall I go? Yes, you shall. 3. In an indirect quotation, shall is used if it would properly be used in a direct form of the quotation: You say you shall go. He says he shall wait a little. 4. In subordinate clauses introduced by if, when, etc., shall is used rather than will for all persons to express future time: If he shall come, we shall be saved. v., pres. shall, 2nd sing. also (Poetic) shalt; past should, 2nd sing. also (Archaic) should est or shouldst.

Shako

shal loon (sha lün'), a twilled woolen cloth, used chiefly for linings. n.

shal lop (shal'əp), a small, light open boat with sail or oars. n.

shal lot (shə lot'), 1. a small plant much like an onion, but with a bulb composed of sections or cloves. 2. bulb or clove of this plant. 3. a small brown onion. n.

shal low (shal'ō), 1. not deep: shallow water, a shallow dish, a shallow mind. 2. a shallow place: The boys splashed in the shallows of the pond. 3. become less deep. 4. make less deep. 1 adj., 2 n., 3, 4 v. —shal'low-ness, n.

shalt (shalt), Archaic. shall. "Thou shalt" means "You shall." v.

shal y (shāl'ē), of, like, or containing shale. adj.

sham (sham), 1. pretense; fraud. 2. counterfeit; imitation. 3. pretended; feigned: The soldiers fought a sham battle for practice. 4. pretend; feign: He shammed sickness so he wouldn't have to work. 1, 2 n., 2, 3 adj., 4 v., shammed, sham ming.

sham ble (sham'bl), 1. walk awkwardly or unsteadily: The tired old man shambles. 2. a shambling walk. 1 v., sham bled, sham bling; 2 n.

sham bles (sham'blz), 1. slaughter house. 2. place of butchery or of great bloodshed. n.pl. or sing.

shame (shām), 1. a painful feeling of having done something wrong, improper, or silly: blush with shame. 2. cause to feel shame: My silly mistake shamed me. 3. drive or force by shame: Bill was shamed into combing his hair. 4. a disgrace; dishonor: That young man's arrest has brought shame to a fine family. 5. bring disgrace upon. 6. fact to be sorry about: It is a shame to be so wasteful. 7. person or thing to be ashamed of; cause of disgrace. 8. sense of what is decent or proper. 1, 4, 6-8 n., 2, 3, 5 v., shamed, sham ing.

for shame! shame on you!

put to shame, 1. disgrace; make ashamed. 2. surpass; make dim by comparison.

shame faced (shām'fāst'), 1. bashful; shy. 2. showing shame and embarrassment. adj.

shame ful (shām'fəl), causing shame; bringing disgrace. adj. —shame'ful ly, adv. —shame'ful ness, n.

shame less (shām'lis), 1. without shame. 2. not modest. adj. —shame'less ly, adv. —shame'less-ness, n.

sham my (sham'ē), chamois. n., pl. sham mies.

sham poo (sham pū'), 1. wash (the hair or scalp). 2. a washing of the hair or scalp. 3. preparation used for shampooing. 4. massage. 1, 4 v., sham pood, sham poo ing; 2-4 n.

sham rock (sham'rok), 1. a bright-green leaf composed of three parts. The shamrock is the national emblem of Ireland. 2. any of various plants that have leaves like this, such as white clover, wood sorrel, etc. n.

Shamrock

Shang hai (shang'hī'), seaport in E China. 7,100,000. See China for map. n.

shang hai (shang'hī), 1. make unconscious by drugs, liquor, etc., and put on a ship to serve as a sailor. 2. bring by trickery or force. v., shang-haied, shang hai ing.

Shan grila or Shan gri-La (shang'grē lā'), an idyllic earthly paradise. n.

shank (shangk), 1. the part of the leg between the knee and the ankle. 2. the corresponding part in animals. See beef for diagram. 3. the whole leg. 4. any part like a leg, stem, or shaft. The shank of a fishhook is the straight part between the hook and the loop. 5. the narrow part of a shoe, connecting the broad part of the sole with the heel. 6. the latter end or part of anything. n.

go or ride on shank's mare, walk.

Shan non (shan'an), river flowing from N Irish Republic into the Atlantic. It is the most important river in Ireland. 240 mi. See Ireland for map. n.

shan't (shant), shall not.

Shan tung (shan'tung/), peninsula in NE China. n.
shan tung (shan'tung or shan tung'), a heavy pongee, a kind of soft silk. n.
shan ty: (shan'tē), a roughly built hut or cabin. n., pl. shan ties.
shan ty: (shan'tē), chantey. n., pl. shan ties.
shape (shāp), 1. the outward contour or outline; form; figure: the shape of a triangle. A white shape stood at his bedside. 2. form: The child shapes clay into balls. 3. take shape; assume form: His plan is shaping well. 4. adapt in form: That hat is shaped to your head. 5. an assumed appearance: A witch was supposed to take the shape of a cat or a bat. 6. condition: The athlete exercised to keep himself in good shape. 7. definite form; proper arrangement; order: Take time to get your thoughts into shape. 8. give definite form or character to: events which shape people's lives. 9. direct; plan; devise; aim: shape one's course in life. 10. express in words: shape a question. 11. kind; sort: dangers of every shape. 12. mold; pattern. 13. something shaped; jelly, pudding, etc., shaped in a mold; metal of any of various shapes. 1,5-7,11-13 n., 2-4,8-10,12 v., shaped, shaping. —shap'er, n.
shape up, 1. take on a certain form or appearance; develop. 2. show a certain tendency.
take shape, have or take on a definite form.
SHAPE, Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe. shape less (shāp'lis), 1. without definite shape. 2. having an unattractive shape. adj. —shape/less-ly, adv. —shape/less ness, n.
shape ly (shāp'lē), having a pleasing shape; well-formed. adj., shape li er, shape li est. —shape/li ness, n.
shape-up (shāp'up/), a system of hiring longshoremen whereby the men line up each workday to be selected for work by the foreman. n.
shard (shārd), 1. a broken piece; fragment. 2. piece of broken earthenware or pottery. 3. the hard case that covers a beetle's wing. n. Also, sherd.
share¹ (shār), 1. part belonging to one individual; portion; part: Do your share of the work. 2. part of anything owned in common with others: One of the boys offered to sell his share in the boat. 3. each of the parts into which the ownership of a company or corporation is divided: The ownership of this railroad is divided into several million shares. 4. use together; enjoy together; have in common: The sisters share the same room. 5. divide into parts, each taking a part: The child shared his candy with his sister. 6. have a share; take part: Everyone shared in making the picnic a success. 1-3 n., 4-6 v., shared, shar ing.
go shares, share in something.
on shares, sharing in the risks and profits.
share² (shār), plowshare. n.
share crop (shār'krop/), farm or raise (a crop) on share. v., share cropped, share crop ping.
share crop per (shār'krop'ər/), person who farms land for the owner in return for part of the crops. n.
share hold er (shār'hōl'dər/), person owning shares of stock. n.
shark¹ (shārk/), any of a group of fishes, mostly marine, certain kinds of which are large and ferocious, and destructive to other fishes and sometimes dangerous to man. n. —shark/-like, adj.
shark² (shārk/), 1. a dishonest person who preys on others. 2. Slang. person unusually good at something; expert. n.
shark skin (shārk'skin/), cloth made from fine threads of wool, rayon, or cotton, used in suits. n.
Shar on (shār'ən/), plain in Palestine, noted for its fertility in Bible times. Isaiah 65:10. n.

Blue shark
(about 15 ft. long)

sharp (shārp), 1. having a thin cutting edge or a fine point: a sharp knife, a sharp pencil. 2. having a point; not rounded: a sharp nose, a sharp corner on a box. 3. with a sudden change of direction: a sharp turn. 4. very cold: sharp weather, a sharp morning. 5. severe; biting: sharp words. 6. feeling somewhat like a cut or prick; affecting the senses keenly: a sharp taste, a sharp noise, a sharp pain. 7. clear; distinct: the sharp contrast between black and white. 8. quick; brisk: a sharp walk or run. 9. fierce; violent: a sharp struggle. 10. keen; eager: a sharp desire, a sharp appetite. 11. being aware of things quickly: a sharp eye, sharp ears. 12. watchful; wide-awake: a sharp watch. 13. quick in mind; shrewd; clever: a sharp boy, sharp at a bargain. 14. promptly; exactly: Come at one o'clock sharp. 15. high in pitch; shrill. 16. in music, above the true pitch; raised a half step in pitch: F sharp. 17. of a key, having sharps in the signature. 18. tone one half step above a given tone. 19. the sign (#) for this. 20. in a sharp manner; in an alert manner; keenly: Look sharp! 21. suddenly: pull a horse up sharp. 22. swindler; sharper. 23. of a consonant, pronounced with breath and not with voice; voiceless. 24. Informal. an expert. 1-13, 15-17, 23 adj., 14, 20, 21 adv., 18, 19, 22, 24 n. —sharp/ly, adv.
—sharp/ness, n.
sharps, the hard part of wheat requiring a second grinding.
sharp en (shār'pən/), 1. make sharp: sharpen a pencil. 2. become sharp. v. —sharp/en er, n.
sharp er (shār'pər/), 1. swindler; cheat. 2. gambler who makes a living by cheating at cards, etc. n.
sharp ie (shār'pē/), a long, flat-bottomed boat with one or two masts, each rigged with a triangular sail. n.
sharp shoot er (shār'p-shūt'ər/), 1. person who shoots very well. 2. soldier chosen to do accurate shooting. n.
sharp-sight ed (shār'p-sit'id/), 1. having sharp sight. 2. sharp-witted. adj.
sharp-wit ted (shār'wit'id/), having or showing a quick, keen mind. adj.
Shas ta (shas'ta/), Mount, a volcanic peak in N California. 14,161 ft. n.
Shasta daisy, 1. flower like a large common daisy. 2. the plant that produces it.
shat ter (shat'ər/), 1. break into pieces: A stone shattered the window. 2. disturb greatly; destroy: shattered hopes. The great mental strain shattered his mind. v.
shatters, fragments.
shave (shāv/), 1. remove hair with a razor; cut hair from (the face, chin, etc.) with a razor. 2. the cutting off of hair with a razor. 3. cut off (hair) with a razor. 4. cut off in thin slices; cut in thin slices. 5. tool for shaving, scraping, removing thin slices, etc. 6. shaving; thin slice. 7. cut very close. 8. come very close to; graze: The car shaved the corner. 9. a narrow miss or escape: The shot missed him, but it was a close shave. 1,3,4,7,8 v., shaved, shaved or shaven, shaving; 2,5,6,9 n.
shav en (shāv'ən/), 1. shaved. 2. closely cut. 3. tonsured. 4. a pp. of shave. 1-3 adj., 4 v.
shav er (shāv'ər/), 1. person who shaves. 2. instrument for shaving. 3. Informal. youngster; small boy. n. shave tail (shāv'tāl/), U.S. Slang. a new second lieutenant. n.
shav ing (shāv'ing/), 1. a very thin piece or slice. Shavings of wood are cut off by a plane. 2. act or process of cutting hair from the face, chin, etc., with a razor. n.
shawl (shōl/), a square or oblong piece of cloth to be worn about the shoulders or head. n.

Sharpie

Shawnee (shô nē'), member of a tribe of American Indians formerly living in Tennessee and South Carolina, now in Oklahoma. n., pl. Shawnee or Shawnees.

shay (shā), Informal, chaise, a light carriage with two wheels and one seat. n.

Shays (shāz), Daniel, 1747-1825, American soldier in the Revolutionary War and leader of Shays's Rebellion, an uprising of farmers in Massachusetts against the State government. n.

she (shē), 1. girl, woman, or female animal spoken about or mentioned before: My sister says she likes to read and her reading helps her in school. 2. anything thought of as female and spoken about or mentioned before. 3. girl; woman; female animal: Is it a he or a she? 1,2 pron., sing. nom. she, poss. her or hers, obj. her; pl. nom. they, poss. their or theirs, obj. them; 3 n., pl. shes.

sheaf (shēf), bundle of things of the same sort bound together or so arranged that they can be bound together: a sheaf of wheat, a sheaf of arrows. n., pl. sheaves.

shear (shir), 1. cut with shears or scissors. 2. cut the wool or fleece from: The farmer sheared his sheep. 3. cut close; cut off; cut. 4. act or process of shearing. 5. that which is taken off by shearing. 6. one blade of a pair of shears. 7. pair of shears. 8. force causing two parts or pieces to slide on each other in opposite directions. 9. break by a force causing two parts or pieces to slide on each other in opposite directions: Too much pressure on the handles of the scissors sheared off the rivet holding the blades together. 1-3,9 v., sheared or (Archaic) shore, sheared or shorn, shear ing; 4-8 n. —shear'er, n.

shears (shirz), 1. large scissors. 2. any cutting instrument resembling scissors. n.pl.

sheath (shēth), 1. case or covering for the blade of a sword, knife, etc. 2. any similar covering, especially on an animal or plant. n., pl. sheaths (shēthz).

sheathe (shēth), 1. put (a sword, etc.) into a sheath. 2. enclose in a case or covering: a mummy sheathed in linen, doors sheathed in metal. v., sheathed, sheath ing.

sheath ing (shēth'ing), casing; covering. The first covering of boards on a house is sheathing. n.

sheath knife, knife carried in a sheath.

sheave¹ (shēv), gather and tie into a sheaf or sheaves. v., sheaved, sheav ing.

sheave² (shēv or shiv), wheel with a grooved rim; the wheel of a pulley. n.

sheaves (shēvz for 1; shēvz or shivz for 2), 1. pl. of sheaf. 2. pl. of sheave. n.

She ba (shē'bā), 1. an ancient country in S Arabia. 2. Queen of, a biblical queen who visited Solomon to learn of his great wisdom. I Kings 10:1-13. n.

she bang (shā bang'), U.S. Slang. 1. outfit; concern. 2. affair; event. n.

shed¹ (shed), a building used for shelter, storage, etc., usually having only one story: a wagon shed, a train shed. n.

shed² (shed), 1. pour out; let fall: He shed his blood for his country. The girl shed tears. 2. throw off: The snake sheds his skin. The umbrella sheds water. 3. throw off a covering, hair, etc.: That snake has just shed. 4. scatter abroad; give forth: The sun sheds light. Flowers shed perfume. 5. cause to flow: He shed his enemy's blood. v., shed, shed ding.

shed blood, destroy life; kill.

she'd (shēd; unstressed shid), 1. she had. 2. she would.

sheen (shēn), brightness; luster: Satin and polished silver have a sheen. n.

sheen y (shēn'ē), bright; lustrous. adj.

sheep (shēp), 1. a cud-chewing mammal raised for wool and mutton. 2. a weak, timid, or stupid person. 3. leather made from the skin of sheep. n., pl. sheep. —sheep'like', adj.

make sheep's eyes, give a longing, loving look.

sheep cote (shēp'kōt'), shelter for sheep. n.

Sheep

sheep dog, collie or other dog trained to help a shepherd watch and tend sheep.

sheep fold (shēp'fōld'), pen for sheep. n.

sheep herd (shēp'hēr'dār), U.S. person who watches and tends large numbers of sheep while they are grazing on unfenced land. n.

sheep hook (shēp'hūk'), a shepherd's staff. Its upper end is curved or bent into a hook. n.

sheep ish (shēp'ish), 1. awkwardly bashful or embarrassed: a sheepish smile. 2. like a sheep; timid; weak; stupid. adj. —sheep'ish ly, adv. —sheep'ish ness, n.

sheep man (shēp'man'), 1. person who owns and raises sheep. 2. shepherd. n., pl. sheep men.

sheep range, tract of land on which sheep are pastured.

sheeps head (shēps'hed'), a salt-water food fish common on the Atlantic coast of the United States. n.

sheep skin (shēp'skin'), 1. skin of a sheep, especially with the wool on it. 2. leather or parchment made from it. 3. U.S. Informal, diploma. n.

sheer¹ (shir), 1. very thin; almost transparent: a sheer white dress. 2. dress of transparent material. 3. unmixed with anything else; complete: sheer weariness. 4. straight up and down; steep: From the top of the wall it was a sheer drop of 100 feet to the water below. 5. completely; quite. 6. very steeply. 1,3,4 adj., 2 n., 5,6 adv. —sheer'ness, n.

sheer² (shir), 1. turn from a course; turn aside; swerve. 2. a turning of a ship from its course. 3. the upward curve of a ship's deck or lines from the middle toward each end. 4. position in which a ship at anchor is placed to keep her clear of the anchor. 1 v., 2-4 n.

sheer ly (shir'lē), absolutely; thoroughly; quite. adv.

sheet¹ (shēt), 1. a large piece of linen or cotton cloth used to sleep on or under. 2. a broad, thin piece of anything: a sheet of glass. 3. a single piece of paper. 4. newspaper. 5. a broad, flat surface: a sheet of water. 6. furnish or cover with a sheet. 7. Poetic, a sail. 1-5,7 n., 6 v.

sheet² (shēt), rope that controls the angle at which a sail is set. n.

sheet home, stretch (a square sail) as flat as possible by pulling hard on the sheets fastened to it.

sheet anchor, 1. a large anchor used only in emergencies. 2. a final reliance or resource.

sheet ing (shēt'ing), 1. cotton or linen cloth for bed sheets. 2. a lining or covering of timber or metal, used to protect a surface. n.

sheet iron, iron in sheets or thin plates.

sheet lightning, lightning in broad flashes.

sheet metal, metal in thin pieces or plates.

sheet music, music printed on unbound sheets of paper.

sheets (shēts), space at the bow or stern of an open boat. n.pl.

Shef field (shēf'ēld), city in central England. 503,000. n.

Sheffield plate, an especially durable silver plate made by rolling out sheets of copper and silver fused together.

sheik (shēk), 1. an Arab chief or head of a family, village, or tribe. 2. a Moslem religious leader. 3. title of respect used by Moslems. 4. Slang, man supposed to be irresistibly fascinating to women; great lover. n.

sheikh (shēk), sheik. n.

shek el (shēk'l), an ancient silver coin of the Hebrews that weighed about half an ounce. n.

shekels, Slang, coins; money.

shel drake (shēl'drāk'), 1. any of various large ducks of Europe and Asia, many of which have variegated plumage. 2. any merganser. n., pl. shel drakes or (esp. collectively) shel drake.

Sheldrake (body about 1 ft. long) shelf (shelf), 1. a thin, flat piece of wood, metal, stone, etc., fastened to a wall or frame to hold things, such as books, dishes, etc. 2. anything like a shelf. n., pl. shelves.

on the shelf, put aside as no longer useful or desirable. shell (shell), 1. a hard outside covering of an animal. Oysters, turtles, and beetles all have shells. 2. the hard outside covering of a nut, seed, fruit, etc. 3. the hard outside covering of an egg. 4. take out of a shell: shell peas. 5. fall or come out of the shell. 6. come away or fall off as an outer covering does. 7. separate (grains of corn) from the cob. 8. outer part or appearance: Going to church is only the mere shell of religion. 9. something like a shell. The framework of a house, a very light racing boat, a hollow case of pastry, and a case filled with gunpowder to be fired from a cannon are all called shells. 10. bombard by cannon fire: The enemy shelled the town. 1-3,8,9 n., 4-7,10 v. —shell-like, adj.

come out of one's shell, stop being shy or reserved; join in conversation, etc., with others.

retire into one's shell, become shy and reserved; refuse to join in conversation, etc., with others.

shell out, Informal. hand over (money); pay up.

she'll (shēl; unstressed shil), 1. she shall. 2. she will.

shell lac (shə lak'), 1. liquid that gives a smooth, shiny appearance to wood, metal, etc. Shellac is made from a resinous substance dissolved in alcohol. 2. the resinous substance used. 3. put shellac on; cover or fasten with shellac. 4. Informal. defeat completely. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., shell lacked, shell lack ing.

shell bark (shel'bärk'), shagbark. n.

shell er (shel'ər), 1. person who shells something. 2. tool or machine used in shelling. n.

Shelley (shel'ē), Percy Bysshe, 1792-1822, English poet. n.

shell fire (shel'fir'), the firing of explosive shells or projectiles. n.

shell fish (shel'fish'), a water animal (not a fish in the ordinary sense) having a shell. Oysters, clams, crabs, and lobsters are shellfish. n., pl. shell fish es or (esp. collectively) shell fish.

shell proof (shel'prüf'), secure against shells, bombs, etc. adj.

shell shock, any of the many types of nervous or mental disorder resulting from the strain of war.

shell shocked (shel'shokt'), suffering from shell shock. adj.

shelly (shel'ē), 1. abounding in shells. 2. consisting of a shell or shells. 3. shell-like. adj., shell i er, shell i est.

shel ter (shel'tər), 1. something that covers or protects from weather, danger, or attack: Trees are a shelter from the sun. 2. protect; shield; hide: shelter runaway slaves. 3. protection; refuge: We took shelter from the storm in a barn. 4. find shelter. 1,3 n., 2,4 v. —shel-ter less, adj.

shelter tent, a small tent, usually made of pieces of waterproof cloth that fasten together.

shelve (shelv), 1. put on a shelf. 2. lay aside: Let us shelve that argument. 3. furnish with shelves. v., shelved, shelv ing.

shelve (shelv), slope gradually. v., shelved, shelv ing.

shelves (shelvz), pl. of shelf. n.

shelv ing (shel'ving), 1. wood, metal, etc., for shelves. 2. shelves collectively. n.

Shem (shem), in the Bible, the oldest of the three sons of Noah, regarded as the ancestor of the Semitic peoples. n.

Shen an do ah (shen'an dō'ə), river flowing through N Virginia into the Potomac River. 55 mi. n.

she nan i gans (shə nan'ə gənz), Informal. mischief or trickery. n.pl.

shent (shent), Archaic. 1. shamed. 2. blamed; scolded. 3. defeated. 4. ruined. 5. damaged. adj.

Shen yang (shen'yang'), Mukden. n.

She ol (shē'öl), a Hebrew name for the abode of the dead. n.

she ol (shē'öl), Informal. hell. n.

shep herd (shep'ərd), 1. man who takes care of sheep. 2. take care of: He will shepherd his flock. 3. guide; direct: The teacher shepherded the children safely out of the burning building. 4. person who cares for and protects. 5. a spiritual guide; pastor. 1,4,5 n., 2,3 v.

the Good Shepherd, Jesus Christ.

shepherd dog, sheep dog.

shep herd ess (shep'ər dis), woman who takes care of sheep. n.

shepherd god, god worshiped especially by shepherds.

shep herd's-purse (shep'ərdz pərs'), weed that has small white flowers and purselike pods. n.

Sher a ton (sher'ə tən), Thomas, 1751-1806, English designer of light, graceful furniture. n.

sher bet (sher'bət), 1. a frozen dessert made of fruit juice, sugar, and water, milk, or whites of eggs. 2. a cooling drink made of fruit juice, sugar, and water, popular in the Orient. n.

sherd (shərd), shard. n.

she reef (shə rēf'), sheriff. n.

Sher i dan (sher'ə dən), Philip Henry, 1831-1888, American general on the Union side in the Civil War. n.

she rif (shə rēf'), 1. descendant of Mohammed through his daughter Fatima. 2. an Arab prince or ruler; especially, the sovereign of Morocco or the chief magistrate of Mecca. n.

sher iff (sher'if), the most important law-enforcing officer of a county. A sheriff appoints deputies to help him keep order in the county. n.

Sher man (shər'mən), 1. John, 1823-1900, American statesman and financier. 2. Roger, 1721-1793, American statesman. He helped draw up the Declaration of Independence and the Articles of Confederation. 3. William Tecumseh, 1820-1891, Union general in the Civil War. n.

sher ry (sher'ē), 1. a strong wine made in S Spain. It varies in color from pale yellow to brown. 2. any similar wine. n., pl. sher ries.

Sher wood Forest (shər'wud), a royal forest near Nottingham, where Robin Hood is said to have lived.

she's (shēz; unstressed shiz), 1. she is. 2. she has.

Shet land (shet'land),

1. Shetland pony. 2. Shetland wool. 3. the Shetland Islands. n.

Shetland Islands, group of British islands north-east of Scotland. 18,000 pop.; 550 sq. mi. See Faeroe Islands for map.

Shetland pony, a small, sturdy, rough-coated pony, originally from the Shetland Islands.

Shetland wool, a thin, loosely twisted yarn.

shew (shō), Esp. Brit. or Archaic. show. v., shewed, shewn, shew ing; n.

shew bread (shō'bred'), the unleavened bread placed near the altar every Sabbath by the ancient Jewish priests as an offering to God. n. Also, showbread.

Shetland pony (3 ft. high at the shoulder) shib bo leth (shib'ə lith), any test word, watchword, or pet phrase of a political party, a class, sect, etc. n.

shied (shid), a pt. and a pp. of shy. v.

shield (shēld), 1. piece of armor carried on the arm to protect the body in battle. 2. anything used to protect: A windshield on a car keeps off the wind. 3. something shaped like a shield. 4. be a shield to; protect; defend: His mother shielded him from punishment. 5. serve as a shield. 1-3 n., 4, 5 v.

Knight holding a shield shift (shift), 1. change from one place, position, person, sound, etc., to another; change: The wind has shifted to the southeast. He shifted the heavy bag from one hand to the other. 2. a substituting in the place of another person or thing; change: There are two shifts of work at the factory. 3. group of workmen; group: This man is on the night shift. 4. time during which such a group works. 5. way of getting on; scheme; trick: The lazy man tried every shift to avoid doing his work. 6. be rather dishonest; scheme. 7. manage to get along; contrive: When his parents died, Tom had to shift for himself. 8. Archaic or Dialect. change the clothes of. 9. Archaic. a woman's chemise. 10. get rid of. 11. change the position of (the gears of an automobile). 12. change in the arrangement of the players before a football is put into play. 1, 6-8, 10, 11 v., 2-5, 9, 12 n. —shift'er, n. make shift, 1. manage to get along. 2. manage with effort or difficulty. 3. do as well as one can.

shift less (shift'lis), lazy; inefficient. adj. —shift'less ly, adv. —shift'less ness, n.

shift y (shif'tē), 1. full of shifts; well able to look out for oneself. 2. not straightforward; tricky. adj., shift-i-er, shift-i-est. —shift'ily, adv. —shift'i-ness, n.

Shi ko ku (shi kō'kü), island that is part of Japan, in the SW part. 3,880,000 pop.; 7246 sq. mi. See Japan for map. n.

shil le lagh or shil la lah (shē lā'lē), Irish. a stick to hit with; cudgel. n.

shil ling (shil'ing), a British money of account and silver coin, worth about 14 cents (1964). n.

shil ly-shal ly (shil'ē shal'ē), 1. vacillating; wavering; hesitating; undecided. 2. be undecided; vacillate; hesitate. 3. inability to decide; hesitation. 1 adj., 2 v., shil ly-shal lied, shil ly-shal ly ing; 3 n.

Shi loh (shī'lō), town in the central part of ancient Palestine. n.

shi ly (shī'lē), shyly. adv.

shim (shim), 1. a thin strip of metal or wood used to fill up a space in a machine. 2. put a shim or shims in. 1 n., 2 v., shimmed, shim ming.

shim mer (shim'ər), 1. gleam faintly: The satin shimmers. 2. a faint gleam or shine: The pearls have a beautiful shimmer. 1 v., 2 n.

shim mer y (shim'ər ē), shimmering; gleaming softly. adj.

shin (shin), 1. the front part of the leg from the knee to the ankle. 2. the lower part of the foreleg in beef cattle. 3. climb by clasping or holding fast with the hands or arms and legs and drawing oneself up: shin up a tree. 1, 2 n., 3 v., shinned, shin ning.

Shi nar (shī'nār), Biblical name for Babylonia. n. shin bone (shin'bōn'), the front bone of the leg below the knee; tibia. n.

shin dig (shin'dig), U.S. Slang. a merry or noisy dance, party, etc. n.

shine (shin), 1. send out light; be bright with light; reflect light; glow: The sun shines. 2. light; brightness: the shine of a lamp. 3. luster; polish; gloss, as of silk. 4. fair weather; sunshine: rain or shine. 5. do very well; be brilliant; excel: Mary shines in school. 6. make bright; polish: shine shoes. 7. polish put on shoes. 8. cause to shine: shine a light. 9. Slang. fancy; liking.

10. Slang. trick; prank. 1, 5, 6, 8 v., shone or (especially for def. 6) shined, shin ing; 2-4, 7, 9, 10 n.

shine up to, Slang. try to please and get the friendship of.

take a shine to, Slang. become fond of; like.

shin er (shin'ər), 1. person or thing that shines. 2. a small American fresh-water fish with glistening scales. 3. Slang. a black eye.

4. Brit. Slang. guinea; sovereign. n.

shin gle¹ (shing'gl), 1. a thin piece of wood, etc., used to cover roofs, etc. Shingles are laid in overlapping rows with the thicker ends exposed. 2. cover with shingles: shingle a roof. 3. U.S. Informal. a small signboard, especially for a doctor's or lawyer's office. 4. cut (the hair) short. 5. a short haircut. 1, 3, 5 n., 2, 4 v., shin gled, shin gling.

Shingles on a roof hang out one's shingle, Informal. open an office (used only of professional men).

shin gle² (shing'gl), Esp. Brit. 1. loose stones or pebbles such as lie on the seashore; coarse gravel. 2. beach or other place covered with this. n.

shin gles (shing'glz), a virus disease that causes painful irritation of a group of nerves and an outbreak of itching spots or blisters. The commonest location is just above the waist. n. sing. or pl.

shin gly (shing'glē), consisting of or covered with small loose stones or pebbles. adj.

shin ing (shin'ing), 1. that shines; bright. 2. brilliant; outstanding. adj. —shin'ing ly, adv.

shin ny (shin'ē), 1. a simple kind of hockey, played with a ball or the like and clubs curved at one end. 2. play shinny. 1 n., pl. shin nies; 2 v., shin nied, shin ny ing.

shin plas ter (shin'plas'tər), 1. plaster for a sore leg, often paper wet with vinegar. 2. Informal. a five-dollar bill or less of United States paper money that had depreciated greatly in value. n.

Shin to (shin'tō), 1. the native religion of Japan, primarily a system of nature worship and ancestor worship. 2. adherent of this religion. 3. of or having to do with Shinto. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

Shin to ism (shin'tō iz əm), the Shinto religion. n.

shin y (shin'ē), 1. shining; bright: a shiny new penny.

2. worn to a glossy smoothness: a coat shiny from hard wear. adj., shin i-er, shin i-est. —shin'i-ness, n.

ship (ship), 1. a large seagoing vessel with masts and sails. 2. any large vessel for use on water or in air, such as a steamship, a battleship, an airship, etc. 3. a sailing vessel with three or more masts. 4. officers and crew of a vessel. 5. put, take, or receive on board a ship. 6. go on board a ship. 7. travel on a ship; sail. 8. send or carry from one place to another by a ship, train, truck, etc.: Did he ship it by express or by freight? 9. engage for service on a ship: ship a new crew. 10. take a job on a ship: He shipped as cook. 11. take in (water) over the side, as a vessel does when the waves break over it. 12. fix in a ship or boat in its proper place for use: ship a rudder. 1-4 n., 5-12 v., shipped, ship ping.

about ship! command to turn a ship so it will be on the other tack.

when one's ship comes home or in, when one's fortune is made; when one has money.

-ship, suffix meaning:

1. office, status, or rank of —, as in clerkship, governorship.

2. quality, state, or condition of —, as in kinship.

3. act, acts, power, or skill of —, as in horsemanship, dictatorship.

4. relation between —s, as in cousinship, comradeship.

ship biscuit, a kind of hard biscuit used on shipboard; hardtack.

ship board (ship'bōrd'), ship. n. on shipboard, on or inside a ship.

ship build er (ship/bil'dər), person who designs or constructs ships. n.

ship build ing (ship/bil'ding), 1. designing or building of ships. 2. art of building ships. 3. of or used in shipbuilding; having to do with shipbuilding. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

ship canal, canal wide and deep enough for ships.

ship load (ship/lōd'), a full load for a ship. n.

ship man (ship'mən), 1. Archaic. sailor. 2. master of a ship. n., pl. ship men.

ship mas ter (ship'mas'tər), master, commander, or captain of a ship. n.

ship mate (ship'māt'), a fellow sailor on a ship. n.

ship ment (ship'mənt), 1. act of shipping goods. 2. goods sent at one time to a person, firm, etc.: We received two shipments from Chicago. n.

ship money, an old English tax to provide money to build ships in time of war.

ship of the desert, camel.

ship of the line, a sailing warship carrying 74 or more guns, corresponding to the modern battleship.

ship own er (ship'ōn'ər), person who owns a ship or ships. n.

ship per (ship'ər), person who ships goods. n.

ship ping (ship'ing), 1. act or business of sending goods by water, rail, etc. 2. ships collectively. 3. their total tonnage. 4. the ships of a nation, city, or business. n.

shipping clerk, person whose work is to see to the packing and shipping of goods.

ship shape (ship'shāp'), 1. in good order; trim. 2. in a trim, neat manner. 1 adj., 2 adv.

ship worm (ship'wərm'), any of various mollusks having small valves and long wormlike bodies, which burrow into the timbers of ships. n.

ship wreck (ship'rek'), 1. destruction or loss of a ship: Only two people were saved from the shipwreck. 2. a wrecked ship. 3. destruction; ruin: The shipwreck of his plans discouraged him. 4. wreck; ruin; destroy. 5. suffer shipwreck. 1-3 n., 4,5 v.

ship wright (ship'rit'), man who builds or repairs ships. n.

ship yard (ship'yārd'), place near the water where ships are built or repaired. n.

shire (shir), one of the counties into which Great Britain is divided. n.

shirk (shērk), 1. avoid or get out of doing (work, a duty, etc.): Dev lost his job because he shirked his work. 2. person who shirks or does not do his share. 1 v., 2 n. —shirk'er, n.

shirr (shēr), 1. draw up or gather (cloth) on parallel threads. 2. a shirred arrangement of cloth, etc. 3. bake (eggs) in a shallow dish with butter, etc. 1,3 v., 2 n.

shirt (shērt), 1. garment for the upper part of a man's body. 2. undergarment for the upper part of the body. n. —shirt/less, adj.

keep one's shirt on, Slang. stay calm; keep one's temper.

lose one's shirt, Slang. lose everything one owns.

shirt band (shērt'band'), neckband or other band of a shirt. n.

shirt ing (shēr'ting), cloth for shirts. n.

shirt-sleeve (shērt'slēv'), informal. adj.

shirt waist (shērt'wāst'), a woman's loose waist or blouse, worn with a separate skirt. n.

shiv a ree (shiv'ə rē), charivari. n.

shiv er¹ (shiv'ər), 1. shake with cold, fear, etc.: He crept shivering into bed. 2. a shaking from cold, fear, etc. 1 v., 2 n. —shiv'er er, n.

shiv er² (shiv'ər), 1. break into small pieces: He shivered the mirror with a hammer. 2. a small piece; splinter. 1 v., 2 n.

shiv er y (shiv'ər ē), 1. quivering from cold, fear, etc.; shivering. 2. inclined to shiver from cold. 3. chilly. 4. causing shivers. adj.

shoal¹ (shōl), 1. place where the water is shallow. 2. sandbank or sand bar that makes the water shallow: The ship was wrecked on the shoals. 3. shallow. 4. become shallow. 1,2 n., 3 adj., 4 v.

shoal² (shōl), 1. a large number; crowd: We saw a shoal of fish in the water. 2. form into a shoal; crowd together. 1 n., 2 v.

shoal y (shōl'ē), full of shoals or shallow places. adj.

shoat (shōt), a young pig able to feed itself. n. Also, shote.

shock¹ (shok), 1. a sudden, violent shake, blow, or crash: Earthquake shocks are often felt in Japan. The two trains collided with a terrible shock. 2. strike together violently. 3. a sudden, violent, or upsetting disturbance: His death was a great shock to his family. 4. cause to feel surprise, horror, or disgust: That child's bad language shocks everyone. 5. collide with a shock. 6. a collapsing or weakening of the body or mind caused by some violent impression on the nerves: The operation was successfully performed, but the patient suffered from shock. 7. Informal. paralysis; sudden attack of illness that makes a person senseless or takes away the power to move or speak. 8. disturbance produced by an electric current passing through the body. 9. give an electric shock to. 1,3,6-8 n., 2,4,5,9 v. —shock'er, n.

shock² (shok), 1. group of cornstalks or bundles of grain set up on end together. 2. make into shocks. 1 n., 2 v. —shock'er, n.

shock³ (shok), a thick, bushy mass: He has a shock of red hair. n.

shock absorber, 1. anything that absorbs or lessens shocks. 2. device used on automobiles to absorb or lessen the shocks caused by rough roads.

shock-head ed (shok'hed'id), having a thick, bushy mass of hair. adj.

shock ing (shok'ing), 1. causing intense and painful surprise. 2. offensive; disgusting; revolting. 3. Informal. very bad. adj. —shock'ing ly, adv.

shock therapy, treatment of mental disorder through shock induced by chemical or electrical means.

shock troops, troops chosen and specially trained for making attacks.

shock wave, disturbance of the atmosphere created by the movement of an aircraft, rocket, etc., at velocities greater than that of sound.

shod (shod), pt. and pp. of shoe. The blacksmith shod the horses. v.

shod dy (shod'ē), 1. an inferior kind of wool made of woolen waste, old rags, yarn, etc. 2. made of woolen waste. 3. cloth made of woolen waste. 4. anything inferior made to look like what is better. 5. pretending to be better than it is: a shoddy necklace. 1,3,4 n., pl. shod dies; 2,5 adj., shod di er, shod di est. —shod'di ness, n.

shoe (shū), 1. an outer covering, usually of leather, for a person's foot. 2. thing like a shoe in shape or use. 3. a horseshoe. 4. ferrule; metal band, etc., to protect the end of a staff, pole, etc. 5. the part of a brake that presses on a wheel; wheel drag. 6. the outer case of an automobile tire. 7. a sliding plate or contact by which an electric car takes current from the third rail. 8. furnish with a shoe or shoes: A blacksmith shoes horses. 9. protect or arm at the point; edge or face with metal: a stick shod with steel. 1-7 n., pl. shoes or (Archaic) shoon; 8,9 v., shod, shoe ing. —shoe/less, adj.

in another's shoes, in another's place, situation, or circumstances.

where the shoe pinches, where the real trouble or difficulty lies.

shoe black (shū'blak'), person who cleans and polishes shoes to earn money. n.

shoe horn (shū/hörn'), piece of metal, horn, etc., inserted at the heel of a shoe to make it slip on easily. n.

shoe lace (shū/lās'), cord, braid, or leather strip for fastening a shoe. n.

shoe maker (shū/māk'er), man who makes or mends shoes. n.

shoe string (shū/string'), 1. shoelace. 2. Informal. a very small amount of money used to start or carry on a business, investment, etc. n.

shoe tree, form for keeping a shoe in shape.

sho gun (shō/gun), the former hereditary commander in chief of the Japanese army. The shoguns were the real rulers of Japan for hundreds of years until 1867. n.

sho gun ate (shō/gun it or shō/gun āt), 1. position, rank, or rule of a shogun. 2. government by shoguns. n.

shone (shōn), a pt. and a pp. of shine. The sun shone all last week. It has not shone since. v.

shoo (shū), 1. exclamation used to scare away hens, birds, etc. 2. scare or drive away by calling "Shoo!" 3. call "Shoo!" 1 interj., 2,3 v., shooed, shoo ing.

shook (shūk), pt. of shake. They shook hands. v.

shoon (shūn), Archaic. a pl. of shoe. n.

shoot (shūt), 1. hit, wound, or kill with a bullet, arrow, etc.: shoot a rabbit. 2. send swiftly: He shot question after question at us. 3. fire or use (a gun, etc.). 4. of a gun, etc., send a bullet: This gun shoots straight. 5. shooting practice. 6. kill game in or on: shoot a farm. 7. trip, party, or contest for shooting. 8. move suddenly and swiftly: A car shot by us. Flames shot up from the burning house. Pain shot up his arm. He shot back the bolt. 9. pass quickly along, through, over, or under: shoot Niagara Falls in a barrel. 10. hurt sharply from time to time. 11. a new part growing out; young bud or stem: The rosebush is putting out new shoots. 12. come forth from the ground; grow; grow rapidly: Buds shoot forth in the spring. The corn is shooting up in the warm weather. 13. take (a picture) with a camera; photograph. 14. project sharply: a cape that shoots out into the sea. 15. a sloping trough for conveying coal, grain, etc.; chute. 16. dump; empty out. 17. vary with some different color, etc.: Her dress was shot with threads of gold. 18. measure the altitude of: shoot the sun. 19. send (a ball, etc.) toward the goal, pocket, etc. 1-4,6,8-10, 12-14,16-19 v., shot, shoot ing; 5,7,11,15 n.

shooting gallery, booth open at the front for practice in shooting.

shooting star, 1. star seen falling or darting through the sky; meteor. 2. plant that has a cluster of rose, purple, or white flowers whose petals and sepals turn backward.

shop (shop), 1. a store. 2. visit stores to look at or to buy things: We shopped all morning for a coat. 3. place where things are made or repaired: a carpenter's shop. 4. place where a certain kind of work is done: a barber shop. 1,3,4 n., 2 v., shopped, shop ping.

set up shop, start work or business.

shut up shop, give up work or business.

talk shop, talk about one's work.

shop girl (shop/gér'l'), girl who works in a shop or store. n.

shop keeper (shop/kēp'er), person who carries on business in a shop or store. n.

shop lift er (shop/lif'tər), person who steals goods from a store while pretending to be a customer. n.

shop lift ing (shop/lif'ting), stealing goods from a store while pretending to be a customer. n.

shop man (shop/mən), shopkeeper. n., pl. shop-men.

shop per (shop'er), person who visits stores to look at or buy things. n.

shop ping (shop'ing), buying of groceries, clothes, etc.: Mother does her shopping on Wednesdays and Saturdays. n.

go shopping, go to the store or stores in order to buy groceries, clothes, etc.

shop talk (shop/tōk'), 1. the informal language of an occupation. 2. the discussion of business or professional matters, especially outside of office hours. n.

shop worn (shop/wōrn'), soiled by being displayed or handled in a store. adj.

shore¹ (shōr), 1. land at the edge of a sea, lake, etc. 2. land near a sea. 3. land. 4. in law, land between high-water and low-water marks. n.

shores, land.

in shore, in or on the water, near to the shore or nearer to the shore.

off shore, in or on the water, not far from the shore.

shore² (shōr), 1. prop placed against or beneath something to support it.

2. prop up or support with shores. 1 n., 2 v., shored, shor ing.

shores (shōr), Archaic. a pt. of shear. v.

shore less (shōr'lis), 1. having no shore. 2. boundless. adj.

shore line (shōr'lín'), line where shore and water meet. n.

shore ward (shōr/wərd), toward the shore. adv., adj.

shor ing (shōr'ing), shores or props for supporting a building, ship, etc. n.

shorn (shōrn), 1. a pp. of shear. The sheep was shorn of his wool. 2. sheared. 3. deprived. 1 v., 2,3 adj.

short (shōrt), 1. not long; of small extent from end to end: a short distance, a short time, a short street. 2. not long for its kind: a short tail. 3. not tall: a short man, short grass. 4. not coming up to the right amount, measure, standard, etc.: The cashier is short in his accounts. 5. not having enough; scanty: The prisoners were kept on short allowance of food. 6. so brief as to be rude: He was so short with me that I felt hurt. 7. so as to be or make short. 8. abruptly; suddenly: The horse stopped short. 9. briefly. 10. of vowels or syllables, occupying a relatively short time in utterance. The vowels are short in fat, net, pin, not, up. 11. something short. 12. on the near side of an intended or particular point: stop short of actual crime. 13. a short circuit. 14. short-circuit. 15. breaking or crumbling easily. Pastry is made short with lard and butter. 16. not possessing at the time of sale the stocks or commodities that one sells. 17. noting or having to do with sales of stocks or commodities that the seller does not possess. 18. person who has sold short; sale made by selling short; stock, etc., sold short. 19. depending for profit on a decline in prices. 20. without possessing at the time the stocks, etc., sold: It is risky to sell short. 1-6,10, 15-17,19 adj., 7-9,12,20 adv., 11,13,18 n., 14 v. —short/ness, n.

cut short, end suddenly.

fall short, 1. fail to reach. 2. be insufficient.

for short, to make shorter.

in short, briefly.

make short work of, deal with quickly.

run short, 1. not have enough. 2. not be enough.

short of, 1. not up to; less than: Nothing short of your best work will satisfy me. 2. not having enough of. 3. on the near side of.

short age (shōr'tij), 1. too small an amount; lack; deficiency: There is a shortage of grain because of poor crops. 2. amount by which something is deficient. n.

short bread (shōrt'bred'), a rich cake or cookie that crumbles easily. n.

short cake (shōrt'kāk'), 1. cake made of rich biscuit dough and shortening, covered or filled with berries or other fruit. 2. a sweet cake filled with fruit. n.

short-change (shōrt'chānj'), Informal. 1. give less than the right change to. 2. cheat. v., short-changed, short-chang ing.

short circuit, a side circuit of electricity that is formed when insulation wears off a wire or wires which touch each other or some connecting conductor, so that the main circuit is by-passed. A short circuit usually blows a fuse and may cause a fire.

Frame of a ship supported by shores short-circuit (shôrt/'sêr/kit), 1. make a short circuit in. 2. make a short circuit. v.

shortcoming (shôrt/'kum/ing), fault; defect. n.

short cut, a less distant or quicker way.

shorten (shôrt/'n), 1. make shorter; cut off: The new highway shortens the trip. 2. become shorter. 3. make rich with butter, lard, etc.: She used butter to shorten her cakes. 4. take in (sail). v. —short'en er, n.

shortening (shôrt/'n ing), butter, lard, or other fat, used to make pastry, cake, etc., crisp or crumbly. n.

short hand (shôrt/'hand'),

1. method of rapid writing that uses symbols in place of letters, syllables, words, and phrases; stenography. For example, the symbols in the picture mean "Your letter was received today." 2. using shorthand. 3. written in shorthand. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

Example of shorthand
(Gregg System)

short-handed (shôrt/'han/'did), not having enough workmen or helpers. adj.

short horn (shôrt/'hörn'), any of a breed of cattle with short horns, raised for beef. n.

shortish (shôrt/'tish), rather short. adj.

short-lived (shôrt/'livd' or shôrt/'livd'), living only a short time; lasting only a short time. adj.

shortly (shôrt/'lē), 1. in a short time; before long; soon. 2. in a few words; briefly. 3. briefly and rudely. adv.

short-range (shôrt/'rānj'), not reaching far. adj.

shorts (shôrts), 1. knee breeches. 2. short, loose trousers worn in sports; trunks. 3. a baby's short clothes. 4. mixture of bran and coarse meal. n.pl.

short shrift, 1. short time for confession and absolution. 2. little mercy, respite, or delay.

short-sighted (shôrt/'sit'id), 1. near-sighted; not able to see far. 2. lacking in foresight; not prudent. adj. —short-'sight/ed ly, adv. —short-'sight/ed ness, n.

short stop (shôrt/'stop'), a baseball player stationed between second base and third base. See baseball for diagram. n.

short story, a prose story with a full plot, but much shorter than a novel.

short-tempered (shôrt/'tem/'pêrd), easily made angry; quick-tempered. adj.

short-term (shôrt/'têrm'), falling due in a short time. adj.

short ton, 2000 pounds avoirdupois.

short-waisted (shôrt/'wās/'tid), having a high waistline; short from neck to waistline. adj.

short wave, a radio wave having a wave length of 60 meters or less.

short-wave (shôrt/'wāw'), transmit by short waves: The President's speech was short-waved overseas. v., short-waved, short-waving.

short winded (shôrt/'win/'did), getting out of breath too quickly; having difficulty in breathing. adj.

Shoshone (shō shō'nē), 1. river flowing from Yellowstone Park in NW Wyoming into the Big Horn River. 120 mi. 2. dam on this river, near Cody, Wyoming. 328 ft. high. n.

Shoshone Falls, falls of the Snake River, in S Idaho. 210 ft.

shot (shot), 1. discharge of a gun or cannon: He heard two shots. 2. act of shooting. 3. tiny balls of lead; bullets. 4. a single ball of lead for a gun or cannon. 5. load with shot. 6. attempt to hit by shooting: That was a good shot. 7. distance a weapon can shoot; range: We were within rifle shot of the fort. 8. person who shoots: He is a good shot. 9. something like a shot. An aimed stroke in a game is sometimes called a shot. 10. remark aimed at some person or thing. 11. attempt; try: make a shot at the job. 12. a heavy metal ball. 13. picture taken with a camera; motion-picture record of a scene. 14. Slang, drink: a shot of whiskey. 15. Slang, dose: a shot of some drug. 16. in mining, a blast. 17. amount due or to be paid. 1-4,6-17 n., pl. shots or (for def. 3) shot or shots; 5,11 v., shot ted, shot ting.

a long shot, an attempt at something difficult.

not by a long shot, not at all.

put the shot, send a heavy metal ball as far as one can with one push.

shot through with, full of.

shot² (shot), 1. pt. and pp. of shoot. Many years ago he shot a rival and was himself shot in revenge. 2. woven so as to show a play of colors: blue silk shot with gold. 1 v., 2 adj.

shote (shōt), shoot. n.

shot gun (shot/'gun'), a smoothbore gun for firing cartridges filled with very small shot. n.

shot-put (shot/'pūt'), contest in which one sends a heavy metal ball as far as he can with one push. n.

should (shūd; unstressed shəd), 1. See shall for ordinary uses. 2. Should has special uses: (1) to express duty: You should try to make fewer mistakes. (2) to make statements less direct or blunt: I should not call her beautiful. (3) to express uncertainty: If John should win the prize, how happy he would be. (4) to make statements about something that might have happened but did not: I should have gone if you had asked me. (5) to express a condition or reason for something: He was pardoned on the condition that he should leave the country. v., pl. of shall.

shoulder (shōl/'dêr), 1. the part of the body to which an arm or foreleg or wing is attached. 2. part of a garment covering this. 3. foreleg and adjoining parts of a slaughtered animal. See pork for diagram. 4. take upon or support with the shoulder or shoulders: shoulder a tray. 5. bear (a burden, blame, etc.); assume (responsibility, expense, etc.): Uncle James shouldered the responsibility of sending Jim to college. 6. a shoulderlike part or projection: Don't drive on the shoulder of the road. 7. push with the shoulders: He shouldered his way through the crowd. 1-3,6 n., 4,5,7 v.

shoulders, the two shoulders and the upper part of the back.

put one's shoulder to the wheel, make a great effort. shoulder arms, hold a rifle almost upright with the barrel resting in the hollow of the shoulder and the butt in the hand.

shoulder to shoulder, 1. side by side; together. 2. with united effort.

straight from the shoulder, frankly; directly.

turn or give a cold shoulder to, shun; avoid; show dislike for.

shoulder blade, the flat bone of the shoulder; scapula.

shoulder knot, knot of ribbon or lace worn on the shoulder.

shoulder strap, 1. strap worn over the shoulder to hold a garment up. 2. an ornamental strip fastened on the shoulder of an officer's uniform to show his rank.

should n't (shūd/'nt), should not.

shouldst (shūdst), Archaic. should. "Thou shouldst" means "you should." v.

shout (shout), 1. call or cry loudly and vigorously: Bill shouted for help. Somebody shouted, "Fire!" The crowd shouted with laughter. 2. a loud, vigorous call or cry: Shouts of joy rang through the halls. 3. talk or laugh very loudly. 4. a loud outburst of laughter. 5. express by a shout or shouts. 1,3,5 v., 2,4 n. —shout'er, n.

shout a person down, silence a person by very loud talk.

shove (shuv), 1. push; move forward or along by the application of force from behind. 2. push roughly or rudely against; jostle (a person): The people shoved to get on the crowded car. 3. push: Fred gave the boat a shove which sent it far out into the water. 1,2 v., shoved, shoving; 3 n. —shov'er, n.

shove off, 1. push away from the shore; row away. 2. Slang, leave; start.

shovel (shuv'l), 1. tool with a broad scoop, used to lift and throw loose matter: a coal shovel, a steam shovel. 2. lift and throw with a shovel. 3. make with a shovel: They shoveled a path through the snow. 4. work with a shovel. 5. a shovelful. 6. throw in large quantities: The hungry man greedily shoveled the food into his mouth. 7. shovel hat. 1,5,7 n., 2-4,6 v., shoveled, shoveling or esp. Brit. shovelled, shovelling.

shoveler (shuv'lər), 1. person or thing that shovels. 2. kind of fresh-water duck with a broad, flat bill. n.

shovelful (shuv'l fül), as much as a shovel can hold. n., pl. shovelfuls.

shovel hat, hat with a broad brim turned up at the sides and projecting with shovellike curves in front and behind. Some clergymen of the Church of England wear shovel hats.

show (shō), 1. let be seen; put in sight: She showed her new hat. 2. reveal; manifest; disclose: He showed himself a generous man by giving to charity. 3. be in sight; appear; be seen: Anger showed in his face. 4. point out: A boy showed us the way to town. 5. direct; guide: Show him out. 6. make clear; explain. 7. make clear to; explain to: Show us how to do the problem. 8. prove: He showed that it was true. 9. grant; give: show mercy, show favor. 10. display: The jewels made a fine show. 11. display for effect: Our house is furnished for comfort, not for show. 12. any kind of public exhibition or display: a horse show. 13. a showing: The club voted by a show of hands. 14. appearance: There is some show of truth in his excuse. 15. false appearance: He hid his treachery by a show of friendship. 16. trace; indication: a show of oil in a region. 17. Informal. entertainment. 18. Informal. chance. 19. Slang, be among the leaders at the finish of a race; come in third. 20. object of scorn; something odd; queer sight: Don't make a show of yourself. 1-11, 19 v., showed, shown or showed, showing; 10-18,20 n. Also, esp. Brit. or Dialect. shew.

for show, for effect; to attract attention.

show off, make a show (of); display (one's good points, etc.).

show up, 1. expose. 2. stand out. 3. Informal. put in an appearance.

show bill, poster, placard, or the like, advertising a show.

show boat (shō'bōt'), steamboat with a theater for plays. Showboats carry their own actors and make frequent stops to give performances. n.

show bread (shō'bred'), shewbread. n.

show case (shō'kās'), a glass case to display and protect articles in stores, museums, etc. n.

show down (shō'doun'), Informal. a forced disclosure of facts, purposes, methods, etc. n.

show er (shou'ər), 1. a short fall of rain. 2. rain for a short time. 3. wet with a shower; spray; sprinkle. 4. anything like a fall of rain: a shower of hail, a shower of tears, a shower of sparks from an engine. 5. come in a shower. 6. send in a shower; pour down: They showered gifts upon her. 7. party for giving presents to a woman about to be married, etc. 8. shower bath. 1,4,7,8 n., 2,3,5,6 v.

shower bath, 1. bath in which water pours down on the body from above in small jets. 2. apparatus for such a bath.

show ery (shou'ər ē), 1. raining in showers. 2. having many showers. 3. like a shower. adj.

show man (shō'mən), 1. man who manages a show. 2. person skilled in showmanship or publicity. n., pl. show men.

show man ship (shō'mən ship), management of shows; skill in managing shows or in publicity. n.

shown (shōn), a pp. of show. The clerk has shown the lady many hats. We were shown many tricks. v.

show-off (shō'ōf'), 1. a showing off. 2. Informal. person who shows off. n.

show room (shō'rūm'), room used for the display of goods or merchandise. n.

show y (shō'ē), 1. making a display; striking; conspicuous: A peony is a showy flower. 2. too bright and gay to be in good taste. 3. ostentatious. adj., showier, showiest. —show'ily, adv. —show'iness, n.

shrank (shrank), a pt. of shrink. That shirt shrank in the wash. v.

shrapnel (shrap'nəl),

Shrapnel (def. 1)

1. shell filled with bullets and powder, arranged to explode in the air and scatter the bullets over a large area. 2. fragments scattered by such a shell on explosion. n.

shred (shred), 1. a very small piece torn off or cut off; very narrow strip; scrap: The wind tore the sail to shreds. 2. fragment; particle; bit: There's not a shred of evidence that he took the money. 3. tear or cut into small pieces. 1,2 n., 3 v., shred ded or shred, shred ding.

Shreve port (shrēv'pōrt), city in NW Louisiana. 164,000. n.

shrew (shrū), 1. a bad-tempered, quarrelsome woman. 2. a mouse-like mammal with a long snout and brownish fur, that eats insects and worms. n.

Shrew (total length about 5 in.) shrewd (shrūd), 1. having a sharp mind; showing a keen wit; clever: He is a shrewd businessman. 2. keen; sharp. adj. —shrewd'ly, adv. —shrewd'ness, n.

shrewd turn, a mean trick; mischievous act.

shrew ish (shrū'ish), scolding; bad-tempered. adj. —shrew'ish ly, adv. —shrew'ish ness, n.

shriek (shrēk), 1. a loud, sharp, shrill sound: We heard the shriek of the engine's whistle. 2. make a loud, sharp, shrill sound. People sometimes shriek because of terror, anger, pain, or amusement. 3. utter loudly and shrilly. 4. a loud, shrill laugh. 1,4 n., 2,3 v.

shriev al ty (shrēv'l tē), office, term of office, or jurisdiction of a sheriff. n., pl. shriev al ties.

shrift (shrift), Archaic. 1. confession to a priest, followed by the imposing of penance and the granting of absolution. 2. act of shriving. n.

shrike (shrik), bird with a strong, hooked beak that feeds on large insects, frogs, and sometimes on other birds. n.

Shrike (about 9 in. long) shrill (shril), 1. having a high pitch; high and sharp in sound; piercing: Crickets, locusts, and katydids make shrill noises. 2. full of shrill sounds. 3. make a shrill sound. 4. sound sharply. 5. a shrill sound. 6. with a shrill sound. 1,2 adj., 3,4 v., 5 n., 6 adv. —shrill'ness, n.

shrill ly (shril'lē), in shrill tones. adv.

shrimp (shrimp), 1. a small, long-tailed shellfish, used for food. 2. a small or insignificant person. n., pl. shrimps or for 1 (esp. collectively) shrimp. —shrimp'-like', adj.

shrine (shrin), 1. case, box, etc., holding a holy object. 2. tomb of a saint, etc. 3. place of worship. 4. place or object considered as sacred because of its memories, history, etc.: Mount Vernon is a shrine for Americans. 5. enclose in a shrine or something like a shrine. 1-4 n., 5 v., shrined, shrining.

shrink (shrink), 1. draw back: The dog shrank from the whip. A shy person shrinks from making new acquaintances. 2. become smaller: His wool sweater shrank when it was washed. 3. make smaller; cause to contract: Cloth is often shrunk with water before being made up. 4. a shrinking. 1-3 v., shrank or shrunk, shrunk or shrunk en, shrink ing; 4 n. —shrink'a ble, adj. —shrink'er, n.

Shrine

shrink age (shrink'ij), 1. fact or process of shrinking. 2. amount or degree of shrinking: a shrinkage of two inches in the length of a sleeve. n.

shrive (shriv), Archaic. 1. hear the confession of, impose penance on, and grant absolution to. 2. make confession. 3. hear confessions. v., shrove or shrived, shriven or shrived, shriving.

shrive oneself, confess to a priest and do penance.

shrive el (shriv'l), 1. dry up; wither; shrink and wrinkle: The hot sunshine shriveled the grass. 2. waste away; become useless. 3. make helpless or useless. v., shrived, shriving or esp. Brit. shrived, shriving.

shriven (shriv'ən), a pp. of shrive. The penitent was shriven by the priest. v.

Shropshire (shrop/-shir), county in W England. n.

shroud (shroud), 1. cloth or garment in which a dead person is wrapped for burial. 2. wrap for burial. 3. something that covers, conceals, or veils: The fog was a shroud over the city. 4. cover; conceal; veil: The earth is shrouded in darkness. 5. rope from a mast to the side of a ship. Shrouds help support the mast. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 v.

shrove (shrōv), a pt. of shrive. The priest shrove the penitent. v.

Shrove tide (shrōv'tīd'), the three days, Shrove Sunday, Shrove Monday, and Shrove Tuesday, before Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent. Shrovetide is a time for confession, absolution, rejoicing, and feasting. n.

shrub (shrub), a woody plant smaller than a tree, usually with many separate stems starting from or near the ground; bush. A lilac bush is a shrub. n. —shrub/'like', adj.

shrub (shrub), drink made from fruit juice, sugar, and, usually, rum or brandy. n.

shrub ber y (shrub/or ē), 1. shrubs collectively. 2. place planted with shrubs. n., pl. shrub ber ies.

shrub by (shrub/ē), 1. like shrubs. 2. covered with shrubs. 3. consisting of shrubs. adj., shrub bi er, shrub bi est.

shrug (shrug), 1. raise (the shoulders) as an expression of dislike, doubt, indifference, impatience, etc.: He shrugged and walked away. 2. a raising of the shoulders in this way. 1 v., shrugged, shrugging; 2 n.

shrunk (shrunk), a pp. and a pt. of shrink. His wool socks have shrunk so that he can't get them on. v.

shrunk en (shrunk'ən), 1. grown smaller; shriveled. 2. a pp. of shrink. 1 adj., 2 v.

shuck (shuk), 1. husk; pod. 2. remove the shucks from. 1 n., 2 v. —shuck/'er, n.

shucks (shuks), Informal. exclamation of disgust, regret, impatience, etc. interj.

shudder (shud'ər), 1. tremble with horror, fear, cold, etc.: She shudders at the sight of a snake. 2. a trembling; quivering. 1 v., 2 n. —shud/'der ing ly, adv.

shuffle (shuf'l), 1. walk without lifting the feet: The old man shuffles feebly along. 2. scrape or drag (the feet). 3. a scraping or dragging movement of the feet. 4. dance with a shuffle. 5. mix (cards, etc.) so as to change the order. 6. a shuffling of cards. 7. right or turn to shuffle (cards). 8. push about; thrust or throw with clumsy haste: He shuffled on his clothes and ran out of the house. 9. move this way and that: shuffle a stack of papers. 10. movement this way and that: After a hasty shuffle through his papers, the speaker began to talk. 11. put, bring, come about, or answer in a tricky way; dodge; equivocate; quibble. 12. trick; unfair act; evasion: Through some legal shuffle he secured a new trial. 1,2,4,5,8,9,11 v., shuf fled, shuf fling; 3,4,6,7,10,12 n. —shuf/'fler, n.

shuffle off, get rid of.

shuffle board (shuf'l bōrd'), a game played by pushing large wooden or iron disks along a surface to certain spots. n.

shun (shun), keep away from; avoid: She was lazy and shunned work. v., shunned, shunning. —shun/'ner, n.

shunt (shunt), 1. move out of the way; turn aside. 2. a turning aside; shift. 3. sidetrack; put aside; get rid of. 4. switch (a train) from one track to another. 5. a railroad switch. 6. wire or other conductor joining two points in an electric circuit and forming a path through which a part of the current will pass. 7. carry (a part of a current) by means of a shunt. 1,3,4,7 v., 2,5,6 n. —shunt/'er, n.

shut (shut), 1. close (a receptacle or opening) by pushing or pulling a lid, door, some part, etc., into place: shut a box, shut a window. 2. close (eyes, a knife, a book, etc.) by bringing parts together. 3. close tight; close securely; close doors or other openings of: shut a house for the summer. 4. become shut; be closed. 5. closed; fastened up; enclosed. 6. enclose; confine: The criminal was shut in prison. 7. in phonetics, formed by completely stopping the mouth passage. 8. in phonetics, having sound stopped by a consonant at the end of a syllable. 1-4,6 v., shut, shutting; 5,7,8 adj.

shut down, 1. close by lowering. 2. close (a factory or the like) for a time; stop work. 3. settle down so as to cover or envelop. 4. Informal. put a stop or check (on). shut in, keep from going out.

shut off, close; obstruct; check; bar; turn off: Shut off the radio.

shut out, 1. keep from coming in. 2. defeat (a team) without allowing it to score.

shut up, 1. shut the doors and windows of. 2. Informal. stop talking. 3. keep from going out.

shut-down (shut'doun'), a shutting down; a closing of a factory, or the like, for a time. n.

shut-in (shut'in'), 1. confined. 2. person who is kept from going out by sickness, weakness, etc. 1 adj., 2 n.

shut-out (shut/out'), 1. defeat of a team without allowing it to score. 2. lockout. n.

shut ter (shut'ər), 1. a movable cover for a window: When we shut up our cottage for the winter, we put shutters on all the windows. 2. a movable cover, slide, etc., for closing an opening. The device that opens and closes in front of the lens of a camera is the shutter. 3. put a shutter or shutters on or over. 4. person or thing that shuts. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

shut tle (shut'l), 1. instrument that carries the thread from one side of the web to the other in weaving. 2. instrument on which thread is wound. Shuttles are used in tatting (a kind of lacemaking). 3. something that goes back and forth. The shuttle in a sewing machine is the sliding holder for the lower thread. 4. move quickly to and fro. 5. U.S. shuttle train. 1-3,5 n., 4 v., shut tled, shut tling.

shut tle cock (shut'l-kok'), 1. a cork with feathers stuck in one end, which is hit back and forth by a small racket, called a battledore, in the game of battledore and shuttlecock. 2. a similar object used in the game of badminton; bird. n.

shuttle train, train that runs back and forth over a short distance.

shy (shī), 1. uncomfortable in company; bashful: John is shy and dislikes parties. 2. easily frightened away; timid: A deer is a shy animal. 3. cautious; wary. 4. start back or aside suddenly: The horse shied at the Shuttle for weaving: A, yarn; B, bobbins.

newspaper blowing along the ground. 5. a sudden start to one side. 6. shrink. 1-3 adj., shy er, shy est or shier, shi est; 4,6 v., shied, shying; 5 n., pl. shies. —shy/-ness, n.

fight shy of, keep away from; avoid.

shy of, Informal. having little; lacking: My brother is two months shy of voting age.

shy² (shī), throw; fling: The boy shied a stone at the tree. v., shied, shying; n., pl. shies.

Shy lock (shī'lok), 1. the relentless and revengeful moneylender in Shakespeare's play The Merchant of Venice. 2. a greedy moneylender. n.

shy ly (shī'lē), in a shy manner. adv. Also, shily.

shy ster (shī'stər), U.S. Informal. lawyer or other person who uses improper or questionable methods in his business or profession. n.

si (sē), the seventh tone of the musical scale; ti. n.

Si (sē), river flowing through S China into the South China Sea. 1000 mi. n.

Si, silicon.

Si am (sī'am/), 1. former name of Thailand. 2. Gulf of, gulf of the South China Sea, between the Malay Peninsula and Cambodia. n.

Si a mese (sī'ə mēz/), 1. of or having to do with Siam (Thailand), its people, or their language. 2. native of Siam (Thailand). 3. language of Siam (Thailand). 1 adj., 2,3 n., pl. Si a mese.

Siamese twins, 1. 1811-1874, twin Siamese boys who were born joined together by a band of flesh between their chests. 2. any twins joined together at birth.

Si an (sē'an/), city in central China. 629,000. n.

sib (sib), 1. related by blood; closely related; akin. 2. kinsman or relative. 3. one's kin. 4. brother or sister. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

Si be li us (sə bā'lē əs), Jean, 1865-1957, Finnish composer of symphonies and other music. n.

Si be ri a (sī bir'ē ə), region in N Asia, extending from the Ural Mountains to the Pacific. It is part of the Soviet Union. n. —Si be'ri an, adj., n.

sib i lance (sib'l əns), a hissing. n.

sib i lant (sib'l ənt), 1. hissing. 2. a hissing sound, letter, or symbol. S and sh are sibilants. 1 adj., 2 n.

sib yl (sib'l), 1. any of several prophetesses that the ancient Greeks and Romans consulted about the future. 2. prophetess; fortuneteller; witch. n.

sib yl line (sib'l ēn or sib'l īn), 1. of or like a sibyl; prophetic; mysterious. 2. said or written by a sibyl. adj.

sic! (sik), Latin. so; thus. Sic is often used to show or emphasize the fact that something has been copied just as it was in the original. Example: The letter was headed Danbury, Connecticut [sic], Jan. 2. adv.

sic² (sik), 1. set upon or attack. 2. incite to set upon or attack (with on). v., sicked, sick ing.

sic ca tive (sik'ə tiv), 1. drying. 2. a drying substance; especially, a drier used in painting. 1 adj., 2 n.

Si cil ian (sə sil'yən), 1. of or having to do with Sicily, its people, or their dialect. 2. native or inhabitant of Sicily. 3. dialect of Italian spoken in Sicily. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Sic i ly (sī'sə lē), the largest island in the Mediterranean, near the SW tip of Italy, a department of Italy. 4,487,000 pop.; 9926 sq. mi. See Corsica for map. n.

sick (sik), 1. in poor health; having some disease; ill. 2. Esp. Brit. Informal. vomiting; inclined to vomit; feeling nausea. 3. for a sick person; connected with sickness. 4. showing sickness: a sick look. 5. sick people. 6. weary; tired: He is sick of school. 7. disgusted. 8. affected with sorrow or longing: sick at heart. 9. not in the proper condition. 10. pale; wan. 1-4,6-10 adj., 5 n.

sick bay, place on a ship used as a hospital.

sick bed (sik'bed/), bed of a sick person. n.

sick en (sik'ən), 1. become sick: The bird sickened when kept in the cage. 2. make sick: The sight of blood sickened him. v.

sick en ing (sik'ən ing), 1. making sick; causing nausea, faintness, disgust, or loathing. 2. becoming sick. adj. —sick'en ing ly, adv.

sick headache, headache accompanied by nausea; migraine.

sick ish (sik'ish), 1. somewhat sick.

2. somewhat sickening. adj. —sick/-ish ly, adv. —sick/ish ness, n.

sick le (sik'l), tool consisting of a short, curved blade on a short handle, used for cutting grass, etc. n.

sick ly (sik'lē), 1. often sick; not strong; not healthy. 2. of or having to do with sickness: Her skin is a sickly yellow. 3. causing sickness: That place has a sickly climate. 4. faint; weak; pale. 5. in a sick manner. 1-4 adj., sick li er, sick li est; 5 adv. —sick/li ness, n.

sick ness (sik'nīs), 1. condition of being sick; illness; disease. 2. nausea; vomiting. n.

sic tran sit glo ri a mun di (sik tran'sit glō'rē ə mun'dī), Latin. so passes away the glory of the world.

side (sid), 1. surface or line bounding a thing: the sides of a square. 2. one of the two surfaces of an object that is not the front, back, top, or bottom: There is a door at the side of the house. 3. either of the two surfaces of paper, cloth, etc.: Write only on one side of the paper.

4. a particular surface: the outer and inner sides of a hollow ball, the side of the moon turned toward the earth.

5. either the right or the left part of a thing; either part or region beyond a central line: the east side of a city, our side of the street, turn to one side.

6. either the right or the left part of the body of a person or an animal: a pain in one's side.

7. slope of a hill or bank. 8. bank or shore of a river. 9. group of persons opposed to another group: Both sides are ready for the contest.

10. position, course, attitude, or part of one person or party against another: It is pleasant to be on the winning side of a dispute.

11. part of a family; line of descent: The man is English on his mother's side.

12. at one side; on one side: the side aisles of a theater.

13. from one side: a side view.

14. toward one side: a side glance.

15. less important: a side issue.

16. Side with means take the part of; favor (one among opposing or differing groups or persons).

17. Brit. a spinning motion given a billiard ball by hitting it quickly on the side.

18. Brit. Slang. pretentious airs. 1-11,17,18 n., 12-15 adj., 16 v., sid ed, sid ing.

by one's side, near one.

on the side, Informal. in addition to one's ordinary duties.

side by side, beside one another.

split one's sides, laugh very hard.

take sides, place oneself with one person or group against another.

side arms, sword, revolver, bayonet, etc., carried at the side or in the belt.

side board (sid'bōrd/), piece of dining-room furniture. A sideboard has drawers and shelves for holding silver and linen, and space on top for dishes. n.

side burns (sid'bérnz/), U.S. short whiskers just below the hairline on both cheeks. n.pl.

side car (sid'kär/), car for a passenger, baggage, etc., attached to the side of a motorcycle. n.

-sided, suffix meaning: having a side or sides, as in three-sided.

side-kick (sid'kik/), Slang. partner or close friend. n.

side light, 1. light coming from the side. 2. incidental information about a subject. 3. either of two lights carried by a moving ship at night. There is a red one on the port side and a green one on the starboard side. 4. window or other opening for light in the side of a building, ship, etc. 5. window at the side of a door or of another window.

side line, 1. line at the side of something. 2. line that marks the limit of play on the side of the field in football, etc. 3. space just outside these lines: The spectators watched the game from the side lines. 4. an additional line of goods or of business.

Sickle

Sideburns

side long (sid'long'), to or toward one side. adj., adv.
side piece (sid'pēs'), piece forming a side or part of a side, or fixed by the side, of something. n.

si de re al (sī dir'ē əl), 1. of or having to do with the stars. 2. measured by the apparent daily motion of the stars. A sidereal day is about four minutes shorter than a mean solar day. A sidereal year is about twenty minutes longer than a solar year. adj.

sid er ite (sid'ər it), an iron ore composed of iron carbonate. Siderite occurs in various forms and colors. n.
side sad dle (sid'sad'l), a woman's saddle so made that both of the rider's legs are on the same side of the horse. n.

side show, 1. a small show in connection with a principal one: the side shows of a circus. 2. any minor proceeding or affair connected with a more important one.

side slip (sid'slip'), 1. slip to one side. 2. the slipping to one side of an airship. 1,2 n., 1 v., side slipped, side slip ping.

side step, 1. a step or stepping to one side. 2. step at the side of a ship, vehicle, etc.

side-step (sid'step'), 1. step aside. 2. avoid by stepping aside; evade: side-step a responsibility. v., side-stepped, side-step ping. —side/step per, n.

side swipe (sid'swip'), U.S. 1. hit with a sweeping blow along the side. 2. a sweeping blow along the side. 1 v., side swiped, side swipe ing; 2 n.

side track (sid'trak'), 1. a railroad siding. 2. switch (a train, etc.) to a sidetrack. 3. put aside; turn aside: The teacher refused to be sidetracked by questions on other subjects. 1 n., 2,3 v.

side walk (sid'wōk'), place to walk at the side of a street, usually paved. n.

side ward (sid'wārd), toward one side. adj., adv.

side wards (sid'wārdz), sideward. adv.

side way (sid'wā'), 1. sideways. 2. a side street, not a main road; byway. 3. sidewalk. 1 adv., adj., 2,3 n.

side ways (sid'wāz'), 1. toward one side. 2. from one side. 3. with one side toward the front. adv., adj.

side-wheel (sid'hwel'), having a paddle wheel on each side. adj.

side wise (sid'wīz'), sideways. adv., adj.

sid ing (sid'ing'), 1. a short railroad track to which cars can be switched from a main track. 2. U.S. boards forming the sides of a wooden building. n.

sid dle (sī'dl), 1. move sideways. 2. move sideways slowly so as not to attract attention: The little boy shyly sidled up to the visitor. 3. movement sideways. 1,2 v., si dled, si dling; 3 n.

Si don (sī'dn), town on the SW coast of Lebanon. In ancient times it was a seaport of Phoenicia and was noted for its wealth and wickedness. 25,000. n.

siege (sēj), 1. the surrounding of a fortified place by an army trying to capture it; a besieging or being besieged: Troy was under a siege for ten years. 2. any long or persistent effort to overcome resistance; any long-continued attack: a siege of illness. 3. besiege. 1,2 n., 3 v., sieged, sieg ing.

lay siege to, 1. besiege: lay siege to a city. 2. attempt to win or get by long and persistent effort.

Siege Perilous, a vacant seat at King Arthur's Round Table, that could be taken only by the knight who was destined to find the Holy Grail.

Sieg fried (sēg'frēd), in German legends, a hero who killed a dragon and bathed in its blood to make himself invulnerable and who won a treasure.

si en na (sē en'ə), 1. a yellowish-brown coloring matter (raw sienna) made from earth containing iron. 2. a reddish-brown coloring matter (burnt sienna) made by roasting earth containing iron. 3. a yellowish brown or reddish brown. n.

si er ra (sē er'ə), chain of hills or mountains with jagged peaks. n.

Si er ra Le one (sē er'ə lē ō'nē), a republic in W Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth. 2,260,000 pop.; 27,940 sq. mi. Capital: Freetown.

Si er ra Ma dre (sē er'ə mā'drā), mountain ranges in E and W Mexico. Between these ranges is the central plateau of Mexico.

Si er ra Ne vad a (sē er'ə nə vad'ə or sē er'ə nə-vā'də), a mountain range in E California. The highest peak, Mount Whitney, is 14,495 feet.

si es ta (sē es'tə), a nap or rest taken at noon or in the afternoon. n.

sieur (syœr), a former French title of respect for a man; Sir. n.

sieve (siv), 1. utensil having holes that let liquids and smaller pieces pass through, but not the larger pieces: Shaking flour through a sieve removes lumps. 2. put through a sieve. 1 n., 2 v., sieved, siev ing.

sift (sift), 1. separate large pieces from small by shaking in a sieve: Sift the ashes. 2. put through a sieve: Sift sugar on the top of the cake. 3. use a sieve. 4. fall through, or as if through, a sieve: The snow sifted softly down. 5. examine very carefully: The jury sifted the evidence to decide if the man was guilty. v. —sift'er, n.

sigh (sī), 1. let out a very long, deep breath because one is sad, tired, relieved, etc. 2. act or sound of sighing: a sigh of regret, a sigh of relief. 3. say or express with a sigh. 4. make a sound like a sigh: The wind sighed in the treetops. 5. wish very much; long: She sighed for home and friends. 6. lament with sighing: sigh over one's unhappy fate. 1,3-6 v., 2 n. —sigh'er, n. —sigh'ing ly, adv.

sight (sit), 1. power of seeing; vision: Birds have better sight than dogs. 2. act or fact of seeing; look: love at first sight. 3. limit or range of seeing: Land was in sight. 4. thing seen; view; glimpse: I caught a sight of him. 5. something worth seeing: see the sights of the city. 6. something that looks queer: Her clothes were a sight. 7. see: At last Columbus sighted land. 8. device on a gun, surveying instrument, etc., to assist in taking aim or observing. 9. observation taken with a telescope or other instrument; aim with a gun, etc. 10. take a sight or observation of. 11. aim by means of sights: The hunter sighted carefully before firing his gun. 12. adjust the sight (of a gun, etc.). 13. provide with sights. 14. way of looking or thinking; regard: Dolls are precious in a little girl's sight. 15. Informal. great quantity. 1-6,8, 9,14,15 n., 7,10-13 v.

at sight, as soon as seen.

catch sight of, see.

in sight of, where one can see or be seen by.

know by sight, know sufficiently to recognize when seen.

on sight, as soon as seen.

out of sight of, 1. where one cannot see: out of sight of land. 2. where one cannot be seen by: out of sight of the neighbors.

sight unseen, not seen.

sight draft, a written order from one bank to another, requiring a certain amount of money to be paid on demand.

sight less (sit'lis), 1. blind. 2. invisible. adj.

sight ly (sit'lē), 1. pleasing to the sight. 2. affording a fine view. adj., sight li er, sight li est. —sight/li-ness, n.

sight see ing (sit'sē'ing), going around to see objects or places of interest. n., adj.

sight se er (sit'sē'ər), person who goes around to see objects or places of interest. n.

sig moid (sig'moid), 1. shaped like the letter S. The sigmoid flexure of the colon is its last curve before the rectum. 2. having to do with the sigmoid flexure of the colon. 3. shaped like the letter C. adj.

sign (sīn), 1. any mark used to mean, represent, or point out something: The signs for addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division are +, -, X, ÷. 2. attach one's name to: Sign this letter. 3. attach one's name to show authority, agreement, obligation, etc.; write one's name: Sign on the dotted line. 4. write: Sign your initials here. 5. hire by a written agreement: sign a new player. 6. accept employment: They signed for three years. 7. motion or gesture used to mean, represent, or point out something: A nod is a sign of agreement. We talked to the deaf man by signs. 8. give a sign to; signal: sign someone to enter. 9. communicate by gesture: sign assent. 10. mark with a sign. 11. an inscribed board, space, etc., serving for advertisement, information, etc.: The sign reads, "Keep off the grass." 12. indication: There are no signs of life about the house. 13. indication of a coming event: The robin is a sign of spring. 14. trace: The hunter found signs of deer. 15. in astronomy, any of the twelve divisions of the zodiac. 1,7,11-15 n., 2-6,8-10 v. —sign'er, n.

sign away, assign.

sign off, stop broadcasting.

sign over, hand over by signing one's name.

signal (sig'nəl), 1. sign giving notice of something: A red light is a signal of danger. 2. make a signal or signals (to): He signaled the car to stop by raising his hand. 3. make known by a signal or signals: A bell signals the end of a school period. 4. used as a signal or in signaling: a signal flag. 5. remarkable; striking; notable: The aircraft carrier was a signal invention. 6. a bid or play in card games that gives certain information to one's partner. 7. exciting cause; occasion. 1,6,7 n., 2,3 v., signaled, sig'nal ing or *esp. Brit. sig'nal led, sig'nal ling; 4,5 *adj.

signal fire, fire used in giving a signal.

signal flag, flag used in giving a signal.

signal ing (sig'nəl ing), act of using or controlling signals. n.

signal ize (sig'nəl īz), make stand out; make notable: Many great inventions signalize the last 150 years. The year 1945 was signalized by the end of World War II. v., sig'nal ized, sig'nal iz ing.

sig'nal ly (sig'nəl ē), remarkably; strikingly; notably. adv.

sig'nal man (sig'nəl mən or sig'nəl mən'), man in charge of the signals on a railroad, in the army or navy, etc. n., pl. sig'nal men.

sig'na to ry (sig'nə tō'rē), 1. a signer of a document. 2. signing: signatory delegates. 1 n., pl. sig'na to ries; 2 adj.

sig'na ture (sig'nə chər), 1. a person's name written by himself. 2. a writing of one's name. 3. signs printed at the beginning of a staff to show the pitch, key, and time of a piece of music. 4. in printing, letter or number printed at the bottom of the first page of every sheet, telling how it is to be folded and arranged in pages. 5. sheet with such a mark, especially when folded. 6. tune, etc., used to identify a radio program. n.

sign board (sīn'bōrd'), board having a sign, notice, advertisement, inscription, etc., on it. n.

sig'net (sig'nit), a small seal: The order was sealed with the king's signet. n.

signet ring, a finger ring containing a signet.

sig'nif i cance (sig'nif'ə kəns), 1. importance; consequence: The President wanted to see him on a matter of significance. 2. meaning: Do you understand the significance of H₂O? 3. expressiveness; significant quality: the significance of her smile. n.

sig'nif i cant (sig'nif'ə kənt), 1. full of meaning; important; of consequence: July 4, 1776, is a significant date for Americans. 2. having a meaning; expressive: Smiles are significant of pleasure. 3. having or expressing a hidden meaning: A significant nod from his friend warned him to stop talking. adj. —sig'nif i cant ly, adv.

sig'ni fi ca tion (sig'nə fə kā'shən), 1. meaning; sense. 2. act or process of signifying. Signification relies largely upon words and gestures. n.

sig'nif i ca tive (sig'nif'ə kā'tiv), 1. serving to signify; having a meaning. 2. significant or suggestive. adj. sig'ni fy (sig'nə fī), 1. be a sign of; mean: "Oh!" signifies surprise. 2. make known by signs, words, or actions: He signified his consent with a nod. 3. have importance; be of consequence; matter: What a fool says does not signify. v., sig'ni fied, sig'ni fy ing.

signior (sē'nyōr), signor. n.

sign language, language in which motions stand for words, ideas, etc.

si gnor (sē'nyōr), Italian. 1. Mr.; sir. 2. gentleman. n.

si gnor ra (sē nyō'rā), Italian. 1. Mrs. 2. lady. n., pl. si gnore (-rā).

si gnor ri na (sē'nyō rē'nā), Italian. 1. Miss. 2. a young lady. n., pl. si gnor ine (-nā).

sign post (sīn'pōst'), post having a sign, notice, or direction on it; guidepost. n.

Sig'urd (sī'ŭrd), in Norse mythology, Siegfried. n.

Sikh (sēk), member of a religious sect of N India, famous as fighters. n.

si lage (sī'lij), green food for farm animals, preserved in a silo; ensilage. n.

si lence (sī'ləns), 1. absence of sound or noise; stillness. 2. a keeping still; not talking. 3. omission of mention: Mother passed over our foolish remarks in silence. 4. stop the speech or noise of; make silent; quiet: The nurse silenced the baby's crying. 5. be silent! 1-3 n., 4 v., si lenced, si lenc ing; 5 interj.

si len cer (sī'lən sər), 1. person or thing that silences. 2. muffler on an internal-combustion engine. 3. device for deadening the sound of a gun. n.

si lent (sī'lənt), 1. quiet; still; noiseless: a silent house, the silent hills. 2. not speaking; saying little or nothing: a silent person. 3. not spoken; not said out loud: a silent prayer. The "e" in "time" is a silent letter. 4. not active; taking no open or active part. A silent partner has no share in managing a business. 5. omitting mention of something, as in a narrative. adj. —si'lent ly, adv. —si'lent ness, n.

Si le nus (sī lē'nəs), the foster father of Bacchus and the leader of the satyrs. He is represented as a short, stout, drunken old man. n.

Si le sia (sə lē'shə or sī lē'shə), region in central Europe, now included for the most part in Poland and Czechoslovakia. n. —Si le'sian, adj., n.

si le sia (sə lē'shə or sī lē'shə), a fine, light, smooth cotton cloth used for lining. n.

si lex (sī'leks), 1. silica. 2. a strong glass that is mostly quartz and resists heat. n.

Si lex (sī'leks), Trademark. a coffee maker made of the glass silex. n.

sil hou ette (sil'ū et'), 1. an outline portrait cut out of a black paper or filled in with some single color. 2. a dark image outlined against a lighter background. 3. show in outline: The mountain was silhouetted against the sky. 1,2 n., 3 v., sil hou et ted, sil hou et ting.

in silhouette, shown in outline, or in black against a white background.

sil i ca (sil'ə kə), a hard, white or colorless substance; silicon dioxide. Flint, quartz and sand are forms of silica. n.

sil i cate (sil'ə kit or sil'ə kāt), compound containing silicon with oxygen and an alkali. Mica, soapstone, asbestos, and feldspar are silicates. n.

sil i ceous (sə lish'əs), containing or consisting of silica; resembling silica. adj.

si lic ic (sə lis'ik), of or having to do with silica; noting any of certain acids regarded as derivatives of silica. adj.

sil i con (sil'ə kən), a nonmetallic element found only combined with other substances. Silicon combines with oxygen to form silica. Symbol: Si n.

sil i co sis (sil'ə kō'sis), disease of the lungs caused by continually breathing air filled with dust from quartz or silicates. Men who work in quarries often get silicosis. n.

silk (silk), 1. a fine, soft thread spun by silkworms. 2. cloth made from it. 3. garment of such material. 4. thread or cloth like silk, made artificially. 5. anything like silk: corn silk. 6. of, like, or having to do with silk: May sewed the silk dress with silk thread. 1-5 n., 6 adj. —silk/like', adj.

silk en (sil'kən), 1. made of silk: a silken dress. 2. like silk; smooth, soft, and glossy: silken hair. 3. wearing silk clothes. adj.

silk-stock ing (silk'stok'ing), 1. wearing silk stockings; elegant; aristocratic. 2. person who wears silk stockings; an elegant, aristocratic person. 1 adj., 2 n.

silk worm (silk/wərm'), caterpillar that spins silk to form a cocoon. n.

silk y (sil'kē), 1. like silk; smooth, soft, and glossy; silken: A kitten has silky fur. 2. of silk. adj., silk ier, silk i est. —silk/i ness, n.

sill (sil), 1. piece of wood or stone across the bottom of a door, window, or house frame. 2. a large, wooden beam on which the wall of a house, etc., rests. n.

sil li ness (sil'ē nis), 1. foolishness; being silly. 2. a silly act, thing, etc. n.

silly (sil'ē), 1. without sense or reason; foolish; ridiculous; nonsensical. 2. Archaic. simple; innocent; harmless. 3. Informal. stunned; dazed. adj., sil li er, sil li est.

si lo (si'lō), an airtight building or pit in which green food for animals is stored. n., pl. silos.

Silo am (sə lō'am), pool near Jerusalem. John 9:7. n.

silt (silt), 1. very fine earth, sand, etc., carried by moving water and deposited as sediment: The harbor is being choked up with silt. 2. fill or choke up with silt. 1 n., 2 v.

silt y (sil'tē), of silt; like silt; full of silt. adj., silt i er, silt i est.

Sil u ri an (sə lūr'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with a very early period in the formation of the earth's rocks. The earliest vertebrates appeared toward the end of the Silurian period. 2. the Silurian period. 1 adj., 2 n.

sil va (sil'və), forest trees. n.

sil van (sil'vən), sylvan. adj.

sil ver (sil'vər), 1. a shining white, precious metal, used for coins, jewelry, spoons, dishes, etc. Silver is an element. Symbol: Ag 2. coins made from this metal: a pocketful of silver. 3. utensils or dishes made from it: table silver. 4. something like silver. 5. made of or plated with silver: a silver spoon. 6. of or having to do with silver. 7. cover or coat with silver or something like silver: silver a mirror. 8. making or selling silver. 9. the color of silver. 10. having the color of silver: a silver slipper. 11. make the color of silver: Moonlight silvered the lake. 12. become the color of silver: The old lady's hair had silvered. 13. having a clear ringing sound like that of silver dropped on a hard surface. 14. eloquent: a silver tongue. 15. of or advocating the use of silver as a standard of money. 1-4, 9 n., 5, 6, 8, 10, 13-15 adj., 7, 11, 12 v.

silver fox, 1. fox whose fur is composed of black hairs with white bands near the tips. 2. this fur.

silver leaf, silver beaten into very thin sheets.

silver lining, the brighter side of a sad or unfortunate situation.

silver nitrate, a white, crystalline salt obtained by treating silver with nitric acid. It is used in medicine as an antiseptic, in photography, dyeing, etc.

COCOON

SILKWORM

LINTEL

SILL

Silo

sil ver-plat ed (sil'vər plāt'id), covered with a thin layer of silver or similar material. adj.

silver screen, 1. screen with a silverlike coating on which motion pictures are shown. 2. motion pictures.

sil ver smith (sil'vər smith'), person who makes articles of silver. n.

sil ver-tongued (sil'vər tungd'), eloquent. adj.

sil ver ware (sil'vər wär'), articles made of silver; utensils or dishes made from silver: Her silverware consisted of knives, forks, spoons, and a water pitcher. n.

silver wedding, the 25th anniversary of a wedding.

sil ver y (sil'vər ē), like silver; like that of silver: Moonbeams are silvery. The bell has a silvery sound. adj.

—sil/ver i ness, n.

sim i an (sim'ē ən), 1. like or characteristic of an ape or monkey. 2. ape; monkey. 1 adj., 2 n.

sim i lar (sim'lār), 1. much the same; alike; like: A river and a brook are similar. 2. in geometry, of figures, having the same shape: similar triangles. adj. —sim/i lar ly, adv.

sim i lar i ty (sim'ē lar'ə tē), being similar; likeness; resemblance. n., pl. sim i lar i ties.

sim i le (sim'lē), an expressed comparison of two different things or ideas. Examples: a face like marble, as brave as a lion. n.

si mil i tude (sə mil'ə tūd or sə mil'ə tūd), 1. similarity; likeness; resemblance. 2. comparison: She could think of no similitude to describe the sunset. 3. copy; image. n.

sim i tar (sim'ə tər), scimitar. n.

sim mer (sim'ər), 1. make a murmuring sound while boiling gently: The kettle simmered on the stove. 2. keep at or just below the boiling point; boil gently. 3. process of cooking at or just below the boiling point. 4. be on the point of just breaking out: He simmered with indignation, but said nothing. 1, 2, 4 v., 3 n.

simmer down, cool off; calm down.

si mo ni a cal (si'mə ni'ə kl), 1. guilty of simony. 2. of, having to do with, or involving simony. adj.

Si mon Peter (si'mən). See Peter, Saint.

si mon-pure (si'mən pyūr'), Informal. real; genuine; authentic; true: simon-pure maple sugar. adj.

si mo ny (si'mənē or sim'ə nē), 1. the making of money out of sacred things. 2. sin of buying or selling positions, promotions, etc., in the church. n.

si moom (sə mūm'), a hot, suffocating, sand-laden wind of the deserts of Arabia, Syria, and northern Africa. n.

si moon (sə mūn'), simoom. n.

simp (simp), U.S. Slang. simpleton; fool. n.

sim per (sim'pər), 1. smile in a silly, affected way. 2. express by a simper; say with a simper. 3. a silly, affected smile. 1, 2 v., 3 n.

sim ple (sim'pl), 1. easy to do or understand: a simple problem, simple language. 2. not divided into parts; single; not compound. An oak leaf is a simple leaf. "John called his dog" is a simple sentence. 3. having few parts; not complex; not involved; elementary: a simple one-celled animal. 4. with nothing added; bare; mere: My answer is the simple truth. 5. without ornament; not rich or showy; plain: simple clothes. 6. natural; not affected; not showing off: She has a pleasant, simple manner. 7. honest; sincere: a simple heart. 8. not subtle; not sophisticated; innocent; artless: a simple child. 9. common; ordinary: a simple citizen. 10. humble: His parents were simple people. 11. dull; stupid; weak in mind: "Simple Simon met a pieman." 12. a foolish, stupid person. 13. something simple. 14. plant used in medicine; medicine made from it. 1-11 adj., sim pler, sim plest; 12-14 n. —sim/ple ness, n.

gentle and simple, people of high and low degree.

simple fraction, fraction in which both the numerator and the denominator are whole numbers. Examples: $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{3}{4}$, $\frac{219}{125}$.

sim ple heart ed (sim'pl här'tid), 1. having or showing a simple, unaffected nature. 2. guileless; sincere. adj.

simple machine, any of the elementary devices or mechanical powers on which other machines are based. The lever, wedge, pulley, wheel and axle, inclined plane, and screw are often called the six simple machines.

sim ple mind ed (sim'pl min'did), 1. artless; inexperienced. 2. ignorant; foolish; stupid. 3. feeble-minded. adj.

simple sentence, sentence consisting of one main clause. Example: The whistle blows.

simple time, two or three beats to a measure in music.

sim ple ton (sim'pl tən), a silly person; fool. n.

sim plic i ty (sim'plis'ə tē), 1. being simple. 2. freedom from difficulty; clearness. 3. plainness: A room in a hospital should be furnished with simplicity. 4. absence of show or pretense; sincerity. 5. lack of shrewdness; dullness: His simplicity made him easily fooled. n., pl. sim plic i ties.

sim pli fi ca tion (sim'plə fə kā'shən), 1. a making simpler. 2. a being made simpler. 3. change to a simpler form. n.

sim pli fy (sim'plə fi), make simpler; make plainer or easier. v., sim pli fied, sim pli fy ing. —sim'pli fi'er, n.

Sim plon (sim'plon), 1. a mountain pass between Switzerland and Italy. 6592 ft. high. 2. tunnel near this pass, the longest tunnel in the world. 12¼ mi. long. n.

sim ply (sim'plē), 1. in a simple manner. 2. without much ornament; without pretense or affectation; plainly: simply dressed. 3. merely; only: The baby did not simply cry; he yelled. 4. foolishly: He acted as simply as an idiot. 5. absolutely: simply perfect. adv.

Sims (simz), William Sowden, 1858-1936, admiral of the United States Navy during World War I. n.

sim u la cra (sim'yə lā'krə), a pl. of simulacrum. n.

sim u la crum (sim'yə lā'krəm), 1. a faint, shadowy, or unreal likeness; mere semblance: The dictator permitted only a simulacrum of democracy. 2. image. n., pl. sim u la cra or sim u la crums.

sim u late (sim'yə lāt), 1. pretend; feign: Anne simulated interest to please her friend. 2. act like; look like; imitate: Certain insects simulate leaves. 3. simulated. 1,2 v., sim u lat ed, sim u lat ing; 3 adj. —sim'u la'tor, n.

sim u la tion (sim'yə lā'shən), 1. pretense; feigning. 2. imitation; acting or looking like: a harmless insect's simulation of a poisonous one. n.

sim u la tive (sim'yə lā'tiv), simulating. adj.

si mul cast (sī'məl kăst'), transmit a program over radio and television simultaneously. v., si mul cast or si mul cast ed, si mul cast ing.

si mul ta ne ous (sī'məl tā'nē əs), existing, done, or happening at the same time: The two simultaneous shots sounded like one. adj.

si mul ta ne ous ly (sī'məl tā'nē əs lē), at once; at the same time; together. adv.

sin (sin), 1. a breaking of the law of God deliberately. 2. break the law of God. 3. an immoral act; wrongdoing. Lying, stealing, dishonesty, and cruelty are sins. 4. do wrong. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., sinned, sin ing.

Sin ai (sī'nī), 1. Mount, in the Bible, the mountain, of uncertain identity, from which the law was given to Moses. 2. peninsula in NE Egypt at the N end of the Red Sea. 230 mi. long. 3. Mount, mountain in the S part of this peninsula. 8530 ft. See Canaan for map. n.

Sin bad (sin'bad), sailor in The Arabian Nights who had seven extraordinary voyages. n.

since (sins), 1. from a past time continuously till now: The package has been ready since noon. 2. in the course of the period following the time when: He has written home but once since he left us. 3. continuously or counting from the time when: Charles has worked hard since he left school. 4. at any time between (some past time or event and the present): We have not seen him since

Saturday. 5. from then till now: He got sick last Saturday and has been in bed ever since. 6. at some time between a particular past time and the present: At first he refused but since has accepted. 7. before now; ago: I heard that old joke long since. 8. because: Since you feel tired, you should rest. 1,4 prep., 2,3,8 conj., 5-7 adv.

sin cere (sin sir'), free from pretense or deceit; genuine; real; honest. adj., sin cer er, sin cer est. —sin cere'ly, adv.

sin cer i ty (sin ser'ə tē), freedom from pretense or deceit; honesty. n., pl. sin cer i ties.

Sin bad (sin'bad), Sinbad. n.

sine (sin), in a right triangle, the ratio of the length of the side opposite an acute angle to the length of the hypotenuse. In the diagram, the sine of angle a = BC/AB; the sine of angle b = AC/AB. n.

si ne cure (sī'nə kyūr or sin'ə kyūr), an extremely easy job; position requiring little or no work and usually paying well. n.

si ne cur ist (sī'nə kyūr'ist or sin'ə kyūr'ist), person who has a sinecure. n.

si ne die (sī'nē di'ē), without a day fixed for future action: The committee adjourned sine die.

si ne qua non (sī'nē kwā non'), something required beforehand, without which something will not be done; something essential; indispensable condition.

sin ew (sin'ū), 1. a tough, strong band or cord that joins muscle to bone; tendon: You can see the sinews in a cooked chicken leg. 2. strength; energy. 3. means of strength; source of power: Men and money are the sinews of war. 4. furnish with sinews. 1-3 n., 4 v.

sin ew y (sin'yə wē), 1. having strong sinews; strong; powerful: A blacksmith has sinewy arms. 2. vigorous; forcible. 3. like sinews; tough; stringy. adj. —sin'-ew i ness, n.

sin ful (sin'fəl), full of sin; wicked; wrong; immoral; evil: The sinful man repented. adj. —sin'ful ly, adv. —sin'ful ness, n.

sing (sing), 1. make music with the voice: He sings on the radio. 2. utter musically: He almost seemed to sing his lines from the play. 3. chant; intone: The priest sings Mass. 4. make pleasant musical sounds: Birds sing. 5. bring, send, put, etc., with or by singing: Sing the baby to sleep. 6. tell in song or poetry: Homer sang of Troy. 7. tell of in song or poetry: He sang the deeds of heroes. 8. proclaim: sing a person's praises. 9. make a ringing, whistling, humming, or buzzing sound: The teakettle sang. 10. have a sensation of a ringing, buzzing, or humming sound: A bad cold made his ears sing. 11. a singing, ringing, or whistling sound: the sing of a bullet in flight. 12. a singing, especially in a group. 13. admit of being sung: This arrangement of the song sings more easily than that one. 1-10,13 v., sang or sung, sung, sing ing; 11,12 n.

sing out, call loudly; shout.

sing., singular.

Sin ga pore (sing'gə pōr), 1. country at the S tip of the Malay Peninsula, a member of the British Commonwealth. 1,712,600 pop.; 225 sq. mi. 2. its capital, an island seaport. 925,000. n.

singe (sinj), 1. burn a little: The cook singed the chicken to remove the fine hairs. 2. a slight burn. 3. burn the ends or edges of: The barber singed my hair after he cut it. 4. remove by a slight burning. 5. injure slightly; harm: Scandal singed the mayor's reputation. 1,3-5 v., singed, singe ing; 2 n.

sing er (sing'ər), 1. person who sings: You can hear famous singers on the radio. 2. bird that sings: Our canary is a fine singer. n.

Sin gha lese (sing'gə lēz'), 1. the principal native race of Ceylon. 2. member of this race. 3. the language of this race. 4. having to do with Ceylon, its principal native race, or its language. 1-3 n., pl. Sin gha lese; 4 adj. Also, Sinhalese.

sing ing (sing'ing), 1. sound made by one that sings. 2. a ringing in the ears. 3. that sings. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

singing school, school in which singing and the simple fundamentals of music are taught.

sin gle (sing'gl), 1. one and no more; only one: Please give me a single piece of paper. 2. for only one; individual: The sisters share one room with two single beds in it. 3. without others; alone: He came to the party single. 4. not married: a single man. 5. having only one on each side: The knights engaged in single combat. 6. having only one set of petals. Most cultivated roses have double flowers with many petals; wild roses have single flowers with five petals. 7. not double; not multiple: single houses. 8. sincere; honest; genuine: She showed single devotion to her religion. 9. pick from among others: The teacher singled Harry out for praise. 10. a single thing or person. 11. hit in baseball that allows the batter to reach first base only. 12. make such a hit. 13. hit in cricket for which one run is scored. 14. game for two people only. 1-8 adj., 10,11,13,14 n., 9,12 v., sin gled, sin gling.

singles, game played with only one person on each side.

single blessedness, condition of being unmarried; celibacy.

single file, line of persons or things arranged one behind another.

sin gle-foot (sing'gl füt'), 1. gait of a horse in which one foot is put down at a time; rack. First, there is one foot on the ground, then two, then one, then two, and so on. 2. go at a single-foot. 1 n., 2 v.

sin gle-hand ed (sing'gl han'did), 1. without help from others; working alone. 2. using, requiring, or managed by only one hand or only one person. adj. —sin'gle-hand'ed ly, adv.

sin gle-heart ed (sing'gl här'tid), 1. free from deceit; sincere. 2. having only one purpose. adj. —sin'gle-heart'ed ly, adv.

sin gle-mind ed (sing'gl mīn'did), 1. having only one purpose in mind. 2. sincere; straightforward. adj. —sin'gle-mind'ed ly, adv. —sin'gle-mind'ed ness, n.

sin gle ness (sing'gl nis), 1. oneness; state or quality of being single. 2. the unmarried state. 3. sincerity; honesty; freedom from deceit. n.

sin gle stick (sing'gl stik'), 1. stick held in one hand, used in fencing. 2. fencing with such a stick. n.

sin glet (sing'glit), kind of undershirt or jersey worn by men. n.

single tax, tax on one kind of property only, especially a tax on land only.

sin gle ton (sing'gl tən), 1. something occurring singly or apart from others. 2. a playing card that is the only one of a suit in a person's hand. n.

sin gle-track (sing'gl trak'), 1. having only a single track. 2. able to go or act in only one way. adj.

sin gle tree (sing'gl trē'), the swinging bar of a carriage or wagon, to which the traces are fastened. n.

sin gly (sing'glē), 1. by itself; individually; separately: Let us consider each point singly. 2. one by one; one at a time: Misfortunes never come singly. 3. by one's own efforts; without help. adv.

sing song (sing'sōng'), 1. a monotonous, up-and-down rhythm. 2. a monotonous tone or sound in speaking. 3. monotonous in rhythm: a singsong recitation of the multiplication table. 4. recite or speak in a singsong way. 5. a monotonous or jingling verse. 1,2,5 n., 3 adj., 4 v.

sin gu lar (sing'gyə lər), 1. extraordinary; unusual: "Treasure Island" is a story of singular interest to boys. 2. strange; queer; peculiar: The detectives were greatly puzzled by the singular nature of the crime. 3. being the only one of its kind: an event singular in history. 4. one in number: "Boy" is singular; "boys" is plural. 5. the singular number in grammar: "Ox" is the singular of sin gu lar i ty (sing'gyə lar'ə tē), 1. peculiarity; oddness; strangeness; unusualness: The singularity of the dwarf's appearance attracted much attention. 2. something singular; peculiarity; oddity: One of the giraffe's singularities is the length of its neck. n., pl. sin gu lar i ties.

"oxen." 6. a word in the singular number. 7. separate; individual; private: a singular matter. 1-4,7 adj., 5,6 n. —sin'gu lar ly, adv.

Sin ha lese (sin'hə lēz'), Singhalese. n., pl. Sin ha lese; adj.

sin is ter (sin'is tər), 1. showing ill will; threatening: a sinister rumor, a sinister look. 2. bad; evil; dishonest. 3. disastrous; unfortunate. 4. on the left; left. 5. in heraldry, situated to the right of the one looking at the escutcheon. adj.

sin is tral (sin'is trəl), of or having to do with the left side; left; left-handed. adj.

sink (singk), 1. go down; fall slowly; go lower and lower: The sun is sinking. She sank to the floor in a faint. 2. make go down; make fall: Lack of rain sank the reservoirs. 3. go under: The ship is sinking. 4. make go under: The submarine sank two ships. 5. become lower or weaker: The wind has sunk down. 6. make lower; reduce: Sink your voice to a whisper. 7. pass gradually (into a state of sleep, silence, oblivion, etc.). 8. go deeply: Let the lesson sink into your mind. 9. make go deep; dig: The men are sinking a well. 10. become worse: His spirits sank. 11. invest (money) unprofitably: We sank twenty dollars in a machine that we never used. 12. keep quiet about; conceal: sink evidence. 13. fall in; become hollow: The sick man's cheeks have sunk. 14. a shallow basin or tub with a drainpipe: The dishes are in the kitchen sink. 15. drain; sewer. 16. place where dirty water or any filth collects. 17. place of vice or corruption. 18. a low-lying area in land where waters collect, or where they disappear by sinking downward or by evaporation. 1-13 v., sank or sunk, sunk or (now chiefly used as an adjective) sunk en, sink ing; 14-18 n. —sink'a ble, adj.

sink er (singk'ər), 1. person or thing that sinks. 2. a lead weight for sinking a fishing line or net. 3. U.S. Slang. doughnut. n.

sink hole (singk'hōl'), 1. the hole in a sink; hole for waste to pass through. 2. hole that drains surface water. 3. hole where water collects. 4. place of vice and corruption. n.

sinking fund, fund formed by a government, corporation, or the like, usually by periodically setting aside certain amounts of money to accumulate at interest, for the paying off of a debt.

sin less (sin'lis), without sin. adj. —sin'less ly, adv. —sin'less ness, n.

sin ner (sin'ər), person who sins or does wrong: The sinner who repented was forgiven. n.

Si no-Jap a nese (sī'nō jap'ə nēz'), of both China and Japan: the Sino-Japanese War. adj.

sin u ate (sin'yū āt), 1. bent in and out; winding; sinuous. 2. in botany, having its margin strongly or distinctly wavy. adj.

sin u o s i ty (sin'yū os'ə tē), 1. sinuous form or character; a winding. 2. curve; bend; turn. n., pl. sin u o s i ties.

sin u ous (sin'yū əs), 1. having many curves or turns; winding: The motion of a snake is sinuous. 2. indirect; devious. 3. morally crooked. adj. —sin'u ous ly, adv.

si nus (sī'nəs), 1. cavity in a bone; especially, one of the connected cavities in the bones of the nose and forehead. 2. a long, narrow abscess with a small opening. 3. reservoir or channel for venous blood. 4. a curved hollow; cavity. n.

si nus i tis (sī'nəs i'tis), inflammation of a sinus, especially a nasal sinus. n.

Si on (sī'on), Zion. n.

Sinuate leaf

Sioux (sü), member of a tribe of American Indians of the Middle Western United States. n., pl. Sioux (sü or süz).

Sioux City, city in W Iowa, on the Missouri River. 89,000.

Sioux Falls, city in SE South Dakota. 65,000.

sip (sip), 1. drink little by little: She sipped her tea. 2. a very small drink. 1 v., sipped, sipping; 2 n.

siphon (sī'fən), 1. a bent tube through which liquid can be drawn over the edge of one container into another at a lower level by air pressure. 2. draw off by means of a siphon or pass through a siphon: The farmer siphoned water from the cellar into the ditch. 3. bottle for soda water with a tube through which the liquid is forced out by the pressure of the gas in the bottle. 4. a tube-shaped organ of some shellfish for drawing in and expelling water, etc. 1,3,4 n., 2 v. Also, syphon.

Siphon. The arrows show the direction of flow of the liquid.

sir (sēr; unstressed sər), 1. a respectful or formal term of address used to a man: A boy calls an older man "Sir." We begin business letters with "Dear Sir." 2. title of respect formerly used before a man's name or a noun designating his profession: sir priest. 3. Mr. or Master: You, sir, have no business here; get out. n.

Sir (sēr; unstressed sər), 1. title of a knight or baronet: Sir Walter Scott. 2. title of respect or honor, used to a man. n.

sir dar (sēr'där), 1. in India, a military chief or leader. 2. formerly, the British commander of the Egyptian army. n.

sire (sir), 1. a male ancestor; father. 2. the male parent: Lightning was the sire of the race horse Danger. 3. be the father of: Lightning sired Danger. 4. title of respect used formerly to a great noble and now to a king: "I'm killed, Sire!" said the messenger to Napoleon. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., sired, sir ing.

siren (sir'ən), 1. a kind of whistle that makes a loud, piercing sound: We heard the sirens of the fire engines. 2. a nymph who, by her sweet singing, lured sailors to destruction upon the rocks. 3. woman who lures, tempts, or entices. 4. of a siren; tempting; charming. 1-3 n., 4 adj. —si'ren like', adj.

Sir i us (sir'e əs), the brightest (fixed) star in the sky; the Dog Star. n.

sir loin (sēr'lōin), cut of beef from the part of the loin in front of the rump. n.

si roc co (sə rok'ō), 1. a hot, dry, dust-laden wind blowing from N Africa across the Mediterranean and S Europe. 2. a moist, warm, south or southeast wind in these same regions. 3. any hot, unpleasant wind. n., pl. si roc cos.

sir rah (sir'ə), Archaic. fellow, used as a term of address to men and boys when speaking contemptuously, angrily, impatiently, etc.: "Silence, sirrah!" said the prince to the stableboy. n.

sir up (sir'əp or sēr'əp), syrup. n.

sir up y (sir'əp ē or sēr'əp ē), syrupy. adj.

sis (sis), Informal. sister. n.

sis al (sī'sl or sī'sl), 1. a strong, white fiber, used for making rope, twine, etc. 2. plant that it comes from. n.

sis sy (sis'ē), Informal. 1. sister. 2. boy or man who behaves too much like a girl. n., pl. sis sies.

sis ter (sis'tər), 1. daughter of the same parents or parent. A girl is a sister to the other children of her parents or parent. 2. person or thing resembling or closely connected with another. 3. a female fellow member of a society, church, etc. 4. member of a religious order of women; nun: Sisters of Charity. 5. being a sister; related as if by sisterhood: a sister ship. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

sis ter hood (sis'tər hüd), 1. bond between sisters; feeling of sister for sister. 2. persons joined as sisters; association of women with some common aim or characteristic. Nuns form a sisterhood. n.

sis ter-in-law (sis'tər in lō'), 1. sister of one's husband or wife. 2. wife of one's brother. 3. wife of one's brother-in-law. n., pl. sis ters-in-law.

sis ter ly (sis'tər lē), suitable for a sister; like a sister; very kindly. adj. —sis'ter li ness, n.

Sister of Charity, member of a sisterhood, especially a Roman Catholic sisterhood, devoted to work among the poor.

Sister of Mercy, member of a sisterhood devoted to nursing the sick and to the education and care of the poor.

Sis y phus (sis'ə fəs), in Greek mythology, a king condemned forever to roll a heavy stone up a steep hill in Hades, only to have it always roll down again. n.

sit (sit), 1. rest on the lower part of the body, with the weight off the feet: She sat in a chair. 2. seat; cause to sit: The woman sat the little boy down hard. 3. sit on: He sat his horse well. 4. have place or position: The clock has sat on that shelf for years. 5. have a seat in an assembly, etc.; be a member of a council: sit in Congress. 6. hold a session: The court sits next month. 7. place oneself in a position for having one's picture made; pose: sit for a portrait. 8. be in a state of rest; remain inactive. 9. press or weigh: Care sat heavy on his brow. 10. perch: The birds were sitting on the fence rail. 11. cover eggs so that they will hatch; brood. 12. fit: The coat sits well. v., sat or (Archaic) sate, sitting.

sit down, take a seat; put oneself in a sitting position.

sit in, take part (in a game, conference, etc.).

sit on or upon, 1. sit in judgment or council on. 2. have a seat on (a jury, etc.). 3. Slang. check or rebuke.

sit out, 1. remain seated during (a dance). 2. stay through (a performance, etc.). 3. stay later than (another).

sit up, 1. raise the body to a sitting position. 2. keep such a position. 3. stay up instead of going to bed.

sit-down strike (sit'dəun'), strike in which the workers stay in the factory, store, etc., without working until their demands are met or an agreement is reached.

site (sit), position or place (of anything): This house has one of the best sites in town. n.

sit-in (sit'in'), U.S. a taking of seats in a public place by a group of people as a form of protest, especially against racial segregation. n.

Sit ka (sit'kə), village in SE Alaska. 3000. n.

si tol o gy (sī tol'ə jē), dietetics. n.

sit ter (sit'tər), 1. person who sits. 2. a baby sitter. 3. bird sitting on its eggs. n.

sit ting (sit'ing), 1. act of one that sits. 2. meeting or session of a legislature, court, etc. 3. time of remaining seated: He read five chapters at one sitting. 4. number of eggs on which a bird sits. 5. seat in a church. n.

Sitting Bull, 1837?-1890, chief of the Sioux Indians.

sitting duck, an easy target or mark.

sitting room, room to sit in, as distinguished from a bedroom, kitchen, etc.; parlor.

sit u ate (sich'ü āt), place; locate. v., sit u at ed, sit u at ing.

sit u at ed (sich'ü āt'id), placed; located: New York is a favorably situated city. adj.

sit u a tion (sich'ü ā'shən), 1. position; location; place: Choose an attractive situation for our camp. 2. circumstances; case; condition: Act reasonably in all situations. 3. place to work; job: She is trying to find a situation. 4. a critical state of affairs in a play, novel, etc. n.

six (siks), 1. one more than five; 6. 2. card or die with six spots. 1,2 n., 1 adj.

at sixes and sevens, 1. in confusion. 2. in disagreement.

six fold (siks'föld'), 1. six times as much or as many. 2. having six parts. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

Six Nations, federation of Iroquois Indian tribes.

The Tuscarora tribe of Iroquois in 1722 joined the original federation of Iroquois tribes called the Five Nations.

The shaded part is the sirloin.

six pence (siks/pəns), 1. six British pennies; six pence. Sixpence is worth about 7 cents of United States money (1964). 2. a British coin having this value, worth six pence. n.

six pen ny (siks/pən/ē), 1. worth or costing sixpence. 2. of little worth; cheap. 3. two-inch: sixpenny nails. adj.

six-shoot er (siks/shūt/ər), revolver that can fire six shots without being reloaded. n.

six teen (siks/tēn/), six more than ten; 16. n., adj.

sixteenth (siks/tēnth/), 1. next after the 15th; last in a series of 16. 2. one, or being one, of 16 equal parts. adj., n.

sixteenth note, a musical note having one sixteenth of the time value of a whole note.  Sixteenth notes sixth (siksth), 1. next after the fifth; last in a series of 6. 2. one, or being one, of 6 equal parts. adj., n.

sixth ly (siksth/lē), in the sixth place. adv.

sixth sense, an unusual power of perception; intuition.

six ti eth (siks/tē ith), 1. next after the 59th; last in a series of 60. 2. one, or being one, of 60 equal parts. adj., n.

six ty (siks/tē), six times ten; 60. n., pl. six ties; adj.

six ty fold (siks/tē fōld/), sixty times as much or as many. adj., adv.

sixty-fourth note, a musical note having the time value of one sixty-fourth of a whole note.

siz a ble (siz/ə bl), fairly large. adj.

siz a bly (siz/ə blē), to a sizable extent or degree. adv.

size¹ (siz), 1. amount of surface or space a thing takes up: The two boys are of the same size. The library contains books of all sizes, big and little. We need a house of larger size. 2. extent; amount; magnitude: the size of an industry. 3. one of a series of measures: His shoes are size 10. The size of card I want is 3 by 5 inches. 4. Informal. the actual condition; true description. 5. arrange according to size or in sizes: Will you size these nails? 6. make of certain size. 7. having size. 1-4 n., 5, 6 v., sized, siz ing; 7 adj.

of a size, of the same size.

size up, Informal. 1. form an opinion of; estimate. 2. come up to some size or grade.

size² (siz), 1. preparation made from glue, starch, or other sticky material. It is used for covering paper, walls, etc., before paint is put on, for stiffening cloth, or for glazing paper, etc. 2. coat or treat with size. 1 n., 2 v., sized, siz ing.

size a ble (siz/ə bl), sizable. adj.

siz ing (siz/ing), size². n.

siz zle (siz/l), 1. make a hissing sound, as fat does when it is frying or burning. 2. a hissing sound. 1 v., siz zled, siz zling; 2 n.

S.J., Society of Jesus.

Skag er rak or Skag er rack (skag/ə rak), strait between Norway and Denmark. 140 mi. long; 75 mi. wide. n.

skald (sköld), a Scandinavian poet and singer of ancient times. n.

skate! (skāt), 1. frame with a blade that can be fastened to a shoe so that a person can glide over ice. 2. a similar frame with small wheels for use on any smooth, hard surface. 3. glide or move along on skates. 1, 2 n., 3 v., skat ed, skat ing. —skat/er, n.

skate! (skāt), a kind of broad, flat fish. n., pl. skates or (esp. collectively) skate.

skating rink, 1. a smooth sheet of ice for skating. 2. a smooth floor for roller skating.

ske dad dle (ski dad/l), Informal. run away; scatter in flight. v., ske dad-dled, ske dad dling.

Barn-door skate (about 4 ft. long) skein (skān), 1. a small, coiled bundle of yarn or thread. There are 120 yards in a skein of cotton yarn. 2. a confused tangle. n.

skel e tal (skel/ə tl), of a skeleton; attached to a skeleton. adj.

skel e ton (skel/ə tən), 1. the bones of a body, fitted together in their natural places. The skeleton is a frame that supports the muscles, organs, etc. 2. a very thin person or animal: A long illness made a skeleton out of him. 3. of, like, or consisting of a skeleton. 4. frame: the steel skeleton of a building. 5. outline. 6. greatly reduced in numbers; fractional: Only a skeleton crew was needed while the ship was tied up at the dock. 1, 2, 4, 5 n., 3, 6 adj.

skeleton key, key made to open many locks.

skep tic (skep/tik), 1. person who questions the truth of theories or apparent facts; doubter. 2. person who doubts or questions the possibility or certainty of our knowledge of anything. 3. person who doubts the truth of religious doctrines. 4. doubting; skeptical. 1-3 n., 4 adj. Also, sceptic.

skep ti cal (skep/tə kl), 1. of or like a skeptic; inclined to doubt; not believing easily. 2. questioning the truth of theories or apparent facts. adj. Also, sceptical. —skep/ti cal ly, adv.

skep ti cism (skep/tə siz əm), 1. skeptical attitude; doubt; unbelief. 2. doubt or unbelief with regard to religion. 3. doctrine that nothing can be proved absolutely. n. Also, scepticism.

sketch (skech), 1. a rough, quickly done drawing, painting, or design. 2. make a sketch of; draw roughly. 3. make sketches. 4. outline; plan. 5. a short description, story, play, etc. 1, 4, 5 n., 2, 3 v. —sketch/er, n.

sketch book (skech/būk/), 1. book to draw or paint sketches in. 2. book of short descriptions, stories, plays, etc. n.

sketch i ness (skech/ē nis), being sketchy. n.

sketch y (skech/ē), 1. like a sketch; having or giving only outlines or main features. 2. incomplete; slight; imperfect: a sketchy meal. adj., sketch i er, sketch i est. —sketch/i ly, adv.

skew (skū), 1. twisted to one side; slanting. 2. slant; twist. 3. having a part that deviates from a straight line, right angle, etc. 4. give a slanting form, position, direction, etc., to. 5. turn aside; swerve. 6. represent unfairly; distort. 7. unsymmetrical. 1, 3, 7 adj., 2 n., 2, 4-6 v.

skew er (skū/ər), 1. a long pin of wood or metal stuck through meat to hold it together while it is cooking. 2. something shaped or used like a long pin. 3. fasten with a skewer or skewers.

4. pierce with or as if with a skewer: Sarah skewered the bug with a hatpin. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 v.

ski (skē), 1. one of a pair of long, slender pieces of hard wood, that can be fastened to the shoes to enable a person to glide over snow. 2. glide over the snow on skis. 1 n., pl. skis or ski; 2 v., skied, ski ing. —ski/er, n.

skid (skid), 1. slip or slide sideways while moving: The car skidded on the slippery road. 2. piece of wood or metal to prevent a wheel from going round. 3. prevent from going round by means of a skid. 4. slide along without going round, as a wheel does when held by a skid. 5. timber, frame, etc., on which something rests, or on which something heavy may slide. 6. runner on the bottom of an airplane to enable the airplane to skid along the ground when landing. 7. slide along on a skid or skids. 1, 2, 5, 6 n., 1, 3, 4, 7 v., skid ded, skid ding.

on the skids, Slang. headed for dismissal, failure, or other disaster.

Man on skis

skies (skīz), pl. of sky. n.

skiff (skif), 1. a light rowboat. 2. a small, light boat. n.

ski jump, 1. jump made by a person on skis. 2. place for making such a jump.

skill (skil), 1. ability gained by practice, knowledge, etc.; expertness: The trained teacher managed the children with skill. 2. ability to do things well with one's body or with tools: It takes skill to tune a piano. n.

skilled (skild), 1. having skill; trained; experienced: A carpenter is a skilled workman. 2. showing skill; requiring skill: Bricklaying is skilled labor. adj.

skillet (skil'it), 1. a shallow pan with a long handle, used for frying. 2. a long-handled saucepan. n.

skillful or skilful (skil'fəl), 1. having skill; expert: a skillful surgeon. 2. showing skill: That is a skillful piece of bricklaying. adj. —skillfulness, skilfulness, n.

skillfully or skilfully (skil'fəl ē), with skill; expertly. adv.

skim (skim), 1. remove from the top: The cook skims the cream from the milk. 2. take something from the top of: She skims the milk to get cream. 3. that which is skimmed off. 4. move lightly over: The pebble I threw skimmed the little waves. The skaters skimmed the ice. 5. glide along: The swallows were skimming by. 6. send skimming: You can skim a flat stone over the water. 7. read hastily or carelessly; read with omissions: It took me an hour to skim the book. 8. become covered with a thin layer of ice, scum, etc. 9. cover with a thin layer of ice, scum, etc. 10. act of skimming. 1,2,4-9 v., skimmed, skimming; 3,10 n.

skimmer (skim'ər), 1. one that skims. 2. a long-handled shallow ladle, full of holes, used in skimming liquids. 3. a kind of sea bird that skims along the surface of water to get food. n.

skim milk, milk from which the cream has been removed.

skimp (skimp), 1. supply in too small an amount: Don't skimp the butter in making a cake. 2. be very saving or economical: She had to skimp to send her son to college. 3. do imperfectly. v.

skimp (skimp'ē), 1. scanty; not enough. 2. too saving or economical. adj., skimpier, skimpiest.

skin (skin), 1. the covering of the body in persons, animals, fruits, etc., especially when soft and flexible: Cows have thick skins. He slipped on the banana skin. 2. hide; pelt: The skin of a calf makes soft leather. 3. take the skin off: Jack skinned his knees when he fell. The hunter skinned the deer. 4. shed skin. 5. be covered with skin. 6. cover with skin. 7. container made of skin for holding liquids. 8. any outer covering. 9. planking or iron plating that covers the ribs of a ship. 10. Slang. swindle of money, etc.; cheat. 11. Slang. a cheat. 12. Slang. skinflint. 13. Slang. slip away. 1,2,7-9,11,12 n., 3-6,10,13 v., skinned, skinning.

in or with a whole skin, safe and sound.

save one's skin, escape without harm.

skin alive, Slang. 1. torture; flay. 2. scold severely. 3. defeat completely.

skin-deep (skin'dēp'), no deeper than the skin; shallow; slight. adj.

skin diver, a swimmer equipped to go skin diving.

skin diving, swimming about easily under water for long periods of time equipped with oxygen tanks and other gear.

skin flint (skin'flint'), a mean, stingy person. n.

skinful (skin'fəl), 1. as much as a skin for liquids can hold. 2. Informal. as much as a person or animal can hold. n., pl. skinfuls.

skin ner (skin'ər), 1. person who skins. 2. person who prepares or deals in skins, furs, etc. n.

skinny (skin'ē), 1. very thin; very lean. 2. like skin. adj., skinnyer, skinnyest. —skinnyness, n.

skin-tight (skin'tīt'), fitting closely to the skin. adj.

skip (skip), 1. leap lightly; spring; jump: Lambs skipped in the fields. 2. leap lightly over: The girls skipped rope. 3. send bounding along a surface: Boys like to skip stones on the lake. 4. go bounding along a surface. 5. pass over; fail to notice; omit: She skips the hard words. Answer the questions in order without skipping. 6. advance in school by passing one or more grades. 7. change quickly from one task, pleasure, subject, etc., to another. 8. a light spring, jump, or leap: The child gave a skip of joy. 9. a passing over. 10. Informal. leave in a hurry. 1-7,10 v., skipped, skip ping; 8,9 n.

skipper (skip'ər), 1. captain of a ship, especially of a small trading or fishing boat. 2. any captain or leader. n.

skirl (skèrl), Scottish and British Dialect. 1. of bagpipes, sound loudly and shrilly. 2. sound of a bagpipe. 1 v., 2 n.

skirmish (skèr'mish), 1. a slight fight between small groups of soldiers. 2. a slight conflict, argument, contest, etc. 3. take part in a skirmish. 1,2 n., 3 v.

skirmisher (skèr'mish'ər), 1. person who skirmishes. 2. one of the soldiers sent out in advance of an army to clear the way for the main attack, to prevent a surprise attack by the enemy, etc. n.

skirt (skèrt), 1. the part of a dress that hangs from the waist. 2. a woman's or girl's garment that hangs from the waist. 3. something like a skirt: the skirts of a man's long coat. 4. border; edge. 5. to border or edge. 6. the outer part of a place, group of people, etc. 7. pass along the border or edge; pass along the border or edge of: The boys skirted the forest because they did not want to go through it. 8. be, lie, live, etc., along the border of. 9. Slang. woman or girl. 10. one of the flaps hanging from the sides of a saddle. 1-4,6,9,10 n., 5,7,8 v.

skirting (skèr'ting), cloth for making skirts. n.

skit (skit), a short sketch that contains humor or satire. n.

skitter (skit'ər), move lightly or quickly; skim or skip along a surface. v.

skitish (skit'ish), 1. apt to start, jump, or run; easily frightened: a skitish horse. 2. fickle; changeable. 3. coy. adj. —skitishly, adv. —skitishness, n.

skittles (skit'lz), game in which the players try to knock down nine wooden pins by rolling or throwing wooden disks or balls at them. n.

skål (sköl), a Scandinavian word used in drinking a health. It means "Hail" or "May you prosper." n., interj.

sku a (skū'ə), any of several large brown sea birds that are related to the gulls; jaeger. n.

skulduggery (skul'dug'ər ē), U.S. Informal. trickery; dishonesty. n.

skulk (skulk), 1. keep out of sight to avoid danger, work, duty, etc.; hide or lurk in a cowardly way. 2. move in a stealthy, sneaking way: The wolf was skulking near the sheep. 3. person who skulks. 1,2 v., 3 n. —skulk'er, n. —skulkingly, adv.

skull (skul), 1. the bones of the head; the group of bones around the brain. 2. head; brain. n.

skull and crossbones, picture of a human skull above two crossed bones. It was often used on pirates' flags as a symbol of death, and it is now often used on labels of poisonous drugs, etc.

skullcap (skul'kap'), a close-fitting cap without a brim. n.

skunk (skungk), 1. a black, bushy-tailed mammal, usually with white stripes along its back. It is about the size of a cat and gives off a very strong, unpleasant smell when frightened or attacked. 2. fur of this animal, used on coats, etc. 3. Informal. a mean, contemptible person. 4. Slang. defeat utterly. 1-3 n., 4 v.

skunk cabbage, a low, ill-smelling, broad-leaved plant, growing commonly in moist ground.

Skimmer
(def. 2)

Sku a
(about 22 in. long)

Skunk (total length
about 2 ft.)

sky (skī), 1. the covering over the world; the region of the clouds or the upper air; the heavens: a blue sky, a cloudy sky. 2. heaven; place where God and His angels live. 3. climate. 4. hit, throw, or raise high into the air. 1-3 n., pl. skies; 4 v., skied or skied, sky ing.
out of a clear sky, suddenly; unexpectedly.

to the skies, very highly.
sky blue, a clear soft blue.
Skye (ski), 1. one of the Hebrides, just off the NW coast of Scotland. 10,000 pop.; 48½ mi. long; 670 sq. mi. 2. Skye terrier. n.

Skye terrier
(8 to 10 in. high at the shoulder)

Skye terrier, a small dog that has a long body, short legs, and long shaggy hair.
sky ey (skī'ē), 1. of or from the sky. 2. very high. 3. sky-blue. adj.

sky-high (skī'hi'), very high. adv., adj.

sky lark (skī'lārk'), 1. the common European lark, a small bird that sings very sweetly as it flies toward the sky. 2. play pranks; frolic. 1 n., 2 v.

English skylark
(about 7 in. long)

sky light (skī'līt'), window in a roof or ceiling. n.

sky line (skī'līn'), 1. line at which earth and sky seem to meet; horizon. 2. outline of buildings, mountains, trees, etc., as seen against the sky. n.

sky pilot, Slang. clergyman; chaplain.

sky rock et (skī'rok'it), 1. rocket; firework that goes up high in the air and bursts into a shower of stars, sparks, etc. 2. move like a skyrocket; rise suddenly, make a brilliant show, and disappear. 3. rise much and quickly: Prices were sky-rocketing. 1 n., 2, 3 v.

sky sail (skī'sāl'; Nautical skī'sl), in a square-rigged ship, a light sail set at the top of the mast above the royal. n.

sky scraper (skī'skrāp'ər), a very tall building: New York is famous for its skyscrapers. n.

sky ward (skī'wārd), toward the sky. adv., adj.

sky wards (skī'wārdz), skyward. adv.

sky writ ing (skī'rit'ing), the tracing of words, etc., against the sky from an airplane. Smoke or some similar substance is used. n.

slab (slab), 1. a broad, flat, thick piece (of stone, wood, meat, etc.): This sidewalk is made of slabs of stone. The hungry boy ate a slab of cheese as big as his hand. 2. a rough outside piece cut from a log. n.

slack (slak), 1. loose; not tight or firm: The rope hung slack. 2. part that hangs loose: He pulled in the slack of the rope. 3. careless: She is a slack housekeeper. 4. slow: The horse was moving at a slack pace. 5. not active; not brisk; dull: Business is slack at this season. 6. dull season; quiet period. 7. make slack; let up on. 8. be or become slack; let up. 9. slake (lime). 10. in a slack manner. 11. a stopping of a strong flow of the tide or a current of water. 1,3-5 adj., 2,6,11 n., 7-9 v., 10 adv.

slack off, 1. loosen. 2. lessen one's efforts.

slack up, slow down; go more slowly.

slack (slak), dirt, dust, and small pieces left after coal is screened; small coal. n.

slack en (slak'en), 1. make slower: Don't slacken your efforts till the work is done. 2. become slower: Work slackens on a hot day. 3. become less active, vigorous, brisk, etc.: His business always slackens in the winter. 4. make looser: Slacken the rope. 5. become loose: The rope slackened as the wave sent the boat toward the pier. v.

slack er (slak'ər), Informal. person who shirks work or evades his duty. n.

slacks (slaks), loose trousers. n.pl.

slag (slag), 1. the rough, hard waste left after metal is separated from ore by melting. 2. form slag; change into slag. 3. a light, spongy lava. 1,3 n., 2 v., slagged, slag ing.

slain (slān), pp. of slay. The sheep were slain by the wolves. v.

slake (slāk), 1. satisfy (thirst, revenge, wrath, etc.): We slaked our thirst at the spring. 2. cause to be less active, intense, etc. 3. put out (a fire). 4. change (lime) from calcium oxide to calcium hydroxide (slaked lime) by leaving it in the moist air or putting water on it. Plaster contains slaked lime and sand. 5. be changed thus. 6. Rare. become less active, vigorous, intense, etc. v., slaked, slak ing.

slam (slam), 1. shut with force and noise; close with a bang: He slammed the window down. The door slammed. 2. throw, push, hit, or move hard with force: Joe slammed himself down on his bed. 3. a violent and noisy closing, striking, etc.; bang: John threw his books down with a slam. 4. U.S. Informal. criticize harshly. 5. U.S. Informal. harsh criticism. 1,2,4 v., slammed, slam-ming; 3,5 n.

slam (slam), the winning of 12 (little or small slam) or all 13 (grand slam) tricks in the game of bridge. n.

slan der (slan'dər), 1. a false statement meant to do harm. 2. talk falsely about. 3. speak or spread slander. 4. the spreading of false reports. 1,4 n., 2,3 v. —slan'der er, n.

slan der ous (slan'dər əs), 1. containing a slander. 2. speaking or spreading slanders. adj. —slan'der-ous ly, adv.

slang (slang), 1. words, phrases, etc., usually characterized by a special vividness or coloring, and not generally used in formal English. Slang is mostly made up of new words or meanings that are popular for only a short time. Razz and highbrow are slang. 2. special talk of a particular class of people. Crib often means cheat in students' slang. n.

slang y (slang'ē), 1. containing slang; full of slang. 2. using much slang. adj., slang ier, slang iest.

slank (slangk), Archaic. a pt. of slink. v.

slant (slant), 1. slope: Most handwriting slants to the right. 2. slope; slanting or oblique direction or position: Has your roof a sharp slant? 3. sloping. 4. mental attitude; way of regarding something. 1 v., 2,4 n., 3 adj.
slant ing (slant'ing), sloping. adj. —slant'ing ly, adv.

slant ways (slant'wāz'), slantwise. adv.

slant wise (slant'wīz'), 1. in a slanting manner; obliquely. 2. slanting; oblique. 1 adv., 2 adj.

slap (slap), 1. a blow with the open hand or with something flat. 2. strike with the open hand or with something flat: He slapped at the fly with a folded newspaper. 3. put, dash, or cast with force: She slapped the book down on the table. 4. sharp words of blame; direct insult or rebuff. 5. straight; directly: The thief ran slap into a policeman. 6. suddenly. 1,4 n., 2,3 v., slapped, slap-ping; 5,6 adv.

slap dash (slap'dash'), 1. hastily and carelessly. 2. hasty and careless. 3. hasty, careless action, methods, or work. 1 adv., 2 adj., 3 n.

slap jack (slap'jak'), U.S. flapjack; griddlecake. n.

slap stick (slap'stik'), 1. two long, narrow sticks fastened so as to slap together loudly when a clown, actor, etc., hits somebody with it. 2. comedy full of rough play. 3. full of rough play. In slapstick comedy, the actors knock each other around to make people laugh. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

slash (slash), 1. cut with a sweeping stroke of a sword, knife, etc.; gash: He slashed the bark off the tree with his knife. 2. make a slashing stroke. 3. a sweeping, slashing stroke. 4. cut or wound made by such a stroke. 5. cut or slit to let a different cloth or color show through. 6. whip severely; lash. 7. criticize sharply, severely, or unkindly. 8. cut down severely; reduce a great deal: His salary was slashed when business became bad. 9. cut out parts of (a book, etc.); change greatly (a book, etc.). 10. an open space in a forest, usually littered with chips, broken branches, etc. 11. litter of chips, broken branches, etc. 1,2,5-9 v., 3,4,10,11 n. —slash'er, n.

slat (slat), a long, thin, narrow piece of wood or metal. n.

slate (slāt), 1. a bluish-gray rock that splits easily into thin, smooth layers. Slate is used to cover roofs and for blackboards. 2. a thin piece of this rock. Children used to write on slates, but now they use paper. 3. cover with slate. 4. dark, bluish gray. 5. U.S. list of candidates, officers, etc., to be considered for appointment, nomination, etc. 6. list on a slate: He is slated for the office of club president. 1,2,4,5 n., 3,6 v., slat ed, slat ing; 4 adj.

slat tern (slat'ərn), woman who is dirty, careless, or untidy in her dress, her ways, her housekeeping, etc. n.

slat tern ly (slat'ərnlē), of a woman, slovenly; untidy. adj. —slat'ern li ness, n.

slaty (slāt'ē), 1. of, like, or having to do with slate. 2. slate-colored. adj., slat ier, slat iest.

slaughter (slō'tər), 1. a killing; butchering: The battle resulted in a frightful slaughter. 2. kill; butcher: Millions of cattle are slaughtered every year in Omaha. 1 n., 2 v. —slaugh'ter er, n.

slaughter house, place where animals are killed for food.

slaugh ter ous (slō'tər əs), murderous; destructive. adj.

Slav (slāv), 1. member of a group of peoples in E Europe whose languages are related. Russians, Poles, Czechs, Slovaks, Bulgarians, and Yugoslavs are Slavs. 2. of or having to do with Slavs. 1 n., 2 adj.

slave (slāv), 1. person who is the property of another. Slaves were bought and sold like horses. 2. person who is controlled or ruled by some desire, habit, or influence: A drunkard is a slave of drink. 3. person who works like a slave. 4. work like a slave: Many mothers slave for their children. 5. of slaves; done by slaves: slave labor. 6. ant that is captured and forced to work for other ants. 1-3,6 n., 4 v., slaved, slav ing; 5 adj. —slave/-like', adj.

Slave Coast, region in W Africa, north of the Gulf of Guinea. It includes the coast from E Ghana to the Niger River delta in Nigeria.

slave driver, 1. overseer of slaves. 2. an exacting taskmaster.

slave hold er (slāv'hōl'dər), owner of slaves. n.

slave hold ing (slāv'hōl'ding), 1. owning slaves. 2. the owning of slaves. 1 adj., 2 n.

slav er (slāv'ər), 1. dealer in slaves. 2. ship used in the slave trade. n.

slav er (slāv'ər), 1. let saliva run from the mouth. 2. wet with saliva. 3. saliva running from the mouth. 1,2 v., 3 n.

slav er y (slāv'ər ē), 1. condition of being a slave. Many African Negroes were captured and sold into slavery. 2. custom of owning slaves. 3. condition like that of a slave. 4. hard work like that of a slave. n.

Slave States, 15 States of the United States in which slavery was legal before and during the Civil War: Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, and Tennessee; Missouri, Kentucky, Maryland, and Delaware. The last four States did not join the Confederacy.

slave trade, the business of procuring and selling slaves.

slav ey (slāv'ē), Informal. maid of all work. n., pl. slav eys.

Slav ic (slāv'ik), 1. of or having to do with the Slavs or their languages. 2. language or group of languages spoken by the Slavs. 1 adj., 2 n.

slav ish (slāv'ish), 1. of or having to do with a slave or slaves. 2. like a slave; mean; base. 3. weakly submitting. 4. like that of slaves; fit for slaves. 5. lacking originality and independence: a slavish reproduction. adj. —slav'ish ly, adv. —slav'ish ness, n.

slaw (slō), finely sliced or chopped cabbage, raw or cooked, served with dressing; coleslaw. n.

slay (slā), kill with violence. v., slew, slain, slay ing. —slay'er, n.

slea zy (slē/zē), flimsy and poor: sleazy cloth. adj., slea zi er, slea zi est. —slea'zi ness, n.

sled (sled), 1. a wooden framework mounted on runners for use on snow or ice. 2. ride on a sled. 3. carry on a sled. 1 n., 2,3 v., sled ded, sled ding.

sled ding (sled'ing), a riding or coasting on a sled. n. hard sledding, unfavorable conditions.

sledge (slej), 1. sled; sleigh. 2. carry on a sledge. 3. ride in a sledge. 1 n., 2,3 v., sledged, sledg ing.

sledge (slej), sledge hammer (def.1). n. sledge hammer, 1. a large, heavy hammer. 2. anything powerful and crushing: Sarcasm can become a sledge hammer in a debate.

sledge-ham mer (slej'ham'ər), 1. hit with, or as if with, a sledge hammer. 2. powerful; crushing. 1 v., 2 adj.

sleek (slēk), 1. soft and glossy; smooth: sleek hair. 2. having smooth, soft skin, hair, fur, etc.: a sleek cat. 3. smooth of speech, manners, etc.: a sleek salesman. 4. smooth: He sleeked down his hair. 5. make smooth and glossy; make tidy. 1-3 adj., 4,5 v. —sleek'ly, adv. —sleek'ness, n.

sleep (slēp), 1. rest body and mind; be without ordinary consciousness. 2. a condition in which body and mind are very inactive, occurring naturally and regularly in animals. 3. be in a condition like sleep: The seeds sleep in the ground all winter. 4. state or condition like sleep. 5. pass in sleeping. 1,3,5 v., slept, sleep ing; 2,4 n.

last sleep, death.

sleep away, pass or spend in sleeping: Sarah slept away the whole morning.

sleep off, get rid of by sleeping: She was sleeping off a headache.

sleep er (slēp'ər), 1. person or thing that sleeps. 2. a railroad sleeping car. 3. a horizontal beam. 4. Brit. tie to support a railroad track. 5. Informal. person, animal, or thing that does very much better in a contest of any sort than was anticipated. n.

sleep ing (slēp'ing), 1. sleep. 2. that sleeps. 3. used for sleeping on or in: a sleeping car. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

sleeping bag, a canvas or waterproof bag, usually warmly lined, to sleep in out of doors.

sleeping car, a railroad car with berths for passengers to sleep in.

sleeping partner, partner who takes no active part in managing the business.

sleeping powder, drug that causes sleep.

sleeping sickness, disease causing fever, inflammation of the brain, sleepiness, and usually death. One kind is carried by the tsetse fly.

sleep less (slēp'lis), 1. without sleep; not sleeping; restless. 2. watchful; wide-awake. 3. always moving or acting. adj. —sleep'less ly, adv. —sleep'less ness, n.

sleep walk er (slēp'wōk'ər), person who walks about while asleep. n.

sleep walk ing (slēp'wōk'ing), 1. act of walking while asleep. 2. that walks about while asleep. 1 n., 2 adj.

sleep y (slēp'ē), 1. ready to go to sleep; inclined to sleep: He never gets enough rest and is always sleepy. 2. not active; quiet. adj., sleep i er, sleep i est. —sleep'i ly, adv. —sleep'i ness, n.

Man using a sledge hammer sleet (slēt), 1. half-frozen rain; snow or hail mixed with rain. 2. come down in sleet: It sleeted; then it snowed; then it rained. 1 n., 2 v.

sleet y (slēt'ē), of or like sleet; characterized by sleet. adj., sleetier, sleetiest. —sleet/iness, n.

sleeve (slēv), 1. the part of a garment that covers the arm. 2. tube into which a rod or another tube fits. n. laugh in or up one's sleeve, be amused but not show it. up one's sleeve, in reserve; ready for use when needed.

sleeved (slēvd), having sleeves. adj.

sleeveless (slēv'lis), without sleeves; a sleeveless dress. adj.

sleigh (slā), 1. carriage or cart mounted on runners for use on ice or snow. 2. travel or ride in a sleigh. 1 n., 2 v.

sleight (slā'ing), 1. riding in a sleigh. 2. condition of the roads for using a sleigh: The warm rain spoiled the sleighing. n.

sleight (slīt), 1. skill; dexterity. 2. a clever trick. n. sleight of hand, 1. skill and quickness in moving the hands. 2. tricks or skill of a modern magician; juggling.

slender (slen'dər), 1. long and thin; not big around: A boy 6 feet tall and weighing 130 pounds is very slender. A pencil is a slender piece of wood. 2. slight; small; scanty: a slender meal, a slender income, a slender hope. adj. —slen'der ly, adv. —slen'derness, n.

slenderize (slen'dər'īz), 1. make slender. 2. cause to look slender. v., slen der ized, slen der iz ing.

slept (slept), pt. and pp. of sleep. The child slept soundly. v.

sleuth (slūth), 1. bloodhound. 2. U.S. Informal. detective. n.

sleuth hound (slūth'hound'), 1. bloodhound. 2. U.S. Informal. detective. n.

slew¹ (slū), pt. of slay. Jack slew the giant. v.

slew² (slū), turn; swing; twist. v., n. Also, slue.

slew³ (slū), a swampy place; marshy inlet. n. Also, slough, slue.

slew⁴ (slū), Informal. lot; large number or amount. n.

slice (slis), 1. a thin, flat, broad piece cut from something: a slice of bread, meat, or cake. 2. cut into slices. 3. cut (off) as a slice. 4. knife or spatula with a thin, broad blade. 5. part; share. 6. divide into parts or shares. 7. in golf, hit (a ball) so that it curves to one's right, if right-handed. 8. such a hit. 1,4,5,8 n., 2,3,6,7 v., sliced, slicing.

licer (slis'ər), 1. tool or machine that slices: a meat slicer. 2. person who slices. n.

slick (slik), 1. sleek; smooth: slick hair. 2. make sleek or smooth. 3. slippery; greasy. 4. a smooth place or spot. Oil makes a slick on the surface of water. 5. Informal. clever; ingenious. 6. sly; tricky. 7. smooth of speech, manners, etc. 8. smoothly; slyly; cleverly. 9. directly. 10. U.S. Slang. magazine printed on heavy, glossy paper. 1,3,5-7 adj., 2 v., 4,10 n., 8,9 adv. —slick/ly, adv. —slick/ness, n.

slicker (slik'ər), U.S. 1. a long, loose waterproof coat. 2. Informal. a sly, tricky person. n.

slid (slid), pt. and a pp. of slide. The minutes slid rapidly by. v.

slidden (slid'n), a pp. of slide. v.

slide (slid), 1. move smoothly along a surface: The bureau drawers slide in and out. 2. move easily or quietly or secretly: The thief slid behind the curtains. 3. pass without heeding or being heeded. 4. pass by degrees; slip: He has slid into bad habits. 5. pass or put quietly or secretly: He slid a gun into his pocket. 6. act of sliding: The children each take a slide in turn. 7. a smooth surface for sliding on: The frozen brook makes a good slide. 8. track, rail, etc., on which something slides. 9. something that works by sliding. 10. the U-shaped tube of a trumpet or trombone that is pushed in or out to change the pitch of the tones. 11. mass of earth, snow, etc., sliding down. 12. the sliding down of such a mass. 13. a small, thin sheet of glass. Objects are put on slides for microscopic examination. Slides with pictures on them are used in magic lanterns or projected on a screen. 1-5 v., slid, slid or slid den, slid ing; 6-13 n. —slid'er, n.

let slide, neglect; not bother about.

slide rule, device marked with logarithmic scales, used by engineers, physicists, etc., for making rapid calculations.

slid ing (slid'ing), having a part that slides; adjustable; changing. adj.

slight (slīt), 1. not much; not important; small: I have a slight headache. 2. not big around; slender: She is a slight girl. 3. frail; flimsy: a slight excuse. 4. treat as of little value; pay too little attention to; neglect: This maid slights her work. She felt slighted because she was not asked to the party. 5. slighting treatment; act of neglect: Cinderella suffered many slights from her sisters. 1-3 adj., 4 v., 5 n. —slight/ness, n.

slight ing (slīt'ing), that slights: a slighting remark. adj. —slight/ly, adv.

slight ly (slīt'lē), 1. in a slight manner. 2. to a slight degree; somewhat; a little: I knew him slightly. adv.

sli ly (slī'lē), slyly. adv.

slim (slim), 1. slender; thin. 2. small; slight; weak: The invalid's chances for getting well were very slim. adj., slim mer, slim mest.

slime (slim), 1. soft, sticky mud or something like it. 2. a sticky substance given off by snails, snakes, fish, etc. 3. disgusting filth. n.

slim y (slim'ē), 1. covered with slime. 2. of or like slime. 3. disgusting; filthy. adj., slim i er, slim i est.

sling (sling), 1. strip of leather with a string fastened to each end, for throwing stones. 2. throw with a sling. 3. throw; cast; hurl; fling. 4. a throw; hurling. 5. a hanging loop of cloth fastened around the neck to support a hurt arm. 6. loop of rope, band, chain, etc., by which heavy objects are lifted, carried, or held: The men lowered the boxes into the cellar by a sling. 7. raise, lower, etc., with a sling. 8. hang in a sling; hang so as to swing loosely: The soldier's gun was slung over his shoulder. 9. Slang. mix; serve. 1,4-6 n., 2,3,7-9 v., slung, sling ing.

sling shot (sling'shot'), a Y-shaped stick with a rubber band fastened to its prongs, used to shoot pebbles, etc. n.

slink (slink), move in a sneaking, guilty manner; sneak: After stealing the meat, the dog slunk away. v., slunk or (Archaic) slank, slunk, slink ing. —slink/ing ly, adv.

slip (slip), 1. go or move smoothly, quietly, easily, or quickly: She slipped out of the room. Time slips by. The ship slips through the waves. The drawer slips into place. 2. slide; move out of place: The knife slipped and cut him. 3. slide suddenly without wanting to: He slipped on the icy sidewalk. 4. act or fact of slipping: His broken leg was caused by a slip on a banana peel. 5. cause to slip; put, pass, or draw smoothly, quietly, or secretly: He slipped back the bolt. She slipped the ring from her finger. Slip the note into Mary's hand. 6. put or take (something) easily or quickly: Slip on your coat. Slip off your shoes. 7. thing that can be slipped on or off; covering:

Slide rule. The center part slides back and forth. The transparent piece in the right hand has a mark for lining up corresponding numbers on the scales.

Sleigh

A, sling for lifting; B, sling lifting a barrel.

Pillows are covered by slips. 8. a sleeveless garment worn under a dress. 9. pass without notice; pass through neglect; escape: Don't let this opportunity slip. 10. get loose from; get away from; escape from: The dog has slipped his collar. Your name has slipped my mind. 11. let go; release: He slipped the hound. The ship has slipped anchor and is off. 12. make a mistake or error. 13. mistake; error: He makes slips in grammar. That remark was a slip of the tongue. 14. U.S. space for ships between wharves or in a dock. 15. an inclined platform alongside of the water, on which ships are built or repaired. 16. leash for a dog. 17. position of a cricket player behind and to the side of the wicketkeeper. 18. player in this position. 1-3,5,6,9-12 v., slipped or (Archaic) slipt, slipped, slip ping; 4,7,8,13-18 n.

let slip, tell without meaning to.

slip one over on, Informal. get the advantage of, especially by trickery.

slip up, Informal. make a mistake or error.

slip² (slip), 1. cut branches from (a plant) to grow new plants; take (a part) from a plant. 2. a narrow strip of paper, wood, etc. 3. a young, slender person: She is just a slip of a girl. 4. a small branch or twig cut from a plant, used to grow a new plant. 1 v., slipped or (Archaic) slipt, slipped, slip ping; 2-4 n.

slip cover, a removable cloth cover for a chair, sofa, etc.

slip knot, 1. knot made to slip along the rope or cord around which it is made. 2. knot that can be undone by a pull.

slip noose, noose with a slip knot.

slip-on (slip'on'), 1. that can be put on or taken off easily or quickly. 2. that must be put on or taken off over the head. 3. a slip-on glove, blouse, sweater, etc. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

slip per (slip'ər), 1. a kind of light, low shoe: She has pretty dancing slippers and comfortable bedroom slippers. 2. hit or beat with a slipper. 3. person or thing that slips. 1,3 n., 2 v. —slip'per less, adj.

slip pered (slip'ərd), wearing slippers. adj.

slip per y (slip'ər ē), 1. causing or likely to cause slipping: A wet street is slippery. The steps are slippery with ice. 2. slipping away easily: Wet soap is slippery. 3. not to be depended on; tricky. adj., slip per ier, slip per iest. —slip'per i ness, n.

slippery elm, 1. an elm tree of E North America having an inner bark which becomes slimy or slippery when moistened. 2. the inner bark.

slip shod (slip'shod'), 1. careless in dress, habits, speech, etc.; untidy; slovenly. 2. shuffling: a slipshod gait. 3. wearing shoes worn down at the heel. adj.

slipt (slipt), Archaic. a pt. of slip. v.

slip-up (slip'up'), Informal. mistake; error. n.

slit (slit), 1. cut or tear in a straight line; make a long, straight cut or tear in: slit cloth into strips. 2. a straight, narrow cut, tear, or opening: a slit in a bag, the slit in a letter box. 1 v., slit, slit ting; 2 n. —slit'ter, n.

slith er (slith'ər), 1. slide down or along a surface, especially unsteadily; go with a sliding motion. 2. a slithering movement; a slide. 1 v., 2 n.

sliv er (sliv'ər), 1. a long, thin piece that has been split off, broken off, or cut off; splinter. 2. split or break into slivers. 3. a loose fiber of wool, cotton, etc. 1,3 n., 2 v.

slob (slob), Slang. a stupid, untidy, or clumsy person. n.

slob ber (slob'ər), 1. let liquid run out from the mouth. 2. saliva or other liquid running out from the mouth. 3. wet or smear with saliva, etc. 4. speak in a silly, sentimental way. 5. silly, sentimental talk or emotion. 1,3,4 v., 2,5 n.

slob ber y (slob'ər ē), 1. slobbering. 2. disagreeably wet; sloppy. adj. —slob'ber i ness, n.

sloe (slō), 1. a dark-purple, plumlike fruit. 2. a thorny shrub that it grows on; blackthorn. n.

slog (slog), Informal. 1. hit hard. 2. a hard blow. 3. plod heavily. 1,3 v., slogged, slog ging; 2 n.

slo gan (slō'gən), 1. word or phrase used by a business, club, political party, etc., to advertise its purpose; motto: "Service with a smile" was the store's slogan. 2. a war cry; battle cry. n.

sloop (sloop), sailboat having one mast, a mainsail, a jib, and sometimes other sails. n.

sloop of war, a small warship having guns on the upper deck only.

slop (slop), 1. spill liquid upon; spill; splash. 2. liquid carelessly spilled or splashed about. 3. dirty water; liquid garbage. 4. a thin liquid mud or slush. 5. splash through mud, slush, or water. 6. weak liquid food, such as gruel. 1,5 v., slopped, slop-ping; 2-4,6 n.

slops, dirty water; liquid garbage.

slop over, Slang. show too much feeling, enthusiasm, etc.

slope (slōp), 1. go up or down at an angle: a sloping roof. The land slopes toward the sea. 2. cause to go up or down at an angle. 3. any line, surface, land, etc., that goes up or down at an angle: If you roll a ball up a slope, it will roll down again. 4. amount of slope: The floor of the theater has a slope of four feet from back to front. 1,2 v., sloped, slop ing; 3,4 n.

slop py (slop'ē), 1. very wet; slushy: sloppy ground, sloppy weather. 2. splashed or soiled with liquid: a sloppy table. 3. Informal. careless; slovenly: do sloppy work, use sloppy English. 4. Informal. weak; silly: sloppy sentiment. adj., slop pi er, slop pi est. —slop'-pi ly, adv. —slop'pi ness, n.

slops (slops), 1. cheap ready-made clothing. 2. clothes, bedding, etc., supplied to sailors on a ship. n.pl.

slosh (slosh), 1. slush. 2. splash in slush, mud, or water. 3. Informal. a watery or weak drink. 4. go about idly. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

slot¹ (slot), 1. a small, narrow opening or depression: Put a penny in the slot to get a stick of gum from this machine. 2. make a slot or slots in. 1 n., 2 v., slot ted, slot ting.

slot² (slot), track; trail: They followed the slot made by the deer's footprints in the mud. n., v., slot-ted, slot ting.

sloth (slōth or slōth), 1. unwillingness to work or exert oneself; laziness; idleness: His sloth keeps him from engaging in sports. 2. Archaic. slowness. 3. a very slow-moving mammal of South and Central America that lives in trees. Sloths hang upside down from tree branches. n.

sloth bear, a long-haired bear that lives in India.

sloth ful (slōth'fəl or slōth'fəl), unwilling to work or exert oneself; lazy; idle. adj. —sloth'ful ly, adv. —sloth'ful ness, n.

slot machine, machine that is worked by dropping a coin into a slot. Some slot machines sell peanuts, sticks of gum, etc.; others are used for gambling.

slouch (slouch), 1. stand, sit, walk, or move in an awkward, drooping manner: The weary man slouched along. 2. a bending forward of head and shoulders; awkward, drooping way of standing, sitting, or walking. 3. droop or bend downward. 4. a drooping or bending downward of the brim of a hat, etc. 5. Esp. U.S. an awkward, slovenly, or inefficient person. 1,3 v., 2,4,5 n.

Sloop

Slip knot

Slope

Sloth (about 2 ft. long)

Sloth bear (about 3 ft. high at the shoulder) slouchy (slouch/ē), slouching awkwardly; carelessly untidy. adj., slouchier, slouchiest.

slough (slou for 1 and 3; slū for 2), 1. a soft, deep muddy place; mud hole. 2. U.S. and Canada. a swampy place; slew. 3. hopeless discouragement; degradation. n.

slough (sluf), 1. the old skin shed or cast off by a snake. 2. drop off; throw off; shed. 3. be shed or cast; drop or fall: A scab sloughs off when new skin takes its place. 4. layer of dead skin or tissue that drops or falls off as a wound, sore, etc., heals. 5. anything that has been shed or cast off: As savages become civilized, they cast off the slough of primitive ways, beliefs, etc. 6. discard (a losing card). 1,4,5 n., 2,3,6 v.

slough of despond (slou), hopeless dejection; deep despondency.

Slovak (slō'vak), 1. member of a Slavic people living in Slovakia. The Slovaks are closely related to the Bohemians and the Moravians. 2. their language. 3. of or having to do with Slovakia, its people, or their language. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Slovakia (slō vā'kē ə), region in E Czechoslovakia. It was under the control of Germany from 1939 to 1945. n.

Slovakian (slō vā'kē ən), Slovak. adj., n.

sloven (sluv'ən), 1. person who is untidy, dirty, or careless in dress, appearance, habits, work, etc. 2. untidy; dirty; careless. 1 n., 2 adj.

slovenly (sluv'ən lē), 1. untidy, dirty, or careless in dress, appearance, habits, work, etc. 2. in a slovenly manner. 1 adj., slovenlier, slovenliest; 2 adv. —slovenliness, n.

slow (slō), 1. taking a long time; taking longer than usual; not fast or quick: a slow journey. 2. behind time; running at less than proper speed: a slow runner. 3. indicating time earlier than the correct time: a slow clock. 4. causing a low or lower rate of speed: slow ground, a slow track. 5. burning or heating slowly or gently: a slow flame. 6. make slow or slower; reduce the speed of: slow down a car. 7. become slow; go slower: Slow up when you drive through a town. 8. in a slow manner. 9. sluggish; naturally inactive: a slow pupil. 10. dull; not interesting: a slow party. 1-5,9,10 adj., 6,7 v., 8 adv. —slowly, adv. —slowness, n.

slow match, fuse that burns very slowly, used for setting fire to gunpowder, dynamite, etc.

slow-motion (slō'mō'shən), 1. moving at less than normal speed. 2. showing action at much less than its actual speed. adj.

slow-witted (slō'wit'id), slow at thinking; dull; stupid. adj.

sludge (sluj), 1. soft mud; mire; slush. 2. a soft, thick, muddy mixture, deposit, sediment, etc. 3. small broken pieces of floating ice: In winter there is sludge on the sea near the shore. n.

slue (slū), turn; swing; twist; slew. v., slued, sluing; n.

slue (slū), a swampy place; slew. n.

slug (slug), 1. a slow-moving animal like a snail, without a shell or with only a very small shell. 2. caterpillar or larva that looks like a slug. 3. any slow-moving person, animal, wagon, etc. 4. piece of lead or other metal for firing from a gun. 5. lump of metal. 6. strip of metal used to space lines of type. A slug is more than 1/16 of an inch in thickness. 7. line of type cast in one piece by a linotype machine. n.

slug (slug), Informal. 1. hit hard with the fist; hit hard. 2. a hard blow with the fist. 1 v., slugged, slugging; 2 n. —slugger, n.

slugard (slug'ərd), 1. a lazy, idle person. 2. lazy; idle. 1 n., 2 adj.

slugish (slug'ish), 1. slow-moving; not active; lacking energy or vigor: a sluggish mind. 2. lazy; idle.

3. moving slowly; having little motion. A sluggish river has very little current. adj. —slug/gishly, adv. —slug/gishness, n.

sluice (slūs), 1. structure with a gate for holding back or controlling the water of a canal, river, or lake. 2. gate that holds back or controls the flow of water. When the water behind a dam gets too high, the sluices are opened. 3. water held back or controlled by such a gate. 4. thing that controls the flow or passage of anything: War opens the sluices of hatred and bloodshed. 5. let out or draw off (water) by opening a sluice. 6. flow or pour in a stream; rush: Water sluiced down the channel. 7. flush or cleanse with a rush of water; pour or throw water over. 8. a long, sloping trough through which water flows, used to wash gold from sand, dirt, or gravel. 9. wash (gold) from sand, dirt, or gravel in a sluice. 10. channel for carrying off water. 11. send (logs, etc.) along a channel of water. 1-4,8,10 n., 5-7,9,11 v., sluiced, sluicing.

sluice gate, gate to control the flow of water in a sluice.

slum (slum), 1. street, alley, etc., in a crowded, dirty part of a city or town. 2. go into or visit the slums. 1 n., 2 v., slummed, slumming.

the slums, a crowded, dirty part of a city or town, where the poorest people live.

slumber (slum'bər), 1. sleep. 2. a light sleep: He awoke from his slumber. 3. pass in sleep: The baby slumbers away the hours. 4. be inactive: The volcano had slumbered for years. 5. an inactive state or condition. 1,3,4 v., 2,5 n. —slumberer, n.

slumberous (slum'bər əs), 1. sleepy; heavy with drowsiness: slumberous eyelids. 2. causing or inducing sleep. 3. having to do with, characterized by, or suggestive of sleep. 4. inactive; sluggish. 5. calm; quiet. adj. —slumberously, adv.

slumbrous (slum'brəs), slumberous. adj. —slumbrously, adv.

slump (slump), 1. drop heavily; fall suddenly: The boy's feet slumped repeatedly through the rotting ice. 2. a heavy or sudden fall. 3. a great or sudden decline in prices, activity, etc.: a slump in prices. 1 v., 2,3 n.

slung (slung), pt. and pp. of sling. They slung some stones and ran away. The boy had slung his books over his shoulder. v.

slunk (slungk), a pt. and a pp. of slink. The dog slunk away ashamed. v.

slur (slər), 1. pass lightly over; go through hurriedly or in a careless way. 2. pronounce indistinctly: Many persons slur "ing" and "how do you do." 3. speak or write sounds, letters, etc., so indistinctly that they run into each other. 4. a slurred pronunciation, sound, etc. 5. sing or play (two or more tones of different pitch) without a break; run together in a smooth, connected manner. 6. a slurring of tones. 7. a curved mark (˘) (˘) indicating this. 8. mark with a slur. 9. blot or stain (upon reputation); insulting or slighting remark: a slur on a person's good name. 10. harm the reputation of; insult; slight. 1-3,5,8,10 v., slurred, slurring; 4,6,7,9 n.

slush (slush), 1. partly melted snow; snow and water mixed. 2. soft mud. 3. silly, sentimental talk, writing, etc. 4. grease. n.

slushy (slush'ē), 1. having much slush. 2. of or like slush. adj., slushier, slushiest. —slushiness, n.

slut (slut), 1. a dirty, untidy woman. 2. woman of loose morals. 3. a female dog. n.

Sluice for washing gold

Sluice gate

Common garden slug (about 1 in. long)

A slur in music

slut tish (slut'ish), 1. dirty; untidy. 2. loose in morals. adj. —slut/tish ly, adv. —slut/tish ness, n.

sly (slī), 1. able to do things without letting others know; acting secretly: The sly cat stole the meat while the cook's back was turned. 2. cunning; crafty; tricky; wily: a sly plot. 3. such as a sly person or animal would use: She asked sly questions. 4. playfully mischievous or knowing: a sly wink. adj., sly er, sly est, or sli er, sliest. —sly/ness, n.

on the sly, in a sly way; secretly.

sly ly (slī'lē), in a sly manner; secretly. adv. Also, slily.

Sm, samarium.

smack¹ (smak), 1. a slight taste or flavor: The sauce had a smack of nutmeg. 2. trace; suggestion: The old sailor still had a smack of the sea about him. 3. have a smack: The Irishman's speech smacked of the old country. 1,2 n., 3 v.

smack² (smak), 1. open (the lips) quickly so as to make a sharp sound. 2. a smacking movement of the lips. 3. the sharp sound made in this way. 4. kiss loudly. 5. slap. 6. crack (a whip, etc.). 7. a loud kiss, slap, or crack. 8. Informal. directly; squarely: He fell smack on his face. 9. Informal. suddenly and sharply; with or as if with a smack. 1,4-6 v., 2,3,7 n., 8,9 adv.

smack³ (smak), a small sailboat with one mast. n.

smack ing (smak'ing), 1. lively, brisk, or strong: a smacking breeze. 2. making a quick, sharp sound: a smacking kiss, a smacking blow. adj.

small (smōl), 1. not large; little; not large as compared with other things of the same kind: a small house. 2. into small pieces. 3. not great in amount, degree, extent, duration, value, strength, etc.: a small dose, small hope of success. The cent is our smallest coin. 4. not important: a small matter. 5. not prominent; of low social position; humble; poor: Both great and small people mourned Lincoln's death. 6. having little land, capital, etc.: a small farmer, a small dealer. 7. gentle; soft; low: a small voice, a small crumbling sound. 8. in low tones. 9. mean: A boy with a small nature is not generous. 10. of letters, not capital. 11. that which is small. 1,3-7,9,10 adj., 2,8 adv., 11 n. —small/ness, n.

smalls, knee breeches.

feel small, be ashamed or humiliated.

sing small, change to a humble tone or manner.

small arms, weapons easily carried by a person, such as rifles or revolvers.

small capital, a capital letter that is slightly smaller than the regular capital letter. This sentence shows 8-point REGULAR CAPITALS and SMALL CAPITALS.

small change, 1. coins of small value, such as nickels, dimes, etc. 2. anything small and unimportant.

small fry, 1. babies or children; small or young creatures. 2. small fish. 3. unimportant people or things.

small hours, the early hours in the morning.

small intestine, the slender part of the bowels, extending from the stomach to the large intestine, about twenty feet long in grown people.

small ish (smōl'ish), rather small. adj.

small letter, an ordinary letter, not a capital.

small-minded (smōl'min'did), narrow-minded; petty; mean. adj.

small of the back, the narrowest part of the back.

small potatoes, U.S. an unimportant person or thing; unimportant persons or things.

small pox (smōl'poks'), a very contagious disease characterized by fever and blisterlike eruptions on the skin that often leave permanent scars shaped like little pits. n.

small talk, conversation about unimportant matters; chit-chat.

smart (smärt), 1. feel sharp pain: His eyes smarted. 2. cause sharp pain: The cut smarts. 3. a sharp pain. 4. feel distress or irritation: He smarted from the scolding. 5. suffer: He shall smart for this. 6. sharp; severe: He gave the horse a smart blow. 7. keen; active; lively: They walked at a smart pace. 8. clever; bright: a smart child. 9. fresh and neat; in good order: smart in his uniform. 10. stylish; fashionable. 11. Informal or Dialect. fairly large; considerable. 12. in a smart manner. 1,2,4,5 v., 3 n., 6-11 adj., 12 adv. —smart/ly, adv. —smart/ness, n.

smart aleck (al'ik), a conceited, obnoxious person.

smart en (smärt'n), 1. improve in appearance; brighten. 2. make or become brisker. v.

smart weed (smärt'wēd'), weed growing in wet places, which causes a smarting sensation when brought into contact with the skin. n.

smash (smash), 1. break into pieces with violence and noise: smash a window. 2. destroy; shatter; ruin: smash an argument. 3. be broken to pieces: The dishes smashed on the floor. 4. become ruined. 5. rush violently; crash: The car smashed into a tree. 6. a violent breaking; shattering; crash: smash of two automobiles. 7. sound of a smash or crash: the smash of broken glass. 8. crush; defeat: smash an attack. 9. a crushing defeat; disaster. 10. a business failure; bankruptcy. 11. hit (a tennis ball) with a hard, fast overhand stroke. 12. a hard, fast overhand stroke in tennis. 13. Informal. hit a hard blow. 14. Informal. a hard blow. 1-5,8,11,13 v., 6,7,9,10,12,14 n.

to smash, 1. into broken pieces; into bits. 2. to ruin.

smash-up (smash'up'), 1. a bad collision; wreck. 2. a business failure; bankruptcy. 3. a great misfortune; disaster. n.

smat ter (smat'ər), slight knowledge. n.

smat ter ing (smat'ər ing), slight or superficial knowledge. n.

smaze (smāz), a combination of smoke and haze in the air. n.

smear (smir), 1. cover or stain with anything sticky, greasy, or dirty: She smeared her fingers with jam. 2. rub or spread (oil, grease, paint, etc.). 3. mark or stain left by smearing. 4. rub or wipe (a brush, hand, cloth, etc.) so as to make a mark or stain. 5. receive a mark or stain; be smeared: Wet paint smears easily. 6. harm; soil; spoil: smear a person's good reputation. 1,2,4-6 v., 3 n.

smear y (smir'ē), 1. smeared. 2. tending to smear. adj., smear i er, smear i est. —smear/i ness, n.

smell (smel), 1. perceive with the nose. 2. act of smelling. 3. sense of smelling: Smell is keener in dogs than in men. 4. use this sense. 5. quality in a thing that affects the sense of smell: the smell of burning cloth. 6. give out a smell. 7. give out a bad smell; have a bad smell. 8. find a trace or suggestion of: We smelled trouble. 9. have the smell of; have the trace of: The plan smells of trickery. 10. trace; suggestion. 11. hunt or find by smelling or as if by smelling: The dog will smell out the thief. 1,4,6-9,11 v., smelled or smelt, smell ing; 2,3,5,10 n.

smell up, Informal. cause to have a bad smell.

smell er (smel'ər), 1. person or thing that smells. 2. person who tests by smelling. 3. a sensitive hair or process, such as one of a cat's whiskers; a feeler. n.

smelling salts, a form of ammonia inhaled to relieve faintness, headaches, etc.

smell y (smel'ē), having or giving out a strong or unpleasant smell. adj., smell i er, smell i est.

smelt: (smelt), 1. melt (ore) in order to get the metal out of it. 2. obtain (metal) from ore by melting. 3. refine (impure metal) by melting. v.

smelt: (smelt), a small, edible sea fish with silvery scales. n., pl. smelts or (esp. collectively) smelt.

smelt: (smelt), a pt. and a pp. of smell. v.

smelt er (smel'tər), 1. person whose work or business is smelting ores or metals. 2. place where ores or metals are smelted. 3. furnace for smelting ores. n.

smilax (smī'laks), 1. a twining, trailing plant or vine, much used by florists in decoration. 2. any of a large group of woody vines with prickly stems, umbrella-shaped clusters of flowers, and blackish or red berries. n.

smile (smīl), 1. look pleased or amused; show pleasure, favor, kindness, amusement, etc., by an upward curve of the mouth. 2. look pleasant or agreeable; look with favor. 3. bring, put, drive, etc., by smiling: Smile your tears away. 4. give (a smile): She smiled a sunny smile. 5. express by a smile: She smiled consent. 6. show scorn, disdain, etc., by a curve of the mouth: She smiled bitterly. 7. act of smiling. 8. a favoring look or regard; pleasant look or aspect. 1-6 v., smiled, smiling; 7, 8 n. —smil'ing ly, adv.

smirch (smērč), 1. make dirty; soil with soot, dirt, dust, dishonor, disgrace, etc. 2. a dirty mark; blot; stain. 1 v., 2 n.

smirk (smērķ), 1. smile in an affected, silly, self-satisfied way. 2. an affected, silly, self-satisfied smile. 1 v., 2 n.

smit (smīt), a pp. and an obsolete pt. of smite. v.

smite (smīt), 1. strike; strike hard; hit hard: The hero smote the giant with his sword. 2. come with force (upon): The sound of a blacksmith's hammer smote upon their ears. 3. affect with a sudden pain, disease, etc.: The thief's conscience smote him. 4. strike down; punish severely; destroy. v., smote, smit ten or smit, smit ing.

smith (smith), 1. man who makes or shapes things out of metal: a goldsmith, a tinsmith. 2. blacksmith. n.

Smith (smith), 1. Alfred Emanuel, 1873-1944, American political leader, governor of New York and Democratic candidate for president in 1928. 2. Captain John, 1580-1631, English explorer and early settler of Virginia. 3. Joseph, 1805-1844, founder of the Mormon Church. n.

smith er eens (smīḥ'ēr ēnz'), Informal. small pieces; bits. n.pl.

smith y (smith'ē or smīḥ'ē), workshop of a smith, especially a blacksmith. n., pl. smith ies.

smit ten (smīt'n), 1. hard hit; struck. 2. suddenly and strongly affected. 3. very much in love. 4. a pp. of smite. The giant was smitten with the sword of the knight. 1-3 adj., 4 v.

smock (smok), 1. a loose outer garment worn to protect clothing. 2. ornament (a smock, dress, etc.) with a honeycomb pattern made of lines of stitches crossing each other diagonally. 1 n., 2 v.

smog (smog), a combination of smoke and fog in the air. n.

smoke (smōk), 1. mixture that can be seen of gases and particles of carbon which rises when anything burns; cloud from anything burning. 2. something resembling this. 3. something unsubstantial, quickly passing, or without result. 4. give off smoke or steam, or something like it: The fireplace smokes. 5. draw the smoke from (a pipe, cigar, etc.) into the mouth and puff it out again. 6. that which is smoked; cigar, cigarette, pipe, etc. 7. act or period of smoking tobacco. 8. expose to the action of smoke. 9. cure (meat, fish, etc.) by smoking. People smoke fish to preserve them. 10. drive (out) by smoke, or as if by smoke. 11. make, bring, pass, etc., by smoking. 12. color, darken, or stain with smoke. 13. Archaic. find out; suspect; notice. 14. Archaic. ridicule; make fun of. 1-3, 6, 7 n., 4, 5, 8-14 v., smoked, smok ing.

smoke out, 1. drive out with smoke. 2. find out and make known.

smoke house (smōk'hous'), building or place in which meat, fish, etc., are treated with smoke to keep them from spoiling. n.

smoke less (smōk'lis), 1. making or giving off little or no smoke. 2. having little or no smoke. adj.

smok er (smōk'ēr), 1. person who smokes tobacco. 2. a railroad car or a part of it where smoking is allowed.

3. an informal gathering of men for smoking and entertainment. n.

smoke screen, mass of thick smoke used to hide a ship, airplane, etc., from the enemy.

smoke stack (smōk'stak'), 1. a tall chimney. 2. pipe that discharges smoke, etc. n.

smoke tree, a small tree or shrub with flower clusters that look somewhat like puffs of smoke.

smok y (smōk'ē), 1. giving off much smoke: a smoky fire. 2. full of smoke. 3. darkened or stained with smoke. 4. like smoke or suggesting smoke: a smoky gray, a smoky taste. adj., smok i er, smok i est. —smok'i ly, adv. —smok'i ness, n.

Smoky Mountains, the Great Smoky Mountains.

smolder (smōl'dər), 1. burn and smoke without flame: The campfire smoldered for hours after the blaze died down. 2. a slow, smoky burning without flame; smoldering fire. 3. exist inwardly with little or no outward sign: The people's discontent smoldered for years before it broke out into open rebellion. 4. show suppressed feeling: The angry man's eyes smoldered. 1, 3, 4 v., 2 n. Also, smoulder.

smolt (smōlt), a young salmon which has ceased to be a parr and is ready to descend, or has descended, to the sea for the first time. n.

smooth (smūth), 1. having an even surface, like glass, silk, or still water; flat; level: smooth stones. 2. free from unevenness or roughness: smooth sailing, a smooth voyage. 3. without lumps: smooth sauce. 4. without hair: a smooth face, smooth leaves. 5. without trouble or difficulty; easy: a smooth course of affairs. 6. calm; serene: a smooth temper. 7. polished; pleasant; polite: That salesman is a smooth talker. 8. not harsh in sound or taste: smooth verses, smooth wine. 9. make smooth or smoother: Smooth this dress with a hot iron. He smoothed out the ball of crushed paper and read it. 10. make easy: His tact smoothed the way to an agreement. 11. in a smooth manner. 12. act of smoothing. 13. a smooth part or place. 1-8 adj., 9, 10 v., 11 adv., 12, 13 n. —smooth'er, n. —smooth'ly, adv. —smooth'ness, n. smooth away, get rid of (troubles, difficulties, etc.). smooth down, calm; soothe: She smoothed down her father's temper.

smooth over, make (something) seem less wrong or unpleasant.

smooth bore (smūth'bōr'), 1. not rifled. A smooth-bore gun has no grooves in its barrel. 2. a smoothbore gun. 1 adj., 2 n.

smooth-faced (smūth'fāst'), 1. having a smooth face; beardless; clean-shaven. 2. having a smooth surface. 3. agreeable in speech and manner: a smooth-faced hypocrite. adj.

smooth-spo ken (smūth'spō'kən), speaking easily and pleasantly; polished in speech. adj.

smooth-tongued (smūth'tungd'), speaking smoothly; agreeable; suave; plausible. adj.

smor gas bord or smör gäs bord (smōr'gæs bōrd), an elaborate Scandinavian meal, featuring a large variety of hors d'oeuvres. n.

smote (smōt), a pt. of smite. God smote the wicked city with fire from heaven. v.

smoth er (smuḥ'ēr), 1. make unable to get air; kill by depriving of air: The wicked king smothered the two little princes. 2. be unable to breathe freely; suffocate: We are smothering in this stuffy room. 3. cover thickly: In the fall the grass is smothered with leaves. 4. deaden or put out by covering thickly: The fire is smothered by ashes. 5. keep back; check; suppress: He smothered a sharp reply. 6. cook in a covered pot or baking dish: smothered chicken. 7. cloud of dust, smoke, spray, etc. 8. anything that smothers. 9. condition of being smothered. 1-6 v., 7-9 n. —smoth'er er, n.

smoth er y (smuḥ'ēr ē), tending to smother; full of dust, smoke, spray, etc. adj.

smoulder (smōl'dər), smolder. v., n.

smudge (smuj), 1. a dirty mark; smear. 2. mark with dirty streaks; smear: The child's drawing was smudged. 3. a smoky fire made to drive away insects or to protect fruit from frost. 4. smoke (an orchard) with a smudge or smudges; fumigate. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., smudged, smudging.

smudgy (smuj'ē), smudged; marked with smudges. adj., smudgier, smudgiest.

smug (smug), 1. too pleased with one's own goodness, cleverness, respectability, etc.; self-satisfied; complacent: Nothing disturbs the smug beliefs of some prim, narrow-minded people. 2. sleek; neat; trim. adj., smugger, smug gest. —smug ly, adv. —smug'ness, n.

smuggle (smug'l), 1. bring into or take out of a country secretly and against the law: smuggle opium into the United States. 2. bring, take, put, etc., secretly: Rob tried to smuggle his puppy into the house. v., smug-gled, smug-gling.

smug-gler (smug'lər), 1. person who smuggles. 2. ship used in smuggling. n.

smut (smut), 1. soot, dirt, etc. 2. soil or be soiled with smut. 3. place soiled with smut. 4. indecent, obscene talk or writing. 5. a plant disease in which the ears of grain are changed to a black dust. 6. affect (a plant) with the disease smut; become affected with smut. 1,3-5 n., 2,6 v., smutted, smut-ting.

smutch (smuch), 1. blacken with soot or dirt; smudge. 2. a dirty mark; smudge. 1 v., 2 n.

smutty (smut'ē), 1. soiled with smut, soot, etc.; dirty. 2. indecent; nasty; obscene. 3. having the plant disease called smut. adj., smut-tier, smut-tiest. —smut'ti-ness, n.

Smyrna (smēr'nə), seaport in W Turkey, on the Aegean Sea. 371,000. n. Also, Izmir.

Sn, tin.

snack (snak), 1. a light meal: He eats a snack before going to bed. 2. share; portion. n.

snaffle (snaf'l), 1. a slender, jointed bit used on a bridle. 2. control or manage by a snaffle. 1 n., 2 v., snaf-fled, snaf-fling.

Snaffle

sna fu (sna fū'), Slang. 1. being in great disorder. 2. put in disorder or in a chaotic state. 3. mishandle. 1 adj., 2,3 v., sna fued, sna fu ing.

snag (snag), 1. tree or branch held fast in a river or lake. Snags are dangerous to boats. 2. any sharp or rough projecting point, such as the broken end of a branch. 3. stump of a tooth; projecting tooth. 4. a hidden or unexpected obstacle: hit a snag. 5. hinder. 6. run or catch on a snag. 7. clear of snags. 1-4 n., 5-7 v., snagged, snag-ging.

snag-gle-toothed (snag'l tütht'), having uneven, broken, or projecting teeth. adj.

snaggy (snag'ē), 1. having snags: a snaggy tree, a snaggy river. 2. projecting sharply or roughly. adj., snag-gier, snag-giest.

snail (snāl), 1. a small, soft-bodied mollusk that crawls very slowly. Most snails have spirally coiled shells on their backs into which they can withdraw for protection. 2. a lazy, slow-moving person. n.

Snail

snake (snāk), 1. a long, slender, crawling reptile without limbs. Some snakes are poisonous. 2. a sly, treacherous person. 3. move, wind, or curve like a snake. 4. U.S. Informal. drag; haul. 5. U.S. Informal. jerk. 1,2 n., 3-5 v., snaked, snak ing. —snake'like', adj.

Snake (snāk), river flowing from NW Wyoming through Idaho into the Columbia River in Washington. 1,038 mi. n.

snake bird (snāk'bērd'), a swimming bird with a long snakey neck. n.

snake root (snāk'rūt'), 1. any of various plants whose roots have been regarded as a remedy for snake bites. 2. root of such a plant. n.

snake skin (snāk'skin'), 1. skin of a snake. 2. leather made from it. n.

snaky (snāk'ē), 1. of a snake or snakes. 2. like a snake; like the curving and turning of a snake; twisting; winding. 3. having many snakes. 4. sly; venomous; treacherous. adj., snakier, snakiest. —snak'ily, adv. —snak'iness, n.

snap (snap), 1. make or cause to make a sudden, sharp sound: This wood snaps as it burns. 2. a quick, sharp sound: The box shut with a snap. 3. move, shut, catch, etc., with a snap: The latch snapped. 4. break suddenly or sharply: The violin string snapped. 5. a sudden, sharp breaking or the sound of breaking: One snap made the knife useless. 6. become suddenly unable to endure a strain: His nerves snapped. 7. make a sudden, quick bite or snatch: The dog snapped at the child's hand. The dog snapped up the meat. 8. seize suddenly: She snapped at the chance to go to Europe. 9. a quick, sudden bite or snatch: The dog made a snap at a fly. 10. speak quickly and sharply: "Silence!" snapped the teacher. 11. quick, sharp speech. 12. move quickly and sharply: The soldiers snapped to attention. Her eyes snapped with anger. 13. Informal, a quick, sharp way: She moves with snap and energy. 14. made or done suddenly: A snap judgment is likely to be wrong. 15. a short spell of cold weather. 16. fastener; clasp: Several of the snaps of your dress are unfastened. 17. a thin, crisp cooky: a ginger-snap. 18. Informal. snapshot. 19. take a snapshot of. 20. Slang, an easy job, piece of work, etc. 21. Slang, easy. 1,3,4,6-8,10,12,19 v., snapped, snap-ping; 2,5,9,11,13,15-18,20 n., 14,21 adj.

not a snap, not at all.

snap out of it, Slang. change one's attitude, habit, etc., suddenly.

snap drag on (snap'drag'ən), 1. a garden plant with spikes of showy flowers of crimson, purple, white, yellow, etc. 2. an old game in which people try to snatch raisins from burning brandy. n.

snap per (snap'ər), 1. person or thing that snaps. 2. a snapping turtle. 3. a red fish of tropical seas used for food. n.

snapping turtle, a large, savage turtle of American rivers that has powerful jaws with which it snaps at its prey.

snap pish (snap'ish), 1. apt to snap. 2. quick and sharp in speech or manner; impatient. adj.

snap py (snap'ē), 1. snappish; sharp. 2. snapping or crackling in sound: a snappy fire. 3. Informal. having snap, crispness, smartness, liveliness, pungency, etc.: a snappy cheese. adj., snap pi er, snap pi est.

snap shot (snap'shot'), 1. photograph taken in an instant. 2. take a snapshot of. 3. a quick shot taken without time for careful aim. 1,3 n., 2 v., snap shot ted, snap shot-ting.

Snare

snare (snār), 1. noose for catching small animals and birds. 2. catch with a snare: One day they snared a skunk. 3. trap: Popularity is a snare in which fools are caught. 1,3 n., 2,3 v., snared, snar ing.

snare (snār), one of the strings of gut or rawhide stretched across the bottom of a snare drum. n.

snare drum, a small drum with strings of gut or rawhide stretched across the bottom to make a rattling sound.

Bottom of a snare drum

snarl¹ (snārl), 1. growl sharply and show one's teeth: The dog snarled at the stranger. 2. a sharp, angry growl. 3. speak harshly in a sharp, angry tone. 4. sharp, angry words. 5. say or express with a snarl. 1,3,5 v., 2,4 n. —snarl'er, n. —snarl'ing-ly, adv.

snarl² (snārl), 1. tangle: She combed the snarls out of her hair. 2. confusion: His legal affairs were in a snarl. 3. confuse. 1,2 n., 1,3 v.

snarly (snär'lē), inclined to snarl or growl; bad-tempered; cross. adj., snarl i er, snarl i est.

snarly (snär'lē), tangled; full of snarls. adj., snarl i er, snarl i est.

snatch (snach), 1. seize suddenly; grasp hastily: He snatched at the rail. 2. act of snatching: The boy made a snatch at the ball. 3. take suddenly: He snatched off his hat and bowed. 4. save or attain by quick action: They snatched victory from what seemed to be sure defeat. 5. a short time: He had a snatch of sleep sitting in his chair. 6. a small amount; bit; scrap: hear snatches of conversation. 1,3,4 v., 2,5,6 n. —snatch'er, n.

snatch at, 1. try to seize or grasp; seize; grasp. 2. eagerly take advantage of: He snatched at the chance to travel.

snatch y (snach'ē), done or occurring in snatches; disconnected; irregular. adj. —snatch'ily, adv.

sneak (snēk), 1. move in a stealthy, sly way: The man sneaked about the barn watching for a chance to steal the dog. 2. act of sneaking. 3. get, put, pass, etc., in a stealthy, sly way. 4. Informal. steal. 5. act in a mean, contemptible, cowardly way. 6. person who sneaks; a sneaking, cowardly, contemptible person. 1,3-5 v., 2,6 n.

sneak out of, avoid by slyness.

sneaker (snēk'ər), 1. U.S. Informal. a light canvas shoe with a soft rubber sole. 2. person that sneaks; sneak. n.

sneaking (snēk'ing), 1. cowardly; underhand; concealed. 2. that one cannot justify or does not like to confess. adj. —sneak'ingly, adv.

sneak thief, person who takes advantage of open doors, windows, or other easy opportunities to steal.

sneaky (snēk'ē), cowardly; mean; contemptible. adj., sneak i er, sneak i est.

sneer (snir), 1. show scorn or contempt by looks or words: The mean girls sneered at poor Dora's clothes. 2. look or words expressing scorn or contempt. 3. utter with scorn or contempt: "Bah!" he sneered with a curl of his lip. 4. bring, put, force, etc., by sneering. 1,3,4 v., 2 n. —sneer'er, n. —sneer'ing ly, adv.

sneeze (snēz), 1. expel air suddenly and violently through the nose and mouth by an involuntary spasm. 2. a sudden, violent expelling of air through the nose and mouth. 1 v., sneezed, sneezing; 2 n.

sneeze at, Informal. treat with contempt; despise.

snell (snel), a short piece of gut, etc., by which a fish-hook is fastened to a longer line. n.

snick (snik), 1. cut, snip, or nick. 2. a small cut; a nick. 3. strike sharply. 4. in cricket, a light glancing blow given to the ball by the batsman, or the ball so hit. 5. give (a cricket ball) a light glancing blow. 1,3,5 v., 2,4 n.

snick (snik), 1. make or cause to make a clicking sound. 2. a slight sharp sound; click. 1 v., 2 n.

snicker (snik'ər), 1. a half-suppressed and usually disrespectful laugh; sly or silly laugh; giggle. 2. laugh in this way. 1 n., 2 v.

snide (snīd), Informal. 1. slyly insinuating. 2. derogatory. adj.

sniff (snif), 1. draw air through the nose in short, quick breaths that can be heard: The man who had a cold was sniffing. She sniffed at the present to show her contempt. 2. smell with sniffs: The dog sniffed suspiciously at the stranger. 3. try the smell of. 4. draw in through the nose with the breath: He sniffed the medicine. 5. act or sound of sniffing: a loud sniff. 6. a single breathing in of something; breath. 7. suspect; detect: The police sniffed a plot and broke up the meeting. 1-4,7 v., 5,6 n.

sniffle (snif'l), 1. sniff again and again: The child stopped crying but kept on sniffing. 2. a loud sniff; a sniffing. 1 v., snif fled, snif fling; 2 n. —snif'fler, n. the sniffles, 1. fit of sniffing; tendency to sniffle. 2. a slight cold in the head.

sniffy (snif'ē), Informal. 1. inclined to sniff. 2. contemptuous; scornful; disdainful. adj., sniff i er, sniff i est.

snigger (snig'ər), snicker. n., v.

snip (snip), 1. cut with a small, quick stroke or series of strokes with scissors: She snipped the thread. 2. act of snipping: With a few snips she cut out a paper doll. 3. a small piece cut off: Pick up the snips of cloth and thread from the floor. 4. any small piece; bit; fragment. 5. Informal. a small or unimportant person. 1 v., snipped, snipping; 2-5 n.

snips, hand shears for cutting metal.

snipe (snip), 1. any of various marsh birds with long bills. 2. hunt snipe. 3. shoot at (soldiers) one at a time as a sportsman shoots at game; shoot from a concealed place. 1 n., pl. snipes or (esp. collectively) snipe; 2,3 v., sniped, sniping.

sniper (snip'ər), a hidden sharpshooter. n.

snip pet (snip'it), 1. a small piece snipped off; bit; scrap; fragment. 2. Informal. a small or unimportant person. n.

snippy (snip'ē), 1. Informal. sharp; curt. 2. Informal. haughty; disdainful. 3. made up of scraps or fragments. adj., snip pi er, snip pi est. —snip'pi ness, n.

snivel (sniv'l), 1. cry with sniffing. 2. pretended grief or crying; whining. 3. put on a show of grief; whine. 4. run at the nose; sniffle. 5. running from the nose; sniffing. 1,3,4 v., sniv eled, sniv eling or esp. Brit. sniv elled, sniv eling; 2,5 n. —sniv'el er, esp. Brit. sniv'eller, n.

snob (snob), person who cares too much for rank, wealth, position, etc., and too little for real merit; person who tries too hard to please those above him and too little to please those below him. n.

snobber y (snob'ər ē), snobbishness. n., pl. snobber ies.

snob bish (snob'ish), of or like a snob; looking down on those in a lower position. adj. —snob'bish ly, adv.

snob bish ness (snob'ish nis), character or conduct of a snob; being a snob. n.

snood (snüd), 1. net or bag worn over a woman's hair. A snood may be a part of a hat. 2. a baglike hat. 3. band or ribbon formerly worn around the hair by young unmarried women in Scotland and northern England. 4. bind (hair) with a snood. 1-3 n., 4 v.

snoop (snüp), Informal. 1. go about in a sneaking, prying way; prowl; pry. 2. person who snoops. 1 v., 2 n. —snoop'er, n.

snoot y (snüt'ē), U.S. Informal. snobbish; conceited. adj., snoot i er, snoot i est.

snooze (snüz), Informal. 1. take a nap; sleep; doze. 2. nap; doze. 1 v., snoozed, snoozing; 2 n.

snore (snör), 1. breathe during sleep with a harsh, rough sound. 2. pass in snoring: The lazy man snored away the afternoon. 3. the sound made in snoring. 1,2 v., snored, snoring; 3 n.

snor kel (snör'kl), a periscopelike intake and exhaust shaft for Diesel engines which allows submarines to remain submerged for a very long period of time. n.

snort (snört), 1. force the breath violently through the nose with a loud, harsh sound: The horse snorted. 2. make a sound like this: The engine snorted. 3. act of snorting; the sound made. 4. show contempt, defiance, anger, etc., by snorting. 5. say or express with a snort: "Indeed!" snorted my aunt. 1,2,4,5 v., 3 n. —snort'er, n.

snout (snout), 1. the projecting part of an animal's head that contains the nose, mouth, and jaws. Pigs, dogs, and crocodiles have snouts. 2. anything like an animal's snout. 3. Informal. a large or ugly nose. n.

Snipe (about 11 in. long from tip of beak to tip of tail) snout beetle, a small beetle that has the head prolonged to form a snout. Snout beetles eat grain, nuts, and fruit.

Snood (def. 3)

snow (snō), 1. water vapor frozen into crystals that fall to earth in soft, white flakes and spread upon it as a white layer. 2. a fall of snow. 3. fall as snow: snow all day. 4. let fall or scatter as snow. 5. cover, block up, etc., with snow or as if with snow. 6. Poetic. pure whiteness. 7. something resembling or suggesting snow. 8. Slang. cocaine or heroin. 1,2,6-8 n., 3-5 v.

snow in, shut in by snow.

snow under, 1. cover with snow. 2. Informal. overwhelm.

snow ball (snō'bōl'), 1. ball made of snow pressed together. 2. throw balls of snow at. 3. shrub with white flowers in large clusters like balls. 4. increase rapidly by additions like a snowball: The number of signers of the petition for a new school snowballed. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

snow bank (snō'bank'), large mass or drift of snow. n.

snow berry (snō'ber'ē), 1. a North American shrub that bears clusters of white berries in the fall. 2. the berry. n., pl. snow berries.

snow bird (snō'bērd'), 1. a small American bird that has a slate-gray back and a white breast, and is often seen in flocks during the winter. 2. snow bunting. n.

snow-blind (snō'blind'), temporarily or partly blind from exposure of the eyes to the glare of snow. adj.

snow blindness, temporary or partial blindness caused by the reflection of sunlight from snow.

snow-bound (snō'bound'), shut in by snow. adj.

snow bunting, a small, white finch with black and brownish markings that inhabits cold regions.

Snow bunting
(about 7 in. long)

snow-capped (snō'kapt'), having its top covered with snow. adj.

Snow don (snō'dn), mountain in NW Wales. It is the highest mountain in Wales. 3560 ft. n.

snow drift (snō'drift'), 1. mass or bank of snow piled up by the wind. 2. snow driven before the wind. n.

snow drop (snō'drop'), a small plant with white flowers that blooms early in the spring. n.

snow fall (snō'fōl'), 1. a fall of snow. 2. amount of snow falling within a certain time and area: The snowfall in that one storm was 16 inches. n.

snow flake (snō'flāk'), a small, feathery piece of snow. n.

snow i ness (snō'ē nis), 1. being snowy. 2. whiteness. n.

snow line, line on mountains above which there is always snow.

snow plow (snō'plou'), machine for clearing away snow from streets, railroad tracks, etc. n.

snow shed (snō'shed'), a long shed built over a railroad track to protect it from snowslides. n.

snow shoe (snō'shū'), 1. a light, wooden frame with strips of leather stretched across it. Trappers in the far North wear snowshoes on their feet to keep from sinking in deep, soft snow. 2. walk or travel on snowshoes. 1 n., 2 v., snow shoed, snow shoe ing.

Snowshoes

snow slide (snō'slid'), 1. the sliding down of a mass of snow on a steep slope. 2. the mass of snow that slides. n.

snow storm (snō'stōrm'), storm with much snow. n.

snow-white (snō'hwīt'), white as snow. adj.

snow y (snō'ē), 1. having snow. 2. covered with snow. 3. like snow; white as snow: She has snowy hair. adj., snow i er, snow i est.

snub (snub), 1. treat coldly, scornfully, or with contempt. 2. cold, scornful, or disdainful treatment. 3. check or stop (a boat, horse, etc.) suddenly. 4. check or stop (a rope or cable running out) suddenly. 5. a sudden check or stop. 6. a sharp rebuke. 7. short and turned up at the tip: a snub nose. 1,3,4 v., snubbed, snub bing; 2,5,6 n., 7 adj.

snub by (snub'ē), short and turned up at the tip. adj., snub bi er, snub bi est.

snub-nosed (snub'nōzd'), having a snub nose. adj. snuff (snuf), 1. draw in through the nose; draw up into the nose: He snuffs up salt and water to cure a cold. 2. sniff; smell: The dog snuffed at the track of the fox. 3. powdered tobacco taken into the nose. 4. take powdered tobacco into the nose by snuffing; use snuff. 1,2,4 v., 3 n.

up to snuff, 1. Informal. in perfect order or condition; as good as expected. 2. Slang. not easily deceived.

snuff (snuf), 1. cut or pinch off the burned Wick of. 2. put out (a candle); extinguish. 3. the burned part of a candlewick. 1,2 v., 3 n.

snuff out, 1. put out; extinguish. 2. put an end to suddenly and completely.

snuff box (snuf'boks'), a very small box for holding snuff. n.

snuffers (snuf'ərz), small tongs for taking off burned Wick or putting out the light of a candle. n.pl.

Snuffers

snuffle (snuf'l), 1. breathe noisily through a partly clogged nose. 2. act or sound of snuffling. 3. smell; sniff. 4. speak, sing, etc., through the nose or with a nasal tone. 5. the nasal tone of voice of a person who snuffles. 1,3,4 v., snuf fled, snuf fling; 2,5 n.

the snuffles, 1. fit of snuffling; stuffed-up condition of the nose, caused by a cold, hay fever, etc. 2. a respiratory disease of animals.

snug (snug), 1. comfortable; warm; sheltered: The cat has found a snug corner behind the stove. 2. neat; trim; compact: The cabins on the boat are snug. 3. well-built; seaworthy: a snug ship. 4. make snug. 5. fitting closely: That coat is a little too snug. 6. small but sufficient: A snug income enables him to live in comfort. 7. hidden; concealed: He lay snug until the searchers passed by. 8. in a snug manner. 1-3,5-7 adj., snug ger, snug gest; 4 v., snugged, snug ging; 8 adv. —snug'ly, adv. —snug'ness, n.

snug ger y (snug'ər ē), a snug place, position, room, etc. n., pl. snug ger ies.

snug gle (snug'l), 1. lie or press closely for warmth or comfort or from affection; nestle; cuddle. 2. draw closely. v., snug gled, snug gling.

so (sō; unstressed before consonants sə), 1. in this way; in that way; in the same way; as shown: Hold your pen so. 2. as stated: Is that really so? 3. to this degree; to that degree: Do not walk so fast. 4. to such a degree; to the same degree: He was not so cold as she was. 5. very: You are so kind. 6. very much: My head aches so. 7. for this reason; for that reason; accordingly; therefore: The dog was hungry; so we fed it. 8. with the result that; in order that: Go away so I can rest. 9. with the purpose or intention that: I did the work so he would not need to. 10. on the condition that; if: So it be done, I care not who does it. 11. likewise; also: She likes dogs; so does he. 12. well! 13. let it be that way! all right! 14. is that true? 15. more or less; approximately that: a pound or so. 16. the same: A drunkard usually remains so. 17. whatever has been or is going to be said; this; that. 1-7,11 adv., 8-10 conj., 12-14 interj., 15-17 pron. and so, 1. likewise; also. 2. accordingly.

so as, with the result or purpose.

so that, 1. with the result that. 2. with the purpose that. 3. provided that; if.

so (sō), the fifth tone of the musical scale; sol. n. So., South.

soak (sōk), 1. make very wet; wet through. 2. let remain in water or other liquid until wet clear through. 3. become very wet; remain until wet clear through.

4. make its way; enter; go: Water will soak through the earth. 5. suck: The sponge soaked up the water. 6. act or process of soaking: Give the clothes a long soak. 7. state of being soaked. 8. liquid in which anything is soaked. 9. drink heavily. 10. Slang. a heavy drinker. 11. U.S. Slang. punish severely; strike hard. 12. Slang. make pay too much; charge or tax heavily. 1-5,9,11,12 v., 6-8, 10 n.

soak up, 1. absorb. 2. take into the mind.

so-and-so (sō'and sō'), some person or thing not named. n., pl. so-and-sos.

soap (sōp), 1. substance used for washing, usually made of a fat and caustic soda or potash. 2. rub with soap. 3. U.S. Slang. money; especially, money as used for bribery. 1,3 n., 2 v. —soap/less, adj.

soap box (sōp'boks'), 1. box, especially of wood, in which soap is packed. 2. an empty box used as a temporary platform by agitators or other speakers addressing gatherings on the streets. 3. address an audience on the public street. 1,2 n., 3 v.

soap opera, U.S. a daytime radio or television drama presented in serial form, usually featuring emotional domestic situations.

soap stone (sōp'stōn'), stone that feels somewhat like soap, used for griddles, hearths, etc. n.

soap suds (sōp'sudz'), bubbles and foam made with soap and water. n.pl.

soapy (sōp'ē), 1. covered with soap or soapsuds. 2. containing soap. 3. like soap; smooth; greasy. adj., soapier, soapiest.

soar (sōr), 1. fly at a great height; fly upward: The eagle soared without flapping its wings. 2. rise beyond what is common and ordinary; aspire: His ambition soared to the throne. 3. reach in soaring. 4. fly or move through the air by means of rising air currents. A light airplane without a motor can soar for many miles. v.

sob (sob), 1. cry or sigh with short, quick breaths. 2. a catching of short, quick breaths because of grief, etc. 3. put, send, etc., by sobbing: She sobbed herself to sleep. 4. make a sound like a sob: The wind sobbed. 5. U.S. Slang. intended to arouse feelings of pity, sadness, etc.: sob stories. 6. utter with sobs. 1,3,4,6 v., sobbed, sobbing; 2 n., 5 adj.

sober (sō'bər), 1. not drunk. 2. temperate; moderate: The Puritans led sober, hard-working lives. 3. quiet; serious; solemn: a sober expression. 4. calm; sensible: The judge's sober opinion was not influenced by prejudice or strong feeling. 5. free from exaggeration: sober facts. 6. make sober. 7. become sober. 8. quiet in color: dressed in sober gray. 1-5,8 adj., 6,7 v. —so/ber ly, adv. —so/ber ness, n.

sober down, become quiet, serious, or solemn.

sober up or off, recover from too much alcoholic drink.

sober-minded (sō'bər mīn'did'), having or showing a sober mind; self-controlled; sensible. adj.

soberie ty (sə brī'ə tē), 1. soberness. 2. temperance in the use of strong drink. 3. moderation. 4. quietness; seriousness. n., pl. soberie ties.

soberie ty (sō'brā kē), nickname. n. Also, soubriquet.

so-called (sō'kōld'), 1. called thus. 2. called thus improperly or incorrectly: Her so-called friend dislikes her. adj.

soccer (sok'ər), game played between two teams of eleven men each, using a round ball; association football. The ball may be struck with any part of the body except the hands and arms. n.

Boys playing soccer

so cial bil i ty (sō'shə bil'ə tē), social disposition or behavior. n., pl. so cial bil i ties.

so cial ble (sō'shə bl), 1. liking company; friendly: The Smiths are a sociable family and entertain a great deal. 2. marked by conversation and companionship: We had a sociable afternoon together. 3. U.S. an informal social gathering. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —so/cial bly, adv.

so cial (sō'shəl), 1. concerned with human beings in their relations to each other: History and geography are social studies. 2. of or dealing with the living conditions, health, etc., of human beings: social problems, social work. 3. living, or liking to live, with others: Man is a social being. 4. for companionship or friendliness; having to do with companionship or friendliness: a social club. 5. liking company: She has a social nature. 6. connected with fashionable society: a social leader. 7. a social gathering or party. 8. of animals, living together in organized communities. Ants and bees are social insects. 9. socialistic. 1-6,8,9 adj., 7 n.

so cial ism (sō'shəl iz əm), 1. theory or system of social organization by which the means of production and distribution are owned, managed, or controlled by the government (state socialism) or by associations of workers (guild socialism). 2. a political movement advocating or associated with this system. n.

so cial ist (sō'shəl ist), 1. person who favors and supports socialism. 2. socialistic. 1 n., 2 adj.

so cial is tic (sō'shəl is'tik), 1. of or having to do with socialism or socialists. 2. advocating or supporting socialism. adj. —so/cial is'ti cal ly, adv.

Socialist Party, political party that favors and supports socialism.

so cial ite (sō'shəl ĭt), person who is prominent in society. n.

so cial ize (sō'shəl ĭz), 1. make social; make fit for living with others. 2. establish or regulate in accordance with socialism. v., so cial ized, so cial iz ing.

socialized medicine, the providing of medical care and hospital services for all classes of society, especially through governmental subsidy and administration.

so cial ly (sō'shəl ē), 1. in a social way or manner; in relation to other people. 2. as a member of society or of a social group: He is an able man, but socially he is a failure. adv.

social register, list of people who are prominent in fashionable society.

social science, study of people, their activities, and their customs in relationship to others. History, sociology, economics, and civics are social sciences.

social security, system of federal old-age pensions for employed persons. The government pays part of the pension, part is deducted from the employee's salary, and part is paid by his employer.

social service, social work.

social work, work directed toward the betterment of social conditions in a community. Child welfare bureaus, milk stations, district nursing organizations, free clinics, etc., are forms of social work.

social worker, person who does social work.

so cie ty (sə sī'ə tē), 1. group of persons joined together for a common purpose or by a common interest. A club, a fraternity, a lodge, or an association may be called a society. 2. all the people; the people of any particular time or place; their activities and customs: The good of society demands that all wrongdoing be punished. 3. company; companionship: I enjoy his society. 4. fashionable people; their doings: Grace's mother is a leader of society. n., pl. so cie ties.

Society Islands, group of French islands in the S Pacific that includes Tahiti. It is part of French Oceania. 42,000 pop.; 650 sq. mi.

Society of Friends, Quakers; a Christian sect opposed to war and to taking oaths, and favoring simple clothes and manners.

Society of Jesus, a Roman Catholic religious order, founded by Saint Ignatius Loyola in 1534. Its members are called Jesuits.

so ci o log i cal (sō'sē ə loj'ə kl), 1. of or having to do with human society or problems relating to it: The care of the poor is a sociological problem. 2. of sociology. adj.

so ci o log i cal ly (sō'sē ə loj'ik lē), according to sociology. adv.

so ci o lo gist (sō'sē ol'ə jist), student of human society and its problems; person skilled in sociology. n.

so ci o lo gy (sō'sē ol'ə jē), study of the nature, origin, and development of human society and community life; science of social facts. Sociology deals with the facts of crime, poverty, marriage, divorce, the church, the school, etc. n.

soc¹ (sok), 1. a short stocking, especially one that reaches about halfway to the knee. 2. a light shoe worn by actors in comedy in ancient Greece and Rome. 3. comedy. n.

soc² (sok), Slang. 1. strike or hit hard. 2. a hard blow. 3. squarely; right. 1 v., 2 n., 3 adv.

sock et (sok'it), 1. a hollow part or piece for receiving and holding something. A candlestick has a socket in which to set a candle. Eyes are set in sockets. 2. a connecting place for electric wires and plugs. n.

SOCKET
Ball-
andsocket
joint

Soc ra tes (sok'rə tēz), 469-399 B.C., famous Athenian philosopher whose teachings were written down by his disciple Plato. n.

So crat ic (sō krat'ik), of or having to do with Socrates, his philosophy, followers, etc. adj.

sod (sod), 1. ground covered with grass. 2. piece or layer of this containing the grass and its roots. 3. cover with sods. 1, 2 n., 3 v., sod ded, sod ding, under the sod, buried.

so da (sō'də), 1. any of several substances containing sodium; sodium carbonate, sodium bicarbonate, caustic soda, or sodium oxide. Soda is used in the manufacture of soap and glass. Washing soda, or sal soda, is used in cleaning. Baking soda is used in cooking and as a medicine. 2. sodium bicarbonate; baking soda. 3. soda water. 4. soda water flavored with fruit juice or syrup, and often containing ice cream. n.

soda ash, partly purified sodium carbonate.

soda cracker, a simple, light, thin cracker made with little or no sugar or shortening.

soda fountain, 1. apparatus for holding soda water, syrups, ice, etc., and having faucets for drawing off the liquids. 2. counter with places for holding soda water, flavored syrups, ice cream, etc. 3. store having such a counter.

so dal i ty (sō dal'ə tē), 1. fellowship; friendship. 2. an association, society, or fraternity. 3. in the Roman Catholic Church, a society with religious or charitable purposes. n., pl. so dal i ties.

soda water, water charged with carbon dioxide to make it bubble and fizz, often served with the addition of syrup, ice cream, etc.

sod den (sod'n), 1. soaked through: The boy's clothing was sodden with rain. 2. heavy and moist: This bread is sodden because it was not baked well. 3. dull-looking; stupid. adj. —sod'den ness, n.

so di um (sō'dē əm), a soft, silver-white metallic element occurring in nature only in compounds. Salt and soda contain sodium. Symbol: Na n.

sodium bicarbonate, a powdery white substance used in cooking, medicine, etc.; baking soda.

sodium carbonate, a salt that occurs in a powdery white form and in a hydrated crystalline form; washing soda. It is used for softening water, making soap and glass, neutralizing acids, etc.

sodium chloride, common salt.

sodium cyanide, a very poisonous substance, composed of fine white crystals, used in the cyanide process for extracting gold and silver from ores, in fumigating, etc.

sodium hydroxide, a white solid that is a strong, corrosive alkali; caustic soda.

sodium nitrate, colorless crystals used in making fertilizers, explosives, etc.; Chile saltpeter.

Sod om (sod'am), an ancient city near the Dead Sea which, according to the account in the Bible, was destroyed by fire from heaven because of the wickedness of its inhabitants. Genesis 18 and 19. n.

so ev er (sō ev'ər), 1. in any case; in any way; in any degree. Soever is usually added to words such as who, what, when, and how to give an indefinite meaning: no matter how long soever the work may take. 2. of any kind; at all: He has no home soever. adv.

so fa (sō'fa), a long, upholstered seat or couch having a back and arms. n.

So fi a (sō fē'ə), capital of Bulgaria, in the W part. 592,000. n.

soft (sôft), 1. not hard; yielding readily to touch or pressure: a soft pillow. 2. not hard compared with other things of the same kind: Pine wood is softer than oak. Copper and lead are softer than steel. 3. not hard or sharp; gentle and graceful: soft shadows, soft outlines. 4. fine in texture; not rough or coarse; smooth: soft skin. 5. not loud: a soft voice. 6. quietly pleasant; mild; not harsh: soft air. 7. not glaring or harsh: soft light. 8. gentle; kind; tender: a soft heart. 9. weak; unmanly: The army had become soft from idleness and luxury. 10. silly. 11. softly; quietly; gently. 12. that which is soft; soft part. 13. in pronunciation, having a more or less hissing sound. For example: c is soft in city and hard in corn; g is soft in gentle and hard in get. 14. Informal. easy; easy-going: a soft job, a soft person. 15. Archaic. hush! stop! 1-10, 13, 14 adj., 11 adv., 12 n., 15 interj.

—soft/ly, adv.

soft ball (sôft'bôl'), a modified kind of baseball that uses a larger and softer ball. n.

soft-boiled (sôft'boild'), boiled only a little so that the yolk of an egg is still soft. adj.

soft coal, bituminous coal.

soft drink, drink that does not contain alcohol.

soft en (sôf'en), 1. make softer. 2. become softer. 3. lessen the ability of (a country, region, etc.) to resist invasion or attack through preliminary bombing, etc. v. —soft/en er, n.

soft-heart ed (sôft'här'tid), gentle; kind; tender. adj. —soft/-heart/ed ness, n.

soft ness (sôft'nis), being soft; ease; comfort; mildness; gentleness; weakness. n.

soft palate, the fleshy back part of the roof of the mouth.

soft-ped al (sôft'ped'l), 1. use a pedal on a piano, organ, etc., to soften musical tones. 2. make quieter, less noticeable, or less strong. v., soft-ped aled, soft-ped al ing or esp. Brit. soft-ped alled, soft-ped al ling.

soft soap, 1. a liquid or semiliquid soap. 2. flattery.

soft-soap (sôft'sôp'), flatter. v. —soft/soap'er, n.

soft-spo ken (sôft'spō'kən), 1. speaking with a soft voice: a bland, soft-spoken scoundrel. 2. spoken softly: a soft-spoken reproof. adj.

soft water, water containing little of any substance that keeps soap from forming suds.

soft wood (sôft'wüd'), 1. wood that is easily cut. 2. tree that has needles or does not have broad leaves. Pines and firs are softwoods; oaks and maples are hardwoods. 3. wood of such a tree. n.

soft y (sôf'tē), Informal. 1. a soft, silly, or weak person. 2. one who is easily imposed upon. n., pl. soft ies.

sog gy (sog'ē), 1. thoroughly wet; soaked: a soggy washcloth. 2. damp and heavy: soggy bread. adj., sog-gi er, sog gi est. —sog/gi ness, n.

So ho (sō hō' or sō'hō), district in London containing many restaurants. n.

soil¹ (soil), 1. ground; earth; dirt: A farmer tills the soil. 2. something thought of as a place for growth. 3. land; country. n.

soil² (soil), 1. make dirty: He soiled his clean clothes. 2. become dirty: White shirts soil easily. 3. spot; stain: The splashing paint soiled the wall. 4. disgrace; dishonor: His actions have soiled the family name. 5. corrupt morally. 1-5 v., 3 n.

soi ree or soi rée (swā rā'), an evening party or social gathering. n.

Sois sons (swā sōn'), city in N France. A battle was fought near Soissons in 1918. 20,000. n.

so journ (sō jern' or sō'jern for 1; sō'jern for 2), 1. stay for a time: The Israelites sojourned in the land of Egypt. 2. a brief stay. 1 v., 2 n. —so journ'er, n.

sol (sōl), the fifth tone of the musical scale. See do for diagram. n. Also, so².

Sol (sol), 1. the Roman god of the sun, identified with the Greek god Helios. 2. sun. n.

sol ace (sol'is), 1. comfort; relief: She found solace from her troubles in music. 2. comfort; relieve: He solaced himself with a book. 1 n., 2 v., sol aced, sol ac ing.

so lar (sō'lār), 1. of the sun: a solar eclipse. 2. having to do with the sun. 3. coming from the sun: Solar heat is less in winter than in the summer. 4. measured or determined by the earth's motion in relation to the sun: a solar year. 5. working by means of the sun's light or heat. A solar telegraph uses mirrors to reflect flashes of sunlight. adj.

so lar i um (sə lār'ē əm), room, porch, etc., where people can lie or sit in the sun. n., pl. so lar i a (-lār'ē ə).

solar plex us (plek'səs), network of nerves situated at the upper part of the abdomen, behind the stomach and in front of the aorta.

solar system, sun and all the planets, satellites, comets, etc., that revolve around it.

solar year, the period of time required for the earth to make one revolution around the sun, which equals about 365¼ days.

sold (sōld), pt. and pp. of sell. He sold it a week ago. He has sold his car. v.

sol der (sod'ər), 1. metal or alloy that can be melted and used for joining or mending metal surfaces, parts, etc. 2. fasten, mend, or join with solder. 3. anything that unites firmly or joins closely. 4. unite firmly; join closely. 5. mend; repair; patch. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v. —sol'der er, n.

sol dier (sōl'jər), 1. man who serves in an army. 2. an enlisted man in the army, not a commissioned officer. 3. man having skill or experience in war. 4. person who serves in any cause: Christian soldiers. 5. in colonies of certain ants, one of a type of workers with a large head and powerful jaws. 6. in colonies of termites, one of a kind of large-headed individuals. 7. act or serve as a soldier. 8. Informal. pretend to work but do very little; pretend to be ill. 1-6 n., 7,8 v.

sol dier ly (sōl'jər lē), like a soldier; suitable for a soldier. adj.

soldier of fortune, man serving or ready to serve as a soldier under any government for money, adventure, or pleasure; military adventurer.

sol dier y (sōl'jər ē), 1. soldiers collectively. 2. body of soldiers. 3. military training or knowledge. n., pl. sol dier ies.

sole¹ (sōl), 1. one and only; single: the sole heir. 2. only: We three were the sole survivors. 3. of or for only one person or group and not others; exclusive: the sole right of use. 4. alone: a sole undertaking. adj.

sole² (sōl), 1. the bottom or under surface of the foot. 2. bottom of a shoe, slipper, boot, etc. 3. piece cut in the same shape. 4. put a sole on. 5. the under surface; under part; bottom. 1-3,5 n., 4 v., soled, sol ing.

sole³ (sōl), a kind of flatfish. European sole is valued highly as food. n., pl. soles or (esp. collectively) sole.

sol e cism (sol'ə siz əm), 1. violation of the grammatical or other accepted usages of a language; mistake in using words: "I done it" is a solecism. 2. mistake in social behavior; breach of good manners or etiquette. n.

sole ly (sōl'lē), 1. as the only one or ones; alone: You will be solely responsible. 2. only: He does it solely for convenience. adv.

sol emn (sol'əm), 1. serious; grave; earnest: a solemn face. 2. causing serious or grave thoughts: The organ played solemn music. 3. done with form and ceremony: a solemn procession. 4. connected with religion; sacred. adj. —sol'emn ly, adv. —sol'emn ness, n.

so lem ni ty (sə lem'nə tē), 1. solemn feeling; seriousness; impressiveness: The solemnity of the church service was felt even by the children. 2. a solemn, formal ceremony: The solemnities were concluded with a prayer by the college chaplain. n., pl. so lem ni ties.

sol em nize (sol'əm niz), 1. observe with ceremonies: Christian churches solemnize the resurrection of Christ at Easter. 2. hold or perform (a ceremony or service): The marriage was solemnized in the cathedral. 3. make serious or grave. v., sol em nized, sol em nizing. —sol'em-ni za'tion, n.

so le noid (sō'lə noid), a spiral or cylindrical coil of wire that acts like a magnet when an electric current passes through it. n.

So lent (sō'lənt), The, channel between the mainland of England and the Isle of Wight. 15 mi. long; 2 to 5 mi. wide. n.

so lic it (sə lis'it), 1. ask earnestly; try to get: The tailor sent around cards soliciting trade. 2. make appeals or requests: solicit for contributions. 3. influence to do wrong; tempt; entice: To solicit a judge means to offer him bribes. v.

so lic i ta tion (sə lis'ə tā'shən), 1. earnest request; entreaty. 2. urging to do wrong; temptation; enticement. n.

so lic i tor (sə lis'ə tər), 1. person who entreats or requests. 2. person who seeks trade or business. 3. lawyer. In England, a solicitor prepares a case, and a barrister pleads it. 4. lawyer for a town, city, State, etc. n.

solicitor general, 1. a law officer who assists the attorney general and ranks next below him in the Department of Justice. 2. the chief law officer in a State having no attorney general. pl. solicitors general.

so lic it ous (sə lis'ə təs), 1. showing care or concern; anxious; concerned: Parents are solicitous for their children's progress. 2. desirous; eager: solicitous to please. adj. —so lic'it ous ly, adv. —so lic'it ous ness, n.

so lic i tude (sə lis'ə tūd or sə lis'ə tūd), anxious care; anxiety; concern. n.

sol id (sol'id), 1. not a liquid or a gas: Water becomes solid when it freezes. 2. substance that is not a liquid or a gas. 3. not hollow: A bar of iron is solid; a pipe is hollow. 4. strongly put together; hard; firm: They were glad to leave the boat and put their feet on solid ground. 5. alike throughout: The cloth is a solid blue. 6. firmly united: The country was solid for peace. 7. real; serious: Chemistry and physics are solid subjects. 8. genuine: solid comfort. 9. that can be depended on: He is a solid citizen. 10. having good judgment; sound; sensible; intelligent: a solid book by a solid thinker. 11. financially sound or strong: a solid business. 12. whole; entire: I waited three solid hours. 13. undivided; continuous: a solid row of houses. 14. having the lines of type not separated by leads; having few open spaces. 15. having length, breadth, and thickness. 16. body that has length, breadth, and thickness. A cube is a solid. 17. written without a hyphen. Earthworm is a solid word. 1,3-15, 17 adj., 2,16 n. —sol'id ly, adv. —sol'id ness, n.

sol i dar i ty (sol'ə dar'ə tē), unity or fellowship arising from common responsibilities and interests. n., pl. sol i dar i ties.

solid geometry, branch of mathematics that deals with objects having the three dimensions of length, breadth, and thickness.

so lid i fy (sə lid'ə fi), 1. make or become solid; harden: Extreme cold will solidify water. Jelly solidifies as it gets cold. 2. unite firmly. v., so lid i fied, so lid i ty-ing.

so lid i ty (sə lid'ə tē), being solid; firmness; hardness; density: the solidity of marble or steel, the solidity of George Washington's character. n., pl. so lid i ties.

so lil o quize (sə lil'ə kwīz), 1. talk to oneself.

2. speak a soliloquy. v., so lil o quized, so lil o quiz ing.

so lil o quy (sə lil'ə kwē), 1. a talking to oneself. 2. speech made by an actor to himself when alone on the stage. It reveals his thoughts and feelings to the audience, but not to the other characters in the play. n., pl. so lil o quies.

sol i taire (sol'ə tār), 1. a card game played by one person. 2. diamond or other gem set by itself. n.

sol i tar y (sol'ə ter'ē), 1. alone; single; only: A solitary rider was seen in the distance. 2. without companions; away from people; lonely: He leads a solitary life in his hut in the mountains. The house is in a solitary spot miles from a town. 3. person living alone, away from people. 1,2 adj., 3 n., pl. sol i tar ies. —sol'i tar'ily, adv. —sol'i tar'iness, n.

sol i tude (sol'ə tūd or sol'ə tūd), 1. being alone: He likes company and hates solitude. 2. a lonely place. 3. loneliness. n.

so lo (sō'lō), 1. piece of music for one voice or instrument. 2. arranged for and performed by one voice or instrument; a solo part. 3. playing the solo part: a solo violin. 4. without a partner, companion, instructor, etc.; alone: a solo flight, a solo dance. 5. anything done without a partner, companion, instructor, etc. 6. make a solo flight in an airplane. 1,5 n., pl. so los; 2-4 adj., 6 v., so loed, so lo ing.

so lo ist (sō'lō ist), person who performs a solo or solos. n.

Sol o mon (sol'ə mən), 1. in the Bible, a king of Israel in the tenth century B.C., a son of David. Solomon was famous for his wisdom, and for the great temple which he had built in Jerusalem. I Kings 3:5-28. 2. man of great wisdom. n.

Solomon Islands, group of islands in the S Pacific, northeast of Australia. Some of these islands are under the supervision of Australia, and the rest are under the protection of Great Britain. 165,000 pop.; 14,600 sq. mi. See Australasia for map.

Sol o mon's-seal (sol'ə mənz sēl'), a kind of plant that has small flowers hanging from the bases of the leaves and a rootstock with seallike scars. n.

Solomon's seal, a starlike figure formed of two triangles interlaced.

So lon (sō'lən or sō'lon), 1. 638?-558? B.C., wise Athenian lawgiver. 2. a wise man; sage.

3. U.S. Informal. member of a legislature. n.

so long, Informal. good-bye; farewell.

sol stice (sol'stis), either of the two times in the year when the sun is at its greatest distance from the celestial equator. In the Northern Hemisphere, June 21 or 22, the summer solstice, is the longest day of the year and December 21 or 22, the winter solstice, is the shortest. n.

sol sti tial (sol'stish'əl), having to do with a solstice. adj.

sol u bil i ty (sol'yə bil'ə tē), 1. quality that substances have of dissolving or being dissolved easily: the solubility of sugar in water. 2. quality that problems, difficulties, questions, etc., have of being solved or explained. n., pl. sol u bil i ties.

sol u ble (sol'yə bl), 1. that can be dissolved or made into liquid: Salt is soluble in water. 2. that can be solved: soluble puzzles. adj.

sol ute (sol'ūt), solid, gas, etc., dissolved in a liquid to make a solution: Salt is a solute in sea water. n.

so lu tion (sə lū'shən), 1. the solving of a problem: The solution of the problem required many hours. 2. explanation: The police are seeking a solution of the crime. 3. process of dissolving; changing of a solid or gas to a liquid by treatment with a liquid. 4. liquid or mixture formed by dissolving. 5. a separating into parts. 6. condition of being dissolved: Sugar and salt can be held in solution in water. n.

sol v a ble (sol'və bl), 1. capable of being solved. 2. capable of being dissolved. adj.

solve (solv), find the answer to; clear up; explain: The mystery was never solved. He has solved all the problems in the lesson. v., solved, solving.

sol ven cy (sol'vən sē), ability to pay all one owes. n., pl. sol ven cies.

sol vent (sol'vant), 1. able to pay all that one owes: A bankrupt firm is not solvent. 2. able to dissolve: Gasoline is a solvent liquid that removes grease spots. 3. substance, usually a liquid, that can dissolve other substances: Water is a solvent of sugar and salt. 4. thing that solves. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

Sol way Firth (sol'wā fērth'), arm of the Irish Sea between NW England and S Scotland. 38 mi. long.

so ma (sō'mə), all the tissues and organs of an animal or plant except the germ cells. n., pl. so ma ta (sō'mə tə).

So ma li (sə mǎ'lē), 1. member of a group of people living in E Africa and having Negro, Arab, and other blood. 2. language of this group. n., pl. So ma li or So ma lis.

So ma lia (sə mǎ'lyə), republic in E Africa. 1,990,000 pop.; 246,000 sq. mi. Capital: Mogadiscio. n.

so mat ic (sō mat'ik), 1. of or having to do with the body. 2. having to do with the cavity of the body, or its walls. 3. having to do with the soma. adj.

somatic cell, any cell of an animal or plant, except a germ cell.

som ber (som'bər), 1. dark; gloomy: A cloudy winter day is somber. 2. melancholy; dismal: His losses made him very somber. adj. —som'ber ly, adv.

—som'ber ness, n.

som bre (som'bər), Esp. Brit. somber. adj.

som brer o (som brār'ō), a broad-brimmed hat worn in the SW United States, Mexico, etc. n., pl. som-brer os.

some (sum; unstressed səm), 1. certain, but not known or named: Some people sleep more than others. 2. certain unnamed persons or things: Some think so. 3. a number of: He left the city some years ago. 4. a quantity of: Drink some milk. 5. a certain number or quantity: Jack ate some and threw the rest away. 6. a; any: Ask some girl to come here. 7. about: Some twenty people saw it. 8. Informal. to some degree or extent; somewhat: He is some better today. 9. U.S. Informal. to a great degree or extent: That's going some! 10. U.S. Informal. big; good: That was some storm! 1,3,4,6,7,10 adj., 2,5 pron., 8,9 adv.

—some', suffix meaning:

1. tending to, as in frolicsome, meddlesome.

2. causing, as in awesome, troublesome.

3. to a considerable degree, as in lonesome.

—some', suffix meaning: group of, as in twosome, foursome.

some bod y (sum'bod'ē), 1. person not known or named; some person; someone: Somebody has taken my pen. 2. person of importance: She acts as if she were somebody since she won the prize. 1 pron., 2 n., pl. some bod ies.

some day (sum'dā), at some future time. adv.

some how (sum'hau), in a way not known or not stated; in one way or another: I'll finish this work somehow. adv.

somehow or other, in one way or another.

Solomon's seal

Man wearing a sombrero

some one (sum/wun or sum/wən), some person; somebody. pron.
some place (sum/plās), in or to some place; somewhere. adv.
som er salt (sum/ər sɔlt), 1. a roll or jump, turning the heels over the head. 2. roll or jump, turning the heels over the head. 1 n., 2 v. Also, summersault. turn a somersault, somersault.
Som er set (sum/ər set), county in SW England. n.
Som er ville (sum/ər vil), city in E Massachusetts, near Boston. 95,000. n.
some thing (sum/thing), 1. some thing; particular thing not named or known: He has something on his mind. 2. a certain amount or quantity; part; little: Something yet of doubt remains. 3. somewhat; to some extent or degree: He is something like his father. 4. thing or person of some value or importance: He thinks he's something. 5. thing or person that is to a certain extent an example of what is named: Einstein was something of a violinist. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 adv.
some time (sum/tim), 1. at one time or another: Come over sometime. 2. at an indefinite point of time: It happened sometime last March. 3. former: a sometime pupil of the school. 1,2 adv., 3 adj.
some times (sum/timz), now and then; at times: He comes to visit sometimes. adv.
some way (sum/wā), in some way. adv.
some what (sum/hwɔt), 1. to some extent or degree; slightly: somewhat round. 2. some part; some amount: somewhat of a musician. 3. a little. 1 adv., 2,3 n.
some where (sum/hwār), 1. in or to some place; in or to one place or another: He lives somewhere in the neighborhood. 2. at some time: It happened somewhere in the last century. adv.
some while (sum/hwil), 1. at times. 2. Rare. for some time. 3. sometime. 4. formerly. adv.
Somme (sɔm), river in N France. 140 mi. n.
som nam bu lism (som nam/byə liz əm), sleepwalking. n.
som nam bu list (som nam/byə list), sleepwalker. n.
som nam bu lis tic (som nam/byə lis/tik), having to do with sleepwalking or sleepwalkers. adj.
som nif er ous (som nif/ər əs), 1. causing sleep. 2. sleepy. adj.
som no lence (som/nl əns), sleepiness; drowsiness. n.
som no lent (som/nl ənt), sleepy; drowsy. adj. —som/no lent ly, adv.
son (sʌn), 1. a male child or person in relation to his parents or parent. 2. a male descendant. 3. son-in-law. 4. boy or man attached to country, cause, etc., as a child is to its parents: sons of liberty. 5. anything thought of as a son in relation to its origin. 6. term of address to a boy or from an older person, priest, etc. n. —son/less, adj.
the Son, Jesus Christ.
so nar (sɔ'nār), a device for determining the distance and direction of objects under water by the reflection of sound waves. n.
so na ta (sə nā'tə), piece of music for one or two instruments, having three or four movements in contrasted rhythms but related keys. n.
song (sɔŋ), 1. something to sing; short poem set to music. 2. poetry that has a musical sound. 3. piece of music for, or as if for, a poem that is to be sung. 4. act or practice of singing: The canary burst into song. 5. any sound like singing: the cricket's song, the song of the tea-kettle. 6. a mere trifle; low price. n.
for a song, very cheap: buy things for a song.
song and dance, U.S. Slang. explanation or account, not necessarily true, and often intended to impress or deceive.
song bird (sɔŋ/bərd'), 1. bird that sings. 2. a woman singer. n.

song less (sɔŋ/lis), not able to sing. adj.
Song of Solomon, The, a book of the Old Testament.
Song of Songs, Song of Solomon.
song sparrow, a small North American songbird with black, and brown, and white feathers.
song ster (sɔŋ/stər), 1. singer. 2. writer of songs or poems. 3. songbird. n.
song stress (sɔŋ/stɪs), 1. a woman singer. 2. a woman writer of songs or poems; poetess. 3. a female songbird. n.
song thrush, 1. songbird living in the woods of E North America; the wood thrush. 2. a European bird noted for its song; the mavis. son ic (sɔn/ik), 1. of, having to do with, or using sound waves. 2. having to do with the rate at which sound travels in air (1087 feet per second). adj.
sonic barrier or wall, point at which an airplane or projectile attains the same rate of speed as sound. Air disturbances are encountered at this point.
sonic boom, a loud noise made by an airplane crossing through the sonic barrier.
sonic mine, container holding an explosive charge that is put under water and exploded by propeller vibrations; acoustic mine.
so nif er ous (sɔ nif/ər əs), carrying or producing sound. adj.
son-in-law (sʌn/in lɔw), the husband of one's daughter. n., pl. sons-in-law. son net (sɔn/it), poem having 14 lines, usually in iambic pentameter, and a certain arrangement of rhymes. Elizabethan and Italian sonnets differ in the arrangement of the rhymes. n.
son net eer (sɔn'ə tir'), 1. writer of sonnets. 2. write sonnets. 3. an inferior poet. 1,3 n., 2 v.
son ny (sʌn/ē), little son (used as a pet name, or as a way of speaking to a little boy). n., pl. son nies.
so nom e ter (sɔ nom'ə tər), 1. instrument used in measuring the pitch of musical tones or for experimenting with vibrating strings. 2. instrument used for testing a person's hearing. n.
so nor i ty (sə nɔr'ə tē), sonorous quality or condition. n.
so no rous (sə nɔ'rəs), 1. giving out or having a deep, loud sound. 2. full and rich in sound. 3. having an impressive sound; high-sounding: sonorous phrases, a sonorous style. adj. —so no'rous ly, adv.
son ship (sʌn/ship), condition of being a son. n.
Soo (sū), Informal. Sault Sainte Marie. n.
Soo chow (sū'chou'), Wuhshien. n.
soon (sūn), 1. in a short time; before long: I will see you again soon. 2. before the usual or expected time; early: Why have you come so soon? 3. promptly; quickly: As soon as I hear, I will let you know. 4. readily; willingly: The brave soldier would as soon die as yield to such an enemy. adv.
had sooner, would more readily; prefer to.
soot (sūt or sɪt), 1. a black substance in the smoke from burning coal, wood, oil, etc. Soot makes smoke dark and collects on the inside of chimneys. 2. cover or blacken with soot. 1 n., 2 v.
sooth (sūth), Archaic. 1. truth. 2. true. 1 n., 2 adj.
soothe (sūth), 1. quiet; calm; comfort: The mother soothed the crying child. 2. make less painful; relieve; ease: Heal soothes some aches; cold soothes others. v.
soothed, sooth ing. —sooth'er, n. —sooth'ing ly, adv.
sooth ly (sūth/lē), Archaic. truly; in truth. adv.
sooth say er (sūth/sā'ər), person who claims to tell what will happen; person who makes predictions. n.
sooth say ing (sūth/sā'ing), 1. the foretelling of future events. 2. prediction or prophecy. n.
soot y (sūt/ē), 1. covered or blackened with soot. 2. dark-brown or black; dark-colored. adj., soot ier, soot i est. —soot'ily, adv. —soot'i ness, n.

sop (sop), 1. piece of food dipped or soaked in milk, broth, etc. 2. dip or soak: to sop bread in milk. 3. something given to soothe or quiet; bribe. 4. take up (water, etc.); wipe; mop: Please sop up that water with a cloth. 5. be drenched. 6. soak thoroughly; drench. 7. person or thing that is thoroughly soaked. 8. soak in or through. 1,3,7 n., 2,4-6,8 v., sopped, sop ping.

sop, soprano.

sophism (sof'iz əm), a clever but misleading argument; argument based on false or unsound reasoning. n.

sophist (sof'ist), a clever but misleading reasoner. n.

sophistic (sə fis'tik), sophistical. adj.

sophistic (sə fis'tə kl), 1. clever but misleading; based on false or unsound reasoning. 2. using clever but misleading arguments; reasoning falsely or unsoundly. adj. —sophistic cal ly, adv.

sophisticate (sə fis'tə kāt for 1,3-5; sə fis'tə kāt or sə fis'tə kit for 2), 1. make experienced in worldly ways. 2. a sophisticated person. 3. mislead. 4. use sophistry; quibble. 5. involve in sophistry. 1,3-5 v., sophisticated, sophisticating; 2 n.

sophisticated (sə fis'tə kāt'id), 1. experienced in worldly ways; lacking in natural simplicity or frankness; artificial. 2. appealing to the tastes of sophisticated people. 3. misleading. adj.

sophistication (sə fis'tə kā'shən), 1. a lessening or loss of naturalness, simplicity, or frankness; worldly experience or ideas; artificial ways. 2. sophistry. n.

sophistry (sof'is trē), 1. unsound reasoning. 2. a clever but misleading argument. n., pl. sophistries.

Sophocles (sof'ə klēz), 495?-406? B.C., a famous Greek tragic poet. n.

sophomore (sof'ə mōr), 1. student in the second year of high school or college. 2. of or having to do with second-year students. 1 n., 2 adj.

sophomore (sof'ə mōr'ik), 1. of, having to do with, or like a sophomore or sophomores. 2. U.S. conceited and pretentious but crude and ignorant. adj.

soporific (sō'pə rif'ik or sō'pə rif'ik), 1. causing or tending to cause sleep. 2. sleepy; drowsy. 3. drug that causes sleep. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

sopping (sop'ing), soaked; drenched. adj.

sopping wet, soaked; drenched.

soppy (sop'ē), soaked; very wet: soppy ground, soppy weather. adj., soppi er, soppi est.

soprano (sə pran'ō), 1. the highest singing voice in women and boys. 2. singer with such a voice. 3. part to be sung by a soprano voice. 4. of, for, or having to do with the soprano. 1-3 n., pl. sopranos; 4 adj.

sorcerer (sōr'sər ər), person who practices magic with the aid of evil spirits; magician. n.

sorceress (sōr'sər is), woman who practices magic with the aid of evil spirits; witch. n.

sorcery (sōr'sər ē), magic performed with the aid of evil spirits; witchcraft. n., pl. sorceries.

sordid (sōr'did), 1. dirty; filthy: The poor family lived in a sordid hut. 2. caring too much for money; meanly selfish; mean; low; base. adj. —sordid ly, adv. —sordid ness, n.

sore (sōr), 1. painful; aching; tender; smarting: a sore throat, a sore finger. 2. a painful place on the body where the skin or flesh is broken or bruised. 3. sad; distressed: The suffering of the poor makes her heart sore. 4. easily angered or offended; irritable; touchy. 5. Informal. offended; angered; vexed: He is sore at missing the game. 6. causing pain, misery, anger, or offense; vexing: Their defeat is a sore subject with the members of the team. 7. cause of pain, sorrow, sadness, anger, offense, etc. 8. severe; distressing: Your going away is a sore grief to us. 9. Archaic. in a sore manner. 1,3-6,8 adj., sor est; 2,7 n., 9 adv. —sore ly, adv. —sore ness, n.

sore head (sōr'hed'), U.S. Informal. person who is angry or offended. n.

sorghum (sōr'gəm), 1. a tall cereal plant resembling corn. One variety has a sweet juice used for making molasses or syrup, others provide food for livestock either by their grain or as hay, and still others furnish material for brushes or brooms. 2. molasses or syrup made from a sorghum plant. n.

sorority (sə rōr'ə tē), 1. a sisterhood. 2. U.S. club or society of women or girls. There are student sororities in many American colleges. n., pl. sororities.

sorrel (sōr'əl), 1. reddish brown. 2. a reddish-brown horse with mane and tail of the same or a lighter color. 1 adj., 1,2 n.

sorrel (sōr'əl), any of several plants with sour leaves. n.

sorrow (sor'ō), 1. grief; sadness; regret: Mary felt sorrow at the loss of her kitten. She expressed sorrow at her mistake. 2. cause of grief, sadness, or regret; trouble; suffering; misfortune: Her sorrows have aged her. 3. feel or show grief, sadness, or regret. 4. be sad; feel sorry; grieve: She sorrowed over the lost money. 1,2 n., 3,4 v. —sor-row er, n. —sor-row less, adj.

sorrowful (sor'ə fəl), 1. full of sorrow; feeling sorrow; sad. 2. showing sorrow. 3. causing sorrow. adj. —sor-row ful ly, adv. —sor-row ful ness, n.

sorry (sor'ē), 1. feeling pity, regret, sympathy, etc.; sad: I am sorry that you are sick. 2. wretched; poor; pitiful: The blind beggar in his ragged clothes was a sorry sight. adj., sorrier, sorriest. —sor-ri ly, adv. —sor-ri ness, n.

sort (sōrt), 1. kind; class: What sort of work does he do? 2. character; quality; nature. 3. person or thing of a certain kind or quality: He is a good sort. 4. arrange by kinds or classes; arrange in order: Sort these cards according to their colors. 5. separate from others; put: The farmer sorted out the best apples for eating. 6. letter or piece in a font of type. 7. way; fashion; manner. 8. Archaic. agree; accord. 1-3,6,7 n., 4,5,8 v.

of sorts, 1. of one kind or another. 2. of a poor or mediocre quality.

out of sorts, ill, cross, or uncomfortable.

sort of (used adverbially), Informal. somewhat; rather.

sor tie (sōr'tē), 1. a sudden attack by troops from a defensive position. 2. a single round trip of an aircraft against the enemy. n.

S O S (es'ō'es'), 1. signal of distress consisting of the letters sos of the international Morse alphabet (— — — — —), used in wireless telegraphy. 2. Informal. any urgent call for help.

so-so (sō'sō'), 1. neither very good nor very bad, but inclining toward bad. 2. passably; indifferently; tolerably. 1 adj., 2 adv.

sostenuto (sos'tə nū'tō), in music, sustained; prolonged. adj.

sot (sot), person made stupid and foolish by drinking too much alcoholic liquor; drunkard. n.

sot tish (sot'ish), 1. stupid and foolish from drinking too much alcoholic liquor; drunken. 2. of a sot; like a sot. adj. —sot'tish ly, adv. —sot'tish ness, n.

sot to voice (sot'ō vō'chē), 1. in a low tone. 2. aside; privately.

sou (sü), 1. a former French coin, worth 5 centimes or 1/20 of a franc. 2. anything of little value. n.

sou brette (sü bret'), actress or singer acting the part of a pert young woman. n.

sou briquet (sü brə'kē), sobriquet. n.

soufflé (sü flä'), 1. a frothy baked dish, usually made light by beaten eggs: cheese soufflé. 2. puffed up: potatoes soufflé. 1 n., 2 adj.

sough (suf or sou), 1. make a rustling or murmuring sound: The pines soughed when the wind blew. 2. a rustling or murmuring sound. 1 v., 2 n.

sought (sōt), pt. and pp. of seek. For days she sought a safe hiding place. He was sought and found. v.

soul (söl), 1. the part of the human being that thinks, feels, and makes the body act; the spiritual part of a person. Death separates soul and body. 2. energy of mind or feelings; spirit: She puts her whole soul into her work. 3. cause of inspiration and energy: Florence Nightingale was the soul of the movement to reform nursing. 4. the essential part: Brevity is the soul of wit. 5. person: Don't tell a soul. 6. embodiment: He is the soul of honor.

 7. spirit of a dead person. n.
soulful (sōl'fəl), 1. full of feeling; deeply emotional.
 2. expressing or suggesting a deep feeling. adj. —soul/-fully, adv. —soul/fulness, n.
soulless (sōl'lis), having no soul; without spirit or noble feelings. adj. —soul/lessly, adv.
sound¹ (saund), 1. what can be heard; auditory sensation. 2. vibrations causing this sensation. Sound travels in waves. 3. noise, note, tone, etc., whose quality indicates its source or nature: the sound of fighting. 4. distance within which a noise may be heard. 5. one of the simple elements composing speech: a vowel sound. 6. make a sound or noise: The trumpet sounds for battle. The wind sounds like an animal howling. 7. pronounce: Sound each syllable. 8. be pronounced: "Rough" and "ruff" sound alike. 9. be heard as a sound; issue or pass as sound; be mentioned. 10. be filled with sound. 11. cause to sound: "Sound the trumpets; beat the drums." 12. test by noting sounds: sound a person's lungs. 13. order or direct by a sound: sound a retreat. 14. make known; announce; utter: The trumpets sounded the call to arms. Everyone sounded his praises. 15. seem: That excuse sounds queer. 16. effect produced on the mind by what is heard: a warning sound, a queer sound. 17. mere noise without meaning. 1-5, 16, 17 n., 6-15 v.
within sound, near enough to hear.
sound² (saund), 1. free from injury, decay, or defect: a sound ship, sound fruit. 2. free from disease; healthy: a sound body and mind. 3. strong; safe; secure: a sound business firm. 4. solid: sound rock. 5. correct; right; reasonable; reliable: sound advice. 6. without any legal defect: a sound title. 7. having orthodox or conventional ideas: politically sound. 8. thorough; hearty: a sound whipping, a sound sleep. 9. deeply; thoroughly: sleep sound. 1-8 adj., 9 adv.
sound³ (saund), 1. measure the depth of (water) by letting down a weight fastened to the end of a line. 2. examine or test by a line arranged to bring up a sample. 3. inquire into the feelings, inclination, etc., of (a person); examine; investigate: We sounded mother on the subject of a picnic. 4. go toward the bottom; dive: The whale sounded. 5. a long, slender instrument used by doctors in examining body cavities. 6. examine with a sound. 1-4, 6 v., 5 n.
sound⁴ (saund), 1. a narrow passage of water joining two seas, or between the mainland and an island: Long Island Sound. 2. arm of the sea: Puget Sound. 3. a sac in fishes containing air or gas that helps them float. n.
sound barrier, point approximating the speed of sound (761 miles per hour at sea level) at which an aircraft creates a shock wave and is subjected to various unusual stresses.
sound board (saund'bōrd'), sounding board. n. sounder¹ (saund'dər), 1. person or thing that makes a sound. 2. a receiving instrument by whose sounds a telegraph message is read. n.
sounder² (saund'dər), person or thing that measures the depth of water. n.
sound ing¹ (saund'ding), 1. that sounds. 2. resounding. 3. sounding fine, but useless. adj.
sound ing² (saund'ding), 1. measuring the depth of water by letting down a weight fastened to the end of a line. 2. depth of water found by measuring in this way. n.
soundings, 1. depths of water found by a line and weight. 2. water not more than 600 feet deep.
sounding board, 1. a thin, resonant plate of wood on a musical instrument to increase its fullness of tone. 2. structure used to direct sound toward an audience.
sounding line, line having a weight fastened to the end, used to measure the depth of water.
soundless¹ (saund'lis), without sound; making no sound. adj.

soundless² (saund'lis), so deep that the bottom cannot be reached. adj.
soundly (saund'lē), 1. in a sound manner; without weakness or defect; with good judgment: Dick decided soundly and so kept out of trouble. 2. with unbroken, deep sleep. 3. vigorously; heartily; thoroughly: Father scolded us soundly. adv.
soundness (saund'nis), 1. good health. 2. freedom from weakness or defect. 3. good judgment; correctness and reliability. n.
sound proof (saund'prüf'), 1. not letting sound pass through. 2. make soundproof. 1 adj., 2 v.
sound track, record of words, music, etc., made along one edge of a motion-picture film.
sound waves, vibrations which transmit sounds.
soup¹ (süp), a liquid food made by boiling meat, vegetables, fish, etc. n.
soup² (süp), Slang. Soup up means increase the horsepower of (a motor, etc.); add additional power to; supply with additional fuel. v.
soupçon (süp sōn'), a slight trace or flavor. n.
soupy (süp'ē), like soup. adj., soupiest, sour (sour), 1. having a taste like vinegar or lemon juice: Most green fruit is sour. 2. fermented; spoiled. Sour milk is healthful, but most foods are not good to eat when they have become sour. 3. having a sour or rank smell. 4. disagreeable; bad-tempered; peevish: a sour face, a sour remark. 5. cold and wet; damp: sour weather. 6. make or become sour; turn sour. 7. make or become peevish, bad-tempered, or disagreeable. 8. something sour. 9. in a sour manner. 1-5 adj., 6, 7 v., 8 n., 9 adv. —sour/ly, adv. —sour/ness, n.
source (sōrs), 1. beginning of a brook or river; fountain; spring. 2. place from which anything comes or is obtained: The newspaper gets news from many sources. Mines are the chief source of diamonds. 3. person, book, statement, etc., that supplies information. n.
sour dough (sour'dō'), U.S. Informal. prospector or pioneer in Alaska or Canada. n.
Sou sa (sü'zə), John Philip, 1854-1932, American conductor and composer of band music. n.
souse (sous), 1. plunge into liquid; drench; soak in a liquid. 2. a plunging into a liquid; drenching. 3. soak in vinegar, brine, etc.; pickle. 4. liquid used for pickling. 5. something soaked or kept in pickle, especially the head, ears, and feet of a pig. 6. Slang. drunkard. 1, 3 v., 2, 4-6 n.
sou tane (sü tăn'), cassock. n.
south (south), 1. direction to the right as one faces the rising sun; direction just opposite north. 2. part of any country toward the south. 3. lying toward or situated in the south. 4. originating in or coming from the south: a south wind. 5. toward the south: Drive south forty miles. 6. in the south. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 adj., 5, 6 adv.
South (south), 1. the part of the United States lying south of Pennsylvania, the Ohio River, Missouri, and Kansas. 2. of or denoting the southern part of a country, region, etc. 1 n., 2 adj.
the South, those of the United States which belonged to the Confederacy.
South Africa, Republic of, a country in S Africa, formerly the Union of South Africa. 14,673,000 pop.; 472,359 sq. mi. Capitals: Pretoria and Cape Town. —South African.

South African Dutch, Afrikaans.

South America, continent in the Western Hemisphere, southeast of North America. 132,000,000 pop.; 7,160,000 sq. mi. —South American.

Southampton (south amp'tən), seaport in S England. 196,000. n.

South Arabia, Federation of, a federation of 17 small states on the southern coast of Arabia. It consists of the former protectorate of Aden and the former British colony of Aden. 1,220,000 pop.; 112,075 sq. mi. Capital: Al Ittihad.

South Bend, city in N Indiana. 132,000.

South Carolina, a Southern State of the United States. 2,383,000 pop.; 31,055 sq. mi. Capital: Columbia. Abbrev.: S.C. —South Carolinian.

South Dakota (da kō'tə), a Middle Western State of the United States. 681,000 pop.; 77,047 sq. mi. Capital: Pierre. Abbrev.: S. Dak. —South Dakotan.

south east (south'ēst'), 1. direction halfway between south and east. 2. place that is in the southeast part or direction. 3. at, in, toward, of, or from the southeast: a southeast wind. 1,2 n., 3 adj., adv.

south east er (south'ēs'tər), wind or storm from the southeast. n.

south east er ly (south'ēs'tər lē), 1. toward the southeast. 2. from the southeast. adj., adv.

south east ern (south'ēs'tərn), 1. toward the southeast. 2. from the southeast. 3. of the southeast. adj.

south east ward (south'ēst'wərd), 1. toward the southeast. 2. southeast. 1 adv., adj., 2 n.

south east ward ly (south'ēst'wərd lē), 1. toward the southeast. 2. of winds, from the southeast. adj., adv.

south east wards (south'ēst'wərdz), southeastward. adv.

south er (south'ər), wind or storm from the south. n.

south er ly (south'ər lē), 1. toward the south: The windows face southerly. 2. from the south. adj., adv.

south ern (south'ərn), 1. toward the south: the southern side of a building. 2. from the south: a southern breeze. 3. of or in the south: southern countries. adj.

South ern (south'ərn), of or in the South of the United States: a Southern city. adj.

Southern Alps, a mountain range in the central part of South Island, New Zealand. The highest peak, Aorangi or Mount Cook, is 12,349 feet.

Southern Cross, group of four bright stars in the form of a cross, used in finding the direction south.

south ern er (south'ər nər), native or inhabitant of the south. n.

South ern er (south'ər nər), native or inhabitant of the South of the United States. n.

Southern Hemisphere, the half of the earth that is south of the equator.

south ern most (south'ər nōst), farthest south. adj.

Southern Rhodesia, a former self-governing British colony in SE Africa, now known as Rhodesia.

South Island, the largest island of New Zealand. 773,000 pop.; 58,093 sq. mi.

South Korea, country in the southern part of the Korean peninsula. Officially, Republic of Korea. 22,974,000 pop.; 38,452 sq. mi. Capital: Seoul.

south land (south'lənd or south'land'), land in the south; southern part of a country. n.

south most (south'mōst), farthest south. adj.

south paw (south'pō'), Slang. 1. a left-handed baseball pitcher. 2. left-handed. 1 n., 2 adj.

South Pole, the southern end of the earth's axis. It was first reached in 1911 by Amundsen.

South Sea Islands, islands in the S Pacific; Oceania.

South Seas, 1. the S Pacific Ocean. 2. seas located below the equator.

south ward (south'wərd), 1. toward the south; south: He walked southward (adv.). The orchard is on the southward slope of the hill (adj.). 2. a southward part, direction, or point. 1 adv., adj., 2 n.

south ward ly (south'wərd lē), 1. toward the south. 2. of winds, coming from the south. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

south wards (south'wərdz), southward. adv.

south west (south'west'), 1. direction halfway between south and west. 2. place that is in the southwest part or direction. 3. of, at, in, to, toward, or from the southwest: a southwest wind. 1,2 n., 3 adj., adv.

the Southwest, New Mexico, Arizona, and S California.

South-West Africa, territory in SW Africa, under the supervision of the Republic of South Africa. 525,000 pop.; 317,725 sq. mi. Capital: Windhoek.

south west er (south'wes'tər for 1; sou'wes'tər for 2), 1. wind or storm from the southwest. 2. a waterproof hat having a broad brim behind to protect the neck, worn especially by seamen. n.

south west er ly (south'wes'tər lē), toward or from the southwest. adj., adv.

south west ern (south'wes'tərn), to, toward, from, of, or in the southwest. adj.

South west ern (south'wes'tərn), of, having to do with, or in New Mexico, Arizona, or S California. adj.

south west ward (south'west'wərd), 1. toward the southwest. 2. southwest. 1 adv., adj., 2 n.

south west ward ly (south'west'wərd lē), 1. toward the southwest. 2. of winds, from the southwest. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

south west wards (south'west'wərdz), southwestward. adv.

sou ve nir (sü'və nir' or sü'və nir), something to remind one of a place, person, or occasion; keepsake. n.

sou west er (sou'wes'tər), southwester. n.

so ver eign (sov'rən), 1. king or queen; supreme ruler; monarch. 2. having the rank or power of a sovereign. 3. greatest in rank or power. 4. independent of the control of other governments. 5. above all others; supreme; greatest: Character is of sovereign importance.

6. very excellent or powerful: a sovereign cure for colds.

7. a British gold coin, worth 20 shillings, or one pound. 1,7 n., 2-6 adj.

so ver eign ty (sov'rən tē), 1. supreme power or authority. State sovereignty was the doctrine that each State was superior to and independent of the United States in power over its own territory. 2. the rank, Southwester (def. 2)

power, or jurisdiction of a sovereign. n., pl. soverign ties.

so viet (sō'vē et), 1. council; assembly. 2. in the Soviet Union, either of two elected local assemblies (village soviets, town soviets). 3. any of the pyramid of larger assemblies elected by local assemblies, culminating in the Union Congress of Soviets or Supreme Soviet. 4. of or having to do with soviets. 5. any council like a Russian soviet. 1-3,5 n., 4 adj.

so viet ize (sō'vē it iz), change to a soviet government. v., so viet ized, so viet iz ing.

Soviet Russia, 1. the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic. 2. Soviet Union.

Soviet Union, union of fifteen Soviet republics in E Europe and W and N Asia, the largest of which is the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic. The European part is often called Russia; Siberia comprises most of the Asiatic part. 208,826,000 pop.; 8,708,070 sq. mi. Capital: Moscow. Full name, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics; see this entry for map.

sow¹ (sō), 1. scatter (seed) on the ground; plant (seed); plant seed in: He sows more wheat than oats. The farmer sowed the field with oats. 2. scatter seed. 3. scatter (anything); spread abroad: The enemy tried to sow discontent. v., sowed, sown or sowed, sow ing. —sow'er, n.

sow² (sou), a fully grown female pig. n.

sown (sōn), a pp. of sow¹. The field was sown with oats. v.

soy (soi), a Chinese and Japanese sauce for fish, meat, etc., made from fermented soybeans. n.

soy bean (soi'bēn'), 1. bean widely grown in China, Japan, and the United States. Soybeans are used in making an oil and as food. 2. plant that it grows on. n.

SP or S.P., shore patrol.

spa (spā), 1. a mineral spring. 2. place where there is a mineral spring. n.

space (spās), 1. unlimited room or place extending in all directions: The earth moves through space. 2. limited place or room: This brick will fill a space 2½ by 4 by 8 inches. 3. extent or area of ground, surface, etc.: The trees covered acres of space. 4. distance of place: The road is bad for a space of ten miles. 5. length of time: He has not seen his brother for the space of ten years. 6. Archaic. an interval of time; a while. 7. time in which to do something; opportunity. 8. part of a surface; blank between words, etc.: Fill in the spaces as directed. 9. in printing, one of the blank types used to separate words, etc. 10. in music, one of the intervals between the lines of a staff. 11. accommodations on a train, etc. 12. fix the space or spaces of; divide into spaces. 13. separate by spaces: Space your words evenly when you write. 1-11 n., 12,13 v., spaced, spac ing.

space craft (spās'kraft'), 1. vehicle used for flight in outer space. 2. such vehicles collectively. n., pl. space craft.

space ship, type of aircraft capable of interplanetary travel.

space station, a satellite in orbit, used as an observatory or a launching site for travel in outer space.

space suit, an airtight suit designed to protect travelers in outer space from radiation, heat, and lack of oxygen by imitating the conditions of the earth's atmosphere.

spac ing (spās'ing), 1. the fixing or arranging of spaces. 2. manner in which spaces are arranged: even, close, or open spacing in printed matter. n.

spa cious (spā'shəs), containing much space; with plenty of room; vast: The rooms of the palace were spacious. adj. —spa'ciously ly, adv. —spa'cious ness, n.

spade¹ (spād), 1. tool for digging; a kind of shovel. 2. dig with a spade. 1 n., 2 v., spaded, spad ing.

Spade

call a spade a spade, call a thing by its real name; speak plainly and frankly.

spade² (spād), 1. a black figure (♠) used on playing cards. 2. a playing card bearing such figures. n.

spades, suit of playing cards bearing such figures, usually the highest ranking suit.

spa dix (spā'diks), spike composed of minute flowers on a fleshy stem. A spadix is usually enclosed in a petal-like leaf called a spathe, as in the jack-in-the-pulpit and the calla lily. n., pl. spa dix es, spa di ces (spā dī'sēz).

spa ghet ti (spā get'ē), long, slender sticks made of a mixture of flour and water, soft when cooked. n.

Spain (spān), country in SW Europe. 30,128,000 pop.; 194,345 sq. mi. Capital: Madrid. n.

spake (spāk), Archaic. a pt. of speak. v.

span¹ (span), 1. the distance between the tip of a man's thumb and the tip of his little finger when the hand is spread out; about 9 inches. 2. measure by the hand spread out: This post can be spanned by one's two hands. 3. distance between two supports: The arch had a fifty-foot span. 4. part between two supports: The bridge crossed the river in three spans. 5. a short space of time: "A life's but a span." 6. the full extent: the span of a bridge, the span of memory. 7. extend over: A bridge spanned the river. 1,3-6 n., 2,7 v., spanned, span ning.

span² (span), pair of horses or other animals harnessed and driven together. n.

span³ (span), Archaic. a pt. of spin. v.

span gle (spang'gl), 1. a small piece of glittering metal used for decoration: The dress was covered with spangles. 2. decorate with spangles. 3. any small bright bit: This rock shows spangles of gold. 4. sprinkle with small bright bits: The sky is spangled with stars. 5. glitter. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v., span gled, span gling.

Span iard (span'yārd), native or inhabitant of Spain. n.

span iel (span'yəl), 1. any of various breeds of dogs, usually of small or medium size with long, silky hair and drooping ears. See water spaniel for picture. 2. person who yields too easily to others. n.

Span ish (span'ish), 1. of Spain; having to do with Spain, its people, or their language. 2. the people of Spain. 3. the language of Spain. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Spanish America, countries and islands S and SE of the United States, in which the principal language is Spanish.

Span ish-A mer i can (span'ish ə mer'ə kən), of or having to do with Spain and America, or with Spain and the United States. adj.

Spanish American, 1. of, having to do with, or noting the parts of America where Spanish is the prevailing language. 2. native or inhabitant of a Spanish American country.

Spanish-American War, war between Spain and the United States in 1898 over Spain's rule of Cuba.

Spanish Armada, the great fleet sent by Philip II of Spain to attack England in 1588. It was defeated in the English Channel, and many of its ships were wrecked later by storms.

Spanish Guinea, a Spanish colony in W Africa. 216,000 pop.; 10,853 sq. mi. Capital: Santa Isabel.

Spanish Inquisition, body of men appointed by the Roman Catholic Church to suppress heresy in Spain. It was put under state control at the end of the 15th century and was very active during the 16th century.

Spanish Main, 1. formerly, the mainland of America adjacent to the Caribbean Sea, especially between the mouth of the Orinoco River and the Isthmus of Panama. 2. in later use, the Caribbean Sea.

Spanish moss, plant growing on the branches of certain trees, from which it hangs in gray streamers. It is found in the S United States and tropical America.

Spanish Sahara, a Spanish colony in NW Africa. 35,000 pop.; 105,400 sq. mi. Capital: Villa Cisneros.

spank (spangk), 1. strike with the open hand, a slipper, etc. 2. a blow with the open hand, a slipper, etc.; slap. 1 v., 2 n.

spanker (spangk'er), 1. a fore-and-aft sail on the mast nearest the stern. 2. Informal. a fast horse. 3. Informal. anything fine, large, unusual for its kind, etc. n.

spanking (spangk'ing), 1. blowing briskly: a spanking breeze. 2. quick and vigorous: a spanking team of horses. 3. Informal. unusually fine, great, large, etc. adj.

spanless (span'lis), that cannot be spanned. adj.

spanner (span'er), 1. one that spans: the spanners of a bridge. 2. Esp. Brit. tool for holding and turning a nut, bolt, etc.; wrench. n.

spar (spär), 1. a stout pole used to support or extend the sails of a ship; mast, yard, gaff, boom, etc., of a ship. 2. provide (a ship) with spars. 3. the main beam of an airplane wing. 1,3 n., 2 v., sparred, spar ring.

spar (spär), 1. make motions of attack and defense with the arms and fists; box. 2. a boxing match. 3. dispute. 4. of roosters, fight with the feet. 1,3,4 v., sparred, spar ring; 2,3 n.

spar (spär), a shiny mineral that splits into flakes easily. n.

SPAR or Spar (spär), member of the SPARS, the Women's Reserve of the United States Coast Guard Reserve. n.

spar deck, the upper deck extending from one end of a ship to the other.

spare (spär), 1. show mercy to; refrain from harming or destroying: He spared his enemy. 2. show mercy; refrain from doing harm. 3. show consideration for; save from labor, pain, etc.: We walked uphill to spare the horse. 4. get along without; do without: Father couldn't spare the car; so John had to walk. 5. make (a person, etc.) free from (something); relieve or exempt (a person, etc.) from (something): He did the work to spare you the trouble. 6. use in small quantities or not at all; be saving of: "Spare the rod and spoil the child." 7. be saving. 8. free for other use: spare time. 9. extra; in reserve: a spare tire. 10. a spare thing, part, tire, etc. 11. thin; lean: Lincoln was a tall, spare man. 12. small in quantity; meager; scanty: Fal people should live on a spare diet. 13. knocking down all the pins with two rolls of a bowling ball. 1-7 v., spared, spar ing; 8,9,11, 12 adj., spar er, spar est; 10,13 n. —spare'ness, n.

spare ly (spär'lē), sparingly; scantily; thinly; leanly. adv.

spare rib (spär'rib'), rib of pork having less meat than the ribs near the loins. n.

spar ing (spär'ing), 1. that spares. 2. economical; frugal: a sparing use of sugar. adj. —spar'ing ly, adv.

spark (spärk), 1. a small bit of fire: The burning wood threw off sparks. 2. flash given off when electricity jumps across an open space. An electric spark explodes the gas in the engine of an automobile. 3. flash; gleam: a spark of light. 4. a small amount: I haven't a spark of interest in the plan. 5. a glittering bit: The moving sparks we saw were fireflies. 6. send out small bits of fire; produce sparks. 7. make (one's friends, teammates, etc.) enthusiastic or determined. 1-5 n., 3,6,7 v.

spark (spärk), 1. a gay, showy young man. 2. beau; lover. 3. Informal. a beau or lover; court; woo. 1,2 n., 3 v. —spark'er, n.

spark coil, an induction coil for producing electric sparks.

spar kle (spär'kl), 1. send out little sparks: The fireworks sparkled. 2. a little spark. 3. shine; glitter; flash; gleam: The diamonds sparkled (v.). I like the sparkle of her eyes (n.). 4. be brilliant; be lively: Wit sparkles. 5. brilliance; liveliness. 6. bubble: Her ginger ale sparkles. 7. cause to sparkle. 1,3,4,6,7 v., spar kled, spar kling; 2,3,5 n.

spar kler (spär'klär), 1. person or thing that spar-kles. 2. firework that sends out little sparks. 3. a sparkling gem; especially, a diamond. n.

spark plug, 1. device in the cylinder of a gasoline engine by which the mixture of gasoline and air is exploded by an electric spark. 2. Informal. person who gives energy or enthusiasm to others.

Sparks (spärks), city in W Nevada. 17,000. n.

spar row (spar'ō), any of many small finches, such as the song sparrow, the English sparrow, and the chipping sparrow. n.

sparrow hawk, a small hawk which feeds on sparrows and other small animals.

SPARS, Women's Reserve of the United States Coast Guard Reserve.

sparse (spärs), 1. thinly scattered; occurring here and there: a sparse population, sparse hair. 2. scanty; meager. adj., spar er, spar est. —sparse'ly, adv. —sparse'ness, n.

spar si ty (spär'sə tē), sparse or scattered condition; sparseness. n.

Spar ta (spär'tə), one of the most important cities in ancient Greece, famous for its soldiers. n.

Spartan (spär'tn), 1. of Sparta or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Sparta. The Spartans were noted for their simplicity of life, severity, courage, and brevity of speech. 3. like the Spartans; simple, frugal, severe, sternly disciplined, brave, brief, and concise. 4. person who is like the Spartans. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

spasm (spaz'əm), 1. a sudden, abnormal, involuntary contraction of a muscle or muscles. 2. any sudden, brief fit or spell of unusual energy or activity: a spasm of temper, a spasm of industry. n.

spas mod ic (spaz mod'ik), 1. having to do with spasms; resembling a spasm: a spasmodic cough. 2. sudden and violent, but brief; occurring very irregularly. 3. having or showing bursts of excitement. adj. —spas mod'i cal ly, adv.

spas tic (spas'tik), 1. caused by a spasm or spasms. 2. of, having to do with, or characterized by spasms. 3. person suffering from a tonic contraction of a muscle or muscles. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

spat (spat), 1. a slight quarrel. 2. Informal. quarrel slightly. 3. a light blow; slap. 4. slap lightly. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., spat ted, spat ting.

spat (spat), a pt. and a pp. of spit. v.

spat (spat), a short gaiter covering the ankle. n.

spat (spat), 1. the spawn of oysters; young oyster. 2. of oysters, spawn. 1 n., 2 v., spat ted, spat ting.

spathe (spāth), a large bract or pair of bracts that encloses a flower cluster. The calla lily has a white spathe around a yellow flower cluster. n.

spa tial (spā'shəl), 1. of or having to do with space. 2. existing in space. adj.

spa tial ly (spā'shəl ē), in spatial respects; so far as space is concerned; in space. adv.

spat ter (spat'er), 1. scatter or dash in drops or particles: spatter mud. 2. fall in drops or particles: Rain spatters on the sidewalk. 3. strike in a

English sparrow
(about 6 in. long)

Spats

SPATHE

shower; strike in a number of places: Bullets spattered the wall. 4. a spattering: a spatter of bullets. 5. sound of spattering. 6. a splash or spot. 7. splash or spot with mud, slander, disgrace, etc. 1-3, 7 v., 4-6 n.

spat ter dock (spat'ər dok'), a yellow pond lily; especially, a coarse, yellow-flowered plant common in stagnant waters. n.

spat u la (spach'ə lə), tool with a broad, flat, flexible blade, used for mixing drugs, spreading paints, frostings, etc. n.

spat u late (spach'ə lit or spach'ə lāt), shaped like a spatula; rounded somewhat like a spoon. adj.

spav in (spav'ən), disease of horses in which a bony swelling forms at the hock, causing lameness. n.

spav ined (spav'ənd), having spavin; lame. adj.

spawn (spōn), 1. eggs of fish, frogs, shellfish, etc. 2. young newly hatched from such eggs. 3. produce eggs. 4. bring forth; give birth to. 5. a swarming brood; offspring. 6. product; result. 7. mass of white, threadlike fibers from which mushrooms grow. 1, 2, 5-7 n., 3, 4 v.

spay (spā), remove the ovaries of. v.

S.P.C.A., Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

speak (spēk), 1. say words; talk: A cat cannot speak. Speak distinctly. 2. make a speech: Who is going to speak at the forum? 3. tell; express; make known: Speak the truth. Her eyes speak of suffering. 4. use (a language): Do you speak French? 5. express an idea, feeling, etc.; communicate: Their eyes spoke. 6. make a plea, request, application, etc.; appeal: speak for seats ahead of time. 7. speak to or with: speak a person fair. 8. give forth sound: The cannon spoke. 9. of dogs, bark when told: Speak for the candy, Fido. 10. Archaic. show to be; characterize: His conduct speaks him honorable. v., spoke or (Archaic) spake, spo ken or (Archaic) spoke, speak ing.

so to speak, to speak in such a manner.

speak for, 1. speak in the interest of; represent. 2. ask or apply for.

speak of, mention; refer to.

speak out or up, speak loudly, clearly, or freely.

speak well for, give a favorable idea of; be evidence in favor of.

speak eas y (spēk'ēz'ē), U.S. Slang. place where alcoholic liquors are sold contrary to law. n., pl. speak eas ies.

speak er (spēk'ər), 1. person who speaks. 2. a presiding officer. n.

Speaker of the House, U.S. the presiding officer of the House of Representatives.

speak er ship (spēk'ər ship), position of presiding officer. n.

speak ing (spēk'ing), 1. act, utterance, or discourse of a person who speaks. 2. that speaks; giving information as if by speech: a speaking example of a thing. 3. used in, suited to, or involving speech: within speaking distance, a speaking part in a play. 4. permitting conversation: a speaking acquaintance with a person. 5. highly expressive: speaking eyes. 6. lifelike: a speaking likeness. 1 n., 2-6 adj.

spear¹ (spir'), 1. weapon with a long shaft and a sharp-pointed head. 2. pierce with a spear: The Indian speared a fish. 1 n., 2 v. —spear'er, n.

spear² (spir), 1. sprout or shoot of a plant: a spear of grass. 2. sprout or shoot into a long stem. 1 n., 2 v.

spear head (spir'hed'), 1. the sharp-pointed striking end of a spear. 2. part that comes first in an attack, undertaking, etc. n.

spear man (spir'mən), soldier armed with a spear. n., pl. spear men.

spear mint (spir'mint'), common mint, a fragrant herb much used for flavoring. n.

spe cial (spesh'əl), 1. of a particular kind; distinct from others; not general: This desk has a special lock.

2. more than ordinary; unusual; exceptional: Today's topic is of special interest. 3. for a particular person, thing, purpose, etc.: The railroad ran special trains on holidays. Send the letter by a special messenger. 4. a special train, car, bus, etc. 5. any special person or thing. 6. a special edition of a newspaper. 7. U.S. in a store, restaurant, etc., a product which is specially featured. 1-3 adj., 4-7 n.

spe cial ist (spesh'əl ist), person who devotes or restricts himself to one particular branch of study, business, etc.: Dr. White is a specialist in diseases of the nose and throat. n.

spe cial i ty (spesh'ē al'ə tē), 1. special or particular character. 2. a special quality or characteristic; the distinctive characteristic or feature of a thing. 3. a special point; particular; detail. 4. a special pursuit, branch, product, etc.; specialty. n., pl. spe cial i ties.

spe cial ize (spesh'əl īz), 1. pursue some special branch of study, work, etc.: Many students specialize in engineering. 2. adapt to special conditions; give special form, use, duty, etc., to; limit. 3. develop in a special way; take on a special form, use, etc. 4. mention specially; specify. 5. go into particulars. v., spe cial-ized, spe cial iz ing. —spe'cial i za'tion, n.

spe cial ly (spesh'əl ē), in a special manner or degree; particularly; unusually. adv.

spe cial ty (spesh'əl tē), 1. a special study; special line of work, profession, trade, etc.: American history is Professor Beard's specialty. 2. product, article, etc., to which special attention is given: This store makes a specialty of children's clothes. 3. special character; special quality. 4. a special or particular characteristic; peculiarity. 5. a special point or item; particular; detail. n., pl. spe cial ties.

spe cie (spē'shē), money in the form of coins; metal money. Silver dollars are specie. n.

spe cies (spē'shēz), 1. group of animals or plants that have certain permanent characteristics in common: Wheat is a species of grass. 2. kind; sort; distinct kind or sort: There are many species of advertisements. 3. appearance; form; shape. 4. the consecrated bread and wine used in the Mass. n., pl. spe cies.

the species, the human race.

spe cif ic (spi sif'ik), 1. definite; precise; particular: There was no specific reason for the quarrel. 2. characteristic (of); peculiar (to): A scaly skin is a specific feature of snakes. 3. any specific statement, quality, etc. 4. curing some particular disease. 5. a cure for some particular disease: Quinine is a specific for malaria. 6. produced by some special cause. 7. of or having to do with a species. 1, 2, 4, 6, 7 adj., 3, 5 n. —spe cif-ic ness, n.

spe cif i cally (spi sif'ik lē), in a specific manner; definitely; particularly: The doctor told Kate specifically not to eat eggs. adv.

spe c i fi ca tion (spes'ə fə kā'shən), 1. act of specifying; definite mention; detailed statement of particulars: Mary made careful specification as to the kinds of cake and candy for her party. 2. a detailed description of the dimensions, materials, etc., for a building, road, dam, boat, etc. 3. something specified; particular item, article, etc. n.

specific gravity, ratio of the weight of a given volume of any substance to that of the same volume of some other substance taken as a standard, water being used for solids and liquids, and hydrogen or air for gases.

specific heat, number of calories of heat needed to raise the temperature of one gram of a substance one degree centigrade.

spec i fy (spes'ə fi), 1. mention or name definitely; state or describe in detail: Did you specify any particular time for us to call? 2. include in the specifications: The contractor couldn't use shingles for the roof because slate was specified. v., spec i fied, spec i fy ing.

spec i men (spes'ə mən), 1. one of a group or class taken to show what the others are like; single part, thing, etc., regarded as an example of its kind: The statue was a fine specimen of Greek sculpture. 2. taken or regarded as a specimen. 3. Informal. a human being; person: The tramp was a queer specimen. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

spe cious (spē'shəs), 1. seeming desirable, reasonable, or probable, but not really so; apparently good or right, but without real merit: The teacher saw through John's specious excuse. 2. making a good outward appearance in order to deceive: His dishonest actions showed him to be nothing but a specious hypocrite. adj. —spe'cious ly, adv. —spe'cious ness, n.

speck (spek), 1. a small spot; stain: Can you clean the specks off this wallpaper? 2. a tiny bit; particle: I have a speck in my eye. 3. mark with specks: This fruit is badly specked. 1,2 n., 3 v.

speck le (spek'l), 1. a small spot or mark: This hen is gray with white speckles. 2. mark with speckles. 1 n., 2 v.

specs (speks), Informal. spectacles. n.pl.

spec ta cle (spek'tə kl), 1. thing to look at; sight: The children at play among the flowers made a charming spectacle. 2. a public show or display: The big army parade was a fine spectacle. n.

spec ta cled (spek'tə kld), 1. provided with or wearing spectacles. 2. having a marking resembling spectacles: a spectacted snake. adj.

spec ta cles (spek'tə klz), pair of glasses to help a person's sight or to protect his eyes. n.pl.

spec tac u lar (spek tak'yə lər), 1. making a great display: Motion pictures present spectacular scenes like battles, processions, storms, or races. 2. having to do with a spectacle or show. adj.

spec tac u lar ly (spek tak'yə lər lē), 1. in a spectacular manner or degree. 2. as a spectacle. adv.

spec ta tor (spek'tā tər), person who watches without taking part: There were many spectators at the game. n.

spec ter (spek'tər), 1. ghost. 2. thing causing terror or dread. n.

spec tra (spek'trə), a pl. of spectrum. n.

spec tral (spek'trəl), 1. of or like a specter; ghostly: He saw the spectral form of the headless horseman. 2. of or produced by the spectrum: spectral colors. adj.

spec tre (spek'tər), Esp. Brit. specter. n.

spec tro scope (spek'trə skōp), instrument for obtaining and examining the spectrum of a ray from any source. n.

spec tros co py (spek tros'kə pē), 1. science having to do with the examination and analysis of spectra. 2. use of the spectroscopy. n.

spec trum (spek'trəm), 1. band of colors formed when a beam of light is broken up by being passed through a prism or by some other means. A rainbow has all the colors of the spectrum: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo, and violet. 2. band of colors formed when any radiant energy is broken up. The ends of such a band are not visible to the eye, but are studied by photography, heat effects, etc. 3. in radio, the wavelength range between 30,000 meters and 3 centimeters. n., pl. spec tra or spec trums.

spec u late (spek'yə lāt), 1. reflect; meditate; consider; conjecture: The philosopher speculated about time and space. 2. buy or sell when there is a large risk, with the hope of making a profit from future price changes. v., spec u lat ed, spec u lat ing.

spec u la tion (spek'yə lā'shən), 1. thought; reflection; conjecture: Former speculations about electricity were often mere guesses. 2. a buying or selling when there is a large risk, with the hope of making a profit from future price changes: His speculations in stocks made him poor. n.

spec u la tive (spek'yə lā'tiv), 1. thoughtful; reflective. 2. theoretical rather than practical. 3. risky. 4. of or involving speculation in land, stocks, etc. adj. —spe'c u la'tive ly, adv. —spe'c u la'tive ness, n.

spec u la tor (spek'yə lā'tər), 1. person who speculates, usually in business. 2. person who buys tickets for shows, games, etc., in advance, hoping to sell them later at a higher price. n.

sped (sped), a pt. and a pp. of speed. The police car sped down the road. v.

speech (spēch), 1. act of speaking; talk. 2. power of speaking: Animals lack speech. 3. manner of speaking: His speech showed that he was Southern. 4. what is said; the words spoken: We made the usual farewell speeches. 5. a public talk: Many after-dinner speeches are dull. 6. language. n.

speech i fy (spēch'ə fi), Humorous or Depreciatory. make a speech or speeches. v., speech i fied, speech i fy ing. —speech'i fi'er, n.

speech less (spēch'lis), 1. not able to speak: George was speechless with anger. 2. silent: Her frown gave a speechless message. adj. —speech'less ness, n.

speech less ly (spēch'lis lē), 1. without speaking. 2. so as to be speechless. adv.

speed (spēd), 1. swift or rapid movement. 2. go fast: The boat sped over the water. 3. make go fast: speed a horse. 4. send fast. 5. rate of movement: The boys ran at full speed. 6. arrangement of gears to give a certain rate of movement. An automobile usually has three speeds forward and one backward. 7. help forward; promote: speed an undertaking. 8. Archaic. good luck; success. 9. Archaic. succeed. 10. Archaic. give success to: God speed you. 1,5,6,8 n., 2-4,7,9,10 v., sped or speed ed, speed ing.

speed up, go or cause to go faster; increase in speed.

speed boat (spēd'bōt'), motorboat built to go fast. n.

speed er (spēd'ər), person or thing that speeds; especially, a person who drives an automobile at a higher speed than is legal or safe. n.

speed i ly (spēd'ə lē), quickly; with speed; soon. adv.

speed om e ter (spēd om'ə tər), instrument to indicate speed. Automobiles have speedometers. n.

speed-up (spēd'up'), increase in speed. n.

speed way (spēd'wā'), road for fast driving. n.

speed well (spēd'wel), any of various low plants with blue, purple, pink, or white flowers; veronica. n.

speed y (spēd'ē), fast; rapid; quick; swift: speedy workers, a speedy change, speedy progress, a speedy decision. adj., speed i er, speed i est. —speed'i ness, n.

spe le ol o gist (spē'lē ol'ə jist), person who knows much about speleology. n.

spe le ol o gy (spē'lē ol'ə jē), branch of science dealing with caves. n.

spell¹ (spel), 1. write or say the letters of (a word) in order: Some words are easy to spell. 2. write or say the letters of a word in order: She cannot spell well. 3. make up or form (a word). 4. mean: Delay spells danger. 5. read with difficulty: spell out the meaning. v., spelled or spelt, spell ing.

spell² (spel), 1. word or set of words having magic power. 2. fascination; charm: We were under the spell of the beautiful music. n.

cast a spell on, put under the influence of a spell; fascinate.

under a spell, controlled by a spell; fascinated.

spell³ (spel), 1. period of work or duty: The sailor's spell at the wheel was four hours. 2. period or time of anything: a spell of coughing, a spell of hot weather. 3. Informal. work in place of (another) for a while: spell another person at rowing a boat. 4. give a time of rest to. 5. relief of one person by another in doing something. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., spelled, spell ing.

spell bind (spel'bind'), make spellbound; fascinate; enchant. v., spell bound, spell bind ing.

spell bind er (spel'bin'dər), Informal. speaker who can hold his listeners spellbound. n.

spell bound (spel'bound'), too interested to move; fascinated; enchanted. adj.

spell er (spel'ər), 1. person who spells words. 2. book for teaching spelling. n.

spell ing (spel'ing), 1. the writing or saying of the letters of a word in order. 2. way that a word is spelled: "Ax" has two spellings. n.

spelling bee, U.S. a spelling contest.

spelt¹ (spelt), a pt. and a pp. of spell. v.

spelt² (spelt), a kind of wheat grown chiefly in Europe. n.

spel ter (spel'tər), zinc, usually in the form of small bars. n.

spend (spend), 1. pay out: She spent ten dollars today. 2. pay out money: Earn before you spend. 3. use; use up: Don't spend any more time on that job. 4. pass (time, etc.): spend a day at the beach. 5. wear out: The storm has spent its force. v. spent, spend ing. —spend'er, n.

spend thrift (spend'thrift'), 1. person who wastes money. 2. extravagant with money; wasteful. 1 n., 2 adj.

Spenser (spen'sər), Edmund, 1552?-1599, English poet, author of The Faerie Queene. n.

spent (spen't), 1. pt. and pp. of spend. Saturday was spent in playing. 2. used up. 3. worn out; tired: a spent swimmer, a spent horse. 1 v., 2, 3 adj.

sperm¹ (spərm), 1. the fluid of a male animal that fertilizes the eggs of the female. 2. one of the male germ cells in it. n.

sperm² (spərm), 1. spermaceti. 2. a sperm whale. 3. sperm oil. n.

sper ma cet i (spər'mə set'ē or spər'mə sē'tē), a whitish, waxy substance obtained from the oil in the head of the sperm whale and used in making fine candles, ointments, cosmetics, etc. n.

sper ma to phyte (spər'mə tə fit'), plant that produces seeds. The spermatophytes form the largest division of the plant kingdom and include the angiosperms and the gymnosperms. n.

sper ma to zo on (spər'mə tə zō'ən), male reproductive cell. A spermatozoön unites with an ovum to fertilize it. n., pl. sper ma to zo a (-zō'ə).

sperm oil, a light-yellow oil from the sperm whale, used for lubricating.

sperm whale, a large, square-headed, toothed whale that has a large cavity in its head filled with sperm oil and spermaceti.

Sperm whale
(about 60 ft. long)

spew (spū), throw out; cast forth; vomit. v. Also, spue. —spew'er, n.

Spe zia (spāt'syā), La, see La Spezia. n.

sp. gr., specific gravity.

sphere (sfir), 1. a round body whose surface is at all points equally distant from the center; globe; ball. 2. place or surroundings in which a person or thing exists, acts, works, etc.: People used to say that woman's sphere was the home. 3. range; extent; region: England's sphere of influence. 4. any of the stars or planets. The earth, sun, and moon are spheres. 5. a supposed hollow globe, with the earth at its center, enclosing the stars, sun, and planets. 6. any one of a series of such globes, one inside another, in which the stars and planets were supposed to be set. Movement of the spheres was believed to cause the stars and planets to revolve around the earth. 7. the heavens; the sky. n.

spher i cal (sfər'ə kl), 1. shaped like a sphere. 2. of or having to do with a sphere or spheres. adj.

spher i cal ly (sfər'ik lē), 1. in the form of a sphere, or of part of a sphere. 2. so as to be spherical. adv.

sphe ric i ty (sfī ris'ə tē), spherical form; roundness. n., pl. sphe ric i ties.

sphe roid (sfir'oid), body shaped somewhat like a sphere. n.

sphe roi dal (sfī roi'dl), shaped somewhat like a sphere. adj.

spher ule (sfər'ül), a small sphere or spherical body. n.

sphinc ter (sfingk'tər), a ringlike muscle that surrounds an opening or passage of the body, and can contract to close it. n.

Sphinx (sfingks), 1. a huge statue with a man's head and a lion's body, near Cairo, Egypt. 2. in Greek mythology, a monster with the head of a woman, the body of a lion, and wings. The Sphinx proposed a riddle to every passer-by and killed those unable to guess it. n.

sphinx (sfingks), 1. statue of a lion's body with the head of a man, ram, or hawk. 2. a puzzling or mysterious person. n., pl. sphinx es.

Spica (spī'kə), a very bright star in the constellation Virgo. n.

spice (spīs), 1. seasoning. Pepper, cinnamon, cloves, ginger, and nutmeg are common spices. 2. a spicy, fragrant odor. 3. put spice in; season: spiced peaches, spiced pickles. 4. something that adds flavor or interest: "Variety is the spice of life." 5. a slight touch or trace: a spice of wickedness. 6. add flavor or interest to: The principal spiced his speech with stories and jokes. 1, 2, 4, 5 n., 3, 6 v., spiced, spic ing.

spice bush (spīs'būsh'), bush with yellow flowers and spicy-smelling bark. n.

Spice Islands, Moluccas.

spice er y (spīs'ər ē), 1. spices. 2. spicy flavor or fragrance. n., pl. spic er ies.

spic i ness (spīs'ē nis), spicy flavor or smell. n.

spick-and-span (spik'ənd span'), neat and clean; spruce or smart; fresh; new: a spick-and-span room, apron, or uniform. adj.

spic ule (spik'ül), 1. a small, slender, sharp-pointed piece, usually bony or crystalline. 2. such a piece in a sponge. 3. a small spike of flowers. n.

spic y (spīs'ē), 1. flavored with spice: The cookies were rich and spicy. 2. like spice: Those apples have a spicy smell and taste. 3. lively; keen: spicy conversation. 4. somewhat improper. 5. producing spices; abounding with spices. adj., spic i er, spic i est. —spic'ily, adv.

spi der (spī'dər), 1. any of the eight-legged, wingless arachnids. Many spiders spin webs to catch insects for food. 2. something like or suggesting a spider. 3. a frying pan with a handle. 4. frame with three legs to support a pot or pan over a fire. n. —spi'der like', adj.

spider web, web spun by a spider. See web for picture.

spi der wort (spī'dər wərt'), a trailing plant that takes root at the knots of its stems and has clusters of flowers. n.

spi der y (spī'dər ē), 1. long and thin like a spider's legs. 2. suggesting a spider web. 3. full of, or infested with, spiders. adj.

spied (spid), pt. and pp. of spy. The hunter spied the stag in the distance. v.

spiel (spēl), U.S. Slang. 1. talk; speech; harangue, especially one of a cheap, noisy nature. 2. talk; speak. 1 n., 2 v. —spiel'er, n. U.S.

spiff y (spif'ē), Slang. smart; neat; trim. adj., spiff i er, spiff i est.

spig ot (spig'ət), 1. valve for controlling the flow of water or other liquid from a pipe, tank, barrel, etc. 2. U.S. faucet. 3. peg or plug used to stop the small hole of a cask, barrel, etc.; bung. n.

spike¹ (spīk), 1. a large, strong nail. 2. fasten with

Sphinx (def. 2)

Garden spider

spikes: The men spiked the rails to the ties when laying the track. 3. a sharp-pointed piece or part: Ballplayers wear shoes with spikes. 4. provide with spikes: Runners wear spiked shoes to keep from slipping. 5. pierce or injure with a spike. 6. make (a cannon) useless by driving a spike into the opening where the powder is set off. 7. put an end or stop to; make useless; block: spike an attempt. 8. Slang. add liquor to (a drink, etc.). 1, 3 n., 2, 4-8 v., spiked, spike ing. —spike/like', adj.

spike² (n.), 1. ear of grain. 2. a long, pointed flower cluster. n.

spike nard (spīk'nard or spīk'närd), 1. a sweet-smelling ointment used by the ancients. 2. the fragrant East Indian plant from which it was probably obtained. n.

spiky (spīk'ē), 1. having spikes; set with sharp, projecting points. 2. having the shape of a spike. adj.

spill (spil), 1. let (liquid or any matter in loose pieces) run or fall: spill milk or salt. 2. fall or flow out: Water spilled from the pail. 3. scatter. 4. shed (blood). 5. Informal. cause to fall from a horse, car, boat, etc.: The boat upset and spilled the boys into the water. 6. a spilling. 7. quantity spilled. 8. Informal. a fall: The horse gave Sam a bad spill. 9. let wind out of (a sail). 10. Slang. make known; tell. 1-5, 9, 10 v., spilled or spilt, spilling; 6-8 n. —spill'er, n.

spill way (spil'wā'), channel or passage for the escape of surplus water from a dam, river, etc. n.

spilt (spilt), a pt. and a pp. of spill. v.

spin (spin), 1. draw out and twist (cotton, flax, wool, etc.) into thread. 2. make (thread, yarn, etc.) by drawing out and twisting cotton, wool, flax, etc. 3. make (a thread, web, cocoon, etc.) by giving out from the body sticky material that hardens into thread. A spider spins a web. 4. make (glass, gold, etc.) into thread. 5. turn or make turn rapidly: The wheel spins round. The boy spins his top. 6. feel dizzy: My head is spinning. 7. a spinning. 8. a rapid run, ride, drive, etc.: Get your bicycle and come for a spin with me. 9. run, ride, drive, etc., rapidly. 10. produce; tell: The old sailor used to spin yarns about adventures at sea. 11. a rapid turning around of an airplane as it falls. 1-6, 9, 10 v., spun or (Archaic) span, spun, spinning; 7, 8, 11 n.

spin out, make long and slow; draw out; prolong.

spin ach (spin'ich), 1. plant whose green leaves are boiled and eaten. 2. the leaves. n. Spinal column: B, back view; S, side view.

spinal (spī'nl), of the spine or backbone; having to do with the backbone. adj.

spinal column, the spine; the backbone.

spinal cord, the thick, whitish cord of nerve tissue in the backbone or spine. See brain for diagram.

spin dle (spin'dl), 1. the rod or pin used in spinning to twist, wind, and hold thread. 2. any rod or pin that turns around, or on which something turns. Axles and shafts are spindles. 3. grow tall and thin. 1, 2 n., 3 v., spindled, spin dling.

spin dle-leg ged (spin'dl leg'id or spin'dl leg'd), having long, thin legs. adj.

spin dle legs (spin'dl legz'), 1. long, thin legs. 2. Informal. person with long, thin legs. n.pl.

Spike: A, of grain; B, of flower.

Spinal column: B, back view; S, side view.

Woman using a spindle and distaff spin dle-shanked (spin'dl shangk't), legged. adj.

spin dle shanks (spin'dl shangk's), n.pl.

spin dling (spin'dling), very long and slender; too tall and thin. adj.

spin dly (spin'dlē), spindling. adj., spin dli er, spin-dli est.

spin drift (spin'drift'), spray blown or dashed up from the waves. n. Also, spoon drift.

spine (spin), 1. series of small bones down the middle of the back; backbone. 2. anything like a backbone; long, narrow ridge or support. 3. a stiff, sharp-pointed growth on plants, animals, etc.; thorn or something like it. A cactus has spines; so has a porcupine. See the pictures of cactus and porcupine. 4. the supporting back portion of a book cover. n. —spine/like', adj.

spined (spīnd), having a spine or spines. adj.

spine less (spin'lis), 1. without spines or sharp-pointed processes. 2. having no backbone. 3. having a weak spine; limp. 4. without moral force, resolution, or courage; weak-willed; feeble. adj. —spine/less ly, adv.

—spine/less ness, n.

spin et (spin'it), 1. an old-fashioned musical instrument like a small harpsichord. 2. a compact upright piano. n.

spin na ker (spin'ə kər), a large, triangular sail carried by yachts on the side opposite the mainsail when running before the wind. n.

spin ner (spin'ər), person, animal, or thing that spins. n.

spin ner et (spin'ər et), organ by which spiders, silkworms, etc., spin their threads. n.

spin ney (spin'ē), Brit. thicker; small wood with undergrowth, especially one preserved for sheltering game birds; small group of trees. n., pl. spin neys.

spin ning (spin'ing), 1. that spins. 2. act of one that spins. 1 adj., 2 n.

spinning jenny, an early type of spinning machine having more than one spindle, whereby one person could spin a number of threads at the same time.

spinning wheel, a large wheel with a spindle, arranged for spinning cotton, flax, wool, etc., into thread or yarn.

spi nose (spī'nōs), full of spines; having spines; thorny; spinous. adj.

spi nous (spī'nēs), 1. covered with spines; having spines; thorny. 2. spinelike; sharp. adj.

spin ster (spin'stər), 1. an unmarried woman. 2. an elderly woman who has not married; old maid. 3. woman who spins flax, wool, etc., into thread. n.

spin ster hood (spin'stər hūd), being a spinster. n.

spin y (spin'ē), 1. covered with spines; having spines; thorny: a spiny cactus, a spiny porcupine. 2. spinelike. 3. difficult; troublesome. adj., spin i er, spin i est.

spi ra cle (spī'rə kl or spī'rə kl), opening for breathing. Insects take in air through tiny spiracles. A whale breathes through a spiracle in the top of its head. n.

spi rae a (spī'rē'ə), any of various shrubs of the same family as the rose, that have clusters of small, white, pink, or red flowers with five petals. n.

spi ral (spī'rəl), 1. a winding and gradually widening coil. A watch spring is a spiral. The thread of a screw is a spiral. 2. coiled: A snail's shell has a spiral shape. 3. move in a Woman playing a spinet (def. 1)

Woman using a spinning wheel. The large wheel causes the smaller one to turn, and this revolves the horizontal spindle, twisting the thread and winding it up at the same time. Some wheels are worked by treadles.

Spirals

spiral. 4. form into a spiral. 5. a constant increasing or decreasing: an inflationary spiral. 1,5 n., 2 adj., 3,4 v., spiraled, spiraling or esp. Brit. spiralled, spiralling. —spirally, adv.

spiral nebula, cluster of stars in the apparent form of a spiral.

spire¹ (spīr), 1. the top part of a tower or steeple that narrows to a point. 2. anything tapering and pointed: The sunset shone on the rocky spires of the mountains. 3. shoot up. 4. furnish with a spire. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., spired, spiring. —spire/like, adj.

spire² (spīr), 1. coil; spiral. 2. a single twist of a coil or spiral. n.

spire a (spī rē/ə), spiraea. n.

spirillum (spī ril/əm), any of a group of bacteria that have spirally twisted forms. n., pl. spirilla (-ril/ə).

spirit (spīr/it), 1. soul; the immaterial part of man: He is present in spirit, though absent in body. 2. man's moral, religious, or emotional nature. 3. supernatural being. God is a spirit. Ghosts and fairies are spirits. 4. conjure (up). 5. state of mind; disposition; temper: He is low in spirit. 6. person; personality: Robert E. Lee was a noble spirit. 7. influence that stirs up and rouses: A spirit of reform marked the nineteenth century. 8. stir up; encourage; cheer. 9. courage; vigor; liveliness: A race horse must have spirit. 10. enthusiasm and loyalty. 11. real meaning or intent: The spirit of a law is more important than its words. 12. solution in alcohol. 13. strong alcoholic liquor. 14. carry (away or off) secretly: The child has been spirited away. 1-3,5-7,9-13 n., 4,8,14 v.

spirits, 1. state of mind; disposition; mood: He is in good spirits. 2. solution in alcohol: spirits of camphor. 3. strong alcoholic liquor: He drinks beer but no spirits. out of spirits, sad; gloomy.

the Spirit, 1. God. 2. the Holy Ghost.

spirited (spīr/əd), lively; dashing: a spirited race horse. adj. —spiritedly, adv. —spiritedness, n.

spiritless (spīr/it lis), without spirit or courage; depressed. adj.

spirit level, instrument used to find out whether a surface is level. When the bubble of air in the glass tube of a spirit level is exactly at the middle of the tube, the surface is level.

spiritual (spīr/i chū əl), 1. of the spirit or soul. 2. caring much for things of the spirit or soul. 3. of spirits; supernatural. 4. having to do with the church: spiritual lords. 5. sacred; religious. 6. a sacred song or hymn as sung by the Negroes of the southern United States. 1-5 adj., 6 n. —spiritually, adv.

spiritualism (spīr/i chū əl iz/əm), 1. belief that spirits of the dead communicate with the living, especially through persons called mediums. 2. insistence on the spiritual; doctrine that spirit alone is real. n.

spiritualist (spīr/i chū əl ist), person who believes that the dead communicate with the living. n.

spiritualistic (spīr/i chū əl is/tik), of or having to do with spiritualism or spiritualists. adj.

spirituality (spīr/i chū əl/ə tē), devotion to spiritual things; spiritual quality. n., pl. spiritualities.

spiritualization (spīr/i chū əl ə zā/shən), 1. a spiritualizing. 2. being spiritualized. n.

spiritualize (spīr/i chū əl iz), make spiritual. v., spiritualized, spiritualizing.

spirituous (spīr/i chū əs), 1. containing alcohol. 2. distilled, not fermented. adj.

spirochete (spī/rə kēt), any of the bacteria that have a spiral shape. n.

spirogyra (spī/rə jī/rə), any of several algae that grow in scumlike masses in fresh-water ponds or tanks. n.

spirometer (spī rom/ə tər), instrument for measuring the capacity of the lungs, by the amount of air that can be breathed out after the lungs have been filled as full as possible. n.

spirt (spért), spurt. v., n.

spiry (spīr/ē), 1. having the form of a spire; tapering. 2. having many spires. adj.

spit¹ (spit), 1. throw out saliva from the mouth. 2. throw out from the mouth. 3. throw out: The gun spits fire. 4. the liquid produced in the mouth; saliva.

5. noise or act of spitting. 6. a frothy or spitlike secretion given off by some insects. 7. rain or snow slightly. 8. light rain or snow. 1-3,7 v., spat or spit, spitting; 4-6,8 n. —spit/ter, n.

spit² (spit), 1. a sharp-pointed, slender rod or bar on which meat is roasted. 2. run a spit through. 3. pierce; stab. 4. a narrow point of land running into the water. 1,4 n., 2,3 v., spit ted, spitting.

spit ball (spit/ból/), 1. a small ball of chewed-up paper, used as a missile. 2. in baseball, an illegal curve pitched by moistening one side of the ball with saliva. n.

spite (spit), 1. ill will; grudge: She ruined his flowers out of spite. 2. show ill will toward; annoy: He left his yard dirty to spite the people who lived next door. 1 n., 2 v., spit ed, spitting. —spite/less, adj.

in spite of, not prevented by; notwithstanding.

spiteful (spit/fəl), full of spite; eager to annoy; behaving with ill will and malice. adj. —spite/ful ly, adv. —spite/fulness, n.

spitfire (spit/fīr/), 1. person, especially a woman or girl, who has a quick and fiery temper. 2. something that sends forth fire, such as a cannon or some kinds of fireworks. n.

Spitsbergen (spits/bér/gən), group of Norwegian islands in the Arctic Ocean, north of Norway. 4000 pop.; 24,294 sq. mi. n.

spittle (spit/əl), saliva; spit. n.

spittoon (spi tūn/), container to spit into. n.

spitz (spits), a kind of small dog with pointed muzzle and ears and long hair; a white variety of Pomeranian. n.

splash (splash), 1. cause

(water, mud, etc.) to fly about.

2. dash liquid about: The baby likes to splash in his tub.

3. cause to scatter a liquid about: He splashed the oars as he rowed.

4. dash in scattered masses or drops: The waves splashed on the beach.

5. wet, spatter, or soil: Our car is all splashed with mud.

6. sound of splashing; splashing: The splash of the wave knocked him over.

7. fall, move, or go with a splash or splashes: He splashed across the brook.

8. spot of liquid splashed upon a thing. 9. spot; patch: The dog is white with brown splashes.

10. mark with spots or patches. 1-5,7,10 v., 6,8,9 n.

make a splash, Informal. attract attention; cause excitement.

splash down (splash/doun/), the landing of the capsule of a spacecraft in the ocean after reentry. n.

splasher (splash/ər), 1. one that splashes. 2. something that protects from splashes. n.

splashy (splash/ē), 1. making a splash. 2. full of irregular spots or streaks. 3. Informal. attracting attention; causing excitement. adj., splasher, splashiest.

splat (splat/ər), splash; spatter. v., n.

Spits for roasting. They can be turned to cook the meat evenly; fat drips into the pan below.

Spitz (about 19 to 21 in. high at the shoulder) splay (splā), 1. spread out. 2. spread; flare. 3. wide and flat. 4. awkward; clumsy. 5. a slanting surface; surface which makes an oblique angle with another. 6. make slanting. 1,2,6 v., 3,4 adj., 2,5 n.

splay foot (splā'fūt'), a broad, flat foot, especially one turned outward. n., pl. splay feet.

splay-foot ed (splā'fūt'id), 1. having splayfeet. 2. awkward; clumsy. adj.

spleen (splēn), 1. a ductless gland at the left of the stomach in man, and near the stomach or intestine in other vertebrates. People used to think that the spleen caused low spirits, bad temper, and spite. 2. bad temper; spite; anger. 3. low spirits. n.

splen did (splēn'did), 1. brilliant; glorious; magnificent; grand: a splendid sunset, a splendid palace, splendid jewels, a splendid victory. 2. very good; fine; excellent: a splendid chance. adj. —splen'did ly, adv. —splen'did ness, n.

splen dif er ous (splēn dif'ər əs), Informal. splendid. adj.

splen dor (splēn'dər), 1. great brightness; brilliant light. 2. magnificent show; pomp; glory. n.

splen dour (splēn'dər), Esp. Brit. splendor. n.

sple net ic (splī net'ik), 1. having to do with the spleen. 2. bad-tempered; irritable; peevish. adj. —sple net'ic ally, adv.

splice (splīs), 1. join together (ropes, etc.) by weaving together ends that have been untwisted. 2. join together (two pieces of timber) by overlapping. 3. a joining of ropes or timbers by splicing. 4. Slang. marry. 1,2,4 v., spliced, splicing; 3 n. —splice'er, n.

splint (splint), 1. arrangement of wood, metal, plaster, etc., to hold a broken or dislocated bone in place. 2. a thin strip of wood, such as is used in making baskets. 3. a thin metal strip or plate. Old armor often had overlapping splints to protect the elbow, knee, etc., and allow easy movement. n.

splint bone, one of the two smaller bones on either side of the large bone between the hock and the fetlock of a horse, mule, etc.

splin ter (splin'tər), 1. a thin, sharp piece of wood, bone, glass, etc.: He got a splinter in his hand. The mirror broke into splinters. 2. having to do with dissenting groups that break away from regular political groups, religious organizations, etc.: a splinter party. 3. split or break into splinters. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v.

splin ter y (splin'tər ē), 1. apt to splinter: splintery wood. 2. of or like a splinter. 3. rough and jagged, as if from splintering. 4. full of splinters. 5. characterized by the production of splinters. adj.

split (split), 1. break or cut from end to end, or in layers: The man is splitting wood. She split the cake and filled it with jelly. 2. separate into parts; divide: The old farm has been split up into house lots. The two men split the cost of the dinner between them. 3. divide into different groups, factions, parties, etc. 4. division in a group, party, etc.: There was a split in the Republican Party. 5. a splitting; break; crack. 6. broken or cut from end to end; divided. 7. Slang. share; portion. 8. Informal. bottle of a drink half the usual size. 9. a sweet dish made of sliced fruit, ice cream, etc. 10. divide (a molecule) into two or more individual atoms. 11. divide (an atomic nucleus) into two portions of approximately equal mass by forcing the absorption of a neutron. 12. an acrobatic trick of sinking to the floor with the legs spread far apart in opposite directions. 1-3,10,11 v., split, split ting; 4,5,7-9,12 n., 6 adj. —split'ter, n. head is splitting, head aches very badly. split hairs, make too fine distinctions.

D, Splayed doorway;
P, Plan of D.

Splicing

split one's vote or ticket, U.S. vote for candidates of different political parties.

split infinitive, infinitive having an adverb between to and the verb. Example: He wants to never work, but to always play.

split ting (split'ing), 1. that splits. 2. very severe; extreme; violent. adj.

splotch (sploch), 1. a large, irregular spot; splash. 2. make splotches on. 1 n., 2 v.

splotch y (sploch'ē), marked with splotches. adj.

splurge (splərj), Informal. 1. a showing off. 2. show off. 3. spend extravagantly. 1 n., 2,3 v., splurged, splurging.

splut ter (splut'ər), 1. talk in a hasty, confused way. People sometimes splutter when they are excited. 2. make spitting or popping noises; sputter: The baked apples are spluttering in the oven. 3. a spluttering. 1,2 v., 3 n. —splut'ter er, n.

spoil (spoil), 1. damage; injure; destroy: He spoils a dozen pieces of paper before he writes a letter. 2. be damaged; become bad or unfit for use: The fruit spoiled because I kept it too long. 3. injure the character or disposition of: That child is being spoiled by too much attention. 4. things taken by force; things won: The soldiers carried the spoil back to their own land. 5. an object of plundering; prey. 6. steal; take by force; plunder; pillage; ravage. 7. rob. 1-3,6,7 v., spoiled or spoilt, spoil ing; 4,5 n.

spoils, 1. things taken by force; things won: The soldiers carried the spoils back to their own land. 2. government offices and positions filled by the successful political party.

spoil er (spoil'ər), 1. person or thing that spoils. 2. person who takes spoils. n.

spoils man (spoilz'man), person who gets or tries to get a government office or job as a reward for his service to the successful party. n., pl. spoils men.

spoils system, U.S. the system or practice in which public offices with their salaries and advantages are at the disposal of the victorious political party for its own purposes and in its own (rather than the public) interest.

spoilt (spoil), a pt. and a pp. of spoil. v.

Spo kane (spō kan'), city in E Washington. 182,000. n.

spoke¹ (spōk), 1. pt. of speak. She spoke about that yesterday. 2. Archaic. a pp. of speak. v.

spoke² (spōk), 1. one of the bars from the center of a wheel to the rim. See felloe for picture. 2. rung of a ladder. n.

put a spoke in one's wheel, stop or hinder a person.

spo ken (spō'kən), 1. a pp. of speak. They have spoken about having a picnic. 2. expressed with the mouth; uttered; told: the spoken word. 3. speaking in a certain way: a soft-spoken man. 1 v., 2,3 adj.

spoke shave (spōk'shāv'), a cutting tool having a blade with a handle at each end. n.

spokes man (spōks'mən), person who speaks for another or others: Mr. Smith was the spokesman for the factory workers. n., pl. spokes men.

spo li a tion (spō'lē ā'shən), 1. a plundering; robbery. 2. the plundering of neutrals at sea in time of war. n.

sponge (spunj), 1. a kind of sea animal having a tough, fiberlike skeleton or framework. 2. its light framework used for soaking up water in bathing, cleaning, etc. 3. wipe or rub with a wet sponge; make clean or damp in this way: Sponge the mud spots off the car. Sponge up the spilled water. 4. absorb. 5. gather sponges. 6. a sponging. 7. something like a sponge; pad of gauze used by doctors; mop for cleaning the bore of a cannon; bread dough; a kind of cake; a kind of pudding, etc. 8. Informal. live or profit at the expense of another in a mean way: That lazy man won't work, but sponges on his family. 9. Informal. person who continually lives at the expense of others. 1,2,6,7,9 n., 3-5,8 v., sponged, sponging. —sponge'like, adj.

sponge out, blot out; remove all traces of.

throw up the sponge, give up; admit defeat.

sponge cake, a light, spongy cake made with eggs, sugar, flour, etc., but no butter.

spong er (spun/'jær), 1. person who sponges. 2. machine for sponging cloth. 3. person or vessel engaged in gathering sponges. 4. person who gets on at the expense of others. n.

spon gy (spun/'jē), 1. like a sponge; soft, light, and full of holes: spongy moss, spongy dough. 2. full of holes: a spongy rock. adj., spon gi er, spon gi est. —spon/ gi ness, n.

spon son (spun/'sn), 1. part projecting from the side of a ship or boat, used for support or protection. 2. an air-filled section on either side of an airplane, canoe, etc., to steady it. n.

spon sor (spun/'sær), 1. person who is responsible for a person or thing: the sponsor of a law. 2. person who takes vows for an infant at baptism; godfather or godmother. 3. company, store, or other business firm that pays the costs of a radio or television program advertising its products. 4. act as sponsor for. 1-3 n., 4 v.

spon sor ship (spun/'sær ship), position, duties, etc., of a sponsor. n.

spon ta ne i ty (spun/'tə nē'ə tē), 1. state, quality, or fact of being spontaneous. 2. a spontaneous action, movement, etc. n., pl. spon ta ne i ties.

spon ta ne ous (spun tã'ne əs), 1. caused by natural impulse or desire; not forced or compelled; not planned beforehand: Both sides burst into spontaneous cheers at the skillful play. 2. taking place without external cause or help; caused entirely by inner forces: The eruption of a volcano is spontaneous. 3. growing or produced naturally; not planted, cultivated, etc. adj. —spon-ta-ne ous ly, adv. —spon ta'ne ous ness, n.

spontaneous combustion, the bursting into flame of a substance without anyone's having set it on fire. In spontaneous combustion, the heat produced by chemical action within the substance itself causes it to catch on fire.

spoof (spüf), Slang. trick; hoax; joke. v., n.

spook (spük), Informal. ghost; specter. n.

spook y (spük/'ē), Informal. like a spook; suited to spooks; suggesting spooks. adj., spook i er, spook i est.

spool (spül), 1. cylinder of wood or metal on which thread, wire, etc., is wound. 2. something like a spool in shape or use. 3. wind on a spool. 1,2 n., 3 v.

spoon (spün), 1. utensil consisting of a small, shallow bowl at the end of a handle. Spoons are used to take up or stir food or drink. 2. take up in a spoon. 3. something shaped like a spoon. 4. a kind of golf club with a wooden head. 5. Slang. make love in a silly way. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v. —spoon/like', adj.

born with a silver spoon in one's mouth, born lucky or rich.

spoon bill (spün/'bil'), 1. a long-legged wading bird that has a long, flat bill with a spoon-shaped tip. 2. any of various birds that have a similar bill. n.

spoon drift (spün/'drift'), spindrift. n.

spoon ful (spün/'fül), as much as a spoon can hold. n., pl. spoon fuls.

spoor (spür), 1. trail of a wild animal; track. 2. track by or follow a spoor. 1 n., 2 v.

spo rad ic (spə rad/'ik), 1. appearing or happening at intervals in time: sporadic outbreaks. 2. being or occurring apart from others; isolated. 3. appearing in scattered instances: sporadic cases of scarlet fever. adj.

spo rad i cal (spə rad/'ə kl), sporadic. adj.

spo rad i cal ly (spə rad/'ik lē), here and there; now and then; separately. adv.

Spoonbill

spo ran gi a (spə ran/'jē ə), pl. of sporangium. n.

spo ran gi um (spə ran/'jē əm), receptacle containing spores; spore case. The little brown spots sometimes seen on the under side of ferns are sporangia. n., pl. spo ran gi a.

spore (spôr), 1. a single cell capable of growing into a new plant or animal. Ferns produce spores. 2. germ; seed. n.

spo ro phyll or spo ro phyl (spô'rə fil), any leaf that bears spores or spore cases. n.

spo ro phyte (spô'rə fit), any plant or generation of a plant that produces asexual spores. Sporophytes develop from the union of germ cells produced by gametophytes. n.

spor ran (spôr'ən), in a Scottish Highland costume, a large purse, commonly of fur, hanging from the belt in front. n.

sport (spôr't), 1. form of amusement or play; game; contest. Baseball, football, golf, tennis, fishing, hunting, and racing are outdoor sports. 2. amusement; recreation. 3. amuse oneself; play: Lambs sport in the fields. 4. of sports; suitable for sports. 5. playful joking; fun: That was great sport. 6. ridicule. 7. object of a joke; plaything: His hat blew off and became the sport of the wind. 8. jest. 9. sportsman. 10. Informal. person who is willing to take a chance; good fellow: be a sport. 11. Informal. gambler. 12. Informal. display: sport a new hat. 13. Slang. a cheap, showy person. 14. animal or plant that varies suddenly or in a marked manner from the normal type. A white blackbird would be a sport. 15. become or produce a sport. 1,2,5-7,9-11,13,14 n., 3,8,12,15 v., 4 adj.

for sport or in sport, in fun; as a joke. make sport of, make fun of; laugh at; ridicule: Don't make sport of the lame boy. sport ing (spôr'ting), 1. of, interested in, or engaging in sports. 2. playing fair. 3. willing to take a chance. 4. Informal. involving risk; uncertain. adj. —sport/-ing ly, adv.

sport ive (spôr'tiv), playful; merry: The old dog seemed as sportive as the puppy. adj.

sports (spôr'ts), of sports; suitable for sports: a sports dress. adj.

sports man (spôr'ts/mən), 1. person who takes part in sports, especially hunting, fishing, or racing. 2. person who likes sports. 3. person who plays fair. 4. person who is willing to take a chance. n., pl. sports men.

sports man like (spôr'ts/mən lik'), like or befitting a sportsman; fair and honorable. adj.

sports man ship (spôr'ts/mən ship), 1. ability in sports. 2. qualities or conduct of a sportsman; fair play. n.

sport y (spôr'tē), Informal. 1. sportsmanlike; sporting. 2. gay or fast; flashy. 3. smart in dress, appearance, manners, etc. adj., sport i er, sport i est. —sport/i ness, n.

spot (spot), 1. mark, stain, or speck: a spot of ink on the paper. His character is without spot. 2. a small part unlike the rest: His tie is blue with white spots. 3. make spots on: spot a dress. He spotted his reputation by lying repeatedly. 4. become spotted; have spots: This silk will spot. 5. place: From this spot you can see the ocean. 6. place in a certain spot; scatter in various spots: Lookouts were spotted all along the coast. 7. on hand; ready: a spot answer. 8. Informal. pick out; find out; recognize: The teacher spotted every mistake. 9. Informal. a small amount; little bit: a spot of lunch. 1,2,5,9 n., 3,4,6,8 v., spot ted, spot ting; 7 adj.

hit the spot, Informal. be just right; be satisfactory. on the spot, 1. at the very place. 2. at once.

spot cash, money paid just as soon as the goods are delivered or the work is done.

spot check, U.S. 1. a brief, rough sampling. 2. a checkup made without warning.

spot less (spot'/lis), without a spot. adj. —spot/-less ly, adv. —spot/less ness, n.

spot light (spot'/lit'), 1. a strong light thrown upon a particular place or person. 2. the lamp that gives the light: a spotlight in a theater. 3. conspicuous attention; public notice. n.

Spot syl va ni a (spot'/sl vā'nī ə), village in NE Virginia. The armies of Grant and Lee fought a two weeks' battle there in 1864. n.

spot ted (spot'/id), 1. stained with spots: a spotted reputation. 2. marked with spots: a spotted dog. adj.

spotted fever, any of various fevers characterized by spots on the skin, especially cerebrospinal fever or typhus fever.

spot ter (spot'/ər), 1. person or thing that spots. 2. civilian who watches for enemy aircraft over a city, town, etc. 3. person employed to keep watch on employees for evidence of dishonesty or other misconduct. n.

spot ty (spot'/ē), 1. having spots; spotted. 2. not of uniform quality: His work was spotty. adj., spot ti er, spot ti est. —spot/ti ly, adv. —spot/ti ness, n.

spouse (spous), husband or wife. n.

spout (spout), 1. throw out (a liquid) in a stream or spray: A whale spouts water when it breathes. 2. flow out with force: Water spouted from a break in the pipe. 3. stream; jet. 4. pipe for carrying off water: Rain runs down a spout from our roof to the ground. 5. tube or lip by which liquid is poured. A teakettle, a coffee pot, and a syrup jug have spouts. 6. Informal. speak in loud tones with affected emotion: The old-fashioned actor used to spout his lines. 1,2,6 v., 3-5 n. —spout/er, n.

sprain (sprān), 1. injure (a joint or muscle) by a sudden twist or wrench: sprain your ankle. 2. injury caused by a sudden twist or wrench. 1 v., 2 n.

sprang (sprang), a pt. of spring. The tiger sprang v.

sprat (sprat), 1. a small food fish related to the herring, found along the Atlantic coast of Europe. 2. any of various similar fishes. n.

sprawl (sprôl), 1. toss or spread the limbs about, like an infant or animal lying on its back. 2. lie or sit with the limbs spread out, especially ungracefully: The people sprawled on the beach in their bathing suits. 3. toss or spread (the limbs) about. 4. spread out in an irregular or awkward manner: He wrote in a large handwriting that sprawled across the page. 5. act or position of sprawling. 6. move awkwardly. 1-4 v., 5 n.

spray¹ (sprā), 1. liquid going through the air in small drops: We were wet with the sea spray. 2. something like this: A spray of bullets hit the tree behind which he was hiding. 3. instrument that sends a liquid out as spray. 4. scatter spray on; sprinkle: Spray this liquid on your throat. Spray the apple tree. 5. scatter spray. 6. direct numerous small missiles, etc., upon: The soldiers sprayed the enemy with bullets. 1-3 n., 4-6 v. —spray/er, n.

spray² (sprā), 1. a small branch or piece of some plant with its leaves, flowers, or fruit: a spray of lilacs, a spray of ivy, a spray of berries. 2. ornament like this. n.

spread (spred), 1. cover or cause to cover a large or larger area; stretch out; unfold; open: spread rugs on the floor, spread one's arms, a fan that spreads when shaken. 2. move further apart: The rails of the track have spread. He spread the ends of the rivet with a hammer. 3. lie or cause to lie; extend: Fields of corn spread out before us. 4. scatter; distribute: He spread the news. The sickness spread rapidly. 5. cover with a thin layer: She spread each slice with butter. 6. put as a thin layer: He spread jam on his bread. 7. be put as a thin layer: This paint spreads evenly. 8. act of spreading. 9. width; extent; amount of or capacity for spreading: the spread of a bird's wings, the spread of elastic. 10. a stretch; expanse. 11. stretched out; expanded; extended. 12. a cloth covering for a bed or table. 13. set (a table) for a meal.

14. put food on (a table). 15. Informal. food put on the table; feast. 16. something spread. Butter and jam are spreads. 1-7,13,14 v., spread, spread ing; 8-10,12,15, 16 n., 11 adj. —spread/er, n.

spread oneself, Informal. 1. try hard to make a good impression. 2. display one's abilities fully. 3. brag.

spread-eagle (spred'/ē'gl), 1. having the form of an eagle with wings spread out. 2. U.S. boastful: spread-eagle oratory. 3. stretch out flat and sprawling; tie with arms and legs outstretched. 1,2 adj., 3 v., spread-ea gled, spread-ea gling.

spree (sprē), 1. a lively frolic. 2. spell of drinking intoxicating liquor. n.

spring (sprig), 1. shoot, twig, or small branch: a sprig of lilac. 2. ornament or design shaped like a sprig. 3. Used in jest or scorn. a young man. n.

spright ly (sprit'/lē), lively; gay. adj., spright li er, spright li est. —spright/li ness, n.

spring (spring), 1. leap; jump; move rapidly or suddenly: The boy sprang to his feet. 2. a leap or jump: a spring over the fence. 3. fly back or away as if by elastic force: The door sprang to. 4. cause to spring; cause to act by a spring: spring a trap. 5. elastic device that returns to its original shape after being pulled or held out of shape. Beds have wire springs. The spring in a clock makes it go. 6. elastic quality: The old man's knees have lost their spring. 7. a flying back from a forced position. 8. having a spring or springs. 9. season after winter when plants begin to grow. 10. of, having to do with, characteristic of, or suitable for the season of spring: spring hats. Spring wheat is wheat sown in the spring. 11. small stream of water coming from the earth. 12. from a spring: Spring water often contains healthful minerals. 13. come from some source; arise; grow: Plants spring from seeds. 14. source; origin; cause. 15. begin to move, act, grow, etc., suddenly; burst forth: Towns spring up where oil is discovered. 16. first and freshest period: the spring of life. 17. bring out, produce, or make suddenly: to spring a surprise on someone. 18. to crack, split, warp, bend, strain, or break. 19. a crack, bend, strain, or break. 20. rouse (partridges, etc.). 1,3,4,13,15,17,18,20 v., sprang or sprung, sprung, spring ing; 2,5-7,9,11,14,16,19 n., 8,10,12 adj.

spring a leak, crack and begin to let water through.

spring a mine, cause the gunpowder or other explosive in it to explode.

spring beauty, 1. a small pink or white wild flower of early spring. 2. the plant it grows on.

spring board (spring'/bôrd'), 1. a projecting board from which persons dive.

2. an elastic board used in vaulting, etc. n.

spring bok (spring'/bok'), a gazelle or small antelope of South Africa. n., pl. spring-boks or (esp. collectively) spring-bok.

spring er (spring'/ər), 1. person or thing that springs. 2. spaniel of any of the larger breeds of field spaniels, used to spring or flush game. n.

spring fever, a listless, lazy feeling felt by some people, caused by the first sudden warm weather of spring.

Spring field (spring'/fēld), 1. capital of Illinois, in the central part. 83,000. 2. city in S Massachusetts. 174,000. 3. city in SW Missouri. 96,000. 4. city in W Ohio. 83,000. n.

Springs (def. 5)

Springboard for diving

Springbok (about 2½ ft. high at the shoulder) spring halt (spring'hôlt'), stringhalt. n.

spring tail (spring'tâl'), a small, wingless insect that has a forked, taillike appendage, used in leaping. n.

spring tide (spring'tid'), springtime. n.

spring tide, 1. the high tide at its highest level. It comes at the time of the new moon or the full moon. 2. a great flood, swell, or rush.

spring time (spring'tim'), the season of spring. n.

spring y (spring'ē), 1. that springs; elastic: His step was springy. 2. having many springs of water. adj., spring ier, spring iest. —spring'ily, adv. —spring'-iness, n.

sprin kle (spring'kl), 1. scatter in drops or tiny bits: He sprinkled ashes on the icy sidewalk. 2. scatter something in drops or tiny bits. 3. spray or cover with small drops: sprinkle flowers with water. 4. dot or vary with something scattered here and there. 5. a sprinkling; small quantity. 6. rain a little. 7. a light rain. 1-4, 6 v., sprin kled, sprin kling; 5, 7 n. —sprin'-kler, n.

sprin kling (spring'kling), a small quantity or number scattered here and there. n.

sprint (sprint), 1. run at full speed, especially for a short distance. 2. a short race at full speed. 1 v., 2 n. —sprint'-er, n.

sprit (sprit), a small pole that supports and stretches a sail. n.

sprite (sprit), elf; fairy; goblin. n.

sprit sail (sprit'sâl'; Nautical sprit'sl), sail supported and stretched by a sprit. n.

sprock et (srok'it), 1. one of a set of projections on the rim of a wheel, arranged so as to fit into the links of a chain. The sprockets keep the chain from slipping. 2. wheel made with sprockets. n.

sprout (sprout), 1. begin to grow; shoot forth: Seeds sprout. Buds sprout in the spring. 2. cause to grow: The rain has sprouted the corn. 3. a shoot of a plant: The gardener was setting out sprouts. 4. develop rapidly. 5. Informal. remove sprouts from: He sprouted the potatoes twice every winter. 1, 2, 4, 5 v., 3 n.

sprouts, Brussels sprouts.

a course of sprouts, Informal. severe discipline.

spruce (sprüs), 1. a coniferous evergreen tree with needle-shaped leaves. 2. its wood. n.

spruce (sprüs), 1. neat; trim: John looked very spruce in his new suit. 2. make or become spruce: John spruced himself up for dinner. 1 adj., spruc er, spruc est; 2 v., spruced, spruc ing. —spruce'-ly, adv. —spruce'ness, n.

sprung (sprung), a pt. and a pp. of spring. The trap was sprung. v.

spry (sprī), active; lively; nimble: The spry old lady traveled all over the country. adj., spry er, spry est or sprī er, sprī est. —spry'ly, adv. —spry'ness, n.

spt., seaport.

spud (spud), 1. tool with a narrow blade for digging up or cutting the roots of weeds. 2. tool like a chisel for removing bark. 3. Informal. potato. n.

spue (spū), spew. v., spued, spu ing.

spume (spūm), foam; froth. n., v., spumed, spum ing.

spu mo ne (spəmo'nē), a type of Italian ice cream, usually containing fruit, nuts, etc. n.

spum y (spūm'ē), covered with, consisting of, or resembling spume; foamy; frothy. adj., spum i er, spum-i est.

spun (spun), pt. and pp. of spin. She spun all day yesterday. The thread was spun from silk. v.

spun glass, glass made into threads.

spunk (spungk), 1. Informal. courage; pluck; spirit; mettle. 2. spark. 3. tinder or punk. n.

get (one's) spunk up, Informal. show courage, pluck, or spirit.

spunk y (spungk'ē), Informal. courageous; plucky; spirited. adj., spunk i er, spunk i est. —spunk'ily, adv. —spunk'i ness, n.

spun rayon, yarn made from rayon threads. When woven, it often resembles linen cloth.

spun silk, silk waste spun into yarn.

spur (spër), 1. a pricking instrument worn on a horseman's heel for urging a horse on. 2. prick with spurs: The rider spurred his horse on. 3. ride quickly. 4. something like a spur; point sticking out. A cock has spurs on his legs. 5. strike or wound with a spur or spurs. 6. anything that urges on: Ambition was the spur that made him work. 7. urge on: Pride spurred the boy to fight. 8. provide with a spur or spurs. 9. ridge projecting from or subordinate to the main body of a mountain or mountain range. 10. any short branch: a spur of a railroad. 1, 4, 6, 9, 10 n., 2, 3, 5, 7, 8 v., spurred, spur ring. on the spur of the moment, on a sudden impulse. win one's spurs, make a reputation for oneself.

spurge (spërj), any of a group of plants most of which have acrid, milky juice; euphorbia. n.

spu ri ous (spyûr'ē əs), 1. not coming from the right source; not genuine; false; sham: a spurious document. 2. illegitimate. adj. —spu'ri ous ly, adv. —spu'ri ous ness, n.

spurn (spërn), 1. refuse with scorn; scorn: The judge spurned the bribe. 2. disdainful rejection; contemptuous treatment. 3. oppose with scorn: They spurned at restraint. 4. strike with the foot; kick away. 5. a kick. 1, 3, 4 v., 2, 5 n.

spurred (spërd), having spurs or a spur. adj.

spurt (spërt), 1. flow suddenly in a stream or jet; gush out; squirt: Blood spurted from the wound. 2. cause to gush out. 3. a sudden rushing forth; jet: Spurts of flame broke out all over the building. 4. a great increase of effort or activity for a short time. 5. put forth great energy for a short time; show great activity for a short time: The runners spurted near the end of the race. 1, 2, 5 v., 3, 4 n. Also, sprit.

spur track, a branch railroad track connected with the main track at one end only.

sput nik (sput'nik or spüt'nik), any of a group of earth satellites containing scientific instruments or animals, put into orbit by the Soviet Union. n.

sput ter (sput'ər), 1. make spitting or popping noises: fat sputtering in the frying pan. The firecrackers sputtered. 2. throw out (drops of saliva, bits of food, etc.) in excitement or in talking too fast. 3. say (words or sounds) in haste and confusion. 4. confused talk. 5. a sputtering; sputtering noise. 1-3 v., 4, 5 n. —sput'ter er, n.

spu tum (spū'təm), 1. saliva; spit. 2. what is coughed up from the lungs and spat out. n., pl. spu ta (tə).

spy (spī), 1. person who keeps secret watch on the action of others. 2. person who, in time of war, tries to get information about the enemy, usually by visiting the enemy's territory in disguise or under false pretenses. 3. find out or try to find out by careful observation; search. 4. keep secret watch: Mr. Smith saw two men spying on him from behind a tree. 5. catch sight of; see. 1, 2 n., pl. spies; 3-5 v., spied, spy ing.

spy out, 1. watch or examine secretly or carefully. 2. find out by watching secretly or carefully.

spy glass (spī'glas'), a small telescope. n.

sq., 1. square. 2. the following.

Horseman's spur

squab (skwob), 1. a very young bird, especially a young pigeon. 2. newly hatched. 3. a short, stout person. 4. short and stout. 5. a thick soft cushion. 6. sofa; couch. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4 adj.

squabble (skwob'l), 1. a petty, noisy quarrel: Children's squabbles annoy their parents. 2. take part in a petty, noisy quarrel: I won't squabble over a nickel. 1 n., 2 v., squab bled, squab bling. —squab'bler, n.

squad (skwod), 1. number of soldiers grouped for drill, inspection, or work. A squad is the smallest tactical unit in an army. 2. any small group of persons working together. n.

squad car, a police patrol car that keeps in communication with headquarters by special radiotelephone equipment.

squad ron (skwod'rən), 1. part of a naval fleet used for special service. 2. body of cavalry usually having from 120 to 200 men. 3. formation of airplanes, usually two or three flights, that fly or fight together. 4. any group. n.

squal id (skwol'id), filthy; degraded; wretched. adj. —squal'id ly, adv. —squal'id ness, n.

squall¹ (skwōl), 1. a sudden, violent gust of wind, often with rain, snow, or sleet. 2. Informal. trouble. n.

squall² (skwōl), 1. cry out loudly; scream violently: The baby squalled. 2. a loud, harsh cry: The parrot's squall was heard all over the house. 1 v., 2 n. —squall'er, n.

squally (skwōl'ē), 1. disturbed by sudden and violent gusts of wind: squally weather. 2. blowing in squalls. 3. Informal. threatening; troublous. adj., squallier, squalliest.

squal or (skwol'er), misery and dirt; filth. n.

squander (skwon'dər), spend foolishly; waste: He squandered his time and money in gambling. v.

square (skwār), 1. a plane figure with four equal sides and four equal angles (□). 2. anything of or near this shape. 3. having four equal sides and four right angles. 4. of a specified length on each side of a square: a room ten feet square. 5. having breadth more nearly equal to length or height than is usual: a square jaw. 6. make square; make rectangular; make cubical. 7. mark out in squares: The children squared off the sidewalk to play hopscotch. 8. space in a city or town bounded by streets on four sides: The Ford factories fill several squares. 9. distance along one side of such a space; block. 10. an open space in a city or town bounded by streets on four sides, often planted with grass, trees, etc. 11. any similar open space, such as at the meeting of streets. 12. the buildings surrounding such a place. 13. body of troops drawn up in a square form. 14. forming a right angle: a square corner. 15. bring to the form of a right angle. 16. an L-shaped or T-shaped instrument used for making or testing right angles. 17. straight; level; even. 18. make straight, level, or even. 19. leaving no balance; even: make accounts square. 20. adjust; settle: Let us square our accounts. 21. agree; conform: His acts do not square with his promises. 22. just; fair; honest: a square deal. 23. Informal. fairly or honestly. 24. straightforward; direct: a square refusal. 25. Informal. satisfying: a square meal. 26. regulate. 27. product obtained when a number is multiplied by itself: 16 is the square of 4. 28. in mathematics, find equivalent in square measure. 29. multiply by itself: 25 squared makes 625. 30. squared: a square foot. 31. multiplied by itself. 32. so as to be square; in square or rectangular form; at right angles. 33. solid and strong. 1,2,8-13,16,27 n., 3-5,14,17,19,22,24,25,30,31,33 adj., squar er, squar est; 6,7,15,18,20,21,26,28,29 v., squared, squaring; 23,32 adv. —square'ly, adv.

on the square, 1. at right angles. 2. Informal. justly; fairly; honestly.

out of square, not at right angles; out of order; incorrect or incorrectly.

square away, set the sails so that the ship will stay before the wind.

square off, Informal. put oneself in a position of defense or attack.

square oneself, Informal. 1. make up for something one has said or done. 2. get even.

square the circle, 1. find a square equal in area to a circle. 2. try to do something impossible.

square dance, dance performed by a set of couples arranged in some set form. The quadrille and Virginia reel are square dances.

square deal, Informal. fair and honest treatment.

square foot, an area one foot long and one foot wide; any area equal to that.

square inch, an area one inch long and one inch wide; any area equal to that.

square knot, knot whose free ends come out alongside of the other parts. It will not slip and is easily untied.

square meal, U.S. a substantial or satisfying meal.

square measure, system for measuring area: 144 square inches = 1 square foot
9 square feet = 1 square yard 30¼ square yards = 1 square rod 160 square rods = 1 acre 640 acres = 1 square mile square-rigged (skwār'rig'd), having the principal sails set at right angles across the masts. adj.

square-rig ger (skwār'rig'ər), a square-rigged ship. n.

square root, number that produces a given number when multiplied by itself: The square root of 16 is 4.

square sail, a four-sided sail.

square shooter, Informal. a fair and honest person.

squash¹ (skwosh), 1. press until soft or flat; crush: The boy squashed the bug. Carry the cream puffs carefully for they squash easily. 2. something squashed; a crushed mass. 3. a squashing; a squashing sound. 4. make a squashing sound; move with a squashing sound: We heard him squash through the mud and slush. 5. put an end to; stop by force: The police quickly squashed the riot. 6. Informal. silence with a crushing argument, reply, etc. 7. crowd; squeeze. 8. game somewhat like handball and tennis played in a walled court with rackets and a hollow rubber ball. 1,4-7 v., 2,3,8 n. —squash'er, n.

squash² (skwosh), 1. fruit of any of various vinelike plants, often eaten as a vegetable or made into a pie. 2. plant it grows on. n.

squashy (skwosh'ē), 1. easily squashed: squashy cream puffs. 2. soft and wet: squashy ground. 3. having a crushed appearance. adj., squashier, squashiest. —squash'ily, adv. —squash'i ness, n.

squat (skwot), 1. crouch on the heels. 2. sit on the ground or floor with the legs drawn up closely beneath or in front of the body. 3. seat (oneself) with the legs drawn up. 4. crouching: A squat figure sat in front of the fire. 5. act of squatting; squatting posture. 6. settle on another's land without title or right. 7. settle on public land to acquire ownership of it under government regulation. 8. short and thick; low and broad: The Indian was a squat, dark man. That is a squat teapole. 1-3,6,7 v., squat ted or squat, squat ting; 4,8 adj., 5 n.

squat ter (skwot'ər), 1. person who settles on another's land without right. 2. person who settles on public land to acquire ownership of it. 3. person, animal, etc., that crouches or squats. n.

squat ty (skwot'ē), short and thick; low and broad. adj., squat ti er, squat ti est.

squaw (skwō), 1. an American Indian woman or wife. 2. Slang. woman or wife. n.

Barkentine, a ship with the sails on its foremast square-rigged.

Square (def. 16)

squawk (skwôk), 1. make a loud, harsh sound: Hens and ducks squawk when frightened. 2. utter harshly and loudly. 3. a loud, harsh sound. 4. Slang. complain loudly. 5. Slang. a loud complaint. 1,2,4 v., 3,5 n. —squawk'er, n.

squaw man, a white man married to an Indian squaw.

squeak (skwēk), 1. make a short, sharp, shrill sound: A mouse squeaks. 2. such a sound: We heard the squeak of the rocking chair. 3. cause to squeak. 4. utter with a squeak. 1,3,4 v., 2 n.

narrow squeak, Informal. a narrow escape.

squeaky (skwēk'ē), squeaking. adj., squeakier, squeakiest. —squeak'ily, adv. —squeak'iness, n.

squeal (skwēl), 1. make a long, sharp, shrill cry: A pig squeals when it is hurt. 2. such a cry. 3. utter sharply and shrilly. 4. Slang. turn informer. 1,3,4 v., 2 n. —squeal'er, n.

squeamish (skwēm'ish), 1. too proper, modest, etc.; easily shocked. 2. too particular; too scrupulous. 3. slightly sick at one's stomach; sickish. 4. easily turned sick. adj. —squeam'ishly, adv. —squeam'ishness, n.

squeeze (skwēz), 1. press hard: Don't squeeze the kitten, you will hurt it. 2. a tight pressure: a squeeze of the hand. 3. hug: She squeezed her child. 4. force by pressing: I can't squeeze another thing into my trunk. 5. burden; oppress: Heavy taxes squeezed the people. 6. get by pressure, force, or effort: The dictator squeezed money from the people. 7. yield to pressure: Sponges squeeze easily. 8. force a way: He squeezed through the crowd. 9. crush; crowd: It's a tight squeeze to get five people in that little car. 10. something made by pressing; cast; impression. 11. Informal. situation from which escape is difficult. 1,3-8 v., squeezed, squeezing; 2,3,9-11 n. —squeeze'er, n.

squelch (skwelch), 1. cause to be silent; crush: She squelched him with a look of contempt. 2. Informal. a crushing retort. 3. strike or press on with crushing force. 4. walk in mud, water, wet shoes, etc., making a splashing sound. 5. make the sound of one doing so. 6. such a sound. 1,3-5 v., 2,6 n. —squelch'er, n.

squib (skwib), 1. a short, witty attack in speech or writing; sharp sarcasm. 2. a broken firecracker. 3. a small firework that burns with a hissing noise and finally explodes. n.

squid (skwid), a sea mollusk that is like a cuttlefish, but has a longer body, a pair of tail fins, and one pair of tentacles much longer than the others. Small squids are much used as bait. n., pl. squids or (esp. collectively) squid.

squill (skwil), plant of the same family as the lily, whose onionlike bulb is used in medicine. n.

squint (skwint), 1. look with the eyes partly closed. 2. hold (the eyes) partly closed. 3. a sidelong look; hasty look; look. 4. look sideways. 5. tendency to look sideways. 6. looking sideways; looking askance. 7. cause to squint. 8. incline; tend: The general's remark squinted toward treason. 9. inclination; tendency. 10. be cross-eyed. 11. cross-eyed condition. 12. cross-eyed. 13. run or go obliquely. 1,2,4,7,8,10,13 v., 3,5,9,11 n., 6,12 adj. —squint'er, n.

squire (skwir), 1. in England, a country gentleman; especially, the chief landowner in a district. 2. in the United States, a justice of the peace or a local judge. 3. a young man of noble family who attended a knight till he himself was made a knight. 4. attendant. 5. attend as squire. 6. a woman's escort. 7. escort (a lady). 1-4,6 n., 5,7 v., squired, squir-ing. —squire'like', adj.

squirm (skwērm), 1. wriggle; writhe; twist: The restless boy squirmed in his chair. 2. show great embarrassment, annoyance, confusion, etc. 1,2 v., 1 n.

squirm y (skwērm'ē), squirming; wriggling. adj., squirmier, squirmiest.

squirrel (skwēr'əl), 1. a small, bushy-tailed rodent that lives in trees. 2. its gray, reddish, or dark-brown fur. n.

squirt (skwērt), 1. force out (liquid) through a narrow opening: squirt water through a tube. 2. come out in a jet or stream: Water squirted from the hose. 3. act of squirting. 4. jet of liquid, etc. 5. a small pump, syringe, or other device for squirting a liquid. 6. Informal. an insignificant person who is impudent or self-assertive. 1,2 v., 3-6 n. —squirt'er, n.

Sr, strontium.

Sr., 1. senior. 2. Sir.

S.S., 1. steamship. 2. Sunday school.

SSE or S.S.E., direction halfway between south and southeast.

SSW or S.S.W., direction halfway between south and southwest.

St., 1. Street. 2. Saint. 3. Strait.

stab (stab), 1. pierce or wound with a pointed weapon. 2. thrust with a pointed weapon; aim a blow. 3. thrust or blow made with a pointed weapon; any thrust. 4. wound made by stabbing. 5. penetrate suddenly and sharply; pierce. 6. wound sharply or deeply in the feelings: The mother was stabbed to the heart by her son's lack of gratitude. 7. injury to the feelings. 8. Informal. attempt. 1,2,5,6 v., stabbed, stabbing; 3,4,7,8 n. —stab'ber, n.

Stabat Mater (stā'bāt māt'ər), 1. a celebrated 13th century Latin hymn about the Virgin Mary at the Cross. 2. a musical setting of this.

stability (stā bil'ə tē), 1. being fixed in position; firmness: A concrete wall has more stability than a light wooden fence. 2. permanence. 3. steadfastness of character, purpose, etc. 4. ability of an object to return to its original position. n., pl. stabilities.

stabilization (stā'bl ə zā'shən), stabilizing; being stabilized. n.

stabilize (stā'bl īz), 1. make stable or firm. 2. prevent changes in; hold steady: stabilize prices. 3. keep (an airplane, etc.) steady by special construction or automatic devices. v., stabilized, stabilizing.

stabilizer (stā'bl īz'ər), 1. person or thing that makes something stable. 2. device for keeping an airplane, ship, etc., steady. n.

stable (stā'bl), 1. building where horses or cattle are kept and fed. 2. group of animals housed in such a building: The black race horse is one of Mr. King's stable. 3. buildings and grounds where race horses are quartered and trained. 4. put or keep in a stable. 5. lodge in a stable. 6. group of race horses belonging to one owner. 7. persons caring for such a group. 1-3,6,7 n., 4,5 v., stabled, stabling.

stable (stā'bl), 1. not likely to move or change; steadfast; firm; steady: Concrete reinforced with steel is stable. The whole world needs a stable peace. 2. lasting without change; permanent. 3. able to return to its original position. adj. —sta'bly, adv.

stable boy (stā'bl boi'), boy who works in a stable. n.

staccato (stākā'tō), 1. in music, with breaks between the successive tones; disconnected; abrupt. 2. in a staccato manner. 1 adj., 2 adv.

stack (stak), 1. a large pile of hay, straw, etc. Haystacks are often round and arranged to shed water. 2. pile of anything: a stack of wood. 3. number of rifles

Common gray squirrel (total length about 1½ ft.)

Squid

arranged to form a cone or pyramid. 4. pile or arrange in a stack: stack hay, stack firewood, stack guns, etc. 5. arrange (playing cards) unfairly. 6. Informal. a large quantity. 7. chimney. 8. an English measure of cut wood or coal. It is equal to 108 cubic feet. 9. rack with shelves for books. 1-3, 6-9 n., 4, 5 v.

stacks, part of a library in which the main collection of books is shelved.

have the cards stacked against one, be at a great disadvantage.

sta di a¹ (stā/dē ə), instrument for measuring distances or heights by means of angles. A surveyor's transit is one kind of stadia. n.

sta di a² (stā/dē ə), a pl. of stadium. n.

sta di um (stā/dē əm), 1. an oval or U-shaped structure with rows of seats around a large open space for athletic games. 2. an ancient Greek running track for foot races, with rows of seats along each side and at one end. The stadium at Athens was about 607 feet long. n., pl. sta di ums or sta di a.

staff (staf), 1. stick; pole; rod: The flag hangs on a staff. 2. something that supports or sustains: Bread is called the staff of life. 3. group assisting a chief; group of employees. 4. group of officers that makes plans for an army but does no fighting. 5. provide with officers or employees. 6. the five lines and the four spaces between them on which music is written. 1-4, 6 n., pl. staves or staffs for 1 and 2, staffs for 3, 4, 6; 5 v.

staff officer, officer who helps make plans for an army but does no actual fighting. In the navy a staff officer is any one of those officers who are not eligible to take over command of a ship.

stag (stag), 1. a full-grown male deer. 2. the male of various other animals. 3. man who goes to a dance, party, etc., alone or with other men. 4. U.S. Informal. dinner, party, etc., attended by men only. 5. attended by, or for men only. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

stage (stāj), 1. one step or degree in a process; period of development. An insect passes through several stages before it is full-grown. 2. the raised platform in a theater on which the actors perform. 3. the theater; the drama; actor's profession: Shakespeare wrote for the stage. 4. scene of action: Bunker Hill was the stage of a famous battle. 5. put on a stage; arrange: The play was excellently staged. 6. be suited to the theater: That scene will not stage well. 7. U.S. arrange to have an effect: The angry people staged a riot. 8. a section of a rocket or missile having its own motor and fuel. A three-stage rocket has three motors, one in each stage, which separate one after another from the rocket after use. 9. stagecoach; bus. 10. travel by stagecoach. 11. place of rest on a journey; regular stopping place. 12. distance between two places of rest on a journey; distance between stops. 13. platform; flooring. 14. scaffold. 1-4, 8, 11-14 n., 5-7, 10 v., staged, stag ing. —stage 'like, adj.

by easy stages, a little at a time; slowly; often stopping.

on the stage, being an actor or actress.

stage coach (stāj/kōch'), coach carrying passengers and parcels over a regular route. n.

stage craft (stāj/kraft'), skill in, or the art of, writing, adapting, or presenting plays. n.

Stag (about 4 ft. high at the shoulder)

Musical staff

Stagecoach

stage fright, nervous fear of appearing before an audience.

stage hand (stāj/hand'), person whose work is moving scenery, arranging lights, etc., in a theater. n.

stager (stāj/ər), 1. person of long experience.

2. horse used for drawing a stagecoach. n.

stage-struck (stāj/struk'), extremely interested in acting; wanting very much to become an actor or actress. adj.

stage whisper, 1. a loud whisper on a stage meant for the audience to hear. 2. whisper meant to be heard by others than the person addressed.

stag ger (stag/ər), 1. sway or reel (from weakness, a heavy load, or drunkenness). 2. make sway or reel: The blow staggered him for the moment. 3. a swaying; reeling. 4. become unsteady; waver. 5. hesitate.

6. cause to hesitate or become confused: The difficulty of the examination staggered him. 7. confuse or astonish greatly: He was staggered by the news of his friend's death. 8. make helpless. 9. arrange in a zigzag order or way: Vacations were staggered so that only one person was away at a time. 1, 2, 4-9 v., 3 n. —stag 'ger er, n. —stag 'ger ing ly, adv.

stag gers (stag/ərz), a nervous disease of horses, cattle, etc., that makes them stagger or fall suddenly. n. pl.

stag hound (stag/hound'), one of a breed of hounds resembling the foxhound but larger, used for hunting deer. n.

stag ing (stāj/ing), 1. a temporary platform or structure of posts and boards for support, as in building; scaffolding. 2. act or process of putting a play on the stage. 3. a traveling by stages or by stagecoach. 4. business of running stagecoaches. n.

stag nan cy (stag/nən sē), stagnant condition. n.

stag nant (stag/nənt), 1. not running or flowing: stagnant air, stagnant water. 2. foul from standing still: a stagnant pool of water. 3. not active; sluggish; dull. adj. —stag 'nant ly, adv.

stag nate (stag/nāt), 1. be stagnant; become stagnant. 2. make stagnant. v., stag nated, stag nating. stag na tion (stag nā/shən), becoming or making stagnant; stagnant condition. n.

stag y (stāj/ē), 1. of or having to do with the stage. 2. suggestive of the stage; theatrical. 3. artificial; pompous; affected. adj., stag ier, stag iest. —stag 'ily, adv. —stag 'iness, n.

staid (stād), 1. having a settled, quiet character; sober; sedate: We think of Quakers as staid people. 2. Archaic. a pt. and a pp. of stay. 1 adj., 2 v. —staid 'ly, adv. —staid 'ness, n.

stain (stān), 1. soil; spot: He has ink stains on his shirt (n.). The tablecloth is stained where food has been spilled (v.). 2. spot by wrongdoing or disgrace; dishonor: His character is without stain (n.). His crimes stained the family honor (v.). 3. color; dye: She stained the chair with a green stain. n., v. —stain 'a ble, adj. —stain 'er, n.

stain less (stān/lis), without stain; spotless. adj. stainless steel, steel containing chromium, nickel, or some other metal that prevents rusting or staining.

stair (stār), 1. one of a series of steps for going from one level or floor to another. 2. set of such steps: We climbed the winding stair to the tower. n. —stair 'less, adj.

stairs, series of steps for going from one level or floor to another.

below stairs, 1. servants' quarters. 2. downstairs. stair case (stār/kās'), flight of stairs with its framework; stairs. n.

stair way (stār/wā'), way up and down by stairs; stairs. n.

stake¹ (stāk), 1. stick or post pointed at one end for driving into the ground. 2. fasten to a stake or with a stake. 3. U.S. mark with stakes; mark the boundaries of: The miner staked off his claim. 1 n., 2, 3 v., staked, stak ing.

pull up stakes, U.S. Informal. move away.

the stake, 1. stake to which a person was tied and then burned to death. 2. death by being burned in this way.

stake² (stāk), 1. risk (money or something valuable) on the result of a game or on any chance. 2. money risked; what is staked: The men played for high stakes. 3. the prize in a race or contest: The stakes were divided up among the winners. 4. something to gain or lose; interest; share in a property: Each of us has a stake in the future of our country. 1 v., staked, staking; 2-4 n. —stak'er, n.

at stake, to be won or lost; risked.

stake hold er (stāk'hōl'dər), person who takes care of what is bet and pays it to the winner. n.

stalac tite (stə lak'tit), 1. formation of lime, shaped like an icicle, hanging from the roof of a cave. Stalactites and stalagmites are formed by dripping water that contains lime. 2. any formation shaped like this. n.

stalag mite (stə lag'mit), 1. a formation of lime, shaped like a cone, built up on the floor of a cave. 2. any formation shaped like this. n.

stale (stāl), 1. not fresh: stale bread. 2. no longer new or interesting: a stale joke. 3. out of condition: The horse has gone stale from too much running. 4. make stale. 5. become stale. 1-3 adj., staler, stalest; 4,5 v., staled, staling. —stale'ly, adv. —stale'ness, n.

stale mate (stāl'māt'), 1. position of the pieces at chess when no move can be made without putting the king in check. 2. any position in which no action can be taken; complete standstill. 3. put in such a position; bring to a complete standstill. 1,2 n., 3 v., stale mat ed, stale mat ing.

Sta lin (stā'lin), Joseph, 1879-1953, Soviet political leader. n.

Sta lin grad (stā'lin grad), former name of a city in the SW Soviet Union, on the Volga River, now known as Volgograd. During World War II it was besieged by the Germans but not captured. n.

stalk¹ (stōk), 1. stem or main axis of a plant. 2. any slender, supporting or connecting part of a plant. A flower or leaf blade may have a stalk. 3. any similar part of an animal. The eyes of a crawfish are on stalks. n.

stalk² (stōk), 1. approach (wild animals) without being seen or heard by them: The hunters stalked the lion. 2. pursue (an animal or a person) without being seen or heard. 3. spread silently and steadily: Disease stalked through the land. 4. walk with slow, stiff, or haughty strides. 5. a haughty gait. 6. a stalking. 1-4 v., 5,6 n.

stalk ing-horse (stōk'ing hōrs'), 1. horse or figure of a horse, behind which a hunter conceals himself in stalking game. 2. anything used to hide plans or acts; pretext. n.

stall¹ (stōl), 1. place in a stable for one animal. 2. live in a stall, stable, kennel, etc. 3. Esp. Brit. a small place for selling things. At the public market different things are sold in different stalls under one big roof. 4. seat in the choir of a church. 5. Brit. seat in the front part of a theater. 6. put or keep in a stall. 7. stop or bring to a standstill, usually against one's wish: The engine stalled. 8. stick fast in mud, snow, etc. 9. of an airplane, lose so much speed that it cannot be controlled. 1,3-5 n., 2,6-9 v. —stall'like', adj.

Stalls for animals

stall² (stōl), Informal. 1. pretext to prevent action, the accomplishment of a purpose, etc. 2. pretend; evade; deceive. 1 n., 2 v.

stal lion (stal'yən), an uncastrated male horse, especially kept for breeding purposes. n.

stal wart (stōl'wärt), 1. strongly built. 2. strong and brave. 3. firm; steadfast. 4. a stalwart person. 5. a loyal supporter of a political party. 1-3 adj., 4,5 n. —stal'wart ly, adv. —stal'wart-ness, n.

sta men (stā'mən), part of a flower that contains the pollen, consisting of a slender, threadlike stem or filament and an anther. n.

Stam ford (stam'fərd), city in SW Connecticut. 93,000. n.

stam i na (stam'ə nə), strength; endurance. n.

stam i nate (stam'ə nit or stam'ə nāt), 1. having stamens but no pistils. 2. having a stamen or stamens; producing stamens. adj.

stam mer (stam'ər), 1. repeat the same sound in an effort to speak; hesitate in speaking. Example: I s-s-see a d-d-dog. 2. utter thus: stammer an excuse. 3. a stammering; stuttering: John has a nervous stammer. 1,2 v., 3 n. —stam'mer er, n. —stam'mer ing ly, adv.

stamp (stamp), 1. bring down (one's foot) with force: stamp on a spider, stamp one's foot in anger. 2. act of stamping. 3. fix firmly or deeply: His words were stamped on my mind. 4. a small piece of paper with a sticky back, put on letters, papers, parcels, etc., to show that a charge has been paid. 5. put postage on. 6. pound; crush; trample; tread: She stamped out the fire. 7. a heavy metal piece used to crush or pound rock, etc. 8. mill or machine that crushes rock, etc. 9. instrument that cuts, shapes, or impresses a design on (paper, wax, metal, etc.); thing that puts a mark on. 10. mark with such an instrument: She stamped the papers with a stamp that had her name on it. 11. the mark made with it. 12. an official mark or seal. 13. show to be of a certain quality or character; indicate: His speech stamps him as an educated man. 14. impression; marks: Her face bore the stamp of suffering. 15. kind; type: Men of his stamp are rare. 1,3,5,6,10,13 v., 2,4,7-9,11,12,14, 15 n. —stamp'er, n.

stam pede (stam pēd'), 1. a sudden scattering or headlong flight of a frightened herd of cattle or horses. 2. any headlong flight of a large group: a stampede of a panic-stricken crowd from a burning building. 3. scatter or flee in a stampede. 4. a general rush: a stampede to newly discovered gold fields. 5. make a general rush. 6. cause to stampede. 1,2,4 n., 3,5,6 v., stam ped ed, stam ped ing.

stance (stans), position of the feet of a player when making a stroke in golf or other games. n.

stanch¹ (stānch), 1. stop or check the flow of (blood, etc.). 2. stop the flow of blood from (a wound). 3. cease flowing. v. Also, staunch. —stanch'er, n.

stanch² (stānch), 1. firm; strong; stanch walls, a stanch defense. 2. loyal; steadfast: a stanch friend, a stanch supporter of the law. 3. watertight: a stanch boat. adj. Also, staunch. —stanch'ly, adv. —stanch'ness, n.

stan chion (stan'shən), 1. an upright bar, post, or support (in a window, in a stall for cattle, on a ship, etc.). 2. fasten (cattle) by stanchions. 3. strengthen or support with stanchions. 1 n., 2,3 v.

S, sta-men.

Stanchions for cattle. The closed one permits the cow to move her head but not to get away.

stand (stand), 1. be upright on one's feet: Don't stand if you are tired, but sit down. 2. have specified height when upright: He stands six feet in his socks. 3. rise to one's feet: He stood when she entered the room. 4. be set upright; be placed; be located: The box stands over there. 5. set upright or in an indicated position, condition, etc.: Stand the box here. 6. be in a certain place, rank, scale, etc.: He stood first in his class for service to the school. 7. take or keep a certain position: "Stand back!" called the policeman to the crowd. 8. take a way of thinking or acting: stand for fair play, stand on one's rights. 9. be in a special condition: He stands innocent of any wrong. The poor man stands in need of food and clothing. 10. be unchanged; hold good; remain the same: The rule against lateness will stand. 11. stay in place; last: The old house has stood for a hundred years. 12. gather and stay: Tears stood in her eyes. 13. bear; endure: Those plants cannot stand cold and die in winter. 14. withstand: cloth that will stand wear. 15. Informal. bear the expense of: stand treat. 16. hold a specified course: The ship stood out to sea. 17. of a dog, point. 18. stop moving; halt; stop: "Stand!" cried the sentry. 19. a halt; stop. 20. stop for defense, resistance, etc.: We made a last stand against the enemy. 21. a halt on a theatrical tour to give a performance. 22. place where a person stands: The policeman took his stand at the street corner. 23. position: The police take a strong stand against gambling. 24. a raised place where people can sit or stand. 25. something to put things on or in: Leave your wet umbrella in the stand in the hall. 26. place or fixtures for a small business: a newspaper stand. 27. group of growing trees or plants. 1-18 v., stood, standing; 19-27 n.

stand a chance, have a chance.

stand by, 1. be near. 2. help; support. 3. keep; maintain. 4. be or get ready for use, action, etc.

stand for, 1. represent; mean. 2. be on the side of; take the part of; uphold: Our school stands for fair play. 3. be a candidate for. 4. Informal. put up with. 5. sail or steer toward.

stand in, Informal. be associated or friendly; be on good terms.

stand off, keep off; keep away.

stand on, 1. be based on; depend on. 2. demand; assert; claim.

stand out, 1. project. 2. be noticeable or prominent. 3. refuse to yield.

stand over, be left for later consideration, treatment, or settlement.

stand up, 1. get to one's feet. 2. endure; last.

stand up for, take the part of; defend; support.

stand up to, meet or face boldly.

stand ard (stan'dərd), 1. anything taken as a basis of comparison; model: Your work is not up to standard. 2. rule, test, or requirement. 3. an authorized weight or measure. 4. used as a standard; according to rule. 5. having recognized excellence or authority: Scott and Dickens are standard authors. 6. flag, emblem, or symbol: The dragon was the standard of China. 7. an upright support: The floor lamp has a long standard. 1-3, 6, 7 n., 4, 5 adj.

stand ard bear er (stan'dərd bār'ər), 1. officer or soldier who carries a flag or standard. 2. person who carries a banner in a procession. 3. a conspicuous leader of a movement, political party, etc. n.

stand ard i za tion (stan'dər də zā'shən), 1. a standardizing. 2. being standardized. n.

stand ard ize (stan'dər dīz), 1. make standard in size, shape, weight, quality, strength, etc.: The parts of an automobile are standardized. 2. regulate by a standard. 3. test by a standard. v., stand ard ized, stand-ard iz ing.

standard of living, way of living that a person or community considers necessary to provide enough material things for comfort, happiness, etc.

standard time, time officially adopted for a region or country.

stand-by (stand/bī'), 1. person or thing that can be relied upon; chief support; ready resource. 2. ship kept in readiness for emergencies. 3. order or signal for a boat to stand by. n., pl. stand-bys.

stand-in (stand'in'), 1. Informal. favorable position; good standing. 2. person whose work is standing in the place of a motion-picture actor or actress while the lights, camera, etc., are being arranged. n.

standing (stan'ding), 1. position; reputation: men of good standing. 2. duration: a feud of long standing between two families. 3. straight up; erect. 4. done from an erect position: a standing jump. 5. established; permanent: a standing invitation, a standing army. 6. that stands: a standing lamp. 7. not flowing; stagnant: standing water. 8. act of standing; place of standing. 1, 2, 8 n., 3-7 adj.

standing room, 1. space to stand in. 2. space to stand in after all the seats are taken.

Stan dish (stan'dish), Miles, 1584?-1656, the military leader of the colony at Plymouth, Massachusetts. n.

stand-off (stand'of'), 1. a standing off or apart; reserve; aloofness. 2. standing off or apart; reserved; aloof. 3. tie or draw in a game. 1, 3 n., 2 adj.

stand-off ish (stand'of'ish), reserved; aloof. adj.

stand pat (stand'pat'), Informal. standing firm for things as they are; opposing any change. adj.

stand pat ter (stand'pat'ər), Informal. person who stands firm for things as they are and opposes any change, especially in politics. n.

stand pipe (stand'pip'), a large vertical pipe or tower to hold water. n.

stand point (stand'point'), point at which one stands to view something; point of view; mental attitude. n.

stand still (stand'stil'), a complete stop; halt. n.

stan hope (stan'hōp or stan'əp), a kind of light, open, one-seated carriage with two or four wheels. n.

stank (stangk), a pt. of stink. The dead fish stank. v.

Stan ley (stan'le), 1. Sir Henry Morton, 1841-1904, British explorer in Africa. He found the Scottish missionary, Livingstone, who had disappeared in Africa. 2. capital of the Falkland Islands. 1000. n.

stan nic (stan'ik), 1. of or having to do with tin. 2. containing tin with a valence of four. adj.

stan nous (stan'əs), 1. of or having to do with tin. 2. containing tin with a valence of two. adj.

Stan ton (stan'tən), 1. Edwin M., 1814-1869, American statesman who was secretary of war during the Civil War. 2. Mrs. Elizabeth Cady, 1815-1902, American advocate of woman's rights. n.

stan za (stan'zə), group of lines of poetry, commonly four or more, arranged according to a fixed plan; verse of a poem. n.

sta pes (stā'pēz), the stirrup bone, the innermost of the three small bones in the middle ear. n.

sta ple: (stā'pl), 1. a U-shaped piece of metal with pointed ends. Staples are driven into doors, etc., to hold hooks, pins, or bolts. 2. a bent piece of wire used to hold together papers, parts of a book, etc. 3. fasten with a staple or staples. 1, 2 n., 3 v., sta pled, sta pling.

sta ple: (stā'pl), 1. the most important or principal article grown or manufactured in a place: Cotton is the staple in many Southern States. 2. chief element or material. 3. most important; principal: The weather was their staple subject of conversation. 4. Archaic. the principal market of a place; chief center of trade. 5. a raw material. 6. fiber of cotton, wool, etc. 7. sort according to fiber: staple wool. 8. established in commerce: a staple trade. 9. regularly produced in large quantities for the market. 1, 2, 4-6 n., 3, 8, 9 adj., 7 v., sta pled, sta pling.

sta pler¹ (stā'plər), machine for fastening together papers, parts of a book, etc., with wire staples. n.

sta pler² (stā'plər), person who sorts and grades fibers of wool, cotton, etc. n.

star (stär), 1. any of the heavenly bodies appearing as bright points in the sky at night. 2. any heavenly body except the moon, the planets, comets, and meteors. 3. a plane figure having five points, or sometimes six, like these: ☆ ☆. 4. thing having or suggesting this shape. 5. set with stars; ornament with stars: Nan's card was starred for perfect attendance. 6. asterisk (*). 7. mark with an asterisk. 8. in the United States, a representation of a star symbolizing one of the States in the Union. 9. person of brilliant qualities: an athletic star. 10. a famous person in some art, profession, etc.; especially, one who plays the lead in a performance: a motion picture star. 11. chief; best; leading; excellent. 12. be prominent; be a leading performer; excel: She has starred in many motion pictures. 13. present as a star. 14. fate; fortune. 1-4,6,8-10,14 n., 5,7,12,13 v., starred, star ring; 11 adj.

Staple (def. 1)

see stars, Informal. see flashes of light as a result of a hard blow on the head.
thank one's (lucky) stars, be thankful for one's good luck.

star board (stär'bôrd or stâr'bôrd), 1. the right side of a ship, when facing forward. See aft for diagram. 2. on the right side of a ship. 3. turn (the helm) to the right side. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v.

starch (stärch), 1. a white, tasteless food substance. Potatoes, wheat, rice, and corn contain much starch. 2. preparation of it used to stiffen clothes, curtains, etc. 3. stiffen (clothes, curtains, etc.) with starch. 4. a stiff, formal manner; stiffness. 5. Slang. vigor. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v.

starches, foods containing much starch.

Star Chamber or star chamber, 1. in English history, a court that used arbitrary, secret, and unfair methods of trial. It was abolished in 1641. 2. any court, committee, or group like this.

starchy (stär'chē), 1. like starch; containing starch. 2. stiffened with starch. 3. stiff in manner; formal. adj., starch i er, starch i est. —starch'i ness, n.

star dom (stär'dəm), 1. being a star actor or performer. 2. star actors or performers as a group. n.

star dust, 1. masses of stars that look so small as to suggest particles of dust. 2. particles of matter falling from space to the earth. 3. Informal. glamour; happy enchantment.

stare (stär), 1. look long and directly with the eyes wide open. A person stares in wonder, surprise, stupidity, curiosity, or from mere rudeness. 2. a long and direct look with the eyes wide open: The doll's eyes were set in an unwinking stare. 3. bring to a named condition by staring. 4. gaze at. 5. be very striking or glaring. 1,3-5 v., stared, staring; 2 n.
 —star'er, n.

stare down or out of countenance, confuse or embarrass by staring.
stare one in the face, be very evident; seem likely to happen soon.

star fish (stär'fish'), a star-shaped sea animal. n., pl. starfishes or (esp. collectively) starfish.

star gaze (stär'gāz'), 1. gaze at the stars. 2. be absent-minded; daydream. v., star gazed, star gaz ing.

star ing (stär'ing), 1. very conspicuous; too bright; glaring. 2. gazing with a stare; wide-open. adj.

stark (stärk), 1. downright; complete: That fool is talking stark nonsense. 2. entirely; completely: The boys went swimming stark naked. 3. stiff: The dog lay stark in death. 4. harsh; stern. 5. Archaic. strong; sturdy. 6. in a stark manner. 1,3-5 adj., 2,6 adv. —stark'ly, adv.

star less (stär'lis), without stars; without starlight. adj.

star let (stär'lit), 1. a young actress or singer who is being trained for leading roles in motion pictures.

2. a little star. n.

star light (stär'lit'), 1. light from the stars. 2. lighted by the stars. 1 n., 2 adj.

star like (stär'lik'), 1. shaped like a star. 2. shining like a star. adj.

star ling (stär'ling), 1. a common European bird which nests about buildings and is easily tamed. 2. a kind of American blackbird. n.

star lit (stär'lit'), lighted by the stars: a starlit night. adj.

star-of-Beth le hem (stär'æv beth'lē əm), plant of the same family as the lily, that grows from a small bulb and has a tall cluster of white, star-shaped flowers. n.

Star of Bethlehem, in Christian use, the star that heralded Christ's birth.

starred (stär'd), 1. decorated with stars. 2. marked with a star or stars. 3. presented as a star actor or performer. 4. influenced by the stars or by fate. adj.

star ry (stär'ē), 1. lighted by stars; containing many stars: a starry sky. 2. shining like stars: starry eyes. 3. like a star in shape. 4. of or having to do with stars. adj., star ri er, star ri est.

Stars and Bars, first flag used by the Confederate States. It had two horizontal red stripes with a white strip between and a blue square with the circle of seven white stars on it.

Stars and Stripes, the flag of the United States.
star-span gled (stär'spang'gld), spangled with stars. adj.

Star-Spangled Banner, 1. the American national anthem. The words were composed by Francis Scott Key during the War of 1812. 2. flag of the United States; Stars and Stripes.

start (stär't), 1. get in motion; set out; begin a journey: The train started on time. 2. begin: start a book. 3. set moving, going, acting, etc.; cause to set out; cause to begin: start an automobile, start a fire. 4. the beginning of a movement, act, journey, race, etc. 5. a setting in motion; signal to start. 6. give a sudden, involuntary jerk or twitch; move suddenly: He started in surprise. 7. come, rise, or spring out suddenly: Tears started from her eyes. 8. burst or stick out: eyes seeming to start from their sockets. 9. a sudden movement; jerk: I awoke with a start. 10. on seeing the snake, the man sprang up with a start. 10. a beginning ahead of others; advantage: He got the start of his rivals. 11. chance of starting a career, etc.: His father gave him a start. 12. spurt of activity: work by fits and starts. 13. place, line, etc., where a race begins. 14. rouse: start a rabbit. 15. become loose. 16. cause to become loose: start a run in a stocking. 1-3,6-8,14-16 v., 4,5,9-13 n.

start in, out, or up, start.

start er (stär'tər), 1. person or thing that starts. 2. person who gives the signal for starting. n.

starting point, place of starting; beginning.

star tle (stär'tl), 1. frighten suddenly; surprise. 2. a sudden shock of surprise or fright. 3. move suddenly in fear or surprise. 1,3 v., star tled, star tling; 2 n.

star tling (stär'tling), surprising; frightening. adj.
star va tion (stär vā'shən), 1. a starving: Starvation of prisoners is barbarous. 2. suffering from extreme hunger; being starved: Starvation caused his death. n.

starve (stärv), 1. die because of hunger. 2. suffer severely because of hunger. 3. weaken or kill with hunger. 4. force or subdue by lack of food: They starved the enemy into surrendering. 5. Informal. feel hungry. 6. have a strong desire or craving. 7. weaken or destroy by lack of something needed. v., starved, starv ing.

starve for, suffer from lack of: starve for news.

Starling (def. 1)
(about 8 in. long)

Starfish
(about 5 in. across) starve ling (stärv'ling), 1. starving; hungry. 2. person, animal, etc., that is suffering from lack of food. 1 adj., 2 n.

stash (stash), U.S. Slang. hide or put away for safe-keeping or future use. v.

stat a ble (stāt'ə bl), that can be stated. adj.

state (stāt), 1. condition of a person or thing: He is in a state of poor health. Ice is water in a solid state. 2. a person's position in life; rank: humble state. 3. tell in speech or writing; express; say: state one's views. 4. settle; fix. 5. high style of living; dignity; pomp: a coach of state. 6. used on or reserved for very formal and special occasions; ceremonious; formal: state robes. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., stat ed, stat ing; 6 adj.

lie in state, lie in an open coffin to be seen by people before being buried.

State or state (stāt), 1. nation. 2. one of several organized political groups of people that together form a nation: The State of Texas is one of the United States. 3. territory of a State. 4. civil government; highest civil authority: affairs of State. 5. of or pertaining to a State: a State road, State police. 6. of or having to do with civil government or authority: state control. 1-4 n., 5,6 adj.

state bank, 1. bank owned or controlled by the government. 2. bank that has a charter from a State government.

state craft (stāt'kraft'), 1. statesmanship. 2. crafty statesmanship. n.

stat ed (stāt'id), 1. said; told. 2. fixed; settled: stated times, for a stated fee. adj.

state hood (stāt'hüd), condition of being a State. n.

State house or state house (stāt'hous'), U.S. building in which the legislature of a State meets; capitol of a State. n.

state ly (stāt'lē), dignified; imposing; grand; majestic: The Capitol at Washington is a state ly building. adj., state li er, state li est. —state'li ness, n.

state ment (stāt'mənt), 1. act of stating; manner of stating something. 2. something stated; report. 3. summary of an account, showing the amount owed or due. n.

Stat en Island (stat'n), island in New York Bay, south of Manhattan Island. It is a part of New York City. 222,000 pop.; 57 sq. mi.

State prison or State's prison, prison maintained by a State.

State rights, States' rights.

state room (stāt'rūm'), a private room on a ship or railroad train. n.

State's attorney, the law officer who represents the State in court.

state's evidence, 1. evidence brought forward by the government in a criminal case. 2. U.S. testimony given in court by a criminal against his associates in a crime.

turn state's evidence, U.S. testify in court against one's associates in a crime.

state side (stāt'sīd'), Informal. from or in the United States: American soldiers abroad are happy to have state-side magazines. adj.

states man (stāts'mən), person skilled in the management of public or national affairs. n., pl. states men.

states man like (stāts'mən lik'), having the qualities of a statesman. adj.

states man ly (stāts'mən lē), like, worthy of, or befitting a statesman. adj.

states man ship (stāts'mən ship), the qualities of a statesman; skill in the management of public or national affairs. n.

state socialism, form of socialism in which government control, management, or ownership is used to improve social conditions.

States' rights, powers belonging to the separate States of the United States, under the Constitution. The doctrine of States' rights holds that all powers not specifically delegated by the Constitution to the national government, nor denied by it to the States, belong to the States. Also, State rights.

states wom an (stāts'wūm'ən), a woman statesman. n., pl. states wom en.

state-wide (stāt'wid'), covering an entire state; over all of a state. adj.

stat ic (stat'ik), 1. at rest; standing still: Civilization does not remain static, but changes constantly. 2. having to do with bodies at rest or forces that balance each other. 3. acting by weight without producing motion: static pressure. 4. having to do with stationary electrical charges that balance each other. Static electricity can be produced by rubbing a glass rod with a silk cloth. 5. atmospheric electricity. 6. interference, especially with radio signals, due to such electricity. 7. of or having to do with such electricity. 1-4,7 adj., 5,6 n. —stat'i cal ly, adv.

stat ics (stat'iks), branch of mechanics that deals with objects at rest or forces that balance each other. n.

sta tion (stā'shən), 1. place to stand in; place which a person is appointed to occupy in the performance of some duty; assigned post: The policeman took his station at the corner. 2. building or place used for a definite purpose. A place where soldiers live, a harbor for ships, the police headquarters of a district, the point from which surveying measurements are made, a place for raising sheep or cattle, and a region to which a government ship or fleet is assigned for duty are all called stations. 3. place or equipment for sending out or receiving programs, messages, etc., by radio and television. 4. assign a station to; place: He stationed himself just outside the main doorway of the hotel. 5. a regular stopping place: a railroad station. 6. social position; rank: A serf was a man of humble station in life. 1-3,5,6 n., 4 v.

station agent, person in charge of a railroad station.

sta tion ar y (stā'shən er'ē), 1. having a fixed station or place; not movable: A factory engine is stationary. 2. standing still; not moving. 3. not changing in size, number, activity, etc.: The population of this town has been stationary for ten years at about 5000 people. adj.

sta tion er (stā'shən er), person who sells paper, pens, pencils, ink, etc. n.

sta tion er y (stā'shən er'ē), writing materials; paper, cards, and envelopes. n.

station house, building used as a station; especially, a police station.

sta tion mas ter (stā'shən mas'tər), person in charge of a railroad station. n.

station wagon, a closed automobile, usually having a tailboard and more seats than a sedan.

stat ism (stāt'iz əm), a highly centralized governmental control of the economy of a state or nation. n.

stat ist (stāt'ist), 1. statistician. 2. one advocating statism. n.

sta tis tic (stə tis'tik), statistical. adj.

sta tis ti cal (stə tis'tə kl), of or having to do with statistics; consisting of or based on statistics. adj.

sta tis ti cal ly (stə tis'tik lē), in a statistical manner; according to statistics. adv.

stat is ti cian (stāt'is tish'ən), expert in statistics; person who prepares statistics. n.

sta tis tics (stə tis'tiks), 1. numerical facts about people, the weather, business conditions, etc. Statistics are collected and classified systematically. 2. science of collecting and classifying such facts in order to show their significance. 1 n.pl., 2 n.sing.

stat u ar y (stach'ū er'ē), 1. statues collectively. 2. art of making statues. 3. of or for statues: statuary marble. 4. sculptor. 1,2,4 n., pl. stat u ar ies; 3 adj.

stat ue (stach'ū), image of a person or animal carved in stone or wood, cast in bronze, or modeled in clay or wax. n.

Statue of Liberty, a huge statue of a woman holding aloft a lighted torch that was given to the United States by France. It stands on an island in New York Bay.

stat u esque (stach'ū esk'), like a statue in dignity, formal grace, or classic beauty. adj.

stat u ette (stach'ū et'), a small statue. n.

stat ure (stach'ər), 1. height: A man six feet tall is above average stature. 2. development; physical, mental, or moral growth. n.

sta tus (stā'təs or stat'əs), 1. condition; state: Diplomats are interested in the status of world affairs. 2. social or professional standing; position; rank: his status as a doctor. 3. legal position. n.

status quo (kwō), the way things are; the existing state of affairs.

stat ute (stach'üt), 1. law enacted by a legislative body: The statutes for the United States are made by Congress. 2. law; decree; formally established rule. n.

statute law, written law; law expressed or stated by statutes.

statute mile, 5280 feet.

stat u to ry (stach'ü tö'rē), 1. having to do with a statute. 2. fixed by statute. 3. punishable by statute. adj. —stat'ü tö'rily, adv.

St. Augus tine (sānt ô'gəs tēn), city in NE Florida, the oldest city in the United States. 15,000.

staunch (stōnch), stanch. v., adj. —staunch'ly, adv. —staunch'ness, n.

stave (stāv), 1. one of the curved pieces of wood that form the sides of a barrel, tub, etc. 2. stick or staff. 3. rung of a ladder. 4. break a hole in (a barrel, boat, etc.). 5. become smashed or broken in. 6. verse or stanza of a poem or song. 7. the musical staff. 8. furnish with staves. 1-3,6,7 n., 4,5,8 v., staved or stove, staving.

stave off, put off; keep back; delay or prevent: The lost campers ate birds' eggs to stave off starvation.

staves (stāvz), 1. a pl. of staff. 2. pl. of stave. n.

stay¹ (stā), 1. continue to be as indicated; remain: stay clean. Stay here till I call you. 2. live for a while; dwell: She is staying with her aunt while her mother is ill. 3. a staying; a stop; time spent: a pleasant stay in the country. 4. stop; halt: We have no time to stay. 5. pause; wait: "Time and tide stay for no man." 6. wait for; await. 7. put an end to for a while; satisfy (hunger, appetite, etc.). 8. put off; hold back; delay; restrain; check: The teacher stayed judgment till she could hear both sides. 9. check; restraint: a stay on his activity. 10. delay in carrying out the order of a court: The judge granted the condemned man a stay for an appeal. 11. endure: unable to stay to the end of a race. 12. Informal. staying power; endurance. 1,2,4-8,11 v., stayed or (Archaic) staid, staying; 3,9,10,12 n. —stay'er, n.

stay² (stā), 1. a support; prop; brace: The oldest son was the family's stay. 2. support; prop; hold up; strengthen mentally or spiritually; fix or rest in dependence or reliance. 1 n., 2 v., stayed, staying.

stays, corset.

stay³ (stā), 1. a strong rope, often of wire, which supports a mast of a ship. 2. any rope or chain similarly used. 3. support or secure with stays. 4. of a ship, change to the other tack. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., stayed, staying.

in stays, of a ship, in the act of changing from one tack to another.

stay sail (stā'sāl'; Nautical stā'sl), a sail fastened on a stay or rope. n.

St. Ber nard (sānt bər nārd'), 1. Great, a mountain pass in the Alps between NW Italy and SW Switzerland. 8108 ft. high. 2. Little, a mountain pass in the Alps between NW Italy and E France. 7177 ft. high.

St. Clair (sānt klār'), 1. river flowing S from Lake Huron into Lake St. Clair, between SE Michigan and the province of Ontario, Canada. 40 mi. 2. Lake, lake between SE Michigan and the province of Ontario, Canada. 30 mi. long; 24 mi. wide; 460 sq. mi.

St. Croix (sānt kroi'), largest of the Virgin Islands. It belongs to the United States. 15,000 pop.; 82 sq. mi.

St.-Den is (sānt den'is), capital of Réunion. 42,000. n.

stead (sted), place: Our laundress could not come, but sent her sister in her stead. n.

stand in good stead, be of advantage or service to.

stead fast (sted'fast'), firmly fixed; constant; not moving or changing: Benjamin Franklin was a steadfast servant of his country. adj. Also, steadfast. —stead'fast ly, adv. —stead'fast ness, n.

stead y (sted'ē), 1. changing little; uniform; regular: steady progress. 2. firmly fixed; firm; not swaying or shaking: hold a ladder steady. 3. not easily excited; calm: steady nerves. 4. resolute; steadfast: steady friendship. 5. having good habits; reliable: a steady young man. 6. of a ship, keeping nearly upright in a heavy sea. 7. make steady; keep steady: Steady the ladder while I climb to the roof. 8. become steady: The wind steadied. 1-6 adj., steadier, steadiest; 7,8 v., steadied, steadying. —stead'ily, adv. —stead'i-ness, n.

steak (stāk), slice of meat or fish for broiling or frying. Steak often means beefsteak. n.

steal (stēl), 1. take (something) that does not belong to one; take dishonestly: steal money. 2. take, get, or do secretly: steal a look at someone. 3. take, get, or win by art, charm, or gradual means: She steals all hearts. 4. move secretly or quietly: She stole out of the house. 5. move slowly or gently: the years steal by. 6. Informal. act of stealing. 7. Informal. the thing stolen. 8. run to (a base) in baseball without being helped by a hit or error. 1-5,8 v., stole, sto len, steal ing; 6,7 n.

stealth (stelth), secret or sly action: He obtained the letter by stealth, taking it while nobody was in the room. n.

stealth y (stel'thē), done in a secret manner; secret; sly: The cat crept in a stealthy way toward the bird. adj., stealth i er, stealth i est. —stealth'i ly, adv. —stealth'i-ness, n.

steam (stēm), 1. water in the form of vapor or gas. Steam is used to heat houses, run engines, etc. 2. give off steam: The cup of coffee was steaming. 3. rise in steam. 4. move by steam: The ship steamed off. 5. cook, soften, or freshen by steam. 6. Informal. power; energy; force. 1,6 n., 2-5 v. —steam'like', adj.

let off steam, Informal. 1. get rid of excess energy. 2. relieve one's feelings.

steam boat (stēm'bōt'), boat moved by steam. n.

steam chest, chamber through which the steam of an engine passes from the boiler to the cylinder.

steam engine, engine operated by steam, typically one in which a sliding piston in a cylinder is moved by the expansive action of steam generated in a boiler.

steam er (stēm'ər), 1. steamboat; steamship. 2. engine run by steam. 3. container in which something is steamed. n.

steamer rug, blanket used to keep a person warm in a chair on the deck of a ship.

steam fitter, man who installs and repairs steam pipes, radiators, boilers, etc.

steam roller, 1. a heavy roller, usually moved by steam, formerly used to crush and level materials in making roads. 2. Informal. means of crushing opposition.

steam-roll er (stēm'rōl'ər), Informal. crush. v.

steam ship (stēm'ship'), ship moved by steam. n.

steam shovel, machine for digging, usually operated by steam.

steam y (stēm'ē), 1. of steam; like steam. 2. full of steam; giving off steam; rising in steam. adj., steam-i er, steam i est. —steam'i ness, n.

ste ap sin (stē ap'sən), a digestive enzyme secreted in the pancreatic juice, which changes fats into glycerol and fatty acids. n.

ste a rate (stē'ə rāt), salt of stearic acid. n.

ste ar ic (stē ar'ik or stir'ik), having to do with stearin, suet, or fat. adj.

stearic acid, a solid white substance obtained from certain fats and used in making candles.

ste a rin (stē'ə rin or stir'ən), 1. a colorless, odorless substance that is the chief constituent of many animal and vegetable fats. 2. mixture of fatty acids used for making candles, solid alcohol, etc. n.

sted fast (sted/fast'), steadfast. adj. —sted/fast-ly, adv.

steed (stēd), 1. horse, especially a riding horse. 2. a high-spirited horse. n.

steel (stēl), 1. iron mixed with carbon so that it is very hard, strong, and tough. Most tools are made from steel. 2. something made from steel. 3. sword. 4. piece of steel for making sparks. 5. rod of steel for sharpening knives. 6. a narrow strip of steel in a corset. 7. made of steel. 8. point, edge, or cover with steel. 9. make hard or strong like steel: He steeled his heart against the sufferings of the poor. 10. steellike hardness or strength: The brave soldier had nerves of steel. 1-6, 10 n., 7 adj., 8, 9 v. —steel/less, adj. —steel/like, adj.

steel blue, lustrous dark blue, like the color of tempered steel.

steel wool, small, fine steel shavings, used in cleaning or polishing surfaces.

steel work er (stēl'wēr'-kər), person who works in a place where steel is made. n.

steel works (stēl'wērks'), place where steel is made. n. pl. or sing.

steel y (stēl'ē), 1. made of steel. 2. like steel in color, strength, or hardness. adj., steel i er, steel i est. —steel/i-ness, n.

steel yard (stēl'yārd or stīl'yārd), a scale for weighing. A steelyard has unequal arms, the longer one having a movable weight and the shorter a hook for holding the object to be weighed. n.

steen bok (stēn'bok' or stān'-bok'), any of various small African antelopes frequenting rocky places. n.

steep¹ (stēp), 1. having a sharp slope; almost straight up and down: The hill is steep. 2. a steep slope. 3. Informal. unreasonable: a steep price. 1, 3 adj., 2 n. —steep/ly, adv. —steep/ness, n.

steep² (stēp), 1. soak: Let the tea steep in boiling water for five minutes. His sword was steeped in blood. 2. immerse; imbue: ruins steeped in gloom. 3. a soaking. 4. liquid in which something is soaked. 1, 2 v., 3, 4 n. —steep'er, n.

steeped in, filled with; permeated by.

stee ple (stē'pl), a high tower on a church, usually with a spire. See spire for picture. n.

stee ple chase (stē'pl chās'), a horse race over a course having ditches, hedges, and other obstacles. n.

stee ple jack (stē'pl jak'), man who climbs steeples, tall chimneys, or the like, to make repairs, etc. n.

steer¹ (stīr), 1. guide the course of: steer a ship, steer a sled, steer an automobile, steer an airplane. 2. be guided: This car steers easily. 3. guide a ship: The pilot steered for the harbor. 4. direct one's way or course: Steer away from flattery. 5. U.S. Slang. an idea or a suggested course of action. 1-4 v., 5 n. —steer'er, n.

steer clear of, keep away from; avoid.

steer² (stīr), 1. a young ox, usually two to four years old. 2. any male of beef cattle. n.

steer age (stī'ij), 1. part of a passenger ship occupied by passengers traveling at the cheapest rate. 2. act of steering. 3. manner in which a ship is affected by the helm. n.

steer age way (stī'ij wā'), amount of forward motion a ship must have before it can be steered. n.

steering gear, apparatus for steering an automobile, ship, etc.

steering wheel, wheel that is turned to steer an automobile, ship, etc.

steers man (stīrz'mən), person who steers a ship, n., pl. steers men.

Stef ăns son (stef'ən sn), Vilhjálmur, 1879-1962, American anthropologist and Arctic explorer, born in Canada. n.

steg o my ia (steg'ə mī'ə), mosquito that transmits yellow fever. n.

steg o sau rus (steg'ə sô'rəs), an extinct reptile of great size (sometimes nearly 40 feet long) with heavy bony armor. n., pl. steg o sau ri (-rī).

stein (stīn), a beer mug. n.

Stein metz (stīn'mets), Charles P., 1865-1923, American scientist and engineer, born in Germany. n.

ste le (stē'lē), an upright slab or pillar of stone bearing an inscription, sculptural design, or the like. n., pl. ste lae (-lē) or ste les.

St. E li as (sānt ilī'əs), Mount, mountain on border between the state of Alaska and Yukon Territory, Canada. 18,008 ft.

stel lar (stel'ər), 1. of or having to do with the stars: of a star; like a star. 2. chief: a stellar role. adj.

St. El mo's fire (sānt el'mōz), light due to a discharge of atmospheric electricity, often seen on masts, towers, etc.

stem¹ (stem), 1. the main part of a plant above the ground. The stem supports the branches, etc. 2. the part of a flower, a fruit, or a leaf that joins it to the plant or tree. 3. remove the stem from (a leaf, fruit, etc.). 4. anything like or suggesting the stem of a plant: the stem of a goblet, the stem of a pipe, etc. 5. grow out; develop: Newspapers stemmed from the invention of the printing press. 6. originate or spring from. 7. line of descent of a family. 8. the part of a word to which endings are added and in which changes are made. Run is the stem of running, runner, ran, etc. 9. the bow or front end of a boat. 1, 2, 4, 7-9 n., 3, 5, 6 v., stemmed, stem ming. —stem/like, adj.

from stem to stern, from one end of a ship to the other.

stem² (stem), 1. stop; check; dam up. 2. make progress against: stem the swift current. v., stemmed, stem-ming.

stem less (stem'lis), having no stem; having no visible stem. adj.

stemmed (stemd), 1. having a stem. 2. having the stem removed. adj.

stem wind ing (stem'wīn'ding), of a watch, winding by turning a knob on the stem. adj.

stench (stench), a very bad smell; stink: the stench of a pigsty, the stench of gas. n.

sten cil (sten'sl), 1. a thin sheet of metal, paper, etc., having letters or designs cut through it. When it is laid on a surface and ink or color is spread on, these letters or designs are made on the surface. 2. the letters or designs so made. 3. mark or paint with a stencil: The curtains have a stenciled border. 1, 2 n., 3 v., sten ciled, sten cil ing or esp. Brit. sten cilled, sten cil ling.

sten o graph (sten'ə graf), 1. a writing in shorthand. 2. any of various keyboard instruments, somewhat resembling a typewriter, used for writing in shorthand. 3. write in shorthand. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

ste nog ra pher (stə nog'rə fər), person whose work is stenography and typewriting. n.

sten o graph ic (sten'ə graf'ik), 1. of stenography. 2. made by stenography. 3. using short symbols instead of letters, words, etc. adj.

sten o graph i cal ly (sten'ə graf'ik lē), by means of stenography. adv.

ste nog ra phy (stə nog'rə fē), 1. method of rapid writing that uses symbols for letters, sounds, and words. 2. act of writing in such symbols. n.

Sten tor (sten'tōr), in Greek legend, a Greek herald in the Trojan War, whose voice was as loud as the voices of fifty men. n.

Steelyard. The weight is moved until the arms are horizontal; the number at which it rests is the weight of the object on the hook.

Steenbok (about 1¾ ft. high at the shoulder)

Example of stenography (Gregg system). The symbols mean "Your letter was received today."

sten to ri an (sten tō'rē an), very loud or powerful in sound. adj.

step (step), 1. a movement made by lifting the foot and putting it down again in a new position; one motion of the leg in walking, running, dancing, etc. 2. distance covered by one such movement: She was three steps away when he called her back. 3. move the legs as in walking, running, dancing, etc.: Step lively! 4. a short distance; little way: The school is only a step away. 5. walk a short distance: Step this way. 6. way of walking, dancing, etc.: a brisk step. 7. pace uniform with that of another or others or in time with music: keep step, be in step. 8. measure (off) by taking steps: Step off the distance from the door to the window. 9. put the foot down: step on a worm. 10. place for the foot in going up or coming down. A stair or a rung of a ladder is a step. 11. make or arrange like a flight of steps. 12. sound made by putting the foot down. 13. footprint: see steps in the mud. 14. an action: The principal took steps to stop needless absence from school. 15. a degree in a scale; a grade in rank: A colonel is three steps above a captain. 16. in music, a degree of the staff or the scale. 17. interval between two successive degrees of the scale. 18. part like a step; support, frame, etc., for holding the end of something upright: the step of a mast. 19. set (a mast); fix or place in a support. 20. Informal. go fast. 1,2,4,6,7,10,12-18 n., 3,5,8,9, 11,19,20 v., stepped, step ping.

steps, stepladder.
step by step, little by little; slowly.
step down, 1. come down. 2. decrease.
step in, come in; intervene; take part.
step on it, Informal. go faster; hurry up. step out, U.S. Informal. go out for entertainment.
step up, 1. go up. 2. increase.
watch one's step, be careful.

step brother (step'brʌθər), one's stepfather's or stepmother's son by a former marriage. n.

step child (step'child'), child of one's husband or wife by a former marriage. n., pl. step chil dren.

step dame (step'dām'), Archaic. stepmother. n.

step daugh ter (step'dô'tər), daughter of one's husband or wife by a former marriage. n.

step-down (step'daun'), serving or causing to decrease gradually. adj.

step fa ther (step'fā'thər), man who has married one's mother after the death or divorce of one's real father. n.

Ste phens (stē'vənz), Alexander Hamilton, 1812-1883, vice-president of the Confederate States of America from 1861 to 1865. n.

Ste phen son (stē'vən sn), George, 1781-1848, English engineer. He improved the steam locomotive and in 1825 built one of the first trains carrying passengers and freight. n.

step-in (step'in'), of garments, shoes, etc., put on by being stepped into. adj.

step lad der (step'lād'ər), ladder with flat steps instead of rungs. n.

step moth er (step'mu'thər), woman who has married one's father after the death or divorce of one's real mother. n.

step par ent (step'pār'ənt), stepfather or stepmother. n.

steppe (step), 1. one of the vast treeless plains in SE Europe and in Asia. 2. a vast treeless plain. n.

stepped-up (stept'up'), increased in size, speed, or extent. adj.

step per (step'ər), person or animal that steps, especially in a particular manner: a high stepper. n.

stepping stone, 1. stone or one of a line of stones in shallow water, a marshy place, or the like, used in crossing. 2. stone for use in mounting or ascending. 3. anything serving as a means of advancing or rising.

step sis ter (step'sis'tər), one's stepfather's or stepmother's daughter by a former marriage. n.

step son (step'sun'), son of one's husband or wife by a former marriage. n.

stept (stept), Poetic. a pt. and a pp. of step. v.

step-up (stept'up'), serving or causing to increase gradually. adj.

stere (stir), a cubic meter. n.

ster eo (ster'ē ō or stir'ē ō), stereophonic. adj.

ster eo phon ic (ster'ē ə fon'ik), designed for use with a radio or phonograph, or motion picture or television sound in such a way as to imitate an actual performance by the use of two or more separate systems of sound reproduction. adj.

ster eo pt i con (ster'ē op'tə kən), an improved form of magic lantern, having a powerful light that projects pictures upon a screen. n.

ster eo scope (ster'ē ə-skōp'), instrument through which two pictures of the same object or scene are viewed, one by each eye. The object or scene thus viewed appears to have three dimensions, as it would if really seen. n.

ster eo scop ic (ster'ē ə skop'ik), having to do with stereoscopes. adj.

ster eo type (ster'ē ə tīp'), 1. a fixed form; something that never changes. 2. give a fixed or settled form to. 1 n., 2 v., ster eo typed, ster eo typ ing. —ster'eo o-ty'per, n.

ster eo typed (ster'ē ə tīpt'), fixed or settled in form; conventional: "It gives me great pleasure to be with you tonight!" is a stereotyped opening for a speech. adj.

ster ile (ster'əl), 1. free from living germs: The doctor kept his instruments sterile. 2. barren; not fertile; not producing crops: Sterile land does not produce good crops. 3. not producing seed or offspring: a sterile cow. 4. not producing results: sterile hopes. adj. —ster'ile ly, adv.

ste ril i ty (stə ril'ə tē), barrenness; sterile condition or character. n., pl. ste ril i ties.

ster i li za tion (ster'ə lə zā'shən), a sterilizing or being sterilized: the sterilization of dishes by boiling them. n.

ster i lize (ster'ə līz), 1. free from living germs: The water had to be sterilized by boiling to make it fit to drink. 2. deprive of fertility. v., ster i lized, ster i liz ing. —ster'i liz'er, n.

ster ling (stər'ling), 1. British money. 2. of British money; payable in British money. 3. of standard quality; containing 92.5 per cent pure silver. Sterling is stamped on solid silver knives, forks, etc. 4. sterling silver or things made of it. 5. made of sterling silver. 6. genuine; excellent; dependable: the sterling character of George Washington. 1,4 n., 2,3,5,6 adj.

sterling silver, solid silver; silver 92.5 per cent pure.

stern¹ (stərn), 1. severe; strict; harsh: a stern master, a stern frown. 2. hard; not yielding; firm: stern necessity. 3. grim: stern mountains. adj. —stern'ly, adv. —stern'ness, n.

stern² (stərn), the hind part of a ship or boat. See aft for diagram. n.

ster nal (stər'nəl), of or having to do with the breastbone or sternum. adj.

stern most (stərn'mōst), 1. nearest the stern. 2. farthest in the rear. adj.

stern sheets, space at the stern of an open boat.

ster num (stər'nəm), the breastbone. n., pl. ster na (-nə) or ster nums.

Stereoscope. The pictures are taken from two points a short distance apart, and the instrument contains lenses which make them appear to be one view.

stern ward (stèrn'wàrd), toward the stern; astern. adv.

stern wards (stèrn'wàrdz), sternward. adv.

stern way (stèrn'wā'), backward movement of a ship. n.

ster to rous (stèr'tə rəs), making a heavy snoring sound: sterlorous breathing. adj.

—ster to rous ness, n.

steth o scope (steth'ə skōp), instrument used by doctors when listening to sounds in the lungs, heart, etc. n.

steth o scop ic (steth'ə-skōp'ik), 1. having to do with the stethoscope or its use. 2. made or obtained by the stethoscope. adj.

Doctor using a stethoscope. The sounds are conveyed to his ears through two hollow tubes.

St.-Étienne (san tā tyen'), city in SE France. 182,000. n.

Stet tin (shet tēn'), seaport in NW Poland, formerly in Germany. 259,000. n.

Steuben (stū'bən or stū'bən), Baron Frederick William von, 1730-1794, Prussian general who aided the Americans in the Revolutionary War. n.

steve dore (stē'və dōr), man who loads and unloads ships. n.

Stevens (stē'vənz), Thaddeus, 1792-1868, American statesman and abolitionist. n.

Stevenson (stē'vən sən), 1. Adlai Ewing, 1900-1965, United States political leader. 2. Robert Louis, 1850-1894, Scottish author of novels, essays, etc. n.

stew (stū or stū), 1. cook by slow boiling: The cook stewed the chicken for a long time. 2. food cooked by slow boiling: beef stew. 3. Informal. worry; fret. 4. Informal. state of worry; fret: She is all in a stew over her lost trunk. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

stew in one's own juice, suffer the consequence of one's own actions.

steward (stū'ərd or stū'ərd), 1. man who manages another's property: He is the steward of that great estate. 2. man who takes charge of the food and table service for a club, ship, railroad train, etc. 3. servant on a ship: a dining-room steward, a deck steward, a cabin steward. 4. person appointed to manage a dinner, ball, show, etc. n.

stewardess (stū'ər dis or stū'ər dis), 1. a woman steward. 2. woman employed on a ship, an airplane, etc., to wait upon passengers. n.

steward ship (stū'ərd ship or stū'ərd ship), 1. position, duties, and responsibilities of a steward. 2. management for others. n.

Stewart Island (stū'ərt or stū'ərt), island just south of New Zealand, to which it belongs. 300 pop.; 670 sq. mi.

stew pan (stū'pan' or stū'pan'), pan for stewing; saucepan. n.

St. George's, capital of Grenada. 7000.

St. George's Channel, strait between Wales and Ireland. It connects the Irish Sea with the Atlantic. 43 mi. wide.

St. Gotthard (sānt got'ərd), 1. a mountain range of the Alps in S Switzerland. The highest peak is 10,490 feet. 2. a mountain pass located there. 6935 ft. high. 3. a railroad tunnel beneath this pass. 9¼ mi. long.

St. Helena (sānt hə lē'nə), a British island in the S Atlantic. Napoleon was exiled there from 1815 until his death in 1821. 5000 pop.; 47 sq. mi.

sthen ic (sthen'ik), accompanied by an unhealthy increase in vital processes, such as circulation and respiration. adj.

stib i um (stīb'ē əm), antimony. Symbol: Sb. n.

stick (stik), 1. a long, thin piece of wood. 2. such a piece of wood shaped for a special use: a walking stick. 3. something like a stick in shape: a stick of candy. 4. furnish with a stick or sticks to support or prop. 5. Informal. a stiff, awkward, or stupid person. 6. lever used to work certain main controls of an airplane. 7. mast; part of a mast; yard. 8. Informal. portion of alcoholic liquor added to a drink. 9. a small metal tray in which type is set by hand. 10. amount of type so set. 1-3,5-10 n., 4 v., sticked, stick ing. the sticks, U.S. Informal. the outlying districts; backwoods.

stick (stik), 1. pierce with a pointed instrument; thrust (a point) into; stab. 2. kill by stabbing or piercing. 3. fasten by thrusting the point or end into or through something: He stuck a flower in his buttonhole. 4. put into a position: Don't stick your head out of the window. 5. be thrust; extend (from, out, through, up, etc.): His arms stick out of his coat sleeves. 6. a thrust. 7. fasten; attach: Stick a stamp on the letter. 8. a sticky condition. 9. keep close: The boy stuck to his mother's heels. 10. be or become fastened; become fixed; be at a standstill: Our car stuck in the mud. 11. bring to a stop: Our work was stuck by the breakdown of the machinery. 12. a standstill; stop. 13. keep on; hold fast: stick to a task, stick to one's friends when they are in trouble. 14. Informal. puzzle. 15. be puzzled; hesitate: Roy sticks at nothing to get his own way. 16. Slang. impose upon; cheat. 1-5,7,9-11,13-16 v., stuck, stick ing; 6,8,12 n.

stick around, Slang. stay or wait nearby.

stick at, hesitate or stop for.

stick out, 1. stand out; be plain. 2. Informal. put up with until the end.

stick up, Slang. hold up; rob.

stick up for, Informal. support; defend.

stick er (stik'ər), 1. person or thing that sticks. 2. U.S. a gummed label. 3. bur; thorn. 4. Informal. puzzle. n.

stick le (stik'l), 1. make objections about trifles; insist stubbornly. 2. feel difficulties about trifles; have objections; scruple. v., stick led, stick ling.

stick le back (stik'l bak'), a small, scaleless fish with a row of sharp spines on the back. The male builds an elaborate nest for the eggs. n., pl. stick le backs or (esp. collectively) stick le back.

stick ler (stik'lər), person who contends stubbornly or insists on trifles. n.

stick pin (stik'pin'), pin worn in a necktie for ornament. n.

stick tight (stik'tīt'), plant of the same family as the aster, having flat, barbed seeds that stick to clothing. n.

stick-to-it iveness (stik'tū'it iv nis), U.S. Informal. perseverance. n.

stick-up (stik'up'), Slang. holdup; robbery. n.

stick y (stik'ē), 1. that sticks: sticky glue. 2. that makes things stick; covered with adhesive matter: sticky flypaper. 3. unpleasantly humid: sticky weather. adj., stick i er, stick i est. —stick'i ly, adv. —stick'i ness, n.

stiff (stif), 1. not easily bent: a stiff collar. 2. hard to move: stiff hinges. 3. not able to move easily: He was stiff and sore. 4. drawn tight; tense: a stiff cord. 5. not fluid; firm: stiff jelly. 6. dense; compact: stiff soil. 7. not easy or natural in manner; formal: a stiff bow, a stiff style of writing. 8. strong and steady in motion: a stiff breeze. 9. hard to deal with; hard: a stiff examination. 10. strong: a stiff drink. 11. Informal. more than seems suitable: a stiff price. 12. Slang. a dead body; corpse. 13. Slang. a stiff, formal, or priggish person. 1-11 adj., 12,13 n. —stiff'ly, adv. —stiff'ness, n.

stiff en (stif'ən), 1. make stiff: She stiffened the shirt with starch. 2. become stiff: The jelly will stiffen as it cools. Pat stiffened with anger. v. —stiff'en er, n.

stiff en ing (stif'ən ing), 1. a making or becoming stiff. 2. something used to stiffen a thing. n.

stiff-necked (stif'nekt'), 1. having a stiff neck. 2. stubborn; obstinate. adj.

stifle (stif'l), 1. stop the breath of; smother: The smoke stifled the firemen. 2. be unable to breathe freely: I am stifling in this close room. 3. keep back; suppress: stop a cry, stifle a yawn. stifle business activity, stifle a rebellion. v., stifled, stifling.

stig ma (stig'mə), 1. mark of disgrace; stain or reproach on one's reputation. 2. a distinguishing mark or sign. 3. a small spot or mark; spot in the skin that bleeds or turns red. 4. the part of the pistil of a plant that receives the pollen. 5. Archaic. a special mark burned on a slave or criminal. n., pl. stig mas or stig ma ta.

stig ma ta (stig'mə tə), 1. a pl. of stigma. 2. marks or wounds like the five wounds on the crucified body of Christ, said to appear supernaturally on the hands, feet, and side. n.

stig ma tize (stig'mə tiz), 1. set some mark of disgrace upon; reproach. 2. brand. 3. produce stigmas on. v., stig ma tized, stig ma tiz ing. —stig'ma ti za'tion, n.

stile (stil), 1. step or steps for getting over a fence or wall. 2. turnstile. 3. a vertical piece in a door, paneled wall, etc. n.

stil let to (stə let'ō), 1. a dagger with a narrow blade. 2. a small, sharp-pointed instrument for making eyelet holes in embroidery. n., pl. stil let tos or stil let toes.

still (stil), 1. without motion; without noise; quiet; tranquil: The lake is still today. 2. make quiet; still a crying child. 3. become quiet. 4. calm; relieve. 5. Poetic. silence. 6. soft; low; subdued: a still, small voice. 7. at this or that time: He came yesterday and he is still here. 8. up to this or that time: The matter is still unsettled.

9. in the future as in the past: It will still be here. 10. even; yet: still more, still worse. 11. yet; nevertheless: Proof was given, but they still doubted (adv.). He is dull; still he tries hard (conj.). 12. without moving; quietly. 13. Archaic or Poetic. steadily; constantly; always. 14. not bubbling: still wine. 15. photograph of a person or other subject at rest. 16. U.S. an individual picture or frame of a motion picture used in advertising. 1,6,14 adj., 2-4 v., 5,15,16 n., 7-13 adv., 11 conj.

still² (stil), 1. apparatus for distilling liquids. A still is used in making alcohol. 2. place where alcoholic liquors are distilled; distillery. n.

still born (stil'börn'), dead when born. adj.

still life, 1. fruit, flowers, furniture, pottery, dead animals, etc., shown in a picture. 2. picture containing such things.

still ness (stil'nis), 1. quiet; silence. 2. absence of motion; calm. n.

stil ly (stil'ē for 1; stil'lē for 2), 1. Poetic. quiet; still; calm. 2. calmly; quietly. 1 adj., stil li er, stil li est; 2 adv.

stilt (stilt), 1. one of a pair of poles, each with a support for the foot at some distance above the ground. Stilts are used in walking through shallow water, or by children for amusement. 2. a long post or pole used to support a house, shed, etc., above the water. 3. a wading bird with long, slender legs and bill that lives in marshes. n. —stilt'like', adj.

stilt ed (stil'tid), 1. stiffly dignified or formal: stilted conversation. 2. raised above the ordinary level. adj.

Stilton cheese (stilt'n), a rich, white cheese veined with mold when well ripened. Stilton cheese is much like Roquefort.

Stigma (def. 4)

Stile (def. 1)

Stiletto (def. 1)

Still (def. 1). It works on the same principle as a retort.

stim u lant (stim'yə lənt), 1. food, drug, medicine, etc., that temporarily increases the activity of some part of the body. Tea, coffee, and alcoholic drinks are stimulants. 2. something that spurs one on or stirs one up; motive, influence, etc., that rouses one to action: Hope is a stimulant. 3. stimulating. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

stim u late (stim'yə lāt), 1. spur on; stir up; rouse to action: Praise stimulated her to work hard. 2. increase temporarily the functional activity of (a part of the body, etc.). 3. excite with alcoholic liquor; intoxicate. 4. act as a stimulant or a stimulus. v., stim u lat ed, stim u lat ing. —stim'u lat'er, stim'u la'tor, n.

stim u la tion (stim'yə lā'shən), a stimulating; being stimulated: Lazy children need some stimulation to make them work. n.

stim u la tive (stim'yə lā'tiv), 1. tending to stimulate; stimulating. 2. a stimulating thing; stimulus. 1 adj., 2 n.

stim u li (stim'yə lī), pl. of stimulus. n.

stim u lus (stim'yə ləs), 1. something that stirs to action or effort: Ambition is a great stimulus. 2. something that excites some part of the body to activity: The stimulus of a loud sound, carried by nerves to the brain, made the baby cry. n., pl. stim u li.

sting (sting), 1. prick with a small point; wound: Bees, wasps, and hornets sting. 2. prick; wound: Put mud on the sting to take away the pain. 3. the sharp-pointed part of an insect, animal, or plant that pricks or wounds and often poisons. 4. pain sharply: Jim was stung by the mockings of the other children. 5. sharp pain: The ball team felt the sting of defeat. 6. thing that causes a sharp pain. 7. cause a feeling like that of a sting: Mustard stings. 8. drive or stir up as if by a sting: Their ridicule stung him into making a sharp reply. 9. thing that drives or urges sharply. 10. Slang. impose upon; charge too much. 1,4,7,8,10 v., stung, sting ing; 2,3,5,6,9 n. —sting'ing ly, adv. —sting'less, adj.

sting er (sting'ər), 1. the part of an insect or animal that stings. 2. anything that stings. 3. Informal. a stinging blow, remark, etc. n.

sting ray, a broad, flat fish that can inflict severe wounds with the sharp spines on its tail.

Sting ray (may reach a length of 10 to 12 ft., including the tail) stingy (stin'jē), 1. mean about spending or giving money; not generous: He tried to save money without being stingy. 2. scanty; meager. adj., stin gi er, stin gi est. —stin'gi ly, adv. —stin'gi ness, n.

stink (stingk), 1. a very bad smell. 2. have a bad smell: Decaying fish stink. 3. cause to have a very bad smell. 4. have a very bad reputation; be in great disfavor. 1 n., 2-4 v., stank or stunk, stunk, stink ing. —stink'er, n. —stink'ing ly, adv.

raise a stink, Slang. arouse much complaint, criticism, or disturbance.

stink out, drive out with stinking smoke or fumes.

stint (stint), 1. keep on short allowance; be saving or careful in using or spending; limit: The parents stinted themselves of food to give it to their children. 2. limit; limitation: That generous man gives without stint. 3. be saving; get along on very little. 4. amount or share set aside. 5. task assigned: Washing the breakfast dishes was her daily stint. 6. Archaic. stop. 1,3,6 v., 2,4-6 n.

stipe (stip), a stalk; stem: the stipe of a mushroom, the stipe of a fern. n.

sti pend (sti'pend), fixed or regular pay; salary: A postman receives a stipend. n.

stip ple (stip'l), 1. paint, draw, or engrave by dots. 2. this method of painting, drawing, or engraving. 3. effect produced by this method. 4. produce this effect on. 5. stippled work. 1,4 v., stip pled, stip pling; 2,3,5 n.

stipulate (stip'yə lāt), arrange definitely; demand as a condition of agreement: He stipulated that he should receive a month's vacation every year if he took the job. v., stipulate, stipulating. —stipulator, n.

stipulation (stip'yə lā'shən), 1. a definite arrangement; agreement. 2. condition in an agreement or bargain: We rented the house with the stipulation that certain rooms should be papered and painted. n.

stipule (stip'ül), one of the pair of little leaflike parts at the base of a leaf stem. n.

stir (stër), 1. move: The wind stirred the leaves. 2. move about: No one was stirring in the house. 3. mix by moving around with a spoon, fork, stick, etc.: stir sugar into one's coffee. 4. be mixed with a spoon or the like: This dough stirs hard. 5. set going; affect strongly; excite: John stirs up the other children to mischief. 6. become active, much affected, or excited: The countryside was stirring with new life. 7. movement. 8. excitement: The coming of the queen caused a great stir. 9. Archaic, a public disturbance, tumult, or revolt. 10. act of stirring: Mary gave the mixture a hard stir. 11. a jog; thrust; poke. 1-6 v., stirred, stirring; 7-11 n. —stirrer, n.

stirring (stër'ing), 1. moving; active; lively: stirring times. 2. rousing; exciting: a stirring speech. adj. —stirringly, adv.

stirrup (stër'əp or stir'əp), 1. support for the rider's foot, hung from a saddle. 2. piece somewhat like a stirrup used as a support or clamp. n.

Stirrups (def. 1)

stirrup bone, the innermost of the three bones in the middle ear; the stapes.

stirrup cup, cup of wine or other liquor offered to a rider mounted for departure; drink at parting.

stitch (stich), 1. one complete movement of a threaded needle through cloth in sewing. 2. one complete movement in knitting, crocheting, embroidering, etc. 3. a particular method of taking stitches: buttonhole stitch. 4. loop of thread, etc., made by a stitch: The doctor will take the stitches out of the wound tomorrow. 5. make stitches in; fasten with stitches. 6. sew. 7. piece of cloth or clothing. 8. Informal, a small bit: The lazy boy wouldn't do a stitch of work. 9. a sudden, sharp pain. 1-4, 7-9 n., 5, 6 v. —stitcher, n.

stitching (stich'ing), 1. act or work of one who stitches. 2. stitches collectively. n.

stiver (sti'var), anything having small value. n.

St. John, one of the Virgin Islands belonging to the United States. 1000 pop.; 19 sq. mi.

St. Johns (sant jonz'), 1. capital of Leeward Islands colony. 11,000. 2. river flowing from E Florida into the Atlantic. 276 mi.

St. John's, capital of Newfoundland, in the E part. 62,000.

St.-John's-wort (sant jonz'wért'), shrub or plant that has many clusters of showy yellow flowers. n.

St. Joseph, city in NW Missouri, on the Missouri River. 80,000.

St. Lawrence,

1. river in North America flowing from Lake Ontario into the Gulf of St. Lawrence. 760 mi. 2. Gulf of, gulf in E Canada. 90,000 sq. mi.

St. Lawrence Seaway, a waterway that links the Great Lakes to the Atlantic Ocean by means of canals and the St. Lawrence River.

St. Louis (sant lü'is or sant lü'ē), city in E Missouri, on the Mississippi River. 750,000.

St. Lucia (sant lü'shə), one of the Windward Islands in the West Indies. 86,000 pop.; 233 sq. mi. Capital: Castries.

St. Marys, river flowing from Lake Superior into Lake Huron between the United States and Canada. 40 mi.

St.-Moritz (sant mərits'), a fashionable winter resort in SE Switzerland. 2000 pop.; 6037 ft. high. n.

stoat (stöt), 1. the ermine in its summer coat of brown. 2. weasel. n.

stock (stok), 1. things for use or for sale; supply used as it is needed: This store keeps a large stock of toys. 2. cattle or other farm animals; livestock. 3. lay in a supply of; supply: Our camp is well stocked with everything we need for a short stay. 4. lay in a supply: stock up for the winter. 5. keep regularly for use or for sale: A toy store stocks toys. 6. kept on hand regularly: stock sizes. 7. in common use; commonplace; everyday: The weather is a stock topic of conversation. 8. shares in a company. The profits of a company are divided among the owners of stock. 9. debt owed by a nation, city, etc., to individuals who receive a fixed rate of interest. 10. of or having to do with stock or stocks. 11. race; family: She is of old New England stock. 12. an original ancestor of a family, tribe, or race. 13. part used as a support or handle; part to which other parts are attached: the wooden stock of a rifle. 14. fasten to or provide with a stock. 15. raw material: Rags are used as a stock for making paper. 16. broth in which meat or fish has been cooked, used as a base for soups, sauces, etc. 17. an old-fashioned stiff necktie, used in place of the modern collar and tie. 18. various plays produced by a company at a single theater. 19. something lifeless and stupid: "You stocks and stones!" 20. butt for ridicule: gazingstock, laughingstock. 21. trunk or stump of a tree; main stem of a plant. 22. an underground stem like a root. 23. tree or plant that furnishes cuttings for grafting. 24. stem in which a graft is inserted. 25. a sweet-smelling garden flower; gillyflower. 26. provide with wild life: stock a lake with fish. 27. furnish with horses, cattle, etc.: stock a farm. 28. sow (land) with grass, etc. 29. send out shoots. 1,2,8,9,11-13,15-25 n., 3-5,14,26-29 v., 6,7,10 adj.

in stock, ready for use or sale; on hand.

out of stock, lacking; no longer on hand.

take stock, 1. find out how much stock one has on hand. 2. make an estimate or examination.

take stock in, 1. Informal, take an interest in; consider important; trust. 2. take shares in (a company).

the stocks, 1. a wooden frame with holes to put a person's feet and sometimes his hands through, used as a punishment. 2. a wooden frame on which a ship or boat is built.

Man in the stocks stockade (stok ad'), 1. defense made of large, strong posts set upright in the ground: A heavy stockade around the cabins protected the pioneers from attack. 2. protect, fortify, or surround with a stockade. 3. pen or other enclosed space made with upright posts, stakes, etc. 1,3 n., 2 v., stockaded, stockading.

stock broker (stok'brō'kər), person who buys and sells stocks and bonds for others for a commission. n.

stock car, a railroad freight car for livestock.

stock company, 1. company whose capital is divided into shares. 2. a theatrical company employed

Stockade (def. 1)

more or less permanently under the same management, usually at one theater, to perform many different plays.

stock exchange, 1. place where stocks and bonds are bought and sold. 2. association of brokers and dealers in stocks and bonds.

stock holder (stok/'hōl'dər), owner of stocks or shares in a company. n.

Stockholm (stok/'hōm or stok/'hōlm), seaport and capital of Sweden, in the SE part. 808,000. n.

stock ing (stok/'ing), 1. a close-fitting, knitted covering of wool, cotton, nylon, etc., for the foot and leg. 2. something like a stocking; patch of color on an animal's leg suggesting a stocking. n.

stocking cap, a knitted cap with a long pointed end that falls over the back or shoulder, worn for skiing, sledding, etc.

stock in trade, 1. stock of a dealer or company. 2. a workman's tools, materials, etc.

stock man (stok/'mən), 1. man who raises livestock. 2. man in charge of a stock of materials or goods. n., pl. stock men.

stock market, 1. place where stocks and bonds are bought and sold; stock exchange. 2. the buying and selling in such a place. 3. prices of stocks and bonds.

stock pile (stok/'pil'), 1. a supply of raw materials, essential items, etc., built up and held in reserve for use in a war or other emergency. 2. such a reserve of atomic weapons. 3. collect or bring together a stockpile. 1,2 n., 3 v., stock piled, stock piling.

stock room (stok/'rūm'), room where a stock is kept. n.

stock-still (stok/'stil'), motionless. adj.

Stock ton (stok/'tən), city in central California. 86,000. n.

stock y (stok/'ē), having a solid or sturdy form or build; thick for its height. adj., stock i er, stock i est. —stock/i ly, adv. —stock/i ness, n.

stock yard (stok/'yārd'), place with pens and sheds for cattle, sheep, hogs, and horses. Livestock is kept in a stockyard before being sent to market or slaughtered. n.

stodgy (stoj/'ē), 1. dull or uninteresting; tediously commonplace: a stodgy book. 2. heavy: stodgy food. 3. heavily built: a stodgy person. 4. stuffed full: a stodgy bag. adj., stodg i er, stodg i est. —stodg/i ly, adv. —stodg/i ness, n.

sto gie or sto gy (stō/'gē), a long, slender, cheap cigar. n., pl. sto gies.

sto ic (stō/'ik), 1. person who remains calm, represses his feelings, and is indifferent to pleasure and pain. 2. stoical. 1 n., 2 adj.

sto i cal (stō/'ə kl), like a stoic; self-controlled; indifferent to pleasure and pain. adj. —sto/i cal ly, adv.

sto i cism (stō/'ə siz əm), patient endurance; indifference to pleasure and pain. n.

stoke (stōk), 1. stir up and feed (a fire); tend the fire of (a furnace). 2. tend a fire. v., stoked, stok ing.

stoke hold (stōk/'hōld'), place in a steamship where the furnaces, boilers, etc., are. n.

stoke hole (stōk/'hōl'), 1. hole through which fuel is put into a furnace. 2. space in front of furnaces where men shovel in coal and take out ashes. n.

Stoke-on-Trent (stōk/'on trent'), city in W England, on the Trent River. 272,000. n.

stok er (stōk/'ər), 1. man who tends the fires of a furnace or boiler. 2. a mechanical device for tending and feeding a furnace. n.

stole¹ (stōl), pt. of steal. He stole the money years ago. v.

stole² (stōl), 1. a narrow strip of silk or other material worn around the neck by a clergyman during certain church functions. 2. a woman's collar or scarf of fur or cloth with ends hanging down in front. 3. Archaic. a long robe. n.

sto len (stō/'lən), pp. of steal. The money was stolen by a thief. v.

stol id (stol/'id), hard to arouse; not easily excited; showing no emotion; seeming dull. adj. —stol/id ly, adv.

sto lid i ty (stō lid/'ə tē), stolid quality or condition. n., pl. sto lid i ties.

sto lon (stō/'lon), 1. in botany, a slender branch that takes root at the tip and grows into a new plant. 2. in zoology, a rootlike growth. n.

sto ma (stō/'mə), a small opening; mouth; pore. n., pl. sto ma ta.

stom ach (stum/'ək), 1. the most important part of the body for receiving and digesting food. See intestine for diagram. 2. the part of the body containing the stomach; abdomen; belly: Dick hit Bill in the stomach. 3. appetite. 4. be able to eat or keep in one's stomach. 5. put up with; bear; endure: He could not stomach such insults. 6. desire; liking: I have no stomach for that kind of writing. 1-3,6 n., 4,5 v.

stom ach er (stum/'ək ə), a part of a woman's dress covering the stomach and chest. n.

sto ma ta (stō/'mə tə or stom/'ə tə), pl. of stoma. n.

stone (stōn), 1. hard mineral matter that is not metal; rock. Stone is much used in building. 2. piece of rock. 3. piece of rock of definite size, shape, etc., used for a particular purpose: His grave is marked by a fine stone. 4. made of stone: a stone wall, a stone house. 5. having to do with stone. 6. put stone on; line with stone. 7. rub with or on a stone. 8. gem; jewel: The queen's diamonds were very fine stones. 9. something hard and rounded like a stone, which sometimes forms in the kidneys or gall bladder, causing sickness and pain. 10. throw stones at; drive by throwing stones; kill by throwing stones: Saint Stephen was stoned. 11. a hard seed: peach stones, plum stones. 12. take stones or seeds out of: stone cherries or plums. 13. made of stone-ware or coarse clay. 14. Brit. unit of weight equal to 14 pounds. 1-3,8,9,11,14 n., pl. stones (but for def. 14 stone); 4,5,13 adj., 6,7,10,12 v., stoned, ston ing. —stone/like, adj.

cast the first stone, be the first to criticize. leave no stone unturned, do everything that can be done.

Stone (stōn), Lucy, 1818-1893, American reformer and lecturer on woman's rights. n.

Stone Age, a prehistoric period when people used tools and weapons made from stone.

stone-blind (stōn/'blīnd'), totally blind. adj.

stone bruise, bruise caused by a stone, especially one on the sole of the foot.

stone chat (stōn/'chat'), a European bird whose alarm note sounds like pebbles striking together. n.

stone crop (stōn/'krop'), 1. a low creeping plant that has small fleshy leaves and clusters of small yellow flowers. 2. any of various related plants. n.

stone cut ter (stōn/'kut'ər), 1. person who cuts or carves stones. 2. machine for cutting or dressing stone. n.

stone-deaf (stōn/'def'), totally deaf. adj.

stone fruit, any fruit that has a layer of pulp outside a hard shell containing a seed; any drupe. Peaches, cherries, olives, etc., are stone fruits.

Stone henge (stōn/'henj), a prehistoric ruin in S England, consisting of huge slabs of stone, mostly upright. n.

Lady of the 16th century wearing a stomacher stone mason (stōn/mā'sn), person who cuts stone or builds walls, etc., of stone. n.

stone's throw, a short distance.

stone ware (stōn/wār'), a coarse, hard, glazed pottery. n.

stone work (stōn/wérk'), 1. work in stone. 2. the part of a building made of stone. n.

stone worker (stōn/wér'kər), person who shapes or cuts stone for use in buildings, sculpture, etc. n.

stony (stōn'ē), 1. having many stones: The beach is stony. 2. hard like stone: He has a stony heart. 3. without expression or feeling: a stony stare. adj., stonier, stoniest. —stonily, adv. —stoniness, n.

Stony Point, village in SE New York. Several battles were fought near there during the Revolutionary War.

stood (stūd), pt. and pp. of stand. Tom stood in the corner for five minutes. v.

stooge (stūj), Slang. 1. person on the stage who asks questions of a comedian and is the butt of the comedian's jokes. 2. person who follows and flatters another; hanger-on. n.

stool (stül), 1. seat without back or arms. 2. a similar article used to rest the feet on, or to kneel on. 3. decoy. 4. pole to which a bird is fastened as a decoy. 5. movement of the bowels; waste matter from the bowels. 6. article or place to be used as a toilet. 7. a window sill. n. —stool/like, adj.

stool pigeon, 1. pigeon used to lead other pigeons into a trap. 2. U.S. Slang. a spy for the police; informer.

stoop¹ (stüp), 1. bend forward: stoop over a desk. 2. a forward bend. 3. carry head and shoulders bent forward: The old man stoops. 4. a forward bend of the head and shoulders. 5. of trees, precipices, etc., bend forward and downward. 6. lower oneself; descend: He stooped to cheating. 7. condescension. 8. Archaic. submit; yield. 9. swoop like a hawk. 10. a swoop. 1,3,5, 6,8,9 v., 2,4,7,10 n. —stoop'er, n.

stoop² (stüp), U.S. porch or platform at the entrance of a house. n.

stop (stop), 1. keep from moving, acting, doing, being, etc.: stop a clock, stop a speaker. 2. cut off; withhold: stop supplies. 3. put an end to; interrupt; check: stop a noise. 4. stay; halt: stop at a hotel. 5. leave off moving, acting, doing, being, etc.; cease: All work stopped. 6. close by filling; fill holes in; close: stop a hole, a leak, a wound. 7. close (a vessel) with a cork, plug, or the like; shut up (something) in a closed vessel or place: stop a bottle. 8. block; obstruct: A fallen tree stopped traffic. 9. check (a blow, stroke, etc.); parry; ward off. 10. defeat by a knockout. 11. in games, defeat. 12. act of stopping; a closing; a filling up; a blocking; a hindering; a checking; a halting; cessation; stay, etc. 13. being stopped. 14. place where a stop is made: a bus stop. 15. thing that stops; obstacle. 16. any piece or device that serves to check or control movement or action in a mechanism. 17. a punctuation mark. 18. punctuate. 19. thing that controls pitch of a musical instrument. 20. (in organs) a graduated set of pipes of the same kind, or the knob or handle that controls them. 21. in music, close (a finger hole, etc.) in order to produce a particular note from a wind instrument. 22. press down (a string of a violin, etc.) in order to alter the pitch of tone produced. 23. in phonetics, a sudden, complete stopping of the breath stream, followed by its sudden release. 24. consonant that involves such a stopping. P, t, k, b, d, g (as in go) are stops. 1-11,18,21,22 v., stopped or (Poetic) stopt, stop ping; 12-17,19,20,23,24 n.

put a stop to, stop; end.

stop off, Informal. stop for a short stay.

stop over, 1. make a short stay. 2. Informal. stop in the course of a trip.

stop cock (stop/kok'), device for turning the flow of a liquid or gas on or off; faucet; valve. n.

stope (stöp), excavation in a mine to take out ore after shafts have been sunk. n.

stop gap (stop/gap'), 1. thing that fills the place of something lacking; a temporary substitute. 2. serving as a stopgap. 1 n., 2 adj.

stop over (stop/ō'vər), a stopping over in the course of a journey, especially with the privilege of proceeding later on the ticket originally issued for the journey. n.

stop page (stop'ij), 1. a stopping. 2. being stopped. 3. block; obstruction. n.

stop per (stop'ər), 1. plug or cork for closing a bottle, tube, etc. 2. close or fit with a stopper. 3. person or thing that stops. 1,3 n., 2 v.

stop ple (stop'pl), 1. stopper for a bottle, etc. 2. close or fit with a stopper. 1 n., 2 v., stop pled, stop pling.

stopt (stopt), Poetic. a pt. and a pp. of stop. v.

stop watch, watch having a hand that can be stopped or started at any instant. A stop watch indicates fractions of a second and is used for timing races and contests.

stor age (stôr'ij), 1. act or fact of storing goods. 2. condition of being stored. Cold storage is used to keep eggs and meat from spoiling. 3. place for storing: She has put her furniture in storage. 4. price for storing: She paid $30 storage on her furniture. n.

storage battery, a battery of cells which transform electrical energy into chemical changes when a current flows through them in one direction, and yield electrical energy by the reversal of these changes: Our automobile needs a new storage battery.

store (stôr), 1. U.S. place where goods are kept for sale: a clothing store. 2. thing or things laid up for use; supply; stock: She puts up stores of preserves and jellies every year. 3. supply or stock. 4. put away for future use; lay up: The squirrel stores away nuts. We stored our furs during the summer. 5. Esp. Brit. place where supplies are kept for future use; storehouse. 6. put in a warehouse or place used for preserving. 7. Archaic. quantity; abundance: "We wish them store of happy days." 1,2,5,7 n., 3,4,6 v., stored, stor ing. —stor'er, n.

in store, on hand; in reserve; saved for the future.

set store by, value; esteem.

store house (stôr'hous'), place where things are stored: This factory has many storehouses for its products. A library is a storehouse of information. n.

store keep er (stôr/kēp'ər), U.S. person who has charge of a store or stores. n.

store room (stôr'rūm'), room where things are stored. n.

sto rey (stô'rē), Esp. Brit. story². n., pl. sto reys.

sto ried¹ (stô'rēd), 1. celebrated in story or history: "the storied Rhine." 2. ornamented with designs representing happenings in history or legend: storied tapestry. adj.

sto ried² (stô'rēd), having stories or floors: a two-storied house. adj.

stork (stôrk), a large, long-legged wading bird with a long neck and a long bill. n. —stork/like, adj.

storm (stôrm), 1. a strong wind with rain, snow, hail, or thunder and lightning. In deserts there are storms of sand. 2. a heavy fall of rain, snow, or hail; violent outbreak of thunder and lightning. 3. blow hard; rain; snow; hail. 4. anything like a storm: a storm of arrows. 5. a violent outburst or disturbance: a storm of tears, a storm of angry words. 6. be violent; rage. 7. speak loudly and angrily. 8. rush violently: storm out of the room. 9. attack violently: The troops stormed the city. 10. a violent attack: The castle was taken by storm. 1,2,4,5,10 n., 3,6-9 v.

storm cellar, cellar for shelter during cyclones, tornadoes, etc.

storm center, 1. center of a cyclone; area where the pressure is lowest. 2. any center of trouble, tumult, etc.

storm door, an extra door outside of an ordinary door, to keep out snow, cold winds, etc.

Stork
(about 3 ft. tall)

storm troops, members of the private army formed by Adolf Hitler around 1923 and disbanded in 1934.

storm window, an extra window outside of an ordinary window, to keep out snow, cold winds, etc.

storm y (stôr'mē), 1. having storms; likely to have storms; troubled by storms: a stormy sea, stormy weather, a stormy night. 2. rough and disturbed; violent: They had stormy quarrels. adj., storm ier, storm iest. —storm'i ly, adv. —storm'i ness, n.

stormy petrel, 1. any of several small black-and-white sea birds called petrels, whose presence is supposed to give warning of a storm. 2. anyone believed likely to cause trouble or to indicate trouble.

Stor ting or Stor thing (stôr'ting'), the national parliament of Norway. n.

sto ry¹ (stô'rē), 1. account of some happening or group of happenings: Tell us the story of your life. 2. such an account, either true or made-up, intended to interest the reader or hearer; tale. 3. Informal. falsehood: That boy is a liar; he tells stories. 4. stories as a branch of literature: a character famous in story. 5. plot of a play, novel, etc. 6. U.S. a newspaper article, or material for such an article. 7. Archaic. history: well-read in story. 8. Archaic. tell the history or story of. 1-7 n., pl. sto ries; 8 v., sto ried, sto ry ing. —sto'ry less, adj.

sto ry² (stô'rē), 1. set of rooms on the same floor forming a complete horizontal section of a building; one of the structural divisions in the height of a building: a house of two stories. 2. each of a series of divisions or stages of anything placed horizontally one above the other. n., pl. sto ries. Also, esp. Brit. storey.

sto ry tell er (stô'rē tel'ər), 1. person who tells stories. 2. Informal. person who tells falsehoods; liar. n.

sto ry tell ing (stô'rē tel'ing), Informal. 1. telling stories. 2. telling falsehoods; lying. n., adj.

stoup (stūp), 1. a drinking vessel of varying size for liquids, such as a cup, flagon, or tankard. 2. amount it holds. 3. basin for holy water at the entrance of a church. n.

stout (stout), 1. fat and large: a stout body. 2. strongly built; firm; strong: The fort has stout walls. 3. brave; bold: He has a stout heart. 4. not yielding; stubborn: stout resistance. 5. a strong, dark-brown beer. 1-4 adj., 5 n. —stout'ly, adv. —stout'ness, n.

stout-hearted (stout'hār'tid), brave; bold; courageous. adj. —stout'-heart'ed ly, adv.

stove¹ (stōv), apparatus for cooking and heating. There are wood, coal, gas, oil, and electric stoves. n.

stove² (stōv), a pt. and a pp. of stave. That barrel was stove in when it dropped off the truck. v.

stove pipe (stōv'pip'), 1. pipe of sheet metal serving as the chimney of a stove, or to connect a stove with the chimney flue. 2. U.S. Informal. a tall silk hat. n.

stow (stō), 1. pack: The cargo was stowed in the ship's hold. 2. pack things closely in; fill by packing: The boys stowed the little cabin with supplies for the trip. 3. Slang. stop. v. —stow'er, n.

stow away, hide on a ship, airplane, etc., to get a free ride.

stow age (stō'ij), 1. act of stowing. 2. state or manner of being stowed. 3. room for stowing; place for stowing. 4. what is stowed. 5. charge for stowing something. n.

stow a way (stō'ə wā'), person who hides on a ship, train, etc., to get a free passage or to escape secretly. n.

Stowe (stō), Mrs. Harriet (Elizabeth) Beecher, 1811-1896, American writer, author of Uncle Tom's Cabin. n.

St. Paul, capital of Minnesota, in the SE part, on the Mississippi River. 313,000.

St. Paul's, cathedral in London, with a magnificent dome.

Stoup
(def. 3)

St. Peter's, a great church in Rome, with a magnificent dome designed by Michelangelo.

St. Pe ters burg (sânt pē'tərz bērg), 1. the former capital of Russia under the czars, now called Leningrad. 2. city in W Florida. 181,000.

str., 1. steamer. 2. strait.

strad dle (strād'l), 1. walk, stand, or sit with the legs wide apart. 2. spread (the legs) wide apart. 3. have a leg on each side of (a horse, bicycle, chair, ditch, etc.). 4. stand or lie across; be on both sides of: A pair of field glasses straddled his nose. 5. Informal. avoid taking sides. 6. Informal. attempt to favor both sides of (a question, etc.). 7. a straddling. 8. distance straddled. 1-6 v., strad dled, strad dling; 7, 8 n. —strad'dler, n.

Strad i var i us (strād'ə vār'ē əs), 1. Antonius, 1644-1737, Italian violinmaker. His violins are famous for their beautiful tone and design. 2. violin, viola, or cello made by him. n.

strafe (strāf), 1. of aircraft, machine-gun and bomb enemy ground positions at close range. 2. shell or bombard heavily. v., strafed, straf ing.

strag gle (strag'l), 1. wander in a scattered fashion: Cows straggled along the lane. 2. stray from the rest. 3. spread in an irregular, rambling manner: Vines straggled over the yard. v., strag gled, strag gling. —strag'gler, n.

strag gly (strag'lē), spread out in an irregular, rambling way; straggling. adj.

straight (strāt), 1. without a bend or curve; direct: a straight line, a straight path. 2. in a line; directly: Walk straight. 3. frank; honest; upright: straight conduct. 4. frankly; honestly; uprightly: Line straight. 5. in proper order or condition: Keep your accounts straight. 6. continuous: in straight succession. 7. continuously: Drive straight on. 8. without delay. 9. U.S. thoroughgoing or unreserved: a straight Republican. 10. U.S. unmodified; undiluted: a straight comedy, straight whiskey. 11. without qualification of any kind. 12. Informal. reliable: a straight tip. 13. condition of being straight; straight form, position, or line. 14. a straight part, as of a race course. 15. in poker, a sequence of five cards. 16. made up of a sequence of five cards: a straight flush. 1,3,5,6,9,10,12,16 adj., 2,4,7,8,11 adv., 13-15 n. —straight'ly, adv. —straight'ness, n.

straight away or off, at once.

straight angle, angle of 180°.

straight-arm (strāt'ärm'), 1. prevent (an opponent) from making a tackle in football by holding one's arm straight in front. 2. act of straight-arming. 1 v., 2 n.

straight a way (strāt'ə wā'), 1. a straight course. 2. in a straight course. 1 n., 2 adj.

straight edge (strāt'ej'), strip of wood or metal having one edge accurately straight, used in obtaining or testing straight lines and level surfaces. n.

straight en (strāt'n), 1. make straight: Straighten your shoulders. 2. become straight. 3. put in the proper order or condition: Straighten up your room. We must straighten out our accounts and see how much we owe each other. v. —straight'en er, n.

straight for ward (strāt'fôr'wôrd), 1. honest; frank. 2. going straight ahead; direct. 3. directly. 1,2 adj., 3 adv. —straight'for'ward ly, adv. —straight'for'ward ness, n.

straight for wards (strāt'fôr'wôrdz), straight-forward. adv.

straight-out (strāt'out'), U.S. Informal. out-and-out; complete; thorough. adj.

straight way (strāt'wā'), at once; immediately: The captain read the letter and burned it straightway. adv.

strain (strān), 1. draw tight; stretch: The weight strained the rope. 2. pull hard: The dog strained at his leash. 3. force or weight that stretches: The strain on the rope made it break. 4. stretch as much as possible:

She strained the truth in telling the story. 5. use to the utmost: She strained her eyes to see. 6. injure by too much effort or by stretching: The runner strained his heart. 7. be injured by too much effort. 8. injury caused by too much effort or by stretching. 9. any severe, trying, or wearing pressure: the strain of worry. 10. its effect on the body or mind. 11. make a very great effort. 12. press or pour through a strainer. 13. drip through. 14. press closely; squeeze; hug: She strained her child to her breast. 15. part of a piece of music; melody; song. 16. manner or style of doing or speaking. 1,2,4-7, 11-14 v., 3,8-10,15,16 n.

strain² (strān), 1. line of descent; race; stock; breed: The Irish strain in him makes him like jokes. 2. group of animals or plants that form a part of a breed, race, or variety. 3. an inherited quality: There is a strain of madness in that family. 4. trace or streak: That horse has a mean strain. n.

strained (strānd), forced; not natural: Her greeting was cold and strained. adj.

strainer (strān'ər), thing that strains. A filter, a sieve, and a colander are strainers. n.

strait (strāt), 1. a narrow channel connecting two larger bodies of water. 2. Archaic. narrow; limited; confining. 3. Archaic. strict: The nun took strait vows. 1 n., 2,3 adj. —strait/ly, adv. —strait/ness, n.

straits, difficulty; need; distress: He was in desperate straits for money.

strait en (strāt'n), 1. limit by the lack of something; restrict. 2. make narrow. 3. Archaic. confine; confine within narrow limits. v.

in straitened circumstances, needing money badly.

strait jacket, a strong coat that holds the arms close to the sides, used to keep a violent person from harming himself or others.

strait-laced (strāt'lāst'), very strict in matters of conduct; prudish. adj.

Straits Settlements, a former British colony in SE Asia. Capital: Singapore.

stramonium (strā mō'nē əm), 1. jimson weed. 2. a drug made from its dried leaves. n.

strand¹ (strand), 1. run aground; drive on the shore: The ship was stranded on the rocks. 2. bring or come into a helpless position: He was stranded a thousand miles from home with no money. 3. Poetic. shore; land bordering a sea, lake, or river. 1,2 v., 3 n.

strand² (strand), 1. one of the threads, strings, or wires that are twisted together to make a rope: This is a rope of three strands. 2. thread or string: a strand of pearls, a strand of hair. n.

strange (strānj), 1. unusual; queer; peculiar: a strange accident. 2. not known, seen, or heard of before; unfamiliar: strange faces, a strange language. 3. unaccustomed (to); inexperienced (at): strange to a job. 4. out of place; not at home: The poor child felt strange in the palace. 5. Archaic. foreign; alien. adj., stranger, strangest. —strange/ly, adv. —strange/ness, n.

stranger (strān'jər), 1. person not known, seen, or heard of before. 2. person or thing new to a place. 3. person who is out of place or not at home in something. 4. visitor; guest. 5. person from another country. n.

strangle (strang'gl), 1. kill by squeezing the throat to stop the breath: Hercules strangled a snake with each hand. 2. suffocate; choke: His high collar seemed to be strangling him. 3. choke down; suppress; keep back: Tom strangled an impulse to cough. v., strangled, strangling. —stran/gler, n.

strangle hold, 1. a wrestling hold for stopping an opponent's breath. 2. anything that suppresses or hinders free movement, development, etc.

strangulation (strang'gyā lā'shən), a strangling or being strangled. n.

strap (strap), 1. a narrow strip of leather or other material that bends easily. 2. a narrow band or strip of cloth: The general wore shoulder straps. 3. a narrow strip for fastening things, holding things together, etc.: The box was strengthened by straps of steel. 4. fasten with a strap: We strapped the trunk. 5. beat with a strap. 6. a narrow strip of leather to sharpen razors on; strop. 7. sharpen on a strap or strop. 1-3,6 n., 4,5,7 v., strapped, strap ping.

strap hang er (strap'hang'ər), Informal. passenger in a streetcar, train, etc., who cannot get a seat and stands holding on to a strap. n.

strapper (strap'ər), 1. person or thing that straps. 2. Informal. a tall, robust person. n.

strapping (strap'ing), Informal. tall, strong, and healthy: a fine strapping girl. adj.

Strasbourg (stras'bèrg; French strāz búr'), city in NE France, on the Rhine River. 201,000. n.

strata (strā'tā or strat'ə), a pl. of stratum. n.

stratagem (strat'ə jəm), scheme or trick for deceiving the enemy; trick; trickery: The general planned a stratagem to trap the enemy. n.

strategic (strā tē'jīk), 1. of strategy; based on strategy; useful in strategy. 2. important in strategy: The Panama Canal is a strategic link in our national defense. 3. having to do with raw material necessary for warfare which must be obtained, at least partially, from an outside country. 4. of an air force or bombing, specially made or trained for destroying enemy bases, industry, or communications behind the lines of battle. adj. —stra te'gi cal ly, adv.

strategics (strā tē'jīks), strategy. n.

strategist (strat'ə jīst), person trained or skilled in strategy. n.

strategy (strat'ə jē), 1. science or art of war; planning and directing of military movements and operations. 2. plan based on this. 3. the skillful planning and management of anything. n., pl. strat e gies.

Stratford-on-Avon (strat'fərd on ā'vən), town in central England on the Avon River. It is Shakespeare's birthplace and burial place. 15,000. n.

Stratford-upon-Avon, Stratford-on-Avon. n.

stratification (strat'ə fə kā'shən), arrangement in layers or strata. n.

stratify (strat'ə fī), arrange in layers or strata; form into layers or strata. v., strat i fied, strat i fy ing.

strato-cumulus (strā'tō kū'myā ləs), cloud made up of large, dark, rounded heaps above a flat horizontal base. It is usually seen in winter. n.

stratosphere (strat'ə sfīr or strā'tā sfīr), the upper region of the atmosphere, which begins about seven miles above the earth. In the stratosphere, temperature varies little with changes in altitude, and the winds are chiefly horizontal. n.

stratospheric (strat'ə sfer'īk or strā'tā sfer'īk), of or having to do with the stratosphere. adj.

stratovision (strat'ə vizh'ən), method of using airplanes in the stratosphere to broadcast television. n.

stratum (strā'təm or strat'əm), 1. layer of material; especially, one of several parallel layers placed one upon another: In digging the well, the men struck first a stratum of sand, then several strata of rock. 2. social level; group having about the same education, culture, development, etc.: Tramps are from the lowest stratum of society. n., pl. stra ta or stratums.

stratus (strā'təs), a low horizontal layer of gray cloud that spreads over a large area. n., pl. stra ti (-ti).

Strauss (strous), 1. Johann, 1804-1849, Austrian composer of dance music. 2. his son, Johann, 1825-1899, Austrian composer of dance music and light operas. 3. Richard, 1864-1949, German musical composer and conductor. n.

Strata

Stratus

straw (strô), 1. the stalks or stems of grain after drying and threshing. Straw is used for bedding for horses and cows, for making hats, and for many other purposes. 2. a hollow stem or stalk; something like it. Straws made of waxed paper are used for sucking up drinks. 3. made of straw: a straw hat. 4. bit; trifle: He doesn't care a straw. 5. of little value or consequence; worthless. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 adj.

catch at a straw, try anything in desperation.

straw ber ry (strô'ber'ē), 1. a small, juicy, red, edible fruit. It is covered with tiny yellow seedlike achenes. 2. plant that it grows on. n., pl. straw ber ries.

straw board (strô'bôrd'), coarse cardboard made of straw, used for boxes, packing, etc. n.

straw vote, U.S. an unofficial vote taken to find out general opinion.

stray (strâ), 1. lose one's way; wander; roam: Our dog has strayed off somewhere. 2. wandering; lost: A stray cat is crying at the door. 3. wanderer; lost animal. 4. turn from the right course; go wrong. 5. scattered; here and there: There were a few stray fishermen's huts along the beach. 6. isolated: a stray copy of a book. 1,4 v., 2,5,6 adj., 3 n. —stray'er, n.

strays, in radio, static.

streak (strêk), 1. a long, thin mark or line: He has a streak of dirt on his face. We saw a streak of lightning. 2. layer: Bacon has streaks of fat and streaks of lean. 3. vein; strain; element: He has a streak of humor, though he looks very serious. 4. put long, thin marks or lines on: The Indians used to streak their faces with paint. 5. become streaked. 6. U.S. Informal. a brief period; spell: a streak of luck. 7. Informal. move very fast; go at full speed. 1-3,6 n., 4,5,7 v.

like a streak, Informal. very fast; at full speed.

streak y (strêk'ē), 1. marked with streaks. 2. occurring in streaks. 3. varying; uneven: The dress has faded so much that the color is streaky. adj., streak i er, streak-i est. —streak'ily, adv. —streak'i ness, n.

stream (strēm), 1. flow of liquid; running water; a small river; a large brook: Because of the lack of rain many streams dried up. 2. any steady flow: a stream of words, a stream of light. 3. flow: Tears streamed from her eyes. 4. move steadily; move swiftly: Soldiers streamed out of the fort. 5. pour out: The wound streamed blood. 6. cause to stream. 7. be so wet as to drip in a stream: streaming eyes, a streaming umbrella. 8. float or wave: Flags streamed in the wind. 9. extend in straight lines: The sunshine streamed across the room. 10. hang loosely. 1,2 n., 3-10 v. —stream'like', adj.

stream er (strēm'ər), 1. any long, narrow, flowing thing: Streamers of ribbon hung from her hat. 2. a long, narrow flag. 3. a newspaper headline that runs all the way across the page. n.

stream let (strēm'lit), a small stream. n.

stream line (strēm'lin'), 1. having a shape that offers the least possible resistance to air or water. The fastest automobiles, airplanes, and trains have streamline bodies. 2. give a streamline shape to, as an airplane or automobile. 1 adj., 2 v., stream lined, stream lin ing. stream lined (strēm'lind'), 1. streamline. 2. brought up to date; made more efficient. adj.

street (strêt), 1. road in a city or town, usually with buildings on both sides. 2. place or way for automobiles, wagons, etc., to go. 3. people who live in the buildings on a street. n. —street'like', adj.

street car (strêt'kâr'), car that runs on rails in the streets and carries passengers. n.

street lamp, lamp that lights a street.

strength (strengkth or strength), 1. quality of being strong; power; force; vigor: Samson was a man of great strength. 2. power to resist or endure: the strength of a fort. 3. number of soldiers, warships, etc.; quota.

4. degree of strength; intensity: the strength of a beverage, the strength of a sound. 5. something that makes strong; support: "God is our refuge and strength." n. on the strength of, relying or depending on; with the support or help of.

strength en (strengk'thən or streng'thən), 1. make stronger: The soldiers strengthened their defenses. 2. grow stronger. v. —strength'en er, n.

stren u ous (stren'yū əs), 1. very active: We had a strenuous day moving into our new house. 2. full of energy: a strenuous worker. adj. —stren'u ous ly, adv. —stren'u ous ness, n.

strep to coc cīc (strep'tə kok'sik), having to do with or caused by streptococci. adj.

strep to coc cus (strep'tə kok'əs), any of a group of spherical bacteria that multiply by dividing in only one direction, usually forming chains. Many serious infections and diseases are caused by streptococci. n. pl. strep to coc ci (-kok'si).

strep to my cin (strep'tō mī'sn), a powerful substance similar to penicillin, effective against tuberculosis, typhoid fever, and certain other bacterial infections. n.

stress (stres), 1. pressure; force; strain: Under the stress of hunger the man stole some food. 2. put pressure upon. 3. great effort. 4. emphasis; importance: That school lays stress upon arithmetic and reading. 5. treat as important; emphasize. 6. the relative loudness in the pronunciation of syllables, words in a sentence, etc.; accent. In hero, the stress is on the first syllable. 7. pronounce with stress. 1,3,4,6 n., 2,5,7 v.

stretch (strech), 1. draw out; extend (oneself, body, limbs, wings, etc.) to full length: The blow stretched him out on the ground. 2. continue over a distance; extend from one place to another; fill space; spread: The forest stretches for miles. We stretched a wire across the path. 3. extend one's body or limbs. 4. straighten out. 5. reach out; hold out: He stretched out his hand for the money. 6. draw out to greater length or width: Stretch the shoe a little. 7. become longer or wider without breaking: Rubber stretches. 8. draw tight; strain: He stretched the violin string until it broke. 9. make great effort. 10. extend beyond proper limits: He stretched the law to suit his own purpose. 11. an unbroken length; extent: A stretch of sand hills lay between the road and the ocean. 12. Slang. term of imprisonment. 13. one of the two straight sides of a race course; especially, the part of the course between the last turn and the finish line. 14. a stretching or being stretched. 1-10 v., 11-14 n.

stretch er (strech'ər), 1. person or thing that stretches: A glove stretcher makes gloves larger. 2. canvas stretched on a frame for carrying the sick, wounded, or dead. n.

stretch-out (strech'out'), Informal. a postponement, especially of the date for filling defense orders. n.

strew (strü), 1. scatter; sprinkle: She strewed seeds in her garden. 2. cover with something scattered or sprinkled: The ground was strewn with leaves. 3. be scattered over; be sprinkled over. v., strewed, strewed or stewn, strew ing.

strewn (strün), a pp. of strew. v.

stri at ed (stri'ät id), striped; streaked; furrowed. adj.

stri a tion (stri ā'shən), striated condition or appearance. n.

strick en (stri k'ən), 1. affected by (wounds, diseases, trouble, sorrows, etc.): Help was rushed to the fire-stricken city. 2. a pp. of strike. 1 adj., 2 v. stricken in years, old.

strict (strikt), 1. very careful in following a rule or in making others follow it: The teacher was strict but not unfair. 2. harsh; severe: a strict parent. 3. exact; precise; accurate: He told the strict truth. 4. perfect; complete; absolute: tell a secret in strict confidence.

5. Archaic. close; tight. adj. —strict/ly, adv. —strict/-ness, n.

stric ture (strikt'chər), 1. an unfavorable criticism; critical remark. 2. an unhealthy narrowing of some duct or tube of the body. 3. a binding; a hindering restriction. n.

strid den (strid'n), pp. of stride. John had stridden away angrily. v.

stride (strid), 1. walk with long steps. 2. pass with one long step: He strode over the brook. 3. a long step: The child could not keep up with his father's stride. 4. distance covered by a stride. 5. Rare. sit or stand with one leg on each side of: stride a fence. 1,2,5 v., strode, strid den, strid ing; 3,4 n. —strid'er, n.

hit one's stride, reach one's regular speed or normal activity.

make great or rapid strides, make great progress; advance rapidly.

take in one's stride, deal with in one's normal activity; do or take without difficulty, hesitation, or special effort.

strid ence (stri'dns), being strident. n.

stri den cy (stri'dn sē), stridence. n.

stri dent (stri'dnt), making or having a harsh sound; creaking; grating; shrill. adj. —stri/dent-ly, adv.

strid u late (strij'ə lāt), 1. produce a shrill grating sound, as a cricket or katydid does, by rubbing together certain parts of the body. 2. shrill; chirr. v., strid u lat ed, strid u lat ing.

strife (strif), 1. quarreling; fighting. 2. a quarrel; fight. n.

strike (strikt), 1. hit; deal a blow to: strike a person in anger. 2. deal; give: strike a blow in self-defense. 3. make by stamping, printing, etc.: strike a medal. 4. number of coins made at one time. 5. set or be set on fire by hitting or rubbing: strike a match. 6. impress: The plan strikes me as silly. 7. sound: The clock strikes twelve times at noon. 8. affect deeply; influence; overcome (by death, disease, suffering, fear, etc.): They were struck with terror. 9. attack: The enemy will strike at dawn. 10. occur to: An amusing thought struck her. 11. find or come upon (ore, oil, water, etc.). 12. act or fact of finding rich ore in mining, oil in boring, etc.; sudden success. 13. stop work to get better pay, shorter hours, etc.: The coal miners struck. 14. a general quitting of work in order to force an employer or employers to agree to the workers' demands for higher wages, shorter hours, etc. 15. cross; rub: Strike out the last word. Strike his name off the list. 16. take away by a blow; take away: Strike off his head. 17. go: We struck into a gallop. We walked along the road a mile, then struck out across the fields. 18. assume: He struck an attitude. 19. enter or cause to enter; send or take root; fasten or be fastened: The roots of oaks strike deep. 20. get by figuring: Strike an average. 21. make; decide; enter upon: The employer and the workmen have struck an agreement. 22. lower or take down (a sail, flag, tent, etc.): The ship struck her flag as a sign of surrender. 23. make level; make level with the top edge of a measure. 24. a striking. 25. in baseball, failure of the batter to hit a pitched ball. 26. in bowling, an upsetting of all the pins with the first ball bowled. 27. the score so made. 28. take hold of the bait: The fish are striking well today. 29. a taking hold of the bait. 30. a metal piece in a doorjamb, into which the latch of a lock fits when the door closes. 1-3,5-11,13,15-23,28 v., struck, struck or strick en, strik ing; 4,12,14,24-27,29,30 n.

on strike, stopping work to get more pay, shorter hours, etc.

strike it rich, U.S. Informal. 1. find rich ore, oil, etc. 2. have a sudden or unexpected great success.

strike off, take off.

strike out, 1. cross out; rub out. 2. in baseball, fail to hit three times: The batter struck out. 3. in baseball, cause to fail to hit three times: The pitcher struck out six men. 4. use arms and legs to move forward. strike up, begin: strike up a friendship.

strike break er (strikt'brāk'ər), person who helps to break up a strike of workers by taking a striker's job or by furnishing persons who will do so. n.

strike break ing (strikt'brāk'ing), forceful measures taken to halt a strike. n.

striker (strikt'ər), 1. person or thing that strikes. 2. worker who is on strike. 3. in the United States Army, a soldier acting as an officer's servant. n.

striking (strikt'ing), 1. that strikes. 2. engaged in a strike. 3. attracting attention; very noticeable. adj.

striking ly (strikt'ing lē), in a way that attracts attention. adv.

string (string), 1. a thick thread; small word or wire; very thin rope. 2. such a thread with things on it: She wore a string of beads around her neck. 3. put on a string: string beads. 4. a special cord for musical instruments, bows, etc.: the strings of a violin. 5. furnish with strings: He had his tennis racket strung. 6. anything used for tying: apron strings. 7. tie with string; hang with a string or rope: We dry herbs by stringing them from the rafters in the barn. 8. make tight. 9. make tense or excited. A high-strung person is sensitive and nervous. 10. a cordlike part of plants. String beans have little strings in them. 11. remove strings from: String the beans. 12. form into a string or strings. 13. number of things in a line or row: A string of cars came down the street. 14. move in a line or series. 15. arrange in a line or a row. 16. Informal. condition; proviso: an offer with a string attached to it. 17. Slang. fool; hoax. 1,2,4,6,10,13,16 n., 3,5,7-9,11,12,14,15,17, v., strung, strung or (Rare) stringed, stringing. —string/less adj. —string/like, adj.

strings, violins, cellos, and other stringed instruments. have two strings to one's bow, have more than one way of doing or getting something.

pull strings, 1. direct the actions of others secretly. 2. use secret influence.

string out, U.S. Informal. prolong; stretch; extend: The program was strung out too long.

string up, Informal. hang: The horse thief was strung up on a tree.

string bean, 1. any of various bean plants, the unripe pod of which is used as a vegetable. 2. pod of any of these plants.

stringed instrument, a musical instrument having strings.

strin gen cy (strin'jən sē), 1. strictness; severity. 2. tightness; lack of ready money. 3. convincing force. n., pl. strin gen cies.

strin gent (strin'jənt), 1. strict; severe: stringent laws. 2. lacking ready money; tight: a stringent market for loans. 3. convincing; forcible: stringent arguments. adj. —strin/gent ly, adv.

string er (string'ər), 1. person or thing that strings. 2. a long horizontal timber in a building, bridge, or railroad track. n.

string halt (string'hôlt'), a diseased condition of horses that causes jerking of the hind legs in walking. n. Also, springhalt.

string piece (string'pēs'), a long, horizontal beam used to strengthen or connect parts of a framework. n.

string tie, a short, narrow necktie that is usually knotted into a bow.

string y (string'ē), 1. like a string or strings. 2. forming strings: a stringy syrup. 3. having tough fibers: stringy meat. adj., string ier, string iest. —string/i ness, n.

strip (strip), 1. make bare or naked; undress (a person, thing, etc.). 2. undress. 3. take off the covering of: The boy stripped the banana by taking off the skin. 4. take away: The boys stripped the fruit from the trees. 5. rob:

Man wearing a string tie

Thieves stripped the house of everything valuable. 6. tear off the teeth of (a gear, etc.). 7. break the thread of (a bolt, nut, etc.). 8. milk (a cow) thoroughly. v., stripped or (Rare) stript, strip ping. —strip/er, n. strip of, 1. take away from; deprive of. 2. rob of (money, possessions, etc.).

strip² (stript), 1. a long, narrow, flat piece (of cloth, paper, bark, etc.). 2. a long, narrow runway for airplanes to take off from and land on. n.

strip cropping, planting different crops in strips of equal width, running across the slopes instead of up and down.

stripe¹ (stript), 1. a long, narrow band of different color, material, etc.: A tiger has stripes. 2. mark with stripes. 3. sort; type: A man of quite a different stripe. 1,3 n., 2 v., striped, strip ing.

stripes, number or combination of stripes of braid on the sleeve of a uniform to show rank, length of service, etc.

stripe² (stript), a stroke or lash with a whip. n.

striped (stript or stript'id), having stripes; marked with stripes. adj.

strip ling (stript'ling), boy just coming into manhood; youth; lad. n.

strive (striv), 1. try hard; work hard: strive for self-control. 2. struggle; fight: The swimmer strove against the tide. v., strove or strived, striv en, striv ing.

striv en (striv'en), pp. of strive. She has striven hard to make the party a success. v.

strode (strōd), pt. of stride. He strode over the ditch. v.

stroke¹ (strōk), 1. act of striking; blow: The house was hit by a stroke of lightning. 2. sound made by striking: We arrived at the stroke of three. 3. piece of luck, fortune, etc.: a stroke of bad luck. 4. a single complete movement to be made again and again: He rowed with a strong stroke of the oars. He swims a fast stroke. 5. a throb or pulsing, as of the heart. 6. movement or mark made by a pen, pencil, brush, etc.: He writes with a heavy down stroke. 7. a vigorous attempt to attain some object: a bold stroke for freedom. 8. a feat or achievement: a stroke of genius. 9. an act, piece, or amount of work, etc.: a stroke of work. 10. a sudden attack (of disease): sunstroke, a stroke of paralysis. 11. attack of paralysis; apoplexy. 12. rower who sets the time for the other oarsmen. 13. be the stroke of: Who stroked the Yale crew? 1-12 n., 13 v., stroked, stroking. —strok/er, n.

keep stroke, make strokes at the same time.

stroke² (strōk), 1. move the hand gently over: She stroked the kitten. 2. a stroking movement: to brush away the crumbs with one stroke. 1 v., stroked, stroking; 2 n.

stroke oar, 1. oar nearest the stern of the boat. 2. rower that pulls the stroke oar. The stroke oar sets the time for the other oarsmen.

stroll (strōl), 1. take a quiet walk for pleasure; walk. 2. a leisurely walk. 3. go from place to place: strolling gypsies. 4. stroll along or through. 1,3,4 v., 2 n.

stroll er (strōl'er), 1. wanderer. 2. a strolling player or actor. 3. a kind of light baby carriage in which an older baby sits erect. n.

Strom bo li (strom'bōlē), an Italian island in the Mediterranean, just north of Sicily. It has an active volcano 3040 feet high. n.

strong (strōng), 1. having much force or power: a strong wind, strong muscles, a strong nation. 2. able to last, endure, resist, etc.: a strong fort. 3. not easily influenced, changed, etc.; firm: a strong will. 4. of great force or effectiveness: strong arguments. 5. having a certain number: A group that is 100 strong has 100 in it. 6. having much of the quality expected: a strong rope, a strong acid, strong tea. 7. containing much alcohol: a strong drink. 8. having much flavor or odor: strong seasoning. 9. having an unpleasant taste or smell: strong butter. 10. intense: a strong light. 11. vigorous; forceful: a strong speech. 12. hearty; zealous: a strong dislike.

13. with force; powerfully; vigorously; in a strong manner. 14. in grammar, inflecting by a vowel change within the stem of the word rather than by adding endings. Examples: find, found; give, gave. 1-12,14 adj., 13 adv. —strong/ly, adv.

strong-arm (strōng'ārm'), Informal. 1. using force or violence. 2. use force or violence on. 1 adj., 2 v.

strong box (strōng'boks'), a strongly made box to hold valuable things. n.

strong drink, drink containing much alcohol.

strong hold (strōng'hōld'), a strong place; safe place; fort; fortress. n.

strong-mind ed (strōng'mīn'did), 1. having a strong mind; mentally vigorous. 2. of women, having or affecting masculine mentality or rights. adj. —strong-mind/ed ness, n.

stron ti um (stron'shē am or stron'tē am), a yellowish metallic element resembling calcium. Symbol: Sr n.

strontium 90, a radioactive isotope of strontium, produced especially by the explosion of a hydrogen bomb, that produces cancer of the bone if absorbed in sufficient quantity by humans; radio strontium.

strop (strop), 1. a leather strap used for sharpening razors. 2. sharpen on a strop. 1 n., 2 v., stropped, strop ping.

stro phe (strō'fē), 1. the part of an ancient Greek ode sung by the chorus when moving from right to left. 2. group of lines of poetry; stanza. n.

strove (strōv), pt. of strive. v.

strow (strō), Archaic. strew. v., strowed, strown or strowed, strow ing.

strown (strōn), Archaic. a pp. of strow. v.

struck (struk), 1. pt. and pp. of strike. 2. closed or affected by a strike of workers. 1 v., 2 adj.

struc tur al (struk'chər əl), 1. used in building. Structural steel is steel made into beams, girders, etc. 2. of or having to do with structure or structures: The geologist showed the structural difference in rocks of different ages. adj.

struc tur al ly (struk'chər əl ē), with regard to structure: The new church is structurally perfect, but it is not beautiful. adv.

struc ture (struk'chər), 1. building; something built. 2. anything composed of parts arranged together: The human body is a wonderful structure. 3. manner of building; way parts are put together; construction: The structure of the schoolhouse was excellent. 4. arrangement of parts, elements, etc.: the structure of a molecule, the structure of a flower. n.

stru del (strū'dl; German shtrū'dl), a pastry, usually filled with fruit or cheese, and covered by a very thin dough. n.

strug gle (strug'l), 1. make great efforts with the body; try hard; work hard against difficulties: The poor have to struggle for a living. 2. get, move, or make one's way with great effort: The old man struggled to his feet. 3. great effort; hard work. 4. fighting; conflict. 1,2 v., strug gled, strug gling; 3,4 n. —strug/gler, n.

strum (strum), 1. play on (a stringed musical instrument) unskillfully or carelessly: strum a guitar, strum on the piano. 2. act of strumming. 3. sound of strumming. 1 v., strummed, strum ming; 2,3 n. —strum/mer, n.

strum pet (strum'pit), prostitute. n.

strung (strung), pt. and pp. of string. The children strung along after the teacher. The vines were strung on poles. v.

strut¹ (strut), 1. walk in a vain, important manner: The rooster struts about the barnyard. 2. a strutting walk. 1 v., strut t-d, strut ting; 2 n. —strut/ter, n.

strut² (strut), a supporting piece; brace. n.

strych nine or strych nin (stri'k-nin), a poisonous drug consisting of colorless crystals obtained from nux vomica and related plants. It is used in medicine in small doses as a tonic. n.

STRUT

St. Thomas, one of the Virgin Islands in the West Indies. It belongs to the United States. 16,000 pop.; 32 sq. mi.

Stuart (stū'art or stū'art), 1. the royal family that ruled Scotland from 1371 to 1603 and England and Scotland from 1603 to 1714. 2. Gilbert, 1755-1828, American portrait painter. 3. James E., 1833-1864, Confederate general. 4. Mary. See Mary, Queen of Scots. n.

stub (stub), 1. a short piece that is left: the stub of a pencil. 2. the short piece of each leaf in a checkbook, etc., kept as a record. 3. something short and blunt; short, thick piece or part. 4. pen having a short, blunt point. 5. stump of a tree, a broken tooth, etc. 6. Esp. U.S. strike (one's toe) against something. 7. clear (land) of tree stumps. 8. dig up by the roots. 1-5 n., 6-8 v., stubbied, stubby.

stubble (stub'l), 1. the lower ends of stalks of grain left in the ground after the grain is cut. 2. any short, rough growth: He had three days' stubble on his unshaven face. n.

stubby (stub'bly), 1. covered with stubble. 2. resembling stubble; bristly: a stubby mustache. adj.

stubborn (stub'ərn), 1. fixed in purpose or opinion; not giving in to argument or requests. 2. hard to deal with or manage: Facts are stubborn things. adj. —stubbornly, adv. —stubbornness, n.

stubby (stub'bly), 1. short and thick: stubby fingers. 2. short, thick, and stiff: a stubby beard. 3. having many stubs or stumps. adj., stubby, stubby. —stubbyness, n.

stucco (stuk'ō), 1. plaster for covering the outer walls of buildings. 2. cover with stucco. 1 n., pl. stuccoes, stuccos; 2 v., stuccoed, stuccoing.

stucco work (stuk'ō wərk'), work done in stucco. n.

stuck (stuk), pt. and pp. of stick. She stuck out her tongue. We were stuck in the mud. v.

stuck-up (stuk'up'), Informal. too proud; conceited; vain; haughty. adj.

stud (stud), 1. nailhead, knob, etc., sticking out from a surface: The belt was ornamented with silver studs. 2. set with studs or something like studs: He plans to stud the sword hilt with jewels. 3. be set or scattered over: Little islands stud the harbor. 4. set like studs; scatter at intervals: Shocks of corn were studded over the field. 5. a kind of small button used in men's shirts. 6. post to which boards are nailed in making walls in houses. 7. provide with studs. 8. a projecting pin on a machine. 9. crosspiece put in each link of a chain cable to strengthen it. 1,5,6,8,9 n., 2-4,7 v., studded, studding.

stud (stud), 1. collection of horses kept for breeding, hunting, racing, etc. 2. place where such a collection is kept. 3. U.S. stallion. n.

stud (stud), 1. studs of a wall collectively. 2. lumber for such studs. n.

student (stüd'nt or stüd'nt), 1. person who studies. 2. person who is studying in a school, college, or university. n.

studied (stud'ēd), carefully planned; done on purpose; resulting from deliberate effort: What Lulu said to me was a studied insult. adj. —studiedly, adv. —studiedness, n.

studio (stü'dēō or stū'dēō), 1. workroom of a painter, sculptor, photographer, etc. 2. place where motion pictures are made. 3. place where a radio or television program is given. n., pl. studios.

studious (stü'dēəs or stū'dēəs), 1. fond of study. 2. showing careful consideration; careful; thoughtful; zealous: She is always studious of her mother's comfort. He made a studious effort to please customers. adj. —studiously, adv. —studiousness, n.

study (stud'y), 1. effort to learn by reading or thinking. 2. try to learn: Helen studied her spelling lesson for half an hour. Joseph is studying to be a doctor. 3. a careful examination; investigation. 4. examine carefully: We studied the map to find the shortest road home. 5. subject that is studied; branch of learning; thing investigated or to be investigated. 6. a room for study, reading, writing, etc.: The minister was reading in his study. 7. work of literature or art that deals in careful detail with one particular subject. 8. sketch for a picture, story, etc. 9. piece of music for practice or testing. 10. consider with care; think (out); plan: The prisoner studied ways to escape. 11. give care and thought to; try hard: The grocer studies to please his customers. 12. earnest effort, or the object of endeavor or effort: Her constant study is to please her parents. 13. deep thought; reverie: be in a brown study. 1,3,5-9,12,13 n., pl. studies; 2,4,10,11 v., studied, studying.

stuff (stuf), 1. what a thing is made of; material: She bought some white stuff for curtains. 2. a woolen fabric. 3. thing or things; substance: The doctor rubbed some kind of stuff on the burn. 4. goods; belongings: He was told to move his stuff out of the room. 5. worthless material; useless things: Their attic is full of old stuff. 6. silly words and thoughts; nonsense. 7. inward qualities; character: That boy has good stuff in him. 8. pack full; fill: To stuff a ballot box means to put in more votes than there are rightful voters. She stuffed the pillow with feathers. 9. stop (up); block; choke (up). 10. fill the skin of (a dead animal) to make it look as it did when alive. 11. fill (a chicken, turkey, etc.) with seasoned bread crumbs, etc. 12. force; push; thrust: He stuffed his clothes into the drawer. 13. eat too much. 1-7 n., 8-13 v.

stuffed shirt, U.S. Slang. person who seems to be more important than he really is.

stuffing (stuf'ing), 1. material used to fill or pack something. 2. seasoned bread crumbs, etc., used to stuff a chicken, turkey, etc., before cooking. n.

stuffy (stuf'y), 1. lacking fresh air: a stuffy room. 2. lacking freshness or interest; dull: a stuffy conversation. 3. stopped up: A cold makes one's head feel stuffy. 4. Informal. easily shocked or offended; prim. 5. U.S. Informal. angry; sulky. adj., stuffy, stuffy. —stuffyly, adv. —stuffyness, n.

stultification (stul'tə fə kə'shən), a stultifying or being stultified. n.

stultify (stul'tə fī), 1. cause to appear foolish or absurd; reduce to foolishness or absurdity. 2. make futile. v., stultified, stultifying.

stumble (stum'bl), 1. trip by striking the foot against something. 2. cause to stumble. 3. walk unsteadily: The tired old man stumbled along. 4. speak, act, etc., in a clumsy or hesitating way: The boy made many blunders as he stumbled through his recitation. 5. make a mistake; do wrong. 6. a wrong act; mistake. 7. come by accident or chance: While in the country, she stumbled upon some fine antiques. 8. a stumbling. 1-5,7 v., stumbled, stumbling; 6,8 n. —stumbler, n. —stumblingly, adv.

stumbling block, 1. obstacle; hindrance. 2. something that makes a person stumble.

stump (stump), 1. the lower end of a tree or plant, left after the main part is cut off. 2. U.S. remove stumps from (land). 3. anything left after the main or important part is removed: The dog wagged his stump of a tail. 4. reduce to a stump; cut off. 5. person with a short, thick build. 6. place where a political speech is made. 7. make political speeches in: The candidates for governor will stump the State. 8. walk in a stiff, clumsy way: The lame man stumped along. 9. a heavy step. 10. sound made by stiff walking or heavy steps. 11. a wooden leg. 12. Slang. leg. 13. U.S. Informal. make unable to answer, do, etc. 14. U.S. Informal. a dare; challenge. 15. a tight roll of paper, or other material, pointed at the ends and used to soften pencil marks in drawing. 16. one of the three upright sticks of a cricket wicket. 1,3,5,6,9-12,14-16 n., 2,4,7,8,13 v. —stumplike, adj. up a stump, U.S. Informal. unable to act, answer, etc.; impotent; baffled.

stump speaker, person who makes political speeches from a platform, etc.

stump speech, a political speech.

stump y (stump'ē), 1. short and thick. 2. having many stumps. adj., stump i er, stump i est. —stump-i-ly, adv. —stump-i-ness, n.

stun (stun), 1. make senseless; knock unconscious: He was stunned by the fall. 2. daze; bewilder; shock; overwhelm: She was stunned by the news of her friend's death. v., stunned, stun ning.

stung (stung), pt. and pp. of sting. A wasp stung Dave. He was stung on the neck. v.

stunk (stunk), a pt. and pp. of stink. v.

stun ner (stun'ər), 1. person, thing, or blow that stuns. 2. Informal. a very striking or attractive person or thing. n.

stun ning (stun'ing), 1. Informal. having striking excellence, beauty, etc.; very attractive; good-looking; pretty. 2. that stuns or dazes; bewildering. adj. —stun'ning ly, adv.

stunt¹ (stunt), 1. check in growth or development: Lack of proper food stunts a child. 2. a stunting. 1 v., 2 n.

stunt² (stunt), Informal. 1. feat to attract attention; act showing boldness or skill: Circus riders perform stunts on horseback. 2. perform stunts. 3. perform stunts with. 1 n., 2, 3 v.

stu pe fac tion (stū'pə fak'shən or stū'pə fak'shən), 1. dazed or senseless condition; stupor. 2. overwhelming amazement. n.

stu pe fy (stū'pə fī or stū'pə fī), 1. make stupid, dull, or senseless. 2. overwhelm with amazement; astound: They were stupefied by the calamity. v., stu pe fied, stu pe fy ing. —stu'pe fī'er, n.

stu pen dous (stū pen'dəs or stū pen'dəs), amazing; marvelous; immense: Niagara Falls is a stupendous sight. adj. —stu pen'dous ly, adv. —stu pen'dous-ness, n.

stu pid (stū'pid or stū'pid), 1. not intelligent; dull: a stupid person. 2. not interesting: a stupid book. 3. dazed; senseless. 4. Informal. a stupid person. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —stu'pid ly, adv. —stu'pid ness, n.

stu pid i ty (stū pid'ə tē or stū pid'ə tē), 1. dullness; lack of intelligence. 2. a foolish act, idea, etc. n., pl. stu pid i ties.

stu por (stū'pər or stū'pər), 1. a dazed condition; loss or lessening of the power to feel: The man lay in a stupor, unable to tell what had happened to him. 2. intellectual or moral numbness. n.

stur dy (stēr'dē), 1. strong; stout: sturdy legs. 2. not yielding; firm: sturdy resistance, sturdy defenders. adj., stur di er, stur di est. —stur'di ly, adv. —stur'di-ness, n.

stur geon (stēr'jən), a large food fish whose long body has a tough skin with rows of bony plates. Caviar and isinglass are obtained from sturgeons. n., pl. stur geons or (esp. collectively) stur geon.

stur ter (stut'ər), 1. repeat (the same sound) in an effort to speak. Example: C-c-c-c-can't th-th-th-they c-c-c-c-come? 2. act or habit of stuttering. 1 v., 2 n. —stur'ter er, n. —stur'ter ing ly, adv.

Stutt gart (stut'gärt or shüt'gärt), city in West Germany. 628,000. n.

Stuy ve sant (stī'və snt), Peter, 1592-1672, Dutch governor of the colony of New Netherland from 1646 to 1664. n.

St. Vin cent (sānt vin'sənt), one of the Windward Islands in the West Indies. 80,000 pop.; 150 sq. mi. Capital: Kingstown.

St. Vi tus dance (sānt vī'təs), St. Vitus's dance. St. Vi tus's dance (sānt vī'təs iz), a nervous disease, which usually affects children, characterized by involuntary twitching of the muscles. It is often called chorea.

sty¹ (stī), 1. pen for pigs. 2. any filthy place. n., pl. sties.

sty² (stī), a small, inflamed swelling on the edge of the eyelid. A sty is like a small boil. n., pl. sties.

Styg i an (stij'ē ən), 1. having to do with the river Styx or the lower world. 2. dark; gloomy. adj.

style (stīl), 1. fashion: dress in the latest styles. 2. manner; method; way: the Gothic style of architecture. 3. way of writing or speaking. 4. good style: She dresses in style. 5. literary or artistic excellence. 6. name; call: Joan of Arc was styled "the Maid of Orléans." 7. an official name; title: Salute him with the style of King. 8. a pointed instrument for writing on wax; stylus. 9. something like this in shape or use. 10. pointer on a dial, chart, etc. 11. the stemlike part of the pistil of a flower containing the stigma at its top. 1-5, 7-11 n., 6 v., styled, styl ing.

Style (def. 11)

style book (stīl'būk'), 1. book containing rules of punctuation, capitalization, etc., used by printers. 2. book showing fashions in dress, etc. n.

styl ish (stīl'ish), having style; fashionable. adj. —styl'ish ly, adv. —styl'ish ness, n.

styl ist (stīl'ist), 1. writer or speaker who has a good literary style; person who takes much pains with his style; writer or speaker with reference to his style. 2. person who designs or advises concerning interior decorations, clothes, etc. n.

styl is tic (stī lis'tik), of or having to do with style. adj.

styl is ti cal ly (stī lis'tik lē), as regards style; in matters of style. adv.

styl ize (stīl'iz), conform to a particular or to a conventional style. v., styl ized, styl iz ing.

styl us (stī'ləs), 1. a style or pointed instrument for writing on wax. 2. a needlelike point used in making or playing phonograph records. n.

Writing with a stylus on a wax tablet sty mie (stī'mē), block completely. v., sty mied, sty mie ing.

styp tic (stīp'tik), 1. able to stop or check bleeding; astringent. 2. something that stops or checks bleeding by contracting the tissue. Alum is a common styptic. 1 adj., 2 n.

styptic pencil, a small stick of alum or other styptic substance, used on slight wounds to stop bleeding.

sty rene (stī'rēn or stī'rēn), an aromatic liquid used in making synthetic rubber. n.

Styx (stiks), in Greek mythology, a river in the lower world. The souls of the dead were ferried across it into Hades. n.

sua sion (swā'zhən), an advising or urging; persuasion. n.

sua sive (swā'siv), advising or urging; persuasive. adj.

suave (swäv), smoothly agreeable or polite. adj. —suave'ly, adv. —suave'ness, n.

sua vi ty (swä'və tē), smoothly agreeable quality of behavior; blandness; smooth politeness. n., pl. sua vi ties.

sub (sub), 1. substitute. 2. submarine. 3. subordinate. 4. act as a substitute. 1-3 n., adj., 4 v., subbed, sub bing.

sub-, prefix meaning:

1. under; below, as in subway, submarine.
2. down; further; again, as in subdivide, sublease.
3. near; nearly, as in subarctic.
4. lower; subordinate; assistant, as in subaltern.
5. of less importance, as in subhead.
6. resulting from further division, as in subatom.

7. in a comparatively small degree or proportion; somewhat, as in subacid. Also: suc-, before c; suf-, before f; sug-, before g; sum-, in some cases before m; sup-, before p; sur-, before r; sus-, in some cases before c, p, t.
sub., 1. substitute. 2. subscription. 3. suburban. subacid (sub as'id), slightly acid: Oranges are a subacid fruit. adj.
subagent (sub ā'jənt), person employed as the agent of an agent. n.
subaltern (sə bōl'tərn), 1. Esp. Brit. a commissioned officer in the army, ranking below a captain. 2. Esp. Brit. ranking below a captain. 3. having lower rank; subordinate. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.
subarctic (sub ārk'tik or sub ār'tik), near, or just below, the arctic region; having to do with or occurring in regions just south of the Arctic Circle. adj.
subarid (sub ar'id), moderately arid. adj.
subatom (sub at'əm), any constituent of an atom. Protons and electrons are subatoms. n.
subatomic (sub'ə tom'ik), having to do with, or concerning, subatoms. adj.
subcellar (sub'sel'ər), cellar beneath another cellar. n.
subcommittee (sub'kə mit'ē), a small committee chosen from a larger general committee for some special duty. n.
subconscious (sub kon'shəs), 1. not wholly conscious; existing but not felt: Her sore tooth caused a subconscious irritation in Alice that made her cross. 2. thoughts, feelings, etc., that are present in the mind but not fully perceived or recognized. 1 adj., 2 n. —subconsciously, adv.
subconsciousness (sub kon'shəs nis), 1. quality of being subconscious. 2. the subconscious. n.
subcontract (sub kon'trakt for 1; sub kon'trakt or sub'kən trakt' for 2), 1. contract under a previous contract; contract for carrying out a previous contract or a part of it: The contractor for the new school building gave out subcontracts to a plumber, a steam filter, etc. 2. make a subcontract; make a subcontract for. 1 n., 2 v.
subcontractor (sub kon'trak tər or sub'kən trakt'tər), person who contracts for carrying out a previous contract or part of it. n.
subdeacon (sub dē'kən), member of the clergy next below a deacon in rank. n.
subdeb (sub'deb'), Informal. a young girl soon to make her debut in society. n.
subdivide (sub'də vid' or sub'də vid'), divide again; divide into smaller parts: A real estate dealer bought the farm and subdivided it into building lots. v., subdivided, subdividing.
subdivision (sub'də vīzh'ən or sub'də vīzh'ən), 1. division into smaller parts. 2. part of a part. 3. tract of land divided into building lots. n.
subdue (səb dū' or səb dū'), 1. conquer; overcome: The Spaniards subdued the Indian tribes in Mexico. We subdued a desire to laugh. 2. tone down; soften: Pulling down the shades subdued the light in the room. v., subdued, subduing. —subduable, adj. —subduer, n.
subgroup (sub'grüp'), a subordinate group; division of a group. n.
subhead (sub'hed'), 1. a subordinate head or title. 2. a subordinate division of a head or title. n.
subheading (sub'hed'ing), subhead. n.
subhuman (sub hū'mən), 1. below the human race or type; less than human. 2. almost human. adj.
subj., 1. subject. 2. subjective. 3. subjectively. 4. subjunctive. subject (sub'jikt for 1-3, 6-10; səbjekt' for 4, 5), 1. something thought about, discussed, studied, etc.: He tried to change the subject. Juvenile delinquency is a broad subject. 2. person under the power, control, or influence of another: The people are the subjects of the king. 3. under some power or influence: the subject nations of an empire. 4. bring under some power or influence: Rome subjected all Italy to her rule. 5. cause to undergo or experience something: The savages subjected their cap- tives to torture. 6. person or thing that undergoes or experiences something. 7. word or words that perform or, when the verb is passive, receive the action of the verb. In "I see" and "I am seen," I is the subject of the verb. 8. theme or melody on which a musical work or movement is based. 9. substance of anything opposed to its qualities. 10. mind or self opposed to everything outside the mind. 1, 2, 6-10 n., 3 adj., 4, 5 v.

subject to, 1. under the power or influence of: We are subject to our country's laws. 2. likely to have. 3. depending on; on the condition of.
subjection (səb jek'shən), 1. a bringing under some power or influence; conquering: The subjection of the rebels took years. 2. condition of being under some power or influence: Women used to live in subjection to men. n.
subjective (səb jek'tiv), 1. existing in the mind; belonging to the person thinking rather than to the object thought of: Base your subjective opinions on objective facts. 2. about the thoughts and feelings of the speaker, writer, painter, etc.; personal: a subjective poem. adj. —subjectively, adv. —subjectiveness, n.
subjectivity (səb jek tiv'ə tē), subjective quality; existence in the mind only; absorption in one's own mental states or processes; tendency to view things through the medium of one's own individuality. n.
subject matter, 1. something thought about, discussed, studied, written about, etc. 2. meaning of a talk, book, etc., as distinguished from its form or style.
subjoin (səb join'), 1. add at the end; append. 2. place in immediate sequence to something else. v. subjugate (sub'jə gāt), subdue; conquer. v., subjugated, subjugating. —subjugator, n.
subjugation (sub'jə gā'shən), conquest; subjection. n.
subjunctive (səb jungk'tiv), 1. the mood of a verb which expresses a state, act, or event as possible, conditional, or dependent, rather than actual. 2. noting or having to do with this mood. 3. verb in this mood. 1, 3 n., 2 adj.
subkingdom (sub king'dəm or sub'king'dəm), any primary division of the animal or plant kingdom, usually called a phylum. n.
sublease (sub'lēs' for 1; sub'lēs' or sub'lēs' for 2), 1. lease granted by a person who rents the property himself. 2. grant or take a sublease of. 1 n., 2 v., subleased, subleasing.
sublet (sub let' or sub'let'), 1. rent to another (something which has been rented to oneself): We sublet our house for the summer. 2. give part of (a contract) to another: The contractor for the whole building sublet the contract for the plumbing. v., sublet, subletting.
sublieutenant (sub'lū ten'ənt), 1. a subordinate lieutenant. 2. in the British army, an officer ranking next below a lieutenant. n. sublimate (sub'lə māt for 1-3; sub'lə mit or sub'lə māt for 4, 5), 1. purify; refine. 2. change (an undesirable impulse or trait) into a desirable activity. 3. sublime (a solid substance). 4. sublimated. 5. material obtained when a substance is sublimed. Bichloride of mercury is a very poisonous sublimate. 1-3 v., sublimated, sublimating; 4 adj., 5 n.
sublimation (sub'lə mā'shən), 1. purification; act or process of sublimating or subliming. 2. the resulting product or state. n.
sublime (səb līm'), 1. lofty; noble; majestic; exalted: Mountain scenery is often sublime. 2. that which is lofty, noble, exalted, etc. 3. heat (a solid substance) and condense the vapor given off; purify; refine. 4. pass off as a vapor and condense as a solid; become purified or refined. 1 adj., 2 n., 3, 4 v., sublimed, subliming.
sublimity (səb līm'ə tē), 1. lofty excellence; grandeur; majesty; exalted state. 2. something sublime; sublime person or thing. n., pl. sublimities.
submachine gun (sub'mə shēn'), a lightweight automatic or semiautomatic gun, designed to be fired from the shoulder or hip.

sub margin al (sub mār'jə nl), 1. near the margin. 2. below the margin. 3. of land, etc., not productive enough to be worth cultivating, developing, etc. adj.
sub ma rine (sub'mə rēn' for 1,2; sub'mə rēn' for 3), 1. boat that can operate under water, used in warfare for discharging torpedoes, etc. 2. attack or sink by a submarine. 3. placed, growing, or used below the surface of the sea: submarine plants. 1 n., 2 v., sub- ma rined, sub ma rin ing; 3 adj.

sub max il ar y (sub mak'sə lər'ē), 1. the lower jawbone. 2. of or having to do with the lower jaw or lower jawbone. 3. a salivary gland situated beneath the lower jaw on either side. 4. having to do with the submaxillary gland. 1,3 n., pl. sub max il lar ies; 2,4 adj.

submaxillary gland, either of a pair of salivary glands beneath the lower jaw.

sub merge (səb mērij'), 1. put under water; cover with water: land submerged by a flood. 2. cover; bury: His talent was submerged by his shyness. 3. sink under water; go below the surface: The submarine submerged. 4. sink out of sight. v., sub merged, sub merg ing.

sub mer gence (səb mēr'jəns), a submerging or being submerged. n.

sub mer se (səb mērs'), submerge. v., sub mersed, sub mers ing.

sub mers i ble (səb mēr'sə bl), 1. that can be submerged. 2. submarine. 1 adj., 2 n.

sub mer sion (səb mēr'zhən), a submerging or being submerged. n.

sub mis sion (səb mish'ən), 1. a submitting; yielding to the power, control, or authority of another: The defeated general showed his submission by giving up his sword. 2. obedience; humbleness: The slave bowed in submission to his master's order. 3. a referring or being referred to the consideration or judgment of another or others. n.

sub mis sive (səb mis'iv), yielding to the power, control, or authority of another; obedient; humble. adj.
—sub mis'sive ly, adv. —sub mis'sive ness, n.

sub mit (səb mit'), 1. yield to the power, control, or authority of another or others; surrender; yield: The thief submitted to arrest by the police. 2. refer to the consideration or judgment of another or others: The secretary submitted a report of the last meeting. 3. represent or urge respectfully. v., sub mit ted, sub mit ting.

sub nor mal (sub nōr'ml), below normal; inferior to the normal. adj.

sub or di nate (sə bōr'də nit for 1-4,6; sə bōr'də nāt for 5), 1. inferior in rank: in the army, lieutenants are subordinate to captains. 2. inferior in importance; secondary: An errand boy has a subordinate position. 3. under the control or influence of something else; dependent. A complex sentence has one main clause and one or more subordinate clauses. 4. a subordinate person or thing. 5. make subordinate: A polite host subordinates his wishes to those of his guests. 6. subordinating. Because, since, if, as, and whether are subordinate conjunctions. 1-3,6 adj., 4 n., 5 v., sub or di nat ed, sub or di nat ing.

sub or di na tion (sə bōr'də nā'shən), 1. a subordinating or being subordinated. 2. subordinate position or importance. 3. submission to authority; willingness to obey; obedience. n.

sub orn (sə bōrn'), 1. get by bribery or other unlawful means. 2. persuade or cause (a witness) to give false testimony in court. 3. persuade or cause (a person) to do an evil deed. v.

sub or na tion (sub'ōr nā'shən), a suborning or being suborned. n.

subornation of perjury, crime of persuading or causing a witness to give false testimony in court.

sub poe na or sub pe na (sə pē'nə), 1. an official written order commanding a person to appear in law court. 2. summon with a subpoena. 1 n., 2 v., sub-poe naed, sub poe na ing; sub pe naed, sub pe na ing.
sub ro sa (sub rō'zə), in strict confidence; privately.

sub scribe (səb skrib'), 1. promise to give or pay (a sum of money): He subscribed $5 to the hospital fund. 2. write (one's name) at the end of a document, etc.; sign one's name: John Hancock was the first man to subscribe to the Declaration of Independence. 3. write one's name at the end of; show one's consent or approval by signing: Thousands of citizens subscribed the petition. 4. give one's consent or approval; agree: He will not subscribe to anything unfair. v., sub scribed, sub scrib ing.
—sub scrib'er, n.

subscribe to or for, promise to take and pay for: subscribe to a magazine.

sub script (sub'skript), 1. written underneath or low on the line. 2. number, letter, etc., written underneath and to one side of a symbol. In H₂SO₄ the 2 and 4 are subscripts. 1 adj., 2 n.

sub scrip tion (sub skrip'shən), 1. a subscribing. 2. money subscribed; contribution: His subscription to the Fresh Air Fund was $5. 3. the right obtained for the money: His subscription to the newspaper expires next week. 4. sum of money raised by a number of persons: We are raising a subscription for a new hospital. 5. something written at the end of a thing; signature. n.

sub sec tion (sub'sek'shən), part of a section. n.

sub se quence (sub'sə kwəns), 1. fact or condition of being subsequent. 2. a subsequent event or circumstance. n.

sub se quent (sub'sə kwənt), coming after; following; later: subsequent events. adj.

subsequent to, after; following; later than: on the day subsequent to your call.

sub se quent ly (sub'sə kwənt lē), afterward; later. adv.

subsequently to, after; following; later than.

sub serve (səb sērv'), be of use or service in helping along (a purpose, action, etc.): Chewing food well subserves digestion. v., sub served, sub serv ing.

sub ser vi ence (səb sēr'vē əns), 1. tame submission; slavish politeness and obedience; servility. 2. being of use or service. n.

sub ser vi en cy (səb sēr'vē ən sē), subservience. n.

sub ser vi ent (səb sēr'vē ənt), 1. tamely submissive; slavishly polite and obedient; servile. 2. useful as a means to help a purpose or end; serviceable. adj.
—sub ser'vi ent ly, adv.

sub side (səb sid'), 1. sink to a lower level: After the rain stopped, the flood waters subsided. 2. grow less; die down; become less active; abate; ebb: The storm finally subsided. 3. fall to the bottom; settle. v., sub sid ed, sub sid ing.

sub sid ence (səb sīd'əns or sub'sə dəns), act or process of subsiding. n.

sub sid i ar y (səb sīd'ē er'ē), 1. useful to assist or supplement; auxiliary; supplementary. 2. subordinate; secondary. 3. thing or person that assists or supplements. 4. company having over half of its stock owned or controlled by another company: The bus line was a subsidiary of the railroad. 5. maintained by a subsidy. 1,2,5 adj., 3,4 n., pl. sub sid i ar ies.

sub si dize (sub'sə diz'), 1. aid or assist with a grant of money: The government subsidizes steamship and air lines that carry mail. 2. buy the aid or assistance of with a grant of money. 3. bribe. v., sub si dized, sub si diz ing.
—sub'si diz'er, n.

sub si dy (sub/sə dē), grant or contribution of money, especially one made by a government. n., pl. sub si dies.

sub sist (səb sist/), 1. continue to be; exist: Many superstitions still subsist. 2. keep alive; live: People in the far north subsist on fish and meat. 3. provide for; feed; support. v.

sub sist ence (səb sis/təns), 1. existence; continuance. 2. state or fact of keeping alive; living: Selling papers was the cripple's only means of subsistence. 3. means of keeping alive; livelihood: The sea provides a subsistence for fishermen. n.

sub soil (sub/soil/), layer of earth that lies just under the surface soil. n.

sub son ic (sub son/ik), having to do with or designed for use at a speed less than that of sound. adj.

sub stance (sub/stəns), 1. what a thing consists of; matter; material: Ice and water are the same substance in different forms. 2. the real, main, or important part of anything: The substance of an education is its effect on your life, not just learning lessons. 3. the real meaning: Give the substance of the speech in your own words. 4. solid quality; body: Pea soup has more substance than water. 5. wealth; property. 6. a particular kind of matter: The little pond is covered with a green substance. n.

in substance, 1. essentially; mainly. 2. really; actually.

sub stand ard (sub stan/dərd), below standard. adj.

sub stan tial (səb stan/shəl), 1. real; actual: People and things are substantial; dreams and ghosts are not. 2. large; important; ample: John has made a substantial improvement in health. 3. strong; firm; solid: The house is substantial enough to last a hundred years. 4. in the main; in essentials: The stories told by the two boys were in substantial agreement. 5. well-to-do; wealthy. adj.

sub stan ti al i ty (səb stan/shē əl'ə tē), 1. real existence. 2. solidity; firmness. 3. real worth or value. n., pl. sub stan ti al i ties.

sub stan tial ly (səb stan/shəl ē), 1. essentially; mainly: This report is substantially correct. 2. really; actually. 3. strongly; solidly. adv.

sub stan ti ate (səb stan/shē āt), 1. establish by evidence; prove: substantiate a rumor, a claim, a theory, etc. 2. give concrete or substantial form to. v., sub stan ti at ed, sub stan ti at ing.

sub stan ti a tion (səb stan/shē ā/shən), a substantiating or being substantiated; embodiment; proof. n.

sub stan ti val (sub/stən tī/vl), of, having to do with, or consisting of a substantive or substantives. adj.

sub stan tive (sub/stən tiv), 1. noun or pronoun; the name of a person or thing; adjective, phrase, or clause used as a noun. 2. used as a noun. 3. showing or expressing existence. The verb to be is the substantive verb. 4. independent. 5. real; actual. 1 n., 2-5 adj.

sub stan tive ly (sub/stən tīv lē), 1. independently. 2. actually; in substance; in effect. 3. as a substantive. adv.

sub sta tion (sub/stā/shən), a branch station; subordinate station: Besides the main post office in our city, there are six substations. n.

sub sti tute (sub/stə tūt or sub/stə tūt), 1. thing used instead of another; person taking the place of another: A substitute taught us at school today. 2. put in the place of another: We substituted brown sugar for molasses in these cookies. 3. take the place of another: She substituted for Miss Brown, who is ill. 4. put in or taking the place of another. 1 n., 2,3 v., sub sti tut ed, sub sti tut ing; 4 adj.

sub sti tu tion (sub/stə tūt/shən or sub/stə tūt/shən), use of one thing for another; putting (one person or thing) in the place of another; taking the place of another. n.

sub sti tu tion al (sub/stə tūt/shən l or sub/stə tūt/shən l), 1. having to do with or characterized by substitution. 2. acting or serving as a substitute. adj.

sub stra ta (sub sūr'ə or sub strat'ə), a pl. of sub stratum. n.

sub stra tum (sub strā'təm or sub strat'əm), 1. layer lying under another. 2. layer of earth lying just under the surface soil; subsoil. 3. basis; foundation: The story has a substratum of truth. n., pl. sub stra ta or sub stratums.

sub struc ture (sub/struk'chər), structure forming a foundation. n.

sub ten an cy (sub ten'an sē), status, right, or holding of a subtenant. n., pl. sub ten an cies.

sub ten ant (sub ten'ənt or sub/ten'ənt), a tenant of a tenant; one who rents land, a house, or the like, from a tenant. n.

sub tend (səb tend/), extend under; stretch across. The chord of an arc subtends the arc. v.

sub ter fuge (sub/tər fūj), trick, excuse, or expedient used to escape something unpleasant: The girl's headache was only a subterfuge to avoid taking the examination. n.

sub ter ra ne an (sub/tə rā'nē ən), 1. underground: A subterranean passage led from the castle to a cave. 2. carried on secretly; hidden. adj.

sub ter ra ne ous (sub/tə rā'nē əs), underground. adj.

sub tile (sut'l or sub'tl), subtle. adj. —sub'tile-ly, adv.

sub til i ty (sub til'ə tē), subtlety. n., pl. sub til i ties.

sub til ty (sut'l tē or sub'tl tē), subtlety. n., pl. sub til ties.

sub ti tle (sub'tī tl), an additional or subordinate title of a book or article. n.

sub tle (sut'l), 1. delicate; thin; fine: a subtle odor of perfume. 2. faint; mysterious: a subtle smile. 3. having a keen, quick mind; discerning; acute: She is a subtle observer of slight differences in things. 4. sly; crafty; tricky: a subtle scheme to get some money. 5. skillful; clever; expert. adj. —sub'tle ness, n.

sub tle ty (sut'l tē), 1. subtle quality. 2. something subtle. n., pl. sub tle ties.

sub tly (sut'lē), in a subtle manner; with subtlety. adv.

sub tract (səb trakt/), 1. take away: Subtract 2 from 10 and you have 8. 2. take away (something) from a whole. v. —sub tract'er, n.

sub trac tion (səb trak/shən), 1. act or process of subtracting one number or quantity from another; finding the difference between two numbers or quantities: 10-2=8 is a simple subtraction. 2. a taking away or being taken away. n.

sub trac tive (səb trak'tiv), 1. tending to subtract; having power to subtract. 2. to be subtracted; having the minus sign (-). adj.

sub tra hend (sub/trə hend), number or quantity to be subtracted from another: In 10-2=8, the subtrahend is 2. n.

sub treas ur y (sub/trezh'ər ē or sub trezh'ər ē), 1. a branch treasury. 2. any branch of the United States treasury. n., pl. sub treas ur ies.

sub trop i cal (sub trop'ə kl), bordering on the tropics; nearly tropical. adj.

sub trop ics (sub/trop'iks or sub trop'iks), region bordering on the tropics. n.pl.

sub urb (sub/ərb), 1. town or village near a large city. 2. district just outside the boundaries of a city or town. n.

the suburbs, residential section or sections near the boundary of a city or town.

sub ur ban (səb ər'bən), 1. having to do with a suburb; in a suburb: We have excellent suburban train service. 2. characteristic of a suburb or its inhabitants. adj.

sub ur ban ite (səb ər'bən īt), person who lives in a suburb. n.

sub ven tion (səb ven/shən), money granted to aid or support some cause, institution, or undertaking; subsidy. n.

The chord AC subtends the arc ABC.

sub ver sion (səb vēr'zhən), 1. overthrow; destruction; ruin. 2. anything that tends to overthrow or destroy; cause of ruin. n.

sub ver sive (səb vēr'siv), 1. tending to overthrow; destructive; causing ruin. 2. person who seeks to overthrow or undermine (a government, etc.). 1 adj., 2 n.

sub vert (səb vērt'), 1. ruin; overthrow; destroy: Dictators subvert democracy. 2. undermine the principles of; corrupt. v. —sub vert'er, n.

sub way (sub'wā'), 1. an underground passage. 2. U.S. an electric railroad running beneath the surface of the streets in a city. n.

suc-, form of sub- before c, as in succeed.

suc ceed (sək sēd'), 1. turn out well; do well; have success: His plans succeeded. 2. accomplish what is attempted or intended: The attack succeeded beyond all expectations. 3. come next after; follow; take the place of: John Adams succeeded Washington as President. Week succeeds week. 4. come next after another; follow another; take the place of another: When Edward VIII abdicated, George VI succeeded to the throne. v. —suc ceed'er, n.

suc cess (sək ses'), 1. a favorable result; wished-for ending; good fortune. 2. the gaining of wealth, position, etc.: He has had little success in life. 3. person or thing that succeeds: The circus was a great success. 4. result; outcome; fortune: What success did you have in finding a new cook? n.

suc cess ful (sək ses'fəl), having success; ending in success; prosperous; fortunate. adj. —suc cess'ful-ly, adv.

suc ces sion (sək sesh'ən), 1. group of things happening one after another; series. 2. the coming of one person or thing after another. 3. right of succeeding to an office, property, or rank: There was a dispute about the rightful succession to the throne. 4. set or arrangement of persons having such a right of succeeding: The king's oldest son is next in succession to the throne. n. in succession, one after another.

suc ces sive (sək ses'iv), coming one after another; following in order: It rained for three successive days. adj.

suc ces sive ly (sək ses'iv lē), one after another; in order. adv.

suc ces sor (sək ses'ər), one that follows or succeeds another in office, position, or ownership of property; thing that comes next after another in a series. n.

suc cinct (sək singkt'), expressed briefly and clearly; expressing much in few words; concise. adj. —suc cinct'ly, adv. —suc cinct'ness, n.

suc cor (suk'ər), help; aid. n., v.

suc co tash (suk'ə tash), corn and beans cooked together. n.

suc cour (suk'ər), Esp. Brit. succor. n., v.

suc cu lence (suk' yə ləns), iuiciness. n.

suc cu len cy (suk' yə lən sē), succulence. n.

suc cu lent (suk' yə lənt), 1. juicy: a succulent fruit. 2. interesting; not dull. 3. of plants, etc., having thick, fleshy leaves and stems. adj.

suc cumb (sə kum'), 1. give way; yield: He succumbed to temptation and stole the money. 2. die. v. —suc cumb to, die of.

such (sʊtʃ), 1. of that kind; of the same kind or degree: I have never seen such a child. 2. of the kind that; of a particular kind: She wore such thin clothes it is no wonder she caught cold. 3. of the kind already spoken of or suggested: The ladies took only tea and coffee and such drinks. 4. so great, so bad, so good, etc.: He is such a liar. 5. some; certain: The bank was robbed at such a time in such and such a town by such and such persons. 6. such a person or thing: Take from the blankets such as you need. 1-5 adj., 6 pron.

as such, as being what is indicated or implied: A leader, as such, deserves obedience.

such like (sʊtʃ'lik'), 1. of such kind; of a like kind.

2. things of such kind: deceptions, disguises, and such-like. 1 adj., 2 pron.

suck (sʊk), 1. draw into the mouth: Lemonade can be sucked through a straw. 2. draw something from with the mouth: suck juice from oranges. 3. draw milk from the breast or a bottle. 4. draw or be drawn by sucking: He sucked at his pipe. 5. drink; take; absorb: Plants suck up moisture from the earth. A sponge sucks in water. 6. draw in; swallow: The whirlpool sucked down the boat. 7. draw air instead of water: The pump sucked noisily. 8. hold in the mouth and lick: The child sucked a lollipop. 9. act of sucking: The baby took one suck at the empty bottle and pushed it away. 10. a sucking force or sound. 1-8 v., 9, 10 n.

suck er (suk'ər), 1. animal or thing that sucks. 2. any of various fresh-water fishes that suck in food or have mouths that suggest sucking. 3. organ in some animals for sucking or holding fast by a sucking force. 4. shoot growing from an underground stem or root. 5. piston of a suction pump. 6. the valve of such a piston. 7. take suckers from (corn, tobacco, etc.). 8. form suckers. 9. U.S. Slang. person easily deceived. 10. lump of hard candy. 1-6, 9, 10 n., 7, 8 v.

suck le (suk'l), 1. feed with milk from the breast, udder, etc.: The cat suckles her kittens. 2. suck at the breast. 3. nourish; bring up. v., suck led, suck ling.

suck ling (suk'ling), 1. a very young animal or child, especially one not yet weaned. 2. very young. 3. not yet weaned; sucking. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.

Su cre (sü'krā), one of the two capitals (La Paz is the other) of Bolivia, in the S part. 40,000. n.

su crose (sü'krōs), ordinary sugar obtained from sugar cane, sugar beets, etc. n.

suc tion (suk'shən), 1. the drawing of a liquid, gas, etc., into a space by sucking out or removing part of the air: Lemonade is drawn through a straw by suction. 2. the force caused by sucking out or removing part of the air in a space. 3. causing a suction; working by suction. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

suc to ri al

(suk tō'rē əl), adapted for sucking or suction. 1000-adj.

Su dan (südən'), 1. a vast, grassy region in Africa, south of the Sahara desert and Egypt.

2. country in NE Africa, formerly under the joint control of Great Britain and Egypt and called Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. 11,615,000 pop.; 967,500 sq. mi. Capital: Khartoum. n.

Su da nese (sü'də nēz'), 1. of or having to do with the Sudan or its inhabitants. 2. native or inhabitant of the Sudan. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. Su da nese.

Sudanese Republic, Republic of Mali.

Sudan grass, a kind of grass from Sudan that is grown in the United States for hay.

sud den (sud'n), 1. not expected: Our army made a sudden attack on the fort. 2. quick; rapid: The cat made a sudden jump at the mouse. adj. —sud'den ness, n.

all of a sudden, in a sudden manner.

sud den ly (sud'n lē), in a sudden manner. adv.

Su de n land (sü dā'tn land'), a mountainous region in N Czechoslovakia. n.

su dor i fer ous (sü'dər i'fər əs), secreting sweat. adj.

suds (sudz), 1. soapy water. 2. bubbles and foam on soapy water. 3. any froth or foam. 4. Slang. beer. n.pl.

sue (sü), 1. start a lawsuit against: He sued the railroad because his cow was killed by the engine. 2. take action in law: sue for damages. 3. beg or ask (for); plead: Messengers came suing for peace. 4. Archaic. make love to; woo. v., sued, su ing. —su'a ble, adj.

sue out, apply for and get (a writ, pardon, etc.) from a law court.

suède or suede (swād), 1. a soft leather that has a velvety nap on one or both sides. 2. a kind of cloth that has a similar appearance. 3. made of suède. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

su et (sü'it), the hard fat about the kidneys and loins of cattle and sheep. Beef suet is used in cooking and for making tallow. n.

Suez (sü'ez or sü'ez'), 1. city in NE Egypt, at the S end of the Suez Canal. 107,000. 2. Isthmus of, the isthmus between Asia and Africa. It is a part of Egypt. 72 mi. wide. n.

Suez Canal, canal across the Isthmus of Suez, connecting the Mediterranean and Red seas. 100 mi. long. See Egypt for map.

suf-, form of sub- before f, as in suffer and suffice.

suffer (suf'ər), 1. have pain, grief, injury, etc.: Sick people suffer. 2. have or feel (pain, grief, etc.): He suffered harm from being out in the storm. 3. experience harm, loss, etc.: His business suffered greatly during the war. 4. allow; permit: "Suffer the little children to come unto me." 5. bear with patiently; endure: I will not suffer such insults. v. —suf'fer er, n.

suffer a ble (suf'ər ə bl), bearable. adj.

sufferance (suf'ər əns), 1. permission given only by a failure to object or prevent. 2. power to bear or endure; patient endurance. n.

on sufferance, allowed or tolerated, but not really wanted.

suffering (suf'ər ing), pain; the enduring of pain. n.

suffice (sə fis'), 1. be enough; be sufficient: The money will suffice for one year. 2. satisfy; content: A small amount sufficed him. v., suf ficed, suf fic ing.

sufficiency (sə fish'ən sē), 1. a sufficient amount; large enough supply: The ship had a sufficiency of provisions for a voyage of two months. 2. state or fact of being sufficient; adequacy; ability. 3. self-confidence. n., pl. suf fi cien cies.

sufficient (sə fish'ənt), 1. as much as is needed; enough: sufficient proof. 2. Archaic. competent. adj.

sufficiently (sə fish'ənt lē), enough; as much as is needed. adv.

suffix (suf'iks for 1; sə fiks' or suf'iks for 2), 1. an addition made at the end of a word to form another word of different meaning or function, as in badly, goodness, spoonful, amazement. 2. add at the end; put after. 1*n.*, 2*v.*

suffixal (suf'iks l), having to do with or of the nature of a suffix. adj.

suffocate (suf'ə kät), 1. kill by stopping the breath. 2. keep from breathing; hinder in breathing. 3. choke; gasp for breath. 4. die for lack of air. 5. smother; suppress. v., suf fo cat ed, suf fo cat ing. —suf'fo cat'ing ly, adv.

suffocation (suf'ə kă'shən), 1. a suffocating. 2. being suffocated. n.

suffocate (suf'ə kă'tiv), stifling. adj.

Suffolk (suf'ək), a former county in SE England, later divided into the counties of Suffolk East and Suffolk West. n.

suffragan (suf'rə gən), 1. bishop consecrated to assist another bishop. 2. assisting. 3. any bishop considered in relation to his archbishop. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

suffrage (suf'rij), 1. a vote; a vote for some person or thing. 2. the right to vote: The United States granted suffrage to women in 1920. 3. a voting; casting of votes. 4. approval; consent. 5. a short prayer of supplication. n.

suffragette (suf'rə jet'), woman who advocated suffrage for women. n.

suffragist (suf'rə jist), person who favors giving suffrage to more people, especially to women. n.

suffuse (sə füz'), overspread (with a liquid, dye, etc.): At twilight the sky was suffused with color. Her eyes were suffused with tears. v., suf fused, suf fus ing.

suffusion (sə füz'hən), 1. a suffusing. 2. a being suffused. 3. that with which anything is overspread. 4. flush of color. n.

sug-, form of sub- before g, as in suggest.

sugar (shüg'ər), 1. a sweet substance obtained chiefly from sugar cane or beets and used extensively in food products. 2. any of the class of carbohydrates to which this substance belongs: grape sugar, milk sugar. 3. a sugarlike substance: sugar of lead. 4. put sugar in; sweeten with sugar: She sugared her tea. 5. cover with sugar; sprinkle with sugar. 6. form sugar: Honey sugars if kept too long. 7. make maple sugar; complete the boiling down of sugar (with off). 8. cause to seem pleasant or agreeable. 1-3 n., 4-8 v.

sugar beet, a large beet with a white root that yields sugar.

sugar cane, a very tall grass with a strong, jointed stem and flat leaves, growing in warm regions. Sugar cane and sugar beets are the main sources of sugar.

sugar-coat (shüg'ər kōt'), 1. cover with sugar. 2. cause to seem more pleasant or agreeable. v.

sugar-coat ing (shüg'ər kōt'ing), 1. a covering with sugar. 2. thing that makes something seem more pleasant or agreeable. n.

sugar corn, sweet corn.

sugar loaf, 1. a cone-shaped mass of sugar. 2. something shaped like a sugar loaf.

sugar maple, a maple tree yielding a sweet sap from which maple sugar is made.

sugar of lead, a poisonous crystalline salt, lead acetate, used in medicine and paint.

sugar of milk, lactose, the sugar that occurs in milk.

sugar pine, a tall pine of the western coast States which gives off a sugarlike resin when cut deep into the wood.

sugar plum (shüg'ər plum'), piece of candy; bonbon. n.

sugary (shüg'ər ē), 1. consisting of sugar; like sugar; sweet. 2. seemingly pleasant or agreeable. adj. —sug'ar i ness, n.

suggest (səg jest' or sə jest'), 1. bring to mind; call up the thought of: The thought of summer suggests swimming, tennis, and hot weather. 2. propose: John suggested a swim, and we all agreed. 3. show in an indirect way; hint: His yawns suggested that he would like to go to bed. v.

suggestibility (səg jes'tə bil'ə tē or sə jes'tə bil'ə tē), quality or condition of being suggestible. n.

suggestible (səg jes'tə bl or sə jes'tə bl), 1. capable of being influenced by suggestion. 2. that can be suggested. adj.

suggestion (səg jes'chən or sə jes'chən), 1. a suggesting: The trip was made at his suggestion. 2. thing suggested: The picnic was an excellent suggestion. 3. the calling up of one idea by another because they are connected or associated in some way. 4. a very small amount; slight trace: The foreigner spoke English with just a suggestion of his native accent. n.

suggestive (səg jes'tiv or sə jes'tiv), 1. tending to suggest ideas, acts, or feelings: The teacher gave an interesting and suggestive list of composition subjects. 2. tending to suggest something improper or indecent. adj. —sug ges'tive ness, n.

suicidal (sü'ə sīd'l), 1. having to do with suicide; leading to suicide; causing suicide. 2. ruinous to one's own interests; disastrous to oneself: It would be suicidal for a store to sell many things below cost. adj. —su'icid'al ly, adv.

suicide (sü'ə sīd), 1. the killing of oneself on purpose. 2. person who kills himself on purpose. 3. destruction of one's own interests or prospects. n. commit suicide, kill oneself on purpose.

suit (süt), 1. set of clothes or armor. A man's suit consists of a coat, vest, and trousers. 2. provide with clothes. 3. case in a law court; application to a court for justice: He started a suit to collect damages for his injuries. 4. make suitable; make fit: The teacher suited the punishment to the fault by making Dick sweep the room after he threw bills of paper on the floor. 5. be suitable for; agree with: A cold climate suits apples and wheat, but not oranges and tea. 6. be suitable; be convenient; fit: Which date suits best? 7. be becoming to: Her blue hat suits her fair skin. 8. please; satisfy: It is hard to suit everyone. 9. one of the four sets of cards (spades, hearts, diamonds, and clubs). 10. request; asking; wooing: His suit was successful and she married him. 11. suite. 1,3,9-11 n., 2,4-8 v. follow suit, 1. play a card of the same suit as that first played. 2. follow the example of another.

suit oneself, do as one pleases.

suit a bil i ty (süt'ə bil'ə tē), a being suitable; fitness; appropriateness. n.

suit a ble (süt'ə bl), right for the occasion; fitting; proper: The park gives the children a suitable playground. adj. —suit'a ble ness, n. —suit'a bly, adv.

suit case (süt'kās'), a flat, rectangular traveling bag. n.

suite (swēt; also sūt for 2), 1. a connected series of rooms to be used by one person or family. 2. set of furniture that matches. 3. set or series of like things. 4. in music, a series of connected instrumental movements. 5. set of dance tunes. 6. group of attendants: The queen traveled with a suite of twelve. n.

suit ing (süt'ing), cloth for making suits. n.

suit or (süt'ər), 1. man who is courting a woman: The princess had many suitors. 2. person bringing suit in a law court. 3. anyone who sues or petitions. n.

su ki ya ki (sü'kē yā'kē), a Japanese style meal consisting mainly of fried meat, onions, and other vegetables. n.

sul fa (sul'fə), 1. of or having to do with a family of drugs containing sulfurous anhydride and derived from sulfanilamide, used in treating various bacterial infections. 2. a sulfa drug. 1 adj., 2 n. Also, sulpha.

sul fa di a zine (sul'fə dī'ə zēn), a substance derived from sulfanilamide, used in treating various infections. n.

sul fa nil a mide (sul'fə nil'ə mīd), a white, crystalline substance, derived from coal tar and used in treating various infections. Sulfanilamide was the first sulfa drug to be widely used. n. Also, sulphanilamide.

sul fa pyr i dine (sul'fə pīr'ə dēn), a substance derived from sulfanilamide, used mainly to combat pneumonia. n.

sul fate (sul'fāt), any salt of sulfuric acid. n. Also, sulphate.

sul fa thi a zole (sul'fə thī'ə zōl), a sulfa drug, used especially in treating pneumonia. n. Also, sulphathiazole.

sul fid (sul'fid), sulfide. n. Also, sulphid.

sul fide (sul'fid), any compound of sulfur with another element or radical. n. Also, sulphide.

sul fite (sul'fit), any salt of sulfurous acid. n. Also, sulphite.

sul fur (sul'fər), 1. a light-yellow substance that burns with a blue flame and a stifling odor. It is a non-metallic chemical element. Symbol: S 2. greenish yellow. 1,2 n., 2 adj. Also, sulphur.

sul fu ra tion (sul'fū rā'shən), 1. act or process of treating with sulfur. 2. state of being treated or impregnated with sulfur. n.

sulfur dioxide, a heavy, colorless gas that has a sharp odor, used as a bleach, disinfectant, preservative, and refrigerant.

sul fu re ous (sul fyūr'ē əs), 1. consisting of or containing sulfur; having to do with sulfur. 2. like sulfur. adj.

sul fur ic (sul fyūr'ik), 1. of or having to do with sulfur. 2. containing sulfur. adj. Also, sulphuric.

sulfuric acid, a heavy, colorless, oily, very strong acid; oil of vitriol. Sulfuric acid is used in making explosives, in refining petroleum, etc.

sul fur ous (sul'fər əs or sul fyūr'əs), 1. of or having to do with sulfur. 2. containing sulfur. 3. like sulfur; like burning sulfur. 4. of or like the fires of hell; hellish. adj. Also, sulphurous.

sulfurous acid, a colorless solution of sulfur dioxide in water, used as a bleach, reducing agent, etc.

sulk (sulk), 1. hold aloof in a sullen manner; be sulky. 2. a sulking; a fit of sulking.

1 v., 2 n.

sulks, ill humor shown by sulking: The girl has a fit of the sulks.

Sulky racing

sulk y (sul'kē), 1. silent and bad-humored because of resentment; sullen: Spoiled children become sulky if they cannot have their own way. 2. a light carriage with two wheels, for one person. 1 adj., sulk i er, sulk i est; 2 n., pl. sulk ies. —sulk'i ly, adv. —sulk'i ness, n.

sullen (sul'ən), 1. silent because of bad humor or anger: The sullen child refused to answer my question. 2. showing bad humor or anger. 3. gloomy; dismal: The sullen skies threatened rain. adj. —sul'ien ly, adv. —sul'len ness, n.

Sul li van (sul'ə vən), Sir Arthur Seymour, 1842-1900, English composer who wrote the music for comic operas for which Gilbert wrote the words. n.

sul ly (sul'ē), soil; stain; tarnish. v., sul lied, sul ly ing; n., pl. sul lies.

sul pha (sul'fə), sulfa. adj., n.

sul pha nil a mide (sul'fə nil'ə mīd), sulfanilamide. n.

sul phate (sul'fāt), sulfate. n.

sul pha thi a zole (sul'fə thī'ə zōl), sulfathiazole. n.

sul phid (sul'fid), sulfid. n.

sul phide (sul'fid), sulfide. n.

sul phite (sul'fit), sulfite. n.

sul phur (sul'fər), 1. sulfur. 2. one of several kinds of yellow butterfly. 1,2 n., 1 adj.

sul phu ric (sul fyūr'ik), sulfuric. adj.

sul phur ous (sul'fər əs or sul fyūr'əs), sulfurous. adj.

sul tan (sul'tn), ruler of a Moslem country. Turkey was ruled by a sultan until 1922. n.

sul tan a (sul tan'ə), 1. wife of a sultan. 2. mother, sister, or daughter of a sultan. 3. a small seedless raisin. n.

sul tan ate (sul'tn āt), 1. position, authority, or period of rule of a sultan. 2. territory ruled over by a sultan. n.

sul try (sul'trē), 1. hot, close, and moist: We expect sultry weather during July. 2. hot. adj., sul tri er, sul tri est. —sul'tri ness, n.

Su lu (sü'lü), 1. member of a native tribe inhabiting the Sulu Archipelago. 2. language of the people of the Sulu Archipelago. n.

Sulu Archipelago, group of islands in the SW part of the Philippine Islands. 241,000 pop.; 1082 sq. mi.

sum (sum), 1. amount of money: He paid a large sum for the house. 2. total of two or more numbers or things taken together. 3. Informal. problem in arithmetic. 4. the whole amount; total amount: To win the prize seemed to her the sum of happiness. 5. find the total of. 1-4 n., 5 v., summed, sum ming.

sum to, make a total of.

sum up, 1. collect into a whole. 2. express or tell briefly: Sum up the main points of the lesson in three sentences. 3. review the chief points (of).

sum-, form of sub- in some cases before m, as in summon.

su mac or su mach (sü'mak or shü'mak), 1. shrub or small tree which has divided leaves that turn scarlet in the autumn and cone-shaped clusters of red fruit.

2. its dried leaves, used in tanning and dyeing. n.
Su ma tra (sü mā'trə), a large island in Indonesia, off the southeast coast of Asia.

14,600,000 pop.; 167,480 sq. mi. See Indonesia for map.
n. —Su ma'tran, adj., n.

Su mer (sü'mər), an ancient region in the valley of the Euphrates River, north of its mouth. n.

Su me ri an (sü mir'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with the early inhabitants of Sumer or their language.

2. native or inhabitant of Sumer. 3. their language. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

sum ma cum laude (süm'ə kum lou'də), with the highest honor. These words are added to the diploma of a student who has done unusually good work in his classes.

sum ma rily (sə mer'ə lē or sum'ə rə lē), in a summary manner; briefly; without delay. adv.

sum ma rize (sum'ə riz), make a summary of; give only the main points of; express briefly. v., sum ma rized, sum ma riz ing. —sum'ma ri za'tion, n.

sum ma ry (sum'ə rē), 1. a brief statement giving the main points: The history book had a summary at the end of each chapter. 2. concise and comprehensive; brief. 3. direct and prompt; without delay or formality: The Indian took summary vengeance by killing his enemies. 1 n., pl. sum ma ries; 2,3 adj.

sum ma tion (sum ā'shən), 1. process of finding the sum or total; addition. 2. the total. 3. in law, the final presentation of facts and arguments by the opposing counsel. n.

sum mer (sum'ər), 1. the warmest season of the year; season of the year between spring and autumn. 2. of summer; in summer: summer heat. 3. pass the summer: summer at the seashore. 4. keep or feed during the summer; arrange or manage during the summer. 1 n., 2 adj., 3,4 v.

sum mer house (sum'ər hous'), building in a park or garden in which to sit in warm weather. Summer-houses often have no walls. n.

summer resort, place in the mountains, on a lake, etc., where people go in the summer.

sum mer sault (sum'ər sōlt), somersault. n., v.

summer solstice, time in the Northern Hemisphere when the sun is farthest north from the equator, about June 21 or 22.

summer squash, any of various squashes used as a summer vegetable.

sum mer time (sum'ər tīm'), summer season. n.

sum mer y (sum'ər ē), 1. of summer. 2. for summer. 3. like summer. adj.

sum mit (sum'it), the highest point; top: the summit of a mountain. The summit of her ambition was to be an actress. n.

sum mon (sum'ən), 1. call with authority; order to come; send for: summon men to defend their country. A telegram summoned Bill home. 2. call together: summon an assembly. 3. call upon: summon a fort to surrender. 4. stir to action; rouse: Jack summoned his courage and entered the deserted house. v.

sum mon er (sum'ən ər), 1. person who summons. 2. formerly, a petty officer whose duty was to warn persons to appear in court. n.

sum mons (sum'ənz), 1. an order to appear at a certain place, especially in a law court: He received a summons for fast driving. 2. Informal. summon to court. 3. a command; message; signal. 1,3 n., pl. sum mons es; 2 v.

Sum ner (sum'nər), Charles, 1811-1874, American statesman. n.

sump (sump), 1. pit or reservoir for collecting water, oil, etc. 2. pool at the bottom of a mine, where water collects and from which it is pumped. n.

sump ter (sump'tər), horse or mule for carrying baggage. n.

sump tu ar y (sump'chū er'ē), having to do with the spending of money; regulating expenses. In colonial times there were sumptuary laws in Massachusetts. adj.

sump tu ous (sump'chū əs), costly; magnificent; rich: The king gave a sumptuous banquet. adj. —sump'tu ous ly, adv. —sump'tu ous ness, n.

Sun ter (sum'tər), Fort, fort in the harbor of Charleston, South Carolina. The Civil War began with a Confederate attack on this fort on April 12, 1861. n.

sun (sun), 1. the brightest object in the sky; the heavenly body around which the earth and planets revolve. The sun lights and warms the earth. 2. the light and warmth of the sun: sit in the sun. 3. any heavenly body made up of burning gas and having satellites. Many stars are suns and have their worlds that travel around them. 4. something like the sun in brightness or splendor; something that is a source of light, honor, glory, or prosperity. 5. a day. 6. a year. 7. expose to the sun's rays: The swimmers sunned themselves on the beach. 8. warm or dry in the sunshine. 1-6 n., 7,8 v., sunned, sun ning.

from sun to sun, from sunrise to sunset.

in the sun, in a position easily seen.

under the sun, on earth; in the world.

Sun., Sunday.

sun bath, exposure of the body to sunshine.

sun beam (sun'bēm'), ray of sunlight. n.

sun bon net (sun'bon'it), a large bonnet that shades the face and neck. n.

sun burn (sun'bēr'n'), 1. a burning of the skin by the sun's rays. A sunburn is often red and painful. 2. the color of red or tan resulting from sunburn. 3. burn the skin by the sun's rays; burn the skin of. 4. become burned by the sun: Her skin sunburns very quickly. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., sun burned or sun burnt, sun burn ing.

sun burnt (sun'bērnt'), a pt. and a pp. of sunburn. v.

sun burst (sun'bērst'), 1. sun shining suddenly through a break in clouds. 2. brooch with jewels arranged to look like the sun with its rays. n.

sun dae (sun'dē), an individual portion of ice cream with syrup, crushed fruits, nuts, etc., over it. n.

Sun da Islands (sun'də), chain of islands in Indonesia, including Sumatra, Java, and smaller nearby islands.

Sunda Strait, strait between Java and Sumatra. 16 mi. wide at the narrowest point.

Sun day (sun'dē), 1. the first day of the week. 2. the day of rest and worship among Christians. n.

Sunday best, Informal. best clothes.

Sunday school, 1. school held on Sunday for teaching religion. 2. its members.

sun der (sun'dər), separate; part; sever; split. v. in sun der, apart.

Sun der land (sun'dər lənd), seaport in NE England. 183,000. n.

sun dew (sun'dū' or sun'dū'), plant that grows in bogs and has hairy, sticky leaves with which it captures and absorbs insects. n.

sun di al (sun'di'əl), instrument for telling the time of day by the position of a shadow cast by the sun. n.

sun dog (sun'dōg'), 1. a bright spot near the sun; parhelion. 2. a small or incomplete rainbow. n.

sun down (sun'doun'), sunset. n.

sun-dried (sun'drid'), dried by the sun. adj.

sun dries (sun'drēz), sundry things; items not named; odds and ends. n.pl.

sun dry (sun'drē), several; various: From sundry hints, he guessed he was to be given a bicycle for his birthday. adj.

sun fast (sun'fast'), that sunlight will not fade. adj.

sun fish (sun'fish'), 1. a large fish with tough flesh that lives in tropical or temperate seas. 2. a small freshwater fish of North America, used for food. n., pl. sun fish es or (esp. collectively) sun fish.

Sunbonnet

Sundial

sun flow er (sʊn'fləʊ'ər), 1. a tall plant of the same family as the aster, having large yellow flowers with brown centers. 2. any of various similar plants. n.
sung (sʊŋ), a pt. and pp. of sing. Many songs were sung at the concert. v.
sun glass es (sʊn'glas'iz), spectacles to protect the eyes from the glare of the sun. They are usually made with colored glass. n.pl.
sun god, god of the sun. Many different tribes have worshiped sun gods.
sunk (sʊŋk), a pt. and a pp. of sink. The ship had sunk to the bottom. v.
sunk en (sʊŋk'ən), 1. sunk: a sunken ship. 2. submerged: a sunken rock. 3. situated below the general level: a sunken garden. 4. fallen in; hollow: sunken eyes. 5. a pp. of sink. 1-4 adj., 5 v.
sun less (sʊn'lis), without sun; without sunlight. adj.
sun light (sʊn'lit'), the light of the sun. n.
sun lit (sʊn'lit'), lighted by the sun. adj.
sun ny (sʊn'ē), 1. having much sunshine: a sunny day. 2. exposed to, lighted by, or warmed by the direct rays of the sun: a sunny room. 3. like the sun. 4. bright; cheerful; happy: The baby gave a sunny smile. adj., sun ni er, sun ni est. —sun'ni ly, adv. —sun'ni ness, n.
sun parlor, room with many windows to let in sunlight.
sun porch, porch enclosed largely by glass.
sun proof (sʊn'prʊf'), impervious to or unaffected by the rays of the sun: These sunproof curtains will not fade. adj.
sun rise (sʊn'rīz'), the rising of the sun; the first appearance of the sun in the morning. n.
sun room (sʊn'rūm'), room with many windows to let in sunlight. n.
sun set (sʊn'set'), the setting of the sun; the last appearance of the sun in the evening. n.
sun shade (sʊn'shād'), 1. parasol. 2. protection against the sun. n.
sun shine (sʊn'shīn'), 1. the shining of the sun; light or rays of the sun. 2. brightness; cheerfulness; happiness. n.
sun shin y (sʊn'shīn'ē), 1. having much sunshine. 2. bright; cheerful; happy. adj., sun shin i er, sun-shin i est.
sun spot (sʊn'spɒt'), one of the dark spots that appear at regular intervals on the sun. n.
sun stroke (sʊn'strɒk'), a sudden illness caused by the sun's rays or by too much heat. n.
sun time, time in which noon is the moment when the sun is directly overhead.
sun-up (sʊn'ʊp'), sunrise. n.
Sun Yat-sen (sʊn' yāt'sen'), 1866-1925, Chinese revolutionary leader, statesman, and president of China from 1921 to 1922.
sup¹ (sʊp), 1. eat the evening meal; take supper: He supped alone on bread and milk. 2. give a supper to or for. v., supped, sup ping.
sup² (sʊp), sip. v., supped, sup ping; n.
sup-, form of sub- before p, as in suppress.
su per (sʊ'pər), 1. Informal. supernumerary; extra person or thing. Mobs on the stage are usually made up of supers. 2. Informal. superintendent. 3. Slang. excellent. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.
super-, prefix meaning:
 1. over; above, as in superimpose, superstructure.
 2. besides, as in supertax.
 3. in high proportion; to excess; exceedingly, as in superabundant, supersensitive.
 4. surpassing, as in superman, supernatural.
su per a ble (sʊ'pər ə blə), capable of being overcome; surmountable. adj. —su'per a bly, adv.
su per a bound (sʊ'pər ə bound'), 1. be very abundant. 2. be too abundant. v.

su per a bun dance (sʊ'pər ə bun'dəns), 1. very great abundance: a superabundance of rain. 2. a greater amount than is needed. n.
su per a bun dant (sʊ'pər ə bun'dənt), 1. very abundant. 2. more than enough. adj.
su per an nu ate (sʊ'pər ən'yū āt), 1. retire on a pension because of age or infirmity. 2. make old-fashioned or out-of-date. v., su per an nu at ed, su per an nu at ing.
su per an nu at ed (sʊ'pər ən'yū āt'id), 1. retired on a pension. 2. too old for work, service, etc. 3. old-fashioned; out-of-date. adj.
su per an nu a tion (sʊ'pər ən'yū ā'shən), 1. a superannuating or being superannuated. 2. pension or allowance granted to a superannuated person. n.
su per a tom ic bomb (sʊ'pər ə tom'ik), the hydrogen bomb.
su perb (sʊ'pərb'), 1. grand; stately; majestic; magnificent; splendid: Mountain scenery is superb. The queen's jewels were superb. 2. rich; elegant; sumptuous: a superb dinner. 3. very fine; first-rate; excellent: The actor gave a superb performance. adj. —su perb'ly, adv.
su per car go (sʊ'pər kār'gō), officer on a merchant ship who has charge of the cargo and the business affairs of the voyage. n., pl. su per car goes or su per car gos.
su per charg er (sʊ'pər chār'jər), blower, pump, etc., in an internal-combustion engine for forcing more of the mixture of air and gasoline vapor into the cylinders than the action of the pistons would draw. n.
su per cil i ar y (sʊ'pər sil'ē er'ē), of or near the eyebrow; over the eye. adj.
su per cil i ous (sʊ'pər sil'ē əs), haughty, proud, and contemptuous; disdainful; showing scorn or indifference because of a feeling of superiority: The duchess looked down at the workman with a supercilious stare. adj. —su'per cil'i ous ly, adv.
su per er o ga tion (sʊ'pər er'ə gā'shən), the doing of more than duty requires. n.
su per e rog a to ry (sʊ'pər ə rog'ə tō'rē), 1. doing more than duty requires. 2. unnecessary; superfluous. adj.
su per fi cial (sʊ'pər fish'əl), 1. of the surface: superficial measurement. 2. on the surface; at the surface: His burns were superficial and soon got well. 3. concerned with or understanding only what is on the surface; not thorough; shallow: Girls used to receive only a superficial education. adj.
su per fi ci al i ty (sʊ'pər fish'əl ə l'ə tē), 1. superficial quality or condition; shallowness. 2. something superficial. n., pl. su per fi ci al i ties.
su per fi cial ly (sʊ'pər fish'əl ē), in a superficial manner; on the surface; not thoroughly. adv.
su per fine (sʊ'pər fin'), 1. very fine; extra fine. 2. too refined; too nice. adj.
su per flu i ty (sʊ'pər flū'ə tē), 1. a greater amount than is needed; excess. 2. something not needed: Luxuries are superfluities. n., pl. su per flu i ties.
su per flu ous (sʊ'pər flū əs), 1. more than is needed: In writing telegrams omit superfluous words. 2. needless. adj. —su per'flu ous ly, adv.
Su per for tress (sʊ'pər fɔr'trɪs), 1. a four-engine bomber of the United States Air Force designated as B-29, the largest plane used during World War II. 2. the larger post-war bomber designated as B-36. n. Also, Superfort. su per heat (sʊ'pər hēt'), 1. heat very hot; heat too hot; heat hotter than usual. 2. heat (a liquid) above its boiling point without producing vaporization. 3. heat (steam) apart from water until it resembles a dry or perfect gas. v.
su per het er o dyne (sʊ'pər het'ər ə dīn), 1. of or having to do with a kind of radio reception which reduces modulated waves (above audibility) to a lower frequency and in later stages rectifies the signals to audio-frequency amplification. 2. a superheterodyne radio receiving set. 1 adj., 2 n.

su per high way (sü'pär hī'wā), an express highway. n.

su per hu man (sü'pär hū'män), 1. above or beyond what is human: Angels are superhuman beings. 2. above or beyond ordinary human power, experience, etc.: By a superhuman effort, the hunter choked the leopard to death. adj. —su'per hu'man ly, adv.

su per im pose (sü'pär im pōz'), 1. put on top of something else. 2. put or join as an addition. v., su per im posed, su per im pos ing.

su per in cum bent (sü'pär in kum'bənt), 1. lying or resting on something else. 2. situated above; overhanging. 3. exerted from above: a superincumbent pressure. adj.

su per in duce (sü'pär in dūs' or sü'pär in dūs'), bring in or develop as an addition. v., su per in duced, su per in duc ing.

su per in duc tion (sü'pär in duk'shən), a superinducing or being superinduced. n.

su per in tend (sü'prin tend' or sü'pär in tend'), oversee and direct (work or workers); manage (a place, institution, etc.). v.

su per in tend ence (sü'prin ten'dəns or sü'pär in ten'dəns), guidance and direction; management. n.

su per in tend en cy (sü'prin ten'dən sē or sü'pär in ten'dən sē), position, authority, or work of a superintendent. n., pl. su per in tend en cies.

su per in tend ent (sü'prin ten'dənt or sü'pär in ten'dənt), person who oversees, directs, or manages; supervisor: a superintendent of schools, a superintendent of a factory. n.

su pe ri or (sə pīr'ē ə), 1. above the average; very good; excellent: superior work in school. 2. higher in quality; better; greater: a superior blend of coffee. 3. higher in position, rank, importance, etc.: a superior officer. 4. person who is superior: A captain is a lieutenant's superior. 5. showing a feeling of being above others; proud: superior airs, superior manners. 6. head of a monastery or convent. 1-3,5 adj., 4,6 n.

superior to, 1. higher than; above. 2. better than; greater than. 3. not giving in to; above yielding to: A wise man is superior to flattery.

Su pe ri or (sə pīr'ē ə), Lake, the largest and northernmost of the five Great Lakes, between the United States and Canada. 400 mi. long; 31,800 sq. mi. See Great Lakes for map. n.

su pe ri or i ty (sə pīr'ē ōr'ə tē), superior state or quality: No one doubts the superiority of modern ways of traveling over those of olden times. n.

superl., superlative.

su per la tive (sə pēr'lə tiv), 1. of the highest kind; above all others; supreme: King Solomon had superlative wisdom. 2. person or thing above all others; supreme example. 3. expressing the highest degree of comparison of an adjective or adverb. Fairest, best, and most slowly are the superlative forms of fair, good, and slowly. 4. the highest degree of an adjective or adverb. 5. form or combination of words that shows this degree. 1,3 adj., 2,4,5 n. —su per'lə tive ness, n.

talk in superlatives, exaggerate.

su per la tive ly (sə pēr'lə tiv lē), to the highest degree; above all others; supremely. adv.

su per man (sü'pär man'), man having more than human powers. n., pl. su per men.

su per mar ket (sü'pär mär'kit), a large grocery store in which customers select their purchases from open shelves and pay for them on a cash-and-carry basis. n.

su per nal (sü pēr'nəl), 1. heavenly; divine. 2. lofty; exalted. adj. —su per'nal ly, adv.

su per nat u ral (sü'pär nach'rəl), above or beyond what is natural: Angels and devils are supernatural beings. adj. —su'per nat'u ral ly, adv.

the supernatural, supernatural agencies, influences, or phenomena.

su per nat u ral ism (sü'pär nach'rəl iz'm), 1. supernatural character or agency. 2. belief in the supernatural. n.

su per nu mer ar y (sü'pär nü'mär er'ē or sü'pär nü'mär er'ē), 1. more than the usual or necessary number; extra. 2. an extra person or thing. 3. person who appears on the stage but has no lines to speak: In addition to the regular actors, there were 20 supernumeraries for the mob scene. 1 adj., 2,3 n., pl. su per nu mer aries.

su per pose (sü'pär pōz'), place above or on something else. v., su per posed, su per pos ing.

su per po si tion (sü'pär pə zish'ən), placing one thing above or on something else. n.

su per pow er (sü'pär pou'ər), 1. power on an extraordinary or extensive scale. 2. electric power on an extraordinary scale secured by the linking together of a number of separate power systems. n.

su per sat u rate (sü'pär sach'ə rāt), add to beyond the ordinary saturation point; saturate abnormally. A supersaturated solution is one in which more of a substance is dissolved than the solvent will hold under normal conditions. v., su per sat u rat ed, su per sat u rat ing. —su'per sat'u ra'tion, n.

su per scribe (sü'pär skrib'), 1. write (words, letters, one's name, etc.) above, on, or outside of something. 2. address (a letter or parcel). v., su per scribed, su per scrib ing.

su per script (sü'pär skript), 1. written above. 2. number, letter, etc., written above and to one side of a symbol. In $a^2=b^2$ the 2 and the 2 are superscripts. 1 adj., 2 n.

su per scrip tion (sü'pär skrip'shən), 1. a writing above, on, or outside of something. 2. something written above or on the outside. 3. address on a letter or parcel. n.

su per sede (sü'pär sēd'), 1. take the place of; cause to be set aside; displace: Electric lights have superseded gas lights in most homes. 2. fill the place of; replace: A new governor superseded the old one. v., su per sed ed, su per sed ing. —su'per sed'er, n.

su per sen si tive (sü'pär sen'sə tiv), extremely or morbidly sensitive. adj. —su'per sen'si tive ly, adv. —su'per sen'si tive ness, n.

su per son ic (sü'pär son'ik), 1. of or having to do with sound waves beyond the limit of human audibility (above frequencies of 20,000 cycles per second). 2. greater than the speed of sound in air (761 miles per hour at sea level). 3. capable of moving at a speed greater than the speed of sound. adj.

su per sti tion (sü'pär stish'ən), 1. an unreasoning fear of what is unknown or mysterious; unreasoning expectation. 2. belief or practice founded on ignorant fear or mistaken reverence: A common superstition considered it bad luck to sleep in a room numbered 13. n.

su per sti tious (sü'pär stish'əs), full of superstition; likely to believe superstitions; caused by superstition; having to do with superstition. adj. —su'per sti'tious ly, adv.

su per struc ture (sü'pär struk'chər), 1. structure built on something else. 2. all of a building above the foundation. 3. parts of a ship above the main deck. n.

su per tax (sü'pär taks'), tax in addition to a normal tax. n.

su per vene (sü'pär vēm'), come as something additional or interrupting. v., su per vened, su per ven ing.

su per ven tion (sü'pär ven'shən), a supervening. n.

su per vise (sü'pär viz), look after and direct (work or workers, a process, etc.); oversee; superintend; manage: Study halls are supervised by teachers. v., su per vis ed, su per vis ing.

su per vi sion (sü'pär vizh'ən), management; direction; oversight: The house was built under the careful supervision of an architect. n.

su per vi sor (sü'pär vī'zər), person who supervises: The music supervisor has charge of the school band and orchestra. n.

super vi so ry (sü'pär vī'zə rē), 1. of a supervisor; having to do with supervision. 2. supervising. adj.
su pine (sü pin'), 1. lying flat on the back. 2. lazily inactive; listless. adj. —su pine'ly, adv.
sup per (sup'ər), the evening meal; meal eaten early in the evening if dinner is near noon, or late in the evening if dinner is at six or later. n. —sup'per less, adj.
sup plant (sə plant'), 1. take the place of; displace or set aside: Machinery has supplanted hand labor in making shoes. 2. take the place of by unfair methods or by treacherous means: The prince plotted to supplant the king. v.
sup ple (sup'l), 1. bending easily: a supple birch tree, supple leather. 2. readily adaptable to different ideas, circumstances, people, etc.; yielding: a supple mind. 3. make or grow supple. 1,2 adj., 3 sup pler, sup ples; 3 v., sup pled, sup pling. —sup'ple ly, adv. —sup'ple ness, n.
sup ple ment (sup'lə mənt for 1, 3; sup'lə mənt for 2), 1. something added to complete a thing, or to make it larger or better. Many newspapers and periodicals have supplements that are usually of a special character and issued as an additional feature. 2. supply what is lacking in; add to; complete: Ben supplements his regular meals by eating between meals. 3. amount needed to make an angle or arc equal 180 degrees. 1,3 n., 2 v.
sup ple men tal (sup'lə men'tl), supplementary. adj.
sup ple men ta ry (sup'lə men'tə rē), 1. additional. 2. added to supply what is lacking: The new members of the class received supplementary instruction. adj. supplementary angle, angle needed to make another angle equal to 180 degrees. A 60-degree angle is the supplementary angle of a 120-degree angle.

sup pli ance (sup'lē əns), supplication. n.
sup pli ant (sup'lē ənt), 1. asking humbly and earnestly: He sent a suppliant message for help. 2. person who asks humbly and earnestly: She knelt as a suppliant at the altar. 1 adj., 2 n. —sup'pli ant ly, adv.
sup pli cant (sup'lə kənt), suppliant. n., adj.
sup pli cate (sup'lə kāt), 1. beg humbly and earnestly: The mother supplicated the judge to spare her son. 2. pray humbly. v., sup pli cat ed, sup pli cat ing. —sup'pli cat'ing ly, adv. —sup'pli ca'tor, n.
sup pli ca tion (sup'lə kā'shən), 1. a supplicating. 2. a humble and earnest request or prayer: Supplications to God arose from all the churches of the besieged town. n.
sup pli ca to ry (sup'lə kə tō'rē), supplicating. adj.
sup ply (sə plī'), 1. furnish; provide: The city supplies books for the children. 2. quantity ready for use; stock; store: The school gets its supplies of books, paper, pencils, chalk, etc., from the city. 3. quantity of an article in the market ready for purchase: a supply of coffee. 4. make up for (a loss, lack, absence, etc.): supply a deficiency. 5. satisfy (a want, need, etc.): There was just enough to supply the demand. 6. fill (a place, vacancy, pulpit, etc.) as a substitute. 7. one that supplies a vacancy. 8. act of supplying. 1,4-6 v., sup plied, sup ply ing; 2,3,7,8 n., pl. sup plies. —sup pli'er, n.
sup ply (sup'lē), in a supple manner. adv.
sup port (sə pōrt'), 1. keep from falling; hold up: Walls support the roof. 2. give strength or courage to; keep up; help: Hope supports us in trouble. 3. provide for: A man should support his family. 4. be in favor of; back; second: He supports the President. 5. help prove; bear out: The facts support his claim. 6. put up with; bear; endure: She couldn't support life without friends.

7. act of supporting; condition of being supported; help; aid: He needs our support. 8. maintenance: support of a family. 9. person or thing that supports; prop: The neck is the support of the head. 10. assist or protect (another military unit) in combat: Artillery fire supported the infantry attack. 11. in military use, assistance or protection given by one element or unit to another. 12. unit which helps another unit in battle. Aviation may be used as a support for infantry. 13. act with (a leading actor); assist; attend. 14. act (a part or character) with success. 1-6,10,13,14 v., 7-9,11,12 n.
sup port a ble (sə pōrt'ə bl), capable of being supported; bearable or endurable. adj. —sup port'a bly, adv.
sup port er (sə pōrt'ər), person or thing that supports. n.
sup pose (sə pōz'), 1. assume; consider as possible; take for granted: Suppose you are late, what excuse will you make? 2. believe; think; imagine: I suppose she will come as usual. 3. involve as necessary; imply: An invention supposes an inventor. v., sup posed, sup posing. —sup pos'a ble, adj.
sup posed (sə pōzd'), accepted as true; considered as possible or probable; assumed. adj.
sup posed ly (sə pōz'id lē), according to what is supposed or was supposed. adv.
sup posing (sə pōz'ing), in the event that; if: Supposing it rains, shall we go? conj.
sup po si tion (sup'ə zish'ən), 1. act of supposing. 2. thing supposed; belief; opinion: The speaker planned his talk on the supposition that his hearers would be school children. n.
sup po si tion al (sup'ə zish'ən l), of or based on supposition; hypothetical; supposed. adj.
sup pos i ti tious (sə poz'ə tish'əs), 1. put by fraud in place of another; pretended; false; not genuine. 2. hypothetical; supposed. adj. —sup pos'i ti'tious-ly, adv.
sup pos i to ry (sə poz'ə tō'rē), medicine in the form of a cone or cylinder to be put into the rectum or some other part of the body. n., pl. sup pos i to ries.
sup press (sə pres'), 1. put an end to; stop by force; put down: The troops suppressed the rebellion by firing on the mob. 2. keep in; hold back; keep from appearing: She suppressed a yawn. Each nation suppressed news that was not favorable to it. 3. check the flow of; stop: suppress bleeding. v. —sup press'er, sup pres'sor, n.
sup press i ble (sə pres'ə bl), that can be suppressed. adj.
sup pres sion (sə presh'ən), 1. a putting down by force or authority; putting an end to: Troops were used in the suppression of the revolt. 2. a keeping in; holding back: the suppression of a childish fear. n.
sup pres sive (sə pres'iv), tending to suppress; causing suppression. adj.
sup pu rate (sup'yə rāt), form pus; discharge pus; fester. v., sup pu rat ed, sup pu rat ing.
sup pu ra tion (sup'yə rā'shən), 1. formation of pus; festering; discharge of pus. 2. pus. n.
su pra re nal (sü'prə rē'nəl), 1. situated above the kidney or on the kidney; adrenal. A suprarenal body, capsule, or gland is a ductless gland situated on or near the kidney and furnishing an important secretion called adrenalin. 2. a suprarenal body, capsule, or gland. 1 adj., 2 n.
su prem a cy (sə prem'ə sē), 1. state of being supreme. 2. supreme authority or power. n.
su preme (sə prēm'), 1. highest in rank or authority: a supreme ruler. 2. highest in degree; greatest; utmost: supreme disgust. 3. highest in quality: supreme courage. adj. —su preme'ly, adv.
make the supreme sacrifice, give one's life; die.
Supreme Being, God.

Supreme Court, 1. U.S. the highest court in the United States, which meets at Washington, D.C. It consists of a chief justice and eight associate justices. 2. U.S. the highest court in some States. 3. a similar court in other countries.

Supt. or supt., superintendent.

sur-, form of sub- before r, as in surreptitious.

Su ra ba ya (sù'rā bā'yā), seaport in NE Java, Indonesia, 1,000,000. n.

Su rat (sù rat' or sùr'ət), city in W India. 223,000. n.

sur cease (sēr sēs'), Archaic. end; cessation. n.

sur charge (sēr'chāj' for 1, 5; sēr chārj' for 2-4, 6), 1. an extra charge: The express company made a surcharge for delivering the trunk outside of the city limits. 2. charge extra. 3. overcharge. 4. overload: The widow's heart was surcharged with grief. 5. an additional mark printed on a postage stamp to change its value, date, etc. 6. print a surcharge on (a postage stamp). 1,5 n., 2-4,6 v., sur-charged, sur charging gl.

sur cin gle (sēr'sing gl), strap or belt around a horse's body to keep a saddle, blanket, or pack in place. n.

sur coat (sēr'kōt'), an outer coat; especially, such a garment worn by knights over their armor. n.

sure (shūr), 1. free from doubt; certain; having ample reason for belief; confident; positive: He is sure of success in the end. I am sure of his guilt. 2. to be trusted; safe; reliable: a sure messenger, sure ground. 3. never missing, slipping, etc.; unfailing, unerring: sure aim, a sure touch. 4. admitting of no doubt or question: sure proof. 5. Archaic. secure or safe. 6. Informal. surely; certainly. 1-5 adj., sur er, sur est; 6 adv. —sure-ness, n.

for sure, surely; certainly.

make sure, 1. act so as to make something certain.

2. get sure knowledge.

to be sure, surely; certainly.

sure-foot ed (shūr'fūt'id), not liable to stumble, slip, or fall. adj. —sure-foot'ed ness, n.

sure ly (shūr'lē), 1. undoubtedly; certainly: Half a loaf is surely better than none. 2. without mistake; without missing, slipping, etc.; firmly: The goat leaped surely from rock to rock. 3. without fail: slowly but surely. adv.

sur e ty (shūr'ə tē), 1. security against loss, damage, or failure to do something: An insurance company gives surety against loss by fire. 2. person who agrees to be responsible for another: He was surety for his brother's appearance in court on the day set. 3. Archaic. a sure thing; certainty. n., pl. sur e ties.

surf (sēr), waves or swell of the sea breaking on the shore or upon shoals, reefs, etc. n.

sur face (sēr'fis), 1. the outside of anything: the surface of a golf ball, the surface of a mountain. 2. any face or side of a thing: A cube has six surfaces. 3. that which has length and breadth but no thickness: a plane surface in geometry. 4. the outward appearance: He seems rough, but you will find him very kind below the surface. 5. of the surface; on the surface; having to do with the surface: a surface view. 6. put a surface on; make smooth: surface a road. 7. of a submarine, arise to the surface. 1-4 n., 5 adj., 6,7 v., sur faced, sur fac ing.

surface tension, tension of the surface film of a liquid that makes it contract to a minimum area.

surf board (sēr'f'bōrd'), a long, narrow board for riding the surf. n.

surf boat (sēr'f'bōt'), a strong boat specially made for use in heavy surf. n.

surfeit (sēr'fit), 1. too much; excess: A surfeit of food makes one sick. A surfeit of advice annoys me. 2. overfeed. 1 n., 2 v.

Surcoat

Surfboards

surge (sērj), 1. rise and fall; move like waves: A great wave surged over us. The crowd surged through the streets. 2. a swelling wave; sweep or rush of waves; something like a wave: A surge of anger swept over him. 3. the swelling and rolling of the sea. 1 v., surged, surging; 2,3 n.

surgeon (sēr'jən), doctor who performs operations: A surgeon removed the boy's appendix. n.

sur ger y (sēr'jər ē), 1. the art and science of treating diseases, injuries, etc., by operations and instruments: Malaria can be cured by medicine, but a ruptured appendix requires surgery. 2. office, laboratory, or operating room of a surgeon. n., pl. sur ger ies.

sur gi cal (sēr'jə kl), 1. of surgery; having to do with surgery. 2. used in surgery. 3. performed by a surgeon. adj. —sur'gi cal ly, adv.

Su ri nam (sūr'ə nam), Dutch overseas territory in the N part of South America. 255,000 pop.; 55,291 sq. mi. Capital: Paramaribo. n. Also, Dutch Guiana.

sur ly (sēr'lē), bad-tempered and unfriendly; rude; gruff: They got a surly answer from the grouchy old man. adj., sur li er, sur li est. —sur'li ness, n.

sur mise (sər mīz' for 1; sər mīz' or sēr'mīz for 2), 1. guess: We surmised that the delay was caused by some accident. 2. formation of an idea with little or no evidence; a guessing: His guilt was a matter of surmise; there was no proof. 1 v., sur mised, sur mis ing; 2 n.

sur mount (sər mount'), 1. rise above. 2. be above or on top of: The peak surmounts the valley. 3. go up and across: surmount a hill. 4. overcome: He surmounted many difficulties. v. —sur mount'a ble, adj.

sur name (sēr'nām'), 1. a last name; family name: Smith is the surname of John Smith. 2. name added to a person's real name: William I of England had the surname "the Conqueror." 3. give an added name to; call by a surname: Simon was nicknamed Peter. 1,2 n., 3 v., sur named, sur nam ing.

sur pass (sər pas'), 1. do better than; be greater than; excel: His work surpassed expectations. 2. be too much or too great for; go beyond; exceed: The horrors of the battlefield surpassed description. v. —sur-pass'a ble, adj. —sur pass'ing ly, adv.

sur plice (sēr'plis), a broad-sleeved, white gown worn by clergymen and choir singers over their other clothes. n.

sur plus (sēr'pləs or sēr'plus), 1. amount over and above what is needed; extra quantity left over; excess: The bank keeps a large surplus of money in reserve. 2. excess of assets over liabilities. 3. more than is needed; excess: Surplus wheat and cotton are shipped abroad. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

sur pris al (sər prīz'l), a surprising or being surprised; a surprise. n.

sur prise (sər prīz'), 1. a feeling caused by something unexpected. 2. cause to feel surprised; astonish: The victory surprised us. 3. something unexpected: Mother always has a surprise for the children on holidays. 4. that is not expected; surprising: a surprise party, a surprise visit. 5. catch unprepared; come upon suddenly; attack suddenly: The enemy surprised the fort. 6. a catching unprepared; coming upon suddenly; sudden attack. 7. lead or bring (a person, etc.) unawares: The news surprised her into tears. 1,3,6 n., 2,5,7 v., sur prised, sur pris ing; 4 adj.

take by surprise, 1. catch unprepared; come on suddenly and unexpectedly: The fort was taken by surprise. 2. astonish.

sur pris ing (sər prīz'ing), causing surprise. adj. —sur pris'ing ly, adv.

sur re al ism (sə rē'ə līz əm), a modern movement in painting, sculpture, literature, etc., that tries to show what takes place in the subconscious mind. In surrealism the pictures, images, etc., have no conventional order or form. n.

Surplice

sur real ist (sə rē'əl ist), 1. artist or writer who uses surrealism. 2. of or having to do with surrealism or surrealists. 1 n., 2 adj.

sur real is tic (sə rē'əl is'tik), of or having to do with surrealism or surrealists. adj. —sur re'al is'ti-cal ly, adv.

sur ren der (sə ren'dər), 1. give up; give (oneself or itself) up; yield: The captain had to surrender to the enemy. As the storm increased, the men on the raft surrendered all hope. He surrendered himself to bitter grief. 2. act of surrendering. 1 v., 2 n.

sur rep ti tious (sēr'əp tish'əs), 1. stealthy; secret. 2. secret and unauthorized. adj. —sur'rep ti'tious-ly, adv.

sur rey (sēr'ē), a light, four-wheeled carriage having two seats. n., pl. sur-reys.

sur ro gate (sēr'ə gāt or sēr'ə git), 1. a substitute; deputy, especially the deputy of a bishop. 2. U.S. in certain States, a judge having charge of the probate of wills, the administration of estates, etc. n.

sur round (sə round'), 1. shut in on all sides; extend around: A high fence surrounds the field. 2. form an enclosure around; encircle: They surrounded the invalid with every comfort. v.

sur round ings (sə roun'dingz), surrounding things, conditions, etc. n.pl.

sur tax (sēr'taks'), an additional or extra tax. The surtax on large incomes increases in graded steps as the income exceeds certain amounts. n.

sur veil lance (sər vāl'əns), 1. watch kept over a person: The police kept the criminal under strict surveillance. 2. supervision. n.

sur vey (sər vā' for 1, 4, 5; sēr'vā or sər vā' for 2, 3, 6, 7), 1. look over; view; examine: The buyers surveyed the goods offered for sale. 2. a general look; view; examination; inspection: We were pleased with our first survey of the house. 3. a written statement or description of this. 4. measure for size, shape, position, boundaries, etc.: Men are surveying the land before it is divided into house lots. 5. survey land. 6. a careful measurement: A survey showed that the northern boundary was not correct. 7. plan or description of such a measurement: He pointed out the route of the railroad on the government survey. 1,4,5 v., 2,3,6,7 n., pl. surveys.

sur vey ing (sər vā'ing), 1. business or act of making surveys of land. 2. mathematical instruction in the principles and art of making surveys. n.

sur vey or (sər vā'ər), person who surveys, especially land. n.

sur vey or ship (sər vā'ər ship), position of a surveyor. n.

surveyor's measure, system of measuring used by surveyors. The unit is usually a chain 66 ft. long with links 7.92 in. long.

625 square links = 1 square pole
16 square poles = 1 square chain 10 square chains = 1 acre 640 acres = 1 section (or 1 square mile) 36 sections = 1 township

sur viv al (sər vīv'əl), 1. act or fact of surviving; continuance of life; living or lasting longer than others. 2. person, thing, custom, belief, etc., that has lasted from an earlier time: Belief in the evil eye is a survival of ancient magic. n.

sur vive (sər vīv'), 1. live longer than; remain alive after: He survived his wife by three years. Only ten of the crew survived the shipwreck. 2. exist longer than: The crops survived the drought. 3. continue to exist; remain: Books have survived from the time of the Egyptians. v.

sur vived, sur viving.

Survey

sur vi vor (sər vī'vər), person, animal, or plant that remains alive; thing that continues to exist. n.

sus-, form of sub- (from the form subs-) in some cases before c, p, t, as in susceptible, suspend, sustain.

Su sa (sū'sə), an ancient city in Persia. n.

sus cep ti bil i ty (sə sep'tə bil'ə tē), quality or state of being susceptible; readiness to receive impressions; sensitiveness. n., pl. sus cep ti bil i ties.

susceptibilities, sensitive feelings.

sus cep ti ble (sə sep'tə bl), easily influenced by feelings or emotions; very sensitive: Poetry appealed to his susceptible nature. adj. —sus cep'ti bly, adv.

susceptible of, 1. capable of receiving, undergoing, or being affected by: Oak is susceptible of a high polish. 2. sensitive to.

susceptible to, easily affected by; liable to; open to: Vain people are susceptible to flattery.

sus pect (səs pekt' for 1-4; sus'pekt for 5; sus'pekt or səs pekt' for 6), 1. imagine to be so; think likely: The old fox suspected danger and did not touch the trap. 2. believe guilty, false, bad, etc., without proof: The policeman suspected the thief of lying. 3. feel no confidence in; doubt: The judge suspected the truth of the thief's excuse. 4. be suspicious. 5. person suspected: The police have arrested two suspects in connection with the bank robbery. 6. open to suspicion; suspected. 1-4 v., 5 n., 6 adj.

sus pend (səs pend'), 1. hang down by attaching to something above: The lamp was suspended from the ceiling. 2. hold in place as if by hanging: We saw the smoke suspended in the still air. 3. stop for a while: suspend work. 4. stop payment; be unable to pay one's debts. 5. remove or exclude for a while from some privilege or job: He was suspended from school for a week for bad conduct. 6. keep undecided; put off: The court suspended judgment till next Monday. v.

sus pend ers (səs pen'dərz), straps worn over the shoulders to hold up the trousers. n.pl.

sus pense (səs pens'), 1. condition of being uncertain: The detective story kept me in suspense until the last chapter. 2. anxious uncertainty; anxiety: Mothers feel suspense when their children are very sick. 3. condition of being undecided. n.

sus pen si bil i ty (səs pen'sə bil'ə tē), capability of being suspended. n.

sus pen si ble (səs pen'sə bl), that can be suspended. adj.

sus pen sion (səs pen'shən), 1. a suspending or being suspended: the suspension of a boy from school for bad conduct. 2. support on which something is suspended. 3. arrangement of springs for supporting the body of an automobile, railroad car, etc. 4. mixture in which very small particles of a solid remain suspended without dissolving. 5. inability to pay one's debts; failure. n.

suspension bridge, bridge hung on cables or chains between towers.

sus pen so ry (səs pen'sə-rē), 1. holding up; supporting. 2. a muscle, ligament, bandage, etc., that holds up or supports a part of the body. 3. stopping for a while; leaving undecided. 1,3 adj., 2 n., pl. sus pen so ries.

sus pi cion (səs pish'ən), 1. state of mind of a person who suspects; suspecting: The real thief tried to turn suspicion toward others. 2. condition of being suspected. 3. Substandard. suspect. 4. a very small amount; slight trace; suggestion: She spoke with a suspicion of spite. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

above suspicion, not to be suspected: Our old servants are all above suspicion.

on suspicion, because of being suspected.

under suspicion, suspected.

Suspension bridge

sus pi cious (səs pish'əs), 1. causing one to suspect: A man was hanging about the house in a suspicious manner. 2. feeling suspicion; suspecting: Our dog is suspicious of strangers. 3. showing suspicion: The dog gave a suspicious sniff at my leg. adj. —sus pi'cious ly, adv. —sus pi'cious ness, n.

sus pi ra tion (sus'pə rā'shən), a sigh. n.

sus pire (səs pir'), 1. sigh. 2. breathe; breathe forth. v., sus pired, sus pir ing.

Sus que han na (sus'kwə han'ə), river flowing from central New York State through Pennsylvania and Maryland into Chesapeake Bay. 420 mi. n.

Sus sex (sus'iks), a former county in SE England, later divided into Sussex East and Sussex West. n.

sus tain (səs tain'), 1. keep up; keep going: Hope sustains him in his misery. 2. supply with food, provisions, etc.: sustain an army. 3. hold up; support: Arches sustain the weight of the roof. 4. bear; endure: The sea wall sustains the shock of the waves. 5. suffer; experience: sustain a great loss. 6. allow; admit; favor: The court sustained his suit. 7. agree with; confirm: The facts sustain his theory. v. —sus tain'a ble, adj.

sustaining program, radio or television program having no sponsor but maintained at the expense of a station or network.

sus te nance (sus'tə nens), 1. food: He has gone for a week without sustenance. 2. means of living; support: He gave money for the sustenance of a poor family. n.

sut ler (sut'lər), person who follows an army and sells provisions, etc., to the soldiers. n.

sut tee (su'tē'), 1. a Hindu widow who throws herself on the burning funeral pile of her husband. 2. the former Hindu custom of burning a widow with the body of her husband. n.

su ture (sü'chər), 1. seam formed in sewing up a wound. 2. method of doing this. 3. one of the stitches or fastenings used. 4. a sewing together or a joining as if by sewing. 5. unite by suture or as if by a suture. 6. line where two bones, especially of the skull, join. 1-4 n., 5 v., su tured, su tur ing.

su ze rain (sü'zə rin), 1. a feudal lord. 2. state or government exercising political control over a dependent state. n.

su ze rain ty (sü'zə rin tē), position or authority of a suzerain. n., pl. su ze rain ties.

svelte (svelt), slender; lithe. adj.

SW or S.W. or s.w., southwest.

swab (swob), 1. a mop for cleaning decks, floors, etc. 2. a bit of sponge, cloth, or cotton for cleansing some part of the body or for applying medicine to it. 3. a cleaner for the bore of a firearm. 4. clean with a swab; apply a swab to: swab a person's throat. 5. Slang. an awkward, clumsy person. 1-3 n., 4 v., swabbed, swab bing. Also, swob.

swab ber (swob'ər), 1. person who uses a swab. 2. swab. n.

swad dle (swod'l), 1. bind (a baby) with long, narrow strips of cloth; wrap tightly with clothes, bandages, etc. 2. cloth used for swaddling. 1 v., swad dled, swad dling; 2 n.

swaddling clothes, 1. long, narrow strips of cloth for wrapping a newborn infant. 2. long clothes for an infant.

swag (swag), 1. Slang. things stolen; booty; plunder; dishonest political gains. 2. Australian. bundle of personal belongings. 3. an ornamental festoon of flowers, leaves, ribbons, etc. n.

swag ger (swag'ər), 1. walk with a bold, rude, or superior air; strut about or show off in a vain or insolent way: The bully swaggered into the schoolyard. 2. boast or brag noisily. 3. bluster; affect by bluster; bluff. 4. a swaggering way of talking or acting. 1-3 v., 4 n. —swag'ger er, n. —swag'ger ing ly, adv.

Baby wrapped in swaddling clothes swagger stick, a short, light stick or cane, sometimes carried by soldiers.

swain (swän), Archaic or Poetic. 1. lover. 2. a young man who lives in the country. n.

swale (swäl), a low, wet piece of land; low place. n.

swal low (swol'ō), 1. take into the stomach through the throat: swallow food. 2. perform the act of swallowing: I cannot swallow. 3. take in; absorb: The waves swallowed up the swimmer. 4. Informal. believe too easily; accept without question or suspicion: He will swallow any story. 5. put up with; take meekly; accept without opposing or desisting: He had to swallow the insult. 6. take back: swallow words said in anger. 7. keep back; keep from expressing: She swallowed her displeasure and smiled. 8. a swallowing: He took the medicine at one swallow. 9. amount swallowed at one time: There are only about four swallows of water left in the bottle. 10. throat; gullet. 1-7 v., 8-10 n. —swal'low er, n.

swal low (swol'ō), a small, swift-flying bird, noted for the extent and regularity of its migratory movements. The barn swallow has a deeply forked tail. See cliff swallow for picture. n.

swal low tail (swol'ō täl'), 1. thing shaped like or suggesting the deeply forked tail of a swallow. 2. a swallow-tailed coat. n.

swallow-tailed coat, a man's coat with tails, worn at formal evening parties.

Swallow-tailed coat swam (swam), pt. of swim. When the boat sank, we swam to shore. v.

swa mi (swä'mē), title of a Hindu religious teacher. n., pl. swa mis.

swamp (swomp), 1. wet, soft land. 2. plunge or sink in a swamp or in water: The horses were swamped in the stream. 3. fill with water and sink: Their boat swamped. The wave swamped the boat. 4. overwhelm or be overwhelmed as by a flood; make or become helpless: He was swamped with letters asking for money. 1 n., 2-4 v.

swamp land (swomp'land'), tract of land covered by swamps. n.

swampy (swomp'ē), 1. like a swamp; soft and wet. 2. containing swamps. 3. of swamps. adj., swampier, swampiest.

swan (swon), 1. a large, graceful water bird with a long, slender, curving neck, and in most species a pure-white plumage in the adult. 2. a sweet singer; poet. n. —swan'like', adj.

swang (swang), Archaic and Dialect. a pt. of swing. v.

swank (swangk), Slang. 1. show off; bluff; swagger. 2. a showing off. 3. style; smartness; dash. 4. stylish; smart; dashing. 1 v., 2, 3 n., 4 adj.

swanky (swangk'ē), Slang. stylish; smart; dashing. adj., swankier, swankiest. —swank'ily, adv. —swank'i ness, n.

swan's-down (swonz'doun'), 1. the soft down of a swan, used for trimming, powder puffs, etc. 2. a fine, thick, soft cloth made from wool or cotton, used for babies' coats, bathrobes, etc. n.

Swan sea (swon'sē), seaport in S Wales. 162,000. n.

swan song, 1. song which a dying swan is supposed to sing. 2. a person's last piece of work.

swap (swop), Informal. exchange; barter; trade. v., swapped, swap ping; n. Also, swop. —swap'per, n.

sward (swōrd), a grassy surface; turf. n.

sware (swār), Archaic. a pt. of swear. v.

swarm (swōrm), 1. group of bees that leave a hive and fly off together to start a new colony. 2. fly off together to start a new colony. 3. group of bees settled together in a hive. 4. a large group of insects flying or moving about together. 5. great number; crowd: Swarms of children were playing in the park. 6. fly or move about in great numbers; be in very great numbers: The mosqui-

Swan (nearly 5 ft. long, including the head and neck) toes swarmed about us. 7. be crowded: The swamp swarms with mosquitoes. 8. crowd. 9. an aggregation of free-floating or free-swimming cells or unicellular organisms. 1.3-5,9 n., 2,6-8 v.

swart (swōrt), dark; swarthy. adj.

swarthy (swōr'thē or swōr'thē), having a dark skin. adj., swarther, swarthiest. —swarthyness, n.

swash (swosh), 1. dash (water, etc.) about; splash. 2. a swashing action or sound: the swash of waves against a boat. 3. swagger. 4. a channel of water through or behind a sandbank. 1,3 v., 2-4 n.

swash buckler (swosh/'buk'lər), a swaggering swordsman, bully, or boaster. n.

swash buckling (swosh/'buk'ling), swaggering; bullying; boasting. n., adj.

swastika (swos/'tə kə), an ancient symbol or ornament supposed to bring good luck. The swastika with arms turning clockwise was the symbol of the Nazis in Germany. n.

swat (swot), Informal. 1. hit with a smart or violent blow: swat a fly. 2. a smart or violent blow. 1 v., swatted, swatting; 2 n. —swat/ter, n.

swatch (swoch), sample of cloth or other material. n.

swath (swoth), 1. space covered by a single cut of a scythe or by one cut of a mowing machine. 2. row of grass, grain, etc., cut by a scythe or mowing machine. 3. a strip. n.

cut a wide swath, make a showy display; splurge.

swathe (swāth), 1. wrap up closely or fully: swathed in a blanket. 2. bind; wrap; bandage. 3. a wrapping; bandage. 4. envelop or surround like a wrapping: White clouds swathed the mountain. 1,2,4 v., swathed, swathing; 3 n.

sway (swā), 1. swing back and forth; swing from side to side, or to one side: She swayed and fell in a faint. The pail swayed in Jack's hands as he ran. 2. make move; cause to sway: The wind sways the grass. 3. a swaying: The sway of the pail caused some milk to spill out. 4. move to one side; turn aside; change in opinion, feeling, etc.: Nothing could sway him after he had made up his mind. 5. influence; control; rule: The speaker's words swayed his audience (v.). Few countries are now under the sway of kings (n.). 1,2,4,5 v., 3,5 n.

sway-backed (swā'bakt'), 1. of horses, etc., strained in the back by overwork or the like. 2. having the back sagged or hollowed to an unusual degree. adj.

Swa zi land (swā'zē land'), a British protectorate in SE Africa. 237,000 pop.; 6705 sq. mi. n.

swear (swār), 1. make a solemn statement, appealing to God or some other sacred being or object; take oath: A witness at a trial has to swear, "I promise to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help me God." 2. declare, calling God to witness; make solemn oath; declare on oath. 3. bind by an oath; require to promise: Members of the club were sworn to secrecy. 4. admit to office or service by administering an oath to: swear a witness. 5. promise solemnly; vow. 6. bring, set, take, etc., by swearing: swear a person's life away. 7. use profane language; curse. v., swore or (Archaic) sware, sworn, swear ing. —swear'er, n.

swear by, 1. name as one's witness in taking an oath. 2. have great confidence in.

swear in, admit to office or service by giving an oath.

swear off, promise to give up.

swear word (swār'wərd'), a word used in cursing; oath. n.

sweat (swet), 1. moisture coming through the pores of the skin: He wiped the sweat from his face. 2. give out moisture through the pores of the skin: We sweated because it was very hot. 3. cause to sweat: He sweated his horse by riding him too hard. 4. cause to give off moisture; ferment: sweat hides or tobacco in preparing them for use. 5. come out in drops; ooze. 6. send out in drops. 7. fit or condition of sweating: He was in a cold sweat from fear. 8. Informal. a fit of anxiety, impatience, or anything that might make a person sweat. 9. wet or stain with sweat. 10. moisture given out by something or gathered on its surface. 11. give out moisture; collect moisture from the air: A pitcher of ice water sweats on a hot day. 12. cause to work hard and under bad conditions: That employer sweats his workers. 13. Informal. work very hard. 14. heat (solder) till it melts; join (metal parts) by heating. 1,7,8,10 n., 2-6,9,11-14 v., sweat or sweat ed, sweating.

Swastikas

sweater (swet'ər), a knitted jacket, usually of wool. n.

sweat gland, a small gland, just under the skin, that secretes sweat.

sweat shop (swet'shop'), place where workers are employed at low pay for long hours under bad conditions. n.

sweaty (swet'ē), 1. sweating; covered or wet with sweat. 2. causing sweat. 3. laborious. adj., sweatier, sweatiest. —sweat/ily, adv. —sweat/iness, n.

Swede (swēd), native or inhabitant of Sweden. n.

Sweden (swē'dn), country in N Europe, east and south of Norway. 7,471,000 pop.; 173,347 sq. mi. Capital: Stockholm. See Lapland for map. n.

Swed ish (swēd'ish), 1. of or having to do with Sweden, its people, or their language. 2. people of Sweden. 3. language of Sweden. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

sweep (swēp), 1. clean or clear (a floor, etc.) with a broom, brush, etc.; use a broom or something like one to remove dirt; brush: Sweep the steps. 2. move, drive, or take away with or as with a broom, brush, etc.: The wind sweeps the snow into drifts. 3. remove with a sweeping motion; carry along: A flood swept away the bridge. 4. act of sweeping; clearing away; removing: He made a clean sweep of all his debts. 5. trail upon: Her dress sweeps the ground. 6. pass over with a steady movement: Her fingers swept the strings of the harp. His eye swept the sky, searching for signs of rain. 7. move swiftly; pass swiftly: Pirates swept down on the town. 8. a steady, driving motion or swift onward course of something: The sweep of the wind kept the trees from growing tall. 9. move with dignity: The lady swept out of the room. 10. a smooth, flowing motion or line; dignified motion: the sweep of verse. 11. move or extend in a long course or curve: The shore sweeps to the south for miles. 12. a curve; bend: the sweep of a road. 13. a swinging or curving motion: He cut the grass with strong sweeps of his scythe. 14. a continuous extent; stretch: The house looked upon a wide sweep of farming country. 15. reach; range; extent: The mountain is beyond the sweep of your eye. 16. person who sweeps chimneys, streets, etc. 17. a long oar. 18. a long pole used to raise or lower a bucket from a well. 19. a sweepstakes contest. 1-3,5-7,9,11 v., swept, sweeping; 4,8,10,12-19 n.

sweep er (swēp'ər), person or thing that sweeps: a carpet sweeper. n.

sweep ing (swēp'ing), 1. passing over a wide space: a sweeping glance. 2. having wide range: a sweeping victory, a sweeping statement. adj. —sweep'ing ly, adv.

sweep ings (swēp'ingz), dust, rubbish, scraps, etc., swept out or up. n.pl.

sweep stake (swēp'stāk'), sweepstakes. n.

sweep stakes (swēp'stāks'), 1. scheme for gambling on horse races, etc. People buy tickets, and the money they pay goes to the drawer or drawers of winning tickets. 2. the race or contest. 3. prize in such a race or contest. n.

sweet (swēt), 1. having a taste like sugar or honey. 2. having a pleasant taste or smell. 3. pleasant; agreeable: a sweet child, a sweet smile, sweet music. 4. fresh; not sour, salty, bitter, or spoiled: sweet butter. 5. of soil, good for farming. 6. dear; darling. 7. something sweet.

8. Brit., a sweet dessert. 9. in a sweet manner. 1-6 adj., 6-8 n. 9. adv. —sweet/ly, adv.

sweets, 1. candy or other sweet things. 2. pleasant or agreeable things.

sweet alyssum, a common low-growing plant with clusters of small white flowers.

sweet bay, 1. the bay or European laurel. 2. an American magnolia with round fragrant white flowers, common along the Atlantic coast from Massachusetts southward.

sweet bread (swēt/bred'), the pancreas or thymus of a calf, lamb, etc., used as meat. n.

sweet briar or sweet briar (swēt/bri'ər), rose with a tall, prickly stem and single pink flowers; eglantine. n.

sweet cider, unfermented cider.

sweet corn, a kind of corn that is eaten fresh or that is preserved for future use by canning, drying, or parching. Fresh sweet corn is sometimes called green corn.

sweet en (swēt'n), 1. make sweet. 2. become sweet. 3. make pleasant or agreeable. v. —sweet/en er, n.

sweet en ing (swēt'n ing), something that sweetens. n.

sweet flag, a water plant with long sword-shaped leaves and a pungent, aromatic rootstock. Sweet flag root is sometimes preserved with sugar and eaten as candy.

sweet gum, 1. a North American tree with star-shaped leaves that turn scarlet in the fall. 2. balsam from this tree.

sweet heart (swēt'härt'), 1. a loved one; lover. 2. girl or woman loved. n.

sweet ing (swēt'ing), 1. a sweet apple. 2. Archaic. darling; sweetheart. n.

sweet ish (swēt'ish), somewhat sweet. adj.

sweet marjoram, the common marjoram, a plant used for flavoring.

sweet meats (swēt/mēts'), 1. candy; candied fruits; sugar-covered nuts; bonbons. 2. preserves. n.pl.

sweet ness (swēt'nis), sweet quality. n.

sweet pea, 1. an annual climbing plant with delicate, fragrant flowers of various colors. 2. the flower.

sweet pepper, 1. a mild-flavored species of pepper plant. 2. its fruit.

sweet potato, 1. a sweet, thick yellow or reddish root of a vine, used as a vegetable. 2. the vine.

sweet-tem pered (swēt'tem/pərd), having a gentle or pleasant nature. adj.

sweet tooth, fondness for sweets.

sweet william or sweet William, plant with dense, rounded clusters of small flowers, that belongs to the same family as the pink.

swell (swel), 1. grow or make bigger: Bread dough swells as it rises. The river is swollen by rain. His head is swollen where he bumped it. 2. be larger or thicker in a particular place; stick out; cause to stick out: A barrel swells in the middle. 3. increase in amount, degree, force, etc.: Savings may swell into a fortune. 4. act of swelling; increase in amount, degree, force, etc. 5. condition of being swollen. 6. rise or cause to rise above the level: Rounded hills swell gradually from the village plain. 7. part that swells out. 8. piece of higher ground; rounded hill. 9. a long, unbroken wave or waves: The boat rocked in the swell. 10. grow or make louder: The sound swelled from a murmur to a roar. All joined in to swell the chorus. 11. a swelling tone or sound. 12. crescendo followed by diminuendo. 13. sign for this (<>). 14. device in an organ to control the volume of sound. 15. Informal. become or make proud or conceited. 16. Informal. a fashionable person. 17. Informal. stylish; grand. 18. Slang. excellent; first-rate. 1-3,6,10,15 v., swelled, swelled or swollen, swelling; 4,5,7-9, 11-14,16 n., 17,18 adj.

swelling ing (swel'ing), an increase in size; swollen part: There is a swelling on Dick's head where he bumped it. n.

swel ter (swel'tər), 1. suffer from heat. 2. perspire freely; sweat. 3. a sweltering condition. 1,2 v., 3 n. —swel/ter ing ly, adv.

swept (swept), pt. and pp. of sweep. She swept the room. v.

swept-back (swept/bak'), extending outward and sharply backward from the fuselage: Many modern airplanes have swept-back wings. adj.

swerve (swerv), 1. turn aside: The car swerved and hit a tree.

2. a turning aside: The swerve of the ball made it hard to hit.

1 v., swerved, swerving; 2 n.

swift (swift), 1. moving very fast: a swift automobile. 2. coming or happening quickly: a swift response. 3. quick, rapid, or prompt to act, etc.: swift to suspect. 4. in a swift manner.

5. a small bird with long wings. A swift looks somewhat like a swallow. 1-3 adj., 4 adv., 5 n. —swift/ly, adv.

swift-foot ed (swift/fut'id), able to run swiftly. adj.

swift ness (swift'nis), speed; quickness. n.

swig (swig), Informal. 1. a drink. 2. drink heartily.

1 n., 2 v., swigged, swig ging. —swig/ger, n.

swill (swil), 1. kitchen refuse, especially when partly liquid; garbage; slops. Swill is sometimes fed to pigs.

2. drink greedily; drink too much. 3. fill with drink.

4. a deep drink. 5. wash by flooding with water. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v.

swim (swim), 1. move along on or in the water by using arms, legs, fins, etc. 2. swim across: swim a lake.

3. make swim: He swam his horse across the stream.

4. float: The ham was swimming in gravy. 5. be over-flooded or flooded with: Her eyes were swimming with tears. 6. act, time, motion, or distance of swimming.

7. go smoothly; glide: White clouds swam across the sky. 8. be dizzy; whirl: The heat and noise made my head swim. 9. the swimming bladder of a fish. 1-5,7,8 v., swam or (Archaic) swum, swum, swim ming; 6,9 n.

the swim, the current of affairs, activities, etc.

swim mer (swim'ər), person or animal that swims. n.

swim ming (swim'ing), 1. practice or sport of swimming: Tom is expert at both swimming and diving. 2. act of swimming: Can you reach the island by swimming?

3. of or for swimming or swimmers: a swimming teacher, swimming pool. 4. dizzy: a swimming sensation. 1,2 n.,

3,4 adj.

swim ming ly (swim'ing lē), with great ease or success: Everything went swimmingly at our party. adv.

swindle (swin/dl), 1. cheat: Honest merchants do not swindle their customers. 2. get by fraud. 3. an act of swindling. 1,2 v., swindled, swin dling; 3 n.

swin dler (swin/dlər), person who swindles. n.

swine (swin), 1. hogs; pigs. 2. a hog. 3. a coarse or beastly person. n., pl. swine.

swine herd (swin'hərd'), one who tends pigs or hogs. n.

swing (swing), 1. move back and forth, especially with a regular motion: He swings his arms as he walks.

2. move in a curve: He swing the automobile around the corner. 3. act or manner of swinging. 4. amount of swinging. 5. a swinging blow: He brought the club down with a swing. 6. seat hung from ropes in which one may sit and swing. 7. move with a free, swaying motion:

The soldiers came swinging down the street. 8. a swinging gait or movement; steady, marked rhythm: "Dixie" has a swing. 9. freedom of action. 10. movement; activity. 11. hang: We swung the hammock between two trees. 12. Informal. manage successfully: swing a busi- ness deal. 13. swing music. 14. play as swing music.

15. of or having to do with swing music. 1,2,7,11,12, 14 v., swung or (Archaic and Dialect) swang, swung, swing ing; 3-6,8-10,13 n., 15 adj.

in full swing, going on actively and completely; without restraint: By five the party was in full swing.

swing gle tree (swing'gl trē'), singletree. n.

swing music, jazz music in which the players improvise freely on the original melody.

Chimney swift
(about 5 in. long)

swin ish (swin'ish), like swine; hoggish; beastly; dirty; greedy. adj. —swin'ish ness, n.

swipe (swip), 1. Informal. a sweeping stroke; hard blow: He made two swipes at the golf ball without hitting it. 2. Informal. strike with a sweeping blow. 3. Slang. steal. 1 n., 2,3 v., swiped, swiping.

swirl (swêrl), 1. move or drive along with a twisting motion; whirl: dust swirling in the air, a stream swirling over rocks. 2. a swirling movement; whirl; eddy. 3. twist; curl: Her hat had a swirl of lace around it. 1,3 v., 2,3 n.

swish (swish), 1. move with a thin, light, hissing or brushing sound; make such a sound: The whip swished through the air. 2. cause to swish: She swished the stick. 3. a swishing movement or sound: the swish of little waves on the shore. 1,2 v., 3 n.

Swiss (swis), 1. of or having to do with Switzerland or its people. 2. characteristic of Switzerland or its people. 3. native or inhabitant of Switzerland. 4. people of Switzerland. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n., pl. Swiss.

Swiss chard (chârd), any of several varieties of beets whose leaves are often eaten as a vegetable.

Swiss cheese, a firm, pale-yellow or whitish cheese with many large holes.

switch (swich), 1. a slender stick used in whipping. 2. whip; strike: He switched the boys with a birch stick. 3. a stroke; lash: The big dog knocked a vase off the table with a switch of his tail. 4. move or swing like a switch: The horse switched his tail to drive off the flies. 5. bunch of long hair worn by a woman in addition to her own hair. 6. device for changing the direction of something or for making or breaking a connection. A railroad switch shifts a train from one track to another. An electric switch turns the current off or on. 7. change, turn, or shift by using a switch: Switch off the light. 8. a turn; change; shift: a switch of votes to another candidate. 1,3,5,6,8 n., 2,4,7 v. —switch'er, n.

switch back (swich'bak'), 1. railroad climbing a steep grade in a zigzag course. 2. roller coaster. n.

switch board (swich'bôrd'), panel containing the necessary switches, meters, etc., for opening, closing, combining, or controlling electric circuits. A telephone switchboard has plugs for connecting one line to another. n.

switch man (swich'mæn), man in charge of one or more railroad switches. n., pl. switch-men.

Switz er land (swit'sər lənd), a small country in central Europe, north of Italy. 5,246,000 pop.; 15,944 sq. mi. Capital: Bern. See Rhine for map. n.

swivel (swiv'l), 1. a fastening that allows the thing fastened to turn round freely upon it. 2. support on which a chair can revolve. 3. in a chain, a link having two parts, one of which turns freely in the other. 4. turn on a swivel. 5. fasten or support by a swivel. 6. swing round; rotate; turn. 7. support on which a gun can turn round. 1-3,7 n., 4-6 v., swiv el ed, swiv el ing or esp. Brit. swiv el led, swiv el ling.

swivel chair, chair having a seat that turns on a swivel.

swob (swob), swab. n., v., swobbed, swobbing. swollen (swöl'ən), 1. swelled: a swollen ankle. 2. a pp. of swell. 1 adj., 2 v.

swoon (swin), 1. faint: She swoons at the sight of blood. 2. fade or die away gradually. 1,2 v., 1 n.

swoop (swüp), 1. come down with a rush; descend in a sudden, swift attack: One night the Indians swooped down on the village and burned it. 2. a rapid downward rush; sudden, swift descent or attack: With one swoop the hawk seized the chicken and flew away. 3. snatch. 1,3 v., 2 n. —swoop'er, n.

swop (swop), swap. v., swopped, swopping; n. —swop'per, n.

sword (sôrd), weapon, usually metal, with a long, sharp blade fixed in a handle or hilt. n. —sword'like', adj.

at swords' points, very unfriendly.

cross swords, 1. fight. 2. quarrel; dispute.

put to the sword, kill with a sword; slaughter in war. the sword, 1. war. 2. military power.

sword fish (sôrd'fish'), a very large salt-water food fish with a long, swordlike projection from its upper jaw. n., pl. sword fish es or (esp. collectively) sword fish.

sword man (sôrd'mæn), Archaic. swordsman. n., pl. sword men.

sword play (sôrd'plā'), action, practice, or art of wielding a sword; fencing. n.

swords man (sôrdz'mæn), 1. person skilled in using a sword. 2. person using a sword. n., pl. swords men.

swords man ship (sôrdz'mæn ship), skill in using a sword. n.

swore (swôr), a pt. of swear. He swore to be a loyal American when he became a citizen. v.

sworn (swôrn), 1. pp. of swear. A solemn oath of loyalty was sworn by all the knights. 2. having taken an oath; bound by an oath. 3. declared, promised, etc., with an oath: We have his sworn statement. 1 v., 2,3 adj.

'swounds (zwoundz or zoundz), Archaic. a shortened form of God's wounds, used as an oath. interj.

swum (swum), 1. pp. of swim. He had never swum before. 2. Archaic. a pt. of swim. v.

swung (swung), a pt. and pp. of swing. He swung his arms as he walked. The door had swung open. v.

syb a rite (sib'ə rīt), person who cares very much for luxury and pleasure. n.

syb a rit ic (sib'ə rit'ik), luxurious; voluptuous. adj.

syc a more (sik'ə môr), a kind of shade tree. In the United States, a sycamore is a buttonwood; in England, a kind of maple; in Egypt and Syria, a kind of fig tree. n.

syc o phan cy (sik'ə fən sē), servile flattery; self-seeking flattery. n., pl. syc o phan cies.

syc o phant (sik'ə fənt), a servile or self-seeking flatterer. Great men are likely to be surrounded by sycophants who want favors. n.

syc o phan tic (sik'ə fən'tik), having to do with, characteristic of, or acting as, a sycophant. adj.

Syd ney (sid'nē), the largest city and most important seaport in Australia. 2,055,000. n.

sy e nite (sī'ə nīt), a gray crystalline rock composed of feldspar and hornblende. n.

syll ab ic (sə lab'ik), 1. of or having to do with syllables; consisting of syllables. 2. forming a separate syllable by itself. The second l in little is syllabic. 3. a syllabic sound. 4. pronounced syllable by syllable. 1,2,4 adj., 3 n.

syll ab i cal ly (sə lab'ik lē), by syllables; with regard to syllables. adv.

syll ab i cate (sə lab'ə kāt), form or divide into syllables. v., syll ab i cat ed, syll ab i cat ing.

syll ab i ca tion (sə lab'ə kă'shən), division into syllables. n.

syll ab i fi ca tion (sə lab'ə fə kă'shən), division into syllables. n.

syll ab i fy (sə lab'ə fi), divide into syllables. v., syll ab i fied, syll ab i fy ing.

syll a bize (sil'ə biz), 1. form or divide into syllables. 2. utter with careful distinction of syllables. v., syll a bized, syll a biz ing.

syll a ble (sil'ə bl), 1. a word or part of a word pronounced as a unit that usually consists of a vowel alone or with one or more consonants. The word (sil'ə bl) syllable has three syllables. Certain consonant sounds may

Atlantic swordfish
(about 7 ft. long)

A, swivel;
B, hook turning freely in swivel;
C, chain.

be used as a vowel sound in syllables, such as the (l) in (bot'l) bottle or the (n) in (hid'n) hidden. 2. pronounce in syllables; utter distinctly; utter. 3. utter syllables. 4. letter or group of letters representing a syllable in writing and printing. Sylla ble has three syllables; A mer i can has four syllables. Do, this, and stretch are words of one syllable. 5. the slightest bit; word: He promised not to breathe a syllable of the secret to anyone. 1.4,5 n., 2,3 v., sylla bled, syl la bling.

sylla bus (sil'ə bəs), a brief statement of the main points of a speech, a book, a course of study, etc. n., pl. syl la bus es, syl la bi (-bi).

sylo gism (sil'ə jiz əm), 1. a form of argument or reasoning, consisting of two statements and a conclusion drawn from them. Example: All trees have roots; an oak is a tree; therefore, an oak has roots. 2. reasoning in this form; deduction. n.

sylo gis tic (sil'ə jis'tik), of or having to do with syllogism; using syllogisms. adj.

sylo gize (sil'ə jiz), 1. argue or reason by syllogisms. 2. deduce by syllogism. v., sylo gized, syl lo giz ing.

sylyph (silf), 1. a slender, graceful girl or woman. 2. a slender, graceful spirit of the air. n. —sylyph/like', adj.

syil va (sil'və), silva. n.

syil van (sil'vən), of the woods; in the woods; consisting of woods; having woods: They lived in a syilvan retreat. adj. Also, silvan.

sym bi o sis (sym'bē ō'sis), the association or living together of two unlike organisms for the benefit of each other. The lichen, which is composed of an alga and a fungus, is an example of symbiosis; the alga provides the food, and the fungus provides water and protection. n.

sym bi o tic (sym'bē ō'tik), having to do with symbiosis; living in symbiosis. adj.

sym bol (sim'bl), 1. something that stands for or represents something else: The lion is the symbol of courage; the lamb, of meekness; the olive branch, of peace; the cross, of Christianity. The marks +, -, X, and ÷ are symbols for add, subtract, multiply, and divide. 2. symbolize. 1 n., 2 v., sym boled, sym bol ing or esp. Brit. sym bolled, sym bol ling.

sym bol ic (sim bol'ik), 1. used as a symbol: A lily is symbolic of purity. 2. of a symbol; expressed by a symbol; using symbols. adj. —sym bol/i cal ly, adv.

sym bol i cal (sim bol'ə kl), symbolic. adj.

sym bol ism (sim'bl iz əm), 1. use of symbols; representation by symbols. 2. system of symbols: The cross, the crown, the lamb, and the lily are parts of Christian symbolism. 3. symbolic meaning or character. n.

sym bol ist (sim'bl ist), 1. person who uses symbols or symbolism. 2. artist or writer who makes much use of colors, sounds, etc., as symbols. 3. person who has experience in the study or interpretation of symbols. n.

sym bol i za tion (sim'bl ə zā'shən), symbolizing; representation by symbols. n.

sym bol ize (sim'bl iz), 1. be a symbol of; stand for; represent: A dove symbolizes peace. 2. represent by a symbol or symbols. 3. use symbols. v., sym bol ized, sym bol iz ing.

sym met ric (si met'rik), symmetrical. adj.

sym met ri cal (si met' rə kl), having symmetry; well-proportioned: symmetrical figures. adj. —sym-met/ri cal ly, adv.

sym me try (sim'ə trē), 1. a regular, balanced arrangement on opposite sides of a line or plane, or around a center or axis: A swollen cheek spoiled the symmetry of his face. 2. pleasing proportions between the parts of a whole; well-balanced arrangement of parts; harmony. n., pl. sym me tries.

BILATERAL SYMMETRY

RADIAL SYMMETRY

sym pa thet ic (sim'pə thet'ik), 1. having or showing kind feelings toward others; sympathizing: an unselfish and sympathetic friend. 2. Informal. approving; agreeing: The teacher was sympathetic to the class's plan for a trip to the museum. 3. enjoying the same things and getting along well together. adj.

sym pa thet i cal ly (sim'pə thet'ik lē), in a sympathetic manner; with sympathy. adv.

sym pa thize (sim'pə thiz), 1. feel or show sympathy: sympathize with a child who has hurt himself. 2. share in or agree with a feeling or opinion: My mother sympathizes with my plan to be a doctor. v., sym pa thized, sym pa thiz ing. —sym'pa thiz'ing ly, adv.

sym pa thiz er (sim'pə thiz'ər), person who sympathizes; person who is favorably inclined toward a particular belief or person. n.

sym pa thy (sim'pə thē), 1. a sharing of another's sorrow or trouble: We feel sympathy for a person who is ill. 2. agreement in feeling; condition or fact of having the same feeling: The sympathy between the twins was so great that they always smiled or cried at the same things. 3. agreement; approval; favor: He is in sympathy with my plan. n., pl. sym pa thies.

sym phon ic (sim fon'ik), 1. of, having to do with, or having the character of a symphony. 2. of or having to do with symphony or harmony of sounds; similar in sound. adj.

sym pho ny (sim'fə nē), 1. an elaborate musical composition for an orchestra. It usually has three or more movements in different rhythms but related keys. 2. harmony of sounds. 3. harmony of colors: In autumn the woods are a symphony in red, brown, and yellow. n., pl. sym pho nies.

sym po si um (sim pō'zē əm), 1. a collection of the opinions of several persons on some subject: This magazine contains a symposium on sports. 2. a meeting for the discussion of some subject. n., pl. sym po si ums, sym po si a (-zē ə).

symp tom (simp'təm), 1. sign; indication: Quaking knees and paleness are symptoms of fear. 2. a noticeable change in the normal working of the body that indicates or accompanies disease, sickness, etc.: The doctor made his diagnosis after studying the patient's symptoms. n.

symp to mat ic (simp'tə mat'ik), 1. being a sign; signifying; indicative: Riots are symptomatic of political or social unrest. 2. indicating or accompanying a disease, etc.: The infection caused a symptomatic fever. 3. having to do with symptoms of disease, etc. adj.

syn., 1. synonym. 2. synonymous.

syn a gogue (sin'ə gōg), 1. assembly of Jews for religious instruction and worship. 2. a building used by Jews for religious instruction and worship. n.

syn apse (si naps' or sin'aps), place where a nerve impulse passes from one nerve cell to another. n.

syn chro nal (sing'krə nl), synchronous. adj.

syn chro nism (sing'krə niz əm), occurrence at the same time; agreement in time. n.

syn chro nize (sing'krə nīz), 1. occur at the same time; agree in time. 2. move or take place at the same rate and exactly together. 3. make agree in time: synchronize all the clocks in a building. v., syn chro nized, syn chro niz ing. —syn'chro ni za'tion, n. —syn'chro-niz'er, n.

syn chro nous (sing'krə nəs), 1. occurring at the same time; simultaneous. 2. moving or taking place at the same rate and exactly together. adj. —syn'-chro nous ly, adv.

syn cli nal (sin klī'nl), 1. sloping downward from opposite directions so as to form a trough or inverted arch. 2. of or having to do with a syncline. adj.

syn cline (sing'klin), a synclinal fold of rock. n.

syn co pate (sing'kə pāt), 1. shorten (a word) by omitting sounds from the middle; as in syncopating Gloucester to Gloster. 2. in music, begin (a tone) on an unaccented beat and hold it into an accented one. v., syn co pat ed, syn co pat ing.

Synclinal folds

syn co pa tion (sing'kə pā'shən), a synecopating or being synecopated. Jazz and ragtime are forms of synecopation in music. n.

syn co pe (sing'kə pē), 1. contraction of a word by omitting sounds or letters from the middle, as in ne'er for never. 2. a fainting caused by cerebral anemia. n.

syn dic (sin'dik), 1. person who manages the business affairs of a university or other corporation. 2. magistrate. n.

syn di cal ism (sin'də kl iz'əm), plan to put industry and government under the control of labor unions by means of the general strike, violence, etc. n.

syn di cal ist (sin'də kl ist), person who favors and supports syndicalism. n.

syn di cate (sin'də kit for 1,2; sin'də kāt for 3-5), 1. combination of persons or companies to carry out some undertaking, especially one requiring a large capital investment. 2. agency that sells special articles, photographs, etc., to a large number of newspapers or magazines for publication at the same time. 3. combine into a syndicate. 4. manage by a syndicate. 5. publish through a syndicate. 1,2 n., 3-5 v., syn di cat ed, syn di cat ing.

syn di ca tion (sin'də kā'shən), a syndicating or being syndicated. n.

syn ec do che (si nek'də kē), figure of speech by which a part is put for the whole, or the whole for a part, the special for the general, or the general for the special, or the like. Examples: a factory employing 500 hands (persons); to eat of the tree (its fruit); a Solomon (wise man); a marble (a statue) on its pedestal. n.

syn od (sin'əd), 1. assembly called together under authority to discuss and decide church affairs; church council. 2. court of the Presbyterian Church ranking next above the presbytery. 3. assembly; convention; council. n.

syn od al (sin'əd l), having to do with a synod. adj.

syn od i cal (si nod'ə kl), 1. having to do with the conjunctions of the heavenly bodies. The synodical period of the moon is the time between one new moon and the next. 2. synodal. adj.

syn o nym (sin'ə nim), 1. word having a meaning that is the same or nearly the same as that of another word (contrasted with antonym). Keen is a synonym of sharp. 2. word or expression generally accepted as another name for something: George Washington's name has become a synonym for patriotic devotion to one's country. n.

syn on y mous (si non'ə mäs), having the same or nearly the same meaning. adj. —syn on'y mous ly, adv.

syn on y my (si non'ə mē), 1. being synonymous; equivalence in meaning. 2. study of synonyms. 3. use or coupling of synonyms in discourse for emphasis or amplification. 4. set, list, or system of synonyms. n., pl. syn on y mies.

syn op sis (si nop'sis), a brief statement giving a general view of some subject, book, play, etc.; summary: Write a synopsis of "Treasure Island" in 200 words or less. n., pl. syn op ses (-sēz).

syn tac tic (sin tak'tik), syntactical. adj.

syn tac ti cal (sin tak'tə kl), of or having to do with syntax; in accordance with the rules of syntax. adj. —syn tac'ti cal ly, adv.

syn tax (sin'taks), 1. construction or use of a word, phrase, or clause in a sentence. 2. sentence structure; arrangement of the words of a sentence in their proper forms and relations. 3. part of grammar dealing with this. n.

syn the ses (sin'thə sēz), pl. of synthesis. n.

syn the sis (sin'thə siz), 1. combination of parts or elements into a whole. Synthesis is the opposite of analysis. 2. formation of a compound or a complex substance by the chemical union of its elements, combination of simpler compounds, etc. Alcohol, ammonia, and rubber can be artificially produced by synthesis. n., pl. syn the ses.

syn the size (sin'thə siz), 1. combine into a complex whole. 2. make up by combining parts or elements. 3. treat synthetically. v., syn the sized, syn the siz ing.

syn thet ic (sin thet'ik), 1. having to do with synthesis: synthetic chemistry. 2. made artificially: synthetic rubies. adj. —syn thet'i cal ly, adv.

syph i lis (sif'l is), a contagious venereal disease, first affecting some local part, then the skin, then the bones, muscles, internal organs, etc., and finally the brain and spinal cord. n.

syph i lit ic (sif'l it'ik), 1. having to do with syphilis. 2. affected with syphilis. 3. person affected with syphilis. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

sy phon (sif'fən), siphon. n., v.

Syr a cuse (sir'ə kūs), 1. city in central New York State. 216,000.

2. an ancient city in SE Sicily. n.

Syr i a (sir'ē ə), 1. country in W Asia, south of Turkey. Syria was formerly under the supervision of France; it was joined with Egypt from 1958 to 1961 in the United Arab Republic. 4,421,000 pop.; 66,046 sq. mi. Capital: Damascus. 2. an ancient country north of Palestine and Arabia. n.

Syr i an (sir'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with Syria or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Syria. 1 adj., 2 n.

sy rin ga (sə ring'gə), shrub with fragrant white flowers blooming in early summer; mock orange. n.

sy ringe (sə rinj' or sir'inj), 1. device fitted with a piston or rubber bulb for drawing in a quantity of fluid and then forcing it out in a stream. Syringes are used for cleaning wounds, injecting fluids into the body, etc. 2. clean, wash, inject, etc., by means of a syringe. 1 n., 2 v., sy ringed, sy ring ing.

sy rin x (sir'ingks), 1. the Eustachian tube. 2. the vocal organ of birds, situated where the trachea divides into the right and left bronchi. sy rin ges (sə rin'jēz) or sy rin x es.

sy rup (sir'əp or sēr'əp), a sweet, thick liquid. Sugar boiled with water or fruit juices makes a syrup. A cough syrup contains medicine to relieve coughing. n. Also, sirup. —syrup like, adj.

sy rup y (sir'əp ē or sēr'əp ē), 1. resembling or suggesting syrup in consistency or sweetness. 2. having to do with syrup. adj.

sys tem (sis'təm), 1. set of things or parts forming a whole: a mountain system, a railroad system, the digestive system, etc. 2. an ordered group of facts, principles, beliefs, etc.: a system of government, system of education, etc. 3. plan; scheme; method: a system for betting. 4. an orderly way of getting things done. 5. the body as a whole. 6. group of heavenly bodies forming a whole that follows certain natural laws. 7. the world; universe. n. —sys'tem less, adj.

sys tem at ic (sis'təm at'ik), 1. according to a system; having a system, method, or plan. 2. orderly in arranging things or in getting things done. adj.

sys tem at i cal (sis'təm at'ə kl), systematic. adj.

Syringe n., pl.

sys tem at i cal ly (sis'təm at'ik lē), with system; according to some plan or method. adv.
sys tem a tize (sis'təm ə'tiz), arrange according to a system; make into a system; make more systematic. v., sys tem a tized, sys tem a tiz ing. —sys'tem a ti za'tion, n. —sys'tem a tiz'er, n.
sys tem ic (sis tem'ik), 1. of or having to do with a system. 2. having to do with a particular system of parts or organs of the body. 3. having to do with or affecting the body as a whole. adj.

sys tem ize (sis'təm 'iz), systematize. v., sys tem ized, sys tem iz ing. —sys'tem i za'tion, n.
sys to le (sis'tə lē), the normal rhythmical contraction of the heart. n.
sys tol ic (sis tol'ik), of or having to do with a contraction of the heart. adj.

T

T or t (tē), the 20th letter of the alphabet. n., pl. T's or t's.

to a T, exactly; perfectly.

T., 1. Territory. 2. Tuesday. 3. Testament.

t., 1. teaspoon. 2. temperature. 3. tense. 4. transitive. 5. ton; tons. 6. territory. 7. time. 8. tenor. 9. in the time of. 10. town.

Ta, tantulum.

tab (tab), 1. a small flap, strap, loop, or piece: He wore a fur cap with tabs over the ears. 2. Informal. check; account: The foreman kept tab on the workers. 3. A mother keeps tabs on her children. n.

tab ard (tab'ərd), 1. a short, loose coat worn by heralds. 2. mantle worn over armor by knights. 3. a coarse outer garment worn by the poor during the Middle Ages. n.

Tabard (def. 1)

Ta bas co (tə bas'kō), Trademark. a kind of peppery sauce, used on fish, meat, etc., prepared from the fruit of a variety of capsicum. n.

tab by (tab'bē), 1. a brown or gray cat with dark stripes. 2. brown or gray with dark stripes. 3. a female cat. 4. a spiteful female gossip. 5. an old maid. 1,3-5 n., pl. tab bies; 2 adj.

tab er nac le (tab'ər nak'l), 1. a temporary dwelling; tent. 2. the human body thought of as the temporary dwelling of the soul. 3. place of worship for a large audience. 4. a Jewish temple. 5. tomb, shrine, etc., with a canopy. 6. container for something holy or precious; container for the consecrated bread used in the Mass. n.

Tab er nac le (tab'ər nak'l), the covered wooden framework used by the Jews as a place of worship during their journey from Egypt to Palestine. n.

ta ble (tā'bl), 1. piece of furniture having a smooth, flat top on legs. 2. food put on a table to be eaten: Mrs. Brown sets a good table. 3. the persons seated at a table, especially at a dinner or for informal discussion. King Arthur and his Round Table means King Arthur and his knights. 4. put on a table. 5. a flat surface; plateau. 6. very condensed tabulated information; list: a table of contents in the front of a book, the multiplication table. 7. make a list or condensed statement. 8. a thin, flat piece of wood, stone, metal, etc.; tablet: The Ten Commandments were written on tables of stone. 9. matter inscribed or written on tables. 10. U.S. put off discussing (a bill, motion, etc.). 1-3,5,6,8,9 n., 4,7,10 v., ta bled, ta bling.

lay the table, make the table ready for a meal.

on the table, on the table of the presiding officer so that the discussion is put off.

the tables, certain laws cut or carved on thin flat pieces of stone.

turn the tables, reverse conditions or circumstances completely.

tab leau (tab'lō), 1. a striking scene; picture. 2. representation of a picture, statue, scene, etc., by a person or group posing in appropriate costume: Our school is going to present several tableaux from American history. n., pl. tab leaux (-lōz) or tab leaus.

ta ble cloth (tā'bl klōth'), cloth for covering a table. n.

ta ble d'hôte (tā'bl dōt'), a meal served at a fixed time and price. In meals table d'hôte, there is one price for the whole meal; but in meals à la carte, a person chooses what he wants and pays for each article.

ta ble land (tā'bl land'), a high plain; plateau. n.
Table Mountain, a flat-topped mountain near Cape Town, in S Africa. 3550 ft.

ta ble spoon (tā'bl spūn'), a spoon larger than a teaspoon or dessert spoon, used to serve vegetables, etc.; a standard unit of measurement in cookery. n.

ta ble spoon ful (tā'bl spūn fūl'), as much as a tablespoon holds. 1 tablespoonful = 1½ fluid ounce. n., pl. ta ble spoon fuls.

tab let (tab'lit), 1. a small flat sheet of stone, wood, ivory, etc., used to write or draw on. The ancient Romans used tablets as we use pads of paper. 2. number of sheets of writing paper fastened together at the edge. 3. a small, flat surface with an inscription: The Hall of Fame is a building that has many tablets in memory of famous people. 4. a small, flat piece of medicine, candy, etc.: aspirin tablets. n.

table talk, conversation at meals.

ta ble ware (tā'bl wār'), dishes, knives, forks, spoons, etc., used at meals. n.

tab loid (tab'lōid), 1. a newspaper, usually having half the ordinary size newspaper page, that has many pictures and gives the news in short articles. 2. condensed. 3. tablet of medicine. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

ta boo (tə bü'), 1. forbidden; prohibited; banned: Eating human flesh is taboo in all civilized countries. 2. forbid; prohibit; ban. 3. a prohibition; ban. 4. set apart as sacred or cursed. Among the Polynesians certain things, places, and persons are taboo. 5. system or act of setting things apart as sacred or cursed. 1,4 adj., 2 v., ta booded, ta boo ing; 3,5 n., pl. ta boos.

ta bor (tā'bər), a small drum, used especially to accompany a pipe or fife. n.

Ta briz (tä brēz'), city in NW Iran. 290,000. n.

ta bu (tə bü'), taboo. adj., v., ta bued, ta bu ing; n., pl. ta bus.

tab u lar (tab'yə lər), 1. of tables or lists; arranged in lists; written or printed in columns. Example:

Book	Author	Type
Ivanhoe	Scott	Romantic novel
Evangeline	Longfellow	Narrative poem
Tales from Andersen	Andersen	Fairy stories

2. flat like a table: a tabular rock. adj.

tab u late (tab'yə lāt for 1; tab'yə lit or tab'yə lāt for 2), 1. arrange (facts, figures, etc.) in tables or lists. 2. shaped like a table or a tablet. 1 v., tab u lat ed, tab u lat ing; 2 adj.

tab u la tion (tab'yə lā'shən), arrangement in tables or lists. n.

tab u la tor (tab'yə lā'tər), one that tabulates. n.

tac a ma hac (tak'ə mə hak'), 1. a gum resin used in incenses, ointments, etc. 2. any tree yielding such a product. n.

Tabor

ta chom e ter (tə kom'ə tər), any of various instruments for measuring or indicating the speed of a machine, a river, the blood, etc. n.

tac it (tas'it), 1. unspoken; silent: a tacit prayer. 2. implied or understood without being openly expressed: His eating the food was a tacit confession that he liked it. adj.

tac it ly (tas'it lē), 1. without sound. 2. without words; by implication from action or circumstances. adv.

tac i turn (tas'ə tēr'n), speaking very little; not fond of talking. adj.

tac i tur ni ty (tas'ə tēr'nə tē), habit of keeping silent; disinclination to talk much. n.

tack (tak), 1. a short, sharp-pointed nail or pin having a broad flat head: carpet tacks, thumbtacks. 2. fasten with tacks: She tacked mosquito netting over the windows. 3. stitch used as a temporary fastening. 4. sew with temporary stitches. 5. attach; add: He tacked a postscript to the end of the letter. 6. sail in a zigzag course against the wind: The ship was tacking, trying to make the harbor. 7. a zigzag course against the wind. 8. direction in which a ship moves in regard to the position of her sails. When on port tack, a ship has the wind on her left. 9. a zigzag movement; one of the movements in a zigzag course. 10. course of action or conduct: He took the wrong tack to get what he wanted. 11. change from one tack to another. 12. rope to hold in place a corner of some sails. 13. corner to which this is fastened. 1,3,7-10,12,13 n., 2,4-6,11 v. —tack/-er, n.

tack le (tak'l), 1. equipment; apparatus; gear. Fishing tackle means the rod, line, hooks, etc. 2. ropes and pulleys for lifting, lowering, or moving. The sails of a ship are raised and moved by tackle. 3. try to deal with: Everyone has his own problems to tackle. 4. lay hold of; seize: John tackled the runner and threw him. 5. in football, seize and stop (an opponent having the ball) by bringing to the ground. 6. act of tackling. 7. player between the guard and the end on either side of the line in football. 8. harness. 1,2,6,7 n., 3-5,8 v., tack led, tack ling. —tack/ler, n.

tack y¹ (tak'ē), sticky. adj.

tack y² (tak'ē), U.S. Informal. shabby; dowdy. adj.

tack i er, tack i est.

Ta co ma (tə kō'mə), 1. seaport in W Washington, on Puget Sound. 148,000. 2. Mount, Mount Rainier. n.

tac o nite (tak'ə nīt), kind of rock consisting of about 30 per cent iron ore. Large deposits of taconite exist in the Mesabi Range. n.

tact (takt), ability to say and do the right things; skill in dealing with people or handling difficult situations. n.

tact ful (takt'fəl), 1. having tact: a tactful person. 2. showing tact: a tactful reply. adj. —tact/ful ly, adv. —tact/ful ness, n.

tac ti cal (tak'tə kl), 1. of tactics; concerning tactics. 2. having to do with the disposal of military or naval forces in action against an enemy. 3. characterized by adroit procedure and skillful expedients. adj. —tac/-ti cal ly, adv.

tac ti cian (tak tish'ən), person skilled or trained in tactics. n.

tac tics (tak'tiks), 1. art or science of disposing military or naval forces in action. 2. the operations themselves. 3. procedures to gain advantage or success; methods. When coaxing failed, Mora changed her tactics and began to cry. 1 n.sing., 2,3 n.pl.

tac tile (tak'tl), 1. of or having to do with touch. 2. having the sense of touch. 3. that can be felt by touch. adj.

tac til i ty (tak til'ə tē), being tactile. n.

tact less (takt'līs), 1. without tact: a tactless person. 2. showing no tact: a tactless reply. adj.

tac tu al (tak'chū əl), 1. of touch; having to do with touch. 2. arising from the sense of touch; giving sensations of touch. adj.

tac tu al ly (tak'chū əl ē), by means of touch; as regards touch. adv.

tad pole (tad'pōl), a very young frog or toad at the stage when it has a tail and lives in water. n.

ta el (tāl), 1. weight of E Asia equal to 1½ ounces avoirdupois. 2. a Chinese unit of money. n.

ta'en (tān), Poetic. taken.

taffe ta (taf'ə tə), 1. a rather stiff silk cloth with a smooth, glossy surface. 2. a similar cloth of linen, rayon, etc. n.

taff rail (taf'rāl), a rail around a ship's stern. n.

taffy (taf'ē), 1. a kind of chewy candy made of brown sugar or molasses boiled down, often with butter: salt-water taffy. 2. Informal. flattery. n. Also, toffee, toffy.

Taft (taft), William Howard, 1857-1930, the 27th president of the United States from 1909 to 1913, and chief justice of the Supreme Court from 1921 to 1930. n.

tag (tag), 1. piece of card, paper, leather, etc., to be tied or fastened to something: Each coat in the store has a tag with the price marked on it. 2. a small hanging piece; loosely attached piece; loose end. 3. a metal point at the end of a string. A shoelace has a tag on each end. 4. quotation, moral, etc., added for ornament or effect. 5. add for ornament or effect. 6. the last line or lines of a song, play, actor's speech, etc. 7. furnish with a tag or tags: All his trunks and suitcases are tagged with his name and address. 8. Informal. follow closely: The baby tagged after his brother. 9. a radioactive tracer. 1-4,6,9 n., 5,7,8 v., tagged, tag ging.

tag (tag), 1. a children's game in which the player who is "it" chases the others until he touches one. The one touched is then "it" and must chase the others. 2. touch or tap with the hand. 1 n., 2 v., tagged, tag ging.

Ta gus (tā'gəs), river flowing through central Spain and Portugal into the Atlantic. 565 mi. n.

Ta hi ti (tə hē'tē), one of the Society Islands in the S Pacific. 45,000 pop.; 600 sq. mi. n.

Ta hi ti an (tə hē'tē ən or tə hē'shən), 1. of or having to do with the island of Tahiti, its people, or their language. 2. native of Tahiti. 3. language of the natives of Tahiti. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Ta hoe (tā'hō), Lake, a mountain lake in NE California and SW Nevada. 200 sq. mi. n.

tail (tāl), 1. the hinder part of an animal's body, especially when prolonged beyond the rest. 2. something like an animal's tail: the tail of a kite. 3. the after portion of an airplane. 4. the luminous train extending from the head of a comet. 5. the hind part of anything; back; rear; conclusion: the tail of a cart. 6. a long braid or tress of hair. 7. furnish with a tail. 8. form a tail. 9. at the tail, back, or rear. 10. coming from behind: a tail wind. 11. follow close behind; form the tail of: Some boys tailed after the parade. 12. Slang. follow Tadpole, showing different stages of growth.

Tackles for lifting

TAFFRAIL

closely and secretly. 13. join (one thing) to the end of another; fasten timber by an end. 1-6 n., 7,8,11-13 v., 9,10 adj. —tail/less, adj.

tails, 1. the reverse side of a coin. 2. Informal. coat with long tails, worn on formal occasions.

turn tail, run away from danger, trouble, etc.

with his tail between his legs, afraid; humiliated.

tail board (tāl'bôrd'), board at the back end of a cart or wagon, that can be let down or removed when loading or unloading. n.

tail lamp, tail light.

tail light, light, usually red, at the back end of an automobile, wagon, train, etc.

tailor (tāl'ôr), 1. man whose business is making or repairing clothes. 2. make by tailor's work: The suit was well tailored. 3. fit or furnish with clothes made by a tailor. 1 n., 2,3 v.

tailor bird (tāl'ôr bôrd'), a small bird of Asia and Africa that stitches leaves together to form and hide its nest. n.

tailor ing (tāl'ôr ing), business or work of a tailor. n.

tailor-made (tāl'ôr mād'), made by, or as if by, a tailor; simple and fitting well. adj.

tail piece (tāl'pēs'), piece added at or forming the end. n.

tail race (tāl'rās'), 1. part of a millrace below the wheel. 2. channel that takes water away from a water wheel. n.

tail spin, a downward movement of an airplane with the nose first and the tail spinning in a circle above.

tail wind, wind coming from behind.

taint (tānt), 1. stain or spot; trace of decay, corruption, or disgrace: No taint of dishonor ever touched George Washington. 2. give a taint to; spoil: His mind was tainted from reading bad books. 3. become tainted; decay. 1 n., 2,3 v.

Taipei or Taipeh, (tī'pā'), capital of Taiwan, in the N part. 759,000. n.

Tai wan (tī'wān'), island off SE China, the seat after 1949 of the Chinese nationalist government. 10,466,000 pop.; 13,885 sq. mi. Capital: Taipei. n. Also, Formosa.

Taj Ma hal (tāj' mā hāl'), an exquisite mausoleum of white marble at Agra, in N India.

take (tāk), 1. lay hold of; grasp: He took her by the hand. 2. seize; catch; capture: take a wild animal in a trap. 3. catch hold; lay hold: The fire has taken. 4. accept: Take my advice. The man won't take a cent less for the car. 5. get; receive; assume the ownership or possession of: She took the gifts and opened them. 6. win: He took first prize. 7. get; have: take cold, take a seat. 8. use; make use of: take medicine. 9. indulge in: take a rest, take a vacation. 10. submit to; put up with: take hard punishment. 11. need; require: It takes time and patience to learn how to drive an automobile. 12. choose; select: Take the shortest way home. 13. remove: Please take the wastebasket away and empty it. 14. remove by death: Pneumonia took him. 15. remove something; detract: Her paleness takes from her beauty. 16. subtract: If you take 2 from 7, you have 5. 17. Where will this road take me? 18. go with; escort: Take her home. 19. carry: Take your lunch along. 20. do; make; obtain by some special method: Please take my photograph. 21. form and hold in mind; feel: Mary takes pride in her schoolwork. 22. find out: The doctor took his temperature. 23. act; have effect: The vaccination took. 24. suppose: I take it the train was late. 25. regard; consider: Let us take an example. 26. assume: She took charge of the

Tailorbird (about 5 in. long) with its nest household. 27. engage; hire; lease: take a house. 28. receive and pay for regularly: take a newspaper. 29. become affected by: Marble takes a high polish. 30. in grammar, be used with: A plural noun takes a plural verb. 31. please; attract; charm: The song took our fancy. 32. win favor: Do you think the new play will take? 33. go: The cat took to the woods. 34. become: He took sick. 35. amount taken: a great take of fish. 36. act of taking. 37. that which is taken. 38. act or process of making a photograph or scene in a motion picture. 1-34 v. took, tak en, taking; 35-38 n. —take'er, n. take after, 1. be like; resemble: Mary takes after her mother. 2. try to seize or capture: The dog took after the rabbit.

take back, withdraw; retract.

take down, 1. write down. 2. lower the pride of.

take for, suppose to be.

take in, 1. receive; admit. 2. make smaller. 3. understand. 4. deceive; trick; cheat.

take it out on, Informal. relieve one's anger or annoyance by scolding or hurting.

take off, 1. leave the ground or water: Three airplanes took off at the same time. 2. Informal. give an amusing imitation of; mimic.

take on, 1. engage; hire. 2. undertake to deal with. 3. Informal. show great excitement, grief, etc.

take one's time, not hurry.

take over, take the ownership or control of.

take to, form a liking for; become fond of: Good students take to books.

take up, 1. soak up; absorb. 2. make smaller. 3. begin; undertake. 4. pay off. 5. lift.

take up with, Informal. begin to associate or be friendly with.

tak en (tāk'ən), pp. of take. I have taken this toy from the shelf. v.

take-off (tāk'ôf' or tāk'of'), 1. Informal. an amusing imitation; mimicking. 2. the leaving of the ground in leaping or in beginning a flight in an airplane; taking off. 3. the place or point at which one takes off. n.

tak est (tāk'ist), Archaic. take. "Thou takest" means "you take." v.

tak eth (tāk'ith), Archaic. takes. v.

tak ing (tāk'ing), 1. attractive; pleasing; winning: a taking smile. 2. Informal. infectious. 3. act of one who takes or state of being taken. 4. that which is taken. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

takings, money taken in; receipts.

tal bot (tâl'bôt), a large hunting dog with long, hanging ears. n.

talc (talk), a soft, smooth mineral, used in making face powder, tailors' chalk, etc. n.

tal cum (tal'kəm), 1. talcum powder. 2. talc. n.

talcum powder, powder made of purified white talc, for use on the face and body.

tale (tāl), 1. story; narrative: The old sea captain told the children tales of his adventures. 2. falsehood; lie. 3. piece of gossip or scandal. 4. number; count: His tale of sheep amounted to over three hundred. n.

tell tales, spread gossip or scandal.

tale bear er (tāl'bār'ər), person who spreads gossip or scandal; telltale. n.

tale bear ing (tāl'bār'ing), spreading gossip or scandal. n.

tal ent (tal'ənt), 1. a special natural ability: a talent for music. 2. people who have talent. 3. an ancient unit of weight or money, varying with time and place. n. tal ent ed (tal'ən tid), having natural ability; gifted: a talented musician. adj.

ta ler (tāl'ər), thaler. n., pl. ta ler.

tale tell er (tāl'tel'ər), talebearer. n.

tal is man (tal'is mən), 1. a stone, ring, etc., engraved with figures or characters supposed to have magic power; charm. 2. anything that acts as a charm. n., pl. tal is mans.

tal is man ic (tal'is man'ik), having to do with or serving as a talisman. adj.

talk (tôk), 1. use words; speak: A child learns to talk. 2. use in speaking: talk sense, talk French. 3. the use of words; spoken words; speech; conversation: The old friends met for a good talk. 4. an informal speech: The coach gave the team a talk about the need for more team spirit. 5. a way of talking: baby talk. 6. bring, put, drive, influence, etc., by talk: talk a person to sleep. 7. discuss: talk politics, talk business. 8. consult; confer: talk with one's doctor. 9. conference; council. 10. spread ideas by other means than speech: talk by signs. 11. make sounds that suggest speech: The birds were talking loudly. 12. gossip; rumor: She talked behind their backs. 13. a subject for talk or gossip: She is the talk of the town. 1,2,6-8,10-12 v., 3-5,9,13 n.

talk back, Informal. answer rudely or disrespectfully. talk down, make silent by talking louder or longer. talk over, 1. discuss; consider together. 2. persuade or convince by arguing.

talk a tive (tôk'ə tiv), having the habit of talking a great deal; fond of talking: He is a merry, talkative old man who knows everyone on our street. adj. —talk/a tive ly, adv. —talk/a tive ness, n.

talk er (tôk'ər), 1. person who talks. 2. a talkative person. n.

talk ie (tôk'ē), Informal. a talking picture. n.

talking picture, a motion picture with sound.

talk ing-to (tôk'ing tü'), Informal. a scolding. n., pl. talk ing-tos.

tall (tôl), 1. higher than the average; high: a tall building. 2. of the specified height: six feet tall. 3. Informal. high or large in amount; extravagant: a tall price. 4. Informal. hard to believe; exaggerated: a tall tale. adj. —tall/ness, n.

Tal la has see (tal'ə has'ē), capital of Florida, in the N part. 48,000. n.

Tal linn (täl'in), seaport on the Gulf of Finland and capital of Estonia, a Soviet republic. 280,000. n.

tal low (tal'ô), 1. the hard fat from sheep, cows, etc., used for making candles and soap. 2. smear with tallow. 1 n., 2 v.

tal ly (tal'ē), 1. stick of wood in which notches are cut to represent numbers. Tallies were formerly used to show the amount of a debt or payment. 2. anything on which a score or account is kept. 3. notch or mark made on a tally; mark made for a certain number of objects in keeping account. 4. number or group used in tallying: The dishes were counted in tallies of 20. 5. mark on a tally; count up: tally a score. 6. account; reckoning; score: a tally of a game. 7. label; tag. 8. agree; correspond: Your account tallies with mine. 9. cause to fit, suit, or correspond. 10. anything corresponding to a certain other thing; duplicate; counterpart. 11. correspondence; agreement. 1-4,6,7,10,11 n., pl. tal lies; 5,7-9 v., tal lied, tal ly ing.

tal ly ho (tal'ē hō' for 1,2; tal'ē hō' esp. for 2), Esp. Brit. 1. coach drawn by four horses. 2. a hunter's cry on catching sight of the fox. 1,2 n., pl. tal ly-hos; 2 interj.

tally sheet, sheet on which a record or score is kept, especially a record of votes.

Tal mud (tal'mud), the sixty-three volumes containing the Jewish civil and canonical law, carrying on the teachings of the Old Testament through interpretations and reinterpretations contained in the Mishna. n.

tal on (tal'ən), claw of a bird of prey; claw. n.

talons, clawlike fingers; grasping hands.

ta lus (tā'lās), ankle; anklebone. n., pl. ta li (-lī).

ta lus (tā'lās), 1. a slope. 2. a sloping side or face of a wall, rampart, parapet, or other fortification. 3. a sloping mass of rocky fragments lying at the base of a cliff or the like. n.

tam (tam), tam-o'-shanter. n.

ta ma le (tə mā'lē), a Mexican food made of corn meal and minced meat, seasoned with red peppers, wrapped in cornhusks, and roasted or steamed. n.

tam a rack (tam'ə rak), an American larch tree. n.

tam a rind (tam'ə rind), 1. a tropical tree grown for its wood and fruit. 2. its fruit, used in foods, drinks, and medicine. n.

tam a risk (tam'ə risk), an ornamental shrub or small tree with slender, feathery branches. n.

tam bou rine (tam'bə rēn'), a small drum with metal disks, played by striking it with the knuckles or by shaking it. n.

tame (tām), 1. taken from the wild state and made obedient: a tame bear. 2. without fear; gentle: The squirrels are very tame. 3. make tame; break in: The lion was tamed for the circus. 4. become tame: While rats tame easily. 5. deprive of courage; tone down; subdue: Severe discipline in childhood had tamed him and broken his will. 6. without spirit; dull: a tame story. 1,2,6 adj., tam er, tam est; 3-5 v., tamed, tam ing. —tame/a ble, tam/a ble, adj. —tame/ness, n.

tame less (tām'lis), that has never been tamed; that cannot be tamed. adj.

tame ly (tām'lē), in a tame manner. adv.

tam er (tām'ər), person who tames: a lion tamer. n.

Tam il (tam'li), 1. one of the Dravidian people of S India and Ceylon. 2. their language. 3. of or having to do with the Tamils or their language. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Tam ma ny (tam'mə nē), 1. organization of politicians in the Democratic Party of New York City. 2. of or having to do with this organization, its politics, methods, or members. 1 n., 2 adj.

tam-o'-shan ter (tam'ə shan'tər), a Scotch cap. n. Also, tam.

tamp (tamp), 1. pack down: tamp the earth about a newly planted tree. 2. in blasting, fill (the hole containing explosive) with dirt, etc. v.

Tam pa (tam'pə), seaport in W Florida. 275,000. n.

tam per (tam'pər), meddle; meddle improperly: Do not tamper with the lock. v. —tam/per er, n.

tamper with, 1. bribe; corrupt: Crooked politicians had tampered with the jury. 2. change so as to damage or falsify.

tam pon (tam'pon), 1. plug of cotton or the like inserted in a wound, etc., to stop bleeding. 2. fill or plug with tampon. 1 n., 2 v.

tan (tan), 1. make (a hide) into leather by soaking in a special liquid. 2. liquid used in tanning hides. It contains an acid obtained from the bark of oaks, hemlocks, etc. 3. bark used in tanning hides and also for covering riding tracks and circus rings. 4. yellowish brown: He wore tan shoes. 5. the brown color of a person's skin resulting from being in the sun and air. 6. make brown from exposure to sun and air: Sun and wind had tanned the sailor's face. 7. become brown. 8. Informal. thrash. 1,6-8 v., tanned, tan ning; 2-5 n., 4 adj.

tan a ger (tan'ə jər), any of various small American birds related to the finches. The males are usually brilliantly colored. n.

Ta na na rive (tā nā nā rēv'), capital of the Malagasy Republic, in the central part. 206,000. n.

Tambourine

Tam-o'-shanter

Tallyho

Scarlet tanager (about 7 in. long) tan bark (tan/bärk'), the crushed bark used in tanning hides. Riding tracks and circus rings are often covered with used tanbark. n.

tan dem (tan/dəm), 1. one behind the other: drive horses tandem. 2. having animals, seats, parts, etc., arranged one behind the other. 3. two horses harnessed tandem. 4. a carriage drawn by two horses so harnessed. 5. a bicycle with two seats, one behind the other. 1 adv., 2 adj., 3-5 n.

Taney (tō'nē), Roger Brooke, 1777-1864, chief justice of the United States Supreme Court from 1836 to 1864. n.

tang¹ (tang), 1. a strong taste or flavor: the tang of mustard, the salt tang of sea air. 2. a distinctive flavor or quality. 3. a slight touch or suggestion; trace. 4. a long, slender projecting point, strip, or prong forming the part of a chisel, file, etc., that fits into the handle. n.

tang² (tang), 1. a sharp, ringing sound. 2. make a sharp, ringing sound. 1 n., 2 v.

Tan gan yi ka (tang/gən yē'kə), 1. a former country in E Africa, now part of Tanzania. 2. Lake, lake in central Africa. 450 mi. long; 12,700 sq. mi. n.

tangent (tan/jənt), 1. touching. 2. in geometry, touching at one point only and not intersecting. These circles are tangent: ∞ 3. a tangent line, curve, or surface. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

fly off or go off at a tangent, change suddenly from one course of action or thought to another.

tan gen tial (tan jen/shəl), 1. of or having to do with a tangent. 2. diverging. 3. slightly connected. adj.

tan ge rine (tan/jə rēn'), a small, deep-colored orange with a very loose peel. n.

tan gi bil i ty (tan/jə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being tangible. n.

tan gi ble (tan/jə bl), 1. capable of being touched or felt by touch: A chair is a tangible object. 2. real; actual; definite: The good will of a business is not as tangible as its buildings and stock. adj. —tan'gi bly, adv.

tangibles, things whose value is easily appraised; material assets.

Tan gier (tan jir'), seaport in Morocco, on the Strait of Gibraltar. 142,000. n.

tan gle (tang/gl), 1. twist and twine together in a confused mass: The kitten had tangled the ball of twine. 2. a confused or tangled mass: The climbing vines are all one tangle and need to be pruned and tied up. 3. involve in something that hampers or obstructs. 4. bewilder; confuse. 5. a bewildering confusion: a tangle of contradictory statements. 1,3,4 v., tan gled, tan gling; 2,5 n. —tan'gle ment, n.

tan gly (tang/glē), full of tangles; tangled. adj.

tan go (tang/gō), 1. a Spanish-American dance with special music and many steps, figures, and poses. 2. music for it. 3. dance the tango. 1,2 n., pl. tan gos; 3 v., tan goed, tan go ing.

tang y (tang/ē), having a tang. adj.

tank (tangk); 1. a large container for liquid or gas. 2. put or store in a tank. 3. an armored combat vehicle carrying machine guns and, usually, cannon and moving on an endless track on each side. 1,3 n., 2 v.

tank age (tangk'ij), 1. capacity of a tank or tanks. 2. storage in tanks. 3. price charged for storage in tanks. 4. the waste matter from slaughterhouse tanks, used as fertilizer. n.

Tandem (def. 4)

Tandem bicycle

tank ard (tangk'ərd), a large drinking mug with a handle and a hinged cover. n.

tank car, a railroad car with a tank for carrying liquids or gases.

tank er (tangk'ər), ship with tanks for carrying oil or other liquid freight. n.

tan ner (tan'ər), person whose work is tanning hides. n.

tan ner y (tan'ər ē), place where hides are tanned. n., pl. tan ner ies.

tan nic (tan'ik), of or obtained from tanbark or tannin. adj.

tannic acid, tannin.

tan nin (tan'ən), acid obtained from the bark or galls of oaks, etc., and from certain other plants. It is used in tanning, dyeing, making ink, and in medicine. n.

tan ning (tan'ing), 1. process or art of converting hide or skins into leather. 2. a making brown, as by exposure to sun. 3. Informal. a whipping; flogging. n.

tan sy (tan/zē), a coarse, strong-smelling plant with large, toothed leaves and clusters of small yellow flowers. Tansy was formerly much used in cooking and medicine. n., pl. tan sies.

tan ta lize (tan'tl īz), torment or tease by keeping something desired in sight but out of reach, or by holding out hopes that are repeatedly disappointed. v., tan ta lized, tan ta liz ing. —tan'ta li za'tion, n. —tan'ta liz'er, n. —tan'ta liz'ing ly, adv.

tan ta lum (tan'tl əm), a rare, grayish metallic element that is very resistant to acids. Symbol: Ta n.

Tan ta lus (tan'tl əs), in Greek mythology, a Greek king punished in the lower world by having to stand up to his chin in water, under branches laden with fruit. Whenever he tried to drink or eat, the water or fruit withdrew from his reach. n.

tan ta mount (tan'tə mount), equivalent. adj.

tan tar a (tan tar'ə or tan'tə rə), 1. blast of a trumpet or horn. 2. any similar sound. n.

tan trum (tan'trəm), Informal. fit of bad temper or ill humor. n.

Tan za ni a (tan'zə nē'ə), a country in E Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth, consisting of the former British trust territory of Tanganyika and the adjacent islands of Zanzibar and Pemba. 10,310,000 pop.; 362,000 sq. mi. Capital: Dar es Salaam. n.

Tao ism (tou'iz əm), one of the three main religions of China. n.

Tao ist (tou'ist), 1. believer in Taoism. 2. of or belonging to Taoists or Taoism. 1 n., 2 adj.

tap¹ (tap), 1. strike lightly: tap on a window. 2. cause to strike lightly: She tapped her foot on the floor. 3. a light blow: There was a tap at the door. 4. sound of a light blow. 5. make, put, etc., by light blows: tap a rhythm, tap time, tap the ashes out of a pipe. 1,2,5 v., tapped, tap ping; 3,4 n.

tap² (tap), 1. stopper or plug to close a hole in a cask containing liquid. 2. means of turning on or off a flow of liquid; faucet. 3. make a hole in to let out liquid: They tapped the sugar maples when the sap began to flow. 4. draw the plug from: tap a cask. 5. furnish with a tap. 6. let out (liquid) by piercing or by drawing a plug. 7. a certain kind or quality of liquor. 8. Informal. room in which liquor is sold and drunk. 9. let out liquid from by surgery. 10. penetrate to; open up: This highway taps a large district. 11. place where an electric connection is or can be made. 12. make a connection on: tap a telegraph wire to intercept the message. 1,2,7,8,11 n., 3-6,9,10,12 v., tapped, tap ping.

on tap, 1. ready to be let out of a keg or barrel and served. 2. ready for use; on hand.

tap dance, dance in which the steps are accented by loud taps of the foot, toe, or heel.

tap-dance (tap'dans'), dance a tap dance. v., tap-danced, tap-danc ing. —tap'-danc'er, n.

Tankard

Tap² (def. 1)

Tank used in war tape (tāp), 1. a long, narrow woven strip of cotton, linen, etc. Tape is used to make loops and bind seams. 2. a long, narrow strip of other material. Surveyors measure with a steel tape. Stock quotations are printed on paper tape. Sound is recorded on a kind of plastic tape. Television shows are photographed on a kind of celluloid tape. 3. fasten with tape; wrap with tape. 4. make a tape recording. 5. strip, string, etc., stretched across a race track at the finish line. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., taped, taping. —tape/like', adj.

tape measure, a long strip of cloth or steel marked in inches, feet, etc., for measuring. n.

ta per (tā'pər), 1. make or become gradually smaller toward one end: The church spire tapers off to a point. 2. grow less gradually; diminish. 3. becoming smaller toward one end. 4. a gradual decrease of force, capacity, etc. 5. a very slender candle; long wick coated with wax. 1,2 v., 3 adj., 4,5 n. —ta/per ing ly, adv.

tape recorder, device for recording sound magnetically on a plastic tape. Sound waves activate the microphone transmitting electric impulses to an electromagnet through which the voice is reproduced on tape as it moves across it.

tape recording, 1. the recording of sound on a tape. 2. the sound thus recorded.

tap es try (tap'is trē), 1. fabric with pictures or designs woven in it, used to hang on walls, cover furniture, etc. 2. picture in tapestry. 3. cover with tapestry; cover with a pattern like that of tapestry. 1,2 n., pl. tap es tries; 2,3 v., tap es tried, tap es try ing.

tape worm (tāp'wərm'), a long, flat worm that lives during its adult stage as a parasite in the intestine of man and other vertebrates. n.

tap i o ca (tap'ē ō'kə), a starchy food obtained from the root of the cassava plant. n.

ta pir (tā'pər), a large pig-like mammal of tropical America that has a flexible snout. n.

tap room (tap'rūm'), barroom. n.

tap root (tap'rūt'), a main root growing downward. n.

taps (taps), a signal on a bugle or drum to put out lights at night. Taps are also sounded when a soldier or sailor is buried. n.pl.

tap ster (tap'stər), person who draws beer or wine from barrels or kegs to serve in a tavern. n.

tar¹ (tār), 1. a black, sticky substance obtained by the distillation of wood or coal. 2. cover or smear with tar; soak in tar. Tarred paper is used on sheds to keep out water. 3. of, like, or covered with tar. 1 n., 2 v., tarred, tar ring; 3 adj.

tar and feather, pour heated tar on and cover with feathers as a punishment.

tar² (tār), sailor. n.

tar an tel la (tar'an tel'ə), 1. a rapid, whirling southern Italian dance in very quick rhythm, usually performed by a single couple. 2. music for this dance. n.

Ta ran to (tə ran'tō; Italian tā'rān tō), 1. Gulf of, gulf off the SE coast of Italy. 70 mi. long. 2. seaport on this gulf. 180,000. n.

ta ran tu la (tə ran'chə lə), a large, hairy spider whose bite is painful, if not dangerous. People used to think that its bite caused an insane desire to dance. n., pl. ta ran tu las, ta ran tu lae (-lē).

Ta ra wa (tə rā'wə), atoll in the Gilbert Islands in the central Pacific. Tarawa is the seat of the headquarters of Gilbert and Ellice Islands colony. n.

tar boosh (tār būsh'), red cap of cloth or felt having a blue silk tassel at the crown, worn by Moslem men. n.

tar di ly (tār'də lē), slowly; late; with delay. adv.

Tapir (about 3 ft. high at the shoulder)

Tarantula (body about 1 in. long) tar dy (tār'dē), 1. behind time; late: Tom was tardy for school four times last year. 2. slow: The old coach was tardier than ever. adj., tar di er, tar di est. —tar/di-ness, n.

tare¹ (tār), 1. vetch. The common tare has light-purplish flowers and is grown as food for cattle and to enrich the soil. 2. in the Bible, an injurious weed, possibly the darnel. n.

tare² (tār), deduction made from the gross weight to allow for the weight of the wrapper, box, conveyance, etc. n.

tar get (tār'git), 1. mark for shooting at; thing aimed at. A target is often a circle, but anything may be used as a target.

2. object of abuse, scorn, criticism, etc.: His crazy ideas made him the target of their jokes.

3. a small shield, especially a round shield. n.

Target for shooting tar iff (tar'if), 1. list of duties or taxes on imports or exports.

2. system of duties or taxes on imports or exports.

3. any duty or tax in such a list or system: There is a very high tariff on jewelry. 4. any table or scale of prices: The tariff at the Grant Hotel ranges from $10 to $25 a day for a single room. n.

tar la tan (tār'lə tn), a thin, stiff, transparent muslin. Tarlatan was formerly used for dresses, bags to hold Christmas candy, etc. n.

tarn (tārn), Brit. a small lake or pool in the mountains. n.

tar nish (tār'nish), 1. dull the luster or brightness of: The salt tarnished the silver saltcellar. 2. lose luster or brightness: The brass doorknobs tarnished. 3. loss of luster or brightness. 1,2 v., 3 n.

ta ro (tā'rō), a starchy root grown for food in the Pacific islands and other tropical regions. n., pl. ta ros.

tar pau lin (tār pō'lən), 1. canvas, or other coarse strong cloth, made waterproof. 2. sheet of this used as a covering. n.

tar pon (tār'pon), a large, silver-colored fish found in the warmer parts of the Atlantic Ocean. n., pl. tar pons or (esp. collectively) tar pon.

tar ry¹ (tar'ē), 1. remain; stay: He tarried at the inn till he felt strong enough to travel. 2. wait; delay: Why do you tarry so long? v., tar ried, tar ry ing.

tar ry² (tār'ē), 1. of tar; like tar. 2. covered with tar. adj., tar ri er, tar ri est.

Tar ry town (tar'ē town), village on the Hudson River, near New York City, mentioned often in the stories of Washington Irving. 11,000. n.

tar sal (tār'sl), 1. of or having to do with the tarsus. 2. bone or cartilage in the ankle. 1 adj., 2 n.

Tar sus (tār'səs), city in S Turkey. It was the home of Saint Paul. 40,000. n.

tar sus (tār'səs), 1. the ankle. 2. the group of small bones composing it. 3. the small plate of connective tissue in the eyelid. n., pl. tar si (-sī).

tart¹ (tärt), 1. having a sharp taste; sour. 2. sharp: a tart reply. adj. —tart/ly, adv. —tart/-ness, n.

tart² (tärt), pastry filled with cooked fruit, jam, etc. In the United States, a tart is small and the fruit shows; in England, any fruit pie is a tart. n.

tar tan (tār'tn), 1. a plaid woolen cloth. Each Scottish Highland clan has its own pattern of tartan. 2. the pattern or design itself. 3. made of tartan. 4. of, like, or having to do with tartan. 1,2 n., 3,4 adj.

Tartan

tar tar (tār'tər), 1. an acid substance deposited on the inside of wine casks. After it is purified, this substance is called cream of tartar and is used with baking soda to make baking powder. 2. a hard substance deposited on the teeth. n.

Tar tar (tär'tär), 1. member of a mixed horde of Mongols and Turks who overran Asia and E Europe during the Middle Ages. Tartars now live in parts of the Soviet Union and central and west Asia. 2. of or having to do with a Tartar or Tartars. 1 n., 2 adj. Also Tatar.

tar tar (tär'tär), person who has a bad temper. n.

tar tar ic (tär tar'ik), of or having to do with tartar; containing tartar; derived from tartar. adj.

tartaric acid, a colorless crystalline compound obtained from grapes, etc.

Tar ta rus (tär'tə rəs), in Greek mythology: 1. a place of punishment below Hades. 2. the underworld; Hades. n.

Tar ta ry (tär'tə rē), the ancient kingdom of the Tartars that included most of Russia and central and western Asia. n.

tar trate (tär'trät), salt of tartaric acid. n.

Tash kent (tash kent'), city in southern Asiatic Soviet Union. It is the capital of Uzbek. 911,000. n.

task (task), 1. work to be done; piece of work; duty. 2. put a task on; force to work: The master tasked his slaves beyond their strength. 3. burden; strain: Lifting that trunk tasked him beyond his strength. 1 n., 2, 3 v. take to task, blame; scold; reprove.

task force, a temporary group of military units, especially naval units, assigned to one commander for carrying out a specific operation.

task mas ter (task'mas'tər), person who sets tasks for others to do. n.

Tas ma ni a (taz mā'nē ə), island south of Australia. It is a state of the Commonwealth of Australia. 347,000 pop.; 26,215 sq. mi. Capital: Hobart. n. —Tas ma'ni an, adj., n.

Tass (tas), an agency of the Soviet Union which collects and distributes news. n.

tas sel (tas'l), 1. a hanging bunch of threads, small cords, beads, etc., fastened together at one end. 2. something like this. Corn has tassels. 3. put tassels on. 4. take tassels from. 5. grow tassels. 1, 2 n., 3-5 v. tas seled, tas sel ing or esp. Brit. tas selled, tas sel ling.

Tas so (tas'ō), 1544-1595, Italian poet. n.

taste (täst), 1. flavor. Sweet, sour, salt, and bitter are four important tastes. 2. try the flavor of (something) by taking a little into the mouth. 3. the sense by which the flavor of things is perceived: Her taste is unusually keen. 4. get the flavor of by the sense of taste: She tasted almond in the cake. 5. have a particular flavor: The soup tastes of onion. 6. eat or drink a little bit of: The children barely tasted their breakfast Christmas morning. 7. eat or drink a little bit. 8. a little bit; sample: take a taste of a cake. 9. experience; have: taste freedom. 10. have experience: taste of pleasure. 11. a liking: Suit your own taste. 12. ability to perceive and enjoy what is beautiful and excellent: Good books and pictures appeal to people of taste. 13. manner or style that shows such ability: Her house is furnished in excellent taste. 1, 3, 8, 11-13 n., 2, 4-7, 9, 10 v. tast ed, tast ing. —tast'a ble, adj.

to the king's or queen's taste, perfectly; very satisfactorily.

taste bud, any of small groups of cells in the lining of the tongue or mouth that are sense organs of taste.

taste ful (täst'fəl), 1. having good taste. 2. showing or done in good taste. adj. —taste'ful ly, adv. —taste'ful ness, n.

taste less (täst'lis), 1. without taste. 2. without good taste; in poor taste. adj. —taste'less ly, adv. —taste'less ness, n. tast er (täst'ər), person who tastes; person whose work is judging the quality of wine, tea, coffee, etc., by the taste. n. tast y (täs'tē), Informal. 1. tasting good; pleasing to the taste. 2. having or showing good taste. adj. tast i er, tast i est. —tast'i ly, adv. —tast'i ness, n.

tat (tat), make a kind of lace by looping and knotting (threads) with a shuttle. v. tat ted, tat ting.

Ta tar (tä'tär), Tartar. n., adj.

tat ter (tat'ər), 1. a torn piece; rag: After the storm the flag hung in tatters upon the mast. 2. tear or wear to pieces; make ragged. 1 n., 2 v.

tatters, torn or ragged clothing.

tat tered (tat'ər'd), 1. torn; ragged. 2. wearing torn or ragged clothes. adj.

tat ting (tat'ing), 1. process or work of making a kind of lace by looping and knotting cotton or linen thread with a shuttle. 2. lace made in this way. n.

tat tle (tat'l), 1. tell tales or secrets. 2. say or reveal by tattling. 3. talk foolishly; gossip. 4. utter idly or foolishly. 5. idle or foolish talk; gossip; telling tales or secrets. 1-4 v. tat tled, tat tling; 5 n. —tat'tler, n.

tat tle tale (tat'l täl'), Informal. telltale. n., adj.

tat too (tä tü'), 1. signal on a bugle, drum, etc., calling soldiers or sailors to their quarters at night. 2. series of raps, taps, etc.: The hail beat a loud tattoo on the windowpane. n., pl. tat toos.

tat too (tä tü'), 1. mark (the skin) with designs or patterns by pricking it and putting in colors. 2. mark (a design) on the skin in this way: The sailor had a ship tattooed on his arm. 3. mark or design made by tattooing. 1, 2 v. tat tooed, tat too ing; 3 n., pl. tat toos. —tat too'er, n.

tought (töt), pt. and pp. of teach. Miss Jones taught my mother. She has taught arithmetic for many years. v.

taunt (tönt), 1. jeer at; mock; reproach: Some mean girls taunted Jane with being poor. 2. a bitter or insulting remark; mocking; jeering. 3. get or drive by taunts: They taunted him into taking the dare. 1, 3 v., 2 n.

taupe (töp), dark, brownish gray. n., adj.

Tau rus (tō'rəs), a northern constellation that was thought of as arranged in the shape of a bull. n.

Tau rus (tō'rəs), a mountain range in S Turkey. The highest peak is 13,000 feet. n.

taut (töt), 1. tightly drawn; tense: a taut rope. 2. in neat condition; tidy: a taut ship. adj. —taut'ly, adv. —taut'ness, n.

tau tog (tō tog'), a food fish common on the Atlantic coast of the United States; blackfish. n.

tau to log i cal (tō tē loj'ə kl), having to do with, characterized by, or using tautology. adj. —tau'to-log'i cal ly, adv.

tau tol o gy (tō tol'ə jē), saying a thing over again in other words without adding clearness or force; useless repetition. Example: the modern college student of today. n., pl. tau tol o gies.

tav ern (tav'ər'n), 1. place where alcoholic drinks are sold and drunk; saloon. 2. inn. Hotels have taken the place of the old taverns. n.

taw (tō), 1. a fancy marble used for shooting. 2. game of marbles. 3. the line from which the players shoot their marbles. n.

taw dry (tō'drē), showy and cheap; gaudy. adj. taw dri er, taw dri est. —taw'dri ly, adv. —taw'dri ness, n. taw ny (tō'nē), brownish yellow: A lion has a tawny skin. adj. taw ni er, taw ni est. —taw'ni ness, n.

tax (taks), 1. money paid by people for the support of the government; money taken from people by their rulers: Our parents pay taxes to the city and to the State. 2. put a tax on. People who own property are taxed in order to provide clean streets, good roads, protection against crime, and free education. 3. a burden, duty, or demand that oppresses; strain: Climbing stairs is a tax on a weak heart. 4. lay a heavy burden on; be hard for: Reading in a poor light taxes the eyes. 5. reprove; accuse:

Tattooing with an electric needle

TASSEL

The teacher taxed Tom with having neglected his work.

1,3 n., 2,4,5 v. —tax'er, n. —tax'less, adj.

tax a bil i ty (tak'sə bil'ə tē), being taxable. n.

tax a ble (tak'sə bl), liable to be taxed; subject to taxation: Churches are not taxable. adj.

tax a tion (taks ā'shən), 1. a taxing: Taxation is necessary to provide roads, schools, and police. 2. amount people pay for the support of the government; taxes. n.

tax-ex empt (taks'eg zempt'), free from taxes; not taxed. adj.

tax i (tak'sē), 1. taxicab. 2. ride in a taxi. 3. move slowly over the surface of the ground or water. An airplane taxis for a short distance before it rises. 1 n., pl. tax is; 2,3 v., tax ied, tax i ing or tax y ing.

tax i cab (tak'sē kab'), automobile for hire with a meter to record the amount to be paid. n.

tax i der mist (tak'sə dēr'mist), person who practices taxidermy. n.

tax i der my (tak'sə dēr'mē), art of preparing the skins of animals and stuffing and mounting them in life-like form. n.

tax i me ter (tak'sē mē'tər), device fitted to a public cab for showing the fare at any moment. n.

tax o nom ic (tak'sə nom'ik), of or having to do with taxonomy. adj.

tax on o mist (taks on'ə mist), person who knows much about taxonomy. n.

tax on o my (taks on'ə mē), 1. classification, especially in relation to its principles or laws. 2. branch of science dealing with classification. n.

tax pay er (taks'pā'ər), person who pays a tax or is required by law to do so. n.

tax rate, rate at which property is taxed.

Tay lor (tā'lər), Zachary, 1784-1850, the 12th president of the United States, from 1849 to 1850. n.

Tb, terbium.

t.b., Informal, tuberculosis.

tbs., tablespoon; tablespoons.

tbsp., tablespoon; tablespoons.

Tc, technetium.

Tchai kov sky or Tchai kow sky (chī kōf'skē), Tchaikowsky. n.

Te, tellurium.

tea (tē), 1. a common drink. 2. the dried and prepared leaves of a shrub, from which this drink is made. Tea is raised chiefly in China, Japan, and India. 3. the shrub itself. 4. Esp. Brit. a meal in the late afternoon or early evening, at which tea is commonly served. 5. an afternoon reception at which tea is served. 6. something to drink prepared from some other thing. Beef tea is a strong broth made from beef. n.

teach (tēch), 1. show how to do; make understand: teach a dog tricks. 2. give instruction to: He teaches his classes well. 3. give lessons in: He teaches mathematics. 4. give instruction; act as teacher: She teaches for a living. v., taught, teach ing.

teach a bil i ty (tēch'ə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being teachable. n.

teach a ble (tēch'ə bl), capable of being taught. adj. —teach'a ble ness, n.

teach er (tēch'ər), person who teaches, especially one who teaches in a school. n.

teach ing (tēch'ing), 1. work or profession of a teacher. 2. act of one who teaches. 3. what is taught; instruction; precept. n.

teaching machine, device that gives information about something and checks how well the information has been learned by a set of questions that often forces the pupil to talk or write more about the newly learned facts.

tea cup (tē'kup'), 1. cup for drinking tea. 2. quantity that such a cup may hold. n.

tea cup ful (tē'kup fūl), as much as a teacup holds. usually four fluid ounces. n., pl. tea cup fuls.

tea house (tē'hous'), place where tea and other light refreshments are served. There are many teahouses in Japan and China. n.

teak (tēk), 1. a large tree of the East Indies with a hard, durable, yellowish-brown wood. 2. this wood. Teak is used for shipbuilding, making fine furniture, etc. n.

tea ket tle (tē'ket'l), kettle for heating water to make tea, etc. n.

teal (tēl), any of several varieties of small fresh-water duck. n., pl.

teals or (esp. collectively) teal.

team (tēm), 1. number of people working or acting together, especially one of the sides in a match: a football team, a debating team. 2. two or more horses or other animals harnessed together to work. 3. join together in a team. 4. drive a team. 5. work, carry, haul, etc., with a team. 1,2 n., 3-5 v.

team mate (tēm'māt'), a fellow member of a team. n.

team ster (tēm'stər), man whose work is driving a team of horses or hauling things with a truck. n.

team work (tēm'wērk'), the acting together of a number of people to make the work of the group successful and effective: Football requires teamwork even more than individual skill. n.

tea pot (tē'pot'), container with a handle and a spout for making and serving tea. n.

tear¹ (tir), 1. drop of salty water coming from the eye. 2. something like or suggesting a tear. n.

in tears, shedding tears; crying.

tear² (tār), 1. pull apart by force: tear a box open. 2. make by pulling apart: She tore a hole in her dress. 3. make a hole or a rent in by a pull: The nail tore her coat. 4. pull hard; pull violently: He tore down the enemy's flag. 5. cut badly; wound: The jagged stone tore his skin. 6. rend; divide: The party was torn by two factions. 7. remove by effort: He could not tear himself from that spot. 8. make miserable; distress: She was torn by grief. 9. become torn: Lace tears easily. 10. a torn place: She has a tear in her dress. 11. act or process of tearing. 12. Informal, move with great force or haste: An automobile came tearing along. 13. hurry; rush; dash. 14. Slang, spree. 1-9,12,13 v., tore, tear ing; 10,11,13,14 n.

tear drop (tir'drɒp'), tear¹. n.

tear ful (tir'fəl), 1. full of tears; weeping. 2. causing tears; sad. adj. —tear'ful ly, adv. —tear'ful ness, n.

tear gas (tir), gas that irritates the eyes, causing tears and temporary blindness, used especially in breaking up riots.

tear less (tir'lis), without tears; not crying. adj.

tea room (tē'rūm'), room or shop where tea, coffee, and light meals are served. n.

tear y (tir'ē), tearful. adj.

tease (tēz), 1. vex or worry by jokes, questions, requests, etc.; annoy: The other boys teased Jim about his curly hair. 2. beg: The child teases for everything he sees. 3. person who teases. 4. comb out; shred (wool, etc.). 5. raise nap on (cloth). 6. act of teasing or state of being teased. 1,2,4,5 v., teased, teas ing; 3,6 n. —teas'ing ly, adv.

tea sel (tē'zl), 1. plant with stiff, prickly flower heads. 2. one of these dried flower heads used for raising nap on cloth. 3. a mechanical device used for the same purpose. 4. raise a nap on (cloth) with teasels. 1-3 n., 4 v., tea seled, tea sel ing or esp. Brit. tea-selled, tea sel ing. Also, teazel.

teas er (tēz'ər), 1. person or thing that teases. 2. Informal, an annoying problem; puzzling task. n.

tea set, set of dishes for serving tea.

tea spoon (tē'spūn'), a spoon smaller than a tablespoon, commonly used to stir tea or coffee; a standard unit of measure in cookery. n.

Teal (about 15 in. long) tea spoon ful (tē'spūn fūl), as much as a teaspoon holds. 1 teaspoonful = $\frac{1}{3}$ tablespoonful. n., pl. tea spoonfuls.

teat (tēt), nipple of a breast or udder, from which the young suck milk. n.

tea wagon, a small table on wheels used in serving tea.

tea zel (tē'zəl), teasel. n., v., tea zeled, tea zel ing or esp. Brit. tea zelled, tea zel ling.

tech., 1. technical. 2. technology.

tech ne ti um (tek nē'shē əm), an artificially produced metallic element. Symbol: Tc n. Formerly, masurium.

tech nic (tek'nik), 1. technique. 2. technical. 3. a technical detail, point, term, etc. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

tech ni cal (tek'nə kl), 1. of or having to do with a mechanical or industrial art or applied science: This technical school trains engineers, chemists, and architects. 2. of or having to do with the special facts of a science or art: "Electrolysis," "tarsus," and "proteid" are technical words. 3. treating a subject technically; using technical terms: a technical lecture. 4. of or having to do with any art or science: May had technical skill in singing, but her voice was weak. 5. by the rules of a certain science, art, game, etc.: When the boxer was so badly hurt that the fight was stopped, his opponent won by a technical knockout. adj.

tech ni cal i ty (tek'nə kal'ə tē), 1. a technical matter, point, detail, term, expression, etc.: Books on engineering contain many technicalities which the ordinary reader does not understand. 2. technical quality or character. n., pl. tech ni cal i ties.

tech ni cal ly (tek'nik lē), in a technical manner or respect; in relation to a particular art or the like, or to the arts and applied sciences; in accordance with technical methods; in technical terms; in a technical sense. adv.

tech ni cian (tek nish'ən), 1. person experienced in the technicalities of a subject. 2. person skilled in the technique of an art. n.

Tech ni col or (tek'nə kul'ər), Trademark. a special process by which three-color photographs are combined in one film. n.

tech nics (tek'niks), 1. study or science of an art or of arts in general, especially of the mechanical or industrial arts. 2. technic or technique. n.

tech nique (tek nē'k), 1. method or way of performing the mechanical details of an art; technical skill: The pianist's technique was excellent, though his interpretation of the music was poor. 2. a special method or system used to accomplish something. n.

tech noc ra cy (tek nok'rə sē), government by technical experts. n.

tech no log ic (tek'nə loj'ik), technological. adj.

tech no log i cal (tek'nə loj'ə kl), having to do with technology; used in technology. adj. —tech'no-log'i cal ly, adv.

tech nol o gist (tek nol'ə jist), person skilled in technology. n.

tech nol o gy (tek nol'ə jē), 1. the science of the industrial arts: He studied engineering at a school of technology. 2. technical words, terms, or expressions used in an art, science, etc. n.

ted der (ted'ər), machine that spreads out hay for drying. n.

Te De um (tē dē'əm), 1. a hymn of praise and thanksgiving sung in Roman Catholic and Anglican churches at morning service, and also on special occasions. 2. music for this hymn.

te di ous (tē'dē əs or tē'jəs), long and tiring: A long talk that you cannot understand is tedious. adj. —te'di-ous ly, adv. —te'di-ous ness, n.

te di um (tē'dē əm), tiresomeness; tediousness; state of being wearisome. n.

tee (tē), 1. mark aimed at in quoits and other games. 2. mark or place from which a player starts in playing each hole in golf. 3. a little mound of sand or dirt on which a golf ball is placed when a player drives; piece of wood, rubber, etc., used instead of the sand or dirt.

4. put (a golf ball) on a tee. 1-3 n., 4 v., teed, tee ing.

tee off, drive (a golf ball) from a tee.

teem (tēm), be full (of); abound; swarm: The swamp teemed with mosquitoes. v.

teen-age (tēn'āj'), of, for, or being a teen-ager or teen-agers: a teen-age club, a teen-age girl. adj.

teen-ag er (tēn'āj'ər), a person in his or her teens. n.

teens (tēnz), the years of life from 13 to 19 inclusive. n.pl.

tee ny (tē'nē), Informal. tiny. adj., tee ni er, tee-ni est.

tee pee (tē'pē), tepee. n.

tee ter (tē'tər), seesaw. n., v.

teeth (tēth), pl. of tooth. n.

armed to the teeth, completely armed.

by the skin of one's teeth, very narrowly; barely.

in the teeth of, 1. straight against; in the face of. 2. in defiance of; in spite of.

set one's teeth, prepare to do or endure something with firmness.

show one's teeth, show anger; threaten.

teethe (tēth), grow teeth; cut teeth; have teeth grow through the gums. v., teethed, teeth ing.

tee to tal (tē tō'tl), 1. of, having to do with, advocating, or pledged to total abstinence from alcoholic liquor. 2. Informal. absolute, complete, or entire. adj.

tee to tal er (tē tō'tl ər), person who never takes alcoholic liquor. n.

tee to tal ism (tē tō'tl iz əm), principle or practice of total abstinence from alcoholic liquor. n.

tee to tal ler (tē tō'tl ər), Esp. Brit. teetotaler. n.

Te gu ci gal pa (tā gū'sē gāl'pā), capital of Honduras, in the S part. 72,000. n.

teg u ment (teg'yə mən't), a natural covering of an animal body, or of any part of it, as a turtle's shell. n.

Te he ran or Te hran (tē'hə rān'), capital of Iran, in the N part. 1,512,000. n.

Te huan te pec (tā wān'tā pek), 1. Gulf of, gulf of the Pacific, off the coast of S Mexico. 2. Isthmus of, isthmus in S Mexico, between this gulf and the Gulf of Mexico. 130 mi. wide. n.

tel., 1. telephone. 2. telegram. 3. telegraph.

Tel A viv (tel' ə vēv'), the former provisional capital of Israel, in the W part. 380,000.

tele cast (tel'ə kast'), 1. broadcast by television. 2. a television program. 1 v., tel e cast or tel e cast ed, tel e cast ing; 2 n. —tel'e cast'er, n.

tele gen ic (tel'ə jen'ik), suitable for telecasting. adj.

tele gram (tel'ə gram), message sent by telegraph. n.

tele graph (tel'ə graf), 1. apparatus, system, or process for sending messages by electricity. 2. send (a message) by telegraph. 1 n., 2 v.

tele graph er (tel'ə graf'ər), person who sends and receives messages by telegraph. n.

tele graph ic (tel'ə graf'ik), of or having to do with the telegraph; sent as a telegram. adj. —tel'e graph-i cal ly, adv.

tele graph y (tə leg'rə fē), the making or operating of telegraphs. n.

Te lem a chus (tə lem'ə kəs), in Greek mythology, the son of Odysseus and Penelope. When Odysseus returned from the Trojan War, Telemachus helped him slay Penelope's insolent suitors. n.

tele path ic (tel'ə path'ik), 1. of or having to do with telepathy. 2. by telepathy. adj.

tele path i cal ly (tel'ə path'ik lē), by telepathy. adv.

tele path y (tə lep'ə thist), 1. student of or believer in telepathy. 2. person who has telepathic power. n.

tele path y (tə lep'ə thē), communication of one mind with another by means other than the five senses. n.

tel e phone (tel'ə fōn), 1. apparatus, system, or process for transmitting sound or speech by electricity.

2. talk through a telephone; send (a message) by telephone. 1 n., 2 v., tel e phoned, tel e phon ing. —tel'e-phon'er, n.

tel e pho nic (tel'ə fōn'ik), of or having to do with the telephone; by the telephone. adj.

te leph o ny (tə lef'ə nē), the making or operating of telephones. n.

tel e pho to (tel'ə fō'tō), telephotographic. adj.

tel e pho to graph (tel'ə fō'tə graf), 1. picture taken with a camera having a telephoto lens. 2. take a picture in this way. 3. picture sent by telegraphy. Telephotographs in newspapers are often called wirephotos. 4. send a picture by telegraphy. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

tel e pho to graphic (tel'ə fō'tə graf'ik), of or having to do with telephotography. adj.

tel e pho to graphy (tel'ə fə tog'rə fē), 1. method or process of photographing distant objects by using a camera with a telephoto lens. 2. method or process of sending and reproducing pictures by telegraph. n.

telephoto lens, lens used in a camera for producing an enlarged image of a distant object.

tel e scope (tel'ə skōp), 1. an instrument for making distant objects appear nearer and larger. The stars are studied by means of telescopes. 2. force or be forced together one inside another like the sliding tubes of some telescopes: When the two railroad trains crashed into each other, the cars were telescoped. 3. shorten; condense. 1 n., 2,3 v., tel e scoped, tel e scop ing.

tel e scop ic (tel'ə skop'ik), 1. of or having to do with a telescope. 2. obtained or seen by means of a telescope; a telescopic view of the moon. 3. visible only through a telescope. 4. far-seeing. 5. consisting of parts that slide one inside another like the tubes of some telescopes. adj.

tel e scop i cal ly (tel'ə skop'ik lē), 1. in a telescopic manner. 2. by a telescope. adv.

tel e type (tel'ə tīp), 1. system of sending signals by Teletype. 2. send (a message) by Teletype. 1 n., 2 v., tel e typed, tel e typ ing.

Tel e type (tel'ə tīp), Trademark. a telegraphic apparatus for sending and receiving signals by means of two instruments resembling typewriters. n.

tel e type writ er (tel'ə tīp'rit'ər), machine like a typewriter, used in teletyping. n.

tel e view (tel'ə vū'), watch by means of television. v. —tel'e view'er, n.

tel e vise (tel'ə vīz), 1. send by television. 2. see by television. v., tel e vis ed, tel e vis ing.

tel e vi sion (tel'ə vizh'ən), process of transmitting the image of an object, scene, or event by radio or wire so that a person in some other place can see it at once. In television, waves of light from an object are changed into electric waves which are transmitted by radio or wire, and then changed back into waves of light that produce an image of the object on a screen. n.

tell (tel), 1. put in words; say: Tell the truth. 2. tell to; inform: Tell us about it. 3. make known: Don't tell where the money is. 4. tell something: He was always telling, never doing. 5. act as talebearer; reveal (something secret or private): Promise not to tell. 6. recognize; know; distinguish: He couldn't tell which house it was. 7. say to; order; command: Tell him to stop! 8. say with force: I don't like it, I tell you. 9. count; count one by one: The nun tells her beads. 10. have effect or force: Every blow told. v., told, tell ing.

Man using a telescope in an astronomical observation. The object is enlarged either by a convex lens at the outer end of the telescope or by a large concave mirror at the inner end, which reflects into a smaller mirror placed opposite the eyepiece.

tell off, 1. count off; count off and detach for some special duty. 2. strike back sharply in words; castigate. tell time, know what time it is by the clock.

Tell (tel), William, legendary hero in the Swiss struggle for independence against Austria. For refusing to salute the symbol of Austrian authority, a cap set up in the market place, he was condemned to death unless he could shoot an apple from his little son's head. He succeeded, and later started a revolt against Austria. n. tell a ble (tel'ə bl), capable or worthy of being told. adj.

tell er (tel'ər), 1. one who tells: Our teacher is a good teller of stories. 2. one who counts. A teller in a bank takes in, gives out, and counts money. n.

tell ing (tel'ing), having effect or force; striking: a telling blow. adj.

tell ing ly (tel'ing lē), effectively; forcefully. adv.

tell tale (tel'tāl), 1. person who tells tales on others; person who reveals private or secret matters from malice. 2. thing that informs or warns. 3. telling what is not supposed to be told; revealing. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

tel lu ri um (te lūr'ē əm), a rare silver-white chemical element resembling sulfur in its chemical properties and usually occurring in nature combined with gold, silver, or other metals. Symbol: Te n.

te mer i ty (tə mer'ə tē), reckless boldness; rashness. n.

temp., 1. temperature. 2. temporary.

tem per (tem'pər), 1. state of mind; disposition; condition: She was in a good temper. 2. angry state of mind: In her temper she broke a vase. 3. calm state of mind: He became angry and lost his temper. 4. moderate; soften: Temper justice with mercy. 5. bring or be brought to a proper or desired condition by mixing or preparing. A painter tempers his colors by mixing them with oil. Steel is tempered by heating it and working it till it has the proper degree of hardness and toughness. 6. the hardness, toughness, etc., of a mixture given by tempering: The temper of the clay was right for shaping. 7. substance added to something to modify its properties or qualities. 8. tune or adjust the pitch of (an instrument, a voice, etc.). 1-3,6,7 n., 4,5,8 v.

tem per a (tem'pər ə), method of painting in which colors are mixed with white of egg or other substances instead of oil. n.

tem per a ment (tem'pər ə mən't), 1. a person's nature or disposition: a nervous temperament. 2. an unusual nature or disposition that is not inclined to submit to ordinary rules or restraints. An artist, singer, or actress often has temperament. n.

tem per a men tal (tem'pər ə mən'tl), 1. subject to moods and whims; easily irritated; sensitive. 2. showing a strongly marked individual temperament. 3. due to temperament; constitutional: Cats have a temperamental dislike for water. adj.

tem per a men tal ly (tem'pər ə mən'tl ē), in temperament; as regards temperament. adv.

tem per ance (tem'pər əns), 1. moderation in action, speech, habits, etc. 2. moderation in the use of alcoholic drinks. 3. the principle and practice of not using alcoholic drinks at all. n.

tem per ate (tem'pər it), 1. not very hot and not very cold: a temperate climate. 2. self-restrained; moderate: He spoke in a temperate manner, not favoring either side especially. 3. moderate in using alcoholic drinks; abstemious. adj. —tem'per ate ness, n.

tem per ate ly (tem'pər it lē), 1. with moderation. 2. without overindulgence. 3. without violence or extravagance. adv.

Temperate Zone or temperate zone, either of the two parts of the earth between the tropics and the polar circles. See zone for diagram.

tem per a ture (tem'pər ə chər), degree of heat or cold. The temperature of freezing water is 32 degrees Fahrenheit. The temperature of a person who has a fever is over 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit. n.

tem per ed (tem'pərd), 1. softened; moderated. 2. having a (specified) state of mind: a good-tempered person. 3. treated so as to become hard but not too brittle: The sword was made of tempered steel. adj.

tem pest (tem'pist), 1. a violent storm with much wind: The tempest drove the ship on the rocks. 2. a violent disturbance: She burst into a tempest of anger. n.

tem pes tu ous (tem pes'chü əs), 1. stormy: a tempestuous night. 2. violent: a tempestuous argument. adj. —tem pes' tu ous ly, adv. —tem pes'tu ous ness, n.

Tem plar (tem'plər), 1. member of a religious and military order founded among the Crusaders about 1118 to protect the Holy Sepulchre and pilgrims to the Holy Land. 2. member of an order of Masons in the United States. n.

tem ple¹ (tem'pl), 1. building used for the service or worship of a god or gods. 2. any of three temples in ancient Jerusalem built at different times by the Jews. 3. building set apart for Christian worship; church. 4. place in which God specially dwells. n.

tem ple² (tem'pl), the flattened part on either side of the forehead. n.

Tem ple (tem'pl), 1. the first of three temples in ancient Jerusalem, built by Solomon. I Kings 6 and 7. 2. the chief religious building of the Mormons in Salt Lake City, Utah. 3. lodge of the Knights Templars in London, of which only the Temple Church remains. The site is now occupied by the Middle Temple and Inner Temple, buildings belonging to English legal societies. n.

tem po (tem'pō), 1. in music, the time or rate of movement; proper or characteristic speed of movement. 2. rhythm; characteristic rhythm: the fast tempo of modern life. n., pl. tem pos, tem pi (-pē).

tem po ral¹ (tem'pə rəl), 1. of time. 2. lasting for a time only. 3. of this life only. 4. not religious or sacred; worldly. adj.

tem po ral² (tem'pə rəl), of the temples or sides of the forehead. adj.

tem po ral i ty (tem'pə rəl'ə tē), 1. temporal character or nature; temporariness. 2. something temporal; temporal matter or affair; temporal possession, revenue, or the like. 3. the laity. n., pl. tem po ral i ties.

tem po ral ly (tem'pə rəl ē), in a temporal manner; as regards temporal matters. adv.

tem po rar i ly (tem'pə rer'ə lē or tem'pə rār'ə lē), for a short time; for the present: The work is postponed temporarily. adv.

tem po rar y (tem'pə rer'ē), lasting for a short time only; used for the time being; not permanent: The hunter made a temporary shelter out of branches. adj. —tem'po rar'i ness, n.

tem po ri za tion (tem'pə rə zā'shən), a temporizing; a compromise. n.

tem po rize (tem'pə riz), 1. evade immediate action or decision in order to gain time, avoid trouble, etc. 2. fit one's acts to the time or occasion. 3. make or discuss terms; negotiate. v., tem po rized, tem po rizing. —tem'po riz'er, n.

tempt (tempt), 1. make, or try to make (a person) do something: The sight of food tempted the hungry man to steal. 2. appeal strongly to; attract: That candy tempts me. 3. provoke: It is tempting Providence to go in that old boat. 4. Archaic. test: God tempted Abraham by asking him to sacrifice his son. v. —tempt'a ble, adj.

temp ta tion (temp tā'shən), 1. a tempting: No temptation could make Ruth false to a friend. 2. fact or state of being tempted: "Lead us not into temptation." 3. thing that tempts: Money left carelessly about is a temptation. n.

tempt er (temp'tər), person who tempts. n. the Tempter, the Devil; Satan.

tempt ing (temp'ting), that tempts; alluring; inviting. adj. —tempt'ing ly, adv.

tempt ress (temp'tris), woman who tempts. n.

ten (ten), 1. one more than nine; 10. 2. set of ten persons or things. 1,2 n., 1 adj.

ten a bil i ty (ten'ə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being tenable. n.

ten a ble (ten'ə bl), capable of being held or defended: a tenable position, a tenable theory. adj. —ten'a bly, adv.

te na cious (ti nā'shəs), 1. holding fast: the tenacious jaws of a bulldog, a person tenacious of his rights. 2. stubborn; persistent: a tenacious salesman. 3. able to remember: a tenacious memory. 4. holding fast together; not easily pulled apart. 5. sticky. adj. —te na'cious-ly, adv.

te nac i ty (ti nas'ə tē), 1. firmness in holding fast. 2. stubbornness; persistence. 3. ability to remember. 4. firmness in holding together; toughness. 5. stickiness. n.

ten an cy (ten'an sē), 1. state of being a tenant; occupying and paying rent for land or buildings. 2. property so held. 3. length of time a tenant occupies a property. n., pl. ten an cies.

ten ant (ten'ənt), 1. person paying rent for the temporary use of the land or buildings of another person: That building has apartments for one hundred tenants. 2. person or thing that occupies: Birds are tenants of the trees. 3. hold or occupy as a tenant; inhabit. 1,2 n., 3 v. —ten'ant less, adj.

ten ant ry (ten'ənt rē), 1. all the tenants on an estate. 2. tenancy. n., pl. ten an tries.

Ten Commandments, the ten rules for living and for worship that God revealed to Moses on Mount Sinai, according to the Bible. Exodus 20:2-17; Deuteronomy 5:6-22.

tend¹ (tend), 1. be apt; incline (to): Fruit tends to decay. Homes tend to use more mechanical appliances now. 2. move (toward); be directed: The coastline tends to the south here. v.

tend² (tend), 1. take care of; look after; attend to: He tends shop for his father. A shepherd tends his flock. 2. serve; wait (upon). 3. Informal. pay attention. v.

tend en cy (ten'dən sē), 1. inclination; leaning: Boys have a stronger tendency to fight than girls. 2. a natural disposition to move, proceed, or act in some direction or toward some point, end, or result: Wood has a tendency to swell if it gets wet. n., pl. tend en cies.

ten den tious (ten den'shəs), troublemaking; rebellious. adj.

ten der¹ (ten'dər), 1. not hard or tough; soft: tender meat. 2. not strong and hardy; delicate: tender young grass. 3. kind; affectionate; loving: She spoke tender words to the child. 4. not rough or crude; gentle: He patted the dog with tender hands. 5. young; immature: Two years old is a tender age. 6. sensitive; painful; sore: a tender wound. 7. feeling pain or grief easily: She has a tender heart and would never hurt anyone. 8. considerate; careful: He handles people in a tender manner. 9. requiring careful or tactful handling: a tender situation. adj. —ten'der ly, adv.

ten der² (ten'dər), 1. offer formally: He tendered his thanks. 2. a formal offer: She refused his tender of marriage. 3. thing offered. Money that must be accepted as payment for a debt is called legal tender. 1 v., 2,3 n. —ten'der er, n.

ten der³ (ten'dər), 1. person or thing that tends another. 2. a small boat carried or towed by a big one and used for landing passengers. 3. a small ship used for carrying supplies and passengers to and from larger ships. 4. the car attached behind a locomotive and used for carrying coal, oil, water, etc. n.

ten der foot (ten'dər füt'), U.S. Informal. 1. newcomer to pioneer life. 2. person not used to rough living and hardships. 3. an inexperienced person; beginner. n., pl. ten der foots or ten der feet.

ten der heart ed (ten'dər hār'tid), kindly; sympathetic. adj.

ten der loin (ten'dər loin'), a tender part of the loin of beef or pork. n.

ten der ness (ten'dər nis), 1. quality or state of being tender: A steak is judged by its flavor and tenderness. 2. tender feeling: She has a tenderness for cats. n.

ten di nous (ten'də nə), 1. of or like a tendon. 2. consisting of tendons. adj.

ten don (ten'dən), a tough, strong band or cord of tissue that joins a muscle to a bone or some other part; sinew. n.

tendon of Achilles, tendon that connects the muscles of the calf of the leg with the bone of the heel.

ten drill (ten'drəl), 1. a threadlike part of a climbing plant that attaches itself to something and helps support the plant. 2. something similar: tendrils of hair curling about a child's face. n.

ten e ment (ten'ə mēt), 1. any house or building to live in; dwelling house. 2. part of a house or building occupied by a tenant as a separate dwelling. 3. a tenement house. 4. abode; habitation. n.

tenement house, building divided into sets of rooms occupied by separate families, especially such a building in the poorer sections of large cities.

Ten er ife or Ten er iffe (ten'ər if'), the largest of the Canary Islands, off NW Africa. It belongs to Spain. 322,000 pop.; 794 sq. mi. n.

ten et (ten'it), doctrine, principle, belief, or opinion held as true. n.

ten fold (ten'fōld'), ten times as much or as many. adj., adv., n.

Tenn., Tennessee.

Ten nes see (ten'ə sē'), 1. a Southern State of the United States, 3,567,000 pop.; 42,246 sq. mi. Capital: Nashville. Abbrev.: Tenn. 2. river flowing from E Tennessee into the Ohio River. 652 mi. n. —Ten'nes-se'an, n., adj.

ten nis (ten'is), a game played by two or four players on a special court, in which a ball is knocked back and forth over a net with a racket (tennis racket). n.

Ten ny son (ten'ə sn), Alfred, Lord, 1809-1892, famous English poet. n.

ten on (ten'ən), 1. the end of a piece of wood cut so as to fit into a hole (the mortise) in another piece and so form a joint. 2. cut so as to form a tenon. 3. fit together with tenon and mortise. 1 n., 2, 3 v.

ten or (ten'ər), 1. the general tendency; course: The calm tenor of her life has never been disturbed by excitement or trouble. 2. the general meaning or drift: I understand French well enough to get the tenor of his speech. 3. the highest adult male voice. Bass and tenor are two parts for men's voices. 4. part sung by, or written for, such a voice. 5. man who sings this part; singer with such a voice. 6. instrument corresponding in compass to this voice. 7. in music, of or for the tenor. 1-6 n., 7 adj.

ten pen ny (ten'pen'ē), 1. worth ten English pennies, or a little less than 12 cents in United States money (1964). 2. designating a kind of large-sized nail. adj.

ten pins (ten'pinz'), 1. game played with ten wooden pins at which a ball is bowled to knock them down. 2. the pins used. 1 n.sing., 2 n.pl.

Tendrils on a grapevine

Tenpins

tense¹ (tens), 1. stretched tight; strained to stiffness: a tense rope, a face tense with pain. 2. stretch tight; stiffen: He tensed his muscles for the leap. 3. strained; keyed up: tense nerves, a tense moment. 1, 3 adj., tens er, tens est; 2 v., tensed, tens ing. —tense/ly, adv. —tense/ness, n.

tense² (tens), 1. form of a verb that shows the time of the action or state expressed by the verb. He obeys is in the present tense. He obeyed is in the past tense. He will obey is in the future tense. 2. set of such forms for the various persons. The present tense of obey is: I obey, thou obeyest, he obeys, we obey, you obey, they obey. n.

ten sile (ten'sl), 1. of or having to do with tension: Steel has great tensile strength. 2. capable of being stretched; ductile. adj.

ten sil i ty (ten sil'ə tē), tensile quality; ductility. n.

ten sion (ten'shən), 1. a stretching. 2. a stretched condition: The tension of the spring is caused by the weight. 3. mental strain: A mother feels tension when her baby is sick. 4. strained condition: political tension.

5. stress caused by the action of a pulling force. An elevator exerts tension on the cables supporting it. 6. device to control the pull or strain on something. The tension in a sewing machine may be adjusted to hold the thread tight or loose. 7. voltage: high-tension wires. 8. pressure of a gas. n.

ten si ty (ten'sə tē), tense quality or state. n.

ten sor (ten'sər), muscle that stretches or tightens some part of the body. n.

ten-strike (ten'strik'), 1. stroke that knocks down all the pins in the game of tenpins. 2. Informal. any completely successful stroke or act. n.

tent (tent), 1. a movable shelter, usually made of canvas, supported by a pole or poles. 2. live in a tent: "We are tenting tonight on the old campground." 3. cover with a tent. 1 n., 2, 3 v. —tent/like', adj.

ten ta cle (ten'tə kl), 1. a long, slender, flexible growth on the head or around the mouth of an animal, used to touch, hold, or move; feeler. 2. a sensitive, hair-like growth on a plant. n.

ten ta tive (ten'tə tiv), done as a trial or experiment; experimental: a tentative plan. adj. —ten'ta tive ly, adv. —ten'ta tive ness, n.

ten ter (ten'tər), 1. framework on which cloth is stretched so that it may set or dry evenly without shrinking. 2. stretch (cloth) on a tenter. 1 n., 2 v.

ten ter hook (ten'tər hūk'), one of the hooks or bent nails that hold the cloth stretched on a tenter. n.

on tenterhooks, in painful suspense; anxious.

tenth (tent), 1. next after ninth; last in a series of 10. 2. one, or being one, of 10 equal parts. adj., n.

tenth ly (tent'h lē), in the tenth place. adv.

ten i ty (ten ū'ə tē or ti nū'ə tē), rarefied condition; thinness; slightness. n.

ten u ous (ten'yū əs), 1. thin; slender: the tenuous thread of a spider's web. 2. not dense: Air ten miles above the earth is very tenuous. 3. having slight importance; not substantial: a tenuous claim. adj. —ten'u ous ly, adv. —ten'u ous ness, n.

ten ure (ten'yər), 1. a holding; possessing. 2. length of time of holding or possessing: The tenure of office of the president of our club is one year. 3. manner of holding land, buildings, etc., from a feudal lord or superior. 4. conditions, terms, etc., on which anything is held or occupied. n.

te pee (tē'pē), tent of the American Indians; wigwam. n. Also, teepee.

tep id (tep'id), slightly warm; lukewarm. adj. —tep'id ness, n.

te pid i ty (ti pid'ə tē), lukewarmness; tepid condition. n.

Tepees

ter bi um (têr'bē əm), a rare metallic element of the yttrium group. Symbol: Tb n.

ter cel (têr'sl), a male falcon or goshawk; especially, the male of the peregrine falcon. n.

ter cen te nar y (têr sen'tə nêr'ē), 1. having to do with a period of 300 years. 2. period of 300 years. 3. a 300th anniversary. 1 adj., 2, 3 n., pl. ter cen te nar ies.

te re do (tə rē'dō), a small wormlike mollusk that bores into and destroys the wood of ships, etc. n., pl. te re dos.

Te re sa (tə rē'sə), Theresa. n.

ter gi ver sa tion (têr'jə vər sâ'shən), 1. change of attitude or opinions. 2. a backing out; evasion. n.

term (têrm), 1. word or phrase used in a recognized and definite sense in some particular subject, science, art, business, etc.: medical terms, terms about radio. 2. name; call: He might be termed handsome. 3. a set period of time; length of time that a thing lasts: a president's term of office. 4. one of the long periods into which the school year is divided: the fall term. 5. one of the periods of time when certain law courts are in session. 6. one of the members in a proportion or ratio. 7. one of the parts of a compound algebraic expression. In $13ax^2-2bxy+y$, $13ax^2$, $2bxy$, and y are the terms. 8. Archaic. boundary; end; limit. 1, 3-8 n., 2 v.

terms, 1. conditions: the terms of a treaty. 2. way of speaking: flattering terms. 3. personal relations: on good terms, on speaking terms.

bring to terms, compel to agree, assent, or submit.

ter ma gant (têr'mə gənt), 1. a violent, quarreling, scolding woman. 2. violent; quarreling; scolding. 1 n., 2 adj.

ter mi na bil i ty (têr'mə nə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being terminable. n.

ter mi na ble (têr'mə nə bl), 1. that can be ended: The contract was terminable by either party. 2. coming to an end after a certain time: a loan terminable in 10 years. adj. —ter'mi na ble ness, n. —ter'mi na bly, adv.

ter mi nal (têr'mə nl), 1. at the end; forming the end part. A terminal flower or bud is one growing at the end of a stem, branch, etc. 2. the end; end part. 3. coming at the end: a terminal examination. 4. having to do with a term. 5. station, sheds, tracks, etc., at either end of a railroad line. 6. at the end of a railroad line. 7. having to do with the handling of freight at a terminal. 8. marking a boundary, limit, or end. 9. device for making an electrical connection: the terminals of a battery. 1, 3, 4, 6-8 adj., 2, 5, 9 n.

ter mi nal ly (têr'mə nl ē), 1. at the end. 2. with respect to a termination. adv.

ter mi nate (têr'mə nāt), 1. bring to an end; put an end to: terminate a partnership. 2. come to an end: His contract terminates soon. 3. occur at or form the end of; bound; limit. v., ter mi nat ed, ter mi nat ing.

ter mi na tion (têr'mə nā'shən), 1. ending; end. 2. an end part. 3. ending of a word. In gladly, the adverbial termination is -ly. n.

ter mi nol o gy (têr'mə nol'ə jē), the special words or terms used in a science, art, business, etc.: medical terminology, the terminology of engineering. n., pl. ter mi nol o gies.

ter mi nus (têr'mə nəs), 1. either end of a railroad line, bus line, etc. 2. city or station at the end of a railroad line, bus line, etc. 3. an ending place; final point; goal; end. 4. stone, post, etc., marking a boundary or limit. n., pl. ter mi ni (-nī) or ter mi nus es.

ter mite (têr'mīt), any of various insects that have a soft, pale body and a dark head. Termites look like white ants. Termites are very destructive to buildings, furniture, provisions, etc. n.

tern (têrn), a sea bird like a gull but with a more slender body and bill and a long, forked tail. n.

Tern (about 15 in. long) terp si cho re an (têrp'sə kə rē'an), having to do with dancing: the terpsichorean art. adj.

ter race (têr'is), 1. a flat, raised piece of land; raised level. 2. form into a terrace or terraces; furnish with terraces. 3. street along the side or top of a slope. 4. row of houses on such a street. 5. a paved outdoor space adjoining a house, used for lounging, dining, etc. 6. the flat roof of a house, especially of an Oriental or Spanish house. 1, 3-6 n., 2 v., ter raced, ter rac ing.

Terraces (def. 1)

ter ra cot ta (têr'ə kot'ə), 1. a kind of hard, brownish-red earthenware, used for vases, statuettes, decorations on buildings, etc. 2. a dull brownish red.

ter ra fir ma (têr'ə fêr'mə), solid earth; dry land.

ter rain (tê rân'), land; tract of land, especially considered as to its extent and natural features in relation to its use in warfare. n.

ter ra my cin (têr'ə mī'sin), an antibiotic derived from a soil microorganism, used in the treatment of syphilis, some rheumatic diseases, certain bacterial infections, etc. n.

ter ra pin (têr'ə pin), a North American turtle used for food. It lives in fresh water or tidewater. n.

ter rar i um (tə râr'ē əm), an enclosure in which small land animals are kept. n., pl. ter rar i ums, ter rar i a (-ē ə).

Diamondback terrapin (shell is about 7 in. long)

Ter re Haute (têr'ə hōt'), city in W Indiana. 73,000.

ter res tri al (tə res'trē əl), 1. of the earth; having to do with the earth. 2. of land, not water: Islands and continents make up the terrestrial parts of the earth. 3. living on the ground, not in the air or water or in trees: terrestrial animals. 4. growing on land; growing in the ground: terrestrial plants. 5. worldly; earthly. adj.

ter ri ble (têr'ə bl), 1. causing great fear; dreadful; awful: a terrible leopard. 2. distressing; severe: the terrible suffering caused by war. 3. Informal. extremely bad, unpleasant, etc.: a terrible temper. adj. —ter'ri ble ness, n.

ter ri bly (têr'ə blē), 1. in a terrible manner. 2. Informal. extremely. adv.

ter ri er (têr'ē ər), a kind of small, active, intelligent, and courageous dog, formerly used to pursue prey into its burrow, occurring in numerous breeds, such as the fox terrier, Airedale, Scotch terrier, etc. n.

Wire-haired terrier (about 15 in. high at the shoulder) ter rif ic (tə rîf'ik), 1. causing great fear; terrifying. 2. Informal. very great, severe, etc. adj.

ter rif i cal ly (tə rîf'ik lē), in a terrific manner; to a terrific degree. adv.

ter ri fied (têr'ə fid), filled with great fear; frightened. adj.

ter ri fy (têr'ə fī), fill with great fear; frighten very much. v., ter ri fied, ter ri fy ing.

ter ri to ri al (têr'ə tō'rē əl), 1. of or having to do with territory: The purchase of Louisiana was a valuable territorial addition to the United States. 2. of a particular territory or district; restricted to a particular district. adj.

Ter ri to ri al (têr'ə tō'rē əl), 1. of a United States Territory: The Virgin Islands has its own Territorial laws. 2. Brit. organized for home defense. 3. Brit. soldier of a Territorial force. 1, 2 adj., 3 n.

ter ri to ri al ly (têr'ə tō'rē əl ē), in respect to territory; as to territory. adv.

ter ri to ry (têr'ə tō'rē), 1. land; region: Much territory in Africa is desert. 2. land belonging to a government; land under the rule of a distant government:

Gibraltar is British territory. 3. region assigned to a salesman or agent. 4. the facts investigated by some branch of science or learning: the territory of biochemistry. n., pl. ter ri to ries.

Ter ri to ry (ter'ə tō'rē), U.S. district not admitted as a State but having its own lawmaking body. The Virgin Islands is a Territory. n., pl. Ter ri to ries.

ter ror (ter'ər), 1. great fear: The child has a terror of thunder. 2. cause of great fear: Pirates were once the terror of the sea. 3. Informal. person or thing that causes much trouble and unpleasantness. n.

ter ror ism (ter'ər iz əm), 1. a terrorizing; use of terror. 2. condition of fear and submission produced by frightening people. 3. method of opposing a government internally through the use of terror. n.

ter ror ist (ter'ər ist), person who uses or favors terrorism. n.

ter ror is tic (ter'ər is'tik), using or favoring methods that inspire terror. adj.

ter ror i za tion (ter'ər ə zā'shən), a terrorizing or being terrorized; rule by terror. n.

ter ror ize (ter'ər iz), 1. fill with terror. 2. rule or subdue by causing terror. v., ter ror ized, ter ror iz ing.

ter ror-strick en (ter'ər strik'ən), terrified. adj.

ter ry (ter'ē), a rough cloth made of uncut looped yarn. n., pl. ter ries.

terry cloth, terry.

terse (tērs), brief and to the point (said of writing, speaking, writers, or speakers). adj., ters er, ters est. —terse/ly, adv. —terse/ness, n.

ter tian (tēr'shən), 1. fever or ague with a bad spell recurring every other day. 2. recurring every other day. 1 n., 2 adj.

ter ti ar y (tēr'shē er'ē), of the third order, rank, formation, etc.; third. adj.

tes sel late (tes'lāt for 1; tes'līt or tes'lāt for 2), 1. make of small squares or blocks, or in a checkered pattern. 2. made in small squares or blocks or in a checkered pattern. 1 v., 2 tes sel lat ed, tes sel lat ing; 2 adj.

tes ser a (tes'ər ə), 1. a small piece of marble, glass, or the like, used in mosaic work. 2. a small square of bone, wood, or the like, used in ancient times as a token, tally, ticket, die, etc. n., pl. tes ser ae (tes'ər ē). test (test), 1. examination; trial: People who want to drive an automobile must pass a test. The teacher gave the class a test in arithmetic. 2. means of trial: Trouble is a test of character. 3. examination of a substance to see what it is or what it contains: A test showed that the water from our well was pure. 4. process or substance used in such an examination. 5. put to a test; try out: He tested the boy's honesty by leaving the money on the table. 1-4 n., 5 v. —test/a ble, adj. —test'er, n.

Test., Testament.

tes ta (tes'tə), 1. shell; hard covering of certain animals. 2. the hard outside coat of a seed. n., pl. tes-tae (-tē).

tes ta cy (tes'tə sē), leaving a will at death. n.

tes ta ment (tes'tə mənt), written instructions telling what to do with a person's property after his death; will. n.

Tes ta ment (tes'tə mənt), 1. a main division of the Bible; the Old Testament or the New Testament. 2. Informal. the New Testament. n.

tes ta men ta ry (tes'tə men'tə rē), 1. of or having to do with a testament or will. 2. given, done, or appointed by a testament or will. 3. in a testament or will. adj.

tes tate (tes'tāt), 1. having made and left a valid will. 2. person who has left a valid will. 1 adj., 2 n.

tes ta tor (tes'tā tər), 1. person who makes a will. 2. person who has died leaving a valid will. n.

tes ta trix (tes tāt'riks), 1. woman who makes a will. 2. woman who has died leaving a valid will. n., pl. tes ta tri ces (-trə sēz).

tes tes (tes'tēz), pl. of testis. n.

tes ti cle (tes'tə kl), gland in a male animal that secretes the fertilizing element. n.

tes ti fy (tes'tə fi), 1. give evidence; bear witness: The excellence of Shakespeare's plays testifies to his genius. 2. give evidence of; bear witness to: The firm testified their appreciation of her work by raising her pay. 3. declare solemnly; affirm. 4. declare or give evidence under oath in a law court: The policeman testified that the speeding car had crashed into the truck. v., tes ti fied, tes ti fy ing. —tes'ti fi'er, n.

tes ti mo ni al (tes'tə mō'nē əl), 1. certificate of character, conduct, qualifications, value, etc.; recommendation: The boy looking for a job has testimonials from his teachers and former employer. Advertisements of patent medicines often contain testimonials from people who have used them. 2. something given or done to show esteem, admiration, gratitude, etc.: The members of the church collected money for a testimonial to their retiring pastor. 3. given or done as a testimonial. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

tes ti mo ny (tes'tə mō'nē), 1. statement used for evidence or proof: A witness gave testimony that Mr. Doe was at home at 9 p.m. 2. evidence: The pupils presented their teacher with a watch in testimony of their respect and affection. 3. an open declaration or profession of one's faith. n., pl. tes ti mo nies.

testimonies, the laws of God; the Scriptures.

tes tis (tes'tis), testicle. n., pl. tes tes.

tes tos ter one (tes tōs'tər ōn), a hormone, usually obtained from bulls' testicles. n.

test pilot, pilot employed to test new or experimental airplanes by subjecting them to greater than normal stress.

test tube, a thin glass tube closed at one end, used in making chemical tests.

tes ty (tes'tē), easily irritated; impatient. adj., tes-ti er, tes ti est. —tes'ti ly, adv. —tes'ti ness, n.

tet a nus (tet'n əs), disease caused by certain bacilli usually entering the body through wounds, characterized by violent spasms, stiffness of many muscles, and even death. Tetanus of the lower jaw is called lock-jaw. n.

tetch y (tech'ē), irritable; touchy. adj., tetch i er, tetch i est.

tête-à-tête (tāt'ə tāt'), 1. two together in private: They dined tête-à-tête. 2. of or for two people in private: tête-à-tête conversation. 3. a private conversation between two people. 4. an S-shaped seat built so that two people can sit facing one another. 1 adv., 2 adj., 3, 4 n.

teth er (tə'th'ər), 1. rope or chain for fastening an animal so that it can graze only within certain limits: The cow had broken her tether and was in the cornfield. 2. fasten with a tether: The horse is tethered to a stake. 1 n., 2 v.

at the end of one's tether, at the end of one's resources or endurance.

tet ra he dron (tet'rə hē'drən), a solid bounded by four plane sides. The most common tetrahedron is a pyramid whose base and three sides are equilateral triangles. n., pl. tet-ra he drons, tet ra he dra (-drə).

tet rar chy (tet'rār kē), 1. government by four persons. 2. set of four rulers. 3. country divided into four governments. n., pl. tet rar chies.

Tessellated surface

Tetrahedron

te trox ide (te trok/'sīd), any oxide having four atoms of oxygen in each molecule. n.

Te tuán (tā twān'), city and seaport in N Morocco. 101,000. n.

Teu ton (tüt'n or tüt'n), 1. German. 2. member of a group of N Europeans that includes Germans, Dutch, and Scandinavians. 3. member of a very ancient Germanic tribe. 1-3 n., 1 adj.

Teu ton ic (tüt ton'ik or tüt ton'ik), 1. of or having to do with the ancient Germanic tribes. 2. of or having to do with the Teutons or their languages. 3. German. adj.

Tex., Texas.

Tex an (tek'sən), 1. of or having to do with Texas or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Texas. 1 adj., 2 n.

Tex as (tek'səs), a Southern State of the United States. 9,580,000 pop.; 267,339 sq. mi. Capital: Austin. Abbrev.: Tex. n.

text (tekst), 1. the main body of reading matter in a book: This history contains 300 pages of text and about 50 pages of notes, explanations, and questions for study. 2. the original words of a writer. A text is often changed here and there when it is copied. 3. any one of the various wordings of a poem, play, etc. 4. a short passage in the Bible, used as the subject of a sermon or as proof of some belief: The minister preached on the text "Judge not, that ye be not judged." 5. topic; subject: Town improvement was the speaker's text. 6. textbook. n.

text book (tekst'būk'), book for regular study by pupils. Most arithmetics and geographies are textbooks. n.

tex tile (teks'til or teks'til), 1. woven: Cloth is a textile fabric. 2. a woven fabric; cloth. 3. suitable for weaving: Linen, cotton, silk, and wool are common textile materials. 4. material suitable for weaving. 5. of or having to do with weaving: the textile art. 1,3,5 adj., 2,4 n.

tex tu al (teks'chū əl), of the text; having to do with the text: A misprint is a textual error. adj.

tex tu al ly (teks'chū əl ē), in regard to the text. adv.

tex tur al (teks'char əl), of texture; having to do with texture. adj.

tex ture (teks'char), 1. arrangement of threads in a woven fabric: Burlap has a much coarser texture than a linen handkerchief. 2. arrangement of the parts of anything; structure; constitution; make-up: Sandstone and granite have different textures. n.

Th, thorium.

Th., Thursday.

Thai land (tī'land), a country in southeastern Asia formerly known as Siam. 22,000,000 pop.; 198,240 sq. mi. Capital: Bangkok. See Indochina for map. n.

thal a mus (thal'ə mäs), a part of the brain where a nerve emerges or appears to emerge. The optic thalami are two large, oblong masses of gray matter forming a part of the midbrain. n., pl. thal a mi (-mī).

tha ler (tä'lər), a former German silver coin, worth about 71½ cents. n., pl. tha ler. Also, taler.

thal li um (thal'ē əm), a soft, malleable, rare metallic element. Symbol: Tl n.

thal lo phyte (thal'ə fit), any of a large group of plants that have no leaves, stems, or roots. Bacteria, algae, fungi, and lichens are thallophytes. n.

thal lus (thal'əs), a plant not divided into leaves, stem, and root. Mushrooms, toadstools, and lichens are thalli. n., pl. thal li (thal'ī) or thal lus es.

Thames (temz), river flowing from SW England into the North Sea. London is on the Thames. 210 mi. n.

than (THAN; unstressed THən), 1. in comparison with; compared to that which: This train is faster than that one. 2. except; besides: How else can we come than on foot? conj.

than whom, compared to whom.

thane (thän), 1. man who ranked between an earl and an ordinary freeman in early England. Thanes held lands of the king or lord and gave military service in return. 2. a Scottish baron or lord. n.

thank (thank), say that one is pleased and grateful for something given or done; express gratitude to. v.
thanks, 1. I thank you. 2. expression of gratitude and pleasure for something given or done. 3. feeling of kindness received; gratitude.

have oneself to thank, be to blame.

thanks to, owing to; because of.

thank ful (thank'fəl), feeling or expressing thanks; grateful. adj.

thank ful ly (thank'fəl ē), with thanks; gratefully. adv.

thank ful ness (thank'fəl nis), thankful feeling; gratitude. n.

thank less (thank'lis), 1. not feeling or expressing thanks; not grateful. 2. not likely to be rewarded with thanks; not appreciated: Giving advice is usually a thankless act. adj. —thank'less ly, adv. —thank'less ness, n.

thanks giv ing (thankz giv'ing), 1. a giving of thanks. 2. expression of thanks: They offered thanksgiving to God for their escape. 3. day set apart to acknowledge God's favor. n.

Thanks giv ing (thankz giv'ing), in the United States, a day set apart every year to acknowledge God's favor, usually the fourth Thursday in November. n.

Thanksgiving Day, Thanksgiving.

that (THAT; unstressed THət). The word that is used as follows: 1. to point out or to indicate some person, thing, idea, etc., already mentioned, understood, or to be emphasized: Do you know that boy? (adj.). That is the right way. That's a good boy! (pron.). 2. to indicate the farther of two or more things. We use this for the thing nearer us, and that for the thing farther away from us: Shall I buy this dress or that one we saw yesterday? (adj.). I like that better (pron.). 3. to show contrast: This hat is prettier but that one costs less (adj.). Which hat do you want, this or that? (pron.). 4. to introduce a noun clause and connect it with the verb: I know that 6 and 4 are 10. 5. to show purpose: He ran fast that he might not be late. 6. to show result: He ran so fast that he was five minutes early. 7. to show cause: I wonder what happened, not that I care. 8. to express a wish: Oh, that she were here! 9. to show anger, surprise, etc.: That one so fair should be so false! That also means: 10. who; whom; which: Is he the man that sells dogs? She is the girl that you mean. Bring the box that will hold most. 11. when; at or in which: 1954 was the year that we went abroad. 12. to such an extent or degree; so: The baby cannot stay up that late. 1-3 adj., pl. those; 1-3,10,11 pron., pl. those; 4-9 conj.; 12 adv.

at that, Informal. 1. with no more talk, work, etc. 2. considering everything.

in that, because: I prefer his plan to yours, in that I think it is more practical.

That's that, Informal. That is settled or decided.

thatch (thach), 1. straw, rushes, palm leaves, etc., used as a roof or covering. 2. roof or covering of thatch. 3. roof or cover with thatch. 4. Informal. hair covering the head. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

thaw (thō), 1. melt (ice, snow, or anything frozen): This warm weather should thaw the ice on the roads very quickly. 2. a thawing. 3. become warm enough to melt ice, snow, etc.: If the sun stays out, it will probably thaw today. 4. weather above the freezing point (32 degrees); time of melting. 5. make or become free of frost, ice, etc.: Our sidewalk thawed yesterday. The pond freezes up in November and thaws out in April. 6. make or become less stiff and formal in manner; soften: His shyness thawed under her kindness. 7. a becoming less stiff and formal in manner; softening. 1,3,5,6 v., 2,4,7 n.

Thatched roof

the (unstressed before a consonant $\text{TH}\theta$; unstressed before a vowel THi ; stressed $\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}$). The word the shows that a certain one (or ones) is meant. Various special uses are: 1. to mark a noun as indicating something well-known or unique: the prodigal son, the Alps. 2. with or as part of a title: the Duke of Wellington. 3. to mark a noun as indicating the best-known or most important of its kind: the place to dine. 4. to mark a noun as being used generically: The dog is a quadruped. 5. to indicate a part of the body or a personal belonging: hang the head in shame. 6. before adjectives used as nouns: visit the sick, a love of the beautiful. 7. distributively, to denote any one separately: candy at one dollar the pound. definite article.

the ($\text{TH}\theta$ or THi). The word the is used to modify an adjective or adverb in the comparative degree: 1. signifying "in or by that," "on that account," "in some or any degree": If you start now, you will be back the sooner. 2. used correlatively, in one instance with relative force and in the other with demonstrative force, and signifying "by how much . . . by so much," "in what degree . . . in that degree": the more the merrier, the sooner the better. adv.

the a ter or the a tre ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{a}\text{t}\bar{\epsilon}\text{r}$), 1. place where plays are acted; place where motion pictures are shown. 2. place that looks like a theater in its arrangement of seats: The surgeon performed an operation before the medical students in the operating theater. 3. place of action: Belgium and France were the theater of World War I. 4. plays; writing and producing plays; the drama. n.

the at ric ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{a}'\text{r}\text{ik}$), theatrical. adj.

the at ri cal ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{a}'\text{r}\bar{\epsilon}\text{kl}$), 1. of or having to do with the theater or actors: theatrical performances, a theatrical company. 2. suggesting a theater or acting; for display or effect; artificial. adj. —the at ri cal ly, adv.

theatricals, 1. dramatic performances, especially as given by amateurs. 2. matters having to do with the stage and acting. 3. actions of a theatrical or artificial character.

the at ri cal i ty ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{a}'\text{r}\bar{\epsilon}\text{kal}'\text{a}\text{t}\bar{\epsilon}$), quality of being theatrical. n.

Thebes ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{bz}$), 1. an important city in ancient Greece. 2. an ancient city on the Nile, now in ruins, formerly a center of Egyptian civilization. n.

thee ($\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}$), the objective case of thou. you: "The Lord bless thee and keep thee." pron.

theft ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{ft}$), 1. act of stealing: The man was put in prison for theft. 2. an instance of stealing: The theft of the jewels caused much excitement. n.

the in ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ən}$), theine. n.

the ine ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ən}$ or $\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{n}$), caffeine. n.

their ($\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{r}$), 1. the possessive case of they. 2. of them; belonging to them: They like their school and do their lessons well. 1 pron., 2 adj.

theirs ($\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{r}\text{z}$), 1. of them; belonging to them: Those books are theirs, not mine. 2. the one or ones belonging to them: Our house is white; theirs is brown. pron.

the ism ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{iz}\text{əm}$), belief in one God, the creator and ruler of the universe. n.

the ist ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ist}$), believer in theism. n.

the is tic ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{is}'\text{tik}$), of theism or theists. adj.

them ($\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{m}$; unstressed $\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{m}$), the objective case of they: The books are new; take care of them. pron.

the mat ic ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{mat}'\text{ik}$), of a theme; having to do with themes. adj.

theme ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{m}$), 1. topic; subject: Patriotism was the speaker's theme. 2. a short written composition. 3. the principal melody in a piece of music. 4. a short melody repeated in different forms in an elaborate musical composition. 5. a melody used to identify a particular radio or television program. n.

The mis to cles ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{m}\text{'s}\text{t}\bar{\epsilon}\text{kl}\bar{\epsilon}\text{z}$), 527?-460? B.C., Athenian leader and statesman. n.

them selves ($\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{m}\text{selvz}'$ or $\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{m}\text{selvz}'$), 1. the emphatic form of they or them: They did it themselves. 2. the reflexive form of them: They injured themselves. 3. their real selves: They were ill and were not themselves. pron.

then ($\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{n}$), 1. at that time: Prices were then lower. 2. that time: By then we shall know the result. 3. being at that time; existing then: the then President. 4. soon afterwards: The noise stopped, and then began again. 5. next in time or place: First comes spring, then summer. 6. at another time: Now one boy does best and then another. 7. also; besides: The dress seems too good to throw away, and then it is very becoming. 8. in that case; therefore: If Harry broke the window, then he should pay for it. 1,4-8 adv., 2 n., 3 adj.

but then, but at the same time; but on the other hand. then and there, at that time and place; at once and on the spot.

thence ($\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{ns}$), 1. from that place; from there: A few miles thence is a river. 2. for that reason; therefore: You didn't work, thence no pay. 3. from that time; from then: a few years thence. adv.

thence forth ($\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{ns}'\text{f}\bar{\text{o}}\text{rth}'$), from then on; from that time forward: Women were given the same rights as men. Thenceforth they could vote. adv.

thence for ward ($\text{TH}\bar{\epsilon}\text{ns}'\text{f}\bar{\text{o}}\text{r}'\text{w}\bar{\text{o}}\text{rd}$), thenceforth. adv. the oc ra cy ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{ok}'\text{r}\bar{\epsilon}\text{s}\bar{\epsilon}$), 1. government in which God is recognized as the supreme civil ruler and His laws are taken as the laws of the state. 2. government by priests. 3. country or nation governed by a theocracy. n., pl. the oc ra cies.

the o crat ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{krat}$), 1. ruler, or member of a governing body, in a theocracy. 2. person who favors theocracy. n.

the o crat ic ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{krat}'\text{ik}$), 1. of or having to do with theocracy. 2. having a theocracy. adj.

the od o lite ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{od}'\text{l}\bar{\text{i}}\text{t}$), a surveying instrument for measuring horizontal and vertical angles. n.

the o lo gian ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{l}\bar{\text{o}}'\text{j}\bar{\text{ə}}\text{n}$), person skilled or trained in theology. n.

the o log i cal ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{loj}'\text{ə}\text{kl}$), 1. of theology; having to do with theology. 2. theological school trains young men for the ministry. 3. referring to the nature and will of God. adj.

the o log i cal ly ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{loj}'\text{ik}\text{l}\bar{\epsilon}$), according to theology. adv.

the ol o gy ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}\text{ol}'\text{ə}\text{j}\bar{\epsilon}$), 1. study of the nature of God and His relations to man and the universe. 2. study of religion and religious beliefs. 3. system of religious beliefs. n., pl. the ol o gies.

the o rem ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{r}\bar{\epsilon}\text{m}$), 1. statement in mathematics to be proved. 2. statement of mathematical relations that can be expressed by an equation or formula. 3. statement or rule that can be proved to be true. n.

the o ret ic ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{ret}'\text{ik}$), theoretical. adj.

the o ret i cal ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{ret}'\text{ə}\text{kl}$), 1. planned or worked out in the mind, not from experience; based on theory, not on fact; limited to theory. 2. dealing with theory only; not practical: City boys can get a theoretical knowledge of farming. adj.

the o ret i cal ly ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{ret}'\text{ik}\text{l}\bar{\epsilon}$), in theory; according to theory; in a theoretical manner. adv.

the o re ti cian ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{r}\bar{\epsilon}\text{t}\bar{\text{i}}\text{sh}\bar{\text{ə}}\text{n}$), person who knows much about the theory of an art, science, etc. n.

the o rist ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{r}\bar{\text{i}}\text{st}$), person who forms theories. n.

the o rize ($\text{th}\bar{\epsilon}'\text{ə}\text{r}\bar{\text{i}}\text{z}$), form a theory or theories; speculate. v., the o rized, the o riz ing. —the'o riz'er, n.

the o ry (thē'ə rē), 1. explanation; explanation based on thought; explanation based on observation and reasoning: the theory of evolution, Einstein's theory of relativity. 2. principles or methods of a science or art rather than its practice: the theory of music. 3. thought or fancy as opposed to fact or practice. n., pl. the o ries.

the o soph ic (thē'ə sɒf'ik), of or having to do with theosophy. adj.

the os o phist (thē'ə sɒ'ə fist), person who believes in theosophy. n.

the os o phy (thē'ə sɒ'ə fē), philosophy or religion that claims to have a special insight into the divine nature through spiritual self-development. Modern theosophy includes many of the teachings of Buddhism and Brahmanism. n.

ther a peu tic (ther'ə pū'tik), having to do with the treatment or curing of disease; curative. adj.

ther a peu tics (ther'ə pū'tiks), branch of medicine that deals with the treating or curing of disease; therapy. n.

ther a peu tist (ther'ə pū'tist), person who specializes in therapeutics. n.

ther a pist (ther'ə pist), therapist. n.

ther a py (ther'ə pē), treatment of diseases. n., pl. ther a pies.

there (ʔhār: unstressed ʔhər), 1. in or at that place: Sit there. 2. to or into that place: Go there at once. 3. that place: From there go on to New York. 4. at that point in an action, speech, etc.: You have done enough, you may stop there. 5. in that matter, particular, or respect: You are mistaken there. 6. There is also used in sentences in which the verb comes before the subject: There are three new houses on our street. Is there a drug-store near here? 7. There is used to call attention to some person or thing: There goes the bell. 8. There is also used to express satisfaction, triumph, dismay, encouragement, comfort, etc.: There, there! don't cry. 1,2,4-7 adv., 3 n., 8 interj.

all there, Informal. 1. wide-awake; alert. 2. not crazy; sane.

there a bout (ʔhār'ə bout'), whereabouts. adv.

there a bouts (ʔhār'ə bouts'), 1. near that place. 2. near that time. 3. near that number or amount. adv.

there af ter (ʔhār af'tər), 1. after that; afterward: He was very ill as a child and was considered delicate thereafter. 2. accordingly. adv.

there at (ʔhār at'), 1. when that happened; at that time. 2. because of that; because of it. 3. at that place; there. adv.

there by (ʔhār bī' or ʔhār'bi), 1. by means of that; in that way: He wished to travel and thereby study the customs of other countries. 2. in connection with that: George won the game, and thereby hangs a tale. 3. near there. adv.

there for (ʔhār fɔr'), for that; for this; for it: He promised to give a building for a hospital and as much land as should be necessary therefor. adv.

there fore (ʔhār'fɔr), for that reason; as a result of that; consequently: Helen went to a party and therefore did not study her lessons. adv.

there from (ʔhār from' or ʔhār frum'), from that; from this; from it: He opened his bag and took therefrom an apple. adv.

there in (ʔhār in'), 1. in that place; in it: God created the sea and all that is therein. 2. in that matter; in that way: The captain thought all danger was past. Therein he made a mistake. adv.

there in to (ʔhār in'tū or ʔhār'in tū'), 1. into that place; into it. 2. into that matter. adv.

there of (ʔhār ov' or ʔhār uv'), 1. of that; of it. 2. from it; from that source. adv.

there on (ʔhār on'), 1. on that; on it: Before the window was a table. A huge book lay thereon. 2. immediately after that: Jesus touched the sick man; thereon he was healed. adv.

there's (ʔhärz), there is.

The re sa (tə rē'sə), Saint, 1515-1582, Spanish nun and mystic. n. Also, Teresa.

there to (ʔhār tū'), 1. to that; to it: The castle stands on a hill, and the road thereto is steep and rough. 2. in addition to that; also: The king gave his faithful servant rich garments and added thereto a bag of gold. adv.

there to fore (ʔhār'tə fɔr'), before that time; until then. adv.

there un der (ʔhār un'dər), 1. under that; under it. 2. under the authority of that; according to that. adv.

there un to (ʔhār un'tū or ʔhār'un tū'), to that; to it. adv.

there up on (ʔhār'ə pon'), 1. immediately after that: The President appeared. Thereupon the people clapped.

2. because of that; therefore: The stolen jewels were found in his room; thereupon he was put in jail. 3. on that; on it: The knight carried a shield with a cross painted thereupon. adv.

there with (ʔhār wiθ' or ʔhār with'), Archaic. 1. with that; with it: The lady gave him a rose and a smile therewith. 2. immediately after that; then: "Avenge me!" said the ghost and therewith disappeared. adv.

there with al (ʔhār'wiθ ōl'), 1. with that; with this; with it. 2. in addition to that; also. adv.

ther mal (thər'ml), 1. of or having to do with heat. 2. warm; hot. adj.

thermal barrier, point of speed beyond which an aircraft is subjected to dangerously high temperatures as a result of friction with the atmosphere. The thermal barrier was originally considered to exist at sea level at speeds approximating 1,000 miles per hour, but has been pushed far upwards of this by the development of new heat-resistant materials.

ther mo dy nam ic (thər'mō dī nam'ik), 1. of or having to do with thermodynamics. 2. using force due to heat or to the conversion of heat into mechanical energy. adj.

ther mo dy nam ics (thər'mō dī nam'iks), branch of physics that deals with the relations between heat and mechanical energy or work. n.

ther mo e lec tric (thər'mō i lek'trik), of or having to do with thermoelectricity. adj.

ther mo e lec tric i ty (thər'mō i lek'tris'ə tē), electricity produced directly by heat. n.

ther mom e ter (thər mom'ə tər), instrument for measuring temperature, usually by means of the expansion and contraction of mercury or alcohol in a capillary tube and bulb. n.

ther mo nu cle ar (thər'mō nü-klē ə or thər'mō nü'klē ə), of or designating the fusion of atoms (as in the hydrogen bomb) through very high temperature: a thermonuclear reaction. adj.

ther mo plas tic (thər'mō plas'tik), 1. becoming soft and capable of being molded when heated. 2. a thermoplastic material, especially a plastic. 1 adj., 2 n.

Ther mop y lae (thər mop'lē), a mountain pass in Greece. In 480 B.C., a few Spartan soldiers defended it against a great army of Persians until every Spartan was killed. n.

Ther mos bot tle (thər'məs), Trademark. bottle, flask, or jug having a case or jacket that heat cannot pass through easily. It will keep its contents at about their original temperature for hours.

ther mo stat (thər'mə stat), 1. an automatic device for regulating temperature. 2. any automatic device that responds to conditions of temperature. n.

Thermometers:
C, centigrade;
F, Fahrenheit.

Thermos bottle

ther mo stat ic (thēr'mə stat'ik), of, having to do with, or like a thermostat. adj.

ther mo stat i cal ly (thēr'mə stat'ik lē), by means of a thermostat. adv.

the sau rus (thī sō'rās), 1. treasury; storehouse. 2. dictionary, encyclopedia, or other book that is a storehouse of information. n., pl. the sau ri (-rī).

these (thēz), pl. of this. These days are cold. These two problems are hard. These are my books. adj., pron.

The se us (thē'sē as or thē'sūs), in Greek mythology, the chief hero of Athens. He killed the Minotaur and escaped from the Labyrinth with the help of Ariadne. n.

the sis (thē'sis), 1. proposition or statement to be proved or to be maintained against objections. 2. essay; essay presented by a candidate for a diploma or degree. n., pl. the ses (-sēz).

Thes pi an (thes'pē ən), 1. having to do with Thespis. 2. of or having to do with the drama or tragedy; dramatic; tragic. 3. actor or actress. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

Thes pis (thes'pis), Greek tragic poet who lived about 534 B.C. Traditionally, he was the founder of Greek tragedy. n.

Thess., Thessalonians.

Thes sa lo ni ans (thes'ə lō'nē ənz), either of two books of the New Testament written by Saint Paul. n.

Thes sa ly (thes'ə lē), district in E Greece. n.

The tis (thē'tis), in Greek mythology, one of the Nereids, the mother of Achilles. n.

thews (thūz), 1. muscles. 2. sinews. n.pl.

they (thē), 1. nom. pl. of he, she, or it. Where are they? They are on the kitchen table. 2. Informal. some people; any people; persons: They say we should have a new school. pron., pl. nom.; poss., their, theirs, obj., them.

they'd (thēd), 1. they had. 2. they would.

they'll (thēl), 1. they will. 2. they shall.

they're (thēr), they are.

they've (thēv), they have.

thi a min or thi a mine (thī'ə min), a complex organic compound found in cereals, yeast, etc., or prepared synthetically. Its chloride, vitamin B₁, aids in preventing beriberi, etc. n.

thick (thik), 1. with much space from one side to the opposite side; not thin: The castle has thick stone walls. 2. measuring between two opposite sides: two inches thick. 3. set close together; dense: thick hair. 4. many and close together; abundant: bullets thick as hail. 5. filled; covered: thick with flies. 6. like glue or syrup, not like water; rather dense of its kind: Thick liquids pour much more slowly than thin liquids. 7. not clear; foggy: thick weather. 8. not clear in sound; hoarse: a thick voice. 9. stupid; dull: He has a thick head. 10. thickly. 11. the thickest part: in the thick of the fight. 12. Informal. very friendly; intimate. 13. Informal. too much to be endured. 1-9,12,13 adj., 10 adv., 11 n.

lay it on thick, Informal. praise or blame too much.

through thick and thin, in good times and bad.

thick en (thik'en), make or become thick or thicker. v.

—thick'en er, n.

thick en ing (thik'en ing), 1. material or ingredient used to thicken something. 2. a thickened part. n.

thick et (thik'it), shrubs, bushes, or small trees growing close together. n.

thick-head ed (thik'hed'id), stupid; dull. adj.

—thick'-head'ed ness, n.

thick ly (thik'lē), 1. in a thick manner; closely; densely: a thickly settled region. 2. in great numbers; in abundance. 3. frequently. 4. with thick consistency. 5. hoarsely. adv.

thick ness (thik'nis), 1. quality or state of being thick. 2. distance between opposite surfaces; the third measurement of a solid, not length nor breadth: The length of the board is 10 feet, the width 6 inches, the thickness 2 inches. 3. the thick part. 4. layer: The pad was made up of three thicknesses of blotting paper. n.

thick-set (thik'set'), 1. thickly set: a thick-set hedge. 2. thick in form or build: a thick-set man. 3. thicket. 4. a thick hedge. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

thick-skinned (thik'skind'), 1. having a thick skin. 2. not sensitive to criticism, rebuff, or the like. adj.

thick-wit ted (thik'wit'id), stupid; dull. adj.

thief (thēf), person who steals, especially one who steals secretly and without using force: A thief stole the little boy's bicycle from the yard. n., pl. thieves.

thieve (thēv), steal. v., thieved, thief ing.

thiev er y (thēv'ər ē), act of stealing; theft. n., pl. thiev er ies.

thieves (thēvz), pl. of thief. n.

thiev ish (thēv'ish), 1. having the habit of stealing; likely to steal. 2. like a thief; sly: That cat has a thievish look. adj. —thiev'ish ly, adv. —thiev'ish ness, n.

thigh (thī), part of the leg between the hip and the knee. n.

thigh bone (thī'bōn'), bone of the leg between the hip and the knee; femur. n.

thill (thil), either of the shafts between which a single animal drawing a vehicle is placed. n.

thim ble (thim'bl), 1. a small metal cap worn on the finger to protect it when pushing the needle in sewing. 2. a short metal tube. 3. a metal ring fitted in a rope, to save wear on the rope. n.

thim ble ber ry (thim'bl ber'ē), an American raspberry with a thimble-shaped fruit; especially, the black raspberry. n., pl. thim ble ber ries.

thim ble ful (thim'bl fül), as much as a thimble will hold; very small quantity. n., pl. thim ble fuls.

Thim bu (tim'bū), capital of Bhutan, in the W part. 8500. n.

thin (thin), 1. with little space from one side to the opposite side; not thick: thin paper, thin wire. 2. having little flesh; slender; lean: a thin person. 3. not set close together; scanty: He has thin hair. 4. not dense: The air on the top of those high mountains is thin. 5. few and far apart; not abundant: The actors played to a thin audience. 6. not like glue or syrup; like water; of less substance than usual: thin milk. 7. not deep or strong: a shrill, thin voice. 8. having little depth, fullness, or intensity: a thin color. 9. easily seen through; flimsy: a thin excuse. 10. in a thin manner. 11. make or become thin. 1-9 adj., thin ner, thin nest; 10 adv., 11 v., thinned, thin ning. —thin'ly, adv. —thin'ner, n. —thin'ness, n.

thine (thīn), Mainly Archaic or Poetic. 1. belonging to thee; yours. 2. the one or ones belonging to thee; yours. 3. thy; your. 1,2 pron., 3 adj.

thing (thing), 1. any object or substance: All the things in the house were burned. Put these things away. 2. whatever is spoken or thought of; act; deed; fact; event; happening; idea; opinion: A strange thing happened. It was a good thing to do. 3. matter; subject; affair; business: How are things going? 4. person or creature: I felt sorry for the poor thing. n.

things, 1. belongings; possessions. 2. clothes. 3. outdoor clothes.

know a thing or two, Informal. be experienced or wise.

make a good thing of, Informal. profit from.

see things, have hallucinations.

the thing, 1. the fashion or style. 2. the important fact or idea.

think (think), 1. have ideas; use the mind: You must learn to think clearly. 2. have in the mind: He thought that he would go. 3. have an idea: He had thought of her as still a child. 4. have an opinion; believe: Do what you think fit. 5. reflect; consider: I must think before answering. 6. imagine: You can't think how surprised I was. 7. remember: I can't think of his name. 8. intend: He thinks to escape punishment. 9. expect: I did not think to find you here. v., thought, thinking. —think'er, n.

think out, 1. plan or discover by thinking. 2. solve or understand by thinking. 3. think through to the end.

think out loud, say what one is thinking.

think over, consider carefully.

think through, think about until one reaches an understanding or conclusion.

think twice, think again before acting; hesitate.

think up, plan or discover by thinking.

think a ble (think'ə bl), capable of being thought; conceivable. adj.

think ing (think'ing), 1. that thinks; reasoning. 2. thoughtful or reflective. 3. thought. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

thin-skinned (thin'skind'), 1. having a thin skin. 2. sensitive to criticism, reproach, rebuff, or the like; touchy. adj.

third (thêrd), 1. next after the second; last in a series of three: C is the third letter of the alphabet. 2. one, or being one, of three equal parts: Mother divided the cake into thirds. 3. a musical tone three degrees from another tone. 4. interval between such tones. 5. combination of such tones. 1,2 adj., 1-5 n.

third-class (thêrd'klass'), of or belonging to a class after the second. adj.

third degree, Chiefly U.S. Informal. use of severe treatment by the police to force a person to give information or make a confession.

third estate, persons not in the nobility or clergy; common people.

third ly (thêrd'lē), in the third place. adv.

third person, form of a pronoun or verb used to refer to the person spoken of. He, she, it, and they are pronouns of the third person.

third rail, rail paralleling the ordinary rails of a railroad. It carries a powerful electric current and is used on some railroads instead of an overhead wire.

third-rate (thêrd'rāt'), 1. of the third class. 2. distinctly inferior. adj.

Third Reich, the totalitarian state in Germany (from 1933 to 1945) under Adolf Hitler.

third world, the world of neutral nations; the countries taking neither side in the cold war between Communist and Western nations.

thirst (thêrst), 1. a dry, painful feeling caused by having nothing to drink; desire or need for something to drink: The traveler in the desert died of thirst. He satisfied his thirst at the spring. 2. feel thirst; be thirsty. 3. a strong desire: Many boys have a thirst for adventure. 4. have a strong desire. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

thirsty (thêrs'tē), 1. feeling thirst; having thirst. 2. without water or moisture; dry. 3. having a strong desire; eager. adj., thirst i er, thirst i est. —thirst'i ly, adv. —thirst'i ness, n.

thir teen (thêr'tên'), three more than ten; 13. n., adj.

thirteenth (thêr'tēnth'), 1. next after the 12th; last in a series of 13. 2. one, or being one, of 13 equal parts. adj., n.

thir ti eth (thêr'tē ith), 1. next after the 29th; last in a series of 30. 2. one, or being one, of 30 equal parts. adj., n.

thir ty (thêr'tē), three times ten; 30. n., pl. thir ties; adj.

thirty-second note (thêr'tē sek'ənd), a note one thirty-second of a whole note (♩).

this (thîs), 1. the person, thing, event, quality, condition, idea, etc., that is present, mentioned, or referred to now: This is the best. After this you must go home.

2. the one emphasized or contrasted with another called "that": This is newer than that. 3. present; near; spoken of; referred to: this minute, this child, this idea. 4. to this extent or degree; so: You can have this much. 1,2 pron., pl. these; 3 adj., 4 adv.

this tle (this'l), plant with a prickly stalk and leaves. The purple thistle is the national flower of Scotland. n.

this tle down (this'l doun'), down or fluff of a thistle. n.

this tly (this'lē), 1. like thistles; prickly. 2. having many thistles. adj.

thith er (thîth'ər or thîth'ər), 1. to that place; toward that place; there. 2. on that side; farther. 1 adv., 2 adj.

thith er ward (thîth'ər wərd or thîth'ər wərd), toward that place; in that direction. adv.

tho or tho' (thō), though. conj., adv.

thole (thōl), peg on the side of a boat to hold an oar in rowing. n.

thole pin (thōl'pin'), thole. n.

Thom as (tom'əs), one of the twelve disciples chosen by Jesus as His Apostles. He at first doubted the Resurrection. John 20:24-29. n.

Thom son (tom'sən), William, 1824-1907, English physicist, who became Lord Kelvin. n.

thong (thōng), 1. a narrow strip of leather, etc., especially used as a fastening. 2. lash of a whip. n.

Thor (thôr), the ancient Scandinavian god of thunder. n.

tho rac ic (thō ras'ik), of or having to do with the thorax. The thoracic cavity contains the heart and lungs. adj.

tho rax (thō'raks), 1. part of the body between the neck and the abdomen. A man's chest is his thorax. 2. the second division of an insect's body, between the head and the abdomen. See insect for diagram. n., pl. tho rax es, tho ra ces (-rə sēz).

Tho reau (thə rō'), Henry David, 1817-1862, American author and naturalist. n.

tho rite (thō'rit), mineral consisting essentially of a silicate of thorium. n.

tho ri um (thō'rē əm), a radioactive metallic element present in certain rare minerals. Symbol: Th n.

thorn (thörn), 1. a sharp-pointed growth on a stem or branch of a tree or plant: Roses have thorns. 2. tree or plant that has thorns on it: Thorns sprang up and choked the wheat. n.

thorn in the flesh or side, cause of trouble or annoyance.

thorn apple, 1. fruit of the hawthorn; haw. 2. hawthorn. 3. jimson weed.

thorn y (thôr'nē), 1. full of thorns. 2. troublesome; annoying: The boys argued over the thorny points in the lesson. adj., thorn i er, thorn i est.

thor o (thêr'ō), thorough. adj., prep., adv.

tho ron (thō'ron), a rare element given off by thorium. It is a radioactive gas. Symbols: Tn or Th n.

thor ough (thêr'ō), 1. being all that is needed; complete: a thorough search. 2. doing all that should be done and slighting nothing: The doctor was very thorough in his examination of the patient. 3. Archaic. through. 1,2 adj., 3 adv., prep. Also thoro. —thor'ough ly, adv. —thor'ough ness, n.

thor ough bred (thêr'ō bred'), 1. of pure breed or stock. 2. a thoroughbred horse or other animal. 3. well-bred; thoroughly trained. 4. a well-bred or thoroughly trained person. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

thor ough fare (thêr'ō fār'), 1. passage, road, or street open at both ends. 2. a main road; highway: The Lincoln Highway is a well-known thoroughfare. n. no thoroughfare, people are forbidden to go through.

Thistle

Tholes: A, single; B, double.

thoroughgoing (thə'ŋō gō'ing), thorough; complete. adj.

thorp (thōrp), Archaic. village; small town. n.

those (thōz), pl. of that. She owns that dog; the boys own those dogs. That is his book; those are my books. adj., pron.

thou (thou), you; the one spoken to. pron., sing., nom. thou; poss. thy or thine; obj. thee; pl., nom. you or ye; poss. your or yours; obj. you or ye.

though (thō), 1. in spite of the fact that; notwithstanding the fact that: Though it was pouring, the girls went to school. 2. yet; still; nevertheless: He is better, though not yet cured. 3. even if; granting or supposing that: Though I fail, I shall try again. 4. however: I am sorry about our quarrel; you began it, though. 1-3 conj., 4 adv. Also, tho, tho'.

as though, as if; as it would be if.

thought (thōt), 1. what one thinks; idea; notion: Her thought was to have a picnic. 2. power or process of thinking; mental activity: Thought helps us solve problems. 3. reasoning: He applied thought to the problem. 4. consideration; attention; care; regard: Show some thought for others than yourself. 5. intention: His thought was to avoid controversy. 6. a little bit; trifle: Be a thought more polite. 7. pt. and pp. of think. We thought it would snow yesterday. 1-6 n., 7 v.

thought control, the strict limiting or regimentation of ideas, reasoning, etc., in all persons so as to conform to that of a particular group, government, etc.

thoughtful (thōt'fəl), 1. full of thought; thinking: He was thoughtful for a while and then replied, "No." 2. careful; heedful. 3. careful of others; considerate: She is always thoughtful of her mother. adj. —thoughtfully, adv. —thoughtfulness, n.

thoughtless (thōt'lis), 1. without thought; doing things without thinking; careless. 2. showing little or no care or regard for others; not considerate. adj. —thoughtlessly, adv. —thoughtlessness, n.

thousand (thou'znd), ten hundred; 1000. n., adj.

thousand fold (thou'znd fōld'), a thousand times as much or as many. adj., adv., n.

Thousand Islands, group of about 1500 islands in the St. Lawrence River, near Lake Ontario. Some belong to Canada, and some to the United States.

thousandth (thou'zndth), 1. last in a series of a thousand. 2. one, or being one, of a thousand equal parts. adj., n.

Thrace (thrās), region in the E part of the Balkan Peninsula. In ancient times it was first an independent country and later a Roman province. Today most of the region is in Bulgaria, and the rest of it in Greece. See Byzantine Empire for map. n.

Thracian (thrā'shən), 1. of or having to do with ancient Thrace or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of ancient Thrace. 1 adj., 2 n.

thrall (thrōl), 1. person in bondage; slave. 2. thrall-dom; bondage; slavery. n.

thrall dom or thral dom (thrōl'dəm), bondage; slavery: A sorcerer held the knight in thralldom. n.

thrash (thrash), 1. beat: The man thrashed the boy for stealing the apples. 2. move violently; toss: Unable to sleep, the patient thrashed about in his bed. 3. thresh (wheat, etc.). v.

thrash out, settle by thorough discussion.

thrash over, go over again and again.

thrasher (thrash'ər), 1. person or thing that thrashes. 2. thrasher (def. 3). 3. any of several American birds related to the mockingbird. n.

thread (thred), 1. cotton, silk, flax, etc., spun out into a fine cord. You sew with thread. 2. pass a thread through: She threaded her needle. Mary threaded a hundred beads. 3. something long and slender like a thread: Threads of gold could be seen in the ore. 4. form into a thread: Cook the syrup until it will thread. 5. something that connects the parts of a story, speech, etc. 6. pass like a thread through; pervade. 7. make one's way through; make (one's way) carefully; go on a winding course: He threaded his way through the crowd. 8. the winding, sloping ridge of a screw, etc. 9. form a thread on (a screw, etc.). 1,3,5,8 n., 2,4,6,7,9 v. —thread/like', adj.

Thread (def. 8)

thread bare (thred'bār'), 1. having the nap worn off; worn so much that the threads show: a threadbare coat. 2. wearing clothes worn to the threads; shabby: a threadbare beggar. 3. old and worn; stale: a threadbare excuse. adj.

thready (thred'ē), 1. consisting of or resembling a thread. 2. fibrous; stringy or viscid. 3. of the pulse, thin and feeble. 4. of the voice, etc., lacking in fullness. adj. —threadyness, n.

threat (thret), 1. statement of what will be done to hurt or punish someone. 2. sign or cause of possible evil or harm: Those black clouds are a threat of rain. n.

threaten (thret'n), 1. make a threat against; say what will be done to hurt or punish: threaten a person with imprisonment. 2. be a sign of (possible evil or harm, etc.): Black clouds threaten rain. 3. be a threat. 4. utter threats: Do you mean to threaten? 5. be a cause of possible evil or harm to: A flood threatened the city. v. —threat/ener, n. —threat/ening ly, adv.

three (thrē), 1. one more than two; 3. 2. set of three persons or things. 3. a playing card, die, domino, etc., with three spots. 1-3 n., 1 adj.

three-D or 3-D (thrē'dē'), three dimensional (motion picture). n.

three fold (thrē'fōld'), 1. three times as much or as many. 2. having three parts. 1,2 adj., 1 adv., n.

three-mile limit, distance from the shore that, according to international law, is included within the jurisdiction of the State possessing the coast.

three pence (thrip'əns), 1. three British pennies; three pence. 2. coin of this value, worth about 3 cents (1964). n.

three pen ny (thrip'ən ē or thrē'pen'ē), 1. worth three pence. 2. of little worth; cheap; paltry. adj.

three-ply (thrē'plī'), having three thicknesses, layers, folds, or strands. adj.

three R's, reading, writing, and arithmetic.

three score (thrē'skōr'), three times twenty; 60. adj.

three some (thrē'səm), 1. group of three people. 2. game played by three people. 3. the players. n.

Three Wise Men, men who came from the East to honor the infant Jesus; the Magi.

thren o dy (thren'ə dē), song of lamentation, especially at a person's death. n., pl. thren o dies.

thresh (thresh), 1. separate the grain or seeds from (wheat, etc.). Nowadays most farmers use a machine to thresh their wheat. 2. toss about; thrash. v.

thresh out, settle by thorough discussion.

thresh over, go over again and again.

thresher (thresh'ər), 1. person or thing that threshes. 2. machine used for separating the grain or seeds from wheat, etc. 3. a large shark with a very long tail. n.

thresh old (thresh'ōld or thresh'hōld), 1. piece of wood or stone under a door. 2. doorway. 3. point of entering; beginning point: The scientist was on the threshold of an important discovery. n.

throw (thrū), pt. of throw. He threw a stone and ran away. v.

thrice (thrīs), 1. three times: He knocked thrice. 2. very; extremely. adv.

Thrasher (def. 3)
(about 11 in. long)

thrift (thrɪft), absence of waste; saving; economical management; habit of saving: By thrift she managed to get along on her small salary. n.

thriftless (thrɪft/lɪs), without thrift; wasteful. adj.
thrifty (thrɪf/tē), 1. careful in spending; economical; saving. 2. thriving; flourishing; prosperous: a thrifty plant. adj., thriftier, thriftest. —thriftyly, *adv. —thriftness, *n.

thrill (thrɪl), 1. a shivering, exciting feeling. 2. give a shivering, exciting feeling to: Stories of adventure thrilled him. 3. have a shivering, exciting feeling: The children thrilled with joy at the sight of the Christmas tree. 4. quiver; tremble: Her voice thrilled with terror. 1 n., 2-4 v. —thrillingly, adv.

thriller (thrɪl/ər), 1. person or thing that thrills. 2. Informal. a sensational play or story, especially one involving a murder. n.

thrips (thrɪps), a small destructive insect with long narrow wings fringed with hairs. n.

thrive (thrɪv), be successful; grow rich; grow strong; prosper: Flowers will not thrive without sunshine. v., throve or thrived, thrived or thrive, thriving.

thrive (thrɪv/ən), a pp. of thrive. v.

thro' or thro (thrū), through. prep., adv., adj.

throat (thrōt), 1. the front of the neck. 2. the passage from the mouth to the stomach or the lungs. 3. any narrow passage: the throat of a mine. n.

lump in the throat, a feeling of inability to swallow.

stick in one's throat, be hard or unpleasant to say.

throated (thrōt/ɪd), having a certain kind of throat: white-throated. adj.

throaty (thrōt/ē), 1. produced or modified in the throat; guttural: a throaty sound. 2. of a woman's voice, low-pitched and resonant. adj., throatier, throatiest. —throatiness, n.

throb (throʊ), 1. beat rapidly or strongly: The long climb up the hill made her heart throb. 2. a rapid or strong beat: A throb of pain shot through his head. 3. beat steadily. 4. a steady beat: the throb of a pulse. 5. quiver; tremble. 1,3,5 v., throbbled, throbbing; 2,4,5 n. —throbbingly, adv.

throe (thrō), a violent pang; great pain. n.

throes, 1. anguish; agony. 2. a desperate struggle; violent disturbance.

thrombosis (throm bō/sis), a coagulation of blood in a blood vessel or in the heart during life. n.

throne (thrōn), 1. chair on which a king, queen, bishop, or other person of high rank sits during ceremonies. 2. power or authority of a king, queen, etc. 3. enthrone. 1,2 n., 3 v., throned, throning.

throng (thrɒŋ), 1. a crowd; multitude. 2. crowd; fill with a crowd: People thronged the theater to see the famous actress. 3. come together in a crowd; go or press in large numbers: The people thronged to see the king. 1 n., 2,3 v.

throttle (throʊt/l), 1. valve regulating the flow of steam, gasoline vapor, etc., to an engine. 2. lever, pedal, etc., working such a valve. 3. lessen the speed of (an engine) by closing a throttle: to throttle a steam engine. 4. stop the breath of by pressure on the throat; strangle: The thief throttled the dog to keep it from barking. 5. choke; suffocate. 6. throttle. 7. check or stop the flow of; suppress: High tariffs throttle trade between countries. 1,2,6 n., 3-5,7 v., throttled, throtling.

through (thrū), 1. from end to end of; from side to side of; between the parts of; from beginning to end of: The soldiers marched through the town. The men cut a tunnel through a mountain. 2. from end to end; from side to side; between the parts: The bullet hit the wall and went through. 3. here and there in; over; around: We traveled through New England visiting many old towns. 4. because of; by reason of: The woman refused help through pride. 5. by means of: He became rich through hard work and ability. 6. completely; thoroughly: He walked home in the rain and was wet through. 7. going all the way without change: a through train from New York to Chicago. 8. having reached the end of; finished with: We are through school at three o'clock. 9. from beginning to end: She read the book through. 10. along the whole distance; all the way: The train goes through to Boston.

11. having reached the end; finished: I am almost through. 1,3-5,8 prep., 2,6,9,10 adv., 7,11 adj. Also, thro, thro', thru.

through and through, completely; thoroughly.

through out (thrū out/), 1. all the way through; through all; in every part of: The Fourth of July is celebrated throughout the United States. 2. in every part: The house is well built throughout. 1 prep., 2 adv.

throve (thrōv), a pt. of thrive. v.

throw (thrō), 1. cast; toss; hurl: throw a ball. The fire hose threw water on the fire. 2. a cast, toss, etc. 3. distance a thing is or may be thrown. 4. bring to the ground: His horse threw him. 5. put carelessly or in haste: throw a man into prison. She threw a cloak over her shoulders. 6. turn, direct, or move, especially quickly: She threw a glance at each car that passed us. 7. move (a lever, etc.) that connects or disconnects parts of a switch, clutch, or other mechanism. 8. connect or disconnect thus. 9. shed. A snake throws its skin. 10. of some animals, bring forth (young). 11. U.S. Informal. let an opponent win (a race, game, etc.), often for money. 12. scarf; light covering. 13. make a specified cast with dice. 14. a cast at dice; venture. 15. twist (silk) into threads. 1,4-11,13,15 v., threw, thrown, throwing; 2,3,12,14 n. —throw'er, n.

throw away, 1. get rid of; discard. 2. waste.

throw back, revert to an ancestral type.

throw cold water on, discourage.

throw in, add as a gift.

throw off, 1. get rid of. 2. Informal. produce (a poem, etc.) in an offhand manner.

throw oneself at, try very hard to get the love, friendship, or favor of.

throw open, 1. open suddenly or widely. 2. remove all obstacles or restrictions from.

throw out, 1. get rid of; discard. 2. reject.

throw over, give up; discard; abandon.

throw up, 1. Informal. vomit. 2. give up; abandon. 3. build rapidly.

throw back (thrō/bak/), 1. a throwing back. 2. setback or check. 3. reversion to an ancestral type or character; an example of this: The boy seemed to be a throwback to his great-grandfather. n.

thrown (thrōn), pp. of throw. Mary has thrown her old toys away. v.

thru (thrū), through. prep., adv., adj.

thrum¹ (thrʌm), 1. play on a stringed instrument by plucking the strings: thrum a guitar. 2. drum or tap idly with the fingers: thrum on a table. 3. the sound made by thrumming. 1,2 v., thrummed, thrumming; 3 n.

thrum² (thrʌm), 1. loose thread or yarn. 2. fringe. n.

thrush (thrʌʃ), 1. any of a large group of migratory songbirds that includes the robin, the bluebird, the wood thrush, etc. 2. a brown bird with a spotted white breast, that has a very sweet song. n.

thrust (thrʌst), 1. push with force: He thrust his hands into his pockets (v.). She hid the book behind the pillow with a quick thrust (n.). 2. stab: thrust a knife into an apple (v.). A thrust with the sword killed him (n.). 3. an attack. 4. in mechanics, architecture, etc., the force of one thing pushing on another. 5. the endwise push exerted by the rotation of a propeller. 6. the force driving a rocket or a jet engine forward as a reaction to the discharge of gas or liquid through a nozzle or exhaust. 1,2 v., thrust, thrusting; 1-6 n.

thru way (thrū/wā/), an express highway. n.

thud (thud), 1. a dull sound: The book hit the floor with a thud. 2. a blow or thump. 3. hit, move, or strike with a thud. 1,2 n., 3 v., thudded, thudding.

Song thrush
(about 9 in. long)

thug (thug), 1. ruffian; cutthroat. 2. member of a former religious organization of robbers and murderers in India. n.

Thu le (thū'lē), the part of the world that the ancient Greeks and Romans regarded as farthest north; some island or region north of Britain. n.

thu li um (thū'lē əm), a rare element of the yttrium group. Symbol: Tm n.

thumb (thum), 1. the short, thick finger of the human hand, next to the forefinger. 2. part that covers the thumb: the thumb of a millen. 3. soil or wear by handling with the thumbs: The books were badly thumbed. 4. turn pages of (a book, etc.) rapidly, reading only portions. 5. handle awkwardly. 1,2 n., 3-5 v. —thumb'-like', adj.

thumbs down, sign of disapproval or rejection.

thumbs up, sign of approval or acceptance.

under the thumb of, under the power or influence of.

thumb nail (thum'nāl'), 1. nail of the thumb. 2. something very small or short. 3. very small or short. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

thumb screw (thum'skrū'), 1. screw made so that its head can be easily turned with the thumb and a finger. 2. an old instrument of torture that squeezed the thumbs. n.

thumb tack (thum'tak'), tack with a broad, flat head, that can be pressed into a wall, board, etc., with the thumb. n.

thump (thump), 1. strike with something thick and heavy: He thumped the table with his fist. 2. strike against (something) heavily and noisily: The shutters thumped the wall in the wind. 3. a blow with something thick and heavy; heavy knock: The thief hit him a thump on the head. 4. the dull sound made by a blow, knock, or fall: We heard the thump as he fell. 5. make a dull sound; pound: The hammer thumped against the wood. 6. beat violently: His heart thumped. 7. beat or thrash severely. 1,2,5-7 v., 3,4 n. —thump'er, n.

thun der (thun'dər), 1. the loud noise that often follows a flash of lightning. It is caused by a disturbance of the air resulting from the discharge of electricity. 2. give forth thunder. 3. any noise like thunder: the thunder of Niagara Falls, a thunder of applause. 4. make a noise like thunder: The cannon thundered. 5. utter very loudly; roar: thunder a reply. 6. threat. 7. threaten. 8. denunciation. 9. denounce. 1,3,6,8 n., 2,4,5,7,9 v. —thun'der er, n.

steal one's thunder, use another's idea or method without asking him or giving him credit.

thun der bolt (thun'dər bōlt'), 1. a flash of lightning and the thunder that follows it. 2. something sudden, startling, and terrible: The news of his death came as a thunderbolt. n.

thun der clap (thun'dər klap'), 1. a loud crash of thunder. 2. something sudden or startling. n.

thun der cloud (thun'dər kloud'), a dark, electrically charged cloud that brings thunder and lightning. n.

thun der head (thun'dər hed'), one of the round, swelling masses of cumulus clouds often appearing before thunderstorms and frequently developing into thunderclouds. n.

thun der ous (thun'dər əs), 1. producing thunder. 2. making a noise like thunder. adj.

thun der show er (thun'dər shou'ər), shower with thunder and lightning. n.

Thumbscrews
(def. 1)

Thumbscrew used in torture

thun der squall (thun'dər skwōl'), squall with thunder and lightning. n.

thun der storm (thun'dər stōrm'), storm with thunder and lightning. n.

thun der struck (thun'dər struk'), overcome, as if hit by a thunderbolt; astonished; amazed. adj.

Thurs. or Thur., Thursday.

Thurs day (thērz/dē), the fifth day of the week, following Wednesday. n.

thus (thʌs), 1. in this way; in the way just stated, indicated, etc.; in the following manner: He spoke thus. 2. accordingly; consequently; therefore: Thus we decided that he was wrong. 3. to this extent or degree; so: thus far. adv.

thwack (thwak), 1. strike vigorously with a stick or something flat. 2. a sharp blow with a stick or something flat. 1 v., 2 n.

Canoe with thwarts
(def. 3)

thwart (thwōrt), 1. oppose and defeat; keep from doing something: The boy's family thwarted his plans for college. 2. seat across a boat, on which a rower sits. 3. brace in a canoe. 4. lying across. 5. across; crosswise. 1 v., 2,3 n., 4 adj., 5 adv.

thy (thī), Mainly Archaic or Poetic. your: "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done." pron., possessive case of thou; adj.

thyme (tīm), a small plant that has a mintlike fragrance. The leaves of the common garden thyme are used for seasoning. The common wild thyme is a creeping evergreen. n.

thy mus (thī'məs), 1. of or having to do with the thymus gland. 2. the thymus gland. 1 adj., 2 n.

thymus gland, a small ductless gland near the base of the neck. The thymus of calves is used for food and called sweetbread. In man it disappears or becomes rudimentary in the adult.

thy roid (thī'roid), 1. the thyroid gland. 2. medicine made from the thyroid glands of animals, used in the treatment of goiter, obesity, etc. 3. the thyroid cartilage. 4. of or having to do with the thyroid gland or thyroid cartilage. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

thyroid cartilage, the principal cartilage of the larynx, which forms the lump called the Adam's apple.

thyroid gland, an important ductless gland in the neck of vertebrates that affects growth and metabolism. Goiter is an enlargement or a disorder of the thyroid gland.

thy rox in (thī rok'sən), thyroxine. n.

thy rox ine (thī rok'sən), the principal secretion of the thyroid gland. n.

thy self (thī self'), yourself. pron.

ti (tē), in music, the seventh tone of the scale; si. See Do² for diagram. n.

ti ar a (tī ār'ə), 1. band of gold, jewels, or flowers worn around the head as an ornament. 2. the triple crown of the Pope. 3. an ancient Persian head-dress for men. n.

Tiara (def. 1)

Ti ber (tī'bər), river flowing from central Italy past Rome into the Mediterranean. 244 mi. n.

Ti be ri as (tī bir'ē əs), Sea of, a freshwater lake in NE Israel. 14 mi. long. n. Also, Sea of Galilee.

Ti bet (ti bet'), a former country of central Asia, now claimed by China as the Tibetan Autonomous Region. 1,275,000 pop.; 470,000 sq. mi. n.

Ti bet an (ti bet'n), 1. of or having to do with Tibet, its people, or their language. 2. member of the group of native Mongoloid people of Tibet. 3. the Indochinese language of Tibet. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

Tiara (def. 2)

tib i a (tib'ē ə), the inner and thicker of the two bones of the leg from the knee to the ankle; shinbone. See fibula for diagram. n., pl. tib i ae (-ē ē) or tib i as.

tic (tik), a habitual, involuntary twitching of the muscles, especially those of the face. n.

tick¹ (tik), 1. sound made by a clock or watch. 2. make a tick. 3. sound like it. 4. mark off: The clock ticked away the minutes. 5. Informal. moment; instant. 6. a small mark. We use ✓ or / as a tick. 7. mark with a tick; check: He ticked off the items one by one. 1, 3, 5, 6 n., 2, 4, 7 v.

tick² (tik), a tiny insect or spider that lives on animals and sucks their blood. n.

tick³ (tik), 1. the cloth covering of a mattress or pillow. 2. Informal. ticking. n.

tick er (tik'ər), 1. person or thing that ticks. 2. a telegraphic instrument that prints market reports or news on a paper tape. n.

ticker tape, a paper tape on which a ticker prints market reports or news.

tick et (tik'it), 1. card or piece of paper that gives its holder a right or privilege: a theater ticket. 2. Informal. summons given to an offender to appear in court, usually with reference to traffic violations: a ticket for speeding. 3. card or piece of paper attached to something to show its price, etc. 4. put a ticket on, mark with a ticket: All articles in the store are ticketed with the price. 5. U.S. the list of candidates to be voted on that belong to one political party. 1-3, 5 n., 4 v.

tick ing (tik'ing), a strong cotton or linen cloth, used to cover mattresses and pillows and to make tents and awnings. n.

tick le (tik'l), 1. touch lightly causing little thrills, shivers, or wriggles. 2. have a feeling like this; cause to have such a feeling: My nose tickles. 3. a tingling or itching feeling. 4. excite pleasantly; amuse: The story tickled him. The child was tickled with his new toys. 5. play, stir, get, etc., with light touches or strokes. 6. a tickling. 1, 2, 4, 5 v., tick led, tick ling; 3, 6 n.

tick ler (tik'lər), 1. person or thing that tickles; especially, a small feather brush used to tickle the faces of others, at a carnival, etc. 2. a memorandum book, card index, or other device kept as a reminder. 3. Informal. a difficult or puzzling problem. n.

tick lish (tik'lish), 1. sensitive to tickling. 2. requiring careful handling; delicate; risky: Telling a girl her faults is a ticklish job. 3. easily upset; unstable: A canoe is a ticklish craft. 4. easily offended. adj. —tick'lish ly, adv. —tick'lish ness, n.

tick-tock (tik'tok'), the sound made by a clock or watch. n.

Ti con der o ga (ti'kon dər ō'gə), village and old fort on Lake Champlain, in New York State. n.

tid al (tid'l), 1. of tides; having tides; caused by tides. 2. dependent on the state of the tide as to time of arrival and departure: a tidal steamer. adj.

tidal wave, 1. a large, destructive ocean wave produced by an earthquake, hurricane, etc. 2. either of two great swellings of the ocean surface (due to the attraction of the moon and sun) that move around the globe on opposite sides and cause the tides. 3. any great movement or manifestation of feeling, opinion, or the like: a tidal wave of popular indignation.

tid bit (tid'bit'), a very pleasing bit of food, news, etc. n. Also, titbit.

tide (tid), 1. the rise and fall of the ocean about every twelve hours, caused by the attraction of the moon and the sun. 2. anything that rises and falls like the tide: the tide of popular opinion. 3. carry as the tide does. 4. stream; current; flood. 5. season; time: Christmas-tide. 1, 2, 4, 5 n., 3 v., tid ed, tid ing. —tide/less, adj.

tide over, 1. help along for a time. 2. overcome (a difficulty, etc.).

turn the tide, change from one condition to the opposite.

tide land (tid'land'), submerged coastal land within the historical boundaries of a State and belonging to that State (according to an act passed by the Congress of the United States in May 1953). n.

tide wa ter (tid'wō'tər), 1. water having tides.

2. seacoast. 3. of or along tidewater. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

tide way (tid'wā'), 1. a channel in which a tidal current runs. 2. the current in such a channel. n.

ti di ness (ti'dē nis) neatness. n.

ti dings (ti'dingz), news; information: The messenger brought tidings from the battle front. n.pl.

ti dy (ti'dē), 1. neat and in order: a tidy room. 2. put in order; make tidy: She tidied the room. 3. inclined to keep things neat and in order: a tidy person. 4. Informal. considerable; fairly large: a tidy sum of money. 5. Informal. fairly good. 6. a small cover to keep the back of a chair, etc., from becoming dirty or worn. 1, 3-5 adj., ti di er, ti di est; 2 v., ti died, ti dy ing; 6 n., pl. ti dies. —ti'di ly, adv.

tie (ti), 1. fasten with string or the like; bind: tie a package. 2. arrange to form a bow or knot: tie one's apron strings. 3. fasten; form a bow: That ribbon doesn't tie well. 4. tighten and fasten the string or strings of: tie one's shoes. 5. anything connecting or holding together two or more things or parts.

6. cord, chain, etc., used for tying. 7. a knot; ornamental knot. 8. necktie. 9. fasten, join, or connect in any way; make a bond or connection. 10. thing that unites; bond; obligation: family ties. 11. restrain; restrict; limit: He did not want to be tied to a steady job. 12. a heavy piece of timber or iron. The rails of a railroad track are fastened to ties about a foot apart. 13. a connecting beam, rod, or the like. 14. equality in points, votes, etc.: The game ended in a tie, 3 to 3. 15. make the same score; be equal in points: The two teams tied. 16. make the same score as: Harvard tied Yale in football. 17. in music, a curved line set above or below notes that are to be played or sung continuously. 18. connect (notes) by a tie. 1-4, 9, 11, 15, 16, 18 v., tied, ty ing; 5-8, 10, 12-14, 17 n.

ties, low laced shoes.

tie down, limit; confine; restrict.

tie up, 1. tie firmly or tightly. 2. wrap up. 3. hinder; stop. 4. keep (money or property) from being used, sold, or given away.

Tien tsin (tin'tsin'), city in NE China. 3,100,000. n.

tier¹ (tir), 1. one of a series of rows arranged one above another: tiers of seats at a baseball game. 2. arrange in tiers. 1 n., 2 v.

tier² (tir), person or thing that ties. n.

tierce (tirs), 1. cask holding 42 United States gallons. 2. sequence of three playing cards. 3. the third position in fencing. 4. a musical third. 5. service for the third canonical hour. n.

Tier ra del Fue go (tyer'ə del fwā'gō), group of islands at the S end of South America. Part belongs to Argentina, part to Chile. 28,000 sq. mi.

tie-up (ti'up'), 1. a stopping of work or action on account of a strike, storm, accident, etc. 2. Informal. connection; relation. n.

tiff (tif), 1. a little quarrel. 2. have a little quarrel. 3. a slight ill humor. 4. be slightly peevish; be in a huff. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v.

tif fin (tif'ən), in India, lunch. n.

Tif lis (tif'lis), capital of the republic of Georgia, in SW Soviet Union. 694,000. n.

ti ger (ti'gər), 1. a large, fierce Asiatic mammal of the cat family that has dull-yellow fur striped with black. 2. U.S. Informal. an extra yell at the end of a cheer. n. —ti'ger like, adj.

Ties (def. 12)

Musical tie

Bengal tiger (about 10 ft. long, including the tail) tiger beetle, beetle whose larvae live in burrows in sandy soil and catch insects that come near.

tiger cat, 1. wildcat smaller than a tiger but resembling it in markings or ferocity. 2. a domestic cat with cross stripes suggesting those of a tiger.

tigerish (tī'gar ish), like a tiger; fierce; cruel. adj.

tiger lily, lily that has dull-orange flowers spotted with black.

tiger moth, any of a group of moths having conspicuously spotted or striped wings.

tiger's-eye (tī'garz ī'), a golden-brown semiprecious stone with a changeable luster, composed chiefly of quartz, colored with iron oxide. n.

tight (tīt), 1. firm; held firmly; packed or put together firmly: a tight knot. 2. firmly. 3. drawn; stretched: a tight canvas. 4. close; fitting closely; fitting too closely: tight clothing. 5. Dialect, well-built; trim; neat. 6. not letting water, air, or gas in or out: The tight roof kept rain from leaking in. 7. hard to deal with or manage; difficult: His lies got him in a tight place. 8. Informal, almost even; close: It was a tight race. 9. hard to get; scarce: Money is tight just now. 10. Informal, stingy. 11. Slang, drunk. 1,3-11 adj., 2 adv. —tight/ly, adv. —tight/ness, n.

sit tight, Informal. keep the same position, opinion, etc.

tight en (tīt'n), 1. make tight: He tightened his belt. 2. become tight: The rope tightened as I pulled it. v.

tight-fisted (tīt'fis/tid), stingy. adj.

tight-lipped (tīt'lipt'), 1. keeping the lips firmly together. 2. saying little or nothing. adj.

tight rope (tīt'rōp'), rope stretched tight on which acrobats perform. n.

tights (tīts), a close-fitting garment worn by acrobats, dancers, etc. n.pl.

tight wad (tīt'wod'), U.S. Slang, a stingy person. n.

tigress (tī'gris), a female tiger. n.

Ti gris (tī'gris), river flowing from SE Turkey through Iraq, where it joins the Euphrates River and empties into the Persian Gulf. 1150 mi. See Euphrates for map. n.

tigrish (tī'grish), tigerish. adj.

tike (tīk), tyke. n.

til bu ry (til'bār ē), a light two-wheeled carriage without a top. n., pl. til bu ries.

til de (tīl'də), 1. a diacritical mark (~) used over n in Spanish when it is pronounced ny, as in canón (kā'nōn'). 2. the same mark, used over certain vowels in Portuguese to indicate that they are nasal, as in São (sou'n). The Portuguese name for this mark is til. 3. in the pronunciations in this book, a mark used over a to show that it is pronounced as in fare (fār). n.

Til den (tīl'd'n), Samuel Jones, 1814-1886, American statesman. n.

tile (tīl), 1. a thin piece of baked clay, stone, etc. Tiles are used for covering roofs, paving floors, and ornamenting. 2. pipe for draining land. 3. tiles collectively. 4. put tiles on or in. 5. Informal, a stiff hat; high silk hat. 1-3,5 n., 4 v., tiled, til ing.

til ing (tīl'ing), 1. tiles collectively. 2. the work of covering with tiles. 3. work consisting of tiles. n.

till¹ (tīl), until; up to the time of; up to the time when: Walk till you come to a white house. prep., conj.

till² (tīl), cultivate (land); plow: Farmers till the land. v. —till/a ble, adj.

till³ (tīl), 1. a small drawer for money under or behind a counter. 2. formerly, a drawer or tray for keeping valuables. n.

till age (tīl'ij), 1. cultivation of land. 2. fact or condition of being tilled. 3. tilled land. 4. crops growing on tilled land. n.

till er¹ (tīl'ər), bar or handle used to turn the rudder in steering a boat. n.

till er² (tīl'ər), person who tills land; farmer. n.

tilt (tīlt), 1. slope; slant; lean; tip: You tilt your head forward when you bow. This table tilts. 2. a slope; sloping position; a slant. 3. rush, charge, or fight with lances.

Knights used to tilt on horseback. 4. a fight on horseback with lances.

5. point or thrust (a lance).

6. any dispute or quarrel. 7. a heavy, pivoted hammer. 8. forge or hammer with a heavy, pivoted hammer. 1,3,5,8 v., 2,4,6,7 n.

full tilt, at full speed; with full force: His car ran full tilt against the tree.

tilt at, attack; fight; protest against.

tilt at windmills, attack imaginary enemies.

tilth (tīlt), 1. cultivation of land. 2. tilled land. n.

tim bale (tim'bl), 1. minced meat, fish, vegetables, etc., prepared with a sauce and cooked in a mold. 2. a mold made of pastry. n.

tim ber (tim'bər), 1. U.S. wood used for building and making things. 2. a large piece of wood used in building. Beams and rafters are timbers. 3. a curved piece forming a rib of a ship. 4. U.S. growing trees; forests: Half of his land is covered with timber. 5. cover, support, or furnish with timber. 1-4 n., 5 v.

tim bered (tim'bərd), 1. made or furnished with timber. 2. covered with growing trees. adj.

timber hitch, knot used to fasten a rope around a spar, post, etc.

tim ber ing (tim'bər ing), 1. building material of wood. 2. timbers collectively. 3. work made of timbers. n.

tim ber land (tim'bər land'), land with trees that are, or will be, useful for timber. n.

timber line, line beyond which trees will not grow on mountains and in the polar regions because of the cold.

timber wolf, a large gray or brindled wolf of North America.

tim bre (tim'bər or tam'bər), the quality in sounds that distinguishes a certain voice, instrument, etc., from other voices, instruments, etc. Notes of the same pitch and loudness may differ in timbre. n.

tim brel (tim'brəl), tambourine. n.

Tim buk tu (tim buk'tü or tim'buk tü'), city in central Mali. 7000. n.

time (tīm), 1. all the days there have been or ever will be; the past, present, and future. 2. a part of time: A minute is a short time. 3. period of time; epoch: the time of the Stuarts in England. 4. a long time: What a time it took you! 5. some point in time; a particular point in time: What time is it? 6. the right part or point of time: It is time to eat. 7. occasion: This time we will succeed. 8. way of reckoning time: daylight-saving time. 9. condition of life: War brings hard times. 10. amount of time: I have some time for rest. 11. experience during a certain time: She had a good time at the party. 12. rate of movement in music or poetry; rhythm: march time, waltz time, beat time, keep time. 13. length of a note or rest in music. 14. amount of time that one has worked or should work. 15. pay for this. 16. leisure: have time to read. 17. measure the time of: time a race. 18. do at regular times; do in rhythm with; set the time of: The dancers timed their steps to the music. 19. choose the moment or occasion for: The lady timed her entrance so that she went in when the prince did. 20. of or having to do with time. 21. provided with a clocklike mechanism so that it will explode or ignite at a given moment:

Tilt (def. 4)

Timber wolf (about 5 ft. long, including the tail) a time bomb. 22. having to do with purchases to be paid for at a future date. 1-16 n., 17-19 v., timed, tim ing; 20-22 adj.

times, multiplied by; X.

against time, trying to finish before a certain time.

at the same time, however; nevertheless.

at times, now and then; once in a while.

behind the times, old-fashioned; out of date.

for the time being, for the present; for now.

from time to time, now and then; once in a while.

in good time, 1. at the right time. 2. soon; quickly.

in time, 1. after a while. 2. soon enough. 3. in the right rate of movement in music, dancing, marching, etc.

on time, 1. at the right time; not late. 2. with time in which to pay.

time after time or time and again, again and again.

time out of mind, beyond memory or record.

time card (tīm'kărd'), 1. card for recording the amount of time that a person works. 2. card showing the times of trains, etc. n.

time clock, clock with a device to record the time when workers arrive and leave.

time exposure, 1. exposure of a photographic film for a certain time, longer than a half second. 2. photograph taken in this way.

time fuse, fuse that will burn for a certain time.

time-honored (tīm'on'ərd), honored because old and established: a time-honored custom. adj.

time keeper (tīm'kēp'ər), measurer of time; person or thing that keeps time: The factory timekeeper keeps account of the hours of work done. My watch is an excellent timekeeper. The timekeeper beat time for the musicians. n.

time less (tīm'lis), 1. never ending; eternal. 2. referring to no special time. adj.

time ly (tīm'lē), at the right time: The timely arrival of the police stopped the riot. adj., time li er, time li est. —time/li ness, n.

time piece (tīm'pēs'), clock or watch. n.

tim er (tīm'ər), 1. person or thing that times; timekeeper. 2. device for indicating or recording intervals of time, such as a stop watch. 3. in an internal-combustion engine, an automatic device that causes the spark for igniting the charge to occur just at the time required. n.

time serv er (tīm'sēr'vər), person who for selfish purposes shapes his conduct to conform with the opinions of the time or of the persons in power. n.

time serv ing (tīm'sēr'vīng), shaping one's conduct to conform with the opinions of the time or of persons in power, especially for selfish reasons. adj., n.

time ta ble (tīm'tā'bl), schedule showing the times when trains, boats, buses, airplanes, etc., arrive and depart. n.

time worn (tīm'wōrn'), worn by long existence or use. adj.

tim id (tīm'id), easily frightened; shy. adj. —tim'id ly, adv. —tim'id ness, n.

ti mid i ty (tā mid'ə tē), being timid; shyness. n.

tim ing (tīm'īng), regulation of the speed of motions, musical tempo, play of cards, etc., to secure the greatest possible effect. n.

Ti mor (tē'môr), island in the East Indies. Part belongs to Indonesia and part to Portugal. 792,000 pop.; 13,090 sq. mi. n.

tim or ous (tīm'ər əs), easily frightened; timid. adj. —tim'or ous ly, adv. —tim'or ous ness, n.

Tim or Sea, sea between Timor and N Australia.

tim o thy (tīm'ə thē), a kind of coarse grass with long, cylindrical spikes, often grown for hay. n.

Tim o thy (tīm'ə thē), 1. a disciple of the Apostle Paul. 2. either of the two books of the New Testament written as letters by Paul to Timothy. n.

tim pa ni (tīm'pə nē), kettledrums. n. pl. of tim pa no (tīm'pə nō).

tim pa nist (tīm'pə nist), person who plays the kettledrums. n.

tin (tin), 1. a metallic element resembling silver in color and luster but softer and cheaper. Symbol: Sn
2. thin sheets of iron or steel coated with tin. 3. made of tin. 4. cover with tin. 5. any can, box, pan, or other container made of tin: a pie tin. 6. Brit. put up in tin cans or tin boxes; can. 1,2,5 n., 3 adj., 4,6 v., tinned, tin ning.
tin a mou (tin'ə mü), a South American bird somewhat like a partridge, quail, or grouse. n.

Tinamou (about 14 in. long) tinct (tingkt), Poetic. 1. tinged. 2. tint; tinge. 1 adj., 2 n.

tinct ure (tingk'chər), 1. solution of medicine in alcohol: tincture of iodine. 2. trace; tinge. 3. give a trace or tinge to: Everything he says is tinted with conceit. 4. color; tint. 1,2,4 n., 3,4 v., tinctured, tinc tur ing.

tin der (tin'dər), 1. anything that catches fire easily. 2. material used to catch fire from a spark. n.

tin der box (tin'dər boks'), box for holding tinder, flint and steel for making a fire. n.

tine (tin), a sharp projecting point or prong: the tines of a fork. n.

tin foil, a very thin sheet of tin, or tin and lead, used as a wrapping for candy, tobacco, etc.

ting (ting), 1. make or cause to make a clear ringing sound. 2. a clear ringing sound. 1 v., 2 n.

tinge (tinj), 1. color slightly: A drop of ink will tinge a glass of water. 2. a slight coloring or tint: There is a tinge of red in her cheeks. 3. add a trace of some quality to; change slightly: Sad memories tinged their present joy. 4. a very small amount; trace: She likes just a tinge of lemon in her tea. 1,3 v., tinged, tinge ing or ting ing; 2,4 n.

ting le (ting'gl), 1. have a feeling of thrills or a pricking, stinging feeling: He tingled with excitement on his first train trip. 2. a pricking, stinging feeling. 3. cause this feeling in: Shame tingled his cheeks. 4. be thrilling: The newspaper story tingled with excitement. 5. tinkle; jingle. 1,3-5 v., tin gled, tin gling; 2,5 n.

tink er (tingk'ər), 1. man who mends pots, pans, etc. 2. mend; patch. 3. work or repair in an unskilled or clumsy way. 4. work or keep busy in a rather useless way. 5. unskilled or clumsy work; activity that is rather useless. 6. person who does such work. 1,5,6 n., 2-4 v.

tin kle (ting'kl), 1. make short, light, ringing sounds: Little bells tinkle. 2. cause to tinkle. 3. series of short, light, ringing sounds: the tinkle of sleigh bells. 4. move with a tinkle. 5. call, make known, etc., by tinkling: The little clock tinkled out the hours. 1,2,4,5 v., tin kled, tin kling; 3 n.

tin man (tin'mən), 1. man who works with tin. 2. dealer in tinware. n.

tin ner (tin'ər), 1. person who works in a tin mine. 2. person who works with tin. 3. Brit. a canner. n.

tin ny (tin'ē), 1. of tin; containing tin. 2. like tin in looks or sound. adj., tin ni er, tin ni est. —tin'ni ness, n.

tin-pan alley, district frequented by musicians, song writers, and song publishers.

tin plate, thin sheets of iron or steel coated with tin. Ordinary tin cans are made of tin plate.

tin sel (tin'sl), 1. glittering copper, brass, etc., in thin sheets, strips, threads, etc., used to trim Christmas trees, etc. 2. anything showy but having little value. 3. of or like tinsel; showy but not worth much. 4. trim with tinsel. 5. a thin cloth woven with threads of gold, silver, or copper. 1,2,5 n., 3 adj., 4 v., tin seled, tin sel ing or esp. Brit. tin selled, tin sel ling. —tin'-sel like', adj.

tin smith (tin'smith'), person who works with tin; maker of tinware. n.

tint (tint), 1. variety of a color: The picture was painted in several tints of blue. 2. a delicate or pale color. 3. put a tint on; color slightly. 1,2 n., 3 v.

tin type (tin'tip/), photograph taken on a sheet of enameled tin or iron. n.

tin ware (tin'wār/), articles made of tin. n.

tiny (tī'nē), very small; wee. adj., ti ni er, ti ni est.

-tion, suffix meaning:

1. act or state of —ing, as in addition, opposition.

2. condition or state of being —ed, as in exhaustion.

3. result of —ing, as in apparition.

tip¹ (tip), 1. the end part; end; point; the tips of the fingers. 2. a small piece put on the end of something. 3. put a tip on; furnish with a tip. 1,2 n., 3 v., tipped, tip ping.

tip² (tip), 1. slope; slant: She tipped the table toward her. 2. upset; overturn: He tipped over his glass of water. 3. take off (a hat) in greeting. 4. empty out; dump: She tipped the money in her purse onto the table. 1-4 v., tipped, tip ping; 1 n.

tip³ (tip), 1. a small present of money: He gave the waiter a tip. 2. give a small present of money to. 3. piece of secret information: Fred had a tip that the black horse would win the race. 4. give secret information to. 5. give a tip. 6. a useful hint, suggestion, etc. 7. hit lightly and sharply; tap. 8. a light, sharp blow; tap. 1,3,6,8 n., 2,4,5,7 v., tipped, tip ping.

tip off, Informal. 1. give secret information to. 2. warn.

tip-off (tip'ōf/), Informal. 1. piece of secret information. 2. a warning. n.

Tip per ar y (tip'ər ār'ē), 1. county in the S part of the Irish Republic. 2. town located there. 5000. n.

tip pet (tip'it), 1. scarf for the neck and shoulders with ends hanging down in front. 2. a long, narrow, hanging part of a hood, sleeve, or scarf. n.

tip ple (tip'l/), 1. drink (alcoholic liquor) often. 2. an alcoholic liquor. 1 v., tip pled, tip pling; 2 n.

tip pler (tip'lər), a habitual drinker of alcoholic liquor. n.

tip ster (tip'stər), Informal. person who makes a business of furnishing private or secret information for use in betting, speculation, etc. n.

tip sy (tip'sē), 1. tipping easily; unsteady; tilted. 2. somewhat intoxicated but not thoroughly drunk. adj., tip si er, tip si est. —tip'sily, adv. —tip'si ness, n.

tip toe (tip'tō/), 1. the tips of the toes. 2. walk on the tips of the toes. 1 n., 2 v., tip toed, tip toe ing.

on tiptoe, 1. walking on one's toes. 2. eager. 3. in a secret manner.

tip top (tip'top/), 1. the very top; highest point. 2. at the very top or highest point. 3. Informal. first-rate; excellent. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

ti rade (tī'rād or tərād/), 1. a long, vehement speech. 2. a long, scolding speech. n.

Ti ra na (ti rā'nə), capital of Albania, in the central part. 110,000. n.

tire¹ (tīr), 1. make weary: The work tired him. 2. become weary: He tires easily. v., tired, tir ing. tire out, make very weary.

tire² (tīr), 1. band of rubber or metal around a wheel. 2. furnish with a tire. 1 n., 2 v., tired, tir ing. Also, Brit. tyre.

tired¹ (tīrd), weary; wearied; exhausted: I am tired, but I must get back to work. adj. —tired'ly, adv. —tired'ness, n.

tired² (tīrd), having (a particular kind of) tires: a rubber-tired vehicle. adj.

tire less (tīr'lis), 1. never becoming tired; requiring little rest: a tireless worker. 2. never stopping: tireless efforts. adj. —tire'less ly, adv. —tire'less ness, n.

tire some (tīr'səm), tiring; boring: a tiresome speech. adj. —tire'some ly, adv. —tire'some ness, n.

tire wom an (tīr'wūm'ən), Archaic. a lady's maid. n., pl. tire wom en.

tiring room, Archaic. dressing room, especially in a theater.

ti ro (tī'rō), tyro. n., pl. ti ros.

Ti rol (tə rōl' or tīr'ol), region in the Alps, chiefly in Austria and partly in Italy. n. Also, Tyrol.

'tis (tiz), it is.

tis sue (tish'ū), 1. substance forming the parts of animals and plants; a mass of cells: brain tissue, skin tissue. 2. a thin, light cloth. 3. web; network: Her whole story was a tissue of lies. 4. tissue paper. n.

tissue paper, a very thin, soft paper.

tit¹ (tit), 1. titmouse. 2. any of various other small birds. n.

tit² (tit), nipple; teat. n.

Ti tan (tīt'n/), 1. in Greek mythology, one of a family of giants who ruled the world before the gods of Olympus. Prometheus and Atlas were Titans. 2. a giant. 3. the sun thought of as a god. 4. of the Titans; gigantic; huge; very powerful. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

ti tan (tīt'n/), person or thing having enormous size, strength, power, etc.; giant. n.

Ti ta ni a (ti tā'nē ə), in Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream, the queen of the fairies. n.

ti tan ic or Ti tan ic (tī tan'ik), having great size, strength, or power; gigantic; huge: titanic energy. adj.

ti ta ni um (ti tā'nē əm), a metallic element occurring in various minerals. When isolated it is a dark-gray powder with a metallic luster. Symbol: Ti n.

tit bit (tit'bit/), tidbit. n.

tit for tat, blow for blow; like for like.

tithe (tītH), 1. one tenth. 2. Brit. tax of one tenth of the yearly produce of land, animals, and personal work, paid for the support of the church and the clergy. 3. put a tax of a tenth on. 4. pay a tithe on. 5. give one tenth of one's income to the church or to charity. 6. a very small part. 7. any small tax, levy, etc. 1,2,6,7 n., 3-5 v., tithed, tith ing.

ti tian (tish'ən), auburn; golden red. n., adj.

Ti tian (tish'ən), 1477?-1576, Venetian painter. n.

Tit i ca ca (tit'ə kā'kə), Lake, lake between Peru and Bolivia, the highest large lake in the world. 12,508 ft. high; 130 mi. long; 3500 sq. mi. n.

tit il late (tit'l āt), 1. excite pleasantly; stimulate agreeably. 2. tickle. v., tit il lat ed, tit il lat ing.

tit il la tion (tit'al ā'shən), 1. pleasant excitement; agreeable stimulation. 2. a tickling. n.

tit i vate or tit ti vate (tit'ə vāt), Informal. dress up; make smart; prink. v., tit i vated, tit i vat ing; tit ti vated, tit ti vat ing. —tit'i va'tion, tit'ti va'tion, n.

tit lark (tit'lärk/), a small bird like a lark; pipit. n.

ti tle (tī'tl/), 1. the name of a book, poem, picture, song, etc. 2. name showing rank, occupation, or condition in life. King, duke, lord, countess, captain, doctor, professor, Madame, and Miss are titles. 3. call by a title; name. 4. a first-place position; championship: the tennis title. 5. a legal right to the possession of property. 6. evidence showing such a right. 7. a recognized right; claim. 1,2,4-7 n., 3 v., ti tled, ti tling.

ti tled (tī'tld), having a title: She married a titled nobleman. adj.

title page, the page at the beginning of a book that contains the title, the author's name, etc.

title role, the part or character for which a play is named. Hamlet and Othello are title roles.

tit mouse (tit'mous/), any of certain small birds with short bills and dull-colored feathers. A chickadee is one kind of titmouse. n., pl. tit mice.

Ti to (tē'tō), Marshal, born 1892, Yugoslav chief of state since 1945. His real name is Josip Broz. n.

Ti to ism (tē'tō iz əm), principles and practices of Marshall Tito, stressing a form of Communism that places national above international interests. n.

Tippet (def. 2)

ti trate (tī'trāt), 1. analyze (a solution) by titration. 2. solution to be analyzed by titration. 1 v., ti trat ed, ti trating; 2 n.

ti tra tion (tī trā'shən), process of determining the amount of some substance present in a solution by measuring the amount of a different substance that must be added to cause a chemical change. n.

tit ter (tīt'ər), 1. laugh in a half-restrained manner; giggle. 2. a tittering laugh. 1 v., 2 n. —tit'ter er, n.

tit tle (tīt'l), 1. a very little bit; particle; whit. 2. a small stroke or mark over a letter in writing or printing. The dot over an i is a tittle. n.

tit tle-tat tle (tīt'l tāt'l), gossip. n., v., tit tle-tat tled, tit tle-tat tling.

tit u lar (tīch'ə lər), 1. in title or name only: He is a titular prince without any power. 2. having a title. 3. having to do with a title. adj.

tit u lar ly (tīch'ə lər lē), with respect to title. adv.

tiz zy (tiz'ē), Slang. a very excited state; dither. n., pl. tiz zies.

Tm, thulium.

tn., ton.

TNT or T.N.T., a colorless solid used as an explosive in hand grenades, torpedoes, etc. It is trinitrotoluene.

to (tū; unstressed tū or tə), 1. in the direction of: Go to the right. 2. as far as; until: rotten to the core, faithful to the end. 3. for; for the purpose of: He came to the rescue. 4. toward or into the position, condition, or state of: He went to sleep. 5. so as to produce, cause, or result in: To her horror, the beast approached. 6. into: She tore the letter to pieces. 7. along with; with: We danced to the music. 8. compared with: The score was 9 to 5. 9. in agreement or accordance with: It is not to my liking. 10. belonging with; of: the key to my room. 11. in honor of: Drink to the king. 12. on; against: Fasten it to the wall. 13. about; concerning: What did he say to that? 14. in: four apples to the pound. 15. To is used to show action toward: Give the book to me. Speak to her. 16. To is used with the infinitive form of verbs: He likes to read. The birds began to sing. "To err is human; to forgive, divine." 17. forward: He wore his cap wrong side to. 18. together; touching; closed: The door slammed to. 19. to action or work: We turned to gladly. 20. to consciousness: She came to. 1-16 prep., 17-20 adv. to and fro, first one way and then back again; back and forth.

toad (tōd), 1. a small amphibian somewhat like a frog, living most of the time on land rather than in water. 2. any tailless amphibian; any frog. n.

toad fish (tōd'fīsh'), fish with a thick head, a wide mouth, and slimy skin without scales. n.

toad flax (tōd'flaks'), a common weed with yellow-and-orange flowers. n.

toad stool (tōd'stūl'), 1. mushroom. 2. a poisonous mushroom. n.

toad y (tōd'ē), 1. a fawning flatterer. 2. act like a toady. 3. fawn upon; flatter. 1 n., pl. toadies; 2,3 v., toad ied, toad y ing.

toad y ism (tōd'ē iz əm), the action or behavior of a toady; interested flattery; mean servility. n.

to-and-fro (tū'ənd frō'), back-and-forth. adj.

toast¹ (tōst), 1. slices of bread browned by heat. 2. brown by heat. 3. heat thoroughly: He toasted his feet by the fire. 1 n., 2,3 v.

toast² (tōst), 1. person or thing whose health is proposed and drunk: "The King" was the first toast drunk by the officers. 2. act of drinking to the health of a person or thing. 3. propose as a toast; drink to the health of: The men toasted the general. 1,2 n., 3 v.

toast er¹ (tōs'tər), 1. one who toasts something.

2. an instrument for toasting bread, cheese, etc. n.

toast er² (tōs'tər), one who proposes a toast. n.

Toad
(about 3 in. long)

Toadstools

toast mas ter (tōst'mas'tər), 1. person who presides at a dinner and introduces the speakers. 2. person who proposes toasts. n.

to bac co (tə bak'ō), 1. the prepared leaves of certain plants, used for smoking or chewing or as snuff. 2. one of these plants. n., pl. to bac cos or to bac coes.

to bac co nist (tə bak'ə nist), dealer in tobacco. n.

To ba go (tə bā'gō), an island in the West Indies, near Venezuela. 33,000 pop.; 116 sq. mi. n.

to bog gan (tə bog'an), 1. a long, narrow, flat sled without runners. 2. slide downhill on a toboggan. 3. decline sharply and rapidly in value. 1 n., 2,3 v.

Toboggan

To by (tō'bē), small, flat jug or mug in the form of a fat man wearing a long coat and a three-cornered hat. n., pl. To bies.

toc sin (tok'sin), 1. alarm sounded on a bell; warning signal. 2. bell used to sound an alarm. n.

to day or to-day (tə dā'), 1. this day; the present time. 2. on this day. 3. at the present time; now: Many girls wear their hair short today. 1 n., 2,3 adv.

tod dle (tod'l), 1. walk with short, unsteady steps, as a baby does. 2. a toddling way of walking. 1 v., tod dled, tod dling; 2 n.

tod dler (tod'lər), child just learning to walk. n.

tod dy (tod'ē), 1. fermented palm sap. 2. drink made of whiskey, brandy, etc., with hot water and sugar. n., pl. tod dies.

to-do (tə dū'), Informal. fuss; bustle. n., pl. to-dos. toe (tō), 1. one of the five end parts of the foot. 2. the part of a stocking, shoe, etc., that covers the toes. 3. the forepart of a foot or hoof. 4. anything like a toe: the toe and heel of a golf club. 5. touch or reach with the toes: toe a line. 6. turn the toes in walking, standing, etc.: toe in, toe out. 7. furnish with a toe or toes. 8. drive (a nail) slantwise. 9. fasten by nails driven slantwise. 1-4 n., 5-9 v., toed, toe ing. —toe/less, adj.

on one's toes, ready for action; alert.

toed (tōd), having a certain number or kind of toes: a five-toed animal. adj.

toe nail (tō'nāl'), 1. the nail growing on a toe of the human foot. 2. in carpentry, a nail driven obliquely. n.

tof fee (tōf'ē), a hard chewy candy; taffy. n., pl. tof fees.

tof fy (tōf'ē), toffee. n., pl. tof fies.

tog (tog), 1. garment. 2. clothe; dress.

1 n., 2 v., togged, tog ging.

togs, Informal. clothes.

to ga (tō'gə), 1. a loose outer garment worn by men of ancient Rome. 2. robe of office. n., pl. to gas, to gae (-jē).

to geth er (tə gēth'ər), 1. with each other; in company: They were standing together. 2. into one gathering, company, mass, or body: The pastor called the people together. The woman will sew these pieces together and make a dress. 3. at the same time: You cannot have day and night together. 4. without a stop or break; continuously: He worked for days together. adv. together with, along with.

tog ger y (tog'ər ē), Informal. garments; clothes. n.

tog gle (tog'l), 1. pin, bolt, or rod put through the eye of a rope or the link of a chain to keep it in place, to hold two ropes together, to serve as a hold for the fingers, etc. 2. a toggle joint, or a device furnished with one. 3. furnish with a toggle; fasten with a toggle. 1,2 n., 3 v., tog gled, tog gling.

toggle joint, a kneelike joint that transmits pressure at right angles.

To go (tō'gō), a republic in W Africa, formerly a French trust territory and part of Togoland. 1,642,000 pop.; 22,000 sq. mi. Capital: Lomé. n.

Toggle joint

Roman toga

To go land (tō'gō land'), a former German protectorate in W Africa, on the Gulf of Guinea, later under British and French control. The former British part is now a part of Ghana; the French part is now the Togo republic, and was formerly a trust territory under the United Nations. n.

toil¹ (toil), 1. hard work; labor. 2. work hard. 3. move with difficulty, pain, or weariness. 1 n., 2,3 v. —toil'er, n.

toil² (toil), net; snare: caught in the toils of the law. n.

toi let (toi'lit), 1. bathroom. 2. a porcelain bowl with a seat and a drain connected to a water tank to flush the bowl clean. 3. process of dressing. Bathing, combing the hair, and putting on one's clothes are all part of one's toilet. 4. of or for the toilet. Combs and brushes are toilet articles. 5. set of toilet articles. 6. dressing table. 7. a person's dress; costume. 1-3,5-7 n., 4 adj.

toi let ry (toi'lit rē), soap, face powder, perfumery, or other articles for the toilet. n., pl. toi let ries.

toi lette (toi let' or twä let'), toilet (defs. 3 and 7). n.

toilet water, a fragrant liquid not so strong as perfume.

toil some (toil'səm), requiring hard work; laborious; wearisome. adj.

toil worn (toil'wörn'), worn by toil; showing the effects of toil. adj.

to ken (tō'kən), 1. mark or sign: Black is a token of mourning. 2. sign of friendship; keepsake: She received many birthday tokens. 3. piece of metal stamped for a higher value than the metal is worth. Tokens are used for some purposes instead of money. 4. piece of metal indicating a right or privilege: This token will admit you to the swimming pool. 5. something that is a sign of genuineness or authority. 6. having only the appearance of; serving as a symbol; nominal; partial: a token payment, token resistance. 7. Archaic. a signal. 1-5,7 n., 6 adj.

by the same token, because of this.

in token of, as a token of; to show.

To ky o or To ki o (tō'kē ō), capital of Japan, in the SE part. 9,000,000. n.

told (tōld), pt. and pp. of tell. You told me that last week. We were told to wait. v.

all told, including all.

To le do (tə lē'dō), 1. city in NW Ohio. 318,000.

2. city in central Spain. 40,000. 3. a fine sword or sword blade made in Toledo, Spain. n.

tol er a ble (tol'ər ə bl), 1. able to be borne or endured. 2. fairly good: She is in tolerable health. adj. —tol'er a ble ness, n. —tol'er a bly, adv.

tol er ance (tol'ər əns), 1. a willingness to be tolerant and patient toward people whose opinions or ways differ from one's own. 2. the power of enduring or resisting the action of a drug, poison, etc. 3. action of tolerating. 4. an allowed amount of variation from a standard, as in the weight of coins or the dimensions of a machine or part. n.

tol er ant (tol'ər ənt), 1. willing to let other people do as they think best; willing to endure beliefs and actions of which one does not approve: The United States government is tolerant toward all religious beliefs. 2. able to endure or resist the action of a drug, poison, etc. adj. —tol'er ant ly, adv.

tol er ate (tol'ər ət), 1. allow; permit: A nation at war will not tolerate treason. 2. bear; endure; put up with: They tolerated the grouchy old man only because he was their employer. 3. endure or resist the action of (a drug, poison, etc.). v., tol er at ed, tol er at ing.

tol er a tion (tol'ər ə'shən), 1. willingness to put up with beliefs and actions of which one does not approve. 2. recognition of a person's right to worship as he thinks best without loss of civil rights or social privileges; freedom of worship. n.

To li ma (tō lē'mä), an extinct volcanic peak of the Andes, in W Colombia. 18,438 ft. n.

toll¹ (tōl), 1. sound with single strokes slowly and regularly repeated: Bells were tolled all over the country at the President's death. 2. stroke or sound of a bell being tolled. 3. act or fact of tolling. 4. call, announce, etc., by tolling. 1,4 v., 2,3 n.

toll² (tōl), 1. tax or fee paid for some right or privilege: We pay a toll when we use the bridge. 2. collect tolls from; take as toll. 3. right to collect tolls. 4. charge for a certain service. There is a toll on long-distance telephone calls. 5. something paid, lost, suffered, etc.: Automobile accidents take a heavy toll of human lives. 1,3-5 n., 2 v.

toll bar, barrier, especially a gate, across a road or bridge, where toll is taken.

toll bridge, bridge at which a toll is charged.

toll call, a long-distance telephone call.

toll gate (tōl'gāt'), gate where toll is collected. n.

toll keep er (tōl'kēp'ər), person who collects the toll at a tollgate. n.

Tol tec (tol'tek), one of an Indian people supposed to have ruled in Mexico before the Aztecs and to have given them their culture. n.

tol u ene (tol'yū ēn), a colorless liquid, somewhat like benzene, obtained from coal tar and coal gas. It is used as a solvent and for making explosives, dyes, etc. n.

tol u ol (tol'yū ōl), toluene. n.

tom or Tom (tom), the male of various animals; male: Our Thanksgiving turkey was a tom. n.

tom a hawk (tom'ə hōk), 1. a light ax used by North American Indians as a weapon and a tool. 2. strike or kill with a tomahawk. 1 n., 2 v.

Tomahawk

bury the tomahawk, stop fighting; make peace.

to ma to (tə mā'tō or tə mǎ'tō), 1. a juicy fruit used as a vegetable. Most tomatoes are red, but some kinds are yellow. 2. the plant it grows on. Tomatoes are spreading, strong-smelling plants that have hairy leaves and stems, and small yellow flowers. n., pl. to ma toes.

tomb (tūm), 1. grave, vault, mausoleum, etc., for a dead body, often above ground. 2. put in a tomb; shut up as if in a tomb. 3. death. 1,3 n., 2 v.

tom boy (tom'boi'), girl who likes to play boys' games; boisterous, romping girl. n.

tomb stone (tūm'stōn'), stone that marks a tomb or grave. n.

tom cat (tom'kat'), a male cat. n.

tom cod (tom'kod'), a small salt-water fish like a cod. n.

tome (tōm), book; especially, a large, heavy book. n.

tom fool (tom'fūl'), a silly fool; stupid person. n.

tom fool er y (tom'fūl'ər ē), silly behavior; nonsense. n., pl. tom fool er ies.

Tom my or tom my (tom'ē), nickname for a British soldier. n., pl. Tom mies or tom mies.

to mor row or to-mor row (tə mōr'ō or tə mor'ō), 1. the day after today. 2. on the day after today. 1 n., 2 adv.

Tomsk (tōmsk), city in central Soviet Union. 249,000. n.

Tom Thumb, 1. a diminutive hero of folk tales. 2. anything that is very small; any dwarf.

tom tit (tom'tit'), a small bird, especially a titmouse. n.

tom-tom (tom'tom'), 1. a native drum, usually beaten with the hands. 2. a monotonous, rhythmic drumbeat. n.

ton (tun), 1. measure of weight; 2000 pounds in the United States and Canada, 2240 pounds in England. 2. measure of volume that varies with the thing measured; it is about equal to the space occupied by a ton's weight of the particular stuff. Thus a ton of stone is 16 cubic feet. 3. unit of measure of internal capacity of a ship; 100 cubic feet. 4. unit of measure carrying capacity of a ship; 40 cubic feet. 5. unit to measure weight of water a ship will displace; 35 cubic feet, the weight of a long ton of sea water. n.

Tom-tom

long ton, 2240 pounds.

metric ton, 1000 kilograms.

short ton, 2000 pounds.

ton al (tôn'əl), of or having to do with tones or tone. adj.

to nal i ty (tō nal'ə tē), 1. sum of relations existing between the tones of a scale or musical system. 2. a key or system of musical tones. 3. the color scheme of a painting, etc. n., pl. to nal i ties.

ton al ly (tôn'əl ē), with respect to tone. adv.

tone (tôn), 1. any sound considered with reference to its quality, pitch, strength, source, etc.: sweet, shrill, or loud tones. 2. quality of sound: a voice silvery in tone. 3. a musical sound; musical sound of definite pitch and character. 4. the difference in pitch between two notes. C and D are one tone apart. 5. manner of speaking or writing: a moral tone. 6. spirit; character; style: A tone of quiet elegance prevails in her home. 7. normal healthy condition; vigor. 8. effect of color and of light and shade in a picture: I like the soft green tone of that painting. 9. shade of color: This room is furnished in tones of brown. 10. harmonize: This rug tones in well with the wallpaper and furniture. 11. give a tone to. 12. change the tone of. 1-9 n., 10-12 v., toned, ton ing.

tone down, soften.

tone up, give more sound, color, or vigor to; strengthen.

tong (tông), 1. in China, an association or club. 2. U.S. a secret Chinese organization or club in the United States. n.

Ton ga Islands (tong'gə), group of islands northeast of New Zealand in the S Pacific, comprising a kingdom under British control. 62,000 pop.; 269 sq. mi. Capital: Nukualofa. Also, Friendly Islands.

tongs (tôngz), 1. tool for seizing, holding, or lifting: He changed the position of the burning log with the tongs. 2. tool for curling hair. n.pl.

tongue (tung), 1. the movable piece of flesh in the mouth. The tongue is used in tasting and, by people, for talking. 2. an animal's tongue used as food. 3. power of speech: Have you lost your tongue? 4. way of speaking; speech; talk: a flattering tongue. 5. the language of a people: the English tongue. 6. something shaped or used like a tongue. 7. the strip of leather under the laces of a shoe. 8. a narrow strip of land running out into water. 9. a tapering jet of flame: Tongues of flame leaped from the fire. 10. pin of a buckle, brooch, etc. 11. pole of a vehicle. 12. a projecting strip along the edge of a board for fitting into a groove in another board. 13. pointer of a dial, balance, etc. 14. a movable piece inside a bell that swings and rings. 15. a vibrating reed or the like in a musical instrument. 16. the short, movable rail of a railroad switch. 17. modify tones of (a flute, cornet, etc.) with the tongue. 18. use the tongue. 1-16 n., 17, 18 v., tongued, tongu ing.

give tongue, bark.

hold one's tongue, keep still.

on the tip of one's tongue, 1. almost spoken. 2. ready to be spoken.

tongue-tied (tung'tid'), 1. having the motion of the tongue hindered. 2. unable to speak because of shyness, embarrassment, etc. adj.

ton ic (ton'ik), 1. anything that gives strength; medicine to give strength: Cod-liver oil is a tonic. 2. restoring to health and vigor; giving strength; bracing: The mountain air is tonic. 3. characterized by continuous

Lifting log with fire tongs contraction of the muscles: a tonic convulsion. 4. the first note of a musical scale; keynote. 5. having to do with a musical tone or tones. 6. of or based on a keynote. 7. having to do with tone or accent in speaking. 1, 4 n., 2, 3, 5-7 adj.

to nic i ty (tō nis'ə tē), 1. tonic quality or condition. 2. the property of possessing bodily tone; the normal elastic tension of living muscles, arteries, etc. n.

to night or to-night (tə nīt'), 1. the night of this day; this night. 2. on or during this night. 1 n., 2 adv.

Ton kin (ton'kin'), a former French protectorate in Indochina, now part of North Vietnam. n.

ton nage (tun'ij), 1. the carrying capacity of a ship expressed in tons of 100 cubic feet: A ship of 50,000 cubic feet of space for freight has a tonnage of 500 tons. 2. total amount of shipping in tons. 3. duty or tax on ships at so much a ton. 4. weight in tons. n.

ton neu (tun ō'), the rear part of an automobile body, with seats for passengers. n., pl. ton neaus or ton neaux (-ōz').

ton sil (ton'sl), either of the two oval masses of glandular tissue on the sides of the throat, just back of the mouth. n.

ton sil lec to my (ton'sə lek'tə mē), removal of the tonsils. n., pl. ton sil lec to mies.

ton sil li tis (ton'sə lī'tis), inflammation of the tonsils. n.

ton so ri al (ton sō'rē əl), Often used humorously, of or having to do with a barber or his work. adj.

ton sure (ton'shər), 1. a clipping of the hair or shaving of a part or the whole of the head of a person entering the priesthood or an order of monks. 2. the shaved part of the head of a priest or monk. 3. shave the head of. 1, 2 n., 3 v., ton sured, ton sur ing.

ton time (ton'tēn), system of annuity or insurance in which subscribers share a fund. The shares of survivors increase as members die, until the last gets all that is left. n.

too (tū), 1. also; besides: The dog is hungry, and thirsty too. 2. beyond what is desirable, proper, or right; more than enough: My dress is too long for you. He ate too much. The summer passed too quickly. 3. very; exceedingly: I am only too glad to help. adv.

took (tùk), pt. of take. She took the car an hour ago. v.

tool (tùl), 1. a knife, hammer, saw, shovel, or any instrument used in doing work: Plumbers, mechanics, carpenters, and shoemakers need tools. 2. anything used like a tool: Books are a scholar's tools. 3. person used by another like a tool: He is a tool of the party boss. 4. a part of a machine that cuts, bores, smooths, etc. 5. the whole of such a machine. 6. use a tool on. 7. work with a tool. 8. ornament with a tool. 1-5 n., 6-8 v.

tool ing (tùl'ing), 1. work done with a tool. 2. ornamentation made with a tool. n.

toot (tüt), 1. sound of a horn, whistle, etc. 2. give forth a short blast: He heard the train whistle toot three times. 3. sound (a horn, whistle, etc.) in short blasts. 1 n., 2, 3 v. —toot'er, n.

tooth (tüth), 1. one of the hard, bonelike parts in the mouth, used for biting and chewing. 2. something like a tooth. Each one of the projecting parts of a comb, rake, or saw is a tooth. 3. furnish with teeth; put teeth on. 4. cut teeth on the edge of; indent. 1, 2 n., pl. teeth; 3, 4 v.

fight tooth and nail, fight fiercely, with all one's force.

tooth ache (tüth'āk'), pain in a tooth or the teeth. n.

tooth brush (tüth'brush'), a small brush for cleaning the teeth. n.

toothed (tütht or tüthd), 1. having teeth. 2. notched. adj.

tooth less (tüth'lis), without teeth. adj.

tooth paste (tüth'päst'), paste used in cleaning the teeth. n.

tooth pick (tüth'pik'), a small, pointed piece of wood or a sharpened quill for removing bits of food from between the teeth. n.

tooth some (tūth'səm), 1. pleasing to the taste; tasting good. 2. pleasing to the sight; pretty. adj.

top¹ (top), 1. the highest point or part: the top of a mountain. 2. the upper end or surface: the top of a table. 3. the highest or leading place, rank, etc.: He is at the top of his class. 4. one that occupies the highest or leading position: He is top in his profession. 5. the highest point, pitch, or degree: the top of one's voice. 6. the best or most important part: top of the morning. 7. part of a plant that grows above ground. 8. head. 9. cover of an automobile, carriage, can, etc. 10. the upper part of a shoe or boot. 11. bunch of hair, fibers, etc. 12. having to do with, situated at, or forming the top: the top shelf of a cupboard. 13. highest in degree; greatest: at top speed. 14. chief; foremost: top honors. 15. put a top on: top a box. 16. be on top of; be the top of: A church tops the hill. 17. reach the top of: They topped the mountain. 18. rise high; rise above: The sun topped the horizon. 19. be higher than; be greater than. 20. do better than; outdo; excel: His story topped all the rest. 21. in golf, hit (a ball) above center. 22. remove the top of (a plant, etc.). 23. platform around the top of a lower mast on a ship. 1-11, 23 n., 12-14 adj., 15-22 v., topped, top ping.

Top (def. 23)

from top to toe, 1. from head to foot. 2. completely. on top, with success; with victory.

over the top, over the front of a trench to attack.

top off, complete; finish; end.

top² (top), toy that spins on a point. n. sleep like a top, sleep soundly.

to paz (tō'paz), a crystalline mineral that occurs in various forms and colors. Transparent yellow topaz is used as a gem. n.

top boot, 1. a high boot having the upper part of different material and made to look as if turned down. 2. any boot with a high top.

Top boot (def. 1)

top coat (top'kōt'), overcoat; loose overcoat; light-weight overcoat. n.

To pe ka (tə pē'kə), capital of Kansas, in the NE part. 119,000. n.

top er (tōp'ər), person who drinks a great deal of alcoholic liquor. n.

top gal lant (top'gal'ənt; Nautical tə gal'ənt), 1. the mast or sail above the topmast; the third section of a mast above the deck. See masthead for diagram. 2. next above the topmast. 1 n., 2 adj.

top hat, a tall, black silk hat worn by men in formal clothes.

top-heavy (top'hev'ē), too heavy at the top. adj.

top ic (top'ik), 1. subject that people think, write, or talk about: Newspapers discuss the topics of the day. 2. a short phrase or sentence used in an outline to give the main point of a part of a speech, writing, etc. n.

top i cal (top'ə kl), 1. having to do with topics of the day; of current or local interest. 2. of or using topics; having to do with the topics of a speech, writing, etc.: Some books have topical outlines for each chapter. 3. limited to a certain spot or part of the body; local. adj.

top knot (top'not'), a knot of hair or a tuft of feathers on the top of the head. n.

top mast (top'mast'; Nautical top'mäst), the second section of a mast above the deck. See masthead for diagram. n.

top most (top'mōst), highest. adj.

top-notch (top'noch'), Informal. first-rate; best possible. adj.

to pog ra pher (tə pog'rə fər), 1. person who knows much about topography. 2. person who accurately describes the surface features of a place or region. n.

top o graph ic (top'ə graf'ik), topographical. adj.

top o graph i cal (top'ə graf'ə kl), of or having to do with topography. A topographical map shows mountains, rivers, etc. adj.

top o graph i cal ly (top'ə graf'ik lē), in regard to topography. adv.

to pog ra phy (tə pog'rə fē), 1. the accurate and detailed description or drawing of places or their surface features. 2. the surface features of a place or region. The topography of a region includes hills, valleys, streams, lakes, bridges, tunnels, roads, etc. n., pl.

to pog ra phies.

top per (top'ər), 1. Slang. an excellent, first-rate person or thing. 2. Informal. a top hat. 3. Informal. topcoat. 4. a woman's short coat. n.

top ping (top'ing), Chiefly Brit. Informal. excellent; first-rate. adj.

top ple (top'pl), 1. fall forward; tumble down: The chimney toppled over on the roof. 2. throw over or down; overturn: The wrestler toppled his opponent. 3. hang over in an unsteady way: beneath toppling crags. v., top pled, top pling.

tops (tops), Slang. of the highest degree in quality, excellence, etc. adj.

top sail (top'sāl'; Nautical top'səl), the second sail above the deck on a mast. n.

top secret, a most important and highly guarded secret.

top-se cret (top'sē'kret), of utmost secrecy; extremely confidential. adj.

top sergeant, Informal. the first sergeant of a military company.

top side (top'sid'), 1. the upper part of a ship's side, especially the part above the water line. 2. to or on the bridge or upper deck. 1 n., 2 adv.

top soil (top'soil'), the upper part of the soil; surface soil. n.

top sy-tur vy (top'sē tēr'vē), 1. upside down. 2. in confusion or disorder. 3. confusion; disorder. 1, 2 adv., adj., 3 n., pl.

top sy-tur vies.

toque (tōk), hat without a brim; small hat with very little brim. n.

to rah or to ra (tō'rā), in Jewish usage, instruction, doctrine, or law. n.

the Torah, the Mosaic law; the Pentateuch.

Toque

torch (tōrch), 1. light to be carried around or stuck in a holder on a wall. A piece of pine wood or anything that burns easily makes a good torch. 2. device for producing a very hot flame, used especially to burn off paint, to solder metal, and to melt metal. 3. Brit. a stick-shaped electric lamp; flashlight. 4. something thought of as a source of enlightenment: the torch of civilization. n. —torch'like', adj.

torch bear er (tōrch'bār'ər), one who carries a torch. n.

torch light (tōrch'līt'), light of a torch or torches. n.

tore (tōr), pt. of tear.

Mabel tore her dress on a nail. v.

tor e a dor (tôr'ē ə dôr), a man who fights bulls in an arena. n.

to ri i (tō'rē ē), gateway at the entrance to a Japanese temple, built of two uprights and two crosspieces. n., pl. to ri i.

tor ment (tôr ment' for 1, 5; tōr'ment for 2-4), 1. cause very great pain to: Headaches tormented him. 2. cause of very great pain: Instruments of torture were torments. 3. very great pain: He suffered torments from his aching teeth. 4. cause of very much worry or annoyance. 5. worry or annoy very much: He torments everyone with silly questions. 1,5 v., 2-4 n.

Torii

tor men tor or tor ment er (tôr men'tər), person or thing that torments. n.

torn (tôrŋ), pp. of tear. He has torn up the plant by the roots. His coat was torn. v.

tor na do (tôr nă'dô), 1. an extremely violent and destructive whirlwind. A tornado moves forward as a whirling funnel extending down from a mass of dark clouds. 2. a violent outburst. n., pl. tor na does or tor na dos.

To ron to (tə ron'tō), city in SE Canada, on Lake Ontario. It is the capital of Ontario. 657,000. See St. Lawrence for map. n.

tor pe do (tôr pē'dō), 1. a large, cigar-shaped shell that contains explosives and travels by its own power. Torpedoes are sent under water to blow up enemy ships. 2. a submarine mine, shell, etc., that explodes when hit. 3. attack or destroy with a torpedo. 4. an explosive put on a railroad track which makes a loud noise for a signal when a wheel of the engine runs over it. 5. an explosive and gravel wrapped in tissue paper, that makes a bang when it is thrown against something hard. 6. fish that can give an electric shock. 1,2,4-6 n., pl. tor pe does; 3 v., tor pe doed, tor pe doing.

torpedo boat, a small, fast warship used for attacking with torpedoes.

tor pid (tôr'pid), 1. dull; inactive; sluggish. 2. not moving or feeling. Animals that hibernate become torpid in winter. 3. numb. adj. —tor'pid ly, adv. —tor'pid ness, n.

tor pid i ty (tôr pid'ə tē), torpid condition. n.

tor por (tôr'pər), torpid condition. n.

torque (tôr'k), 1. force causing rotation. 2. necklace of twisted metal. The ancient Gauls and Britons wore torques. n.

tor rent (tôr'ənt), 1. a violent, rushing stream of water. 2. a heavy downpour. 3. any violent, rushing stream; flood: a torrent of abuse. n.

tor ren tial (tô ren'shəl), of, caused by, or like a torrent: torrential rains, a torrential flow of words. adj.

tor ren tial ly (tô ren'shəl ē), like a torrent; violently; overwhelmingly. adv.

Tor res Strait (tôr'riz), strait between Australia and New Guinea. 80 mi. wide.

Tor ri cel li (tôr'ə chel'ē), Evangelista, 1608-1647, Italian physicist who invented the barometer. n.

tor rid (tôr'id), very hot: July is a torrid month. adj.

tor rid i ty (tô rid'ə tē), extreme heat. n.

Torrid Zone, the very warm region between the tropic of Cancer and the tropic of Capricorn. The equator divides the Torrid Zone. See zone for diagram.

tor sion (tôr'shan), 1. act or process of twisting. 2. state of being twisted. 3. the twisting of a body by two equal and opposite forces. n.

tor sion al (tôr'shan l), of, having to do with, or resulting from torsion. adj.

tor so (tôr'sō), 1. the trunk or body of a statue without any head, arms or legs. 2. the trunk of the human body. n., pl. tor sos.

tort (tôrt), a civil (not criminal) wrong for which the law requires damages (except a breach of contract): If a man's automobile breaks the glass of a shopwindow, he has committed a tort against the shopowner. n.

tor til la (tôr tē'yə), Spanish American, a thin, flat, round corn cake. n.

tor toise (tôr'təs), 1. turtle living on land. 2. turtle. n., pl. tor toises or tor toise.

Torpedo (def. 1). When it is launched from a ship, airplane, etc., it travels much like a small ship. It contains a motor and devices for controlling its course and depth.

Tortoise (def. 1) tortoise beetle, a small beetle shaped somewhat like a tortoise.

tortoise shell, 1. the mottled yellow-and-brown shell of a turtle or tortoise. Tortoise shell is much used for combs and ornaments. 2. an animal, especially any of a group of butterflies, spotted with yellow and black.

tor toise-shell (tôr'təs shel'), 1. made of tortoise shell. 2. having the colors of a tortoise shell. adj.

Tor tu ga (tôr tū'gə), 1. island in the West Indies, off the N coast of, and belonging to, Haiti. 25 mi. long; 117 sq. mi. 2. island off the coast of, and belonging to, Venezuela. 85 sq. mi. n.

tor tu ous (tôr'chū əs), 1. full of twists, turns, or bends; twisting; winding; crooked: a tortuous path. 2. mentally or morally crooked; not straightforward: tortuous reasoning. adj. —tor'tu ous ly, adv. —tor'tu ous ness, n.

tor ture (tôr'chər), 1. act or fact of inflicting very severe pain. Torture was formerly used to make people give evidence about crimes, or to make them confess. 2. very severe pain: She suffered tortures from rheumatism. 3. cause very severe pain to: That cruel boy tortures animals. 4. twist the meaning of. 5. twist or force out of its natural form: Winds tortured the trees. 1,2 n., 3-5 v., tor tured, tor tur ing. —tor'tur er, n.

tor tur ous (tôr'chər əs), full of, involving, or causing torture. adj.

To ry (tô'rē), 1. in Great Britain, originally, a member of the political party that favored royal power and the established church and opposed change. Strictly speaking, there is no Tory party in modern England, although members of the Conservative Party are often called Tories. 2. an American who favored England at the time of the American Revolution. 3. a very conservative person. 4. of or having to do with Tories. 1-3 n., pl. To ries; 4 adj.

to ry (tô'rē), a very conservative person. n.

To ry ism (tô'rē iz əm), being a Tory; the doctrines or behavior of a Tory. n.

Tos ca ni ni (tos'kə nē'nē), Arturo, 1867-1957, Italian musical conductor. n.

toss (tôs), 1. throw lightly with the palm upward; cast; fling: toss a ball. 2. throw about; pitch about: The ship is tossed by the waves. 3. lift quickly; throw upward: She tossed her head. He was tossed by the bull. 4. throw a coin to decide something by the side that falls upward. 5. distance to which something is or can be tossed. 6. throw oneself about in bed; roll restlessly. 7. a throw; tossing: A toss of a coin decided who should play first. 1-4,6 v., tossed or (Poetic) tost, toss ing; 5,7 n.

toss off, 1. do or make quickly and easily. 2. drink all at once.

toss-up (tôs'up'), 1. a tossing of a coin to decide something. 2. an even chance. n.

tost (tôst), Poetic. a pt. and a pp. of toss. v.

tot (tot), 1. a little child. 2. Chiefly Brit. a small portion of drink. n.

to tal (tô'tl), 1. whole; entire: The total cost of the house and land will be $25,000. 2. the whole amount; sum: His expenses reached a total of $100. 3. find the sum of; add: Total that column of figures. 4. reach an amount of; amount to: The money spent yearly on chewing gum totals millions of dollars. 5. complete: He is a total failure. We were in total darkness. 1,5 adj., 2 n., 3,4 v., to taled, to tal ing or esp. Brit. to tal led, to tal ling.

to tal i tar i an (tô tal'ə tăr'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with a government controlled by one political group that permits no other political groups. 2. person in favor of totalitarian principles. 1 adj., 2 n.

to tal i tar i an ism (tô tal'ə tăr'ē ən iz'əm), system under which a government is controlled by one political party exclusively and no other political groups are permitted to exist. n.

to tal i ty (tô tal'ə tē), entirety; the total amount. n., pl. to tal i ties.

to tal ly (tô'tl ē), wholly; entirely; completely. adv.

total war, war in which all the resources of a nation are used, and in which attack is made not only on the armed forces of the opponent, but also (subject to certain limitations) on all its people and property.

tote (tōt), U.S. Informal. carry; haul. v., tot ed, tot ing.

to tem (tō'təm), 1. among American Indians, a natural object, often an animal, taken as the emblem of a tribe, clan, family, etc. 2. image of a totem. Totems are often carved and painted on poles. n.

to tem ic (tō tem'ik), of a totem; having to do with totems. adj.

to tem ism (tō'təm iz əm), use of totems to distinguish tribes, clans, families, etc. n.

totem pole, pole carved and painted with representations of totems, erected by the Indians of the NW coast of America, especially in front of their houses.

toth er (tʊθ'ər), Dialect. the other. adj., pron.

Tot ten ham (tot' nəm), city in SE England, near London. 115,000. n.

tot ter (tot'ər), 1. stand or walk with shaky, unsteady steps: Babies and very old people totter as they walk. 2. be unsteady; shake as if about to fall: The old wall tottered in the gale and fell. 3. shake; tremble. 4. a tottering. 1-3 v., 4 n. —tot'ter-er, n.

tot ter y (tot'ər ē), tottering; shaky. adj.

tou can (tū'kan), a brightly-colored bird of tropical America, with an enormous beak. n.

touch (tuch), 1. put the hand or some other part of the body on or against: She touched the pan to see whether it was still hot. 2. put against; make contact with: He touched the post with his umbrella. 3. be against; come against: Your sleeve is touching the butter. 4. be in contact: Our hands touched. 5. a touching or being touched: A bubble bursts at a touch. 6. the sense by which a person perceives things by feeling, handling, or coming against them: The blind have a keen touch. 7. a coming or being in contact: the touch of their hands. 8. a slight amount; little bit: We had a touch of frost. 9. a stroke with a brush, pencil, pen, etc.: The artist finished my picture with a few touches. 10. a detail in any artistic work: a story with charming poetic touches. 11. strike lightly or gently: She touched the strings of the harp. 12. injure slightly: The flowers were touched by the frost. 13. affect with some feeling: The sad story touched us. 14. make slightly crazy. 15. have to do with; concern: The matter touches your interest. 16. speak of; deal with; refer to; treat lightly: Our conversation touched many subjects. 17. handle; use: He won't touch liquor or tobacco. 18. reach; come up to: His head almost touches the ceiling. 19. stop at; visit in passing: The ship touched port. 20. make a brief stop: Most ships touch at that port. 21. a close relation of communication, sympathy, etc.: A newspaper keeps one in touch with the world. 22. act or manner of playing a musical instrument: a pianist with an excellent touch. 23. the way the keys of a musical instrument work. 24. a distinctive manner or quality: The work showed an expert's touch. 25. Slang. borrow from: touch a man for a quarter. 26. a slight attack: a touch of fever. 1-4, 11-20, 25 v., 5-10, 21-24, 26 n. —touch'a ble, adj. —touch'er, n.

touch down, land an aircraft: The pilot touched down at a small country field.

Indian totem pole

Toucan (1 to 2 ft. long) touch off, 1. represent exactly or cleverly. 2. cause to go off; fire.

touch on or upon, 1. mention; treat lightly. 2. come close to.

touch up, 1. change a little; improve: touch up a photograph. 2. rouse.

touch and go, an uncertain or risky situation.

touch-and-go (tuch'ənd gō'), uncertain; risky. adj.

touch back (tuch'bak'), act of touching the football to the ground by a player behind his own goal line when driven there by the other side. n.

touch down (tuch'daun'), 1. act of a player in putting the football on the ground behind the opponents' goal line. 2. the score made in this way. 3. the landing of an aircraft, especially the moment of first contact with the ground. n.

touched (tucht), 1. Informal. slightly crazed. 2. stirred emotionally. adj.

touch hole (tuch'hōl'), a small opening in an old-time gun through which the gunpowder inside was set on fire. n.

touch ing (tuch'ing), 1. arousing tender feeling: "A Christmas Carol" is a touching story. 2. concerning; about: He asked many questions touching my home and school life. 1 adj., 2 prep. —touch'ing ly, adv.

touch-me-not (tuch'mē not'), plant whose ripe seed pods burst open when touched. n.

touch stone (tuch'stōn'), 1. a black stone used to test the purity of gold or silver by the color of the streak made on the stone by rubbing it with the metal. 2. any means of testing; a test. n.

touch wood (tuch'wūd'), 1. wood decayed by fungi so that it catches fire easily, used as tinder. 2. a fungus found on old tree trunks, used as tinder. n.

touch y (tuch'ē), 1. apt to take offense at trifles; too sensitive. 2. requiring skill in handling; ticklish; precarious. adj., touch i er, touch i est. —touch'i ly, adv. —touch'i ness, n.

tough (tuf), 1. bending without breaking: Leather is tough. 2. hard to cut, tear, or chew: The steak was so tough he couldn't eat it. 3. stiff; sticky: tough clay. 4. strong; hardy: a tough plant. Donkeys are tough little animals and can carry big loads. 5. hard; difficult: tough work. 6. hard to bear; bad; unpleasant: A spell of tough luck discouraged him. 7. hard to influence; stubborn: a tough customer. 8. U.S. rough; disorderly: He lived in a tough neighborhood. 9. U.S. a rough person. 1-8 adj., 9 n. —tough'ly, adv. —tough'ness, n.

tough en (tuif'n), 1. make tough. 2. become tough. v.

Tou lon (tū lōn'), seaport in SE France. 141,000. n.

Tou louse (tū lūz'), city in S France. 269,000. n.

tou pee (tū pā'), wig or patch of false hair worn to cover a bald spot. n.

tour (tūr), 1. travel from place to place. 2. a long journey: a European tour. 3. travel through: Last year they toured Europe. 4. a short journey; a walk around: a tour of the boat. 5. walk around in: tour the museum. 1, 3, 5 v., 2, 4 n.

on tour, touring. A show on tour travels around the country giving performances in various places.

the grand tour, tour through France, Germany, Italy, and Switzerland. The grand tour was formerly considered essential as the finishing course in the education of British young men of good family.

tour de force (tūr də fōrs'), French. a notable feat of strength, skill, or ingenuity.

tour ist (tūr'ist), person traveling for pleasure. n.

tourist camp or court, camp providing such accommodations as tourists need; motel.

tour ma line or tour ma lin (tūr'mə lin), a semi-precious colored mineral (red, pink, green, blue, or yellow); the ordinary form of the same mineral, usually black. The transparent varieties of tourmaline are used in jewelry. n.

tour na ment (tēr'nə mənt or tūr'nə mənt), 1. contest of many persons in some sport: a golf tournament. 2. contest between two groups of knights on horseback who fought for a prize. n.

tour ney (tēr'nē or tūr'nē), 1. tournament. 2. take part in a tournament. 1 n., pl. tour neys; 2 v., tour neyed, tour ney ing.

tour ni quet (tūr'nə ket or tūr'nə kā), device for stopping bleeding by compressing a blood vessel, such as a bandage tightened by twisting with a stick, or a pad pressed down by a screw. n.

tou sle (tou'zl), 1. put into disorder; make untidy; muss: tousled hair. 2. a disordered mass. 1 v., tou sled, tou sling; 2 n.

tout (tout), Informal. 1. try to get (customers, jobs, votes, etc.). 2. Esp. Brit. spy out (information about race horses). 3. give special information about race horses. 4. praise highly and insistently. 5. person who touts. 1-4 v., 5 n. —tout'er, n.

tout à fait (tū tā fe'), French. entirely; completely. tow¹ (tō), 1. pull by a rope, chain, etc.: The tug is towing three barges. 2. act of towing. 3. condition of being pulled along by a rope, chain, etc.: The launch had the sailboat in tow. 4. that which is towed: Each tug had a tow of three barges. 5. the rope, chain, etc., used. 1 v., 2-5 n.

in tow, 1. being towed. 2. under one's care or influence. tow² (tō), 1. the coarse, broken fibers of flax, hemp, etc. 2. made from tow. 1 n., 2 adj.

tow age (tō'ij), 1. a towing. 2. being towed. 3. charge for towing. n.

to ward (tōrd or tə wōrd' for 1-4; tōrd for 5, 6), 1. in the direction of: He walked toward the north. 2. with respect to; regarding; about; concerning: What is his attitude toward war? 3. near: It must be toward four o'clock. 4. for: Will you give something toward our new hospital? 5. about to happen; impending. 6. Archaic. promising, hopeful, or apt; docile. 1-4 prep., 5, 6 adj.

to wards (tōrdz or tə wōrdz'), toward. prep.

tow boat (tō'bōt'), tugboat. n.

tow el (tou'əl), 1. piece of cloth or paper for wiping and drying something wet. 2. dry with a towel. 1 n., 2 v., tow eled, tow eling or esp. Brit. tow-elled, tow eling.

tow er (tou'ər), 1. a high structure. It stands alone or forms part of a church, castle, or other building. Some towers are forts or prisons. 2. defense; protection. 3. rise high up. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

tow er ing (tou'ər ing), 1. very high. 2. very great. 3. very violent. adj.

Tower of London, an ancient palace-fortress of London. The present building dates back to William the Conqueror. It has been used as a palace, prison, mint, and arsenal.

tow head (tō'hed'), person having very light, pale-yellow hair. n.

tow head ed (tō'hed'id), having very light, pale-yellow hair. adj.

tow hee (tou'hē or tō'hē), chewink or a bird like a chewink. n.

tow line (tō'lin'), rope, chain, etc., for towing. n.

town (town), 1. a large group of houses and buildings, smaller than a city. 2. any large place with many people living in it. 3. the people of a town: The whole town was having a holiday. 4. the part of a town or city where the stores and office buildings are: Let's go downtown. 5. the particular town or city under consideration: be in town. 6. in some States of the United States, a municipal corporation with less elaborate organization and powers

Tourniquet:
B, blood vessel.

Tower

than a city. 7. in other States of the United States, an administrative district consisting of a division of a county; township. n.

go to town, achieve success.

paint the town red, Slang. go on a wild spree or party; celebrate in a noisy manner.

town clerk, official who keeps the records of a town.

town crier, a public crier in a city or town.

town hall, a building used for a town's business.

town house, house in town, belonging to a person who also has a house in the country.

town meeting, 1. a general meeting of the inhabitants of a town. 2. in New England, a meeting of the qualified voters of a town for the transaction of public business.

towns folk (tounz'fōk'), the people of a town. n.pl.

town ship (toun'ship), 1. in the United States and Canada, a part of a county having certain powers of government. 2. in United States surveys of public land, a region or district six miles square. n.

towns man (tounz'mən), 1. person who lives in a town. 2. person who lives in one's own town. n., pl. towns men.

towns peo ple (tounz'pē'pl), the people of a town. n.pl.

tow path (tō'path'), path along the bank of a canal or river for use in towing boats. n.

tow rope (tō'rōp'), rope used for towing. n.

tox e mi a or tox ae mi a (toks ē'mē ə), a form of blood poisoning, especially one in which the toxins produced by certain microorganisms enter the blood. n.

tox e mic or tox ae mic (toks ē'mik), 1. of or having to do with toxemia. 2. suffering from toxemia. adj.

tox ic (tok'sik), poisonous; of poison; caused by poison. adj.

tox ic i ty (toks is'ə tē), toxic or poisonous quality. n., pl. tox ic i ties.

tox i co log i cal (tok'sə kol'ə kl), of or having to do with the science of poisons. adj.

tox i col o gist (tok'sə kol'ə jist), person who knows much about toxicology. n.

tox i col o gy (tok'sə kol'ə jē), science that deals with poisons, their effects, antidotes, detection, etc. n.

tox in (tok'sn), any poisonous product of animal or vegetable metabolism, especially one of those produced by bacteria. The symptoms of a disease caused by bacteria, such as diphtheria, are due to toxins. n.

toy (toi), 1. something for a child to play with; plaything. 2. thing that has little value or importance. 3. of, made as, or like a toy. 4. amuse oneself; play; trifle: She toyed with her string of beads. 1, 2 n., 3 adj., 4 v.

to yon (tō'yən), a shrub of the Pacific coast of North America, whose evergreen leaves and scarlet berries look much like holly. n.

tr., 1. transitive. 2. transpose. 3. treasurer.

trace¹ (trās), 1. mark, token, or evidence of the former existence, presence, or action of something; vestige: The explorer found traces of an ancient city. 2. footprint or other mark left; track; trail: We saw traces of rabbits on the snow. 3. follow by means of marks, tracks, or signs: trace deer. 4. follow the course of: The Aldens trace their family back to John Alden, one of the Pilgrims. 5. find signs of; observe. 6. a very small amount; little bit: There wasn't a trace of gray in her hair. 7. mark out; draw: The spy traced a plan of the fort. 8. thing marked out or drawn. 9. copy by following the lines of: By putting thin paper over the map, John traced it. 1, 2, 6, 8 n., 3-5, 7, 9 v., traced, trac ing.

trace² (trās), either of the two straps, ropes, or chains by which an animal pulls a wagon, carriage, etc. See harness for picture. n.

kick over the traces, throw off control; become unruly.

trace a bil i ty (trās'ə bil'ə tē), fact or property of being traceable. n.

trace a ble (trās'ə bl), capable of being traced. adj.

tracer (trās'ər), 1. person or thing that traces. 2. machine for making tracings of drawings, plans, etc. 3. inquiry sent from place to place to trace a missing person, letter, parcel, etc. 4. a burning substance attached to a bullet to show its course. 5. an element (tracer element) or atom (tracer atom), usually radioactive, which can be traced and observed in a biological process or used to detect small quantities of its isotope in analysis. n.

Tracery

tracery (trās'ər ē), ornamental work or designs consisting of lines. Stonework, carving, and embroidery often have tracery. n., pl. traceries.

trachea (trā'kē ə), the windpipe. n., pl. tracheae (trā'kē ē).

tracheal (trā'kē əl), of or having to do with the trachea. adj.

trachoma (trākō'mə), 1. a contagious inflammation of the eyelids. Trachoma is very common in the Orient. 2. granular eyelids, a much less serious condition. n.

tracing (trās'ing), 1. copy of something made by marking or drawing over it. 2. line made by marking or drawing. n.

track (trak), 1. line of metal rails for cars to run on. A railroad has tracks. 2. mark left: The dirt road showed many automobile tracks. 3. footprint: We saw wild animals' tracks near the camp. 4. follow by means of footprints, marks, smell, etc.: The hunter tracked the bear and killed it. 5. trace in any way: track down a criminal. 6. U.S. make footprints or other marks on (a floor, etc.): Don't track the floor. 7. U.S. bring (snow or mud) into a place on one's feet: track mud into the house. 8. path; trail; road: A track runs through the woods to the farmhouse. 9. way of doing or acting: go on in the same track year after year. 10. a course for running or racing: a race track. 11. the sport made up of contests in running, jumping, throwing, etc. 12. arrangement of linked steel treads by which a tank, bulldozer, etc., is propelled. 1-3,8-12 n., 4-7 v. —track'er, n. in one's tracks, Informal. right where one is.

keep track of, keep within one's sight or attention.

lose track of, fail to keep track of.

make tracks, Informal. go very fast; run away.

off the track, off the subject; wrong.

on the track, on the subject; right.

track less (trak'lis), 1. without a track. 2. without paths or trails. adj.

track meet, series of contests in running, jumping, throwing, etc.

tract¹ (trakt), 1. stretch of land, water, etc., extent; area: A tract of desert land has little value. 2. system of related parts or organs in the body. The stomach and intestines are part of the digestive tract. 3. period of time. n.

tract² (trakt), 1. a little book or pamphlet on a religious subject. 2. any little book or pamphlet. n.

tractability (trak'tə bil'ə tē), being tractable. n.

tractable (trak'tə bl), 1. easily managed or controlled; easy to deal with; docile: Dogs are more tractable than mules. 2. easily worked: Copper and gold are tractable. adj. —tractable ness, n. —tractably, adv.

traction (trak'shan), 1. a drawing or pulling; a being drawn. 2. the drawing or pulling of loads along a road, track, etc. 3. kind of power used for this. Electric traction is used on some railroads. 4. friction: Wheels slip on ice because there is too little traction. n.

tractor (trak'tər), 1. engine which moves on wheels or on two endless tracks, used for pulling wagons, plows, etc., along roads or over fields. A tractor can do the work of many horses on a farm. 2. something used for drawing or pulling. 3. airplane with the propeller in front of the wings. n.

trade (trād), 1. a buying and selling; exchange of goods; commerce: The United States has trade with foreign countries. 2. buy and sell; exchange goods; be in commerce: English ships trade all over the world. 3. exchange: trade seats. 4. make an exchange: If you don't like your book, I'll trade with you. 5. bargain; deal: He made a good trade. 6. kind of work; business, especially one requiring skilled mechanical work: A carpenter or plumber learns his trade. 7. people in the same kind of work or business: the building trade. 8. Informal. customers: That store has a lot of trade. 1,3,5-8 n., 2-5 v., trad ed, trad ing.

the trades, the trade winds.

trade in, give an automobile, radio, etc., as payment or part payment for something.

trade off, get rid of by trading.

trade on, take advantage of.

trade-in (trād'in'), thing given or accepted as payment or part payment for something. n.

trade mark (trād'märk'), 1. mark, picture, name, or letters owned and used by a manufacturer or merchant to distinguish his goods from the goods of others. 2. distinguish by means of a trademark. 3. register the trademark of. 1 n., 2,3 v.

trade name, 1. name used by a manufacturer or merchant for some article that he sells. 2. a special name used for any thing by those who buy and sell it. 3. name under which a company does business.

trader (trād'ər), 1. person who trades. 2. ship used in trading. n.

trade school, school where trades are taught.

trades man (trādz'mən), storekeeper; shopkeeper. n., pl. trades men.

trades people (trādz'pē/pl), storekeepers; shopkeepers. n.pl.

trades union, Esp. Brit. trade union.

trade union, 1. association of workers in any trade or craft to protect and promote their interests. 2. a labor union.

trade unionism, 1. system of having trade unions. 2. methods or practices of trade unions.

trade unionist, 1. member of a trade union. 2. person who favors trade unionism.

trade wind, a wind blowing steadily toward the equator from about 30° north latitude to about 30° south latitude. North of the equator, it blows from the northeast; south of the equator, from the southeast.

trading post, store or station of a trader, especially in wild or uncivilized places.

tradition (trə dish'ən), 1. the handing down of beliefs, opinions, customs, stories, etc., from parents to children. 2. what is handed down in this way: According to the old tradition, Romulus was the founder of Rome. 3. among the Jews, the unwritten laws and doctrines received from Moses. 4. in the Christian Church, the unwritten precepts and doctrines received from Christ and his apostles. n.

tradition al (trə dish'ən l), 1. of tradition. 2. handed down by tradition. 3. according to tradition. 4. customary. adj.

tradition al ly (trə dish'ən l ē), according to tradition. adv.

tradition ar y (trə dish'ən er'ē), traditional. adj. tra duce (trə dūs' or trə dūs'), speak evil of (a person) falsely; slander. v., tra duced, tra duc ing. —tra-duc'er, n.

traffic (traf'ik), 1. people, automobiles, wagons, ships, etc., coming and going along a way of travel. 2. a buying and selling; commerce; trade. 3. carry on trade; buy; sell; exchange: The men trafficked with the natives for ivory. 4. business done by a railroad line, steamship line, etc.; number of passengers or amount of freight carried. 5. intercourse; dealings. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v., traf ficked, traf fick ing.

traffick er (tráf'ík ər), person who buys and sells; trader. n.

trag a canth (traj'ə kanth), a sticky substance obtained from certain Asiatic shrubs, used for stiffening cloth, thickening medicines, etc. n.

tra ge di an (trə jē'dē ən), 1. actor in tragedies. 2. writer of tragedies. n.

trag e dy (traj'ə dē), 1. a serious play having an unhappy ending. Hamlet is a tragedy. 2. the writing of such plays. 3. a very sad or terrible happening: The father's sudden death was a tragedy to his family. n., pl. trag e dies.

trag ic (traj'ik), 1. of tragedy; having to do with tragedy: a tragic actor, a tragic poet. 2. very sad; dreadful: a tragic death, a tragic event. adj. —trag'i cal ly, adv.

trag i cal (traj'ə kl), tragic. adj.

trag i com e dy (traj'i kom'ə dē), 1. play having both tragic and comic elements. The Merchant of Venice is a tragicomedy. 2. incident or situation in which serious and comic elements are blended. n., pl. trag i com e dies.

trag i com ic (traj'i kom'ik), having both tragic and comic elements. adj.

trail (trāl), 1. anything that follows along behind: The car left a trail of dust behind it. 2. pull or drag along behind: The bird trailed its broken wing. 3. be drawn along behind: Her dress trails on the ground. 4. grow along: Poison ivy trailed by the road. 5. follow in a long, uneven line: The ten campers trailed their leader down the mountainside. 6. follow along behind; follow: The dog trailed him constantly. 7. go along slowly: The children trailed to school. 8. track or smell: The dogs found the trail of the rabbit. 9. hunt by track or smell: The dogs trailed the rabbit. 10. path across a wild or unsettled region. 11. tread down (grass) to make a path. 12. the lower end of a gun carriage. 13. pass little by little: Her voice trailed off into silence. 1,8,10,12 n., 2-7,9,11,13 v.

trailer (trāl'ər), 1. person or animal that follows a trail. 2. a trailing plant; vine that grows along the ground. 3. a vehicle, often large, designed to be pulled along the highway by a truck, etc., especially by a truck lacking a body of its own. 4. trailer coach. 5. a few scenes shown to advertise a new motion picture. n.

trailer coach, a small furnished house on either two or four wheels, pulled by an automobile.

trailer park, the grounds, equipped with utilities and other facilities, for accommodating trailer coaches.

trailing arbutus, arbutus; a trailing plant growing in E North America, that has clusters of fragrant, pink or white flowers very early in the spring.

train (trān), 1. a connected line of railroad cars moving along together. 2. line of people, animals, wagons, trucks, etc., moving along together. 3. collection of vehicles, animals, and men accompanying an army to carry supplies, baggage, ammunition, or any equipment or materials. 4. part that hangs down and drags along: the train of a lady's gown. 5. something that is drawn along behind; a trailing part. 6. tail: the train of a peacock, the train of a comet. 7. group of followers: the king and his train. 8. series; succession: a long train of misfortunes. 9. series of happenings; succession of results. 10. bring up; rear; teach: train a child. 11. make skillful by teaching and practice: train women as nurses. 12. make fit by exercise and diet: Runners train for races. 13. make oneself fit. 14. point; aim: train cannon upon a fort. 15. bring into a particular position: Train the vine around this post. 16. line of gunpowder that acts as a fuse. 17. in machinery, a series of connected parts, such as wheels and pinions, through which motion is transmitted. 1-9,16,17 n., 10-15 v.

train ee (trān ē'), 1. person who is receiving training. 2. person newly inducted into the United States Army who is receiving basic military training. n.

train er (trān'ər), person who trains. n.

train ing (trān'ing), 1. practical education in some art, profession, etc.: training for teachers. 2. development of strength and endurance. 3. good condition maintained by exercise, diet, etc. n.

train load (trān'lōd'), as much as a train can hold or carry. n.

train man (trān'mən), 1. man who works on a railroad train. 2. brakeman. n., pl. train men.

train oil, oil obtained from the blubber of whales, seals, fishes, etc.

trait (trāt), quality of mind, character, etc.; distinguishing feature; characteristic: Courage, love of fair play, and common sense are desirable traits. n.

trait or (trā'tor), 1. person who betrays his country or ruler. 2. person who betrays a trust, duty, friend, etc. n.

trait or ous (trā'tor əs), like a traitor; treacherous; faithless. adj. —trait'or ous ly, adv.

trait tress (trā'tris), a woman traitor. n.

tra jec to ry (trə jek'tə rē), the curved path of a projectile, comet, or planet. n., pl. tra jec to ries.

tram (tram), 1. Esp. Brit. streetcar. 2. tramway. 3. truck or car on which loads are carried in coal mines. n.

tram mel (tram'l), 1. anything that hinders or restrains: A large bequest freed the artist from the trammels of poverty. 2. hinder; restrain. 3. a fine net to catch fish, birds, etc. 4. entangle. 5. hook in a fireplace to hold pots, kettles, etc., over the fire. 6. shackle for controlling the motions of a horse and making him amble. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4 v., tram meled, tram mel ing or esp. Brit. tram melled, tram mel ing.

tramp (tramp), 1. walk heavily: He tramped across the room in his heavy boots. 2. step heavily (on): He tramped on the flowers. 3. sound of a heavy step: Hear the tramp of marching feet. 4. go on foot; walk: We tramped through the streets. 5. travel through on foot: tramp the streets. 6. a long, steady walk; hike: a tramp over the hills. 7. walk steadily; march: The soldiers tramped mile after mile. 8. man who wanders about and begs. 9. go or wander as a tramp. 10. a freight ship that takes a cargo when and where it can. 1,2,4,5,7,9 v., 3,6,8,10 n. —tramp'er, n.

tram ple (tram'pl), 1. tread heavily on; crush: The herd of wild cattle trampled the man to death. 2. tread heavily. 3. treat cruelly, harshly, or scornfully. 4. act or sound of trampling: We heard the trample of many feet. 1-3 v., tram pled, tram pling; 4 n. —tram'pler, n.

trample under foot, trample on or upon, treat cruelly, harshly, or scornfully.

tram way (tram'wā'), Esp. Brit. track for streetcars. n.

trance (trans), 1. state or condition of unconsciousness somewhat like sleep. 2. a dazed or stunned condition. 3. a dreamy, absorbed, or hypnotic condition that is like a trance: The old man sat before the fire in a trance, thinking of his past life. 4. a high emotion; rapture. 5. hold in a trance; enchant. 1-4 n., 5 v., tranced, tranc ing. —trance'like, adj.

tran quil (trang'kwəl), calm; peaceful; quiet. adj., tran quil er, tran quil est or esp. Brit. tran quil ler, tran quil lest. —tran'quil ly, adv.

tran quil ize (trang'kwəl iz), 1. make calm, peaceful, or quiet. 2. become tranquil. v., tran quil ized, tran quil iz ing. —tran'quil iz'er, n.

tran quil li ty or tran quil i ty (trang kwil'ə tē), calmness; peacefulness; quiet. n.

tran quil lize (trang'kwəl iz), tranquilize. v., tran quil lized, tran quil liz ing.

trans-, prefix meaning:

1. across; over; through, as in transcontinental, transmit. 2. beyond; on the other side of, as in Transjordan, transcend.

3. across, etc.; and also beyond, on the other side of, as in transmarine, transoceanic, and many other geographical terms, such as trans-Adriatic, trans-African.

4. into a different place, condition, etc., as in transform, transmute.

trans., 1. transitive. 2. transportation.

trans act (tran zakt'), 1. attend to; manage; do; carry on (business): He transacts business with stores all over the country. 2. carry on business; deal: Don't transact with anyone you don't trust. v.

trans action (tran zak/shən), 1. the carrying on (of business): Mr. Smith attends to the transaction of important matters himself. 2. piece of business: A record is kept of all the firm's transactions. n.

transactions, record of what was done at the meetings of a society, club, etc.

trans al pine (tran zal/pīn), across or beyond the Alps, especially as viewed from Italy. adj.

trans at lan tic (trans'ət lan'tik), 1. crossing the Atlantic: a transatlantic liner, a transatlantic cable. 2. on the other side of the Atlantic. adj.

Trans cau ca sia (trans/kō kā'zhə), region of SW Soviet Union, in and south of the Caucasus. n.

tran scend (tran send'), 1. go beyond the limits or powers of; exceed; be above: The grandeur of Niagara Falls transcends description. 2. be higher or greater than; surpass; excel: The speed of airplanes transcends that of any previous form of transportation. 3. be superior or extraordinary. v.

tran scend ent (tran sen/dənt), 1. surpassing ordinary limits; excelling; superior; extraordinary. 2. existing apart from the universe. adj. —tran scend'ent-ly, adv.

tran scen den tal (tran/sen den'tl), 1. transcend. 2. supernatural. 3. obscure; incomprehensible; fantastic. 4. explaining matter and objective things as products of the mind that is thinking about them; idealistic. 5. implied in and necessary to human experience. adj. —tran/scen den'tally, adv.

trans con ti nen tal (trans/kont n'en'tl), 1. crossing a continent: a transcontinental railroad. 2. on the other side of a continent. adj.

tran scribe (tran skrib'), 1. copy in writing or in typewriting: The account of the trial was transcribed from the stenographer's shorthand notes. 2. set down in writing or print: His entire speech was transcribed in the newspapers, word for word. 3. arrange (a piece of music) for a different instrument or voice. 4. make a recording or phonograph record of for broadcasting. 5. broadcast a phonograph record. v., transcribed, transcribing. —transcrib'er, n.

tran script (tran skript), 1. a written or typewritten copy. 2. copy or reproduction of anything. n.

tran scrip tion (tran skrip/shən), 1. a transcribing; copying. 2. transcript; copy. 3. arrangement of a piece of music for a different instrument or voice. 4. arrangement of music, etc., on a record for use in broadcasting. 5. act or fact of broadcasting such a record. n.

tran sept (tran/sept), 1. the shorter part of a cross-shaped church. 2. either end of this part. n.

trans fer (trans fēr' or trans/fēr), 1. for 1,2,5; trans/fēr for 3,4,6,7), convey or remove from one person or place to another; hand over: This farm has been transferred from father to son for generations. Please have my trunks transferred to the Union Station. 2. convey (a drawing, design, pattern) from one surface to another: You transfer the embroidery design from the paper to cloth by pressing it with a warm iron. 3. a transferring or being transferred. 4. thing transferred; a drawing, pattern, etc., printed from one surface onto another. 5. change from one streetcar, bus, train, etc., to another. 6. ticket allowing a passenger to continue his journey on another streetcar, bus, train, etc. 7. point or place for transferring. 1,2,5 v., transferred, transferring; 3,4,6,7 n.

Transsepts: I, def. 1; II, def. 2.

trans fer a bil i ty (trans fēr'ə bil'ə tē), quality of being transferable. n.

trans fer a ble (trans fēr'ə bl), capable of being transferred. adj.

trans fer ence (trans fēr'əns), transferring or being transferred. n.

trans fig u ra tion (trans fig'yə rā'shən), a change in form or appearance; transformation. n.

Trans fig u ra tion (trans fig'yə rā'shən), 1. in the Bible, the change in the appearance of Christ on the mountain. Matthew 17; Mark 9. 2. the church festival on August 6 in honor of this. n.

trans fig ure (trans fig'yər), 1. change in form or appearance; transform: New paint and furnishings had transfigured the old house. 2. change so as to glorify; exalt. v., transfigured, transfiguring.

trans fix (trans fiks'), 1. pierce through: The hunter transfixes the lion with a spear. 2. fasten by piercing through with something pointed. 3. make motionless (with amazement, terror, etc.). v.

trans form (trans fōrm'), 1. change in form or appearance. 2. change in condition, nature, or character: The witch transformed men into pigs. A tadpole becomes transformed into a frog. 3. change (one form of energy) into another. A dynamo transforms mechanical energy into electricity. 4. change (an electric current) into one of higher or lower voltage. v.

trans for ma tion (trans fər mā'shən), 1. a transforming: the transformation of a caterpillar into a butterfly. 2. wig worn by women. n.

trans form er (trans fōr'mər), 1. person or thing that transforms. 2. device for changing an alternating electric current into one of higher or lower voltage. n.

trans fuse (trans fūz'), 1. pour from one container into another. 2. transfer (blood) from one person or animal to another. 3. inject (a solution) into a blood vessel. 4. infuse; instill: The speaker transfused his enthusiasm into the audience. v., transfused, transfusing.

trans fu sion (trans fū'zhən), act or fact of transfusing. n.

trans gress (trans gres'), 1. break a law, command, etc.; sin. 2. go contrary to; sin against. 3. go beyond (a limit): transgress the bounds of good taste. v.

trans gres sion (trans gresh'ən), a transgressing; breaking a law, command, etc.; sin. n.

trans gres sor (trans gres'ər), person who transgresses; sinner. n.

tran ship (tran ship'), transship. v., transhipped, transhipping. —transship'ment, n.

tran sien cy (tran'shən sē), being transient. n.

tran sient (tran/shənt), 1. passing soon; fleeting; not lasting: Joy and sorrow are often transient. 2. passing through and not staying long: a transient guest in a hotel. 3. visitor or boarder who stays for a short time. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

—tran'siently, adv.

tran sis tor (tran zis'tər), a small crystal device consisting mainly of germanium or silicon, which amplifies electricity by controlling the flow of electrons. n.

trans it (tran'sit), 1. a passing across or through. 2. a carrying or being carried across or through: The goods were damaged in transit. 3. transition or change. 4. pass; pass across; pass through. 5. instrument used in surveying to measure angles. 6. the apparent passage of a heavenly body across the meridian of a place. 7. the passage of a small heavenly body across the disk of a larger one. 1-3,5-7 n., 4 v., transited, transiting.

Transit used in surveying. It is equipped with a telescope, levels, and scales for measuring both vertical and horizontal angles.

tran si tion (tran zish'ən), 1. a change or passing from one condition, place, thing, activity, topic, etc., to another: The time between two distinct periods of history, art, etc., is called a period of transition. The life of Lincoln illustrates a transition from poverty to power. Abrupt transitions in a book confuse the reader. 2. in music, a change of key. n.

tran si tion al (tran zish'ən l), of transition; of change from one more or less fixed condition to another. adj. —tran si'tion al ly, adv.

tran si tive (tran'sə tiv), 1. of verbs, taking a direct object. Bring and raise are transitive verbs. 2. a transitive verb. 3. transitional. 1,3 adj., 2 n. —tran'si tive ly, adv. —tran'si tive ness, n.

tran si to ry (tran'sə tō'rē), passing soon or quickly; lasting only a short time. adj. —tran'si to'ri ly, adv. —tran'si to'ri ness, n.

Trans jor dan (trans jōrd'n), former name of Jordan (def. 2). n.

trans late (trans lāt' or trans'lāt), 1. change from one language into another. 2. change into other words. 3. explain the meaning of. 4. change from one place, position, or condition to another. 5. take to heaven without death. v., trans lat ed, trans lat ing. —trans-lat'a ble, adj.

trans la tion (trans lā'shən), 1. act of translating; change into another language; change from one position or condition to another. 2. result of translating; version. n.

trans la tor (trans lā'tər or trans'lā tər), person who translates. n.

trans lu cence (trans lū'sns), translucent quality or condition. n.

trans lu cen cy (trans lū'sn sē), being translucent. n.

trans lu cent (trans lū'snt), letting light through without being transparent: Frosted glass is translucent. adj. —trans lu'cent ly, adv.

trans ma rine (trans'mə rēn'), across or beyond the sea. adj.

trans mi grate (trans mī'grāt), 1. move from one place or country to another; migrate. 2. pass at death into another body. v., trans mi grat ed, trans mi grat ing.

trans mi gra tion (trans mī'grā'shən), 1. the going from one place or country to another; migration. 2. the passing of a soul at death into another body. Many people in India believe in the transmigration of souls. n.

trans mis si ble (trans mis'ə bl), capable of being transmitted: Scarlet fever is a transmissible disease. adj.

trans mis sion (trans mish'ən), 1. a sending over; passing on; passing along; letting through: Mosquitoes are the only means of transmission of malaria. 2. something transmitted. 3. the part of an automobile that transmits power from the engine to the rear axle. 4. passage through space of radio waves from the transmitting station to the receiving station: When transmission is good, foreign stations can be received. n.

trans mit (trans mit'), 1. send over; pass on; pass along; let through: I will transmit the money by special messenger. Rats transmit disease. 2. cause (light, heat, sound, etc.) to pass through a medium. 3. of a medium, allow (light, heat, etc.) to pass through: Glass transmits light. 4. send out (signals, voice, music, etc.) by radio. v., trans mit ted, trans mit ting.

trans mit tal (trans mit'tl), a transmitting. n.

trans mit ter (trans mit'ər), 1. person or thing that transmits something. 2. that part of a telegraph or telephone by which messages are sent. 3. apparatus for sending out signals, voice, music, etc., by radio. n.

trans mu ta tion (trans'mū tā'shən), 1. change from one nature, substance, or form into another. 2. transformation of one species into another. n.

trans mute (trans mūt'), change from one nature, substance, or form into another: We can transmute water power into electrical power. v., trans mut ed, trans mut ing. —trans mut'er, n.

trans o ce an ic (trans'ō shē an'ik), 1. crossing the ocean. 2. on the other side of the ocean. adj.

tran som (tran'səm), 1. window over a door or other window, usually hinged for opening. 2. a horizontal bar across a window; crossbar separating a door from the window over it. n.

tran son ic (tran son'ik), having to do with or designed for operation at speeds between 600 and 800 miles per hour, in the range immediately below or above the speed of sound. adj.

trans pa cific (trans'pə sif'ik), 1. crossing the Pacific. 2. on the other side of the Pacific. adj.

trans par ence (trans pār'əns), transparent quality or condition. n.

trans par en cy (trans pār'ən sē), 1. transparent quality or condition. 2. something transparent. 3. picture, design, or the like, made visible by light shining through from behind. n., pl. trans par en cies.

trans par ent (trans pār'ənt), 1. transmitting light so that bodies beyond or behind can be distinctly seen: Window glass is transparent. 2. easily seen through or detected: The boy's transparent excuses never fooled the teacher. 3. frank; free from pretense or deceit: a boy of transparent honesty. adj. —trans par'ent ly, adv.

tran spi ra tion (tran'spə rā'shən), transpiring. n.

tran spire (tran spīr'), 1. take place; happen. 2. leak out; become known. 3. pass off or send off in the form of vapor through a wall or surface, as from the human body or from leaves. v., tran spired, tran spir ing.

tran plant (trans plant'), 1. plant again in a different place: We start the flowers indoors and then transplant them to the garden. 2. remove from one place to another: A group of farmers was transplanted to the island by the government. 3. transfer (skin, an organ, etc.) from one person, animal, or part of the body to another. 4. bear moving: Poppies do not transplant well and should be planted where they are to grow. v. —trans-plant'a ble, adj. —trans plant'er, n.

trans plan ta tion (trans'plan tā'shən), 1. a transplanting or being transplanted. 2. something that has been transplanted. n.

trans port (trans pōt' for 1,5,7,9; trans'pōrt for 2-4, 6,8), 1. carry from one place to another: Wheat is transported from the farms to the mills. 2. a carrying from one place to another: Trucks are much used for transport. 3. ship used to carry men and supplies. 4. airplane that transports passengers, mail, freight, etc. 5. carry away by strong feeling: She was transported with joy by the good news. 6. a strong feeling. 7. send away to another country as a punishment. 8. a transported convict. 9. kill. 1,5,7,9 v., 2-4,6,8 n. —trans-port'er, n.

trans port a ble (trans pōr'tə bl), 1. capable of being transported. 2. involving, or liable to, punishment by transportation: a transportable offense. adj.

trans por ta tion (trans'pər tā'shən), 1. a transporting: The railroad gives free transportation for a certain amount of baggage. 2. state of being transported. 3. means of transport. 4. cost of transport; ticket for transport. 5. a sending away to another country as a punishment. n.

trans pos al (trans pōz'l), transposition. n.

trans pose (trans pōz'), 1. change the position or order of; interchange. 2. change the usual order of (letters, words, or numbers): He transposed the numbers and mistakenly wrote 19 for 91. 3. in music, change the key of. 4. transfer (a term) to the other side of an algebraic equation, changing plus to minus or minus to plus. v., trans posed, trans pos ing. —trans pos'er, n.

trans po si tion (trans'pə zish'ən), 1. a transposing or being transposed. 2. piece of music transposed into a different key. n.

trans ship (trans ship'), transfer from one ship, train, car, etc., to another. v., trans shipped, trans ship ping. Also, transship. —trans ship'ment, n.

trans son ic (tran son'ik), transonic. adj.

tran sub stan ti a tion

(trən'səb stan'shē ā'shən),

1. a changing of one substance into another. 2. the changing of the bread and wine of the Eucharist into the substance of the body and blood of Christ, only the appearance of the bread and wine remaining. n.

Lines AB and CD are transversals.

trans ver sal(trəns'vɜːsl), 1. transverse. 2. line intersecting two or more other lines. 1 adj., 2 *n.trans verse (trəns'vɜːs/ or trəns'vɜːs),

1. lying across; placed crosswise; crossing from side to side: transverse beams. 2. something transverse. 3. the longer axis of an ellipse. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

trans verse ly (trəns'vɜːs/lē), across; athwart; crosswise; from side to side. adv.

trap (trəp),

1. thing or means for catching animals. 2. trick or other means for catching someone off guard: The police set traps to make the thief tell where the money was. 3. catch in a trap: The bear was trapped. 4. set traps for animals. 5. make a business of catching animals in traps for their furs. 6. a trap door. 7. a device in a pipe to prevent the escape of air, water, gas, etc. 8. provide with a trap. 9. stop with a trap. 10. a light, two-wheeled carriage. 11. device to throw clay pigeons, etc., into the air to be shot at. 1,2,6,7,10,11 n., 3-5,8,9 v., trapped, trapping.

traps, drums, cymbals, bells, gongs, etc.

trap door, door in a floor or roof.tra pe ze (trəpēz/), a short horizontal bar hung by ropes like a swing, used in gymnasiums and circuses. *n.tra pe zi um (trəpēz/ē əm), a four-sided plane figure having no sides parallel. n., pl. tra pe zi ums, tra pe zi a (-zē ə).trap e zoid (trəp'əzoid), a four-sided plane figure having two sides parallel and two sides not parallel. *n.trap per (trəp'ər), person who traps; especially, a man who traps wild animals for their furs. *n.trap pings (trəp'ingz), 1. ornamental coverings for a horse. 2. things worn; ornaments: trappings of a king and his court. *n.pl.Trap pist (trəp'ist), 1. monk belonging to an extremely austere branch of the Cistercian order established in 1664. 2. of or having to do with the Trappists. 1 n., 2 *adj.trap shoot er (trəp'shūt'ər), person who shoots at clay pigeons, etc., thrown into the air. *n.trap shoot ing (trəp'shūt'ing), shooting at clay pigeons, etc., thrown into the air. *n.trash (trəʃ), 1. worthless stuff; rubbish. When we say that a book or magazine is trash, we mean that it is cheap, meretricious, and worthless. 2. broken or torn bits, such as leaves, twigs, husks, etc.: Rake up the trash

Common types of traps in pipe

Man using a trap door

Man on a trapeze

Trapezium

Trapezoids

in the yard and burn it. 3. worthless people collectively. n.

trash y (trəʃ'i), like or containing trash; worthless. adj., trash i er, trash i est. —trash'i ness, *n.trau ma (trō'mə or trou'mə), 1. a physical or psychic wound; injury. 2. the condition produced by it. n., pl. trau ma ta (-mə tə) or trau mas.trau mat ic (trō'mat'ik or trou'mat'ik), 1. of, having to do with, or produced by a wound or injury. 2. for or dealing with the treatment of wounds or injuries. *adj.trav ail (trəv'āl), 1. toil; labor. 2. trouble; hardship. 3. the pains of childbirth. 4. suffer the pains of childbirth. 1-3 n., 1,4 v.

travel (trəv'l), 1. go from one place to another; journey: travel across the country. 2. going in trains, ships, cars, etc., from one place to another; journeying. 3. go from place to place selling things: He travels for a large firm. 4. move; proceed; pass: Light and sound travel in waves. 5. walk or run: A deer travels many miles in a day. 6. pass through or over: travel a road. 7. movement in general. 8. length of stroke, speed, way of working, etc., of a part of a machine. 1,3-6 v., traveled, trav el ing or esp. Brit. trav elled, trav el ling; 2,7,8 n.

travels, 1. journeys. 2. book about one's experiences, visits, etc., while traveling.

trav eled or trav elled (trəv'ld), 1. that has done much traveling: a traveled man. 2. much used by travelers. *adj.trav el er or trav el ler (trəv'l'ər), 1. person or thing that travels. 2. a traveling salesman. *n.traveling salesman, person whose work is going from place to place selling things for a company.trav e logue or trav e log (trəv'l'ŏg), lecture describing travel, usually accompanied by pictures, or a motion picture depicting travel. *n.trav erse (trəv'ɜːs or trəv'ɜːs/), 1. pass across, over, or through: We traversed the desert. 2. act of crossing.

3. lying across; being across. 4. something put or lying across: A traverse was laid across the trench to protect it from the gunfire from the side. 5. an earth wall protecting a trench or an exposed place in a fortification. 6. gallery from side to side in a church. 7. across; crosswise. 8. walk or move in a crosswise direction; move back and forth: That horse traverses. 9. go to and fro over or along (a place, etc.). 10. distance across. 11. move sideways; turn from side to side. 12. turn (cannon) to right or left. 13. turn on a pivot, or as if on a pivot. 14. a sideways motion of a ship, part in a machine, mountain climbers, etc. 15. the zigzag line taken by a ship because of contrary winds or currents. 16. line that crosses other lines. 17. oppose; hinder; thwart. 18. opposition; obstacle; hindrance. 19. examine carefully. 1,8,9,11-13,17,19 v., traversed, travers ing; 2,4-6,10,14-16,18 n., 3 adj., 7 adv. —trav'ers a ble, adj. —trav'ers er, n.

trav es ty (trəv'is tē), 1. imitation of a serious literary work in such a way as to make it seem ridiculous. 2. any treatment or imitation that makes a serious thing seem ridiculous: The trial was a travesty of justice, since the judge and jury were prejudiced. 3. make (a serious subject or matter) ridiculous; imitate in an absurd or grotesque way. 1,2 n., pl. trav es ties; 3 v., trav estied, trav es ty ing.

trawl (trōl), 1. a strong net dragged along the bottom of the sea. 2. fish with a net by dragging it along the bottom of the sea. 3. line supported by buoys and having many short lines with baited hooks attached to it. 4. fish with lines supported by buoys. 5. catch (fish) with such a net or lines. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 *v.trawler (trōl'ər), 1. boat used in trawling. 2. person who trawls. *n.tray (trā), 1. a flat, shallow holder or container with a low rim around it. 2. tray with dishes of food on it:

Grace had a tray for breakfast. 3. a shallow box that fits into a trunk, cabinet, etc.: Our dentist keeps his instruments in trays. n.

treach er ous (trech'ər əs), 1. not to be trusted; not faithful; disloyal: The treacherous soldier carried reports to the enemy. 2. having a false appearance of strength, security, etc.; not reliable; deceiving: This ice is treacherous. adj. —treach'er ous ly, adv. —treach'er ous-ness, n.

treach er y (trech'ər ē), 1. a breaking of faith; treacherous behavior; deceit. 2. treason. n., pl. treach-er ies.

trea cle (trē'kl), Brit. molasses, especially that produced during the refining of sugar. n.

tread (tred), 1. walk; step; set the foot down: Don't tread on the flower beds. 2. set the feet on; walk on or through; step on: tread the streets. 3. press under the feet; trample; trample on; crush: tread grapes. 4. make, form, or do by walking: Cattle had trodden a path to the pond. 5. act or sound of treading: We heard the tread of marching feet. 6. way of walking: He walks with a heavy tread. 7. the part of stairs or a ladder that a person steps on: The stair treads were covered with rubber to prevent slipping. 8. the part of a wheel or tire that touches the ground. 9. part of a rail or rails that the wheels touch. 10. sole of the foot or of a shoe. 1-4 v., 5-10 n. —tread'er, n.

tread on air, feel happy and gay.

tread on one's toes, offend or annoy one.

tread the boards, be an actor or actress; play a part in a play.

tread water, keep oneself from sinking by moving the feet up and down.

trea dle (tred'l), 1. lever worked by the foot to operate a machine: the treadle of a sewing machine. 2. work a treadle. 1 n., 2 v., tread-dled, tread-ling.

tread mill (tred'mil'),

1. apparatus to turn something by having a person or animal walk on the moving steps of a wheel or of a sloping, endless belt. 2. any wearisome or monotonous round of work or life. n.

Treadmill train

treas., 1. treasurer. 2. treasury.

trea son (trē'zn), 1. betrayal of one's country or ruler. Helping the enemies of one's country is treason. 2. Rare. betrayal of a trust, duty, friend, etc.; treachery. n.

trea son a ble (trē'zn ə bl), of treason; involving treason; traitorous. adj. —trea'son a ble ness, n. —trea'son a bly, adv.

trea son ous (trē'zn əs), treasonable. adj.

treas ure (trezh'ər), 1. wealth or riches stored up; valuable things. 2. any thing or person that is much loved or valued: The silver teapot was the old lady's chief treasure. 3. value highly: She treasures that doll more than all her other toys. 4. put away for future use; store up. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., treas-ured, treas-ur-ing.

treas ur er (trezh'ər ə), person in charge of money. The treasurer of a club pays its bills. n.

treas ur y (trezh'ər ē), 1. place where money is kept. 2. money owned; funds: We voted to pay for the party out of the club treasury. 3. department that has charge of the income and expenses of a country. 4. place where treasure is kept. 5. book or person thought of as a valuable source. n., pl. treas-ur ies.

treat (trēt), 1. act toward: The driver treats his horses well. 2. think of; consider; regard: He treated his mistake as a joke. 3. deal with to relieve or cure: The dentist is treating my tooth. 4. deal with to bring about some special result: treat a metal plate with acid in engraving. 5. deal with; discuss: This magazine treats the progress of medicine. 6. express in literature or art: treat a theme realistically. 7. deal with a subject. 8. discuss terms; arrange terms: Messengers came to treat for peace. 9. entertain with food, drink, or amusement: He treated his friends to ice cream. 10. pay the cost of entertainment: I'll treat today. 11. gift of food, drink, or amusement. 12. anything that gives pleasure. 1-10 v., 11,12 n. —treat'er, n.

treat of, deal with; discuss.

trea tise (trē'tis), book or writing dealing with some subject. A treatise is more formal and systematic than most books or writings. n.

treat ment (trēt'mənt), 1. act or process of treating: My cold won't yield to treatment. 2. way of treating: This cat has suffered from bad treatment. 3. thing done or used to treat something else, such as a disease. n.

trea ty (trē'tē), agreement, especially one between nations, signed and approved by each nation. n., pl. trea ties.

tre ble (treb'l), 1. three times. 2. make or become three times as much: He trebled his money by buying a dog for $5.00 and selling it for $15.00. 3. the highest part in music; soprano. 4. voice, singer, or instrument that takes this part. 5. of or for the treble. 6. shrill; high-pitched. 7. a shrill, high-pitched voice or sound. 1,5,6 adj., 2 v., tre-ble'd, tre-ble'ing; 3,4,7 n.

treble clef, in music, symbol indicating that the pitch of the notes on a staff is above middle C.

tre bly (treb'lē), three times. adv.

tree (trē), 1. a large perennial plant with a woody trunk, branches, and leaves. 2. less accurately, any of certain other plants that resemble trees in form or size. 3. piece or structure of wood for some special purpose: clothes tree, shoe tree. 4. furnish with a tree (beam, bar, wooden handle, etc.). 5. stretch (a shoe) on a tree. 6. anything like a tree. A family tree is a diagram with branches showing how the members of a family are related. 7. assume a tree-like or branching form. 8. chase up a tree: The cat was treed by a dog. 9. take refuge in a tree. 10. Informal. put into a difficult position. 11. Archaic. gallows. 12. Archaic. cross on which Christ died. 1-3,6,11,12 n., 4,5,7-10 v., treed, tree-ing.

up a tree, 1. chased up a tree. 2. Informal. in a difficult position.

tree fern, fern that grows to the size of a tree, has a trunklike stem, and has fronds at the top.

tree frog, 1. a small frog that lives in trees. 2. a tree toad.

tree of heaven, ailanthus.

tree toad, a small toad that lives in trees. It has adhesive disks or suckers on its toes.

tre foil (trē'foil), 1. plant having threefold leaves. Clover is a trefoil. 2. ornament like a three-fold leaf. n.

Trefoils (def. 2) trek (trek), 1. travel by ox wagon. 2. travel slowly by any means; travel. 3. journey. 4. stage of a journey between one stopping place and the next. 1,2 v., trek-ked, trek-king; 3,4 n.

trel lis (trel'is), 1. frame of light strips of wood or metal crossing one another with open spaces in between; lattice, especially one supporting growing vines. 2. furnish with a trellis. 3. support on a trellis. 4. cross as in a trellis. 1 n., 2-4 v.

trel lis work (trel'is wër'k), work made of crossed strips with open spaces in between; latticework. n.

Trellis

trem a tode (trem'ə tōd), flatworm that lives as a parasite in or on other animals. n.

trem ble (trem'bl), 1. shake because of fear, excitement, weakness, cold, etc.: The old woman's hand trembled. Her voice trembled with fear. 2. feel fear, anxiety, etc. 3. move gently: The leaves trembled in the breeze. 4. a trembling: There was a tremble in her voice as she began to recite. 1-3 v., trem bled, trem bling; 4 n. —trem/bling ly, adv.

trem bly (trem/ble), trembling; tremulous. adj.

trem en dous (tri men/dəs), 1. dreadful; awful: The army suffered a tremendous defeat. 2. Informal. very great; enormous: a tremendous house. 3. Informal. extraordinary: have a tremendous time. adj. —tre men/dous ly, adv.

trem o lo (trem/ə lō), 1. a trembling or vibrating quality in musical tones. The tremolo is used to express emotion. 2. device in an organ used to produce this quality. n., pl. trem o los.

trem or (trem/or), 1. an involuntary shaking or trembling: a nervous tremor in the voice. 2. thrill of emotion or excitement. n.

trem u lous (trem/yə ləs), 1. trembling; quivering: The child's voice was tremulous with sobs. 2. timid; fearful. adj. —trem/u lous ly, adv. —trem/u lous-ness, n.

trench (trench), 1. a long, narrow ditch with earth thrown up in front to protect soldiers. 2. surround with a trench; fortify with trenches. 3. a deep furrow; ditch. 4. dig a trench in. 5. dig ditches. 6. cut, scar, or deep wrinkle. 7. cut. 1,3,6 n., 2,4,5,7 v.

trench on or upon, 1. trespass upon. 2. come close to; border on: The demagogue's speech trenched closely on treason.

trench an cy (tren/chən sē), sharpness; trenchant quality. n.

trench ant (tren/chənt), 1. sharp; keen; cutting: trenchant wit. 2. vigorous; effective: a trenchant policy. 3. clear-cut; distinct: in trenchant outline against the sky. adj. —trench/ant ly, adv.

trench er (tren/chər), a wooden platter on which meat was formerly served and carved. n.

trench er man (tren/chər mən), 1. eater; person who has a hearty appetite. 2. hanger-on; parasite. n., pl. trench er men.

trench mouth, 1. a contagious inflammation of the mouth and gums. 2. any inflammation of the mouth and gums.

trend (trend), 1. the general direction; course; tendency: The hills have a western trend. The trend of modern living is away from many old customs. 2. have a general direction; tend; run: The road trends to the north. 1 n., 2 v.

Trent (trend), 1. city in N Italy. 37,000. 2. Council of, the Roman Catholic Church Council held from 1545 to 1563 at Trent. It settled important points of church doctrines and rules and organized the Catholic opposition to Protestantism. 3. river flowing from W England into the Humber. 170 mi. n.

Tren ton (tren/tən), capital of New Jersey, in the W part. 114,000. n.

trep i da tion (trep/ə dā/shən), 1. nervous dread; fear; fright. 2. a trembling. n.

tres pass (tres/pəs), 1. go on somebody's property without any right: The farmer put up "No Trespassing" signs to keep people off his farm. 2. go beyond the limits of what is right, proper, or polite: I won't trespass on your time any longer. 3. act or fact of trespassing. 4. do wrong; sin. 5. a wrong; a sin. 6. an unlawful act done by force against the person, property, or rights of another. 7. action at law to recover damages for such an injury. 1,2,4 v., 3,5-7 n. —tres/pass er, n.

tress (tres), a lock, curl, or braid of hair: golden tresses. n.

tres tle (tres/l), 1. frame used as a support. 2. a supporting framework for carrying railroad tracks across a gap. n.

tres tle work (tres/l wèrk/), structural work consisting of a trestle or trestles; a support; bridge, or the like, made of such structures. n.

tre y (trā), card, die, or domino with three spots. n.

tri-, word element meaning:

1. three; having three; having three parts, as in triangle.

2. three times; into three parts, as in trisection.

3. containing three atoms, etc., of the substance specified, as in trioxide.

4. once in three; every third, as in trimonthly.

tri ad (tri/ad), 1. group of three, especially of three closely related persons or things. 2. chord of three tones. n.

tri al (tri/əl), 1. the examining and deciding of a case in court. 2. process of trying or testing: He gave the machine another trial to see if it would work. 3. condition of being tried or tested: He is employed on trial. 4. trouble; hardship: Her trials were sickness, poverty, and loss of loved ones.

5. cause of trouble or hardship.

6. attempt; effort.

7. for a try or test: a trial trip. 1-6 n., 7 adj.

trial jury, group of 12 persons chosen to decide a case in court.

tri angle (tri/ang/gl), 1. a plane figure having three sides and three angles. 2. something shaped like a triangle. 3. a musical instrument consisting of a triangle of steel that is struck with a steel rod. 4. group of three. n.

tri an gular (tri ang/gyə lər),

1. shaped like a triangle; three-cornered. 2. concerned with three persons, groups, etc. adj.

trib al (trib/l), of a tribe. adj.

trib al ly (trib/l ē), according to tribe; by tribe or tribes. adv.

tribe (trib), 1. group of people united by race and customs under the same leaders: America was once the home of many Indian tribes.

2. class or set of people: the whole tribe of gossips. 3. class, kind, or sort of animals, plants, or other things. n.

tribes man (tribz/mən), member of a tribe. n., pl. tribes men.

trib u la tion (trib/yə lā/shən), great trouble; severe trial; affliction: The early Christians suffered many tribulations. n.

tri bu nal (tri bū/nl or trī bū/nl), 1. court of justice; place of judgment: He was brought before the tribunal for trial. 2. place where judges sit in a law court. n.

trib une (trib/ün), 1. official in ancient Rome chosen by the plebeians to protect their rights and interests. 2. defender of the people. n.

trib une (trib/ün), a raised platform. n.

trib une ship (trib/ün ship), position, duties, or term of a tribune. n.

trib u tar y (trib/yə ter/ē), 1. stream that flows into a larger stream or body of water: The Ohio River is a tributary of the Mississippi River. 2. flowing into a larger stream or body of water. 3. paying tribute; required to pay tribute. 4. paid as tribute; of the nature

Trestlework

Triangles: A and G, equilateral; B and E, isosceles; C, D, and F, scalene; E, right; A and G, equiangular.

Boy playing a triangle (def. 3) of tribute. 5. one that pays tribute. 6. contributing; helping. 1,5 n., pl. tri bu tar ies; 2-4,6 adj.

trib ute (trib'üt), 1. money paid by one nation to another for peace or protection or because of some agreement. 2. any forced payment. 3. an acknowledgment of thanks or respect; compliment: Memorial Day is a tribute to our dead soldiers. n.

trice (tris), haul up and fasten with a rope: trice up a sail. v., triced, tricing.

trice (tris), a very short time; moment; instant. n.

tri ceps (tri'seps), the large muscle at the back of the upper arm. It extends or straightens the arm. n.

tri chi na (tri kī'nə), a small, slender worm that lives in the intestines and muscles of man and some animals. Trichinae usually get into the human body from pork which is infected with the larvae and is not cooked long enough to destroy them. n., pl. tri chi nae (-nē).

trich i no sis (trik'ə nō'sis), disease due to the presence of trichinae in the intestines and muscular tissues. n.

trich i nous (trik'ə nəs), having trichinosis; infected with trichinae. adj.

trick (trik), 1. something done to deceive or cheat: The false message was a trick to get him to leave the house.

2. deceive; cheat: We were tricked into buying a poor car.

3. something pretended or unreal; illusion: Those two lines are really the same length, but a trick of the eyesight makes one of them look longer.

4. a clever act; feat of skill: We enjoyed the tricks of the trained animals.

5. the best way of doing or dealing with something: the trick of making pies.

6. piece of mischief; prank: Stealing John's lunch was a mean trick.

7. play tricks. 8. a peculiar habit or way of acting: He has a trick of pulling at his collar.

9. the cards played in one round. 10. a turn at steering a ship. 11. dress: The girls were tricked up in fancy clothes. 1,3-6,8-10 n., 2,7,11 v.

do or turn the trick, do what one wants done.

trick out, dress up; ornament.

trick er y (trik'ər ē), use of tricks; deception; cheating. n., pl. trick er ies.

trickle (trik'l), 1. flow or fall in drops or in a small stream: Tears trickled down her cheeks. The brook trickled through the valley.

2. a small flow or stream. 3. cause to flow in drops or in a small stream: He trickled the water into the container.

4. come, go, pass, etc., slowly and unevenly: An hour before the show people began to trickle into the theater.

5. a trickling. 1,3,4 v., trick led, trick ling; 2,5 n.

trick ster (trik'stər), cheat; deceiver. n.

trick y (trik'ē), 1. full of tricks; deceiving. 2. not doing what is expected; dangerous or difficult to handle: The back door has a tricky lock.

adj., trick i er, trick i est. —trick i ly, adv. —trick i ness, n.

tri col or (tri'kul'ər), 1. having three colors. 2. flag having three colors. The tricolor of France has three equal vertical stripes of blue, white, and red. The tricolor of Italy is green, white, and red. 1 adj., 2 n.

tri cot (trē'kō), 1. a knitted fabric made by hand or machine. 2. a kind of woolen cloth. n.

tri cus pid (tri kus'pid), 1. having three points. 2. a tricuspid tooth. 1 adj., 2 n.

tri cy cle (tri'sə kl or tri'sik'l), vehicle having three wheels (usually one in front and one on each side behind), worked by pedals or handles. n.

tri dent (trid'nt), 1. a three-pronged spear. 2. three-pronged. 1 n., 2 adj.

tried (trid), 1. tested; proved. 2. pt. and pp. of try. 1 adj., 2 v.

tri en ni al (tri en'ē əl), 1. lasting three years. 2. occurring every three years.

3. event that occurs every three years. 4. the third anniversary of an event. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

tri en ni al ly (tri en'ē əl ē), once every three years. adv.

trier (tri'ər), person or thing that tries. n.

Tri este (trē est'), seaport in NE Italy. It was under administration of the United Nations from 1947 to 1954 as part of the Free Territory of Trieste. 285,000. n.

trifle (tri'fl), 1. thing having little value or importance. 2. a small amount; little bit. 3. a small amount of money. 4. talk or act lightly, not seriously: Don't trifle with serious matters.

5. play or toy (with): He trifled with his pencil and pen.

6. spend (time, effort, money, etc.) on things having little value: She had trifled away the whole morning.

7. a rich dessert made of sponge cake, whipped cream, custard, fruit, wine, etc. 1-3,7 n., 4-6 v., tri fled, tri fling.

tri fler (tri'flər), person who trifles; frivolous, shallow person. n.

tri fling (tri'fling), 1. having little value; not important; small. 2. frivolous; shallow. adj. —tri'fling-ly, adv.

trig (trig), neat; trim; smart-looking. adj.

trig., 1. trigonometry. 2. trigonometric.

trig ger (trig'ər), 1. the small lever pulled back by the finger in firing a gun. 2. lever pulled or pressed to release a spring, catch, etc. 3. set off (an explosion).

4. Informal. initiate; start: trigger an outburst of violence. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., trig gered, trig ger ing.

quick on the trigger, 1. quick to shoot. 2. Informal. quick to act; mentally alert.

trig o no met ric (trig'ə nō met'rik), of or having to do with trigonometry. adj.

trig o no met ri cal ly (trig'ə nō met'rik lē), by or according to trigonometry. adv.

trig o nom e try (trig'ə nom'ə trē), branch of mathematics that deals with the relations between the sides and angles of triangles and the calculations based on these. n.

tri graph (tri'graf), three letters used to spell a single sound. The eau in beau is a trigraph. n.

trill (tril), 1. sing, play, sound, or speak with a tremulous, vibrating sound. 2. act or sound of trilling. 3. a quick alternation of two musical notes either a tone or a half tone apart. 4. sing or play with a trill: Some birds trill their songs. 1,4 v., 2,3 n.

tril lion (tril'yən), 1. in the United States and France, 1 followed by 12 zeros. 2. in Great Britain, 1 followed by 18 zeros. n., adj.

tril li um (tril'ē əm), plant with three leaves in a whorl from the center of which rises a single flower. n.

tri lo bate (tri lō'bāt), having three lobes. adj.

tri lo bite (tri'lə bit), an extinct arthropod, with three divisions of the body and jointed limbs. Fossil trilobites are widely found in various rocks. n.

tril o gy (tril'ə jē), three plays, operas, novels, etc., that, while each is complete in itself, fit together to make a related series. n., pl. tril o gies.

trim (trim), 1. put in good order; make neat by cutting away parts: The gardener trimmed the hedge. The carpenter trimmed the lumber with a plane.

2. remove (parts that are not needed or not neat): trim dead leaves off plants.

3. neat; in good condition or order: A trim maid appeared.

4. good condition or order: get in trim for a race.

5. condition; order: That ship is in poor trim for a voyage.

6. trimming: the trim on a dress.

7. decorate: The children trimmed the Christmas tree.

8. equipment; outfit. 9. balance (a boat, airplane, etc.) by arranging the load carried.

10. such balance. 11. be or keep in balance. 12. arrange (the sails) to fit wind and direction.

13. change (opinions, etc.) to suit circumstances. 14. the visible woodwork inside a building.

15. woodwork used as a finish or ornament on the outside of a building. 16. Informal. defeat; beat. 17. Informal. scold. 1,2,7,9,11-13,16,17 v., trim med, trim ming; 3 adj., trim mer, trim mest; 4-6,8,10,14,15 n.

—trim'ly, adv. —trim'ness, n.

trim mer (trim'ər), 1. person or thing that trims: a hat trimmer, a window trimmer.

2. person who changes his opinions, actions, etc., to suit the circumstances. n.

trim ming (trim'ing), 1. decoration; ornament: trimmings for a Christmas tree, trimming for a dress.

2. Informal. a defeat; beating. 3. Informal. a scolding. n.

Neptune with a trident trimmings, 1. parts cut away in trimming. 2. Informal. additions to simple food: turkey with all the trimmings.

tri month ly (trī muntʰlē), occurring every three months. adj.

Trin i dad (trinʰə dād), 1. an island in the West Indies, near Venezuela, part of the country of Trinidad and Tobago. 795,000 pop.; 1864 sq. mi. n.

Trinidad and Tobago, a country composed of two islands in the West Indies, a member of the British Commonwealth. 828,000 pop.; 1980 sq. mi. Capital: Port of Spain.

tri ni tro tol u ene (trī nīʰtrō tolʰyū ēn), a powerful explosive, known as TNT. n.

Trin i ty (trinʰə tē), 1. the union of Father, Son, and Holy Ghost in one divine nature. 2. Informal. Trinity Sunday. n.

trin i ty (trinʰə tē), 1. group of three. 2. being three. n.

Trinity Sunday, the eighth Sunday after Easter. trin ket (tringʰkit), 1. any small fancy article, bit of jewelry, or the like. 2. trifle. n.

tri no mi al (trī nōʰmē əl), 1. a mathematical expression consisting of three terms connected by plus or minus signs. $a + bx^2 - 2$ is a trinomial. 2. the name of an animal or plant consisting of three words. 3. consisting of three terms. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

tri o (trēʰō), 1. piece of music for three voices or instruments. 2. three singers or players. 3. any group of three. n., pl. tri os.

tri ox ide (trī okʰsīd), any oxide having three atoms of oxygen in each molecule. n.

trip (trip), 1. a traveling about; journey; voyage: We took a trip to Europe. 2. stumble: trip on the stairs. 3. a stumble; slip. 4. cause to stumble and fall: The loose board tripped him. 5. act of catching a person's foot to throw him down. 6. make a mistake; do something wrong: He tripped on that difficult question. 7. mistake; blunder. 8. cause to make a mistake or blunder: The difficult question tripped him. 9. take light, quick steps: She tripped across the floor. 10. a light, quick tread; stepping lightly. 11. tip; tilt. 12. release or operate suddenly (a catch, clutch, etc.); operate, start, or set free (a mechanism, weight, etc.). 13. a projecting part, catch, or the like for starting or checking some movement. 1,3,5,7,10,13 n., 2,4,6,8,9,11,12 v., tripped, tripping.

tri par tite (trī pārʰtīt), 1. divided into three parts. 2. having three corresponding parts or copies. 3. made or shared by three parties: a tripartite treaty between England, the United States, and France. adj.

tripe (trip), 1. the walls of the first and second stomachs of an ox, etc., used as food. 2. Slang. something foolish, worthless, offensive, etc. n.

trip ham mer (tripʰamʰər), a heavy iron or steel block raised and then let fall by machinery. n.

tri plane (trī plānʰ), airplane having three wings, one above another. n.

tri ple (tripʰl), 1. having three parts. 2. three times as much or as many. 3. number, amount, etc., that is three times as much or as many. 4. make or become three times as much or as many. 5. hit by which a batter gets to third base in baseball. 6. make such a hit. 1,2 adj., 3,5 n., 4,6 v., tri pled, tri pling.

triple crown, tiara worn by the Pope.

triple play, play in baseball that puts three men out.

tri plet (tripʰlit), 1. one of three children born at the same time from the same mother. 2. group of three. n.

triple time, time or rhythm in music having three beats to the measure.

trip li cate (tripʰlə kāt for 1; tripʰlə kit for 2,3), 1. make threefold; triple. 2. triple; threefold. 3. one of three things exactly alike. 1 v., trip li cat ed, trip li cat ing; 2 adj., 3 n.

in triplicate, in three copies exactly alike.

tri ply (tripʰlē), in a triple manner; three times. adv.
tri pod (triʰpod), stool, frame, or stand with three legs. A camera is sometimes supported on a tripod. n.

Tri o li (tripʰlē), 1. region in N Africa. It was a Turkish province and later an Italian colony; it is now included in Libya. See Barbary States for map. 2. seaport and one of two capitals of Libya. 172,000. n.

trip per (tripʰər), 1. person or thing that trips. 2. device in a machine that releases a catch, etc. 3. Brit. person who takes a trip. n.

trip ping (tripʰing), light and quick. adj.

trip tych (tripʰtik), 1. set of three panels side by side, having pictures, carvings, or the like, on them. 2. a hinged, three-leaved writing tablet. n.

Trireme. Diagram shows position of rowers.

tri reme (triʰrēm), an ancient ship with three rows of oars, one above the other, on each side. n.

tri sect (trī sektʰ), 1. divide into three parts. 2. divide into three equal parts. v. —tri secʰtion, n.

tris yl lab ic (trisʰə labʰik or triʰsə labʰik), having three syllables. adj.

tris yl lab i cal ly (trisʰə labʰik lē or triʰsə labʰik lē), as or in three syllables. adv.

tri syl la ble (tri silʰə bl or tri silʰə bl), word of three syllables. Educate is a trisyllable. n.

trite (trit), worn out by use; no longer interesting; commonplace: "Cheeks like roses" is a trite expression. adj., trit er, trit est. —triteʰly, adv. —triteʰness, n.

trit i um (tritʰē əm), an isotope of hydrogen. It is the explosive used in a hydrogen bomb. Symbol: T or H³ n.

Tri ton (tritʰn), a Greek sea god having the head and body of a man and the tail of a fish. n.

trit u rate (trichʰə rāt), 1. rub, crush, or grind into a very fine powder. 2. any substance that is ground into a very fine powder. 1 v., trit u rat ed, trit u rat ing; 2 n.

trit u ra tion (trichʰə rāʰshən), 1. reducing to fine particles of powder by grinding, rubbing, etc. 2. medicine, etc., produced by grinding into a fine powder. n.

tri umph (triʰumf), 1. victory; success: the triumphs of science. 2. gain victory; win success: Our team triumphed over theirs. 3. joy because of victory or success: We met the victor with cheers of triumph. 4. rejoice because of victory or success. 5. a Roman procession in honor of a victorious general. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 v.

in triumph, 1. triumphant. 2. triumphantly: He brought home the prize in triumph.

tri um phal (triʰumʰfl), of or for a triumph; celebrating a victory. adj.

tri um phant (triʰumʰfənt), 1. victorious; successful. 2. rejoicing because of victory or success: The winner spoke in triumphant tones to his defeated rival. adj. —tri um phant ly, adv.

tri um vir (triʰumʰvər), one of three men who shared the same public office in ancient Rome. n., pl. tri um virs, tri um vi ri (-və rī).

tri um vi rate (triʰumʰvə rit), 1. position or term of office of a triumvir. 2. government by three men together. 3. any association of three in office or authority. 4. any group of three. n.

triv et (trivʰit), a stand or support with three legs or feet. Trivets are used over fires and under platters. n.

triv i a (trivʰē ə), trifles; trivialities. n., pl.

triv i al (trivʰē əl), 1. not important; trifling; insignificant: Fred's composition had only a few trivial mistakes. 2. Archaic. not new or interesting; ordinary. adj. —trivʰi al ly, adv.

triviality (triv'ē al'ə tē), 1. trivial quality. 2. a trivial thing, remark, affair, etc.; trifle. n., pl. trivialities.

tri week ly (trī wēk'lē), 1. once every three weeks. 2. three times a week. 3. newspaper or magazine published triweekly. 4. occurring or appearing triweekly. 1,2 adv., 3 n., pl. tri week lies; 4 adj.

tro che (trō'kē), a small medicinal tablet or lozenge. n.
trod (trod), a pt. and a pp. of tread. He trod on a tack.
The path was trod by many feet. v.

trod den (trod'n), a pp. of tread. The cattle had trodden down the corn. v.

trode (trōd), Archaic. a pt. of tread. v.

trog lo dyte (troglō dīt), 1. a cave man. 2. person living in seclusion; hermit. 3. an anthropoid ape, such as a gorilla. n.

Troi lus (trōi'ləs or trō'i ləs), in Greek mythology, a son of King Priam and lover of Cressida. n.

Tro jan (trō'jən), 1. of Troy; having to do with Troy or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Troy. 3. person who shows courage or energy: They all worked like Trojans. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Trojan horse, in Greek legend, a huge wooden horse in which the Greeks concealed soldiers and brought them into Troy during the Trojan War. 2. an enemy group stationed inside a country to sabotage its industry and defense preparations.

Trojan War, in Greek legend, a ten years' war carried on by the Greeks against Troy to get back Helen, wife of King Menelaus of Sparta, who was carried off by Paris, son of King Priam of Troy.

troll¹ (trōl), 1. sing in a full, rolling voice. 2. sing in succession. When three people troll a round or catch, the soprano sings one line, the alto comes in next with the same line, and then the bass sings it, and so on, while the others keep on singing. 3. song whose parts are sung in succession; round: "Three Blind Mice" is a well-known troll. 4. fish (for) with a moving line. In trolling, a man usually trails the line behind his boat near the surface. 5. reel of a fishing rod. 6. lure or bait for fishing. 7. roll. 8. a trolling. 1,2,4,7 v., 3,5,6,8 n.
—troll²er, n.

troll² (trōl), in Scandinavian folklore, an ugly dwarf or giant living underground or in caves. n.

trolley (trō'lē), 1. pulley moving against a wire to carry electricity to a streetcar, electric engine, etc. 2. a trolley car. 3. pulley running on an overhead track, used to support and move a load. 4. Brit. truck; handcart. n., pl. trolleys.

trolley car, streetcar propelled electrically. The current is often taken from an overhead wire by means of a trolley.

trol lop (trōl'əp), 1. an untidy or slovenly woman. 2. prostitute. n.

from bone (trōm'bōn), a large brass musical instrument, usually with a sliding piece for varying the length of the tube. n.

trom bon ist (trōm'bōn ist), person who plays the trombone. n.

troop (trūp), 1. group or band of persons: a troop of boys. 2. herd, flock, or swarm: a troop of deer. 3. a cavalry unit, especially an armored cavalry unit, having 60 to 100 men commanded by a captain. A troop corresponds to a company in other branches of the army. 4. unit of 16 or 32 boy scouts. 5. gather in troops or bands; move together: The children trooped around the teacher. 6. walk; go; go away: The young boys trooped off after the older ones. 1-4 n., 5,6 v.
troops, soldiers.

Trolley (def. 1)

Boy playing a trombone. Changing the length of the tube produces changes in pitch.

troop er (trūp'ər), 1. soldier in a troop of cavalry. 2. a mounted policeman. 3. a cavalry horse. 4. troopship. n.

troop ship (trūp'ship'), ship used to carry soldiers; transport. n.

trope (trōp), 1. the use of a word or phrase in a sense different from its ordinary meaning. 2. word or phrase so used. Example:

"All in a hot and copper sky, The bloody sun at noon."

n.

tro phy (trō'fē), 1. memorial of victory: The hunter kept the lion's skin and head as trophies. 2. captured arms, flags, etc., of a defeated enemy set up on the field of battle or elsewhere in memorial of victory; ornament representing a group of weapons; any monument serving as a memorial of victory. 3. prize. 4. anything serving as a remembrance. n., pl. tro phies.

trop ic (trōp'ik), 1. either of two circles around the earth, one 23.45 degrees north and one 23.45 degrees south of the equator. The tropic of Cancer is the northern circle, and the tropic of Capricorn is the southern circle. 2. of the tropics; belonging to the torrid zone. 3. either of two circles in the celestial sphere, the limits reached by the sun in its apparent journey north and south. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

tropics or Tropics, zone between latitudes 23½ degrees north and south or between 30 degrees north and south, the hottest part of the earth.

trop i cal (trōp'ə kl), 1. of the tropics; having to do with the tropics: Bananas are tropical fruit. 2. very hot; burning or fervent. adj. —trop'i cal ly, adv.

tropic of Cancer, circle around the earth, 23.45 degrees north of the equator. It is the northern boundary of the Torrid Zone. See Capricorn for diagram.

tropic of Capricorn, circle around the earth, 23.45 degrees south of the equator. It is the southern boundary of the Torrid Zone. See Capricorn for diagram.

trop ism (trō'piz əm), tendency of an animal or plant to turn or move in response to a stimulus. n.

trop is tic (trō pis'tik), of or having to do with a tropism. adj.

trop o sphere (trōp'ə sfir), layer of the atmosphere between the earth and the stratosphere, within which there is a steady fall of temperature with increasing altitude. Most cloud formations occur in the troposphere. n.

trot (tro), 1. of horses, etc., go at a gait between a walk and a run by lifting the right forefoot and the left hind foot at about the same time. 2. the motion or gait of a trotting horse. 3. ride (a horse) at a trot. 4. make (a horse, etc.) trot. 5. run, but not fast: The child trotted along after his mother. 6. a brisk, steady movement. 7. U.S. Slang. translation of a book, used by a pupil instead of doing the translating himself. 1,3-5 v., trot ted, trot ting; 2,6,7 n.

trot out, Informal. bring out for others to see.

troth (trōth), 1. faithfulness; fidelity; loyalty. 2. promise. 3. truth. 4. betroth. 5. betrothal. 1-3,5 n., 2,4 v.

plight one's troth, 1. promise to marry. 2. promise to be faithful.

Trot sky (trōt'skē), Leon, 1879-1940, leader in the Russian revolution of 1917, minister of war from 1918 to 1925, and writer. He was dismissed from office in 1925, later exiled, and assassinated in Mexico. n.

trot ter (trōt'ər), 1. horse that trots. 2. a horse bred and trained to trot. 3. the foot of a sheep or a pig used for food. n.

trou ba dour (trū'bə dōr or trū'bə dūr), one of the lyric poets of S France, E Spain, and N Italy from the 11th to the 13th centuries. The troubadours wrote mainly about love and chivalry. n.

trou ble (trub'l), 1. distress; worry; difficulty: That boy makes trouble for his teachers. 2. cause distress or worry to: The lack of business troubled him. 3. disturbance; disorder: political troubles. 4. extra work; bother:

effort: Take the trouble to do careful work. 5. require extra work or effort of: May I trouble you to pass the sugar? 6. cause oneself inconvenience: Don't trouble to come to the door. 7. ailment; disease: She suffers from heart trouble. 8. hurt; pain: His wound troubles him. 1,3,4,7 n., 2,5,6,8 v., trou bled, trou bling.

trou ble mak er (trub'l māk'ər), person who often causes trouble for others. n.

trou ble-shoot er (trub'l shūt'ər), person who discovers and eliminates causes of trouble. n.

trou ble some (trub'l səm), causing trouble; annoying. adj. —trou/ble some ly, adv. —trou/ble some-ness, n.

trou blous (trub'ləs), 1. disturbed; restless. 2. troublesome. adj.

trough (trōf), 1. a long, narrow container for holding food or water: He led the horses to the watering trough. 2. something shaped like this: The baker uses a trough for kneading dough. 3. channel for carrying water; gutter. 4. a long hollow between two ridges, etc.: the trough between two waves. n. —trough/like', adj.

trounce (trouns), 1. beat; thrash. 2. Informal. defeat in a contest, etc. v., trounced, trounce ing.

trou pe (trüp), troop; band; company; especially, a group of actors, singers, or acrobats. n.

trou per (trüp'ər), 1. member of a theatrical troupe. 2. an old, experienced actor. n.

trou sers (trou'zərz), a two-legged outer garment reaching from the waist to the ankles or knees. n.pl.

trous seau (trü sō' or trü sō), a bride's outfit of clothes, linen, etc. n., pl. trous seaux (trü sōz' or trü sōz) or trous seaus.

trout (trout), any of certain freshwater food and game fishes of the same family as the salmon. n., pl. trouts or (esp. collectively) trout.

trou (trō), Archaic. believe; think. v.

trou el (trou'əl), 1. tool for spreading or smoothing plaster or mortar. 2. tool for taking up plants, loosening dirt, etc. n.

Troy (troi), 1. an ancient city in NW Asia Minor. The Greeks laid siege to Troy for ten years. 2. city in E New York State, on the Hudson River. 67,000. n.

troy (troi), in or by troy weight. adj.

troy weight, a standard system of weights used for gems and precious metals. One pound troy equals a little over four-fifths of an ordinary pound.

24 grains = 1 pennyweight

20 pennyweight = 1 ounce

12 ounces = 1 pound

tru an cy (trü'ən sē), act or habit of staying away from school without permission; truant behavior. n., pl. tru an cies.

tru ant (trü'ənt), 1. child who stays away from school without permission. 2. staying away from school without permission. 3. person who neglects duty. 4. neglecting duty. 5. lazy. 6. wandering: That truant dog won't stay home. 1,3 n., 2,4-6 adj.

play truant, 1. stay away from school without permission. 2. stay away from work or duties.

truce (trüs), 1. a stop in fighting; peace for a short time: A truce was declared between the two armies. 2. a rest from trouble or pain. n.

Tru cial States (trü'shəl), a group of seven small states in E Arabia, on the Persian Gulf, under British influence. 86,000 pop.; 32,300 sq. mi.

truck¹ (truk), 1. a strongly built automobile, cart, wagon, etc., for carrying heavy loads. 2. carry on a truck. 3. drive a truck. 4. frame on small wheels for moving trucks, etc. 5. frame with two or more pairs of wheels for supporting the end of a railroad car, locomotive, etc. 6. a low flat car. 7. a small wheel. 8. a wooden disk at the top of a flagstaff or mast with holes for the ropes. 9. of or for a truck; used on trucks. 1,4-8 n., 2,3 v., 9 adj.

truck² (truk), 1. U.S. vegetables raised for market. 2. small articles of little value; odds and ends. 3. Informal. rubbish; trash. 4. Informal. dealings: Mrs. Bell has no truck with peddlers. 5. exchange; barter. 6. payment of wages in goods, etc., rather than in money. 7. of truck; having to do with truck. 1-6 n., 5 v., 7 adj.

truck er (truk'ər), 1. person who drives a truck. 2. person whose business is carrying goods, etc., by trucks. n.

truck farm, farm where vegetables are raised for market.

truck le (truk'l), 1. give up or submit tamely; be servile: That man got his position by truckling to his superiors and flattering them. 2. move on rollers. v., truck led, truck ling. —truck/ler, n.

truck man (truk'mən), man who drives a truck. n., pl. truck men.

truc u lence (truk'yə ləns), savage threatening or bullying; fierceness and cruelty. n.

truc u len cy (truk'yə lən sē), truculence. n.

truc u lent (truk'yə lənt), savagely threatening or bullying; fierce and cruel. adj. —truc/u lent ly, adv.

trudge (truj), 1. walk. 2. walk wearily or with effort. 3. a hard or weary walk: It was a long trudge up the hill. 1,2 v., trudged, trudg ing; 3 n. —trudg'er, n.

trudg en stroke (truj'ən), stroke in swimming in which a double overarm stroke is used.

true (trü), 1. agreeing with fact; not false: It is true that 6 and 4 are 10. 2. real; genuine: true gold, true kindness. 3. faithful; loyal: a true patriot. 4. agreeing with a standard; right; proper; correct; exact; accurate: a true copy, a true voice, true to type. 5. representative of the class named: A sweet potato is not a true potato. 6. rightful; lawful: the true heir to the property. 7. reliable; sure: a true sign. 8. accurately formed, fitted, or placed: a true angle. 9. exact or accurate formation, position, or adjustment: A slanting door is out of true. 10. make true; shape, place, or make in the exact position, form, etc., required. 11. steady in direction, force, etc.; unchanging: The arrow made a true course through the air. 12. that which is true. 13. Archaic. truthful. 14. honest. 15. in a true manner; truly; exactly: His words ring true. 16. in agreement with the ancestral type: breed true. 1-8,11,13,14 adj., tru er, tru est; 9,12 n., 10 v., trued, tru ing; 15,16 adv.

come true, happen as expected; become real.

true bill, bill of indictment found by a grand jury to be supported by enough evidence to justify hearing the case.

true-blue (trü'blü'), unchanging; stanch; loyal. adj.

truffle (truf'l), a fungus that grows underground, valued as a food. n.

tru ism (trü'iz əm), statement that almost everybody knows is true, such as "Health is a blessing." n.

trull (trul), prostitute; strumpet. n.

tru ly (trü'lē), 1. in a true manner; exactly; rightly; faithfully: Tell me truly what you think. 2. in fact; really: It was truly a nice day. adv.

Tru man (trü'mən), Harry S., born 1884, the 33rd president of the United States, from 1945 to 1953. n.

trump¹ (trump), 1. any playing card of a suit that Trowels: A, for plaster; B, for plants.

for the time ranks higher than the other suits. 2. the suit itself. 3. take (a trick, card, etc.) with a trump. 4. play a card of the suit that is trump. 5. Informal. a fine, dependable person. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v.

trump² (trump), Archaic. trumpet. n.

trump³ (trump), make (up) to deceive. v.

trump er y (trump'ər ē), 1. something showy but without value; worthless ornaments; useless stuff; rubbish; nonsense. 2. showy but without value; trifling; worthless; useless; nonsensical. 1 n., pl. trump er ies; 2 adj.

trump et (trum'pit), 1. a musical wind instrument that has a powerful tone, commonly a curved tube with a flaring bell at one end. 2. thing shaped like a trumpet: The deaf old lady has an ear trumpet

Man playing a trumpet to help her hearing. 3. blow a trumpet. 4. a sound like that of a trumpet. 5. make a sound like a trumpet: The elephant trumpeted. 6. proclaim loudly or widely: trumpet a story all over town. 1,2,4 n., 3,5,6 v.

trump et creep er, a climbing vine that has clusters of large, red, trumpet-shaped flowers.

trump et er (trum'pə tər), 1. person who blows a trumpet. 2. a large North American wild swan. 3. a large South American bird with long legs and neck, related to the cranes. n.

trump et vine, trumpet creeper.

trun cate (trung'kāt), 1. cut off a part of. 2. cut off; blunt, as if cut off: the truncate leaf of the tulip tree. 1 v., trun cat ed, trun cat ing; 2 adj. —trun-ca'tion, n.

Truncate leaf

trun cheon (trun'chən), 1. Esp. Brit. stick; club: a policeman's truncheon.

2. staff of office or authority: a herald's truncheon. 3. beat with a club. 1,2 n., 3 v.

trun dle (trun'dl), 1. roll along; push along: The workman trundled a wheelbarrow hour after hour. 2. a rolling; rolling along. 3. whirl; revolve. 4. a small wheel; caster. 5. a bed, truck, etc., on small wheels or casters. 1,3 v., trun dled, trun ding; 2,4,5 n.

trunk (trungk), 1. the main stem of a tree, as distinct from the branches and the roots. 2. the main part of anything: the trunk of a column. 3. main; chief: the trunk line of a railroad. 4. a big box for holding clothes, etc., when traveling. 5. an enclosed compartment in an automobile for storing baggage, a spare tire, etc. 6. a body without the head, arms, and legs. 7. an elephant's snout. 8. trunk line. 1,2,4-8 n., 3 adj.

trunks, very short trousers or breeches worn by athletes, swimmers, acrobats, etc.

trunk hose, full, baglike breeches reaching halfway down the thigh, or lower. Trunk hose were worn in the 16th and 17th centuries.

Man wearing trunk hose trunk line, 1. the main line of a railroad, canal, etc. 2. line between telephone exchanges.

truss (trus), 1. tie; fasten: The cook trussed up the chicken before roasting it. 2. beams or other supports connected to support a roof, bridge, etc. 3. support (a roof, bridge, etc.) with trusses. 4. bandage, pad, etc., used for support; especially, a pad with a belt or spring used in cases of hernia.

5. bundle; pack. 6. bundle of hay. In England a truss of new hay weighs 60 pounds and a truss of straw 36 pounds. 7. an iron fitting by which a lower yard is fastened to the mast. 8. Archaic. fasten or tighten (a garment). 1,3,5,8 v., 2,4-7 n.

Trusses (def. 2) trust (trust), 1. firm belief in the honesty, truthfulness, justice, or power of a person or thing; faith: A child puts trust in his mother. 2. have faith; rely; be confident: Trust in God. 3. believe firmly in the honesty, truth, justice, or power of; have faith in: He is a man to be trusted. 4. rely on; depend on: A forgetful man should not trust his memory. 5. person or thing trusted: God is our trust. 6. confident expectation or hope: Our trust is that she will soon be well. 7. hope; believe: I trust you will soon feel better. 8. a group of men or companies that controls much of a certain kind of business: a steel trust. 9. group of businessmen or firms having a central committee that controls stock of the constituent companies, thus simplifying management and defeating competition. 10. something managed for the benefit of another; something committed to one's care. 11. obligation or responsibility imposed on one in whom confidence or authority is placed: Mr. Adams will be faithful to his trust. 12. condition of one in whom trust has been placed; being relied on: A guardian is in a position of trust. 13. keeping; care: The will was left in my trust. 14. in law, a confidence reposed in a person by making him nominal owner of property, which he is to hold, use, or dispose of for the benefit of another; an estate, etc., committed to a trustee or trustees; the right of a person to enjoy the use or profits of property held in trust for him: Mr. Adams does not own the house. It is a trust which he holds for his dead brother's children. 15. managing for an owner: a trust company. 16. of or having to do with trust or trusts; held in trust. 17. commit to the care of; leave without fear: Can I trust the keys to him? 18. confidence in the ability or intention of a person to pay at some future time for goods, etc.; business credit. 19. give business credit to: The butcher will trust us for the meat. 1,5,6,8-14,18 n., 2-4,7,17,19 v., 15,16 adj. —trust'er, n.

in trust, as a thing taken charge of for another.

on trust, 1. on business credit; with payment later.

2. without investigation.

trust to, rely on; depend on.

trust company, bank or other business concern that takes charge of the property of others.

trust ee (trust'ē), person responsible for the property or affairs of another person, of a company, or of an institution: A trustee will manage the children's property until they grow up. n.

trust ee ship (trust'ē'ship), position of trustee. n.

trust ful (trust'fəl), ready to confide; ready to have faith; trusting; believing. adj. —trust'fully, adv. —trust'ful ness, n.

trust fund, money, property, or other valuables held in trust by one person for the benefit of another.

trust ing (trust'ing), that trusts; trustful. adj.

trust wor thy (trust'wər'thē), that can be depended on; reliable: The class chose a trustworthy boy for treasurer. adj. —trust'wor'thi ness, n.

trust y (trust'tē), 1. that can be depended on; reliable: The master left his money with a trusty servant. 2. convict who is given special privileges because of his good behavior. 1 adj., trust ier, trust iest; 2 n., pl. trust ies. —trust'i ly, adv. —trust'i ness, n.

truth (trūth), 1. that which is true: Tell the truth. 2. true, exact, honest, sincere, or loyal quality or nature. n., pl. truths (trūthz or truths).

in truth, truly; really; in fact.

truth ful (trūth'fəl), 1. telling the truth: a truthful child. 2. conforming to truth: a truthful report of the accident. adj. —truth'ful ly, adv. —truth'ful ness, n.

truth serum, a popular name for a drug under the influence of which a person will reveal inner thoughts or emotions that he has been suppressing.

try (tri), 1. make an attempt or effort: He tried to do the work. 2. attempt to do or accomplish: It seems easy until you try it. 3. experiment on or with; make trial of: Try this candy and see if you like it. 4. find out about; test: We try each car before we sell it. 5. an attempt; test; experiment: Each boy had three tries at the high jump. 6. investigate in a law court: The man was tried and found guilty. 7. settle by test or investigation. 8. subject to trials; afflict: Job was greatly tried. 9. put to severe test; strain: Her mistakes try my patience. 10. make pure by melting or boiling: The lard was tried in a big kettle. 1-4,6-10 v., tried, try, ing; 5 n., pl. tries. try on, put on to test the fit, looks, etc. try out, 1. test the effect or result of. 2. test to find out about. 3. enter as a competitor. 4. make pure by melting or boiling.

try ing (tri'ing), hard to endure; annoying. adj.

try out (tri'out'), U.S. Informal. test made to determine fitness for a specific purpose. n.

tryp sin (trip'sin), an enzyme in the digestive juice secreted by the pancreas. Trypsin changes proteins into peptones. n.

try sail (tri'sāl'; Nautical tri'səl), a small fore-and-aft sail used in stormy weather on the foremast or mainmast. n.

try square, instrument for drawing right angles and testing the squareness of anything.

tryst (trist), 1. appointment to meet at a certain time and place. 2. place of meeting. n.

tsar (zār or tsār), czar. n.

tsarina (zā rē'nə or tsā rē'nə), czarina. n.

Tschai kow sky or Tschai kov sky (chī kōf'skē), Peter Ilich, 1840-1893, Russian musical composer. n. Also, Tchaikovsky, Tchaikowsky.

tset se (tset'sē), tsetse fly. n. Also, tsetze.

tsetse fly, any of the bloodsucking flies of Africa. One kind spreads sleeping sickness.

T-shirt (tē'shērt'), 1. a light, close-fitting knitted shirt with short sleeves, worn for sports. 2. an undershirt resembling this. n.

Tsi nan (tsē'nān'), city in NE China. 575,000. n.

Tsing tao (tsing'tau'), seaport in E China. 851,000. n.

tsp., teaspoon; teaspoonful.

T square, a T-shaped ruler used for making parallel lines, etc. The shorter arm slides along the edge of the drawing board, which serves as a guide.

Tu., Tuesday.

tub (tub), 1. a large, open container for washing or bathing. 2. bathtub. 3. Informal. bath: He takes a cold tub every morning. 4. wash or bathe in a tub. 5. a round wooden container for holding butter, lard, etc. 6. as much as a tub can hold. 7. something like a tub. 8. Informal. a clumsy, slow boat or ship. 1-3,5-8 n., 4 v., tubbed, tub bing.

tu ba (tū'bā or tū'bə), 1. a large instrument of the trumpet class, of low pitch. 2. an organ stop. n.

tub bing (tub'ing), a bath. n.

tub by (tub'ē), 1. tub-shaped; short and fat. 2. having a sound like that of an empty tub when struck. adj., tub bi er, tub bi est. —tub'bi ness, n.

tube (tūb or tūb), 1. a long pipe of metal, glass, rubber, etc., mostly used to hold or carry liquids or gases. 2. a small cylinder of thin, easily bent metal with a cap that screws on the open end, used for holding toothpaste, paint, etc. 3. pipe or tunnel through which something is sent: The railroad runs under the river in a tube. 4. Informal. subway. 5. anything like a tube: the bronchial tubes. 6. an electron tube. n. —tube'like', adj.

tu ber (tū'bar or tū'bər), the thick part of an underground stem. A potato is a tuber. n.

Tsetse fly. Lines show actual size.

T square in use

Boy playing a tuba

tu ber cle (tū'bar kl or tū'bər kl), 1. a small, rounded swelling or knob on an animal or plant. 2. a swelling caused by tuberculosis. n.

tubercle bacillus, germ that causes tuberculosis.

tu ber cu lar (tū'bər'kyə lār or tū'bər'kyə lār), 1. having tubercles. 2. having to do with tubercles. 3. having tuberculosis. 4. having to do with tuberculosis. adj.

tu ber cu lin (tū'bər'kyə lin or tū'bər'kyə lin), a liquid prepared from the germ that causes tuberculosis. Tuberculin is used in the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis. n.

tu ber cu lo sis (tū'bər'kyə lō'sis or tū'bər'kyə lō'sis), an infectious disease affecting various tissues of the body, but most often the lungs. Tuberculosis of the lungs is often called consumption. n.

tu ber cu lous (tū'bər'kyə lās or tū'bər'kyə lās), tubercular. adj.

tube rose (tūb'rōz' or tūb'rōz'), plant with a spike of fragrant white flowers. It grows from a tuber. n.

tu ber os i ty (tū'bər os'ə tē or tū'bər os'ə tē), 1. condition or quality of being tuberous. 2. a rounded knob or swelling. n., pl. tu ber os i ties.

tu ber ous (tū'bər əs or tū'bər əs), 1. bearing tubers. 2. of or like tubers. 3. covered with rounded knobs or swellings. adj.

tub ing (tūb'ing or tūb'ing), 1. material in the form of a tube: rubber tubing. 2. tubes collectively. 3. a piece of tube. n.

tu bu lar (tū'byə lār or tū'byə lār), 1. shaped like a tube; round and hollow. 2. of or having to do with a tube or tubes. adj.

tu bu le (tū'būl or tū'būl), a small tube. n.

tuck (tuk), 1. thrust into some narrow space or into some retired place: She tucked her purse under her arm. He tucked the letter into his pocket. 2. thrust the edge or end of (a garment, covering, etc.) closely into place: Tuck your shirt in. Jack tucked a napkin under his chin. 3. cover snugly: Tuck the children in bed. 4. draw close together; fold; contract; pucker: The man tucked up his trousers and waded across the stream. 5. a fold sewed in a garment. 6. sew a fold in (a garment) for trimming or to make it shorter or tighter: The baby's dress was beautifully tucked with tiny stitches. 7. sew tucks. 1-4,6,7 v., 5 n.

tuck away or in, Slang. eat or drink heartily.

tuck up, draw together and up: He tucked up his sleeves before washing his hands.

Tuck (tuk), Friar, the jolly friar of Robin Hood's band. n.

tuck er (tuk'ər), 1. piece of muslin, lace, etc., worn around the neck or over the chest. 2. person or thing that tucks. 3. device on a sewing machine for making tucks. n.

tuck er (tuk'ər), U.S. Informal. tire; weary; exhausted. v.

Tuc son (tū son' or tū'son), city in S Arizona, famous as a health resort. 213,000. n.

Tu dor (tū'dər or tū'dər), 1. the royal family that ruled England from 1485 to 1603. 2. member of the Tudor family. 3. noting or having to do with the English Gothic style of architecture prevailing during the reigns of the Tudors. It was characterized by flat arches, shallow moldings, etc. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Tues., Tuesday.

Tues day (tūz'dē or tūz'dē), the third day of the week, following Monday. n.

tu fa (tū'fə or tū'fə), any of various porous rocks; especially, a form of limestone deposited by springs, etc. n.

tuff (tuf), tufa, especially a tufa formed from volcanic ash, cinders, etc. n.

tuft (tuft), 1. bunch of feathers, hair, grass, etc., held together at one end: A goat has a tuft of hair on its chin.

T, tucker

2. clump of bushes, trees, etc. 3. put tufts on; furnish with tufts; divide into tufts. 4. grow in tufts. 5. put tufts on (a mattress, comforter, etc.) to keep the padding in place. 1,2 n., 3-5 v.

tufted (tuf'tid), 1. furnished with a tuft or tufts. 2. formed into a tuft or tufts. adj.

tug (tug), 1. pull with force or effort; pull hard: We tugged the boat in to shore. The child tugged at his mother's hand. 2. a hard pull: The baby gave a tug at Mary's hair. 3. strive hard; toil. 4. a hard strain, struggle, effort, or contest. 5. a small and powerful steamboat used to tow other boats. 6. tow by a tugboat. 7. one of a pair of long leather straps by which a horse pulls a wagon, cart, etc. See harness for picture. 1,3,6 v., tugged, tug ging; 2,4,5,7 n.

Tug (def. 5)

tug boat (tug'bōt'), a small, powerful boat used to tow other boats; tug. n.

tug of war, 1. contest between two teams pulling at the ends of a rope, each trying to drag the other over a line marked between them. 2. any hard struggle.

Tuileries (twē'lār ēz; French twēl'rē'), a former royal palace in Paris. It was burned in 1871. n.

tuition (tū'ish'ən or tū'ish'ən), 1. teaching; instruction. 2. money paid for instruction. n.

Tula (tū'lā), city in W Soviet Union. 345,000. n.

tu la re mi a (tū'lā rē'mē ə), an infectious disease of rabbits and other rodents that is sometimes transmitted to people. n.

tu lip (tū'lip or tū'lip), 1. any of certain plants of the lily family, that grow from bulbs and have large cup-shaped flowers. Most tulips bloom in the spring. 2. the flower. 3. the bulb. n.

tulip tree, a large North American tree with greenish-yellow flowers like tulips.

tulle (tül), a thin, fine silk net, used for veils, etc. n.

Tul sa (tul'sə), city in NE Oklahoma, on the Arkansas River. 262,000. n.

tum ble (tum'bl), 1. fall: The child tumbled down the stairs. 2. a fall: The tumble hurt him badly. 3. throw over or down; cause to fall. 4. roll or toss about: The sick child tumbled restlessly in his bed. 5. move in a hurried or awkward way: Jim tumbled out of bed. 6. perform leaps, springs, somersaults, etc. 7. turn over; rumple; muss. 8. confusion; disorder. 1,3-7 v., tumbled, tum bling; 2,8 n.

tum ble bug (tum'bl bug'), a beetle that rolls up a ball of dung in which it deposits eggs from which larvae develop. n.

tum ble-down (tum'bl doun'), ready to fall down; dilapidated. adj.

tum bler (tum'blər), 1. person who performs leaps, springs, etc.; acrobat. 2. a drinking glass; the contents of a glass. 3. part in the lock that must be moved from a certain position in order to release the bolt. 4. part of a lock of a gun that forces the hammer forward when the trigger is pulled. 5. a kind of pigeon that turns over and over while flying. 6. a toy figure that rocks when touched but rights itself. n.

tum ble weed (tum'bl wēd'), U.S. plant growing in the W United States, that breaks off from its roots and is blown about by the wind. n.

tum brel or tum bril (tum'brəl), 1. a farmer's cart. 2. cart that carried prisoners to be executed. 3. a two-wheeled covered cart for carrying ammunition and military tools. n.

tu me fac tion (tū'mə fak'shən or tū'mə fak'shən), 1. a swelling or being swollen. 2. a swollen part. n.

tu me fy (tū'mə fī or tū'mə fī), swell. v., tu me fied, tu me fy ing.

tu mes cence (tū mes'ns or tū mes'ns), a swelling; a swollen condition. n.

tu mes cent (tū mes'nt or tū mes'nt), becoming swollen; swelling. adj.

tu mid (tū'mid or tū'mid), 1. swollen. 2. swollen with big words; pompous. adj. —tu'mid ly, adv. —tu'mid ness, n.

tu mor or tu mour (tū'mər or tū'mər), 1. a swelling. 2. a bodily growth caused by disease. n.

tu mult (tū'mult or tū'mult), 1. noise; uproar: The sailors' voices could not be heard above the tumult of the storm. 2. a violent disturbance or disorder: The cry of "Fire! Fire!" caused a tumult in the theater. 3. confusion; excitement. n.

tu mul tu ous (tū mul'chū əs or tū mul'chū əs), 1. characterized by tumult; very noisy or disorderly; violent: a tumultuous celebration. 2. greatly disturbed: tumultuous emotion. 3. rough; stormy: Tumultuous waves beat upon the rocks. adj. —tu mul'tu ous ly, adv. —tu mul'tu ous ness, n.

tu mu lus (tū'myələs or tū'myələs), mound of earth, especially over a grave. n., pl. tu mu lus es, tu mu li (-lī).

tun (tun), 1. a large cask for holding liquids. 2. formerly, a measure of capacity of liquor, equal to 252 gallons. n.

tu na (tū'nə), 1. a large sea fish closely related to the tunny, used for food. It sometimes grows to a length of ten feet or more. 2. the tunny. n.

tun a ble or tune a ble (tūn'ə bl or tūn'ə bl), 1. capable of being tuned. 2. in tune. 3. harmonious; tuneful. adj.

tuna fish, 1. flesh of the tuna, used for food. 2. tuna.

tun dra (tun'drə), a vast, level, treeless plain in the arctic regions. The ground beneath the surface of the tundras is frozen even in summer. n.

tune (tūn or tūn), 1. piece of music; air or melody: hymn tunes. 2. express musically. 3. the proper pitch: He can't sing in tune. 4. mood; manner; tone: He'll soon change his tune. 5. agreement; harmony: A person out of tune with his surroundings is unhappy. 6. be in tune; be in harmony. 7. put in tune: A man is tuning the piano. 8. adjust (a radio) into resonance with a transmitted signal. 9. fit; adapt. 1,3-5 n., 2,6-9 v., tuned, tun ing. —tun'er, n.

sing a different tune, talk or behave differently.

to the tune of, Informal. to the amount or sum of.

tune in, adjust a radio to hear (what is wanted).

tune out, adjust a radio to get rid of (a signal or interference that is unwanted).

tune ful (tūn'fəl or tūn'fəl), musical; melodious: a tuneful song. adj. —tune'ful ly, adv. —tune'ful ness, n.

tune less (tūn'lis or tūn'lis), without tune; not musical. adj.

tung (tung), tree native to China but now cultivated in Africa and elsewhere. Its seeds yield an oil that is much used in paints, varnishes, etc. n.

tung sten (tung'stən), another name for wolfram, a metallic element used in making steel and for electric lamp filaments. Symbol: W. n.

tu nic (tū'nik or tū'nik), 1. garment like a shirt or gown, worn by the ancient Greeks and Romans. 2. any garment like this. 3. a woman's garment extending below the waist or over the skirt. 4. a short, close-fitting coat worn by soldiers, policemen, etc. n.

tuning fork, a small, two-pronged steel instrument that, when struck, vibrates at a fixed, constant, known rate and so makes a musical tone of a certain pitch.

Tu nis (tū'nis or tū'nis), 1. seaport and capital of Tunisia, in the NE part. 680,000. 2. Tunisia. 3. a former Barbary State in N Africa. n.

Tu ni sia (tū nish'ə or tū nish'ə), country in N Africa. 3,954,000 pop.; 48,332 sq. mi. Capital: Tunis. n. —Tu ni'sian, adj., n.

Roman tunic

Tuning fork mounted on a sounding box tun nel (tun'1), 1. an underground passage; especially, an underground roadway for a railroad, a passage in a mine, or an animal's burrow. 2. make a tunnel. 3. make a tunnel through or under: tunnel a hill or river. 4. make (one's way or a way) by digging. 1 n., 2-4 v., tun neled, tun nel ing or esp. Brit. tun nelled, tun nel ling. —tun'nel er, esp. Brit. tun'nel ler, n.

tun ny (tun'ē), a large sea fish related to the mackerel, used for food. n., pl. tun nies or (esp. collectively) tun ny.

tu pe lo (tū'pə lō or tū'pə lō), 1. a large North American tree of the same family as the dogwood. 2. its strong, tough wood. n., pl. tu pe los.

tup pence (tup'əns), twopence. n.

tuque (tūk or tūk), a kind of knitted cap worn in Canada. n.

tur ban (tēr'bən), 1. a scarf wound around the head or around a cap, worn by men in some Oriental countries. 2. head-dress like this; big handkerchief tied around the head. 3. a small hat with little or no brim, worn by women and children. n.

tur banded (tēr'bænd), wearing a turban. adj.

tur bid (tēr'bid), 1. muddy; thick; not clear: a turbid river. 2. confused; disordered: a turbid imagination. adj. —tur'bid ly, adv. —tur'bid ness, n.

tur bi nate (tēr'bə nit or tēr'bə nāt), 1. shaped like a spinning top or inverted cone. 2. spiral; scroll-like. 3. nothing or having to do with certain scroll-like spongy bones of the nasal passages in the higher vertebrates. 4. a turbinate shell. 5. a turbinate bone. 1-3 adj., 4,5 n.

tur bine (tēr'bən), an engine or motor in which a wheel with vanes is made to revolve by the force of water, steam, or air. n.

tur bo jet (tēr'bō jet'), a jet-propulsion engine having a turbine-driven air compressor. A turbojet employs a jet of hot gases in producing thrust. n.

tur bo prop (tēr'bō prop'), a turbine-propeller-driven jet propulsion engine. The exhaust gases are sent through the propeller blades. n.

tur bot (tēr'bət), 1. a large European flatfish, much valued as food. 2. any of various similar fishes, such as certain flounders. n., pl. tur bots or (esp. collectively) tur bot.

tur bu lence (tēr'byə ləns), turbulent condition; disorder; tumult; commotion. n.

tur bu len cy (tēr'byə lən sē), turbulence. n.

tur bu lent (tēr'byə lənt), 1. disorderly; unruly; violent: a turbulent mob. 2. greatly disturbed: turbulent water. 3. disturbing. adj.

tu reen (tə rēn'), a deep, covered dish for serving soup, etc. n.

turf (tēr'), 1. grass with its matted roots; sod. 2. piece of this. 3. cover with turf. 4. peat. 5. a race track for horses. 6. horse racing. 1,2,4-6 n., pl. turfs; 3 v. —turf'less, adj.

turf y (tēr'fē), 1. covered with turf; grassy. 2. like turf. 3. full of peat; like peat. 4. of or having to do with horse racing. adj., turf i er, turf i est. —turf'i-ness, n.

Tur ge nev (tūr gā'nyef), Ivan Sergeevich, 1818-1883, Russian novelist. n.

tur ges cence (tēr jes'ns), act or fact of swelling; swollen condition. n.

tur ges cent (tēr jes'nt), swelling; becoming swollen. adj.

Turban (def. 1)

Turbine used to turn a dynamo. Water flows in through the pipe at left and out at the bottom.

tur gid (tēr'jid), 1. swollen; bloated. 2. using big words and elaborate comparisons; bombastic; inflated; pompous. adj. —tur'gid ly, adv. —tur'gid ness, n.

Tu rin (tūr'an or tyūr'an), city in NW Italy. 783,000. n.

Turk (tēr'k), 1. native or inhabitant of Turkey; Moslem who lives in Turkey. 2. member of any group of people speaking a Turkic language. 3. Unfriendly use. a cruel, barbarous person; tyrant. n.

Tur ke stan (tēr'kə stan'), region in west and central Asia. Part of Turkestan belongs to China, part to the Soviet Union, and part to Afghanistan. n.

tur key (tēr'kē), 1. a large domesticated American bird. 2. its flesh, used for food. 3. Slang. play or motion picture that is a failure. n., pl. tur keys.

talk turkey, Informal. talk frankly and bluntly.

Tur key (tēr'kē), country in W Asia and SE Europe. Many countries in SE Europe, SW Asia, and N Africa were formerly part of the Turkish, or Ottoman, Empire. 27,802,000 pop.; 296,185 sq. mi. Capital: Ankara. n.

Turkey (2 to 4 ft. long) turkey buzzard, vulture of South and Central America and S United States, having a bare, reddish head and dark plumage.

turkey cock, 1. a male turkey. 2. a strutting, conceited person.

Tur kic languages (tēr'kik), languages spoken by the Turks of Turkey, the Turkomans, and other Tartar tribes.

Turk ish (tēr'kish), 1. of Turkey or the Turks; made in Turkey. 2. the language of the Turks. 1 adj., 2 n.

Turkish bath, a kind of bath in which the bather is kept in a heated room until he sweats freely and then is bathed and massaged.

Turkish Empire, Ottoman Empire.

turkish towel, a thick cotton towel with a long nap made of uncut loops.

Turk men (tēr'kmen), a Soviet republic in W Asia. 1,520,000 pop.; 188,400 sq. mi. Capital: Ashkhabad. n.

Tur ko man (tēr'kə mən), 1. member of any of various Turkish tribes inhabiting the region about the Aral Sea and parts of Iran and Afghanistan. 2. language of this people. n., pl. Tur ko mans.

tur mer ic (tēr'mar ik), 1. a yellow powder prepared from the root of an East Indian plant, used as a seasoning, as a yellow dye, in medicine, etc. 2. the plant itself. 3. its root. n.

turmoil (tēr'moil), commotion; disturbance; tumult: Six robberies in one night put our village in a turmoil. n.

turn (tēr'n), 1. move round as a wheel does; rotate: The merry-go-round turned. 2. cause to move round as a wheel does: I turned the crank three times. 3. motion like that of a wheel: At each turn the screw goes in further. 4. move part way around; change from one side to the other: Turn over on your back. 5. do by turning; open, close, make lower, higher, tighter, looser, etc., by moving around: She turned the key in the lock.

6. take a new direction: The road turns to the north here.
 7. give a new direction to: He turned his steps to the north.
 8. change of direction: a turn to the left.
 9. place where there is a change in direction: a turn in the road.
 10. change in direction or position; invert; reverse: turn a page.
 11. change so as to be: She turned pale.
 12. change for or to a worse condition; sour; spoil: Warm weather turns milk.
 13. a change: The sick man has taken a turn for the better.
 14. give form to; make: He can turn pretty compliments.
 15. change from one language into another: Turn this sentence into Latin.
 16. form; style: a happy turn of expression.
 17. put out of order; unsettle: Too much praise turns his head.
 18. depend: The success of the picnic turns on the weather.
 19. cause to go, send, etc.: turn a person from one's door.
 20. drive back; stop: turn a punch.
 21. direct (one's thoughts or attention): He turned his thoughts toward home.
 22. direct thought, eyes, etc.: turn to God for help.
 23. put to use: turn money to good use.
 24. move to the other side of; go round; get beyond: turn the corner.
 25. a twist; each round in a coil of rope.
 26. time or chance to do something: My turn comes after yours.
 27. time or spell of action: have a turn at a thing.
 28. deed; act: One good turn deserves another.
 29. performance.
 30. inclination; bent: He has a turn for mathematics.
 31. a walk, drive, or ride: a turn in the park.
 32. make in a lathe.
 33. make sick; become sick: The sight of blood turns my stomach.
 34. become dizzy.
 35. spell of dizziness or fainting.
 36. Informal. a nervous shock.
 37. in music, a grace consisting of a principal tone with those above and below it.
 38. of leaves, change color.
 1,2,4-7,10-12,14,15,17-24,32-34,38 v., 3,8,9,13,16,25-31,35-37 n.

by turns, one after another.

in turn, in proper order.

out of turn, not in proper order.

take turns, act one after another in proper order.

to a turn, to just the right degree.

turn about or turn and turn about, one after another in proper order.

turn down, 1. fold down. 2. bend downward. 3. place with face downward. 4. refuse: turn down a plan.
 5. lower by turning something.

turn in, 1. turn and go in. 2. point (toes) inward.
 3. Informal. go to bed. 4. give back. 5. exchange.

turn off, 1. shut off. 2. put out (a light). 3. turn aside. 4. do. 5. discharge.

turn on, 1. start the flow of; put on. 2. attack; resist; oppose. 3. depend on. 4. be about; have to do with.

turn out, 1. put out; shut off. 2. let go out. 3. drive out. 4. come or go out: Everyone turned out for the circus.
 5. go out on strike. 6. make; produce. 7. result. 8. become. 9. be found or known. 10. equip; fit out. 11. Informal. get out of bed.

turn over, 1. give; hand over; transfer: turn over a job to someone.
 2. think carefully about; consider in different ways. 3. buy and then sell; use in business. 4. invest and get back (capital). 5. change in position, especially change from lying on one side to lying on the other. 6. convert to different use. 7. do business to the amount of (sum specified).

turn to, 1. refer to. 2. go to for help. 3. get busy; set to work.

turn up, 1. fold up or over, especially so as to shorten; give upward turn to; bring underside up. 2. make (a lamp, etc.) burn stronger. 3. make (a radio) louder. 4. turn and go up. 5. be directed upwards. 6. appear.

turn buck le (tèrn/'buk/-l), a short, hollow piece turning on a screw, used to unite and tighten two parts. n.

turn coat (tèrn/'kōt/), person who changes his party or principles; renegade. n.

turn down (tèrn/'doun/), that is or can be turned down; folded or doubled down: a turndown collar. adj.

turn er (tèr/'nær), 1. person or thing that turns.

2. person who forms or shapes things with a lathe. n.

tur nip (tèr/'nəp), 1. any of certain plants with large, roundish roots that are used as vegetables. The white turnip and the Swedish turnip or rutabaga are common turnips. 2. the root of any of these plants. n.

turn key (tèrn/'kē/), person in charge of the keys of a prison; keeper of a prison. n., pl. turn keys.

turn out (tèrn/'out/), 1. a gathering of people. 2. output. 3. a wide place in the road, where vehicles can pass. 4. a railroad siding. 5. way in which somebody or something is equipped. 6. a horse or horses and carriage. n.

turn over (tèrn/'ōvər), 1. a turning over; upset. 2. the amount of changing from one job to another: Employers wish to reduce labor turnover.
 3. the paying out and getting back of the money involved in a business transaction: The store reduced prices to make a quick turnover.
 4. the total amount of business done in a given time: He made a profit of $6000 on a turnover of $90,000.
 5. a small pie made by folding half the crust over the filling and upon the other half. 6. having a part that turns over. 1-5 n., 6 adj.

turn pike (tèrn/'pik/), 1. gate where toll is paid. 2. road that has, or used to have, a gate where toll is paid. n.

turn spit (tèrn/'spit/), one that turns a roast of meat on a spit. n.

turn stile (tèrn/'stīl/), post with two crossed bars that turn, set in an entrance. n.

turn ta ble (tèrn/'tā'bl), 1. a revolving circular platform used for turning things around. A turntable with a track is used for turning locomotives around. 2. the rotating disk on a phonograph upon which records are placed. n.

tur pen tine (tèr/'pən tīn), 1. an oil obtained from various cone-bearing trees. Turpentine is used in mixing paints and varnishes, in medicine, etc. 2. the mixture of oil and resin from which the prepared oil is made. n.

tur pi tude (tèr/'pə tūd or tèr/'pə tūd), shameful wickedness; baseness. n.

tur quoise (tèr/'koiz or tèr/'kwoiz), 1. a sky-blue or greenish-blue precious stone or mineral. 2. sky blue; greenish blue. 1,2 n., 2 adj.

tur ret (tèr/'it), 1. a small tower, often on the corner of a building. 2. a low armored structure which revolves and within which guns are mounted. 3. a similar structure for gunners on armored tanks. 4. cockpit in a military aircraft usually enclosed by a strong, transparent plastic material and sometimes containing movable machine guns. 5. kind of tower on wheels, formerly used in attacking walled castles, forts, or towns. n.

tur ret ed (tèr/'ə tid), 1. having a turret or turrets. 2. having whorls in the form of a long spiral: turreted shells. adj.

tur tle (tèr/'tl), any of certain marine reptiles having the body enclosed in a hard shell from which the head, tail, and four legs protrude. Turtles living on the land are often called tortoises. n.

turn turtle, turn bottom side up.

Turnstile. When a coin is dropped in the box, the bars can be turned just far enough to let one person through the gate.

Turntable (def. 1)

Turrets on a building

Turnbuckle

Turtle

turtle dove (têr'tl dūv'), a kind of small, slender dove, noted for the affection that the mates have for each other. n.

Tuscan (tus'kən), 1. of or having to do with Tuscany or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Tuscany. 3. the form of Italian spoken in Tuscany. Tuscan is regarded as standard Italian. 4. noting or having to do with a kind of architecture using a plain round column and no decoration. 1,4 adj., 2,3 n.

Tuscan (tus'kən), district in central Italy. Florence is its chief city. n.

Tuscarora (tus'kə rō'rə), member of a tribe of American Indians that lived in colonial North Carolina. n., pl. Tuscarora or Tuscaroras.

tush! (tush), exclamation expressing impatience, contempt, etc. interj., n.

tush! (tush), tsk. n.

tusk (tusk), 1. a very long, pointed, projecting tooth. Elephants, walruses, and wild boars have tusks. 2. any tusklike tooth or part. 3. gore with a tusk; dig or tear with the tusks. 1,2 n., 3 v.

Tuskegee (tus kē'gē), town in E. Alabama. Tuskegee Institute, a famous school for Negroes, is located there. 2000. n.

tusk (tus'kər), animal with well-developed tusks, such as a mature elephant, walrus, or wild boar. n.

tussock (tus'ək), 1. a coarse Asiatic silk. 2. the silkworm that makes it. n.

tussle (tus'l), struggle; wrestle; scuffle. v., tussled, tussling; n.

tussock (tus'ək), a tuft of growing grass or the like. n.

tussock moth, a dull-colored moth whose larvae have thick tufts of hair.

tut (tut), exclamation of impatience, contempt, or rebuke. interj., n.

tutelage (tū'tl ij or tū'tl ij), 1. guardianship; protection. 2. instruction. 3. state of being in the charge of a guardian or tutor. n.

tutelar (tū'tl ēr or tū'tl ēr), tutelary. adj.

tutelar (tū'tl ēr or tū'tl ēr), 1. protecting; guardian: a tutelary saint. 2. a tutelary saint, spirit, divinity, etc. 3. of a guardian; used as a guardian. 1,3 adj., 2 n., pl. tutelaries.

tutor (tū'tər or tū'tər), 1. a private teacher: Those rich children have tutors instead of going to school. 2. U.S. teacher below the rank of instructor at a college or university. 3. teach; instruct, especially individually or privately: In some schools, the bright pupils tutor the dull ones. 4. Informal. be taught by a tutor. 5. in English universities, a college official appointed to advise students, direct their work, etc. 6. act as tutor. 1,2,5 n., 3,4,6 v.

tutorial (tū tō'rē əl or tū tō'rē əl), 1. of or having to do with a tutor: tutorial authority. 2. using tutors: the tutorial system. adj.

tutorial ship (tū'tər ship or tū'tər ship), position, rank, or duties of a tutor. n.

tutti-frutti (tū'tē frū'tē), 1. preserve of mixed fruits. 2. ice cream containing a variety of fruits or fruit flavorings. 3. flavored by mixed fruits. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Tutuila (tū'tū ē'lā), a large island in Samoa that belongs to the United States. The important harbor of Pago Pago is there. 14,000 pop.; 40 sq. mi. n.

tux (tuks), U.S. Informal. tuxedo. n. tuxedo or Tuxedo (tuk sē'dō), U.S. a man's coat for evening wear, made without tails. n., pl. tuxedos or tuxedos.

TV, television.

TVA, Tennessee Valley Authority, a United States government organization for developing the resources of the Tennessee Valley region; started in 1933.

twaddle (twod'l), 1. silly, feeble, tiresome talk or writing. 2. talk or write in a silly, feeble, tiresome way. 1 n., 2 v., twaddled, twaddling. —twaddler, n.

twain (twān), Archaic or Poetic. two. n., adj.

Twain (twān), Mark, 1835-1910, American writer, author of Huckleberry Finn. His real name was Samuel Langhorne Clemens. n.

twang (twang), 1. a sharp ringing sound: The bow made a twang when I shot the arrow. 2. make or cause to make a sharp, ringing sound: The banjos twanged. 3. play, pluck, shoot, etc., with a twang: He twanged an arrow into the target. 4. a sharp nasal tone: the twang of a Yankee farmer. 5. speak with a sharp nasal tone. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v.

'twas (twoz or twuz; unstressed twəz), it was.

tweak (twēk), 1. seize and pull with a sharp jerk and twist: The parrot tweaked Fred's ear and cried, "Ha! Ha!" 2. a sharp pull and twist. 1 v., 2 n.

tweed (twēd), 1. a woolen cloth with a rough surface, usually woven of yarns of two or more colors. 2. suit, etc., made of this cloth. n.

tweeds, clothes made of tweed.

'tween (twēn), Poetic. between. prep.

tweet (twēt), 1. the note of a young bird. 2. utter a tweet or tweets. 1 n., interj., 2 v.

tweezers (twēz'ərz), small pincers for pulling out hairs, picking up small objects, etc. n.pl.

twelfth (twelfth), 1. next after the 11th; last in a series of 12. 2. one, or being one, of 12 equal parts. adj., n.

twelve (twelv), one more than 11; 12. n., adj.

the Twelve or Twelve Apostles, the twelve disciples and associates of Jesus who were chosen as His Apostles. They were Peter, James, John, Andrew, Thomas, James the Less, Jude, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Simon, and Judas.

twelve fold (twelv'fōld'), 1. twelve times as much or as many. 2. having 12 parts. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

twelve month (twelv'munth'), twelve months; a year. n.

twentieth (twen'tē ith), 1. next after the 19th; last in a series of 20. 2. one, or being one, of 20 equal parts. adj., n.

twenty (twen'tē), two times ten; 20. n., pl. twenties; adj.

twenty fold (twen'tē fōld'), 1. twenty times as much or as many. 2. having 20 parts. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

'twere (twēr; unstressed twər), it were.

twice (twis), 1. two times: twice a day. 2. doubly: twice as much. adv.

twice-told (twis'tōld'), 1. told twice. 2. told many times before; trite. adj.

twiddle (twid'l), 1. twirl: twiddle one's pencil. 2. play with idly. 3. a twirl. 1,2 v., twiddled, twiddling; n.

twiddle one's thumbs, 1. keep turning one's thumbs idly about each other. 2. do nothing; be idle.

twig (twig), a slender shoot of a tree or other plant; very small branch. n.

twilight (twi'lit'), 1. the faint light reflected from the sky before the sun rises and after it sets. 2. any faint light. 3. condition or period after or before full

Tusks of a walrus

Tweezers

development, glory, etc. 4. of twilight; like that of twilight: the twilight hour. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

twill (twil), 1. cloth woven in raised diagonal lines. Serge is a twill. 2. weave (cloth) in this way. 3. a diagonal line or pattern formed by such weaving. 1,3 n., 2 v.

twill (twil), it will.

twilled (twild), woven in raised diagonal lines. adj.

twin (twin), 1. one of two children or animals born at the same time from the same mother. Twins sometimes look just alike. 2. one of two persons or things exactly alike. 3. being a twin: twin sisters. 4. being one of two things very much alike: twin beds. 5. having two like parts. 6. give birth to twins. 7. join closely; pair. 1,2 n., 3-5 adj., 6,7 v., twinned, twinning.

Twin Cities, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

twine (twīn), 1. a strong thread or string made of two or more strands twisted together. 2. twist together: She twined holly into wreaths. 3. wind: The vine twines around the tree. 4. a twisting; twisting together. 5. a twist; twisted thing. 1,4,5 n., 2,3 v., twined, twinning.

twinge (twinj), 1. a sudden sharp pain: a twinge of rheumatism, a twinge of remorse. 2. feel a twinge. 3. cause a twinge in. 1 n., 2,3 v., tinged, twinging.

twin kle (twing'kl), 1. shine with quick little gleams: The stars twinkled. Jack's eyes twinkled when he laughed. 2. a twinkling; sparkle; gleam: He has a merry twinkle in his eye. 3. move quickly: The dancer's feet twinkled. 4. a quick motion. 5. a quick motion of the eye; wink; blink. 6. time required for a wink. 7. to wink; blink. 8. cause to twinkle. 1,3,7,8 v., twin kled, twin kling; 2,4-6 n.

twin kling (twing'kling), 1. a little, quick gleam. 2. an instant. n.

twin-screw (twin'skrū'), having two screw propellers, which revolve in opposite directions. adj.

twirl (twērl), 1. revolve rapidly; spin; whirl. 2. turn round and round idly. 3. a twirling; spin; whirl; turn: a twirl in a dance. 4. twist; curl; flourish: He signed his name with many twirls. 5. throw (a baseball); pitch. 1,2,4,5 v., 3,4 n. —twirl'er, n.

twist (twist), 1. turn; wind: She twisted her ring on her finger. 2. wind together: This rope is twisted from many threads. Mary twisted flowers into a wreath. 3. turn around: She twisted in her seat to see what was happening behind her. 4. give a spiral form to. 5. make (a ball) go round while moving in a curved direction. 6. have a winding shape; curve or bend in any way. 7. curve; crook; bend: The path twists in and out among the rocks (v.). It is full of twists (n.). 8. spin; whirl. 9. force out of shape or place: His face was twisted with pain. 10. give a wrong meaning to: The lawyer confused the witness by twisting his words. 11. a twisting; being twisted. 12. anything made by twisting: a twist of bread. 13. a thread, cord, or rope made of two or more strands twisted together. 14. a peculiar bias or inclination: His answer showed a mental twist. 1-10 v., 7,8,11-14 n. —twist'able, adj.

twist er (twis'tər), 1. person or thing that twists. 2. ball moving with a spinning motion; especially, a curved pitched baseball. 3. U.S. Informal. whirlwind; tornado; cyclone. n.

twit (twit), 1. jeer at; reproach; taunt; tease. 2. a reproach; taunt. 1 v., twitted, twitting; 2 n.

twitch (twich), 1. move with a quick jerk: The child's mouth twitched as if she were about to cry. 2. a quick jerky movement of some part of the body. 3. pull with a sudden tug or jerk; pull (at): She twitched the curtain aside. 4. a short, sudden pull or jerk. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

twit ter (twit'ər), 1. sound made by birds; chirping. 2. make such a sound. 3. chirp. 4. titter; giggle. 5. an excited condition: My nerves are in a twitter when I have to sing in public. 6. tremble with excitement. 1,4,5 n., 2-4 v.

twixt (twikst), Poetic or Dialect. betwixt; between. prep.

two (tü), 1. one more than one; 2. set of two persons or things. 3. a playing card, die face, etc., with two spots. 1-3 n., pl. twos; 1 adj.

in two, in two parts or pieces.
put two and two together, form an obvious conclusion from the facts.

two-bag ger (tü'bag'ər), a two-base hit. n.

two-base hit, in baseball, a hit where the ball goes far enough for the batter to reach second base.

two-by-four (tü'bī fōr'), 1. measuring two inches, feet, etc., by four inches, feet, etc. 2. piece of lumber four inches wide and two inches thick. Two-by-fours are much used in building. 3. U.S. Informal. small; narrow; limited. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

two-edged (tü'ejd'), 1. having two edges; cutting both ways. 2. effective either way. adj.

two-faced (tü'fäst'), 1. having two faces. 2. deceitful; hypocritical. adj.

two-fist ed (tü'fis'tid), Informal. 1. having two fists and able to use them. 2. strong; vigorous. adj.

two fold (tü'föld'), 1. two times as much or as many; double. 2. having two parts. 1,2 adj., 1 adv.

two-four (tü'fōr'), of a musical rhythm with two quarter notes to a bar. adj.

two-handed (tü'han'did), 1. having two hands. 2. using both hands equally well. 3. involving the use of both hands; requiring both hands to wield or manage: a two-handed sword. 4. requiring two persons to operate: a two-handed saw. 5. engaged in by two persons: a two-handed game. adj.

two-part time, a musical time or rhythm with two beats to the measure, or multiples of two beats to the measure.

two pence (tup'əns), 1. two British pennies; two pence. 2. coin of this value (since 1662 coined only on special occasions). It is worth about two cents. n. Also, tuppence.

two pen ny (tup'ən ē), 1. worth twopence. 2. trifling; worthless. adj.

two-ply (tü'plī'), having two thicknesses, folds, layers, or strands. adj.

two some (tü'səm), 1. group of two people. 2. game played by two people. 3. the players. n.

two-step (tü'step'), 1. a dance in march time. 2. music for it. n.

twould (twüd; unstressed twəd), it would.

-ty, suffix meaning: tens, as in sixty, seventy, eighty.

-ty, suffix meaning: fact, quality, state, condition, etc., of being —, as in safety, sovereignty, surety.

-ity is often used instead of -ty, as in artificiality, complexity, humidity.

tycoon (tikūn'), 1. U.S. Informal. an important businessman. 2. title given by foreigners to the former hereditary commanders in chief of the Japanese army; shogun. n.

tying (tī'ing), ppr. of tie. He is tying his shoes. v.

tyke (tik), 1. cur. 2. Informal. a mischievous or troublesome child. 3. Dialect. a low fellow. n. Also, tike.

Tyler (tī'lər), John, 1790-1862, tenth president of the United States, from 1841 to 1845. n.

tym pan ic (tim pan'ik), 1. of the eardrum or the middle ear. 2. like a drum. adj.

tympanic membrane, eardrum.

tym pa nist (tim'pə nist), member of an orchestra who plays a drum, cymbals, and other percussion instruments. n.

tym pa num (tim'pə nəm), 1. the eardrum. 2. the middle ear. n., pl. tym pa nums, tym pa na (-nə).

Tyne (tin), river in N England, flowing into the North Sea. 80 mi. n.

type (tip), 1. a kind, class, or group having common characteristics: Some men prefer women of the blonde type. 2. person or thing having the characteristics of a kind, class, or group; example; illustration; model; representative; symbol: John is a fine type of schoolboy. 3. the general form, style, or character of some kind, class, or group: She is above the ordinary type of servant.

4. be a type or symbol of; symbolize. 5. be the pattern or model for. 6. piece of metal or wood having on its upper surface a raised letter for use in printing. 7. collection of such pieces. 8. printed letters; typewritten letters. 9. write with a typewriter; typewrite. 10. figure, writing, or design on either side of a coin or medal. 11. a blood type. 12. find out the type of: type a person's blood. 1-3,6-8,10,11 n., 4,5,9,12 v., typed, typ ing.

type script (tip'skript'), typewritten manuscript. n.
type set ter (tip'set'ər), person or machine that sets type for printing. n.

type set ting (tip'set'ing), 1. act of setting type for printing. 2. used or adapted for setting type: a type-setting machine. 1 n., 2 adj.

type write (tip'rit'), write with a typewriter; type. v., type wrote, type writ ten, type writ ing.

type writ er (tip'rit'ər), 1. machine for writing by means of letters similar to those of printers. 2. typist. n.

type writ ing (tip'rit'ing), 1. act or art of using a typewriter. 2. work done on a typewriter. n.

type writ ten (tip'rit'n), 1. written with a typewriter: a typewritten letter. 2. pp. of typewrite. 1 adj., 2 v.

type wrote (tip'rōt'), pt. of typewrite. v.

ty phoid (ti'foid), 1. of or having to do with typhoid fever. 2. typhoid fever. 3. like typhus. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

ty phoid fever, an infectious, often fatal, fever with intestinal inflammation, caused by a germ taken into the body with food or drink. People can be inoculated against typhoid fever.

ty phoon (ti'fūn'), 1. violent storm or tempest occurring in India. 2. violent hurricane occurring in the W Pacific, chiefly during the months of July, August, September, and October. n.

ty phus (ti'fəs), an acute infectious disease caused by germs carried by fleas, lice, etc. n.

typ i cal (tip'ə kl), being a type; representative: The typical Thanksgiving dinner consists of turkey, cranberry sauce, several vegetables, and mince or pumpkin pie. adj.

typ i cal ly (tip'ik lē), 1. in a typical manner. 2. to a typical degree. 3. ordinarily. adv.

typ i fy (tip'ə fi), 1. be a symbol of: The lamb typifies Christ's sacrifice. 2. have the common characteristics of: Daniel Boone typifies the pioneer. 3. indicate beforehand. v., typ i fied, typ i fy ing. —typ i fi ca'tion, n.

typ ist (tip'ist), person operating a typewriter; person who does typewriting as a regular occupation: My sister is a good typist. n.

ty pog ra pher (ti'pog'rə fər), a printer. n.

ty po graph ic (ti'pə graf'ik), typographical. adj.

ty po graph i cal (ti'pə graf'ə kl), of or having to do with printing or typing: "Catt" and "hoRse" contain typographical errors. adj. —ty po graph i cal ly, adv.
ty pog ra phy (ti'pog'rə fē), 1. the art or process of printing with type; the work of setting and arranging type and of printing from it. 2. arrangement, appearance, or style of printed matter. n.

ty ran nic (tə ran'ik), tyrannical. adj.

ty ran ni cal (tə ran'ə kl), of a tyrant; like a tyrant; arbitrary; cruel; unjust. adj. —ty ran ni cal ly, adv.

tyr an nize (tir'ə nīz), 1. use power cruelly or unjustly: Those who are strong should not tyrannize over those who are weaker. 2. rule as a tyrant. 3. rule cruelly; oppress. v., tyr an nized, tyr an nize ing.

tyr an nous (tir'ə nəs), acting like a tyrant; cruel or unjust; arbitrary; tyrannical: The Stamp Act seemed tyrannous to the colonists. adj. —tyr an nous ly, adv.

tyr an ny (tir'ə nē), 1. cruel or unjust use of power: The boy ran away to sea to escape his father's tyranny. 2. a tyrannical act: The colonists rebelled against the king's tyrannies. 3. government by an absolute ruler. n., pl. tyr an nies.

ty rant (ti'rənt), 1. person who uses his power cruelly or unjustly.

2. a cruel or unjust ruler; cruel master. 3. an absolute ruler, as in ancient Greece, owing his office to usurpation. Some tyrants of Greek cities were mild and just rulers. n.

Tyre (tir), 1. an ancient seaport in S Phoenicia. It was noted for its wealth and wickedness. 2. town in SW Lebanon, on the site of ancient Tyre. 12,000. n.

tyre (tir), Brit. 1. band of rubber or metal around a wheel; tire. 2. furnish with a tire. 1 n., 2 v.

tyred, tyr ing.

Tyr i an (tir'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with Tyre. 2. native of Tyre. 1 adj., 2 n.

Tyrian purple, 1. a crimson or purple dye used by the ancient Greeks and Romans. 2. bluish red.

ty ro (ti'rō), beginner in learning anything; novice: Much practice changed the tyro into an expert. n., pl. ty ros. Also, ti ro.

Ty rol (tə rōl' or tir'ol), Tirol. n.

Ty rhe ni an Sea (tə rē'nē ən), part of the Mediterranean Sea west of Italy. See Elba for map.

tzar (zär or tsär), czar. n.

tzar i na (zä rē'nə or tsä rē'nə), czarina. n.

tzet ze (tset'sē), tsetse. n.

U

U or u (ū), 1. the 21st letter of the alphabet. 2. anything shaped like a U. n., pl. U's or u's.

U, uranium.

U.A.R., United Arab Republic.

UAW or U.A.W., United Automobile Workers.

U ban gi (ū bang'gē), river flowing from central Africa into the Congo River. 700 mi. n.

u biq ui tous (ū bik'wə təs), being everywhere at the same time. adj. —u biq ui tous ly, adv.

u biq ui ty (ū bik'wə tē), 1. being everywhere at the same time. 2. ability to be everywhere at once. n.

U-boat (ū'bōt'), a German submarine. n.

ud der (ud'ər), the bag of a cow, goat, or other animal from which the milk comes. n.

U gan da (ū gan'də), a country in E Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth. 6,524,000 pop.; 93,981 sq. mi. Capital: Kampala. n.

ugh (ūh, uH, or u), exclamation expressing disgust or horror. interj.

ug ly (ug'lē), 1. very unpleasant to look at: an ugly house, an ugly face. 2. bad; disagreeable; offensive: an ugly task. 3. likely to cause trouble; threatening; dangerous: an ugly wound, ugly clouds. 4. U.S. Informal. ill-natured; bad-tempered; quarrelsome: an ugly dog. adj., ug li er, ug li est. —ug li ness, n.

U.K., United Kingdom.

u kase (ū kās'), 1. formerly, an order of the ruler or government of Russia. 2. any official proclamation or order. n.

Ukraine (ū krān'), a Soviet republic in SW Soviet Union. 41,893,000 pop.; 200,000 sq. mi. Capital: Kiev. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʰh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

Ū krain i an (ū krān'ē ān), 1. of or having to do with the Ukraine, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of the Ukraine. 3. its language, closely related to Russian. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

u ku le le (ū'kə lā'lē), a small guitar having four strings. n.

U lan Ba tor (ū'lān bā'tōr), capital of the Mongolian People's Republic. 160,000.

ul cer (ul'sər), 1. an open sore that discharges pus. 2. a moral sore spot; corrupting influence. n.

ul cer ate (ul'sər āt), 1. affect or be affected with an ulcer: An ulcerated tooth may be very painful. 2. form an ulcer. v., ul cer at ed, ul cer at ing.

ul cer a tion (ul'sər ā'shən), 1. an ulcerating or being ulcerated. 2. an ulcer. n.

ul cer ous (ul'sər əs), 1. having ulcers. 2. of or having to do with ulcers. adj.

ul na (ul'nə), 1. the bone of the forearm on the side opposite the thumb. 2. a corresponding bone in the foreleg of an animal. n., pl. ul nae (-nē) or ul nas.

ul nar (ul'nər), 1. of or having to do with the ulna. 2. in or supplying the part of the forearm near the ulna. adj.

Ul ster (ul'stər), a former province of Ireland, now divided between the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland. n.

ul ster (ul'stər), a long, loose, heavy overcoat. n.

ult., ultimo; in the past month: your order of the 14th ult.

ul te ri or (ul tīr'ē ər), 1. beyond what is seen or expressed; hidden. 2. more distant; on the farther side. 3. further; later. adj. —ul te'ri or ly, adv.

ul ti ma (ul'tə mē), the last syllable of a word. n.

ul ti mate (ul'tə mit), 1. coming at the end; last possible; final: He never stopped to consider the ultimate result of his actions. 2. fundamental; basic: The brain is the ultimate source of ideas. 3. greatest possible. 4. an ultimate point, result, fact, etc. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

ul ti mate ly (ul'tə mit lē), finally; in the end. adv.

ul ti ma tum (ul'tə māt'əm), a final proposal or statement of conditions. n., pl. ul ti ma tums, ul ti ma ta (-tə).

ul ti mo (ul'tə mō), in or of last month. adv.

ul tra (ul'trə), 1. beyond what is usual; very; excessive, extreme. 2. person who holds extreme views or urges extreme measures. 1 adj., 2 n.

ultra-, prefix meaning:

1. beyond, as in ultraviolet.

2. beyond what is usual; very; excessively, as in ultra-exclusive, ultramodern.

ul tra ma rine (ul'trə mē rēn'), 1. deep blue. 2. a blue paint made from powdered lapis lazuli. 3. an artificial imitation of this which is sometimes green or purple. 4. beyond the sea. 1-3 n., 1,4 adj.

ul tra son ic (ul'trə son'ik), supersonic. adj.

ul tra vi o let (ul'trə vī'ə lit), of or having to do with the invisible part of the spectrum just beyond the violet. adj.

ultraviolet rays, the invisible rays in the part of the spectrum beyond the violet. They are present in sunlight, light from mercury-vapor lamps, etc., and are used for healing, forming vitamins, etc.

ul u lant (ū'l'ya lant or ul'ya lant), howling. adj.

ul u late (ū'l'ya lāt or ul'ya lāt), 1. of a dog, wolf, etc., howl. 2. lament loudly. v., ul u lat ed, ul u lat ing. —ul u la'tion, n.

Boy playing a ukulele

U lys ses (ū lis'ēz), the shrewdest of the Greek leaders in the Trojan War. Ulysses is the Latin name for Odysseus. n. um bel (um'bl), a flower cluster in which stalks nearly equal in length spring from a common center and form a flat or slightly curved surface, as in parsley. n.

Umbel

um ber (um'bər), 1. an earth used in its natural state (raw umber) as a brown pigment, or after heating (burnt umber) as a reddish-brown pigment. 2. brown or reddish brown. 1,2 n., 2 adj.

um bil i cal cord (um bil'ə kl), a cordlike structure that connects an unborn mammal to the womb of the mother. It is attached to the placenta of the mother and to the abdomen of the embryo.

um bra (um'brə), 1. a shadow of the earth or moon that completely hides the sun. See eclipse for diagram. 2. the dark central part of a sunspot. 3. shade; shadow. n., pl. um brae (-brē).

um brage (um'brij), 1. suspicion that one has been slighted or injured; feeling offended; resentment. 2. shade. 3. foliage. n.

um bra geous (um brā'jəs), 1. shady. 2. likely to take offense. adj.

um brel la (um brel'ə), 1. a light, folding frame covered with cloth, used as a protection against rain or sun. 2. a barrage or screen of fighter aircraft to protect ground forces. n.

u mi ak (ū'mē ak), an open Eskimo boat made of skins covering a wooden frame and worked with paddles. It is used especially by women. n.

Umiak

um pire (um'pīr), 1. person who rules on the plays in a game: The umpire called the ball a foul. 2. person chosen to settle a dispute. 3. act as umpire. 4. act as umpire in. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., um pired, um pir ing.

un-, prefix meaning: not; the opposite of, as in unfair, unjust, unequal.

un-, prefix meaning: do the opposite of; do what will reverse the act, as in undress, unlock, untie.

UN or U.N., United Nations.

un a bashed (un'ə basht'), not embarrassed, ashamed, or awed. adj.

un a ble (un'ə bl), not able; lacking ability or power (to): A little baby is unable to walk or talk. adj.

un a bridged (un'ə brijd'), complete; not shortened: an unbridged book. adj.

un ac com pa nied (un'ə kum'pə nēd), 1. not accompanied. 2. in music, without an accompaniment. adj.

un ac count a ble (un'ə koun'tə bl), 1. that cannot be accounted for or explained. 2. not responsible. adj.

un ac count a bly (un'ə koun'tə blē), in a way that cannot be explained; strangely. adv.

un ac cus tomed (un'ə kus'təmd), 1. not accustomed. 2. not familiar; unusual; strange. adj.

un ac quaint ed (un'ə kwān'tid), not acquainted. adj.

un a dul ter at ed (un'ə dul'tər āt'id), not adulterated; pure. adj.

un ad vis ed (un'əd vīzd'), 1. not advised; without advice. 2. not prudent or discreet; rash. adj.

un ad vis ed ly (un'əd vīz'id lē), in an indiscreet manner; rashly. adv.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un'a bat'ed
un'a bet'ted un'ab solved'
un'ac a dem'ic

un'ac'cent ed
un'ac cept'a ble un'ac ci'mat ed
un'ac cli'ma tized

un'ac com'mo dat'ing un'ac com'plished un'ac count'ed-for'
un'ac cred'it ed

un'ac knowl'edged un'a dapt'able un'ad just'a ble un'ad just'ed

un'a dorned'

unaffected (un'ə fek'tid), not affected; not influenced. adj.

unaffected (un'ə fek'tid), simple and natural; sincere. adj. —un'af fect'ed ly, adv. —un'af fect'ed-ness, n.

unaided (un ād'id), not aided; without help. adj.

unalterable (un ōl'tər ə bl), that cannot be altered; not changeable. adj.

unalterably (un ōl'tər ə blē), in a way that cannot be changed; permanently. adv.

unaltered (un ōl'tərd), unchanged. adj.

un-American (un'ə mer'ə kən), not American; not characteristic of or proper to America; foreign or opposed to the American character, usages, standards, etc. adj.

unanimity (ū'nə nim'ə tē), complete accord or agreement. n.

unanimous (ū nan'ə mäs), 1. in complete accord or agreement; agreed. 2. characterized by or showing complete accord: He was elected president of his class by a unanimous vote. adj. —un'an'i mous ness, n.

unanimously (ū nan'ə mäs lē), with complete agreement; without a single opposing vote. adv.

unanswerable (un an'sər ə bl), 1. that cannot be answered. 2. that cannot be disproved. adj. —un'an'swer ə bly, adv.

unanswered (un an'sərd), 1. not replied to. 2. not proved false or incorrect; not refuted: an unanswered argument. 3. not returned: unanswered love. adj.

unapproachable (un'ə prōch'ə bl), 1. very hard to approach; distant. 2. unrivaled; without an equal. adj. —un'ap proach'ə ble ness, n. —un'ap proach'ə bly, adv.

unarm (un ārm'), 1. take weapons or armor from; disarm. 2. lay down one's weapons. 3. take off armor. v.

unarmed (un ārmd'), without weapons; without armor. adj.

unassuming (un'ə sūm'ing), modest; not putting on airs. adj. —un'as sum'ing ly, adv. —un'as-sum'ing ness, n.

unattached (un'ə tacht'), 1. not attached. 2. not connected or associated with a particular body, group, organization, or the like; independent. 3. not engaged to be married. adj.

unattended (un'ə ten'did), 1. without attendants; alone. 2. not accompanied. 3. not taken care of; not attended to. adj.

unavailing (un'ə vāl'ing), not successful; useless. adj. —un'a vail'ing ly, adv.

unavoidable (un'ə void'ə bl), that cannot be avoided. adj. —un'a void'ə ble ness, n.

unavoidably (un'ə void'ə blē), because of something that cannot or could not be avoided or prevented; inevitably. adv.

unaware (un'ə wār'), 1. not aware; unconscious. 2. without thought; unawares. 1 adj., 2 adv.

unawares (un'ə wār'), 1. without knowing: "to entertain angels unawares." 2. without being expected; by surprise: The police caught the burglar unawares. adv.

unbalance (un bal'əns), 1. lack of balance; unbalanced condition. 2. throw out of balance; disorder or derange. 1 n., 2 v., unbalanced, unbalancing.

unbalanced (un bal'ənst), 1. not balanced. 2. not entirely sane: an unbalanced mind. adj.

unbar (un bār'), remove the bars from; unlock. v., unbarred, unbar ring.

unbearable (un bār'ə bl), that cannot be endured. adj. —un bear'ə ble ness, n. —un bear'ə bly, adv.

unbeaten (un bēt'n), 1. not defeated or surpassed. 2. not trodden; not traveled: unbeaten paths. 3. not struck or pounded. adj.

unbecoming (un'bi kum'ing), 1. not becoming; not appropriate: unbecoming clothes. 2. not fitting; not proper: unbecoming behavior. adj. —un'be com'ing ly, adv. —un'be com'ing ness, n.

unbeknown (un'bi nōn'), Informal. not known. adj.

unbelief (un'bi lēf'), lack of belief; lack of belief in God or the gospel. n.

unbeliever (un'bi lēv'ər), 1. one who does not believe. 2. one who does not believe in a particular religion. n.

unbelieving (un'bi lēv'ing), not believing; doubting. adj. —un'be liev'ing ly, adv.

unbend (un bend'), 1. straighten: to unbend the fingers. 2. release from strain: to unbend a bow. 3. relax: The judge unbent and behaved like a boy. 4. unfasten (a sail, rope, etc.). v., unbent or unbend ed, unbending.

unbending (un ben'ding), 1. not bending or curving; rigid. 2. not yielding; firm: an unbending attitude. 3. relaxation. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —un bend'ing ly, adv.

unbent (un bent'), 1. a pt. and a pp. of unbend. 2. not bent or curved. 1 v., 2 adj.

unbiased or unbiased (un bi'əst), not prejudiced; impartial; fair. adj.

unbidden (un bid'n), 1. not bidden; not invited. 2. not commanded. adj.

unbind (un bind'), release from bonds or restraint; untie; unfasten; let loose. v., unbound, unbinding.

unbleached (un blēcht'), not bleached; not made white by bleaching: unbleached linen. adj.

unblemished (un blem'isht), spotless; flawless. adj.

unblessed or unblest (un blest'), 1. not blessed. 2. evil; not holy. 3. unhappy; miserable; wretched. adj.

unblushing (un blush'ing), not blushing; shameless. adj. —un blush'ing ly, adv.

unbolt (un bōlt'), draw back the bolts of (a door, etc.). v.

unbolted (un bōl'tid), not bolted or fastened: an unbolted door. adj.

unbolted (un bōl'tid), not sifted: unbolted flour. adj.

unborn (un bōrn'), not yet born; still to come; of the future: unborn generations. adj.

unbosom (un bōz'əm or un bōz'əm), reveal; disclose. v.

unbosom oneself, tell or reveal one's thoughts, feelings, secrets, etc.

unbound (un bound'), 1. not bound: Unbound sheets of music were scattered about the room. 2. pt. and pp. of unbind. 1 adj., 2 v.

unbounded (un boun'did), 1. not limited; very great; boundless. 2. not kept within limits; not controlled. adj.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un'a fraid'
un'al lied'
un'al low'a ble
un'al loyed'
un'al pha bet ized un'al ter ing
un'am big'u ous un'am bi'tious un'a mi'a ble
un'an'i mat'ed un'an nounced'

un'ap peas'a ble
un'ap peased'
un'ap'pe tiz'ing
un'ap pre'ci at'ed un'ap pre'ci a'tive un'ap proached' un'ap pro'pri at'ed un'ap proved'
un'ap t' un'ar rest'ed un'ar tis'tic

un'a shamed' un'asked'
un'as sail'a ble
un'as sist'ed un'at tain'a ble un'at tempt'ed un'at trac'tive un'au then'tic
un'au then'ti cat'ed un'au thor ized un'a vail'a ble

un'a venged' un'a vowed'
un'backed'
un'baked'
un'bab tized'
un'barbed' un'beat'a ble
un'be fit'ting un'be hought'en un'be liev'a ble un'be seem'ing

un'be trothed' un'be wailed'
un'blam'a ble un'blamed' un'blink'ing un'bod'ied un'bon'net ed un'both'ered un'bought' un'bow'd' un'braced'

un braid (un brād'), separate the strands of. v.
un bridled (un brī'dld), 1. not having a bridle on. 2. not controlled; not restrained. adj.
un bro ken (un brō'kən), 1. not broken; whole. 2. not interrupted; continuous: He had eight hours of unbroken sleep. 3. not tamed: an unbroken horse. adj.
un buck le (un buk'l), 1. unfasten the buckle or buckles of. 2. unfasten; detach. v., un buck led, un-buck ling.
un bur den (un bér'dn), 1. free from a burden. 2. relieve (one's mind or heart) by talking. v.
un busi ness like (un biz'nis lik'), without system and method; not efficient. adj.
un but ton (un but'n), unfasten the button or buttons of. v.
un called-for (un kôld'fôr'), 1. not called for. 2. unnecessary and improper: an uncalled-for remark. adj.
un can ny (un kan'nē), strange and mysterious; weird: The trees took uncanny shapes in the half darkness. adj. —un can'ni ly, adv. —un can'ni ness, n.
un cer e mo ni ous (un'ser ə mō'nē əs), not as courteous as would be expected; not ceremonious; informal. adj. —un'cer e mo'ni ous ly, adv. —un'cer e mo'ni-ous ness, n.
un cer tain (un sêrt'n), 1. not sure; doubtful: The election results were still uncertain. 2. likely to change; not reliable: This dog has an uncertain temper. 3. not constant; varying: an uncertain flicker of light. 4. vague; indefinite: an uncertain shape. adj. —un cer'tain-ness, n.
un cer tain ly (un sêrt'n lē), in an uncertain way: He spoke slowly and uncertainly. adv.
un cer tain ty (un sêrt'n tē), 1. uncertain state or condition; doubt. 2. something uncertain. n., pl. un- cer tain ties.
un chain (un chān'), free from chains; let loose; set free. v.
un change a ble (un chān'jə bl), that cannot be changed. adj. —un change'a ble ness, n. —un-change'a bly, adv.
un changed (un chānjd'), not changed; the same. adj.
un char i ta ble (un char'ə tə bl), not generous; not charitable; severe; harsh. adj. —un char'i ta ble-ness, n. —un char'i ta bly, adv.
un chart ed (un chār'tid), not mapped; not marked on a chart. adj.
un chaste (un chāst'), not chaste; not virtuous. adj. —un chaste'ly, adv.
un checked (un chekt'), not checked; not restrained. adj.
un chris tian (un kris'chan), 1. not Christian. 2. unworthy of Christians. adj.
un church (un-chêrch'), expel from a church; deprive of church rights and privileges. v.
un ci al (un'shē əl), 1. a kind of letter or writing used in old manuscripts. 2. having to do with such letters or writing. 1 n., 2 adj.

INFERENDUMADQUEAR
 CENDUMBELLUNINEDU
 ITSEIEXRESIRIPERHIS
 PANIAMGALLIAMISQUE
 IINEREITALIAMVETE

Latin uncials, from a manuscript of the 8th century.

un cir cum cised (un sêr'kəm sîzd), 1. not circumcised. 2. not Jewish; Gentile. 3. heathen. adj.
un civ il (un siv'l), 1. not civil; rude; impolite. 2. not civilized. adj. —un civ'il ly, adv.
un civ i lized (un siv'l îzd), not civilized; barbarous; savage. adj.
un clad (un klad'), not dressed; not clothed; naked. adj.
un clasp (un klasp'), 1. unfasten. 2. release or be released from a clasp or grasp. v.
un cle (ung'kl), 1. brother of one's father or mother. 2. husband of one's aunt. 3. Informal. an elderly man. 4. Slang. pawnbroker. n.
un clean (un klên'), 1. not clean; dirty; filthy. 2. not pure morally; evil. 3. not ceremonially clean. adj. —un clean'ness, n.
un clean ly¹ (un klên'lē), not cleanly; unclean. adj. —un clean'li ness, n.
un clean ly² (un klên'lē), in an unclean manner. adv.
un clench (un klênch'), open or become opened from a clenched state: unclench one's fists. v.
Uncle Sam, the government or people of the United States.
un cloak (un klōk'), 1. remove the coat from. 2. reveal; expose. 3. take off the cloak or outer garment. v.
un close (un klōz'), open. v., un closed, un clos ing.
un clothe (un klōth'), 1. strip of clothes; undress. 2. lay bare; uncover. v., un clothed or un clad, un-cloth ing.
un clothed (un klōthd'), uncovered; undressed; naked. adj.
un co (ung'kō), Scottish. 1. remarkably; very; extremely. 2. unknown, strange, or unusual. 3. remarkable, extraordinary, or great. 4. uncanny. 1 adv., 2-4 adj.
un coil (un kōil'), unwind. v.
un com fort a ble (un kumf'tə bl or un kum'fər tə-bl), 1. not comfortable. 2. uneasy. 3. disagreeable; causing discomfort. adj. —un com'fort a ble ness, n.
un com fort a bly (un kumf'tə blē or un kum'fər tə-blē), in a way that is not comfortable; with discomfort and uneasiness; disagreeably. adv.
un com mon (un kom'ən), 1. rare; unusual. 2. remarkable. adj. —un com'mon ness, n.
un com mon ly (un kom'ən lē), 1. rarely; unusually. 2. remarkably; especially. adv.
un com mu ni ca tive (un'kə mū'nə kă'tiv), not giving out any information, opinions, etc.; talking little; silent; reserved; reticent; taciturn. adj. —un'com-mu'ni ca'tive ness, n.
un com pro mis ing (un kom'prə mîz'ing), unyielding; firm. adj. —un com'pro mis'ing ly, adv.
un con cern (un'kən sêrn'), lack of concern; lack of interest; freedom from care or anxiety; indifference. n.
un con cerned (un'kən sêrnd'), not concerned; not interested; free from care or anxiety; indifferent; nonchalant; disinterested; apathetic. adj.
un con cern ed ly (un'kən sêr'nîd lē), in an unconcerned manner; without concern or anxiety. adv.
un con di tion al (un'kən dish'ən l), without conditions; absolute; unqualified; unrestricted: unconditional surrender. adj.
un con di tion al ly (un'kən dish'ən l ē), without any conditions. adv.
un con di tioned (un'kən dish'ənd), 1. without conditions; absolute. 2. not learned; instinctive. adj.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un branched'
 un brand'ed
 un break'a ble
 un brih'a ble
 un broth'er ly
 un bruised'
 un bur'ied
 un burned'
 un burnt'
 un can'celed
 un'ca non'i cal

un cared'-for'
 un caught'
 un ceas'ing
 un cen'sored
 un cen'sured
 un chained'
 un chal'lenged
 un chang'ing un chap'er oned un charged'
 un chas'tened un'chas tised'

 un chiv'al rous un chris'tened un claimed'
 un clas'si fi'a ble
 un clas'si fied
 un cleaned'
 un cleared'
 un closed'
 un cloud'ed
 un coat'ed

un cocked'
 un'co erced' un'col lect'ed un'col lect'i ble
 un col'ored un'com bined'
 un come'ly
 un com'fort ed un'com pan'ion a ble un'com plain'ing un'com plai'sant

un'com plet'ed un'com pli men'ta ry un'com pound'ed un'com pre hend'ing un'com pro'mised un'com cealed'
 un'con cert'ed

un con form i ty (un'kən fôr'mə tē), lack of agreement; being inconsistent. n., pl. un con form i ties.
un con nect ed (un'kə nek'tid), separated; disconnected. adj.
un con quer a ble (un kong'kər ə bl), that cannot be conquered. adj. —un con'quer a bly, adv.
un con scion a ble (un kon'shən ə bl), 1. not influenced or guided by conscience: an unconscionable liar. 2. unreasonable; very great: wait an unconscionable time for someone. adj. —un con'scion a bly, adv.
un con scious (un kon'shəs), 1. not conscious. 2. not aware. 3. not meant; not intended: unconscious neglect. adj. —un con'scious ly, adv.
the unconscious, one's unconscious thoughts, desires, fears, etc.
un con scious ness (un kon'shəs nis), unconscious condition; lack of consciousness; insensibility. n.
un con sti tu tion al (un'kon stə tū'shən l or un'kon stə tū'shən l), contrary to the constitution. adj. —un'con sti tu'tion al ly, adv.
un con sti tu tion al i ty (un'kon stə tū'shən al'ə tē or un'kon stə tū'shən al'ə tē), being contrary to the constitution. n.
un con trolled (un'kən trōld'), not controlled; not restrained. adj.
un con ven tion al (un'kən ven'shən l), not bound by or conforming to convention, rule, or precedent; free from conventionality. adj. —un'con ven'tion al ly, adv.
un con ven tion al i ty (un'kən ven'shən al'ə tē), being unconventional; freedom from conventional restraints. n.
un cork (un kôrk'), pull the cork from. v.
un count ed (un koun'tid), 1. not counted; not reckoned. 2. very many; innumerable. adj.
un cou ple (un kup'l), disconnect; unfasten: They uncoupled two freight cars. v., un cou pled, un cou pling.
un cour te ous (un kër'tē əs), discourteous; impolite; rude. adj.
un couth (un kûth'), 1. awkward; clumsy; crude: uncouth manners. 2. unusual and unpleasant; strange: The poor idiot made uncouth noises. adj. —un couth'ness, n.
un cov er (un kuv'ər), 1. remove the cover from. 2. make known; reveal; expose. 3. remove the hat, cap, etc., of. 4. remove one's hat or cap in respect. v.
un crown (un kroun'), take the crown from; lower from high rank. v.
un crowned (un kround'), 1. not crowned; not having yet assumed the crown. 2. having royal power without being king, queen, etc. adj.
unc tion (ungk'shən), 1. an anointing with oil, ointment, or the like, for medical purposes or as a religious rite: The priest gave the dying man extreme unction. 2. the oil, ointment, or the like, used for anointing. 3. something soothing or comforting: the unction of flattery. 4. a soothing, sympathetic, and persuasive quality in speaking. 5. fervor; earnestness. 6. affected earnestness. n.
unc tu ous (ungk'chū əs), 1. like an oil or ointment; oily; greasy. 2. soothing, sympathetic, and persuasive. 3. too smooth and oily: the salesman's unctuous manner. adj. —unc'tu ous ly, adv. —unc'tu ous ness, n.

un cul ti vat ed (un kul'tə vāt'id), not cultivated; wild; undeveloped. adj.
un curl (un kèrl'), straighten out. v.
un daunt ed (un dôn'tid), not afraid; not discouraged; fearless: an undaunted leader. adj. —un daunt'ed ly, adv. —un daunt'ed ness, n.
un de ceive (un'di sēv'), free from error, mistake, or deception. v., un de ceived, un de ceiv ing.
un de cid ed (un'di sīd'id), 1. not decided or settled. 2. not having one's mind made up. adj. —un'de cid'ed ly, adv. —un'de cid'ed ness, n.
un de filed (un'di fīld'), pure; not defiled. adj.
un de fined (un'di find'), 1. not defined or explained. 2. indefinite. adj.
un de ni a ble (un'di nī'ə bl), 1. not to be denied. 2. unquestionably good; excellent. adj.
un de ni a bly (un'di nī'ə blē), beyond denial or dispute; certainly. adv.
un der (un'dər), 1. below; beneath: The book fell under the table (prep.). The swimmer went under (adv.). 2. below the surface of: under the ground. 3. in or to a lower place or condition. 4. lower in position, rank, degree, amount, price, etc.: the under lip. 5. lower than; lower down than; not so high as: hit under the belt. 6. less than: It will cost under ten dollars. 7. during the time, time, influence, etc., of: England under the four Georges. 8. in the position or condition of being affected by: under the new rules. 9. because of: under the circumstances. 10. according to: under the law. 11. represented by: under a new name. 12. required or bound by: under obligation. 1,2,5-12 prep., 1,3 adv., 4 adj.
under-, prefix meaning:
 1. on the underside; to a lower position; from a lower position; below; beneath, as in underline.
 2. being beneath; worn beneath, as in underclothes.
 3. lower, as in underlip.
 4. lower in rank; subordinate, as in undersheriff.
 5. not enough; insufficiently, as in underfed.
 6. below normal, as in undersized.
un der age (un'dər āj'), not of full age; of less than the usual age. adj.
un der bid (un'dər bīd'), make a lower bid than, as in seeking a contract to be awarded to the lowest bidder. v., un der bid, un der bid ding. —un'der bid'der, n.
un der bred (un'dər bred'), 1. of inferior breeding or manners; vulgar. 2. of a horse, dog, etc., not of pure breed. adj.
un der brush (un'dər brush'), bushes, small trees, etc., growing under large trees in woods or forests. n.
un der car riage (un'dər kar'ij), 1. the supporting framework of an automobile, carriage, etc. 2. the under part of an airplane that supports it on the ground or water. n.
un der charge (un'dər chārj' for 1, 3, 4; un'dər chārj' for 2, 5), 1. put an insufficient charge or load into. 2. an insufficient charge or load. 3. charge (persons) less than the proper or fair price. 4. charge (so much)

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un'con fined'	un'con trol'la ble	un court'ly	un dat'ed	un'de feat'ed un'con firmed'	un'con vert'ed	un'cre at'ed	un daugh'ter ly	un'de fend'ed un'con gen'ial	un'con vined'	un crit'i cal	un daz'zled	un'de fen'si ble un'con quered	un'con vinc'ing	un crowd'ed	un'de bat'a ble	un'de fin'a ble un'con'se crat'ed	un cooked'	un cul'tured	un'de cayed'	un'de layed' un'con sid'ered	un'co ör'di nat'ed	un curbed'	un'de ceived'	un'de liv'er a ble un'con soled'	un cor'dial	un cured'	un'de ci'phered	un'de liv'ered un'con strained'	un corked'	un curled'	un'de ci'phered	un'dem o crat'ic un'con sumed'	un'cor rect'ed	un cur'rent	un'de clared'	un'de mon'stra ble un'con tam'p nat'ed	un'cor rob'o rat'ed	un cur'tained	un'de clin'a ble	un'de mon'stra tive un'con test'ed	un'cor rupt'ed	un cut'	un'de clined'	un'de nied' un'con tra dict'a ble	un count'a ble	un dam'aged	un'de co'o rat'ed	un'de pend'a ble un'con tra dict'ed	un court'li ness	un damped'	un'de feat'a ble	un'de pre'ci at'ed hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

less than a proper price. 5. a charge or price less than is proper or fair. 1,3,4 v., un der charged, un der-charg ing; 2,5 n.

un der class man (un'dər klas'mən), U.S. freshman or sophomore. n., pl. un der class men.

un der clothes (un'dər klōz' or un'dər klōthz'), clothes worn under a suit or dress. n.pl.

un der cloth ing (un'dər klōth'ing), underclothes. n.

un der cov er (un'dər kuv'ər), working or done in secret: The jeweler was an undercover man for the police. adj.

un der cur rent (un'dər kər'ənt), 1. current below the upper currents, or below the surface, of a body of water, air, etc. 2. an underlying tendency: There was an undercurrent of melancholy beneath Lincoln's jokes. n.

un der cut (un'dər kut' for 1,6,7; un'dər kut' for 2-5), 1. cut under or beneath; cut away material from so as to leave a portion overhanging. 2. cut away underneath. 3. a cut, or a cutting away, underneath. 4. a notch cut in a tree to determine the direction in which the tree is to fall and to prevent splitting. 5. the tenderloin or fillet of beef. 6. sell or work for less than (some other person). 7. hit (a golf ball) so that it rises high and comes to rest without rolling far. 1,6,7 v., un der-cut, un der cut ting; 2 adj., 3-5 n.

un der dog (un'dər dōg'), 1. dog having the worst of a fight. 2. person having the worst of any struggle. n.

un der done (un'dər dun' or un'dər dun'), not cooked enough; cooked very little. adj.

un der es ti mate (un'dər es'tə māt for 1; un'dər es'tə mit or un'dər es'tə māt for 2), 1. estimate at too low a value, amount, rate, or the like. 2. an estimate that is too low. 1 v., un der es ti mat ed, un der es ti-mat ing; 2 n.

un der ex pose (un'dər eks pōz'), in photography, expose to light for too short a time. v., un der ex posed, un der ex pos ing.

un der ex po sure (un'dər eks pō'zhər), exposure to the light for too short a time. Underexposure makes a photograph look dim. n.

un der feed (un'dər fēd'), feed too little. v., un der-fed, un der feed ing.

un der foot (un'dər fūt'), 1. under one's foot or feet; on the ground; underneath. 2. U.S. in the way. adv.

un der gar ment (un'dər gār'mənt), garment worn under a dress or suit. n.

un der go (un'dər gō'), 1. go through; pass through; be subjected to: The town has undergone a great change during the last five years. 2. endure; suffer: Soldiers undergo many hardships. v., un der went, un der gone, un der go ing.

un der gone (un'dər gōn'), pp. of undergo. v.

un der grad u ate (un'dər graj'ū it), 1. a student in a school, college, or university who has not received a degree for a course of study. 2. of, for, or having to do with undergraduates. 1 n., 2 adj.

un der ground (un'dər ground' for 1,5; un'dər-ground' for 2-4,6-8), 1. beneath the surface of the ground. 2. being, working, or used beneath the surface of the ground. 3. place or space beneath the surface of the ground. 4. Esp. Brit. an underground railroad; subway. 5. in or into secrecy or concealment. 6. secret. 7. resisting (tyrannical government, etc.) secretly. 8. a secret organization, or grouping of such organizations, working to free a country from foreign domination or an autocratic regime. 1,5 adv., 2,6,7 adj., 3,4,8 n.

underground railroad, 1. railroad running below the surface of the earth. 2. U.S. a secret method of assisting the escape of fugitives.

un der growth (un'dər grōth'), 1. underbrush. 2. short fine hair under longer outer hair. n.

un der hand (un'dər hand'), 1. not open or honest; secret; sly. 2. secretly; slyly. 3. with the hand below the shoulder: pitch underhand. 1,3 adj., 2,3 adv.

un der hand ed (un'dər han'did), underhand; secret; sly; not open or honest. adj. —un der hand'ed ly, adv. —un der hand'ed ness, n.

un der hung (un'dər hung'), 1. resting on a track beneath, instead of being hung from above: underhung sliding doors. 2. projecting beyond the upper jaw: A bulldog has an underhung jaw. 3. having the under jaw so projecting. adj.

un der lay (un'dər lā' for 1,2; un'dər lā' for 3), 1. lay (one thing) under another. 2. provide with something laid underneath; raise or support with something laid underneath. 3. something laid beneath. 1,2 v., un der laid, un der lay ing; 3 n.

un der lie (un'dər lī'), 1. lie under; be beneath. 2. be at the basis of; form the foundation of. v., un der lay, un der lain, un der ly ing.

un der line (un'dər līn' or un'dər līn'), draw a line or lines under: In writing, we underline titles of books. v., un der lined, un der lin ing.

un der ling (un'dər līng), usually disparagingly, a person of lower rank or position; inferior. n.

un der ly ing (un'dər lī'ing), 1. lying under or beneath. 2. fundamental; basic; essential. 3. ppr. of underlie. 1,2 adj., 3 v.

un der mine (un'dər mīn' or un'dər mīn'), 1. make a passage or hole under; dig under: The soldiers undermined the wall. 2. wear away the foundations of: The cliff was undermined by the waves. 3. weaken by secret or unfair means: undermine a man's reputation by scandal. 4. weaken or destroy gradually: Many severe colds had undermined her health. v., un der mined, un der min ing. —un der min'er, n.

un der most (un'dər mōst), lowest. adj., adv.

un der neath (un'dər nēth'), 1. beneath; below: sit underneath a tree, a cellar underneath a house. 2. beneath or below something: Someone was pushing underneath. 3. lower. 4. the lower part or surface. 1 prep., 2 adv., 3 adj., 4 n.

un der nour ished (un'dər nēr'isht), not sufficiently nourished. adj.

un der nour ish ment (un'dər nēr'ish mēnt), not having enough food; lack of nourishment. n.

un der pass (un'dər pas'), path underneath; road under railroad tracks or under another road. n.

un der pay (un'dər pā'), pay too little. v., un der paid, un der pay ing.

un der pin (un'dər pin'), 1. support with props, stones, masonry, etc. 2. support; prop. v., un der pinned, un der pin ning.

un der pin ning (un'dər pin'ing), 1. the supports under a building. 2. a new foundation beneath a wall. 3. a support. n.

un der priv i leged (un'dər priv'ə-lījd), having fewer advantages than most people have, especially because of poor economic or social status. adj.

un der pro duc tion (un'dər prə-duk'shən), production that is less than normal or less than there is demand for. n.

un der rate (un'dər rāt'), rate or estimate too low; put too low a value on. v., un der rat ed, un der rat ing.

un der score (un'dər skōr' for 1; un'dər skōr for 2), 1. underline. 2. an underscored line. 1 v., un der-scored, un der scor ing; 2 n.

un der sea (un'dər sē' for 1; un'dər sē' for 2), 1. being, working, or used beneath the surface of the sea: an undersea boat. 2. underseas. 1 adj., 2 adv.

un der seas (un'dər sēz'), beneath the surface of the sea: Submarines go underseas. adv.

un der sec re tar y (un'dər sek'rə ter'ē), an assistant secretary, especially of a government department. n., pl. un der sec re tar ies.

un der sell (un'dər səl'), sell things at a lower price than: This store can undersell other stores because it sells for cash. v., un der sold, un der sell ing.

Underpinning
(def. 1)

un der shirt (un'dər shərt'), shirt worn next to the skin under other clothing. n.

un der shot (un'dər shot'), 1. having the lower jaw projecting beyond the upper. 2. driven by water passing beneath: an undershot water wheel. adj.

un der side (un'dər sid'), surface lying underneath; the bottom side. n.

un der sign (un'dər sɪn' or un'dər-sin'), sign one's name at the end of (a letter or document). v.

un der signed (un'dər sɪnd'), signed, or having signed at the end of a letter or document. adj.

the undersigned, the person or persons signing a letter or document.

un der sized (un'dər sizd'), smaller than the usual size. adj.

un der slung (un'dər slung' or un'dər slung'), of vehicles, having the frame suspended below the axles. adj.

un der stand (un'dər stand'), 1. get the meaning of: Now I understand the teacher's words. 2. get the meaning: People often listen but do not understand. 3. know how to deal with; know well; know: A good teacher should understand children. 4. be informed; learn: I understand that he is leaving town. 5. take as a fact; believe: It is understood that you will come. 6. take as meaning; take as meant: What are we to understand from his words? 7. supply in the mind. In "He hit the tree harder than I," the word did is understood after I. v., un der-stood, un der stand ing.

un der stand a ble (un'dər stan'də bl), able to be understood. adj. —un'der stand'a bly, adv.

un der stand ing (un'dər stan'ding), 1. act of one that understands; comprehension; knowledge: a clear understanding of the problem. 2. ability to learn and know; intelligence: Edison was a man of understanding. 3. that understands; intelligent: an understanding reply. 4. knowledge of each other's meaning and wishes: You and I must come to an understanding. 1,2,4 n., 3 adj. —un'der stand'ing ly, adv.

un der state (un'dər stāt'), 1. state too weakly. 2. say less than the full truth about. v., un der stat ed, un der stat ing.

un der state ment (un'dər stāt'mənt), 1. statement that expresses a fact too weakly. 2. statement that says less than could be said truly. n.

un der stood (un'dər stüd'), pt. and pp. of un der stand. Have all of you understood today's lesson? v.

un der stud y (un'dər stüd'ē), 1. person who can act as a substitute for an actor or actress. 2. learn (a part) in order to replace the regular performer when necessary. 1 n., pl. un der stud ies; 2 v., un der stud ied, un der-stud y ing.

un der take (un'dər tāk'), 1. set about; try; attempt. 2. agree to do; take upon oneself: Kate undertook the feeding of my dogs. 3. promise; guarantee. v., un der took, un der tak en, un der tak ing.

un der tak er (un'dər tāk'ər or 1; un'dər tāk'ər for 2), 1. person whose business is preparing the dead for burial and taking charge of funerals. 2. person who undertakes something. n.

un der tak ing (un'dər tāk'ing for 1, 2; un'dər tak'-ing for 3), 1. something undertaken; task; enterprise. 2. promise; guarantee. 3. business of preparing the dead for burial and taking charge of funerals. n.

Undershot wheel

un der tone (un'dər tōn'), 1. a low or very quiet tone: talk in undertones. 2. a subdued color; color seen through other colors: There was an undertone of brown beneath all the gold and crimson of autumn. 3. an underlying quality, condition, or element: an undertone of sadness in her gaiety. n.

un der took (un'dər tūk'), pt. of undertake. He undertook more than he could do. v.

un der tow (un'dər tō'), 1. any strong current below the surface, moving in a direction different from that of the surface current. 2. the backward flow from waves breaking on a beach. n.

un der val u a tion (un'dər val'yū ā'shən), too low a valuation. n.

un der val ue (un'dər val'ū), put too low a value on. v., un der val ued, un der val u ing.

un der waist (un'dər wāst'), waist worn under another waist. n.

un der wa ter (un'dər wō'tər), 1. below the surface of the water. 2. made for use under the water: A submarine is an underwater ship. adj.

un der wear (un'dər wār'), clothing worn under one's outer clothes. n.

un der weight (un'dər wāt'), 1. having too little weight. 2. weight that is not up to standard. 1 adj., 2 n.

un der went (un'dər went'), pt. of undergo. v.

un der wood (un'dər wūd'), underbrush. n.

un der world (un'dər wērld'), 1. the lower, degraded, or criminal part of human society. 2. the lower world; Hades. 3. the earth. 4. the opposite side of the earth. n.

un der write (un'dər rit' or un'dər rit'), 1. insure (property) against loss. 2. sign (an insurance policy), thereby accepting the risk of insuring something against loss. 3. write under (other written matter); sign one's name to (a document, etc.). 4. agree to buy (all the stocks or bonds of a certain issue that are not bought by the public): The bankers underwrote the steel company's bonds. 5. agree to meet the expense of. v., un der-wrote, un der writ ten, un der writ ing.

un der writ ten (un'dər rit'n or un'dər rit'n), pp. of underwrite. v.

un der wrote (un'dər rōt' or un'dər rōt'), pt. of underwrite. v.

un de sir a ble (un'di zīr'ə bl), 1. objectionable; disagreeable. 2. an undesirable person or thing. 1 adj., 2 n.

un de vel oped (un'di vel'əpt), 1. not fully grown. 2. not put to full use. adj.

un did (un did'), pt. of undo. v.

un dis ci plined (un'dis'ə plind), not disciplined; without proper control; untrained. adj.

un dis guised (un'dis'gīzd'), 1. not disguised. 2. unconcealed; open; plain; frank. adj.

un dis mayed (un'dis'mād'), not dismayed. adj.

un dis put ed (un'dis pūt'id), not disputed; not doubted. adj.

un dis tin guish a ble (un'dis tīng'gwish ə bl), that cannot be distinguished. adj.

un dis tin guished (un'dis tīng'gwisht), not distinguished; commonplace. adj.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un'de served'
un'de serv'ing un'des'ig nat'ed un'de sign'ing un'de sired'
un'de spair'ing un'de stroyed'

un'de tach'a ble
un'de tect'ed un'de ter'mined un'de terred'
un'de'vi at'ing
un'de vout'
un'dif fer en'ti at'ed

un'di gest'ed un'dig'ni fied un'di lut'ed un'di min'ished un'dimmed'
un'dip lo mat'ic un'dis cern'i ble

un'dis cern'ing un'dis charged'
un'dis closed' un'dis cour'aged
un'dis cov'ered
un'dis crim'i nat'ing un'dis heart'ened

un'dis so'ci at'ed un'dis solved'
un'dis tin'guish ing un'dis tort'ed un'dis tract'ed un'dis trib'ut ed
un'di ver'si fied

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rülle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; th, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

un dis turbed (un'dis tərb'd'), not disturbed; not troubled; calm. adj.
un di vid ed (un'də vīd'id), not divided; not shared; not distributed. adj.
un do (un dū'), 1. unfasten; untie: "Please undo the package," she said; and I undid the string. 2. do away with; cause to be as if never done; spoil; destroy. 3. bring to ruin. 4. explain; solve. v., un did, un done, un do ing. —un do'er, n.
un do ing (un dū'ing), 1. a doing away with; spoiling; destroying. 2. cause of destruction or ruin: Drink was this man's undoing. n.
un done (un dun'), 1. not done; not finished. 2. ruined. 3. pp. of undo. 1,2 adj., 3 v.
un doubt ed (un daut'id), not doubted; accepted as true. adj.
un doubt ed ly (un daut'id lē), beyond doubt; certainly. adv.
un draw (un drō'), draw back or away: She undrew the curtain. v., un drew, un drawn, un draw ing.
un dress (un dres' for 1,5-7; un'dres' or un dres' for 2,3; un'dres' for 4), 1. take the clothes off; strip. 2. loose, informal dress. 3. ordinary clothes. 4. of or having to do with informal or ordinary clothes. 5. strip of ornament. 6. take dressing from (a wound). 7. take off one's clothes. 8. lack of clothing; nakedness. 1,5-7 v., 2,3,8 n., 4 adj.
un due (un dū' or un dū'), 1. not fitting; not right; improper. 2. too great; too much. adj.
un du lant (un'jə lənt), waving; wavy. adj.
un du late (un'jə lāt for 1-4; un'jə lit or un'jə lāt for 5), 1. move in waves: undulating water. 2. have a wavy form or surface: undulating hair. 3. cause to move in waves. 4. give a wavy form or surface to. 5. wavy. 1-4 v., un du lat ed, un du lat ing; 5 adj.
un du la tion (un'jə lā'shən), 1. a waving motion. 2. wavy form. 3. one of a series of wavelike bends, curves, swellings, etc. 4. a sound wave. 5. vibration. n.
un du la to ry (un'jə lə tō'rē), undulating; wavy. adj.
un du ly (un dū'lē or un dū'lē), 1. improperly. 2. excessively. adv.
un dy ing (un dī'ing), deathless; immortal; eternal. adj. —un dy'ing ly, adv.
un earned (un ərnd'), 1. not earned; not gained by labor or service. 2. not deserved. adj.
un earth (un ərth'), 1. dig up: unearth a buried city. 2. find out; discover: unearth a plot. v.
un earth ly (un ərth'lē), 1. not of this world; supernatural. 2. strange; weird; ghostly. 3. Informal. unnatural; extraordinary; preposterous. adj. —un-earth'li ness, n.
un eas y (un ēz'ē), 1. restless; disturbed; anxious. 2. not comfortable. 3. not easy in manner; awkward. adj., un eas i er, un eas i est. —un eas'ily, adv. —un-eas'i ness, n.
un ed u cat ed (un ej'ə kāt'id), not educated; not taught or trained. adj.
un em ploy a ble (un'em ploi'ə bl), that cannot be employed. adj.
un em ploy ed (un'em ploid'), not employed; not in use; having no work. adj.
un em ploy ment (un'em ploi'mənt), lack of employment; being out of work. n.

un e qual (un ē'kwəl), 1. not the same in amount, size, number, value, merit, rank, etc. 2. not balanced; not well matched. 3. not fair; one-sided: an unequal contest. 4. not enough; not adequate: strength unequal to the task. 5. not regular; not even; variable. adj. —un e'qual ly, adv. —un e'qual ness, n.
un e qualed or un e qualled (un ē'kwəld), not equaled; matchless. adj.
un e quiv o cal (un'i kwiv'ə kl), clear; plain. adj. —un e quiv'o cal ly, adv. —un e quiv'o cal ness, n.
un err ing (un ər'ing or un er'ing), making no mistakes; exactly right. adj. —un err'ing ly, adv. —un-err'ing ness, n.
U NES CO, U nes co, or U.N.E.S.C.O. (ū nes'kō), the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization, an independent organization related to and recognized by the United Nations as one of its specialized agencies. n. un es sen tial (un'ə sen'shəl), 1. not essential; not of prime importance. 2. something not essential. 1 adj., 2 n.
un e ven (un ē'vən), 1. not level: uneven ground. 2. not equal: an uneven contest. 3. of a number, that cannot be divided by 2 without a remainder: 27 and 9 are uneven numbers. adj. —un e'ven ly, adv. —un e'-ven ness, n.
un e vent ful (un'i vent'fəl), without important or striking occurrences. adj. —un e vent'ful ly, adv.
un ex am pled (un'eg zam'pld), having no equal or like; without precedent or parallel; without anything like it: This man's run of 100 yards in 9 seconds is unexampled. adj.
un ex cep tion a ble (un'ek sep'shən ə bl), beyond criticism; wholly admirable. adj.
un ex cep tion al (un'ek sep'shən l), 1. ordinary. 2. admitting of no exception. adj.
un ex pect ed (un'eks pek'tid), not expected: He made an unexpected visit to the city. adj. —un'ex-pect'ed ness, n.
un ex pect ed ly (un'eks pek'tid lē), in a way that is not expected; suddenly. adv.
un ex pe ri enced (un'eks pir'ē ənst), without experience or practice. adj.
un fail ing (un fāl'ing), 1. never failing; tireless; loyal. 2. never running short; endless. 3. sure; certain. adj.
un fail ing ly (un fāl'ing lē), always; without fail. adv.
un fair (un fār'), not honest; unjust. adj. —un-fair'ly, adv. —un fair'ness, n.
un faith ful (un fath'fəl), 1. not faithful; not true to duty or one's promises; faithless. 2. not accurate; not exact. adj. —un faith'ful ly, adv. —un faith'ful-ness, n.
un fal ter ing (un fōl'tər ing), firm; steadfast; not hesitating. adj.
un fa mil iar (un'fə mil'yər), 1. not well known; unusual; strange: That face is unfamiliar to me. 2. not acquainted: He is unfamiliar with the Greek language. adj.
un fa mil i ar i ty (un'fə mil'ē ar'ə tē), lack of familiarity. n.
un fas ten (un fas'n), undo; loose; open. v.
un fath om a ble (un fath'əm ə bl), so deep that the bottom cannot be reached; too mysterious to be understood. adj.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un'do mes'tic
un'do mes'ti cat'ed
un dou'bled
un doubt'ing un drained' un'dra mat'ic
un draped'
un dreamed'
un dreamt'
un dressed'
un drilled'
un du'ti ful
un dyed'

un eat'a ble
un eat'en un'e clipped'
un'e co nom'ic
un'e co nom'i cal
un ed'i fy'ing un'ef faced'
un'e lim'i nat'ed
un'em bar'assed un'em bel'lished un'e mo'tion al
un'em phat'ic un'en closed'

un'en cour'aged un'en cum'bered un'en dan'gered
un end'ing un'en dored'
un'en dur'a ble
un'en dur'ing un'en force'a ble un'en forced'
un'en gaged'
un'en joy'a ble
un'en light'ened un'en ter'pris'ing

un'en ter tain'ing un'en thu'si as'tic un'en vi'a ble
un'en vi'd un'en vi ous un'e quipped'
un es'ti mat'ed
un eth'i cal
un'ex ag'ger at'ed un'ex cel'led'
un'ex cit'ing
un'ex ce'ut'ed un'exhaust'ed

un'ex pend'ed un'ex pired'
un'ex plained'
un'ex plod'ed un'ex plored' un'ex pressed'
un'ex pres'sive
un'ex'pur gat'ed un'ex tin'guished
un fad'ed
un fad'ing
un fash'ion a ble
un fas'tened

un fath omed (un fə'thə'mɛd), not measured; not understood. adj.
un fa vor a ble (un fə'vər ə bl), not favorable; adverse; harmful. adj. —un fa'vor a ble ness, n. —un fa'vor a bly, adv.
un feel ing (un fēl'ing), 1. hard-hearted; cruel. 2. not able to feel. adj. —un feel'ing ly, adv. —un feel'ing-ness, n.
un feigned (un fānd'), sincere; real; unaffected; genuine. adj.
un feign ed ly (un fān'id lē), really; sincerely. adv.
un fet ter (un fet'ər), remove fetters from; unchain. v.
un fin ished (un fin'isht), 1. not finished; not complete. 2. without some special finish; not polished; rough. adj.
un fit (un fit'), 1. not fit, not suitable. 2. not good enough; unqualified. 3. not adapted. 4. make unfit; spoil. 1-3 adj., 4 v., un fit ted, un fit ting. —un fit-ness, n.
un fix (un fiks'), loosen; detach; unfasten. v.
un flag ging (un flag'ing), not drooping or failing; unflagging efforts. adj. —un flag'ging ly, adv.
un fledged (un flejd'), 1. of a bird, too young to fly; not having full-grown feathers. 2. undeveloped; immature. adj.
un flinch ing (un flin'ching), not drawing back from difficulty, danger, or pain; firm; resolute. adj. —un flinch'ing ly, adv.
un fold (un fōld'), 1. open the folds of; spread out: unfold a napkin, unfold your arms. 2. reveal; show; explain. 3. open; develop. v.
un forced (un fōrst'), 1. not forced; not compelled; willing. 2. natural; spontaneous. adj.
un fore seen (un'fōr sēn'), not known beforehand; unexpected. adj.
un for get ta ble (un'fər get'ə bl), that can never be forgotten. adj. —un'for get'ta bly, adv.
un formed (un fōrmd'), 1. shapeless. 2. undeveloped. adj.
un for tu nate (un fōr'chə nit), 1. not lucky; having bad luck. 2. not suitable; not fitting. 3. an unfortunate person. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —un for'tu nate ly, adv. —un for'tu nate ness, n.
un found ed (un foun'did), without foundation; baseless: an unfounded complaint. adj.
un fre quent ed (un'fri kwen'tid), not frequented; seldom visited; rarely used. adj.
un friend ed (un fren'did), without friends. adj.
un friend ly (un frend'lē), 1. not friendly; hostile. 2. not favorable. adj. —un friend'li ness, n.
un frock (un frok'), 1. take away a frock from. 2. deprive (a priest or minister) of his office. v.
un fruit ful (un früt'fəl), not fruitful; barren; not productive. adj.
un furl (un fēr'l), spread out; shake out; unfold: unfurl a sail. v.
un fur nished (un fēr'nisht), not furnished; without furniture. adj.
un gain ly (un gān'lē), awkward; clumsy. adj. —un gain'li ness, n.

un gen er ous (un jen'ər əs), not generous; mean. adj. —un gen'er ous ly, adv.
un god li ness (un god'lē nis), lack of godliness; wickedness; sinfulness. n.
un god ly (un god'lē), 1. not religious; wicked; sinful. 2. Informal. very annoying; shocking. adj.
un gov ern a ble (un guv'ər nə bl), impossible to control; very hard to control or rule; unruly. adj. —un gov'ern a ble ness, n. —un gov'ern a bly, adv.
un grace ful (un grās'fəl), not graceful; not elegant or beautiful; clumsy; awkward. adj. —un grace'ful ly, adv. —un grace'ful ness, n.
un gra cious (un grā'shəs), 1. not polite; rude. 2. unpleasant; disagreeable. adj. —un gra'cious ly, adv. —un gra'cious ness, n.
un grate ful (un grāt'fəl), 1. not grateful; not thankful. 2. unpleasant; disagreeable. adj. —un grate'ful ly, adv. —un grate'ful ness, n.
un ground ed (un groun'did), without foundation; without reasons. adj.
un grudg ing (un gruj'ing), willing; hearty; liberal. adj. —un grudg'ing ly, adv.
un gual (ung'gwəl), of, having to do with, bearing, or shaped like a nail, claw, or hoof. adj.
un guard ed (un gār'did), 1. not protected. 2. careless. adj. —un guard'ed ly, adv. —un guard'ed-ness, n.
un guent (ung'gwənt), ointment for sores, burns, etc.; salve. n.
un gu late (ung'gyə lit or ung'gyə lāt), 1. having hoofs; belonging to the group of animals having hoofs. 2. animal that has hoofs. Horses, cows, sheep, and deer are ungulates. 1 adj., 2 n.
un hal lowed (un hal'ōd), 1. not made holy; not sacred. 2. wicked. adj.
un hand (un hand'), let go; take the hands from. v.
un hand y (un han'dē), 1. not easy to handle. 2. not skillful. adj. —un hand'i ly, adv. —un hand'i ness, n.
un hap pi ly (un hap'ə lē), 1. not happily. 2. unfortunately. 3. unsuitably. adv.
un hap pi ness (un hap'ē nis), 1. sadness; sorrow; being unhappy. 2. bad luck; ill fortune. n.
un hap py (un hap'ē), 1. sad; sorrowful. 2. unlucky. 3. not suitable. adj., un hap pi er, un hap pi est.
un har ness (un hār'nis), 1. take harness off from (a horse, etc.); free from harness or gear. 2. remove harness or gear. 3. divest of armor. v.
un health ful (un helth'fəl), bad for the health. adj. —un health'ful ly, adv. —un health'ful ness, n.
un health i ness (un hel'thē nis), 1. lack of health; sickness. 2. condition causing disease or harmful to health. n.
un health y (un hel'thē), 1. not possessing good health; not well: an unhealthy child. 2. characteristic of or resulting from poor health: an unhealthy paleness. 3. hurtful to health; unwholesome: an unhealthy climate. 4. morally harmful. adj.
un heard (un hērd'), 1. not perceived by the ear: unheard melodies. 2. not given a hearing: condemn a person unheard. 3. not heard of; unknown. adj.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un fea'si ble	un filled'	un'for got'ten	un gen'tle man ly	un hand'some un feath'ered	un fil'tered	un'for mu lat'ed	un gift'ed	un hanged' un fed'	un fit'ting	un'for ti fied	un glazed'	un har'assed un fed'er at'ed	un fixed'	un framed'	un gloved'	un hard'ened un felt'	un flat'ter ing	un free'	un gov'erned	un harmed' un fem'i nine	un fla'tored	un fre'quent	un grad'ed	un'har mo'ni ous un fen'ced'	un'fore see'a ble	un'ful filled'	un gram mat'i cal	un har'nessed un fer ment'ed	un for'est ed	un gained'	un guar'i fied	un hatched' un fer'ti lized	un'for get'ting	un gal'lant	un'guar an teed'	un healed' un fet'tered	un'for giv'a ble	un gar'nished	un guid'ed un filed'	un'for giv'en	un gath'ered	un ham'pered un fil'i al	un'for giv'ing	un gen'tle	un hand'i capped hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, ĭce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʔh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

un heard-of (un hêrd'ov' or un hêrd'uv'), 1. that was never heard of; unknown: Electric stoves were unheared-of 100 years ago. 2. such as was never known before; unprecedented: The rude little girl spoke to her mother with unheared-of impudence. adj.

un heed ed (un hêd'id), not heeded; disregarded; unnoticed. adj.

un hes i tat ing (un hez'ə tāt'ing), prompt; ready. adj. —un hes i tat'ing ly, adv.

un hinge (un hinj'), 1. take (a door, etc.) off its hinges. 2. remove the hinges from. 3. separate from something; detach. 4. unsettle; disorganize; upset: Trouble has unhinged this poor man's mind. v., un-hinged, un hing ing.

un hitch (un hich'), free from being hitched; unfasten. v.

un ho ly (un hō'lē), 1. not holy; wicked; sinful. 2. Informal. not seemly; fearful; dreadful: to charge an unholy price. adj., un ho li er, un ho li est. —un ho'li ness, n.

un hon ored (un on'ərd), not regarded with respect or reverence; not famed or renowned; not given marks of esteem. adj.

un hook (un hūk'), 1. loosen from a hook. 2. undo by loosening a hook or hooks. 3. become loosed from hooks; become undone. v.

un horse (un hōrs'), throw from a horse's back; cause to fall from a horse. v., un horsed, un hors ing.

un hurt (un hêrt'), not hurt; not harmed. adj.

un hy gi en ic (un'hī jē en'ik or un'hī jē'n'ik), not healthful; unsanitary. adj.

uni-, word element meaning: one; having, or made of, only one: Unicellular = having only one cell.

u ni cam er al (ū'nə kam'ər əl), having only one house in a lawmaking body. Nebraska has a unicameral legislature. adj.

U NI CEF (ū'nə sef), United Nations Children's Fund. n.

u ni cel lu lar (ū'nə sel'ye lər), having one cell only. The amoeba is a unicellular animal. adj.

u ni corn (ū'nə kōrn), 1. an imaginary animal like a horse, but having a single long horn in the middle of its forehead. 2. mis-translation of a Hebrew word in the Bible referring to a two-horned animal, probably the wild ox. n.

u ni fi ca tion (ū'nə fə kā'shən), 1. formation into one unit; union: the unification of many states into one nation. 2. a making or being made more alike: The traffic laws of the different States need unification. n.

u ni flo rous (ū'nə flō'rəs), having or bearing one flower only. adj.

u ni form (ū'nə fōrm), 1. always the same; not changing: The earth turns around at a uniform rate. 2. all alike; not varying: All the bricks have a uniform size. 3. regular; even: a uniform pace. 4. the distinctive clothes worn by the members of a group when on duty, by which they may be recognized as belonging to that group. Soldiers, policemen, and nurses wear uniforms. 5. clothe or furnish with a uniform. 1-3 adj., 4 n., 5 v. —u'ni form'ness, n.

u ni form i ty (ū'nə fōr'mə tē), uniform condition or character; sameness throughout. n., pl. u ni form i ties.

Unicorn (def. 1)

u ni form ly (ū'nə fōrm'lē), always; regularly; without variation. adv.

u ni fy (ū'nə fī), make or form into one; unite. v., u ni fied, u ni fy ing. —u'ni fī'er, n.

u ni lat er al (ū'nə lat'ər əl), 1. of, on, or affecting one side only. 2. having all the parts arranged on one side of an axis; turned to one side; one-sided. 3. concerned with or considering only one side of a matter. 4. of a contract, etc., affecting one party or person only; done by one side only; putting obligation on one party only. adj. —u'ni lat'ər al ly, adv.

u ni mag i na ble (un'i maj'ə nə bl), that cannot be imagined or thought of. adj.

u ni mag i na tive (un'i maj'ə nā'tiv), 1. showing little or no imagination. 2. not able to imagine well. adj.

un im peach a ble (un'im pēch'ə bl), free from fault; blameless. adj. —un'im peach'a bly, adv.

un im por tance (un'im pōrt'ns), unimportant nature or quality. n.

un im por tant (un'im pōrt'nt), not important; insignificant; trifling. adj.

un in hab it ed (un'in hab'ə tid), not lived in; without inhabitants. adj.

un in jured (un in'jərd), not hurt; not damaged. adj.

un in spired (un in spīrd'), 1. not inspired. 2. dull; tiresome. adj.

un in tel li gi ble (un'in tel'ə jə bl), that cannot be understood. adj. —un'in tel'li gi bly, adv.

un in ter est ed (un in'tər is tid or un in'tə res'tid), not interested; showing no interest. adj.

un in ter rupt ed (un'in tər up'tid), without interruption; continuous. adj. —un'in tər rupt'ed ly, adv.

un in vit ed (un'in vīt'id), not invited; without an invitation. adj.

un ion (ūn'yən), 1. a uniting or being united: The United States was formed by the union of thirteen States. 2. group of people, states, etc., united for some special purpose: The American colonies formed a union. 3. group of workers joined together to protect and promote their interests; labor union; trade union. 4. marriage. 5. flag, or part of one, that is an emblem of union. The blue rectangle with stars in the American flag is the union. 6. any of various devices for connecting parts of machinery or apparatus; especially, a piece to join pipes or tubes together. n.

the Union, the United States of America.

Union City, city in NE New Jersey. 52,000.

un ion ism (ūn'yən iz əm), 1. the principle of union. 2. attachment to a union. 3. system, principles, or methods of labor unions. n.

un ion ist (ūn'yən ist), 1. person who promotes or advocates union. 2. member of a labor union. n.

Un ion ist (ūn'yən ist), 1. supporter of the federal government of the United States during the Civil War. 2. person who opposed the political separation of Ireland from Great Britain. n.

un ion i za tion (ūn'yən ə zā'shən), a unionizing or being unionized. n.

un ion ize (ūn'yən iz), 1. form into a labor union. 2. organize under a labor union. 3. join in a labor union. v., un ion ized, un ion iz ing.

Union Jack, 1. the British national flag. 2. a small flag that is a symbol of union.

Union of South Africa, a former name of the Republic of South Africa.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un heed'ful
un heed'ing
un help'ful
un her'ald ed
un'he ro'ic
un hin'dered
un hoped'-for'
un housed'
un hur'ried
un hur'ry ing

un hurt'ful un'i de'al un'i den'ti fied un'id i o mat'ic un'il lu'mi nat'ed un'im paired'
un'im pas'sioned un'im ped'ed un'im pos'ing un'im pressed'

un'im press'i ble
un'im pres'sion a ble un'im pres'sive un'im proved'
un'in closed'
un'in cor'po rat'ed
un'in cum'bered un'in dex'ed un'in fect'ed un'in flect'ed

un in'flu enced un'in formed'
un'in hab'it a ble un'in hib'it ed
un'i ni'ti at'ed un'in quir'ing un'in spect'ed un'in struct'ed un'in struc'tive
un in'su lat'ed

un'in sur'd'
un'in tel'li gent
un'in tend'ed
un'in ten'tion al
un'in ter'est ing
un'in ter mit'ting un'in tim'i dat'ed un'in ven'tive
un'in vit'ing

Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, union of 15 Soviet republics in E Europe and W and N Asia, the largest of which is the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic. The European part is often called Russia; Siberia comprises most of the Asiatic part. 208,826,000 pop.; 8,650,000 sq. mi. Capital: Moscow. Abbrev.: U.S.S.R. or USSR Also, Soviet Union.

union shop, a factory or business firm in which most of the employees belong to a recognized labor union.

unique (ū'nek'), 1. having no like or equal; being the only one of its kind. 2. Informal. rare; unusual. adj. —u nique'ly, adv. —u nique'ness, n.

unison (ū'nə zn), 1. agreement: The feet of marching soldiers move in unison. 2. agreement in pitch of two or more tones, voices, etc.; a sounding together at the same pitch. n.

unit (ū'nit), 1. a single thing or person. 2. any group of things or persons considered as one. 3. one of the individuals or groups into which a whole can be analyzed: The body consists of units called cells. 4. a standard quantity or amount. A foot is a unit of length; a pound is a unit of weight. 5. the smallest whole number; 1. n.

Unitarian (ū'nə tār'ē ən), 1. person who maintains that God exists as one being, in opposition to the doctrine of the Trinity. Unitarians accept the moral teachings of Jesus, but do not believe that He was divine. 2. of or having to do with Unitarians. 1 n., 2 adj.

unitary (ū'nə ter'ē), 1. of or having to do with a unit or units. 2. having to do with unity. 3. like that of a unit; used as a unit. adj.

unite (ū'nīt'), 1. join together; make one; join in action, interest, opinion, feeling, etc.; combine: We united in singing "America." 2. become one; join in action, etc.: Several firms were united to form one company. v., u nit'ed, u nit'ing. —u nit'er, n.

united (ū'nīt'id), 1. joined together to make one. 2. joined together: "United we stand; divided we fall." adj.

United Arab Republic, the official name of Egypt. In 1958 Egypt and Syria joined together in the United Arab Republic and invited other Arab nations to join. Syria withdrew in 1961. Abbrev.: U.A.R.

United Kingdom, 1. kingdom composed of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, in NW Europe. 50,212,000 pop.; 94,491 sq. mi. Capital: London. 2. Great Britain and Ireland from 1801 to 1922.

United Nations, 1. the nations that belong to a world-wide organization devoted to establishing world peace. 2. this organization, in existence since Oct. 24, 1945. 3. the Allies (def. 2).

United States, country in North America composed of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and other possessions; extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada, with Alaska lying W and NW of Canada and Hawaii an island group in the Pacific. Continental United States and Hawaii: 179,323,000 pop.; 3,615,237 sq. mi. United States and possessions: 182,768,000 pop.; 3,676,660 sq. mi. Capital: Washington, D.C. Abbrev.: U.S. or U.S.A.

United States of America, United States.

unity (ū'nə tē), 1. oneness; being united: A circle has more unity than a row of dots. 2. union of parts forming a complex whole. 3. harmony: Brothers and sisters should live together in unity. 4. the number one (1). 5. oneness of effect; choice and arrangement of material (for a composition, book, picture, statue, etc.) to secure a single effect. n., pl. u ni'ties.

the unities, the rules of action, time, and place that require a play to have one plot occurring on one day in one place.

univ. or Univ., university.

UNIVAC (ū'nə vak), Trademark. an electronic computer which uses a binary numbering system. n.

univalve (ū'nə valv'), 1. an animal having a shell made of one piece. Snails are univalves; clams are bivalves. 2. its shell. 3. having a shell made of one piece. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

universal (ū'nə vēr'sl), 1. of or for all; done, used, held, etc., by everybody: Food, fire, and shelter are universal needs. 2. existing everywhere. 3. covering a whole group of persons, things, cases, etc.; general. 4. a proposition that asserts or denies something of every member of a class. 5. adaptable to different sizes, angles, kinds of work, etc.: a universal joint. 1-3, 5 adj., 4 n.

Univeralist (ū'nə vēr'sl ist), a member of a Protestant church holding the belief that all people will finally be saved. n.

universality (ū'nə vēr'sl ə tē), being universal. n., pl. u ni ver sal'i ties.

universal joint, 1. joint that moves in any direction. 2. coupling for transmitting power from one shaft to another when they are not in line.

universally (ū'nə vēr'sl ē), 1. in every instance; without exception. 2. everywhere. adv.

universe (ū'nə vēr's), all things; everything there is: Our world is but a small part of the universe. n.

university (ū'nə vēr'sə tē), 1. institution of learning of the highest grade. A university usually has schools of law, medicine, teaching, business, etc., and in the United States, colleges for general instruction as well. 2. building or buildings used by a university. n., pl. u ni ver si'ties.

unjust (un just'), not just; not fair. adj. —un-just'ly, adv. —un just'ness, n.

unjustifiable (un jus'tə fī'ə bl), that cannot be justified. adj. —un jus'ti fī'ə bly, adv.

unkempt (un kempt'), 1. not combed. 2. neglected; untidy. adj.

unkind (un kīnd'), harsh; cruel. adj. —un kind'-ness, n.

unkindly (un kīnd'lē), 1. harsh; unfavorable. 2. in an unkind way; harshly. 1 adj., 2 adv.

unknownable (un nō'ə bl), that cannot be known. adj.

unknown (un nōn'), not known; not familiar; strange. adj.

unlace (un lās'), undo the laces of. v., un laced, un-lac'ing.

unlatch (un lach'), unfasten or open by lifting a latch. v.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un is'sued
un kept'

un knight'ly
un know'ing

un la'beled
un la'belled

un lad'en un la'dy like'

un laid'
un la ment'ed

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

un law ful (un lô'fəl), 1. contrary to the law; against the law; forbidden; illegal. 2. illegitimate. adj. —unlawful ness, n.

un law ful ly (un lô'fəl ē), 1. illegally. 2. illegitimately. adv.

un learn (un lēr'n), get rid of (ideas, habits, or tendencies); forget. v.

un learned (un lēr'nid for 1, 3; un lérnd' for 2), 1. not educated; ignorant. 2. not learned; known without being learned. 3. not showing education. adj.

un leash (un lēsh'), 1. release from a leash: unleash a dog. 2. let loose: unleash one's temper. v.

un leav ened (un lev'ənd), not leavened. Unleavened bread is made without yeast. adj.

un less (ən les' or un les'), 1. if it were not that; if not: We shall go unless it rains. 2. except. 1 conj., 2 prep.

un let tered (un let'ərd), 1. not educated. 2. not able to read or write. adj.

un like (un lik'), 1. not like; different: The two problems are quite unlike. 2. different from: act unlike others. 3. Archaic or Dialect. unlikely. 1, 3 adj., 2 prep.

un like li hood (un lik'lē hüd), improbability. n.

un like ly (un lik'lē), 1. not likely; not probable: He is unlikely to win the race. 2. not likely to succeed: an unlikely undertaking. adj. —un like'li ness, n.

un like ness (un lik'nis), being unlike; difference. n.

un lim ber (un lim'bər), 1. detach the limber or forepart of the carriage from (a gun). 2. prepare for action. v.

un lim it ed (un lim'ə tid), 1. without limits; boundless. 2. not restricted. adj. —un lim'it ed ness, n.

un load (un lōd'), 1. remove (a load). 2. take the load from. 3. get rid of: Alice began to unload her troubles onto her mother. 4. remove powder, shot, etc., from (a gun). 5. discharge a cargo: The ship is unloading. v. —un load'er, n.

un lock (un lok'), 1. open the lock of; open (anything firmly closed). 2. disclose; reveal. 3. become unlocked. v.

un looked-for (un lūkt'fōr'), unexpected; unforeseen. adj.

un loose (un lūs'), let loose; set free; release. v., un loosed, un loos ing.

un loos en (un lūs'n), unloose; loosen. v.

un love ly (un luv'lē), without beauty or charm; displeasing in appearance; unpleasant; objectionable; disagreeable. adj. —un love'li ness, n.

un luck y (un luk'ē), not lucky; unfortunate; bringing bad luck. adj. —un luck'i ly, adv. —un luck'i ness, n.

un make (un māk'), undo; destroy; ruin. v., un made, un mak ing.

un man (un man'), 1. deprive of the qualities of a man. 2. weaken or break down the spirit of. 3. deprive of men: unman a ship. v., un manned, un man ning.

un man ly (un man'lē), not manly; weak; cowardly. adj. —un man'li ness, n.

un man ner ly (un man'ər lē), 1. having bad manners; discourteous. 2. with bad manners; rudely. 1 adj., 2 adv. —un man'ner li ness, n.

un mar ried (un mar'əd), not married; single. adj.

un mask (un mask'), 1. remove a mask or disguise: The guests unmasked at midnight. 2. take off a mask or disguise from. 3. expose the true character of: unmask a hypocrite. 4. reveal the presence of (guns, etc.) by firing: unmask a battery. v.

un match a ble (un mach'ə bl), that cannot be matched or equaled. adj.

un mean ing (un mēn'ing), 1. without meaning: unmeaning words. 2. without sense; without expression: an unmeaning stare. adj. —un mean'ing ly, adv.

un meas ured (un mezh'ərd), 1. not measured; unlimited; measureless. 2. unrestrained; intemperate. adj.

un meet (un mēt'), not fit; not proper; unsuitable. adj.

un men tion a ble (un men'shən ə bl), that cannot be mentioned; not fit to be spoken about. adj. —un men'tion a ble ness, n.

un mer ci ful (un mēr'si fəl), having no mercy; showing no mercy; cruel. adj. —un mer'ci ful ly, adv. —un mer'ci ful ness, n.

un mind ful (un mind'fəl), regardless; heedless; careless. adj. —un mind'ful ly, adv.

un mis tak a ble (un'mis tak'ə bl), that cannot be mistaken or misunderstood; clear; plain; evident. adj. —un'mis tak'a ble ness, n. —un'mis tak'a bly, adv.

un mit i gat ed (un mit'ə gāt'id), 1. not softened or lessened: unmitigated harshness. 2. unqualified or absolute: an unmitigated fraud. adj.

un mo lest ed (un'mə les'tid), not molested; undisturbed. adj.

un moor (un mūr'), loose (a ship) from moorings or anchor. v.

un mor al (un mōr'əl), neither moral nor immoral; not perceiving or involving right and wrong. adj. —un mor'al ly, adv.

un moved (un mūvd'), 1. not moved; firm. 2. not disturbed; indifferent. adj.

un muz zle (un muz'l), 1. take off a muzzle from (a dog, etc.). 2. free from restraint; allow to speak or write freely. v., un muz zled, un muz zling.

un named (un nāmd'), 1. having no name. 2. not mentioned by name. adj.

un nat u ral (un nach'ə rəl), not natural; not normal. adj. —un nat'u ral ly, adv. —un nat'u ral ness, n.

un nec es sar y (un nes'ə ser'ē), not necessary; needless. adj. —un nec'es sar'i ly, adv. —un nec'es sar'i ness, n.

un nerve (un nērv'), deprive of nerve, firmness, or self-control: The sight of so much blood unnerved her. v., un nerved, un nerve ing.

un no ticed (un nō'tist), 1. not observed. 2. not receiving any attention. adj.

un num bered (un num'bərd), 1. not numbered; not counted. 2. too many to count. adj.

un ob served (un'əb zərv'd'), not observed; not noticed; disregarded. adj.

un ob tru sive (un'əb trū'siv), modest; inconspicuous. adj.

un oc cu pied (un ok'yə pīd), not occupied; vacant; idle. adj.

un of fend ing (un'ə fen'ding), inoffensive; harmless; innocent. adj.

un or gan ized (un ōr'gən īzd), 1. not formed into an organized or systematized whole. 2. not organized into labor unions. 3. not being a living organism. An enzyme is an unorganized ferment. adj.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un li'censed un light'ed
un lik'a ble
un like'a ble un lined'
un liq'ue fied
un liq'ui dat'ed un lit'
un lov'a ble
un loved'
un lov'ing
un maid'en ly
un mal'le a ble

un man'age a ble
un manned'
un man'u fac'tured
un marked'
un mar'ket a ble
un mar'riage a ble
un mas'tered
un match'ed
un me chan'ic al
un melt'ed
un men'tioned
un mer'it ed
un me thod'ic al

un mil'i tar'y un min'gled
un mirth'ful
un mis tak'en
un mod'i fied
un mod'u lat'ed
un mot'i vat'ed
un mount'ed
un mourn'ed
un mov'a ble
un mov'ing
un mu'si cal
un muz'zled

un nat'u ral ized un nav'iga ble
un need'ed
un need'ful
un ne go'tia ble
un neigh'bor ly
un neigh'bour ly
un not'ed
un no'tice a ble
un ob jec'tion a ble
un o blig'ing
un ob scured'
un ob serv'ant

un ob serv'ing
un ob struct'ed
un ob tain'a ble
un oc ca'sioned
un of'fered
un of fi'cial
un o'pened un op posed'
un or dained'
un o rig'i nal
un or'tho dox
un os ten ta'tious un owned'

un pack (un pak'), 1. take out (things packed in a box, trunk, etc.). 2. take things out of. v.
un paid (un pād'), not paid; unpaid bills. adj.
un pal at a ble (un pal'ə tə bl), not agreeable to the taste; distasteful; unpleasant. adj. —un pal'at a ble-ness, n.
un par al leled (un par'ə leld), having no parallel; unequalled; matchless. adj.
un peo ple (un pē'pl), deprive of people. v., un-peo pled, un peo pling.
un pin (un pin'), take out a pin or pins from; unfasten. v., un pinned, un pin ning.
un pleas ant (un plez'nt), not pleasant; disagreeable. adj. —un pleas'ant ly, adv.
un pleas ant ness (un plez'nt nis), 1. unpleasant quality. 2. something unpleasant. 3. quarrel. n.
un plumed (un plumd'), 1. not fathomed; not measured; of unknown depth. 2. having no plumbing. adj.
un po liced (un'pō lēst'), 1. not policed. 2. not inspected; unregulated. adj.
un pop u lar (un pop'yə lār), not popular; not generally liked; disliked. adj. —un pop'u lar ly, adv.
un pop u lar i ty (un'pop yə lār'ə tē), lack of popularity; being unpopular. n.
un prac ticed or un prac tised (un prak'tist), 1. not skilled; not expert. 2. not put into practice; not used. adj.
un pre c e dent ed (un pres'ə den'tid), having no precedent; never done before; never known before. adj.
un prej u diced (un prej'ə dist), 1. without prejudice; impartial. 2. not impaired. adj.
un pre med i tat ed (un'prē med'ə tāt'id), not planned in advance. adj.
un pre pared (un'pri pārd'), 1. not made ready; not worked out ahead; an unprepared speech. 2. not ready: a person unprepared to answer. adj.
un pre par ed ness (un'pri pārd'id nis or un'pri pārd'-nis), 1. a being unprepared. 2. lack of preparation. n.
un pre tend ing (un'pri ten'ding), unassuming; modest. adj. —un'pre tend'ing ly, adv.
un pre ten tious (un'pri ten'shəs), modest. adj. —un'pre ten'tious ly, adv. —un'pre ten'tious ness, n.
un prin ci pled (un prin'sə pld), lacking good moral principles; bad. adj.
un print a ble (un prin'tə bl), not fit to be printed. adj.
un pro fes sion al (un'prə fesh'ən l), 1. contrary to professional etiquette; unbecoming in members of a profession. 2. not having to do with or connected with a profession. 3. not belonging to a profession. adj. —un'pro fes'sion al ly, adv.
un prof it a ble (un prof'ə tə bl), producing no gain or advantage. adj. —un prof'it a bly, adv.

un pro nounce a ble (un'prə noun'sə bl), that cannot be pronounced. adj.
un pro voked (un'prə vōkt'), without provocation. adj.
un qual i fied (un kwol'ə fid), 1. not qualified; not fitted. 2. not modified, limited, or restricted in any way; unqualified praise. 3. complete; absolute: an unqualified failure. adj.
un quench a ble (un kwench'ə bl), that cannot be extinguished. adj.
un ques tion a ble (un kwes'chən ə bl), beyond dispute or doubt; certain. adj.
un ques tion a bly (un kwes'chən ə blē), beyond dispute or doubt; certainly. adv.
un ques tioned (un kwes'chənd), not questioned; not disputed. adj.
un quote (un kwōt'), end a quotation. v., un quot ed, un quoting.
un rav el (un rav'l), 1. separate the threads of; pull apart: The kitten unraveled grandma's knitting. 2. come apart: This sweater is unraveling at the elbow. 3. bring or come out of a tangled state: unravel a mystery. v., un raveled, un ravel ing or *esp. Brit. un ravelled, un-ravel ling.
un read (un red'), 1. not read: an unread book. 2. not having read much: an unread person. adj.
un read y (un red'y), 1. not ready; not prepared. 2. not prompt or quick. 3. Obsolete or Dialect. not dressed or fully dressed. adj. —un read'ily, adv. —un read'i ness, n.
un re al (un rē'al), imaginary; not real; not substantial; fanciful. adj. —un re'al ly, adv.
un re al i ty (un'rē al'ə tē), 1. lack of reality; impractical or visionary character. 2. something without reality; something unreal. n., pl. un re al i ties.
un rea son a ble (un rē'zn ə bl), 1. not reasonable. 2. not moderate; excessive. adj. —un rea'son a ble-ness, n.
un rea son a bly (un rē'zn ə blē), 1. in a way that is not reasonable; contrary to reason; foolishly. 2. extremely; immoderately. adv.
un rea son ing (un'rē'zn ing), not reasoning; not using reason; reasonless. adj. —un rea'son ing ly, adv.
un re flect ing (un'ri flek'ting), unthinking; thoughtless. adj. —un're flect'ing ly, adv.
un re g ard ed (un'ri gār'did), disregarded; not heeded. adj.
un re gen er ate (un'ri jen'ər it), 1. not born again spiritually; not turned to the love of God. 2. wicked; bad. adj. —un're gen'er ate ness, n.
un re lent ing (un'ri len'ting), 1. not yielding to feelings of kindness or compassion; merciless. 2. not slackening or relaxing in severity or determination. adj. —un're lent'ing ly, adv. —un're lent'ing ness, n.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un paired'
un par'don a ble
un par'doned
un par lia men'ta ry un pas'teur ized
un pa tri ot'ic un paved'
un peace'a ble
un peo'pled un per ceived'
un per ceiv'ing
un per plexed'
un per suad'ed
un per sua'sive
un per turbed'
un pe rused'
un phil o soph'ic
un phil o soph'i cal
un pho net'ic un picked'

un pierced'
un pit'ied
un pit'y ing un placed'
un plagued'
un planned'
un plant'ed un played'
un pleased'
un pleas'ing un pledged'
un pli'ant
un plowed'
un po et'ic
un po et'i cal
un po ised'
un po lar ized
un pol'ished
un pol lut'ed
un prac'ti cal

un'pre dict'a ble un'pre pos sess'ing un pressed'
un'pre vail'ing un'pre vent'a ble
un print'ed
un priv'i leged un prized' un'pro cur'a ble
un'pro duc'tive un'pro faned' un'pro gres'sive un'prom'is ing
un prompt'ed un'pro nounced'
un'pro pi'tious un'pro por'tioned un'pro tect'ed un'pro test'ed un proved'

un prov'en un'pro vid'ed un'pro vok'ing un pruned'
un pub'lished
un punc'tu al
un pun'ished
un pur'chas a ble
un pur'posed
un pur su'ing
un quail'ing
un qual'i fy'ing un quenched'
un ques'tion ing
un qui'et
un quot'a ble un raised'
un ran'somed
un rat'i fied
un read'a ble

un're al is'tic un're al ized
un rea'soned un're buked'
un're ceived' un're claimed'
un rec'og niz'a ble
un rec'og nized
un rec'om pensed un'rec on cil'a ble un'rec on ciled
un're cord'ed un're deemed'
un're fined'
un're formed'
un reg'is tered
un reg'u lat'ed un're lat'ed un're lax'ed'
un're lax'ing

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʰ, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

un re li a bil i ty (un'ri lī'ə bil'ə tē), lack of reliability. n.

un re li a ble (un'ri lī'ə bl), not reliable; not to be depended on. adj. —un're li'a bly, adv.

un re mit ting (un'ri mit'ing), never stopping; not slackening; maintained steadily: unremitting vigilance. adj. —un're mit'ting ly, adv.

un re served (un'ri zērv'd'), 1. frank; open. 2. not restricted; without reservation. adj.

un re serv ed ly (un'ri zēr'vid lē), 1. frankly; openly. 2. without reservation or restriction. adv.

un rest (un rest'), 1. lack of ease and quiet; restlessness. 2. agitation or disturbance amounting almost to rebellion. n.

un re strained (un'ri strānd'), not held back; not checked. adj.

un re straint (un'ri strānt'), lack of restraint. n.

un right eous (un rī'chēs), wicked; sinful; unjust. adj. —un right'eous ly, adv. —un right'eous ness, n.

un ripe (un rip'), 1. not ripe; green. 2. Obsolete. too early. adj. —un ripe'ness, n.

un ri va led or un ri val led (un rī'vld), having no rival; without an equal. adj.

un roll (un rōl'), 1. open or spread out (something rolled). 2. become opened or spread out. 3. lay open; display. v.

UNRRA (un'rə), United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

un ruf fled (un ruf'ld), 1. not ruffled; smooth. 2. not disturbed; calm. adj.

un ruled (un ruld'), 1. not kept under control; not governed. 2. not marked with lines: unruled paper. adj.

un ru ly (un rū'lē), hard to rule or control; lawless: an unruly horse, a disobedient and unruly boy, an unruly section of country. adj. —un ru'li ness, n.

un sad dle (un sad'l), 1. take the saddle off (a horse). 2. cause to fall from a horse. v., un sad dled, un sad dling.

un safe (un sāf'), dangerous. adj. —un safe'ness, n.

un san i tar y (un san'ə ter'ē), unhealthful. adj. —un san'i tar'i ness, n.

un sat is fac to ry (un'sat is fak'tə rē), not good enough to satisfy. adj.

un sa vor y (un sā'vər ē), 1. tasteless. 2. unpleasant in taste or smell. 3. morally unpleasant; offensive. adj. —un sa'vor i ly, adv. —un sa'vor i ness, n.

un say (un sā'), take back (something said). v., un-said, un say ing.

un scathed (un skā'thd'), not harmed; uninjured. adj.

un schooled (un skūld'), not schooled; not taught; not disciplined. adj.

un sci en tif ic (un'sī ən tif'ik), 1. not in accordance with the facts or principles of science: an unscientific notion. 2. not acting in accordance with such facts or principles: an unscientific farmer. adj. —un'sci en tif-i cal ly, adv.

un scram ble (un skram'bl), reduce from confusion to order; bring out of a scrambled condition. v., un-scram bled, un scram bling.

un screw (un skrü'), 1. take out the screw or screws from. 2. loosen or take off by turning; untwist. v.

un scrup pu lous (un skrü'pyə lās), not careful about right or wrong; without principles or conscience: The unscrupulous boy cheated. adj. —un scrup'u lous ly, adv. —un scrup'u lous ness, n.

un seal (un sēl'), 1. break or remove the seal of: unseal a letter. 2. open: The threat unsealed her lips. v.

un search a ble (un sēr'chə bl), not to be searched into; that cannot be understood by searching; mysterious. adj.

un sea son a ble (un sē'zn ə bl), 1. not suitable to the season. 2. coming at the wrong time. adj. —un-sea'son a ble ness, n. —un sea'son a bly, adv.

un seat (un sēt'), 1. displace from a seat. 2. throw (a rider) from a saddle. 3. remove from office. v.

un seem ly (un sēm'lē), 1. not seemly; not suitable; improper: Laughing in church is unseemly. 2. improperly; unsuitably. 1 adj., 2 adv. —un seem'li ness, n.

un seen (un sēn'), 1. not seen. 2. not visible. adj.

un self ish (un sel'fish), considerate of others; generous. adj. —un self'ish ly, adv. —un self'ish-ness, n.

un set tle (un set'l), make or become unstable; disturb; shake; weaken. v., un set tled, un set tling.

un set tled (un set'ld), 1. disordered; not in proper condition or order: Our house is still unsettled. 2. not fixed or stable. 3. liable to change; uncertain: The weather is unsettled. 4. not adjusted or disposed of: an unsettled estate, an unsettled bill. 5. not determined or decided. 6. not inhabited: Some parts of the world are still unsettled. adj.

un sex (un seks'), deprive of the attributes of one's sex; especially, to deprive of womanly character. v.

un shack le (un shak'l), remove shackles from; set free. v., un shack led, un shack ling.

un shak en (un shāk'en), not shaken; firm. adj.

un sheathe (un shēth'), draw (a sword, knife, or the like) from a sheath. v., un sheathed, un sheath ing.

un shod (un shod'), without shoes. adj.

un sight ly (un sīt'lē), ugly or unpleasant to look at. adj. —un sight'li ness, n.

un skilled (un skild'), 1. not skilled; not trained: unskilled workers. 2. not using skill. adj.

un skill ful or un skil ful (un skil'fəl), awkward; clumsy. adj. —un skill'ful ly, un skill'ful ly, adv. —un skill'ful ness, un skil'ful ness, n.

un snap (un snap'), unfasten the snap or snaps of. v., un snapped, un snap ping.

un snarl (un snārl'), remove the snarls from; untangle. v.

un so cia bil i ty (un'sō shə bil'ə tē), unsociable nature or behavior; lack of friendliness. n.

un so cia ble (un sō'shə bl), not sociable; not associating easily with others: unsociable behavior, an unsociable hermit. adj. —un so'cia ble ness, n. —un-so'cia bly, adv.

un so phis ti cat ed (un'sə fis'tə kāt'id), simple; natural; artless. adj.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un're lieved'
un're m'e died
un're mem'bered un're mit'ted un're moved'
un're mu'ner at'ed
un're mu'ner a'tive un're nowned'
un're nt'ed un're paid'
un're paired'
un're pealed'
un're pent'ant
un're pent'ing un're port'ed un'rep re sent'a tive un'rep re sent'ed un're pressed'
un're proached' un're proved'

un're quit'ed un're signed'
un're sist'ant un're sist'ed un're sist'ing un're spon'sive un're strict'ed un're ten'tive un're triev'ed un're turned'
un're vealed'
un're venged'
un're voked'
un're ward'ed
un're ward'ing un rhymed' un right'ful
un rimed'
un rip'ened un'ro man'tic

un said'
un saint'ly
un sal'a ble
un sale'a ble
un salt'ed
un sanc'ti fied un sanc'tioned
un sa'ti at'ed un sat'is fied
un sat'is fy'ing
un sat'u rat'ed un scaled'
un scared'
un scarred'
un scent'ed
un sched'uled
un schol'ar ly
un scorched'
un scoured'
un scratched'

un screened'
un scrip'tur al
un sculp'tured
un sea'soned un sea'wor thy un see'cond ed
un see'cured'
un see'ing
un seg'ment ed
un seg're gat'ed
un seized'
un se lec'tive
un sen ti men'tal un serv'ice a ble un set'
un shad'ed un shaped'
un shape'ly
un sharp'ened
un shav'en

un shed'
un shel'tered un shorn'
un shrink'a ble
un shrink'ing
un sift'ed
un sight'ed un signed'
un sink'a ble
un sis'ter ly un sized'
un slacked'
un slaked'
un so'cial un soiled'
un sold'
un sol'dier ly
un so lic'it ed
un solved'
un sort'ed

un sought (un sôt'), not sought; not looked for; not asked for. adj.

un sound (un sound'), 1. not in good condition; not sound: An unsound mind or body is diseased. Unsound walls are not firm. An unsound business is not reliable. 2. not based on truth or fact: an unsound doctrine, theory, etc. 3. not deep; not restful; disturbed: an unsound sleep. adj. —un sound'ly, adv. —un sound'ness, n.

un spar ing (un spâr'ing), 1. very generous; liberal. 2. not merciful; severe. adj. —un spar'ing ly, adv. —un spar'ing ness, n.

un speak a ble (un spêk'ə bl), 1. that cannot be expressed in words: unspeakable joy, an unspeakable loss. 2. extremely bad; so bad that it is not spoken of. adj.

un speak a bly (un spêk'ə blē), beyond expression; extremely. adv.

un spot ted (un spot'id), without spot or stain; pure. adj.

un sta ble (un stā'bl), 1. not firmly fixed; easily moved, shaken, or overthrown. 2. not constant; variable. 3. in chemistry, easily decomposed; readily changing into other compounds. adj. —un sta'ble-ness, n. —un sta'bly, adv.

unstable element, a radioactive element which eventually changes into a radioactive isotope.

un stained (un stānd'), without stain or spot. adj.

un stead y (un sted'ē), 1. not steady; shaky. 2. likely to change; not reliable. 3. not regular in habits. adj. —un stead'y ly, adv. —un stead'y ness, n.

un strap (un strap'), loosen the strap of (a trunk, box, etc.). v., un strapped, un strap ping.

un string (un string'), 1. take off or loosen the string or strings of. 2. take from a string. 3. weaken the nerves of; make nervous. v., un strung, un string ing.

un strung (un strung'), 1. weakened in the nerves; nervous. 2. pt. and pp. of unstring. 1 adj., 2 v.

un stud ied (un stud'ed), not studied; not planned ahead; natural. adj.

un sub stan tial (un'səb stan'shəl), not substantial; flimsy; slight; unreal. adj. —un'sub stan'tial ly, adv.

un suc cess ful (un'sək ses'fəl), not successful; without success. adj. —un'suc cess'ful ly, adv.

un suit a bil i ty (un'süt ə bil'ə tē), being unsuitable. n.

un suit a ble (un sūt'ə bl), not suitable; unfit. adj. —un suit'a bly, adv.

un suited (un sūt'id), not suited; unfit. adj.

un sul lied (un sul'ed), without spot or stain; pure. adj.

un sung (un sung'), 1. not sung. 2. not honored in song or poetry. adj.

un sus pect ed (un'səs pek'tid), 1. not suspected. 2. not thought of. adj.

un tan gle (un tang'gl), 1. take the tangles out of; disentangle. 2. straighten out or clear up (anything confused or perplexing). v., un tan gled, un tan gling.

un taught (un tōt'), 1. not taught; not educated. 2. known without being taught; learned naturally. adj.

un thank ful (un thank'fəl), 1. ungrateful. 2. not appreciated; thankless. adj. —un thank'ful ly, adv. —un thank'ful ness, n.

un think a ble (un think'ə bl), that cannot be imagined. adj.

un think ing (un think'ing), thoughtless; heedless; careless. adj. —un think'ing ly, adv.

un thought-of (un thôt'ov' or un thôt'uv'), not imagined or considered. adj.

un thread (un thred'), 1. take the thread out of. 2. unravel. 3. find one's way through. v.

un ti dy (un tî'dē), not in order; not neat. adj. —un ti'di ly, adv. —un ti'di ness, n.

un tie (un tî'), 1. loosen; unfasten; undo; unbind. 2. make clear. v., un tied, un ty ing.

un til (ən til' or un til'), 1. up to the time of: It was cold from Christmas until April. 2. up to the time when: He waited until the sun had set. 3. before: She did not leave until morning (prep.). He did not come until the meeting was half over (conj.). 4. to the degree or place that: He worked until he was too tired to do more. 1,3 prep., 2-4 conj.

un time ly (un tîm'lē), 1. at a wrong time or season: Snow in May is untimely. 2. too early; too soon: his untimely death. 1,2 adj., 2 adv. —un time'li ness, n.

un tir ing (un tîr'ing), tireless; unwearying. adj. —un tîr'ing ly, adv.

un to (un'tü; before consonants often un'tə), Archaic or Formal. to: The soldier was faithful unto death. prep.

un told (un tōld'), 1. not told; not revealed. 2. too many to be counted or numbered; very great: There are untold stars in the sky. adj.

un touch a ble (un tuch'ə bl), 1. that cannot be touched; out of reach. 2. that must not be touched. 3. person of the lowest caste in India, whose touch supposedly defiles members of higher castes. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

un touched (un tucht'), not touched: The cat left the milk untouched. The miser was untouched by the poor man's story. The last topic was left untouched. adj.

un to ward (un tōrd' or un'tə wōrd'), 1. unfavorable; unfortunate: an untoward wind, an untoward accident. 2. perverse; stubborn; willful. adj. —un to'-ward ly, adv. —un to'ward ness, n.

un trained (un trānd'), not trained; without discipline or education. adj.

un tram meled (un tram'ld), not hindered; not restrained; free. adj.

un tried (un trîd'), not tried; not tested. adj.

un trod (un trod'), not trodden. adj.

un true (un trû'), 1. false; incorrect. 2. not faithful. 3. not true to a standard or rule. adj.

un truth (un trüth'), 1. lack of truth; falsity. 2. a lie; falsehood. n.

un truth ful (un trüth'fəl), not truthful; contrary to the truth. adj. —un truth'ful ly, adv. —un truth'-ful ness, n.

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un sound'ed	un ster'i lized	un'sur passed'	un tamed'	un thrift'y un sowed'	un stig'ma tized	un'sus pect'ing	un tanned'	un tilled' un sown'	un stint'ed	un'sus pi'cious	un tar'nished	un tired' un spe'cial ized	un stitched'	un'sus tained'	un tar'ced	un traced' un spec'i fied	un stopped'	un swayed'	un tax'ed	un tracked' un spec'u la'tive	un strained'	un sweet'ened	un teach'a ble	un tract'a ble un spent'	un strat'i fied	un swept'	un tech'ni cal	un'trans fer'a ble un spir'i tu al	un stressed'	un swerv'ing	un tem'pered	un'trans lat'ed un spoiled'	un'sub dued'	un'sym met'ri cal	un ten'a ble	un'trans mit'ted un spoilt'	un'sub mis'sive	un'sym pa thet'ic	un ten'ant	un trav'eled un spo'ken	un'sub stan'ti at'ed	un'sym pa thiz'ing	un tend'ed	un trav'elled un sports'man like'	un suf'fer a ble	un'sys tem at'ic	un ter'rî fied	un trav'ersed un stamped'	un'sug ges'tive	un tact'ful	un test'ed	un trimmed' un stand'ard ized	un'sup port'ed	un taint'ed	un thanked'	un trod'den un stat'ed	un'sup pressed'	un tak'en	un thought'	un trou'bled un states'man like'	un sure'	un tal'ent ed	un thought'ful	un trust'wor'thy hat, âge, câre, fâr; let, bē, tērm; it, îce; hot, gō, ôrder; oil, out; cup, pût, rûle, ûse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ҃H, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

un tu tored (un tū'tōrd or un tū'tōrd), untought. adj.
un twist (un twist'), 1. undo or loosen something twisted; unravel. 2. become untwisted. v.
un used (un ūzd' for 1, 3; for 2, before the word to, un ūst'), 1. not used: an unused room. 2. not accustomed: hands unused to labor. 3. never having been used: unused drinking cups. adj.
un u su al (un ū'zhū əl), not usual; beyond the ordinary; not common; rare. adj. —un u'su al ness, n.
un u su al ly (un ū'zhū əl ē), uncommonly; rarely; exceptionally; extremely. adv.
un ut ter a ble (un ut'ər ə bl), that cannot be expressed; unspeakable. adj. —un ut'ter a bly, adv.
un var nished (un vār'nisht), 1. not varnished. 2. plain; unadorned: the unvarnished truth. adj.
un var y ing (un vār'ē ing), steady; constant. adj.
un veil (un vāl'), 1. remove a veil from; disclose; reveal: The statue was unveiled the day the graduating class presented it to the school. 2. remove a veil; reveal oneself; become unveiled: The princess unveiled. v.
un war rant a ble (un wōr'ən tə bl), not justifiable; illegal; improper. adj. —un war'rant a bly, adv.
un war y (un wār'ē), not cautious; not careful; unguarded. adj. —un war'i ly, adv. —un war'i ness, n.
un wea ried (un wir'ēd), 1. not weary; not tired. 2. never growing weary. adj.
un wel come (un wel'kəm), not welcome; not wanted. adj.
un well (un wel'), ailing; ill; sick. adj.
un wept (un wept'), 1. not wept for; not mourned. 2. not shed: unwept tears. adj.
un whole some (un hōl'səm), not wholesome; bad for the body or the mind; unhealthy. adj. —un whole'some ly, adv. —un whole'some ness, n.
un wield y (un wēldē), not easily handled or managed, because of size, shape, or weight; bulky and clumsy: the unwieldy armor of knights, a fat, unwieldy man. adj. —un wield'i ness, n.
un will ing (un wil'ing), not willing; not consenting. adj. —un will'ing ly, adv. —un will'ing ness, n.
un wind (un wind'), 1. wind off; take from a spool, ball, etc. 2. become unwound. 3. disentangle. v., un wound, un wind ing.
un wise (un wīz'), not wise; not showing good judgment; foolish. adj. —un wise'ly, adv.
un wit ting (un wit'ing), not knowing; unaware; unconscious; unintentional. adj.
un wit ting ly (un wit'ing lē), not knowingly; unconsciously; not intentionally. adv.
un wont ed (un wun'tid), 1. not customary; not usual. 2. not accustomed; not used. adj. —un wont'ed ly, adv. —un wont'ed ness, n.
un world ly (un wōrld'lē), not caring much for the things of this world, such as money, pleasure, and power. adj. —un world'li ness, n.
un wor thi ly (un wēr'thē lē), 1. in a way that is not worthy or honorable; shamefully. 2. not according to one's merits. adv.
un wor thy (un wēr'thē), 1. not worthy; not deserving: Such a silly story is unworthy of belief. 2. base; shameful. adj. —un wor'thi ness, n.
un wound (un wound'), pt. and pp. of unwind. v.
un wrap (un rap'), 1. remove a wrapping from; open. 2. become opened. v., un wrapped, un wrap ping.
un writ ten (un rit'n), 1. not written. 2. understood or customary, but not actually expressed in writing. 3. not written on; blank. adj.

unwritten law, 1. law that is based on custom or on decisions of previous judges, rather than on a written command, decree, statute, etc.; common law. 2. principle that a man has a right to receive lenient treatment if he kills a person who has seduced his wife or daughter.
un yoke (un yōk'), 1. free from a yoke; separate; disconnect. 2. remove a yoke. v., un yoked, un yok ing.
up (up), 1. from a lower to a higher place or condition; to, toward, or near the top: The bird flew up. 2. in a higher place or condition; on or at a higher level: He stayed up in the mountains several days. 3. to or at a higher place on or in: The cat ran up the tree. 4. to, toward, or near the top of: They climbed up the hill. 5. from a smaller to a larger amount: Prices have gone up. 6. advanced; forward. 7. along; through: She walked up the street. 8. toward or in the inner or upper part of: We sailed up the river. He lives up state. 9. to or at any point, place, or condition that is considered higher: He lives up north. 10. moving upward; directed upward: an up trend. 11. an upward movement, course, or slope. 12. piece of good luck. 13. above the horizon: The sun is up. 14. in or into an erect position: Stand up. 15. above the ground: The wheat is up. 16. out of bed: Get up. 17. thoroughly; completely; entirely: The house burned up. 18. at an end; over: His time is up now. 19. in or into being or action: Don't stir up trouble. 20. together: Add these up. 21. to or in an even position; not behind: catch up in a race, keep up with the times. 22. near; close. 23. in or into view, notice, or consideration: bring up a new topic. 24. in or into a state of tightness, etc.: Shut him up in his cage. 25. into safekeeping, storage, etc.; aside; by: store up supplies. 26. with much knowledge or skill. 27. at bat in baseball. 28. ahead of an opponent by a certain number: We are three games up. 29. in tennis, etc., apiece; for each one. 30. put up. 31. get up. 1,2,5,9,13-21, 23-25, 27,29 adv., 3,4,7,8 prep., 6,10,13,15,16,21,22,26-28 adj., 11,12 n., 30,31 v., upped, up ping.
up against, Informal. facing as a thing to be dealt with.
up and doing, busy; active.
up to, 1. doing; about to do. 2. equal to; capable of doing: up to a task. 3. plotting; scheming: What are you up to? 4. Informal. before (a person) as a duty or task to be done.
up braid (up brād'), find fault with; blame; reprove: The captain upbraided his men for falling asleep. v.
up braid ing (up brād'ing), 1. a severe reproof; scolding. 2. full of reproach. 1 n., 2 adj.
up bring ing (up'bring'ing), care and training given to a child while growing up; bringing-up. n.
up date (up dāt' for 1; up'dāt' for 2), 1. bring up to date. 2. information brought up to date for use in a computer, spacecraft, etc. 1 v., up dat ed, up dat ing; 2 n.
up end (up end'), set on end; stand on end: If you upend the box it will take up less space. v.
up grade (up'grād'), 1. an upward slope or incline. 2. uphill. 3. raise to a higher position with a higher salary. 1 n., 2 adv., adj., 3 v., up grad ed, up grad ing.
on the upgrade, rising; improving. up heav al (up hēv'l), a heaving up; being heaved up. n.
up heave (up hēv'), 1. heave up; lift up. 2. rise. v., up heaved or up hove, up heav ing. up held (up held'), pt. and pp. of uphold. v.
up hill (up'hil' for 1, 3; up'hil' for 2), 1. up the slope

In each of the words below un means not; the pronunciation of the main part of the word is not changed, but the syllable un has a slight secondary accent.

un twist'ed
 un typ'i cal
 un u'sa ble
 un ut'tered
 un vac'ei nat'ed un val'ued
 un var'ied un veiled'

un ven'ti lat'ed
 un ver'i fi'a ble
 un war'rant ed
 un versed'
 un vexed'
 un vis'it ed
 un voiced'
 un wak'ened

un want'ed un war'like'
 un war'rant ed
 un washed'
 un watched'
 un wa'ver ing
 un weaned'
 un wea'ry ing

un weath'ered un wed'
 un wed'ded
 un weed'ed
 un wife'ly
 un wink'ing un wit'nessed
 un wom'an ly

un work'a ble
 un work'man like'
 un worn'
 un wound'ed
 un wo'ven
 un wrin'kled
 un wrought'
 un yield'ing

of a hill; upward: It is an uphill road all the way. 2. upward: a mile uphill. 3. difficult: an uphill fight. 1,3 adj., 2 adv.

up hold (up hōld'), 1. give moral support to; confirm: The principal upheld the teacher's decision. 2. hold up; keep from falling; support. 3. sustain; approve; confirm: The higher court upheld the lower court's decision. v., up held, up hold ing. —up hold'er, n.

up hol ster (up hōl'stər), 1. provide (furniture) with coverings, cushions, springs, stuffing, etc. 2. furnish (a room) with curtains, rugs, etc. v.

up hol ster er (up hōl'stər ə), person whose business is to cover furniture and to furnish and put in place curtains, cushions, carpets, and hangings. n.

up hol ster y (up hōl'stər ē), 1. the fittings or decorations supplied by an upholsterer; coverings for furniture; curtains, cushions, carpets, and hangings. 2. business of upholstering. n., pl. up hol ster ies.

UPI or U.P.I., United Press International.

up keep (up'kēp'), 1. maintenance. 2. cost of operating and repair: The upkeep of a big car is expensive. n.

up land (up'land or up'land'), 1. high land. 2. of high land; living or growing on high land: upland meadows, upland flowers. 1 n., 2 adj.

up lift (up lift' for 1, 3, 5; up'lift' for 2, 4, 6), 1. lift up; raise. 2. act of lifting up. 3. exalt emotionally or spiritually. 4. emotional or spiritual exaltation. 5. raise socially or morally. 6. social or moral improvement or effort toward it. 1,3,5 v., 2,4,6 n.

up most (up'mōst), uppermost. adj.

up on (ə pŏn'), on. prep.

up per (up'ər), 1. higher: the upper lip, the upper floor. 2. higher in rank, office, etc.; superior: the upper house of a legislature. 3. farther from the sea. 4. part of a shoe or boot above the sole. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

on one's uppers, Informal. 1. with the soles of one's shoes worn out. 2. very shabby or poor.

Upper Canada, a former province in central Canada. It is now part of the province of Ontario.

upper case, capital letters.

up per-case (up'ər kās'), in capital letters. adj.

up per-class (up'ər klas'), 1. of or having to do with a superior class. 2. in universities, schools, etc., of or having to do with the junior and senior classes. adj.

up per class man (up'ər klas'mən), junior or senior. n., pl. up per class men.

up per cut (up'ər kut'), 1. in boxing, a swinging blow directed upward from beneath. 2. strike with an uppercut. 1 n., 2 v., up per cut, up per cut ting.

upper hand, control; advantage.

Upper House, the higher or more restricted house in a legislature, deliberative body, etc. The Senate is the Upper House in Congress.

up per most (up'ər mōst), 1. highest; topmost. 2. having the most force or influence; most prominent. 3. in the highest place. 4. first. 1,2 adj., 3,4 adv.

Upper Volta (vol'tə), republic in W Africa north of Ghana. 3,600,000 pop.; 105,800 sq. mi. Capital: Ouagadougou.

up pi ty (up'ə tē), U.S. Informal. somewhat arrogant, self-assertive, or conceited. adj.

up raise (up rāz'), raise up; lift. v., up raised, up-raising.

up right (up'rīt' or up rīt'), 1. standing up straight; erect. 2. straight up; in a vertical position: Hold yourself upright. 3. vertical or upright position. 4. something upright; vertical part or piece. 5. good; honest; righteous: an upright man. 1,5 adj., 2 adv., 3,4 n. —up/right/ly, adv. —up/right/ness, n.

up rise (up rīz' for 1, 3, 4; up'rīz' for 2), 1. rise up. 2. a rising up; upward rise. 3. slope upward. 4. increase in volume, amount, etc. 1,3,4 v., up rose, up-ris en, up ris ing; 2 n.

up ris en (up rīz'n), pp. of uprise. v.

up ris ing (up'rīz'ing or up rīz'ing), 1. revolt: an uprising of the savage tribes. 2. a rising up. 3. an upward slope; ascent. n.

up roar (up'rōr'), 1. a noisy or violent disturbance: Main Street was in an uproar when the lion escaped during the circus parade. 2. a loud or confused noise. n.

up roar ious (up rōr'ē əs), 1. noisy and disorderly: an uproarious crowd. 2. loud and confused: uproarious laughter. adj. —up roar'ious ly, adv. —up roar'ious ness, n.

up root (up rūt'), 1. tear up by the roots: The storm uprooted many trees. 2. remove completely. v.

up rose (up rōz'), pt. of uprise. v.

up set (up set' for 1, 4, 7; up'set' for 2, 5, 7; up set' or up'set' for 3, 6), 1. tip over; overturn: upset a boat. 2. a tipping over; overturn. 3. tipped over; overturned. 4. disturb greatly; disorder: Rain upset our plans for a picnic. The shock upset her nerves. 5. a great disturbance; disorder. 6. greatly disturbed; disordered: an upset stomach. 7. overthrow; defeat: upset a will, upset an argument. 1,4,7 v., up set, up set ting; 2,5,7 n., 3,6 adj.

upset price, the lowest price at which a thing offered for sale will be sold.

up shot (up'shot'), 1. conclusion; result. 2. the essential facts. n.

up side (up'sid'), the upper side. n.

upside down, 1. having what should be on top at the bottom: The slice of bread and butter fell upside down on the floor. 2. in complete disorder: The room was upside down.

up stage (up'stāj'), 1. toward or at the back of the stage. 2. Informal. haughty; aloof; supercilious. 1 adv., 1,2 adj.

up stairs (up'stārz'), 1. up the stairs. 2. on an upper floor. 3. the upper story. 4. Informal. of aircraft, in the air, especially at a high altitude. 1,2,4 adv., 2 adj., 3 n.

up stand ing (up stan'ding), 1. standing up; erect. 2. straight and tall; well-grown. 3. honorable. adj.

up start (up'stärt'), 1. person who has suddenly risen from a humble position to wealth, power, or importance. 2. suddenly risen from a humble position to wealth, power, or importance. 3. an unpleasant, conceited, and self-assertive person. 4. conceited; self-assertive. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

up state (up'stāt'), U.S. 1. of the more inland or northern part of a State. 2. the more inland or northern part of a State, used especially in New York State. 1 adj., 2 n.

up stream (up'strēm'), against the current of a stream; up a stream. adv., adj.

up swing (up'swing'), 1. an upward swing; movement upward. 2. marked improvement; strong advance. n.

up thrust (up'thrust'), 1. an upward push. 2. movement upward of part of the earth's crust. n.

up-to-date (up'tə dāt'), 1. extending to the present time: an up-to-date record. 2. keeping up with the times in style, ideas, etc.; modern: an up-to-date store. adj.

up town (up'toun' for adv.; up'toun' for adj.), to or in the upper part of a town: go uptown (adv.), an uptown store (adj.). adv., adj.

up turn (up tēr'n' for 1; up'tēr'n' for 2), 1. turn up. 2. an upward turn. 1 v., 2 n.

up turned (up tērnd'), 1. turned upward. 2. turned over; overturned. 3. turned up at the end. adj.

up ward (up'wərd), 1. toward a higher place. 2. directed or moving toward a higher place; in a higher position. 3. toward a higher or greater rank, amount, age, etc.: From ten years of age upward, Jane had studied French. 4. above; more: Children of five years and upward must pay carfare. 5. toward the source: We traced the brook upward. 1,3-5 adv., 2 adj.

upward of, more than: Repairs will cost upward of $100.
upwardly (up'wərd lē), in an upward manner or direction; upward. adv.
upwards (up'wərdz), upward. adv.

Ur (ēr), city in ancient Babylonia, on the Euphrates River. n.

Ur, uranium.

Ural Mountains

(yūr'əl), range or chain of mountains in central Soviet Union, between Europe and Asia. The highest peak is 6184 feet.

Ural River, river flowing S from the Ural Mountains into the Caspian Sea. 1400 mi.

Urals (yūr'əlz), the Ural Mountains. n.pl.

urani um (yū rā'nē əm), a heavy, white, radioactive metallic element. The uranium isotope, U²³⁵, can sustain efficient chain reaction and is for this reason used in the atomic bomb. Symbol: U or Ur n.

Ura nus (yūr'ə nəs), 1. a Greek god, the father of the Titans and the Cyclopes. 2. one of the larger planets, seventh in order from the sun. n.

ur ban (ēr'bən), 1. of or having to do with cities or towns. 2. living in cities. 3. characteristic of cities. 4. accustomed to cities. adj.

ur bane (ēr bān'), 1. courteous; refined; elegant. 2. smoothly polite. adj. —ur bane/ly, adv. —ur-bane/ness, n.

ur ban i ty (ēr ban'ə tē), 1. courtesy; refinement; elegance. 2. smooth politeness. n., pl. ur ban i ties.

ur ban ize (ēr'bən iz), v. render urban: urbanize a district or its people. v., ur ban ized, ur ban iz ing. —ur-ban i za'tion, n.

ur chin (ēr'chən), 1. a small boy. 2. a mischievous boy. 3. a poor, ragged child: Urchins played in the streets. 4. Archaic. hedgehog. 5. sea urchin. 6. elf. n.

Ur du (ūr'dū), a language spoken in India. Urdu is the Moslem form of Hindustani. n.

-ure, suffix meaning:

1. act or fact of —ing, as in failure.
2. state of being —ed, as in pleasure.
3. result of —ing, as in enclosure.
4. thing that —s, as in legislation.
5. thing that is —ed, as in disclosure.
6. other special meanings, as in procedure, sculpture.

ure a (yū rē'ə), a soluble crystalline solid present in the urine of mammals. Synthesized urea is frequently used in making adhesives and plastics. n.

ure mi a (yū rē'mē ə), a poisoned condition resulting from the accumulation in the blood of waste products that should normally be eliminated in the urine. n.

ure mic (yū rē'mik), 1. of or having to do with uremia. 2. suffering from uremia. adj.

urge (ērj), 1. drive with force, threats, etc.; push forward with effort: The rider urged on his horse with whip and spurs. 2. a driving force or impulse: The urge of hunger led him to beg. 3. try to persuade with arguments; ask earnestly: They urged him to stay. 4. plead or argue earnestly for; recommend strongly: Motorists urged better roads. 5. press upon the attention; refer to often and with emphasis: urge a claim, urge an argument. 6. act of urging. 1,3-5 v., urged, urging; 2,6 n.

ur gen cy (ēr'jən sē), 1. urgent character; need for immediate action or attention: A house on fire is a matter of great urgency. 2. insistence. n., pl. ur gen cies.

ur gent (ēr'jənt), 1. demanding immediate action or attention; pressing; important: an urgent duty, an urgent message. 2. insistent. adj. —ur'gent ly, adv.

ur ic (yūr'ik), of or having to do with urine or urea. adj.
uric acid, a solid white substance only slightly soluble in water, that is formed in the body as a waste product from proteins.

u ri nal (yūr'ə nl), 1. container for urine. 2. place for urinating. n.

u ri nal y sis (yūr'ə nal'ə sis), analysis of a sample of urine. n., pl. u ri nal y ses (-sēz).

u ri nar y (yūr'ə ner'ē), 1. of or having to do with urine. 2. of or having to do with the organs that secrete and discharge urine. 3. urinal. 1,2 adj., 3 n., pl. u ri nar ies.

u ri nate (yūr'ə nāt), discharge urine from the body. v., u ri nated, u ri nat ing.

u ri na tion (yūr'ə nā'shən), act or process of urinating. n.

u rine (yūr'ən), the fluid that is secreted by the kidneys, passes into the bladder, and is then discharged from the body. n.

Ornamental urn

urn (ēr'n), 1. vase with a foot or pedestal. Urns were used in Greece and Rome to hold the ashes of the dead. 2. place of burial; grave; tomb. 3. a coffee pot or teapot with a faucet, used for making or serving coffee or tea at the table. n.

Ur sa Ma jor (ēr'sə mā'jər), the northern constellation that includes the stars of the Big Dipper; the Great Bear.

Ur sa Mi nor (ēr'sə mī'nər), the northern constellation that includes the stars of the Little Dipper; the Little Bear.

ur sine (ēr'sin), 1. of or having to do with bears; bearlike. 2. covered with bristlelike hairs: ursine caterpillars. adj.

Ur su la (ēr'sl ə or ēr'syū lə), Saint, British martyr, said to have been put to death with 11,000 virgins by an army of Huns at Cologne. n.

Uru., Uruguay.

U ru guay (yūr'ə gwā or yūr'ə gwī), 1. country in the SE part of South America. 2,800,000 pop.; 72,172 sq. mi. Capital: Montevideo. See South America for map. 2. river flowing from S Brazil into the Plata River. 981 mi. n.

U ru guay an (yūr'ə gwā'ən or yūr'ə gwī'ən), 1. of or having to do with Uruguay or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Uruguay. 1 adj., 2 n.

u rus (yūr'əs), an extinct wild ox that was common in Europe 2000 years ago. n.

us (us; unstressed əs), the objective case of we. Mother went with us. pron.

U.S., the United States.

U.S.A., 1. the United States of America. 2. the United States Army.

us a bil i ty (ūz'ə bil'ə tē), being usable. n.

us a ble (ūz'ə bl), that can be used; fit for use. adj. Also, useable. —us'a ble ness, n.

USAF or U.S.A.F., United States Air Force.

us age (ūs'ij or ūz'ij), 1. way or manner of using; treatment: The car has had rough usage. 2. a long-continued practice; customary use; habit; custom: Travelers should learn many of the usages of the countries they visit. 3. the customary way of using words: Usage determines what is good English. n.

use (ūz for 1-4; ūs for 5-13), 1. put into action or service: He used a knife to cut the meat. 2. act toward; treat: He used us well. 3. consume or expend by using: We have used most of the money. 4. avail oneself of: May I use your telephone? 5. a using: the use of tools. 6. being used: methods long out of use. 7. usefulness: a thing of no practical use. 8. purpose that a thing is used for: find a new use for something. 9. way of using: poor use of a material. 10. need; occasion: He had no further use for it. 11. power, right, or privilege of using: have the use of a boat for the summer. 12. custom; habit; usage: It was his use to rise early. 13. in law, benefit or profit of property held by someone for the beneficiary. 1-4 v., used, us ing; 5-13 n. —us'er, n.

Coffee urn

have no use for, 1. not need or want. 2. Informal. dislike.
in use, - being used.
make use of, use; employ.
put to use, use.
used (ūs or ūs) to, 1. accustomed to: used to hardships. 2. formerly did: He used to come every day.
use up, 1. consume or expend entirely. 2. Informal. tire out; weary; exhaust.
use a ble (ūz'ə bl), usable. adj.
used (ūzd), not new; that has belonged to another or others: a used car. adj.
use ful (ūs'fəl), of use; giving service; helpful. adj.
 —use/ful ly, adv. —use/ful ness, n.
use less (ūs'lis), of no use; worthless. adj. —use/less ly, adv. —use/less ness, n.
U-shaped (ū'shāpt'), having the shape of the letter U. adj.
usher (ush'ər), 1. person who shows people to their seats in a church, theater, etc. 2. U.S. a male friend of the bride or groom serving as an usher at a wedding. 3. conduct; escort; show: He ushered the visitors to the door. 4. Brit. an assistant teacher in an English school. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.
U.S.M., 1. United States Mail. 2. United States Marine.
USMC or U.S.M.C., United States Marine Corps.
USN or U.S.N., United States Navy.
U.S.S., 1. United States Ship, Steamer, or Steamship. 2. United States Senate.
U.S.S.R. or USSR, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. u su al (ū'zhū əl), in common use; ordinary; customary: This is the usual weather at this time of year. adj.
 —u/su al ness, n.
as usual, in the usual manner.
u su al ly (ū'zhū əl ē), according to what is usual; commonly; ordinarily; customarily. adv.
U sum bu ra (ū'səm būr'ə), capital of Burundi. 46,000. n. u su rer (ū'zhə rər), person who lends money at an extremely high or unlawful rate of interest. n. u su ri ous (ū zhūr'ē əs), 1. taking extremely high or unlawful interest for the use of money. 2. of or having to do with usury: Fifty per cent is a usurious rate of interest. adj.
u surp (ū zərp'), seize and hold (power, position, authority, etc.) by force or without right: The king's brother tried to usurp the throne. v. —u surp'er, n.
u sur pa tion (ū'zər pā'shən), the seizing and holding of the place or power of another by force or without right: the usurpation of the throne by a pretender. n. u su ry (ū'zhə rē), 1. the lending of money at an extremely high or unlawful rate of interest. 2. an extremely high or unlawful interest. n., pl. u su ries.
Ut., Utah.
U tah (ū'tō or ū'tā), a Western State of the United States. 891,000 pop.; 84,990 sq. mi. Capital: Salt Lake City. Abbrev.: Ut. n. —U'tah an, adj., n.
Ute (ūt), member of a group of American Indian tribes now living in Utah and Colorado. n. u ten sil (ū ten'sl), 1. container or implement used for practical purposes. Pots, pans, kettles, and mops are kitchen utensils. 2. instrument or tool used for some special purpose. Pens and pencils are writing utensils. n.

u ter us (ū'tər əs), the part of the body in mammals that holds and nourishes the young till birth; womb. n., pl. u ter i (-tər ī).
U ther (ū'thər), a legendary king of ancient Britain. He was the father of King Arthur. n.
U ti ca (ū'tə kə), city in central New York State. 100,000. n. u til i tar i an (ū til'ə tār'ē ən), 1. having to do with utility. 2. aiming at usefulness rather than beauty, style, etc. 3. adherent of utilitarianism. 1,2 adj., 3 n.
u til i tar i an ism (ū til'ə tār'ē ən iz'm), 1. the doctrine or belief that the greatest good of the greatest number should be the purpose of human conduct. 2. the doctrine or belief that actions are good if they are useful. n.
u til i ty (ū til'ə tē), 1. usefulness; power to satisfy people's needs. 2. a useful thing. 3. company that performs a public service. Railroads, bus lines, and gas and electric companies are utilities. n., pl. u til i ties.
u ti li za tion (ū'tl ə zā'shən), a utilizing or being utilized. n.
u ti lize (ū'tl iz), make use of; put to some practical use: utilize leftovers in cooking. v., u ti lized, u ti liz ing. —u'ti liz'a ble, adj. —u'ti liz'er, n.
ut most (ut'mōst), 1. greatest possible; extreme: Sunshine is of the utmost importance to health. 2. most distant; farthest: He walked to the utmost edge of the cliff. 3. the most that is possible; extreme limit: He enjoyed himself to the utmost. 1,2 adj., 3 n.
U to pi a or u to pi a (ū tō'pē ə), 1. an ideal place or state with perfect laws. 2. a visionary, impractical system of political or social perfection. n.
U to pi an or u to pi an (ū tō'pē ən), 1. visionary; impractical. 2. an ardent but impractical reformer; idealist. 1 adj., 2 n. u to pi an ism (ū tō'pē ən iz'm), ideas, beliefs, and aims of Utopians; ideal schemes for the improvement of life, social conditions, etc. n.
U trecht (ū'trekt), city in the central part of the Netherlands. 254,000. n. ut ter (ut'ər), complete; total; absolute: utter surprise. adj.
ut ter (ut'ər), 1. speak; make known; express: utter one's thoughts. 2. give; give out: He uttered a cry of pain. v. —ut/ter a ble, adj. —ut/ter er, n.
ut ter ance (ut'ər əns), 1. an uttering; expression in words or sounds: The child gave utterance to his grief. 2. way of speaking. 3. something uttered; a spoken word or words. n.
ut ter ly (ut'ər lē), completely; totally; absolutely. adv.
ut ter most (ut'ər mōst), utmost. adj., n.
u vu la (ū'vyə lə), the small piece of flesh hanging down from the soft palate in the back of the mouth. n., pl. u vu las, u vu lae (-lē).
ux o ri ous (uks ō'rē əs), excessively or foolishly fond of one's wife. adj. —ux o'ri ous ness, n.
Uz bek (uz'bek), a constituent republic of the Soviet Union, in central Asia north of Afghanistan. 8,113,000 pop.; 157,335 sq. mi. Capital: Tashkent. n.

V

V or v (vē), 1. the 22nd letter of the alphabet. 2. the Roman numeral for 5. n., pl. V's or v's.
V, 1. vanadium. 2. volt.
v, volt.
v., 1. verb. 2. versus.
VA or V.A., Veterans Administration.

Va., the State of Virginia.
Vaal (vāl), river flowing from SW Africa into the Orange River. 700 mi. n. va can cy (vā'kən sē), 1. state of being vacant; emptiness. 2. an unoccupied position: Mr. Smith's death made a vacancy in the business. 3. state of being or becoming hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

unoccupied. 4. a room, space, or apartment for rent; empty space. 5. lack of thought or intelligence. n., pl. va can cies.

va cant (vā'kənt), 1. not occupied: a vacant house. 2. empty; not filled: a vacant space. 3. without thought or intelligence: a vacant smile. 4. free from work, business, etc.: vacant time. adj. —va'cant ly, adv.

va cate (vā'kāt), 1. go away from and leave empty or unoccupied; make vacant: They will vacate the house at the end of the month. 2. leave. 3. make void; annul; cancel. v., va cat ed, va cat ing.

va ca tion (vā'kā'shən), 1. time of rest and freedom from work: There is a vacation from schoolwork every year at Christmas. 2. take a vacation. 3. a vacating. 1,3 n., 2 v. —va ca'tion er, n. —va ca'tion less, adj.

va ca tion ist (vā'kā'shən ist), person who is taking a vacation. n.

vac ci nate (vak'sə nāt), 1. inoculate with vaccine as a protection against smallpox. 2. take similar measures against other diseases. v., vac ci nat ed, vac ci nat ing.

vac ci na tion (vak'sə nā'shən), 1. act or process of vaccinating: Vaccination has made smallpox a very rare disease. 2. scar where vaccine was injected. n.

vac cine (vak'sēn), 1. the germs causing cowpox, used for the protection of people against smallpox. 2. any preparation of disease germs, or the like, that is used for preventive inoculation. n.

vac il late (vas'l āl), 1. move first one way and then another; waver. 2. waver in mind or opinion: A vacillating person finds it hard to make up his mind. v., vac il lat ed, vac il lat ing.

vac il la tion (vas'ē lā'shən), 1. unsteadiness; swaying. 2. a wavering in mind or opinion. n.

va cu i ty (va kū'ā tē), 1. emptiness. 2. an empty space; vacuum. 3. lack of thought or intelligence. 4. something foolish or stupid. n., pl. va cu i ties.

vac u ole (vak'yū ōl), 1. a tiny cavity in a living cell, containing fluid. 2. formerly, any very small cavity in organic tissue. n.

vac u ous (vak'yū əs), 1. showing no thought or intelligence; foolish; stupid. 2. empty. adj. —vac'u ous ly, adv.

vac u um (vak'yū əm), 1. an empty space without even air in it. 2. space from which almost all air, gas, etc., has been removed. 3. an empty space; void. 4. vacuum cleaner. 5. Informal. clean with a vacuum cleaner. 1-4 n., pl. vac u ums, (except for def. 4) vac u a (vak'yū ə); 5 v.

vacuum bottle, bottle surrounded by a container, with a vacuum between, used to keep liquids hot or cold.

vacuum cleaner, apparatus for cleaning carpets, curtains, floors, etc., by suction.

vacuum pump, 1. pump or device by which a partial vacuum can be produced. 2. pump in which a partial vacuum is utilized to raise water.

vacuum tube, a sealed tube or bulb from which almost all the air has been removed, and into which electrodes from outside project. Vacuum tubes are used in radio sets to control the flow of electric currents.

Va duz (vā düz'), capital of Liechtenstein. 3000. n.

vag a bond (vag'ə bond), 1. an idle wanderer; wanderer; tramp. 2. wandering: The gypsies lead a vagabond life. 3. a good-for-nothing person; rascal. 4. good-for-nothing; worthless. 5. moving hither and thither; drifting. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 adj.

vag a bond age (vag'ə bon'dij), fact or state of being a vagabond; idle wandering. n.

va gar y (və gār'ē or vā'gə rē), 1. an odd fancy; extravagant notion: the vagaries of a dream. 2. odd action; caprice; freak: the vagaries of women's fashions. n., pl. va gar ies.

va gi na (və jī'nə), 1. in female mammals, the passage from the uterus to the vulva or external opening. 2. sheath; sheathlike part. n., pl. va gi nas, va gi nae (-nē).

vag i nal (vaj'ə nl or vā jī'nl), 1. having to do with the vagina of a female mammal. 2. of or resembling a sheath. adj.

va gran cy (vā'grān sē), 1. a wandering idly from place to place without proper means or ability to earn a living: The tramp was arrested for vagrancy. 2. a wandering. 3. a vagrant act or idea. n., pl. va gran cies.

va grant (vā'grānt), 1. an idle wanderer; tramp. 2. wanderer. 3. moving in no definite direction or course; wandering. 4. wandering without proper means of earning a living. 5. of or having to do with a vagrant. 1,2 n., 3-5 adj. —va'grant ly, adv.

vague (vāg), not definite; not clear; not distinct: In a fog everything looks vague. Nobody can be sure just what a vague statement means. adj., va guer, va guest. —vague'ly, adv. —vague'ness, n.

va gus (vā'gəs), either of a pair of nerves, extending from the brain to the heart, lungs, stomach, and other organs. n., pl. va gi (vā'jī).

vain (vān), 1. having too much pride in one's looks, ability, etc.: She is vain of her beauty. 2. of no use; without effect or success; producing no good result: I made vain attempts to reach her by telephone. 3. of no value or importance; worthless; empty: a vain boast. adj. —vain'ness, n.

in vain, without effect or success: The drowning man shouted in vain, for no one could hear him.

vain glo ri ous (vān'glō'rē əs), excessively proud or boastful; extremely vain. adj. —vain'glo'ri ous ly, adv.

vain glo ry (vān'glō'rē), 1. an extreme pride in oneself; boastful vanity. 2. worthless pomp or show. n.

vain ly (vān'lē), 1. in vain. 2. with conceit. adv.

vair (vār), a gray-and-white squirrel fur used for lining and trimming the robes of nobles in the Middle Ages. n.

val ance (val'əns), 1. a short drapery over the top of a window. 2. a short curtain hanging around a bed from the frame to the floor. n.

vale (vāl), Poetic. valley. n.

val e dic tion (val'ə dik'shən), a bidding farewell. n.

val e dic to ri an (val'ə dik tō'rē ən), the student who gives the farewell address at the graduating exercises. The valedictorian is often the student who ranks highest in his class. n.

val e dic to ry (val'ə dik'tə rē), 1. a farewell address, especially at the graduating exercises of a school or college. 2. bidding farewell. 1 n., pl. val e dic to ries; 2 adj.

va lence (vā'ləns), quality of an atom or radical that determines the number of other atoms or radicals with which it can combine, indicated by the number of hydrogen atoms with which it can combine or which it can displace. Elements whose atoms lose electrons, such as hydrogen and the metals, have a positive valence. Elements whose atoms add electrons, such as oxygen and other nonmetals, have a negative valence. Oxygen has a negative valence of two; hydrogen has a positive valence of one; one atom of oxygen combines with two of hydrogen to form a molecule of water. n.

Va len cia (və len'shə), seaport in E Spain. 544,000. n.

Va len ci en nes (və len'sē ənz' for 1; vā lən syen' for 2), 1. a fine lace in which the pattern and background are made together of the same threads. 2. city in N France. 43,000. n.

val en tine (val'ən tīn), 1. a greeting card or small gift sent on Saint Valentine's Day, February 14. 2. a sweetheart chosen on this day. n.

Val en tine (val'ən tīn), Saint, Christian martyr of the third century A.D. n.

Valentine's Day, Saint Valentine's Day, day on which valentines are exchanged, February 14.

Valance (def. 2)

va le ri an (və lîr'ē ən), 1. a strong-smelling drug used to quiet the nerves. 2. the plant from whose root it is made. Valerian has small pinkish or white flowers and is often grown in gardens. n.

val et (val'it or val'ā), 1. servant who takes care of a man's clothes, helps him dress, etc. 2. a similar employee in a hotel who cleans or presses clothes. 3. serve as a valet. 1,2 n., 3 v., val et ed, val et ing.

Val hal la (val hal'ə), in Norse mythology, the hall where the souls of heroes slain in battle feast with the god Odin. n.

val iant (val'yənt), brave; courageous: a valiant soldier, a valiant deed. adj. —val'iant ly, adv. —val'iant ness, n.

val id (val'id), 1. supported by facts or authority; sound; true: a valid argument. 2. having legal force; legally binding: A contract made by an insane man is not valid. 3. having force; holding good; effective: Illness is a valid excuse for being absent from work. adj. —val'id ly, adv.

val i date (val'ə dāt), 1. make or declare legally binding; give legal force to. 2. support by facts or authority; confirm: The farmer's deed validated his claim to the land. v., val i dat ed, val i dat ing.

val i d i ty (və lîd'ə tē), 1. truth; soundness: the validity of an argument. 2. legal soundness or force; being legally binding: the validity of a contract. 3. effectiveness. n., pl. val i d i ties.

va lise (və lēs'), a traveling bag to hold clothes, etc. n.

Valk yr (val'kir), Valkyrie. n.

Valk yr ie (val kir'ē), in Norse mythology, one of the handmaidens of Odin, who ride through the air and hover over battlefields, choosing the heroes who are to die in battle and afterward leading them to Valhalla. n.

Val let ta (və let'ə), capital of Malta. 19,000. n.

val ley (val'ē), 1. low land between hills or mountains. 2. a wide region drained by a great river system: the Mississippi valley. 3. any hollow or structure like a valley. 4. depression formed by the sloping sides of a roof. n., pl. val leys.

Val ley Forge, village in southeastern Pennsylvania, near which Washington and his army spent the winter of 1777-1778.

Va lois (val'wä), 1. a former district in N France. 2. a French royal house that ruled from 1328 to 1589. n.

val or (val'ər), bravery; courage. n.

val or ous (val'ər əs), valiant; brave; courageous. adj. —val'or ous ly, adv. —val'or ous ness, n.

val our (val'ər), Esp. Brit. valor. n.

Val pa rai so (val'pə ri'zō), seaport in central Chile. 250,000. n.

valse (väs), French. waltz. n.

val u a ble (val'yü ə bl), 1. having value; being worth something: a valuable ring, valuable information, a valuable friend. 2. having great value: He has a valuable stamp collection. 3. that can have its value measured. 4. an article of value: She keeps her jewelry and other valuables in a safe. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —val'u a ble ness, n. —val'u a bly, adv.

val u a tion (val'yü ə' shən), 1. value estimated or determined: The jeweler's valuation of the necklace was $10,000. 2. an estimating or determining of the value of something. n.

val ue (val'yü), 1. worth; excellence; usefulness; importance: the value of education. 2. the real worth; proper price: He bought the house for less than its value. 3. power to buy: The value of the dollar has varied greatly. 4. rate at a certain value or price; estimate the value of: The land is valued at $5000. 5. estimated worth: He placed a value on his furniture. 6. think highly of; regard highly: value one's judgment. 7. meaning; effect; force: the value of a symbol. 8. number or amount represented by a symbol: The value of XIV is fourteen. 9. the relative length of a tone in music indicated by a note. 10. special quality of sound in speech. 11. degree of lightness or darkness in a painting, etc. 12. the relative importance or effect of an object, part, spot of color, etc., in a painting. 1-3,5,7-12 n., 4,6 v., val ued, val u ing. —val'u er, n.

values, the established ideals of life.

val ued (val'yüd), 1. having its value estimated or determined. 2. regarded highly. adj.

val ue less (val'yü lis), without value; worthless. adj.

val ve (valv), 1. a movable part that controls the flow of a liquid, gas, etc., through a pipe by opening and closing the passage. A faucet is one kind of valve.

2. a membrane that works similarly. The valves of the heart control the flow of blood. 3. control the flow of (a liquid, gas, etc.) by a valve. 4. one of the parts of hinged shells like those of oysters and clams. 5. one of the sections formed when a seed vessel bursts open. 6. section that opens like a lid when an anther opens. 7. radio tube. 8. device in musical wind instruments for changing the pitch of the tone by changing the direction and length of the column of air. Cornets and French horns have valves. 1,2,4-8 n., 3 v., val ved, val v ing. —val ve less, adj. —val ve like, adj.

val vu lar (val'vyə lər), 1. having to do with valves, especially with the valves of the heart. 2. having the form of a valve.

3. furnished with valves; working by valves. adj.

vamp¹ (vamp), 1. the upper front part of a shoe or foot. 2. furnish with a vamp; repair with a new vamp. 3. piece or patch added to an old thing to make it look new. 4. patch up; make (an old thing) look new. 1,3 n., 2,4 v. —vamp'er, n.

vamp up, 1. make (something old) appear new. 2. make up to deceive.

vamp² (vamp), Slang. 1. an unscrupulous flirt. 2. flirt with. 1 n., 2 v.

vam pire (vam'pir), 1. a corpse supposed to come to life at night and suck the blood of people while they sleep. 2. person who preys ruthlessly on others. 3. woman who flirts with men to get money or to please her vanity. 4. any of various South and Central American bats which suck blood, or are incorrectly supposed to do so, including true vampires, a species which actually sucks the blood of animals and men. n.

van¹ (van), the front part of an army, fleet, or other advancing group. n.

van² (van), 1. a covered truck or wagon for moving furniture, etc. 2. Brit. a railroad baggage car. n.

va na di um (və nā'dē əm), a rare metallic element used in making certain kinds of steel. Symbol: V n.

vanadium steel, steel containing some vanadium to make it tougher and harder.

Van Allen radiation belt (van al'ən), broad band of radiation about the earth, consisting of electrons apparently trapped by the earth's magnetic field.

Van Bu ren (van byür'ən), Martin, 1782-1862, the eighth president of the United States, from 1837 to 1841.

Van cou ver (van kü'vər), 1. seaport in SW Canada. 377,000. 2. island in the Pacific Ocean, just off the SW coast of Canada. It is part of British Columbia. 215,000 pop.; 13,000 sq. mi. n.

Van dal (van'dl), 1. member of a Germanic tribe that ravaged Gaul, Spain, and N Africa. In 455 A.D. the Vandals took Rome. 2. of or having to do with Vandals. 1 n., 2 adj.

van dal (van'dl), 1. person who willfully or ignorantly destroys or damages beautiful or valuable things. 2. destructive. 1 n., 2 adj.

van dal ism (van'dl iz əm), willful or ignorant destruction or damaging of beautiful things. n.

vane (vān), 1. a flat piece of metal, or some other device, fixed upon a spire or some other high object in such a way as to move with the wind and indicate its direction. 2. blade of a windmill, a ship's propeller, etc. 3. the flat, soft part of a feather. n.

Vane (def. 1)

Van Gogh (van gō'), See Gogh.

van guard (van'gārd'), 1. soldiers marching ahead of the main part of an army to clear the way and guard against surprise. 2. the foremost or leading position. 3. leaders of a movement. n.

va nil la (və nil'ə), 1. a flavoring extract used in candy, ice cream, perfume, etc. 2. the tropical plant that yields the beans used in making this flavoring. 3. the bean itself. n.

van ish (van'ish), 1. disappear; disappear suddenly: The sun vanished behind a cloud. 2. pass away; cease to be: Many kinds of animals have vanished from the earth. v. —van'ish er, n.

van ity (van'ə tē), 1. too much pride in one's looks, ability, etc.: The girl's vanity made her look in the mirror often. 2. lack of real value; worthlessness: the vanity of wealth. 3. a useless or worthless thing. 4. worthless pleasure or display. 5. lack of effect or success. 6. a vanity case. 7. a dressing table with an attached mirror. n., pl. van ities.

van quish (vang'kwish), conquer; defeat; overcome. v. —van'quish a ble, adj. —van'quish er, n.

van tage (van'tij), 1. a better position or condition; advantage. 2. the first point scored in a tennis game after deuce. n.

vantage ground, a favorable position.

vap id (vap'id), without much life or flavor; tasteless; dull. adj. —vap'id ly, adv. —vap'id ness, n.

va pid ity (va pid'ə tē), insipidity; flatness of flavor. n.

va por (vā'pər), 1. steam from boiling water; moisture in the air that can be seen; fog; mist. 2. a gas formed from a substance that is usually a liquid or a solid. 3. pass off as vapor. 4. send out in vapor. 5. give out vapor. 6. something without substance; empty fancy. 7. boast; swagger; brag. 1,2,6 n., 3-5,7 v. the vapors, Archaic. low spirits.

va por ish (vā'pər ish), 1. like vapor. 2. abounding in vapor. 3. in low spirits. 4. having to do with or connected with low spirits: vaporish fears. adj.

va por ize (vā'pər iz), change into vapor. v., va por ized, va por iz ing. —va'por iz'a ble, adj. —va'por i za'tion, n.

va por iz er (vā'pər iz'ər), a device for converting a liquid into vapor, such as an apparatus that releases steam into a room for medicinal purposes. n.

va por ous (vā'pər əs), 1. full of vapor; misty. 2. like vapor. 3. soon passing; worthless. adj.

vapor trail, visible stream of moisture left by the engines of a jet plane flying at high altitude.

va por y (vā'pər ē), vaporous. adj.

va que ro (vā kār'ō), Spanish America and Southwestern United States. cowboy. n., pl. va que ros.

var i a bil ity (vār'ē ə bil'ə tē), 1. fact or quality of being variable. 2. tendency to vary. n.

var i a ble (vār'ē ə bl), 1. apt to change; changeable; uncertain: variable winds. 2. that can be varied: This curtain rod is of variable length. 3. a thing or quantity that varies. 4. a shifting wind. 5. deviating from the strict biological type. 1,2,5 adj., 3,4 n. —var'i a ble ness, n. —var'i a bly, adv.

the variables, the region between the northeast and the southeast trade winds.

var i ance (vār'ē əns), 1. difference; disagreement. 2. a varying; change. n.

at variance, differing; disagreeing; in disagreement.

var i ant (vār'ē ənt), 1. varying; different: "Rime" is a variant spelling of "rhyme." 2. variable; changing. 3. a different form. 4. a different pronunciation or spelling of the same word. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

var i a tion (vār'ē ə'shən), 1. a varying in condition, degree, etc.; change. 2. amount of change. 3. a varied or changed form. 4. in music, a tune or theme repeated with changes. 5. a deviation of an animal or plant from type. 6. deviation of a heavenly body from its average orbit or motion. n.

var i col ored (vār'ē kul'ərd), having various colors. adj.

var i cose (var'ə kōs), 1. swollen or enlarged: Her legs are covered with varicose veins. 2. having to do with, affected with, or designed to remedy varicose veins. adj.

var i ed (vār'ēd), 1. of different kinds; having variety: a varied assortment of candies. 2. changed; altered. adj.

var i e gate (vār'ē ə gāt), 1. vary in appearance; mark, spot, or streak with different colors. 2. give variety to. v., var i e gated, var i e gating.

var i e gated (vār'ē ə gāt'id), 1. varied in appearance; marked with different colors: variegated pansies. 2. having variety. adj.

var i e ga tion (vār'ē ə gā'shən), a variegating or being variegated; varied coloring. n.

var i e ty (vā ri'ə tē), 1. lack of sameness; difference; variation: Variety is the spice of life. 2. number of different kinds: The store has a great variety of toys. 3. kind; sort: Which variety of cake do you prefer? 4. a division of a species. 5. Esp. Brit. vaudeville. n., pl. va ri e ties.

var i form (vār'ə fōrm), varied in form; having various forms. adj.

var i ous (vār'ē əs), 1. differing from one another; different: various opinions. 2. several; many: We have looked at various houses, but have decided to buy this one. 3. varied; many-sided: lives made various by learning. 4. varying; changeable. adj. —var'i ous ly, adv.

var let (vār'lit), Archaic. a low fellow; rascal. n.

var mint (vār'mənt), Informal or Dialect. 1. vermin. 2. an objectionable animal or person. n.

var nish (vār'nish), 1. a liquid that gives a smooth, glossy appearance to wood, metal, etc., made from resinous substances dissolved in oil or turpentine. 2. the smooth, hard surface made by this liquid when dry: The varnish on the car has been scratched. 3. put varnish on. 4. a glossy appearance. 5. a false or deceiving appearance; pretense: She covers her selfishness with a varnish of good manners. 6. give a false or deceiving appearance to. 1,2,4,5 n., 3,6 v. —var'nish er, n.

var si ty (vār'sə tē), the most important team in a given sport in a university, college, or school. n., pl. var si ties.

var y (vār'ē), 1. make or become different; change: The driver can vary the speed of an automobile. The weather varies. 2. in music, repeat (a tune or theme) with changes and ornament. 3. be different; differ: The stars vary in brightness. 4. give variety to: vary one's style of writing. 5. alternate. v., var i ed, var y ing. —var'y ing ly, adv.

vas cu lar (vas'kyə lər), having to do with, made of, or provided with vessels that carry blood, sap, etc. adj.

vase (vās), a holder or container used for ornament or for holding flowers. n. —vase'like', adj.

Vas e line (vas'l ēn), Trademark. name for certain petroleum products. n.

vas sal (vas'l), 1. person who held land from a lord or superior, to whom in return he gave help in war or some other service. A great noble could be a vassal of the king and have many other men as his vassals. 2. like a vassal; like that of a vassal. 3. servant. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

vas sal age (vas'l ij), 1. the condition of being a vassal. 2. the homage or service due from a vassal to his lord or superior. 3. dependence; servitude. 4. land held by a vassal. n.

vast (vast), very great; immense: Texas is a vast State. A billion dollars is a vast amount of money. adj. —vastness, n.

vastly (vast'lē), to a vast extent; to a vast degree. adv.

vast (vat), a large container for liquids; tank. n.

Vatican (vat'ə kən), 1. collection of buildings grouped about the palace of the Pope, next to Saint Peter's Church in Rome. 2. the government, office, or authority of the Pope. n.

Vatican City, an independent state inside the city of Rome. It is ruled by the Pope and includes Saint Peter's Church and the Vatican. 1000 pop.; 109 acres.

va tic i nate (və tis'n āt), prophesy. v., va tic i nated, va tic i nat ing.

vau de ville (vō'də vil or vōd'-vil), theatrical entertainment consisting of a variety of acts. Vau de ville consists of songs, dances, acrobatic feats, short plays, trained animals, etc. n.

vault (vōlt), 1. an arched roof or ceiling; series of arches. 2. an arched space or passage. 3. something like an arched roof. The vault of heaven means the sky. 4. make in the form of a vault. 5. cover with a vault. 6. an underground cellar or storehouse. 7. place for storing valuable things and keeping them safe. Vaults are often made of steel. 8. place for burial. 1-3, 6-8 n., 4, 5 v. —vault/like, adj.

Vault of a roof vault (vōlt), 1. jump or leap over by using a pole or the hands: He vaulted the fence. 2. act of vaulting. 3. jump or leap: He vaulted over the wall. 1, 3 v., 2 n.

vault ed (vōlt'id), 1. in the form of a vault; arched. 2. built or covered with a vault: a vaulted room. adj.

vault ing (vōlt'ing), 1. a vaulted structure. 2. vaults collectively. n.

vaunt (vōnt), boast. v., n. —vaunt/ing ly, adv.

V-Day, day marking the complete victory of the Allied Forces in World War II. Dec. 31, 1946.

veal (vēl), flesh of a calf, used for food. n.

vec tor (vek'tər), 1. quantity involving direction as well as magnitude. 2. line representing both the direction and the magnitude of some force, etc. n.

V-E Day, date of the Allied victory in Europe in World War II, May 8, 1945.

veer (vir), 1. change in direction; shift; turn: The wind veered to the south. The talk veered to ghosts. 2. change the direction of: We veered our boat. 3. a shift; turn. 1, 2 v., 3 n.

Ve ga (vē'gə), a bluish-white star of the first magnitude, in the constellation Lyra. n.

veg e ta ble (vej'tə bl or vej'ə tə bl), 1. plant whose fruit, shoots or stems, leaves, roots, or other parts are used for food. Peas, corn, lettuce, tomatoes, and beets are vegetables. 2. any plant. 3. of plants; having to do with plants; like plants: the vegetable kingdom. 4. consisting of or made from vegetables: vegetable soup. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 adj.

veg e tar i an (vej'ə tār'ē ən), 1. person who eats vegetables but no meat. 2. eating vegetables but no meat. 3. devoted to or advocating vegetarianism. 4. containing no meat. 1 n., 2-4 adj.

Pole vault

DA, DC, vectors;
DB, resultant.

veg e tar i an ism (vej'ə tār'ē ən iz'əm), practice or principle of eating vegetables but no meat. n.

veg e tate (vej'ə tāt), 1. grow as plants do. 2. live with very little action, thought, or feeling. v., veg e tated, veg e tat ing.

veg e ta tion (vej'ə tā'shən), 1. plant life; growing plants: There is not much vegetation in deserts. 2. a vegetating; the growth of plants. n.

veg e ta tive (vej'ə tā'tiv), 1. growing as plants do. 2. of plants or plant life. 3. having very little action, thought, or feeling. adj. —veg'e ta'tive ly, adv. —veg'e ta'tive ness, n.

ve he mence (vē'hə mən), forcefulness; violence; strong feeling. n.

ve he ment (vē'hə mēt), 1. having or showing strong feeling; caused by strong feeling; eager; passionate. 2. forceful; violent. adj. —ve/he ment ly, adv.

ve hi cle (vē'hə kl), 1. a carriage, cart, wagon, automobile, sled, or any other conveyance used on land. 2. a means of carrying or conveying: Language is the vehicle of thought. 3. in painting, a liquid in which a pigment is applied to a surface: Linseed oil is a vehicle for paint. n.

ve hic u lar (vi hik'yə lər), of or having to do with vehicles. adj.

veil (vāl), 1. piece of very thin material worn to protect or hide the face, or as an ornament. 2. piece of material worn so as to fall over the head and shoulders. 3. cover with a veil. 4. anything that covers or hides: A veil of clouds hid the sun. 5. cover; hide: a veiled threat. 1, 2, 4 n., 3, 5 v. —veil/like, adj.

take the veil, become a nun.

veil ing (vāl'ing), 1. a veil. 2. material for veils. n.

vein (vān), 1. one of the blood vessels or tubes that carry blood to the heart from all parts of the body. 2. one of the strands or bundles of vascular tissue forming the principal framework of a leaf. 3. rib of an insect's wing. 4. a crack or seam in rock filled with a different material: a vein of copper. 5. any streak or marking of a different shade or color in wood, marble, etc. 6. a special character or disposition; state of mind; mood: a vein of cruelty, a joking vein. 7. cover with veins; mark with veins. 1-6 n., 7 v. —vein/less, adj. —vein/-like, adj.

Veins: A, of leaf;
B, of insect's wing.

veined (vānd), having or showing veins: veined marble. adj.

vein ing (vān'ing), arrangement of veins. n.

veld or veldt (velt), open country in South Africa, having grass or bushes but few trees. n.

vel lum (vel'əm), 1. the finest kind of parchment, used for writing, binding books, etc. 2. paper or cloth imitating such parchment. 3. of velum. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

ve loc i pede (vē los'ə pēd), 1. a child's tricycle. 2. an early kind of bicycle or tricycle. n.

ve loc i ty (vē los'ə tē), 1. speed; swiftness; quickness: fly with the velocity of a bird. 2. rate of motion: The velocity of light is about 186,000 miles per second. n., pl. ve loc i ties.

Velocipede
(def.1)

ve lours or ve lour (vē lūr'), a fabric like velvet, made of silk, wool, or cotton, used for clothing, draperies, upholstery, etc. n.

ve lum (vē'ləm), 1. a veillike membranous covering or partition. 2. the soft palate. n., pl. ve la (-lə).

vel vet (vel'vit), 1. cloth with a thick, soft pile. Velvet may be made of silk, rayon, cotton, or some combination of these. 2. made of velvet. 3. like velvet: a cat's velvet paws. 4. something like velvet. 5. the furry skin that covers the growing antlers of a deer. 6. Slang. clear profit or gain. 1,4-6 n., 2,3 adj.

vel vet een (vel'və tēn'), 1. velvet made of cotton. 2. made of velveteen. 1 n., 2 adj.

vel vet y (vel'və tē), smooth and soft like velvet. adj.

ve nal (vē'nəl), 1. willing to sell one's services or influence basely; open to bribes; corrupt: Venal judges are a disgrace to a country. 2. influenced or obtained by bribery: venal conduct. adj. —ve'nal ly, adv.

ve nal i ty (vē nal'ə tē), quality of being venal. n.

ve na tion (vē nā'shən), 1. arrangement of veins in a leaf or in an insect's wing. 2. these veins. n.

vend (vend), sell; peddle. v.

vend er (ven'dər), 1. seller; especially, a peddler. 2. machine from which one obtains candy, stamps, etc., when a coin is dropped in. n.

ven det ta (ven det'ə), feud in which a murdered man's relatives try to kill the slayer or his relatives. n.

vend i ble (ven'də bl), 1. salable. 2. a salable thing. 1 adj., 2 n.

vending machine, vender (def. 2).

ven dor (ven'dər), seller; peddler. n.

ve neer (və nir'), 1. cover (wood) with a thin layer of finer wood or other material: veneer a pine desk with mahogany. 2. a thin layer of wood or other material used in veneering: The panel had a veneer of gold and ivory. 3. cover (anything) with a layer of something else to give an appearance of superior quality. 4. surface appearance or show: A veneer of piety hid his real meanness. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

ven er a bil i ty (ven'ər ə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being venerable. n.

ven er a ble (ven'ər ə bl), worthy of reverence; deserving respect because of age, character, or associations: a venerable priest, venerable customs. adj. —ven' er a bly, adv.

ven er ate (ven'ər āt), regard with deep respect; revere: He venerates his father's memory. v., ven er at ed, ven er at ing.

ven er a tion (ven'ər ā'shən), deep respect; reverence. n.

ve ne re al (və nir'ē əl), 1. of or having to do with sexual intercourse. 2. caused by sexual intercourse. 3. having to do with diseases transmitted by sexual intercourse. 4. infected with syphilis, gonorrhea, or other venereal disease. adj.

Ve ne tian (vē nē'shən), 1. of Venice or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Venice. 1 adj., 2 n.

Venetian blind, a window blind made of many horizontal wooden, steel, or aluminum slats that can be opened or closed to regulate the light, air, etc.

Ven e zue la (ven'ə zwē'lə or ven'ə zwā'lə), country in the N part of South America. 6,607,000 pop.; 352,143 sq. mi. Capital: Caracas. See South America for map. n.

Ven e zue lan (ven'ə zwē'lən or ven'ə zwā'lən), 1. of or having to do with Venezuela or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Venezuela. 1 adj., 2 n.

venge ance (ven'jəns), punishment in return for a wrong; revenge: The Indian swore vengeance against the men who murdered his father. n.

with a vengeance, 1. with great force or violence: By six o'clock it was raining with a vengeance. 2. extremely. 3. much more than expected.

venge ful (venj'fəl), feeling or showing a strong desire for vengeance. adj. —venge'fully, adv.

ve ni al (vē'nē əl), that can be forgiven; not very wrong; pardonable. adj.

Ven ice (ven'is), 1. city on the northeastern coast of Italy. Venice has many canals in place of streets. 328,000. 2. Gulf of, the northern part of the Adriatic. n.

ve ni re (və nī'rē), writ by a sheriff summoning a person to serve on a jury. n.

ve ni re man (və nī'rē mən), person summoned to serve on a jury by a writ of venire. n., pl. ve ni re men.

ven i son (ven'ə zn), the flesh of a deer, used for food; deer meat. n.

ven om (ven'əm), 1. the poison of snakes, spiders, etc. 2. spite; malice: Her enemies dreaded the venom of her tongue. n. —ven'om less, adj.

ven om ous (ven'əm əs), 1. poisonous: Rattlesnakes are venomous. 2. spiteful; malicious. adj. —ven'om-ous ly, adv. —ven'om ous ness, n.

ve nous (vē'nəs), 1. of, in, or having to do with veins: venous blood. 2. having veins: the venous wings of insects. adj.

vent¹ (vent), 1. hole; opening, especially one serving as an outlet. 2. outlet; way out: His great energy found vent in hard work. 3. expression: She gave vent to her grief in tears. 4. let out; express freely: He vented his anger on the dog. 5. end of the intestine, especially in birds and reptiles. 6. the small opening in the barrel of a gun by which fire is communicated to the powder. 7. in automobiles, etc., a small window that can be opened for indirect ventilation. 8. make a vent in. 1-3,5-7 n., 4,8 v.

vent² (vent), slit in a garment. n.

ven ti late (ven'tl āt), 1. change the air in: We ventilate a room by opening windows. 2. purify by fresh air: The lungs ventilate the blood. 3. make known publicly; discuss openly. 4. furnish with a vent or opening for the escape of air, gas, etc. v., ven ti lat ed, ven ti lat ing.

ven ti la tion (ven'tl ā'shən), 1. change of air; act or process of supplying with fresh air. 2. means of supplying fresh air. 3. purifying by fresh air. 4. an open discussion in public. n.

ven ti la tor (ven'tl ā'tər), any apparatus or means for changing or improving the air. n.

ven tral (ven'trəl), 1. of or having to do with the belly; abdominal. 2. of or having to do with the surface or part opposite the back. 3. on the ventral surface; nearer the ventral surface. adj.

ven tral ly (ven'trəl ē), in a ventral position or direction. adv.

ven tri cle (ven'trə kl), 1. either of the two lower chambers of the heart that receive blood and force it into the arteries. See heart for diagram. 2. any of a series of connecting cavities in the brain. 3. any hollow organ of the body. n.

ven tric u lar (ven trik'yə lər), of, having to do with, or like a ventricle. adj.

ven tril o quism (ven tril'ə kwiz əm), art or practice of speaking or uttering sounds with the lips immobilized so that the voice may seem to come from some other source than the speaker. n.

ven tril o quist (ven tril'ə kwist), person who can make his voice seem to come from some other source. A ventriloquist can talk without any movement of the lips that can be readily observed. n.

ven tril o quy (ven tril'ə kwē), ventriloquism. n.

ven ture (ven'chər), 1. a risky or daring undertaking: His courage was equal to any venture. 2. speculation to make money: A lucky venture in oil stock made his fortune. 3. expose to risk or danger: Men venture their lives in war. 4. run a risk. 5. thing risked; stake. 6. dare: No one ventured to interrupt the speaker. 7. dare to come, go, or proceed: He ventured out on the thin ice and fell through. 8. dare to say or make: He ventured an objection. 1,2,5 n., 3,4,6-8 v., ven tured, ven tur ing. at a venture, at random; by chance.

ven ture some (ven'chər səm), 1. inclined to take risks; rash; daring. 2. hazardous. adj.

ven tur ous (ven'chər əs), 1. rash; daring; adventurous. 2. risky; dangerous. adj.

ven ue (ven'ū), 1. the place or neighborhood of a crime or cause of action. 2. the place where the jury is gathered and the case tried: The prisoner's lawyer asked for a change of venue because the county was so prejudiced against the prisoner. n.

Ve nus (vē'nəs), 1. the Roman goddess of love and beauty. The Romans identified her with the Greek goddess Aphrodite. 2. a very beautiful woman. 3. the most brilliant planet, second in order from the sun. n.

ve ra cious (və rā'shəs), 1. truthful. 2. true. adj.
—ve ra'cious ly, adv. —ve ra'cious ness, n.

ve rac i ty (və rās'ə tē), 1. truthfulness. 2. truth. 3. correctness; accuracy. n., pl. ve rac i ties.

Ver a cruz or Ver a Cruz (ver'ə krüz'), an important seaport in SE Mexico. 138,000. n.

ve ran da or ve ran dah (və rān'də), a large porch along one or more sides of a house. n.

verb (vərb), word that tells what is or what is done; the part of speech that expresses action or being. Do, go, come, be, sit, think, know, and eat are verbs. n.

ver bal (vərb'l), 1. in words; of words: A description is a verbal picture. 2. expressed in spoken words; oral: a verbal promise, a verbal message. 3. word for word; literal: a verbal translation from the French. 4. having to do with a verb. Two common verbal endings are -ed and -ing. 5. derived from a verb: a verbal noun. 6. a noun, adjective, or other word derived from a verb. 1-5 adj., 6 n.

ver bal ism (vərb'bl iz əm), 1. a verbal expression; word, phrase, etc. 2. too much attention to mere words. 3. a stock phrase or formula in words with little meaning. n.

ver bal i za tion (vərb'bl ə zā'shən), 1. expression in words. 2. use of too many words. n.

ver bal ize (vərb'bl iz), 1. express in words. 2. use too many words; be wordy. v., ver bal ized, ver bal izing.

ver bal ly (vərb'bl ē), 1. in words. 2. in spoken words; orally: The dumb boy could not reply verbally but used signs. 3. word for word: The child reported the conversation verbally. 4. in regard to words only. 5. as a verb: "Breast" is used verbally in "The boat breasts the wave." adv.

ver ba tim (vərb bā'tim), word for word: in exactly the same words: His speech was printed verbatim in the newspaper. adv., adj.

ver be na (vərb bē'nə), any of certain low-growing garden plants with elongated or flattened spikes of flowers having various colors. n.

ver bi age (vərb'bē ij), use of too many words; abundance of useless words. n.

ver bose (vərb bōs'), using too many words; wordy. adj. —ver bose'ly, adv. —ver bose'ness, n.

ver bos i ty (vərb bōs'ə tē), use of too many words; wordiness. n.

ver bo ten (fərb bō'tn), forbidden by authority; prohibited. adj.

ver dan cy (vərb'dn sē), 1. greenness. 2. inexperience. n.

ver dant (vərb'dnt), 1. green: The fields are covered with verdant grass. 2. inexperienced. adj. —ver'dant ly, adv.

Verde (vərd), Cape, the most western point of Africa. n.

ver dict (vərb'dikt), 1. the decision of a jury: The jury returned a verdict of "Not guilty." 2. decision; judgment. n.

ver di gris (vərb'də grēs), 1. a green or bluish coating that forms on brass, copper, or bronze when exposed for long periods of time. 2. a green or bluish-green poisonous compound used in paints and as a drug. n.

ver dure (vərb'jər), 1. fresh greenness. 2. a fresh growth of green grass, plants, or leaves. n.

ver dur ous (vərb'jər əs), green and fresh. adj.

ver ge (vərbj), 1. edge; rim; brink: His business is on the verge of ruin. 2. be on the verge; border: Her silly talk verged on nonsense. 3. a limiting belt, strip, or border of something. 4. rod, staff, etc., carried as an emblem of authority. 5. shaft of a column. 1,3-5 n., 2 v., verged, verg ing.

ver ge (vərbj), tend; incline: She was plump, verging toward fatness. v., verged, verg ing.

ver ger (vərb'jər), 1. man who takes care of a church; sexton. 2. official who carries the staff or wand before a bishop, dean, etc. n.

Ver gil (vərb'jəl), 70-19 B.C., Roman poet, author of The Aeneid. n. Also, Virgil.

ver i est (vərb'ē ist), utmost: the veriest nonsense. adj.

ver i fi a ble (vərb'ə fī'ə bl), that can be checked or tested and proved to be true. adj.

ver i fi ca tion (vərb'ə fə kā'shən), proof by evidence or testimony; confirmation. n.

ver i fy (vərb'ə fī), 1. prove (something) to be true; confirm: The driver's report of the accident was verified by eyewitnesses. 2. test the correctness of; check for accuracy: Verify the spelling of a word by looking in a dictionary. v., ver i fied, ver i fy ing. —ver i fi'er, n.

ver i ly (vərb'ə lē), in truth; truly; really. adv.

ver i ta ble (vərb'ə tə bl), true; real; actual. adj. —ver i ta ble ness, n.

ver i ta bly (vərb'ə tə blē), in truth; truly; really; actually. adv.

ver i ty (vərb'ə tē), 1. truth. 2. a true statement or fact. 3. reality. n., pl. ver i ties.

ver meil (vərb'ml), 1. Poetic. vermilion. 2. silver or bronze coated with gilt. n., adj.

ver mi cel li (vərb'mə səl'ē), a mixture of flour and water, like macaroni and spaghetti, but made in long, slender, solid threads. n.

ver mi cide (vərb'mə sīd), any agent that kills worms; especially, a drug used to kill parasitic intestinal worms. n.

ver mi form (vərb'mə fōrm), shaped like a worm. adj.

vermiform appendix, a slender tube, closed at one end, growing out of the large intestine in the lower right-hand part of the abdomen. Appendicitis is inflammation of the vermiform appendix.

ver mi fuge (vərb'mə fūj), medicine to expel worms from the intestines. n.

ver mil ion (vərb mil'yən), 1. bright red. 2. a bright-red coloring matter. 1,2 n., 1 adj.

ver min (vərb'mən), 1. small animals that are troublesome or destructive. Fleas, lice, bedbugs, rats, and mice are vermin. 2. Brit. animals or birds that destroy game, poultry, etc. 3. a vile, worthless person or persons. n.pl. or sing.

ver min ous (vərb'mən əs), 1. infested with vermin. 2. caused by vermin. 3. like vermin; vile; worthless. adj.

Ver mont (vərb mont'), a State forming the NW part of New England. 390,000 pop.; 9609 sq. mi. Capital: Montpelier. Abbrev.: Vt. n.

Ver mont er (vərb mon'tər), native or inhabitant of Vermont. n.

ver mouth (vərb mūth'), a white wine flavored with wormwood or other herbs and used as a liqueur or in cocktails. n.

ver nac u lar (vərb nak'yə lər), 1. a native language; language used by the people of a certain country or place. 2. used by the people of a certain country, place, etc.; native: English is our vernacular tongue. 3. of or in the native language, rather than a literary or learned language. 4. everyday language; informal speech. 5. language of a profession, trade, etc.: the vernacular of the lawyers. 1,4,5 n., 2,3 adj.

ver nal (vərb'nəl), 1. of spring; having to do with spring: vernal green, vernal flowers, vernal months. 2. like spring; suggesting spring. 3. youthful: Everyone admired the young girl's vernal freshness. adj. —ver'nally, adv.

vernal equinox, equinox that occurs about March 21.

ver ni er (vərb'nē ər), a small, movable scale for measuring a fractional part of one of the divisions of a fixed scale. n.

Ve ro na (və rō'nə), city in N Italy. 187,000. n.

Verbena

ve ron i ca (və rɒn'ə kə), 1. a kind of plant or shrub with blue, purple, pink, or white flowers. 2. cloth with a representation of Christ's face. n.

Ver sailles (vār sī' or vər sāl's/), 1. city in N France, near Paris. The treaty ending World War I was signed there on June 28, 1919. 84,000. 2. a large palace there. n.

ver sa tile (vər'sə tl), 1. able to do many things well: Theodore Roosevelt was a versatile man; he was successful as a statesman, soldier, sportsman, explorer, and author. 2. turning forward or backward: the versatile toe of an owl. 3. moving freely up and down and laterally: versatile antennae. 4. in botany, attached at or near the middle so as to swing or turn freely: a versatile anther. 5. fickle; inconstant. adj. —ver'sa tile ly, adv.

ver sa til i ty (vər'sə til'ə tē), 1. ability to do many things well. 2. being changeable; fickleness. n., pl. ver sa til i ties.

verse (vərs), 1. poetry; lines of words usually with a regularly repeated accent. 2. a single line of poetry. 3. a group of lines or short portion in poetry: Sing the first verse of "America." 4. type of poetry; meter: blank verse, iambic verse. 5. a short division of a chapter in the Bible. n.

versed (vərs), experienced; practiced; skilled: A doctor should be well versed in medical theory. adj.

ver si fi ca tion (vər'sə fə kă'shən), 1. the making of verses. 2. art or theory of making verses. 3. form or style of poetry; metrical structure. n.

ver si fier (vər'sə fī'ər), person who makes verses. n.

ver si fy (vər'sə fī), 1. write verses. 2. tell in verse. 3. turn (prose) into poetry. v., ver si fied, ver si fy ing.

ver sion (vər'zhən), 1. a translation from one language to another: a version of the Bible. 2. one particular statement, account, or description: Each of the three boys gave his own version of the quarrel. n.

verst (vərs), a Russian measure of distance. One verst equals about 3500 feet. n.

ver sus (vər'səs), against. prep.

ver te bra (vər'tə brə), one of the bones of the backbone. n., pl. ver te brae (-brē) or ver te bras.

ver te bral (vər'tə brəl), 1. of or having to do with a vertebra or the vertebrae. 2. composed of vertebrae. adj.

ver te brate (vər'tə brit or vər'tə brāt), 1. animal that has a backbone. Fishes, Amphibia, reptiles, birds, and mammals are vertebrates. 2. having a backbone. 1 n., 2 adj.

ver tex (vər'teks), 1. the highest point; top. 2. top of the head. 3. point in the heavens directly overhead. 4. point opposite the base of a triangle, pyramid, etc. The vertex of an angle is the point where the two sides meet. 5. any point of a triangle or polygon. n., pl. ver tex es or ver tices.

ver ti cal (vər'tə kl), 1. straight up and down; perpendicular to a level surface. A person standing up straight is in a vertical position. See horizontal for diagram. 2. a vertical line, plane, circle, position, part, etc. 3. of or at the highest point; of the vertex. 4. directly overhead; at the zenith. 5. so organized as to include many or all stages in the production of some manufactured product: a vertical union, vertical trusts. 1,3-5 adj., 2 n. —ver'ti cal ly, adv.

ver ti ces (vər'tə sēz), a pl. of vertex. n.

ver ti go (vər'tə gō), dizziness; giddiness. n., pl. ver ti goes, ver tig i nes (vər tij'ə nēz).

verve (vərv), enthusiasm; energy; vigor; spirit; liveliness. n.

very (vər'ē), 1. much; greatly; extremely: The sun is very hot. 2. absolutely; exactly: He stood in the very same place for an hour. 3. same; identical: The very people who used to love her hate her now. 4. even; mere; sheer: The very thought of blood makes her sick. She wept from very joy. 5. real; true; genuine: She seemed a very queen. 6. actual: He was caught in the very act of stealing. 1,2 adv., 3-6 adj., ver i er, ver i est.

ves i cate (ves'ə kāt), cause blisters on; blister. v., ves i cat ed, ves i cat ing.

ves i cle (ves'ə kl), a small bladder, cavity, sac, or cyst. A blister is a vesicle in the skin. n.

ve sic u lar (və sik'yə lər), of or having to do with vesicles; like a vesicle; having vesicles. adj.

ves per (ves'pər), 1. evening. 2. of evening. 3. an evening prayer, hymn, or service; evening bell. 4. of or having to do with vespers. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

Ves per (ves'pər), 1. Venus, when it appears as the evening star. 2. of or having to do with vespers. 1 n., 2 adj.

ves pers or Ves pers (ves'pərz), 1. a church service held in the late afternoon or in the evening. 2. the sixth of the canonical hours. n.pl.

Ves puc ci (ves pū'chē), Amerigo, 1451-1512, Italian merchant, adventurer, and explorer. America is named after him. n.

ves sel (ves'l), 1. a large boat; ship. 2. airship. 3. a hollow holder or container. Cups, bowls, pitchers, bottles, barrels, tubs, etc., are vessels. 4. tube carrying blood or other fluid. Veins and arteries are blood vessels. 5. person regarded as a container of some quality or as made for some purpose (used chiefly in or after Biblical expressions). n.

vest (vest), 1. a short, sleeveless garment worn by men under the coat. 2. garment like this worn by women; the facing in a waist or coat made to look like a vest. 3. Brit. undershirt. 4. Archaic. clothing; garment. 5. clothe; robe; dress in vestments: The vested priest stood before the altar. 6. furnish with powers, authority, rights, etc.: Congress is vested with the power to declare war. 7. put in the possession or control of a person or persons: The management of the hospital is vested in a board of trustees. 1-4 n., 5-7 v. —vest'less, adj.

Ves ta (ves'tə), the Roman goddess of the hearth. A sacred fire was always kept burning in the temple of Vesta. n.

ves tal (ves'tl), 1. one of the Vestal Virgins. 2. virgin. 3. nun. 4. of a vestal; suitable for a vestal. 5. pure; chaste. 1-3 n., 4,5 adj.

Vestal Virgin, priestess of the Roman goddess Vesta. Six Vestal Virgins tended an undying fire in honor of Vesta at her temple in Rome.

vest ed (ves'tid), 1. placed in the possession or control of a person or persons; fixed; settled: vested rights. 2. clothed or robed, especially in church garments: a vested choir. adj.

vest ee (ves tē'), a little vest used for ornament on a woman's dress. n.

ves ti bule (ves'tə būl), 1. passage or hall between the outer door and the inside of a building. 2. the enclosed space at the end of a railroad passenger car. 3. cavity of the body that leads to another cavity. The vestibule of the ear is the central cavity of the internal ear. See ear for diagram. n.

ves tige (ves'tij), a slight remnant; trace: Ghost stories are vestiges of a former widespread belief in ghosts. n.

ves tig i al (ves tij'ē əl), remaining as a vestige of something that has disappeared. adj.

vest ment (vest'mənt), 1. garment. 2. garment worn by a clergyman in performing sacred duties. n.

vest-pock et (vest'pök'it), 1. able to fit into a vest pocket. 2. very small. adj.

ves try (ves'trē), 1. room in a church, where vestments are kept. 2. room in a church or an attached building, used for Sunday school, prayer meetings, etc. 3. in the Church of England and the Protestant Episcopal Church of America, a committee that helps manage church business. 4. in parishes of the Church of England, a meeting of parishioners on church business. n., pl. ves tries.

ves try man (ves'trē mən), member of a committee that helps manage church business. n., pl. ves try men.

ves ture (ves'chər), 1. clothing; garments. 2. covering. n.

Three vertebrae

Vestee

Ve su vi us (və sü'vĕ əs), Mount, an active volcano near Naples, Italy. During an eruption in 79 A.D. its lava buried the ancient towns of Pompeii and Herculaneum. 4000 ft. high. n.

vet¹ (vet), Informal. veterinarian. n.

vet² (vet), Informal. veteran. n.

vet., 1. veteran. 2. veterinarian. 3. veterinary.

vech (vech), vine or plant of the same family as the pea, grown as food for cattle and sheep. n.

vet er an (vet'ər ən), 1. person who has had much experience in war; old soldier or sailor. 2. having had much experience in war: Veteran troops fought side by side with new recruits. 3. person who has served in the armed forces. 4. person who has had much experience in some position, occupation, etc. 5. grown old in service; having had much experience: a veteran farmer. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 adj.

Veterans Day, November 11, formerly Armistice Day. It was changed to Veterans Day by act of Congress in 1954.

vet er i nar i an (vet'ər ə nār'ē ən), doctor or surgeon who treats animals. n.

vet er i nar y (vet'ər ə nēr'ē), 1. having to do with the medical or surgical treatment of animals. 2. veterinarian. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. vet er i nar ies.

ve to (vē'tō), 1. the right of a president, governor, etc., to reject bills passed by a lawmaking body. 2. having to do with a veto: veto power. 3. the use of this right: The governor's veto kept the bill from becoming a law. 4. statement of the reasons for disapproval of a bill passed by the legislature. 5. reject by a veto. 6. power or right to prevent action through prohibition. 7. refusal of consent; prohibition. 8. refuse to consent to: His parents vetoed his plan to buy a motorcycle. 1,3,4,6,7 n., pl. ve toes; 2 adj., 5,8 v. ve to ed, ve to ing. —ve'to er, n.

vex (veks), 1. anger by trifles; annoy; provoke: It is vexing to have to wait for anyone. 2. disturb; trouble: Cape Hatteras is much vexed by storms. v.

vex a tion (veks ā'shən), 1. a vexing; being vexed: His face showed his vexation at the delay. 2. thing that vexes: Rain on Saturday was a vexation to the children. n.

vex a tious (veks ā'shəs), vexing; annoying. adj. —vex a'tious ly, adv.

vex ed ly (vek'sid lē), with vexation; with a sense of annoyance or vexation. adv.

V.F.W., Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Vi, virginium.

V.I., Virgin Islands.

vi a (vī'ə or vē'ə), by way of; by a route that passes through: He is going from New York to California via the Panama Canal. prep.

vi a bil it y (vī'ə bil'ē tē), ability to keep alive. n.

vi a ble (vī'ə bl), able to keep alive. adj.

vi a duct (vī'ə dukt), bridge for carrying a road or railroad over a valley, a part of a city, etc. n.

vi al (vī'əl), a small glass bottle for holding medicines or the like; bottle. n.

vi and (vī'ənd), article of food. n.

vi ands, articles of choice food.

vi at i cum (vī at'ə kəm), 1. Holy Communion given to a person dying or in danger of death. 2. supplies or money for a journey. n., pl. vi at i ca (-kə) or vi at i cums.

vi brant (vī'brənt), 1. vibrating. 2. resounding; resonant. adj. —vi'brant ly, adv.

vi brate (vī'brāt), 1. move rapidly to and fro: A piano string vibrates and makes a sound when a key is struck. 2. cause to swing to and fro; set in motion. 3. measure by moving to and fro: A pendulum vibrates seconds. 4. be moved; quiver. 5. thrill: Their hearts vibrated to the speaker's stirring appeal. 6. resound: The clanging vibrated in his ears. v., vi brat ed, vi brat ing.

vi bra tion (vī brā'shən), 1. a rapid movement to and fro; quivering motion; vibrating: The buses shake the house so much that we feel the vibration. 2. a rapid or slow movement to and fro. 3. motion back and forth across a position of equilibrium. n. —vi bra'tion less, adj. vi bra tor (vī'brā tər), 1. thing that vibrates. 2. instrument causing vibration. n.

vi bra to ry (vī'brā tō'rē), 1. vibrating. 2. having to do with vibration. 3. causing vibration. 4. capable of vibration. 5. consisting of vibration. adj.

vi bur num (vī bër'nəm), 1. any of several shrubs or small trees of the same family as the honeysuckle, such as the snowball. 2. the dried bark of certain species, used in medicine. n.

vic ar (vik'ər), 1. the minister of an English parish who is paid a salary by the receiver of tithes. 2. clergyman in the Protestant Episcopal Church who has charge of one chapel in a parish. 3. a Roman Catholic clergyman who represents the Pope or a bishop. 4. person acting in place of another; representative. Roman Catholics speak of the Pope as the vicar of Christ. n.

vic ar age (vik'ər ij), 1. residence of a vicar. 2. position or duties of a vicar. 3. salary paid to a vicar. n.

vi car i ous (vī kār'ē əs or vī kār'ē əs), 1. done or suffered for others: vicarious work. 2. felt by sharing in others' experience: The invalid received vicarious pleasure from reading travel stories. 3. taking the place of another; doing the work of another: a vicarious agent. adj. —vi car'i ous ly, adv. —vi car'i ous ness, n.

vic ar ship (vik'ər ship), position of a vicar. n.

vice¹ (vis), 1. an evil habit or tendency: Lying and cruelty are vices. 2. evil; wickedness. 3. an undesirable habit; fault; defect: Mr. Jones recommended the horse as having no vices. n.

vice² (vis), Esp. Brit. vise. n.

vice³ (vī'sē), instead of; in the place of. prep.

vice-, prefix meaning: substitute; deputy; subordinate, as in vice-president, vice-admiral, vice-chairman, vice-chancellor.

vice-ad mi ral (vīs'ad'mə rəl), a naval officer ranking next below an admiral and next above a rear admiral. n.

vice-chan cel lor (vīs'chan'sələr), person who substitutes for the regular chancellor or acts as his assistant. n.

vice-con sul (vīs'kon'sl), person next in rank below a consul. He substitutes for the regular consul or acts as his assistant. n.

vice ge ren cy (vīs'jir'ən sē), position of vicegerent. n., pl. vice ge ren cies.

vice ge rent (vīs'jir'ənt), 1. person exercising the powers or authority of another; deputy. 2. acting in another's place. 1 n., 2 adj.

vi cen ni al (vī sen'ē əl), 1. of or for twenty years. 2. occurring once every twenty years. adj.

vice-pres i den cy (vīs'prez'ə dən sē), position of vice-president. n.

vice-pres i dent (vīs'prez'ə dənt), officer next in rank to the president, who takes the president's place when necessary. n.

vice-pres i den tial (vīs'prez ə dən'shəl), of or having to do with the vice-president. adj.

vice re gal (vīs'rē'gl), of or having to do with a viceroy. adj.

vice-re gent (vīs'rē'jənt), person who takes the place of the regular regent whenever necessary. n.

vice roy (vīs'roi), person ruling a country or province as the deputy of the sovereign. n.

vice roy al ty (vīs'roi'əl tē), position or district of a viceroy. n.

vice ver sa (vī'sə vēr'sə or vīs vēr'sə), the other way round; conversely: John blamed Harry, and vice versa (Harry blamed John).

Vich y (vish'ē), city in central France. It was the capital of unoccupied France, from 1940 to 1944. 30,000. n.

vic i nage (vis'n ij), neighborhood; surrounding district; vicinity. n.

vi cin i ty (və sin'ə tē), 1. region near or about a place; neighborhood; surrounding district: He knew many people in New York and its vicinity. 2. nearness in place; being close. n., pl. vi cin i ties.

vi cious (vish'əs), 1. evil; wicked: The criminal led a vicious life. 2. having bad habits or a bad disposition: a vicious horse. 3. not correct; having faults: This argument contains vicious reasoning. 4. spiteful; malicious: vicious words. 5. Informal. unpleasantly severe: a vicious headache. adj. —vi'ciously, adv. —vi'ciousness, n.

vicious circle, 1. two or more undesirable things each of which keeps causing the other. 2. false reasoning that uses one statement to prove a second statement when the first statement really depends upon the second for proof.

vi cis si tude (və sis'ə tūd or və sis'ə tūd), 1. change in circumstances, fortune, etc.: The vicissitudes of life may suddenly make a rich man very poor. 2. change; variation. 3. regular change: the vicissitude of day and night. n.

vi com te (vē kōnt'), French. viscount. n.

vic tim (vik'təm), 1. person or animal sacrificed, injured, or destroyed: victims of war, victims of an accident. 2. dupe: the victim of a swindler. 3. a person or animal killed as a sacrifice to a god. n.

vic tim i za tion (vik'təm ə zā'shən), a victimizing or being victimized. n.

vic tim ize (vik'təm iz), 1. make a victim of; cause to suffer. 2. cheat; swindle. v., vic tim ized, vic tim iz ing.

vic tor (vik'tər), 1. winner; conqueror. 2. victorious. 1 n., 2 adj.

Vic to ri a (vik tō'rē ə), 1. 1819-1901, queen of England from 1837 to 1901. 2. capital of British Columbia. 54,000. 3. Lake, lake in E Africa. 26,828 sq. mi. 4. seaport and capital of the British colony of Hong Kong. It is often called Hong Kong. 1,000,000. 5. capital of Seychelles. 10,000. n.

vic to ri a (vik tō'rē ə), 1. a low, four-wheeled carriage with a folding top and a seat for two passengers. A victoria has a raised seat in front for the driver. 2. a huge rose-white water lily. n.

Victoria Cross, a Maltese cross awarded to British soldiers and sailors as a decoration for remarkable valor during battle.

Victoria Falls, falls of the Zambezi River in Africa (in the W part of Rhodesia). 400 ft.

Vic to ri an (vik tō'rē ən), 1. of or having to do with the time of Queen Victoria. 2. person, especially an author, who lived during the reign of Queen Victoria. 3. possessing characteristics attributed to Victorians, such as prudishness, bigotry, etc. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

Victorian age, period during the reign of Queen Victoria of England, from 1837 to 1901.

Vic to ri an ism (vik tō'rē ən iz'əm), ideas, beliefs, morals, ways of living, etc., common during the reign of Queen Victoria. n.

vic to ri ous (vik tō'rē əs), 1. having won a victory; conquering: a victorious army. 2. having to do with victory: a victorious war. adj. —vic to'ri ous ly, adv.

vic to ry (vik'tə rē), defeat of an enemy or opponent; success in a contest: The game ended in a victory for our school. n., pl. vic to ries.

Vic tro la (vik trō'lə), Trademark. a kind of phonograph. n.

vict ual (vit'l), 1. Informal or Dialect. food. 2. supply with food: The captain victualled his ship for the voyage. 3. take on a supply of food: The ship will victual before sailing. 1 n., 2,3 v., vict ualed, vict ual ing or esp. Brit. vict ualled, vict ual ling.

vict ual er (vit'l ər), 1. person who supplies food or provisions to a ship, an army, etc.

2. Esp. Brit. keeper of an inn, tavern, saloon, etc. n.

vict ual ler (vit'l ər), Esp. Brit. victualer. n.

vi cu ña (vi kün'yə), 1. a South American mammal somewhat like a llama, having a soft, delicate wool. 2. cloth made from this wool, or from some substitute. n.

vide o (vid'ē ō), 1. of or used in the transmission or reception of images in television. 2. television. 1 adj., 2 n.

vie (vī), strive for superiority; contend in rivalry; compete. v., vied, vy ing.

Vien na (vē en'ə), capital of Austria, on the Danube River. Vienna is famous in the history of music. 1,616,000. n.

Vien nese (vē ə nēz'), 1. of or having to do with Vienna or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Vienna. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. Vien nese.

Vien ti ane (vē en'tē ən'), capital of Laos. 80,000. n.

Vi et cong (vē et'kōng' or vē et'kong'), 1. the Communist guerrilla force in South Vietnam. 2. member of this force. n.

Vi et minh or Vi et Minh (vē et'min'), the Communist party in Indochina, in power in North Vietnam. n.

Vi et nam or Vi et Nam (vē et'nām'), a former country in SE Asia, now divided into two. North Vietnam, north of the 17th parallel. 15,917,000 pop.; 63,344 sq. mi. Capital: Hanoi. South Vietnam, 14,520,000 pop.; 66,263 sq. mi. Capital: Saigon. See Malay Peninsula for map. n.

Vi et nam ese (vē et'nām ēz'), 1. of or having to do with Vietnam or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Vietnam. 1 adj., 2 n.

view (vū), 1. act of seeing; sight: It was our first view of the ocean. 2. power of seeing; range of the eye: A ship came into view. 3. see; look at: They viewed the scene with pleasure. 4. thing seen; scene: The view from our house is beautiful. 5. picture of some scene: Various views of the mountains hung on the walls. 6. a mental picture; idea: This book will give you a general view of the war. 7. way of looking at or considering a matter; opinion: What are your views on the subject? 8. consider; regard: The plan was viewed favorably. 9. aim; purpose: It is my view to leave tomorrow. 10. prospect; expectation: with no view of success. 1,2,4-7,9,10 n., 3,8 v.

in view, 1. in sight. 2. under consideration. 3. as a purpose or intention. 4. as a hope; as an expectation.

in view of, considering; because of.

on view, to be seen; open for people to see.

with a view to, 1. with the purpose or intention of. 2. with a hope of; expecting to.

view er (vū'ər), one who views, especially one who views television. n.

view less (vū'lis), 1. that cannot be seen. 2. without views or opinions. adj.

view point (vū'point'), 1. place from which one looks at something. 2. attitude of mind: A heavy rain is good from the viewpoint of farmers. n.

vi ges i mal (vī jes'ə ml), 1. twentieth. 2. in or by twenties. adj.

vig il (vij'əl), 1. a staying awake for some purpose; a watching; watch: All night the mother kept vigil over the sick child. 2. a night spent in prayer. 3. the day and night before a solemn church festival. n.

vigils, devotions on the night before a religious festival.

vig ilance (vij'ə ləns), 1. watchfulness; alertness; caution: Constant vigilance is necessary in order to avoid accidents in driving. 2. sleeplessness. n.

vigilance committee, U.S. a self-appointed and unauthorized committee of citizens to maintain order and punish criminals.

Vicuña
(about 2½ ft. high at the shoulder)

Victoria

vigilant (vij'ələnt), watchful; alert: The dog kept a vigilant guard over the children. adj. —vig'ilant ly, adv.

vigilante (vij'əlan'tē), U.S. member of a vigilance committee. n.

visnet (vin yet'), 1. a decorative design on a page of a book, especially on the title page. 2. a literary sketch; short verbal description. n.

vigor (vig'ər), 1. active strength or force: A man's vigor lessens as he grows old. 2. healthy energy or power. n.

vigorous (vig'ər əs), full of vigor; strong and active; energetic; forceful: The old man is still vigorous and lively. Doctors wage a vigorous war against disease. adj. —vig'orous ly, adv.

Viking or vi king (vī'king), one of the daring Scandinavian pirates who raided the coasts of Europe from the eighth to tenth centuries A.D. n.

vile (vil), 1. very bad: vile weather. 2. foul; disgusting; obnoxious: a vile smell. 3. evil; low; immoral: vile language. 4. poor; mean; lowly: the vile tasks of the kitchen. adj., viler, vilest. —vile'ly, adv. —vile'ness, n.

vilification (vil'ə fə kā'shən), a vilifying or being vilified. n.

vilify (vil'ə fi), speak evil of; revile; slander. v., vilified, vilify ing. —vil'ifier, n.

village (vil'ə), a house in the country or suburbs, sometimes at the seashore. A villa is usually a large or elegant residence. n.

Vil la Cis ne ros (vēl'yā thēs nā'rōs), capital of Spanish Sahara. 1000.

village (vil'ij), 1. group of houses, usually smaller than a town. 2. the people of a village. n.

villager (vil'ij ər), person who lives in a village. n.

villain (vil'ən), 1. a very wicked person: The villain stole the money and cast the blame on his friend. 2. a playful name for a mischievous person. 3. villain. n.

villainous (vil'ən əs), 1. very wicked. 2. extremely bad; vile. adj. —vil'lain ous ly, adv.

villainy (vil'ən ē), 1. great wickedness. 2. a very wicked act; crime. n., pl. vil'lain ies.

villain (vil'ən), one of a class of half-free peasants in the Middle Ages. A villain was under the control of his lord, but in his relations with other men had the rights of a freeman. n.

villi (vil'i), 1. tiny hairlike parts growing out of the membrane of the small intestine. The villi absorb certain substances. 2. the soft hairs covering the fruit, flowers, etc., of certain plants. n., pl. of vil'lus.

villous (vil'əs), sing. of villi. n.

Vilna (vil'nə), capital of Lithuania. 235,000. n.

vim (vim), force; energy; vigor. n.

Vinci (vin'chē), Leonardo da. See da Vinci. n.

vinculum (ving'kyə ləm), 1. a tie. 2. in mathematics, a line drawn over several terms to show that they are to be considered together, as in $a + b \times c$. n., pl. vin'cu la (-lə).

vindicate (vin'də kāt), 1. clear from suspicion, dishonor, hint, or charge of wrongdoing, etc.: The verdict of "Not guilty" vindicated him. 2. defend successfully against opposition; uphold; justify: The heir vindicated his claim to the fortune. v., vin'di cat ed, vin'di cat ing. —vin'di ca'tor, n.

vindication (vin'də kā'shən), a vindicating or being vindicated; defense; justification. n.

vindicative (vin dik'ə tiv or vin'də kā'tiv), tending to vindicate; justifying. adj.

vindictive (vin dik'tiv), 1. feeling a strong tendency toward revenge; bearing a grudge: He is so vindictive that he never forgives anybody. 2. showing a strong tendency toward revenge: Vindictive acts rarely do much good. adj. —vin'dic'tive ly, adv. —vin'dic'tive-ness, n.

vine (vīn), 1. plant with a long, slender stem, that grows along the ground or that climbs by attaching itself to a wall, tree, or other support. Melons and pumpkins grow on vines. Ivy is a vine. 2. grapevine. n.

vinegar (vin'ə gər), a sour liquid produced by the fermentation of cider, wine, etc., consisting largely of dilute, impure acetic acid. Vinegar is used in flavoring and preserving food. n.

vinegary (vin'ə gər ē), of or like vinegar; sour. adj.

vineyard (vin'yərd), place planted with grapevines. n.

vinous (vī'nəs), 1. of wine; like wine; having to do with wine. 2. caused by drinking wine. adj.

vinage (vin'tij), 1. the wine from a certain crop of grapes: The finest vinages cost much more than others. 2. a year's crop of grapes. 3. the gathering of grapes for making wine. 4. the season of gathering grapes and making wine. 5. Informal. output of anything at some particular time: Her old hat was of the vinage of 1930. n.

vintner (vint'nər), Esp. Brit. dealer in wine. n.

vinyl (vī'nil or vin'il), a tough plastic or resin formed from ethylene, used in floor coverings, toys, and phonograph records. n.

viol (vī'əl), a stringed musical instrument played with a bow. The largest kind of viol is called a double bass. The player usually stands as he plays. n.

viola (vē ō'lə or vī ō'lə), a musical instrument like a violin, but somewhat larger; a tenor or alto violin. n.

violate (vī'ə lāt), 1. break (a law, rule, agreement, promise, etc.); act contrary to; fail to perform: He violated the law and was arrested by the police. 2. treat with disrespect or contempt: The soldiers violated the church by using it as a stable. 3. break in upon; disturb: The sound of guns violated the usual calm of Sunday morning. 4. trespass on; infringe on: violate the right of free speech. v., vi'ol at ed, vi'ol at ing. —vi'ol a'tor, n.

violation (vī'ə lā'shən), 1. use of force; violence. 2. a breaking (of a law, rule, agreement, promise, etc.). 3. treatment (of a holy thing) with contempt. n.

violence (vī'ə ləns), 1. rough force in action: He slammed the door with violence. 2. rough or harmful action or treatment: The policeman had to use violence in arresting the murderer. 3. harm; injury: It would do violence to her principles to work on Sunday. 4. unlawful use of force. 5. strength of action, feeling, etc. n.

violent (vī'ə lənt), 1. acting or done with strong, rough force: a violent blow. 2. caused by strong, rough force: a violent death. 3. showing or caused by very strong feeling, action, etc.: violent language. 4. severe; extreme; very great: a violent pain. adj. —vi'ol ent-ly, adv.

viollet (vī'ə lit), 1. any of various stemless or leafy-stemmed plants with purple, blue, yellow, or white flowers. 2. the flower of any of these plants. Some violets are very fragrant.

3. bluish purple. Violet is red and blue mixed. 1-3 n., 3 adj.

violet rays, the shortest rays of the spectrum that can be seen; rays having wave lengths around 3850 angstroms.

violin (vī'ə lin'), 1. the commonest musical instrument with four strings played with a bow. 2. person who plays the violin in an orchestra. n.

violinist (vī'ə lin'ist), one who plays the violin. n.

violist (vī'əl ist), person who plays the viol. n.

violoncello (vī'ə lən chel'ist or vē'ə lən chel'ist), cellist. n.

violoncello (vī'ə lən chel'ō or vē'ə lən chel'ō), cello. n., pl. vi o lon cel los.

Man playing a violin

vi os ter ol (vī os' tər ōl), oil used as a medicine to prevent or cure rickets. n.

VIP or V.I.P., Informal. very important person.

vi per (vī'pər), 1. a thick-bodied, poisonous snake with a pair of large, perforated fangs. 2. a spiteful, treacherous person. n.

vi per ous (vī'pər əs), 1. of or having to do with a viper or vipers. 2. like a viper. 3. spiteful; treacherous. adj.

vi ra go (və rā'gō), a violent, bad-tempered, or scolding woman. n., pl. vi ra goes or vi ra gos.

vir eo (vir'ē ō), 1. a small, olive-green, insect-eating American songbird. 2. any bird of the same family. n., pl. vir eo s.

Vir gil (vēr'jəl), Vergil. n.

vir gin (vēr'jən), 1. a maiden; a pure, unmarried woman. 2. of or having to do with a virgin; suitable for a virgin: virgin modesty. 3. pure; spotless: Virgin snow is newly fallen snow. 4. not yet used: virgin soil, a virgin forest. 1 n., 2-4 adj.

Vir gin (vēr'jən), 1. the Virgin Mary. 2. Virgo. n.

vir gin al (vēr'jən l), 1. of or suitable for a virgin; maidenly; pure. 2. a musical instrument like a small piano, but set in a box without legs. It was much used in the 16th and 17th centuries. 1 adj., 2 n.

Vir gin ia (vər jin'yə), a State in the E United States. 3,967,000 pop.; 40,815 sq. mi. Capital: Richmond. Abbrev.: Va. n. —Vir gin'ian, adj., n.

Virginia creeper, a climbing plant having leaves with five leaflets and bluish-black berries; woodbine; American ivy.

Virginia reel, an American country-dance in which the partners form two lines facing each other and perform a number of dance steps.

Virgin Islands,

1. group of islands in the West Indies belonging to the United States. The chief ones are St. John, St. Thomas, and St. Croix. 27,000 pop.; 133 sq. mi. Capital: Charlotte Amalie. 2. group of islands in the Leeward Islands E of Puerto Rico, a colony of Great Britain. 7000 pop.; 67 sq. mi.

vir gin i ty (vər jin'ə tē), virgin condition; maidenhood. n.

vir gin i um (vər jin'ē əm), former name of francium. Symbol: Vi n.

Vir gin Mary, the mother of Jesus.

Vir go (vēr'gō), constellation of the zodiac; the Virgin. n.

vir ile (vir'əl), 1. manly; masculine. 2. full of manly strength or masculine vigor. 3. vigorous; forceful. adj.

vi ril i ty (və ril'ə tē), 1. manly strength; masculine vigor. 2. manhood. 3. vigor; forcefulness. n., pl. vi ril i ties.

vir tu al (vēr'chū əl), being something in effect, though not so in name; actual; real: The battle was won with so great a loss of soldiers that it was a virtual defeat. He is the virtual president, though his title is secretary. adj.

vir tu al ly (vēr'chū əl ē), in effect, though not in name; actually; really. adv.

vir tue (vēr'chū), 1. moral excellence; goodness. 2. a particular moral excellence: Justice and kindness are virtues. 3. a good quality: He praised the virtues of the car. 4. chastity; purity. 5. power to produce effects: There is little virtue in that medicine. n.

Vireo (about 6 in. long)

Woman playing a virginal by or in virtue of, relying on; because of; on account of. make a virtue of necessity, do willingly what must be done anyway.

vir tu os i ty (vēr'chū os'ə tē), character or skill of a virtuoso. n., pl. vir tu os i ties.

vir tu o so (vēr'chū ō'sō), 1. person skilled in the methods of an art, especially in playing a musical instrument. 2. person who has a cultivated appreciation of artistic excellence. 3. student or collector of objects of art, curios, antiquities, etc. n., pl. vir tu o sos, vir tu o si (-sē).

vir tu ous (vēr'chū əs), 1. good; moral; righteous. 2. chaste; pure. adj. —vir'tu ous ly, adv. —vir'tu-ous ness, n.

vir u lence (vir'yə ləns), 1. quality of being very poisonous or harmful; deadliness: the virulence of a rattlesnake's bite. 2. intense bitterness or spite; violent hostility. n.

vir u len cy (vir'yə lən sē), virulence. n.

vir u lent (vir'yə lənt), 1. very poisonous or harmful; deadly: a virulent form of a disease. 2. intensely bitter or spiteful; violently hostile. adj. —vir'u lent ly, adv.

vi rus (vi'rəs), 1. any of a group of disease-producing agents smaller than any known bacteria and dependent upon the living tissue of hosts for their reproduction and growth. 2. a poison produced in a person or animal suffering from an infectious disease: smallpox virus. 3. anything that poisons the mind or morals; corrupting influence. n.

vi sa (vē'zə), 1. an official signature or endorsement upon a passport or document, showing that it has been examined and approved. 2. examine and sign: If you are going abroad, your passport should be visaed by the consul of each country that you intend to visit. 1 n., 2 v., vi saed, vi sa ing. Also, visé.

vis age (viz'ij), 1. face. 2. appearance. n.

Vi sa yan Islands (vi sā'yən), group of islands in the Philippines.

vis cer a (vis'ər ə), the soft inside parts of the body. The heart, stomach, liver, intestines, kidneys, etc., are viscera. n. pl. of vis cus (vis'kəs).

vis cer al (vis'ər əl), of or having to do with the viscera. adj.

vis cid (vis'id), thick and sticky like heavy syrup or glue. adj.

vis cose (vis'kōs), a plastic material used in manufacturing artificial silk, in making a product resembling celluloid, for sizing, and for other purposes. n.

vis cos i ty (vis kos'ə tē), 1. quality of being viscous. 2. resistance of a fluid to the motion of its molecules among themselves. n., pl. vis cos i ties.

vis count (vi'kount), a nobleman ranking next below an earl or count and next above a baron. n.

vis count ess (vi'koun tis), 1. wife or widow of a viscount. 2. woman holding in her own right a rank equivalent to that of a viscount. n.

vis cous (vis'kəs), 1. of a liquid, sticky; thick like syrup or glue. 2. having the property of viscosity. adj.

vis e (vīs), tool having two jaws moved by a screw, used to hold an object firmly while work is being done on it. n. Also, esp. Brit. vice.

vi sé (vē'zā), visa. n., v., vi séed, vi sé ing.

vis i bil i ty (viz'ə bil'ə tē), 1. condition or quality of being visible: In a fog the visibility is very poor. 2. condition of light, atmosphere, etc., with reference to the distance at which things can be clearly seen. n.

vis i ble (viz'ə bl), 1. that can be seen: The shore was barely visible through the fog. 2. perceptible; apparent; obvious: The tramp had no visible means of support. adj.

vis i bly (viz'ə blē), so as to be visible; plainly; evidently. adv.

Vise. It is fastened to a workbench by the thumbscrew at the bottom.

Visigoth (viz'ə goth), member of the western division of the Goths. The Goths plundered Rome in 410 A.D., and formed a monarchy in France and N Spain about 418 A.D. n.

vision (vizh'ən), 1. power of seeing; sense of sight: The old man wears glasses because his vision is poor. 2. act or fact of seeing; sight. 3. power of perceiving by the imagination or by clear thinking: a prophet of great vision. 4. something seen in the imagination, in a dream, in one's thoughts, etc.: The beggar had visions of great wealth. 5. phantom. 6. see in, or as if in, a vision. 7. show in a vision. 8. a very beautiful person, scene, etc. 1-5, 8 n., 6, 7 v.

visionary (vizh'ən er'ē), 1. not practical; dreamy: Ruth is a visionary girl; she spends her time daydreaming. 2. person who is not practical; dreamer. 3. of or belonging to a vision; seen in a vision; imaginary: The visionary scene faded and John awoke. 4. person who sees visions. 5. having visions; able to have visions. 1, 3, 5 adj., 2, 4 n., pl. visionaries.

visit (viz'it), 1. go to see; come to see: visit New York. 2. make a call on or stay with for social or other reasons; be a guest of: visit one's aunt. 3. pay a call; make a stay; be a guest: visit in the country. 4. go or come to see, to inspect, or to examine officially: The inspector visited the factory. 5. a visiting; a call from friendship, for purpose of inspection, for medical treatment, etc. 6. a stay as a guest. 7. come upon; afflict: Job was visited by many troubles. 8. send upon; inflict: visit one's anger on someone. 9. punish. 10. Informal. an informal talk; chat. 1-4, 7-9 v., 5, 6, 10 n.

visit with, Informal. talk with.

visitant (viz'ə tənt), 1. visitor; guest. 2. visiting. 1 n., 2 adj.

visitation (viz'ə tā'shən), 1. act of visiting. 2. a visit for the purpose of making an official inspection or examination. A nation at war has the right of visitation of neutral ships; that is, the right to inspect their cargoes. 3. a punishment or reward sent by God. n.

Visitation (viz'ə tā'shən), 1. the visit of the Virgin Mary to Elizabeth, her cousin. Luke 1:39-56. 2. a festival of the Roman Catholic Church, held July 2, in honor of this visit. n.

visitor (viz'ə tər), person who visits or is visiting; guest: Visitors from the East arrived last night. n.

visor (vī'zər), 1. the movable front part of a helmet, covering the face. 2. the projecting brim of a cap, to protect the eyes from the sun. 3. mask. n. Also, vizor.

vista (vis'tə), 1. view seen through a narrow opening or passage: The opening between the two rows of trees afforded a vista of the lake. 2. such an opening or passage itself: a shady vista of elms. 3. a mental view: Education should open up new vistas. n.

Visor (def. 1)

Visula (vis'chələ), river in Poland flowing from the Carpathians to the Baltic Sea. 650 mi. n.

visual (vizh'ü əl), 1. of sight; having to do with sight: Telescopes and microscopes are visual aids. 2. that can be seen; visible. adj.

visual aid, device or means for aiding the learning process through the sense of sight, such as a chart, diagram, motion picture, etc.

visualization (vizh'ü əl ə zā'shən), 1. a visualizing or being visualized. 2. thing visualized. n.

visualize (vizh'ü əl iz), 1. form a mental picture of: visualize a friend's face when he is away. 2. make visible. 3. form mental pictures. v., visualized, visualizing.

visually (vizh'ü əl ē), in a visual manner or respect; by sight. adv.

vital (vī'tl), 1. of life; having to do with life: vital forces. Vital statistics give facts about births, deaths, marriages, etc. 2. necessary to life: Eating is a vital function. The heart is a vital organ. 3. very necessary; very important; essential: An adequate army is vital to the defense of a nation. 4. causing death, failure, or ruin: a vital wound, a vital blow to an industry. 5. full of life and spirit; lively. adj. —vī'tally, adv.

vitalism (vī'tl iz əm), doctrine that the behavior of a living organism is, at least in part, due to a vital principle that cannot possibly be explained by physics and chemistry. n.

vitality (vī'tl ə tē), 1. vital force; power to live: Her vitality was lessened by illness. 2. power to endure and be active. 3. strength or vigor of mind or body. n., pl. vitalities.

vitalize (vī'tl iz), 1. give life to. 2. put vitality into; make more energetic, lively, or enterprising. v., vitalized, vitalizing. —vī'tal i zā'tion, n.

vitals (vī'təlz), 1. parts or organs necessary to life. The brain, heart, lungs, and stomach are vitals. 2. essential parts or features. n. pl.

vitamin or vitamine (vī'tə min), 1. any of certain special substances required for the normal growth and nourishment of the body, found especially in milk, butter, raw fruits and vegetables, brewers' yeast, wheat, and cod-liver oil. Lack of vitamins in food causes such diseases as rickets and scurvy as well as general poor health. 2. of or having to do with vitamins. 1 n., 2 adj.

vitamin A, the fat-soluble vitamin found in milk, butter, cod-liver oil, egg yolk, liver, leafy green vegetables, etc., that increases the resistance of the body to infection and prevents night blindness. It exists in two known forms, A₁ and A₂.

vitamin B₁, thiamine.

vitamin B₂, riboflavin. Also, vitamin G.

vitamin B₆, pyridoxine.

vitamin B₁₂, a crystalline liver extract, supposedly the pure anti-anemia factor of the liver.

vitamin B complex, group of different vitamins including vitamin B₁, vitamin B₂, vitamin B₆, etc., found in high concentration in yeast and liver.

vitamin C, the antiscorbutic vitamin found especially in citrus fruits; ascorbic acid.

vitamin D, the antirachitic vitamin found in cod-liver oil, milk, and egg yolk, that is necessary for the growth and health of bones and teeth. It exists in many related forms including D₁, D₂, D₃, and D₄.

vitamin E, vitamin found in wheat, lettuce, milk, etc., that is necessary for reproductive processes. Lack of vitamin E causes sterility.

vitamin G, vitamin B₂.

vitamin H, a crystalline acid that promotes growth.

vitamin K₁, a vitamin thought to prevent hemorrhages by inducing clotting of the blood. It is found in leafy vegetables, alfalfa, etc.

vitamin K₂, a vitamin similar to vitamin K₁.

vitamin P, a vitamin that promotes capillary resistance to hemorrhaging, obtained from citrus fruits and paprika.

vitiolate (vish'ē āt), 1. impair the quality of; spoil: Running an automobile in a closed garage vitiates the air. 2. destroy the legal force or authority of: The contract was vitiated because one person signed under compulsion. v., vitiated, vitiating. —vī'ti ā'tion, n.

viticulture (vit'ə kul'chər), the cultivation of grapes. n.

vitreous (vit'rē əs), 1. glassy; like glass: vitreous china. 2. having to do with glass. 3. made from glass. adj.

vitreous humor, the transparent, jellylike substance that fills the eyeball in back of the lens. See eye for diagram.

vitrification (vit'rə fə kā'shən), 1. process of making or becoming glass or a glasslike substance. 2. something vitrified. n.

vit ri form (vit/rə fōrm), having the structure or appearance of glass. adj.

vit ri fy (vit/rə fi), change into glass or something like glass. v., vit ri fied, vit ri fy ing.

vit ri ol (vit/rē əl), 1. any of certain sulfates, as of copper (blue vitriol), of iron (green vitriol), and of zinc (white vitriol). 2. sulfuric acid. Vitriol burns deeply and leaves very bad scars. 3. very sharp speech or severe criticism. n.

vit ri ol ic (vit/rē əl'ik), 1. of or containing vitriol. 2. like vitriol. 3. bitterly severe; sharp: vitriolic criticism. adj.

vi tu per ate (vī tū'pər āt or vī tū'pər āt), scold very severely; find fault with in abusive words; revile. v., vi tu per at ed, vi tu per at ing.

vi tu per a tion (vī tū'pər ā'shən or vī tū'pər ā'shən), bitter abuse in words; very severe scolding. n.

vi tu per a tive (vī tū'pər ā'tiv or vī tū'pər ā'tiv), abusive; reviling. adj. —vi tu'per a'tive ly, adv.

vi va (vē/və), 1. (long) live (the person or thing named). 2. shout of applause or good will. 1 interj., 2 n.

vi va cious (vī vā'shəs or vī vā'shəs), lively; sprightly; animated; gay. adj. —vi va'cious ly, adv. —vi va'cious ness, n.

vi vac ity (vī vas'ə tē or vī vas'ə tē), liveliness; sprightliness; animation; gaiety. n., pl. vi vac ities.

vi var i um (vī vār'ē əm), place where animals or plants are kept in, or under circumstances simulating, their natural state. n., pl. vi var i ums, vi var i a (-ē ə).

vi va vo ce (vī/və vō'sē), orally; oral: Shall we vote viva voce or by ballot?

vive (vēv), French. (long) live (the person or thing named). interj.

viv id (viv'id), 1. brilliant; strikingly bright: Dandelions are a vivid yellow. 2. full of life; lively: a vivid description. 3. strong and distinct: a vivid memory. adj. —viv'id ly, adv. —viv'id ness, n.

viv i fy (viv'ə fi), 1. give life or vigor to. 2. enliven; make vivid. v., viv i fied, viv i fy ing. —viv'i fi ca'tion, n.

vi vip a rous (vī vip'ə rəs), bringing forth living young, rather than eggs. Dogs, cats, cows, and human beings are viviparous. adj.

viv i sec tion (viv'ə sek'shən), cutting into or experimenting on living animals for scientific study. n.

viv i sec tion ist (viv'ə sek'shən ist), 1. person who practices vivisection. 2. person who favors or defends vivisection. n.

vix en (vik'sn), 1. a female fox. 2. a bad-tempered or quarrelsome woman. n.

vix en ish (vik'sn ish), ill-tempered; scolding. adj.

viz., namely: He had four sisters, viz., Ella, Alice, Mary, and Jane.

viz ard (viz'ərd), 1. visor. 2. mask. n.

vi zier or vi zir (vi zir'), a high official in Moslem countries; minister of state. n.

vi zor (vi'zər), visor. n.

V-J Day, date of the Allied victory over Japan in World War II, September 2, 1945.

Vlad i vos tok (vld'ə vos tok'), seaport on Sea of Japan in SE Soviet Union. 283,000. n.

vo cab u lar y (vō kab'yə ler'ē), 1. stock of words used by a person, class of people, profession, etc.: Reading will increase your vocabulary. 2. a collection or list of words, usually in alphabetical order, with their meanings. n., pl. vo cab u lar ies.

vocabulary entry, 1. word, term, or item entered in a vocabulary. 2. in dictionaries, any word or phrase in alphabetical order and defined, or any related word listed for identification under the word from which it is derived.

vo cal (vō'kl), 1. of, by, for, with, or having to do with the voice: vocal organs, vocal power, a vocal message, vocal music. 2. having a voice; giving forth sound: Men are vocal beings. The gorge was vocal with the roar of the cataract. 3. aroused to speech; inclined to talk freely:

He became vocal with indignation. 4. of a vowel. 5. a vocal sound. All vowels are vocals. 1-4 adj., 5 n.

vocal cords, two pairs of membranes in the throat. The lower pair can be pulled tight and the passage of breath between them then causes them to vibrate, which produces the sound of voice.

vo cal ic (vō kal'ik), 1. of or like a vowel sound. 2. having many vowel sounds. adj.

vo cal ist (vō'kl ist), singer. n.

vo cal ize (vō'kl iz), 1. speak, sing, shout, etc. 2. make vocal; utter: The dog vocalized his pain in a series of long howls. 3. in phonetics, change into a vowel; use as a vowel. Some people vocalize the r in four.

v., vo cal ized, vo cal iz ing. —vo'cal i za'tion, n.

vo cal ly (vō'kl ē), with the voice; orally; out loud. adv.

vo ca tion (vō kā'shən), 1. occupation; business; profession; trade: Teaching is her vocation. 2. inner call or summons. n.

vo ca tion al (vō kā'shən l), having to do with some occupation, trade, etc. A vocational school trains boys and girls for special trades, such as printing, stenography, etc. adj.

vo ca tion al ly (vō kā'shən l ē), in regard to vocation. adv.

vo cif er ate (vō sif'ər āt), cry out loudly or noisily; shout. v., vo cif er at ed, vo cif er at ing.

vo cif er a tion (vō sif'ər ā'shən), a vociferating; noisy oratory; clamor. n.

vo cif er ous (vō sif'ər əs), loud and noisy; shouting; clamoring: a vociferous person, vociferous cheers. adj. —vo cif'er ous ly, adv. —vo cif'er ous ness, n.

vod ka (vod'kə), a Russian intoxicating liquor. n.

vogue (vōg), 1. the fashion: Hoop skirts were in vogue many years ago. 2. popularity; acceptance: That song had a great vogue at one time. n.

voice (vois), 1. sound made through the mouth, especially by people in speaking, singing, shouting, etc. 2. power to make sounds through the mouth. 3. anything like speech or song: the voice of the wind. 4. ability as a singer. 5. singer. 6. part of a piece of music for one kind of singer or instrument. 7. express; utter: They voiced their approval of the plan. 8. expression: They gave voice to their joy. 9. an expressed opinion, choice, wish, etc.: His voice was for compromise. 10. the right to express an opinion or choice: We have no voice in the matter. 11. a form of the verb that shows whether the subject is active or passive. 12. utter with a sound made by vibration of the vocal cords. Z and v are voiced; s and f are not. 13. a sound uttered with vibration of the vocal cords, not with mere breath. 14. regulate the tone of (an organ, etc.). 1-6, 8-11, 13 n., 7, 12, 14 v., voiced, voic ing.

in voice, in condition to sing or speak well.

lift up one's voice, 1. shout; yell. 2. protest; complain.

with one voice, unanimously.

voice less (vois'lis), 1. having no voice; dumb; silent. 2. in phonetics, spoken without vibration of the vocal cords. The consonants p, t, and k are voiceless. adj.

Voice of America, an international broadcasting service maintained by the United States government to implement United States foreign policy by giving overseas listeners a picture of American life, culture, and aims.

void (void), 1. without legal force or effect; not binding in law: A contract made by a person under legal age is void. 2. make of no force or effect in law. 3. an empty space: The death of his dog left an aching void in Bob's heart. 4. empty; vacant: a void space. 5. empty out. 6. without effect; useless. 7. Archaic. leave. 1, 4, 6 adj., 2, 5, 7 v., 3 n. —void'er, n.

void of, devoid of; without; lacking: His words were void of sense.

void a ble (void'ə bl), capable of being voided or given up: The contract was voidable by either party after twelve months. adj.

voile (voil), a very thin cloth with an open weave. n.
vol., volume.

vol a tile (vol'ə tl), 1. evaporating rapidly; changing into vapor easily: Gasoline is volatile. 2. changing rapidly from one mood or interest; fickle; frivolous: Flighty people often have volatile dispositions. adj.

vol a til i ty (vol'ə til'ə tē), volatile quality or condition. n.

vol a til ize (vol'ə tl iz), change into vapor; evaporate. v., vol a til-ized, vol a til iz ing.

vol can ic (vol kan'ik), 1. of or caused by a volcano; having to do with volcanoes: a volcanic eruption. 2. characterized by the presence of volcanoes: volcanic country. 3. like a volcano; liable to break out violently: a volcanic temper. adj.

vol ca no (vol kā'nō), 1. an opening in the surface of the earth through which steam, ashes, and lava are expelled. 2. a cone-shaped hill or mountain around this opening, built up of material thus expelled. n., pl. vol ca noes or vol ca nos.

vole (vōl), rodent belonging to the same family as rats and mice, usually of heavier build and having short limbs and tail. n.

Vol ga (vol'gə), river flowing from W Soviet Union into the Caspian Sea. 2325 mi. n.

Vol go grad (vol'gə grad), city in SW Soviet Union, on the Volga River. 591,000. Formerly called Stalingrad. n.

vo li tion (vō lish'ən), 1. act of willing: The man went away of his own volition. 2. power of willing: The use of drugs has weakened his volition. n.

vo li tion al (vō lish'ən l), of or having to do with volition. adj.

vo li tion al ly (vō lish'ən l ē), by the will; in accordance with the will. adv.

vol ley (vol'ē), 1. shower of stones, bullets, arrows, words, oaths, etc. 2. the discharge of a number of guns at once. 3. discharge or be discharged in a volley: Cannon volleyed on all sides. 4. the hitting or return of a tennis ball, etc., before it touches the ground. 5. hit or return (a tennis ball, etc.) before it touches the ground. 1,2,4 n., pl. vol leys; 3,5 v., vol leyed, vol ley ing.

vol ley ball (vol'ē bōl'), 1. game played with a large ball and a high net. The ball is hit with the hands back and forth over the net without letting it touch the ground. 2. the ball. n.

vol plane (vol'plān'), 1. glide toward the earth in an airplane without using motor power. 2. act of doing this. 1 v., vol planed, vol plan ing; 2 n.

volts., volumes.

volt (vōlt), the unit of electromotive force. One volt causes a current of one ampere to flow through a resistance of one ohm. n.

volt age (vōlt'ij), electromotive force expressed in volts. A current of high voltage is used in transmitting electric power over long distances. n.

vol ta ic (vol tā'ik), 1. producing an electric current by chemical action. 2. of or having to do with electric currents produced by chemical action; galvanic. adj.

Volcano

Vole
(about 5 in. long)

voltaic battery. 1. battery composed of voltaic cells. 2. voltaic cell.

voltaic cell, an electric cell; container having two plates, each of a different metal, immersed in some solution or paste that will produce an electric current by reacting with one of the plates.

Vol taire (vol tār'), François Marie Arouet de, 1694-1778, French political philosopher, historian, dramatist, and essayist. n.

vol tam e ter (vol tam'ə tər), device for measuring the quantity of electricity passing through a conductor by the amount of electrolytic decomposition it produces, or for measuring the strength of a current by the amount of such decomposition in a given time. n.

volt me ter (vōlt'mē'tər), instrument for measuring the number of volts of an electric circuit. n.

vol u bil i ty (vol'yə bil'ə tē), 1. readiness to talk much; the habit of talking much. 2. great flow of words. n.

vol u ble (vol'yə bl), 1. tending to talk much; fond of talking. 2. having a smooth, rapid flow of words. adj. —vol'u bly, adv.

vol ume (vol'yūm), 1. collection of printed or written sheets bound together to form a book; book: We own a library of five hundred volumes. 2. book forming part of a set or series: Please look in the ninth volume of the encyclopedia. 3. space occupied: The storeroom has a volume of 800 cubic feet. 4. amount; quantity: Volumes of smoke poured from the chimneys of the factory. 5. amount of sound; fullness of tone: A pipe organ has more volume than a flute. 6. roll; scroll (the ancient form of a book). n. speak volumes, express much; be full of meaning.

vol u met ric (vol'yə met'rik), of or having to do with measurement by volume. adj.

vo lu mi nous (və lū'mə nes), 1. forming, filling or writing a large book or many books: a voluminous report, a voluminous author. 2. of great size; very bulky; large: A voluminous cloak covered him from head to foot. adj. —vo lū'mi nous ly, adv.

vol un tar i ly (vol'ən tər'ə lē or vol'ən tār'ə lē), of one's own free will; without force or compulsion. adv.

vol un tar y (vol'ən tər'ē), 1. done, made, given, etc., of one's own free will; not forced or compelled: The state is supported by taxes, the church by voluntary contributions. 2. supported entirely by voluntary gifts: voluntary schools. 3. acting of one's own free will or choice: Voluntary workers built a road to the boys' camp. 4. able to act of one's own free will: a voluntary agent. 5. deliberately intended; done on purpose: voluntary manslaughter. 6. controlled by the will: Talking is voluntary; breathing is only partly so. adj.

vol un teer (vol'ən tīr'), 1. person who enters military or other service of his own free will. 2. offer one's services: As soon as war was declared, many men volunteered. 3. offer of one's own free will: He volunteered to do the job. 4. of or made up of volunteers: a volunteer fire company. 5. serving as a volunteer: That man is a volunteer fireman in this town. 6. tell or say voluntarily: She volunteered the information. 7. voluntary. 1 n., 2,3,6 v., 4,5,7 adj.

vo lup tu ar y (və lup'chū er'ē), person who cares much for luxurious or sensual pleasures. n., pl. vo lup tu aries.

vo lup tu ous (və lup'chū əs), 1. caring much for the pleasures of the senses. 2. giving pleasure to the senses: voluptuous music or beauty. adj. —vo lup'tu ous ly, adv. —vo lup'tu ous ness, n.

vo lute (və lūt'), 1. rolled up; spiral. 2. a spiral or twisted thing or form. 3. a scroll-like ornament in architecture, especially on an Ionic or Corinthian capital. 4. a turn or whorl of a spiral shell. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

vom it (vom'it), 1. throw up what has been eaten. 2. the substance thrown up from the stomach. 3. emetic. 4. cause (a person) to vomit. 5. throw up; throw out with force: The chimneys vomited forth smoke.

6. come out with force or violence. 1,4-6 v., 2,3 n.

voo doo (vū'dū), 1. mysterious rites, including magic and conjuration. Voodoo came from Africa; belief in it still prevails among some Negroes of the West Indies and southern United States. 2. person who practices such magic. 3. of or having to do with voodoo. 1,2 n., pl. voo doos; 3 adj.

voo doo ism (vū'dū iz əm), voodoo rites or practices. n.

voo doo ist (vū'dū ist), believer in voodoo. n.

voo doo is tic (vū'dū is'tik), of or having to do with voodooism. adj.

vo ra cious (və rā'shəs), 1. eating much; greedy in eating; ravenous. 2. very eager; unable to be satisfied. adj. —vo ra'cious ly, adv.

vo rac i ty (və ras'ə tē), being voracious. n.

vor tex (vôr'teks), 1. a whirling mass of water, air, etc., that sucks in everything near it; whirlpool; whirlwind. 2. whirl of activity or other situation from which it is hard to escape: The two nations were unwillingly drawn into the vortex of war. n., pl. vor tex es or vor tices.

vor ti ces (vôr'tə sēz), a pl. of vortex. n.

Vosges Mountains (vōzh), a mountain range in E France. The highest mountain is 4668 feet.

vot a ble (vôt'ə bl), that can be voted for, against, on, etc. adj.

vo ta ress (vô'tə ris), a woman votary. n.

vo ta rist (vô'tə rist), votary. n.

vo ta ry (vô'tə rē), 1. person devoted to something; devotee: He was a votary of golf. 2. person bound by vows to a religious life; monk or nun. n., pl. vo ta ries.

vote (vôt), 1. a formal expression of a wish or choice: The person receiving the most votes is elected. 2. the right to give such an expression: Not everybody has a vote. 3. what is expressed or granted by a majority of voters. 4. votes considered together: the labor vote, the vote of the people. 5. give or cast a vote: He voted for the Democrats. 6. support by one's vote: vote the Republican ticket. 7. pass, determine, or grant by a vote: Money for a new school was voted by the board. 8. voter. 9. ticket; ballot: More than a million votes were cast. 10. declare, especially by general consent: The children all voted the trip a great success. 11. Informal. suggest: I vote that we go. 1-4,8,9 n., 5-7,10,11 v., voted, voting.

vote down, defeat by voting against.

vote in, elect.

voter (vôt'ər), 1. person who votes. 2. person who has the right to vote. n.

voting machine, a mechanical device for registering and counting votes.

vo tive (vô'tiv), promised by a vow; done, given, etc., because of a vow. adj.

vouch (vouch), 1. be responsible; give a guarantee (for): I can vouch for the truth of the story. The principal vouched for Bill's honesty. 2. answer for; confirm; guarantee. v.

vouch er (vouch'ər), 1. person or thing that vouches for something. 2. a written evidence of payment; receipt. Canceled checks returned from one's bank are vouchers. n.

vouch safe (vouch sâf'), be willing to grant or give; deign (to do or give): The proud man vouchsafed no reply when we spoke to him. v., vouch safed, vouch saf ing.

vous soir (vū swâr'), a wedge-shaped piece or section forming part of an arch or vault. n.

vow (vou), 1. a solemn promise: a vow of secrecy. 2. promise made to God: a nun's vows. 3. make a vow. 4. make a vow to do, give, get, etc.: vow revenge. 5. declare earnestly or emphatically: I vowed never to leave home again. 1,2 n., 3-5 v.

take vows, become a member of a religious order.

vow el (vou'əl), 1. an open sound produced by the voice. A vowel can form a syllable by itself, as the first syllable of awful (ô'fəl). 2. a letter representing such a sound. A, e, i, o, and u are vowels. Y is sometimes a vowel, as in bicycle. 3. of or having to do with a vowel. Vowels has four vowel sounds; strength has only one. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

voy age (voi'ij), 1. journey or travel by water: We had a pleasant voyage to England (n.). Columbus voyaged on unknown seas (v.). 2. journey or travel through the air. n., v., voy aged, voy ag ing.

voy ag er (voi'ij'ər), person who makes a voyage; traveler. n.

vo ya geur (vwä yä zhœr'), a French Canadian or half-breed accustomed to travel on foot or by canoe through unsettled regions. n., pl. vo ya geurs (-zhœrz'). V.P. or VP., Vice-President.

vs., versus.

V-shaped (vê'shāpt'), 1. shaped like the letter V. 2. like the letter V in cross section. adj.

Vt., Vermont.

Vul can (vul'kən), the Roman god of fire and metal-working. The Romans identified him with the Greek god Hephaestus. n.

vul can ite (vul'kən it), a hard rubber obtained by treating India rubber with a large amount of sulfur and heating it, used for combs, for buttons, in electric insulation, and in many other ways. n.

vul can ize (vul'kən iz), 1. treat (rubber) with sulfur and heat to make it more elastic and durable. 2. repair (a rubber tire, etc.) by using heat and chemicals to fuse the patch. v., vul can ized, vul can iz ing. —vul'can-i za'tion, n. —vul'can iz'er, n.

vul gar (vul'gar), 1. showing a lack of good breeding, manners, taste, etc.; not refined; coarse; low: The tramp used vulgar words. 2. common; in common use; ordinary.

3. of the common people: The vulgar language differs from the language used by lawyers and preachers. 4. the common people. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —vul'gar-ly, adv. —vul'gar ness, n.

vul gar i an (vul gār'ē ən), 1. a vulgar person. 2. a rich person who lacks good breeding, manners, taste, etc. n.

vul gar ism (vul'gar iz əm), 1. word, phrase, or expression used only in ignorant or coarse speech. In "I disrecollect his name," disrecollect is a vulgarism. 2. vulgar character or action; vulgarity. 3. a vulgar expression. n.

vul gar i ty (vul gar'ə tē), 1. lack of refinement; lack of good breeding, manners, taste, etc.; coarseness. 2. action, habit, speech, etc., showing vulgarity: Talking loudly in a train is a vulgarity. n., pl. vul gar i ties.

vul gar ize (vul'gar iz), make vulgar. v., vul gar-ized, vul gar iz ing.

Vul gate (vul'gāt), the Latin translation of the Bible used by the Roman Catholic Church. The Vulgate was made in the fourth century A.D. n.
the vulgate, standard speech.

vul ner a bil i ty (vul'nər ə bil'ə tē), vulnerable quality or condition; a being open to attack or injury. n.

vul ner a ble (vul'nər ə bl),

1. capable of being wounded or injured; open to attack: Achilles was vulnerable only in his heel. 2. sensitive to criticism, temptations, influences, etc.: Most people are vulnerable to ridicule. 3. in the game of contract bridge, in the position where penalties and premiums are increased. adj.
 —vul'ner a bly, adv.

vul pine (vul'pin), of or like a fox. adj.

vul ture (vul'chər), 1. a large bird of prey related to eagles, hawks, etc., that eats the flesh of dead animals. 2. a greedy, ruthless person. n.

vul va (vul/və), the external genital organs of the female. n., pl. vul vae (-vê) or vul vas.

vy ing (vi'ing), ppr. of vie. v.

Vulture (about 2½ ft. long)

W

W or w (dub'l ū), the 23rd letter of the alphabet. n., pl. W's or w's.

w., 1. west. 2. watt. 3. tungsten. 4. wolfram.

w, watt.

W., 1. west. 2. western.

w., 1. west. 2. week. 3. wide. 4. width.

WAAC or W.A.A.C., 1. U.S. the former name of the WAC. 2. Brit. Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

Wa bash (wō'bash), river flowing from W Ohio SW across Indiana into the Ohio River. 475 mi. n.

wab ble (wob'l), wobble. v., wab bled, wab bling; n. —wab'bler, n.

wab bly (wob'lē), wobbly. adj.

WAC, Women's Army Corps.

WAC or Wac (wak), U.S. member of the WAC; woman in the United States Army, not a nurse. n.

wack y (wak'ē), U.S. Slang. unconventional in behavior; eccentric; crazy. adj.

Wa co (wā'kō), city in central Texas. 98,000. n.

wad (wod), 1. a small, soft mass: He plugged his ears with wads of cotton. 2. a tight roll; compact bundle or mass: a wad of bills. 3. make into a wad; press into a wad. 4. a round plug of felt, cardboard, etc., used to hold powder and shot in place in a gun or cartridge. 5. stuff with a wad. 6. hold in place by a wad. 7. pad. 1,2,4 n., 3,5-7 v., wad ded, wad ding.

wad ding (wod'ing), 1. a soft material for padding, stuffing, packing, etc.; especially, carded cotton in sheets. 2. material for making wads for guns or cartridges. 3. wad. n.

wad dle (wod'l), 1. walk with short steps and an awkward, swaying motion, as a duck does. 2. act of wad-dling. 3. an awkward, swaying gait. 1 v., wad dled, wad dling; 2,3 n. —wad'dler, n.

wade (wād), 1. walk through water, snow, sand, mud, or anything that hinders free motion. 2. make one's way with difficulty: wade through an uninteresting book. 3. cross or pass through by wading. 4. act of wading. 1-3 v., wad ed, wad ing; 4 n.

wade into, Informal. attack or go to work upon vigorously.

wader (wād'ər), 1. one that wades. 2. a long-legged bird that wades about in shallow water, searching for food. Cranes, herons, storks, and sandpipers are waders. 3. a high waterproof boot. n.

wa di (wā'dē), 1. valley or ravine in Arabia, N Africa, etc., through which a stream flows during the rainy season. 2. stream or torrent running through such a ravine. n., pl. wa dis.

WAF (waf), 1. Women's Air Force. 2. member of the Women's Air Force. n.

wa fer (wā'fər), 1. a very thin cake or biscuit, sometimes flavored or sweetened. 2. the thin, round piece of unleavened bread used in Holy Communion in the Roman Catholic Church. 3. a thin piece of candy, chocolate, medicine, etc. 4. piece of sticky paper, dried paste, etc., used as a seal or fastening. n. —wa'fer-like, adj.

waffle (wof'l), a batter cake cooked in a special griddle that makes the cakes very thin in places. n.

waffle iron, utensil in which waffles are cooked, consisting of two hinged parts having projections on the inside.

waft (waft), 1. carry over water or through air: The waves wafted the boat to shore. 2. float. 3. a breath or puff of air, wind, etc. 4. a waving movement: A waft of the hand was her only farewell. 1,2 v., 3,4 n.

wag (wag), 1. move from side to side or up and down, especially rapidly and repeatedly: The dog wagged its tail. 2. a wagging motion: The Indian refused with a wag of his head. 3. person who is fond of making jokes. 1 v., wag ged, wag ging; 2,3 n.

wage (wāj), 1. amount paid for work. 2. something given in return. 3. carry on: Doctors wage war against disease. 4. Obsolete. pledge; gage; bet. 1,2,4 n., 3,4 v., wag ed, wag ing. —wage/less, adj.

wages, 1. amount paid for work: His wages are $70 a week. 2. something given in return: the wages of sin.

wage earner, person who works for wages.

wa ger (wā'jər), 1. something staked on an uncertain event. 2. bet; gamble: I'll wager the black horse will win the race. 3. act of betting; bet: The wager of $10 was promptly paid. 1,3 n., 2 v. —wa'ger er, n.

wage work er (wāj'wēr'kər), person who works for wages. n.

wage work ing (wāj'wēr'king), 1. work done for wages. 2. doing work for wages. 1 n., 2 adj.

wag ger y (wag'ər ē), 1. a joking. 2. joke. n., pl. wag ger ies.

wag gish (wag'ish), 1. fond of making jokes. 2. characteristic of a wag: a wag gish look. adj. —wag'gish ly, adv. —wag'gish ness, n.

wag gle (wag'l), 1. move quickly and repeatedly from side to side; wag. 2. a wagging motion. 1 v., wag gled, wag gling; 2 n.

wag gon (wag'ən), Esp. Brit. wagon. n.

Wag ner (vā'gər), Richard, 1813-1883, German musical composer, famous for his operas. n.

wag on (wag'ən), 1. a four-wheeled vehicle, especially one for carrying loads: a milk wagon, a station wagon. 2. Brit. a railroad freight car. n.

hitch one's wagon to a star, have high hopes and ambitions; aim high.

on the wagon, Slang. not drinking alcoholic liquors.

wag on er (wag'ən ər), person who drives a wagon. n.

wagon train, group of wagons moving along in a line one after another.

waif (wāf), 1. person without home or friends; homeless or neglected child. 2. anything without an owner; stray thing, animal, etc. n.

Wai ki ki (wī'kē kē'), a bathing beach near Honolulu, Hawaii. n.

wail (wāl), 1. cry loud and long because of grief or pain: The baby wailed. 2. a long cry of grief or pain. 3. a sound like such a cry.

4. make a mournful sound: The wind wailed around the old house. 5. lament; mourn. 1,4, 5 v., 2,3 n. —wail'er, n.

wain (wān), Archaic or Poetic.

wagon. n.

wain scot (wān'skət or wān'skot), 1. a lining of wood, usually in panels, on the walls of a room. 2. line with wood: a room wainscoted in oak. 3. the lower part of the wall of a room when it is decorated differently from the upper part. 1,3 n., 2 v., wain-scot ed, wain scot ing or esp. Brit. wain scot ted, wain-scot ting.

wain scot ing (wān'skət ing or wān'skot ing), 1. wainscot. 2. material used for wainscots. n.

wain wright (wān'rit'), one who makes wagons. n.

Wainscot (def. 3)

waist (wāst), 1. the part of the human body between the ribs and the hips. 2. waistline. 3. a garment or part of a garment covering the body from the neck or shoulders to the waistline. 4. the middle part: the waist of a ship. n.

waist band (wāst/band'), a band around the waist: the waistband of a skirt or of a pair of trousers. n.

waist coat (wāst/kōt' or wes/kōt'), Esp. Brit. a man's vest. n.

waist line (wāst/līn'), 1. an imaginary line around the body at the smallest part of the waist. 2. the place of smallest width in a woman's dress between the arms and the knees. 3. the line where the waist and skirt of a dress join. n.

wait (wāt), 1. stay or be inactive until someone comes or something happens: Let's wait in the shade. 2. Informal. delay or put off: Wait dinner for him. 3. act or time of waiting: I had a long wait at the doctor's office. 4. look forward; be expecting or ready: The children wait impatiently for vacation. 5. be left undone; be put off: That matter can wait until tomorrow. 6. wait for: wait one's chance. 7. act as a servant; change plates, pass food, etc., at table. 8. serve. 1,2,4-8 v., 3 n.

waits, a group of singers and musicians who go about the streets singing and playing at Christmas time.

lie in wait, stay hidden ready to attack.

wait on, 1. be a servant to; serve, especially at the table. 2. call on (a superior) to pay a respectful visit. 3. go with; result from.

wait er (wāt'ər), 1. person who waits. 2. man who waits on table in a hotel or restaurant. 3. tray for carrying dishes. n.

waiting (wāt'ing), 1. that waits: The waiting crowd rushed to the train as soon as it was ready. 2. used to wait in. 3. time that one waits. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

in waiting, in attendance on a king, queen, prince, princess, etc.

waiting room, room at a railroad station, doctor's office, etc., for people to wait in.

waiting woman, a woman servant or attendant.

wait ress (wāt'ris), woman who waits on table in a dining room. n.

waive (wāv), 1. give up (a right, claim, etc.); refrain from claiming or pressing; do without; relinquish: The lawyer waived the privilege of cross-examining the witness. 2. put aside; defer. v., waived, waiving.

waiv er (wāv'ər), 1. a giving up of a right, claim, etc. 2. a written statement of this: For $100, the injured man signed a waiver of all claims against the railroad. n.

wake (wāk), 1. stop sleeping: wake up early in the morning, wake at seven every morning. 2. cause to stop sleeping: The noise of the traffic always wakes him. Wake him up early. 3. be awake; stay awake: all his waking hours. 4. become alive or active: The flowers wake in the spring. 5. make alive or active: He needs some interest to wake him up. 6. a watching. 7. an all-night watch kept beside the body of a dead person. 8. keep watch. 1-5,8 v., waked or woke, waked or (Archaic and Dialect) woken, waking; 6,7 n.

wake² (wāk), 1. track left behind a moving ship. 2. track left behind any moving thing. n.

in the wake of, following; behind; after.

wake ful (wāk'fəl), 1. not able to sleep. 2. without sleep. 3. watchful. adj. —wake/ful ness, n.

Wake Island, a small island in the Pacific, about 2000 mi. west of Hawaii, belonging to the United States. 3 sq. mi.

wake en (wāk'en), wake. v. —wak'en er, n.

wake-rob in (wāk'rob'en), 1. U.S. trillium, a plant with purple, pink, or white flowers and a disagreeable odor. 2. jack-in-the-pulpit. n.

wale (wāl), 1. a streak or ridge made on the skin by a stick or whip; welt. 2. mark with wales; raise wales on. 3. a ridge in the weave of cloth. 4. weave with ridges. 5. texture of a cloth. 6. a continuous line of thick, outside planking on the sides of a wooden ship. 7. sometimes, the gunwale. 1,3,5-7 n., 2,4 v., waled, wal ing.

Wales (wālz), the division of Great Britain west of England; the land of the Welsh. 2,600,000 pop.; 7466 sq. mi. n.

walk (wōk), 1. go on foot: Walk down to the post office with me. In walking, a person always has one foot on the ground. 2. roam: The ghost will walk tonight. 3. go over, on, or through: The captain walked the deck. 4. make, put, drive, etc., by walking: walk off a headache. 5. go slowly: Walk, do not run. 6. cause to walk: The rider walked his horse. 7. act of walking, especially walking for pleasure or exercise: a walk in the country. 8. distance to walk: It is a long walk from here. 9. manner of going on foot; gait: We knew the man was a sailor from his rolling walk. 10. place for walking; path: There are many pretty walks in the park. 11. way of living: A doctor and a street cleaner are in different walks of life. 12. conduct oneself in a particular manner; follow a particular course in life: "Walk humbly with thy God." 13. go to first base after the pitcher has thrown four balls. 14. chance to do this. 15. (of a pitcher) give such a chance. 16. an enclosed place; tract: a poultry walk. 1-6,12,13,15 v., 7-11,14,16 n.

walk away from, progress much faster than.

walk off with, 1. take; get; win. 2. steal.

walk out, 1. Informal. go on strike. 2. leave suddenly.

walk out on, Informal. desert.

walk a way (wōk'ə wā'), Informal. an easy victory. n.

walk er (wōk'ər), one who walks. n.

walk ie-talk ie or walk y-talk y (wōk'ē tōk'ē), a small, portable receiving and transmitting radio set, used by the United States Army in World War II. n., pl. walk ie-talk ies.

walking papers, Informal. dismissal from a position, etc.

walking stick, 1. Esp. Brit. cane; stick used in walking. 2. any of various insects having a body like a stick or twig.

walk out (wōk'out'), Informal. strike of workers. n.

walk over (wōk'ō vər), Informal. an easy victory. n.

walk-up (wōk'up'), U.S. an apartment house or building having no elevator. n.

wall (wōl), 1. side of a house, room, or other hollow thing. 2. structure of stone, brick, or other material built up to enclose, divide, support, or protect. Cities used to be surrounded by high walls to keep out enemies. 3. something like a wall in looks or use: The flood came in a wall of water twelve feet high. The soldiers kept their ranks a solid wall.

4. enclose, divide, protect, or fill with a wall, or as if with a wall: The garden is walled. Workmen walled up the doorway. 1-3 n., 4 v. —wall'-less, adj. —wall'-like, adj.

drive to the wall, make desperate or helpless.

go to the wall, 1. give way; be defeated. 2. fail in business.

push to the wall, make desperate or helpless.

wal la by (wōl'ə bē), a kangaroo of the smaller sorts. Some wallabies are no larger than rabbits. n., pl. wal la bies or (esp. collectively) wal la by.

Wal lace (wōl'is), Sir William, 1272?-1305, Scottish leader and general. n.

wal la roo (wōl'ə rū'), a large kangaroo that has thick gray fur. n.

wall board (wōl'bōrd'), an artificial board used instead of wooden boards or plaster to make or cover walls. n.

Wall with tower

Wallaby

walled (wôld), having walls: high-walled. adj.

wallet (wôl'it), 1. a small, flat leather case for carrying paper money, cards, etc., in one's pocket; folding pocketbook. 2. bag for carrying food and small articles for personal use when on a journey. n.

walleye (wôl'î), 1. eye having little or no color. 2. eye that turns away from the nose. 3. a large staring eye. 4. condition of being walleied. 5. any of various fishes with large staring eyes. n.

walleyed (wôl'id'), 1. having eyes that show much white and little color. 2. having both eyes turned away from the nose. 3. having large staring eyes. The pike is a walleyed fish. adj.

wallflower (wôl'flou'ər), 1. Informal. person who sits by the wall at a dance instead of dancing. 2. a perennial plant with sweet-smelling yellow, orange, or red flowers, growing on walls, cliffs, etc. n.

wallop (wôl'op), Informal. 1. beat soundly; thrash. 2. hit very hard; strike with a vigorous blow. 3. a very hard blow. 4. power to hit very hard blows. 5. defeat thoroughly, as in a game. 1,2,5 v., 3,4 n.

walloping (wôl'əp'ing), Informal. 1. a sound beating or thrashing. 2. a thorough defeat. 3. big; powerful; strong. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

wallow (wôl'ô), 1. roll about; flounder: The pigs wallowed in the mud. The boat wallowed helplessly in the stormy sea. 2. live contentedly in filth, wickedness, etc., like a beast; live or continue self-indulgently or luxuriously, as in some form of pleasure, manner of life, etc.: wallow in wealth, wallow in sentimentality. 3. act of wallowing. 4. place where an animal wallows. 1,2 v., 3,4 n.

wallpaper (wôl'pā'pər), 1. paper, commonly with printed decorative patterns in color, for pasting on and covering walls. 2. put wallpaper on. 1 n., 2 v.

Wall Street, 1. street in downtown New York, the chief financial center of the United States. 2. the money market or the financiers of the United States.

walnut (wôl'nut), 1. a large, round, edible nut with a plain division between its two halves. 2. the tree that it grows on. 3. the wood of a walnut tree. Black walnut is used in making furniture. n.

walrus (wôl'rəs), a large sea mammal of the Arctic regions, resembling a seal but having long tusks. Walrus hide is made into leather for suitcases, bags, etc. n., pl. walrus es or (esp. collectively) walrus.

Walrus
(about 10 ft. long)

waltz (wôlts), 1. a smooth, even, gliding dance in triple rhythm. 2. music for it. 3. dance a waltz. 4. move nimbly or quickly. 1,2 n., 3,4 v. —waltz'er, n.

wampum (wom'pəm), 1. beads made from shells, formerly used by American Indians as money and ornament. 2. Slang. money. n.

Wampum

wan (won), 1. pale; lacking natural color: Her face looked wan after her long illness. 2. looking worn or tired; faint; weak: The sick boy gave the doctor a wan smile. adj., wan ner, wan nest. —wan'ly, adv. —wan'ness, n.

wand (wond), a slender stick or rod: The magician waved his wand. n. —wand'like', adj.

wander (won'dər), 1. move here and there without any special purpose: We wandered through the stores, hoping to get ideas for Christmas presents. 2. go aimlessly over or through. 3. go from the right way; stray: The dog wandered off and got lost. 4. be delirious; be incoherent: His mind wandered when he had a very high fever. v. —wan'der er, n.

wanderlust (won'dər lust'), a strong desire to wander: His wanderlust led him all over the world. n.

wane (wān), 1. become smaller; become smaller gradually: The moon wanes after it has become full. 2. decline in power, influence, importance, etc.: Many great empires have waned. 3. decline in strength, intensity, etc.: The light of day wanes in the evening. 4. draw to a close: Summer wanes as autumn approaches. 5. a waning. 1-4 v., waned, waning; 5 n.

in or on the wane, growing less; waning.

wangle (wang'gl), Informal. 1. manage to get by schemes, tricks, persuasion, etc. 2. make one's way through difficulties. v., wangled, wangling.

want (wont), 1. wish for; wish: He wants to become an engineer. He wants a new car. 2. thing desired or needed; desire: He is a man of few wants. 3. be without; lack: The fund for a new church wants only a few hundred dollars of the sum needed. 4. a lack: The plant died from want of water. 5. need: Plants want water. 6. a need: supply a long-felt want. 7. be lacking: It wants an hour until dinner. 8. a lack of food, clothing, or shelter; great poverty: The old soldier is now in want. 9. need food, clothing, and shelter; be very poor. 1,3,5,7,9 v., 2,4,6,8 n.

want for, lack.

want ad, Informal. a small notice in a newspaper stating that an employee, an apartment, etc., is wanted.

wanting (won'ting), 1. lacking; missing: One volume of the set is wanting. 2. without; less; minus: a year wanting three days. 3. not coming up to a standard or need: The vegetables were weighed and found wanting. 1,3 adj., 2 prep.

wanton (won'tən), 1. reckless; heartless: That bad boy hurts animals from wanton cruelty. 2. without reason or excuse: a wanton attack, wanton mischief. 3. not moral; not chaste: a wanton woman. 4. Poetic. frolicsome; playful: a wanton breeze, a wanton child. 5. Poetic. not restrained: a wanton mood. 6. a wanton person. 7. act in a wanton manner: The wind wantoned with the leaves. 1-5 adj., 6 n., 7 v. —wan'ton ly, adv. —wan'ton-ness, n.

wapiti (wop'ə tē), a North American deer with long, slender antlers; the American elk. n., pl. wapitis or (esp. collectively) wapiti.

war (wôr), 1. a fight carried on by armed force between nations or parts of a nation. 2. fighting; strife; conflict: Doctors carry on war against disease. 3. the occupation or art of fighting with weapons; military science: Soldiers are trained for war. 4. fight; make war. 5. used in war; having to do with war; caused by war. 1-3 n., 4 v., warred, war ring; 5 adj. —war'less, adj. at war, taking part in a war.

go to war, 1. start a war. 2. go as a soldier.

War Between the States, the American Civil War, from 1861 to 1865.

warble (wôr'bl), 1. sing with trills, quavers, or melodious turns: Birds warbled in the trees. 2. make a sound like that of a bird warbling: The brook warbled over its rocky bed. 3. a warbling. 1,2 v., war bled, war-bling; 3 n.

warbler (wôr'blər), 1. person, bird, etc., that warbles. 2. any of a large variety of small songbirds, often brightly colored. n.

war club, a heavy club used as a weapon.

war cry, 1. word or phrase shouted in fighting; battle cry. 2. a party cry in any contest.

ward (wôrd), 1. a division of a hospital or prison. 2. a district of a city or town. 3. person under the care of a guardian or of a court. 4. guard: The soldiers kept watch and ward over the castle. 5. Archaic. keep watch over. 6. being kept under guard; custody; prison. 1-4,6 n., 5 v.

ward off, keep away; turn aside.

-ward, suffix meaning: in the direction of; that is, moves, or faces toward; toward, as in backward, heavenward, seaward. See also -wards.

hat, âge, câre, fâr; let, bē, tēm; it, ĭce; hot, gō, ôrder; oil, out; cup, pût, rûle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

ward en (wôrd'n), 1. keeper; guard. The man in charge of a prison is called the warden. 2. the head of certain colleges, schools, etc. 3. a public official like a mayor. 4. churchwarden. n.

ward er (wôr'dər), 1. guard; watchman. 2. warden; jailer. n.

ward heeler, U.S. Informal. follower of a political boss, who goes around asking for votes, etc.

ward robe (wôrd'rôb'), 1. stock of clothes: She is shopping for her spring wardrobe. 2. room, closet, or piece of furniture for holding clothes. n.

-wards, suffix meaning: in the direction of, as in backwards, upwards. See also -ward.

ward ship (wôrd'ship), 1. guardianship; custody; guardianship over a minor or ward. 2. condition of being a ward, or under a legal or feudal guardian. n.

ware (wâr), 1. a manufactured thing; article for sale: The peddler sold his wares cheap. 2. kind of manufactured thing or article for sale; goods (now chiefly in compounds): silverware and tinware. 3. pottery: Delft is a blue-and-white ware. n.

ware (wâr), Archaic. 1. aware. 2. look out (for); beware (of). 1 adj., 2 v., wared, waring.

ware house (wâr'hous'), place where goods are kept; storehouse. n.

ware house man (wâr'hous'man), man who owns or works in a warehouse. n., pl. ware house men.

war fare (wôr'fâr'), war; fighting. n.

war head (wôr'hed), the forward part of a torpedo, missile, etc., that contains the explosive. n.

war horse, 1. horse used in war. 2. Informal. person who has taken part in many battles, struggles, etc.

war i ly (wâr'ə lē), cautiously; carefully. adv.

war i ness (wâr'ē nis), caution; care. n.

war like (wôr'lik'), 1. fit for war; ready for war; fond of war: warlike tribes. 2. threatening war: a warlike speech. 3. of war; having to do with war. adj.

war lock (wôr'lok), wizard. n.

warm (wôrm), 1. more hot than cold; having heat; giving forth heat: a warm fire. She sat in the warm sunshine. 2. having a feeling of heat: be warm from running. 3. that makes or keeps warm: a warm coat. 4. having or showing affection, enthusiasm, or zeal: a warm welcome. 5. easily excited: a warm temper. 6. exciting; lively: a warm dispute. 7. fresh and strong: a warm scent. 8. Informal. near what one is searching for. 9. suggesting heat. Red, orange, and yellow are called warm colors. 10. uncomfortable; unpleasant: make things warm for a person. 11. make or become warm: warm a room. 12. make or become cheered, interested, friendly, or sympathetic: The speaker warmed to his subject. 1-10 adj., 11, 12 v. —warm'er, n. —warm'ly, adv. —warm'ness, n.

warm up, 1. heat or cook again. 2. make or become more interested, friendly, etc. 3. practice or exercise for a few minutes before entering a game, contest, etc.

warm-blood ed (wôrm'blud'id), 1. having warm blood and a body temperature from 98 degrees to 112 degrees. Cats and birds are warm-blooded; snakes and turtles are cold-blooded.

2. with much feeling; eager; ardent. adj.

warm-heart ed (wôrm'hâr'tid), kind; sympathetic; friendly. adj.

warming pan, a covered pan with a long handle for holding hot coals, formerly used to warm beds.

warm ish (wôr'mish), rather warm. adj.

war mong er (wôr'mung'gər), one who is in favor of war or attempts to bring about war. n.

warmth (wôrmth), 1. being warm: the warmth of the open fire. 2. warm feeling. 3. liveliness of feelings or emotions; fervor: He spoke with warmth of the natural beauty of the country. 4. in painting, a glowing effect, as from the use of reds and yellows. n.

warn (wôrn), 1. give notice to in advance; put on guard (against danger, evil, harm, etc.): The clouds warned us that a storm was coming. 2. give notice to; inform: The whistle warned visitors that the ship was ready to sail. 3. give notice to go, stay, etc.: warn trespassers off. v. —warn'er, n.

warning (wôr'ning), 1. something that warns; notice given in advance. 2. that warns. 1 n., 2 adj. —warn'ing ly, adv.

War of 1812, war between the United States and Great Britain. It lasted from 1812 to 1815.

War of Independence, war between the American colonies and Great Britain, from 1775 to 1783; the American Revolution; Revolutionary War.

War of Secession, the American Civil War, from 1861 to 1865.

warp (wôrp), 1. bend or twist out of shape: This floor has warped so that it is not level. 2. bend: The aviator warped a wing tip to regain balance. 3. mislead; pervert: Prejudice warps our judgment. 4. a bend or twist; distortion. 5. move (a ship, etc.) by ropes fastened to something fixed. 6. rope used in moving a ship. 7. the threads running lengthwise in a fabric. The warp is crossed by the woof. 1-3, 5 v., 4, 6, 7 n.

war paint, 1. paint put on the face or body by savages before going to war. 2. Informal. full dress; ornaments.

war path (wôr'path'), way taken by a fighting expedition of American Indians. n.

on the warpath, 1. ready for war. 2. looking for a fight; angry.

war plane (wôr'plân'), airplane used in war. n.

war rant (wôr'rânt), 1. that which gives a right; authority: He had no warrant for his action. 2. a written order giving authority for something: a warrant to search the house, a warrant for the payment of money. 3. authorize: The law warrants his arrest. 4. a good and sufficient reason; promise; guarantee: He had no warrant for his hopes. 5. justify: Nothing can warrant such rudeness. 6. give one's word for; guarantee; promise: The storekeeper warranted the quality of the coffee. 7. Informal. declare positively; certify. 8. a document certifying something, especially to a purchaser. 9. the official certificate of appointment issued to a noncommissioned officer in the army or navy. 1, 2, 4, 8, 9 n., 3, 5-7 v.

war rant a ble (wôr'rânt ə blə), capable of being warranted; justifiable. adj. —war'rânt a ble ness, n. —war'rânt a bly, adv.

war ran tee (wôr'rânt ē'), person to whom a warranty is made. n.

war rant er (wôr'rânt ər), person who warrants. n.

warrant officer, 1. an army or navy officer who has received a certificate of appointment, but not a commission, ranking between commissioned officers and enlisted men. 2. in the United States Navy, any of various subordinate officers. A boatswain or a gunner is a warrant officer.

war ran tor (wôr'rânt ər), person who makes a warranty; guarantor. n.

war ran ty (wôr'rânt ē), 1. warrant; authority; justification. 2. promise or pledge that something is what it is claimed to be; guarantee: a warranty of the quality of the goods sold. n., pl. war ran ties.

war ren (wôr'rən), 1. piece of ground filled with burrows, where rabbits live or are raised. 2. a crowded district or building. n.

War ren (wôr'rən), 1. Earl, born 1891, chief justice of the United States Supreme Court since October 1953. 2. city in NE Ohio. 60,000. n.

Woman using a warming pan warrior (wôr'ēr), a fighting man; experienced soldier. n. —war'ri or like', adj.

Warsaw (wôr'sô), capital and largest city of Poland, in the E part. 1,095,000. n.

war ship (wôr'ship'), ship used in war. n.

wart (wôrt), 1. a small, hard lump on the skin. 2. a similar lump on a plant. n.

wart hog, a wild hog of Africa that has two large tusks and two large wartlike growths on each side of its face.

war time (wôr'tim'), time of war. n.

warty (wôr'tē), 1. having warts. 2. covered with lumps like warts. 3. of or like a wart. adj., wartier, wartiest.

war whoop, a war cry of American Indians; war cry.

wary (wâr'ē), 1. on one's guard against danger, deception, etc.: a wary fox. 2. cautious; careful: He gave wary answers to all of the stranger's questions. adj., warier, wariest.

wary of, cautious about; careful about.

was (wôz or wuz; unstressed wəz), the 1st and 3rd person singular, past indicative of be. I was late. Was he late, too? v.

wash (wash), 1. clean with water or other liquid: wash clothes, wash one's face, wash dishes. 2. make clean: washed from sin. 3. remove (dirt, stains, paint, etc.) by or as by the action of water: wash a spot out. 4. wash oneself: He washed before eating dinner. 5. wash clothes: She washes for a living. 6. a washing or being washed. 7. quantity of clothes washed or to be washed: She hung the wash on the line. 8. undergo washing without damage: That cloth washes well. 9. that can be washed without damage: a wash dress. 10. be carried along or away by water or other liquid: The road washed out during the storm. 11. carry (by a liquid): Wood is often washed ashore by the waves. 12. material carried and then dropped by water: A delta is formed by the wash of a river. 13. wear (by water or any liquid): The cliffs are being washed away by the waves. 14. flow or beat with a lapping sound: The waves washed upon the rocks. 15. motion, rush, or sound of water: We listened to the wash of the waves against the boat. 16. make wet: The flowers are washed with dew. 17. tract of land sometimes overflowed with water and sometimes left dry; tract of shallow water; fen, marsh, or bog. 18. liquid for a special use: a hair wash, a mouth wash. 19. waste liquid matter; liquid garbage. 20. watery or weak liquid food. 21. a thin coating of color or metal. 22. cover with a thin coating of color or of metal: walls washed with blue, silver washed with gold. 23. sift (earth, ore, etc.) by action of water to separate. 24. earth, etc., from which gold or the like can be washed. 25. the rough or broken water left behind a moving ship. 26. disturbance in air made by an airplane or any of its parts. 27. Informal. stand being put to the proof: patriotism that won't wash. 1-5, 8, 10, 11, 13, 14, 16, 22, 23, 27 v., 6, 7, 12, 15, 17-21, 24-26 n., 9 adj.

Wash (wash), The, a shallow bay of the North Sea in E England. 22 mi. long; 15 mi. wide. n.

Wash., the State of Washington.

wash a ble (wash'ə bl), that can be washed without damage: washable silk. adj.

wash ba sin (wash'bā'sn), basin for holding water to wash one's face and hands. n.

wash board (wash'bôrd'), a board having ridges on it, used for rubbing the dirt out of clothes. n.

wash bowl (wash'bôl'), bowl for holding water to wash one's hands and face. n.

wash cloth (wash'klôth'), a small cloth for washing oneself. n.

wash day (wash'dā'), day when clothes are washed. n.

Wart hog (3 ft. high at the shoulder) washed-out (wosh't/out'), 1. lacking color; faded. 2. Informal. lacking life, spirit, etc. adj.

washed-up (wosh't/up'), Informal. 1. done with; through, especially after having failed. 2. fatigued. adj.

washer (wash'ər), 1. person who washes. 2. machine that washes. 3. a flat ring of metal, rubber, leather, etc., used with bolts or nuts, to make joints tight. n.

WASHER

Washer (def. 3)

washer wom an (wash'ər-wum'ən), woman whose work is washing clothes. n., pl. washer wom en.

washing (wash'ing), 1. a cleaning with water. 2. clothes, etc., washed or to be washed. 3. liquid that has been used to wash something. 4. matter removed in washing something: washings of gold obtained from earth. n.

washing machine, machine that washes clothes.

washing soda, sodium carbonate, used in washing.

Washington (wash'ing tən), 1. capital of the United States, coextensive with the District of Columbia. 764,000. 2. a Northwestern State of the United States, on the Pacific coast. 2,853,000 pop.; 68,192 sq. mi. Capital: Olympia. Abbrev.: Wash. 3. Mount, the highest mountain in New England, in N New Hampshire. 6293 ft. 4. Booker T (aliaferro), 1859?-1915, American Negro writer and educator. 5. George, 1732-1799, commander in chief of the American army in the Revolutionary War and the first president of the United States, from 1789 to 1797. 6. Martha, 1732-1802, wife of George Washington. n.

Washing to ni an (wash'ing tō'nē ən), 1. native or inhabitant of Washington. 2. of or having to do with Washington, D.C., or the State of Washington. 1 n., 2 adj.

wash out (wash'out'), 1. a washing away of earth, a road, etc., by water. 2. the hole or break made by it. 3. Slang. failure; disappointment. n.

wash rag (wash'rag'), washcloth. n.

wash room (wash'rūm'), room where people can wash themselves. n.

wash stand (wash'stand'), 1. bowl with pipes and faucets for running water to wash one's hands and face. 2. stand for holding a basin, pitcher, etc., for washing. n.

wash tub (wash'tub'), tub used to wash or soak clothes in. n.

wash wom an (wash'wum'ən), washerwoman. n., pl. wash wom en.

wash y (wash'ē), too much diluted; weak; watery: We dislike washy coloring, washy poetry, and washy sentiment. adj., wash i er, wash i est.

was n't (wôz'nt or wuz'nt), was not.

wasp (wosp), a kind of insect that has a slender body, two pairs of wings, and a powerful sting. n.

Wasp (about actual size) wasp ish (wos'pish), 1. like a wasp; like that of a wasp. 2. bad-tempered; irritable. adj. —wasp'ish ly, adv.

—wasp'ish ness, n.

wasp-waist ed (wosp'wās'tid), having a very slender waist. adj.

was sail (wos'l), 1. a drinking party; revel with drinking of healths. 2. take part in a wassail; revel. 3. spiced ale or other liquor drunk at a wassail. 4. a salutation meaning "Your health!" 5. drink to the health of. 1, 3, 4 n., 2, 5 v., 4 interj.

was sail er (wos'l ər), 1. reveler. 2. drinker of healths. n.

wast (wost), Archaic or Poetic. the 2nd person singular, past tense of be. "Thou wast" means "you were." v.

wast age (wās'tij), 1. loss by use, wear, decay, leakage, etc.; waste. 2. amount wasted. n.

waste (wāst), 1. make poor use of; spend uselessly; fail to get value from: Don't waste time or money. 2. poor use; useless spending; failure to get the most out of something. 3. thrown away as useless or worthless. 4. useless or worthless material; stuff to be thrown away: Garbage or sewage is waste. 5. left over; not used. 6. bare or wild land; desert; wilderness: We traveled through treeless wastes. Before us stretched a waste of snow and ice. 7. not cultivated; that is a desert or wilderness; bare; wild. 8. wear down little by little; destroy or lose gradually: The sick man was wasted by disease. 9. a wearing down little by little; gradual destruction or loss. Both waste and repair are constantly going on in our bodies. 10. damage greatly; destroy: The soldiers wasted the enemy's fields. 11. in a state of desolation or ruin. 12. cotton or wool threads in bunches, used to wipe off oil, grease, etc. 1,8,10 v., wasted, wasting; 2,4,6,9,12 n., 3,5,7,11 adj.

go to waste, be wasted.

lay waste, damage greatly; destroy; ravage.

waste bas ket (wāst/bas'kit), basket or other container for wastepaper. n.

waste ful (wāst/fəl), using or spending too much. adj. —waste/fully, adv. —waste/ful ness, n.

waste pa per (wāst/pā'pər), paper thrown away or to be thrown away as useless or worthless. n.

waste pipe, pipe for carrying off waste water, etc. waster (wās'tər), one who or that which wastes; squanderer; spendthrift. n.

wast ing (wās'ting), 1. laying waste; devastating. 2. gradually destructive to the body. adj.

wast rel (wās'trəl), 1. waster. 2. good-for-nothing. 3. something useless, inferior, or imperfect. n.

watch (woch), 1. look attentively or carefully: The medical students watched while the doctor performed the operation. 2. look at; observe: watch a play. 3. look or wait with care and attention; be very careful: The boy watched for a chance to cross the street. 4. look at or wait for with care and attention: The police watched the prisoner. 5. a careful looking; attitude of attention: Be on the watch for automobiles when you cross the street. 6. keep guard: He watched throughout the night. 7. keep guard over: The dog watched the little boy. 8. a protecting; guarding: A man keeps watch over the bank at night. 9. person or persons kept to guard: The man's cry aroused the town watch who came running to his aid. 10. period of time for guarding: a watch in the night. 11. stay awake for some purpose: The nurse watches with the sick. 12. a staying awake for some purpose. 13. a spring-driven device for telling time, small enough to be carried in a pocket or worn on the wrist. 14. the time of duty of one part of a ship's crew. A watch usually lasts four hours. 15. the part of a crew on duty at the same time. 1-4,6,7,11 v., 5,8-10,12-15 n.

watch out, be careful; be on guard.

watch case (woch/kās'), the outer covering for the works of a watch. n.

watch dog (woch/dōg'), 1. dog kept to guard property. 2. a watchful guardian. n.

watch er (woch'ər), one who watches. n.

watch fire, fire kept burning at night in camps, etc. watch ful (woch/fəl), watching carefully; on the lookout; wide-awake: He is watchful of his health. adj.

—watch/ful ly, adv. —watch/ful ness, n.

watch mak er (woch/māk'ər), man who makes and repairs watches. n.

watch man (woch/mən), man who keeps watch; guard: A watchman guards the bank at night. n., pl.

watch men.

watch tow er (woch/tou'ər), tower from which a man watches for enemies, fires, ships, etc. n.

watch word (woch/wərd'), 1. a secret word that allows a person to pass a guard; password: We gave the watchword, and the sentinel let us pass. 2. motto; slogan: "Forward" is our watchword. n.

wa ter (wō'tər), 1. liquid that constitutes rain, oceans, rivers, lakes, and ponds. Perfectly pure water is a transparent, colorless, tasteless, scentless compound of hydrogen and oxygen, H₂O, freezing at 32 degrees F. or 0 degrees C., and boiling at 212 degrees F. or 100 degrees C. 2. liquid from the body, such as tears, sweat, saliva, urine, serum, etc. 3. any liquid preparation that suggests water: rose water. 4. body of water; sea, lake, river, etc. 5. water of a river, etc., with reference to its relative height, etc.: high or low water. 6. sprinkle or wet with water: water grass. 7. supply with water: New England is well watered by rivers and brooks. 8. get or take in a supply of water: A ship waters before sailing. 9. fill with water; discharge water: Her eyes watered. 10. weaken by adding water: It is against the law to sell watered milk. 11. degree of clearness and brilliance of a precious stone. A diamond of the first water is a very clear and brilliant one. 12. a wavy marking on silk, metal, etc. 13. make a wavy marking on. 14. increase (stock, etc.) by issue of additional shares or securities without a corresponding increase in capital or assets. 15. additional shares or securities issued without corresponding increase of capital or assets. 1-5,11,12,15 n., 6-10,13,14 v. —wa'ter er, n. —wa'ter less, adj.

waters, 1. flowing water. 2. water moving in waves; the sea; the high sea. 3. spring water; mineral water. above water, out of trouble or difficulty; especially, out of financial trouble or difficulty.

back water, make a boat go backward.

by water, on a ship or boat.

hold water, stand the test; be true, dependable, effective, etc.

like water, very freely.

make one's mouth water, arouse one's appetite or desire.

of the first water, of the highest degree.

water beetle, beetle having the hind legs broad and fringed so as to be well adapted for swimming.

water bird, bird that swims or wades in water.

wa ter-borne (wō'tər bōrn'), 1. supported by water; floating. 2. conveyed by a boat or the like. adj.

water bottle, bottle, bag, etc., for holding water.

wa ter buck (wō'tər buk'), any of various African antelopes that frequent rivers, marshes, etc. n.

water buffalo, the common buffalo of Asia and the Philippines.

water bug, 1. a cockroach that is often called the croton bug. 2. any of various insects that live in, on, or near water.

Wa ter bur y (wō'tər ber'-ē), city in W Connecticut. 107,000. n.

water clock, instrument for measuring time by the flow of water.

water closet, toilet flushed by water.

water color, 1. paint mixed with water instead of oil. 2. a painting with water colors. 3. picture made with water colors.

wa ter-col or (wō'tər kul'ər), made with water colors. adj.

water cooler, any device for cooling water, or for cooling something by means of water.

wa ter course (wō'tər kōrs'), 1. stream of water; river; brook. 2. channel for water: dried-up water-courses. n.

wa ter craft (wō'tər kraft'), 1. skill in water sports, such as boating, swimming, etc. 2. ship or ships; boat or boats. n.

water cress, a plant that grows in water, used for salad and as a garnish.

water cure, treatment of disease by the use of water; hydrophathy.

Waterbuck (about 3 ft. high at the shoulder) wa ter fall (wô'tər fôl'), fall of water from a high place. n.

wa ter fowl (wô'tər fowl'), 1. a water bird. 2. water birds; especially, birds that swim. n., pl. wa ter fowls or (esp. collectively) wa ter fowl.

water front, 1. the part of a city beside a river, lake, or harbor. 2. land at the water's edge.

water gap, gap in a mountain ridge through which a stream flows.

water gas, a gas used for lighting or fuel. Water gas is largely carbon monoxide and hydrogen, made by passing steam over very hot coal or coke.

water gate, 1. gate or gateway through which water passes. 2. gate that controls the flow of water; floodgate. 3. gate opening on water.

water glass, 1. glass to hold water; tumbler. 2. sodium or potassium silicate, a substance used especially to coat eggs and keep them from spoiling.

water hole, hole in the ground where water collects; small pond; pool.

watering place, 1. Esp. Brit. resort with springs containing mineral water. 2. Esp. Brit. resort where there is bathing, boating, etc. 3. place where water may be obtained.

water jacket, a casing with water in it, put around something to keep it cool or at a certain temperature.

water level, the surface level of a body of water.

water lily, a water plant having flat, floating leaves and showy, fragrant flowers. The flowers of the common American water lily are white, or sometimes pink.

Common American water lily water line, 1. line where the surface of the water touches the side of a ship or boat. 2. any of several lines marked on a ship's hull to show the depth to which it sinks when unloaded, partly loaded, or fully loaded.

wa ter-logged (wô'tər lôgd'), 1. so full of water that it will barely float. 2. thoroughly soaked with water. adj.

Wa ter loo (wô'tər lü), 1. the battle in which Napoleon was finally defeated in 1815. 2. any decisive or crushing defeat. 3. city in Iowa. 72,000. n.

water main, a large pipe for carrying water.

wa ter man (wô'tər mən), 1. boatman; man who works on a boat. 2. oarsman. n., pl. wa ter men.

wa ter mark (wô'tər märke'), 1. a mark showing how high water has risen or how low it has fallen: the high watermark of a river. 2. a faint design made in some kinds of paper. 3. put a watermark in. Some letter paper is watermarked. 1,2 n., 3 v.

wa ter mel on (wô'tər mel'ən), 1. a large, juicy melon with red or pink pulp and a hard green rind. 2. vine bearing these melons. n.

water moccasin, 1. a poisonous snake of the S United States that lives in swamps and along streams; the cottonmouth. 2. any of various similar but harmless snakes.

water ouzel, any of various small birds related to the thrushes, that wade and dive in deep water for food.

water polo, game played with an inflated ball by two teams of swimmers.

water power, 1. the power from flowing or falling water. It can be used to drive machinery and make electricity. 2. fall in a stream that can supply power.

wa ter proof (wô'tər prüf'), 1. that will not let water through; resistant to water: An umbrella should be waterproof. 2. a waterproof material. 3. a waterproof coat; raincoat. 4. make waterproof. 1 adj., 2,3 n., 4 v.

water rat, 1. a large European field mouse that lives in the banks of streams or lakes. 2. muskrat.

wa ter shed (wô'tər shed'), 1. ridge between the regions drained by two different river systems. 2. the region drained by one river system. n.

wa ter side (wô'tər sîd'), land along the sea, a lake, a river, etc. n.

water ski, one of a pair of wooden skis for gliding over water while being towed by a boat.

wa ter-ski (wô'tər skē'), glide over the water on water skis. v., wa ter-skied, wa ter-ski ing.—wa'ter-ski'er, n.

water snake, a nonpoisonous snake living in or frequenting water.

Irish water spaniel water spaniel, a curly-haired dog that is often trained to swim out for wild ducks, geese, etc., that have been shot down by hunters.

wa ter spout (wô'tər spout'), 1. pipe which takes away or spouts water. 2. whirlwind over the ocean or a large lake. It looks like a column of water reaching upward to the clouds. n.

water table, the level below which the ground is saturated with water.

wa ter tight (wô'tər tî't'), 1. so tight that no water can get in or out. Steamboats are often divided into watertight compartments by watertight partitions. 2. leaving no opening for misunderstanding, criticism, etc.; perfect: a watertight argument. adj.

water tower, 1. a big tower to hold water. 2. a fire-extinguishing apparatus used to throw water on the upper parts of tall buildings.

water vapor, water in a gaseous state, especially when below the boiling point and fairly diffused, as distinguished from steam.

wa ter way (wô'tər wā'), 1. body of water that ships can go on. 2. channel for water. n.

water wheel, wheel turned by water and used to do work.

water wings, two waterproof bags filled with air and put under a person's arms to hold him afloat while he is learning to swim.

wa ter works (wô'tər wërks'), 1. system of pipes, reservoirs, water towers, pumps, etc., for supplying a city or town with water. 2. building containing engines and pumps for pumping water. n., pl. or sing.

wa ter worn (wô'tər wörn'), worn or smoothed by the action of water. adj.

wa ter y (wô'tər ē), 1. of water; connected with water. 2. full of water; wet: watery soil. 3. indicating rain: a watery sky. 4. tearful: watery eyes. 5. containing too much water: watery soup. 6. like water. 7. weak; thin; poor; pale: a watery blue. 8. in or under water: The sunken ship went to a watery grave. adj.

watt (wot), a unit of electric power, equivalent to one joule per second: My lamp uses 60 watts. n.

Watt (wot), James, 1736-1819, Scottish engineer and inventor who perfected the steam engine. n.

watt age (wot'ij), electric power expressed in watts: A flatiron that uses 5 amperes of current on a 110-volt circuit has a wattage of 550. n.

watt-hour (wot'our'), unit of electrical energy or work, equal to one watt maintained for one hour. n.

wat tle (wot'l), 1. sticks interwoven with twigs or branches; framework of wicker: a hut built of wattle. 2. make (a fence, wall, roof, hut, etc.) of wattle. 3. twist or weave together (twigs, branches, etc.). 4. the red flesh hanging down from the throat of a chicken, turkey, etc. 1,4 n., 2,3 v., wat tled, wat tling.

Wattle of a turkey

wat tled (wot'ld), 1. having wattles. 2. formed by interwoven twigs; interlaced. adj.

wave (wāv), 1. a moving ridge or swell of water: The raft rose and fell on the waves. 2. any movement like this. Light, heat, and sound travel in waves. 3. in physics, a movement of particles to and fro; vibration. 4. a swell, surge, or rush; increase of some emotion, influence, condition, etc.; outburst: a cold wave, a wave of enthusiasm. 5. move as waves do; move up and down or back and forth; sway: The tall grass waved in the breeze. 6. a waving, especially of something, as a signal: a wave of the hand. 7. signal or direct by waving: She waved him away. 8. shake in the air; brandish: He waved the stick at them. 9. a curve or series of curves: waves in a girl's hair. 10. have a wavelike form: Her hair waves naturally. 11. give a wavelike form or pattern to: wave hair. 12. a permanent wave. 13. Poetic. body of water; sea. 1-4,6,9,12,13 n., 5,7,8,10,11 v., waved, waving. —wave/like', adj. —wav'er, n.

Wave or WAVE (wāv), member of the WAVES. n. wave length, in physics, the distance between any particle of a medium through which waves are passing and the next particle that is in the same phase with it. wave less (wāv'lis), undisturbed; still. adj. wave let (wāv'lit), a little wave. n. waver (wāv'vər), 1. move to and fro; flutter. 2. vary in intensity; flicker: a wavering light. 3. be undecided; hesitate: Her choice wavered between the blue dress and the green one. 4. become unsteady; begin to give way: The battle line wavered and broke. 5. a wavering. 1-4 v., 5 n. —wav'er er, n. —wav'ing ly, adv.

WAVES, Women's Reserve, United States Naval Reserve (from initial letters of W(omen's) A(ppointed) V(olunteer) E(mergency) S(ervice)).

wavy (wāv'ē), having waves;  having many waves: wavy hair, a wavy line. adj., wavier, waviest. —wav'iness, n.

wax (waks), 1. a yellowish substance made by bees for constructing their honeycomb. Wax is hard when cold, but can be easily shaped when warm. 2. any substance like this. Most of the wax used for candles, for keeping air from jelly, etc., is really paraffin. Sealing wax and shoemaker's wax are other common waxes. 3. rub, stiffen, polish, etc., with wax: We wax that floor once a month. 4. of wax. 1,2 n., 3 v., 4 adj. —wax/-like', adj.

wax in one's hands, person easy to influence and manage.

wax (waks), 1. grow bigger or greater; increase: The moon waxes till it becomes full, and then wanes. 2. become: The party waxed merry. v., waxed, waxed or (Poetic) wax en, wax ing.

wax en (wak'sn), 1. made of wax. 2. like wax; smooth, soft, and pale: waxen skin. adj.

wax myrtle, any of various shrubs or trees whose small berries are coated with wax. The bayberry is a wax myrtle.

wax paper, paper coated with paraffin.

wax wing (waks'wing'), any of several small birds with a showy crest and red markings at the tips of the wings. n.

wax work (waks/wèrk'), figure or figures made of wax. n.

waxworks, exhibition of figures made of wax.

waxy (wak'sē), 1. like wax. 2. made of wax; containing wax. adj., waxier, waxiest. —wax'iness, n.

way (wā), 1. manner; style: She has a queer way of talking. 2. method; means: Doctors are using new ways of preventing disease. 3. point; feature; respect; detail: This plan is bad in several ways. 4. direction: Look this way. 5. motion along a course: The guide led the way. 6. distance: The sun is a long way off. 7. road; path; street; course: The hunter found a way through the forest. 8. space for passing or going ahead: Automobiles must make way for a fire engine. 9. habit; custom: Don't mind his teasing; it's just his way. 10. one's wish; will: A

Cedar waxwing
(7 in. long)

spoiled child wants his own way all the time. 11. Informal. condition; state: That sick man is in a bad way. 12. movement; forward motion: The ship slowly gathered way. 13. range of experience or notice: The best idea that ever came my way. 14. course of life, action, or experience: "The way of the ungodly shall perish." n. ways, timbers on which a ship is built and launched. by the way, 1. while coming or going. 2. in that connection; incidentally.

by way of, 1. by the route of; through. 2. as; for. come one's way, happen to one.

give way, 1. make way; retreat; yield. 2. break down or fall. 3. abandon oneself to emotion.

go out of the way, make a special effort.

have a way with one, be persuasive.

in a way, to some extent.

in the way, being an obstacle, hindrance, etc.

make one's way, 1. go. 2. get ahead; succeed.

make way, 1. give space for passing or going ahead; make room. 2. move forward.

once in a way, occasionally.

out of the way, 1. so as not to be an obstacle, hindrance, etc. 2. far from where most people live or go.

3. unusual; strange. 4. to death.

see one's way, be willing or able.

take one's way, go.

under way, going on; in motion; in progress.

way bill (wā'bil'), list of goods with a statement of where they are to go and how they are to get there. n.

way far er (wā'fār'ər), traveler. n.

way far ing (wā'fār'ing), traveling. adj.

way laid (wā'lād' or wā'lād'), pt. and pp. of way-lay. v.

way lay (wā'lā' or wā'lā'), 1. lie in wait for; attack on the way: Robin Hood waylaid travelers and robbed them. 2. stop (a person) on his way: Newspaper reporters waylaid the famous man and asked him questions. v., way laid, way lay ing. —way'lay'er, n.

Wayne (wān), Anthony, 1745-1796, American general in the Revolutionary War. n.

-ways, suffix forming adverbs showing direction or position, as in edgeways, sideways, or adverbs showing manner, as in anyways, noways.

way side (wā'sid'), 1. edge of a road or path: We ate lunch on the wayside. 2. along the edge of a road or path: We slept in a wayside inn. 1 n., 2 adj.

way station, U.S. station between main stations on a railroad.

way ward (wā'wərd), 1. turning from the right way; disobedient; willful: In a wayward mood, the boy ran away from home. 2. irregular; unsteady. adj. —way'ward ly, adv. —way'ward ness, n.

we (wē; unstressed wī), 1. the speaker plus the person or persons addressed or spoken about: We are glad to see you. An author, an editor, a king, or a judge sometimes uses we to mean I. 2. people in general, including the speaker. pron., pl. nom.; poss., our or ours; obj., us. the 1st person nominative plural of I.

weak (wēk), 1. that can easily be broken, crushed, overcome, torn, etc.; not strong: a weak foundation, weak defenses. 2. lacking bodily strength or health: A weak old man totters as he walks. 3. lacking power, authority, force, etc.: a weak law. 4. lacking mental power: a weak mind. 5. lacking moral strength or firmness: a weak character. 6. lacking or poor in amount, volume, loudness, taste, intensity, etc.: a weak army, a weak voice, weak arguments. 7. lacking or poor in something specified: a composition weak in spelling. adj.

weak en (wēk'ən), 1. make weak or weaker: to weaken tea by adding water. 2. become weak or weaker. v.

weak fish (wēk'fish'), a spiny-finned salt-water food fish with a tender mouth. n., pl. weak fish es or (esp. collectively) weak fish.

weak-kneed (wēk'nēd'), 1. having weak knees. 2. yielding easily to opposition, intimidation, etc. adj.

weak ling (wēk'ling'), 1. a weak person or animal. 2. weak. 1 n., 2 adj.

weak ly (wēk'lē), 1. in a weak manner. 2. weak; feeble; sickly. 1 adv., 2 adj., weak li er, weak li est. —weak'li ness, n.

weak-mind ed (wēk'mīn'did), 1. having or showing little intelligence; feeble-minded. 2. lacking firmness of mind. adj.

weak ness (wēk'nīs), 1. being weak; lack of power, force, or vigor: Weakness kept Mr. Smith in bed. 2. a weak point; slight fault: Putting things off is her weakness. 3. fondness; a liking that one is a little ashamed of: a weakness for sweets. n.

weal¹ (wēl), Archaic. well-being; prosperity; happiness: Good citizens act for the public weal. n.

weal² (wēl), streak or ridge on the skin made by a stick or whip; welt. n.

weald (wēld), Poetic. open country. n.

The Weald, district in SE England.

wealth (welth), 1. much money or property; riches: a man of wealth, the wealth of a city. 2. all things that have money value. 3. a large quantity; abundance: a wealth of hair, a wealth of words. n.

wealth y (wel'thē), having wealth; rich. adj., wealth i er, wealth i est. —wealth'i ness, n.

wean (wēn), 1. accustom (a child or young animal) to food other than its mother's milk. 2. accustom (a person) to do without something; cause to turn away: Tom was sent away to school to wean him from bad companions. v.

weapon (wep'ən), any instrument used in fighting; means of attack or defense. Swords, spears, arrows, clubs, guns, cannon, shields, claws, horns, teeth, and stings are weapons. n. —weap'ōi less, adj.

wear (wār), 1. have on the body: We wear clothes. 2. a wearing; a being worn: clothing for summer wear.

3. things worn or to be worn; clothing: The store sells children's wear. 4. cause loss or damage to by using: These shoes are badly worn. 5. suffer loss or damage from being used: His coat has worn to shreds. 6. gradual loss or damage caused by use: The rug shows wear. 7. make by rubbing, scraping, washing away, etc.: Walking wore a hole in my shoe. 8. tire; weary: She was worn with toil and care. 9. last long; give good service: This coat has worn well. 10. lasting quality; good service: There is still much wear in these shoes. 11. have; show: The gloomy old house wore an air of sadness. 12. pass or go gradually: It became hotter as the day wore on. 13. of a ship, turn or be turned around by pointing the bow away from the wind. 1,4,5,7-9,11-13 v., wore, worn, wearing; 2,3,6,10 n. —wear'a ble, adj. —wear'er, n.

wear and tear, loss or damage caused by use.

wear down, 1. tire; weary. 2. overcome by persistent effort. 3. reduce in height.

wear off, become less.

wear out, 1. wear until no longer fit for use. 2. use up. 3. tire out; weary.

wea ri ness (wir'ē nis), weary condition or feeling. n.

wea ri some (wir'ē sēm), wearying; tiring; tiresome. adj. —wea'ri some ly, adv. —wea'ri some ness, n.

wea ry (wir'ē), 1. tired: weary feet, a weary brain. 2. causing tiredness; tiring: a weary wail. 3. having one's patience, tolerance, or liking exhausted. 4. make weary; tire: Walking up the hill wearied grandfather. 5. become weary. 6. long: She is wearying for home. 1-3 adj., wea ri er, wea ri est; 4-6 v., wea ri ed, wea ri ing. —wea'ri ly, adv.

wea sel (wē'sel), a small, quick, sly mammal with a long, slender body and short legs. Weasels feed on rats, birds, eggs, etc. n.

Weasel (6 to 8 in. long, without the tail) weath er (weθ'h'ər), 1. condition of the atmosphere with respect to temperature, moisture, cloudiness, etc.:

hot weather, windy weather. 2. windy or stormy weather. 3. expose to the weather; dry; season; wear by sun, rain, frost, etc.; discolor thus: Wood turns gray if weathered for a long time. 4. become discolored or worn by air, rain, sun, frost, etc. 5. go or come through safely: The ship weathered the storm. 6. sail to the windward of: The ship weathered the cape. 7. toward the wind; windward; of the side exposed to the wind: It was very cold on the weather side of the ship. 8. make (boards, tiles, etc.) slope so as to shed water. 1,2 n., 3-6,8 v., 7 adj.

keep one's weather eye open, be on the lookout for possible danger or trouble.

under the weather, Informal. sick; ailing.

weather beam, side of a ship toward the wind.

weath er-beat en (weθ'h'ər bēt'n), worn or hardened by the wind, rain, and other forces of the weather. adj.

weath er board (weθ'h'ər bōrd'), 1. thin board, thicker along one edge than along the other; clapboard. 2. cover with weatherboards. 1 n., 2 v.

weath er-bound (weθ'h'ər bound'), delayed by bad weather: a weather-bound ship. adj.

Weather Bureau, division of the United States Department of Commerce that records and forecasts the weather.

weath er cock (weθ'h'ər kok'), device to show which way the wind is blowing, especially one in the shape of a cock. n.

weath er glass (weθ'h'ər glas'), instrument to show the weather. A barometer is a weatherglass. n.

weath er ing (weθ'h'ər ing), destructive or discoloring action of air, water, frost, etc., especially on rocks. n.

weath er man (weθ'h'ər man'), Informal. man who forecasts the weather. n., pl. weath-er men.

weath er proof (weθ'h'ər prüf'), 1. protected against rain, snow, or wind; able to stand exposure to all kinds of weather. 2. make weatherproof. 1 adj., 2 v.

weather strip, a narrow strip to fill or cover the space between a door or window and the casing, so as to keep out rain, snow, and wind.

weather vane, weathercock.

weath er-wise (weθ'h'ər wīz'), skillful in forecasting the changes of the weather. adj.

weave (wēv), 1. form (threads or strips) into a thing or fabric. People weave thread into cloth, straw into hats, and reeds into baskets.

2. make out of thread, etc.: She is weaving a rug.

3. work with a loom.

4. method or pattern of weaving:

Homespun is a cloth of coarse weave.

5. combine into a whole: The author wove three plots together into one story.

6. make by combining parts:

The author wove a story from three plots.

7. make with care. 1-3,5-7 v., wove or (Rare) weaved, woven or wove, weaving; 4 n.

weave one's way, make one's way by twisting and turning.

weav er (wēv'ər), 1. person who weaves. 2. person whose work is weaving. 3. weaver-bird. n.

weav er bird (wēv'ər bērd'), a bird of Asia, Africa, and Australia, that builds an elaborately woven nest. n.

web (web), 1. something woven. The fabric of delicate, silken threads spun by a spider is a web. 2. a whole piece of cloth made at one time. 3. anything like a web: His story was a web of lies. 4. the skin joining

Weathercock

Weaving

Spider web

the toes of ducks, geese, and other swimming birds. 5. any of various thin broad parts. The soft part of a feather is called a web. 6. a thin, metal sheet. 7. connective tissue. 8. a large roll of paper used in printing newspapers. n. —web/like', adj.

webbed (webd), 1. formed like a web or with a web. 2. having the toes joined by a web. Ducks have webbed feet. adj.

Webbed foot of a duck webbing (web'ing), 1. cloth woven into strong strips, used in upholstery and for belts. 2. the plain foundation fabric left for protection at the edge of some rugs, etc. 3. skin joining the toes, as in a duck's feet. n.

web foot (web'füt'), 1. foot in which the toes are joined by a web. 2. bird or animal having webfeet. n., pl. web feet.

web-foot ed (web'füt'id), having the toes joined by a web. adj.

Webster (web'stär), 1. Daniel, 1782-1852, American statesman and orator. 2. Noah, 1758-1843, American author and lexicographer. n.

web-toed (web'töd'), web-footed. adj.

wed (wed), 1. marry. 2. unite. v., wed ded, wed ded or wed, wed ding.

we'd (wēd; unstressed wid), 1. we had. 2. we should; we would.

Wed., Wednesday.

wed ded (wed'id), 1. married. 2. united. 3. devoted. adj.

wed ding (wed'ing), 1. the marriage ceremony. 2. an anniversary of it. A golden wedding is the fiftieth anniversary of a marriage. n.

wedge (wej), 1. piece of wood or metal with a tapering thin edge, used in splitting, separating, etc. 2. something shaped like a wedge or used like a wedge: Her grand party was an entering wedge into society. 3. split or separate with a wedge. 4. fasten or tighten with a wedge. 5. thrust or pack in tightly; squeeze: He wedged himself through the narrow window. 6. force a way. 1,2 n., 3-6 v., wedged, wed ging.

Wedge: wedge splitting a log. It is driven in with a sledge hammer.

wed lock (wed'lok), married life; marriage. n.

Wednes day (wenz'dē), the fourth day of the week, following Tuesday. n.

wee (wē), very small; tiny. adj., we er, we est.

weed (wēd), 1. a useless or troublesome plant; plant occurring in cultivated ground to the exclusion or injury of the desired crop. 2. take weeds out of: Please weed the garden now. 3. take out weeds. 4. Informal. tobacco. 5. Informal. cigar; cigarette. 1,4,5 n., 2,3 v. —weed/like', adj.

weed out, 1. free from what is useless or worthless. 2. remove as useless or worthless.

weed (wēd), Archaic. garment. n.

weeds, mourning garments: a widow's weeds.

weed er (wēd'är), 1. person who weeds. 2. tool or machine for digging up weeds. n. weedy (wēd'ē), 1. full of weeds: a weedy garden. 2. of weeds; like weeds. 3. thin and lanky; weak. adj., weedier, weediest. —weed/iness, n.

week (wēk), 1. seven days, one after another. 2. the time from Sunday through Saturday. 3. the working days of a seven-day period. A school week is five days. n. this day week, one week from today.

week in, week out, week after week.

week day (wēk'dä'), 1. any day except Sunday. 2. of or on a weekday. 1 n., 2 adj.

week end (wēk'end'), 1. Saturday and Sunday as a time for recreation, visiting, etc.: a weekend in the country. 2. of or on a weekend. 3. spend a weekend. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v.

week ly (wēk'lē), 1. of a week; for a week; lasting a week: His weekly wage is $30. 2. done or happening once a week: a weekly letter home. 3. once each week; every week. 4. a newspaper or magazine published once a week. 1,2 adj., 3 adv., 4 n., pl. week lies.

ween (wēn), Archaic. think; suppose; believe. v.

weep (wēp), 1. shed tears; cry. 2. shed tears for; mourn. 3. spend in crying: weep one's life away. 4. let fall in drops; shed: She wept bitter tears. 5. flow; drop like tears. 6. be very damp; drip. v., wept, weeping.

weep er (wēp'är), 1. person who weeps. 2. person hired to weep at funerals; professional mourner. n.

weep ing (wēp'ing), 1. that weeps. 2. having thin, drooping branches: a weeping willow. adj.

wee vil (wē'vl), 1. a small beetle whose larvae destroy grain, nuts, cotton, fruit, etc. 2. any of various small insects that destroy stored grain. n.

Weevil (line shows actual length) wee vily or wee vil ly (wē'vl ē), in-fested with weevils. adj.

weft (weft), the threads running from side to side across a fabric; the woof. See warp for picture. n.

weigh (wā), 1. find the weight of: weigh oneself. 2. have as a measure by weight: I weighed 110 pounds.

3. measure by weight: The grocer weighed out five pounds of sugar. 4. bend by weight; burden: The boughs of the apple tree are weighed down with fruit. 5. She is weighed down with many troubles.

6. balance in the mind; consider carefully: He weighed his words before speaking.

7. have importance or influence: The amount of his salary does not weigh with Mr. Black at all, because he is very rich.

8. bear down: The mistake weighed heavily upon his mind.

9. lift up (an anchor): The ship weighed anchor and sailed away.

10. lift anchor. v. —weigh'er, n.

weigh in, find out one's weight before a contest.

weigh on, be a burden to.

weight (wāt), 1. how heavy a thing is; the amount a thing weighs: The dog's weight is 50 pounds.

2. quality that makes all things tend toward the center of the earth; heaviness: Gas has hardly any weight.

3. system of units for expressing weight: avoirdupois weight, troy weight.

4. unit of such a system. 5. piece of metal having a specific weight, used in weighing things: a pound weight.

6. quantity that has a certain weight: a half-ounce weight of gold dust.

7. a heavy thing or mass: A weight keeps the papers in place.

8. load; burden: The pillars support the weight of the roof.

9. load down; burden. 10. add weight to; put weight on: The elevator is weighted too heavily.

11. influence; importance; value: What he says carries weight with me.

12. attach importance or value to. 13. load (cloth or thread) with mineral to make it seem of better quality: weighted silk. 1-8,11 n., 9,10,12,13 v.

by weight, measured by weighing.

pull one's weight, do one's part or share.

weight-arm (wāt'ärm'), distance from the weight to the fulcrum in a lever. n.

weight less (wāt'lis), 1. having little or no weight. 2. being free from the pull of gravity. adj. —weight/-less ly, adv. —weight/less ness, n.

weight y (wāt'ē), 1. heavy. 2. burdensome: weighty cares of state. 3. important; influential: a weighty speaker.

4. convincing: weighty arguments. adj., weightier, weightiest. —weight/i'ly, adv. —weight/i ness, n.

weir (wir), 1. dam in a river. 2. fence of stakes or broken branches put in a stream or channel to catch fish. n.

weird (wird), 1. unearthly; mysterious: They were awakened by a weird shriek. 2. Informal. odd; fantastic; queer: The shadows made weird figures on the wall.

3. having to do with fate or destiny. adj. —weird/-ly, adv. —weird/ness, n.

weird sisters, the Fates.

welch (welch or welsh), welsh. v.

welcome (wel'kəm), 1. word of kindly greeting: Welcome home! 2. a kindly greeting. 3. greet kindly. 4. a kind reception: You will always have a welcome here. 5. receive gladly. 6. gladly received: a welcome letter.

7. gladly or freely permitted: You are welcome to pick the flowers. 8. free to enjoy courtesies, etc., without obligation (used in conventional response to thanks): You are quite welcome. 1 interj., 2,4 n., 3,5 v., wel com ing; 6-8 adj. —wel'com er, n.
wear out one's welcome, visit a person too often or too long.

weld (weld), 1. join together (metal, plastic, etc.) by hammering or pressing while soft and hot: He welded the broken rod. 2. a welded joint. 3. a welding. 4. unite closely: Working together for a month welded them into a strong team. 5. be welded or be capable of being welded: Some metals weld better than others. 1,4,5 v., 2,3 n. —weld'er, n.

wel fare (wel'fär'), health, happiness, and prosperity; being or doing well. n.

Welfare Island, island in the East River, New York City. On it are city hospitals.

welfare state, state whose government provides for the welfare of its citizens through social security, unemployment insurance, free medical treatment, etc.

welfare work, work done to improve the conditions of people who need help, carried on by government, private organizations, or individuals.

welfare worker, person who does welfare work.

wel kin (wel'kən), Archaic. sky: The welkin rang with the men's shouts. n.

well (wel), 1. in a satisfactory, favorable, or advantageous manner; all right: The job was well done. Is everything going well at school? 2. satisfactory; good; right: It is well you came along. 3. thoroughly; fully: Shake well before using. 4. to a considerable degree; much: The fair brought in well over a hundred dollars. 5. in detail; intimately: He knows the subject well. 6. fairly; reasonably: I couldn't very well refuse. 7. in good health: I am very well. 8. expression used to show mild surprise, agreement, etc., or merely to fill in: Well! Well! here's Jack. Well, I'm not sure. 1,3-6 adv., bet ter, best; 2,7 adj., 8 interj.

as well, 1. also; besides. 2. equally.

as well as, 1. in addition to; besides. 2. as much as.

well (wel), 1. hole dug or bored in the ground to get water, oil, gas, etc. 2. spring; fountain; source. 3. something like a well in shape or use: the well of a fountain pen. 4. shaft for stairs or elevator, extending vertically through the floors of a building. 5. compartment around a ship's pumps. 6. spring; rise; gush: Tears welled up in her eyes. 1-5 n., 6 v.

we'll (wel; unstressed wil), we shall; we will.

well a day (wel'ə-dā'), Archaic. well-away. interj.

Welland Canal

(wel'ənd), canal in Canada, between lakes Erie and Ontario. 25 mi. long.

well-ap point ed (wel'ə point'id), having good furnishings or equipment. adj.

well a way (wel'ə wā'), Archaic. alas! interj.

well-balanced (wel'bal'ənst), 1. rightly balanced, adjusted, or regulated. 2. sensible; sane. adj.

well-be haved (wel'bi hävd'), showing good manners or conduct. adj.

well-be ing (wel'bē'ing), health and happiness; welfare. n.

well born (wel'börn'), belonging to a good family. adj.

well-bred (wel'bred'), well brought up; having or showing good manners. adj.

well-con tent (wel'kən tent'), highly pleased or satisfied. adj.

well-de fined (wel'di find'), clearly defined or indicated; distinct. adj.

well-dis posed (wel'dis pōzd'), 1. rightly or properly disposed. 2. well-meaning. 3. favorably or kindly disposed. adj.

well-do ing (wel'dü'ing), doing right. n.

Welles ley (welz'lē), Arthur, the first Duke of Wellington. n.

well-fa vored (wel'fā'vərd), good-looking. adj.

well-fed (wel'fed'), showing the result of good feeding; fat; plump. adj.

well-fixed (wel'fiks't'), Informal. well-to-do. adj.

well-found (wel'found'), well supplied or equipped. adj.

well-found ed (wel'foun'did), rightly or justly founded: a well-founded faith in schools. adj.

well-groomed (wel'grümd'), well cared for; neat and trim. adj.

well-ground ed (wel'groun'did), 1. based on good reasons. 2. thoroughly instructed in the fundamental principles of a subject. adj.

well head (wel'hed'), 1. spring of water. 2. source. n.

well-in formed (wel'in förm'd'), 1. having reliable or full information on a subject. 2. having information on a wide variety of subjects. adj.

Well ing ton (wel'ing tən), 1. first Duke of, 1769-1852, Arthur Wellesley, British general who defeated Napoleon at Waterloo in 1815. 2. capital of New Zealand, on North Island. 145,000. n.

well-kept (wel'kept'), well cared for; carefully tended. adj.

well-known (wel'nōn'), 1. clearly or fully known. 2. familiar. 3. generally or widely known. adj.

well-man nered (wel'man'ərd), polite; courteous. adj.

well-marked (wel'märkt'), clearly marked or distinguished; distinct. adj.

well-mean ing (wel'mēn'ing), 1. having good intentions. 2. proceeding from good intentions. adj.

well-nigh (wel'nī'), very nearly; almost. adv.

well-off (wel'ōf'), 1. in a good condition or position. 2. fairly rich. adj.

well-or dered (wel'ör'dərd), ordered or arranged well; regulated well. adj.

well-pre served (wel'pri zērv'd'), showing few signs of age. adj.

well-pro por tioned (wel'prə pōr'shənd), having good or correct proportions. adj.

well-read (wel'red'), having read much; knowing a great deal about books and literature. adj.

well-spoken (wel'spō'kən), 1. speaking well, fittingly, or pleasingly; polite in speech. 2. spoken well. adj.

well spring (wel'spring'), 1. fountainhead. 2. source, especially source of a supply that never fails. n.

well-suit ed (wel'süt'id), suitable; convenient. adj.

well sweep, a tapering or weighted pole swung on a pivot and having a bucket hung on the smaller or lighter end.

well-timed (wel'timd'), timely. adj.

well-to-do (wel'tə dü'), having enough money to live well; prosperous. adj.

well-wish er (wel'wish'ər), person who wishes well to a person, cause, etc. n.

well-worn (wel'wörn'), 1. much worn by use. 2. used too much; trite; stale. adj.

Welsh (welsh or welch), 1. of or having to do with Wales, its people, or their Celtic language. 2. the people of Wales. 3. their language. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

welsh (welsh or welch), Slang. 1. cheat by failing to pay a bet. 2. evade the fulfillment of an obligation. v. Also, welch. —welsh'er, n.

Welsh man (welsh'mən or welch'mən), native of Wales. n., pl. Welsh men.

Welsh rabbit, mixture containing cheese, cooked and poured over toast.

Welsh rarebit, Welsh rabbit.

welt (welt), 1. a strip of leather between the upper part and the sole of a shoe. 2. the narrow border, trimming, etc., on the edge of a garment or upholstery. 3. put a welt on. 4. a streak or ridge made on the skin by a stick or whip. 5. Informal. a heavy blow. 6. Informal. beat severely. 1,2,4,5 n., 3,6 v.

wel ter (wel'tər), 1. roll or toss about. 2. a rolling and tossing: All we saw was a welter of arms and legs. 3. confusion; commotion. 4. be drenched. 1,4 v., 2,3 n.

wel ter weight (wel'tər wāt'), boxer or wrestler weighing between 135 and 147 pounds. n.

wen (wen), a harmless tumor of the skin. n.

wench (wench), 1. girl or young woman. 2. a woman servant. n.

wend (wend), 1. direct (one's way): We wended our way home. 2. go. v., wend ed or (Archaic) went, wending.

went (went), pt. of go. I went home. v.

wept (wept), pt. and pp. of weep. She wept for hours. v.

were (wēr; unstressed wər), 1. plural and 2nd person singular past indicative of be. His orders were obeyed. 2. past subjunctive of be. I'd travel if I were rich. v. as it were, as if it were; so to speak; in some way.

we're (wir), we are.

weren't (wērnt), were not.

were wolf (wir'wulf'), in folklore, a person changed into a wolf; person who can change himself into a wolf, while retaining human intelligence. n., pl. were wolves (-wulfvz').

wert (wért; unstressed wərt), Archaic. were. "Thou wert" means "you were." v.

wer wolf (wir'wulf'), werewolf. n., pl. wer wolves.

We ser (vā'zər), river flowing from West Germany into the North Sea. 300 mi. n.

Wes ley (wes'lē), 1. John, 1703-1791, English clergyman who founded the Methodist Church. 2. his brother, Charles, 1707-1788, English clergyman and helper of John. He wrote many hymns. n.

Wes ley an (wes'lē ən), member of the church founded by John Wesley; Methodist. n.

Wes sex (wes'iks), an ancient kingdom in S England from 500? A.D. to 886 A.D. n.

west (west), 1. the direction of the sunset; the point of the compass to the left as one faces north. 2. toward the west; farther toward the west: Walk west three blocks. 3. from the west. 4. in the west; living in the west. 5. the part of any country toward the west. 1,5 n., 2-4 adj., 2 adv.

West (west), 1. the western part of the United States. 2. countries in Europe and America as distinguished from those in Asia. 3. the non-Communist countries of Europe and America as a group, usually including Australia, New Zealand, Japan, etc. n.

west er ly (wes'tər lē), 1. toward the west. 2. from the west. 3. wind from the west. 1,2 adj., adv., 3 n.

west ern (wes'tərən), 1. toward the west; in the west. 2. from the west. 3. of the west. 4. Informal. story or motion picture dealing with life in the West, especially cowboy life. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

West ern (wes'tərən), 1. of or in the W part of the United States. 2. of or in the countries in Europe and America. 3. of North and South America. 4. of or having to do with the non-Communist West. adj.

Western Australia, a state in W Australia. 730,000 pop.; 975,920 sq. mi. Capital: Perth.

Western Church, the part of the Catholic Church that acknowledges the Pope as its spiritual leader and follows the Latin Rite.

Western civilization, European and American civilization as contrasted with Oriental civilization.

Western Empire, the western part of the Roman Empire after its division in 395 A.D.

West ern er (wes'tər nər), 1. person born or living in the W part of the United States. 2. person who lives in the non-Communist West. n.

Western European Union, a defensive alliance organized in 1954-1955 among Great Britain, France, Italy, West Germany, and the Benelux nations.

Western Hemisphere, the half of the world that includes North and South America.

west ern most (wes'tərən mōst), farthest west. adj.

Western Roman Empire, the western part of the Roman Empire after its division in 395 A.D.

Western Samoa, a country made up of several islands in the S Pacific Ocean. 114,000 pop.; 1130 sq. mi. Capital: Apia.

West Germany, area of Germany under American, British, and French control after World War II, since 1949 a federal republic. Military occupation ended in 1955.

West Indian,

1. of or having to do with the West Indies.

2. native or inhabitant of the West Indies.

West Indies, islands between Florida and South America; Greater Antilles, Lesser Antilles, and the Bahamas.

West ing house (wes'ting hous), George, 1846-1914, American inventor. n.

West Irian (ir'ē ən'), a part of New Guinea, under the control of Indonesia. 750,000 pop.; 159,000 sq. mi. Capital: Kotabaru.

West min ster Abbey (west'min'stər), a church in London where the kings of Great Britain are crowned and in which many English kings and famous men are buried.

West Point, the college devoted to training cadets to become officers in the United States Army, in SE New York on the Hudson River.

West Virginia, an Eastern State of the United States. 1,860,000 pop.; 24,181 sq. mi. Capital: Charleston. Abbrev.: W. Va.

West Virginian, 1. native or inhabitant of West Virginia. 2. of or having to do with West Virginia.

west ward (west'wərd), 1. toward the west: the westward course of empire (adj.). He walked westward (adv.). 2. west: We live on the westward slope of the hill (adj.). Rocks lay westward of the ship's course (adv.). 1,2 adj., adv., 2 n.

west ward ly (west'wərd lē), 1. toward the west. 2. of winds, from the west. adj., adv.

west wards (west'wərdz), westward. adv.

wet (wet), 1. covered or soaked with water or other liquid: wet hands, a wet sponge. 2. watery; liquid: Her eyes were wet with tears. 3. make or become wet: Have you wet your feet? 4. water or other liquid. 5. rainy: wet weather. 6. wetness; rain: Come in out of the wet. 7. U.S. Informal. having or favoring laws that permit making and selling of alcoholic drinks. 8. U.S. Informal. person who favors laws that permit making and selling of alcoholic drinks. 1,2,5,7 adj., wet ter, wet test; 3 v., wet or wet ted, wet ting; 4,6,8 n. —wet/ness, n.

wet back (wet'bək'), a Mexican who enters the United States illegally, especially by swimming or wading across the Rio Grande. n.

wet blanket, person or thing that has a discouraging or depressing effect.

wet cell, in electricity, a cell having a free-flowing electrolyte.

weth er (weth'ər), a castrated male sheep. n.

wet nurse, woman employed to suckle the infant of another.

we've (wēv; unstressed wiv), we have.

whack (hwak), 1. Informal. a sharp, resounding blow. 2. Informal. strike with a sharp, resounding blow. 3. Slang. trial or attempt. 1,3 n., 2 v.

whacking (hwak'ing), Informal. large; forcible. adj.

whale (hwāl), 1. mammal shaped like a huge fish and living in the sea. Men get oil and whalebone from whales.

Greenland whale
(about 60 ft. long)

2. hunt and catch whales. 3. Informal. something very big, great, impressive, etc. 1,3 n., pl. whales or (esp. collectively) whale; 2 v., whaled, whaling.

whale (hwāl), Informal. 1. beat; whip severely. 2. hit hard. v., whaled, whaling.

whale back (hwāl'bak'), a freight steamer having a rounded upper deck shaped like a whale's back. n.

whale boat (hwāl'bōt'), a long, narrow rowboat, sharp at both ends, formerly much used in whaling. n.

whale bone (hwāl'bōn'), 1. an elastic, horny substance growing in place of teeth in the upper jaw of certain whales and forming a series of thin, parallel plates. 2. a thin strip of this used for stiffening corsets, dresses, etc. n.

whaler (hwāl'ər), 1. person who hunts whales. 2. ship used for hunting and catching whales. n.

whaling (hwāl'ing), the hunting and killing of whales. n.

whang (hwang), Informal. 1. a resounding blow or bang. 2. strike with a blow or bang. 1 n., 2 v.

wharf (hwōrf), platform built on the shore or out from the shore, beside which ships can load and unload. n., pl. wharves or wharfs.

Wharf

wharves (hwōrvz), a pl. of wharf. n.

what (hwot), 1. word used in asking questions about persons or things: What is your name? (pron.). What time is it? (adj.). 2. that which: Put back what money is left. (adj.). I know what you mean. (pron.). 3. whatever; anything that; any that: Do what you please. (pron.). Take what supplies you will need. (adj.). 4. how much; how: What does it matter? 5. partly: What with the wind and what with the rain, our walk was spoiled. 6. word used to show surprise, doubt, anger, liking, etc., or to add emphasis: What! are you late again? (interj.). What a pity! (adj.). What happy times! (adv.). 1-3 pron., 1-3,6 adj., 4-6 adv., 6 interj.

and what not, and all kinds of other things.

but what, but that.

what for, why.

what if, what would happen if.

what's what, Informal. the true state of affairs.

what e'er (hwot ā'r'), Poetic. whatever. pron., adj.

what ever (hwot ev'ər), 1. anything that: Do whatever you like. 2. any that: Ask whatever girls you like to the party. 3. at all: Any person whatever can tell you the way. 4. no matter what: Whatever happens, he is safe. (pron.). Whatever excuse he makes will not be believed. (adj.). 5. Informal. what in the world: Whatever do you mean? 1,4,5 pron., 2-4 adj.

what not (hwot'not'), stand with several shelves for books, ornaments, etc. n.

what's (hwots), what is.

what so e'er (hwot'sō ā'r'), Poetic. whatsoever. pron., adj.

wheel (hwēl), 1. a small burning or itching swelling on the skin. 2. ridge on the skin made by a whip; welt. n.

wheat (hwēt), 1. the grain of a widely distributed cereal grass, used to make flour. 2. the plant, which bears the grain in dense spikes that sometimes have awns (bearded wheat) and sometimes do not (beardless wheat or bald wheat). n.

wheat en (hwēt'n), made of wheat. adj.

whee dle (hwē'dl), 1. persuade by flattery, smooth words, caresses, etc.; coax: The children wheedled their mother into letting them go to the picnic. 2. get by wheedling: They finally wheedled the secret out of him. v., wheedled, wheedling. —whe'dler, n. —whe'dling ly, adv.

wheel (hwēl), 1. a round frame turning on a pin or shaft in the center. 2. any instrument, machine, apparatus, etc., shaped or moving like a wheel. A bicycle is often called a wheel. A ship's wheel is used in steering. Clay is shaped into dishes, etc., on a potter's wheel. People were stretched on a wheel and tortured by having their arms and legs broken with an iron bar. 3. any force thought of as moving or propelling: the wheels of the government. 4. turn: He wheeled around suddenly. 5. move or perform in a curved or circular direction. 6. move on wheels: The workman was wheeling a load of bricks on a wheelbarrow. 7. travel along smoothly. 8. provide with wheels. 9. Informal. ride a bicycle. 1-3 n., 4-9 v.

wheels, machinery.

at the wheel, 1. at the steering wheel. 2. in control.

wheels within wheels, complicated circumstances, motives, influences, etc.

wheel bar row (hwēl'bar'ō), frame with a wheel at one end and two handles at the other, used for carrying loads. n.

Man pushing a wheelbarrow wheel base (hwēl'bās'), in automobiles, etc., the distance measured in inches between the centers of the front and rear axles. n.

wheel chair, chair mounted on wheels, used especially by invalids. It can be propelled by the person who is sitting in the chair.

wheeled (hwēld), having a wheel or wheels. adj.

wheel er (hwēl'ər), 1. person or thing that wheels. 2. thing that has a wheel or wheels. 3. a wheel horse. n.

wheel horse, 1. horse nearest to the wheels. 2. Informal. person who works hard, long, and effectively.

wheel house (hwēl'hous'), a small, enclosed place on a ship to shelter the steering wheel and those that steer the ship; pilothouse. n.

Wheel ing (hwēl'ing), city in N West Virginia, on the Ohio River. 53,000. n.

wheel wright (hwēl'rit'), man whose work is making or repairing wheels, carriages, and wagons. n.

wheeze (hwēz), 1. breathe with difficulty and a whistling sound. 2. a whistling sound caused by difficult breathing. 3. make a sound like this: The old engine wheezed, but it didn't stop. 4. say with a wheeze. 5. Slang. a funny saying or story; old or familiar joke. 1,3,4 v., wheezed, wheezing; 2,5 n.

wheezy (hwēz'ē), wheezing: The old dog was fat and wheezy. adj., wheezier, wheeziest. —wheezily, adv. —wheeziness, n.

whelk (hwelk), a mollusk with a spiral shell, used for food in Europe. n.

whelm (hwelm), 1. overwhelm. 2. submerge. v.

whelp (hwelp), 1. puppy or cub; young dog, wolf, bear, lion, tiger, etc. 2. give birth to (whelps). 3. a good-for-nothing boy or young man. 1,3 n., 2 v.

when (hwen; unstressed hwən), 1. at what time: When does school close? 2. at the time that: Rise when your name is called. 3. at any time that: He is impatient when he is kept waiting. 4. at which time; and then: The dog growled till his master spoke, when he gave a joyful bark.

Whelk (shell 2 to 3
in. long)

5. although: We have only three books when we need five.
6. what time; which time: Since when have they had a car? 7. the time or occasion: the when and where of an act. 1 adv., 2-5 conj., 6,7 pron.
when as (hwen az'), Archaic. when; while; whereas. conj.
whence (hwens), 1. from what place; from where: Whence do you come? 2. from what source or cause; from what: Whence has he so much wisdom? 3. from which: Let him return to the country whence he came. 4. from what place, source, cause, etc.: He told whence he came. 1-3 adv., 4 conj.
whence so ev er (hwens'sō ev'ər), from whatever place, source, or cause. conj.
when e'er (hwen ār'), Poetic. whenever. conj., adv.
when ev er (hwen ev'ər), when; at whatever time; at any time that. conj., adv.
when so ev er (hwen'sō ev'ər), whenever; at whatever time. conj., adv.
where (hwār), 1. in what place; at what place: Where is he? 2. to what place: Where are you going? 3. from what place: Where did you get that story? 4. what place: Where does he come from? 5. in which; at which: the house where he was born. 6. to which: the place where he is going. 7. in or at which place: I don't know where he is. 8. in what way; in what respect: Where is the harm in trying? 9. in the place in which; at the place at which: The book is where you left it. 10. in any place in which; at any place at which: Use the salve where the pain is felt. 11. any place to which: I will go where you go. 12. in or at which place: They came to the town, where they stayed for the night. 13. place; scene. 14. in the case, circumstances, respect, etc., in which: Some people worry where it does no good. 1-3,5-8 adv., 4,13 n., 9-12,14 conj.
where a bout (hwār'ə bout'), whereabouts. adv., conj., n.
where a bouts (hwār'ə bouts'), 1. where; near what place: Whereabouts can I find a doctor? We did not know whereabouts we were. 2. place where a person or thing is: Do you know the whereabouts of the cottage? 1 adv., conj., 2 n.
where as (hwār az'), 1. on the contrary; but; while: Some children like school, whereas others do not. 2. considering that; since: "Whereas the people of the colonies have been grieved and burdened with taxes," etc. conj.
where at (hwār at'), at what; at which. adv., conj.
where by (hwār bī'), by what; by which: There is no other way whereby he can be saved. adv., conj.
where e'er (hwār ār'), Poetic. wherever. conj., adv.
where fore (hwār fōr'), 1. for what reason? why? 2. for which reason; therefore; so. 3. for what reason; why. 4. reason. 1,2 adv., 3 conj., 4 n.
where from (hwār from' or hwār frum'), whence. adv.
where in (hwār in'), in what; in which; how. adv., conj.
where in to (hwār in'tū), into what; into which. adv., conj.
where of (hwār ov' or hwār uv'), of what; of which; of whom: Solomon knew whereof he spoke. adv., conj.
where on (hwār on'), on which; on what: Summer cottages occupy the land whereon the old farmhouse stood. adv., conj.
where so e'er (hwār'sō ār'), Poetic. wheresoever. conj., adv.
where so ev er (hwār'sō ev'ər), wherever. conj., adv.
where to (hwār tū'), 1. to what; to which; where: He went to that place whereto he had been sent. 2. for what purpose; why: Whereto do you lay up riches? adv., conj.
where un to (hwār un'tū), Archaic. whereto. adv., conj.
where up on (hwār'ə pon'), 1. upon what; upon which. 2. at which; after which. adv., conj.
where ev er (hwār ev'ər), where; to whatever place; in whatever place: Wherever are you going? Sit wherever you like. He will be happy wherever he lives. conj., adv.
where with (hwār wiθ' or hwār with'), with what; with which. adv., conj.

where with al (hwār'wiθ ōl for 1; hwār'wiθ ōl' for 2), 1. means, supplies, or money needed: Has she the wherewithal to pay for the trip? 2. Archaic. with what; with which: Wherewithal shall we be fed? 1 n., 2 adv., conj.
wher ry (hwer'ē), 1. a light, shallow rowboat for carrying passengers and goods on rivers. 2. a light rowboat for one person, used for racing. 3. Brit. a broad sailboat, used chiefly on rivers. n., pl. wher ries.
whet (hwet), 1. sharpen by rubbing: whet a knife. 2. make keen or eager; stimulate: The smell of food whetted my appetite. 3. act of whetting. 4. something that whets. 5. appetizer. 1,2 v., whet ted, whet ting; 3-5 n.
wheth er (hweθ'ər), 1. Whether is a conjunction expressing a choice or an alternative: It matters little whether we go or stay. He does not know whether to work or play. 2. either: Whether sick or well, she is always cheerful. 3. if: He asked whether he should finish the work. 4. Archaic. which of two: "Whether is greater, the gift or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?" 1-3 conj., 4 pron.
whether or no, in any case; no matter what happens.
whet stone (hwet'stōn'), a stone for sharpening knives or tools. n.
whew (hwū), exclamation of surprise, dismay, etc. interj., n.
whew (hwā), the watery part of milk that separates from the curd when milk sours and becomes coagulated or when cheese is made. n.
which (hwich), 1. word used in asking questions about persons or things: Which seems the best plan? (pron.). Which boy won the prize? (adj.). Which books are yours? (adj.). 2. word used in connecting a group of words with some word in the sentence: Read the book which you have (pron.). Be careful which way you turn (adj.). 3. the one that; any that: Here are three boxes. Choose which you like best. 4. a thing that. 1-4 pron., 1,2 adj.
which is which, which is one and which is the other.
which ev er (hwich ev'ər), 1. any one that; any that: Take whichever you want (pron.). Buy whichever hat you like (adj.). 2. no matter which: Whichever side wins, I shall be satisfied. pron., adj.
which so ev er (hwich'sō ev'ər), whichever. pron., adj.
whiff (hwif), 1. a slight gust; puff; breath: A whiff of fresh air cleared his head. 2. blow; puff. 3. a slight smell; puff of air having an odor. 4. puff of tobacco smoke. 5. puff tobacco smoke from (a pipe, etc.); smoke. 6. a slight outburst. 1-4,6 n., 2,5 v.
whif fet (hwif'it), 1. Informal. an insignificant person or thing. 2. a small dog. n. whifle (hwif'l), 1. blow in puffs or gusts. 2. veer; shift. 3. blow lightly; scatter. v., whif fled, whif fling.
whifle tree (hwif'l trē'), whippetree. n.
Whig (hwig), 1. member of a former political party in Great Britain that favored reforms and progress. The Whig Party became the Liberal Party. 2. an American who favored the Revolution against England. 3. member of a political party in the United States that was formed about 1834 in opposition to the Democratic Party. 4. composed of Whigs; having to do with Whigs; like Whigs. 1-3 n., 4 adj.
while (hwil), 1. time; space of time: He kept us waiting a long while. The postman came a while ago. 2. Archaic. a particular time. 3. during the time that; in the time that; in the same time that: While I was speaking he said nothing. Summer is pleasant while it lasts. 4. in contrast with the fact that; although: While I like the color of the hat, I do not like its shape. 5. pass or spend in some easy, pleasant manner: The children while away many afternoons on the beach. 1,2 n., 3,4 conj., 5 v., whiled, whiling.
between whiles, at times; at intervals.
the while, during the time.
worth while, worth time, attention, or effort. whiles (hwilz), Archaic or Dialect. 1. sometimes. 2. in the meantime. 3. while. 1,2 adv., 3 conj.

whilom (hwī'ləm), Archaic. 1. former: a whilom friend. 2. formerly; once. 1 adj., 2 adv.

whilst (hwɪlst), Esp. Brit. while. conj.

whim (hwɪm), 1. a sudden fancy or notion; freakish or capricious idea or desire: Her whim for gardening won't last long. 2. in mining, a kind of capstan used in hoisting. n.

whimper (hwɪm'pər), 1. cry with low, broken, mournful sounds: The sick child whimpered. 2. make a low, mournful sound. 3. a whimpering cry or sound. 4. say with a whimper. 5. complain in a weak way; whine. 1,2,4,5 v., 3 n. —whim'per er, n. —whim'per ing ly, adv.

whimsey (hwɪm'zē), whimsy. n., pl. whimseys.

whimsical (hwɪm'zə kl), 1. having many odd notions or fancies; fanciful; odd. 2. full of whims. adj. —whim'si cally, adv.

whimsicality (hwɪm'zə kal'ə tē), 1. whimsical character or quality. 2. a whimsical notion, speech, act, etc. n., pl. whimsicalities.

whimsy (hwɪm'zē), 1. an odd or fanciful notion. 2. odd or fanciful humor; quaintness: His books are full of whimsy. 3. something showing this. 4. whim. n., pl. whimsies.

whin (hwin), a low prickly shrub with yellow flowers, common on waste lands in Europe. n.

whine (hwin), 1. make a low, complaining cry or sound: The dog whined to go out with us. 2. a low, complaining cry or sound. 3. complain in a peevish, childish way: Some people are always whining about trifles. 4. say with a whine. 5. a peevish, childish complaint. 1,3,4 v., whined, whin ing; 2,5 n. —whin'er, n. —whin'ing ly, adv.

whinny (hwin'ē), 1. the sound that a horse makes. 2. make such a sound. 3. express with such a sound. 1 n., pl. whinnies; 2,3 v., whin nied, whin ny ing.

whin stone (hwin'stōn'), basalt or some similar hard rock. n.

whip (hwɪp), 1. strike; beat; lash: He whipped the horse. 2. thing to whip with, usually a stick with a lash at the end. 3. move, put, or pull quickly and suddenly: He whipped off his coat and whipped out his knife. The thief whipped behind a tree and escaped. 4. a whipping motion. 5. Informal. defeat. 6. beat (cream, eggs, etc.) to a froth. 7. dessert made by beating cream, eggs, etc., into a froth. 8. sew with stitches passing over and over an edge. 9. wind (a rope, stick, etc.) closely with thread or string; wind (cord, twine, or thread) around something. 10. member of a political party who controls and directs the other members in a lawmaking body. 11. person who manages the hounds of a hunting pack. 12. driver. 13. a rope and pulley. 14. cast a fish line with a motion like that of using a whip. 15. fish upon: whip a stream. 1,3,5,6,8,9,14,15 v., whipped or whipt, whip ping; 2,4,7,10-13 n. —whip'like', adj. —whip'per, n.

whip cord (hwɪp'kôrd'), 1. a strong, twisted cord, sometimes used for the lashes of whips. 2. a strong worsted cloth with diagonal ridges on it. n.

whip hand, 1. the hand that holds the whip in driving. 2. position of control; advantage: A clever person often gets the whip hand over others.

whip lash (hwɪp'lash'), lash of a whip. n.

whip-per-snap per (hwɪp'ər snap'ər), an insignificant person who thinks he is smart or important. n.

whip pet (hwɪp'it), 1. very swift dog that looks somewhat like a small greyhound, often used in racing. 2. a small, fast, armored tank that was used in the first World War. n.

Whippet (about 1½ ft. high at the shoulder) whipping (hwɪp'ing), 1. a beating; flogging. 2. arrangement of cord, twine, or the like, wound about a thing: We fastened the broken rod with a whipping of wire. n.

whipping post, post to which lawbreakers are tied to be whipped.

whip ple tree (hwɪp'əl trē'), the swinging bar of a carriage or wagon, to which the traces of a harness are fastened. n.

whip poor will (hwɪp'ər wɪl' or hwɪp'ər wɪl'), an American bird whose call sounds somewhat like its name. It is active at night or twilight. n.

whip saw (hwɪp'sô'), 1. a long, narrow saw with its ends held in a frame. 2. cut with a whipsaw. 3. get the better of (a person) no matter what he does. 1 n., 2,3 v.

whip stock (hwɪp'stok'), handle of a whip. n.

whir (hwɛr), 1. a noise that sounds like whir-r-r: the whir of a small machine. 2. move quickly with a whir: The motor whirs. 1 n., 2 v., whirred, whir ring.

whirl (hwɛrl), 1. turn or swing round and round; spin: The leaves whirled in the wind. 2. move round and round: We whirled about the room. He whirled the club. 3. move or carry quickly: We were whirled away in an airplane. 4. a whirling movement: We saw whirls of smoke. 5. something that whirls. 6. feel dizzy or confused. 7. dizzy or confused condition: His thoughts are in a whirl. 8. a rapid round of happenings, parties, etc. 1-3,6 v., 4,5,7,8 n. —whirl'er, n.

whirl i gig (hwɛr'lē gɪg'), 1. toy that whirls. 2. merry-go-round. 3. something that whirls round and round. 4. beetle that circles about on the surface of water. n.

whirl pool (hwɛrl'pūl'), 1. water whirling round and round rapidly and violently. 2. anything like a whirlpool. n.

whirl wind (hwɛrl'wind'), 1. current of air whirling violently round and round; whirling windstorm. 2. anything like a whirlwind. n.

whirr (hwɛr), whir. n., v.

whish (hwɪsh), 1. a soft rushing sound; whiz; swish. 2. make a soft rushing sound. 1 n., 2 v.

whisk¹ (hwɪsk), 1. sweep or brush (dust, crumbs, etc.) from a surface: She whisked the crumbs from the table. 2. a quick sweep: a whisk of her broom. 3. move quickly: The mouse whisked into its hole. She whisked the letter out of sight. 4. a light, quick movement. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

whisk² (hwɪsk), 1. beat or whip to a froth. 2. a whisk broom. 3. a wire beater for eggs, cream, etc. 1 v., 2,3 n.

whisk broom, a small broom for brushing clothes, etc.

whisk er (hwɪs'kər), 1. hair growing on a man's cheeks. 2. a single hair of a man's beard. 3. a long, stiff hair growing near the mouth of a cat, rat, etc. n. whiskers, hair growing on a man's face, especially that on his cheeks.

whisk ered (hwɪs'kərd), having whiskers. adj.

whis key (hwɪs'kē), a strong alcoholic drink made from grain. Whiskey is about half alcohol. n., pl. whis keys.

whis ky (hwɪs'kē), whiskey. n., pl. whis kies.

whis per (hwɪs'pər), 1. speak very softly and low. 2. a very soft, low spoken sound. 3. speak to in a whisper. 4. tell secretly or privately: It is whispered that Mr. Smith's business is failing. 5. something told secretly or privately: No whisper about having a new teacher has come to our ears. 6. make a soft, rustling sound: The wind whispered in the pines. 7. a soft, rustling sound. 8. speech without vibration of the vocal cords. 1,3,4,6 v., 2,5,7,8 n. —whis'per er, n.

Whippoorwill (9 to 10 in. long)

Whirligig (def. 1)

whist¹ (hwist), a card game somewhat like bridge for two pairs of players. Contract bridge developed from it. n.

whist² (hwist), 1. hush! silence! 2. Archaic. hushed; silent. 1 interj., 2 adj.

whistle (hwis'l), 1. make a clear, shrill sound: The policeman whistled for the automobile to stop. The engine whistled before it started off. A blackbird whistles. 2. the sound made by whistling. 3. an instrument for making whistling sounds. 4. blow a whistle. 5. produce or utter by whistling: whistle a tune. 6. call, signal, or direct by a whistle. 7. move with a shrill sound: The wind whistled around the house. 1,4-7 v., whistled, whis tling; 2,3 n.

wet one's whistle, Informal. take a drink.

whistle for, Informal. go without; fail to get.

whis tler (hwis'lər), person or thing that whistles. n.

whistle stop, a small, insignificant town.

whit (hwit), a very small bit: The sick man is not a whit better. n.

white (hwit), 1. the color of snow or salt. 2. having this color. 3. approaching this color: white hair. 4. white coloring matter. 5. white clothing. 6. wearing white clothing. 7. something white: Take the whites of four eggs. 8. central part of a butt in archery (formerly painted white). 9. a blank space in printing. 10. pale: She turned white with fear. 11. light-colored: white wines, white meat. 12. having a light-colored skin; noting or pertaining to the Caucasian race. 13. white person. 14. silvery; gray. 15. snowy. 16. blank. 17. spotless; pure; innocent. 18. Slang. honorable; trustworthy; fair. 19. ultra-conservative; reactionary; royalist. 20. good; beneficent: white magic. 1,4,5,7-9,13,19 n., 2,3,6,10-12,14-20 adj., whit er, whit est. —white-ness, n. bleed white, use up or take away all of one's money, strength, etc.

white ant, a pale-white insect; termite. White ants eat wood and are very destructive to buildings.

white bait (hwit/bāt'), a young herring or sprat an inch or two long; very small fish used for food. n., pl. white bait.

white cap (hwit/kap'), wave with a foaming white crest. n.

white cedar, 1. an evergreen tree that is much like a cypress and has pale green or silvery needles. 2. its wood.

white clover, a kind of clover with white flowers, common in fields and lawns.

white coal, water used as a source of power.

white-collar (hwit/kol'ər), U.S. of or having to do with clerical, professional, or business work or workers. adj.

white elephant, anything that is expensive and troublesome to keep and take care of.

white feather, symbol of cowardice.

show the white feather, act like a coward.

white fish (hwit/fish'), 1. a food fish with white or silvery sides, found in lakes and streams. n., pl. white-fish es or (esp. collectively) white fish.

white flag, a plain white flag used as a sign of truce or surrender.

white friar, Carmelite.

white gold, alloy of gold that looks much like platinum and is used for jewelry, commonly containing gold, nickel, copper, and zinc.

White hall (hwit/hōl'), 1. an old palace in London. 2. an important street in London, where many government offices are located. 3. the British government or its policies. n.

white heat, 1. extremely great heat at which things give off a dazzling white light. 2. state of extremely great activity, excitement, or feeling.

White horse (hwit/hōrs), capital of Yukon Territory. 3000. n.

white-hot (hwit/hot'). 1. white with heat; extremely hot. 2. very enthusiastic; excited; violent. adj.

White House, The, 1. the official residence or "executive mansion" of the President of the United States, in Washington, D.C. 2. Informal. office, authority, opinion, etc., of the President of the United States.

white lead, a compound of lead used in making paint; basic carbonate of lead.

white lie, lie about some small matter; polite or harmless lie.

white-liv ered (hwit/liv'ər'd), 1. cowardly. 2. pale; unhealthy looking. adj.

white matter, tissue of the brain, spinal cord, etc., that consists chiefly of nerve fibers.

White Mountains, range of the Appalachian Mountains in New Hampshire. The highest mountain is Mount Washington, 6293 feet.

whit en (hwit'n), 1. make white: The dentist used a bleach to whiten my teeth. 2. become white. v.

white oak, 1. oak of E North America having light-gray or whitish bark and hard, durable wood. 2. any similar species of oak. 3. wood of any of these trees.

white pepper, spice made from husked dried pepper berries.

white pine, 1. a tall pine tree of E North America, valued for its soft, light wood. 2. this wood, much used for building. 3. any of various similar pines.

white plague, tuberculosis.

white potato, a very common variety of potato with a whitish inside; Irish potato.

White River, river flowing from NW Arkansas into the Mississippi River. 690 mi.

White Russia, 1. Byelorussia, a republic of the Soviet Union. 2. region in W Soviet Union including this republic and other nearby territory inhabited by the White Russians.

White Russian, 1. Russian living in the W part of the Soviet Union, north of the Ukraine. 2. Russian who recognizes the former czarist government of Russia as the legal government of that country.

white sauce, sauce made of milk, butter, and flour cooked together.

White Sea, sea in NE Soviet Union. It is part of the Arctic Ocean. 36,000 sq. mi.

white wash (hwit/wosh'), 1. liquid for whitening walls, woodwork, etc., usually made of lime and water. 2. whiten with whitewash. 3. cover up the faults or mistakes of. 4. a covering up of faults or mistakes. 5. anything that covers up faults or mistakes. 6. Informal. defeat without a score for the loser. 1,4,5 n., 2,3,6 v.

white wood (hwit/wūd'), 1. tree with light-colored wood, such as a tulip tree, Linden, etc. 2. the wood. n.

whit er (hwit'ər), to what place; to which place; where. adv., conj.

whit er so ev er (hwit'ər sō ev'ər), wherever; to whatever place. adv., conj.

whit ing¹ (hwit'ing), 1. a European fish like the cod. 2. the silver hake. 3. any of several other food fishes. n., pl. whit ings or (esp. collectively) whit ing.

whit ing² (hwit'ing), a powdered white chalk, used in making putty, whitewash, and silver polish. n.

whit ish (hwit'ish), somewhat white. adj.

whit low (hwit/lō), abscess on a finger or toe, usually near the nail. n.

Whit man (hwit'mən), Walt, 1819-1892, American poet. n.

Whit ney (hwit/nē), 1. Eli, 1765-1825, American who invented the cotton gin. 2. Mount, peak of the Sierra Nevada mountains, in E California, the highest mountain in the United States outside Alaska. 14,495 ft. n.

Whit sun (hwit/sən), of or having to do with Whitsunday or Whitsuntide. adj.

Whit sun day (hwit/sun/dē or hwit/sən dā'), the seventh Sunday after Easter; Pentecost. n.

Whit sun tide (hwit/sən tid'), the week beginning with Whitsunday, especially the first three days. n.

Whit ti er (hwit'ē ər), John Greenleaf, 1807-1892, American poet. n.

whit tle (hwit'l), 1. cut shavings or chips from (wood, etc.) with a knife. 2. shape by whittling; carve: The old sailor whittled a boat for Jim. v., whit tled, whit tling. —whit'tler, n.

whittle down or away, cut down little by little.

whiz or whizz (hwiz), 1. a humming or hissing sound. 2. make a humming or hissing sound; move or rush with such a sound: An arrow whizzed past his head. 3. Slang. a very clever person; expert. 1,3 n., 2 v., whizzed, whizzing.

who (hü), 1. word used in asking questions about a person or persons: Who is your friend? Who told you? 2. word used in connecting a group of following words with some previous word in the sentence: The girl who spoke is my best friend. We saw men who were working in the fields. 3. the person that; any person that; one that: Who is not for us is against us. pron., poss. whose, obj. whom.

who's who, 1. which is one person and which is the other. 2. which people are important.

whoa (hwō or wō), (used especially to horses) stop! interj.

who dun it (hü dun'it), Slang. story or motion picture dealing with crime, especially murder, and its detection. n.

who ever (hü ev'ər), 1. who; any person that: Whoever wants the book may have it. 2. no matter who: Whoever else goes hungry, he won't. pron.

whole (hōl), 1. having all its parts or elements; complete: He gave her a whole set of dishes. 2. comprising the full quantity, amount, extent, number, etc.; entire: a whole melon. He worked the whole day. 3. being fully or entirely such: a whole brother (by both parents). 4. all of a thing; the total: Four quarters make a whole. 5. thing complete in itself; a system. 6. not injured, broken, or defective: get out of a fight with a whole skin. 7. in one piece; undivided: swallow a piece of meat whole. 8. not fractional; integral: a whole number. 9. well; healthy. 1-3,6-9 adj., 4,5 n.

as a whole, as one complete thing; altogether.

made out of whole cloth, Informal. entirely false or imaginary.

on the whole, 1. considering everything. 2. for the most part.

whole-heart ed (hōl'hār'tid), earnest; sincere; hearty; cordial: The returning soldiers were given a whole-hearted welcome. adj. —whole'-heart'ed ly, adv. —whole'-heart'ed ness, n.

whole note, note indicating a tone to be given as much time as four quarter notes.

whole number, integer. 1,2,3,15,106, etc., are whole numbers; $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{3}{4}$, and $\frac{7}{8}$ are fractions; $1\frac{3}{8}$, $2\frac{1}{2}$, and $12\frac{3}{4}$ are mixed numbers.

whole rest, rest in music as long as a whole note. See rest for picture.

whole sale (hōl'sāl'), 1. sale of goods in large quantities at a time, usually to retailers rather than to consumers directly: He buys at wholesale and sells at retail. 2. in large lots or quantities: The wholesale price of this coat is $20; the retail price is $30. 3. selling in large quantities: a wholesale fruit business. 4. sell in large quantities. 5. be sold in large quantities. 6. broad and general; extensive and indiscriminate: Avoid wholesale condemnation. 1 n., 2,3,6 adj., 2 adv., 4,5 v., wholesale'd, whole saling.

whole sal er (hōl'sāl'ər), a wholesale merchant. n. whole some (hōl'səm), 1. good for the health; healthful: Milk is a wholesome food. 2. healthy-looking; suggesting health: a wholesome face. 3. good for the mind or morals; beneficial: Read wholesome books. adj. —whole'some ly, adv. —whole'some ness, n.

whole step, in music, an interval equal to one sixth of an octave, such as D to E, or E to F#.

whole tone, whole step.

whole-wheat (hōl'hwēt'), made of the entire wheat kernel. adj.

who'll (hü'l), who will; who shall.

whol ly (hōl'ē), to the whole amount or extent; completely; entirely: The sick boy was wholly cured. adv. whom (hüm), the objective case of who. Whom do you like best? He does not know whom to believe. The girl to whom I spoke is my cousin. pron.

whom ever (hüm'ev'ər), 1. whom; any person whom. 2. no matter whom. pron.

whom so ever (hüm'sō ev'ər), any person whom. pron.

whoop (hüp or hwüp), 1. a loud cry or shout: The Indian gave a whoop of rage. 2. shout loudly. 3. call, urge, drive, etc., with shouts: whoop dogs on. 4. cry of an owl, crane, etc.; hoot. 5. hoot. 6. the loud, gasping noise a person with whooping cough makes after a fit of coughing. 7. make this noise. 1,4,6 n., 2,3,5,7 v.

whoop it up, Slang. make a noisy disturbance.

whooping cough (hüp'ing), an infectious disease of children, characterized by fits of coughing that end with a loud, gasping sound.

whooping crane, a large white crane having a loud, raucous cry.

whop per (hwop'ər), Informal. 1. something very large. 2. a big lie. n.

whop ping (hwop'ing), Informal. very large of its kind; huge. adj.

whore (hōr), 1. prostitute. 2. an unchaste woman. 3. have intercourse with whores. 1,2 n., 3 v., whored, whor ing.

whorl (hwērl or hwōrl), 1. circle of leaves or flowers round a stem of a plant. 2. one of the turns of a spiral shell. 3. anything that circles or turns on or around something else. A person can be identified by the whorls of his fingerprints. n.

whorled (hwērl'd or hwōrl'd), 1. having a whorl or whorls. 2. arranged in a whorl. adj.

whor tle ber ry (hwēr'tl ber'ē),

1. a small blackish berry much like the huckleberry. 2. the shrub that it grows on. n., pl. whor tle ber ries.

who's (hüz), who is.

whose (hüz), the possessive case of who and of which. The girl whose work got the prize is the youngest in her class. Whose book is this? pron.

whose so ever (hüz'sō ev'ər), whose; of any person whatsoever: I will accept whosoever help is offered. pron.

who so (hü'sō), Archaic. whoever. pron.

who so ever (hü'sō ev'ər), whoever; anybody who. pron.

why (hwī), 1. for what cause, reason, or purpose: Why did you do it? I don't know why I did it. 2. for which; because of which: That is the reason why he failed. 3. the reason for which: That is why he raised the question. 4. cause; reason; purpose: She tried to find out the whys and wherefores of his behavior. 5. expression used to show surprise, doubt, etc., or just to fill in: Why! it's all gone! Why, yes, I will if you wish. 1-3 adv., 4 n., pl. whys; 5 interj.

W.I., 1. West Indies. 2. West Indian.

Wich i ta (wich'ə tō), city in S Kansas. 255,000. n.

Wich ita Falls, city in N Texas. 102,000.

wick (wik), the part of an oil lamp or candle that is lighted. The oil or melted wax is drawn up the wick and burned. n.

wick ed (wik'id), 1. bad; evil; sinful: a wicked person, wicked deeds. 2. mischievous; playfully sly: a wicked smile. 3. Informal. unpleasant; severe: a wicked task, a wicked storm. adj. —wick'ed ly, adv.

Whorl of leaves

Shell showing whorls wickedness (wik'id nis), 1. sin; being wicked.

2. a wicked thing or act. n.

wicker (wik'ər), 1. a slender, easily bent branch or twig. 2. twigs or branches woven together. Wicker is used in making baskets and furniture. 3. made of wicker. 4. covered with wicker. 1,2 n., 3,4 adj.

wicker work (wik'ər wɛrk'), 1. twigs or branches woven together; wicker. 2. objects made of wicker. n.

wicket (wik'it), 1. a small door or gate: The big door has a wicket in it. 2. a small window or opening: Buy your tickets at this wicket. 3. in croquet, a wire arch stuck in the ground to knock the ball through. 4. in cricket, either of the two sets of sticks that one side tries to hit with the ball. 5. the level space between these. 6. one batsman's turn. n.

wicket keeper (wik'it kēp'ər), in cricket, the player who stands behind the wicket. n.

wicking (wik'ing), material for wicks. n.

wide (wid), 1. filling more space from side to side than the usual thing of the same sort; not narrow; broad: a wide street. 2. filling much space from side to side: the wide ocean. 3. extending a certain distance from side to side: a door three feet wide. 4. to a great or relatively great extent from side to side: wide apart. 5. over an extensive space or region: travel far and wide. 6. a wide space or expanse. 7. full; ample; roomy: wide shoes. 8. of great range: wide reading. 9. far or fully open; distended: stare with wide eyes. 10. to the full extent; fully: Open your mouth wide. 11. far from a named point, object, target, etc. 12. aside; astray. 13. uttered with a relatively wide opening of the vocal organs. 1-3,7-9,11,13 adj., wid er, wid est; 4,5,10,12 adv., 6 n. —wide'ness, n.

wide of, far from: a guess wide of the truth, a shot wide of the mark.

wide-a wake (wid'ə wāk'), 1. with the eyes wide open; fully awake. 2. alert; keen; knowing. adj.

wide-eyed (wid'id'), with the eyes wide open. adj.

wide ly (wid'lē), to a wide extent: a widely distributed plant, a man who is widely known, be widely read, widely opened eyes, two widely different accounts of a quarrel. adv.

wid en (wid'n), 1. make wide or wider. 2. become wide or wider. v.

wide-o pen (wid'ō pən), 1. opened as much as possible. 2. lax in the enforcement of laws, especially those having to do with the sale of liquor, with gambling, and with prostitution. adj.

wide spread (wid'spred'), 1. spread widely: wide-spread wings. 2. spread over a wide space: a widespread flood. 3. occurring in many places or among many persons far apart: a widespread belief. adj.

widge on (wij'ən), any of several kinds of fresh-water ducks, slightly larger than a teal; scaup duck. n., pl. widge ons or (esp. collectively) widge on.

wid ow (wid'ō), 1. woman whose husband is dead and who has not married again. 2. make a widow of. 1 n., 2 v.

wid ow er (wid'ō ər), man whose wife is dead and who has not married again. n.

wid ow hood (wid'ō hūd), condition or time of being a widow. n.

widow's mite, a small amount of money given cheerfully by a poor person.

width (widh), 1. how wide a thing is; distance across; breadth: The room is 12 feet in width. 2. piece of a certain width: curtains taking two widths of cloth. n.

wield (wēld), hold and use; manage; control: A soldier wields the sword. The people wield the power in a democracy. v. —wield'er, n.

wie ner (wē'nər), U.S. frankfurter. n.

wie ner wurst (wē'nər wɛrst'), U.S. wiener. n.

Wickets:
A, for croquet;
B, for cricket.

Wies ba den (vēs'bā'dn), city in West Germany well known as a health resort. 254,000. n.

wife (wif), 1. a married woman. 2. Archaic. woman. n., pl. wives. —wife'less, adj.

take to wife, marry.

wife hood (wif'hūd), condition of being a wife. n.

wife ly (wif'lē), of a wife; like a wife; suitable for a wife. adj., wife li er, wife li est.

wig (wig), an artificial covering of hair for the head: The bald man wore a wig. n.

wig gle (wig'l), 1. move with short, quick movements from side to side; wriggle: The restless child wiggled in his chair. 2. a wiggling movement. 1 v., wig gled, wig gling; 2 n.

wig gler (wig'lər), 1. person or thing that wiggles. 2. the larva of a mosquito. n.

wig gly (wig'lē), 1. wiggling. 2. wavy. adj.

wight (wit), Archaic or Dialect. a human being; person. n.

Wight (wit), Isle of, a small island south of England, in the English Channel. It is one of the British Isles. 96,000 pop.; 147 sq. mi. n.

wig wag (wig'wag'), 1. move to and fro. 2. signal by movements of arms, flags, lights, etc., according to a code. 3. such signaling. 4. the message signaled. 1,2 v., wig-wagged, wig wag-ging; 3,4 n. —wig'-wag'ger, n.

wig wam (wig'-wom), a hut of poles covered with bark, mats, or skins, made by American Indians. n.

wild (wīld), 1. living or growing in the forests or fields; not tamed; not cultivated: The tiger is a wild animal. The daisy is a wild flower. 2. with no people living in it: wild land. 3. an uncultivated or desolate region or tract; waste; desert. 4. not civilized; savage: wild tribes. 5. not checked; not restrained: a wild rush for the ball. 6. not in proper control or order: wild hair. 7. boisterous: wild boys. 8. violently excited; frantic: wild with rage. 9. violent: a wild storm. 10. rash; crazy: wild schemes. 11. Informal. very eager. 12. far from the mark. 13. in a wild manner; to a wild degree. 1,2,4-12 adj., 3 n., 13 adv. —wild'ly, adv. —wild'-ness, n.

wilds, wild country.

run wild, live or grow without restraint.

wild boar, a wild hog of Europe, southern Asia, and northern Africa.

wild cat (wild'kat'), 1. a lynx or other wild animal like a cat, but larger. 2. wild; reckless; not safe: wildcat stocks. 3. a fierce fighter. 4. running without control or without a schedule: a wildcat engine. 5. U.S. Informal. locomotive and tender operating without other cars. 6. well drilled for oil or gas in a region where none has been found before. 7. drill wells in regions not known to contain oil. 8. not authorized by proper union officials; precipitated by small groups or local unions: a wildcat strike. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4,8 adj., 7 v., wild-cat ted, wild cat ting. —wild'cat'ter, n.

wil de beast (wil'də bēst'), the gnu, an African antelope. See gnu for picture. n.

wil der ness (wil'dər nis), 1. a wild place; region with no people living in it. 2. a bewildering mass or collection: a wilderness of streets. n.

Judge's wig

Scout wigwagging

Wigwam

wild-eyed (wɪld/'ɪd/), staring wildly or angrily. adj.

wild fire (wɪld/'fɪr/), fire hard to put out, formerly used in warfare. n.

like wildfire, very rapidly.

wild flower, 1. any flowering plant that grows in the woods, fields, etc.; uncultivated plant. 2. flower of such a plant.

wild fowl, birds ordinarily hunted, such as wild ducks or geese, partridges, quail, and pheasants.

wild oats, 1. oatlike grass growing as a weed in meadows, etc. 2. youthful dissipation.

sow one's wild oats, indulge in youthful dissipation before settling down in life.

wild West or Wild West, the W United States during pioneer days.

wile (wɪl), 1. a trick to deceive; cunning way: The serpent by his wiles persuaded Eve to eat the apple. 2. subtle trickery; slyness; craftiness. 3. coax; lure; entice: The sunshine wiled me outside. 1,2 n., 3 v., wiled, wil ing.

wile away, while away; pass easily or pleasantly.

wil ful (wɪl/'fʌl), willful. adj. —wil/ful ness, n.

wil ful ly (wɪl/'fʌl ē), willfully. adv.

wil i ness (wɪl'ē nis), wily quality; craftiness; slyness. n.

Wilkes-Bar re (wɪlks/'bɑr'ē), city in E Pennsylvania. 64,000. n.

will¹ (wɪl; unstressed wəl), 1. am going to; is going to; are going to: He will come tomorrow. 2. am willing to; is willing to; are willing to: I will go if you do. 3. wish; desire: We cannot always do as we will. What will thou? 4. be able to; can: The pail will hold four gallons. 5. must: You will do it at once! 6. do often or usually: She will read for hours at a time. auxiliary v., pres. indic. sing., 1st and 3rd pers. will, 2nd will or (Archaic) wilt, 3rd will, pl. will; pt. 1st would, 2nd would or (Archaic) wouldst, 3rd would, pl. would; pp. (Obs.) would, wold (wɔld); imperative and infinitive lacking.

will² (wɪl), 1. the power of the mind to decide and do; deliberate control over thought and action: A good leader must have a strong will. 2. decide by using this power; use the will: She willed to keep awake. 3. influence or try to influence by deliberate control over thought and action: She willed the person in front of her to turn around. 4. determine; decide: Fate has willed it otherwise. 5. purpose; determination: the will to live. 6. wish; desire: "Thy will be done." 7. a legal statement of a person's wishes about what shall be done with his property after he is dead. 8. document containing such a statement. 9. give by a will: will a house to someone. 10. feeling toward another: good will, ill will. 1,5-8,10 n., 2-4,6,9 v., willed, will ing.

at will, whenever one wishes.

with a will, with energy and determination.

Wil lard (wɪl'ərd), Frances E., 1839-1898, American educator and advocate of temperance. n.

Wil lem stad (vɪl'əm stät), capital of the Dutch West Indies. 40,000. n.

wil let (wɪl'it), a North American wading bird related to the snipes and sandpipers. n.

will ful (wɪl/'fʌl), 1. wanting or taking one's own way; stubborn: The willful child would not eat his supper. 2. done on purpose; intended: willful murder, willful waste. adj. Also, wilful. —wil/ful ness, n.

wil ful ly (wɪl/'fʌl ē), 1. by choice; voluntarily. 2. by design; intentionally. 3. selfishly; perversely; obstinately; stubbornly. adv. Also, wilfully.

William I (wɪl'yəm), 1027?-1087, duke of Normandy who conquered England at the battle of Hastings in 1066 and was king of England from 1066 to 1087. He was called "William the Conqueror."

Willet (about 16 in. long)

Wil liams (wɪl'yəmz), Roger, 1604?-1683, English clergyman who founded Rhode Island. n.

Wil liams burg (wɪl'yəmz bɜrg), city in SE Virginia. It has been restored to look as it did before the Revolutionary War. 7000. n.

wil lies (wɪl'ēz), Informal. spell of nervousness. n. will ing (wɪl'ɪŋ), 1. ready; consenting: He is willing to wait. 2. cheerfully ready: willing obedience. adj. —wil/ing ly, adv. —wil/ing ness, n.

will-o'-the-wisp (wɪl'ə θə wɪsp/), 1. a moving light appearing at night over marshy places, caused by combustion of marsh gas. 2. thing that deceives or misleads by luring on: Any scheme to get rich quickly is likely to be a will-o'-the-wisp. n.

wil low (wɪl'ō), 1. tree or shrub with tough, slender branches and narrow leaves. The branches of most willows bend easily and are used to make furniture. 2. its wood. 3. made of willow. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

wil low y (wɪl'ō ē), 1. like a willow; slender; supple; graceful. 2. having many willows. adj.

wil ly-nil ly (wɪl'ē nil'ē), 1. willingly or not; with or against one's wishes. 2. undecided. 1 adv., 2 adj.

Wil ming ton (wɪl'mɪŋ tən), city in northeastern Delaware. 96,000. n.

Wil son (wɪl'sən), 1. Harold, born 1916, British statesman, prime minister since 1964. 2. (Thomas) Woodrow, 1856-1924, the 28th president of the United States, from 1913 to 1921. 3. Mount, peak in SW California. 5700 ft. One of the largest telescopes in the world is in the observatory on top of Mount Wilson. n.

Wilson Dam, a power dam across the Tennessee River in NW Alabama. 4500 ft. long; 137 ft. high.

wilt¹ (wɪlt), 1. become limp and drooping; wither. 2. lose strength, vigor, assurance, etc. 3. cause to wilt. 4. any of various plant diseases that cause leaves to wilt. 1-3 v., 4 n.

wilt² (wɪlt), Archaic. will. "Thou wilt" means "you will." v.

wil y (wɪl'ē), using subtle tricks to deceive; crafty; cunning; sly. adj., wil i er, wil i est. —wil/i ly, adv.

wim ble (wɪm'bl), tool for boring. n.

wim ple (wɪm'pl), 1. cloth for the head arranged in folds about the head, cheeks, chin, and neck, worn by nuns and formerly by other women. 2. cover or muffle with a wimple. 3. ripple or cause to ripple. 4. Archaic. lie or lay in folds, as a veil. 1 n., 2-4 v., wim pled, wim-pling.

Wimple

win (wɪn), 1. get victory or success: The tortoise won in the end. 2. get victory or success in: He won the race. 3. Informal. act or fact of winning; success; victory. 4. get by effort; gain: win fame, win a prize. 5. gain the favor of; persuade: The speaker soon won his audience. Mary won her mother over to her side. 6. get the love of; persuade to marry. 7. get to; reach, often by effort: win the summit of a mountain. 1,2,4-7 v., won or (Archaic) wan (wɒn), won, win ning; 3 n.

win out, Informal. get victory or success.

wince (wɪns), 1. draw back suddenly; flinch slightly: The boy winced at the sight of the dentist's drill. 2. act of wincing. 1 v., winc ed, winc ing; 2 n.

winch (wɪnʃ), 1. a machine for lifting or pulling, turned by a crank. 2. handle of a revolving machine. n.

Winch. Arrows show direction.

wind¹ (wind, Archaic and Poetic wind for 1,2,4-6,8,11; wind for 3,7,9,10), 1. air in motion: The wind bends the branches. The wind varies in force from a slight breeze to a strong gale. 2. a strong wind; gale. 3. expose to wind or air. 4. gas in the stomach or bowels. 5. a wind instrument. 6. air filled with some smell: The deer got wind of the hunter and ran off. 7. follow by scent; smell. 8. power of breathing; breath: A runner needs good wind. 9. put out of breath; cause difficulty in breathing: The fat man was winded by walking up the steep hill. 10. let recover breath: They stopped in order to wind their horses. 11. empty, useless talk. 1,2,4-6, 8,11 n., 3,7,9,10 v., wind ed, wind ing. winds, wind instruments.

before the wind, in the direction toward which the wind is blowing.

between wind and water, 1. near the water line of a ship. 2. in a dangerous place.

down the wind, in the direction that the wind is blowing.

get wind of, find out about; get a hint of.

in the teeth of the wind, directly against the wind.

in the wind, happening; about to happen; impending.

into the wind, pointing toward the direction from which the wind is blowing.

off the wind, with the wind blowing from behind.

on the wind, as nearly as possible in the direction from which the wind is blowing.

take the wind out of one's sails, take away one's advantage, argument, etc., suddenly or unexpectedly.

wind² (wind), 1. move this way and that; move in a crooked way; change direction; turn: A brook winds through the woods. We wound our way through the narrow streets. 2. proceed in a roundabout or indirect manner: wind into power. 3. fold, wrap, or place about something: The mother wound her arms about the child. 4. cover with something put, wrapped, or folded around: The man's arm is wound with bandages. 5. roll into a ball or on a spool: Grandma was winding yarn. Thread comes wound on spools. 6. a bend; turn; twist. 7. twist or turn around something: The vine winds round a pole. 8. be warped or twisted: That board will wind. 9. make (some machine) go by turning some part of it: wind a clock. 10. be wound: This clock winds easily. 11. haul or hoist by means of winch, windlass, or the like. 1-5,7-11 v., wound or (Rare) wind ed, wind ing; 6 n. —wind'er, n.

wind off, unwind.

wind up, 1. end; settle; conclude. 2. make the movements that a baseball pitcher does just before pitching the ball. 3. roll or coil; wind completely.

wind³ (wind or wind), blow: The hunter winds his horn. v., wind ed or wound, wind ing.

wind age (win'dij), 1. power of the wind to turn a missile from its course. 2. distance that a missile is turned from its course by the wind. n.

wind bag (wind'bag'), 1. bag full of wind. 2. Slang, person who talks a great deal but does not say much. n.

wind-blown (wind'blōn'), 1. blown by the wind. 2. with the hair cut short and brushed forward. adj.

wind-borne (wind'bōrn'), of pollen, seed, etc., carried by the wind. adj.

wind break (wind'brāk'), shelter from the wind. n.

Wind break er (wind'brāk'ər), Trademark, a short sports jacket of wool, leather, etc., having a tight-fitting band at the waist and cuffs, used for outdoor wear. n.

wind-bro ken (wind'brō'kən), of horses, etc., having the power of breathing injured; having the heaves. adj.

wind ed (win'did), 1. out of breath. 2. having wind or breath (as specified): short-winded. adj.

Win der mere (win'dər mir), Lake, lake in NW England, 10½ mi. long; 1 mi. wide. n.

wind fall (wind'fōl'), 1. fruit blown down by the wind. 2. an unexpected piece of good luck. n.

wind flow er (wind'flou'ər), anemone. n.

Wind hoek (vint'hök), capital of South-West Africa, 36,000. n.

wind ing (wīn'ding), 1. act of one that winds. 2. bend; turn. 3. bending; turning. 4. something that is wound or coiled. 1,2,4 n., 3 adj. —wind'ing ly, adv.

winding sheet, cloth in which a dead person is wrapped for burial.

wind instrument, musical instrument sounded by blowing air into it. Horns, flutes, and trombones are wind instruments.

wind jam mer (wind'jam'ər), Informal. 1. a sailing ship. 2. member of its crew. n.

wind lass (wind'lās), machine for pulling or lifting things; winch. See winch for picture. n.

wind mill (wind'mil'), a mill or machine operated by the wind. Windmills are mostly used to pump water. n.

wind ow (win'dō), 1. an opening in the wall or roof of a building, boat, car, etc., to let in light or air. 2. such an opening with the frame, panes of glass, etc., that fill it. 3. furnish with windows. 1,2 n., 3 v. —win'dow less, adj.

wind ow pane (win'dō pān'), piece of glass in a window. n.

wind ow-shop (win'dō shop'), examine or gaze at articles in store windows without going in to buy anything. v., wind ow-shopped, wind ow-shop ping. —win'dow-shop'per, n.

wind ow sill, piece of wood or stone across the bottom of a window.

wind pipe (wind'pīp'), the passage from the throat to the lungs; trachea. See epiglottis for diagram. n.

wind row (wind'rō'), 1. row of hay raked together to dry before being made into cocks or heaps. 2. any similar row, as of sheaves of grain, made for the purpose of drying; row of dry leaves, dust, etc., swept together by wind or the like. 3. arrange in a windrow or windrows. 1,2 n., 3 v.

wind shield (wind'shēld'), a sheet of glass above the dashboard to keep off the wind. Automobiles have windshields. n.

wind sleeve or sock, a cone-shaped sleeve mounted on a pole or the like, showing the direction of the wind.

Wind sor (win'zər), 1. Duke of, born 1894, title of King Edward VIII of England after his abdication in December, 1936. 2. the family name of the royal house of Great Britain since 1917. 3. town in S England, where Windsor Castle, chief residence of British sovereigns, is located. 23,000. 4. city in S Ontario, Canada. 113,000. n.

Windsor chair, a kind of comfortable wooden chair, with a spindle back and slanting legs.

Windsor tie, a wide necktie of soft silk, tied in a loose bow.

wind storm (wind'stōrm'), storm with much wind but little or no rain. n.

wind-up (wind'up'), 1. a winding up; end; close; conclusion. 2. series of movements made by a baseball pitcher just before pitching the ball. n.

wind ward (wind'wərd; Nautical win'dərd), 1. toward the wind. 2. on the side toward the wind. 3. the side toward the wind. 4. in the direction from which the wind is blowing. 5. direction from which the wind is blowing. 1 adv., 2,4 adj., 3,5 n.

Wind ward Islands (wind'wərd), the S part of the Lesser Antilles in the West Indies. They extend southwest from Martinique. 329,000 pop.; 821 sq. mi. See West Indies for map.

wind y (win'dē), 1. having much wind: a windy street, windy weather. 2. made of wind; empty: windy talk. 3. talking a great deal; voluble. 4. causing gas in the stomach or intestines. adj., wind i er, wind i est. —wind'i ly, adv. —wind'i ness, n.

wine (wīn), 1. the juice of grapes after it has fermented and contains alcohol. 2. the fermented juice of other Windmill for pumping water. The vane keeps it facing so as to catch the wind. Gears transmit the motion of the wheel to a shaft that operates the pump.

fruits or plants: currant wine, dandelion wine. 3. entertain with wine. 4. the color of red wine. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., wined, win ing.
new wine in old bottles, something new that is too strong to be held back by old forms.

wine cellar, 1. cellar where wine is stored. 2. wine stored there.

wine-colored (win'kul'ərd), dark purplish-red. adj.
wine gallon, the standard gallon of the United States; 231 cu. in.

wine press, 1. machine for pressing the juice from grapes. 2. vat in which grapes are trodden in the process of making wine.

win ery (win'ər ē), place where wine is made. n., pl. win eries.

wing (wing), 1. the part of a bird, insect, etc., by which it flies; corresponding part in a bird, insect, etc., that does not fly. 2. anything like a wing in shape or use, such as one of the major lifting and supporting surfaces of an airplane, the vanes of a windmill, and the feather of an arrow. 3. Humorous. foreleg or arm. 4. part that sticks out from the main part or body. The part of a building that sticks out sideways from the main part is a wing. Either of the side portions of an army or fleet ready for battle is called a wing. The spaces to the right or left of the stage in a theater are called wings. 5. part of an organization; faction. The radicals of a political group are called the left wing. 6. fly: The birds are winging south. 7. fly through. 8. flying; winged flight. 9. supply with wings. 10. make able to fly; give speed to: Terror winged his steps as the bear drew near. 11. wound in the wing or arm: The bullet winged the bird but did not kill it. 12. player whose position is on either side of the center in certain games. 13. U.S. an administrative and tactical unit of the air force. 14. that part of a military force to the right or left of the main body. 1-5,8,12-14 n., 6,7,9-11 v. —wing'less, adj. —wing'-like', adj.

wings, insignia awarded by the United States Air Force to men who have qualified as pilots, navigators, etc.

on the wing, 1. flying. 2. moving; active; busy. 3. going away.

take wing, fly away.

under the wing of, under the protection or sponsorship of.

wing its way, fly: The bird wings its way south.

wing case, either of the hardened front wings of certain insects.

winged (wingd; esp. Poetic wing'id), 1. having wings. 2. swift; rapid. adj.

wing spread (wing'spred'), distance between the tips of the wings when they are spread. n.

wink (wink), 1. close the eyes and open them again quickly: The bright light made him wink. 2. close and open quickly. 3. close one eye and open it again as a hint or signal: Father winked at Dick as a sign for him to keep still. 4. a winking. 5. a hint or signal given by winking. 6. move by winking: wink back tears. 7. twinkle: The stars winked. 8. a very short time: I didn't sleep a wink. 1-3,6,7 v., 4,5,7,8 n.

winks, a short sleep; nap.

wink at, pretend not to see.

wink er (wink'ər), 1. person or thing that winks. 2. Informal. eyelash. 3. blinder or blinker for a horse's eye. n.

win kle (wing'kl), a sea snail used for food. n.

Win ne ba go (win'ə bā'gō), member of an American Indian tribe living mostly in eastern Wisconsin. n., pl.

Win ne ba gos or Win ne ba goes.

win ner (win'ər), person or thing that wins. n.

wine ing (win'ing), 1. that wins: a winning team. 2. charming; attractive: a winning smile. adj. —win'-ning ly, adv.

winnings, what is won; money won: He pocketed his winnings.

Win ni peg (win'ə peg), 1. city in S Canada, capital of Manitoba. 260,000. 2. Lake, lake in S Canada. 260 mi. long; 8555 sq. mi. n.

win now (win'ō), 1. blow off the chaff from (grain); drive or blow away (chaff). 2. blow chaff from grain. 3. sort out; separate; sift: winnow truth from falsehood. 4. fan (with wings); flap (wings). v.

win now er (win'ō ər), 1. person who winnows. 2. machine for winnowing grain, etc. n.

win some (win'səm), charming; attractive; pleasing. adj. —win'some ly, adv. —win'some ness, n.

Win ston-Sa lem (win'stən sāləm), city in N North Carolina. 111,000. n.

winter (win'tər), 1. the coldest of the four seasons; time of the year between fall and spring. 2. of, having to do with, or characteristic of winter. 3. of the kind that may be kept for use during the winter: winter apples. 4. pass the winter: Robins winter in the south. 5. keep, feed, or manage during winter: We wintered our cattle in the warm valley. 6. the last period of life; period of decline, dreariness, or adversity. 1,6 n., 2,3 adj., 4,5 v.

winter green (win'tər grēn'), 1. a small evergreen plant of North America with bright-red berries and aromatic leaves. An oil made from its leaves (oil of winter-green or wintergreen oil) is used in medicine and candy. 2. this oil. 3. its flavor. n.

winter ize (win'tər īz), make (an automobile, etc.) ready for operation or use during the winter. v., winter ized, win ter iz ing.

winter kill (win'tər kil'), U.S. kill by or die from exposure to cold weather: The rosebushes were winter-killed. v.

winter solstice, for the Northern Hemisphere, the time when the sun is farthest south from the equator, December 21 or 22.

winter time (win'tər tīm'), the season of winter. n.

winter wheat, wheat planted in the autumn and ripening in the following spring or summer.

winter y (win'tər ē), wintry. adj., win ter i er, win ter i est.

Win throp (win'thrəp), 1. John, 1588-1649, governor of Massachusetts. 2. his son, John, 1606-1676, governor of Connecticut. n.

win tri ness (win'trē nis), wintry quality. n.

wint ry (win'trē), of winter; like winter: a wintry sky, a wintry manner. adj., win tri er, win tri est.

wipe (wīp), 1. rub with paper, cloth, etc., in order to clean or dry: wipe the table. 2. take (away, off, or out) by rubbing: Wipe away your tears. She wiped off the dust. 3. remove: The rain wiped away all the footprints. 4. rub or draw (something) over a surface. 5. act of wiping. 6. form (a joint in lead pipe) by spreading solder with a leather pad. 1-4,6 v., wiped, wip ing; 5 n.

wipe out, remove, especially by death; destroy completely.

wip er (wīp'ər), 1. person who wipes. 2. thing used for wiping. n.

wire (wir), 1. metal drawn out into a thread. 2. such metal as a material. 3. made of or consisting of wire: wire netting. 4. wire netting. 5. a long piece of metal drawn out into a thread used for electrical transmission, as in electric lighting, telephones, etc. 6. furnish with wire: wire a house for electricity. 7. fasten with wire: He wired the two pieces together. 8. catch by a wire or wires. 9. telegraph: He sent a message by wire (n.); wire a birthday greeting (v.). 10. Informal. telegram. 1,2,4,5,9,10 n., 3 adj., 6-9 v., wired, wir ing. —wire'-like', adj. —wir'er, n.

get under the wire, arrive or finish just before it is too late.

pull wires, Informal. 1. direct the actions of others secretly. 2. use secret influence to accomplish one's purposes.

wire cutter, tool for cutting wire.

wire drawn (wīr'drōn'), 1. drawn out into a wire.

2. treated with too much hairsplitting and refinement.

wire gauge, device for measuring the diameter of wire, the thickness of metal sheets, etc., usually a disk with different-sized notches in it.

wire-haired (wīr'hārd'), having coarse, stiff hair: a wire-haired fox terrier. adj.

wire less (wīr'lis), 1. having no wire; operated without wire or wires: wireless telegraphy. 2. Esp. Brit. radio. 3. Esp. Brit. message sent by radio. 4. Esp. Brit. send or transmit by radio. 1,2 adj., 2,3 n., 4 v.

wire photo (wīr'fō'tō), 1. method for transmitting photographs by reproducing a facsimile through electric signals. 2. a photograph transmitted in this fashion. n.

wire puller, Informal. person who uses secret influence to accomplish his purposes.

wire pulling, Informal. the use of secret influence to accomplish a purpose.

wire tapping, the making of a secret connection with telephone or telegraph wires to find out the messages sent over them.

wire worm (wīr'wōrm'), the slender, hard-bodied larva of a beetle. Wireworms feed on the roots of plants and do much damage to crops. n.

wiring (wīr'ing), system of wires to carry an electric current. n.

wiry (wīr'ē), 1. made of wire. 2. like wire. 3. lean, strong, and tough. adj., wirier, wiriest. —wir'ily, adv. —wir'iness, n.

Wis. or Wisc., Wisconsin.

Wisconsin (wis kon'sn), 1. a Middle Western State of the United States. 3,952,000 pop.; 56,154 sq. mi. Capital: Madison. Abbrev.: Wis. or Wisc. 2. river flowing south from northern Wisconsin into the Mississippi River. 430 mi. n.

wisdom (wiz'dəm), 1. knowledge and good judgment based on experience; being wise. 2. wise conduct; wise words. 3. scholarly knowledge. n.

wisdom tooth, the back tooth on either side of each jaw, ordinarily appearing between the ages of 17 and 25.

wise (wīz), 1. having or showing knowledge and good judgment: a wise judge, wise advice, wise plans. 2. having knowledge or information: We are none the wiser for his explanations. 3. learned; erudite. 4. Archaic. having knowledge of occult or supernatural things. adj., wiser, wisest. —wise'ly, adv. —wise'ness, n.

wise to, Slang. aware of; informed about.

wise (wīz), way; manner: John is in no wise a student; he prefers sports and machinery. n.

-wise, suffix meaning:

1. in _____ manner, as in anywise and likewise.
2. in a _____ manner, as in slantwise.
3. in the characteristic way of a _____. Clockwise means in the way the hands of a clock go.
4. in the direction of the _____, as in lengthwise.
5. special meanings, as in sidewise.

wise a cre (wiz'ā'kar), person who thinks that he knows everything. n.

wise crack (wiz'krak'), Slang. 1. a snappy comeback; smart remark. 2. make wisecracks. 1 n., 2 v. —wise'crack'er, n.

wish (wish), 1. have a desire for; be glad to have, do, etc.; want: wish help, wish money. 2. have or express a desire: He wished for a new house. 3. a turning of the mind toward the doing, having, getting, etc., of something; desire or longing. 4. expression of a wish: She sends you best wishes for a happy New Year. 5. desire (something) for (someone); desire that (someone) shall be or have; have a hope for; express a hope for: We wish all men health. I wish you a happy New Year. 6. thing wished for: The girl got her wish. 1,2,5 v., 3,4,6 n. —wish'er, n.

wish on, Informal. pass on to; foist on: They wished the hardest job on him.

wish bone (wish'bōn'), the forked bone in the front of the breastbone in poultry and other birds. n.

wish ful (wish'fəl), having or expressing a wish; desiring; desirous. adj.

wish y-wash y (wish'ē wosh'ē), 1. thin and weak; watery: wishy-washy soup with no flavor. 2. lacking in substantial qualities; feeble; inferior: a wishy-washy story. adj.

wisp (wisp), 1. a small bundle; small bunch: a wisp of hay. 2. a small tuft, lock, or portion of anything; slight bit: a wisp of hair, a wisp of smoke. 3. a little thing: a wisp of a girl. n.

wispy (wis'pē), like a wisp; thin; slight. adj., wispier, wispiest.

wist (wist), Archaic. pt. and pp. of wit. v.

wistaria (wis tār'ē ə), a climbing shrub with large clusters of purple, yellow, or white flowers. n.

wistaria (wis tir'ē ə), wistaria. n.

wistful (wist'fəl), 1. longing; yearning: A child stood looking with wistful eyes at the toys in the window. 2. pensive; melancholy. adj. —wist'fully, adv. —wist'fulness, n.

wit (wit), 1. the power to perceive quickly and express cleverly ideas that are unusual, striking, and amusing:

His wit made even trouble seem amusing. 2. person with such power: Mark Twain and Oliver Wendell Holmes were wits. 3. understanding; mind; sense: People with quick wits learn easily. The child was out of his wits with fright. That poor man hasn't wit enough to earn a living. n.

at one's wit's end, not knowing what to do or say.

have or keep one's wits about one, be alert.

wit (wit), Archaic. know. v., pres. 1st pers. wot, 2nd pers. wost (wost), 3rd pers. wot, pl. wit; pt. and pp.

wist; ppr. wit ting.

to wit, that is to say; namely: To my son I leave all I own—to wit: my house, what is in it, and the land on which it stands.

witch (wich), 1. woman supposed to be under the influence of spirits and to have magic power. Witches generally used their power to do evil. 2. an ugly old woman. 3. use the power of a witch on. 4. Informal. a charming or fascinating girl or woman. 5. charm; fascinate; bewitch. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v.

witchcraft (wich'kraft'), what a witch does or can do; magic power or influence. n.

witch doctor, medicine man, especially among African tribes.

witcher y (wich'ər ē), 1. witchcraft; magic. 2. charm; fascination. n., pl. witcheries.

witch hazel, 1. shrub of E North America that has yellow flowers in the fall or winter after the leaves have fallen. 2. lotion for cooling and soothing the skin, made from the bark and leaves of this shrub.

witch hunt, U.S. Slang. persecuting or defaming (a person) to gain a political advantage.

witching (wich'ing), bewitching; magical; enchanting. adj. —witch'ing ly, adv.

with (with or with), 1. in the company of: Come with me. 2. among: They will mix with the crowd. 3. having, wearing, carrying, etc.: a man with brains, a telegram with bad news. 4. by means of; by using: Cut meat with a knife. 5. using; showing: Work with care. 6. as an addition to; added to: Do you want sugar with your tea?

7. including; and: tea with sugar and lemon. 8. in relation to: They are friendly with us. 9. in regard to: We are pleased with the house. 10. in proportion to: An army's power increases with its size. 11. because of: shake with cold. 12. in the keeping or service of: Leave the dog with me. 13. in the region, sphere, experience, opinion, or view of: It is day with us while it is night with the Chinese. 14. High taxes are unpopular with many people. 14. at the same time as: With this battle the war ended. 15. in the same direction as: The boat floated along with the current. 16. on the side of; for: They are with us in our plan. 17. from: I hate to part with my favorite things. 18. against: The English fought with the Germans. 19. receiving; having; being allowed: I went with his permission. 20. in spite of: With all his weight he was not a strong man. prep.

with al (wɪθ ɔl/ or with ɔl/), Archaic. 1. with it all; as well; besides; also: The lady is rich and fair and wise withal. 2. with. 1 adv., 2 prep.

with draw (wɪθ drɔ/ or with drɔ/), 1. draw back; draw away: He quickly withdrew his hand from the hot stove. 2. take back; remove: Worn-out paper money is withdrawn from use by the government. 3. go away: She withdrew from the room. v., with drew, with drawn, with drawing.

with draw al (wɪθ drɔ/əl or with drɔ/əl), a withdrawing or being withdrawn. n.

with drawn (wɪθ drɔn/ or with drɔn/), pp. of withdraw. v.

with drew (wɪθ drɔ/ or with drɔ/), pt. of withdraw. Bill withdrew from the game because he was hurt. v.

withe (wɪθ or with), 1. a willow twig. 2. any tough, easily bent twig suitable for binding things together. n.

with er (wɪθ/ər), 1. lose or cause to lose freshness, vigor, etc.; dry up; shrivel: The grass withered in the hot sun. Age had withered the old lady's face. 2. cause to feel ashamed or confused: She withered him with a scornful look. v.

with ers (wɪθ/ərz), the highest part of a horse's or other animal's back, behind the neck. n.pl.

with held (with held/ or wɪθ held/), pt. and pp. of withhold. v.

with hold (with hɔld/ or wɪθ hɔld/), 1. refrain from giving or granting: There was no school play because the principal withheld his consent. 2. hold back; keep back: The captain withholds his men from attack. v., with held, with hold ing.

with in (wɪθ in/ or with in/), 1. inside the limits of; not beyond: The task was within the man's powers. He guessed my weight within five pounds. 2. in or into the inner part of; inside of: By the X ray, doctors can see within the body. 3. in or into the inner part; inside: The house has been painted within and without. The curtains were while without and green within. 1,2 prep., 3 adv.

with out (wɪθ out/ or with out/), 1. with no; not having; free from; lacking: A cat walks without noise. I drink tea without sugar. 2. so as to omit, avoid, or neglect: She walked past without noticing us. 3. outside of; beyond: Soldiers are camped within and without the city walls. 4. on the outside; outside: The house is clean within and without. 5. Dialect. unless. 1-3 prep., 4 adv., 5 conj.

with stand (with stand/ or wɪθ stand/), stand against; hold out against; oppose, especially successfully: Soldiers have to withstand hardships. These shoes will withstand much hard wear. v., with stood, with-stand ing.

with stood (with stʊd/ or wɪθ stʊd/), pt. and pp. of withstand. The soldiers withstood the attack for hours. v.

wit less (wɪt/lɪs), lacking sense; stupid; foolish. adj. —wit/less ly, —wit/less ness, n.

wit ness (wɪt/nɪs), 1. person or thing able to give evidence; person who saw something happen. 2. see; perceive: He witnessed the accident. 3. person who swears to tell the truth in a court of law. 4. evidence; testimony: The man's fingerprints bore witness to his guilt. 5. testify to; give evidence of: Her whole manner witnessed her surprise. 6. give evidence; testify. 7. person writing his name on a document to show that he saw the maker sign it. 8. sign (a document) as a witness: The two servants witnessed Mr. Smith's will. 1,3,4,7 n., 2,5,6,8 v.

bear witness, be evidence; give evidence; testify: The thief's fingerprints bore witness to his guilt.

witness stand, place where a witness stands or sits to give evidence in a law court.

wit ti cism (wɪt/ə siz əm), a witty remark. n.

wit ti ly (wɪt/ə lē), in a witty manner; with wit. adv.

wit ting ly (wɪt/ɪŋ lē), knowingly; intentionally. adv. wit ty (wɪt/ē), full of wit; clever and amusing: a witty person, a witty remark. adj., wit ti er, wit ti est. —wit/ti ness, n.

wive (wɪv), 1. marry a woman. 2. take as a wife. v., wived, wiv ing.

wives (wɪvz), pl. of wife. n.

wiz ard (wɪz/ərd), 1. man supposed to have magic power. 2. Informal. a very clever person; expert. 3. magic. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

wiz ard ry (wɪz/ərd rē), magic; magic skill. n.

wiz ened (wɪz/nd), dried up; withered; shriveled: a wizened apple, a wizened face. adj.

wk., week. pl. wks.

WNW or W.N.W., between west and northwest.

wo (wō), woe. n., interj.

woad (wōd), 1. a European plant from whose leaves a blue dye is made. 2. the dye. n.

wob ble (wɒb/l), 1. move unsteadily from side to side; shake; tremble: A baby wobbles when it begins to walk alone. 2. be uncertain, unsteady, or inconstant; waver. 3. a wobbling motion. 1,2 v., wob bled, wob-bling; 3 n. Also, wabble. —wob/bler, n.

wob bly (wɒb/lē), unsteady; shaky; wavering. adj.

Wo den (wō/dn), the most important Anglo-Saxon god, corresponding to Odin in Norse mythology. n.

woe (wō), 1. great grief, trouble, or distress: Sickness and poverty are common woes. 2. an exclamation of grief, trouble, or distress: "Woe! woe is me!" the miserable beggar cried. 1 n., 2 interj. Also, wo.

woe be gone or wo be gone (wō/bi gōn/), looking sad, sorrowful, or wretched. adj.

woe ful (wō/fəl), 1. full of woe; sad; sorrowful; wretched. 2. pitiful. 3. of wretched quality. adj.

—woe/fully, adv. —woe/ful ness, n.

wo ful (wō/fəl), woeful. adj.

woke (wōk), pt. and a pp. of wake. John woke before we did. v.

woken (wō/kən), Archaic and Dialect. a pp. of wake. v.

wold (wōld), high, rolling country, bare of woods. n.

wolf (wʊlf), 1. a carnivorous wild mammal somewhat like a dog, and belonging to the same family. See timber wolf for picture. 2. a cruel, greedy person. 3. eat greedily. 4. Slang. man who possesses a special talent for and interest in enticing members of the opposite sex. 1,2,4 n., pl. wolves; 3 v. —wolf/like, adj.

cry wolf, give a false alarm.

keep the wolf from the door, keep safe from hunger or poverty.

wolf hound (wʊlf/hound/), a large dog of any of various breeds once used in hunting wolves. n.

wolf ish (wʊlf/ɪʃ), like a wolf; greedy; savage: a wolfish-looking dog, wolfish cruelty. adj. —wolf/ish ly, adv. —wolf/-ish ness, n.

wolf ram (wʊl/frəm), 1. a metallic element used in making steel and for electric lamp filaments; also called tungsten. It has stable and radioactive isotopes. Symbol: W 2. wolframite. n.

wolf ram ite (wʊl/frəm ɪt), an ore consisting of compounds of wolfram with iron and manganese. n.

wolf's-bane or wolfs bane (wʊlf/bān/), a poisonous plant with yellow flowers, usually called aconite or monkshood. n.

wol ver ine or wol ver ene

(wʊl/vər ɛn/ or wʊl/vər ɛn), 1. a clumsy, heavily built, meat-eating mammal of northern regions, related to the weasel. 2. its fur. n.

wolves (wʊlvz), pl. of wolf. n.

Wolfhound (about 2½ ft. high at the shoulder)

Wolverine (2 to 3 ft. long, without the tail) wom an (wùm'ən), 1. the adult human female. 2. women as a group; the average woman. 3. woman's nature. 4. a female servant. n., pl. women. —wom'-an less, adj.

wom an hood (wùm'ən hūd), 1. condition or time of being a woman. 2. character or qualities of a woman. 3. women as a group: Joan of Arc was an honor to womanhood. n.

wom an ish (wùm'ən ish), like a woman; suitable for women rather than for men; weak. adj.

wom an kind (wùm'ən kind'), the female sex; woman. n.

wom an like (wùm'ən lik'), 1. like a woman; womanly. 2. suitable for a woman. adj.

wom an ly (wùm'ən lē), 1. like a woman. 2. as a woman should be. 3. suitable for a woman: womanly sympathy. adj. —wom'an li ness, n.

woman of the world, woman who knows people and customs, and is tolerant of both.

woman's rights, social, political, and legal rights for women, equal to those of men.

woman suffrage, 1. the political right of women to vote. 2. women's votes.

wom an-suf fra gist (wùm'ən suf'rə jist), person who favors the right of women to vote. n.

womb (wùm), 1. the organ of the body that holds and nourishes the young till birth; uterus. 2. place containing or producing anything. n.

wom bat (wòm'bat), a burrowing Australian mammal that looks like a small bear. A female wombat has a pouch for carrying her young. n.

wom en (wim'ən), pl. of woman. n.

wom en folk (wim'ən fōk'), women. n. pl.

won (wun), pt. and pp. of win. Which side won yesterday? We have won four games. v.

won der (wun'dər), 1. a strange and surprising thing or event: He saw the wonders of the city. It is a wonder he turned down the offer. 2. the feeling caused by what is strange and surprising: The baby looked with wonder at the Christmas tree. 3. feel wonder: We wonder at the splendor of the stars. 4. be surprised or astonished: I shouldn't wonder if he wins the prize. 5. be curious; be curious about; think about; wish to know: I wonder what happened. 1,2 n., 3-5 v. —won'der ing ly, adv. for a wonder, as a strange and surprising thing.

won der ful (wun'dər fəl), causing wonder; marvelous; remarkable: The explorer had wonderful adventures. adj. —won'der ful ly, adv. —won'der ful ness, n.

won der land (wun'dər land'), a land full of wonders. n.

won der ment (wun'dər mənt), wonder; surprise. n.

won drous (wun'drəs), 1. wonderful. 2. wonderfully. 1 adj., 2 adv. —won'drous ly, adv.

wont (wunt), 1. accustomed: He was wont to read the paper at breakfast. 2. custom; habit: He rose early, as was his wont. 1 adj., 2 n.

won't (wōnt), will not.

wont ed (wun'tid), accustomed; customary; usual: The cat was in its wonted place by the stove. adj.

woo (wü), 1. make love to; seek to marry. 2. make love; court. 3. seek to win; try to get: woo fame. 4. try to persuade; urge. v.

wood (wüd), 1. the hard substance beneath the bark of trees and shrubs. 2. trees cut up for use: The carpenter brought wood to build a garage. 3. made of wood. 4. thing made of wood. 5. cask; barrel; keg: wine drawn from the wood. 6. in printing, woodcuts collectively or a woodcut. 7. in music, a wooden wind instrument or such instruments collectively. 8. a large number of growing trees; forest: The children go to the wood for wild flowers and for nuts. 9. supply with wood; get wood for. 10. get supplies of wood. 11. plant with trees. 1,2,4-8 n., 3 adj., 9-11 v.

woods, 1. forest. 2. the wood winds of an orchestra. out of the woods, out of danger or difficulty.

wood alcohol, a poisonous, inflammable liquid often made by distilling wood; methyl alcohol. It is used as a solvent, fuel, etc.

wood bine (wüd'bīn'), 1. honeysuckle. 2. the Virginia creeper, a climbing vine with bluish-black berries. n.

wood chuck (wüd'chuk'), a North American marmot; the ground hog. Woodchucks grow fat in summer and sleep in their holes in the ground all winter. n.

wood cock (wüd'kok'), a small game bird with a long bill and short legs. n., pl.

wood cocks or (esp. collectively) wood cock.

wood craft (wüd'kraft'), knowledge about how to get food and shelter in the woods; skill in hunting, trapping, finding one's way, etc. n.

wood cut (wüd'kut'), 1. an engraved block of wood to print from. 2. a print from such a block. n.

wood cut ter (wüd'kut'ər), man who cuts down trees or chops wood. n.

wood ed (wüd'id), covered with trees: The park is well wooded. adj.

wood en (wüd'n), 1. made of wood. 2. stiff; awkward. 3. dull; stupid. adj. —wood'en ly, adv. —wood'en ness, n.

wooden horse, a huge hollow horse made of wood and filled with Greek soldiers, used as a ruse by the Greeks during the Trojan War. After the Trojans took it into their city, the Greeks stole out during the night and let their army into Troy.

wood land (wüd'land' or wüd'lənd for 1; wüd'lənd for 2), 1. land covered with trees. 2. of or in the woods; having to do with woods: woodland sounds. 1 n., 2 adj.

wood lark (wüd'lärk'), a European lark closely related to the skylark. n.

wood lice, pl. of wood louse.

wood lot, land on which trees are grown and cut.

wood louse, 1. any of several small crustaceans that have flat, oval bodies and live in decaying wood, damp soil, etc. 2. any of certain small insects that live in the woodwork of houses.

wood man (wüd'mən), 1. man who cuts down trees. 2. person who lives in the woods. 3. person who takes care of forests. n., pl. wood men.

wood nymph, 1. nymph that lives in the woods. 2. a moth that destroys grapevines.

wood peck er (wüd'pek'ər), a bird with a hard, pointed bill for pecking holes in trees to get insects. n.

wood pile (wüd'pil'), pile of wood, especially wood for fuel. n.

wood ruff (wüd'ruf'), a fragrant plant with small flowers and pointed leaves. n.

Woods (wüdz), Lake of the, lake on the boundary between Minnesota and Canada. 90 mi. long; 10-50 mi. wide. n.

wood shed (wüd'shed'), shed for storing wood. n.

woods man (wüdz'mən), 1. man used to life in the woods and skilled in hunting, fishing, trapping, etc. 2. man whose work is cutting down trees; lumberman. n., pl. woods men.

wood sorrel, plant with sour juice and with leaves composed of three heart-shaped leaflets.

wood thrush, thrush common in the thickets and woods of eastern North America.

Woodchuck (1½ to 1¾ ft. long, without the tail)

American woodcock (nearly 1 ft. long, including the long bill). The European woodcock is bigger.

Wombat (about 2½
ft. long)

Woodpecker (about 9 in.
long)

wood wind (wúd/'wind'), any of the wooden wind instruments of an orchestra. n.
wood-wind (wúd/'wind'), of or having to do with wooden wind instruments. adj.
wood work (wúd/'wérk'), things made of wood; wooden parts inside of a house, such as doors, stairs, moldings, and the like. n.
wood work er (wúd/'wér/'kær), person who makes things of wood. n.
wood work ing (wúd/'wér/'king), making or shaping things of wood. n., adj.
wood worm (wúd/'wér'm'), worm or larva that is bred in wood or bores in wood. n.
wood y (wúd/'ē), 1. having many trees; covered with trees: a woody hillside. 2. consisting of wood: the woody parts of a shrub. 3. like wood: Turnips become woody when they are old. adj., wood i er, wood i est. —wood/i ness, n.
woo er (wü/'ər), one that woos; suitor. n.
woof (wuf), 1. the threads running from side to side across a woven fabric. The woof crosses the warp. See warp for picture. 2. fabric; cloth; texture. n.
wool (wül), 1. the soft, curly hair or fur of sheep and some other animals. 2. short, thick, curly hair. 3. something like wool. 4. yarn, cloth, or garments made of wool: He wears wool in winter. 5. made of wool. 1-4 n., 5 adj.
pull the wool over one's eyes, Informal. deceive or trick one.
woolen (wül/'ən), 1. made of wool. 2. yarn or cloth made of wool. 3. of or having to do with wool or cloth made of wool: a woolen mill. 1,3 adj., 2 n.
woolens, cloth or clothing made of wool.
wool gath er ing (wül/'gæth'ər'ing), 1. absorption in thinking or daydreaming; absent-mindedness. 2. inattentive; absent-minded; dreamy. 1 n., 2 adj.
wool grow er (wül/'grō'ər), person who raises sheep for their wool. n. woolen (wül/'ən), Esp. Brit. woolen. adj., n.
wooly (wül/'ē), 1. consisting of wool: the woolly coat of a sheep. 2. like wool. 3. covered with wool or something like it. 4. Informal. article of clothing made from wool. 1-3 adj., wool li er, wool li est; 4 n., pl. wool-lies. —wool/i ness, n.
wool pack (wül/'pak'), 1. a large cloth bag for carrying wool. 2. bundle or bale of wool weighing 240 pounds. 3. a round, fleecy cloud. n.
wool sack (wül/'sak'), 1. bag of wool. 2. cushion on which the Lord Chancellor sits in the British House of Lords. 3. office of Lord Chancellor. n.
wooly (wül/'ē), woolly. adj., wool i er, wool i est. —wool/i ness, n.
Woon sock et (wün sok/'it), city in N Rhode Island. 47,000. n. wooz y (wüz/'ē or wüz/'ē), S'ang. muddled; confused. adj.
Worces ter (wüs/'tər), city in central Massachusetts. 187,000. n.
Worces ter shire (wüs/'tər shir), 1. county in western England. 2. a highly seasoned sauce. n.
word (wérd), 1. a sound or a group of sounds that has meaning and is an independent unit of speech. We speak words when we talk. 2. the writing or printing that stands for a word. Bat, bel, bit, and but are words. 3. a short talk: May I have a word with you? 4. speech: honest in word and deed. 5. a brief expression: The teacher gave us a word of advice. 6. command; order: His word was law. 7. signal: The word for tonight is "the King." 8. promise: The boy kept his word. 9. news: No word has come from the battle front. 10. put into words: Word your ideas clearly. 1-9 n., 10 v.
words, 1. angry talk; quarrel; dispute. 2. the text of a song as distinguished from the notes.
be as good as one's word, keep one's promise.

by word of mouth, by spoken words; orally.
in a word, briefly.
man of his word, man who keeps his promise.
my word! an expression of surprise.
take a person at his word, take his words seriously and act accordingly.
take the words out of one's mouth, say exactly what one was just going to say.
the Word, the Bible.
upon my word, 1. I promise. 2. expression of surprise.
word for word, in the exact words.
word book (wérd/'bük'), list of words, usually with explanations, etc.; dictionary; vocabulary. n.
word element, a form of a word (English or other) used for combining with other words or word elements, as auto- in autotruck.
word ing (wér/'ding), way of saying a thing; choice and use of words: Careful wording is needed for clearness. n.
word less (wérd/'lis), 1. without words; speechless. 2. not put into words; unexpressed. adj.
Word of God, the Bible.
word of honor, a solemn promise.
word order, the arrangement of words in a sentence, phrase, etc. In English the usual word order for statements is subject + predicate, as in John hit the ball. The ball hit John. Other word orders (Away ran John, Him the Almighty hurled . . ., Sweet are the uses of adversity) are chiefly rhetorical and poetic. In English, with its relative absence of inflections, word order is the chief grammatical device for indicating the function of words and their relation to each other.
Words worth (wérdz/'wérth), William, 1770-1850, English poet who wrote mostly about nature. n.
word y (wér/'dē), using too many words. adj., word i er, word i est. —word/i ly, adv. —word/i ness, n.
wore (wôr), pt. of wear. He wore out his shoes in two months. v.
work (wérk), 1. effort in doing or making something: Some people like hard work. 2. something to do; occupation; employment: He is without work. 3. something made or done; result of effort: a work of art. 4. that on which effort is put: The dressmaker took her work out on the porch. 5. do work; labor: Most people must work for a living. 6. be employed: He works at an airplane factory. 7. carry on operations in (districts, etc.): The salesman worked the Eastern States. 8. put effort on: He worked his farm with success. 9. act; operate, especially effectively: This pump will not work. The plan worked. 10. put into operation; use; manage: work a scheme. 11. cause to do work: He worked his men long hours. 12. treat or handle in making; knead; mix: Dough is worked to mix it thoroughly. 13. make, get, do, or bring about by effort: He worked his way through college. 14. move as if with effort: His face worked as he tried to keep back the tears. 15. bring about; cause; do: The plan worked harm. 16. go slowly or with effort: The ship worked to windward. 17. become (up, round, loose, etc.): The window catch has worked loose. 18. form; shape: He worked a silver dollar into a bracelet. 19. influence; persuade: work men to one's will. 20. move; stir; excite: Don't work yourself into a temper. 21. solve: Work all the problems on the page. 22. fortification. 23. transference of energy from one body or system to another. 24. that which is accomplished by a force when it acts through a distance. 25. an engineering structure. 26. Informal. use tricks on to get something: work a friend for a loan. 27. ferment: Yeast makes beer work. 1-4,22-25 n., 5-21, 26,27 v., worked or wrought, work ing.
works, 1. factory; place for doing some kind of work. 2. the moving parts of a machine or device: the works of a watch. 3. buildings, bridges, docks, etc.
at work, working.
make short work of, do or get rid of quickly.

out of work, having no job; unemployed.

work in, put in.

work off, get rid of.

work on or upon, try to persuade or influence.

work out, 1. plan; develop. 2. solve; find out. 3. use up. 4. give exercise to; practice. 5. accomplish. 6. result.

work up, 1. plan; develop. 2. excite; stir up.

work a ble (wɜrk/ˈkə bl), that can be worked. adj.

work a day (wɜrk/ˈkə dā/), of working days; practical; commonplace; ordinary. adj.

work bench (wɜrk/ˈbɛnʃ/), table at which a mechanic or artisan works. n.

work book (wɜrk/ˈbʊk/), 1. book containing outlines for the study of some subject, questions to be answered, etc.; book in which a student does parts of his written work. 2. book containing rules for doing certain work. 3. book for notes of work planned or work done. n.

work day (wɜrk/ˈdā/), 1. day for work; day that is not Sunday or a holiday. 2. part of a day during which work is done. 3. workday. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

work er (wɜrk/ˈkɔr/), 1. person or thing that works. 2. bee, ant, wasp, or other insect that works for its community. n.

work house (wɜrk/ˈhʌʊs/), 1. U.S. place where petty criminals are kept and made to work. 2. Brit. house where very poor people are lodged and set to work. n.

work ing (wɜrk/ˈkɪŋ/), 1. method or manner of work; operation; action: Do you understand the working of this machine? 2. that works. 3. used in working. 4. used to operate with or by: a working majority. 1 n., 2-4 adj.

workings, parts of a mine, quarry, tunnel, etc., where work is being done.

work ing man (wɜrk/ˈkɪŋ mæn/), 1. man who works. 2. man who works with his hands or with machines. n., pl. work ing men.

work ing wom an (wɜrk/ˈkɪŋ wʊm/ən/), 1. woman who works. 2. woman who works with her hands or with machines. n., pl. work ing wom en.

work man (wɜrk/ˈmæn/), 1. worker. 2. man who works with his hands or with machines. n., pl. work men.

work man like (wɜrk/ˈmæn lɪk/), 1. skillful; well-done. 2. skillfully. 1 adj., 2 adv.

work man ship (wɜrk/ˈmæn ʃɪp/), 1. the art or skill in a worker or his work: Good workmanship deserves good pay. 2. quality or manner of work. 3. the work done. n.

work men (wɜrk/ˈmæn/), pl. of workman. n.

work out (wɜrk/ˈaʊt/), Informal. 1. exercise; practice. 2. trial; test. n.

work room (wɜrk/ˈrʊm/), room where work is done. n.

work shop (wɜrk/ˈʃɒp/), shop or building where work is done. n.

work ta ble (wɜrk/ˈtā bl), table to work at. n.

world (wɜrld), 1. the earth: Ships can sail around the world. 2. all of certain parts, people, or things of the earth: The New World is North America and South America. The Old World is Europe, Asia, and Africa. Fashionable people belong to the world of fashion. Ants are part of the insect world. 3. all people; the human race; the public: The whole world knows it. 4. the things of this life and the people devoted to them: Monks and nuns live apart from the world. 5. star; planet. 6. any time, condition, or place of life: Heaven is in the world to come. 7. all things; everything; the universe. 8. a great deal; very much; large amount: The rest did her a world of good. n.

for all the world, 1. for any reason, no matter how great. 2. in every respect; exactly.

in the world, 1. anywhere. 2. at all; ever.

world without end, forever.

World Court, court made up of representatives of various nations and having the power to settle certain disputes between nations.

world li ness (wɜrld/ˈlɪ nis), worldly ideas, ways, or conduct. n.

world ly (wɜrld/ˈlɪ), 1. of this world; not of heaven: worldly wealth. 2. caring much for the interests and pleasures of this world. adj., world li er, world li est.

world ly-wise (wɜrld/ˈlɪ wɪz/), wise about the ways and affairs of this world. adj.

world series, series of baseball games played each fall between the winners of the two major league championships, to decide the professional championship of the United States.

World War I, war in Europe, Asia, Africa, and elsewhere, from July 28, 1914, to Nov. 11, 1918. The United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, and their allies were on one side; Germany, Austria-Hungary, and their allies were on the other side.

World War II, war in Europe, Asia, Africa, and elsewhere, from September 1, 1939, to August 14, 1945, beginning as a war between Great Britain, France, and Poland on one side and Germany on the other, ultimately involving most of the world. The chief conflict was between Great Britain, the United States, and the Soviet Union on one side and Germany, Italy, and Japan on the other.

world-wea ry (wɜrld/ˈwɪr/ē), tired of living. adj.

world-wide (wɜrld/ˈwɪd/), spread throughout the world: Gasoline now has world-wide use. adj.

worm (wɜrm), 1. any of numerous small, slender, crawling or creeping animals, usually soft-bodied and without legs. 2. something like a worm in shape or movement, such as the thread of a screw or the tube of a still. 3. something that slowly eats away; the pain or destruction it causes. 4. move like a worm; crawl or creep like a worm: The soldier wormed his way toward the enemy's lines. 5. work or get by persistent and secret means: John tried to worm the secret out of me. He wormed himself into our confidence. 6. person who deserves contempt or pity. 7. remove worms from. 1-3,6 n., 4,5,7 v. —worm/like/, adj.

worms, disease caused by worms in the body.

worm-eat en (wɜrm/ˈɛt/n/), 1. eaten into by worms: worm-eaten timbers. 2. worn-out; worthless; out-of-date. adj.

worm gear, 1. a worm wheel.

2. a worm wheel and an endless screw together. By a worm gear the rotary motion of one shaft can be transmitted to another shaft at right angles to it.

worm hole (wɜrm/ˈhɒl/), hole made by a worm. n.

worm wheel, wheel with teeth that fit into a revolving screw.

worm wood (wɜrm/ˈwʊd/), 1. a bitter plant used in medicine, absinthe, etc. 2. something bitter or extremely unpleasant. n.

worm y (wɜrm/ˈmē), 1. having worms; containing many worms. 2. damaged by worms. adj., worm i er, worm i est. —worm/i ness, n.

worn (wɜrn), 1. pp. of wear. He has worn that suit for two years. 2. damaged by use: worn rugs. 3. tired; wearied: a worn face. 1 v., 2,3 adj.

worn-out (wɜrn/ˈaʊt/), 1. used until no longer fit for use. 2. fatigued. adj.

wor ri ment (wɜr/ˈɪ mɛnt/), Informal. 1. worrying. 2. worry; anxiety. n.

wor ri some (wɜr/ˈɪ səm/), 1. causing worry. 2. inclined to worry. adj.

wor ry (wɜr/ˈɪ), 1. feel anxious or uneasy: She will worry if we are late. 2. cause to feel anxious or troubled: The problem worried him. 3. anxiety; uneasiness; trouble; care: Worry kept her awake. 4. cause of trouble or care: A mother of sick children has many worries. 5. annoy; bother: Don't worry me with so many questions. 6. seize and shake with the teeth; bite at; snap at: A cat

Worm gear (def. 2)

Wormwood

will worry a mouse. 1,2,5,6 v., wor ried, wor ry ing; 3,4 n., pl. wor ries. —wor'ri er, n.

worry along, manage somehow.

worse (wɜrs), 1. less well; more ill: The patient is worse. 2. less good; more evil: Bill is a bad boy, but his brother is worse. 3. in a more severe or evil manner or degree: It is raining worse than ever. 4. that which is worse: He thought the loss of his property bad enough, but worse followed. 1,2 adj., comparative of bad; 3 adv., 4 n.

wors en (wɜr'sn), make worse; become worse. v.

wor ship (wɜr'ship), 1. great honor and respect: the worship of God, hero worship. 2. pay great honor and respect to: People go to church to worship God. 3. ceremonies or services in honor of God. 4. take part in a religious service. 5. great love and admiration; adoration. 6. consider extremely precious; hold very dear; adore: A miser worships money. 7. a title used in addressing certain magistrates: "Yes, your worship," he said to the judge. 1,3,5,7 n., 2,4,6 v., wor shipped, wor ship ing or esp. Brit. wor shipped, wor ship ping. —wor'ship er, esp. Brit. wor'ship per, n.

wor ship ful (wɜr'ship fəl), 1. honorable. 2. worshipping. adj.

worst (wɜrst), 1. least well; most ill: This is the worst cold I ever had. 2. least good; most evil: He is the worst boy in school. 3. to an extreme degree of badness or evil: This child acts worst when his parents have guests. 4. that which is worst: The mean boy kept the best of the fruit for himself and gave the worst to his friends. 5. beat; defeat: The hero worsted his enemies. 1,2 adj., superlative of bad; 3 adv., 4 n., 5 v.

at worst, under the least favorable circumstances.

give one the worst of it, defeat one.

if worst comes to worst, if the very worst thing happens.

wor sted (wɜs'tid), 1. a firmly twisted woolen thread or yarn. 2. made of worsted. 3. cloth made from such thread or yarn. 4. a woolen yarn for knitting, crocheting, and needlework. 1,3,4 n., 2 adj.

worth (wɜrth), 1. good or important enough for; deserving of: The book is worth reading. New York is a city worth visiting. 2. merit; usefulness; importance: We should read books of real worth. 3. value: Jane got her money's worth out of that coat. 4. a quantity of something of specified value: a dollar's worth of sugar. 5. equal in value to: That book is worth $5.00. 6. having property that amounts to: That man is worth millions. 7. Archaic. property; wealth. 1,5,6 adj., 2-4,7 n.

worth less (wɜrth'lis), without worth; good-for-nothing; useless. adj. —worth'less ly, adv. —worth'less ness, n.

worth-while (wɜrth'hwɪl'), worth time, attention, or effort; having real merit. adj.

wor thy (wɜr'thē), 1. having worth or merit: She helps the worthy poor. 2. deserving; meriting. 3. person of great merit; admirable person: Abraham Lincoln stands high among American worthies. 1,2 adj., wor'thi er, wor'thi est; 3 n., pl. wor'thies. —wor'thi ly, adv. —wor'thi ness, n.

worthy of, 1. deserving: His courage was worthy of high praise. Bad acts are worthy of punishment. 2. having enough worth for.

wot (wɒt), Archaic. know. "I wot" means "I know." "He wot" means "He knows." v.

would (wʊd; unstressed wəd), pt. of will. See will for ordinary uses. Would is also used: 1. to express future time: Would he never go? 2. to express action done again and again in the past time: The children would play for hours on the beach. 3. to express a wish: Would I were dead! 4. to make a statement or question less direct or blunt: Would that be fair? Would you help us, please? 5. to express conditions: If he would only try, he could do it. v.

would-be (wʊd'bē), 1. wishing or pretending to be. 2. intended to be. adj.

would n't (wʊd'nt), would not.

wouldst (wʊdst), Archaic and Poetic. would. "Thou wouldst" means "you would." v.

wound (wʊnd; Archaic and Poetic wound), 1. a hurt or injury caused by cutting, stabbing, shooting, etc. 2. injury by cutting, stabbing, shooting, etc.; hurt. 3. any hurt or injury to feelings, reputation, etc.: The loss of his job was a wound to his pride. 4. injury in feelings, reputation, etc.: His unkind words wounded her. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

wound (wʊnd), pt. and pp. of wind and winds. She wound the string into a ball some time ago. It is wound too loosely. v.

wove (wōv), pt. and a pp. of weave. The spider wove a new web after the first was destroyed. v.

woven (wōvən), pp. of weave. This cloth is closely woven. v.

wow (wou), U.S. Slang. an unqualified success; hit. n.

WPA, Works Progress Administration.

wrack (rak), 1. wreckage. 2. ruin; destruction. 3. seaweed cast ashore. n.

wraith (rāth), 1. ghost of a person seen before or soon after his death. 2. specter; ghost. n.

Wrangel (rang'gl), island in the Arctic Ocean just north of Siberia, belonging to the Soviet Union. 2000 sq. mi. n.

Wrangell (rang'gl), Mount, mountain in SE Alaska. 14,005 ft. n.

wrangle (rang'gl), 1. dispute noisily; quarrel angrily: The children wrangled about who should sit in front. 2. a noisy dispute; angry quarrel. 3. argue. 4. in the western United States, herd or tend (horses, etc.) on the range. 1,3,4 v., wrangled, wrangling; 2 n. wrangler (rang'glər), 1. person who wrangles. 2. in the western United States, herder in charge of horses. n.

wrap (rap), 1. cover by winding or folding something around: She wrapped herself in a shawl. 2. wind or fold as a covering: Wrap a shawl around you. 3. cover with paper and tie up or fasten. 4. cover; envelop; hide: The mountain peak is wrapped in clouds. She sat wrapped in thought. 5. outer covering. Shawls, scarfs, coats, and furs are wraps. 1-4 v., wrapped or wrapt, wrap ping; 5 n.

wrap up, put on warm outer clothes.

wrapped up in, 1. devoted to; thinking mainly of. 2. involved in; associated with.

wrapper (rap'ər), 1. person or thing that wraps. 2. thing in which something is wrapped; covering; cover: Magazines are mailed in paper wrappers. 3. a woman's long, loose garment to wear in the house. n.

wrapping (rap'ing), paper, cloth, etc., in which something is wrapped. n.

wrapt (rapt), a pt. and a pp. of wrap. v.

wrasse (ras), any of various sea fishes, especially a genus having thick, fleshy lips, powerful teeth, and usually a brilliant coloration. n.

wrath (rath), very great anger; rage. n.

wrath ful (rath'fəl), feeling or showing wrath; very angry. adj. —wrath'ful ly, adv. —wrath'ful ness, n.

wrath y (rath'ē), wrathful. adj., wrath i er, wrath i est.

wreak (rēk), 1. give expression to; work off (feelings, desires, etc.): The cruel boy wreaked his bad temper on his dog. 2. inflict (vengeance, punishment, etc.). 3. Archaic. avenge. v.

wreath (rēth), 1. a ring of flowers or leaves twisted together. 2. something suggesting a wreath: a wreath of smoke. n., pl. wreaths (rēthz).

wreathe (rēth), 1. make into a wreath; twist: The children wreathed flowers to put on the soldiers' graves. 2. decorate or adorn with wreaths: The inside of the schoolhouse was wreathed with Christmas greens. 3. make a ring around; encircle: Mist wreathed the hills. 4. envelop. 5. move in rings: The smoke wreathed upward. v., wreathed, wreathed or (Archaic) wreath en, wreathing.

wreck (rek), 1. partial or total destruction of a ship, building, train, automobile, or airship. 2. destruction or serious injury: The war caused the wreck of many fortunes. 3. what is left of anything that has been destroyed or much injured: The wrecks of six ships were cast upon the shore. 4. cause the wreck of; destroy; ruin: Robbers wrecked the mail train. 5. be wrecked; suffer serious injury. 6. person who has lost his health or money. 7. cause to lose health or money. 8. goods cast up by the sea. 9. act as wrecker. 1-3,6,8 n., 4,5,7,8 v.

wreck age (rek'ij), 1. what is left of a thing that has been wrecked: The shore was covered with the wreckage of a ship. 2. a wrecking or being wrecked: She wept at the wreckage of her hopes. n.

wreck er (rek'ər), 1. person who causes wrecks. 2. person whose work is tearing down buildings. 3. person, car, train, or machine that removes wrecks. 4. person or ship that recovers wrecked or disabled ships or their cargoes. 5. person who causes shipwrecks by false lights on shore so as to plunder the wrecks. n.

wren (ren), any of a number of small songbirds with slender bills and short tails. Wrens often build their nests near houses. n.

wrench (rench), 1. a violent twist or twisting pull: The knob broke off when he gave it a sudden wrench. 2. twist or pull violently: The policeman wrenched the gun out of the man's hand. 3. injure by twisting: He wrenched his back in falling from the horse. 4. injury caused by twisting. 5. grief; pain: It was a wrench to leave the old home. 6. twist the meaning of. 7. tool for turning nuts, bolts, etc. 1,4,5,7 n., 2,3,6 v.

wrest (rest), 1. twist, pull, or tear away with force; wrench away: The nurse bravely wrested the knife from the insane patient. 2. take by force: The usurper wrested the power from the king. 3. twist or turn from the proper meaning, use, etc.: You wrest my words from their real meanings. 4. a wrestling; forcible twist. 5. key for tuning a harp, piano, etc. 1-3 v., 4,5 n. —wrest'er, n.

wres tle (res'tl), 1. try to throw or force (an opponent) to the ground. 2. a wrestling match. 3. contend with in wrestling, or as if in wrestling. 4. struggle: We wrestle with problems, temptations, and difficulties. 1,3,4 v., wres tled, wres tling; 2,4 n. —wres'tler, n.

wres tling (res'ling), sport or contest in which each of two opponents tries to throw or force the other to the ground. The rules for wrestling do not allow using the fists or certain holds on the body. n.

wretch (rech), 1. a very unfortunate or unhappy person. 2. a very bad person. n.

wretch ed (rech'id), 1. very unfortunate or unhappy. 2. very unsatisfactory; miserable: a wretched hut. 3. very bad: a wretched traitor. adj. —wretch'ed ly, adv. —wretch'ed ness, n.

wrig gle (rig'gl), 1. twist and turn: Children wriggle when they are restless. 2. move by twisting and turning: A snake wriggled across the road. 3. make one's way by shifts and tricks: He can wriggle out of any difficulty. 4. a wriggling. 1-3 v., wrig gled, wrig gling; 4 n.

wrig gler (rig'lar), 1. person who wriggles. 2. larva of a mosquito. n.

wrig gly (rig'lē), twisting and turning. adj.

House wren (about 5 in. long, including the tail)

Pipe wrench. The jaws have ridged surfaces for gripping. They can be moved together or apart by means of a screw.

wright (rit), (now usually in combinations) a maker of something: A wheelwright makes wheels. A playwright makes plays for the theater. n.

Wright (rit), Orville, 1871-1948, and Wilbur, 1867-1912, brothers who perfected the airplane and flew a motor-powered plane successfully in 1903 for the first time. n.

wring (ring), 1. twist with force; squeeze hard: wring clothes. 2. force by twisting or squeezing: The laundress wrings water from the wet clothes. 3. get by force, effort, or persuasion: The old beggar could wring money from anyone by his sad story. 4. clasp; press: He wrung his old friend's hand. 5. cause pain, pity, etc., in: Their poverty wrung his heart. 6. a twist; squeeze. 1-5 v., wrung or (Rare) wringed, wring ing; 6 n.

wring out, force (water, etc.) from by twisting or squeezing.

wring er (ring'ər), machine for squeezing water from clothes. n.

wrin kle (ring'kl), 1. ridge; fold: An old man's face has wrinkles. I must press out the wrinkles in this dress. 2. make a wrinkle or wrinkles in: He wrinkled his forehead. 3. have wrinkles; acquire wrinkles: These sleeves wrinkle. 1 n., 2,3 v., wrin kled, wrin kling.

wrin kle (ring'kl), Informal. useful hint or idea; clever trick: She knows all the latest wrinkles in style. n.

wrin kly (ring'klē), wrinkled. adj., wrin kli er, wrin kli est.

wrist (rist), 1. the joint connecting hand and arm. 2. a corresponding joint or part of the forelimb of an animal. 3. bones of this part; carpus. n.

wrist band (rist'band'), the band of a sleeve fitting around the wrist. n.

writ (rit), 1. something written; piece of writing. The Bible is Holy Writ. 2. a formal order directing a person to do or not to do something: The lawyer got a writ from the judge to release the man wrongly held in jail. n.

writ (rit), Archaic. a pt. and a pp. of write. v.

write (rit), 1. make letters, words, etc., with pen, pencil, chalk, etc.: He learned to write. 2. mark with letters, words, etc.: write a check. 3. put down the letters, words, etc., of: Write your name and address. 4. give in writing; record: She writes all that happens. 5. make (books, stories, articles, poems, letters, etc.) by using written letters, words, etc.; compose: Mr. Blank writes for the magazines. 6. be a writer: Her ambition was to write. 7. write a letter: He writes to her every week. 8. write a letter to: Mary wrote her parents that she would be home for Christmas. 9. show plainly: Honesty is written on his face. v., wrote or (Archaic) writ, writ ten or (Archaic) writ, writ ing.

write down, 1. put into writing. 2. put a lower value on.

write off, cancel.

write out, 1. put into writing. 2. write in full.

write up, 1. write a description or account of. 2. write in detail. 3. bring up to date in writing. 4. put a higher value on.

writ er (rit'ər), 1. person who writes. 2. person whose profession or business is writing; author. n.

write-up (rit'up'), Informal. a written description or account. n.

writhe (riθ), 1. twist and turn; twist: The snake writhed along the branch. The wounded man writhed in agony. 2. suffer mentally; be very uncomfortable. v.

writhe, writhe or (Obs. except Poetic) writh en (riθ'ən), writh ing.

writ ing (rit'ing), 1. act of making letters, words, etc., with pen, pencil, etc. 2. written form: Put your ideas in writing. 3. handwriting. 4. something written; letter, paper, document, etc. 5. book, story, article, poem, etc.: the writings of Benjamin Franklin. 6. profession or business of a person who writes. 7. that writes. 8. used to write with; used to write on: writing paper. 1-6 n., 7,8 adj.

writ ten (rit'n), a pp. of write. He has written a letter. v.

Wrocław (vrôts/läf), city in southwestern Poland, formerly part of Germany. 415,000. n. Also, German Breslau.

wrong (rông), 1. not right; bad; unjust; unlawful: It is wrong to tell lies. 2. incorrect: He gave the wrong answer. 3. unsuitable; improper: the wrong clothes for the occasion. 4. in a bad state or condition; out of order; amiss: Something is wrong with the car. 5. in a wrong manner; in the wrong direction; badly: Everything went wrong today. 6. what is wrong; wrong thing or things: Two wrongs do not make a right. 7. injustice; injury: You do an honest man a wrong to call him a liar or a thief. 8. do wrong to; treat unjustly; injure: He forgave those who had wronged him. 9. not meant to be seen; less or least important: Cloth often has a wrong side and a right side. 1-4,9 adj., 5 adv., 6,7 n., 8 v. —wrong/-ly, adv. —wrong/-ness, n.

go wrong, 1. turn out badly. 2. stop being good and become bad.

in the wrong, wrong.

wrong do er (rông/dü'är), person who does wrong. n.

wrong do ing (rông/dü'ing), doing wrong; evil; wrong. n.

wrong ful (rông/fäl), 1. wrong. 2. unlawful. adj. —wrong/-fully, adv.

wrong-head ed (rông/hed'id), 1. wrong in judgment or opinion. 2. stubborn even when wrong. adj. —wrong/-head/-ed ness, n.

wrote (rôt), a pt. of write. He wrote his mother a long letter last week. v.

wroth (rôth), angry. adj.

wrought (rôt), 1. a pt. and a pp. of work. 2. made: The gate was wrought with great skill. 3. formed with care; not rough or crude. 4. manufactured or treated; not in a raw state. 5. of metals, formed by hammering. 1 v., 2-5 adj.

wrought iron, a tough form of iron with little carbon in it. Wrought iron will not break as easily as cast iron.

wrought-up (rôt/up'), stirred up; excited. adj.

wrung (rung), pt. and pp. of wring. She wrung out the wet cloth and hung it up. Her heart is wrung with pity for the poor. v.

wry (rî), turned to one side; twisted: She made a wry face to show her disgust. adj., wri er, wri est. —wry/-ly, adv.

wry neck (rî/nek'), 1. a twisted neck caused by unequal contraction of the muscles. 2. bird that twists its neck and head in a peculiar way. n.

WSW or W.S.W., between west and southwest.

wt., weight.

Wu chang (wü/chäng'), city in E China, on the Yangtze River. 200,000. n.

Wu hsien (wü/shyen'), city in E China. 260,000. n. Also, Soochow.

Wup per tal (vüp'är täl), city in West Germany. 419,000. n.

W. Va., West Virginia.

Wyo. or Wy., Wyoming.

Wy o ming (wî ô'ming), a Western State of the United States. 330,000 pop.; 97,914 sq. mi. Capital: Cheyenne. Abbrev.: Wyo. or Wy. n.

X

X or x (eks), 1. the 24th letter of the alphabet. 2. a term often used to designate a person, thing, agency, factor, or the like whose true name is unknown or withheld. 3. thing shaped like an X. 4. the Roman numeral for 10. 5. Informal. a ten-dollar bill. n., pl. X's or x's.

Xan thip pe (zan tip'ē), 1. the wife of Socrates, famous as a scold. 2. a scolding woman; shrew. n.

Xa vier (zā/vē är or zav'ē är), Saint Francis, 1506-1552, Spanish Jesuit missionary in the Far East. n.

X chromosome, one of the chromosomes that determine sex. An egg containing two X chromosomes, one from each parent, develops into a female.

xe bec (zē/bek), a small, three-masted vessel of the Mediterranean. n.

xe non (zē/non or zen'on), a heavy, colorless gas that is chemically inactive. It is a rare element that occurs in the air in very small quantities. Symbol: Xe n.

xen o pho bi a (zen'ə fō'bē ə), hatred or fear of foreigners. n.

Xen o phon (zen'ə fən), 430?-355? B.C., Greek historian. n.

xe ro phyte (zir'ə fit), plant that loses very little water and can grow in deserts or very dry ground. Cactuses, sagebrush, century plants, etc., are xerophytes. n.

X ray of a foot

Xerx es (zèrk'sēz), 519?-465 B.C., king of ancient Persia from 486? to 465 B.C. He tried to conquer Greece but was defeated in 480 B.C. n.

Xin gú (shing gü'), river flowing from central Brazil into the Amazon River. 1300 mi. n.

Xmas (kris'mäs), Christmas. n.

X ray, 1. a ray with an extremely short wave length formed when cathode rays impinge upon a solid body (such as the wall of a vacuum tube), that can penetrate opaque substances; a Roentgen ray. X rays are used to locate breaks in bones, bullets lodged in the body, etc., and to diagnose and treat certain diseases. 2. a picture made by means of X rays. See the picture in column 1.

X-ray (eks'rā'), 1. examine, photograph, or treat with X rays. 2. of, by, or having to do with X rays: an X-ray examination of one's teeth. 1 v., 2 adj.

xy lem (zî'lem), the woody part of plants. n.

xy lo phone (zî'lə fōn), a musical instrument consisting of a row of wooden bars, sounded by striking them with small wooden hammers. n.

Man playing a xylophone

Y

Y or y (wî), 1. the 25th letter of the alphabet. 2. something resembling the letter Y in shape, such as a forked clamp for holding drills, a forked support for the telescope of a surveyor's level, etc. n., pl. Y's or y's.

Y, yttrium.

y, 1. yard; yards. 2. year.

-y, suffix meaning:

1. full of, composed of, containing, having, or characterized by, as in airy, cloudy, dewy, icy, juicy, watery.
2. somewhat, as in chilly, salty.
3. inclined to, as in chatty, fidgely.
4. resembling; suggesting, as in messy, sugary, willowy.

hat, äge, cäre, fär; let, bē, tērm; it, ïce; hot, gō, ôrder; oil, out; cup, pût, rûle, üse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; th, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

5. In certain words, such as paly, steepy, stilly, vasty, the addition of y does not change the meaning.

-y¹, suffix meaning: small, as in dolly; used also to show kind feeling or intimacy, as in aunt^y, Dick^y.

-y², suffix meaning:

1. state or quality, as in jealous^y, victor^y.

2. activity, as in deliver^y, entreat^y.

yacht (yot), 1. boat for pleasure trips or racing. 2. sail or race on a yacht. 1 n., 2 v.

yacht ing (yot'ing), 1. art of sailing a yacht. 2. pastime of sailing on a yacht. 3. interested in yachting. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

yachts man (yots'men), person who owns or sails a yacht. n., pl. yachts men.

yachts man ship (yots'men ship), skill or ability in handling a yacht. n.

yah (yä), noise made to express derision, disgust, or impatience. interj.

yak (yak), the long-haired ox of Tibet and central Asia. n.

Yalta conference (yöl'tä), a meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Marshal Stalin in the town of Yalta, Crimea, in February 1945.

Ya lu (yä'lü'), river in E Asia, between Manchuria and Korea. 300 mi. long. n.

yam (yam), 1. the starchy root of a vine grown for food in warm countries. 2. the vine itself. 3. U.S. a kind of sweet potato. n.

Yang tze or Yang tse (yang'tsë'), river flowing from Tibet through central China into the China Sea. It is the longest river in China. 3200 mi. n.

yank (yangk), Informal. jerk; tug. v., n.

Yank (yangk), Slang. Yankee. n., adj.

Yan kee (yang'kë), 1. native of New England. 2. native of any of the Northern States. 3. Southern U.S. a Northerner (usually in a contemptuous or hostile sense). 4. native or inhabitant of the United States. 5. of or having to do with Yankees: Yankee shrewdness. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

Yankee Doodle (dü'dl), an American song, probably of English origin and taken over by the American soldiers in the Revolutionary War.

Ya oun dé (yä ün dä'), capital of the republic of Cameroon, in the SW part. 55,000. n.

yap (yap), 1. a snappish bark; yelp. 2. bark snappishly; yelp. 3. Slang. snappish, noisy, or foolish talk.

4. Slang. talk snappishly, noisily, or foolishly. 5. Slang. a peevish or noisy person. 1, 3, 5 n., 2, 4 v., yapped, yap ping.

Ya qui (yä'kë), 1. member of a tribe of American Indians in N Mexico and Arizona. 2. of this tribe of Indians. 1 n., 2 adj.

yard¹ (yård), 1. piece of ground near or around a house, barn, school, etc. 2. piece of enclosed ground for some special purpose or business: a chicken yard. 3. space with tracks where railroad cars are stored, shifted around, etc.: John's brother works in the railroad yards. 4. put into or enclose in a yard. 1-3 n., 4 v.

yard² (yård), 1. measure of length; 36 inches; 3 feet. 2. a long, slender beam or pole fastened across a mast, used to support a sail. n.

yard age (yär'dij), 1. length in yards. 2. amount measured in yards. n.

yard arm (yär'därm'), either end of a long, slender beam or pole used to support a square sail. n.

yard master (yär'dmas'tər), man in charge of a railroad yard. n.

Yak (about 5 ft. tall)

Yawl (def. 1)

yard stick (yär'dstik'), 1. a stick one yard long, used for measuring. 2. any standard of judgment or comparison: We need a yardstick for health. n.

yarn (yärn), 1. any spun thread, especially that prepared for weaving or knitting. 2. Informal. tale; story: The old sailor made up his yarns as he told them. 3. Informal. tell stories. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

yar row (yar'ö), a common plant with finely divided leaves and flat clusters of white or pink flowers. n.

yaw (yô), 1. turn from a straight course; go unsteadily. 2. of an aircraft, turn from a straight course by a motion about its vertical axis. 3. movement from a straight course. 1, 2 v., 3 n.

yawl (yöl), 1. boat like a sloop with a second short mast set near the stern. 2. a ship's boat rowed by four or six oars. n.

yawn (yôn), 1. open the mouth wide because one is sleepy, tired, or bored. 2. utter with a yawn; cause by yawning. 3. open wide: A wide gorge yawned beneath our feet. 4. a yawning. 1-3 v., 4 n.

yawp (yôp), Dialect or Informal. 1. utter a loud, harsh cry. 2. a loud, harsh cry. 1 v., 2 n. —yawp'er, n.

yaws (yôz), a contagious disease of the tropics, characterized by sores on the skin. n. pl.

Yb, ytterbium.

Y chromosome, chromosome related to maleness. An egg containing a Y chromosome develops into a male.

y clept or y cleped (i klept'), Archaic. called; named; styled. adj.

yd., yard; yards: 6 yd. = 18 ft. pl. yds.

ye¹ (yë; unstressed yì), Archaic. you: If ye are thirsty, drink. pron. pl.

ye² (THë; incorrectly yë), an old way of writing the definite article "the." definite article.

yea (yä), 1. yes (used in affirmation or assent). 2. indeed; truly (used to introduce a sentence or clause). 3. Archaic. not only that, but also; moreover. 4. an affirmative vote or voter. 1-3 adv., 4 n.

yeaⁿ (yën), give birth to (a lamb or kid). v.

yeaⁿ ling (yën'ling), a lamb or kid; the young of a sheep or goat. n.

year (yir), 1. 12 months or 365 days (366 every fourth year); January 1 to December 31. 2. 12 months reckoned from any point. A fiscal year is a period of 12 months at the end of which the accounts of a government, business, or the like, are balanced. 3. the part of a year spent in a certain activity. A school year is from 8-10 months. 4. period of the earth's revolution around the sun. The solar or astronomical year is 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, 46 seconds. 5. the time it takes for the apparent traveling of the sun from a given fixed star back to it again. The sidereal year is 20 minutes, 23 seconds longer than the solar year. 6. the time in which any planet completes its revolution around the sun. n.

years, 1. age. 2. a very long time.

year by year, with each succeeding year; as years go by.

year in, year out, always; continuously.

year book (yir'bük'), book or report published every year. n.

year ling (yir'ling or yër'ling), 1. an animal one year old. 2. one year old: a yearling colt. 1 n., 2 adj.

year long (yir'lông'), 1. lasting for a year. 2. lasting for years. adj.

year ly (yir'lë), 1. once a year; in every year: a yearly trip to Europe. 2. lasting a year: The earth makes a yearly revolution around the sun. 3. for a year: He is paid a yearly salary of $5000. 1-3 adj., 1 adv.

yearn (yërn), 1. feel a longing or desire; desire earnestly: He yearns for home. 2. feel pity; have tender feelings: Her heart yearned for the starving children. v.

yearning (yèr'ning), earnest or strong desire; longing. n.

yeast (yèst), 1. the substance used in raising bread, making beer, etc. Yeast consists of very small plants or cells that grow quickly in a liquid containing sugar. 2. a yeast plant or yeast cell. 3. yeast cake. 4. influence, element, etc., that acts as a leaven. 5. foam; froth. n.

yeast cake, flour or meal mixed with yeast and pressed into a small cake.

yeast y (yès'tè), 1. of, containing, or resembling yeast. 2. frothy or foamy: yeasty waves. 3. light or trifling; frivolous. adj.

yegg (yeg), U.S. Slang. 1. burglar who robs safes. 2. any burglar. n.

yell (yel), 1. cry out with a strong, loud sound. 2. a strong, loud cry. 3. say with a yell: We yelled our good-bys as the bus left. 4. U.S. a special shout or cheer used by a school or college. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

yellow (yel'ō), 1. the color of gold, butter, or ripe lemons. 2. having a yellow color. 3. turn yellow: Paper yellows with age. 4. make yellow: Buttercups yellowed the field. 5. a yellow pigment or dye. 6. yolk of an egg. 7. having a yellowish skin. 8. jealous; envious. 9. Informal. cowardly. 10. sensational: a yellow journal. 1,5,6 n., 2,7-10 adj., 3,4 v. —yellow ness, n.

yellow bird (yel'ō bèrd'), 1. the goldfinch of America. 2. the yellow warbler of America. 3. any of various other yellow birds, such as an oriole of Europe. n.

yellow fever, a dangerous, infectious tropical disease transmitted by the bite of a mosquito.

yellow ham mer (yel'ō ham'ər), 1. a European bird with a yellow head, neck, and breast. 2. U.S. the flicker or golden-winged woodpecker of E North America. n.

yellow low ish (yel'ō ish), somewhat yellow. adj.

yellow jacket, wasp or hornet marked with bright yellow.

yellow legs (yel'ō legz'), a shore bird with yellow legs, a brownish back streaked with white, and a white breast with brown markings. n.

yellow pine, 1. a pine tree with yellowish wood. 2. its wood.

Yellow River, Hwang Ho.

Yellow Sea, part of the Pacific Ocean between NE China and Korea.

Yellow stone (yel'ō stōn'), 1. Yellowstone National Park. 2. river flowing from NW Wyoming through Yellowstone National Park into the Missouri River in Montana. 671 mi. n.

Yellowstone National Park, a large park, mostly in NW Wyoming, famous for its scenery, hot springs, and geysers. 3458 sq. mi.

yellow warbler, a small American warbler. The male has yellow plumage streaked with brown.

yelp (yelp), 1. the quick, sharp bark or cry of a dog, fox, etc. 2. give a quick, sharp bark or cry. 3. utter with a yelp. 1 n., 2,3 v.

Yem en (yem'ən), country in SW Arabia. 4,500,000 pop.; 75,000 sq. mi. Capital: Sana. n.

yen¹ (yen), unit of money of Japan, worth about 1/4 of a cent (1964). n., pl. yen.

yen² (yen), Informal. 1. a fanciful desire. 2. desire. 1 n., 2 v., yenned, yen ning.

Yen i sei (yen'ə sā'), river flowing from central Soviet Union into the Arctic Ocean. 2800 mi. n.

yeo man (yō'mən), 1. in the United States Navy, a petty officer who has clerical duties. 2. in England, a person who owns land, but not a large amount. 3. Archaic. a servant or attendant of a lord or king. n., pl. yeo men.

yeo man ly (yō'mən lē), 1. sturdy; honest. 2. bravely. 1 adj., 2 adv.

yeo man ry (yō'mən rē), 1. yeoman. 2. a British volunteer cavalry force, now a part of the Territorial Army. n.

yeoman's service, good, useful service; faithful support or assistance.

Yer kes Observatory (yèr'kēz), a large astronomical observatory in Wisconsin.

yes (yes), 1. word used to express agreement, consent, or affirmation: Will you go? Yes. 2. an answer that agrees, consents, or affirms. 3. say yes. 4. and what is more; in addition to that: The soldier found that he could endure hardships, yes, even enjoy them. 1,4 adv., 2 n., pl. yes es; 3 v., yessed, yes sing.

yes man, Slang. person who habitually agrees with his employer, superior officer, party, etc., without criticism.

yes ter day (yes'tər dē or yes'tər dā), 1. the day before today. 2. on the day before today. 3. the recent past: We are often amused by the fashions of yesterday. 4. recently. 1,3 n., 2,4 adv.

yes ter night (yes'tər nīt'), Archaic or Poetic. last night; the night before today. n., adv.

yes ter year (yes'tər yir'), Archaic or Poetic. last year; the year before this. n., adv.

yet (yet), 1. up to the present time; thus far: The work is not yet finished. 2. now: Don't go yet. It was not yet dark. 3. still; even now: She is talking yet. 4. sometime: The thief will be caught yet. 5. also; again: Yet once more I forbid you to go. 6. moreover: He won't do it for you nor yet for me. 7. even: The king spoke yet more harshly. 8. nevertheless; however: The story was strange, yet true (adv.). The work is good, yet it could be better (conj.). 1-8 adv., 8 conj.

as yet, up to now.

yew (ū), 1. an evergreen tree native to Europe and Asia. 2. the wood of this tree. Bows used to be made of yew. n.

Yid dish (yid'ish), 1. a language which developed from a dialect of German, containing many Hebrew and Slavic words, and written in Hebrew characters. Yiddish is spoken mainly by Jews in Russia and central Europe. 2. having to do with the Yiddish language. 1 n., 2 adj.

yield (yēld), 1. produce: Land yields crops; mines yield ore. 2. amount yielded; product: This year's yield from the silver mine was very large. 3. give; grant: Mary's mother yielded her consent to the plan. 4. give up; surrender: The enemy yielded to our soldiers. 5. give way: The door yielded to his touch. 6. give place: We yield to nobody in love of freedom. 7. Archaic. pay; reward. 1,3-7 v., 2 n.

yield ing (yēl'ding), not resisting; submissive. adj.

yip (yip), Informal. 1. especially of dogs, bark or yelp briskly. 2. a sharp barking sound. 1 v., yipped, yip-ping; 2 n.

Y.M.C.A., Young Men's Christian Association.

Y.M.H.A., Young Men's Hebrew Association.

Y mir (ē'mir), in Norse mythology, a giant from whose body the gods made the universe. n.

yo del (yō'dl), 1. sing with frequent changes from the ordinary voice to a forced shrill voice and back again, in the manner of mountaineers of Switzerland and Tirol. 2. act or sound of yodeling. 1 v., yo deled, yo del ing or esp. Brit. yo delled, yo del ling; 2 n. —yo'del er, esp. Brit. yo'del ler, n.

yo dle (yō'dl), yodel. v., yo dled, yo dling; n. —yo'dler, n.

yoga or Yo ga (yō'gə), system of Hindu religious philosophy that requires intense concentration and deep meditation upon the universal spirit. n.

yo gi (yō'gē), person who practices or follows yoga. n., pl. yo gis.

yo gurt (yō'gért), a kind of thickened fermented liquor made from milk. n.

yoke (yōk), 1. a wooden frame to fasten two work animals together.

Yoke on a pair of oxen

2. pair fastened together by a yoke: The plow was drawn by a yoke of oxen. 3. any frame connecting two other parts: The man carried two buckets on a yoke, one at each end. 4. put a yoke on; fasten with a yoke. 5. harness or fasten a work animal to. 6. part of a garment fitting the neck and shoulders closely. 7. a top piece to a skirt, fitting the hips. 8. something that joins or unites; bond; tie. 9. join; unite: be yoked in marriage. 10. something that holds people in slavery or submission: Throw off your yoke and be free. 11. rule; dominion: Slaves are under the yoke of their masters. 1-3,6-8,10,11 n., 4,5,9 v., yoked, yok ing.

yoke fel low (yōk'fel'ō), 1. person joined or united with another in a task; partner. 2. husband or wife. n.

yo kel (yō'kl), a country fellow. n.

Yo ko ha ma (yō'kə hā'mə), seaport in SE Japan. 1,375,000. n.

yolk (yōk), 1. the yellow and principal substance of an egg, as distinguished from the white. 2. fat or grease in sheep's wool. n.

Yom Kippur (yom kip'ər), the Day of Atonement, an annual Jewish fast day observed on the tenth day of the first month of the Jewish year.

yon (yon), Archaic or Dialect. yonder. adj., adv.

yond (yond), Archaic or Dialect. yonder. adj., adv.

yon der (yon'dər), 1. within sight, but not near; over there: Look yonder. 2. situated over there; being within sight, but not near: He lives in yonder cottage. 3. farther; more distant: Look at the snow on yonder mountains. 1 adv., 2,3 adj.

Yon kers (yong'kərz), city in southeastern New York State. Yonkers is just north of New York City. 191,000. n.

yore (yōr), Obsolete. long ago; years ago. adv.

of yore, long ago; formerly; in the past: Knights wore armor in days of yore.

York (yōrk), 1. the royal house of England from 1461 to 1485. Its emblem was a white rose. 2. Duke of, 1341-1402, Edmund Langley, son of Edward III of England. 3. Yorkshire. 4. city in northeastern England. 105,000. 5. city in southeastern Pennsylvania. 55,000. 6. Cape, cape of northeastern Australia. n.

York ist (yōr'kist), 1. adherent or member of the English royal family of York. 2. of or having to do with this family. 1 n., 2 adj.

York shire (yōrk'shir), county in N England; York. n.

Yorkshire pudding, a batter cake often served with roast beef.

Yorkshire terrier, any of an English breed of small, shaggy dogs.

York town (yōrk'toun), town in SE Virginia, where Lord Cornwallis surrendered to George Washington in 1781. n.

Yo sem i te (yō sem'ə tē), 1. a very deep valley in E California with lofty and very beautiful falls. 8 mi. long. 2. Yosemite National Park. n.

Yosemite Falls, series of waterfalls in Yosemite National Park. Total height, 2526 ft.

Yosemite National Park, a large national park in E California. 1162 sq. mi.

you (ū; unstressed yū or yə), 1. the person or persons spoken to: Are you ready? Then you may go. 2. one; anybody: You push this button to get a light. pron. pl. or sing.

you'd (ūd; unstressed yūd or yəd), 1. you had. 2. you would.

you'll (ūl; unstressed yūl or yəl), 1. you will. 2. you shall.

young (yung), 1. in the early part of life or growth;

not old: A puppy is a young dog. 2. young ones: An animal will fight to protect its young. 3. having the looks or qualities of youth or a young person: She looks young for her age. 4. of youth; early: one's young days. 5. not so old as another: Young Mr. Jones worked for his father. 6. in an early stage; not far advanced: The night was still young when they left the party. 7. without much experience or practice: I was too young in the trade to be successful. 1,3-7 adj., young er (yung'gər), young est (yung'g-ist); 2 n.

the young, young people.

with young, pregnant.

Young (yung), Brigham, 1801-1877, American Mormon leader. n.

young ber ry (yung'ber'ē), hybrid between a blackberry and dewberry, grown largely in the southwestern United States. n., pl. young ber ries.

young blood, 1. young people. 2. youthful vigor, energy, enthusiasm, etc.

young ish (yung'ish), rather young. adj.

young ling (yung'ling), 1. a young person, animal, or plant. 2. young; youthful. 3. novice; beginner. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

young ster (yung'stər), 1. child. 2. a young person: Jack is a lively youngster. n.

Yongs town (yungz'toun), city in NE Ohio. 167,000. n.

yon ker (yung'kər), Archaic or Informal. a young fellow. n.

your (yür; unstressed yər), 1. belonging to you: Wash your hands. 2. having to do with you: We enjoyed your visit. 3. that you know; well-known; that you speak of; that is spoken of: your real lover of music, your modern girl. 4. part of a title: Your Lordship, Your Highness, Your Honor, Mayor Jones. pron. pl. or sing., possessive form of you.

you're (yür; unstressed yər), you are.

yours (yürz), 1. belonging to or having to do with you: This pencil is yours. 2. the one or ones belonging to or having to do with you: I like ours better than yours. 3. at your service: I remain yours to command. pron. sing. and pl., possessive form of you (used predicatively or with no noun following).

of yours, belonging to or having to do with you: Is he a friend of yours?

your self (yür self' or yər self'), 1. the emphatic form of you: You yourself know the story is not true. 2. the reflexive form of you: You will hurt yourself. 3. your real self: You aren't yourself today. pron., pl. your selves, your selves (yür selvz' or yər selvz'), pl. of your-self. pron.

yours truly, 1. phrase used at the end of a letter, before the signature. 2. Informal. I; me.

youth (ūth), 1. fact or quality of being young: He has the vigor of youth. She keeps her youth well. 2. the time between childhood and manhood or womanhood. 3. a young man. 4. young people. 5. the first or early stage of anything; early period of growth or development: during the youth of this country. n., pl. youths (ūths or ūthz) or (collectively) youth.

young ful (ūth'fəl), 1. young. 2. of youth; suitable for young people: Everyone admired his youthful enthusiasm. 3. having the looks or qualities of youth: The old man had a youthful spirit. adj. —youth/ful ness, n.

youth ful ly (ūth'fəl ē), in a youthful manner. adv.

you've (ūv; unstressed yūv or yəv), you have.

yowl (yowl), 1. a long, distressful, or dismal cry; howl. 2. howl. 1 n., 2 v.

Yo yo (yō'yō), Trademark. a small disk-shaped toy, which is spun out and reeled in by an attached string. n., pl. Yo yos.

Y pres (ē'prə), town in W Belgium. Many battles of World War I were fought there. 18,000. n.

Y.P.S.C.E., Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

yr., year; years. pl. yrs.

Yt, yttrium.

yt ter bi um (i tēr' bē əm), a rare metallic element belonging to the yttrium group. Symbol: Yb n.

yt tri um (it'rē əm), a rare metallic element. Compounds of yttrium are used for incandescent gas mantles. Symbol: Y or Yt n.

yu an (ū ān'), unit of money of China, worth about 30 cents in ordinary times. n., pl. yu an.

Yu ca tán (ū'kə tan'), peninsula of SE Mexico and part of Central America. n.

yuc ca (yuk'ə), plant that has sword-shaped evergreen leaves and a cluster of large, white, lilylike flowers on a tall stalk. n.

Yu go slav (ū'gō slāv'), 1. native or inhabitant of Yugoslavia. 2. of or having to do with Yugoslavia or its people. 1 n., 2 adj. Also, Jugoslav, Jugo-Slav.

Yu go sla vi a (ū'gō slāv'və ə), country in SE Europe. 18,421,000 pop.; 98,766 sq. mi. Capital: Belgrade. See Balkan States for map. n. Also, Jugoslavia, Jugo-Slavia. —Yu'go sla'vi an, adj., n.

Yu go slav ic (ū'gō slāv'ik), of or having to do with Yugoslavia or its people. adj.

Yu kon (ū'kon), 1. river flowing from NW Canada through central Alaska into Bering Sea. 2300 mi. 2. territory in NW Canada. 9000 pop.; 207,076 sq. mi. Capital: Whitehorse. n.

Yule (ül), 1. Christmas. 2. the Christmas season. n.

Yule log, a large log burned at Christmas.

Yule tide (ül'tid'), Christmas time; the Christmas season. n.

Y.W.C.A., Young Women's Christian Association.

Y.W.H.A., Young Women's Hebrew Association.

y wis (i wis'), Archaic. certainly; indeed. adv.

Z

Z or z (zē), the 26th and last letter of the alphabet. n., pl. Z's or z's.

Z., 1. atomic number. 2. zenith.

Zac che us (za kē'əs), in the Bible, a tax collector who climbed a tree to see Jesus. Luke 19:1-10. n.

Za greb (zā'greb), city in NW Yugoslavia. 351,000. n.

zai bat su (zī bāt'sū), the leading families of Japan, directing its industries. n.pl. or sing.

Zam be zi (zam'bē'zē), river flowing from S Africa into the Indian Ocean. 2200 mi. n.

Zam bi a (zam'bē ə), a country in S Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth, formerly the British protectorate of Northern Rhodesia. 2,515,000 pop.; 288,130 sq. mi. Capital: Lusaka. n.

za ny (zā'nē), 1. fool. 2. clown. n., pl. za nies.

Zan zi bar (zan'zā bār), 1. a large island near the eastern coast of Africa. 165,000 pop.; 640 sq. mi. 2. a former country consisting of this and nearby islands, now part of Tanzania. n.

Zar a thus tra (zar'ə thūs'trə), Zoroaster. n.

zeal (zēl), eager desire; earnest enthusiasm. n.

Zea land (zē'lənd), the largest island in Denmark, in the eastern part. Copenhagen is located on it. 2709 sq. mi. n.

zeal ot (zēl'ət), person who shows too much zeal; fanatic. n.

zeal ot ry (zēl'ət rē), too great zeal; fanaticism. n.

zeal ous (zēl'əs), full of zeal; eager; earnest; enthusiastic: The children made zealous efforts to clean up for the party. adj. —zeal'ous ly, adv. —zeal'ous ness, n.

Zeb e dee (zeb'ə dē), in the Bible, the father of the Apostles James and John. n.

ze bra (zē'brə), a wild mammal like a horse but striped with dark bands on white. n.

ze bu (zē'bū), a mammal resembling an ox but with a large hump. The zebu is a domestic animal in Asia and E Africa. n.

Zech a ri ah (zek'ə ri'ə), 1. prophet of Israel, in the sixth century B.C. 2. book of the Old Testament written by him. n.

zed (zed), Esp. Bril. a name for the letter Z, z. n.

Zebra (4 to 4½ ft. high at the shoulder)

Zebu (6 ft. high at the shoulder) ze nith (zē'nith), 1. the point in the heavens directly overhead. 2. the highest point: At the zenith of its power Rome ruled all of civilized Europe. n.

zeph yr (zef'ər), 1. the west wind.

2. any soft, gentle wind; mild breeze.

3. a fine, soft yarn or worsted. n.

Zep pe lin or zep pe lin (zep'ə-lən), a large dirigible balloon shaped like a cigar with pointed ends. It has compartments for gas, engines, passengers, etc. n.

ze ro (zir'ō), 1. naught; 0. 2. point marked with a zero on the scale of a thermometer, etc. 3. temperature that corresponds to zero on the scale of a thermometer. 4. of or at zero. 5. complete absence of quantity; nothing. 6. not any; none at all: The weather station at the airport announced zero visibility. 7. the lowest point: The team's spirit sank to zero after its third defeat. 1-3,5,7 n., pl. ze ros or ze roes; 4,6 adj.

zero hour, time set for beginning an attack, etc.

zest (zest), 1. keen enjoyment; relish: The hungry man ate with zest. 2. a pleasant or exciting quality, flavor, etc.: Wit gives zest to conversation. 3. give a zest to. 1,2 n., 3 v.

zest ful (zest'fəl), characterized by zest. adj.

—zest'ful ly, adv. —zest'ful ness, n.

Zeus (zūs), the chief god of the ancient Greeks, the ruler of gods and men, identified by the Romans with Jupiter. n.

zig zag (zig'zag'), 1. with short, sharp turns from one side to the other: The path ran zigzag up the hill.

2. move in a zigzag way: Lightning zigzagged across the sky. 3. a zigzag line or course. 4. one of the short, sharp turns of a zigzag. 1 adj., adv., 2 v., zig zagged, zig zag ging; 3,4 n.

zinc (zingk), 1. a bluish-white metal, a chemical element, very little affected by air and moisture. Zinc is used as a coating for iron, in mixture with other metals,

Zeppelin moored

Zigzag design

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, ĭce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒH, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

as a roofing material, in electric batteries, in paint, and in medicine. Symbol: Zn 2. coat or cover with zinc. 1 n., 2 v., zinned, zincking; zincd (zingkt), zinc ing (zingk'ing).

zinc ointment, salve containing zinc oxide, used especially in treating skin disorders.

zinc oxide, an insoluble white powder used in making paint, rubber, glass, cosmetics, ointments, etc.

zing (zing), 1. a sharp, humming sound. 2. make a sharp, humming sound, especially in going rapidly. 1 n., interj., 2 v.

zin ni a (zin'ē ə), a garden plant grown for its showy flowers of many colors. n.

Zi on (zi'ən), 1. hill in Jerusalem on which the royal palace and the temple were built. 2. Israel; the people of Israel. 3. heaven; the heavenly city. 4. the church of God. n. Also, Sion.

Zi on ism (zi'ən iz əm), a plan or modern movement to colonize Jewish people in Israel. n.

Zi on ist (zi'ən ist), advocate of Zionism. n.

Zion National Park, a national park in SW Utah. 206 sq. mi.

zip (zip), 1. a sudden, brief hissing sound, as of a flying bullet. 2. make such a sound. 3. Informal. energy or vim. 4. Informal. proceed with energy. 5. fasten or close with a zipper. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v., zipped, zip ping.

Zi pan gu (zi pang'gü), Marco Polo's name for Japan. n.

ZIP Code, 1. Zone Improvement Plan Code (system of numbers, each number of which identifies one of the postal delivery areas into which the United States and its larger cities have been divided). 2. a number in this system.

zip per (zip'ər), a sliding fastener for clothing, shoes, etc. n.

zip py (zip'ē), Informal. full of energy; lively; gay. adj., zip pi er, zip pi est.

zir con (zēr'kon), a crystalline mineral that occurs in various forms and colors, a silicate of zirconium. Transparent zircon is used as a gem. n.

zir co ni um (zēr kō'nē əm), a rare metallic element used in alloys for wires, filaments, etc. Symbol: Zr n.

zith er (zith'ər), a musical instrument having 30 to 40 strings, played with a plectrum and the fingers. n.

zlo ty (zlō'tē), 1. a monetary unit of Poland, worth about 4 cents. 2. a Polish nickel coin of this value. n., pl. zlo tys or (collectively) zlo ty.

Zn, zinc.

zo di ac (zō'dē ək), 1. a belt of the heavens extending on both sides of the apparent yearly path of the sun. The zodiac is divided into 12 equal parts, called signs, named after 12 groups of stars. 2. diagram representing the zodiac, used in astrology. n.

zo di a cal (zō dī'ə kl), 1. of or having to do with the zodiac. 2. situated in the zodiac. adj.

Zom ba (zom'bə), capital of Malawi, in the S part. 12,000. n.

zom bi (zom'bē), a corpse supposedly brought back to life by a supernatural power. n., pl. zom bis.

zom bie (zom'bē), zombi. n., pl. zom bies.

zon al (zōn'əl), 1. of a zone; having to do with zones.

2. divided into zones. adj.

zone (zōn), 1. any of the five great divisions of the earth's surface, bounded by lines parallel to the equator.

2. any region or area especially considered or set off: A war zone is a district where fighting is going on. 3. area or district in a city or town under special restrictions as to building. 4. in the United States parcel-post system, an area to all points within which the same rate of postage prevails for parcel-post shipments from a particular place. 5. divide into zones: The city was zoned for factories and residences. 6. be formed into zones. 7. belt; girdle. 8. surround like a belt or girdle. 9. surround with a belt or girdle. 1-4,7 n., 5,6,8,9 v., zoned, zon ing.

zoned (zōnd), 1. marked with or having zones. 2. divided into zones. adj.

zoo (zū), place where animals are kept and shown. n.

zo o log i cal (zō'ə loj'ə kl), 1. of animals and animal life. 2. having to do with zoology. adj. —zo'o- log'i cally, adv.

zo ol o gist (zō ol'ə jist), expert in zoology. n.

zo ol o gy (zō ol'ə jē), the science of animals; the study of animals and animal life. Zoology deals with the form, structure, physiology, development, and classification of animals. It also includes study of special groups, as birds, insects, snakes, mammals, etc. n.

zoom (züm), 1. move suddenly upward: The airplane zoomed. 2. a sudden upward flight. 1 v., 2 n.

Zo ro as ter (zō'rō əs'tər), famous Persian religious teacher who lived about 1000 B.C. n. Also, Zarathustra.

Zo ro as tri an (zō'rō əs'trē ən), 1. of or having to do with Zoroaster or the religion founded by him. 2. person believing in the teachings of Zoroaster. 1 adj., 2 n.

Zou ave (zū äv' or zwäv), 1. soldier wearing an Oriental style of uniform. 2. member of certain regiments in the French army, that were usually stationed in former French territory in N Africa. n.

zounds (zoundz), Archaic. an oath expressing surprise or anger. interj.

Zui der Zee or Zuy der Zee (zi'dər zē'), a shallow gulf in central Netherlands, now closed from the North Sea by a dike. 80 mi. long.

Zu lu (zü'lü), 1. member of a tribe in SE Africa. 2. its language. n., pl. Zu lus or Zu lu.

Zu ñi (zün'yē), member of a tribe of American Indians living in W New Mexico. n., pl. Zu ñis or Zu ñi.

Zu rich (zür'ik), city in N Switzerland. 430,000. n.

zwie back (swi'bak' or zwī'bak'), a kind of bread cut into slices and toasted brown and crisp in an oven. n.

Zone (def. 1)

Man playing a zither

Zouave

PARTS OF SPEECH

n.	noun	adj.	adjective	prep.	preposition
v.	verb	adv.	adverb	conj.	conjunction
pron.	pronoun			interj.	interjection

COMPLETE PRONUNCIATION KEY

The pronunciation of each word is shown just after the word, in this way: ab bre vi ate (ə brē/vē āt). The letters and signs used are pronounced as in the words below. The mark ' is placed after a syllable with primary or strong accent, as in the example above. The mark / after a syllable shows a secondary or lighter accent, as in ab bre vi a tion (ə brē/vē ā/shən).

Some words, taken from foreign languages, are spoken with sounds that otherwise do not occur in English. Symbols for these sounds are given at the bottom of the page as "Foreign Sounds."

a	hat, cap	j	jam, enjoy	u	cup, butter ā	age, face	k	kind, seek	û	full, put ã	care, air	l	land, coal	ü	rule, move ä	father, far	m	me, am	ū	use, music n	no, in b	bad, rob	ng	long, bring ch	child, much			v	very, save d	did, red	o	hot, rock	w	will, woman ō	open, go	y	young, yet
e	let, best	ô	order, all	z	zero, breeze ē	equal, see	oi	oil, voice	zh	measure, seizure èr	term, learn	ou	house, out
f	fat, if	p	paper, cup
g	go, bag	r	run, try	ə	represents:
h	he, how	s	say, yes		a in about sh	she, rush		e in taken t	tell, it		i in April
i	it, pin	th	thin, both		o in lemon ī	ice, five	th	then, smooth		u in circus foreign sounds

y as in French du. Pronounce ē with the lips rounded as for English ü in rule.

N as in French bon. The N is not pronounced, but shows that the vowel before it is nasal.

œ as in French peu. Pronounce ā with the lips rounded as for ō.

H as in German ach. Pronounce k without closing the breath passage.

